MONTREAL'S SENSATION. The Catholic Bishop Imposed Upon by Jewish Relic Merchant of the Holy

MONTREAL, Jan. 19 .- A sensation has been Montreal, Jan. 19.—A sensation has been caused in Catholic circles here by the announcement made at high mass yesterday that a number of relics brought from Rome in 1880 by Monseigneur Fabre, Bishop of Montreal, are not genuine, and that his lordship had been victimized by a Jewish relic merchant of the Holy City. The bishop visited Rome in 1880 and returned with what were believed to be the bones of St. Claudius and St. Juliana. The bones of St. Claudius were presented to the parish of Lachine, and those of St. Juliana to the Church of the Convent of St. Anne. so the Church of the Convent of St. Anne. Specia, altars were erected for the reception of the relics, and amid great pomp and ceremony they were blessed and sanctified. XLVIIIth Congress-2d Session AFRICAN MISSIONS.

PORTLAND, TUESDAY MORNING, JANUARY 20, 1885

SENATE. In the Senate today, as it was the day fixed for the delivery of addresses in memory of the late Senator Anthony, the chaplain, Rev. Dr. Huntley, made fitting allusions to that Senator.

On the conclusion of the morning business. Mr. Aldrich offered the following resolutions Resolved, That the Senate has heard with profound sorrow of the death of Henry B. Anthony, late Senator from Rhode Island.
Resolved, That the business of the Senate be now suspended to enable his associates to pay a proper tribute of regard to his high character and distinguished public services.

Messrs. A ldrich, Edmunds, Bayard, Pendleton, Garland and others paid feeling tributes to the memory of Senator Anthony.

Mr. Edmunds said that scanes like this were interesting in all parts of the world. Infidel, Pagan and Christian alike celebrated them, and in varying forms and with different hopes and aspirations come to wear over the graves. and in varying forms and with different nopes and aspirations come to weep over the graves of their feilowmen. To all alike the veil that separated the present from the future was equally impenetrable to the natural eye, but to the eye of faith, and hope, and, as Mr. Edmunds believed, of philosophy as well, there opened a field of view which should lead us not to mourn at the death in the fullness of accomplished years, of those we had loved and respected, but rather to be soberly glad for them; for all, who having filled faithfully their appointed place and time, and having borne the last and severest trials of humanity, had been admitted to the life of that mysterious inture. We here, indeed, "saw through a glass, darkly," but our friend, who had gone before, saw clearly and enjoyed the peace that belonged to those who, with a pure heart and faithful endeavor had, in whatever station, fulfilled the duties set before them. Mr. Edmunds referred most touchingly to the personal effection evicing here are the fulfilled the duties set befere them. Mr. Edmunds referred most touchingly to the personal affection existing between himself and the dead Senator, and expressed a hope that in the years that were to come all our Senators might have the fidelity and devotion of duty displayed by his late friend and associate.

Mr. Bayard said: Senator Anthony, ripe in years and wisdom, had been gathered in the harvest of mortality by the inevitable hand of the Supréme Reaper. Seldom had a State been better served than Rhode Island had been.

Mr. Pendleten's belief was that Senator Anthony had never willingly wounded the feelings of any human being, and quoting Mr. Anthony's own words used on an occasion similar to the present, Mr. Pendleton said: "To complain at the close of such a tile is to complain that ripened fruit drops from the boughs; that the full harvest bends to the sickie; it is to complain of the law of our existence, to accuse the Creator that he did not make man immortal on earth."

Mr. Garland that the Senate and the country well deplore the loss of such a man as Senator Authony had been. He had been a couspicuous example of a man who believed Bishop Taylor's Expedition to Sail Thursday.

A Party of 40 Men and Women who will Work Among 2,000,000 of Peaceful Africans.

