General Information

About Seattle University

The Northwest's largest independent institution of higher learning, Seattle University offers 53 undergraduate programs, 27 graduate programs, and a juris doctor degree. Approximately 6,000 students are enrolled at the university's 46-acre campus on Seattle's First Hill and in its School of Law in Tacoma. A new home for the School of Law will be opened on the Seattle campus in the fall of 1999.

Teaching is our first priority. Student-to-faculty ratios are a low 14:1, ensuring that faculty members are readily available to students.

One of 28 Jesuit colleges and universities in the United States, Seattle University offers a broad-based academic program, including a strong liberal arts core curriculum that prepares students for professional success, community service, and personal fulfillment.

Seattle University is recognized as a leader in innovative academic programs, and many of the programs have become important to the economy of the Northwest. The nation's first addiction studies program was offered in 1973. In 1987 the university started its pioneering graduate program in software engineering. The Northwest's first undergraduate program in environmental engineering was offered in 1990. In 1995 Seattle University offered the first executive graduate program in not-for-profit leadership.

The School of Theology and Ministry, including the Institute for Catholic Theological Studies (ICTS) and the Institute for Ecumenical Theological Studies (IETS), is the latest example of how Seattle University continually revises curriculum offerings to meet the needs of the Northwest. The new academic structure fulfills the Northwest's need for clerical and lay graduate theological education within the Catholic Church, while 10 Protestant denominations and two religious-affiliated agencies have collaborated to form the IETS.

Purpose and Mission

As an institution of higher learning, Seattle University's objective and purpose include the interpretation and transmission of knowledge, ideas, and values. The university is dedicated to the extension of the frontiers of knowledge by critical and exhaustive investigation and experimentation. Thorough, intelligent training in theory and principle provided by Seattle University prepares students for professional careers.

Well into its second century of educational service, Seattle University is dedicated to its historical mission of:

- teaching and learning
- education for values
- preparation for service
- growth of persons

Conducted under the auspices of the Society of Jesus, the Jesuits, Seattle University supports Christian ideals and values. The university affirms the belief in the unity and totality of all human knowledge, whether experiential, speculative, or divinely revealed. As a community inspired by the Spirit of Christ, the campus atmosphere inside and outside the classroom encourages the development of an unbiased, truly liberated and enlightened intelligence in its faculty and student body.

As a comprehensive institution of higher learning, Seattle University brings this fourfold purpose to bear on all its activities and programs; on its relations to its students; its own community of educators; and on the various publics it serves.

For a complete copy of Seattle University's mission statement, contact the President's Office.

History

Founded in 1891, Seattle University has offered a value-based education in the Jesuit tradition for more than a century. The university's development into one of the Northwest's leading centers of higher education is closely woven with the history of Seattle and the Puget Sound area. It is a story of relentless effort to serve the educational needs of a growing metropolitan community and its surrounding region.

Seattle University had a humble and unpretentious beginning. In 1890, Father Aegidius Junger, bishop of what was then called the Nisqually Diocese, concerned over the lack of educational opportunity for Catholic youth in the Seattle area, sent repeated requests to the Jesuits of the Rocky Mountain Mission territory to establish both a parish and a school in the young city. In response to the intrepid bishop's appeals, Fathers Victor Garrand and Adrian Sweere arrived from the Yakima station in the spring of 1891.

The two Jesuits immediately leased St. Francis Hall, a building that had been constructed at 6th and Spring in downtown Seattle the previous year by Father Francis X. Prefontaine, the area's first resident priest. Rededicating the building as the Parish and School of the Immaculate Conception, aided by two Holy Names sisters servicing as full-time teachers, the good fathers began their modest educational effort.

With the advice and assistance of Father Prefontaine, the mission procurator purchased property that ultimately became the present campus. In 1893, the cornerstone of the first building was laid and the new parish and school was opened for classes in September 1894.

Growth continued as the first academic or high school-level class was introduced in 1898 and articles of incorporation were filed changing the parish school for boys into Seattle College. These were also years of struggle and disappointment. Nevertheless, in the face of the still prevailing frontier mentality that saw little need for higher education other than in the professions, a college department in humanities was instituted in 1900. In 1909, the first three graduates were awarded bachelor of arts degrees.

A temporary casualty of World War I, college classes at Seattle College were suspended from 1918 to 1922. In 1919, the successful high school department moved to a new seven-acre campus on Interlaken Boulevard, a gift of Thomas C. McHugh. On its reinstatement, following the war, the college department was also housed at the new campus. Three baccalaureate degrees were granted in 1925.

In 1931, with an enrollment of fewer than 50 students, Seattle College returned to a partially renovated building at the present Broadway and Madison campus. Within two years, women were enrolled in credit courses, and in 1936, the first women received their degrees. Just prior to that, the first professional degree program was established with the introduction of the School of Education. In 1937, the college was fully accredited by the Northwest Association of Secondary and Higher Schools. The School of Nursing was officially opened in 1940, and the School of Engineering in 1941.

Returning World War II veterans in 1945 discovered the newly established School of Commerce and Finance, Seattle College's fifth major academic unit. By 1948, the enrollment in all programs neared 3,000 students. That year an amendment to the articles of incorporation officially changed the institution's name to Seattle University.

Rapid expansion of both the physical boundaries and educational facilities of Seattle University marked the decades of the 1950s and 1960s. With just three permanent buildings and three war surplus structures in 1950, the university added or converted 12 major buildings over the next 20 years. Most of the development occurred under the direction of Father A.A. Lemieux, president of the university from 1948 to 1965.

The curriculum then expanded with new programs including the School of Science and Engineering (1972), the doctorate in educational leadership (1976), and Matteo Ricci College (1977).

The 1980s brought master-level programs in software engineering and psychology, along with a baccalaureate degree in computer science and programs in communication studies and international business.

New academic programs introduced since 1990 include a master in teaching degree, master's degree programs in student development and in adult education and training, bachelor's degrees in international studies and biochemistry, and the region's only bachelor's degree in civil engineering with an environmental track. The Albers School of Business and Economics initiated master's programs in finance, applied economics, and international business and added operations management as an undergraduate business option. The School of Nursing instituted a master of science in nursing in 1992, and the School of Law joined the professional schools in fall 1994.

The 1995-96 academic year brought an English/Creative Writing major and minor, a specialty in manufacturing engineering, a new multidisciplinary bachelor of arts degree in ecological studies, as well as an executive master's degree in not-for-profit leadership, the first of its kind in the United States.

Created in July 1996, the School of Theology and Ministry diversifies the graduate theology program that began in 1985. This school houses institutes for both Catholic and ecumenical theological studies.

Organization

Seattle University is an independent coeducational institution of higher learning incorporated under the laws of the state of Washington. It is governed by a board of trustees and administered under the auspices of the Society of Jesus. Students, faculty, and staff are drawn from all races and denominations. Seattle University derives its mission from the academic experience and educational ideals of the Society of Jesus.

The university is composed of 8 major academic units: College of Arts and Sciences, including the Institute of Public Service; Albers School of Business and Economics; School of Education; School of Law; Matteo Ricci College; School of Nursing; School of Science and Engineering; School of Theology and Ministry.

Lemieux Library

Constructed in 1966, the Lemieux Library is a spacious building that seats nearly 1,100 people in study lounges, conference rooms, and individual carrels. It has an on-line catalog running the Sirsi Unicorn system, and includes a gateway module which connects users to Internet resources. The library houses a growing collection of 210,000 books, 16,000 bound periodical volumes, 2,400 current periodical and serial subscriptions, 400,000 microforms, and a variety of media materials. Lemieux Library currently offers 11 CD-ROM databases on-site, and the Unicorn gateway and library web page provide subscription access to 18 databases including full-text services and more than 60 electronic journals. The CD-ROM and on-line resources support both general and specialized research. These resources are strongest in subjects that correspond to university programs, especially those in which graduate studies are offered: business, economics, education, psychology, software engineering, nursing, and theology.

In addition to its collections, the library is a service center. The reference and information services staff assists students in ways that range from personal instruction in the use of the catalog to advising on advanced, specialized research materials or the development of bibliographies. Classroom presentations are given throughout the year. The staff also arranges interlibrary loans and executes on-line bibliographic searches in support of more specialized research needs.

Other library services include a course reserve collection, an extended-hours reading/study room, media carrels for using non-print materials, and self-service photocopiers.

Off-Campus Courses

Opportunities are available for business, education, and theological students to take selected courses off campus. Business classes are also offered in Bellevue. Education courses are offered in Auburn and Bellevue (MIT courses are only offered on the main campus). Theological courses are offered in Bothell with some seminars placed where student location demands.

Student Development and Services

Education is a combination of academic classroom experiences and valuable out-of-classroom experiences. Seattle University offers many services that serve the spiritual, social, personal and physical needs of both the undergraduate and graduate student populations. Some of the services available to students include:

Associated Students of Seattle University

As Seattle University's student government, the Associated Students of Seattle University (A.S.S.U.) offers services and programs for the campus community including sponsorship of club events, student locker rentals, advocacy for campus issues and social activities. A.S.S.U. sponsors various activities including concerts, lectures, public forums, and music festivals.

Campus Assistance Center

The Campus Assistance Center (C.A.C.) serves as a convenient one-stop information, resource, and referral service located on the first floor of the Student Union Building. The C.A.C. provides a variety of services including: student I.D. distribution, off-campus housing information, poster/flyer approval, updating the campus master calendar, and publishing the "What's Happening."

Campus Ministry

The Campus Ministry team develops faith community, provides pastoral care, reaches out to serve others, promotes social justice, and celebrates God's presence through worship and fellowship. Campus Ministers foster opportunities for personal and spiritual growth through educational offerings, international service experiences, and a variety of retreat programs.

Within the university's mission, Campus Ministry challenges students to integrate both intellectual and spiritual development. Persons of all faith traditions are welcome.

The Chapel of Saint Ignatius provides a spiritual home for the university's Catholic faith community, with daily and Sunday liturgies. The Campion main and south chapels provide worship spaces for denominational and ecumenical worship. The south chapel is available for religious services for other members of the Seattle University community. In addition, the Immaculate Conception Chapel, located on the second floor of the Administration Building, and the Saint Robert Bellarmine Chapel, located off the Bellarmine Residence Hall Lobby, offer places of personal refuge and prayer.

The retreat programs are designed to provide a variety of opportunities for self-reflection and discernment. During the fall, a graduate student retreat on the Spiritual Exercises of St. Ignatius of Loyola, in a three day format, is provided for experiencing Ignatian spirituality.

Campus Ministry invites students to engage in leadership and service informed by faith and values.

Each campus minister is available for pastoral counseling upon request. Faith formation processes for those seeking community, fellowship, and increased opportunity to learn and grow in the Catholic Christian faith are available.

Career Development Center

The center assists students with career decisions by offering career counseling, vocational testing and job search guidance including resume review, interview skills development and job search planning. The Resource Room houses full-time job listings, internship listings, a resource library and a computer dedicated to student use. To better accommodate the needs of students, the center is open two evenings a week. Check out the web site at: <http://www.seattleu.edu/student/cdc/>

Center for Event Planning and Student Activities

The Center for Event Planning and Student Activities (C.E.P.S.A.), is an integral part of Seattle University actively promoting a sense of community. Recognizing and valuing cocurricular learning opportunities, C.E.P.S.A. seeks to provide a healthy balance between academic pursuits & campus activities. Through its programs, activities, services and facilities, C.E.P.S.A. is dedicated to sustaining a dynamic campus environment that complements and enhances the overall educational mission of the University.

Community Service Office

This office provides students with meaningful, supervised volunteer opportunities in the community, and is located in the McGoldrick Building in the Campus Ministry Offices.

Counseling Center

The Counseling Center offers individual, couple, and group counseling to students who may be experiencing a variety of issues such as feelings of depression or anxiety, relationship problems, stress or life changes. Counseling is available free of charge to enrolled students. All information regarding the counseling of a student is strictly confidential and released only by written consent of the student or when required by law.

Disabilities Services

Disabilities Services Disabilities Services is a component of the Learning Center which provides academic counseling, support, advocacy, and referrals for students with mobility, learning, health and psychological disabilities. This resource can help with aids and accommodations such as testing adaptations, notetakers, books on tape, room changes, adaptive/auxiliary aids, and interpreters. Written documentation of a student's disability from a qualified professional must be submitted before accommodations can be provided. Copies of the Seattle University Section 504/ADA Policy and Appeal Procedure are available at the Learning Center.

Information Services

In addition to managing several modern computer labs (free for student use), Information Services provides computer consulting and troubleshooting services to students, faculty, and staff. This office also provides statistical computing services, instructional media support, and computer software training.

International Student Center

The International Student Center serves 750 students from approximately 72 countries around the world. The center strives to enable international students to achieve success at Seattle University and through the contribution of their unique cultures and perspectives to enrich the entire university community. The International Center serves as a focal point for activities and programs of a cultural, educational, or social nature, and as a gathering place for students and student organizations.

Learning Center

The Learning Center provides academic support and study skill enhancement to all Seattle University students. Experienced staff take time to explore with students specific academic needs. The Learning Center can provide tutors, assessments of learning styles and study skills, as well as individual consultation to help design strategies to improve time management, reading comprehension, test preparation, test taking, and note taking.

Minority Student Affairs Office

The Minority Student Affairs Office focuses on the academic, social, and personal success of the ethnic American student through supportive counseling, leadership opportunities, and advising. To accomplish these goals the office supports, promotes, and offers programming that emphasizes understanding, respect, and appreciation of the cultural diversity within our campus community.

General Information

Public Safety

This office provides 24-hour security for university property and members of the university community. Services include first aid, escort services, crime prevention information, criminal incident reports, and investigation, and lost and found.

Residential Facilities

Housing in the residence halls is available to graduate students and is provided through this office. The three residence halls offer unique living environments. Apartments will be available Fall 1999.

Student Clubs and Organizations

Student Clubs and Organizations at Seattle University offer students many opportunities to develop leadership skills, broaden their social and professional backgrounds, and contribute significantly to both the university and surrounding communities. A list of currently registered student clubs and organizations is available from the Center for Event Planning and Student Activities. Various opportunities include, but are not limited to: service clubs, scholastic honor societies, pre-professional organizations, and common interest groups.

Student Health Center

The Student Health Center offers free consultation and medical treatment for enrolled students. A physician has daily scheduled office hours. There is a nominal charge for many routinely dispensed medicines and there may be a fee for some laboratory procedures. Most immunizations are available at no charge. Flu vaccines are dispensed at cost. All services are confidential and no information is released without student permission, unless required by law. Student health insurance for accident and sickness benefits is available for students and their dependents in the university's voluntary student health insurance program.

Student Union Building

The Student Union Building (S.U.B.) is a hub of campus activity, offering all members of the Seattle University community a place to eat, relax, socialize, meet friends, and study. The S.U.B. houses the Associated Students of Seattle University, the Educational Programs Committee, the Senior Class Committee, the Spectator (student newspaper), and KSUB (student radio station); administrative offices for Student Development, Student Involvement, the Center for Event Planning and Student Activities, New Student Programs, Wellness and Prevention, and the Culture and Language Bridge program. Also located in the S.U.B. are the Campus Assistance Center, the Chieftain dining area, a game room, a computer room, commuter student services, and student lounges.

University Sports/Connolly Center

The hub of athletic activity at Seattle University, the Connolly Center provides a comprehensive recreation facility with two full gymnasiums, two swimming pools, a complete fitness and weight room, an astrogyrn for indoor tennis and soccer, racquetball courts and two squash courts. Seattle University sponsors 14 teams in eight different intercollegiate sports. The university is currently a member of the NAIA (National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics), but is making a transition to NCAA division III status as part of the of the Northwest Conference of Independent Colleges. (NCIC)

Patricia Wismer Center for Women

This center serves as an information clearinghouse and gathering place for activities and resources available to women.

Meeting the Changing Needs of Students

A dynamic component of Seattle University, graduate studies were first offered at Seattle University in 1948 with a master's degree in a division of the College of Arts and Sciences. Additional graduate degree programs have been introduced over the years, primarily to meet the needs of working professionals. Today, more than 2,500 students are enrolled in 30 programs. Always placing teaching first, Seattle University's graduate programs strive to meet the changing needs of working professionals, as well as those of traditional students.

Programs Offered

Master's degree programs are available in psychology; business administration; applied economics; international business; finance; adult education and training; counseling; curriculum and instruction; educational administration; student development administration; teaching English to speakers of other languages; community health clinical nurse specialist; family primary care nurse practitioner; not-for-profit leadership; public administration; software engineering; pastoral studies; transforming spirituality; and divinity. An educational specialist degree is offered in either school psychology or educational administration. A doctorate in education is offered in educational leadership. In addition, post-master's certificates are offered in the schools of business, education, nursing, and theology and ministry.

Objectives

Graduate programs offer advanced, in-depth education to individuals seeking specialized knowledge and skills in a particular field. Graduate work encourages students to fully develop speaking and writing competencies, and to enhance high-level thinking abilities, including application and synthesis. Graduate education at Seattle University cultivates expertise in the examination of ethical and value-laden issues in various fields.

Graduate program instructors strive to stimulate participants' curiosity and provide the investigative skills needed to seek answers to challenging questions. Graduate students develop personal and professional qualifications that contribute to their field and to the betterment of those they serve.

Organization

The academic deans are responsible for administration and supervision of all programs leading to a degree. The schools and various departments provide courses of instruction for graduate students, direct their studies and conduct examinations, as well as maintain requirements and make recommendations for degree programs.

Admission to graduate study is granted through the academic deans in consultation with the appropriate graduate program director and the admissions director. Academic transactions involving registration and awarding of degrees are supervised by the university's registrar.

Admission Policies

Admission Requirements and Procedures

Admission to a graduate program is granted to those with baccalaureate or advanced degrees from regionally accredited institutions, and whose credentials indicate ability to pursue graduate work. Some programs extend a limited number of admission offers and only accept applications for specified terms of entry. Undergraduate degrees or their equivalent in the field from which students select their graduate work, may be required. For specific program requirements and terms of entry, consult the graduate viewbook and the appropriate sections of this bulletin. Additional restrictions apply to applicants who have Prior Learning Experience credit.

Required grade point averages are calculated on course work leading to the bachelor's degree or the master's degree, to include post-bachelor's upper division undergraduate (usually numbered 300-400 or above) and graduate-level course work, as specified by each program. Course work must have been completed at regionally accredited institutions or, for applicants to the School of Theology and Ministry, from an institution accredited by the Association of Theological Schools.

Deans and program directors reserve the right to request test scores and other supplementary data. Such data will ordinarily be expected of students submitting transcripts from non-traditional institutions. Those applicants are required to submit the Graduate Management Admissions Test (GMAT), Graduate Records Exam (GRE), or Miller Analogies Test (MAT), as requested by individual programs. Applicants should contact Admissions or program chairs for further information on requirements and exceptions.

Application Process

Admission applications should be submitted as early as possible and no later than the program deadline for the term in which students wish to begin work. All applicants must submit an application form and fee, and official transcripts of academic credits from each school attended since high school. Transcripts and documents must be received by Seattle University in sealed envelopes as originally sent by each issuing institution or agency to be considered official. Failure to furnish complete records of previous school attendance renders students liable to dismissal or cancellation of course credit. Applicants must also submit all forms and documents, as requested by individual programs and Admissions for application files to be considered complete.

Students are not officially admitted graduate students until they receive letters of acceptance. Offers of acceptance are for regular, probationary, provisional, or non-matriculated admission.

Selection Criteria

Seattle University admits those who have demonstrated moral character and the scholastic ability necessary to earn graduate degrees. Admissions reserves the right to withdraw offers of admission for academic or personal reasons. An individual's past conduct, particularly as it may relate to unlawful or criminal behavior, may interfere with the university's ability to provide a proper learning environment. Seattle University reserves the right to deny admission or continued enrollment to individuals who have engaged in unlawful or criminal behavior. It is the responsibility of all applicants and, as appropriate, those admitted to disclose in writing to admissions all criminal convictions classified either as a felony or gross misdemeanor.

Probational and Provisional Admission

Students may be admitted on probation when the prior academic record is marginal or when there is insufficient prerequisite course work in the chosen field; or when the applicant has majored in another area with a satisfactory record, but there is some question about preparation to pursue the program in question. A program to correct these deficiencies will be designed by the department, and students are expected to become qualified within a specific time limit. When all conditions are fulfilled, the department may recommend advancement to regular graduate status.

Provisional admission is granted to applicants who must fulfill special requirements to qualify for formal admission to graduate standing.

Nonmatriculated Admission

Nonmatriculated graduate student status is granted to eligible students who wish to enroll in graduate-level courses for no more than two quarters. There is a separate application and fee. See additional information under classification of students on the following page.

International Admission Requirements

International students must meet the admission requirements outlined on the international student application form, as well as those of the specific graduate programs. International students can not be admitted probationally or as nonmatriculated, and must have complete files on record, including official transcripts and TOEFL scores, before admission decisions can be made. Applicants must meet the international application deadline or specific program deadline for the quarter of intended entry, whichever is earlier. Transcripts and other academic documents must be provided in the original language and with professional English translations.

Readmission

Graduate students will continue to receive information regarding quarterly registration and will be eligible to register for four quarters after the last quarter of registration. Students attending other institutions in the interim must have official transcripts of that work sent to the Registrar's Office.

Those absent for four or more consecutive quarters must complete a readmission application. International students on an F-1 visa must apply for readmission if they are absent for one quarter (unless that quarter is summer). Official transcripts of any academic work taken in the interim must be sent to Admissions, along with the application, by the program application deadline for the intended quarter of entry. There is no fee for readmission. Applicants are responsible for clearing all financial and administrative holds. Applications are subject to the review and discretion of the academic departments and deans; therefore readmission is not guaranteed.

Academic Policies

Academic Regulations

Students are responsible for informing themselves of the academic regulations and requirements set forth in this Bulletin of Information and for revisions as posted on campus bulletin boards or printed in other official publications of the university. Students enrolled in the Seattle University School of Law are responsible for the regulations and requirements of the School of Law, and should note that the policies set forth in this Graduate Bulletin of Information do not apply. Failure to meet the requirements or comply with regulations because of lack of knowledge does not excuse students from being subject to them.

Students' programs of study must be approved by a faculty member, usually an adviser, at registration. However, such approval does not give official sanction to any failure to meet university requirements, nor does it free students of that responsibility necessary to intelligent personal choice.

The departmental dean has discretionary powers for all cases not covered by the rules and regulations listed in this section. The university reserves the right to cancel any class which does not meet the required minimum enrollment. The enrollment and graduation of all students, the awarding of academic credits and the granting of any award or degree are strictly subject to the disciplinary authority of the university. The university reserves the right to change any requirement and to ask students to withdraw at any time. Students are not allowed to attend class unless officially enrolled with appropriate fees paid.

Classification of Students

- Graduate: students admitted to Seattle University to pursue a program of study leading to a specific graduate certificate, or master's, educational specialist, or doctoral degree. In special circumstances, undergraduate seniors or post-baccalaureate students may be allowed to enroll in graduate courses with prior approval from the director of the graduate program in the area of the course in question, or the dean of the college or school in which the course is taught.
- Post-Baccalaureate: students with an acceptable baccalaureate degree admitted to the university to pursue a second bachelor's degree, an undergraduate certificate, or a prerequisite program of study. Eligible to enroll in courses numbered 100-499 only.
- Non-Matriculated: students admitted to Seattle University, by means of a special application form and fee, for the purpose of post-secondary or post-baccalaureate study which is not intended to culminate in a Seattle University degree or certificate; or those students who are recorded in the computer system via a manual registration process through the Office of the Registrar for particular programs offered by the School of Education's professional development office. (See policy 82-2)

Students admitted as graduate non-matriculants must possess a baccalaureate degree from a regionally accredited institution of higher education, are expected to be full participants in the course and are held to the same standards as matriculated students.

