Paper Mailing Practices Key Issue in Strike

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — What is the key issue in the labor dispute that today sent the Minneapolis Star and Tribune into its 27th consecutive day without publication?

Both management and the three striking unions agree it lies in the huge mail room, through which 530,000 copies of the daily Star and Tribune and 670,000 copies of the Sunday Tribune are rushed to subscribers and newsstands.

Up to now, many of the papers going to carriers and dealers in smaller towns outside the Twin Cities have been wrapped in packages of varied sizes. Management contends this is a time-consuming process, outmoded in other large city dailies.

It wants to send papers out in standard-sized bundles, say 25 or 50 per bundle, which it says will result in faster and more economical handling.

Vergil March, vice president of the mailers, one of the three striking unions, agreed the proposed change in dispatching papers was a key issue, and called it "work transference."

The mailers contend that, in effect, this would be replacing some of their jobs with newsstand distributors and carrier boys.

Management says this is incorrect, that the proposed changes are not work transference, but simply would eliminate detailed bundling and addressing already made obsolete and unnecessary, as in other metropolitan mailing rooms.

Publisher Joyce Swan of the Star and Tribune says the newspapers have offered assurances to the mailers' union that no "present full-time mail room situation holders" will lose their jobs because of the proposed changes. He said certain jobs to be eliminated simply would not be filled when employees retired or resigned.

Swan says the number of papers moved through the Star and Tribune mail room per man-hour is the lowest among 28 large dailies surveyed.

Robert Ameln, international representative of the mailers, challenged the survey Swan referred to saying it was "both inaccurate and incomplete."

There also is a dispute over the way the Sunday Tribune is distributed. Now, many papers going outside the Twin Cities are dispatched in three sets of sections — one containing news, the others features, comics and magazine sections. Management wants to extend the plan to the Minneapolis-St. Paul metropolitan area. The mailers' union opposes this proposal.

Other unions — teamsters and printers — also are on strike, and many other issues are on the bargaining table. They include additional proposed changes in working methods, hospitalization, other fringe benefits, and the like.

But if this area's largest daily newspapers and the mailers' union agree on the extent to which management can decide how the papers should be packaged and distributed, there are those who feel agreement on other issues will not be long in coming.

"We've already advised them to expect it to achieve approximately the same orbit of 93 minutes. We know the frequency on which Oscar II will transmit—45 megacycles, so we'll try to pick up that signal at the place in the sky where we can expect it to be."

An Air Force spokesman said he could not say what kind of satellite would carry Oscar II aloft, but "Town's" preparations make it pretty obvious that the parent vehicle will be another Discoverer.

The Air Force has not identified a satellite as a Discoverer since Feb. 27, when Discoverer 38 went into orbit.

Since the world's radio hams, including several behind the Iron Curtain, will be tracking Oscar II, why is the Department of Defense insisting on secrecy?

"It's a good question," says Towns, who in his working hours is an engineer for Lockheed's Space Division. "I can't understand the restrictions, but we're certainly going to abide by them. The Air Force has approved everything we're doing."

Kennedy Will Push Parley Despite Turn

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—A potentially dangerous open split between the United States and West Germany clouded the outlook today for future U.S. talks with the Soviet Union on terms of a possible Berlin settlement.

U.S. officials said the Kennedy administration is fully determined to go ahead with the probing conversations. But there was some uncertainty as to just how fast Secretary of State Dean Rusk would be able to move. He is due to have another meeting with Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin in the next week or so.

President Kennedy was expected to discuss the situation at a mid-afternoon news conference, probably emphasizing his intention that the conversations be carried on in full consultation with West Germany and other directly interested countries.

Officials here said it was not possible to assess immediately the full impact of the open break between Adenauer and the Kennedy administration over the conduct of the U.S.-Soviet talks.

But any such rift in Allied ranks is always worrisome and potentially hazardous because of the possible impact on other Allied positions.

Washington officials said the situation was complicated further by an evident disagreement within the German government itself.

The line which Adenauer has taken in public discussion at Berlin this week was described by these officials as differing sharply from the line which Foreign Minister Gerhard Schroeder took in talks with Rusk at Athens as recently as last weekend.

Adenauer told a news conference Tuesday that "I see no ground for continuing the talks" between American and Soviet officials. He also asked at one point in the news conference: "Do you think there is no danger in continuing talks indefinitely without result?" The effect of his question was to suggest that he thinks it might prove dangerous to carry on the exploratory discussion indefinitely.

THE STATE Department, about the same time, reacted to comments which Adenauer had made earlier in Berlin when he assailed as unworkable a U.S. proposal for creation of an international authority to operate the supply lines between West Berlin and West Germany.

A department spokesman said: "Both the President and the secretary of state have repeatedly stated . . . that in view of the potentially dangerous nature of the Berlin problem and the personal sacrifices which the American people have been, and may yet be, called on to make in connection with the fulfillment of our commitment to West Berlin, it was incumbent on the United States government to explore the possibilities of reaching some measure of agreement with the Soviet Union on the Berlin problem."

ADENAUER had already made clear in diplomatic conversations that he objected strongly to the international authority proposal. His objection reportedly centered on a provision that the 13-member board would include representatives of East Berlin and East Germany as well as West Berlin and West Germany. The East German regime has already rejected the U.S. plan.

OSCAR II READY

Robot Radio to Hitch Ride on Big Satellite

By RALPH DIGHTON

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—A tiny robot radio named Oscar II is about to punch a hole in the curtain of secrecy drawn around military satellite launches.

The Air Force has authorized Oscar (short for orbiting satellite carrying amateur radio) to hitch a ride into orbit aboard a military satellite later this month.

Amateur radio operators around the world, including Russians, will track its signal as they did the signal of Oscar I launched from here last Dec. 12, in an effort to set up an amateur communications network for use in major emergencies.

To do this they will need to know the time when it was launched and how long it takes to circle the earth.

However, since the first of the year the Department of Defense has ordered a blackout of all information about the performance of military satellites. The launches are no longer open to newsmen. The Air Force announces only that a satellite has been launched.

It does not say what kind of satellite, the period of orbit, or even whether it went into orbit.

This will impose a real hardship on the hams trying to track Oscar II.

They were advised weeks in advance of the scheduled launching date of Oscar I, which rode piggyback aboard Discoverer 38, a Thor-Agena B combination rocket. The hour of launching and period of orbit—93 minutes—were carried on news wires.

Tracking Oscar I was so easy that more than 5,000 reports came in from hams around the world, including some in Moscow.

How are the hams going to locate and track Oscar II?

"We'll do it, all right," promises M. C. Towns of Sunnyvale, Calif., chairman of the Oscar Association. "We'll flash the time of launching over the international ham network."

