Congressman Murch appears to be the authority for the reports industriously put in circulation here within the past few days that the Fusionists in Maine will carry their general ticket, which will include the Governor and the four Congressmen. Mr. Murch does not feel quite warranted as yet in predicting the election of a Fusion Legislature, but he is confident of the success of the Fusion general ticket. His statements do not agree with the advices received by the Republican Senators and Representatives from Maine, which show a perfect organization of the Republican forces there, with an earnest determination to a periect organization of the hepotical forces there, with an earnest determination to carry the State. They are highly encouraged by these assurances, and will return to their homes after the adjournment to take an active part in the campaign.

FIGHT WITH ROBBERS.

TWO FARMERS SLIGHTLY WOUNDED.

Reading, Pa., July 26.—The full details of a sanguinary battle with a gang of at least a dozen determined thieves, were received here from the small village of Herefordville, in the eastern section of Berks county. The fight, in which guns and pistols were used, was at night, lasted about an hour, and resulted in the wounding of several farmers who were engaged in driving off the mob. The object of the thieves was to rob a rich farmer named Menno D. D. Clemmer, residing a few miles from Claytonville. The would-be robbers first made their appearance on Monday night, and surrounded the house. They came in a large wagon, and it is supposed they were strangers who were encamped in the hils near Perryville. Several attempts were made to enter the house by battering down the heavy oaken doors, but Mr. Clemmer aroused the neighbors by sharp firing at theithieves, and they disappeared. They did not return the fire, being perhaps unarmed, and it is now supposed that they had not anticipated such a warm recertion.

Mr. Clemmer yesterday was impressed with the idea that the thieves would make a second attack, and he succeded in getting a number of neighbors to remain in his house during Tuesday night. These neighbors were armed with guns, pistols and rifles. Some of them stood guard on the ground floor, while some of them were stationed at the windows in the upper stories.

At about 11 o'clock a noise was heard on the outside and two men halted in front of the house, a parently wearing black masks. They were observed reconnoitering about the front, and a few minutes later three more strangers appeared. Closely following these were three more, and finally four others arrived, making a dozen in all. Their team must have been at some distance away, as it was not seen near the house. The marauders advanced toward the rear

The marauders advanced toward the rear part of the house, when the farmers inside opened the doors, rushed ont and discharged a volley at them. Sharp cries of pain followed, but none of the intruders dropped. They, however, fell back to the road and returned the fire, wounding William Gaulman in the arm with a ball from a revolver. Volley after volley was fired at twenty yards distance, at the slowly retreating strangers, and the fire arm with a ball from a revolver. Volley after volley was fired at twenty yards distance, at the slowly retreating strangers, and the fire was briskly returned. During the third round James Henry was struck in the left shoulder, receiving a slight flesh wound. The night was quite dark, and the farmers kept [well together and fired low. Finally, one of the thieves, apparently the leader of the gang, shouted that if the firing was not ceared they would burn down every stable, barn and house on the place. Their ammunition being exhausted the farmers fell back to Clemmer's house. It is supposed that the thieves retreated in their wagon, though two suspicious looking characters were seen in the neighborhood today. It is also believed that some of them were badly wounded.

The Pennsylvania Independents. The Pennsylvania Independents.

Philadelhha, July 27.—The Independent Republican State Committee of Pennsylvania met this morning to consider the peace propositions submitted by the regular Republican State committee. A motion to consider the propositions seriativn was adopted. The first two were rejected unanimously without discussion, but the consideration of the third gave rise to an animated debate. A letter was read from Senator Mitchell, in which he says that nothing short of a new ticket of such men as shall command the respect and support of all shall command the respect and support of all Republicans, is wise, just and practicable. Af-ter debats, the committee formally rejected all four of the stalwart propositions for harmony.

A reply is to be framed.

After recess, the committee adopted a long

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., July 27.—The Demicratic State convention met at 3 o'click yesterday, and permanently organized by the election of John F. Phillips 22 president, and Nat. C. Dryden secretary, with five assistants. Thomas A. Sherwood, the present incumbent, was nominated Judge of the Supreme Court on the second ballot.

The following platform was adopted:
Resolved, That we reaffirm that the greet principles held by the Democratic party are the foundation of free government, among which are equal rights to all, special privileges to none, protection of the weak against the encroachments of the strong, equal taxation, free speech, free press, free schools, and a free and uncorruptable ballot. We demand reform in the civil service, and adequate national legislation to prohibit the assessment of persons holding office under the National administration for political purposes. We condemn the extravagance of the Republican party in expenditures of the people's money, which has characterized the legislation and conduct of that party. We are opposed to the present iniquitous protective tariff. We demand a reduction of all duties to a basis only necessary to secure public revenue, and denounce the evasive and dilatory policy of the Republican party in preventing the needed reform. In accordance with the history and traditions of the Democratic party we are opposed to any legislation of mere individual concern, and favor the larwith the history and traditions of the Democratic party we are opposed to any legislation of mere individual concern, and favor the largest personal liberty consistent with the public welfare. We are in favor of an adequate currency for all commercial needs upon a secure and sound basis. We demand protection to all citizens of this country at home or abroad, and ask such strict enforcement of the laws in this respect, as shall secure the same, and condemn the present national administration for negligence in this important duty. We condemn the centralizing tendencies of the Republican party, whereby corporate powers unjustly granted and fostered by the general government are able to crystalize into monopolies which are oppressive to labor and the general interests of the country.

nistructions to eliminate all general legislation changing existing laws in regard to the navy.