New York, Jan. 16.—One of the largest parties of missionaries that hes ever left New York will sail on Toursday by the steamship City of Montreal. The party numbers 40 men and women and 10 or 15 children. Some of the adults are ministers, others are physicians, and the rest have various vocations. They come from half a dozan different States, several from Vermont and Connecticut, others from Ohio, Indiana and Hitiosis, and one or two families from California. The party was organized by Bishop William Taylor of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and it is known as William Taylor's African expedition. Bishop Taylor is the organizer of the self supporting South American missions, by which means a large number of missionaries have been established in South America. On its arrival in Liverpool the party will take a vessel for Losuda, on the west coast of Africa. The voyage will take a month if the weather is favorable. At Loanda another vessel will carry them several hundred miles farther, atter which will begin a march of 1000 miles into the interior of Africa. For several weeks contributions have been arriving in the city to the stores which the expedition is to take with it. These stores are under the care of Richard Grant of No. 181 Hudson street, who is Bishop Taylor's agent in the city. "We have," said Mr. Grant, "received from several linen mills 35,000 yards of cotton cloth. This is the currency of Central Africa. Where a cow is wanted, or some provisions, a strip of this cloth is cut off to pay for what is bought."

The party will be under the direction of the Rev. A. E. Withey. It is intended, if possible, te establish missionaries at intervals of 100 miles from the coast to the interior, in order to keep up a chain of communication. Bishop Taylor will be absent about three years, making these arrangements. All the members of the party are volunteers. Services are being held day and evening in several of the Brooklyn churches, where the members of the party are being cared for. All of them are enthusiastic an

The unusual occurrence of a council at the war office on Sunday, caused every one to connect the circumstance with the starting information received to the effect that Turkey was about to take an active part in the Egyptian war. The officials were ominously serious as they emergeofficials were ominously serious as they emerged from the council room, but they were very reticent, and would neither admit nor deny that their meeting was in reference to the action of Turkey. This excitement was greatly increas-ed today by a report that the government decided to resist any attempt on the part of Tur-key to occupy any portion of Egypt or to land troops in that country. There was consider-able excitement at the war offices today, and orders were sent to Chatham, Portsmouth and Woolwich, which have caused much activity at those great neval stations. Another hattal at these great naval stations. Another battalion of troops at Malta has been ordered to embark at once for Alexandria, and other troops are under orders to be in readiness to move at a moment's notice. The indications all point to stirring events in Egypt, and there is no doubt that the ministry are determined not to allow Turkey to interfere in Egyptian affairs, by placing an armed force in any portion of

The council in the war office was caused by a report from Constantinople that the Sultan had sent 6,000 troops to occupy Suakim, to chastise Osman Digna and to maintain the Sultan's authority in the Red Sea.

spiracies in Murder. ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 19 .- The police of ST. FETERBURG, Jan. 19.—The police of Russia have received information that the Nihilists are now engaged in a conspiracy to murder certain officials who have incurred the batred of the order. In the effort to thwart this conspiracy a circular has been sent to all the principal officials in the empire, warning them against the employment of new servants who are not strongly vouched for, and cautioning them against the acceptance of food or drink from any one not known to be trusty. It has also transpired that eyer since trusty. It has also transpired that ever since last September there has been a systematic series of defalcations and embezzlements of series of defalcations and embezzlements of minor officials connected with the treasuries of the Russian cities. The thieves have invariably proved to have been connected with the Nihilist organization, and little or none of the stolen money has been recovered. It is feared that the Nihilists have now obtained sufficient fands to organize a well-planned attempt upon the life of the Czar Alexander III. There is no longer any donk that the attempt to wreck the first of the Czar Alexander III. There is no longer any doubt that the attempt to wreck the special train on the Gatschina Railway, which was conveying the Czar to St. Petersburg on the 7th ult., was a deliberate attempt upon the life of the sovereign, and the corpse of the sentinel found by the side of the railway just show the trailway in the state of the sentinel found to the source of the sentinel found by the side of the railway just show the trailway in the state of the sentinel found to the sentinel found by the side of the railway in the state of the sentinel found by the side of the railway in the state of the sentinel found by the side of the railway in the state of the sentinel found by the side of the railway in the sentinel found the sentinel found by the side of the railway. of the sentinel found by the side of the rail-way, just where the train was expected to leave the track, furnished ample proof of the malignity of the assassins. That narrow es-cape has considerable shaken the Czar's nerves. He is now virtually a hermit in his winter palace on the Neva Perspective, and he looks forward with superstitious dread to the first of March, which will be the fourth auni-versary of the murder of his father.