"We've already advised them to expect it to achieve approximately the same orbit of 93 minutes. We know the frequency on which Oscar II will transmit—45 megacycles, so we'll try to pick up that signal at the place in the sky where we can expect it to be."

An Air Force spokesman said he could not say what kind of satellite would carry Oscar II aloft, but "Town's" preparations make it pretty obvious that the parent vehicle will be another Discoverer.

Centaur Blows Up in Flight

By HOWARD BENEDICT

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Radio signals and telescopic camera films were analyzed today by technicians seeking the cause of the in-flight explosion of the first Centaur high-energy space rocket.

The study was watched closely by Project Mercury officials for any clue which might force a delay of the orbital flight of astronaut Malcolm Scott Carpenter, scheduled for May 17.

The 105-foot Centaur blew apart 30,000 feet above the Atlantic Ocean 55 seconds after it was fired on its maiden flight Tuesday.

The spectacular failure dealt a severe blow to U.S. plans to develop the rocket as a booster for sending heavyweight payloads into earth orbit and to the moon, Mars and Venus.

Mercury officials were concerned lest the trouble be traced to the Centaur's Atlas first stage. There were indications that the Atlas was at fault.

A similar Atlas missile in on a launching pad here being prepared to lift Carpenter into space on a three-orbit mission similar to that made by Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr. on Feb. 20.

The Atlas is a complex vehicle with more than 300,000 moving parts. If the Centaur failure is traced to the Atlas system, then that part of Carpenter's booster would be checked thoroughly before a green light would be given to his space ride. Analysis of the data may take two or three days.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration had hoped for a successful first flight of the Centaur to help reduce nearly a year of frustrating delays in launching the rocket. The main problem stems from developing high-energy liquid hydrogen as a propellant for the second stage.

Controlling this tricky, super-cold fuel, which must be kept at a temperature of 423 degrees below zero to remain liquid, is the key to Centaur's exotic muscle.

Once harnessed, liquid hydrogen will produce 40 per cent greater thrust per pound of fuel than chemical fuels used on present rockets like the Atlas. Centaur's second stage has two hydrogen-driven engines with total thrust of 30,000 pounds—a potent kick when ignited in the vacuum of space.

When operation, hopefully in about two years, Centaur will be capable of lifting 8,500-pound satellites into earth orbit, landing 2,500 pounds on the moon or sending 1,500 pounds to the vicinity of Mars and Venus.

Space agency officials had cautioned that a failure might be expected during the early phases of the Centaur program.

X15 Skin Crackles in Speed Test

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—The metal skin of an X15 rocket plane crackled and popped under its highest temperatures yet—an estimated 1,200-1,250 degrees Fahrenheit, as it flew 3,511 miles an hour Tuesday.

The pilot, Air Force Maj. Bob Rushworth, said he thought the noises were caused by a combination of speed and high temperatures.

Goal of the test, officials said, was to find out how fast future space craft can return into the earth's atmosphere without burning up because of air friction.

The flight was made at a relatively low altitude, 72,000 feet. In previous tests, the X15 has been flown 4,093 m.p.h. and to 246,700 feet, both world records.

Kennedy Slate Wins in Florida

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Former Sen. Claude Pepper of Florida and Robert Taft Jr., son of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, won decisive primary election victories Tuesday in their bids for Congress.

Two other Florida candidates, Sen. George Smathers and Rep. Dante Fascell, also won Democratic renomination. Like Pepper, who was a staunch New Deal supporter in the '30s and '40s, they had strongly endorsed President Kennedy's program and had received the President's blessing.

RESULTS of the voting in five states included:

OHIO—Sen. Frank J. Lausche and Gov. Michael V. DiSalle won Democratic renomination. A man named Kennedy—real estate man Richard D. Kennedy—led a field of 11 Democratic candidates to see who will oppose Taft in the November race for congressman-at-large.

INDIANA — All 11 incumbent congressmen were renominated.

WEST VIRGINIA—All six incumbent congressmen were renominated.

NEW MEXICO—Two Democratic state legislators were locked in a battle for the right to oppose Republican Gov. Edwin Mechem's bid for a fifth term; two Democratic congressmen were renominated.

The Florida primary drew the most interest.

Sen. Smathers had little trouble in disposing of Roger L. Davis of Fort Lauderdale and Douglas R. Voorhees of Miami in his bid for a third term.

Fascell had a hard campaign with conservative State Sen. David Eldredge but came out on top. The Miami congressman has been Kennedy's most consistent supporter among the Florida delegation.

Although the improvement was normal for the season, Goldberg said the decline—and a simultaneous rise in employment to an April record—was an encouraging sign of continued business expansion.

The unemployment rate remained at 5.5 per cent of the civilian labor force, the same as in March as against the 6.9 per cent of a year earlier.

The rate is based on seasonal adjustments, and remained unchanged this month because the drop was expected.

The number of long-term unemployed — those out of work 15 weeks or longer—was unchanged at 1.5 million, Goldberg said.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Unemployment dropped by 430,000 in April and went below the four-million figure for the first time this year, Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg announced today.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force announced Tuesday it is planning soil test borings looking for possible new launch sites for the Minuteman intercontinental ballistic missile in the vicinity of Lowry Air Force Base, Denver, Colo., and near Schilling AFB, Kan.

Four wings of the advanced Minuteman, totaling 600 of solid fuel missiles, will be located at bases being built near Ellsworth Air Force Base, S.D., Minot Air Force Base, N.D., and Whiteman Air Force Base, Mo.

Senate Nears Key Test on Voter Literacy

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — After two weeks of debate the Senate reaches a key test today on legislation proposed by the Kennedy administration to prevent racial discrimination in voter literacy tests.

The vote will come on whether to invoke the Senate's antifilibuster rule and clamp a tight time limit on debate.

Southern foes of the bill seemed confident that the move to put the rule into effect, requiring a two-thirds majority of senators voting, would fail.

The showdown will come automatically one hour after the start of the Senate session. A vote will be taken on a debate-limitation petition filed Monday by Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and 29 other senators.

If the petition falls short of the required two-thirds majority, but nonetheless musters majority support, Mansfield "another parliamentary procedure will be used to get an immediate expression of sentiment on the bill."

Mansfield said he will move to table—and thus kill—the bill even though he favors its passage. A tabling motion is not debatable, and Mansfield said he will vote against it and will take other votes against tabling as showing support of the bill.

If the vote against tabling approaches a two-thirds majority, he said, he will continue to keep the bill before the Senate for a brief time and then make a second attempt to shut off debate.

Should a second effort to invoke the Senate's antifilibuster rule fail, Mansfield said the literacy bill then will be dropped for this session.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army's July draft quota will be 5,000 men—the smallest call since the beginning of partial mobilization last summer. The largest was 25,000 in September.

