DAILY PRESS

PORTLAND. Wednesday Morning, February 20, 1867.

The Death Penalty. It is a little more than a hundred years since Beccaria asked, "What right have men to cut the throats of their fellow creatures?" and followed up the enquiry by another which has never been answered: "If it is so, how shall it be reconciled with the maxim that a man has no right to kill himself?" In 1765 Tuscany, influenced by his efforts, abolished the punishment of death experimentally. In 1786, after twenty-one years trial of the reformed code, the Grand Duke Leopold decreed its perpetuity. "Instead of increasing the number of crimes," said Leopold, "it has considerably diminished that of the inferior ones and rendered those of an atrocious character yery rare." Almost fifty years later, in 1830, M. Berenger reported to the French Deputies, that "the milduess of their penal legislation had so far improved the character of the Tuscans that there was a time when the prisons of the Grand Duchy were nearly empty." And now the Kingdom of Italy has adopted the principle of the Tuscan philosopher, who being also a marquis was able to secure a reasonable consideration for his theorizings, and capital punishment is abolished throughout the Italian peninsula.

Throughout Europe, where the death penalty has in past ages been assigned to every crime from larceny up to murder, there is a marked tendency towards the goal which Italy has reached. In France, in the last four years of which the statistics are accessible little more than one-half of 94 death condem nations were carried into effect. Out of 127 sentences for murder in Prussia, from 1858 to 1862, there were but thirteen persons executed. In Austria, during ten years ending with 1864, ninety-five per cent. of death sentences were commuted. From 1830 to 1863, the whole number of death sentences pronounced in Belgium was 819, of which only fifty seven were inflicted, or less than two for every year. In Portugal the last execution occurred in 1846; in a large part of Switzerland there have been no executions for thirty-five years; in Denmark, Sweden, and Holland, the comnutations have been ninety per cent. or more. England, with the most cruel of criminal codes, condemned annually to death in the ten years ending with 1832, nearly 1,280 persons, out of which number the annual average of sentences carried into effect was not more than 59. But in the decade ending with 1862, the annual number of condemnations fell to 60, of which only about 11 were exe-

In this country the spectacle of a public hanging grows more rare. In Massachusetts the twenty years ending with 1865 show only 10 executions out of 28 convictions for capital offences. In Maine the law remains upon the statute book, but the responsibility of ordering its execution devolves upon the Governor General Insurance Agents, and the result is a practical abolition of the penalty. Gov. Chamberlain very properly calls upon the Legislature to settle the matter definitely, by either making it the duty of the Executive to order the execution of condemned criminals or abolishing the penalty altogether. We trust the Legislature will accept the latter alternative. The carnival of crime which appears to be prevailing in this State and elsewhere cannot be justly attributed to the laxity of the present practice. Another and sufficient cause is to be found in the demoralization which attends and follows war. It is not confined to this State, it should be observed, but extends equally to States where the gallows still bears its shameful fruit.

Except on the point just menuoned argument on this question has been exhausted. Commutation of the extreme penalty of the law has long been urged by some of the best and ablest men of every country. The arguments of Robert Rantoul before the Legislature of Massachusetts, of Livingstone before the Legislature of Louisiana, and of John L. O'Sullivan in 1841 before the Legislature of New York, have been spread abroad, repeated and reconsidered by the public press until there is no man of mature years who has not become familiar with them. The simple fact that the experiment has been tried in a single that the experiment has been tried in a single province of Italy for a hundred years, with results so satisfactory as to warrant its repetition on a larger scale throughout the kingdom, is worth a calload of treatises on the subject. Let us abolish the death penalty altogether, or if we are not ready to do that, let us abolish the barbarous gallows, adopt the instrument which Dr. Guillotin recommended to the French Assembly in 1789 and despatch our criminals humanely.

The Revenue from the National Banks.

It has been repeatedly suggested that by withdrawing the notes of the National Banks from circulation and substituting United States notes, the country would in effect obtain a loan of $300,000,000 without interest, thereby say ing annually some 18,000,000. The suggestion has been received with favor in various quarters. Newspapers as far apart as the Independent and the Argus have treated it as a wise and economical measure. Mr. McCulloch's main objection to it was that the levying of such a forced loan was only defensible as a war measure, and that the government is bound in honor to recall the greenbacks alteady afloat instead of issuing more. The distinction which the Secretary makes in this argument between the government and the people has not been generally regarded as well taken, and Mr. Randall, of Pennsylvania, introduced a bill in the House of Representatives a few weeks ago, to effect the substitution named. This bill has been elaborately reviewed by Mr. George Walker, in a pam phlet published at Springfield, Massachusetts Mr. Walker has made these topics a subjec of special investigation for the last ten years having for nearly four years held the office of Bank Commissioner in Massachusetts, and having more recently been connected with the Treasury Department of the United States government. In the summer and fall of 1865, he was in Europe on business of the Department, and was specially instructed by the Secretary of the Treasury to look into the juestions then and still under investigation in France, respecting banking and currency. He was then brought into communication with some of the best authorities on thes subjects in France, as well as in England .-As a result of these enquiries he declares that the United States have now the best banking system in the world, and adds that this opin on is shared by some of the soundest French and English thinkers. He opposes Mr. Randall's bill, on the ground that it will destroy the present system of banking. The contemplated saving of eighteen millions, Mr. Walker regards as wholly illusory, since a revenue exceeding that sum is now derived from the banks and would be sacrificed by the change. His treatment of this branch of his subject is pamphlet, as follows: We have thus far attempted to sho