Mr. Bayard supported the motion.

Mr. Hale suggested that such legislation would be better understood if discussed in open Senate, than it would be if the discussion of it was confined to a committee room.

A long debate occurred. Mr. Hawley commended the wisdom of the provisions concerning the naval advisory board, sale of old hulks and useless material, etc., but deprecated others which he characterized as vicious elements and said if these were retained he would take the responsibility of voting against the bill upon the ground that legislation on an appropriation bill is a wrong, and that the matter of recasting the personnel of the navy ought not to be entered upon without more deliberate consideration. He suggested the appointment of a commission to report upon this subject at the next session. What the country wanted was not another example of vicious legislation on an appropriation bill but a navy, a reformed not a rotten navy.

After further debate a motion to recommit the naval bill to the appropriations committee with instructions to eliminate all features of general legislation was lost. Adjourned. HOUSE.

The Official Gazette publishes a letter from Arabi Pasha, which declares that any person found in possession of the proclamation dismissing Arabi Pasha from the ministry, circulated by the Khedive's emissaries, will be court martialed. ALEXANDRIA, July 27, noon—Eight hundred soldiers are now being landed from the troopship Orontes. The Orontes, after the disembarkment, will proceed to Port Said and land marines. There is great activity in the enemy's lines. Egyptian soldiers disguised as Bedouins have carried off ten cases of gunpowder from fort Mukbebe, near Meks. Emissaries from Arabi Pasha have been preaching in the mosques at Mukbebe almost daily. It has been, therefore decided to occupy the fort and also the fort commanding the road along the shore of Lake Mareotis, near which patrols of the enemy have frequently been seen. The fire here is in the native quarter. It is believed to have been started by incendiaries.

The Vice Regent for Maine-Mrs. M. J. M. Sweat—reported:

That in accordance with instructions of last Council, she had taken the bond of the Portland & Rechester railroad for $500, presented to the endowment fund by her father, in 1871, and exchanged it for a certificate of stock at 50 f yr cent. of its original value; all the bonds of that road having been called in under an act of the Maine Legislature. This certificate she now gave to the Rezent, in presence of Council, and received instructions to sell the half-share scrip accompanying it at the best market price and transmit the amount received to the endowment fund. Also the gift of two volumes for the library at Mount Vernon, from the firm of Loring, Short & Harmon, book-sellers of P. rtland, Me. One of these volumes is a handsomely illustrated History of the Bunker Hill Monument Association, the other a Life of Washington in the French language. Sweat-reported:

a Life of Washington in the French language. On motion of the Vice Regent for Maine, Council considered the feasibility of erecting a substantial brick wall in place of the wooden fence now in need of expensive repairs, at the head of the lawn-this wall to be of the same form and style as that which presents so picturesque a feature on the grounds near the ouse. The cost of fences is great; repairs have to be frequent, and a somewhat larger expenditure in the beginning might prove better economy in the end by securing a permanent and handsome wall. This suggestion met with unanimous approval, and an examination of the ground by the ladies, showed that the line of such a wall is well defined by a sub-structure of brick work still existing over a large part of the way. The Superintendent was instructed to arrange for the construction of this wall, and to use for the purpose as many as possible of the large old bricks to be found upon the place, It appears that these bricks were made in Washington's time, in a brick yard upon his own land, where a superior clay is still found. The Vice Regent for Maine moved that the small room in the upper story, which has always been used as a store-room for furniture and papers, be cleared and thrown open to the public. Our Railroads.

Nearly ten thousand miles of railroad-in exact figures 9,358-were built in this country last year. The cost, at an average of $25,000 a mile, is reckoned at $203,750,000. In addition, $175,000,000 have been expended on lines in progress, on improvement of tracks, on scations and other equipments. Even the enormous activity in railroad building which distinguished 1871 was far exceeded in 1881. Then 7,379 miles were built, while 1881 showed about 2,000 more. According to Poor's Railroad Manual, up to the first of June, 1882, 3,677 miles were opened, against 1,704 for the corresponding period of 1881; and the Railway Age puts the number of miles built during the first six onths of the year at about 5,000 against 2.000 miles for the half year in 1881. In 1870-71-72, years of unexampled enterprise in railroad construction, only 19,327 miles were built, against the 20,000 miles for I831 and 1832 alone. We have now in the United States 107,000

He was a rising man in the Western Democracy until 1861, when he killed himself politically by opposing a bill to place the Illinois militia on a war footing; he hooted the idea that there would be any war, and in denouncing the measure said: "Go out into the farmhouses of Illinois and you will find the old family musket hanging on the antiers of the deer over the fireplace, where it has rested in peace for generations, as thickly covered with dust as the family Bible." That witticism settled him. He never has held an elective office since BRAZIL has just published its balance sheet for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1881, which shows a deficit of $4,348,728 upon a revenue of $60,669,677. This deficit is an improvement on recent years, the average for five years past having been $20,000,-000, or nearly one-half the annual revenue; but it is still far from the favorable showing of ten years ago, when an equilibrium in income and outgo was secured just after the Paraguayan war. Nearly one-fourth of the deficit in 1881 is due to the emancipation fund, whose expenditures exceeded receipts by about $1,000,000. The large deficits of recent years arise from heavy relief expenditures on the Ceara drought.