The July quota, the Defense Department announced Tuesday, will maintain the authorized Army strength of 960,000 by offsetting the release of reservists and National Guardsmen who will be leaving active duty.

Like Man Eating Potato Chips

NEW YORK (AP)—Some New York advertising men held a banquet the other day for some Oklahoma grubworms and found out the worms have pretty noisy table manners.

The hosts couldn't have been more delighted. That's just what they were hoping for.

If this sounds peculiar, it is. It's even more peculiar how hard it is to find a grubworm to invite to dinner.

Five calls were made to zoos and other institutions in New York City, none of which had any white grubworms or knew where to get them.

More calls went to California and Texas, and finally one to Dr. D. E. Howell, head of the Department of Entomology at Oklahoma State University, Stillwater.

There ensued much correspondence with state and federal agencies, but at last the worms arrived in New York with a note from

Howell saying: "These bugs have quite a bite, so handle them discreetly."

The grubworms were placed in a box containing young corn plants. A microphone was lowered to the box.

The ad men struck pay dirt. The grubworms grabbed the corn. What did they sound like eating corn roots?

"They sounded like a man eating potato chips," said an ad man.

NASON ON EDUCATION

Few Uneducated Men in Industry

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed.D.
Professor of Education,
University of Southern California

The Horatio Alger-type hero who rose through hard work and self-education to riches and power existed in fiction and, occasionally, in fact.

Today, the simple fact is that at least a high school diploma is needed for advancement. On a thing right now focuses particular attention upon the need for schooling beyond the 8th grade. This is automation.

It is forcing more education—and it is forcing adults who missed out the first time around to go back to school for further training.

Take 30-year-old Ben Martin. He dropped out of high school before graduation.

He was married and had two sons. He worked for a large automobile body shop. He was intelligent and friendly. He was respected for his skill in the trade.

When his company planned to open another shop in a nearby town, Ben's foreman told him he was being considered for an assistant foreman's position.

But the foreman said, "Get your high school diploma. The boss won't promote you without it."

Ben looked up a former teacher for advice. These are the steps he followed:

1—He called the office of the Superintendent of Schools and asked to be referred to the person in charge of Adult High School classes.

2—He asked the principal of the evening high school for an appointment with a counselor, even though it was still two months before a new semester would begin.

(This advance appointment is important to adults who must know what the demands on their time will be. Registration day is too hectic for much individual counseling. People who just wander in often register in the wrong courses.)

3—Ben obtained a copy of his high school records previous to the appointment.

4—After talking with the counselor Ben knew exactly the courses he needed to get his diploma. Credit for work-connected training left less to be completed than he had expected. The program set up between Ben and the counselor made registration a simple task.

5—During the two months before he started back to school, Ben read textbooks and reference books to get background for the history course he was to take. He practiced reading purposefully. He insisted that his mind gather information as he read. He recited back to himself at the end of each page or two.

6—He prepared for each course and was ready to start listening and understanding when his first class opened.

Four evenings a week for one semester proved sufficient to complete the requirements. He succeeded because he had done two basic things—he had thought ahead and he had prepared.

Ben's diploma got him the new job, and his new attitude toward learning helped him succeed.

Ben Martin followed through on good advice. His planned program made it possible for his wife and sons to help him achieve his goal. Family cooperation is almost an essential for an adult to return to school with confidence and determination.

If you want to cook fresh asparagus in a skillet, be sure to pare the stalks up to the buds; use a swivel-blade vegetable peeler for the paring job.

Many Union Members Fail to Vote

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Labor strategists have come up with an embarrassing statistic: union members outnumber professionals and business executives 2-1 but each group exercises about equal voting power in national elections.

Politically conscious delegates to the United Auto Workers Union convention got this information before they acted to support a drive to add 20 to 30 liberal House members to Congress in the fall elections. President Kennedy made it plain he counts on UAW support for Democrats.

President Walter Reuther and other major UAW officers were due to be elected by the convention today to new two-year terms. His slate included a Negro for the first time, Nelson (Jack) Edwards of Detroit, candidate for the UAW Executive Board.

It was Reuther's brother, Roy, head of the UAW Political Action Department, who brought out the worker-executive voting standoff.

He told the convention the 1960 voting and census figures show union members made up 37 per cent of the voting population but represented only 25 per cent of the votes cast. Executives and professionals making up 18 percent of the eligible vote cast 26 per cent of the ballots.

Roy Reuther is heading a $1-million drive by the AFL-CIO's 130 affiliated unions to get many thousands more workers registered and voting in this fall's congressional polling. He said one out of three Americans of voting age fail to exercise their ballots.

The UAW voted overwhelming approval to an all-out political action resolution Tuesday after hearing Kennedy make a major address. The President remarked that after speaking to the U.S. Chamber of Commerce and to American Medical Association executives he had begun to wonder how he ever got elected.

"Now I remember," Kennedy said upon hearing the UAW's roaring reception.

Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg strongly indicated in a convention speech that the administration would not tolerate strikes in current labor negotiations by the UAW and Machinists' Unions with key aircraft and missile manufacturers.

Public Schools Support Plan Of Microwave

Endorsement of an application by Mississippi Valley Microwave Co., Winona, for permission to construct a point-to-point microwave transmission service from Minneapolis to Winona and La Crosse has been expressed by Superintendent of Schools A. L. Nelson in a letter to the Federal Communications Commission in Washington, D.C.

Nelson advised the FCC that the Winona public schools are interested in inauguration of the service to provide better reception of Twin Cities educational television Channel 2 broadcasts which are used for instruction in public schools classrooms, Channel 2 and 11 telecasts would be carried to Winona and La Crosse.

THE LETTER was sent by the superintendent after La Crosse television station WKBT, Channel 8, filed a petition with the commission for denial of the microwave company's petition.

Nelson informed the commission that the public schools here have contracted with Mississippi Valley Microwave for KCTA-TV programs received in seven of the schools in Winona for Spanish and science instruction, adding, "In order to have a reliable signal we will need the facilities of the microwave company."

He said the public schools are interested only in receiving the educational channel telecasts and "are paying a relatively modest fee . . . for this service. If we were to pay our share of the actual cost for bringing this service to us our fee would be $700 a month which is not financially feasible for us. It is therefore necessary for the microwave company to include a commercial channel along with the educational channel in order to make the project possible financially."

NELSON asked that if the FCC designates the matter for hearing it should be held in the near future so that the school system can make plans for its instructional program by the opening of school next September. About 1,000 children are involved.

"WE BELIEVE that the possibilities in educational television are almost limitless," the superintendent said, "and we feel that the Federal Communications Commission should, in the public interest, do all they can to encourage schools to make use of existing facilities. It would seem to us, therefore, that the petition (by the La Crosse station) should be denied."