The Signal Station in Winter. (Correspondence of the Boston Herald.) When we had seen the station in summer had the appearance of an ordinary house, with the exception of the great timber braces, but now one door was closed and ..439,194 banked with snow, while the double windows were protected by slats nailed about an inch apart. Inside, however, all was warmth. A large range and a huge stove together in a small room, which served as kitchen, dining room and office, kept the temperature as high as could be desired, even in the coldest weather. Beside the kitchen, there are three other smaller rooms leading from it.

The station is commanded by Sergt.

Beals. He has as assistant observer Private Cahill. Beside these, there is a cook. These three together live there alone nine months out of the year. In the autumn they lay in a stock of provisions which lasts until the a stock of provisions which lasts until the following July. In fact their life is similar to that led by keepers of off-shore lighthouses, only the cold is much greater at Mt. Washington, and the wind blows there with a greater velocity than at any lighthouse. The work of these men, though constant, is not, as a rule, severe. They have, however, certain duties which are both dangerous and unpleasant, such as replacing the anemometers, carrying the malls to the base, and reading the rain gauge in cold and windy weather. The anemometer is on the top of the peaked roof, and when the temperature is low and the weather fogthe temperature is low and the weather fog-gy, the frostwork forms so rapidly that the cups have to be taken down every two hours. To do this is sometimes a most an impossi-bility. To stand with the wind above 70 miles an nour is difficult, and, when the velocity is over 100, to hold on to the roof and change the cups is an operation that requires both strength and courage.

The men sometimes have hard work to carry the mails, for with a strong wind they often have to crawl on their hands and knees over the ice-covered trestle-work. There are two supply depots between the summit and the base of the mountain, and in these the mail carriers can find shelter and food when overtaken by a storm. On several occasions they have been obliged to pass one or two nights under these rude coverings until relief was sent. At the upper depot the carriers, in descending, change their ice creepers for snow shoes, and in ascending leave their snow shoes and substi-tute ice creepers. It is usual for one of the men to go down to Fabyau's every fertnight, so that each one leaves the station only once in six weeks. The rest of the time they are cooped up in the little house; for the ground is so rough and the wind is so high at d the cold so severe that they soon lose all desire for more exercise than they are obliged to take

are obliged to take.

It may be asked how the signal men pass the long winter months. In the first place they take five observations a day, three of which are telegraphed to Washington. At the end of each month and year the work has to be arranged and sent to the chief office at Washington. This last duty takes some time and great care. For amusement the men play cards for sulphur matches instead of money, and various games, such as checkers, etc. Private Cabili often enlivens the house with the violin, or frightens the cats by sounding the bugle cails.

The greatest dissipation is to pop corn.

BAILWAY MATTERS Only One Dollar from New York to

Chiengo. One of the immediate results of the breaking up of the trunk line pools last Friday, becutting rates at Chicago upon east-boun freights, was a sweeping reduction in western bound emigrant passenger rates announced by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company Saturday. Rates between the eastern seaboard ports, New York, Philadelphia and Chicago, were reduced from $13 to $1. Similar rates were adopted for St. Louis and Cincinnati. Formerly rates to St. Louis were $15.65 and Cincinnati $11.50. By this action the free to San Francisco will be $38, formerly $65, and to Kansas City $8, formerly 23.25. Assistant General Passenger Agent Boyd explained that the reduction was necessary on account of the course pursued by companies that had broken the emigrant agreement formed in the old pool. Some of the steamship companies have also reduced the rates of steerage passage from Liverpool to New York being fixed at $8. from Antwerp $10, and from Bremen and freights, was a sweeping reduction in western from Antwerp $10, and from Bremen and Hamburg $14. The American line maintains its rate of $13 from Liverpool to this city. Minor Notes. The scheme has been referred to Mr. Bell, civil engineer of Ottawa who is said to have reported favorably on it.