A CORRESPONDENT of Solon Chase's paper describes Plaisted as one who "has straddled until he has split himself to his jaw bone."

> [Philadelphia North American.] The Case of General Curtis.

The action of the Circuit Court in the case of General Newton M. Curtis, a special agent of the Treasury Department in the New York Custom House, is well calculated to produce in political circles considerable excitement and no little apprehension. General Curtis had been found guilty of what most people will regard as the not very beinous offense of collecting or at least of receiving from Federal officehoiders contributions of money for political purposes. It is quite conceivable that in acting as he did, General Curtis had no idea that he was breaking the law of the land and committing an indictable offence. What he did is being done every day, and has been done habitually for so long a time as the memory of man runneth not to the contrary. Whether the custom is one which would be more honored in the breach than in the observance is another question, and one which need not now be discussed. Perhaps it is desirable to suppress the practice of assessing office-holders for the support of the party to which they belong the support of the party to which they belong and to which they owe their places, though where in that case the money is to come from to pay the expenses inseparable from political campaigning does not appear.

But however that may be, the assessment of office-holders is a regular and recognized feature of "practical politics," and when General Curtis took his part in it in the usual course, he would no doubt have been very much surprised had any one told him of the consequences which were to ensue. That of course will not serve as an argument against the sentence which has since been passed upon him. Ignorance of the law excuses no man, and if General Curtis was not aware of the Ignorance of the law excuses no man, and if General Curtis was not aware of the act of March 15, 1876, which prohibits "all executive officers or employes of the United States not appointed by the President, with the advice and consent of the Senate, from requesting, giving or receiving from any other officer or employe of the government pur money or property or other thing of value for political purposes," he has no one to blame for that but himself. At the same time General Curtis is likely to receive from an observ-

We have now in the United States 107,000 miles of railroad, about one-third of it built in four and one-half years. Our railway mileage is now about the same as that of all Europe. The earnings of all the roads in operation last year, were $725,325,119, being an increase over the previous year of $110,000,000, or nearly 16 per cent. They were equal to $13 60 per head of our population.

The current expenses of the roads were $449,565,071. For interest on funded debts $123,837,002 was paid, and in dividends $93,344,200 against $77,115,411 for 1880. Over $750,000,000 was expended in the construction of new lines and in operating and improving the old ones.

Estimating the persons employed in operating these roads at twelve to the mile, there were 1,200,0000 in all, to which must be added 400,000 engaged in railway construction, making 1,600,000, or about one thirty-second part of the population. The amount of freight carried is estimated at 350,000,000, or more than $200 per head of the whole population.

A comparison of the value of Colorado

Cool Mr. Bethell.

Once in a case before Sir Lancelot Shadwell, Mr. Wakefield demanded that judgment should be given in his favor, because Sir Lancelot had already given his decision in the similar case of Jones vs. Webb. The vice-chancellor had no recollection on the point. Mr. Bethell, the case of Jones and Webb mentioned by my learned friend, but my learned friend, of course accidentally, omitted to mention that your Honor's judgment was finally reversed on appeal in the House of Lords." This was too 7.33 per mile. On the Denver and Rio Grande Railway the number of miles run to the ton is 41.19, at a cost of 7.33 per mile. Considering the heavy grades of the Colorado road, the mileage record certainly is remarkable; and the cost per mile in Colorado is very low when the fact is considered that the comparison is made with a railroad farous for its economical management, and running through the greatest coal field in the world. The figures are creditable alike to Colorado railway management, and to the quality of Colorado coal.

(Mr. Bethell was, it may be supposed, a cool hand at election times. Once he attended a stormy meeting of his cohstituents at Aylestormy. He was terribly attacked for not having attended to the interests of that virtuous borough. Mr. Bethell answered all the charges brought against him with his usual ingenuity; but one indignant electer got up and said: "Mr. Bethell, you have answered every written to you lifty letters, to not one of which have I received an answer." "Really," said the undanuted Chancery barrister, "if I had not the most anbounded confidence in the verification. not the most anbounded confidence in the veracity of my honorable friend, I could not have believed such a dereliction of duty on the part of Her Majesty's Post Office. A Modern Fable. Little Red Riding Hood having made a cake all by her own self, was sent by her proud and happy Mother to carry it to her Grandmother. Upon her way she encountered a Wolf, who, representing himself to the credulous Child as the old Lady's Newfoundland Dog, so won upon her confidence that she disclosed to him the her confidence that she disclosed to him the Object of her Mission. "Then," said the crafty Wolf, "I will run on ahead and pull the bobbin that the Latch may go up." The silly Child, being touched with Gratitude, accepted his services, and gave the Animal a big piece of her Cake; and the Wolf perishing miserably of indigestion long before he had reached the old Dame's Cottage, Little Red Riding Hood obtained a new Tippet and Muff from his Skin, and was enabled to soothe her Grandmother's declining Years with Comforts purchased with the bounty maid for his scalp. the bounty naid for his scalp.

A Pair of Them Who Figured in the Reign of George II.