Rochester station KROC-TV, Channel 10, also has petitioned for denial of the microwave application. Both commercial stations argue that allowing their audiences to see additional outside programming will divide their audiences and cause them "economic injury."

WKBT, in its protest, said it didn't object to microwave transmission of only educational programs and would withdraw its protest if the application were to be amended to exclude carrying Channel 11.

Contract OKed For Post Office

Rep. Albert H. Quie announced today a contract has been awarded to U. S. Investment Corp., Milwaukee, to build and lease to the Post Office Department the building that will house Winona's new post office.

The department's capital investment is limited substantially to postal equipment while the building remains under private ownership. The owner will pay local real estate taxes.

CONSTRUCTION at the Central Park site is expected to begin soon and will be completed in about 10 months.

The U. S. General Services Administration has declared the present post office building at West 4th and Main streets as excess. The building will be available for other purposes. The GSA will first notify governmental agencies of the availability of the old building and these agencies will have the first opportunity to use the building. If they don't use the building, or make arrangements for such use, the building will be offered to the public.

The new post office site in Central Park covers 66,000 square feet—the north 220 feet of the park. This will leave 80 feet of the park inside the sidewalk on the south (West Broadway) side.

THE NEW ONE-STORY post office will be 140 by 176 feet. The inside will contain 28,427 square feet. Another area of 25,925 square feet will be used for parking and movement of postal vehicles.

U. S. Investment Corp. was low bidder last August. The firm's original annual rental bid was $35,660, including the cost of the land at the government's appraised price of $33,800. The rental was increased by about $5,620 annually because the city of Winona and the government agreed last month on an $80,000 price for the site. Thus the annual rental for the basic 20-year term will be an estimated $41,280. There will be slightly lower annual rentals for a 10-year renewal and for four five-year renewal options.

Iver Colve, 22, Nelson, was sentenced to 50 and costs for stealing tractor and log chains belonging to Town of Dover. He was placed on probation for a year with the state Department of Public Welfare and ordered to pay fine and costs within six months. He was arrested April 24 by Sheriff Glen Davis.

Gus Hall Claims Wisconsin Has 400 Communists

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The head of the Communist Party in the United States says that the party's position has "improved" so much in Wisconsin that he wants local Communists to set up a state office in Milwaukee.

Gus Hall, general secretary of the Communist Party of America, told an official headquarters, "I think it will be a good addition to the community to have a public Communist office."

Hall said that of the 10,000 Communists he estimated to be in the United States, 400 of them live in Wisconsin. But he would name only one: "Fred Bassett Blair is the No. 1 spokesman of the party here."

Blair, former chairman of the party in Wisconsin, met with Hall Tuesday.

Hall said that the party now has offices in New York, Chicago, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Seattle and Philadelphia, and asserted that "we have enough support already to open up a self-supporting office in Milwaukee. I'm sure the funds will come."

"Milwaukee and Wisconsin are great untapped reservoirs. The Communist Party could easily triple its size here."

Charge Against Woman Dismissed

The charge of selling beer to minors against Mrs. Martha Golish, Winona Rt. 1, was dismissed for lack of evidence following a trial before Goodview Justice Lewis Albert.

She was charged with selling beer to two juveniles at the Hilltop Tavern on Stockton Hill April 6.

One of the juveniles involved in the incident testified that he had bought the beer from a man, not a woman. Mrs. Golish did not testify.

State Urges Commissioners To OK Patrol

The Winona County Board of Commissioners was urged Tuesday afternoon to establish a sheriff's river patrol by Milton W. Johnson, director, boat and water safety division, State Department of Conservation; Goodhue County Sheriff Paul M. Zillgitt, Red Wing, and William A. Galewski, a member of the legislative committee of the Winona Rod and Gun Club.

The commissioners gave no indication they intended to reverse their rejection April 3 of a proposal to buy an 18-foot jet-propelled boat for Winona County Sheriff George L. Fort, with most of the cost paid by a $3,429 private fund raised by the Winona Daily News and KWNO.

The commissioners did indicate Tuesday they intended to have the sheriff start the patrol with a 14-foot boat equipped with a 12-horsepower outboard motor, equipment they have already bought for him but which he has not used.

Zillgitt told the county board that if counties did not enforce water safety, the state would step in and do this. Zillgitt said counties did not want assumption of this power by the state.

Galewski said his club had gone on record in favor of a river patrol. He said the patrol was needed because reckless operation of boats had created unsafe traffic conditions on the river.

The county has received $2,847.92 from the state for a boat and water safety enforcement fund. The commissioners have not spent this money. Johnson said if they did not use the money for water safety enforcement, the state might stop further water safety enforcement aid to the county.

After he left the meeting Johnson said the state might even ask the county to return the $2,847.92 if the fund isn't used. The money comes from boat license fees and from the state gasoline tax.

Jury Awards Woman $14,000 For Highway Land

Mrs. Margaret Leach Tuesday afternoon was awarded $14,000 for property owned by her at Dresbach and taken by the Minnesota Department of Highways for the construction of Highway 61 there.

The award was made by a District Court jury which had heard testimony in the trial of Mrs. Leach's appeal from a previous award by commissioners in the highway land condemnation proceedings.

Commissioners had appraised damages at $9,000 and Mrs. Leach held that they should be at least $20,000. The land, including house, has a 210-foot frontage.

During the trial, which began Monday, Mrs. Leach was represented by Daniel Foley, Wabasha, the state by a special assistant attorney general, A. Paul Faraci, St. Paul. Judge Leo F. Murphy presided.

The case went to the jury at 3:30 p.m. after the last three witnesses for the state had testified. The jury returned its verdict at 4:10 p.m. Mrs. Harold England, 4325 6th St., Goodview, was foreman.

Appraisers for the state who testified Tuesday afternoon were Tom Wheeler, a La Crosse realtor, who said that in his opinion Mrs. Leach was entitled to $9,500 as the fair and reasonable market value of the land and house taken from her; and two of the commissioners in the land condemnation proceedings, C. P. Crawford, Winona, and Paul Kieffer, Altura, each of whom gave a $9,000 appraisal.

The jury has been excused until Monday when Judge Arnold Hatfield, Rochester, will be here to try cases assigned to him. Judge Murphy will be in Rochester on court matters.

Plea Changed in Bad Check Cases

Arnold E. Bartelson, 33, Rushford, Minn., changed his plea to guilty before Municipal Judge S. D. J. Bruski on two bad check charges.

He previously had pleaded not guilty when he was arraigned May 2.

Judge Bruski told Bartelson that he should receive a jail sentence since he has had an extensive record in passing bad checks. However, on the advice of Richard Darby, assistant county attorney, he reduced the sentence to pay a $50 fine or serve 16 days in the county jail on each of the charges. Bartelson paid the fine.