Weman Suffrage. Parker Pillsbury lectured to a large audience in Mechanic Library Room last evening. The lecturer commenced by observing that when the ever memorable words, "All men are created equal," were written men only were meant, and only white men at that. Black people were not included. Our Declaration of Independence should have said "all white men are created equal." Chemically or scientifically, white is the blending of all colors, and black is the negative or absence of all color.

Before the rebellion the Federal Constitution was slways interpreted in accordance with the Declaration. But the war scoured all color out of the Declaration of Independence and the Federal Constitution. Only men may vote so only males are born equal. Under the vote so only males are born equal. Under the Dectaration men only share equally under the Constitution. Women pay taxes to make and support government and pay penalities if they break the laws. So do men. Death by the halter is one of the penalities of certain crimes, and the delectable hangman must be a man. Men have many more occupations than women, and are paid ten times more wages for what they do than women who could do the same work as well. Women are employed as school teachers on the principle of cheapness. Males they do than women who could do the same work as well. Women are employed as school teachers on the principle of cheapness. Mules and donkeys at the West are employed for the same resson in place of horses. Mules and donkeys do not pay taxes. Women do, but neither women nor donkeys can vote. In debating clubs the question is discussed whether the right of voting shall be given to woman. How many mules can give the right of suffrage. A clerk standing six feet in his shoes and weighing two hundred pounds is not thought a strange sight behind the counter selling pins, tape and laces, to women both young and old, but no one seems to think he is unsexed. Not only in Europe but in New York can be seen, poor, haggard women, young and old harnessed to carts with dogs, and sometimes carrying garbage. Yet no one thinks that they are unsexed. Yet women are trushed down and denied sill the right that the Creator gave them. In New Hampshire it was a hundred years before women received education; not until 1808 Portsmouth made any movement for the education of girls. Dartmouth College educated the Indians but shut its doors tightly to all women. We have many laws governing women as though they were no part of the people, but if women are not the people, what are they?

A part of the lecture was historical regarding the condition of women in the past and teiling how the church and priests ing the condition of women in the past and teiling how the church and priests heve kept them down. The final thought was that God's instice would triumph and woman would rejoice in her rights. It any woman does not want the right to suffrage it is her duty to want it. Let men beware how they keep woman under any longer. Isaac Skillings Dunn died at his residence in North Yarmouth Saturday, Jan. 17th, after an illness of only a week's duration. He was born in North Yarmouth, July 6, 1822. His father, James Dann, was a prominent farmer and trader, and at his death was succeeded in trade by the deceased, who by his upright and honest dealings brought to him the success so deservedly his. He was a staunch Republican and had held the office of postmaster for thirty-two years. Mr. Dunn was a man of thought as well as action, which combination made him conspicuous and his advice and freedship sought after. Of a retiring disposition he declined all offers of public position but was ever ready to assist and encourage others holding such. All the free trade papers agree that it was protection that caused the suspension of Oliver Brothers of Pittsburg. The frequent failures telegraphed across the water from free trade England, however, they don't bother their beads to explain.

Vanderbilt's property is supposed to have shrunk some $30,000,000 since the assassination of Garfield. As his estate was then estimated at about $150,000,000, he has now remaining about $120,000,000. A great national subscription for his benefit will probably not be necessary this year.

It is a most inconceivable that an insane asylum could have been left so utterly destitute of protection against fire as was the Illinois asylum burned Sunday, Not only was there no apparatus for extinguishing are on the premises, but there was not even the means of summoning assistance from the town are department.