We have thus far attempted to show, that without the privilege of circulating their own notes, the majority of banks in the United States could not do a living business, and that the suppression of these banks would be a blow to the industry of the country, which has always been promoted by banking facilities, and is dependent on them. We have also shown that the weight of this blow would be relative gainers by our loss. We have hitherto been silent with regard to the economy of Eighteen Millions, which the nation is promised out of this movement. But we are now prepared to assert, that no such economy of Eighteen Millions, which the nation will not be a dollar richer for the can establish, by indisputable figures, that the nation will not be a dollar richer for the change. If the National banks are to be suppressed, the Government will of course, lose all the revenue now derived from them. What is that revenue now derived from them The taxes paid by the bankers are as follows. Except circulation, which has now reached its maximum, the items are from the Compttoller's report:

Circulation, 300 millions at 1 per cent., $3,000,000 Deposits, 566 millions at 1-2 of 1 per cent., 2,830,000 License on 417 millions capital, at $2 a thousand,
Dividends and surplus, 5 per cent., on say
10 per cent. earnings,
2,085,000

reported by the Comptroller, these amounted to Two Hundred and Six Millions, which are worth to the Government Twelve Million Three Hundred and Sixty Thousand Dollars, a sum which added to the Direct Taxes makes a total of Twenty-One Million, One Hundred and Nine Thousand Dollars, as the revenue which the nation now derives from the Na-tional banking system; being upwards of Three Millions more than the saving, which tional banking system; being upwards of Three Millions more than the saving, which the people are promised by their suppression.

If it is said that a considerable part of the legal tenders, now held by the banks as a reserve, are the Compound Interest notes, on which the Government is paying interest, the answer is, that those notes will soon mature, and be pald off, or converted into bonds, while the obligation to hold a reserve of legal tenders will still remain; so that, in discussing the future policy of the country, it may fairly be assumed, that until the resumption of specie payments, the banks will have to hold, in lawful money not bearing interest, at least twenty per cent. of their aggregate circulation and deposits; (twenty-five per cent. in the redemption cities, fifteen per cent. in the country.) In point of fact, the moment an active redemption of National bank notes begins, they will have to hold a considerably larger sum, as they cannot trench upon the reserve itself, without suspending the right to discount. But if we take only twenty per cent, on their deposits and circulation, and these be assumed at only eight hundred millions (sixty-six millions less than the actual amount last reported by the Comptroller,) the amount of lawful money to be held will be One Hundred and Sixty Millions, on which the interest realized by the Government with be Nine Millions, Six Hundred Thousand, or more than the contemplated saving.

In point offact, this whole revenue of more than Eighteen Millions is paid by the banks for the privilege of circulating about One Hundred and Forty-Nine Thousand, or more than the contemplated saving.

In point offact, this whole revenue of more than Eighteen Millions in notes, which is the difference between the authorized circulation, and the required reserve.

is the difference between the authorized cir-culation, and the required reserve.

Burial of Maine Soldiers.

The following correspondence has been for-warded to us by Colonel Robie for publica-HDQRS. DEP'T OF THE TENNEASEE,
Office Sup't of National Cemeteries,
Louisville, Ky., Jan. 19, 1887.

Col. Frederick Robie, Gorham, Maine:
Dear Sir:—Having recently returned from a tour through Georgia, from Chatanooga to Savannah, following the route of "Sherman's March to the Sea," I hasten to communicate to you a few facts, in regard to the condition of the graves of Maine soldiers at Savannah.
These soldiers are buried in the Laurel Grove Cemetery. I visited their graves and found them in good condition. I have recommended the establishment of a National Cemetery at "Thunderbolt," five miles from Savannah, to which all the dead in the vicinity of Savannah and the neighboring islands shall be removed.

I have suggested that the dead from the islands as far as Hilton Head be also brought to the Cemetery. No action has as yet been taken in the matter, and it will not be decided for some weeks. As soon as it is, I shall take pleasure in informing you on the subject. I leave for Washington this morning to endeavor to get Congress to take some definite action in the matter of the National Cemeteries, and to make appropriation sufficient to do the work as it ought to be, and as it must be done.

I send you herewith the names of such Maine soldiers as I copied from the Headboards in the burying-ground at Savannah; also the names of Maine soldiers reported from other parts of this Department.

I am very truly yours,

I am very truly yours, E. B. WHITMAN, Byt, Major & A. Q. M. Vols. Supt. of National LIST OF UNION DEAD OF MAINE REGIMENTS IN THE DEPARTMENT OF THE TENNESSEE.

Good Templars Dedication.

Notwithstanding the great depth of mud on Thursday evening last, the splendid hall at Ligonia Village, Cape Elizabeth, on Main, near Lincoln street, just finished by their public spirited citizen, Mr. Henry Bodge, was well filled at an early hour not only by members of the Order, but by those wishing to witness the dedication by Ligonia Lodge, No. 138, I. O. of G. T. to the sacred cause of temperance. The occasion, the interest manifested, and the generous representation of other neighbor-ing Lodges, failed not to fill the hearts of all with pride and satisfaction. Prominent among those present, were Br. Sawyer, G. W. G. T.; Bro. Rich, G. W. T.; Bro. Thompson, W. C. T., of Atlantic Lodge, Bro. Hawkes, Bro. Chase of Knightville Lodge, and other true and tried friends of the great temperance reform. Let us not pause for a description of the era of good feeling, and congratulation which swayed the entire collection, when as if regardless of the monent W. C. T. Haskell called the meeting to order. After the usual impressive ceremonies of dedication had been passed through, the W. C. T. announced as the Orator of the evening, Prof. D. G. Harriman, of Portland .-To those who had the fortune to listen to this address, comments are unnecessary. The character of the man, and of his brilliant, eleespecially instructive. We copy from the gant address, made this the prominent feature of the evening. Sufficient is it to say, that the entire address from the opening to the conclud-tonished audience, all covered with mud, the mammoth boots which like an ancient armor encased him. His remarks, a. usual. produced much good feeling. Bros

But besides these Direct Taxes, the govern- has fortunately secured. From first to last he ment gets the use of the Reserve of legal ten-ders held by the banks. By the latest returns of side-splitting jokes and anecdotes, which resulted in tremendous bursts of laughter and evening, it left the audience in great merriment and much good feeling. Let us here extend the thanks of the Lodge to those who so generously assisted in entertaining the audience with such much-commented-upon and much-needed music and singing, which made the occasion so pleasant and agreeable to all .-Ligonia Lodge is yet is in its infancy, but with untiring ambition and ceaseless efforts it advances to the front rank of the great Order of Good Templars, and she points with pride to her record, knowing that her efforts are not in vain, that her teachings are not without effect.

VARIETIES.

-Among the odd things sent from this country to the French Exposition a self lighting lamp provided with a continuous match, con tained inside the lamp, by which it may be lighted by touching a thimble piece without s a good specimen of Yankee labor saving. A self acting coffee pot which blows a steam whistle when the coffee is properly cooked, for the benefit of ignorant Bridgets, is another remarkable triumph of genius which will set the Frenchmen to laughing. Some enterpris-ing individual sends a miscellaneous collection of umbrellas, parasols and canes! A patent coal scuttle is on its way to Paris, and close behind it three boards of horse shoes. From Chattanooga, Tenn., there comes a curiously constructed clock, made to wind itself up, and run by atmospheric pressure. This timepiece is to be kept in constant motion by the variation of the atmospheric pressure, which will act as an agent to wind the same. A doughkneading machine, for family use, it is presumed will excite some admiration among housewives when it gets into operation. -The researches of M. Dupont in the caverns and quaternary deposits along the course of the river Loire, in France, have been attended with considerable success. Fourteen caves were discovered; in one of which, the Chaleux Cave, about thirty thousand flint implements have been exhumed, together with a plentiful assemblage of the bones of the reindeer, goat, ox, horse, boar, brown bear, fox, badger, polecat, hare and water rat. Most of these animals are upposed to have served as food for man. -Smith asked Jones what the high price of outter was owing to. "A considerable part of t is owing to my grocer," said Jones, "for it its two months since I have paid him." -The magnesium light has for some time been

The director of the Polytechnic School of e hars has just taken by this means some very successful sketches of the ancient tombs in the cry t of the Dominican church in that city. -A letter from Flore ce a vs that the ex-Grand Duke of Tuscany has claimed objects estimated at tifty millions of francs. Amongst them are the plate found in the Pitti Palace, all the furniture of his various residences, three pictures by Raphael, and an infinity of objects of art. A special commission has been named to consider these demands. -Alas for our illusions! One of those terrible Gradgrinds who are always grubbing up the search of "facts," has discovered that William Tell is only a myth, and that his story is no more than a feeble copy of one which has been repeated regarding men of many lands, remote 12, Jan'y 18, 65 from each other, during the past eight centuries or more. One Mr. "Baring S. Gould, M. His nose was also burned, as it by coming out of his nostrils, and is clothes were still burning when found. No ther part of the body save the air passages was burned. Physicians who examined the body pronounce it a clear case of spontaneous combustion. It is supposed that the fire was communicated by attempting to light a cigar.

ecident occasioned by the explosion of frozen nitro-glycerine. This substance freezes at about forty degrees Fahrenheit, and when in the solid state explodes merely by being rubbed, on which account it is impossible to reduce it to smaller pieces by crushing or striking it. An unfortunate man, one "Schachtmeister" Krause, who tried this experiment on a frozen mass, weighing six or eight pounds, was hurled by the explosion to great height into the air, and then thrown into a shaft from fifty to sixty feet in depth.

It is not believed that Stephens has left the United States; and it is also said that Col. Stephens is still denounced as a swindler and fraud even by men of his own organization, and the statement that O'Connor is Stephens under another name is laughed at organization, and the statement that O'Connor is Stephens under another name is laughed at as a good joke. Kelly quarrelled with Stephens because the latter refused to fight as he promised, and it is not probable that Mr. Stephens has changed his mind since then. The officers and delegates from all Fenian circles within the Department of Manhattan assembled at No. 267 Bowery yesterday afternoon, and at 3 o'clock went into strictly secret session—not even officers or delegates with credentials being admitted to the hall after that hour. Stirring speeches were made by Gen. After much discursive discussion, it was resolved to be proper to publish a formal appeal to Irishmen and all other lovers of liberty in America, and after the committee which was selected to make such appeal had retired the propriety of calling a mass meeting of Fenians was discussed. At length it was unanimously voted to hold a mass meeting in Union square on Wednesday evening next at 7 o'clock, and the various necessary committees were appointed to make arrangements therefor. MUNICH, Jan. 23, 1867.