It Happened Last Night Edie Adams May Hit Big Dough

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Edie Adams may hit the Big Dough. The beautiful blonde widow of Ernie Kovacs needs the $ and it surely looks like she's got some—quite a lot—coming.

Which she'll earn herself. Edie's already told her friend Sid Caesar that she's withdrawing from the shoal of gals who are in fierce competition to play "Belle Poitrine." Sid's wife, in the coming Feuer & Martin show, "Little Me."

"The money places" in Las Vegas, and the movies, and TV would pay her much better than Broadway. "Besides," confessed Edie to Sid, "I don't think I could afford to bring all the troops in from Hollywood to New York."

(The "troops" being her kids.) Edie plans to write a book while doing the movie, "Mad, Mad, Mad, World" in Palm Springs—and she's certainly got the material for one.

We watched the Jayne Mansfield-Mickey Hargitay "bust-up" developing for several months and here's the explanation: Jayne thought Mickey was her equal only muscularly. Mickey privately forecast the break himself here just before their disappearance in the Bahamas. Mickey moaned to a friend in New York: "What can I do?" Jane keeps calling me a square! Mickey tried hard to make himself as hip and boujee as Jayne, but all these curves didn't go together with her conviction that he was square. The split would have happened earlier but for the big Bahamas incident.

BOBBY'S a special American product. A Southern woman and a man from Honolulu were among those raving about him. While a Britisher with a watch job kept saying, "Fahntastic! He has no voice at all!"

He was delightful working with Negro impressionist George Kirby who at one point told his pianist: "Integration is here to stay. You play those black keys as well as you do the white keys!"

Pat O'Brien was in Toots Shor's saying how amazing it is that his son Terry's studying diplomacy in Madrid considering that as a boy he wrote a paper on careful driving which said: "Drive carefully. Don't hit a child. Wait for a teacher."

Ramon Novarro, whose show "Inlaid Caesar" failed to open, said at the Forum he'll stay in N. Y. and look for another role.

Rubbing Elbows With Heaven

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—If cleanliness is next to godliness, most people this time of year are rubbing elbows with heaven.

Now is the time when housewives at home and bosses in the office go on their annual spring tidying up spree.

I hate this seasonal emotional binge because it threatens the lifetime of considered disorder I have piled up on my desk—my empire of disarray.

One by one the messengers of order—from buck rattle to vice president—ride up with the query: "Everybody else has cleaned up his desk, so why can't you? Aren't you getting tired of playing the role of an indoor Huck Finn?"

The answer is a firm "No!"

The urge to a uniform office cleanliness is just one more form of hysteria in a mad world, a succumbing to universal brainwashing and the fear of being found out to be different.

Any coward can clean off his desk and make it look as anonymous as everybody else's desk. But it takes courage to give your desk the stamp of your identity.

My theory is this: don't feel like everybody else—or anybody else. Why shouldn't, therefore, my desk share this liberty? Why should it be a shining zero, undistinguishable from the rows of gleaming desks around it?

A desk that is always neat is like a person who always has his hair combed—clean but suspiciously unhuman. What emptiness of dream is all that polished perfection hiding?

A face and a desk—so runs my reasoning—both should reflect a personality and show a lived-in look.

Naturally this attitude ends up by making a man an unwilling rebel. If you enjoy having a desk that looks like a quarter section of a city dump, you have to fight the forces of office order to keep it that way.

I don't have a sign saying "Think!" on the wall behind me. I have signs saying, "Don't throw it away" and "Beware of creeping cleanliness."

My favorite office hero is the late Kansas editor, William Allen White, whose famous roltop desk was perhaps the most disorderly in the history of American journalism. White's theory was that when a pile of mail became too high and toppled to the floor it was time to pick it up, open the envelopes—and then respond to the letters that really required an answer.

This simple labor-saving device enabled the justly renowned editor to conserve his energy, live to a ripe old age, and write the obituaries or biographies of many of his neater contemporaries.

The trouble with devoting a lifetime to the creation of a truly memorable desk is that when you come to make out your will you have a problem. Who can you leave it to?

Jobs Require New Abilities

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Maybe most of us are going to have to learn new tricks the way jobs are changing.

That, anyway, is the idea of the man steering the federal government's latest drive to aid the hardcore unemployed. Retraining also is being stepped up on two other levels, by local or area projects and by individual corporations and unions.

The federal government, starting July 1, will put $500 million into the job to be spread over three years. Some 8,000 unemployed in depressed localities are already being retrained by the Area Development Agency of the Department of Commerce.

And next week in Dallas, Tex., the American Society of Training Directors of Madison, Wis., will consider ways of retraining automation's refugees. It will consider the plight of both managers and workers faced with new and often bewildering electronic machines. Subjects range from automation mastery to teaching machines. Much of the work eventually will be done by the corporations or industries affected.

In Scranton, Pa., Seymour L. Wolfbein, deputy assistant secretary of the Department of Labor, charged with retraining the unemployed, has studied the possibilities of utilizing home studies as well as group or classroom meetings. He says the new Manpower Training and Development Act lets the government sign contracts with all kinds of educational facilities—correspondence schools, private institutions, the public schools, a union which is running a training program.

And employed workers are also included in many retraining movements. John Villaume, president of International Correspondence Schools, estimates that more than a million workers are now taking job-related studies at home. Together with their employers or their unions they are investing more than $100 million a year in the race to master the new techniques before these sweep over them and leave them stranded.

Retraining is aimed both at older workers with obsolescent skills and youngsters with little or no skill at all. Wolfbein hopes to convince the older worker that he has an equal chance.

Corporate and union programs tend to aid both those now laid off and those still employed but needed for more skilled work. The federal program is aimed more specifically at those out of a job or about to be.

County Board OKs Jobs; Sets 65 Retirement Age

Patterson Quarries, St. Charles, Minn., and Fred Fakler, Sugar Loaf, received respective contracts of $20,410 and $23,767.50 Tuesday from the Winona County Board of Commissioners to provide crushed rock for the county highway system.

Each contractor will work on part of the project. Fakler had been the only bidder to bid on the complete project. His total bid was $45,670 to supply 24,000 cubic yards of crushed rock.

THE BOARD accepted a $45,955.77 bid from H. J. Dunn Blacktop Surfacing Co. to provide bituminous material for the county highway system. Dunn was the only bidder and the commissioners considered his price fair.

William H. Ziegler Co., Inc., Mankato, Minn., received an $18,800 contract to provide a Caterpillar motor grader without snowplow and wing. This is a net price including $2,681 trade-in of the county's old caterpillar motor grader. The county will use its old snowplow and wing with the new motor grader.

The board did not accept the lowest bid for a motor grader.