If Mr. Dorskeimer's speech in the House on Saturday reflects the views of Gov. Cleveland on the tariff, as it is supposed to do, then the President-elect is a free trader after Mr. Watterson's own heart, and the Raudall wing of the Democracy are not likely to get any countenas ce from the Administration of the next four years. The freepredict that next winter will witness a thorough and sweeping revision of the tariff. Now that they have elected their candidate, House. the tre-traders are beginning to admit that the real question at issue in the last cam. paign was the question of protection of nerican labor, and that their efforts to disguise it while the campaign was in prog. ress were due to the conviction that if this had been fully understood to be the case they could never have carried the country.

The dynamite outrage at South Norwalk, Coun., is supposed to be the work of strik- ceed the amount received for postage ers, though they disclaim any hand in on foreign mails. The growing frequency of outrages of this kind | American steamships running between our far off when it will be n-cessary enact a measure of this kind. English steamship some stringent laws to cope with this com. lines are subsidized in this way, and Ameriparatively new description of crime. The experience of the English police shows that it is one of the easiest crimes to commit and one of the bardest to detect. A few pounds of dynamite with the necessary apparatus to set it off occupy but very little space and may be carried round in broad daylight without attracting attention. Both the dynamite and the machine are easily manufactured to that one person with little or ne assistance can accomplish the whole work from the preparation of the explosive to the blowing up of the building. Evidently a crime that admits of so much secresy is going to be very hard to prevent, and when committed its author very hard to detect. For some years the Irish dynamiters have been familiarizing people with the nature and use of explosives and one of their number has even delivered lectures on the subject. It is becoming evident now that their instruction has been turned to account by the wicked and lawless elements of society. Wby the whiskey men should not take their chances with the men who deal in sugar or other goods which pay a revenue to the government it is hard to see. The whiskey men, having overestimated the capacity of the American people for their product, find themselves with a bigger stock on hand than they can sell immediately. They want the government to postpone the collection of the tax, therefore, until their surplus stock can be utilized. Sugar importers sometimes, we suppose, get a surplus stock on hand, but we never heard of their rushing to Congress and the Secretary of the Treasury and asking that the duties on it be revoked until they got a chance to sell it. But the whiskey men seem to think their business is one that calls for special protection. Last win ter they went to Congress with a request that the bonded period of whiskey be extended, that is, that the time for payment of taxes on their goods be postponed. It was refused. Nothing daunted, however, they applied to the Secretary of the Treasury this winter for the same kind of a favor that Congress refused last winter, and the Secretary in a measure granted it. Now the Secretary has sent a message to Congress recommending further favors in the same direction. Congress, we are happy to say, is in no mood to grant

"Let them stay out their terms? Not if we can help it, and we think we can. Why, our men have already decided who shall have the highest places, and if they are told to wait for Republicans who have not complete ed their terms, there will be the biggest sort of a rumpus. We are in and we propose to have all that being in ever meant to a party. We haven't been Democrats since 1860 for fun." This is the talk a Maine Democrat is reported to have made by the Boston Journal. It undoubtedly represents accurately the feelings of a great many more Democrats of Maine who bridle their tongues. Unless the words "offensive partisans" are construed to include pretty much all the Republican office holders in Maine there is going to be some vigorous kicking on the part of Maine's "hungry and thirsty." If Cleveland flatters bimself that the Maine Democrats are content with the success of their party it is because he isn't acquainted with them. A Maine Democrat, as he will probably find out when he meets some of them in their black hats and dress coats on inaugura tion day, has a voracious appetite which can only be satisfied by regular meals from the public crib. It has been sharpened by a quarter of a century of abstinence and if it isn't appeased now a terrible rumpus will be