[London Society.] The "professional beauty" is no new feature of the London season; and though photography has no doubt done much to give publicity to the charms of the loveliest women in the ranks of fashion, yet in the days of our great-grandfathers and great-grandmothers the reigning belles excited quite as much valgar curiosity and gossip as they do now. Take, for example, the Gunnings, Maria and Elizabeth, who appeared at the Court of George II., one at the age of eighteen, the other of nineteen, and both without a shilling to their dowry. "They what curious industry. Within an area of are declared," writes Walpole, "to be the handomest women alive; they can't walk in the Park or go to Vauxhall but such crowds follow them that they are generally driven away.' One day they went to see Hampton Court; as they were going into the Beauty Rcom another party arrived; the housekeeper, in a state of great excitement, said to the new comers, This way, ladies, here are the famous beauties!" The Misses Gunning thereupon flew in-to a passion, and asked what she meant; they ties!" The anisses training thereupin her in a passion, and asked what she meant; they went to see the palace, and not to be shown as a sight themselves.

The youngest of the two sisters became the wife of James, Duke of Hamilton; he fell in love with her at a masquerade, and a fortnight later met her at an assembly in Lord Chesterfield's gorgeous new house in Mayfair. His Grace was so entmoured of the lovely Elizabeth that he left the faro-table, where he had staked a thousand guiness, and "let the game side"; whilst he paid devoted court to his enchantress. Two nights later, at half an hour past midnight, they were married by Dr. Keith, with the ring of a bed curtain, in Mayfair Chapel, one of the most hasty and eccantric marriages on record. In less than three weeks Maria Gunning followed her sister's example, and was wedded to Lord Coventry, though not with such indecent haste as in the other case.

The two beauties were even greater objects The two beauties were even greater objects of popular curiesity after their marriages than before. When the Duchess of Hamilton was presented, the crowd at the drawing-room was so great that even "noble persons" clambered upon tables and chairs to look at her; whilst mobs gathered round the doors of the two "goddesses" to see them get into their sedan-chairs; and such crowds flocked to see the Duchess when she went to her castle that 700 persons sat up all night in a Yorksbire town in order to see her start in her post-chaise the next to see her start in her post-chaise the next to see her start in her post-chaise the next morning!

Lady Coventry was equally run after; at Worcester a showmaker made two guineas and a half by showing, at a penny a head, the shoe which he was making for the Countess. She had, however, little but her beauty to recommend her; it was she who made the singularly malad out remark to His Majesty that the one sight she longed to see was a coronation. Her husband, who was a sensible man in many respects, though somewhat of a bear in manners, objected shongly to her ladyship's excessive use of red and white powders and paints; and once at a large dinner marty, suspecting that she had been "waking herself up," he chased his wife around the table till he caught her, when, before all the company, he scrubbed her face with a napkin. When Lady Coventry visited Paris she expected that her beauty would meet with the applause which had followed her and her sister through England; but she was put to flight by another English lady, still more lovely in the eyes of the Parisians. A certain Mrs. Pitt took a box at the opera opposite the Courtess, and was so much opera opposite the Couriess, and was so much ha dsomer than her ladyship that the parterrecried out that this was the real English angel; whereupon Lady Cove stry quitted Paris in a huff. Not long afterwad she died of consumption, accelerated, it was said, by the red and white paint with which she plastered those luck'ess charms of hers.

Sea Side Food. "Have you sea-food?" he asked, as he sat down to his first dinner at the fashionable seaside hotel.

"Yes, sir; salt mackerel!" "Anything elta?"

"Yes, sir; roast beef, motton, pork, veal-"But I mean sea-food! We get plenty of meat in the city. Have you clams?" "Clams-clams-clams! I'll see," and he started for the steward, and soon returned with the information that clams were inc ripe yet."
"My friend, I have come to this sea side re-sort solely for a change of diet. Surely you have fish?"

"Yes, sir; on Fridays. Can bring you to ast beef rare or well done, real, pork, mut—" "Are there any oysters in the market?" "I'll see." But after a tho ough canvass of the several hotel officials, he finds none who ever heard of the dish, and so reports. "Do not your gaests prefer a change from the ordinary city diet! Surely you have lobsters?"

"Lobsiers—lob-sters—lob—I'll see."
Leadlord appears: "Stranger, if you come to my house for the purpose of 'guying' my waiters, I trust you will vacate at once." And the sojourner from the city settled back in his chair and patteck of the hereditary beef and standard baked beans of every day life.

PLANT FOOD

This compound has been thoroughly analyzed by a competent Professor of Chemistry, who pronounces it good for all we claim for it. No one need fear to apply it to the most tender plant. Use a small quantity and Increase as the Plant Matures.

This composition gives the plants a luxurious growth and a dark rich green color, which no other food gives them, it also gives the flower of the plants a brighter, richer and more beautiful color. It has no equal for Plants in the house or garden, and what is of the most importance to the Ladies, is its easy application, and it has positively no offensive odor. Tryit and you will be well pleased with it. Directions with each Hox.

Every Policy issued by this Company contains the following conditions, and is absolutely Non-Forfeitable: In case of Lapse, after two or more Full Years, Premiums have been paid, the full Four Per Cent. Reserve Value will be applied by the Company, at the option of the Assured, in either of two ways: FIRST—To the Extension of the full amount of the Insurance for such period as the full value will pay for at the Company's Published Rates: or, SECOND—On surrender of the Original Policy within Three Months from date of Lapse, to the purchase of a Paid-up Policy. ILLUSTEA WIGH. Policy No. 68,496 was issued Oct. 20. 1871, for $5,000 on the Annual Life Plan, at age 37, annual Premium $138.80. Ten Premiums were paid, which, less Dividends, amounted to $1.072.55. The Policy lapsed in 1881, and the Company applied the Reserve Value of $689.76 to the purchase of Term Insurance for $5,000, for the period of 10 years and 7 days; so that the 10 Premiums paid for over 20 years of Insurance, the average yearly cost leing $53.57, which is at the rate of but $10.71 per thousand. It was optional with the Assured to take the Extended Insurance as above, or to surrender the original Policy for a Paid-up Life Policy of $1,390.