Beginning Fall 1998, there is no limit to the number of quarters for which a student may attend Seattle University as a non-matriculated student. Credit is awarded for successful completion of courses taken by non-matriculated students, however, those courses will not be applied toward a degree or certificate until the student has applied and been accepted to a program of study as a matriculated student and petitioned the appropriate dean requesting that said credits apply toward program requirements. Each school/college determines the maximum number of non-matriculated credits to be allowed toward program requirements. Completion of courses does not guarantee admission into a program of study.

Not all courses are open to non-matriculants. During fall, winter, and spring terms, non-matriculated students will be admitted to courses on a space available basis after all matriculated students have had the opportunity to register; i.e. two weeks prior to the start of classes. During summer term, non-matriculated students may register when registration opens for the term.

Academic Load

- Full-time: eight or more quarter credits
- Half-time: Three or four quarter credits (see policy #77-5 for more information).
- Doctoral students refer to policy #82 for special exception.

Course Numbering System

The course numbering system is as follows:

100 to 499 are undergraduate courses.

500 to 599 are graduate courses.*

600 to 699 are doctoral courses.*

900 to 999 are post-baccalaureate professional development courses.

Graduate standing is required for courses numbered 500 to 699.*

Undergraduate Course Work

In certain circumstances, it may be appropriate for graduate students to take courses at the 300, 400 or 900 level. There is a 15-credit maximum limit for courses that normally include both undergraduate, post-baccalaureate, and graduate students. Graduate students are expected to perform at a level consistent with receiving graduate credit and when enrolled in these courses will be expected to do additional work in the form of projects, papers, or other suitable assignments. Likewise, in the grading of examinations or other written work, graduate students will be expected to demonstrate higher levels of analysis and synthesis than the undergraduates in the class. In all classes in which there is a mixture of undergraduate and graduate students, graduate students must demonstrate knowledge, quality and quantity of work beyond that expected of undergraduates.

Students pursuing undergraduate course work beyond the bachelor's degree, who are not admitted to a graduate program for advanced degrees, are granted status as post-baccalaureate students. This is an undergraduate classification, and students are under the jurisdiction of the dean of the college in which they are taking courses.

Attendance Requirement

Attendance is an essential and intrinsic element of the education process. In any course in which attendance is necessary to the achievement of a clearly defined set of course objectives, it may be a valid consideration in determining students' grades. While there is no university regulation requiring class attendance, it is the responsibility of the instructor to state the relevance of attendance at the beginning of each course.

Academic Policies

Concurrent Enrollment at Two Colleges

University regulations require students to seek written permission to be enrolled at another institution simultaneously with enrollment at Seattle University. Credits completed at a second institution are not transferable unless, prior to enrolling elsewhere, a petition authorizing dual enrollment is approved by the program chair/director and the dean of the appropriate college or school.

Course Substitution

In some situations, a previously completed graduate course may be substituted for an equivalent required graduate course, even though the earlier course may not qualify for transfer. However, the substitution in no way reduces the total number of credits required for the degree.

Extension Credit/Correspondence Credit

Graduate-level credit for extension courses is not normally allowed. Any exceptions are at the discretion of the dean of the appropriate college or school. Credits earned through correspondence are not accepted under any circumstances.

Grading System

Since fall 1996 the university has used the following system of grading to indicate the level of individual student achievement. Each letter grade has a quality point value assigned for the grade achieved. The quality point value is assigned to each letter grade as follows:

- A 4.0 Superior performance
- A- 3.7
- B+ 3.3
- B 3.0 Good performance
- B- 2.7
- C+ 2.3
- C 2.0 Adequate performance
- C- 1.7 Inadequate for required graduate course
- D+ 1.3
- D 1.0 Poor performance
- D- 0.7
- F 0.0 Failing (formerly E)

The grades of CR, HW, I, LP, LU, M, N, NC, P, Q, R, W, Y, YW, or Z have no quality point value.

CR/F—Mandatory Credit/Fail

Some graduate courses, and other courses so designated by individual departments are only graded credit (CR) or fail (F). When passed with the minimum acceptable standard of C on the graduate level, the course will be graded CR and credit will be granted. There will be no effect on the grade point average. Should the student fail to satisfy the instructor's minimal expectations, the course will be graded F and will be included in the computation of the grade point average.

HW—Hardship Withdrawal

A grade assigned by the dean or the dean's designee when a student must withdraw from a course for a medical/family hardship reason as documented by a licensed professional. There is no effect on the grade point average and the ordinary tuition refund policies apply.

I—Incomplete

A temporary grade indicating that work in the course was acceptable, although a critical portion of it was not completed because of illness or other serious circumstances beyond the student's control. The "I" grade may not be used for the convenience of the faculty member or student. When the instructor assigns an I grade at the end of a term, a provisional grade is also submitted which will be automatically assigned by the registrar should the deadline expire without student action. This provisional grade should be calculated to include all work completed to date of final attendance plus a failing grade for work/exams the student did not complete. An incomplete fee is posted on the student's account when the grade is submitted to the registrar.

When the specified work has been completed, the faculty member files with the registrar a change of grade form in order to have the final grade posted to the transcript. Beginning with courses taken Fall 1997, deadlines for submission of the form are:

I Grade Received	Faculty submits grade by
Fall term	March 1
Winter term	May 1
Spring and Summer terms	November 15

Under unusual circumstances, a faculty member may request of his/her dean an extension of the time the "I" will remain on the record. Such a request for extension must be made to the registrar by the deadlines listed above.

While on the transcript, I grades will carry no penalty; i.e., they will not be counted in credit or grade point average computations.

IP—In Progress

Symbol used on the academic transcript to indicate current quarter's courses.

LP—Language Prepared

A grade used only in the Culture and Language Bridge Program to indicate satisfactory completion of an intensive, non-credit, skill-development course required as an academic support for some international students.

LU—Language Unprepared

A grade used only in the Culture and Language Bridge Program to indicate unsatisfactory performance in an intensive, non-credit, skill-development course required as an academic support for some international students.

M—Missing

Symbol used on grade reports to inform student that a grade has not been received from instructor.

N—No Grade

A suspended grade for courses in which work is not scheduled for completion until after the quarter closes, e.g., thesis or research courses at the graduate level. It is the responsibility of the student to arrange with the supervising instructor to remove the N within one calendar year of the quarter the grade is assigned, per the schedule given below. Once the closing date has passed, re-registration and payment of regular tuition is required in order to obtain credit for the work completed. Once a degree has been posted, removal of an N grade is not permitted.

N Grade Received	Faculty submits grade by
Summer term	August 1 of the following calendar year
Fall term	November 15 of the following calendar year
Winter term	March 1 of the following calendar year

Q—A Suspended Grade

For doctoral project/dissertation work-in-progress at the 600 level only. The Q grade must be removed within the six-year limit for all the degree coursework. Once the six-year limit has expired, the Q becomes permanent and the student must re-register for the course, paying regular tuition to obtain credit for the work completed.

R—Doctoral Research

Indicates registration in a required non-credit doctoral research course. A permanent grade which does not effect the grade point average.

W—Withdrawal

Official withdrawal

Y—Audit

A course for which no credit is given. Not available for course numbers 500-699.

YW—Audit Withdrawal

Student registered as an auditor but did not attend through end of course.

Z—Unofficial Withdrawal

Grade assigned by the registrar based upon the tenth day class rosters as returned by the faculty when a student has registered for a course, has never attended, and has not officially withdrawn according to university policy. The is no effect on the grade point average.

Grade Point Average

(Policy 75-2)

Seattle University requires that undergraduate students maintain a C average, which is equivalent to a cumulative 2.00 grade point average on a 4.00 scale. Requirements of professional schools may be higher and individual majors and programs may have special grade requirements.

The grade point average is computed by dividing the total number of quality points achieved by the total number of credit hours attempted in which the student earns a letter grade.

Graduate students must maintain a B average, which is equivalent to a cumulative 3.00 grade point average on a 4.00 scale. Probation will appear on the transcript of a student who does not maintain this minimum average.

Grade Reports

Student quarterly grade reports are mailed at the end of each quarter. The university does not hold itself responsible for grade report errors unless the registrar is notified of the error within six months after the date of issue of a grade report.

Leave of Absence

(Policy 97-4)

Matriculated students who have completed one full quarter at Seattle University, who are not international students and who have not been dismissed for academic reasons, may apply for a leave of absence when they must interrupt their education under specific circumstances. The leave will be in effect for no more that four consecutive quarters and must be approved by the student's dean in consultation with the registrar.

A leave of absence is not granted when a student is simply "stopping out" for one or more terms but will be granted for: military service, church, missionary or volunteer work through a recognized religious or volunteer organization; medical or financial hardship; family hardship; participation in a university approved study abroad program; participation in a reciprocal university program of study; or, at the recommendation of an academic department because a student must pursue required courses at another institution.

When formally approved, this procedure may grant students special consideration by financial aid and loan agencies.

Program Change Within the University

To transfer from one graduate program within the university to another, students must formally apply to the new program and be officially accepted. The procedure begins in the Office of Admissions.

Records

(Policy 76-3 and 76-9)

As required by federal legislation, Seattle University has a policy on the rights of students to privacy of their educational records and access to the information on file. This policy is published annually. Student directory information will be published by the university unless students request otherwise in writing to the Registrar's Office by the last day to register as announced in the quarterly schedule of classes. Records policy includes the right of the university to place a restriction against the transcript of students with financial obligations and to deny re-registration until all debts owed the university have been paid. The full policy statement, including right to appeal, may be obtained from the registrar.

Registration

All students must register on the dates published. No registrations are permitted after the last day to register, as published in the university calendar. Students registering after the first class day are held responsible for absences thus incurred. No person may attend any university course unless officially registered. A late tuition payment fee is assessed according to the date announced in the quarterly Schedule of Classes.

Registration Changes

Students are held accountable to complete every course for which they register. If it is necessary to add or drop a course, the student must complete the appropriate touchtone registration transaction by the last day such activity is allowed as published in the university calendar. Failure to officially withdraw from a course will result in a grade of F on the student's academic record.

Repeating a Course

(Policy 77-2)

A graduate student must repeat a required course graded C- or below, but may repeat a graduate course graded C+ or C only once. The grade earned the second time will be used in computing the cumulative grade point average. The original grade will remain on the record, but course credits will be counted only once toward a degree.

If a student re-registers for a class first attempted as part of a previously awarded Seattle University degree or certificate, that course is not treated as a repeat and the earlier degree or certificate grade point average will not be recalculated.

Academic Policies

Transcripts

(Policies 76-3 and 97-6)

Students may obtain official Seattle University transcripts of their academic record by submitting a written request to the Registrar's Office. No official transcript will be released for students with a financial obligation to the university.

A limited number of transcripts are offered without charge. They and other enrollment certifications should be requested at least one week before they are required. A fee is charged for same day service. Transcripts are generally not issued during the period of registration, examinations, or Commencement.

The university is not responsible for any error on a transcript that is not brought to the attention of the registrar within six months of the closing date of the quarter in which the error occurred.

When submitted to the university, official transcripts from other institutions must be received in a sealed envelope and must bear the seal of the issuing institution along with the date of issue and the appropriate signature. Transcripts stamped "issued to student" will be accepted as official only if they meet these criteria and are considered official by the issuing institution.

Withdrawal

(Policy 75-22)

The Registrar's Office must be officially notified in writing by students when they withdraw from any course. The withdrawal form is obtained from the registrar and presented to the instructor, other applicable offices, and registrar, in that order, for approval and signature. Failure to officially withdraw from a course will result in a grade of F on the student's academic record.

The official date of withdrawal will be the date the appropriate documentation and completed form are received by the registrar. A grade of W will be allowed until the end of the seventh week of any quarter.

A grade of HW may be assigned by the dean or the dean's designee when a student must withdraw from a course for medical/family hardship reason as documented by a licensed professional. There is no effect on the grade point average and the ordinary tuition refund policies apply.

Time Restrictions

Seattle University recognizes that students progress at different rates and their time to degree completion is often dictated by individual circumstances. However, all requirements for the master's, educational specialist, or doctoral degree, including transfer courses, must be completed within six years after course work is begun. In those unusual circumstances where students cannot complete the degree requirements within the six-year statute of limitations, they must file a petition with the dean of the appropriate college or school at least one quarter prior to the expiration of the six-year statute requesting an extension of one year. When petitions are approved, students may be required to take additional credits. In most cases, only one extension will be allowed. The department and dean of the college or school alone has the authority to recommend a candidate for a master's, educational specialist, or doctoral degree.

Transfer Credit

At the master's or educational specialist level a maximum of 10 credits may be transferred from another accredited institution if they are earned with a grade of 3.00 or better on a 4.00 American grading scale, were taken for graduate credit, fall within the six-year limitation, and are approved by the department. Transfer credits for the doctoral program are specified in that program section of this bulletin. Transfer credits for the master of divinity and master of transforming spirituality degrees are specified in that section of this bulletin.

Degree Requirements

Admission to Candidacy

Students in selected programs must file the candidacy form after completing 15 credits in courses applicable to the graduate program of the department, with a minimum cumulative grade point average of 3.00. Doctoral students should consult the doctoral program section of this bulletin for information on doctoral candidacy.

General Requirements

Students are normally required to meet degree program requirements in effect at the time of their matriculation. However, students who are absent from the university for more than one academic year are required to meet the degree requirements in effect when they resume study.

Official commencement exercises are held once a year in June. Application for graduation must be made according to the deadlines as published in the university academic calendar. Students completing course requirements will receive diplomas approximately eight weeks following the quarter of completion. All responsibility for fulfilling requirements and for applying for graduation rests with individual students.

To graduate with the master's degree, candidates must earn a minimum of 45 credits beyond the bachelor's degree. Students must satisfy any additional requirements imposed by their major department. For those candidates who have already earned a master's degree in a related area, requirements for a second master's degree may be reduced by up to 10 credits upon recommendation of the program chair. Some programs may require additional course work.

All work must be of distinctly advanced character, but with the approval of the department and the dean of the appropriate college or school, up to 15 credits may be earned at Seattle University in courses numbered 300 - 499 or 900 level, if the subjects are suitable to the program and approved by the academic dean (please refer to the policy on undergraduate coursework). For educational specialist and doctoral degree requirements, consult those program sections in this bulletin.

Candidates may be required to pass a comprehensive examination in the major field of study. This examination shall be written and/or oral at the judgment of the department and the approval of the dean of the appropriate college or school. A 3.00 average is required for work done toward an advanced degree. Students whose averages fall below the required 3.00 are placed on academic probation. After three quarters on probation, they are subject to dismissal from the university.

Master's students may request to complete theses on topics approved by their major departments and the dean of the appropriate college or school. For this work, no more than 10 credits are granted. A thesis is not necessarily a work of original research, but it must demonstrate the candidate's abilities to express themselves in an original, lucid way.

- Thesis topics are to be approved by students' mentors, graduate program advisers, and the dean of the appropriate college or school, and filed with the department.
- All thesis work must be done under the direct supervision of an assigned adviser.
- Four unbound copies of an approved thesis are to be submitted to the dean four weeks before the date of graduation. Two of these copies will be bound and placed on file in the university library; one copy will go to the department chairperson and one to the student.

- An oral examination on the content of each thesis, cognate literature, and available source material may be held before a board appointed by the departmental chairperson and approved by the dean of the appropriate college or school.

For information on doctoral projects, consult that program section of this bulletin.

Application for a Degree

Whether students plan to participate in the once-a-year graduation ceremony in June or wish to receive their diplomas in the mail following the quarter of completion, they must apply for graduation following the steps indicated below:

1. Visit the Registrar's Office and complete the application form by the deadlines as published in the university calendar.
2. Take the graduation evaluation worksheet to their advisers.
3. Insure that all N and I grades are removed.

Diplomas are mailed approximately eight weeks following the quarter of completion. The graduation year ends with June commencement and students who do not complete requirements the year they apply for a degree must take the initiative to reapply for the following year. Graduate students with deficiencies do not participate in commencement; all requirements must be complete.

Academic Honesty Code

Seattle University is committed to the principle that academic honesty and integrity are important values in the educational process and that violations in this area should be dealt with in an appropriate and effective manner.

Violations

Academic dishonesty includes but is not limited to cheating, plagiarism, ghost writing, and furnishing false or misleading information on any official university academic form.

Penalties

The imposition of penalties initially will be the responsibility of classroom teachers or department chairs, depending on the nature of the offense. For example, teachers have the discretion either to reprimand students or give failing grades for assignments, individual examinations, or entire courses. Brief reports of incidents and the penalties imposed will be filed with both instructors' and students' department chairs. In any such instance students have the right to appeal teachers' actions first to department chairs, and then to the appropriate dean.

In the case of repeated or more serious violations of academic honesty, teachers or department chairs involved may recommend to students' deans that students either be suspended or expelled from the school or college in which they are enrolled. Suspension or expulsion from a given school is within the authority of the dean of that school and may be appealed by students to the provost.

Although suspension or expulsion from a school will, in most instances, have the effect of separating students from the university, this result does not follow necessarily or automatically. In a rare instance, depending on the nature of the code violation, such students might be accepted by the dean of another school. Only the president may suspend or expel students from the university as such, and only, in normal circumstances, following a hearing of the charges in the presence of the accused.

Student Academic Grievance Procedure

The purpose of the grievance procedure is to provide a confidential, fair, and timely means by which students may seek redress for an academic grievance. It assures a consistent and uniform response to such grievances throughout all academic units of the university. It is intended to promote a spirit of conciliation and mutual respect between students and faculty members by requiring cooperative participation in the resolution of grievances.

Scope

The ultimate responsibility for the integrity of the academic grading process belongs to the university as an institution. Individual faculty members routinely act as agents for the institution in evaluating the student's academic performance and in assigning final course grades. The following process will guide the university's response to allegations of arbitrary and capricious behavior by any member of the teaching faculty in this evaluation effort.

The burden of proof lies with a student who claims a grievance; however, every student has a right to know the criteria for performance evaluation to be applied in a course and the system of grading to be used by the instructor. This information should be included in a written syllabus and made available to all students in a class early in the quarter. The instructor has an obligation to award grades on the basis of rational, objective evaluation of a student's performance.

Questions of professional judgment concerning course content, instructional methods, and appropriateness of performance standards are not subject to review by this procedure, although they may be considered by the faculty member's program director, department chair or dean. Questions about the application of general university policies are also beyond the scope of this procedure but may be addressed to the appropriate administering department of the university.

The procedure does not apply to academic dismissals from the university.

Process

To the greatest extent possible, academic grievances should be resolved at the level of authority closest to the classroom in which the alleged mistreatment occurred. The process involves a sequence of steps, at any one of which the matter may be adequately resolved and the procedure terminated. These steps are: the informal conference, the filing of a formal grievance, the appeal to an academic grievance board and a limited appeal to the provost. Each step of the process must be concluded before the next stage begins.

A. The Informal Conference

When a student feels aggrieved by a grading action of an instructor, a dialog between that student and the instructor must take place to provide an opportunity for the instructor to explain the evaluation that led to the grading action and for the student to explain the nature of the grievance. By mutual agreement of the student and the instructor, other persons may become involved in this informal conciliation process.

B. The Filing of a Formal Grievance

When the informal conference fails to resolve the matter, the student may file a formal grievance in duplicate with the chair of the department offering the disputed course. The formal grievance must be filed no later than the sixth week of the quarter following the quarter in which the challenged action occurred. Grievances arising from spring quarter courses must be filed no later than the sixth week of the following fall quarter, although they may be processed during the summer session if convenient and agreeable to all parties.

Academic Policies

The formal grievance filed by the student will be in writing. It will describe the details of the grievance and propose a specific action to resolve the grievance. Upon receipt of the two copies of the formal grievance, the chair will notify the instructor of the student action and request in duplicate from the faculty member a written response to the allegations and a specific suggestion for resolution of the grievance. The involved instructor will receive a copy of the formal grievance and the student will receive a copy of the response by the instructor.

Within two weeks of receipt of the student's formal grievance, the chair will convene a meeting of the involved parties. Both student and instructor may be accompanied by one support person or advocate, who is also a member of the Seattle University community. In the course of this meeting, the chair will attempt to resolve the grievance. Within five working days of the meeting, the chair will issue a written statement summarizing the merits of the allegations and proposing course of action, even as far as changing a grade, in response to the formal grievance. Copies of the chair's statement will go to the student and to the instructor.

If either the student or the faculty member disagrees with the course of action proposed by the chair's report, an appeal to the appropriate academic grievance board may be made within 10 working days. If no appeal is made in that period, the action proposed by the chair becomes final.

C. The Appeal to an Academic Grievance Board

Each college, school, or institute will have an academic grievance board consisting of two full-time faculty members from that college and two students in good academic standing who are majoring in that college. Each board will have a list of designated alternates, equal in number to the board. The dean, after appropriate consultation within the college, will appoint the faculty members and the alternates; the president of the ASSU will appoint the student members and alternates. Members of the board will have staggered terms of two years each. For each college offering a graduate degree, two additional alternate graduate students will be designated by the president of ASSU in consultation with the dean of the school/college. When a grievance under appeal involves a graduate student, at least one of the student members of the board must be a graduate student. The composition of the academic grievance board and the alternates list for each academic year will be announced by the deans no later than October 10.

A student or instructor who disagrees with the chair's report stemming from the formal grievance filing may submit a written request to the dean for an appeal hearing before the academic grievance board in the college where the disputed action took place, stating the basis for the request. The dean will have three working days to inform the student and affected faculty member of the board's membership and of the alternates list. The student and the faculty member may each challenge one member of the board. A challenged member will be replaced by the appropriate alternate serving the same term.

The board will convene within five working days of the determination of the panel's composition. At this time, it will consider only the written request of the appellant and the three written statements from the previous treatment of the formal grievance filing. Upon consideration of this record and with agreement of three members, the board may vote to sustain the recommendation of the chair's report. If this occurs, no further appeal is possible (unless a grade is being raised above the initially awarded course grade) and the process is terminated upon issuance of a written report by the board explaining its action.

If two or more of the members of the board agree that there appears to be merit to the appeal, the board will accept the matter for hearing and notify the dean. The hearing normally will be held within 10 days of the board's acceptance of the matter. At the hearing the board will receive testimony from the student, the faculty member, and any other persons deemed relevant by the board. The hearing will not be an adversary proceeding and cross-examination will not be permitted, although members of the board may ask questions of any witness. The board will make every effort to compile a complete and accurate record of testimony and other evidence. The three reports from the formal grievance filing will be a part of the board's record.

Within 10 working days of the conclusion of the hearing, the board will deliver its findings and recommendations to the dean. Within five working days of receiving the board's report, the dean's recommendation will be delivered to the student and the faculty member.

1. If the dean concurs with the board's recommendation, the grievance process is terminated and the proposed action becomes final, except in the instance where the proposed action would raise a grade above the initially awarded grade. In that instance, the faculty member has five working days to appeal to the provost.
2. If the dean's recommendation varies from the board's recommendation, either party has 10 working days to appeal to the provost. If no appeal is filed within that period, the dean's recommendation becomes final and the grievance process is terminated.