The Railroads and the Public. Senator Van Vyck's tirade against the railroads last week undoubtedly voices the sentiment of a great number of people in this country, especially in the west. Of late years a strong prejudice has grown up against railroad corporations and a disposition by legislation to coerce them to do a great many things which are unreasonable and unjust. Railroads receive from the public rights and franchises of great value and by reason of them are under deeper obligations than almost any other corporation, to consult the public convenience and welfare in their management. A great many railroad corporations have been utterly unmindful of these obligations and, to borrow the phrase attributed to Mr. Vanderbilt. have by their acts plainly told the public to be blanked. There is no doubt also but some of them have frequently been able to defy and defeat the wishes of the public by the corrupt use of money in State legislatures and in the National Congress. From these sins of omission and commission naturally enough there has sprung up in the public mind the feeling that a railroad corporation is little better than a band of swindlers who are always to be suspected of meditating robbery of the people and whom it is perfectly proper to hamper with all sorts of legal enactments, on the principle that the only effective way of fighting the devil is with fire. There is no denying the fact that most of the prejudice against railroads arises from their own bad conduct. and that people even who do not share in it regard it with a certain amount of sympathy. Senator Van Vyck therefore undoubtedly touched a popular chord when he a-ked the Senate to pass some restrictive legislation against the railroads. But, as all popular clamors are apt to, the clamor against the railroads has overleaped

the bounds of reason and is inclined to deny that they have any rights at all which the public is bound to respect. Hence egislation in regard to the railroads is very apt to take the form of a raid upon them. The fundamental idea of a good deal of it seems to be a desire to punish them, to get square with them so to speak. Like the legislation which the Grangers in the west rushed through the State legislatures several years ago much of it is conceived and executed in passion and therefore is exceedingly crude, and, as in case referred to, when it comes to be tested goes all to pieces. Undoubtedly if Mr. Van Vyck could have his way the Bouse inter-state commerce bill would be rushed through the Senate in a twinkling and the National Government committed to a measure that is full of provisions which if they could be enforced at all would pretty surely work as much injury to the public that they are intended to pro tect as to the railroads. One of these provisions forbids railroads to make any discriminations in freight under any circumstances. That is, if a perishable article is ly ing in the depot awaiting shipment alongside of one which delay will not affect, and a train comes along with room for the former but not for both, the perishable article cannot be taken and the other left, but both must be taken or both left. There are other provisions which would work equally absurd results in practice. The Senate's plan is to commit the matter of regulating railroad traffic between the States to a commission which can thoroughly investigate the subject and adopt such rules as are calculated to remedy the evils which exist. The Senate proposes to find out what the matter is be fore prescribing a remedy. That seems to traders are very jubilant over the speech and | be a sensible way of proceeding, and much more likely to cure the evils that really exist, than the hap-hazard enactments of the Senator Frye bas introduced a bill for a postal susidy to vessels of American registry between our own and foreign ports, or between our own Atlantic and Pacific ports touching at foreign intermediate. The bill allows the postmaster general to contract for such mail service at a price not exceeding $1 per mile for each way, contracts to run four years, and the total amount net to exreason alone. But if we are to have any indicates that the time is coming and is not own and foreign ports we have got to adopt can lines must be or perish.

In such cases Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is invaluable. Mrs. Emma Gedney, 159 West 128 st., New York, writes: "While in the country, last winter, my little boy, three years old, was taken ill with Croup; it seemed as if he would die from strangulation. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral was tried in small and frequent doses, and, in less than half an hour, the little patient was breathing easily. The doctor said that the Pectoral saved my darling's life." It is an unfailing remedy for Diseases of the Kidneys and Liver.

It is invaluable for Diseases peculiar to Women, and all who lead sedentary lives. It does not injure the teeth, cause headache, or produce constipation—other from medicines do. Dr. Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y.:

DEAR SIR: My dau, ther was afflicted with a secver growth of Fungus. To remove it we had resorted to aimest every remedy and consulted the most prominent surgeons and physicians. Dr.—, of Troy, said that a surgical operation would be necessary, but fearing fatal results I hesitated. Some of the physicians claimed that it was caused by one thing and some by another. The Fungus was prominent and disfigured her looks. Having heard of Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY working so thoroughly on the blood I determined to try it, to see if this medicine could do what doctors had failed to do and surgeons had hardly dared to undertake. I can s y in truth that the result of this trial was the complete cure of my daughter of this dreadful malady. Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY alone effected it. We used nothing else, for other things had completely failed My daughter to day enjoys vigorous health and to Favorite Remedy alone is the credit due. My wile also was very poor in health, due to some liver difficulty with which she had suffered a long time until she became very much reduced in flesh. A trial of Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy has resulted in the camplete restoration of her health, which she had suffered a long time until she became very much reduced in flesh. A trial of Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy has resulted in the camplete restoration of her health, which she had strength and thus secured perfect health, and this is DUE E vTIRELY TO DR. KENNEDY's Fa VORITE REMEDY. The committee appointed to investigate what is termed "The Back Bay nuisance," and to whom was referred a numerously eigned cetition relating thereto, report that in compliance with the order of the City Council, the Mayor invited Messrs. Israel T. Dana, Edward C. Jordan, Walter Allen, Daniel Hamblen and Charles M. Plummer to join the committee.

With the exception of Mr. Plummer, who was unable to attend, all have taken an active interest in the subjects under consideration, and have given much valuable time and intelligent assistance to the committee, which is appreciated and gratefully acknowledged by the members from the City Council.

Immediately after their organization the committee invited a public hearing in the Council chamber. A large number of citizens were present, who freely expressed their sentiments; and, while they were far from being unanimous in their conclusions as to the cause, it was very evident that there was at times in many parts of the city offensive effluvia, especially in the night time and in warm weather, from which all were exceedingly desired to be relieved.

The importance of the subject and the great interest manifested therein, impressed the committee that they should have the counsel of some person of larger experience and wider observation than themselves, and with consent of the City Council they invited Mr. J. Herbert Shedd of Providence, R. I., to visit the city. In the selection of Mr. Shedd our city civil engineer was consulted, and there was no division in the committee.

Accompanied by Mr. Goodwin and a portion of the committee, Mr. Shedd visited and examined many localities suspected of giving cause for complaint. The maps and plans in the Civil Engineer's office were placed at his disposal, and such assistance as could be rendered by Mr. Goodwin, or the committee, was given. Mr. Shedd's conclusions have already been reported to the City Council, ordered pristed and quits generally distributed.

December second, the several gentlemen, not members of the City Council, withdrew from the committee for reasons viven in their letter, which accompanies this report.

It is not evident that the unpleasant odors complained of, whatever may be their source, have been productive of disease, nor are the complained of, whatever may be their source, have been productive of disease, nor are the committee prepared to say, as the result of their investigation that one section of our city is more unhealthy than another. We find no reason for suspicion that the boast of Portland to be an unusually healthy city is otherwise than true.

to be an unusually healthy city is otherwise than true.

It would be well, however, to divide the city into districts and tabulate such facts in relation to disease and death as are obtainable, to the end that if there are localities of greater danger to health than others, they should be discovered and remedies applied.

The initiatory steps taken to prevent the further spreading upon the flats of Back Cove of the sewage of that district provide for one of the elements of the puisance complained of, but there are others equally if not more important, as will be seen from Mr. Shedd's report.

It being so near the end of the municipal year, little can be done by the City Council beyond correcting defects in the laws, thus preparing the way for more effective work in future. This, in the opinion of the committee, can be better done through the agency of a board of health than otherwise; we would the refore suggest that a board of health for the city of Portiand be established and recommend that the next City Council make a liberal appropriation to enable them to rectify some of the evils complained of.

Mr. Thaxter said the bill was drawn by a gentleman of eminent legal ability and was warmly advocated by the Civil Service Association. He favored an open competitive examination for the police force. It is not a new thing for it has been tried for ten years in Brooklyn with satisfying results. In every city of New York of over 50,000 inhabitants this system is made obligatory. In Massachusetts the same system prevails in cities of over $5,000 inhabitants. The examination tests the moral, physical and intellectual qualifications of the applicant.