In that case he will probably go via Portland and the City of Richmond, and our city should see to it that a cordial invitation is extended to him to sojourn with us, if only for a day or two. It will be remembered that President Garfield had made arrangements to visit Portland last August when the shot of the assassin deprived our citizens of the pleasure of giving him a hearty welcome. President Arthur will be warmly greeted and special attentions will be shown him. The regular August meeting of the City Government would be rather late to exto I an invitation and, if the Boston Journal is correct, a special meeting should be convened for that purpose.

STRAIGHT GREENBACKERS.

THE COUNTY RECEPTION HALL.

Solon Chase Makes a Speech to the Assembly.

The Straight Greenbackersheld their county conventior at Reception Hall yesterday. About 63 delegates were present at the morning session. It was evident that the most of the delegates would not be present until afternoon as they knew that Solon Chase could not get to the city putil that time.

MORNING SESSION. The convention was called to order at 10.30 a. m., by Mr. H. W. Fletcher, chairman of the county committee, who read the published call. Mr. Fletcher called upon Rev. W. F. Eaton

Mr. Eaton was elected amid much applause. Mr. Eaton said we find ourselves under peculiar circumstances. All great movements that have benefitted humanity have begun small and worked forward under the principle of right. This very hall witnessed the meeting that sold us out as a party. Here it was the statement was made that the Democracy would wheel into line with the Greenbackers, but they haven't done it. The net which was thrown about the Greenback party, and so shrewdly drawn home, allowed to escape from its meshes those men who will prove the salvation of the Greenback party; men true to its principles. Not that all those men perhaps are here, but we think there are some who will possibly have their eyes openediand join us. We will sustain our principles, on the principle of right, with malice to none, and that principle will lead us on to victory, a victory that will compensate for all our sufferings. We have a Greenback party in the state ignoring Greenbackers. But I am making a speech. We come here for work; to undo what has been done against our consent. We should now present committees to report their action at a later hour in the day. Mr. P. H. Gordon nominated Charles B Newton for temporary secretary. Mr. Turner moved a committee of five on resolutions, and the following were appointed:

J. M. Strout, Deering; Charles Cole, Raymond; Charles Cotton, Gorham. On motion of Mr. Gordon the county comnittee was made a committee on credentials. Mr. Lombard of Portland moved that the temporary organization be made permanent. The motion was withdrawn.

Mr. J. B. Chase moved that committees report at assembling of the convention in the afternoon. Carried. Rev. S. C. Butterfield of Deering made a brief speech the gist of which was the church and the wealth of to-day were all on the side of the oppressor. Mr. J. B. Chase of Cape Elizabeth followed in the same vein. He denounced corporations, declared the Portland & Ogdensburg and Portland & Rochester were sold-in the one case for a small proportion of its value to an ex-mayor of Portland, and in the other it was desired to sell the road for a fifth of its worth so the directors, all rich men-while the toiling man paid for them. He brought up the Pacific railroad scheme that had enriched Jay Gould sixty millions. He declared the Democrats are Greenbackers as long as they can steal the Greenback party. We are here, said he, to re-assert our rights as expressed when was, at this point, read by the Chair:

I desire much to meet the gentlemen of Cumberland coup v who have the courage to move forward in the cause of humanity, and for the upbuilding of the National Greenback Labor party. My position two years ago was the same as it is today, and my judgment that it was then right is fully confirmed by the abnormal status of the Plaisted wing of our party at the present time; and especially do I feel convinced of the soundness of our position when I view all the circumstances that have attended the development, and growth of the attended the development and growth of the Fusion party. No man can deplore the situation of our political organization any morthan I, and any sacrifice I can make for the common good of the people in their movemen against the two old parties will not be with country.

Our condition to-day is the result of the understanding which Plaisted, Murch and Ladd and some others in our party had with the Democrats two years ago. Our growth was steady and marked up to the hour when Plaisted was elected. Then, I believe, we could have poiled from 55,000 to 60,000 Greenback votes, as against distinct Democratic and Republican nominees. And if Mr. Plaisted had avoided collusion with the Democrats, we could elect him Governor of Maine next September by a handsome majority. The opportu-

of Murch and a few leading men with them, our party is reduced to less than 10,000 today. The result is defeat to Plaisted and the con-The result is defeat to Plaisted and the congressmen. A reactionary feeling possesses the popte here. Every day I see evidence of the effect fusion is having, and if we can place a few able men on the stump for our cause, our party will again begin to grow. I have written in great haste. Give may compliments to members of your committee, and pardon me members of your committee, and pardon me for delaying this answer to your kind invita-Yours truly.

