Biographical Note

Dr. Walter E. Russell, born Fayette, Maine, August 6, 1869, died 1948, preacher and educator, was Principal of Gorham Normal School from 1906 to 1940. He graduated from Maine Wesleyan Seminary and attended Wesleyan University in Connecticut. He taught in New Britain, Connecticut for a year before coming to Gorham. Noting a lack of qualified high school and lower school teachers in Maine, he put emphasis during the 1930's on building up a source of qualified teachers for the state.

Description of the Papers

The Walter E. Russell Papers span the period 1874-1945, but the bulk of the material dates from the 1870s and 1880s. The papers consist of his writings on education and allied topics as well as his sermons. His concern with the need to create qualified teachers is a constant theme throughout his educational writings. His recording of the place and date of most of his sermons is of interest in that it clearly documents his favorite themes and venues.

There are a small number of printed items, mostly Maine teachers' associations programs, and a single photograph of 1928 Gorham Normal School Summer School at the end of the collection. Russell often used printed material as scrap paper. Thus forms usually found in the offices of education administrators of the time occur in these papers. The following is a list of those printed forms and what folder they can be found in:
