THE STRIKES.

The Striking Railroad Men at Palestine, Texas, Win.

Unsuccessful Attempt to Fill Strikers' Places at Fort Wayne, Indiana.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., March 13.—Twenty-six machinists, principally Germans, arrived at Fort Wayne, Indiana, from Chicago, at 8 o'clock last evening, having been brought here by the Wabash Company to take the places of the men now on strike. They arrived in a car attached to a freight train on the Wabash railroad, having left Chicago at 7 o'clock on Wednesday evening. They were brought by a circuitous route, via Springfield, in order to avoid the suspicions of the strikers. The fact of their presence became known, however to the strikers at about 10 p. m., and a committee was sent to interview them at the Washington House. The committee induced 24 of the 26 men to attend a meeting which they immediately called at Driscoll's Hall, where the imported men were initiated into the Knights of Labor, and thus brought into the ranks of the strikers. The Germans claim that they knew nothing of the strike at Fort Wayne, and that they accepted the positions in Chicago, in answer to advertisements inserted in the German papers, for machinists to go to work outside the city. The strikers are jubilant over the accession. It is understood that more machinists are to come, but the strikers say they will endeavor to capture them as rapidly as they arrive.

The Oklahoma Boomers.

At the meeting of the cabinet yesterday the Oklahoma question was considered at length. It was said that the impression prevailed among those who contemplated an invasion of the territory that President Arthur's proclamation relative to trespassing upon Indian lands had become inoperative with the close of his administration and it was thought best that President Cleve'and should issue a proclamation similar to that issued by President Arthur. This proclamation is now being prepared and will shortly be issued. It will forbid the invasion of trespassers upon Indian lands in the Indian territory.

A Scusation in the Hazen Trial.

A Sensation in the Huzen Trial. A Scusation in the Hazen Trial.

The copy of the report of the Secretary of War for 1883 was presented to the Hazen court martial this morning and evidence produced showing the same to have been received by the chief signal officer. This report contained a memorandum dated Sept. 19, 1883, stating the Secretaries of War and Navy had decided it was not practicable to send another expedition to the relief of Lieut. Greely in that year. Capt. Mills was examined with regard to the presence of Gen. Hazen at the signal office on Dec. 11, 1883, and the prosecution then rested their case.

The defence then called Capt. Mills as the first witness. In answer to questions as to

The defence then called Capt. Mills as the first witness. In answer to questions as to whether a written copy of the above memorandum is on file in the signal office he said that he did not think such a copy was on file there, but that on the date of that decision the Secretary of War gave him a hektograph copy of the memorandum. His recollection was that this copy was intended to be given the Associated Press for publication as the answer to numerous inquiries on the subject that had come to the Secretary of War.

Edmund Hudson, editor of the Capital of this city, was then called by the defense. His attention was called to an item published in that paper March 1, 1885, stating that Gen. Hazen had written a letter to the Secretary of War, throwing the blame for the tragic termination of the Greely relief expedition upon that official, and stating further it was said that Hazen had asked leave to go South in order to be absent from the city when the letter should come into the hands of the Secretary. Witness was asked if he had written the article in question, and the judge advocate objected to the introduction of newspaper articles as testimony on the ground that they were irrelevant and immaterial.

the court by stating that he intended to trace the article in question to the Secretary of War. He said: "We propose to trace, by gradual and well connected proof, this paragraph back to the source that inspired it; we propose to follow, by a chain of well connected links, this paragraph and the paragraph in the Chicago Tribune, perhaps, to the door of the Secretary of War's chamber, follow them to his desk, follow them to his hand, and to show that the war secretary, who has charged an officer of the army of the United States with a violation of duty by an alleged criticism of his action in the public prints—that the Secretary of War sat at his desk and coined a libel like a mint, and that he inspired this paragraph. reporter of the Evening Star to question the accused. It appeared that the accused had himself been assailed, by whose hand he could not tell. We will show that it was by the hand of authority; that hand that drew the cherge and specification against him was the hand that indicted the publication that touched his honor. He added that he did not offer this in justification of the offense charged against Gen. Hezen, but in mitigation of that offence if it should be proved.

The judge advocate said the defense before they could be allowed to make a plea in mitigation must first admit the offence. He added that no matter what had been said or written Gen. Hazen was not justified in saving the channels of the public press to assail his superior. He also denied most emphatically that the Secretary of War had anything to do with these publications.

The court then went into secret session to consider the objection of the judge advocate consider the objection of the judge advocate and adjourned without reaching a decision.

A Man Who Has Been Faithful to Every Duty. To the Editor of the Press:

Sir:-The limits to which party "organs" go in discussing the merits and demerits of candidates for public office, often extend beyond the bounds of decency. But the recent attack of the Argus upon the Republican candidate for Mayor, "outArguses the Argus" for indecent brutality. I have known John H. Fogg long and well; and my relations with him have been such as of the Young Men's Christian Association last to make me very familiar with his life in nearly all of its various phases. And, knowing best citizens and which fully tested the seating that life as I do, from the day when, as a barefooted boy of seven, he went out one day to pick strawberries to earn the money to pay for his first pair of shoes, up to his unanimous nomination for the chief official position in his adopted city. I do not hesitate to say that John H. Fogg is such a man as good citizens delight to honor; and that, if elected Mayor, he will discharge the duties of the office as ably and acceptably as any one of the long line of distinguished men the Republicans of Portland have called to that position.