On motion of Mr. Turner of Portland, a collection was taken up to defray the expenses of the convention. P. H. Gordon was appointed a committee to wait on Solon Chase at his hotel and request him to address the convention. Mr. Chase, on being introduced, was re ceived with applause. He said: I see men before me who have plowed around the fusion stump, and the time has come to take it out. I see the old time flash in your eye. Casting pelicy behind us, here we are a few men; but gentlemen, I tell you you have a grand backing in the back lots, and we are respected by all honest men in the old parties, and the mass of the men in the old parties, are honest. We stand ready to go down with the ship if need be. We stand by principles. We say "No trades," and when we say "No trades," we mean so. SPEECH OF SOLON CHASE. of Cape Elizabeth as temporary chairman.

Trades," we mean so.

The men who have been talking no fusion have come out from behind the bushes, and when they talk of "no understanding" we know what they mean, and they will find their platform as easy to stand upon as to ride a barbed wire fence.

We have gone back where we commenced.

We played about the stamp for years," and

We have gone back where we commenced. We plowed about the stump for years, and then two years ago went out from this hall to do what we are doing to-day. It is said the Republicans have hired Uncle Solon. To do what? To do just what all the world knew two years ago he would do. We are Greenbackers and nothing else. When we got 500 votes they said our figures were bird tracks; this year it will becrow tracks, and the bear tracks will come next year. The fusionists are on two platforms, as wide apart as slavery and freedom.

It is said we are helping the Republican party, and that the Democratic party is in the minority. Yes, and it has been for twenty years, and why? Because of its record. Because of its record on the slavery question and because of its war record, and because of its rum record. All over the country it is raising the rum beauer.

rum record. All over the country it is raising the rum banner.

The Democratic party is not going to die; the Republican party will die first. There will be no man not yet born who will vote that ticket; but the Democratic party will control millions of votes after the Republican party is dead. It can make a soft money platform in one State, a hard money platform in another, and a go-between in another and there will be no bolt. Why? The Democrats never bolt. The masses of the Republican party look forward, their leaders look back; while the Democrats look to something Democratic every time; and the Greenbackers who went into the Democratic party to control it will find they are but a part of the Democratic party, while we shall represent the Greenbackers who vote for any other than our candidate will find themselves recorded either as Democrats or Republicans. It is the votes for Solon Chase that will be counted as Greenback votes in September.

September.

The Republican party don't want the Democratic party to die. It wants the Greenbackers to go over to the Democrats, and then they'll provide for 'em as they have provided for the Democratic party of twenty years past. If Solon Chase gets 20,000 votes, the Republicans would look blacker in the face than the ace of spades. Suppose Solon Chase gets 20,000 votes, the Democrats 40,000 and the Republicans 65.000—2 small majority over both, publicans 65,000—2 small majority over both, then they won't feel as well as though the op-position vote was reconed as altegether Demo-

Let it but be known that the Greenback party has come to stay, that it can't be bought out, sold out, or bargained for, and nothing under heaven can prevent our sweeping the State two years from now. This is the first convention we have held

On motion of William Morrill of Raymond the convention adjourned to 1.30 p. m.

THE AFTERNOON SESSION.

The convention was called to order at 2 o'clock.

On motion of Mr. Gorden of Portland the temporary orfanization was made permanent.

Mr. Turner of Portland, from the committee on resolutions, reported the following planting and and glorious principles of the Greenback party and inspire with confidence the conscientious voters of our State and nation in our honesty of purposes and determination to maintain strictly an independent party organization; and to keep ourselves in line with the national organization:

Resolved, That we pledge our support to the candidates of the Greenback party, placed in acmination at Bangor, May 30, 1882.

Resolved, That we reaffirm and adopt the platform of the Nati and Greenback Convention had at Ohicago in 1880 and at Bangor May 30, 1882.

Resolved, That we pledge to the nominees of this convention our support, and will use all honorable means to secure their election.

The resolutions were adopted on motion of Mr. Freeman Gordon of Deering.

P. H. Gordon, Esq., aunounced that Solon Chase would address the convention after the business was transacted.

The following nominations for county officers I do not know whether we shall be the party of the future, but I do know we have the questions that must be discussed, and the problems that must be solved in the future, and if we are true we will bring them before the people. We can sell hogs at a profit now. You can buy pork or cotton or anything else now, and sell it six months from now and make money by it. Hogs are rising, because the gold dollar as measured by logs is on the increase in value. In my pasture the white clover is up to the eyes of the cattle, and the stock never looked so well, but it will be worth more six months from now. That is its apparent value, but there is a time coming when the game of swapping dollars, and you will see a difference between what they call gold and gold itself.

Mr. Jewett of Deering said he could not vote for a man for any office who was not heart and soul in the movement.

Mr. White suggested that after all it would not be necessary to nominate a lawyer.

Mr. Gordon of Portland suggested the name of Charles E. Clifford.

Mr. Gordon called attention to the fact that Mr. Talbot while not in favor of the national bank system is still a hard money man.

Mr. Lombard of Portland thought it might be well to let the nomination go over.

Mr. Fletcher of P ortland moved to refer the matter as it stood to the county committee. Withdrawn.

It was hit a pleasant thing to do, but had I failed to act I should have felt I had not been true to my duty, but the Fusion leaders to-day were the leaders of two years ago. It is said the Republicans are friendly to as. It is not so. When I was a candidate for Congress the Lewiston Journal said it would be a great misfortune to have such a man as Solon Chase elected to Congress, and to-day, the Journal don't like Uncle Solon any better than it did then, and Uncle Solon don't like the Journal a bit better. Two years ago the Argus liked the sound of Uncle Solon's cow hide boots, but not now. And so when I see myself praised by a Republican paper, I don't appreciate it, for both partles are working for themselves. But I did not come to make a speech, I wanted to see you, to see if you were enjoying religion, and to say to you that I never felt so well before in my life, and "them steers" are drawing in ha, every day, and they were never were so slick before. Soon, however, I shall turn them back into the clover again, were never were so since before, Soon, nowever, I shall turn them back into the clover again, but they won't work alone. We shall go into every county in the State, and Col. Harper will go with us. I want all the votes I can get, I want votes enough for Governor to show to the world that there is a Greenback party in the State. I will do all I can and I want every man to do all he can. Gentlemen I thank you for your attention and hope to meet you again before the campaign closes. After Mr. Chase finished his address R. M Springer, Esq., of Georgetown addressed the convention, explaining the position taken by Jessie Harper, of Illinois, the chairman of the Greenback National Committee. Mr. Springer said that Major S. A. Berry wrote to Col Harper requesting him to come to Maine and make a speech. Col. Harper replied to Major Democratic leaders in this State seek only the reorganization of their party for the contest of 1884, and many of our trusted men leave us to join them in a movement fraught with so much danger to the cause they and we have so earnestly and persistently struggled, in times past, to maintain, it seems to me the day of sacrifice should be delayed, and the people who believe in the principles is of our party and the integrity of our leaders, the educated people themselves, be made to fully understand that the old Democratic, as well as the Republican party, has lived beyond its usefulness in this country.

CAMP MERTINGS

OLD ORCHARD, July 27. The sixth session of the Faith Convention conducted by Dr. Chas. Cullis of Boston, be gan here at 8 o'clock Thursday morning. large attendance for the first day assembled for the morning meeting, which Dr. Cullis conducted, preaching from 2d Chron. 20, 6. A meeting of a social nature followed, in which the principal workers already present became pleasantly acquainted with each other. At 1 p. m. a crowded prayer meeting was held in the open air in charge of Capt. R. K. Carter of Chester, Pa. An hour later with a few minutes intermission, the regular preaching service occurred. Bev. O. E. Mallory of Lowell, Mass., was the speaker. The text was Acts 1-8-"But ye shall receive power after the Holy Ghost has come upon you." The power and effectiveness of the Holy Spirit were ably discussed.

Previous to the sermon Rev. John Allen perennially present, read or recited a chapter from the Bible and Dr. Cullis led in prayer. A solo, "While the days are going by," was sung by Prof. Jno. R. Sweeney, who is the musical director of the convention. Besides the organ at which Prof. Sweeney presides, the excellent choir is assisted by the cornet, and the many hymns with which the different services are diversified form an enjoyable part of the day's programme. The other meetings of the day occurred in the evening. A meeting for ministers and Evangelists in the Biddeford tent at 6.30, and at the same hour an experience meeting led by F. W. McKenney of Portland. Mrs. Cullis conducted a meeting especially for ladies, in the grove at 6 o'clock. Preaching in the evening concluded the exercises of the day. The opening of the session seems to be aus picious in the number of prominont men assembled from all parts of the country, in point of attendance and in the item of weather. Dr. Cullis expresses hims as much pleased with the opening day.

Y. M. C. A. About two hundred ladies and gentlemen joined in the excursion to Capt. J. B. Coyle's and held a "basket picnic" in the shady orchard, in the rear of the house overlooking Back Bay, Wednesday. Croquet, archery, lawn ring toss, target practice with air guns and many other pleasant pastimes were indulged in during the afternoon. Tables were spread on the grass for supper. After supper, prizes were awarded for the best shots with the air gun, and Mr. J. B. Coyle, Jr's. fine telescope was placed at the disposal of the company t view the moon. Later in the evening on the invitation of Capt. and Mrs. Coyle, the people assembled in and around the house where there was some fine singing led by Mrs. F. A. Bent with her cornet. The singing was interspersed with impromptu remarks by Dr. Carlton Kimball, president of the association, Capt. J. B. Coyle, Rev. Prof. J. M. Williams, F. A. Smith

B. F. Hinds and others. Capt. Coyle and Rev. Prof. Williams heartily endorsed association work. Their remarks abounded in many witty sayings as well as useful suggestions. Mrs. M. Ducretia Baker of Boston sang two exquisite soles with piano accompaniment. A unanimous vote of thanks was passed to Capt, and Mrs. Coyle for the use of the grounds and the hospitable manner in which the visitors were entertained. The Dearing Horse Railroad Company furnished ample car accommodations. All pronounced the excursion a grand succesi.

The West End Lawn Party. We congratulate the ladies of the West Congregational church on the brilliant success of their Lawn Party last evening. The grounds were beautifully illuminated and the singing was of the highest order, by the male quartette, while Mr. Fisher's solos were as usual mucn applauded. A large crowd filled the grounds, and every lady pronounced this entertainment, which was a novelty in this city, a great success. The Old Oaken Bucket brought fine lemonade from the moss covered well, while the young ladies dispensed ice cream and cake with great grace. We hear nothing but praise of the whole affair. The moon, which was at first somewhat obscured, came out at last and did her part to enliven the scene. An Industrial Exhibition. The Maine Charitable Mechanic Association have in their meetings of late often broached the subject of holding an exhibition of mechanical industries in this city, and it resulted in the appointment of a committee to consider the feasibility of such an exhibition and the proper time for holding the same This committee held a meeting last evening and it was decided to report in favor of such an enterprise, to be held some time in the fall of 1883. RAILROAD NOTES.