The Germans are making great preparations to visit the Paris Exposition en mase. Among the various arrangements is the following, which is well worthy of imitation elsewhere. On and after the 18th of May a pleasure train will leave Munich every day for Paris, via Augsburg, Stuttgart and Strasburg, and tickets will be sold for the whole expedition, viz.: the journey thither and return, lodgings, quarters and admission to the Exposition buildings, and the "sights" of Paris for ten days. The company, therefore, in accordance with this arrangement, agree to pay every necessary expense during the journey and the ten daystay in Paris for 160 florins ($60), which is certainly cheap, considering that the usual fare to Paris is over $28. Might not a similar arrangement be made between New York and Paris with profit to both parties—the sight-seers and the company? The only obstacle in the way would be to secure hotel room in Paris at this late day.

Another of these pleasure excursions which the Germans are so fond of making, and so fruitful in inventing, is one that goes every year to Palestine, and for which the advertisements have been already issued. The company will leave Trieste, March 29th. on one of the Austrian Lloyd steamers, make the voyage via Corfu to Cairo in six days, spending eight days in visiting the pyramids, the Nile &c., and on the 12, of April reach Palestine at Jaffa. There they will find riding animals in readiness, on which they will proceed to Jerusalem, thence to the Jordon, through Samaria to Mount Tabor, Carmel, £c, then home by way of Smyrna, Constantinople, &c. The thing thit is noticable in this is its remarkable cheapness, to wit $215 for the whole trip—$30 for the voyage both ways, and the remainfor the overland routes, hothls, &c. They will arrive in Trieste about the last of May, thus leaving plenty of time to visit the Paris Exposition. Any American who is a Catholic—none others are permitted to go with this to meet tonight to make preparations.

The meeting having agreed upon the general arrangements for a mass meeting, the committee on a manifesto, and the officers and delegates unanimously adopted a stirring appea to Irishman and lovers of liberty, asking for men and money.

Ecclesiastical Beform i Italy. After the financial, undoubtedly the mos important question before Parlament, and the country, is that of eccleslastical reform. While such countries as England are talking for one or two generations about reform, without ar riving at any result, this Italy of lively intelliriving at any result, this Italy of lively intelligence, is marching straight on to the end which is kept steadily in view. Baron Ricasoli, a member of one of the oldest aristocracies in Europe, is a radical and a revolutionist in the truest sense. Instead of using the opportunities of his position, and the powers of his fine intellect, to maintain the privileges of a a class, he is endeavoring to reorganize the religions society of Italy on a basis of justice and common sense; in fact, trying to restore to the Caurch that character of honesty and simplicity which the well-being of society demands, and which will enable the world to recognize in it the religion established by Christ, and propably His Apostles.

You may safely rely upon it that the present movement will not stop until the separation of Church and State is hought above.

You may safely rely upon it that the present movement will not stop until the separation of Church and State is brought about, and the priest is made to take his proper place in the new political and social order. The Minister frankly declares that the system adopted for a model is neither that of France, Belgum or England, but the extreme, thorough and most advanced, if not nearly perfect system of America. Each church shall be a religious society, trusting to the people for support. Each congregation, of whatever form or faith, shall be on the same level with the rest, with no privileges and no special protection. Every citizen may select his own form of faith, and worship as he chooses, without any questions being asked and without any restraint, as long as the laws are obeyed and public order is not disturbed. There is to be no punishment for errors of opinion. word among the Irish. The Tribune says:

Col. John O'Connor, the present commander of the Fenian forces, was formerly in the United States service. O'Connor entered the 28th Massachusetts Regiment as Orderly Sergeant, at the age of 18 years, and served with the regiment through all its arduous campaigns in the Department of the South, under General Burnside in his North Carolina campaigus, and afterward with the regiment when brigaded with the regiments of the Irish Brigade under Gen. Meagher. O'Connor exhibited his gallantry in the disastrous fight of Pocotaligo, when the 28th Massachusetts was nearly cut to pieces. In personal appearance, O'Connor is quite prepossessing, standing about 5 feet 11 inches in height, of slender but graceful build, light hair and light complexion, with fair blue eyes. He has an excellent education, and speaks the English tongue with a very musical accent. Col. O'Connor came home in command of the 28th Massachusetts, as ranking Captain, and since that period has seen in Ireland organizing the people, and making himself acquainted with the topography of the district in which he is fighting so bravely. errors of opinion.

If such a plan is carried out any one can see

If such a plan is carried out any one can see what a change there must be, in a single generation, in the social condition of this country. Our friends here must be felicitated upon the happy prospect before them. Italy will become a shining example to the rest of the Catholic and to a part of the Protestant world. With perfect freedom of religions worship, a general system of public instruction, and a wise development of the national industries, Italy must take a conspicuous place among the most advanced nations.

But do not think that the ecclesiastics will the most advanced nations.

But do not think that the ecclesiastics will look on with a gentle spirit while these great plans are carried out. Their rage already knows no bounds, and although it can only be manifested by written or spoken words, it is not pleasant to witness. The Osservatore Romans in the last number, uses such language as this, speaking of the Bill of Reform already introduced into Parliament: "All this is nothing more than a shapeless mass of hypocrisy and the ludicrous, that would make us indeed, for the first time, ashamed of ourselves as Italians, did we not know that true Italians nobly and indignantly reject such low-born conceits, which, under the cover of the vulgarest hypocrisy, do not reveal in those who put them forth even the andacious courage of irreligion, or the satanic greatness of error."—Florence Correspondence of the N. Italian Finances.