Mr. Fogg is a modest and unassuming man. But he has discharged so faithfully and well the duties of every position he has been called upon to occupy, as to have merited and received the commendations of his superior officers and the confidence and respect of his associates. And while he is too modest to "push" himself for recognition, those who had the right so to do, have never failed to ask him to step up higher.

I am writing warmly as a friend, but if your readers could have seen John H. Fogg as I have, struggling over obstacles such as few men have been called upon to surmount, quietly and unostentationally performing the duties of adjutant of his regiment, to which position he was called from the ranks by his colonel, a graduate of West Point; and later, as captain, to which position he was promoted for meritorious services; his steady fortitude under fire, though marked by three rebel bullets; his patient calmness when told by army surgeons that he was claimed by death, and must go home to die, they would understand something of the respect I entertain for him. worthy of their earnest support. The Argus says that he has accumulated po property. I know more about that matter than the Argus does. But if he is not rich he has done better than to accumulate property for himself. He has been faithful to every trust. He has been true to every interest committed to his care. He has neglected no duty in the past; and he will prove himself in the future as in the past worthy the confidence and esteem of every good citizen.

A. F. H. CAPITAL AND LABOR. Mr. Blanchard's Lecture in the Mechan ics' Course Last Evening.

Mr. M. A. Blanchard delivered his enter taining lecture on the relations of capital and labor in the Mechanics' course last night. The lecturer was introduced by Mr. J. B. Coyle, who stated that the next lecture in the course will be given next Friday evening by Rev. Dr. J. W. Bashford on the subject of "Money Making, or the Science of Secular Life."

Life."

Mr. Blanchard was greeted with applause, and first spoke of the need of reform in business practices. Antagonism is now the natural order of business, and in the keen competition of the day some men must go to the wall. Men who have not the ability to succeed are prone to fall into questionable ways. When the effort to make the worse appear the better is a recognized business form, the downward course is begun. When honor, good faith and regard for truth decline then moral bankruptcy walks the streets. Perhaps it is not true that morality is declining, although many so believe, without making allowance for temporary causes. porary causes.

Mr. Blanchard discussed the question of

Mr. Blanchard discussed the question of wages in a comprehensive manner. To those pursuits requiring a course of long and tedious preparation a large return is cheerfully recorded, but when there exists a large number of men grown rich by the exercise of questionable means, whose only use of their vast income is to find pleasure it is unjust to accuse skilled mechanics of being extortioners when they demand five dollars for a day's work. There can be raised no legal objection to strikes, but they somehow have an undignified appearance besides being practically useless. To the rich man a strike has the effect of stopping his income, rarely touching his capital. A working man's capital is labor and for him a strike stops both capital and income.

labor and for him a strike stops both capital and income.

In attempting the remedy of any existing evil in social science no sudden means should be employed. Human feeling should enter into the work. We do not need new law, and much that is old should be repealed. What we do have should contain no class legislation. These principles should enter into the reform of trade. When our fathers organized our government

When our fathers organized our government they thought that many of these questions had been settled, but the frequent voicanic rumblings heard beneath the surface of our social fabric show that the different Nihilistic and Socialistic tendencies of the day are not confined to the countries of Europe. The growing antagonism of classes presents features not contemplated by the founders of our government. Are our institutions able to cope with ment. Are our institutions able to cope with them? There are two answers to the question. Some believe that new governmental forms will be necessary for new generations; others retain a belief in the power of our present institutions.

We are living in an age of individualism.
every man is for himself. Into the consideration of this question must enter an appeal for a nobler life of sympathy.

The time for the application of the remedy is now at hand. If present tendencies continue, all our land will become the property of a class, and towards them will arise such enmity that a practical solution of the problem would be impossible. be impossible.

The speaker, in closing, expressed his belief in the final adjustment of the questions which he had discussed.

Last December, a man giving his name as Frank Plummer, and professing to be a preach. er of the Second Advent doctrine, came to Swans' Island, says a correspondent of the Ellsworth American. He was cordially received by citizens of that faith, and although his preaching consisted largely of railing at Evangelized Christianity, all went well with him until he used such harsh and abusive language to an old lady, a member of the Second Advent church, that she fainted and afterwards called on a justice of the peace and the citizens for protection. The citizens of the island turned out en masse, discussed the mater of the Second Advent doctrine, came to ter and decided unanimously that in future no stranger was to come to Swan's Island and ride rough shod over the people. A committee was chosen who waited on Mr. Plummer and told him he might have one week to leave the island, promising to protect him during that week. At the end of the week he circulated a petition asking for another week to stay. A few days after that he either left the island or secreted himself.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