Any failure by participating faculty or administration to comply with this grievance procedure is sufficient basis to permit appeal by any aggrieved party to the provost, within 20 working days of the faculty action.

D. Limited Appeal to the Provost

Upon notice of appeal to the provost, the entire written record of prior proceedings in the matter will be forwarded by the dean. All actions of the provost will be based upon this record. The provost may remand the matter to the dean or the academic grievance board for additional consideration, sustain the dean's recommendation, or take a specific action based upon suitable new findings and conclusions. Either of the latter two actions becomes final and the grievance process is terminated. There is no further appeal on campus.

Sexual Harassment Grievance Procedure

Seattle University recognizes its obligation to promote an environment and an attitude that encourages men and women to meet as equals in all aspects of life. Seattle University condemns any form of sexual harassment.

Sexual harassment can involve faculty, staff, or students. This statement covers men or women harassing men or women.

Students who believe they have been victims of sexual and/or gender harassment, and who wish to report or discuss incidents or receive counseling while preserving anonymity, should contact the affirmative action officer.

This statement in no way precludes students taking action outside the university.

Sexual Harassment Policy Statement

Sexual harassment by any employee is forbidden. Sexual harassment is defined as unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal/non-verbal, or physical conduct of a sexual nature when:

1. Submission to such conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly as a term or condition of an individual's employment.

2. Submission to, or rejection of, such conduct by an individual is used as a basis for their employment.
3. Such conduct has the purpose or effect of interfering with an individual's work performance, or creating an intimidating or offensive working environment.

Filing a Complaint

Seattle University is committed to providing a work environment that is free of discrimination. In keeping with this commitment, the university maintains a policy prohibiting unlawful harassment in any form. Procedures for reporting sexual harassment claims may be formal or informal and apply to faculty, staff, administration, and students.

Any member of the university who believes that he or she has been the victim of sexual harassment may bring the matter to the attention of the university's affirmative action officer.

The complainant should present the complaint as soon as possible after the alleged harassment occurs to ensure his or her complaint has been entered into the record, should he/she decide to file a formal complaint at a later date.

The first meeting with the complainant and affirmative action officer is informational and confidential. This meeting is to assure the complainant that his or her complaint will be heard; to diffuse any feelings of guilt, anger, or discomfort; and to discuss the process for filing a formal complaint. The complainant is assured that the dissemination of information relating to the case will be limited in order to safeguard the privacy of all individuals.

If the complainant decides to proceed, he/she will meet with the affirmative action officer and submit a written statement.

The affirmative action officer will inform the alleged offender and his/her manager. A written statement of the complaint will be given to both parties. The complainant will be advised that every effort will be made to protect him/her from retaliatory action by the person(s) named in the complaint.

Once a complaint is submitted, the affirmative action officer will initiate steps deemed appropriate to effect an informal resolution to the complaint acceptable to both parties.

The complainant, if unsatisfied with the resolution proposed, shall have access to the university's formal grievance procedures upon submission of a request to the affirmative action officer.

Seattle University believes that publishing these procedures will help create an atmosphere in which individuals who believe that they are victims of harassment will be assured that their complaints will be dealt with fairly.

Controller's Office Services

The various student services offered by the Controller's Office include providing student account statements; receipt of student payments; answering questions about student accounts; disbursement of authorized financial aid; signing of Federal Perkins, nursing, and institutional loan documents, monitoring the repayment process and collection of Federal Perkins, nursing, and institutional loans and delinquent student accounts; receiving and processing time sheets for student payroll; and issuing student payroll checks.

Tuition Payment

Tuition and fees are due and payable on or before September 15 for fall quarter, December 15 for winter quarter, March 22 for spring quarter, and June 15 for summer quarter.

Payment of tuition and fees includes library and health service fees, student newspaper, student organization allotments, building fund, and admission to athletic events. International students will automatically be charged medical insurance. A waiver can be obtained from the International Student Center upon proof of insurance coverage.

Official Withdrawal

Until a student officially withdraws from a course with the Registrar's Office, it is the student's responsibility to pay for all fees in full whether or not the student attended class.

The date the completed withdrawal form is received in the Registrar's office is considered the effective date of withdrawal by the Registrar. After these changes, call the Controller's office at (206) 296-5880 for an updated account balance.

Payment Methods

- Mail: Send your check for the total amount due to the Controller's Office, Seattle University, P.O. Box 24064, Seattle, WA 98124-0064. Please write your student ID number on your check.
- Charge (Visa or MasterCard): Complete the credit card information section on your statement and send it to the address above.
- Phone: Credit card payments can be made 24 hours a day, seven days a week, by calling (206) 296-5898—or during regular business hours between 9:00 a.m. and 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, at (206) 296-5880.
- Drop-Box: Place your check or credit card information in the drop-box adjacent to the Controller's Office door available 24 hours a day, seven days a week.
- In Person: Come to the Student Accounts window at the Controller's Office between 9:00 a.m. and 6 p.m., Monday and Tuesday, or between 9:00 a.m. and 4:30 p.m., Wednesday through Friday.
- Make Payment Arrangements with the Student Accounts Department:
 - Plan A: Annual arrangements may be made with Academic Management Service (AMS) for monthly payments. Call (800) 635-0120 for information on AMS (Deadline to apply is 9/15/98).
 - Plan B: 1/3 of tuition balance plus 1% service fee by the tuition due date; 1/3 in 30 days; remaining balance due in 60 days.
 - Plan C: 1% service fee plus balance of account in 30 days.

Interest continues to accrue on the unpaid balance on both Plan B and C until it is paid in full. Call (206) 296-5899 for information on SU Payment Plans.

Without a signed payment plan on file with the Controller's Office, tuition balances paid after the due date are subject to late payment and refund policies.

Seattle University reserves the right to change its charges at any time without previous notice.

If you have questions regarding your account, please call the Student Accounts Department at (206) 296-5880 between 9:00 a.m. and 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Late Payment

A late fee of $100 (one time per term) and interest of 1% per month on any balance due will be applied if:

- Pending financial aid is not sufficient to cover the outstanding charges on the account, and/or
- Payment or payment arrangements have not been made with the Controller's Office by the tuition due date. If a signed payment plan is on file with the Controller's Office the late fee will be waived. If the terms and conditions of the plan are not met, all applicable late fees will be applied retroactively.

A service fee of $20 will be charged for all checks not honored by the bank and returned unpaid to Seattle University. If the returned check was for tuition and charges are still outstanding after the tuition due date, a late fee will also be assessed to the student's account.

Past Due Accounts

Failure to pay in full all tuition and other fees for any quarter (or session) will result in a "restriction" being placed on the issuance of academic transcripts or diplomas and will prevent further registration until resolved/paid in full. Delinquent accounts may be referred to a commercial collection agency for recovery and may be reported to national credit bureaus. All costs, expenses, and fees (including, but not limited to, attorney fees, court costs, and other out-of-pocket expenses) incurred by the university in collecting or attempting to collect a past-due account are the responsibility of the student and shall be charged to the student's account.

Refunds

Firm deadlines for official withdrawal (full or partial).*

1 thru 8th calendar day	100 percent
9 thru 15th calendar day	80 percent
16 thru 22nd calendar day	70 percent
23 thru 29th calendar day	60 percent
30 thru 36th calendar day	50 percent
37 thru 43rd calendar day	40 percent
Thereafter	No refund

*See the quarterly schedule of classes for specific dates
(Note: This schedule applies to both Institutional and Title IV funds.)

For graduate students, refunds are based on the number of calendar days (excluding official campus holidays) from the first class day of the term to the official withdrawal date or reduction in class load date. The official date is considered the date of any change made by touchtone registration or the date you submit your completed official withdrawal form to the registrar.

A refund to financial aid recipients is applied first to financial aid source(s) and the balance, if any, is remitted to the student.

Loan proceeds are returned directly to the lender. A check for any credit balance will be issued by the Controller's Office.

Petitions for tuition adjustment and fee waiver will be approved only to correct a university error.

Overpayment of Account (credit balance)

Credit balances created by financial aid, tuition adjustments, or overpayment will be remitted to the student. Payment will be made by check or credit card, depending on the student's original method of payment. The credit will be mailed to the student or, upon request, may be picked up at the Controller's office. In most cases, refunds are mailed the next business day.

Credit balances from financial aid are not available to students until after 3:00 p.m. on the first class day of each quarter. To receive a credit check on that day, students must request the check from the Controller's Office at least three business days before that date. (See the Quarterly Schedule of Classes: Tuition and Fee Payments/Overpayment of Account for the specific deadline.)

Note: Federal Regulations effective 7/1/97 require Seattle University to forward Title IV financial aid resulting in a credit balance to the student within 10 days. Therefore, if a check is not requested by the student, it will be generated and mailed to the student by the Controller's Office.

Financial Aid

Applications for Federal Student Aid

Financial aid applications called the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) are available after January 1 of each year from the Financial Aid Office. A new FAFSA is required for each academic year students apply for financial aid.

While applications for financial aid are encouraged anytime, students who have all their documents submitted to the Financial Aid Office by March 1 will be given first priority for funds available for the academic year starting in September. The earlier a file is completed the more likely it is that funding will be available on the first day of class.

The FAFSA is used to determine the expected student contribution. Eligibility, or financial need, is defined as the difference between the amount it will cost to attend Seattle University for one year and the amount a student and/or family can afford to pay according to the FAFSA. The Financial Aid Office will then put together a financial aid package which may include any of the following items.

Loans

The federal government funds three major low-interest loans, which must be repaid: the Federal Perkins Loan, the Federal Direct Stafford Loan, and the Unsubsidized Direct Federal Stafford Loan. All first-time borrowers at Seattle University are required to attend an in-person loan entrance interview before receiving their funds.

Federal Perkins Loan

The Federal Perkins Loan Program (formerly NDSL) is a long-term, 5 percent interest loan based on financial need. Seattle University offers a maximum of $1,500 a year to needy graduate students. Overall, eligible students may borrow a total of $30,000 for their combined graduate and undergraduate education. Repayment begins nine months after students cease to attend at least half-time. The Federal Perkins Loan also includes limited deferment and forgiveness features, and payment may extend 10 years.

Federal Stafford Loan

The Federal Direct Stafford Loan (formerly GSL) is a long-term, need-based loan. Graduate students may borrow up to their maximum eligibility as determined by the FAFSA and interpreted by the Financial Aid Office. The maximum any student can borrow for one academic year is $8,500. The aggregate limit (undergraduate and graduate combined) is $65,500.

Stafford funds are reduced by approximately 4 percent of the amount borrowed. The amount withheld represents a loan origination and guarantee fee. There are no other charges while students are enrolled at least half-time. For financial aid purposes, Seattle University defines half-time graduate work as a minimum of three credits, full-time as a minimum of eight credits.

The interest rate for Federal Stafford Loans is variable with a maximum of 8.25 percent. The minimum repayment is $50 per month and starts six months after students cease half-time enrollment.

Unsubsidized Federal Stafford Loan

The Unsubsidized Direct Federal Stafford Loan is a "non-need-based" loan which has the same terms and conditions as the Federal Direct Stafford Loan described above, except that students are responsible for interest that accrues while they are in school. The loan is available to students who do not qualify for the need-based Federal Stafford Loan. Some students may have a partial Federal Stafford Loan and a partial Unsubsidized Federal Stafford Loan because they did not qualify for a full Federal Stafford Loan. The combination of these two loans cannot exceed the annual loan limit of $18,500. Aggregate limit is $73,000 (undergraduate and graduate combined).

Work Study

Seattle University offers two work programs: federal work study and state work study. Work study is awarded to graduate students based on request and availability of funds. Earnings under both programs are limited to eligibility as determined by the FAFSA. An authorization-to-work form is sent when students' files are complete if they are awarded work study. Please note the work study program is an opportunity to earn funds by working and is not subtracted from the bill. Students should contact the financial aid office to request work study.

Federal Work Study

The Federal Work Study Program allows students to earn funds by working part-time on campus. Under this program students may work up to 20 hours per week at positions on Seattle University's campus.

State Work Study

This is a state-funded program available to Washington state residents, in which students may work up to 19 hours per week in positions off campus. Positions are available in private businesses, non-profit organizations, or in city and county government. Students submit time sheets for hours worked and are paid directly by their employers. The employers are reimbursed a certain percentage by the state. Students should contact the Financial Aid office to request work study.

Scholarships

Graduate Scholarships

Seattle University offers a need-based scholarship to a number of newly admitted and continuing graduate students for one or more quarters. Recipients must be enrolled for a minimum of five quarter credits. Directions and application forms for these scholarships can be obtained in the Financial Aid Office.

Firm deadlines for receipt of completed scholarship application forms in the Financial Aid Office are:

May 1: summer, fall, winter, and spring quarters

November 1: winter and spring quarters

The application is not considered complete unless students are admitted into a graduate program prior to the deadline.

These scholarships are awarded in conjunction with financial aid. New award letters will be sent with revised packages when students are selected.

Diversity Scholarships

In an effort to enrich the diversity of the graduate student population, Seattle University designates awards for selected underrepresented minority students in education, nursing, and the School of Theology and Ministry. Contact departments to apply.

Departmental Sources

Business administration, education, nursing, and theological studies students can contact the individual departments for additional scholarship information and applications.

College of Arts and Sciences

Stephen Rowan, PhD, Dean

Degrees Offered

- Executive Master of Not-for-Profit Leadership (NPLR)
- Master of Public Administration (MPA)
- Master of Arts in Psychology (MAP)

Objectives

The graduate programs in the College of Arts and Sciences support Seattle University's mission to educate the whole person for a life of leadership and service. Central to that mission, and guided by its Jesuit heritage, the graduate programs emphasize ethical reflection as essential for the complete professional life in addition to such skills as critical thinking and effective communication. To achieve these goals and to create a community of learners, classes are kept small and active learning is practiced. The availability of faculty and students to each other is a hallmark of Seattle University's educational mission.

INSTITUTE OF PUBLIC SERVICE

John Collins, PhD, Director

Public Administration Graduate Program Coordinator:
Deanna Fryhle, MPA (206) 296-5440

Not-for-Profit Leadership Graduate Program Director:
Mary Stewart Hall, PhD, (206) 296-5440

Degrees Offered

- Executive Master of Not-for-Profit Leadership (NPLR)
- Master of Public Administration (MPA)

Mission of the Institute of Public Service

The institute of Public Service inspires and educates working professionals to lead government and not-for-profit organizations to perform with excellence, to meet high standards of trust and stewardship, and to meet the challenges of change by fostering:

- Competency in the best analytical, managerial, entrepreneurial and human relations skills;
- Commitment to the Jesuit values of Seattle University of social justice and integrity in public service;
- Compassion for the plight of the less powerful and underprivileged members of society;
- Contributions to solving community problems through applied research, collaborations, noncredit training, consultation, and providing a forum for public policy dialogue.

EXECUTIVE MASTER OF NOT-FOR-PROFIT LEADERSHIP

This is the first executive graduate degree program in the country developed specifically for those who head not-for-profit organizations. As an executive degree, the program offers opportunities to network with and learn from experienced peers while also working with a distinguished mix of instructors drawn from the IPS faculty, practitioners and training professionals.

It is now recognized that effective not-for-profit executives must have the leadership skills that inspire others to voluntary action while also possessing the management abilities expected in government and business. The program has a unique curriculum designed to teach the core competencies that empirical research has shown are expected of the best non-profit executives. While courses will teach the latest management and leadership theory, content will emphasize practical application. Course work is intended to build on the base of experience that students will bring with them to the classroom.

All courses are scheduled in the evenings or on weekends, with the exception of a two-week, full-time intensive course period each August or September during summer intersession.

Program participants have the opportunity to meet with a wide variety of the region's not-for-profit and grantmaking leaders. Personal mentoring is also provided by a diverse visiting committee. Graduates have access to job placement services and are invited to continue their association with the program through an alumni organization.

Candidates for Admission

The NPLR program is oriented toward working professionals who currently are not-for-profit executives or who expect to be in such positions within three years of completing the program. Students will be selected from:

- Those already employed in not-for-profit and philanthropic organizations who have at least two years in middle to upper management;
- Those with comparable experience in business, government and the professions who wish to prepare for a career shift to the non-profit sector, or;
- Individuals with four years of experience in leadership positions on non-profit boards who now desire employment as a not-for-profit executive.

Admission Requirements

All applicants must have:

- a bachelor's degree from a regionally accredited institution.
- a 3.00 grade point average (GPA). In special cases those with less than a 3.00 GPA may be admitted on a probationary status.
- a recommendation from the applicant's employer.

Program Candidates

- Upon acceptance of an admission offer, students must pay a $250 non-refundable deposit which is applied toward the first term's tuition.
- A class of 20 to 25 students is admitted each year and this cohort proceeds through the program together in order to provide more opportunities to learn from each other.
- Each admitted student will be asked to gather from an employer an assessment of the student's core competencies and leadership qualities. This profile will be used as a guide during the program and at graduation will be coupled with a plan for future professional development.

Degree Requirements - Not-for-Profit Leadership

The NPLR program requires 45 quarter credits taught through 11 courses offered over 16 months. Eight of these courses must be taken by all students. Some flexibility may be shown with the other three courses depending on a student's level of proficiency in the subject. Electives and/or transferred credits may be substituted if approved by the department. The final required course allows each student to pursue in-depth research on a subject of personal interest.

MASTER OF PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION

The Master of Public Administration (MPA) degree has been designed for the in-service student who holds or seeks a managerial or professional position in a public or independent sector organization. Its courses blend theory and practice, providing students with the analytic capacity and the understanding of organizations and policy that are essential to effective public management. Courses are offered only in evening or weekend formats to meet the needs of working professionals.

Typical students are in their mid-30s with considerable professional experience and working full-time in a career position in the government, non-profit, or private sector. Students bring their own rich professional and life experiences to class, which provide examples of the course materials as well as learning opportunities for other students.

The faculty members have extensive public sector experience which complements their academic qualifications. They maintain regular contact with the practice of public administration through research, consulting, professional associations and community service projects. The program has an outstanding adjunct faculty, composed of professionals in the field who also have classroom experience.

The MPA prepares students with an understanding of the political, legal, and economic environments of public sector administration. Students learn the differences between profit-seeking and public-serving missions, and the central importance of ethical and moral expectations for those serving the public. Core courses teach analytical and interpersonal skills and abilities required to manage and lead public sector organizations. Topics include organization behavior and theories for management, financial and performance information systems, research techniques, policy making and policy analysis, public sector finance, the legal environment, and public sector ethics.

Throughout the curriculum emphasis is placed on practicing and improving oral and written communication skills and applying computer skills. The curriculum is designed in conformity with the standards established by the National Association of Schools of Public Affairs and Administration and reflects both the mission of Seattle University and the program's experience in offering the MPA degree for two decades.

Degree Requirements - Master of Public Administration

The MPA requires the completion of 54 credits. The degree includes 13 required three-credit classes. The remaining 15 credits are electives designed to enrich understanding of particular aspects of public service, and may include graduate courses taken in other departments. Electives have dealt with such topics as the non-profit sector, legislative process, local government, management of change, mediation and negotiation, labor law, strategic management, and collective bargaining.

PSYCHOLOGY

Graduate Program Director: Lane Gerber, PhD
(206) 296-5400

Degree Offered

- Master of Arts in Psychology (MAP)

MASTER OF ARTS IN PSYCHOLOGY

With an emphasis on existential-phenomenological psychology, this program offers students an interdisciplinary focus on the qualitative, experiential study of psychological events in the context of life. By laying the foundations for a therapeutic attitude, the program prepares students to enter the helping professions, and/or to further study the psychological world. It is humanistic in that it intends to deepen the appreciation for the human condition by reflection on immediate psychological experiences and on the wisdom accumulated by the long tradition of the humanities. It is existential-phenomenological in that it aims to be faithful to experience by setting aside theoretical prejudgments in order to understand persons existing in their situations.

Admission Requirements

- Bachelor's degree, including an introduction to psychology, statistics, scientific research methods, growth and development, abnormal psychology, theories of personality—ordinarily the equivalent of a minor in psychology
- Minimum 3.00 GPA
- A beginning understanding of existential and phenomenological psychology
- Prior to admission, some experience in the areas of counseling or human services
- Three letters of recommendation
- An autobiography (minimum four pages) including but not limited to information on the applicant's present and future interests in psychology. This essay should be sufficiently specific to give the reader a concrete sense of your personal, as well as your vocational and intellectual development. Thus, it should include an account of work or volunteer experiences, influential courses or readings, why you are interested in this program and orientation, and especially personal events and changes which furthered your interest in psychology and the therapeutic
- An interview, either in person or by telephone, will be asked of those applicants who have reached the final screening.

All admission requirements, except interviews, ordinarily are to be completed by January 15. Applications are accepted each year for fall quarter. For a complete application packet and instructions, contact Admissions at (206) 296-5900. For specific questions, contact the graduate program director.

NOTE: While in this program, students are not allowed to do psychotherapy as private practitioners.

Degree Requirements - Master of Arts in Psychology

This is ordinarily a full-time, two-year program; students typically carry nine credits each quarter.

Fifty-five credit hours, including:

I. MAP Program Requirements

Thirty-five credits, including:

PSYC 501	Phenomenology of the Face	3

II. Other Requirements

Approved PSYC electives 21

Note: A student may take up to six credits of upper-level undergraduate or graduate courses from another program as electives with approval.

MINIMUM CREDITS REQUIRED FOR DEGREE 55

Psychology Courses

PSYC 501 Phenomenology of the Face	3
Introduction to existential-phenomenological philosophy and psychology for therapeutic practice. Existential phenomenology helps us ethically understand other people in face-to-face situations: the paradox that "the face" presented both reveals and conceals the meanings of the other person.
PSYC 503 Assessment I	3
Introduction to disturbances labeled schizophrenia and borderline. Focus is on understanding the lived experience of the severely disturbed, an exploration of possible developmental roots of such styles of being and the implication for psychotherapy. Prerequisite: PSYC 505, permission of instructor.
PSYC 505 Desperate Styles	3
The articulation of a phenomenologically and clinically based perspective for understanding disturbed behavior, with an emphasis on neurotic (anxiety) disorder. Issues in diagnosis (e.g., the DSM-IV) and therapy will also be given considerable attention. Permission of instructor.
PSYC 511 Growing Up in Families	3
Exposure to historical, social and cultural perspectives of the family and contemporary thought on the roles and relationships within the family. A look at the challenges which face the family structure today and an introduction to some of the current therapeutic approaches. Permission of instructor.
PSYC 513 Assessment II	3
The theory and practice of phenomenological assessment. Specific issues such as diagnosis, report writing, and the uses of psychological tests within the context of dialogue with clients will be discussed in detail. Consideration of the relationship between phenomenological research, psychotherapy and assessment. Prerequisites: PSYC 505, 503, permission of instructor.

College of Arts and Sciences

PSYC 515 Group Therapy: Identity in Community 3

Experiencing the group situation, viewed as a social microcosm and context for therapeutic change, simultaneous with the reflection on the foundational and interdependent notions of existential separateness and identity as rooted in dialogue in community. Majors only, graded S/NC.

PSYC 523 Perspectives of Psychotherapy 3

Exploration of dream interpretation, unconscious phenomena, transference and countertransference, the healing relationship and other key issues in psychotherapy from an experiential as well as conceptual perspective. Permission of instructor.