The report of Sig. Scialoja, the Italian Min-ister of Finance, on the condition of the National Treasury, has just been presented to the Italian Parliament. It is an immensely long document, and shows a terrible balance on the wrong side of the books; but it is courageous and full of suggestions for the consideration of Parliament, with the object in view of meliorating the present unsatisfactory condition of things. New economies are urged, and the imposition of new taxes spoken of; and by the use of such means, a way is seen to a practical reduction of the debt. Nothing is said of an immediate return to specie payments, although the present premium on gold is not felt as a very great burden, as it is only five or six per

Sig. Scialoja pays a warm compliment to us, for the wonderful energy and elasticity shown by our Government and people in meeting an unexampled crisis. He says:

unexampled crisis. He says:

If Italy had not passed through years of wars and revolutions, and if her industries were in better condition, it would be easy to find the means to put the Treasury in a state to meet all the demands made upon it. If Italy also had that firmness of purpose, I might almost say that sublimity of herceness, which characterizes that young and vigorous people on the other side of the Atlantic, I should say at once let us meet the 185,000,000 of deficit with 185,000,000 of new taxes. But such rewith 185,000,000 of new taxes. But such resources can only be found in a country in which material prosperity has continued to increase through a long series of years, and only interrupted by a single war. After a most destructive war of five years, the United States found itself bearing the weight of a public debt of 15,000,000,000; the greater part furnished by the capitalists of the country; and to meet the interest on this debt, and pay the current expenses of Government, new and heavy taxes were imposed; one class alone of which produces the annual sum of 1,500,000,000. We have not the means for arriving at such grand

"Wheat was sown throughout the county "Wheat was sown throughout the county to a larger extent than in any previous year. In the moist and warm ground it germinated and sprouted within four or five days, and continued growing until the frosts of the latter part of November, when it showed a robust stand, such as has not been for many a fall. The thick coat of snow (also grumbled at as a matter of course) now covering the ground is another blessing. That snow shelters our wheat as under a universal hot house, and a good one as under a universal hot-house, and a good one, too, keeping the plant alive, but not allowing its growth, which is i's best postible condition."

The Prussian Elections.—At the elections held in Prussia for the North German Parliament, Prince Frederic Charles, a nephew of the reigning King, and Coult Bismarck, were among the successful candidates of the Conservative party. Count Bismarck was returned by no less than ten districts. The Liberals have, however, as usual, a majority. As the Prussian Liberals are subdivided into several portant points, we have to wait for fuller information before we can know whether any particular party has a majority in the new Parliament. HARD TO SUIT .- Mr. I eabody's gift to the Southern States, for the education of their youth, is not very gratefully received. The Richmond Dispatch, Augusta Chronicle, and other leading papers, consider that the selection of Northern men for the majority of the trustees is "a gratuitous insult to the honor, in-"telligence, and manhood" of the South, that the fund is intended to educate "children at the South as "Yankees," and the especially object that it is to be used for the education of negroes. Nevertheless, the money is not likely to be rejected.

NATE PROM MR BEDLOW.

PORTLAND, Feb. 19th, 1867. To the Editor of the Portland Daily Press: DEAR SIE:-My attention has been called an article in your issue of this morning, which is calculated to give a very unfair impressio to the telegraphing public. The American Telegraph Company furnished the Merchants Exchange with all the news reports, gold quotations, stocks, &c., free, for several years previous to the great fire of July 4th, which put a stop to all operations for a time,

These reports, if paid for, would have amounted to $3,000 a year and more. They also maintained an office in the Exchange, at an expense of over $1,000 a year, for the further accomm dation of the merchants and others in that v

When the Merchants' Exchange was re-opened on the wharf, I was strongly urged to move the office down with them, and they would give us rent and pay for their quotations. I accepted their offer, moved on to the wharf, and arranged for their reports and quotations to be transmitted at the nominal rate of three dollars per week. I was assured by Hon, T. C. Hersey and J. H. Perley, Esq., that this was perfectly satisfactory.

When it was found that the merchants would not go down on the wharf, it was determined to take a room up on the street, and a committee was appointed, who quietly perfected an arrangement with the International Telegraph Company to take a room over their office, the International Telegraph Company to furnish the Exchange with all their news free, provided the Western Union Telegraph Company should not be allowed to put an office into the

All obligation on the part of the old company having ceased, I waited until the International Company was able to work, when I notified Mr. Rich that the existing arrangement would cease on Saturday, the 16th inst.

These are the simple facts, and if there is any fault on the part of the Western Union Company, I fail to see it. I find no fault with the removal of the Exchange, or with their taking Company. But I don't want to see my company charged with shutting down on the Exchange, when the boot is on the other leg. Very respectfully,

THE BALL.—The Grand Calico Dress Ball, of the Irish American Relief Association by announcement, came off Monday night, at Mechanic's Hall, with great vivacity. The hall ante-rooms and galleries were so densely crowded that standing room was scarcely ob-tainable, and for a time very many who came to dance, could not even find a place from which to see. This was in consequence of the committee selling gallery tickets at the door, without any previous notice, whatever, Not-withstanding the jam, all who could, seemed to enter into the entertainment with hilarity, which was kept up till daylight. Indeed the oright eyed and rosy cheeked daughters of Erin, looked remarkably well in the lighter shades of calico, but the sombre aspect of some, detracted very much from the general brilliancy, which has always characterized these gath-

That the managing committee, perhaps, were not aware that a calico dress ball means a charity ball, is obvious from the fact that the true spirit and meaning of the appellation given the ball was not carried out. A calico dress ball is a charity ball, The ladies arrive in their ball room dress with a loosely fitting calico garment worn over it, and at a given signal in the early part of the dance, every lady removes her calico garment, and appears in her ball dress. And upon such occasions it is customary to fine every lady who enters the ball room minus her calico dress, a small sum of money, which, together with the calico dresses are donated to the poor. The great contrast in the characters assumed by Mrs. Paul, the changes being made almost instantly from "grave to gay; from lively to severe," show the remarkable powers of the lady, and afford the greatest delight to the audience. The tariff and financial questions yet occupy the attention of Congress. If anything is done by the present Congress it has got to be done speedily as, leaving out the 22d of February, which is a holiday with the members, there remains but ten days fo the 39th Congress. The 40th Congress, it is true, will assemble immediately after the adjournment of the assemble immediately after the adjournment of the 39th, but several States will be unrepresented at its opening. It is expected that should the tariff bill fail in the present Congress it will be immediately brought forward in the next. DUCK—The demand for Portland duck is steady and prices remain unchanged. DUCK—The demand for Portland duck is steady and prices remain unchanged.

DRY GOODS—There is no material change to note in the dry goods market. Business has but slightly improved. Importers and jobbers are waiting the movement of Congress upon the tariff. The markets in Boston and New York are flat, as Western purchasers do not appear in strong numbers.

FISH—There is more demand for dry fish and prices are fally sustained. Sales have been made of several lots of codfish and barreled herrings at our quotations. About one thousand quintals of hake have arrived, which have been sold, loose from the vessel, at $1 75@2 00 per quintal.

FIOUR—The market is rather dull, especially for common grades, which have shaded a trifle, and prices flavor purchasers. On the extra grades there is no change. The introduction of California flour into our market, will cut off some of the demand for the extra grades of Southern and Western flour.

FRUIT—Raisins are firm at our quotations. Cit-

PRUIT—Raisins are firm at our quotations. Cit-ron has shaded. Sicily fruit is coming along more freely, several cargoes having arrived since our last GRAIN—The stocks are small and the demand light. Prices are without change from last week.

HAY—The receipts during the week have not been large, but sufficient to meet the demand for shipping. Prices are unchanged, but firm.

LEAD—Unchanged, with a fair demand for sheet and pipe.

LEATHER—There is a fair demand for immediate use. Prices are a little lower. use. Prices are a little lower.

LIME—The present demand is small but prices are unchanged. The stocks are large.

HIDES AND SKINS—The market is dull and we have no change to note in prices.

IRON—The stocks of iron are good and there is a moderate but steady demand. Holders are unwilling to make concessions and are firm in their prices. Nails are selling at $6.750/7.00 per cask.

LARD-The market is flat and prices have shaded a trifle.

LUMBER—Prices for lumber remain about the same. While the demand for shipment is quite limited, that for home consumption is large. Southern pine is plenty and prices favor purchasers. ern pme is plenty and prices avor purchasers.

MOLASSES—The new crop is being taken up about as fast as it comes along, and prices are firm at our quotations. All indications point to a limited importation of retailing molasses the present season, and that prices will not be lower.

NAVAL STORES-The demand is very light and OAKUM.—Prices are steady and unchanged from last week. Demand very small. last week. Demand very small.

OILS—Linseed has advanced to $1 35@140. There is no change in other oils. The demand continues to ONIONS—Prime Silver-skins are not very plenty, and command $2 25@2 75 per bbl.

PAINTS—The present demand is limited. Prices are unchanged from last week.

PLASTER—The stocks have become reduced, and the prices for hard and soft have advanced. We quote soft at $3.00 and hard at $2.50@2.76 per ton. soft at $3 00 and hard at $2 50@2 76 per ton.

PRODUCE—Poultry is scarce and higher. Eggs are selling at 33@35c. Potatoes are not so plenty and 75@80c are asked for shipping. Choice ones are bringing $2 50 ber bbl.

PROVISIONS—The market for beef is quiet and unchanged. Perk is as buoyant as it was last week, and prices are steady. The supply of round hogs is good and choice ones are coming in from the West daily.

RICE—We continue our quotations. Rangoon is selling at 10c and Carolina at 12.

SALT—The market is very quiet and prices are without change. We note the arrival of a cargo of Inagua since our last, that was sold on private terms; also a cargo of St. Martins, which is on the market.

SOAPS—The demand for Leathe & Gore's steam.

refined soaps is well maintained and orders are coming in from all over the country. Our quotations give

SUGARS—There is a little more activity in the sugar market, but no alteration in prices. STARCH—Firm at our quotations, with a moder-ste demand. SHOT—Unchanged. The demand is quite light or the season. TEAS—The tendency is upward. The stocks are ample for present wants. TINS-The demand for all kinds continues to be TOBACCO—The market is well supplied. Prices remain unchanged, with light demand.

VARNISH—We have no change to note. The domand for all kinds is fair WOOL—There is a better feeling in the market, and prices are firmer, while the demand is steady. ZINC-Prices unchanged, with a light demand. ZINC—Prices unchanged, with a light demand. FREIGHTS—The engagements for the past week are: schooner Abbie, to load at St. John, N. B., for a port north side Cuba and back north of Cape Hatteras, at $6 per hhd for molasses, and Cuba charges paid; brig Mechanic, for Cardenas, with box shooks, 15c—shooks and hhds—30c, and empty casks at $1 25; bark Triumph, for Matanzas, with box shooks at terms not transpired.

FELLOW'S ORIGINAL WORM LOZENGES. WE can with confidence point to FELLOW'S WORM LOZENGES as the most perfect rem WE can with confidence point to FELLOW'S WORM LOZENGES as the most perfect remedy for those troublesome pests, INTESTINAL WORMS. After years of careful experiment, success has crowned our efforts, and we now offer to the world a confection without a single fault, being safe, convenient, effectual and pleasant. No injurious result can occur, let them be used in whatever quantity. Not a particle of calomel enters their composition, They may be used without further preparation, and tany time. Children will cagerly devour all you give them, and ask for more. They never fail in expelling Worms from their dwelling place, and they will always strengthen the weak and enaciated, even when he is not afflicted with worms.

Various remedies have from time to time, been resommended, such as calomel, oil of wormseed, turpantine, &c., producing dangerous, and sometimes fatal ing this rengely, free from all objections, and posi-ely safe, pleasant and effectual. They do not kill worms, but act by making their dwelling place agreeable to them. In order to assure consumers the genuineness of these lozenges, the analysis of A. A. Safe Arrival of the Steamship Bavaria LONDON, Feb. 18, Evening.

The cause of the Fenian outbreak in the outh of Ireland is yet buried in obscurity, hough the telegraph lines which run through he disaffected district are again working.—
ome say it was caused by the arrest of an american officer (Capt. Moriarty), while others ay that his prompt arrest prevented a general say that his prompt arrest prevented a general rising of the Irish. The British Government say that his prompt arrest prevented a general rising of the Irish. The British Government had news of the affair early on the 12th.

An upper servant in the house of the Earl of Kenmore had received two anonymous notes stating that the rising was planned in Killarney, and that the leader would reach Killarney, and that the leader would reach Killarney that night. Constables were immediately sent to intercept him. They met a wagon, on which they found Moriarty, whom they took into custody, and upon searching his person found letters that confirmed the assertions in the anonymous notes. A courier named Duggan was sent to Caterciveen to warn the police. A party of the rebels caught him while on his way and demanded his dispatches, which he refused to give up and attempted to escape. They fired upon him and he was badly wounded. As far as is known at present he is the only person who has been hurt.

The police of Caterciveen got news of the trouble by other messengers and from several spies among the Fenians. They were strengthened by a detachment from the man-of-war Gladiator, which was lying off Valentia, and saved their station from attack. The band of Fenians, ninety in number, took a horse at Hells for their leader, O'Connor, and another band stopped the mail on the road from Killarney to Caterciveen, but did no violence to any one. In fact nowhere has life been taken or property destroyed. The Fenian pian was to attack Killarney, capture the place and then march to Cork, but the immediate despatch of troops from Cork to Killarney, by Gen. Bates, and the celerity of Col. Horsford's movements defeated the whole plot and caused the insurgent band to disperse.

A Fenian mounted conrier was caught by gent band to disperse.

Thirty-four suspected persons were arrested in Dublin yesterday, and after examination were detained in custody.

Head Centre Murphy and Cols. Lawler, Healey and Johnson have been arrested at Limerick, and important papers were found upon their persons and in their lodgings. The alarm caused by these events is about over, and the excitement is rapidly subsiding.

None of the armed Fenians in Kerry county have been captured, but they have all disappeared. The Irish peasantry are perfectly willing to give any intelligence, but they object to assist in the arrest of their countrymen.

Three British ships of war are riding at anchor in the Kennare river to awe the people into obedience, and for service if need be.
Earl Derby, the first Lord of the Treasury, says officially: "The alarm has passed. All the peasants are loyal. The Government will treat the prisoners justly, and, if need be, severely."

The Irish Secretary, Lord Nass, says that no rising of Fenians is apprehended. There were only one hundred and twenty engaged in the late revoit. Notwithstanding these denials the Government is still sending troops to Ireland. The Lancers and Guards have received orders to depart immediately.

XXXIX CONGRESS-SECOND SESSION

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19. SENATE.

Petitions, etc., were presented and referred; among them one by Mr. Sumner asking that the colored regiments of the regular army be officered by colored men. Referred to the Military Committee.

Mr. Sumner offered a resolution calling upon the President to inform the Senate if there has been any correspondence between the Department of State and the Minister resident at Portugal with reference to his salary or partment of State and the Minister resident at Portugal with reference to his salary or compensation, also to inform the Senate if such Minister has received any compensation, if so, out of what fund he had been paid. Agreed to.

Mr. Morgan called up the act to provide for the safety of passengers on board vessels propelled by steam, which was passed.

Mr. Williams moved that the Senate insist on its amendments to the House bill to establish military Governments in the rebel States, and agree to a committee of conference.

Mr. Conness opposed such action. He thought it was too important a bill to intrust to a committee of conference. He should object to any compromise that could be effected, since the House had arrived at the conclusion and was in favor of laying this bill on the

and was in favor of laying this bill on the table, and taking up the Louisiana bill and adapting it to all the other rebel States.

Mr. Fink commenced a filibustering movement by moving that the House take a regess until 1 o'clock, and calling for tellers on the yeas and nays.

Much amusement was caused by Mr. Stevens identifying himself with the filibusters in voting for the yeas and nays. The yeas and nays were ordered.

Efforts were made to effect a compromise by the members on both sides without success, and filibustering continued until ten minutes before 11, when Mr. Wilson proposed that the House adjourn with the understanding that the vote be taken to-morrow after the reading of the journal, which was agreed to, and the House adjourned.

Arrival of Survivors of the City of Bath-The Fenine Excitement - The Usury Laws-Petition for a Licensed Liquor

Boston, Feb. 18.

The four survivors of the City of Bath arrived here this forenoon. There is no doubt that the rest of the crew and passengers were lost. Capt. Cony was drowned by the capsizing of the life boat. Eugineer Calden died from over work before abandoning the steamer.

The Fenian excitement in this vicinity continues unabated, notwithstanding the cable dispatches announce the outbreak in Ireland suppressed; as the Fenian leaeers attach but little importance to cable news.

The bill substantially abolishing the usury laws, after being debated several days in the House of Representatives, was ordered to be engrossed this afternoon by 120 yeas to 77 pays. The same bill passed the Senate about a week since, and it will become a law the first day of July next.

Judge Fisher to-day issued a bench warrant for Surratt, to bring him before the Criminal Court for the District of Columbia. Between 4 and 5 o'clock this afternoon Marshal Gording proceeded to the navy yard, and upon presentation of his warrant Admiral Radford delivered Surratt to him. He was dressed in the costume of the Roman Zouaves, which he had on when captured in Alexandria, and hand-cuffed. He was taken in a hack to the jail, where he was placed in one of the three cells fitted up for murderers and desperate characters. There is no possibility of his escape, and no one will be allowed to see him excepting his counsel and the officers of the prison. The prisoner positively denies that he is John H. Surratt.

Certificates of Cures.

This is to certify that I have been cured of Catarrh the worst form, by Mrs. Manchester. I have been in the worst form, by Mrs. Manchester. I have been in the worst form, by Mrs. Manchester. I have been in the worst form, by Mrs. Manchester. I have been in the worst form, by Mrs. M. in June. She told me es made worst. I saw Mrs. M. in June. She told me my case was a bad one, the tubes in the throat and upper parts of the lungs had become very much aftected all of which I knew was the case. I commended taking her medicine in June, and can truly say that I am now a well man. I am a trader, and in the habit of talking a great deal, and her curing me sile be the means of hundreds of dollars in my pockets, as now I can talk without hurting me. Go and consult her, and you will be perfectly satished.

And turned me out a man!

BANGOR, May 15, 1866.

MRS. MANCHESTER—Dear Madant:—When you were in Bangor last summer, I called to see you with a child of mine that had been sick for four years. I had taken her to a number of physicians, and none could tell what alled her or even her symptoms. You axamined her case, and told. were in Bangor last summer, I called to see you with a child of mine that had been sick for four years. I had taken her to a number of physicians, and none could tell what alled her or even her symptoms. You examined her case, and told me exactly her symptoms from the commencement of her sickness, which were very peculiar; also told me that there was something alive in her, and also said there was a number of them, and is hi me that she drank them from a rain-water cistern. You said that you would not warrant a cure, but would try and do the best you could for her. She commenced taking your medicine in August last, and from that time until December, the child has passed off large quantities of what we call Tadpoles, from rain-water, and I think, and am certain that the child must have died had it not been for you. And I advise everybody to see Mrs. Man am certain that the child must have died had it not been for you. And I advise everybody to see Mrs. Man and the condition of a person diseased better than any peysician that I have ever heard of. My child is now perfectly healthy. Please have this published, and let the world know that there is one who practises what they profess to.

Very truly and gratefully yours,

GEORGE E. MARTIN.

Caution to the Public.

Every intelligent and thinking person must know that remethes handed out for general use should have their efficacy established by well tested experience in the hands of a regularly educated physician, whose preparatory studies fit him for all the duties he must rulnit; yet the country is flooded with poor nosirums and cure-alls, purporting to be the best in the world, which are not only useless, but always injurious. The unfortunate should be PARTICULAR in selecting his physician, as it is a lamentable yet incontrovertible fact, that many syphilite patients are made miscrable with ruined constitutions by multreatment from ingxperienced physicians in general practice; for it is a point generally conceded by the best syphilographers, that the study and management of these complaints should engross the whole time of those who would be competent and successful in their treatment and cure. The inexperienced general practitioner, having neither opportunity nor time to makhimself acquainted with their pathology, commonly pursues one system of treatment, in most cases making an indiscriminate use of that antiquated and dangerous weapon, the Mercury. Commencing Monday, Nov. 12th, 1866. Passenger Trains leave Portland daily at 1.00 F. O'n some boilers 700 degs. of heat is thrown away.

O'making a loss of 1-3 the fuel. The question is often asked how can this be saved. Mr Blanchard has invented a boiler that takes perfect control of all the heat and makes it do duty in the engine. This is very simple in its construction; after the engine is in motion the moke pipe is closed fight, and the waste heat carried through heaters, heating the steam to any temperature desired; the remainder carried through the water heater, using up all the waste heat but 200 degs.; the heat being reduced so low there can be no danger of setting fires by sparks thrown from engines, which will add much value to this invention, besides the saving 1-3 the inel.