Arkansaw Voters OK Legal Fees

ARKANSAW, Wis. (Special) — Voters of Waterville Union Free High School at a special meeting Monday night authorized the board to employ legal assistance in the amount of $1,000 to $3,000 to pay for the referendum May 23 and possible Circuit Court action. The district is trying to over-ride an order by the state superintendent of public instruction attaching Waterville Town schools to Durand and Unified District. The vote was 191-28.

George Lorge, Bear Creek, Wis., has been retained to represent Union Free High School District. Durand district's attorney is Pepin County Judge-elect John Bartholomew.

Petition for a referendum and a Circuit Court appeal opposing consolidation have been filed against the state superintendent's order of March 29.

Sixteen voting precincts will be open for the referendum. Residents of Durand, by law, will vote as one entity, and electors of all rural areas, both Durand and Arkansaw districts, will vote as another. If either entity disapproves, the order of the state superintendent for consolidation effective July 1 will be voided.

If Waterville Town loses the election, plans are to proceed with the court appeal.

Accident Driver Facing Charge

Damage to each was estimated at more than $50, police estimated.

Parking Meter Fine Paid After Trial in Court

Gary C. Hatch, 19, 169 W. Howard St., was found guilty on a parking meter violation following a trial before Municipal Judge S. D. J. Bruski today.

He was arrested by police on a warrant at 9:30 a.m. April 27 and pleaded not guilty when he was arraigned in municipal court April 30.

Mrs. Ruby Gavin, Winona meter maid, testified that she had issued the ticket to Hatch's car. She said the writing on the ticket was hers.

SHE TOLD the court that she could not remember all the cars she tagged during a day's activity, but she was sure the time and place on the ticket were accurate. The incident occurred about 3:30 p.m. on West 3rd Street between Johnson and Main streets.

It was her policy, she testified, to always make sure the meter was not jammed before issuing a ticket. She said she was sure the meter in front of Hatch's car was not jammed.

In cross examination, Hatch asked Mrs. Gavin whether she could remember checking both sides of the meter. She said she had looked only at the side away from the vision of a person sitting in the car. She explained that the red violation sign could be seen from either side, but the face of the meter was closest to the buildings on the street — the side she normally would observe by walking her sidewalk beat.

SGT. GEORGE McGuire, court officer, told the court that he had issued a notice to Hatch warning him to pay the fine. He also said that Hatch had sent in a letter protesting the fine. Finally, after a warrant had been served on Hatch, he appeared at headquarters still protesting the violation.

William F. Vogel, 15, 229 W. Broadway, testified for Hatch. He said he had accompanied Hatch the day he was tagged. He testified that a coin or some foreign object was stuck in the meter, that it would not function.

Hatch took the stand himself and testified that when he was not able to get another coin into the slot, he went into a pool hall near there to get a piece of paper and scotch tape. He said that he had printed an out-of-order sign on the paper and taped it to the meter.

IN ANSWER to questions by Roger P. Brosnahan, assistant city attorney, Hatch admitted he had not looked for the meter maid, that he did not check with police and that he allowed nearly a month to go by before appearing at headquarters — then on a warrant.

Brosnahan also recalled Mrs. Gavin to the stand and asked her specific questions regarding her policy in checking out a routine violation.

Judge Bruski sentenced Hatch to pay a $5 fine or serve two days in city jail. He paid the fine.

Wabasha County Board Holds Over Condemnation

WABASHA, Minn. (Special)—Wabasha County commissioners, meeting in adjourned session Tuesday, continued to their next regular meeting June 5 the matter of condemning land in Highland Township for County Highway 86.

The parcels are owned by Pat Weil and Mrs. Catherine Judge. Commissioners recommended that Wabasha City Council accept the lowest responsible bid for a bridge and road over the slough to the west side of the city.

Consequently, the City Council in special session Tuesday night awarded the contract to G. H. Griffith Construction Co., Caledonia, for $50,896.97, low of seven bidders. Leonard Sankstone, city engineer, and B. J. Pinsonneault, county engineer, attended the meeting.

$100 Fine Paid For Drunk Driving

Gerald M. Wallen, 54, 164 1/2 Walnut St., pleaded guilty to Municipal Judge S. D. J. Bruski today to a charge of drunken driving.

He was arrested by sheriff's deputies at 12:15 a.m. Tuesday on West 5th Street.

Judge Bruski sentenced him to pay a $100 fine or serve 60 days in the county jail. He paid the fine.

Our Hospitals - Centers of Service

THIS IS NATIONAL Hospital Week and with the opening of Winona's magnificent new Community Memorial Hospital only a few weeks off, perhaps it is time to pause for a moment's reflection.

Most of us have had a personal acquaintance with hospitals—either as a patient or as a visitor when a member of the family or a friend was confined.

But we often forget that these stately structures—as our new hospital surely will be—are more than buildings. They are havens of hope where gentle hands and soft voices combine with knowledge and science to bring life into the world, to preserve it and to encourage it. And despite all the automation and technology progress, the hospital is still one place where we know we will receive personal attention.

CERTAINLY SCIENCE and technology play a large role in today's hospital, with its cobalt bombs, X-ray machines, electrocardiographs and antibiotics, but they are useless without the doctors, nurses, technicians and other human beings.

In fact, community hospitals have more than two employes for every single patient they admit, and 50 percent are directly concerned with the professional care of patients.

Scientific progress during the last century has produced unparalleled medical care. Each medical advance has meant better and better care, but this scientific treatment has not—and cannot—replace the very necessary personal attention and care of human beings.

IN SOME CASES, the scientific advance has actually meant that more persons are needed to provide the care—at least more highly trained technicians.

Additionally, patients have specific needs that can be met only by watchful human beings. Machines cannot replace the nurse who notes an alteration in a patient's coloring.

Our new hospital will be a marvel of efficiency, thus bolstering the confidence and morale of patient and visitors alike.

It will be a center of service, helping patients to solve personal problems that sometimes follow hospitalization; offering physical and mental rehabilitation programs and looking to the patients' spiritual needs by arranging for regular and frequent visits of members of the clergy.

FORTUNATELY, the human factor still remains a major one in the provision of hospital care—a factor which medical science will never replace.

'People's Capitalism' Makes Outstanding Strides

"PEOPLE'S capitalism" in the United States has made astounding strides in the past 15 years.

How far we have traveled in that time is shown by a handful of figures from the Commerce Department in Washington.

The most striking statistic is the new record level of family income—an average of $7,020 last year.

Pundits predicted that the $7,000 mark would be reached in 1961. The Commerce Department now finds that it actually did so. What this means in terms of living standards for 58.6 million families and single persons is easy to envision.

LET'S LOOK first at the lowest income group—those receiving less than $2,000 a year. In 1947, one-fourth of our nation's families were in that category. Their proportion has been cut to less than half. Only 12 percent of American families were in the less-than-$2,000 income bracket last year.

The highest level of family income—$10,000 a year or more—grew even faster. Only five percent enjoyed this level in 1947. The number more than tripled to 17 percent last year.

The conclusion is obvious. America's poorest families are rapidly bettering their condition, while those who are well off are becoming even better off.

THE MIDDLE class—respected and self-respecting—is the backbone of every free nation. Economically, Americans are fast becoming a nation of families with middle-class incomes. The average of $7,020 a year would be wealth untold in the rest of the world.

What To Do With Old Light Poles

A FORMER RED WINGITE now living in Galesville, Wis., has come up with a suggestion for city aldermen here who have been wondering what to do with Red Wing's old street light poles when they are replaced by modern standards and fixtures sometime this summer.

When Galesville installed new lights three years ago, our friend writes, the community sold its old light standards to people who wanted them for yard lights around their cottages along the river. And Galesville, he adds, didn't have enough old light poles to take care of the demand.

MIGHT RED WING find the same response here? Or does anybody have some other suggestions?—Red Wing Republican Eagle

How Do You Stand, Sir?

'Rather Red Than Dead?'

By SEN. BARRY GOLDWATER

The Liberal Papers present an interesting picture of decent Americans. They were published as an outgrowth of efforts by a group of House Democrats to get the United States "back on the road to peace and freedom."

Authors David Riesman and Michael Macocoby claim in the opening essay of the book that "... as the cold war continues, it becomes increasingly difficult for decent Americans, humane enough to prefer peace to an egocentric national honor, to be outspokenly and genuinely anti-Communist."

I suggest this is a new way to say "rather Red than dead." I suggest that it is the hard core of liberal weakness in the grave ideological struggle we are engaged in today with world communism.

What decent Americans, it may be asked, are finding it more difficult to be outspokenly and genuinely anti-Communist as the cold war progresses?

Are they the Americans who picket for a unilateral American ban on nuclear testing? Are they the professed pacifists and collaborationists who want us to dump all our weapons into the Atlantic Ocean? Are they the apostles of appeasement who believe that the only way to wage the cold war is through making concessions to the Communists?

IN MY EXTENSIVE travels throughout the United States, I come in contact with a great many decent Americans. And I can detect no reluctance on their part to be "outspokenly and genuinely anti-Communist."

Indeed, just the reverse is true. It is, I believe, self-evident that more decent Americans are aroused today against the Godless forces of Communist tyranny than ever before in our history. There is a great and growing distrust of everything communism stands for. There is an ever-expanding realization that the Communist menace is not something that can be appeased. There is greater awareness than ever before of the adding evil of Communist collectivism and regimentation.

IF WE ADOPT this statement of The Liberal Papers, we've got to convince ourselves somehow that the American people have decided the Communists are not our enemies, that they now believe Khrushchev doesn't intend to bury us, that they have forgotten all the realities of Communist slavery.

And when authors Riesman and Macocoby suggest that the Americans who find it difficult to be anti-Communist are "humane enough to prefer peace to an egocentric national honor," they are suggesting, in effect, that there is an easy way to insure peace.

They seem to forget that decent Americans demand more than mere peace; they want peace with honor. The idea that they prefer peace at any price to national honor is preposterous. It supposes that Americans favor a policy of appeasement of communism. And it suggests that Americans generally believe there is a way to live with an ideology of fanaticism in peace and harmony without losing any of their freedom.

IN ANOTHER passage, these authors of The Liberal Papers seem to suggest that the only alternative to nuclear war is to think in terms of appeasement. As they put it, "... the Americans can indeed enjoy the ease with which Englishmen discuss alternatives to nuclear war, ranging from unilateral disarmament to diplomatic maneuvers aimed at easing particular points of tension in the cold war, whether in China or Germany."

Perhaps the sponsors of The Liberal Papers envy this tendency on the part of Englishmen. But I doubt if the majority of Americans share the feeling.

How do you stand, sir?

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Kennedy Flies Into Hot Bed of Rightism

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—When President Kennedy flew to New Orleans last week to help re-electable Cong. Hale Boggs he flew right into one of the hottest right-wing hotbeds in the nation.

The right wing in New Orleans illustrates one point in the "Pearson study of how to combat communism"—namely, confusion. It's a recognized principle that confusion helps communism. Nevertheless, the right-wing leaders of Louisiana have become past masters at the technique of spreading political confusion.

They not only mix up the political issues but they mix up the political personalities; so that anyone strictly following their line might conclude that John the Baptist was a Communist and Joe Stalin a right-winger.

From spreading this confusion, furthermore, they manage to make a lot of money. Chief critics of Cong. Hale Boggs in New Orleans are Kent and Phoebe Courtney. Kent Courtney is a 230-pound former commercial airline pilot who apparently acquired his political knowledge out in the wide blue yonder and who on occasion has been too extreme even for some of his fellow Birchites. The only person further to the right in New Orleans is his wife.

The Courtneys have established a new political party, the Conservative Society of America, which collected around $130,000 from other ardent right-wingers in 1960 and around $175,000 last year. Its platform confuses the voter by mixing domestic problems with anti-communism and puts the infernal stamp of pro-communism of liberals. Opposition to the right-to-work laws and to the ending of farm price supports; for instance, is lumped in with "dangerous" liberal-socialism.

ONE COURTNEY gimmick is "the CSA voting index" which sells for $4 and asks in lurid red letters on its cover, "how soft on communism is your congressman?" The confused reader gets the impression that anyone who votes the "liberal-socialist" line is "soft on communism."

The "CSA voting index," for instance, makes the amazing conclusion that elder statesman Francis Walter of Pennsylvania, chairman of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, who has spent years fighting communism, has a 100 percent liberal-socialist voting record which according to Courtney standards makes him soft on communism.

Speaker John McCormack of Boston, who in the 1930's headed the first committee to investigate communism, is also branded by the Courtneys as having a 100 percent liberal-socialist voting record.

The Courtneys add more confusion by claiming that GOP Cong. Walter Judd, who was once a prisoner of the Chinese Communists, votes the soft-on-communism line 74 percent of the time.

Even Cong. Charlie Halleck of Indiana, hard-boiled, conservative leader of House Republicans, may be a dangerous Red according to Courtney standards, for he voted the liberal-socialist line 68 percent of the time.

OTHER congressional leaders who are smeared with varying degrees of being soft on communism by the Courtney index include John Rooney of New York, a pillar of the Catholic church in Brooklyn, who is branded as 100 percent soft; the venerable Clarence Cannon of Missouri, 88 percent; and Phil Landrum of Georgia, co-author of the anti-labor Landrum-Griffin bill, 87 percent—all Democrats.