PSYC 525 Self Psychology 3

The clinical writings of Heinz Kohut and his students, as well as our own therapy work with clients with so-called difficult narcissistic and borderline problems, will be discussed. Self-psychology prizes empathy, listening from within the experiential world of the client, and understanding and utilizing countertransference. Permission of instructor, spring.

PSYC 527 Ethics and Phenomenology 3

A search for the ethical ground for understanding pathology and therapy. A claim that Western philosophical egocentrism contributes to the narcissism of modern pathologies. A review of the philosophy of Emmanuel Levinas, which suggests that the center of the true self is not in the individual self, but in the responsible concerns for others. Permission of instructor, spring.

PSYC 533 Therapeutic Communication 3

Principal focus on listening to, understanding and responding to another, as well as self, in the interview process. Essentially an experiential course designed to explore the meaning of attending to relationship in a quasi-therapeutic setting. Majors only, graded CR/F.

PSYC 535 Phenomenology of Therapeutic Change 3

Exploration of the different meanings of helping and change in a therapeutic relationship. Reflection on various models of the healer and experiential work on our own motives, expectations and needs for ourselves as therapists. Graded CR/F.

PSYC 543 Basic Practicum in Therapeutic Psychology I 6

PSYC 544 Basic Practicum in Therapeutic Psychology II 6

PSYC 545 Basic Practicum in Therapeutic Psychology III 6

Offered as a series; each course provides a minimum of 200 hours on-site supervised practicum experience in agencies providing psychological service; weekly group case consultation with a faculty member, as well as individual consultation as needed. Ordinarily students are not allowed to get their practicum experience at agencies where they are working as staff. Majors only, graded CR/F.

PSYC 551 Hermeneutics: Interpretive Foundations of Non-Behavioral Psychology 3

Philosophical study for practical decision making in therapeutic practice. A focus on the interpretive structure of human existence whereby meaning is constituted, and the philosophical ground of the activity of understanding oneself and others, which discloses itself in conversation. Permission of instructor.

PSYC 563 Integration Paper 1

Completion of a written work on a chosen theme that integrates academic course work and practicum experience. Majors only, graded CR/F.

PSYC 591 Special Topics 1 to 3

PSYC 592 Special Topics 1 to 3

PSYC 593 Special Topics 1 to 3

PSYC 596 Independent Study 1 to 3

A student may take up to six credits of upper-level undergraduate or graduate courses as a substitute for the required courses, with approval.

Degrees Offered

- Master of Arts in Applied Economics (MAE)
- Master of Business Administration (MBA)*
- Master of International Business (MIB)*
- Master of Science in Finance (MSF)*
- Joint Programs in above degrees with Juris Doctor from School of Law

Certificates Offered

- Certificate of Post-MAE Studies
- Certificate of Post-MBA Studies
- Certificate of Post-MIB Studies
- Certificate of Post-MSF Studies

Accredited by the International Association for Management Education (AACSB). AACSB is the premier accrediting agency and service for U.S. business schools.*

Objectives

The mission and educational goals of the Albers School produce a set of programs and activities designed to prepare students for an increasingly complex and challenging global business environment, to help them appreciate and develop a commitment to personal integrity and corporate responsibility, to develop an enthusiasm for lifelong learning, and to instill a service orientation.

Admission Requirements

Students seeking admission to graduate programs should contact the Albers School of Business and Economics at (206) 296-5700 or the Seattle University Graduate Admissions at (206) 296-5900 for admission materials. Documents required for admission to either the MBA, the master of arts in applied economics (MAE), the master of international business (MIB), or the master of science in finance (MSF) programs include the following:

- Completed application form and fee
- Official (sealed) transcripts showing a bachelor's degree from an accredited institution and information from all post-secondary educational institutions attended
- Scores from the Graduate Management Admissions Test (GMAT)

NOTE: MAE applicants may substitute scores from the Graduate Record Exam (GRE).

- A current résumé

Applicants whose first language is not English are required to submit TOEFL scores. International students should submit the international application materials specified for them.

In general, we require a minimum GMAT of 500, a 3.00 undergraduate GPA, and one continuous year of full-time work experience.

The Albers School of Business and Economics is a party to the Memorandum of Understanding for AACSB Accredited AJCU Business Schools. The agreement allows students in participating Jesuit ASCSB accredited business schools to transfer up to one-half of their degree requirements from their original university to the receiving university.

Math and Computer Proficiency

All graduate students in the degree programs of the Albers School of Business and Economics must establish their proficiency in basic mathematics (college algebra and introductory calculus) and in computer use (intermediate-level skills in spreadsheet analysis and word processing). All students must have access to a computer with a modem, or the flexibility to use campus computer labs.

Math proficiency can be established by previous credit course work or the non-credit course offered by the Albers School.

Students are encouraged to complete these proficiency requirements prior to starting their graduate degree program. These requirements must be completed by the end of the first year in each program.

Business and Law Joint Degree Program

The new Seattle University business and law joint degree program allows students to obtain the JD and a graduate degree in business more quickly than if the two degrees were obtained independently. Specified courses taken at the Law School may contribute to the business degree and specified courses completed in the Albers School of Business and Economics may contribute to the JD Degree.

The joint degree is available to both full- and part-time students but it should be noted that the American Bar Association requires that the JD be completed within six years.

Seattle University offers four graduate degrees which may be earned in combination with the JD degree:

- Master of Business Administration
- Master of Science in Finance
- Master of International Business
- Master of Arts in Applied Economics

See additional details in this bulletin on pages 86 through 89.

ACCOUNTING CONCENTRATION

A formal concentration is available in accounting, is noted on official transcripts, and requires ten elective courses. Two accounting electives are "extra" courses beyond those required by the MBA.

Courses are as follows:

- Eight specified electives from the accounting area: ACCT 531, ACCT 532, ACCT 533, ACCT 534, ACCT 535, ACCT 536, ACCT 537, plus one additional accounting elective;
- Two electives outside of the accounting area

Students seeking eligibility to sit for the CPA Exam in Washington State must take six elective courses in accounting: ACCT 531, ACCT 532, ACCT 533, ACCT 534, ACCT 535, ACCT 536; plus two electives outside of the accounting area.

CERTIFICATE OF POST-MBA STUDIES

The certificate of post-MBA studies is designed to allow master of business administration graduates to develop expertise and acquire a credential beyond the MBA degree in a specified area of concentration.

The curriculum consists of a custom-designed selection of six courses. After reviewing students' transcripts and interests, the associate dean, with the guidance of departments offering the programs, will designate required courses. Certificates are awarded in the following areas of specialization: accounting, economics, finance, information systems, international business, management, marketing, and operations. Course work for the certificate may be applied to other advanced graduate degrees.

Upon completion of the requirements of the program, students will have posted to their transcripts the entry, "Certificate of Post-MBA Studies in (insert discipline)" and be issued a certificate listing the discipline studied.

The program is open only to graduates of MBA programs accredited by AACSB. Application requires submission of completed application, current résumé, graduate transcripts, and GMAT scores. Seattle University MBA graduates generally will be considered eligible for the program. Contact the Albers School for information at 296-5700.

MASTER OF ARTS IN APPLIED ECONOMICS

The master of arts in applied economics (MAE) degree program lays the foundation for a career as an economist in business, government, or consulting.

Students enter the MAE program with a variety of interests, including forecasting, industry and market analysis, international economics, tax policy, cost/benefit and impact analysis. The program is designed to enable students to acquire data collection and analysis tools, along with decision-making techniques for use in private businesses and public sector agencies.

The program core combines a strong foundation in basic microeconomic and macroeconomic theory with the development of key quantitative and data analysis skills. Elective courses in economics and finance allow students to apply economic theory and techniques to specific fields of business and policy, such as labor market analysis, environmental economics, health care and finance for international business.

The MAE's affiliation with the master of business administration and master of science in finance programs in the Albers School of Business and Economics provides students with an opportunity to focus on the applications of economics in a managerial context. Students are encouraged to select general electives to broaden their experience in areas such as marketing, accounting and operations.

Degree and Certificate Offered

- Master of Science in Finance (MSF)
- Certificate of Post-MSF Studies

MASTER OF SCIENCE IN FINANCE

Seattle University's master of science in finance (MSF) degree program provides an opportunity to obtain advanced in-depth education in finance. The program is designed primarily for individuals who have completed an undergraduate or graduate degree in business. Applicants without a business degree will be required to take some preparatory business courses.

In addition to the development of appropriate quantitative and communication skills, the MSF provides detailed coverage of the following major areas of finance:

- Business finance
- Investments
- Financial institutions and markets

The program also includes the corollary fields of accounting and economics and incorporates discussion of ethical issues in business and finance.

MSF graduates typically earn jobs as financial analysts and are often on the track toward a corporate financial officer position. Students interests include banking, insurance, international finance, personal financial planning, portfolio management, small business finance, capital budgeting, real estate and general corporate financial management.

Students with an MBA from an AACSB accredited program may waive these electives.

CERTIFICATE OF POST-MSF STUDIES

The certificate of post-MSF studies is designed to allow graduates of AACSB-accredited MSF programs to develop expertise in a specified area of concentration beyond the MSF. The curriculum consists of a custom-designed selection of six graduate courses plus prerequisites. After a review of the student's background and interests, the MSF director will designate the courses required. Credits earned for the certificate may be applied to other graduate degrees.

Upon successful completion of program requirements, students will have posted to their transcript the following entry: "Certificate of Post-MSF Studies in (insert discipline)" and will be issued a certificate listing the discipline studied.

The program is open only to graduates of MSF programs accredited by the AACSB. Application requires submission of completed application, current résumé, graduate transcripts, and GMAT scores. Seattle University MSF graduates usually will be considered automatically eligible for the program. For non-Seattle University graduates, GMAT scores, academic performance and work experience must meet or exceed the standard for entry to the master of science in finance program.

Objectives

Guided by Seattle University's Jesuit tradition, the mission of the School of Education is to prepare ethical and reflective professionals for excellent service in diverse communities. These professionals will contribute positively to the values, principles and practices of their communities, workplaces and professional associations.

These five principals, integral to the Mission Statement, guide decision-making:

- 1) The School of Education strives to be a scholarly learning community of students, staff and faculty characterized by collegiality and collaboration.
- 2) The School of Education strives to lead by collaboratively serving others from a grounding in the ethics and values of the Jesuit tradition.
- 3) The School of Education strives to provide a curriculum relevant to the needs of its profession and the greater society and supported by the best practice and research.
- 4) The School of Education strives to welcome and represent the diversity of our society through its teaching, programs, students, and personnel.
- 5) The School of Education strives to produce graduates who are compassionate and effective professionals in their respective areas of preparation.

Admission Requirements

Master's degree programs each have a specified grade point average (GPA) and other admission requirements that are included in their program descriptions that follow this section.

School of Education

Graduate Record Examination (GRE) information is available by calling the Graduate Admissions office at (206) 296-5900.

General School of Education requirements include:

- Bachelor's degree from a regionally accredited institution and initial certification (where applicable). Applicants from bachelor's degree programs with neither letter nor numerical grading must submit GRE or Miller Analogies Test (MAT) scores. (GRE for counseling).
- Relevant work experience, usually at least one year beyond the bachelor's degree.
- For school administration or curriculum and instruction programs, academic background equivalent to that required for a teaching certificate is necessary. This does not apply to school business administrators or students preparing for work in other than K-12 settings.

General Format of Degree Studies

Following are typical programs for each major field (except master in teaching). While details vary from program to program, all education graduate degree programs contain the following components.

- Admission as degree applicant (see general admission requirements).
- Students accepted on probation must remove all conditions of probation before completing more than 15 credits of degree work at Seattle University.
- Initial course work: 15 credits of course work to include EDUC 500 Introduction to Research and Graduate Studies, plus the designated first course in the major field and other courses designated at admission or by the program adviser.
- Candidacy: Admission to degree candidate status is based on the following criteria:
 - 3.00 (B) grade point average (GPA) in the first 15 credits; (20 credits for counseling and school psychology majors)
 - Recommendation of major program adviser
 - Submission of a planned program of studies approved by adviser
 - Counseling and school psychology majors only: successful completion of COUN 510, Fundamental Counseling Skills
- Advanced course work:
 - Completion of major field course work. The amount varies from program to program and student to student.
 - Completion of core and approved electives. The amount varies by degree, from program to program, and student to student.

- In the programs requiring a practicum or internship, there are two evaluation points beyond initial admission—at candidacy and just prior to the practicum or internship—to further determine the candidate's capabilities to function effectively in the practicum or internship role.

• Comprehensive examination:

- Satisfactorily complete a written comprehensive examination covering the major area of study. The student may seek an examination appointment as soon as all major area course work is completed. The examination is offered at least three times each year.

Grade Point Average

A 3.00 (B) GPA must be maintained during graduate study.

Time Limit

All degree work must be completed within six years. This limit includes transfer credit.

Residency

Students are encouraged to spend at least one quarter in full-time study, preferably the first summer quarter (except counseling). Eight hours or more per quarter constitutes full-time graduate study.

Degree Work and Certification Combined

By careful planning, students may combine degree work with a program leading to teacher endorsement, initial principal or program administrator's certificate or counselor's certificate.

Enrollment Limits for Employed Students

Anyone holding full-time employment is ordinarily limited to six hours per quarter. (This may be exceeded when added courses are an integrated part of the working day, e.g., internship, and certain independent studies and graduate projects.)

For a complete application packet and instructions contact the Graduate Admissions at (206) 296-5900.

Non-matriculation Limits

Non-matriculated students must check with program coordinator or division chair for available courses and credit limits.

Degrees Offered

- Master of Arts in Education (MA)
- Master of Education (MEd)

Certificate Offered

- Post-Master's Certificate in Community College Teaching

Overview

The master's degree in adult education is intended for those planning to instruct adults or manage programs designed for adult learners in post-secondary institutions or public and private organizations. Students select their area of specialization, which can include adult development or basic education, teaching English as a second language, or human resources development (training). Many students create a course of study that includes two of the specializations to more broadly prepare for job opportunities. Up to nine elective credits and the internship may be used to emphasize a particular content area.

The specializations include:

- Adult Development or Adult Basic Education prepares individuals to work in community colleges or social service agencies helping adults improve basic skills in reading, writing, math.
- Human Resources Development is designed for those who wish to administer or instruct in employer-sponsored training programs.
- English as a second language prepares individuals to work with adult learners who wish to improve their ability to speak English.

Admission Requirements for Adult Education

Admission is selective, and candidates are evaluated on their individual merits rather than on a comparative basis.

- A bachelor's degree from a regionally accredited college or university.
- A 2.75 cumulative GPA from a regionally accredited institution or a 2.75 GPA in the last 90 quarter credits (60 semester credits) contributing to the baccalaureate degree. Applicants with less than a 2.75 GPA may apply but are required to submit by the application deadline official scores not more than five years old from the GRE or the MAT.

- Two recommendations from recent supervisors.
- A resumé indicating a minimum of one year's work experience.

Degree Requirements for Adult Education

- A maximum of 20 credits at the 400 or 900 level may be applied to the master's program.
- A 3.00 cumulative GPA must be maintained to remain in the program and to graduate from the program.
- Satisfactory completion of a three credit hour internship. The internship is selected cooperatively by the student and major adviser and is designed to provide a practical learning experience in an appropriate setting.
- Satisfactory performance on a comprehensive examination of selected areas within the program of study. The examination may be taken upon completion of Part I, Part II, and Part III of the program of study.

Post-Master's Certificate in Community College Teaching

The post-master's certificate in community college teaching provides practical teaching preparation for individuals who seek or hold teaching positions in community colleges. Individuals seeking the certificate usually will have a master's degree in a content area taught in the community college system. The certificate is not required in Washington community colleges.

The courses and the required supervised teaching experience are designed to provide an overview of the characteristics of community college students; the history, purposes, beliefs, aims, and administrative structure of the community and technical college system in the state of Washington; program planning and course development; and instructional methods.

Admission Requirements

- Master's degree (or higher) from a regionally accredited college or university in a field other than education.
- Two recommendations, one from the master's degree major adviser and one from a current supervisor, regarding student's ability to perform as a teacher in the content field.

Post-Master's Certificate in Community College Teaching Requirements

The post-master's certificate in community college teaching requires a minimum of 15 credits be taken at Seattle University. If students have completed courses that are substantially similar to those required for the certificate, substitutions may be made from other course offerings at Seattle University.

Degrees Offered

- Master of Arts in Education (MA)
 - Mental Health Counseling specialization
 - Post-Secondary Counseling specialization
 - School Counseling specialization

Overview

Balance is the primary feature of the master's programs in Counseling.

Flexible scheduling allows students to integrate graduate studies with full-time work commitments. Curricula incorporate theoretical perspectives with practical applications. Instructional approaches encourage an equal emphasis on direct and reflective learning experiences.

The result for the student is a humanistic learning community that respects the life experiences of the adult learner, along with an ethical sensibility that emphasizes personal responsibility and professional accountability.

Program graduates work in educational and mental health settings, institutional environments, and private practice. Public and private schools, colleges, social services, and mental health agencies, correctional facilities and youth service bureaus have all become venues for graduates of our programs.

Electives and Related Programs

Electives for all of the program options are available from other programs, including, but not limited to, addiction studies and psychology. Students should work closely with advisers to ensure selection of approved electives. A sequence in addiction studies may be incorporated into all programs.

Addiction Studies Program

Students may choose to earn a basic certification in addiction studies to supplement any degree described above by selecting electives in that program. Requirements for this certification total approximately 20 additional credits. Students electing to complete certification in this program are required to be admitted to the addiction studies department, as well as to the counseling program. Further information may be obtained by calling (206) 296-5350.

Admission Requirements

- A bachelor's degree from a regionally accredited institution in the area of psychology, sociology, human services, social work, community services or education; or in any field which includes 45 quarter credits (30 semester credits) in the above areas.
- A 3.00 cumulative GPA from a regionally accredited college or university is required. Applicants with less than a 3.00 GPA may apply but are required to submit official GRE scores by the application deadline. Test scores must be from tests taken within the last five years.
- Two recommendations from employers, administrators or supervisors who are familiar with your work and interpersonal skills. Do not choose peers, friends, professors, or therapists. NOTE: Recommendation forms and envelopes are provided in the application packet.
- One thousand hours work experience required. Five hundred hours must be supervised professional or paraprofessional work (counseling, nursing, teaching, social work, casework). The other 500 hours can be unsupervised caregiving, including parenting, caring for aging, infirmed, or dying people. Academic field experience and internships are not included in this work experience.
- A three- to four-page professional autobiography highlighting the evolution of your career interests.
- A two- to three-page work résumé. Include the nature and amount of work completed and indicate whether it was full time or part time. If part time, for each setting, indicate the number of hours per week or month and the number of weeks or months.
- A group interview with faculty members and other candidates

NOTE: Qualified applicants will be contacted for an interview by mail or phone.

Applications are accepted for fall and spring quarters of entry.

Readmission

Students withdrawing from the program for any period are expected to discuss this with their adviser beforehand. Re-admission is not guaranteed.

MASTER OF ARTS IN EDUCATION/ SCHOOL COUNSELING

This program prepares counselors for educational staff associate (ESA) certification in K-12 settings, public and private. Whenever possible, internships are done at schools that students choose, usually at schools where they teach, enabling them to continue working while completing the internship. Teacher certification is favored by many school districts for employment as a school counselor, though not required by most. Teacher certification requires at least one additional year of full-time study, including student teaching.

Certification

Persons serving as education staff associates in public schools shall hold certificates authorized by the state board of education for service in these roles as required by statute or rules of the state board of education. The university recommends a student who has successfully completed an approved program to the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction which issues the School Counselor Educational Staff Associate (ESA) Certification. This certification program is included in the master's degree in school counseling described below.

Overview

The curriculum and instruction program centers on education in its most basic form: facilitating the exchange of knowledge between learner and teacher. In today's information society, as specific content knowledge becomes rapidly outdated, knowing how to learn becomes increasingly significant. This program is designed to develop educators who can articulate clearly a philosophy of education, and who have solid understanding of the learner, and the educational needs of diverse populations.

Each specialty area in the program shares a core of common study, emphasizing the social, historical, and philosophical foundations of education, as well as theories of human development and learning, and principles of research. Curriculum and instruction core classes and electives provide a background of academic methodological and clinical knowledge. Faculty members emphasize individual attention in teaching and advising.

One of the significant advantages of this program is the degree of flexibility available to students. Students may choose to specialize in areas that are pre-designed, or they may work with faculty to develop individualized programs of study, tailor-made for specific professional goals.

Program Design

The program is designed primarily for part-time students who plan to take one or two courses per quarter. Full-time residency is not required; however, students typically live within commuting distance of campus.

During the summer quarter, students often are able to take additional courses. For part-time students, the time to program completion will vary greatly.

For a full-time student, the program may require a minimum of two years for completion. Students may begin the program during any quarter. Classes are offered late afternoons and evenings during the school year, and also during daytime hours in the summer session. Most classes meet weekly in blocks of two hours and 40 minutes.

Who Should Participate?

This degree program is designed for individuals involved in all aspects of curriculum and instruction concerned with the pre-kindergarten through 12th grade schools and students. The program provides a solid background in educational theory and the foundations of teaching and curriculum development, as well as the opportunity to work in depth in specific areas of curriculum and instruction.

While most students in the program are professional educators, the degree also is appropriate for individuals employed in non-school settings who are interested in educational settings and issues, especially in the business and non-profit sectors.

Admission Requirements

- A 2.75 cumulative GPA from a regionally accredited college or a 2.75 GPA in the last 90 quarter credits (60 semester credits) contributing to the baccalaureate degree. Applicants with less than a 2.75 GPA may apply but are required to submit official scores from the GRE or the MAT by the application deadline. Test scores must be from tests taken within the last five years.
- Relevant work experience, usually at least one year beyond the bachelor's degree.
- Two recommendations including one from an immediate supervisor and one from a previous academic adviser or professor.

Degrees Offered

- Master of Arts in Education (MA)
- Master of Education (MEd)
- Educational Specialist (EdS)

Overview

The program in educational administration offers four specializations to meet the needs of instructional leaders in K-12 and post-secondary schools, as well as other organizations. The specializations are: principalship for public, independent and Catholic school educators; program administration; school business administration; and general administration. Certification as a principal or program administrator is available with the master's degree or within a post-master's program of study (Educational Specialist Degree [EdS]).

Field Experience

All students must complete field experience at sites selected cooperatively by the student and major adviser. Students seeking certification as principals, whether in public or in independent schools, take three, one-credit practica and three, two-credit internships; students in program administration take the practica and one, two-credit internship.

Certification

Persons serving as principals in the public or private schools shall hold certificates authorized by the state board of education for service in the respective roles as required by statute or rules of the state board of education. The university recommends a student who has successfully completed an approved program to the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction which issues the appropriate certificate.

- Initial Administrative Certification

Requirements for the administrative credentials include possession of a valid initial or continuing teaching certificate (principal only); completion of a master's degree, of which at least 30 quarter hours of graduate level work are in the approved preparation program; completion of an internship at the levels and in the role for which the certificate will be endorsed; and three years of full-time teaching experience with at least 30 days with the same employer. Acceptance to the graduate program is a prerequisite.

- Continuing Administrative Certification

Candidates for any continuing administrative credential must have the appropriate initial administrative credential, and must have completed 180 days of full-time employment in the role at the appropriate level(s), and at least 30 days with the same employer.