The Weber Club, assisted by other talent, gave one of their delightful concerts in the hall evening, before an audience composed of our capacity of the large auditorium. This excellent organization, under the leadership of Mr. John Morgan, has grown so in public estimation that the mere announcement of an evening of song is sure to draw a full house. The programme as published in yesterday's issue, with the addition of responses to several wellmerited encores, was substantially carried out. The singing by the club has lost mone of the richness of former years. Such a perfect combination of male voices is rarely met with. Mr. Frank W. Shaw's fine tenor, in the song "Embarrassment", was well received. The clariobarrassment", was well received. The clarionet solo "Sonnambula" by W. E. Chandler, elicited a hearty encore. Mr. Chandler responded to the encore with "Coming Through the Rye." Mrs. G. M. Pratt sang with her accustomed ease and expression, her rich, alto voice coming out to the best advantage in the solos "Tis; I" and "The Last Milestone". Miss Belle Bartlett, who possesses a splendid soprano voice sang very tastefully and with intelligent expression the solos "It was a Dream" and "Going to Market". Both ladies were most enthusiastically encored. Miss Leafy Chandler, as accompanist, distinguished herself by her well-educated touch and perfect command of the instrument, Altogether the concert was one of the most enjoyable of the oncert was one of the most enjoyable of the when the league was organized it adopted a set of rules for the clubs to play under, which the Granite Citys endeavored to conform to, but on going to Bath on Saturday, March 7, we found that our game was put aside and that a 4Massachusetts team was to play there. Alamedas vs. W. H. Ts at Bath tonight.

"Bijous of Portland, Me., embracing the famous trio, Morway, Kelsey and Orne" is how the Bijous were advertised at Manchester.

A match game for $100 a side is to be played between the J. D. Rs of Augusta and the Fairfields, It will probably be played next Friday evening in Lewiston with Frank Barnes for referee.

The Globes of Haverhill, Parks of Exeter, N. H., Springyales, Concords, and several other teams are arranging for dates at the Bijou.

The Salems have so far the best record of any club in existence. They have won 17 and lost two games. At the close of the league they will make an extended trip, going as far south as Baltimore and as far west as Kansas City.

It isn't very pleasant for people who buy reserved seats to find them occupied by such a gang of hood-lums as held sway in the gallery at the Bijou last night. A good clearing out of sach characters and also a gentle hint to disgruntled (would be) polo players who fill the air with their attempts to be funny woulon'thurt the Bijou any.

The Manchesters won their airth successive polo victory last night, defeating a Laconias in three straight goals in sixteen minutes.

There will be a polo game at Portland rink tonight between the Greenwoods and Portland rink toam, the insers to pay for the suppers.

The Portland Blues will have a reception and skating party at the Bijou next Friday evening on which occasion they will give an exhibition drill.

There will not be a race as advertised, at the Bijou tonight, it being postponed to next week on account of the sickness of one of the contestants, and instead there will be a ladies' complimentary party.

After six years had nearly expired, the plaintiffs as executors of Smith, brought this suit against the defendant, as indorser of said note.

The presiding judge allowed the defendant to introduce the testimony of said Ward and his partner, to show that the plaintiffs testator had knowledge of the illegal consideration of the note.

The presiding judge gave judgment for the defendant. To this the plaintiffs excepted, and the following is the Rescript.—The rule that the partners to a negotiable note, are not competent witnesses to prove that the note was given for an illegal consideration, is not applicable to suits between the immediate parties to an illegal contract. The rule is for the protection of innocent parties only. It is not applicable to a suit by an indorser against his immediate indorsee; nor to suits against their personal representatives. This being a suit of the latter kind, the objection that the makers of the note were not competent witnessess, was not well founded, and the entry must be. Exceptions overruled.

REFORM WITH A VENGEANCE. mocracy of Varmouthville.

Civil Service as Illustrated by the De-To the Editor of the Press:

Yarmouth is in a state of ferment. All through the past campaign the Democratic party held its hands before its face in holy horror at the want of principle, and lack of civil service rules, manifested by the Republicans in their selection of office-holders. They professed to be so clean, pure and virtuous that once given power, and all impurities would disappear from the political horizon. What professions they made all through the year! The power has been given, and already the wolf's nose appears under the sheep's clothing. The town of Yarmouth has, within the past few years been divided, and a post office established at the upper village, known now as Yarmouthville. This was done to accommo-Yarmouthville. This was done to accommodate a large portion of the business men, and no man at the lower village failed to recognize the importance of the step. In return for this a few sapiring Democrats, living in Yarmouthville, have assumed to dictate who shall be postmaster at Yarmouth, and led off by one of their old war horses, and the first selectman, a petition has been started and circulated in their village for a change at the lower village office. Having secured the names of those doing business at Yarmouthville, the wonder is that they did not start at once for Washington that they did not start at once for Washington and consummate their scheme. But today this petition was sent to this village, and the Democrats here received the first intimation of the intention of their would-be leaders. This attempt at dictation, the Democrats for Yarmouth resent, and now, in return, they are looking about for a candidate for the Yarmouthville office. The name proposed is, in every way worthy, and if a change is to be made no one could be selected, better fitted than he; but that is not the point in the case. The present official performs the duties to the entire satisfaction of everyone, and no argument can be brought save that somebody is hangry. that they did not start at once for Washington argument can be brought save that somebody is hangry.