The Trunk Lines.

The joint executive committee of the western and eastern railroads met Wednesday at Commissioner Fink's office in New York. There was a large attendance of members There was no important general question which required the assembling of the committee, but the presence of nume rous freight agents in the city at the regular monthly meetings of the officers of the fast freight lines, which have been held there in the last few days, and the necessity of a consideration of the percentage of the Chicago freight pool, rendered it desirable to call the general committee together to settle other pool questions. In the latter part of June Commissioner Fink made an allotment of temporary percentages to govern the distribution of the east-bound freight business out of Chicago. He allowed the Chicago and Gran6 Trunk Railroad 11 per centages against 10 per cent. under the old 1880 pool; the two Pennsylvania roads 351 against 33, and the two Vanderbilt roads 451 against 49, the Baltimore and Ohio roads 45½ against 49, the Baltimore and Ohio per centage being left unchanged. It was hoped that Mr. Fink's awards would be accepted as permanent by the Chicago roads. The companies have appealed to arbitration, however. The Grand Trunk is dissatisfied with the increase in its percentage, because the increase is not, in its opinion, proportionate to what it claims to merit by the opening of its independent Chicago line. It is said that the Vanderbilt people resent their reduction in per centages from their old basis. It was agreed to refer the matter to the permanent arbitrator of the railroads (Charles Francis Adams, Jr.) Mr. Adams listened to the cis Adams, Jr.) Mr. Adams listened to the arguments of the several roads yesterday but his decision will not be given for some time. Minor Notes.

Grading has been commenced on the new raitroad running to Sheldon Falls from Frelingsburgh, Quebec, known as the Montreal, Portland and Boston Railroad. It will connect with the St. Johnsbury and Lake Champlain road, and form a new route to Boston via the White Mountains and Portland.

The official statement of the railway shipments eastward from Chicago of flour, grain and provisions for the week ended Saturday, July 22, shows a small gain (2147 tons) on the shipments of the preceding week, but a decline of 27,093 tons, or 60 J-5 per cent., from the shipments of the same week in ISS1.

Fatal Burning Accident. At Verona, near Bucksport, Monday, a terrible burning accident took place. Arthur, a two years old child of Mrs. Making, was left in charge of its grandfather and grandmother, while its mother was away at the Fort Point Hotel, where she is employed. The old folks had a large tin pan in which they collected potato bugs from the garden, and afterwards burned them by filling the pan with kerosene and igniting it. The child went, unnoticed, close to the fire, and, its clothes catching from the flames, was burned shockingly before any assistance arrived. Medical assistance was employed, but the little sufferer died the same evening, the accident occurring in the fore HANCOCK COLATY. The American says—The house of Charle McCartney of Boggy Brook, Ellsworth Falls was destroyed by fire about one o'clock Monday morning. A portion of the furniture was saved. The barn was considerably damaged. The property was insured for $500. Quite a fire has been raging in the woods just west of Ellsworth since Monday. The fire has been confined mostly to the young growth and is believed now to be checked. Considerable territory was burned over. On the 29th of June, Ephraim Sullivan, a On the 29th of June, Ephraim Sunivan, a farmer of Bucksport, met with a singular accident, by which, contrary to all expectations, he has lost the sight of an eye. On the date mentioned, his horse suddenly switched his tail, striking Mr. Sullivan in the eye. He thought nothing of it at the time, but during the night the eye became very painful, and has since become entirely sightless. FRANKLIN COUNTY.

Dr. D. Kennedy, Rondow, N. Y.

DEAR Sir:——Intil within a recent date I had for several years suffered greatly from gravel, called by the doctors the Brick-dust Sediment. For about a year past this sediment has not passed off in the usual quantity, but has accumulated, causing me untold pain. Having heard of "Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, I tried it in my case and after using about ne and one-half bottes, I voided a stone from the Bladder, of an oval shape, 7-16 of an inch long, and rough on its surface. I send you the largest piece that you may see of what it is composed. Since then I have felt no pain. I now consider myself cured, and cannot express my thankfulness and gratitude for so signal a deliverance from a terrible disease. is zeniously devoted to her work, which is the outcome of a life-study, and is obliged to keep six lady assistants, to help her answer the large correspondence which daily pours in upon her, each bearing its special burden of suffering, or joy at release from it. Her Vegetable Compound is a medicine for good and not evil purposes. I have personally investigated it and am satisfied of the truth of this.

am satisfied of the truth of this.

On account of its proven merits, it is recommended and prescribed by the best physicians in the country.

One says: "It works like a charm and saves much pain. It will ours entirely the worst form of falling of the uterus, Letteorrhea, irregular and painful Menstruation, all Ovarian Troubles, Inflammation and Ulceration, Floodings, all Displacements and the consequent spinal weakness, and is especially adapted to the Change of Life." It permeates every portion of the system, and gives It permeares every partion of the system, and gives new life and vigor. It removes faintness, flatulency, destroys all craving for stimulants, and relieves weak-ness of the stomach. It cures Bloating, Headaches, Kervous Prostration, General Debility, Sleeplessness, Depression and Indigestion. That feeling of bearing down, causing pain, weight and backache, is always permanently cured by its use. It will at all times, and node all circumstances, act in harmony with the law