Admission Requirements

- Bachelor's degree from a regionally accredited college or university
- One year's successful relevant work experience
- A 2.75 GPA from a regionally accredited institution or a 2.75 GPA in the last 90 quarter credits (60 semester credits) contributing to the baccalaureate degree. Applicants with less than a 2.75 GPA may apply, but are required to submit official scores from the GRE or the MAT by the application deadline. Test scores must be from tests taken within the last five years.
- Three recommendations from supervisors within past five years
- Interview with the program coordinator

EDUCATIONAL SPECIALIST DEGREE (EdS) IN EDUCATIONAL ADMINISTRATION

This individualized 45-credit post-master's degree program is intended to upgrade the knowledge and abilities of supervisors and administrative personnel from schools, post-secondary organizations and training agencies who regard themselves as instructional leaders and as organizational managers. Principal and program administrator certification can be earned as part of this degree program.

Course work is in the areas of administration, organization and management; law and policy; research and evaluation; instructional leadership; values; and electives.

Admission requirements

- Master's degree in a field of education, with the prerequisite courses from a regionally accredited college or university.
- Three letters of recommendation from supervisors within the past five years.
- A 3.25 post-baccalaureate cumulative GPA from a regionally accredited institution. Applicants with a GPA between 3.00 and 3.25 who have received a strong endorsement from their supervisory administrator(s), may apply, but are required to submit official scores from the GRE or the MAT by the application deadline, and have a personal interview. Test scores must be from tests taken within the last five years.

Contact the program coordinator for further details about the educational specialist degree in educational administration.

Degree Offered

- Doctor of Education (EdD)
Educational Leadership specialization
Principal specialization
Program Administrator specialization
Superintendent specialization

Overview

This three-year, post-master's program leads to the doctor of education (EdD) degree with a major in educational leadership. It is the only doctoral program in the greater Puget Sound area specifically designed using a cohort model for a diverse student group whose current or future careers are a mix of the following areas: education, business, health care, and human resource work.

Educational leadership students may complete their degree while at the same time continuing full-time employment.

The program is designed to meet the needs of a very broad spectrum of leaders in K-12 schools, colleges, universities, businesses, health care, social agencies, and human resources.

The program includes a common core of studies in educational leadership theory and practice, as well as courses, internships, projects, and independent studies oriented toward the specific needs of each student. Individual programs of study can include earning a Washington state K-12 superintendent, principal, or program administrator certificate.

The cohort program begins once each year in July.

Admission Requirements

- Master’s degree from a regionally accredited college or university
- A 3.5 GPA in master’s degree program courses
- Two recommendations for doctoral study, one from a master’s degree major professor and one from an immediate on-the-job supervisor
- Official test scores from either the GRE (verbal of 500 or verbal plus quantitative total of 900) or the MAT (40). Scores must be from tests taken within the last five years.
- Three years of successful educational experience (in K-12 schools, colleges, universities, service agencies, or consulting settings, or in instructional, developmental, or training roles).
- A minimum of one year in a leadership role as a leader of adult professionals
- A personal interview with Seattle University School of Education and Educational Leadership program faculty members, which is followed by each interviewee providing an on-site sample of writing skills.

For details on admission procedures please call the program office (206) 296-6170.

Residency

Full-time residency is not required; however, 32 credits must be completed in the first 13 months, including EDLR 600, EDLR 601 and EDLR 604. The program is designed for completion within three years by those continuing to work full-time in leadership positions. Doctoral students who do not complete all program requirements in three years (by the spring of the third year) must register for this course beginning with the fall following the conclusion of the spring of the third year and continuing during all subsequent quarters (fall, winter, spring and summer) until and including the quarter when the student completes all program requirements. As long as students are active in the program, enrollment every quarter is required. Formal leaves may be granted for cause. Credit applied to the degree may not be more than six years old when the educational leadership program is completed.

Transfer Credit

Up to 15 credits of post-master’s graduate study may be transferred, if the credits meet Seattle University criteria: taken at a regionally accredited institution; completed with a minimum grade of 3.0 on a 4.0 American grading scale; taken for graduate credit; and course completion date is within six years of the date all doctoral degree work is concluded. Post-master’s graduate credit taken at Seattle University prior to acceptance into the program is also eligible for consideration within the 15 credits allowed to transfer.

Credit at Seattle University

At least three-fourths of the applicable credits taken at Seattle University must be 500 level or higher. In any case, no more than 15 credits at Seattle University below the 500 level may be applied, and then only with specific advanced, written approval. (Inclusion in an approved graduate program of studies will satisfy written approval)

Formal Degree Candidacy

A student is eligible for candidacy when EDLR 604 has been completed, a program of studies has been approved and a project proposal has been formally accepted.

Comprehensive Exam

An eight- to twelve-hour exam is required of all students. It consists of a four-hour examination on educational leadership studies common to all students and an individualized four- to eight-hour exam during the final quarter tailored to each student’s program, cognate area and doctoral project.

Certification

Students who complete superintendent, program administrator and principal programs may earn a Washington state K-12 administration certificate as part of their doctoral program. Further details on requirements for integrating studies toward any of these certificates into a doctoral program are available from the program office at (206) 296-6170.

- Educational Specialist (EdS)

Overview

This National Association of School Psychologists (NASP) approved program prepares students for educational staff associate (ESA) certification as a school psychologist in K-12 settings, public and private. Dual certification in both counseling and school psychology is also a possibility. Students who complete this NASP approved program are automatically eligible for the National Certificate in School Psychology (NCSP) upon satisfactory completion of the NCSP exam.

The curriculum of the program is based on a best practices orientation as defined by the National Association of School Psychologists, the National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE), and Washington State Standards for Accreditation.

The school psychologist is charged with making ethical and moral decisions in his or her professional practice. The basis for leadership in this decision making is a clear dedication to child advocacy, the ability to take responsibility for the consequences of one's actions, and the moral courage to make decisions that will lead to appropriate interventions for an individual child.

The faculty of the school psychology program is committed to education that is participatory. The relationship of faculty and students is both professional and personal.

Certification

Persons serving as educational staff associates in public schools shall hold certificates authorized by the state board of education for service in the respective roles as required by statute or rules of the state board of education. The university recommends a student who has successfully completed an approved program to the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction which issues the appropriate certificate.

Admission Requirements for School Psychology

- An undergraduate degree from a regionally accredited college or university.
- A 3.00 GPA for students entering with a bachelor's degree; 3.25 GPA for students entering with a master's degree. Applicants are required to submit official GRE scores. Test scores must be from tests taken within the last five years. The test score requirement will be waived for students already holding a master's degree or doctorate achieved with a 3.25 cumulative GPA. Strong applicants whose GPA is below 3.00 may be admitted with probationary status.
- Two recommendations including: one from an immediate supervisor and one from an academic professor.
- One year's successful professional, educational or related experience (documented)
- A one-page autobiographical statement indicating motivation and commitment to school psychology and relevant experience with children and adolescents
- A small group interview with faculty members and other candidates. NOTE: Qualified applicants will be contacted for an interview by mail or phone.

Objectives

This program prepares students for careers in college student development, such as administrators of student programs, college student services planners and student advisers. Themes offered across the program include understanding student clientele, fostering diversity, incorporating ethics and values, and adapting to cultures of specific educational environments.

Internship

All students are required to have a minimum of three, one-credit internships in the field, either at Seattle University or at any of several cooperating institutions in the area.

School of Education

Admission Requirements

Admission is selective, and candidates are evaluated on their individual merits rather than on a comparative basis.

- A bachelor's degree in any field from a regionally accredited college or university.
- A 3.00 GPA in the last 90 quarter credits (or 60 semester credits) contributing to the baccalaureate degree. Upper-division and postgraduate grades and credits are averaged into the GPA. Students below a 3.00 GPA and those with non-letter-graded transcripts must include scores from the GRE. Scores must be from tests taken within the last five years.
- Two recommendations.
- Professional autobiography showing evolution of career interests.

Degree Offered

- Master in Teaching (MIT)

Overview

"A Teacher Affects Eternity." –Henry Adams
 By challenging and encouraging us, teachers make us aware of the possibilities within ourselves. Teachers who can access this realm of human possibility also touch the future.
 The master in teaching degree (MIT) program at Seattle University brings the future within reach. This innovative, full-time graduate degree program enables students to earn both their master in teaching degree and their initial teaching certification, all within four academic quarters of study.

Why a Master in Teaching Degree?

Reports on the state of education note that teachers are often not adequately prepared in their academic subject areas, when undergraduate programs attempt to combine both teacher education and academic majors within the limits of four years. A significant advantage of the MIT program is that it provides prospective teachers with the opportunity to have both the in-depth preparation of a full academic major at the undergraduate level, as well as solid preparation for professional education at the graduate level.

The advantages of having a master's degree, as reflected in Washington school district pay scales, are clear. Entering teachers with master's degrees earn as much as 20 to 27 percent* more than those from undergraduate programs leading to teacher certification, and continue to earn more for each year they teach.

*1995-96 K-12 Certificated Regular Salary Schedule Report, Washington Education Association.

A Program with Strong Supports

Students proceed together through the program as members of a cohort, which provides the opportunity to create and experience a learning community. MIT students are placed in a school setting within the first two weeks of the program. The program features multiple field experiences with strong supervisory support, and incorporates peer collaboration and team teaching approaches.

Earning a Teaching Certificate

Successful completion of the MIT program will enable the student to become a certificated teacher in Washington state.

School of Education

To earn a certificate to teach kindergarten through eighth grade, the elementary certification candidate must have completed an undergraduate degree with a strong liberal arts foundation, including courses in language arts, sciences and math, and social sciences.

To earn a certificate to teach fourth through twelfth grade, the secondary certification candidate must have completed an undergraduate or a graduate degree in an academic major corresponding to those listed below.

Program Design

Students are expected to enter the 60-credit, daytime MIT program already strongly grounded in their academic field.

The program curriculum includes comprehensive educational theory and research following the themes of individualization, ethical responsibility, and the use of technology as an essential educational tool. Internships in community service programs put pre-service teachers in touch with the world as it is lived by their students. Through integrated course work and field experiences, prospective teachers develop the insight and skills needed to be effective educators in a complex and technological world.

Secondary Teaching Candidates

In order to be placed in a full-time student teaching experience, all secondary MIT certification candidates must be qualified in one of the areas listed. If your degree major does not exactly match the subject areas listed you must provide a written evaluation showing that your previously earned credits will qualify you for endorsement in one area. Call (206) 296-5759 for the endorsement evaluation packet for your subject area.

- Master of Arts in Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages
- Master of Education in Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages

Certificates Offered

- Post-Master's Certificate—Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages
- Post-Baccalaureate Initial Certificate in Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages
- Post-Baccalaureate Advanced Certificate in Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages

Overview

The master's degree program in teaching English to speakers of other languages (TESOL) prepares professional educators for the role of teacher or teacher administrator, primarily in adult programs, in either the United States or in other countries. In the United States, teaching opportunities exist within colleges, universities, community colleges, language institutes, and community organizations. In other countries, teachers may work with either young adults or adult learners in a variety of educational, business and community organizations.

Those wishing to work with younger students in the United States may use the master's degree program to supplement their existing teaching credential and gain an additional endorsement in teaching English as a second language. Those wishing endorsement should obtain endorsement requirements from the state agency issuing teaching certificates. Requirements vary from state to state. Outside the United States, those with a master's degree in TESOL may be able to work with younger learners; requirements and opportunities vary from country to country.

The post-master's certificate in teaching English to speakers of other languages is designed to allow individuals who hold a master's degree to develop special skills in teaching English. The certificate is not required in Washington community colleges. The courses and required supervised teaching experience provide an overview of:

teaching methods specific to the field of English language studies; language acquisition and linguistic theories; and English grammar.

Admission Requirements

Admission is selective, and candidates are evaluated on their individual merits rather than on a comparative basis.

- An undergraduate degree from a regionally accredited college or university.
- A 3.00 GPA from a regionally accredited college or university. Applicants with less than a 3.00 GPA may apply but are required to submit official scores from the GRE or the MAT by the application deadline. Test scores must be from tests taken within the last five years.
- TOEFL score of 580 or higher, with a minimum of 54 on each section is required if the applicant's original language is not English. If a student has a score between 565 and 577, the student must take a mandatory Placement Essay Test (PET). The student's writing skills will be evaluated by university faculty and culture and language bridge staff to determine if the student will be required to take the Culture and Language Bridge Program during the first quarter at Seattle University.
- A minimum of two letters of recommendation from recent employers/supervisors

Special Requirements for Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages

- Passage of a grammar examination, or successful completion of an approved grammar review course with a B or higher grade. If English is not the first language, an oral fluency competency examination may be required. These competency requirements must be met prior to achieving candidacy status.
- A maximum of 20 course credits at the 400 or 900 level may be applied to the master's program.
- A cumulative GPA of 3.00 must be maintained to remain in the program and to graduate from the program.
- Satisfactory completion of a three credit hour internship. The internship is selected cooperatively by the student and major adviser, and is designed to provide a practical learning experience in an appropriate setting.
- Satisfactory performance on a comprehensive examination of selected areas within the program of study. The examination may be taken upon completion of Part I and Part II of the program of study.

Post-Baccalaureate

These courses may be used for the post-baccalaureate initial/advanced certificates in teaching English to speakers of other languages. In addition, these courses may be used as elective credit for the master's degree in curriculum and instruction, and the master's degree in teaching with prior approval of the student's adviser. See specific program descriptions for credit limitations, graduate credit, and other considerations. Courses are offered, in cooperation with Seattle University's School of Education at the School of Teaching English as a Second Language, 2601 NW 56th, Seattle, WA 98107 (206) 781-8607.

EPDES 930 TESL Theory and Application 3

General principles of language acquisition and guidelines for teaching English as a second language. Specific classroom application of principles and guidelines through lesson and unit plan development. Required for initial certificate. Included in Intensive I.

EPDES 931 Methods of Language Acquisition 3

Specific methods for teaching language acquisition are reviewed and analyzed. The methods investigated include: English through technology; English through academic content; English through drama; total physical response, the silent way; English through games; English through music. Prerequisite or co-requisite: EPDES 930. Included in Intensive I.

EPDES 932 Teaching Grammar to ESOL Students 3

Designed to provide the instructor of ESOL with tools to facilitate grammar acquisition, participants learn grammar rules and develop strategies for instructing ESOL students in grammar. Included in Intensive I.

School of Education

EPDES 933 Materials Selection and Development in TESOL 3

Survey of existing ESOL materials to become familiar with resources for teaching ESOL. Participants explore guidelines regarding teacher-created and student-created materials. Creation of instructional materials is required. Included in Intensive I.

EPDES 934 Developing ESOL Literacy 3

Examines the challenges of providing ESOL instruction for students who are in widely varying stages of the literacy continuum, from pre-literacy to academic success. Instructional strategies for increasing literacy levels of ESOL and the development of instructional materials that are appropriate for the literacy level of the intended ESOL student. Prerequisite: EPDES 930, if taken as component of Intensive II.

EPDES 935 Cultural Variables in TESOL 3

Explores cultural diversity through readings on different cultural groups present in ESOL classrooms and classroom visits by representatives of those same groups. Emphasis on the influence of culture on language acquisition. Included in Intensive II. Prerequisite: EPDES 930, if taken as component of Intensive II.

EPDES 936 Teaching Content to Students of Limited English Proficiency 3

Designed for the teacher of mainstreamed ESOL students, as well as other ESOL teachers. Emphasizes the merging of content instruction and language development, provides the ESOL teacher with text-analysis skills, and includes analysis of strategies that provide supplemental assistance to the special needs student. Prerequisite: EPDES 930, if taken as component of Intensive II.

EPDES 937 Linguistics for the ESOL Teacher 3

A survey of general linguistics with attention to use by the ESOL classroom teacher. Reviews current research regarding linguistics and assists with linguistic analysis skills. Prerequisite: EPDES 930, if taken as component of Intensive II.

EPDES 938 Testing and Evaluating ESOL Students 3

Reviews testing principles and provides an opportunity for ESOL instructors to design tests for all language skills and components. Standardized and instructor-developed instruments included. Prerequisite: EPDES 930, if taken as component of Intensive II.

EPDES 939 Student-Centered Learning in ESOL 3

Course focuses on the importance of student-centered learning and ways to implement student-centered strategies in the ESOL classroom. An emphasis is placed on use of cooperative learning, multiple intelligences and learning styles in the ESOL classroom. Prerequisite: EPDES 930, if taken as component of Intensive II.

EPDES 940 Self-Analysis and Improvement in TESOL 3

An individualized course which may be taken after EPDES 930 and completion of a supervised teaching experience. Using the supervising teacher's report, School of Teaching ESOL guidelines, and recommended reading, the participant conducts a self-analysis of teaching expertise. Personal growth plans are developed. Prerequisite: EPDES 930.

EPDES 941 Classroom Speech for the Bilingual Instructor 3

This is a pronunciation and speech course for instructors whose first language is not English. Course emphasizes improved pronunciation of English sounds and intonation and provides an analysis of body language and speech delivery. Prerequisite: EPDES 930, if taken as component of Intensive II.

EPDES 942 Teaching English Pronunciation 3

Course provides participants with skill in identification and analysis of speech difficulties of ESOL students. Participants will increase skill in diagnosis and development of improvement strategies for language improvement for ESOL students. Prerequisite: EPDES 930, if taken as component of Intensive II.

EPDES 943 Bilingual Education: Theory and Application 3

Course provides an overview of the theoretical basis of bilingual education; its history in American education, its direction, and methods of instruction in bilingual education. State and federal legislation and resulting requirements for elementary and secondary schools are examined. Prerequisite: EPDES 930, if taken as component of Intensive II.

EPDES 944 Curriculum and Program Design in ESOL 3

Students complete an independent project in curriculum or program development. The project description and requirements are negotiated between the student and the instructor. Students must have completed study in TESOL and be involved in ESOL curriculum or program development. Prerequisite: permission of instructor and EPDES 930, if taken as component of Intensive II.

Objectives

Founded in 1972 as the University of Puget Sound School of Law, the school became part of Seattle University in 1994. The only private law school in the Pacific Northwest that is ranked among "America's 56 Best Law Programs" in the Arco guidebook, Top Law Schools: The Ultimate Guide, the school is the largest, most diverse law school in the Northwest. It is also the only Washington law school with a thriving evening program geared to the needs of working professionals. More than 100 courses are offered throughout the year. Known nationally for a legal writing program that the American Bar Association has called "among the finest in the nation," the school also offers a comprehensive clinical law program and has a law library that is recognized as a leader in computerized legal research. Located in downtown Tacoma, the school will move to Seattle in 1999 when a new building is completed on campus. The school is fully accredited by the American Bar Association and holds full membership in the Association of American Law Schools.

Admission Requirements

As a candidate for admission, you must have earned a bachelor's degree from an accredited college or university prior to enrollment. In addition, you must have received a competitive score on the Law School Admission Test (LSAT) and must register with the Law School Data Assembly Service. LSAT scores normally are considered valid for three years. We may consider older scores in selected cases.

In determining those applicants who will be admitted to the Law School, the Faculty Admission Committee places primary emphasis on three factors:

- Performance on the LSAT
- Undergraduate academic record
- Personal accomplishments

Each applicant file is reviewed individually by a minimum of two evaluators. In all cases, qualitative factors weigh heavily in the admission decision. Such factors may include exceptional professional achievement or community service, outstanding performance in a rigorous program of study, and/or particular talents or backgrounds that will contribute specially and significantly to the Law School community.

Details are available in the School of Law Bulletin, which may be obtained by calling (206) 591-2252 or writing the School of Law Admission Office, Norton Clapp

Law Center, 950 Broadway Plaza, Tacoma, WA 98402. You can also contact the office through the Internet at: lawadmis@seattleu.edu and visit our Website: <http://www.law.seattleu.edu>.

Business and Law Joint Degree Program

The Seattle University business and law joint degree program is designed to allow students interested in obtaining both the JD and a graduate degree in business to complete the degrees in less time than if the two degrees were obtained independently outside the program. Full-time students are able to complete the two degrees in less time because, through the program, specified courses taken at the School of Law may count toward the graduate business degree and specified courses taken in the Albers School of Business and Economics may count toward the JD degree. The joint degree program is also available to part-time students.¹

- JD/MBA (Juris Doctor/Master of Business Administration)
- JD/MSF (Juris Doctor/Master of Science in Finance)
- JD/MIB (Juris Doctor/Master of International Business)
- JD/MAE (Juris Doctor/Master of Arts in Applied Economics)

Program of Study

The Seattle University Business and Law Joint Degree Program allows students to choose either to spend their first year in the Albers School of Business and Economics or in the School of Law. Once a student chooses, the full first year must be spent in that school. The second year is spent in the other school (e.g., if the student chose law first, the second year would be in business, and vice versa). In the last two years (or more) students may take courses in both the business and law schools. The Albers School of Business and Economics operates on a quarter system and the School of Law operates on a semester system. Therefore, specific schedules must be carefully coordinated with and approved by the School of Law Associate Dean and the ASBE Director of Graduate Programs.

Admission Requirements for the Joint Degree Program

Students must be admitted separately to both the School of Law and the Albers School of Business and Economics, and should consult the Graduate Bulletin for the specific admissions requirements for each school. Students may be admitted to both schools before starting in the joint program; alternatively, students may seek admission to the other school during their first year of law or graduate business school. In any case, students will be expected to meet the respective school's admissions deadlines for the coming year. Prospective applicants should note that the admissions requirements for the MBA, MSF, and MIB programs include a current resume reflecting one continuous year of full-time work experience in business.

Length of Program

The minimum length of time required to complete the joint degree program is four years for full-time students. The length of time required for completion of the joint degree program will be longer if the student is part-time and/or if the student must complete business prerequisites for the graduate business degree.

Credit Requirements

Students in the joint program are required to complete 90 semester credits for the JD degree. The number of quarter credits required to complete the graduate business degree varies, depending upon which of the four degrees the student wishes to obtain in combination with the JD degree. In the joint degree program, students can satisfy the requirements for each degree by using a specified number of crossover credits chosen from a list of approved courses in each school. Of the 90 semester credits required for the JD degree, 12 semester credits can be satisfied by 18 quarter credits chosen from a list of specified graduate business degree courses (listed below).² Of the 55 quarter credits required for the MBA degree, 12 quarter credits can be satisfied by 8 semester credits chosen from a list of specified JD degree courses (listed below).³ Of the 45 quarter credits required for the MSF, MIB, or MAE degrees, 9 quarter credits can be satisfied by 6 semester credits chosen from the list of specified law courses. Joint degree program students must complete all required courses for both the JD degree and the graduate business degree.

JURIS DOCTOR/MASTER OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION JOINT DEGREE PROGRAM (JD/MBA)

The Seattle University Juris Doctor/Master of Business Administration joint degree program is designed to allow students to complete both degrees in less time than if the two degrees were obtained independently outside the program. Certain courses taken at the School of Law count toward the MBA degree and certain courses taken in the Albers School of Business and Economics count toward the JD degree. This joint degree program is available to both full- and part-time students.

MBA degree: Full-time graduate business students ordinarily complete the MBA degree in a minimum of two years. Among other requirements, applicants to the MBA program must have a current resume that reflects one continuous year of full-time work experience in business. MBA students must demonstrate computer and math proficiency and complete six prerequisite courses that provide fundamental business skills and knowledge, or they may seek to have some or all of those courses waived. In addition to the prerequisites, MBA students must complete 55 quarter credits of course work in designated areas, including ten required courses and eight elective courses. For the specific MBA course requirements, see pages 27-28.

JD degree: Full-time law students ordinarily complete the JD degree in three years; part-time students may take four years or longer. Students must complete a total of 90 semester credits of course work. In the full-time program, students complete 30 credits of required course work in their first year. In their second and third years, law students must complete 15 credits of required course work and 45 elective credits. For the specific JD course requirements, see the School of Law Catalogue.

JD/MBA Joint Degree Program: Full-time students can complete the JD/MBA joint degree program in a minimum of four years, which is one year less than would be required to complete the two degrees independently. Time to completion will be longer if the student is part-time and/or if the student must complete business prerequisites for the MBA degree. Students in the JD/MBA program must complete the equivalent of 90 semester credits for the JD degree and the equivalent of 55 quarter credits plus the prerequisites (unless waived) for the MBA degree. Students can satisfy the requirements for each degree by using a specified number of crossover credits chosen from a list of approved courses in each school. Of the 90 semester credits required for the JD degree, 12 semester credits can be satisfied by 18 quarter credits chosen from a list of specified graduate business degree courses. Of the 55 quarter credits required for the MBA degree, 12 quarter credits can be satisfied by 8 semester credits chosen from a list of specified JD degree courses. Students must, however, complete the business prerequisites (unless waived) and all of the required courses for each degree.

JURIS DOCTOR/MASTER OF SCIENCE IN FINANCE JOINT DEGREE PROGRAM (JD/MSF)

The Seattle University Juris Doctor/Master of Science in Finance joint degree program is designed to allow students to complete both degrees in less time than if the two degrees were obtained independently outside the program. Certain courses taken at the School of Law count toward the MSF degree and certain courses taken in the Albers School of Business and Economics count toward the JD degree. This joint degree program is available to both full- and part-time students.

MSF degree: Full-time students ordinarily complete the Master of Science in Finance degree in a minimum of two years. Among other requirements, applicants to the MSF program must have a current resume that reflects one continuous year of full-time work experience in business. MSF students must demonstrate computer and math proficiency and complete six prerequisite courses that provide fundamental business skills and knowledge, or they may seek to have some or all of those courses waived. In addition to the prerequisites, students in the Master of Science in Finance program must complete 45 credits of course work in designated areas, including eight required courses and seven electives. Students with an MBA from an AACSB-accredited program may waive two of the free electives. For the specific MSF course requirements, see the Graduate Bulletin.

JD degree: Full-time law students ordinarily complete the JD degree in three years; part-time students may take four years or longer. Students must complete a total of 90 semester credits of course work. In the full-time program, students complete 30 credits of required course work in their first year. In their second and third years, law students must complete 15 credits of required course work and 45 elective credits. For the specific JD course requirements, see the School of Law Catalogue.

JD/MSF Joint Degree Program: Full-time students can complete the JD/MSF joint degree program in a minimum of four years, which is one year less than would be required to complete the two degrees independently. Time to completion will be longer if the student is part-time and/or if the student must complete the business prerequisites for the MSF degree. Students in the JD/MSF program must complete the equivalent of 90 semester credits for the JD degree and the equivalent of 45 quarter credits plus the prerequisites (unless waived) for the MSF degree. Students can satisfy the requirements for each degree by using a specified number of crossover credits chosen from a list of approved courses in each school. Of the 90 semester credits required for the JD degree, 12 semester credits can be satisfied by 18 quarter credits chosen from a list of specified graduate business degree courses. Of the 45 quarter credits required for the MSF degree, 9 quarter credits can be satisfied by 6 semester credits chosen from a list of specified JD degree courses. [Please note that law credits may not be used to satisfy the MSF requirement of three finance courses chosen from specified electives.] Students must complete the business prerequisites (unless waived) and all of the required courses for each degree.

JURIS DOCTOR/MASTER OF INTERNATIONAL BUSINESS JOINT DEGREE PROGRAM (JD/MIB)

The Seattle University Juris Doctor/Master of International Business joint degree program is designed to allow students to complete both degrees in less time than if the two degrees were obtained independently outside the program. Certain courses taken at the School of Law count toward the MIB degree and certain courses taken in the Albers School of Business and Economics count toward the JD degree. This joint degree program is available to both full- and part-time students.

MIB degree: Full-time students ordinarily complete the Master of International Business degree in a minimum of two years. Among other requirements, applicants to the MIB program must have a current resume that reflects one continuous year of full-time work experience in business. MIB students must demonstrate computer and math proficiency and complete six prerequisite courses that provide fundamental business skills and knowledge, or they may seek to have some or all of those courses waived. In addition to the prerequisites, students in the Master of International Business Program must complete 45 credits of course work in designated areas, including twelve required courses and three electives. In addition, students must be proficient in a foreign language and complete an international experience requirement. For the specific MIB course requirements, see the Graduate Bulletin.

JD degree: Full-time law students ordinarily complete the JD degree in three years; part-time students may take four years or longer. Students must complete a total of 90 semester credits of course work. In the full-time program, students complete 30 credits of required course work in their first year. In their second and third years, law students must complete 15 credits of required course work and 45 elective credits. For the specific JD course requirements, see the School of Law Catalogue.

JD/MIB Joint Degree Program: Full-time students can complete the JD/MIB joint degree program in a minimum of four years, which is one year less than would be required to complete the two degrees independently. Time to completion will be longer if the student is part-time and/or if the student must complete the business prerequisites for the MIB degree. Students in the JD/MIB program must complete the equivalent of 90 semester credits for the JD degree and the equivalent of 45 quarter credits plus the prerequisites (unless waived) for the MIB degree. Students can satisfy the requirements for each degree by using a specified number of crossover credits chosen from a list of approved courses in each school. Of the 90 semester credits required for the JD degree, 12 semester credits can be satisfied by 18 quarter credits chosen from a list of specified graduate business degree courses. Of the 45 quarter credits required for the MIB degree, 9 quarter credits can be satisfied by 6 semester credits chosen from a list of specified JD degree courses. Students must, however, complete the MIB prerequisites (unless waived), the MIB language proficiency requirement, the MIB international experience and all of the required courses for each degree.

JURIS DOCTOR/MASTER OF ARTS IN APPLIED ECONOMICS JOINT DEGREE PROGRAM (JD/MAE)

The Seattle University Juris Doctor/Master of Arts in Applied Economics joint degree program is designed to allow students to complete both degrees in less time than if the two degrees were obtained independently outside the program. Certain courses taken at the School of Law count toward the MAE degree and certain courses taken in the Albers School of Business and Economics count toward the JD degree. This joint degree program is available to both full- and part-time students.

MAE degree: Full-time students ordinarily complete the Master of Arts in Applied Economics degree in a minimum of two years. Students must first demonstrate computer and math proficiency and complete six prerequisite courses that provide fundamental business skills and knowledge, or they may seek to have some or all of those courses waived. In addition to the prerequisites, students in the Master of Arts in Applied Economics must complete 45 credits of course work, including seven required courses and eight electives. Students with an MBA from an AACSB-accredited program may waive two of the general electives. For the specific MAE course requirements, see the Graduate Bulletin.

JD degree: Full-time law students ordinarily complete the JD degree in three years; part-time students may take four years or longer. Students must complete a total of 90 semester credits of course work. In the full-time program, students complete 30 credits of required course work in their first year. In their second and third years, law students must complete 15 credits of required course work and 45 elective credits. For the specific JD course requirements, see the School of Law Catalogue.

JD/MAE Joint Degree Program: Full-time students can complete the JD/MAE joint degree program in a minimum of four years, which is one year less than would be required to complete the two degrees independently. Time to completion will be longer if the student is part-time and/or if the student must complete the business prerequisites for the MAE degree. Students in the JD/MAE program must complete the equivalent of 90 semester credits for the JD degree and the equivalent of 45 quarter credits plus the prerequisites (unless waived) for the MAE degree. Students can satisfy the requirements for each degree by using a specified number of crossover credits chosen from a list of approved courses in each school. Of the 90 semester credits required for the JD degree, 12 semester credits can be satisfied by 18 quarter credits chosen from a list of specified graduate business degree courses. Of the 45 quarter credits required for the MAE degree, 9 quarter credits can be satisfied by 6 semester credits chosen from a list of specified JD degree courses. Students must, however, complete the MAE prerequisites (unless waived) and all of the required courses for each degree.

² One quarter credit is the equivalent of .67 semester credits. A 3 quarter credit crossover business course could, for example, be used to satisfy 2 semester credits for the J.D. degree.

Crossover Courses for Joint Degree Program

The following courses can be used to satisfy elective credits toward the JD and graduate business degrees. Not all courses are offered each quarter, semester, or year, and some courses may require particular sequencing or have prerequisites. In addition to the courses listed below, students may, upon approval, receive crossover credit for other appropriate courses that may be offered from time to time. Crossover credit will not be granted for courses that are substantially similar to courses already taken in the other school.

Degree and Certificate Offered

- Master of Science in Nursing (MSN)
 - Leadership in Community Nursing (LCN)
 - Family Primary Care Nurse Practitioner (FPCNP)
- Post-Master's Certificate in Family Primary Care Nurse Practitioner

Information regarding tuition, fees, and length of program may also be obtained from: The National League for Nursing Accrediting Commission (NLNAC), 350 Hudson St. New York, NY 10014, 800-669-9659.

Objectives

Today's complex health care environment requires that nurses have advanced practice nursing knowledge and skills. Graduate study offers the opportunity to deepen knowledge of clinical phenomena, develop new perspectives on old dilemmas, and acquire new roles within the health care system. Nurses prepared at the graduate level obtain the skills needed for greater career flexibility.

- Synthesize knowledge from nursing and related disciplines for advanced nursing practice.
- Use problem solving strategies to provide care and to enable groups of clients to manage and cope with alterations in health and to attain higher levels of wellness.
- Embody values essential to advanced nursing practice.
- Evaluate one's beliefs, values and ways of knowing to foster personal growth and professional practice.
- Analyze health care systems and policies that influence health care for vulnerable populations.
- Practice advanced nursing roles in collaboration with clients, health professionals, and community organizations to ensure quality care.
- Advance the health of vulnerable populations through scholarship, leadership, and delivery of quality nursing care.

MASTER OF SCIENCE IN NURSING

The master of science in nursing degree (MSN) provides experienced professional nurses with the additional education needed to thrive in a rapidly changing health care environment that demands new and innovative approaches to nursing and health care delivery. Graduates are prepared for positions as clinical nurse specialists in community health or as family primary care nurse practitioners.

The MSN program at Seattle University is grounded in the Jesuit ideals of teaching, service, education for values, and growth of persons. Graduate faculty members are doctorally prepared, clinically experienced nurses who are also expert teachers. The curriculum focuses on care of vulnerable clients which actualizes the Jesuit commitment to service. Value-based education empathizes the ethical, moral, and spiritual dimensions of nursing care. Attention to individual student strengths and needs produces graduates who are knowledgeable, skilled, and confident in their ability to effect change.

The MSN program, designed for working professional nurses, offers two specializations. The leadership in community nursing (LCN) is a two-year part-time program. The family primary care nurse practitioner specialization (FPCNP) offers full-time, part-time, and post-master's certificate study options. Classes are offered weekdays, evenings, and on the weekends. Both specializations of the MSN program must be completed within a six year period.

The MSN program:

- Provides the academic background and clinical practice for national certification examinations.
- Focuses on the health care of vulnerable populations.
- Offers weekday, weekend, and evening classes.
- Provides programs designed for the adult learner.
- Allows application of theory and research through clinical practice.
- Is fully accredited by the NLNAC and CCNE

Admission Requirements

- Bachelor's degree in nursing recognized by a national nursing accrediting agency.
- A résumé indicating relevant nursing experience. Two years of clinical nursing experience is preferred.
- A statement describing professional and personal goals with reasons for choosing the MSN program and a particular specialization.
- A successful interview with faculty.
- Graduate Record Exam (GRE) taken within the past five years.
- Two recommendations that speak to the applicant's clinical and academic abilities. NOTE: Recommendation forms and envelopes are provided.
- A 3.0 minimum undergraduate grade point average (GPA). Individuals who have less than a 3.0 GPA may be considered, given evidence of other accomplishments.

Applicants who do not meet all of the admission requirements will be considered on an individual basis.

Prerequisites

Satisfactory completion with a grade of C (2.0) or better in the following undergraduate courses:

- Health assessment course
- Research course (2-3 credit minimum) and completed within the past ten years.
- Basic statistics course that includes descriptive and inferential statistics with computer application (2-3 credit minimum) and completed within the past ten years.

Students admitted to the MSN program must first demonstrate satisfactory writing skills by enrollment in the Reading/Writing Workshop (fee required).

Evidence of the following must be provided to the School of Nursing prior to enrollment:

- Washington State RN licensure
- Professional liability insurance
- Current immunizations required in clinical sites, and other Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) and state requirements. Students will be informed of these health requirements and will be responsible for compliance. The information is also available in the School of Nursing Graduate Student Handbook.

Note: A prospective student may take a maximum of 10 graduate credits as a non-matriculated student without being admitted to the MSN program. However, clinical courses cannot be taken without formal admission to the MSN program. Enrollment in any course requires permission of the instructor and director of the MSN program.

Graduate Courses

1 credit hour=30 contact hours for clinical practica. The ratio of credit to contact hours for the MSN clinical practica is consistent with University policy.

 Open to non-matriculated students by permission of faculty and /or Director of MSN Program, and on a space available basis. Admission to Seattle Univeristy required.*

NURS 501 Advanced Health Assessment and Health Promotion* 4

This course focuses on advanced knowledge and skills necessary for the assessment and promotion of health across the life span. Emphasis will be placed upon collection and interpretation of comprehensive biological, cultural, psychosocial, and physical data from the history and physical examination in relation to both normal and abnormal findings. Course includes one credit of clinical practicum. Prerequisites: NURS 502, NURS 514 or by permission of the instructor.

NURS 502 Nursing Care of Vulnerable Populations* 3

Identification of vulnerable populations and analysis of the multiple factors contributing to their health deficits. Field experience and seminar discussion focus on nursing strategies to promote wellness with families and communities/populations.

NURS 503 Human Responses to Health
Alterations 3

Examination of physical, behavioral, emotional, spiritual, social, and cultural responses to pathophysiological and psychosocial events that promote or hinder wellness. Emphasis on proposed interrelationships between mind and body, and socio-cultural context in determining human responses. Prerequisites: NURS 502, NURS 514.

NURS 504 Concepts and Theories in Nursing* 3

Seminar to explain the purpose, evolution and history of concepts and theories that are central to nursing. Analysis of the role of relevant theories and concepts in guiding current and future nursing practice. Prerequisites: NURS 502, NURS 514 or by permission of the instructor.

NURS 505 Nursing Interventions Among Vulnerable Populations 3

Analysis of the theoretical rationale and applicability of health interventions as applied to vulnerable clients (individuals, families, groups, and communities). Emphasis on applied interventions. Prerequisites: NURS 501, NURS 508.

NURS 507 Advanced Practice in Community Health I 3

Study, analysis, and application of nursing theories, frameworks, and public health science as they apply to a community health clinical nurse specialist working among families and communities/populations. Seminar, clinical conferences, and clinical experiences will allow the integration of theory, concepts, and research. Prerequisites: NURS 501, NURS 508.

NURS 508 Foundations of Community Health Nursing 3

Explores concepts, theories and research findings relevant to community health nursing. Investigations of the structural goals of community health, community assessment and community diagnosis as they apply to the identification of problems among families, groups, and communities will be examined. General principles will be applied to specific vulnerable populations. Prerequisites: NURS 503, NURS 504.

NURS 509 Roles and Functions of a Clinical Nurse Specialist 3 Analysis of roles of the community health clinical nurse specialist within changing health care delivery systems. Exploration of specific roles in a project proposal. Prerequisites: NURS 505, NURS 507.	NURS 520 Family Patterns and Health Promotion Across the Life Span* 3 This course focuses on health promotion, risk screening, and disease prevention among families across the lifespan. Clinical strategies and interventions are examined, analyzed, and critiqued using research and theoretical data for utilization within advanced nursing practice.
NURS 510 Ethical Considerations in Nursing Practice* 3 Examination of ethical issues that influence advanced nursing practice. The course focus is on professional values, cultural diversity issues, and ethical decision making in clinical practice. Prerequisites: NURS 505, NURS 507, or by permission of the instructor.	NURS 521 Psychosocial Aspects of Family Primary Care* 2 The purpose of this course is to provide the primary care practitioner with an overview of psychosocial and psychopharmacological principles of family primary care. The focus is on a holistic approach to advanced practice nursing that integrates biological processes with psychosocial dynamics.
NURS 512 Health Policy in Nursing* 3 Examination of the socioeconomic, political, legal, and ethical considerations in the development of state and national health policy. Course will consist of the discussion and evaluation of the health care policy process. Prerequisites: NURS 509, NURS 510, or by permission of the instructor.	NURS 522 Pharmacological Applications* 3 This course is intended to familiarize students with principles of drug therapy in family practice and to develop the skills necessary to prescribe drugs to children, adults, pregnant women, and geriatric clients. The course covers drugs used in some of the basic diseases encountered in family practice.
NURS 514 Research in Nursing* 3 Examination of the evolution of nursing research. Exploration of research methods, including qualitative and quantitative research methodologies and outcomes research. Development of questions for either a scholarly project or thesis. Prerequisites: Undergraduate research course and basic statistics course.	NURS 523 Well-Child Care in the Family* 2 This course focuses on well-child care with emphasis on growth and development, parental concerns, child-rearing practices, nutrition, and family responses to pediatric health care problems. Seminar and clinical experience provide opportunities to integrate theory, concepts, and research with synthesis of role components. Prerequisites: NURS 516, NURS 517.

School of Nursing

NURS 526 Family Primary Care Management and Practicum II 5

This course focuses on the primary health needs of children and adolescents including those needs related to school health strategies for identification, management, client and family education, and appropriate referrals. Theories and research from nursing and other disciplines are applied and integrated through seminars, clinical conferences, clinical practice and course assignments. Prerequisite: NURS 525.

NURS 527 Family Primary Care Management and Practicum III 6

This course presents the theoretical and clinical basis for advanced nursing management of adult and older adult's health problems. Clinical learning experiences focus on the increased integration of ethical and diagnostic judgement related to the health care of adults to promote their optimal levels of being and functioning. Theories and research from nursing and other disciplines are applied and integrated through seminars, clinical conferences, clinical practicum and course assignments. Prerequisites: NURS 525, NURS 526.

NURS 528 Advanced Practice Professional Role 2

This course is designed for students preparing for the nurse practitioner role. Emphasis is on role socialization of a collaborative health care provider. The scope of nurse practitioner practice is analyzed with emphasis on role clarification, goal attainment, and professional responsibility. Prerequisites: NURS 525, NURS 526.

NURS 529 Family Primary Care IV Integrated Practicum 8

This course is an integrated clinical practicum in the development and implementation of the advanced nurse practitioner role. Focus is on the integration of the theoretical and clinical components of advanced nursing in family primary care. Dimensions of the role will be explored with particular emphasis on leadership, accountability, autonomy, professionalism, collaboration, consultation and research. Prerequisites: NURS 525, NURS 526, NURS 528.

NURS 595 Thesis 6

Development and implementation of a thesis proposal. The course is completed when the thesis is approved by committee. Prerequisites: NURS 516, NURS 527. (The project may take more than one quarter to complete.)

NURS 596 Independent Study 1 to 5

NURS 599 Scholarly Project 3

Refinement and execution of a scholarly project that makes a significant contribution to nursing practice or science. Project culminates in a scholarly project that meets predetermined standards established in collaboration with the scholarly project committee. Prerequisites: NURS 516, NURS 527. (Project may take more than one quarter to complete).

Degree Offered

- Master of Software Engineering (MSE)

Objectives

The objective of the MSE program is to provide professionals working in the software field the opportunity to broaden and hone their software development skills.

Admission Requirements

- Bachelor's degree, preferably in computer science or a related discipline, earned at a regionally accredited school.
- Two years of experience in software development or maintenance.

- Working knowledge of at least one programming language such as Fortran, COBOL, Ada, C, C++, or Java.
- Graduate Record Exam (GRE) General Test results from within the past five years. The Subject Test in Computer Science is optional.

Application Procedures

MSE students normally start in the fall quarter of each year. Applications and all supporting documents for fall admission should be received by Admissions by May 1. Late applications will be considered for fall quarter admission on a selective basis when space is available.

Degree Offered

- Master of Software Engineering (MSE)

MASTER OF SOFTWARE ENGINEERING

The MSE program at Seattle University is designed for working professionals. All classes are offered in the evenings. The program builds on the computing experience of its students by providing course work in a diversity of software engineering and computer science topics, with an emphasis on teamwork and a disciplined approach to problem solving. We offer a balanced core curriculum of technical and managerial courses, and a variety of elective streams to address areas of personal interest. The principles and techniques learned throughout the course-work are integrated into a year-long software project as the capstone experience.

Seattle University has long been a leader in software engineering education. It established its pioneering MSE program in 1979, and awarded the world's first degree in 1982.

Our graduate faculty have extensive industrial experience as well as strong academic credentials. Our curriculum has been shaped by close contacts with local industry, ensuring that courses are relevant to the workplace and that projects are tailored to the professional needs of our students.

Degree Requirements - Master of Software Engineering

Minimum requirements for the degree are 45 graduate credits. These include 27 hours of core courses, nine hours of elective courses, and nine hours of software engineering project. Core courses in computing (CSCSSE 500, 502, and 504) may be waived for students with appropriate background (e.g. a computer science degree) and replaced by additional electives. All degree requirements must be completed within six years after course work has begun.

I. Computing Requirements

Nine CSSE credits, including:

CSSE 500	Data Structures and Algorithms	3
	Required unless waived
CSSE 502	Mathematical Foundations	3
	Required unless waived
CSSE 504	System Software and Architecture	3
	Required unless waived

II. Management Requirements

Nine CSSE credits, including:

CSSE 508	Technical Communication	3
CSSE 515	Software Project Management	3
CSSE 516	Software Quality Assurance	3

III. Technical Requirements

Nine CSSE credits, including:

CSSE 510	Requirements Analysis	3
CSSE 512	Software Design	3
CSSE 514	Programming Methods	3

IV. Program Electives

Choose at least three of the following courses: 9

CSSE 518	Software Quality Assurance
CSSE 533	Legal Aspects of Software
CSSE 541	Database Systems
CSSE 543	Applied Formal Methods
CSSE 546	Object-Oriented Programing
CSSE 549	Software Maintenance and Reuse
CSSE 550	Distributed Computing
CSSE 551	Real-time and Embedded Systems
CSSE 553	Artificial Intelligence
CSSE 560	Human-Computer Interaction
CSSE 561	User Interface Programming
CSSE 564	Computer Graphics

V. Required Project Courses

Nine CSSE credits, including:

CSSE 585	Software Engineering Project I	3
CSSE 586	Software Engineering Project II	3
CSSE 587	Software Engineering Project III	3

Elective Courses

Unless otherwise indicated at the time of offering, any regularly scheduled graduate course in software engineering other than the core courses and the project courses may be used to satisfy the elective course requirement. Students may also take Special Topics (CSSE 591, 592, 593) and/or Independent Study (CSSE 596, 597, 598) for elective credit. With departmental approval, up to six hours of graduate-level courses from other departments, especially selected courses from the MBA program at Seattle University, are acceptable for elective credit.