The Democrats doing business at the Yarmouth office, have not asked for the appointment of any one, are entirely satisfied with the present incumbent, who has never taken an active part in politics, and, more than this, they regard this step as an insult to every one of them. If the Democrats of Yarmouthyille without consulting those of Yarmouthyille without consulting those of Yarmouthyille without consulting those of Yarmouthyille adjoining towns, must be on their guard or Yarmouthyille will become the distributing centre, and assume entire control politically. For consummate cheek commend us to Yarmouthville Democrats. These questiont are very pertinently asked by the Democrats here: Why, if those at Yarmouthville desire the gentleman those at Yarmouthville desire the gentleman named in the petition, to have a government coffice, don't they ask his appointment to their own office? Is it because he is good enough for us and not quite good enough for them, or is it on account of their uncontrollable desire to meddle with what is none of their business? These and similar questions come from the lips of the leading Democrats of Yarmouth. As Republicans we stand back and see the fight go on, knowing that we are witnessing the application of true civil service reform, as understood and ampliad by the would be Democratic built a part of its line. They now have a vested right in the subsidy, and no other line will ever get it.

"I noticed the peculiar fact that the subsidy "I noticed the peculiar fact that the subsidy was set at the old figures of $170,000 a year for fifteen years. I wondered how they arrived at these figures and took pains to inquire. I learned that they reckoned the cost of building the line to Mattawamkeag and divided it by fifteen. That was the original policy and will be carried out. Even if Halifax is made the terminus of the road it will cross the lake and never assume the greatly increased mileage which going north of the lake would necessitate. The Halifax people, who are greatly increased in this thing, have voted in a public meeting to urge the construction of the line to Halifax by the 'most direct route.' If it should go north of the lake it would not be a 'short line.'

The Cause of a Baby's Death and the There was a little dance in Lowell at the house of Mr. Goodwin, and several intoxicated men went there, but were denied admittance, so they retired to the stable, and lounged and smoked, says the Dexter Gazette. At 12 o'clock, when the dancers started for home, the barns of Poor & Sons were discovered to be on fire. Luther Folsom and other young men rushed in and cut the 26 horses loose that were saved. Two were lost entirely, and one more died after; another's eyes were destroyed. Jefferson Buck, a poor fellow, lost his only cow, and was burned in trying to save her. Five hundred bushels of oats, and four tons of pressed hay (some people say 20 tons) were burned. Mrs. Rosette Young was moved with her babe, four days old, from the house near the burning stables. The babe was injured and died Sunday night.

Political Fraud Among the Fishermen We are at a deadlock concerning some of our municipal officers, writes a Vinalhaven correspondent of the Belfast Journal. Fred S. Walls was moderator. When the vote for first selectman was had L. W. Smith received a majority. The moderator said the ballot box had been stuffed, that there were ten votes in one bunch, all for Smith, which he should throw out, but declared Smith elected by one majority. The town appealed from the moderator's decision and on the next ballot O. P. Lyons was declared elected and sworn in. Mr. Smith will contest the election and will carry the case before the next term of court. The selectmen, including Smith, making four, met Saturday at the selectmen's office, but no bills will be signed until the case is settled. One of Portland's finest lady singers will make fer first appearance in Saco, at the Main street Bap-ist concert next Wednesday evening.—Biddeford

FOR MAYOR, JOHN H. FOGG

The PRESS will cheerfully publish the list of eleven rumsellers who are alleged to have voted for F gg, if the Argus will furnish for publication at the same time the 289 rumsellers who voted for Deering.

Ask one of Deering's "boomers" for eviderce of his favorite's business capacity, and he will proudly point to the paint on the city hall dome and tell you that it was put on during Deering's administration.

Wyoming Territory set the fashion of allowing women to vote. Utah and Washingten followed; and now the Dakota legislature has passed a woman suffrage law. The far, far West is the home of chivalry.

Toe "spite" of an angry and wilful man is a poor substitute for a conscientious discharge of duty. Yet the friends of Captain D-ering are urging that his spite will accomplish wonders-because he is so easily

Lieutenant Melville has not yet been able to find anyone who is willing to invest $80,-000 in another polar expedition. He has Trunk reimbursed the city for the money it taken the wrong time of the year to make a canvass. People are not likely to sympathize with a polar expedition this weather.

Twenty-two young ladies graduated at the Woman's Medical College in Philadelph.a Wednesday. During the ceremonies the orchestra played the most mournful tunes, and the graduates, with one exception, were dressed in deep black. The local papers in speaking of these solemn features merely re. marked that they were a little premature,

The Argus says the despatch which Mr. Deering received from a New York synd cate, making an offer for the Portland & Ogdensburg railroad, was sent to Capt. Deering. The fact is that the despatch was sent to Mr. Deering as Mayor of Portland, and its proper place is in the city archives. Why doesn't Mr. Deering put it there? Is he afraid that it may be investigated?

The Atlanta Constitution rejoices because Mr. Acthur has "passed in his chips" and retired, on the ground that his clothes fitted him too well. "We need," says the Demo cratic oracle "men in the executive chair who can afford to sit on the front steps of the White House with their coats off should they choose to do so." Unless that hungry hords soon diminishes President Cleveland will be seen with his coat off, but he won't be sitting on the front steps.

The Salt Lake Herald, the Mormon organ, refuses to quarrel with the President on account of his reference to polygamy and argues that it was forced from him by public reasons. The Heraid, however, "teels assured that the President's love for the Constitution and law will keep him from lending his sanction to any but lawful methods, and that is all the Mormon people have ever asked." Such blandishments come too late, for all the peonow they are being granted them in Utah at the disastrous expense of the Mormon

The Railroad Strike.

The southwestern railroad sirke is as suming large and, commercially considered, daugerous proportions. The lines directly affected are those of the Texas Pacific, the Missouri Pacific and the Wabash. These are the le ding roads of the great western and south western system controlled by Jav Gou'd and traverse the States of Obio, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri, Iowa, Kansas, Arkansas, Louisana and Texas. On these lines the mail alone is allowed to pass freely. On many sections of all the lines passenger trains are not allowed to pass while no freight trains have passed on any line since the strike began. The strikers have so far refrained from violence and have shown more than the customary respect for State authorities. While this indicates a desire on their part to accomplish their ends, without resorting to the harsher methods, it still cannot be denied that their action is almost criminal in embargoing the freight trains, thus greatly endangering the internal trade of the country. The sudden stoppage of freight must necessarily cause great losses. The damage that must ensue if the strike is prolonged, is almost incalculable. The gross earnings of these roads last year were about $26,000,000 and the number of passengers carried was more than 3,500,000. These figures will serve to give some idea of the extent of territory affected and the amount of property imperiled.

False and Malicious. The Argus asserts that the Republicans put in nomination a man known to be acceptable to the rum sellers. This is another of the cheap slanders by which the Argus expects to commend to temperance men its candidate who has nothing in his record to commend him. Without the requisite brass to recommend Mr. Deering directly to temperance men, it seeks to turn them away from Mr. Fogg by malicious falsehoods like the above. The Argus knows well enough that Mr. Fogg was nominated at the demand of nobody but the Republicans of Portland, Among the delegates who supported him in the mayoralty convention were such men as Francis Fessenden, William L. Alden, Stephen Berry, John F. Woodbury, William M. Marks, Wilbur F. Lunt, C. D. Brown, Charles McLaughlin, and Charles E. Jose. Does anybody suppose that any one of these men would listen for a moment to the demands of rumsellers? The fact is the rumseliers made up their minds long before the Republican convention to support the Democratic comince, because they knew that he was to be the Hon. John W. Deering, author of the famous 10 o'clock order. Two weeks ago, the Argus virtually admits, 289 out of the 300 rumsellers who infest the city voted for bim. These and the remaining eleven will undoubtedly vote for him on Monday. Virtually sure of the rum vote the Argus is now catering for the votes of temperance men by insinuations against Mr. Fogg. If the Argus would like to compare the temperance records of Mr. John H. Fogg and Mr. J hn W. Deering we are ready to accommodate it.

Mr. Fogr's Business Qualifications. The Argus wants the PRESS to give "one solitary business qualification" possessed by Mr. John H. Fogg. The PRESS will very cheerfully give a number. In the first place Mr. Fogg is an honest man with a clean record. That is one of the very fundamental qualifications of a business man. In the second place Mr. Fogg is a man of clear head and of sound and discriminating judgment. That is another fundamental quadification of a business man. In the third place Mr. Fogg always keeps his proms courteous in his treatment of all men. That is another qualification of a business business man. In the sixth place Mr. Fogg enjoys the confidence of all men with whom he has ever had dealings. That is another qualification of a business man. Here are six important qualifications, all of which Mr. Fogg possesses in an eminent degree. How many of these does the Hon. John W.

The Hon. John W. Deering as a Financier. One of the points made by the Hon. John W. Deering's "boomers" is that owing to the economy inspired by him while mayor and his great ability as a financier the taxes | the British orations issued a short time since were cut down to $20 on a $1,000. Like most | They contain the masterpleces of American of the other points made in his favor there is nothing in it. As a matter of fact Deering's administration spent more money voluntarity than either Mayor Senter's or Mayor Libby's, and the reduction of taxation which bappened under Mr. Deering was in spite of h m and not on account of him. Did taxes cover simply the expenditures within the control of the administration under which they are assessed, the rate of taxation under Mayor Senter and Mayor Libby would have been less than under Mayor Deering. It so happened, however, that under the latter the State and county taxes, over which the municipal administration has no control, were very much smaller than during the previous administration. It happened also that a very much smaller amount of notes fell due in Mr. Deering's administration than in Mr. Libby's. Furthermore it happened to be in the year Deering was mayor that the Grand St. Lawrence coupons. Had a block of wood occupied the Mayor's chair instead of the mighty man of business and of brass

It will be seen that the ordinary expenditures under Mr. Deering which were entirey within the control of his administration were $380,021.87, while the same class of expenditures under Mayor Libby were $348, 021.87 and under Mayor Senter $356,693.59. Thus it appears that it actually cost the city $32,000 more to run the government under the boasted economist and business man John W. Deering than it did under Mayor Libby, and $24,000 more than under Mayor Senter. 'The total ordinary and extraordinary expenditures under Deering including the Commercial street sewer, which by the way Mr. Deering badly bungled, were $401. 009.70, while under Mayor Libby they amounted to only $355,189.65, or $45,000 less than under Deering. If anybody can see any evidence of that great business sagacity which Mr. Deering's "boomers" claim for him in these facts and figures his vision must be fearfully distorted.