We have also laid 25 tons of steel T rails on the Deering line; put in a steel curve at Woodford's; a siding opposite the base ball grounds; and lowered the road bed and track to compare with the grade of the street near Deering Centre. The usual amount of painting and repairing has been done upon the cars and one sleigh car rebuilt. We have bought six new close cars and four open cross seat cars of J. G. Brill & Co., of Philadelphia. The close cars have been delivered and paid for. The open cars will be delivered in March.

Our stock of horses has been increased. We now have 158 against 132 last year. The increase has been made on account of changing the balance of the cars from one to two horse. We have bought 56 horses, sold 26 and lost 13 by fire and other causes during the year.

In consequence of the bad condition of the balance of the city tracks, the stringers and cross ties being decayed and the rails so worn that the cars are running on the flanges of the wheels instead of on the tread, not only injuring the cars but materially increasing the draught, the directors have deemed it advisable to take advantage of the low prices of materials and relay with steel rails. To that end they have contracted for a sufficient quantity of material to put the road in first-class condition and hope to have the road all completed by the first of June.

Portland Rink saw the first game of polo for the eason last night. Mr. Knowlton has fitted the rink up in fine shape for the game, covered the window sides with canvas, boarded up the railing on the other side, and stretchad a netting in front of the spectators seats, and put everything in front of the spectators seats, and put everything in first-class shape, so that a good game can be played there. Last night the game was between two picked teams, the "Somebodys" and "Nobodys." The first named were the victors by a score of 3 to 1 in twenty minutes. There was lots of fun and many comical tumbles. THAT "CHALLENGE."

The following is the "challenge" from Manager Whittier that appeared in the American Roller, about which the Bath Times said, "It requires a vast amount of egotism to claim the Bijou club as the leading club of Maine," and which the Biddefords have taken upon themselves to accept;

PORTLAND, Me., Dec. 30th, 1884.

Editor of the American Roller:
Seeing your article in last week's Roller, it regard to bringing about a meeting between our Maine pole champions and those of Massachusetts, I would say I should be most sappy to arrange a meeting between my my team, the Bijous, (who at present writing standited for first position in the Maine State League with the Granite Citys), and any of the leading Massachusetts clubs, Bay States, Paris or Salems preferred. I will willingly pay expanses of any leading Massachusetts team to come here and play my team and shall be happy to hear from any such team, if they wish to make the trip and contest a game. Hoping to hear from some of the leading teams at an early date, I remain, Yours, etc.,
Manager of the Bijou Rink and Bijou Polo Team, Portland, Me.
Mr. Whittier says this is the only statement he has made, and how the Biddefords can take that as a challenge to them is a mystery. Life is too short to bother with them.

NOTES.

Granite Citys vs. W. H. T.'s at Augusta tonight, Ladies' night at Portland Rink tonight. There will be an immense crowd at the Bijou tomorrow night to see the game between the Bijous and Alamedas.

The Kennebec Journal says it is understood that Farrell and Locke will play with the Granite Citys but a short time longer. Farriell and Locke will play with the Granite City but a short time longer.

The Wright & Ditson team of base ball men an polo players, which will be at the Bijou next mon day night, have in the company Merrill, Buffinton Irwin, Hathorne, Mannirg, Tully and Knight. Fo thirty minutes they will give an exhibition of pitching, catching, throwing and base running, after which the Bijous will show them how polo is played in the Pine Tree State. The game will be played or boxwood rollers. This ought to prove a great at traction. The game at the Bijou last night, between the two clubs from the Dirigo Boat Club, was won lone of them,—we can't say which, for they we not named—by three straight goals.

The Grattan Literary Society has two polo clu now, the Alphas and Omegas. They will play the Bijou Thursday night.

The City Hall Rink in Lewiston will reopen soo so it is reported. It will be run under the anspice of the Lewiston Polo Club, and they wish to ent the Maine State League. With such a club as the W. H. T.'s from Lewiston, the league manage should be satisfied.