Software Engineering Project

Satisfactory performance in the three-quarter software engineering project sequence (CSSE 585, CSSE 586, and CSSE 587) is required of all MSE students. Students are grouped into teams which complete a significant software project. Students who are not full-time are expected to take only the project sequence in their final year. Students are encouraged not to begin the software engineering project sequence unless CSSE 587 will be their final course in the program.

Sample Program Schedules

Three-year track with CSSE 500, 502, and 504 waived:

	Fall	Winter	Spring
Year 1	CSSE 508	CSSE 515	CSSE 516
	CSSE 510	CSSE 512	CSSE 514
Year 2	elective	elective	elective

Year 3	CSSE 585	CSSE 586	CSSE 587

Two-year track for full-time students:

	Fall	Winter	Spring
Year 1	CSSE 508	CSSE 515	CSSE 516
	CSSE 510	CSSE 512	CSSE 514
	CSSE 502	CSSE 504	CSSE 500
Year 2*	CSSE 585	CSSE 586	CSSE 587
	elective	elective	elective

*International students may need to take an additional three credits each term to be eligible for student visa status.

Graduate Courses

Core Courses

Nine core courses are required for the MSE degree. They are organized into three streams: computing, management, and technical. The computing stream may be waived for students with an appropriate background.

Computing

CSSE 500 Data Structures and Algorithms 3

Lists, stacks, strings, trees and graphs. Sorting and searching techniques. Algorithm implementation and complexity analysis. (spring)

CSSE 502 Mathematical Foundations 3

Mathematical logic, sets, graph theory, functions, relations, recursion, computability, and proof of correctness. (fall)

CSSE 504 System Software and Architecture 3

Software architecture, abstract hardware architecture, component approach to system development, application program interfaces. (winter)

Management

CSSE 508 Technical Communication 3

The role of communication skills in software engineering. Organizing ideas. Writing. Speaking. Structure and content of manuals and other software documentation. (fall)

CSSE 515 Software Project Management 3

Process context of software development. Task decomposition. Size and schedule estimation. Risk management. Project planning and control mechanisms. (winter)

CSSE 516 Software Quality Assurance 3

Managerial and technical aspects of verification, validation, and quality assurance. Theory of testing. Prerequisite: CSSE 515 (spring)

Technical

CSSE 510 Requirements Analysis 3
 Methods, tools, and techniques for software specification. Requirements elicitation, conceptual modeling, structured and object-oriented analysis. Prerequisite or corequisite: CSSE 502. (fall)

CSSE 512 Software Design 3
 Methods, tools, and techniques for software design. Software architecture, database design, structured and object-oriented design. Prerequisite: CSSE 510. Prerequisite or corequisite: CSSE 504. (winter)

CSSE 514 Programming Methods 3
 Methods, tools, and techniques for software implementation. Programming paradigms and languages. Structured and object-oriented programming. Prerequisite: CSSE 512. Prerequisite or corequisite: CSSE 500. (spring)

Elective Courses

Electives are grouped into streams. Subject to prerequisites, students may take any or all courses from a given stream. Additional elective offerings will be based on student interest and faculty availability.

Software Architectures

CSSE 541 Database Systems 3
 Database management techniques. Survey of database management systems: their use, architecture, design, implementation, and cost/benefit/performance trade-offs. Prerequisite: CSSE 512.

CSSE 550 Distributed Computing 3
 Design and analysis of software distributed across multiple platforms. Examination of parallel computing, client-server software, distributed objects, and hardware architectures. Prerequisite: CSSE 504

CSSE 551 Real-time and Embedded Systems 3
 Design and analysis of real-time systems. Examination of embedded applications. Hardware and software standards and performance. Prerequisite: CSSE 504

Modeling

CSSE 543 Applied Formal Methods 3
 Foundations of symbolic systems. Programming applications which support rigor and proof. Logic synthesis, programming languages with functional, declarative, and mathematical semantics, satisfiability and proof of correctness, formal modeling. Prerequisite: CSSE 502

CSSE 546 Object-Oriented Programming 3
 Tools and techniques for designing and implementing object-oriented software systems. Prerequisite or Corequisite: CSSE 514

CSSE 553 Artificial Intelligence 3
 Survey of artificial intelligence as it applies to software engineering. Acquisition and representation of knowledge. Search strategies. Selected applications, such as natural language processing, image recognition, planning, neural nets, and expert systems. Prerequisite: CSSE 502

Human-Computer Interaction

CSSE 560 Human-Computer Interaction 3
 History, design and implementation of user interfaces. Dialogue management, cognitive modeling, task modeling, interaction models, design analysis, measurement techniques, and virtual environments. Current interfaces and GUI toolkits.

CSSE 561 User Interface Programming 3
 Design principles, tools, and techniques for implementing and evaluating user interfaces and interactivity. WIMP programming, web page design, whole body interface and GUI toolkits. Prerequisite: CSSE 560

CSSE 564 Computer Graphics 3
 Construction of graphics software: curve drawing, contour filling, polygon clipping, 2-D and 3-D object transformations. Introduction to image enhancement and restoration, compression, object representation. Prerequisite: CSSE 500 and linear algebra.

Software Project Engineering

CSSE 518 Software Metrics 3
 Quantitative approach to software engineering and management. Metrics and tools to evaluate, control, and estimate the software life cycle. Reliability, size, quality and complexity measures. Prerequisite: CSSE 515.

CSSE 533 Legal Aspects of Software 3
 Software procurement, contract law, managing contracts, patents, copyrights, trade secrets. Specification and control of product and process. Prerequisite: CSSE 515.

CSSE 549 Software Maintenance and Reuse 3
 Managerial and technical tools and techniques for maintaining software and reusing components. Maintenance and reuse metrics.

Other Electives

CSSE 591, 592, 593 Special Topics 1 to 3
 May include such topics as software engineering economics, data security and privacy, ethics of computing, programming languages, visual languages, expert systems, and machine vision.

CSSE 596, 597, 598 Independent Study 1 to 3
 Independent research and in-depth study of topics under the supervision of a faculty adviser.

Note: Up to two courses from other graduate programs, may be taken as MSE electives with departmental approval. Approved MBA courses include such topics as leadership, entrepreneurship, high tech marketing, management of change, and business ethics.

School of Science and Engineering

Required Project Courses

CSSE 585 Software Engineering Project 1 3

CSSE 586 Software Engineering Project 2 3

CSSE 587 Software Engineering Project 3 3

Three-quarter sequence in which students are grouped into teams, and each team completes a year-long software project. The sequence begins in the fall and ends spring quarter. Students wishing to take other courses concurrently with CSSE 587 must obtain departmental approval. Prerequisites to CSSE 585: completion of core courses and departmental approval.

Objectives

The School of Theology and Ministry is housed in prestigious Seattle University, a premier Jesuit private college in the Northwest. The School offers people the opportunity to study for a variety of ministerial roles. This unique School houses two institutes: the Institute for Catholic Theological Studies (ICTS, a joint venture with the Archdiocese of Seattle) and the Institute for Ecumenical Theological Studies (IETS, a joint venture with numerous Seattle-area denominations.) The student body of STM consists of adult learners who are seeking to develop spiritually, to know and appreciate their tradition, and to become skilled ministers. Each of the Institutes provides students with the services and support they need to engage in disciplined, developmental, and holistic education and formation. The School of Theology and Ministry is fully accredited through the Association of Theological Schools.

Institute for Catholic Theological Studies

The ICTS, in service to both the Catholic Archdiocese and the university, prepares Catholic lay ministers for leadership positions in the church. ICTS students and graduates serve as pastoral associates in parishes for faith formation, sacramental preparation, Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults; ministers to the sick and elderly; liturgical leaders; leaders of faith communities with no resident ordained pastor; chaplains to hospices, hospitals, and prisons; directors of food banks, shelters for the homeless or for battered women; direct retreats, and offer spiritual direction.

Institute for Ecumenical Theological Studies

The IETS serves a number of denominations and religious agencies in the Northwest and the university by preparing students for lay and ordained ministry in their specific tradition. The IETS director works closely with lay and ordained representatives of each denomination and agency who form the IETS Advisory Board. Students and graduates pastor churches, direct Christian education programs, manage shelters and housing for the homeless, provide spiritual direction and retreats, and serve as chaplains in various ministries.

Admission Requirements

Admission is selective, and candidates are evaluated on their individual merits, rather than a comparative basis. Applicants must provide documents attesting to:

- A bachelors degree from a regionally accredited institution with:
 - A liberal arts background which best prepares a person for the thinking and writing skills required
 - Two undergraduate courses in theology or equivalent
 - A 2.75 GPA (International students must have a 3.00 GPA)
- Two years of experience in some form of education, ministry, or service as a professional or volunteer

Application materials include:

- Application forms and fee
- Two recommendations with at least one from a person familiar with your religious/spiritual development. NOTE: Recommendation forms and envelopes are provided.
- Official transcripts of all colleges and universities previously attended
- An autobiographical statement

Upon review of all application materials, you will be contacted for an interview. The Seattle University Admissions Office will send a formal letter of decision.

Transfer Credit

Students with some earned credits from another regionally accredited institution or from one accredited by the Association of Theological Schools may petition to transfer credits into the School of Theology and Ministry.

Ordinarily no more than 10 graduate credits in theology or ministry will be transferred into the MAPS degree; no more than 17 graduate credits for advanced standing in the MATS degree; no more than 24 credits toward the MDiv degree.

Students who have completed MAPS, MPM, MRE, MM degrees or comparable theology or ministry degrees may petition the STM admissions committee to accept the earned degree in toto or part toward the MATS or MDiv. This process is completed by the STM admissions committee.

Time Limit

All work toward a degree from the School of Theology and Ministry must be completed within six years. This limit includes transfer credit.

Learning Communities

Students are expected to participate in spiritual formation, which includes building community with their peers. Students are therefore grouped according to degree to form peer learning communities which celebrate prayer, enter a commitment of faith sharing, and develop ways of caring for student needs. Orientations, days of reflection, community meetings and requirements for liturgy and hospitality help students practice ministerial competencies with each other while contributing to the deepening of adult learning communities. Upon admission, students are advised to join the appropriate learning community.

Flexible Scheduling

Summer: The summer schedule consists of three two-week intensives. Courses meet on campus three hours daily and are scheduled mornings, afternoons, evenings. Occasionally a guest faculty conducts a weekend offering. Students who wish to live on campus during summer sessions must apply to housing through the Residential Life Office (206) 296-6274.

Full Year: Courses are offered on campus in weekly three hour sessions during Fall, Winter and Spring quarters. Most courses are scheduled during mornings and afternoons with at least one course a quarter scheduled in the evening.

Weekends: At least two courses per quarter are scheduled off campus for a total of two weekends per course. Typically students can only access one course per quarter in this format. Combinations of these scheduling options determine the rate of completion of the degrees.

Other: Internships, practica, spiritual direction, retreats, and independent studies allow commuting students to complete some of their educational experiences in their own geographic areas.

Degree Components

Each degree is rooted in the conviction that ministers and educators serve more effectively when they combine personal and professional growth with a Gospel vision of service to the community. Each degree integrates three major components:

- Academic foundation in scripture and theology
- Development of pastoral skills
- Personal and pastoral spiritual formation

PASTORAL STUDIES

Degree offered

- Master of Arts in Pastoral Studies (MAPS)

MASTER OF ARTS IN PASTORAL STUDIES (MAPS)

This degree encourages students to discover their gifts and develop them for service. Students engage in a process of deepening self-knowledge, exploring the Christian tradition, and considering their potential to minister to the world. An integration of theology, scripture, pastoral skills, and personal formation encourages optimum growth for ministers. The structure of this degree program allows maximum flexibility within carefully designed criteria. A full complement of elective courses assist each student in designing a program of study to enhance opportunities for growth and service. In this integrated way, the MAPS degree prepares Christians to minister in the church, in life circumstances, and in the marketplace.

Degree Requirements - Master of Arts in Pastoral Studies

I. Systematic Theology Requirement

Choose six courses from the following: 18

- STMM 500 Christian Anthropology
- STMM 501 Christology
- STMM 502 Ecclesiology
- STMM 504 Christian Ethics
- STMM 505 Sacramental and Liturgical Theology
- STMM 547 Christian Sexuality
- STMM 548 Theological Reflection in Ministry
- STMM 561 Prayer and Spirituality
- STMA 507 Canon Law

Select no more than one from:

- STMA 516 History of Ancient Christianity
- STMA 517 History of Medieval Christianity
- STMA 518 History of the Reformation
- STMA 519 History of Contemporary Christianity

II. Scripture Requirements

Six credits, including:

- STMM 526 Hebrew Scriptures 3
- STMM 527 Christian Scriptures 3

III. Pastoral Skills Requirement

Six credits, including:

- STMM 553 Pastoral Helping Skills 3
- STMM 554 Group Effectiveness Skills 3

IV. Formation Option

Choose one combination, either a. or b.: 9

- a. STMM 557, 558, 559 Ministerial and Theological Integration I, II, and III
- b. STMM 548 Theological Reflection in Ministry, STMM 555 and 556 Practicum I and II

V. Other Requirements

- STMM 599 Completion Project 3
- Electives 6

TRANSFORMING SPIRITUALITY

Degree and Certificate offered

- Master of Arts in Transforming Spirituality (MATS)
 - Studies in Spirituality Specialization
 - Spiritual Direction Specialization
- Post-Master's Certificate in Transforming Spirituality

MASTER OF ARTS IN TRANSFORMING SPIRITUALITY (MATS)

The Transforming Spirituality program is designed to explore the roots of the Christian spiritual tradition, psycho-spiritual development and one's own spiritual journey. This degree enables you to develop and deepen skills for service in discernment, spiritual guidance and pastoral ministry.

Within this degree there are two specializations: Studies in Spirituality and Spiritual Direction. Both specializations build on theological, scriptural, and pastoral skills foundations.

Studies in Spirituality Specialization

People who choose this specialization are able to pursue in-depth studies in psycho-spiritual development, spirituality and elective courses that will enhance their goals in ministry.

Spiritual Direction Specialization

Those with a history of spiritual practice and receiving spiritual direction as well as experience in listening to the faith journeys of others may apply for the specialization in spiritual direction. Admission into this specialization is dependent on demonstrated readiness.

Degree Requirements - Master of Arts in Transforming Spirituality/Studies in Spirituality Specialization

I. Foundational Requirements

- Twenty-four STMM credits, including:
- STMM 500 Christian Anthropology 3
 - STMM 501 Christology 3
 - STMM 505 Sacramental and Liturgical Theology 3
 - STMM 547 Christian Sexuality 3
 - STMM 526 Hebrew Scriptures 3
 - STMM 527 Christian Scriptures 3
 - STMM 553 Pastoral Helping Skills 3
 - STMM 561 Christian Prayer and Spirituality 3

II. Area of Specialization

- Twenty-six or twenty-seven credits, including:
- STMM 563 History of Christian Spirituality 3
 - STMM 571 Introduction to Spiritual Direction 3
 - STMA 561 Psycho-Spiritual Development 3
 - STMA 570 Spiritual Discernment 3

- STMM/STMA Justice Related Course (see adviser) 2-3
- STMA 574 Spirituality Synthesis 3

POST-MASTER'S CERTIFICATE IN TRANSFORMING SPIRITUALITY

This is an advanced program specifically designed for people who have successfully completed graduate degrees in theology or religious studies (MA, MDiv, Ph.D., D.Min.) from accredited institutions, have a background in interpersonal process skills, and wish to augment their knowledge and/or skills in the area of spirituality. Courses are offered over a two-year cycle or three-year cycle.

In addition to meeting the above requirements for admissions, applicants must also meet admissions requirements and procedures for STM programs as listed previously.

Studies in Spirituality Specialization

People who choose this specialization are able to pursue in depth studies in psycho-spiritual development, spirituality, and elective courses that will enhance their goals in ministry.

Spiritual Direction Specialization

Those with a history of spiritual practice and receiving spiritual direction, as well as experience in listening to the faith journeys of others, may apply for the specialization in spiritual direction. Admission into this specialization is dependent on demonstrated readiness.

MASTER OF DIVINITY

Degree offered

- Master of Divinity (MDiv)

MASTER OF DIVINITY

The master of divinity (MDiv) is the classic ministerial degree which develops the pastoral minister's capacity to interpret scripture, foster theological reflection, and draw upon the theological heritage of the religious community with pastoral sensitivity.

Catholics with a master of divinity degree often assume leadership positions in parishes, dioceses, hospitals or social service agencies.

Protestants on an ordination track work closely with their churches regarding ordination requirements. Appropriate course substitutions are arranged to meet their needs in areas such as polity and denominational history.

The core of the curriculum is consistent for all M.Div students, but minor adaptations meet the specific needs of Roman Catholics, Episcopalians, and students from other denominations.

Degree Requirements - Master of Divinity Roman Catholic Requirements

I. Foundational Requirements

Forty-two STMM credits, including:

STMM 500	Christian Anthropology	3
STMM 501	Christology	3
STMM 502	Ecclesiology	3
STMM 504	Christian Ethics (C)	3
STMM 505	Sacramental and Liturgical Theology	3

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

POST-MASTER'S CERTIFICATE IN RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

Many who have completed a degree in theology (MA, MDiv, PhD, DMin) from accredited institutions, seek to teach and direct programs for religious education in their parishes and congregations. This certificate program is specifically designed to build on prior learning and it is possible for a candidate to complete the program in three years. The PMC in Religious Education equips people to be directors or coordinators of youth and/or family ministry. People who choose this specialization are able to pursue education and administration theories, methodologies and practica. This specialization builds upon previously earned master level degrees in theology and helps students acquire the theoretical base and practical experience that prepare them to serve the church in a variety of educational ministries.

In addition to meeting the above requirements for admission, applicants must also meet admission requirements and procedures for STM programs as previously listed.

MISSION INTEGRATION

Certificate Offered

- Post-Master's Certificate in Mission Integration

POST-MASTER'S CERTIFICATE IN MISSION INTEGRATION

This certificate program prepares persons to assume responsibility for mission integration in religiously affiliated service organizations. The program is designed for persons who have successfully completed a graduate degree in theology, religious studies, nursing, education, social Science, or another related area, and who demonstrate appropriate competencies. Directors of Mission Integration are expected to oversee the integration of the institution's or community's mission with all dimensions and levels of work. Hence, the program focuses on providing knowledge and leadership skills in theological reflection, social and community analysis, organizational dynamics, adult education, and health care systems.

Special admission requirements

In addition to, or in lieu of, those required for admission to other STM programs, the Post-Master's Certificate in Mission Integration requires:

- a minimum of a graduate degree in theology, religious studies, nursing, education, social science, or another related area;

- two recommendations, one from an employer/supervisor, and the second from a person who can speak to the student's qualifications for the program;
- a one- or two-page statement describing professional and personal goals and reasons for choosing this program;
- three years experience in a leadership position;
- employment and education resumé;
- a personal interview with one or more members of the School of Theology and Ministry Admissions Committee

Requirements - Post-Master's Certificate in Mission Integration

Prerequisites will be required as indicated in course descriptions when the candidate lacks adequate preparation. Up to ten quarter credits may be accepted in transfer toward the required certificate courses.

ECOLOGY AND THEOLOGY

Certificate Offered

- Post-Master's Certificate in Ecology and Theology

POST-MASTER'S CERTIFICATE IN ECOLOGY AND THEOLOGY

Consciousness among Christians that the future of our Earth is in question because of harmful human interventions is growing steadily. Abundant literature in theology, science, philosophy, and ethics now addresses earth's peril and the responsibility of Christians to care for all of creation. In this certificate program, students will study ecological issues and engage in theological reflection upon them. Further, students will develop leadership capacities for promoting the health and well being of all creation as they become familiar with spiritualities that include reverence for all creation. Student's study is rooted in Christian theology, scripture, knowledge of earth's ecological systems, and ethical principles for relation to God's creation.

This post-master's certificate program builds on a master's degree in such fields as theology, physical sciences, education, social sciences, or nursing. In addition, the certificate presumes a basic knowledge of earth science. In addition to meeting these requirements, applicants must also meet admission requirements and procedures for STM programs.

School of Theology and Ministry

- STMM 500 Christian Anthropology 3
Exploration from a Christian perspective of the mystery of human existence. Examination of the structures of human being: self-transcendence, finitude, freedom, destiny, relatedness, autonomy, growth, and history. Special attention to the horizons which shape human life, to the roots of the possibility of religion, grace, and sin in the human.
- STMM 501 Christology 3
A survey of theological reflection on Jesus of Nazareth, his life, his teaching, his death, and resurrection. The course examines the New Testament, early Christian theologians, the important conciliar definitions, the scholastic synthesis, and contemporary discussion. It covers three main questions: Who is Jesus? How does Jesus save us? How do we relate to Jesus?
- STMM 502 Ecclesiology 3
The doctrine of the church, examination of understanding of church from New Testament times through the present, with attention to the strengths and weaknesses of each image/model/conceptualization and with an eye to articulating an ecclesiology for our time. Examination of the issues which face the church today; women and the church, leadership, local church/universal church tension; authority. Prerequisite: STMM 500 or STMM 501
- STMM 504 Christian Ethics 3
Study of the dynamics of moral decision making, moral development, and principles of Christian moral action; development of methodology for addressing social moral issues.
- STMM 505 Sacramental and Liturgical Theology 3
The Christian community is brought into being and is nurtured through an encounter with God, through Christ, in the Holy Spirit, by means of Word and Sacrament. This course examines the behavioral and theological dynamics at work in this encounter, the relationship between ritual action and theological reality. A balance of readings, lecture and discussion will introduce the students to the historical and theological and behavioral foundations of liturgy, as well as help them develop a critical "liturgical sense." Prerequisite: STMM 501 or STMM 527
- STMM 506 Earth Community, Earth Ethics 3
The view of earth from space is changing our collective consciousness. Part of this change affects our sense of citizenship and responsibility. The course will explore models for faith-based environmental action. Students will explore the faith tradition's foundations for congregational and personal activism.
- STMM 526 Hebrew Scriptures 3
Through working with a variety of texts, students are exposed to the major pieces of the Old Testament canon: Pentateuch, Prophets and Writings. The pluralism of viewpoints that come to expression in the scriptures leads to an examination of tensions, strengths and weaknesses involved. Practical consequences for belief and practice will be developed.
- STMM 527 Christian Scriptures 3
Origins of Christian Scripture in Christian faith; experience of God revealing; New Testament development in time; major theological themes in cultural context; impact on living experience; methods of criticism and principles of interpretation aimed at personal appropriation of text, meanings and tradition. Prerequisite: STMM 526
- STMM 529 Biblical Spirituality 3
Through careful study of selected texts from Hebrew and Christian Scriptures, students will construct the underlying spiritualities. Exploring this variety of where and how biblical generations expected God to appear and act will lead to tools and methods for integrating belief, attitude, affection, prayer, and action in the students' own lives.
- STMM 547 Christian Sexuality 3
An exploration of the biblical and psychological dimensions of embodiment and relationality, as they relate to the contemporary issues which surround human sexuality. With psychosexual development as a context, the course will discuss the call to authentic intimacy in our contemporary culture, invite students to clarify and claim their own vision and experience, and address contemporary issues of sexual ethics.
- STMM 548 Theological Reflection in Ministry 3
This course will help participants examine their intuitions and experiences of pastoral transition as a framework for exploring future trends in ministry. Incorporating both lecture presentation and structured discussion, the process will emphasize theological reflection rather than historical survey; that is, doing rather than studying a theology of ministry.
- STMM 550 Conflict Resolution 2
This course enables participants to become more effective in negotiating the conflicts in their personal and professional lives. The format includes theory, input, interpersonal sharing, skill building and awareness exercises. Topics include concepts of conflicts, personal attitudes and beliefs, types of conflicts, the role of emotions, communication skills, how to avoid no-win situations, resolution styles, co-dependency and addictions, and negotiating to achieve mutual interest.
- STMM 553 Pastoral Helping Skills 3
Integration of basic helping skills with theological foundations for counseling ministry; theoretical foundations of major counseling approaches with opportunities for in-class practice in simulated counseling interview.
- STMM 554 Group Effectiveness Skills 3
Theory and practice in the skills of group interaction, participation, and empowerment in small group settings. Examination of personal leadership styles, process observation, diagnosis of major forces affecting a group's functioning, and conceptual models for group effectiveness. Prerequisite: STMM 553
- STMM 555 Practicum I 3
This course assists students in identifying a ministerial call, their gifts and limitations in the response to that call, and opportunities for growth in answering the call. Groups of students offer peer evaluation, on-site mentors provide periodic review and challenge, and faculty guide the students in articulating appropriate goals and objectives to frame the year long process. Goals and objectives name weekly activities that help the student form a ministerial identity. Progress is monitored through an extensive paper, mentor evaluation and peer review. Prerequisite: STMM 553

STMM 556 Practicum II 3

This course consists of peer evaluation, faculty input, and on-site field education in a ministerial setting. Students are encouraged to try new ministries or to develop new skills in their existing ministries. They develop goals and objectives with their faculty and peer group. Then, over the course of a year, students work with an on-site mentor. They debrief the experience through an extensive paper and peer group and faculty feedback. Prerequisite: STMM 555.

STMM 557 Ministerial and Theological Integration I 3

STMM 558 Ministerial and Theological Integration II 3

STMM 559 Ministerial and Theological Integration III 3

A supervised internship focusing on the development of intra- and interpersonal skills for ministry with particular emphasis on one-to-one and small group interaction. Theological reflection on ministerial experience is an integral component. Prerequisite: STMM 553 and STMM 554.

STMM 561 Christian Prayer and Spirituality 3

This course is designed to introduce the student to the most important themes in contemporary spirituality and to a variety of approaches to prayer. Students will be invited to apply these themes to reflect upon and articulate their personal spirituality and to evaluate the theological and pastoral implications of these different approaches to prayer and spirituality. Keeping a prayer journal is strongly recommended for this course. The sessions will include lecture, prayer experiences, reflective times, and discussion.

STMM 562 Spirituality and Theology of Aging 2

This course explores the spiritual gifts and challenges found in our common experience of aging, especially in life's later years. Themes will include religious images of aging, contemplation and a changing sense of time, memories and life review, love and sexuality, dependence and independence, loss and Christian hope, and the spiritual concerns of the aging family. Class sessions combine presentations, personal reflection, guided exercises, and discussion. Focus will be on our own aging, our relationships with older family members and friends, and on ministry with the aging.

This course is designed to introduce students to the rich variety within Christian spirituality through the study of selected texts and visual images. Special attention will be paid to themes such as silence, poverty, imagination, friendship, etc., understood in the tradition to be central to personal and communal spiritual transformation. Emphasis will be given to theological reflection in which students and instructor will collaboratively integrate, re-interpret or revitalize these themes in light of their own ministry and prayer.

STMM 571 Introduction to Spiritual Direction 3

This basic course is designed for those involved in or moving toward giving spiritual direction. It includes topics such as: what spiritual direction is and is not; its relation to psychological counseling; assumptions of the director regarding human/spiritual growth and prayer; blockages and criteria for authentic prayer; discernment; sexuality and spirituality; universal call to mysticism and prophecy; challenge at mid-life.

STMM 574 Christian World Views and Science 3

An exploration of Christian traditions relative to the spiritual nature of the universe and the place and purpose of humans and other living things in it; the science of the universe, cosmology, and its impact on the understanding of human existence. The inter-relationship of Christianity and cosmology, especially in light of the current ecological crises. Participants will also discern their own understanding of their personal relationship to creation. (formerly Christianity and Cosmology)

STMM 575 Ecology and Pastoral Ministry 3

New models of ministry, service, and leadership relative to a more global and universal perspective; practical ways that transformative ministry might invite healing action and deepened ecological awareness, sensitivity and accountability in the church and the community. Participants will present projects that articulate a ministerial response to the sacred nature of the universe and creation. (formerly Ministry in a Sacred Universe)

STMM 578 Justice Spirituality 3

The Gospel as leaven within and for the world. The church's developing understanding of its role in the evangelization of the world process. Contemporary socio-economic problems of America and the world.

STMM 579 Convivial Global Community 3

Examination of social change, including conditions, causes, and consequences; analysis of organizational behavior, decision making, social, economic, and political change in international arenas; emphasis on human rights.

STMM 580 Developing Curriculum for Religious Education 3

This course examines various philosophers of education and reflects on the implications of their theories for developing curriculum in religious education.

STMM 581 Teaching and Learning in the Faith Community 3

This course will be organized around four significant dimensions of the teaching/learning process: context, learner, content, teacher. Participants will first be given an opportunity to reflect on their present practice or experience of teaching, then explore and evaluate a variety of teaching models for educating in faith, with the aim of becoming more creative and intentional teachers/ministers.

School of Theology and Ministry

STMM 582 The Catechism and other Resources for Catechetical Ministry 3

In the words of Pope John Paul II, the Catechism of the Catholic Church is a "precious, splendid, profound, and timely gift for all." Ministers, particularly, need to know and appreciate this gift. This course studies the Catechism's history, purpose, authority, theological foundations, structure, and context. It prepares ministers to use the catechism to enhance their ministry and the life of the faith community they serve. Students will read and understand the major catechetical texts published by the Bishops of the United States and others.

STMM 583 Adult Religious Learning 3

An examination of religious and psycho-social development of adults at various stages and of educational models and strategies to serve the faith development of adults.

STMM 584 Theories of Religious Education 3

This course examines the nature and purpose of religious education in today's world. Through a survey of contemporary theories, and drawing upon the insights gained in our own educational settings, participants consider how the education process can encourage personal, social and environmental transformation. The course concludes by outlining an integrative method for teaching religious education.

STMM 585 Perspectives on Aging 2

This course is designed as an overview of how physiological, psychological and social aspects of aging interrelate across the life span. How the individual interacts with the systems around him or her will be explored. The question of what is abnormal vs. normal in the aging process will be addressed. Health promotion and illness, family and family systems and networks, the politics of aging, and mental health and mental illnesses for older adults are among some of the topics to be discussed.

STMM 586 Issues in Aging 2

Identification of pastoral responses to older adults and their families. Students are invited to identify their own experience with older adults in the Church and to relate their experience to cultural, political and environmental influences as they relate to the aging process.

STMM 590 Seminar 2 to 4

STMM 591 Special Topics 1 to 6

STMM 592 Special Topics 1 to 6

STMM 593 Special Topics 1 to 6

STMM 596 Independent Study 1 to 6

Advanced Courses

NOTE: Admission to STMA courses requires advanced standing or permission from the Director of degrees.

STMA 500 Hermeneutics and Theological Method in Pastoral Ministry 3

A study of ways to interpret the tradition so that it continues to live today; the integral role interpretation plays in theology and pastoral work. Prerequisite: STMM 500

STMA 501 Religion and Culture 3

An exploration of the major issues which face the Christian community today both from within the church and in light of contemporary culture; e.g., fundamentalism, secularism, religion, and the state.

STMA 503 Plurality of Christian Traditions 3

Examines the diversity of traditions in scripture and the early church as well as the contemporary richness of Christian traditions for deeper faith understanding and ecumenical awareness.

STMA 504 God and Trinity 3

Origins and historical development of the Christian notions of God and Trinity; reflection on dogmatic statements and on philosophical and theological developments based on those statements. Prerequisite: STMM 500 and STMM 501

STMA 505 Ethical Issues: A Catholic Perspective 3

Analysis and discussion of selected topics in the areas of morality and ethics in the light of Christian perspective. Special attention will be paid to how the interpretation of Christian believing and historical contexts shape Christian ethics and how past resolutions of problems continue to shape our ethics today. Prerequisite: STMM 504

STMA 506 Sin and Grace 3

Systematic and historical explorations of the themes of sin and grace; how human life is affected by each, and the various ways grace and sin have taken shape in human history. Prerequisite: STMM 500

STMA 507 Canon Law 3

An overview of the contents of the canon law governing the Roman Catholic Church; the development of a fundamental way of approaching canon law in general, and how to interpret and use it pastorally.

STMA 509 Theology of Ministry 3

Exploration of various elements of theology of ministry in light of the mission of the church and one's own ministerial identity.

STMA 510 Theology of Liturgy: The Eucharist 3

A systematic inquiry into the theological data on Christian worship gained from scripture and tradition. The latter part of the course examines the structure and content of the Eucharist liturgy in particular. Prerequisite: STMM 505

STMA 511 Theology/Catechesis/Rites of Christian Initiation 3

The history, theology, liturgical structures, and pastoral praxis of baptism, confirmation, and Eucharist for adults and infants in the Christian community. Prerequisite: STMM 505

STMA 512 Theology of Marriage 3

The theology, liturgical structure, and practice of the sacrament of marriage in the Catholic Church; canon law governing marriage; and factors influencing family life.

STMA 513 Sacraments of Healing 3

The theology, liturgical structure, and practice of the sacraments of reconciliation and anointing of the sick. Prerequisite: STMM 505

STMA 514	Liturgical Preparation and Presiding	3	Introduction to liturgical books, documents, and laws pertaining to liturgical celebrations and to the process of preparing for liturgical and paraliturgical services; a pastoral examination of the role and responsibilities of the presider and of the minister of the word, with particular application to the lay minister.	STMA 522	World Religions	3	This course is designed to introduce students to the central teachings of the major religious faiths. Readings will be in both primary and secondary sources. Though the instructor will be identified with a particular faith, an attitude of openness to and reverence for all faiths will be evident in the learning environment.
STMA 516	History of Ancient Christianity	3	An overview of the history of Christianity from the post-apostolic period to the early forms of medieval Christianity. Emphasis on the theological side of the Christian community's life, with attention to the social context of the early church and its institutional developments. The church as it emerges from its Jewish background, struggles with classical culture and begins to define its beliefs and its basic structures. (formerly Patristic and Early Medieval Period)	STMA 526	Pentateuch	3	The themes and authors of the first five books of the Hebrew Scriptures. The development of those themes in the interaction of the Hebrew faith with its various historical settings. Prerequisite: STMM 526
STMA 517	History of Medieval Christianity	3	An overview of the history of Christianity from the Merovingian period to the dawn of the Reformation. Emphasis on the theological development within the life of the Christian community, with attention to other developments in the life of the Church and their social context. (formerly Late Medieval Period to the Reformation)	STMA 523	History and Spirituality of the Episcopal Prayer Book I	3	This two quarter course will examine the development of the book of Common Prayer and the liturgical practices it establishes. Emphasis will be given to its historical evolution, its liturgical presuppositions from grammar, and the polity implied by them. Particular attention will be given to the varieties of liturgies included and the theology and spiritualities it conveys.
STMA 518	History of the Reformation	3	The sixteenth century was one of the most exciting and conflicted periods in the history of Christianity. Medieval Christianity as it had been known collapsed. Reformers from both Catholic and Protestant perspectives set the tone for the modern church; Theological, social and cultural differences arose. The vision of unity was gone.	STMA 524	History and Spirituality of the Episcopal Prayer Book II	3	Continuation of STMA 523.
STMA 519	History of Modern/Contemporary Christianity	3	Historical investigations of various periods in Christian tradition. Emphasis on how elements of the Christian community such as social teaching, sacramental practice, moral teaching, and spirituality have been shaped by the various historical contexts in which the Christian faith has been expressed.	STMA 527	Prophets	3	The history, basic themes, and functions of the prophetic movement in Israel; a study of one or two prophets in detail; special emphasis on how the prophets reshaped the faith of Israel for a new historical situation. Prerequisite: STMM 526
STMA 520	Religious Experience: East and West	3	A study of the unique spiritualities developed by world religions such as Christianity, Hinduism, Buddhism, Judaism and Islam. Students will explore the possible relationships among these spiritual paths (with a concentration on Western forms of spirituality.)	STMA 528	Writings	3	A focused look at the art and various genres of biblical poetry within the third division of the Hebrew Bible known as Kethuvim (Writings). Prerequisite: STMM 526
STMA 521	Theologies of Liberation	3	This course emphasizes critical reflection on the Gospel in the light of the experience of men and women committed to liberation. Liberation theologies around the world (e.g., black, feminist, Chicano, Asian, etc.) seek to articulate the meaning of the Christian faith from the perspective of the powerless in society and in the church.	STMA 536	The Synoptic Gospels	3	The major themes for the first three Gospels in the Christian Scriptures; their composition and points of view in proclaiming Jesus; the communities for whom they were written, given their particular historical situation; and the challenges they present us. Special emphasis on the Gospels as stories, requiring literary analysis and appreciation. Prerequisite: STMM 527
				STMA 537	Gospel of John	3	The basic themes of the Fourth Gospel; the community it addresses; how its historical setting influenced the message of the Gospel; and how that message can be interpreted for our historical situation. Prerequisite: STMM 527
				STMA 538	Letters of Paul	3	The man and the Gospel he preached; a study of the themes of his letters; the communities and world for whom he wrote; and the ways in which he challenges our faith today. Prerequisite: STMM 527
				STMA 546	Pastoral Leadership	3	Focuses on servant leadership, leadership styles, transitions in leadership, stress and burnout, planning cycles, conflict, and a theology of local church. The foundation course for STMA 555. Prerequisite: STMM 554

- STMA 548 Pastoral Leader as Change Agent 3
A synthesis of group dynamics, leadership skills, and structural analysis in order to confront regressive behavior in a group and to reconstruct social structures and Gospel values.
- STMA 549 Organizational Dynamics 3
The Church's future is shaped at the point where lived experience (praxis) and sound reflection (theoria) intersect. The course will draw on the life experiences of participants from the various religious and civic settings in which they have played a part, as leaders or as members. Using constructs derived from the whole field of organizational development, the facilitator will engage the members in guided reflection, leading to personal decisions concerning ways they might intervene more effectively in these systems in the future.
- STMA 550 Ministry of the Word: Homiletics 3
This course introduces the student to the theology of the Word and its liturgical proclamation; and briefly addresses the theology and spirituality of the ministry of the Word. It then reviews the different types of preaching, some basic principles of preaching, and finally provides an opportunity for critiqued practice preaching for all students.
- STMA 553 Supervision in Spiritual Direction I 3
- STMA 554 Supervision in Spiritual Direction II 3
A practicum involving both peer supervision/evaluation and consultation, as well as individual advisement, in the process of spiritually directing at least two persons. Verbatims, role playing, and supervisory processes are utilized. Prerequisite: STMA 561 and STMA 570
- STMA 555 Supervision in Pastoral Leadership I 3
- STMA 556 Supervision in Pastoral Leadership II 3
A supervised practicum building on instruments of social analysis and leadership, addresses both systemic and personal issues to enable critical analysis and pastoral care in the ministry setting. Prerequisite: STMA 546 and STMA 585
- STMA 557 MDiv Synthesis 3
Designed to assist students in the integration and articulation of their gifts and limits in relation to their ministry as leaders in the church. It stresses the synthesis of theological study, ministerial experience, and personal and spiritual growth. To be taken final year of coursework. Prerequisite: STMA 555 and 556
- STMA 559 Internship in Religious Education I 3
This first internship requires 90 hours on-site field experience with a pre-approved religious educator. The student will learn from a mentor what is involved in being the leader of education ministry in a church or school. Reading and weekly theological reflection help integrate the field experience.
- STMA 560 Internship in Religious Education II 3
This internship either continues with the mentor from the first internship or reassigns to a different mentor for another perspective. It requires 90 hours on-site field experience with a pre-approved religious educator. The student will deepen and broaden understanding of what is involved in being the leader of education ministry in a church or school. Reading and weekly theological reflection help integrate the field experience.
- STMA 561 Psycho-Spiritual Development 3
An integrated model of human growth and service, based on developmental theory in spirituality and psychology. Prerequisite: STMM 500
- STMA 569 Eco-Spirituality 3
This course draws upon the timeless wisdom of nature and the insights of scientists, native people, theologians and mystics. Students attempt to articulate a theology/spirituality of creation that emphasizes the Christian's responsibility to listen to and live in harmony with the earth and to be co-creators with God in shaping the future. Meister Eckhart's four paths of spirituality, biblical insights, Christology, wisdom of native people and mystics, as well as the role and task of humans, will be explored during this course from the creation spiritual tradition. Prerequisite: STMM 561
- STMA 570 Spiritual Discernment 3
A knowledge of spiritual discernment and its place in the spiritual life, as well as discernment of spirits in the traditional sense, and the specific process of discernment regarding decision making. A variety of perspectives involving contemporary psychological insights. Prerequisites: STMM 500, STMM 561
- STMA 571 Critical Issues in Spirituality 3
An exploration of typical human or cultural problems and issues that emerge as blockages for psycho-spiritual growth and in the development of one's relationship with God, self, and others. Prerequisite: STMM 561
- STMA 574 Spirituality Synthesis 3
Designed to assist students in the integration and articulation of their own spirituality. This course stresses the synthesis of course work, theological study, ministerial experience and personal-spiritual practices. To be taken during the final year of coursework. Prerequisite: STMA 561
- STMA 576 Myth, Symbol, and Sacrament 3
An exploration of the symbolic, sacramental dimension of human life; its expression and celebration by the Christian community; and its interaction with and use of predominant cultural themes. Prerequisite: STMM 505
- STMA 580 Religious Education Administration 3
Learn to plan for religious education in your parish, school, or congregation. This practical course considers the necessary ministry of planning, decision making, budget management, volunteer recruitment and retention, organizing parents and volunteers to meet the educational needs of children, youth, young adults, and adults. It is the "nuts and bolts" of parish education ministry.

STMA 581 Family Systems in Ministry 3

The field of family systems has been exploring exciting ideas about how individuals and families change. Several of these ideas from models of both family systems therapy and family development will be applied to ministering to families of varied forms. Applications will include such dimensions of ministry as teaching, preaching, counseling, pastoral visitation, and development of rituals.

STMA 582 Community, Justice and Mission: Communal Learning and Care of the Earth 3

Christian education calls learners to action. This course engages learners in a community of prayer, celebration, and response. The community learns by experience, reflection, and action. Methodologies emerge from the experience and students are equipped to introduce holistic processes into their faith communities. Students are required to address real contextual situations, address justice issues, and create a design for implementing a response.

STMA 585 Social Analysis 3

An analysis of conditions and concerns of contemporary American men and women who make up the church. The course will introduce and utilize a hermeneutical/sociological methodology to explore the impact and implications of the changing roles in social and ecclesial life in the United States.

STMA 586 Social Analysis of the Faith Community 3

A study of the socio-economic factors which shape religious organizations and structures; application to particular communities such as parishes, schools and others; understanding of ways religious practices and belief influence individuals and groups with implications for catechetics, liturgy, spirituality, and ministries.

Special Programs

CULTURE AND LANGUAGE BRIDGE PROGRAM

Eli Hinkel, Ph.D., Coordinator

Objectives

The Culture and Language Bridge Program is designed to prepare non-native speakers of English for a productive academic career at Seattle University. The primary goal of the program is to provide admitted Seattle University students with the background in the American academic culture and language skills essential for success in their studies. The courses offered in the program are highly advanced, with a specific focus on university-level reading, writing, listening, and speaking skills.

Description of Courses

Students at the beginning of their academic careers are usually expected to take courses in Academic Reading and Writing, Basic Writing (English 101), and Classroom Communication. Students who transfer to Seattle University during their subsequent years of study, as well as graduate students, are expected to take courses that advance their strategic reading, writing, and academic speaking skills essential for success in the disciplines. In addition, the coursework for transfer and graduate students concentrates on the American academic culture and the specific preparation for requirements at Seattle University. Undergraduate business majors and graduate students enrolled in the Albers School of Business attend a supplemental course in conjunction with a five-credit-hour class, Management 280.

The Program Schedule

The program is offered during the fall, winter, and spring quarters. Courses for undergraduate students are not offered in the summer, and classes for graduate students are taught when there is sufficient need.

Admission Requirements

All non-native speakers of English whose TOEFL (Test of English as a Foreign Language) score is between 520 and 577 are required to take the Placement Essay Test upon their arrival at Seattle University. Students are supported by the Culture and Language Bridge Program when their writing skills as demonstrated on the Placement Essay Test, combined with their TOEFL scores at admission, indicate that their academic success at Seattle University requires it.

Placement Essay Test

The purpose of the Placement Essay Test is to allow students an opportunity to demonstrate the quality of their writing that is based on such considerations as language fluency, rhetorical development, logical organization, and sentence structure.

Placement Essay Tests are evaluated by the university faculty and the staff of the Culture and Language Bridge Program. Students whose writing skills require additional improvement need to take courses in the Culture and Language Bridge Program. If students' writing in English appears to be in need of substantial work, they may be required to enroll in Academic Reading and Writing (CLBR 087) and the CLBR section of Basic Writing (English 101). Moderate writing skills, as determined by the essay evaluators, require students to take the Basic Writing course (English 101 CLBR section). On the other hand, students whose writing abilities are deemed sufficient for success in their academic studies do not need to enroll in the program. Students whose TOEFL scores are 580 or above are not expected to take the Placement Essay Test or enroll in the Culture and Language Bridge Program. However, they have the option of taking classes in the program if they choose to.

Program Requirements

In the Culture and Language Bridge Program, a student's work is evaluated with the goal of preparing non-native speakers for success in their studies at Seattle University. In keeping with this objective, the grading of English 101 follows the University grading system. All other CLBR courses carry an indication of "Language Prepared" (LP) for further university work or "Language Unprepared" (LU) for further university work designation. Successful completion of English 101 allows undergraduate students to earn five elective credits toward their graduation. Credits for all other CLBR courses are not applicable toward graduation requirements. However, CLBR courses and their evaluative designations are shown on students' transcripts.

Culture and Language Bridge Program Courses

Courses for students at the beginning of their academic careers

CLBR 087 Academic Reading and Writing

The class meets daily and focuses on the interaction between reading, writing, and critical thinking. Paraphrasing, summary writing, library research, and the writing process as it pertains to American academic writing, as well as effective reading are examined. Issues of sentence structure and style are also addressed. Grading scale: LP/LU.

CLBR 088 Classroom Communication 3

The class meets daily and concentrates on the interaction of culture and language in the classroom. Informal and formal speech varieties, lecture comprehension, classroom participation, intelligibility, and oral presentations are examined. Grading scale: LP/LU.

CLBR 089 Language Lab 1

Addresses aspects of American culture through the use of English in practical settings. Grading scale: LP/LU.

Courses for Transfer and Graduate Students

CLBR 090 Advanced Language and Communication 5

Focuses on American cultural values and assumptions as an intrinsic part of the American academic setting. Provides an avenue for improving students' global reading skills, discourse-level construction of writing, as well as academic speaking and discussion skills. Grading scale: LP/LU.

CLBR 093 Supplemental CLBR 0

Required for business majors and graduate students in the Albers School of Business. This student-centered workshop includes lecture and discussion in support of an academic course (Management 280). Mandatory CR/F grading with minimum achievement level equal to LP/LU.