During Mr. Libby's administration the amount assessed for county and State purposes was $167,000 while during Mr. Deering's it was only $147,080. The business sagacity of the Hon. John Deering comes in in concealing this fact from the public when he goes round boasting that he reduced the taxes of the city. During Mayor Libby's administration notes became due and had to be paid to the amount of $228,000 while under Mr. Deering they amounted to only $174,000. Mr. Deering has business sagacity enough to to conceal this fact also. During Mr. Deering's administration the city received $149,-000 from the Grand Trunk in reimbursement for interest it had paid in previous years on Atlantic & St. Lawrence bonds, enough to pay the interest on the bonds that year, which had to be paid the year Mr. Libby was mayor out of the city treasury, and leave $102,000 which Mr. Deering could devote and a part of which at least he did devote to the payment or the running expenses of his administration. This fact also is carefully concealed by the Hon. John W.

Deering and his "boomers." The simple truth is this: John W. Deerng spent more money voluntarily during his administration than either of the two preceding mayors. The taxes had they been based entirely on his voluntary expenditures would have been higher than in either of the two preceding administrations. But the State and County taxes and the amount of notes coming due while he was mayor were much less than under Mayor Libby and the extraordinary receipts very much larger. And these reductions and receipts were so great that it was possible to somewhat reduce the rate of taxation in spite of Deerinc's extravagant voluntary ex-

American Political Ideas viewed from the standpoint of Universal History, (New York, Harper & Brothers; Portland Loring, Short & Harmon,) The little book under this attractive title, comprises three lectures delivered before the Royal Institution of Great Britain in 1880 by John Fiske. The first of these lectures is entitled "The Town Meetises. That is another qualification for a business man. In the fancth piece Ms. Form business man. In the fourth place Mr. Fogg a New England village with a village of old England. The others are entitled "The Federal Union" and "Manifest Destiny," man. In the fifth place he po-sesses energy In the former our author takes up the history and perseverance, both qualifications of a Athens which he declares rested upon political conditions which could not be enduring and then proceeds to consider the political condition of the Federal Union which he shows to rest upon more lasting foundations. In the last lecture he discusses the question of the manifest destiny of the Republic in his usual masterly manner; declaring his belief that the time will come, "when it will 'If or been "boomed" in the Argus as | be possible to speak of the United States as Representative American Orations, (New York & London G. P. Patnam's Sons; Portland Loring Short & Harmon,) These three small 16 mo. volumes contain a series of orations by noted Americans and are uniform with eloquence and cover a wide field, taking in Lincoln, Douglas, Seward, Toombs, Cox-Davis, Stevens, Schurz, Beecher, Sherman, Garfield, Clay, Hurd, Henry, Hamilton, Washington, Ames, Nicholas, Jefferson, Nott, Randolph, Quincy, Clay, Calhoun, Hayne, Webster, Phillips, Chase, Sumner, Brooks, Burlingame and Clingman. The noted speech of Hayne and Daniel Webster's reply are given in full and in themselves are worth the price of the volume which contalus them. The work is tastefully bound and printed, and edited in a creditable manby Alexander Johnston.

Personal Traits of British Authors, Edited by Edward T. Mason, (New York; Charles Scribner's Sons; Portland, Loring. Short and Harmon.) This work of which three volumes have been issued, is intensely interesting and affords the reader rare facilities for the study of character. The bad expended in payment of Atlantic and books are wholly made up of well selected quotations, without notes, which might unintentionally give the coloring of Mr. Mason's personal medium through which his subjects were viewed. Such a work, called from most extensive reading must cultivate a spirit of charity toward all, as we read of the same man, the heartiest commendation and admiration in one paragraph, and in the next, the severest criticism and ridicale. These sketches are from the pens of either acquaintances or contemporaries and have the spicy flavor of living speakers, who wish to impress you with the virtues or failings of their friends or rivals.

> In two volumes. By Maud Gillette Philips (New York, Harper Brothers; Portland Loring, Short and Harmon.) This manual is intended to be used as a text book in schools, as a guide to the general reader, and as a book of reference. The author has based the plan of her work upon modern historical methods. English literature is divided into ten ages, each of which is treated in connection with the contemporaneous literatures of France, Germany, Italy, Spain, and the United States. In the margin are noted the principal political, scientific and artistic events of the times. The underlying influences, domestic and foreign, which governed the development of our literature are thus clearly set before the student. Following the general survey of the literature of each age, Miss Phillips has given studies of its leading authors, with analysis of their principal works, and critical notes from acknowledged literary authorities. The list of books for collateral reading will be most useful to the home student. These volumes have everything that one could ask for in the way of indices, and there are charts of each age, showing at a glance the names of the principal authors, ruling powers, leading en, scientists and artists, in England. in the countries on the continent, and in the United States. It seems rather odd in the list of American authors, to find the names of Elihu-Burrett where that of Edgar Allen Poe is omitted. This is, of course, a slip, but the execution of the work shows signs of carelessness in more than one instance. However, there are no grave flaws in the fabric, and as a whole Miss Phillips's manual will be valuable. The volumes are unexceptionable in print and binding, and contain excellent portraits of Chancer, Spenser, Goldsmith and many more of the great English authors.

THE GREAT SKIN CURE. My wife had a most annoying cruption make its appearance on the fingers of both hands about the first of last March. Supposed it was ivy poison. Several physicians saw it, some diagnosing it as above, others pronouncing it sait rheum. A great many domestic remedies were used, with no effect. The disease steadily grew worse. The prescriptions of three of our very best physicians were tried, with but little better results. The terrible itching was so great as almost to deprive her of sleep. After two months of this suffering she began the use of the CUTIQUEA REMEDIES. What was the result? The first application of the CUTIQUEA allayed the itching, and now after four months' daily use of them her hands are sound and well. I doubt not if they had been employed at first a cure would have been effected in a short time.

POWERFUL MEDICINE

MISCRLLANEOUS.

This certifies that I have examined samples of Cleveland's and the Royal Baking Powders, purchased by myself of grocers in Burlington, and that I find CLEVELAND'S BAKING POWDER IS COMPOSED OF PURE AND HEALTHFUL MATERIALS, properly compounded; while the ROYAL CONTAINS AS AN ADULTERATION OR IMPURITY AN AMMONIA COMPOUND. The use of Ammonia compounds in such a preparation I regard as injurious, as they are powerful medicines and do not serve as food in any way. The Royal, contrary to the representation of its manufacturers, contains Tartrate of Lime.

I find, moreover, that Cleveland's Baking Powder is of considerably greater strength than the Royal, both samples being equally fresh.

At Liverpool there is a better feeling on apples and higher prices are looked for. Eggs remain about the same. Poultry is scarce and firm. Cabbages dull at $20 Pton. A FACT over 5000 years old. New bleod

A FACT that is only 5 years old. Mur-dock's Liquid Food will make blood faster than all foods or preparations known, in health or disease, from infancy to old age.

To show the medical profession its value, induced our Mr. A. L. Murdock to establish his Free Hospital of 70 beds, two years ago, for Infants and Women, and it is the only one in the world supported by a single individual, without contribution or taxation. Each department is under the control of a paid staff of some of the best physicians and surgeons in Boston. Beds are at the control of any physician and surgeon in the United States that wish one, and they can treat their own patient if desired. If not they have no treatment except Liquid Food, unless the patient grows worse or needs a surgical operation

The staff of the Surgical Hospital at No. 30 Leverett street is in attendance daily from 9 to 10 A. M. except Saturdays and Sundays.

We do this to show the value of raw food, which our liquid food is, condensed and free from insoluble matter, which enables us to save life when all other foods and treatments fail.

And when other foods are available, we

We quote one of the many cases now in our Surgical Hospital to show the close of

Genta:—
We have been using your Liquid Food at the Home for three years past, and we must say that your Liquid Food has saved one-half their lives. We have 32 children, and have lost only one during the time. What other institution can show such results? We consider it of great value in cases of exhaustion, also where children are brought in a half-hanstion, also where children are brought in a halfsults? We consider it of great value in cases of exhaustion, also where children are brought in a half-starved condition, as it relieves exhaustion quicker than stimulants, and in cases of starvation it will relieve the sufferer in the shortest time of anything known. I am able to testiff from experience, having been in this work nearly five years, and I consider it a duty to say that Murdock's Liquid Food is indispensable in a family of children.

GRATEFUL-COMFORTING. BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocca, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctor's bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame." - Civil Service Gazette."

Municipal Court.

FRIDAY-Judge Gould residered his decision the case against Thomas Burke, Mr. Munson's first case under the nursance process, which was con tiou d from March 12th. The Judge discharged Burke and read the following opinion:

Burke and read the following opinion:

This warrant was issued under the provisiors of section I, of chapter 17 of the Revised Statutes, which provides that "all places used as houses of ill-isms, or for the filegal sale or keeping of intoxicating liquors.

all houses, shops or places where intoxicating liquors are sold for tippling purposes, and all places of resort where intoxicating liquors are kept, sold, given away drawk or dispensed in any manner not provided by law, are c. mmon nuisances." The pensity, as provided in section 2, being a fine not exceeding St. '00 or imprisonment in jail tot exceeding one year.

In these matters it becomes the duty of the cours it the respondent is to be held to bail, to find two facts; 1. That the offence charged in the com-putation and warrant has been committed. 2. That there is a probable cause to believe that the respon-dent committed said offence. A learned writer says, "The holding of a nefendant to trial by a mag-istrate is not a decision that he is guirty, but only that on the p oscention's testimony there is probable cause that he should be tried."—Wharton on trim. Law, vo. 3, chap. 2.

Is reate is not a decision that he is guinty, but only that on the p oscoution's testimony there is probable cause that he should be tried."—Wharton on Crim. Law, vol. 3, chap. 2.

It can therefore be readily seen that the decision of a court is the trial of an offence beyond its jurisdic ion, can have no vitar influence on the final prosecution of the offence before the grand jury, where it must come for final decision, as to the finding of an indictment. It irequently happens that where persons are held to bah, by magistrates, the grand jury fair to find indictment 8; and on the other hand a very large propo tion of the indicaments are found upon matters when are no brought before magistrates, but were taken directly before the grand jury. In fact this has seen the customary method of phecounters, with the assent and approval of the judges of the various courts.

The object of issuing a warrant for an offence beyond the jurisdiction of a court is that the respondent may, if "probable causes" is found, be bed to bah, that it may be certain that he will be present to answer to any indictment which may be found sgainst him. As the same evidence must be used in the preliminary hearing that must be residuous to answer to any indictment, it must frequently work an injustice to the State by jermitting the respondent to know the hature of the evidence against him, and so putting him on his guard. The complaint in this case charges that Thomas Burke of Portland, in said county, on the 12th day of January, 1e85, and on divers other days and times between the 12th day of January atoresaid and the day of the maxing of this complaint, to wit the 11th day of March, 1885, at Portland aforesaid, then and on said other days and times there by him, the said Burke used for the illegal sale and illegal keeping on the rown of the statute in such case made and provided.

The leading case in this State upon this subject is State and common nutsance, to wit: a certain shop in Portland aforesaid, then and on said other days and times sens of said State, against the peace of said State and contrary to the form of the statuto in such case made and provided.

The leading case in this State upon this subject is State vs. Lang (63 Me., 215). In order to hold this respondent to ball, the court muss find that a certain shop was used for the illegal sale and keeping of intextenting liquors, and that there is probable cause to believe that the respondent Burke knowingly and wrifting kept and maintained said shop, so lifegally used. But facts must be proven or the case falls.

The omy evidence before the court, showing or tending to show the 'keeping' or 'maintaining' was that on cannary 12th, the time of the search and selzure, he was seen "two feet from the bar and apparently coming from behind it;" that "at that time there were eight or ten others in the room, some seaning against the bar, some against the wells; they all, including the respondent, left soon sher the officers entered." This being about one hasf the evidence produced at the trial of the search and seizure complaint, the balance not being officred at this tial. All the other evidence offered was that the respondent has been seen several times in and about the sh-p, each time with o hers, since said 12th de, of January.

No one would contend for a moment that the respondent could be found guilty on the above evidence. Is it sufficient to justify the court in finding 'probab c cause'? We believe not. It is to vayate and uncertain. The complaint must rail for wint of evidence. The respondent is found not guilty, and is ordered to be discovered.

FIRE AT SACCARAPPA.

The Westbrook Manufacturing Company's Mill Damaged.

The Head Machinist Badly Burned in an Explosion.

At seven o'clock last evening, the people of accarappa were startled by an alarm of fire, lames having been discovered bursting from the windows of the picking room in the mill of the Westbrook Manufacturing Company. With a keen sense of the loss resulting to their village in the destruction of the buildings of so important an industry, crowds of people were oon on the spot ready to assist in subduing the flames, and so well did they work that by eight o'clock the fire was under control. The loss from fire and water will somewhat excee $2,000, which is covered by insurance. The fire is suppssed to have been caused by sponts

During the course of the conflagration, Mr. George H. Winslow, head machinist, detected smell of escaping gas, and went in under the mill with a lantern to discover the location of the leak. The gas became ignited and an exlosion ensued. Mr. Winslow was severely ourned about the face and hands, and blown quite a distance. He was placed under the care of Dr. Burroughs, and at last accounts was getting along comfortably. A fireman from the engine room of the mill was with Mr. Winslow, and was also burned. He is a Frenchman named Boughie. His burns, however, are not considered very bad.

Mr. Fogg and the Business Men. The most conclusive answer to the Argus's nsinuations that Mr. Fogg, the Republican candidate, does not possess the confidence of the business men of Portland, is to be found in the following circular letter prepared by business men, and the signers of which will be ecognized as among the most prominent business men of Portland. While such men as these, and many others who would have gladly signed the letter had opportunity been given, are willing and anxious to entrust the management of city affairs to Mr. Fogg, no Republican business man certainly need be alarmed by any of the Argue's vaporings: PORTLAND, March 13, 1885.

Care for the Children

Children feel the debility of the changing seasons, even more than adults, and they become cross, peevish, and uncontrollable. The blood should be cleansed and the system invigorated by the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"Last Spring my two children were vacci-nated. Soon after, they broke all out with run-ning sores, so dreadful I thought I should lose