Cong. William Miller of New York, the Republican national chairman, is listed as voting soft on communism 33 percent of the time, while former President Eisenhower is branded an appeaser.

"In 1952," the Courtneys accuse, "Dwight D. Eisenhower promised to root out Communist infiltration in the government and put an end to big federal spending. Two years later, President Eisenhower began to advocate 'soft-on-communism' policies and to promote big spending and appeasement bills."

The Courtneys are among the most vociferous backers of retired Gen. Edwin Walker. "Just wait till he tastes blood and the little old ladies start pawing him," exclaimed Mrs. Courtney, licking her chops in anticipation.

BUT THIS was before last week's Texas primary. Doubtless, the low esteem in which Texans hold Gen. Walker as indicated by his very poor showing in the race for governor is disappointing to the Courtneys, and it looks as if their efforts to defeat popular Cong. Hale Boggs will be a bitter disappointment too.

Note—Opposing Boggs are a young right-winger named Stuart McCleendon and a super-market operator, John Svegmán, who buys a lot of space in the newspapers. However, as one experienced Louisiana politician put it, "they add up to a lot of noise in a barrel."

Bobby Kennedy's wiretapping bill is due for some surprise help from old-fashioned liberals, among them Francis Biddle who was Roosevelt's attorney general, and Ferdinand Pecora, former New York state Supreme Court justice who staged the famed investigation of Wall Street in the early days of the New Deal.

It's the belief of Biddle and Pecora that illegal wiretapping has become so prevalent that it's better to have a law making it legal for federal agencies within certain limits, than crack down hard on those who violate the law.

THIS WRITER'S telephone has been tapped by so many people and agencies that I sell commercials on it. Like a smoky fireplace, a deaf mother-in-law, or a pair of crutches, I have become accustomed to it. I am not at all sure that were a new law passed setting up criminal penalties for wiretapping I would get the benefit of it. The law would not be enforced any more than it is today.

Wiretapping today is like prohibition—in reverse. There was all sorts of bootlegging in the old days and it was generally ignored. Now they want to make bootlegged wiretapping legal.

HOME VISITOR

BARDSTOWN, Ky. (AP)—The composer of "My Old Kentucky Home," Stephen Foster, was a native of Pittsburgh, Pa.

Foster was visiting a relative in Bardstown when he wrote the song in 1852. He composed the song in the spring house and later went into the home to jot it down.

To Your Good Health

After Breast Surgery

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Almost three years ago I had a breast removed. I have been X-rayed several times and the doctor says everything is clear.

My arm is still swollen, and around the shoulder, and the breast bones are so stiff that I suffer at times. I have taken so many pain pills that my stomach is ruined. What can be done to relieve this tightness and hurting?—MRS. H. S.

This sort of condition can, indeed, occur after extensive breast surgery. The lymphatic glands in the armpit are disturbed. Scar tissue forms and causes the arm to swell.

In addition, this same condition tends to act as a sort of natural "splint" on the shoulder, making it painful and stiff.

PHYSIOTHERAPY can help appreciably. I mean a combination of things, not a single procedure.

Massage; assisted motion of the joint; heat; a long sleeve on the arm; appropriate exercise—all of these or some of them can help.

The process, I admit, is tedious, but it is frequently successful.

A "rehabilitation institute" or some similar facility in your community will provide this kind of therapy.

Dear Dr. Molner: I've read about venereal diseases and wonder if it is possible to have one of them without knowing it.

Previous to marriage I had several affairs but so far as I know never contracted any disease. Once I was treated for a slight discharge but the treatment was just douching with a solution.

I had the usual blood test for marriage and it was negative, and in six years I have had two healthy children.

I've been considering another blood test. I have had no symptoms except a guilty conscience.—Mrs. K. X.

Undoubtedly you had blood tests for your two pregnancies as well as before marriage, and had disease been present, it would have been found, so forget it. The only advice I have for a nagging conscience is to let the past stay behind you, and put all your thoughts on the present and future.

Dear Dr. Molner: We are two girls, both going to turn 16 shortly. We haven't started to menstruate. All our friends had started by 14. Is this normal for us not to have started? We're afraid to go to the doctor and embarrassed to discuss it with our mothers and friends.—J. and K.

The average is around 13 or 14, of course, but there's a difference between average and normal.

Various factors should be considered: Nutrition, nutrition, emotions, climate, glandular factors. In tropical climates the age is earlier than in temperate and colder ones. The age range extends from about 10 to 17.

There's no reason why you can't mention this to your mothers. Yes, I know, you "don't know how to say it." More than likely your mothers are quite aware of it, but they "don't know how to talk about it either. So just break the ice: Say, "Mother, I haven't begun to menstruate yet. Should I see the doctor?"

Your doctor, in turn, may be able to detect a glandular factor (if any), such as your thyroid, anemia, or some nutritional disturbance. If you are generally healthy, he'll doubtless say, "Let's wait a little longer," but you'll have put yourselves at ease as to how you are physically.

Dear Dr. Molner: The joints in my knees make a crackling noise. Exercises don't seem to help.—D.G.

The main reasons: Some decrease in the small amount of fluid normally present in the joint; thinning of the cartilage; or changes in the ends of the bones, usually due to arthritic changes. No, exercising won't affect any of these factors.

NOTE TO E.L.: Paget's disease (of the bone) isn't common and sometimes is discovered quite accidentally by X-rays for other purposes. True, there isn't much to do about it except take such measures as are needed to alleviate pain if it exists. Change of climate cannot be expected to help in any way.

Letters to The Editor

King-Anderson Bill Would Boost Taxes Sharply

To the Editor: The most significant domestic issue confronting the American people today is the adoption or rejection of a federal government-controlled program of compulsory health care for the aged. Similar schemes were before Congress in 1948, 1950 and again in 1960, but each time they were blocked by an upsurge of public protest. The proponents of these proposals can lose and come back again. The American people can lose but once. The real issue is not health care for the aged—which everyone agrees the elderly should receive. The issue is how this health care can best be provided—whether the program should be voluntary or compulsory.

The King-Anderson bill would establish a compulsory plan for everyone covered by Social Security—regardless of need. This means its benefits would be available indiscriminately to millions of the well-to-do and wealthy. The working people would be compelled to pay the bill through a substantial increase in payroll taxes. (Thirty-four percent of Minnesota's aged are not receiving Social Security benefits. Many of these, although, among the most needy, would not be eligible for one single benefit under the King bill.)

One of the amazing features of the King bill is that a wage-earner making $5,200 a year would pay as much toward the compulsory medical care proposal as a man earning $100,000! Thousands of workers who don't earn enough to pay federal income tax would still be forced to pay this increased payroll tax. In fact, the King bill calls for a double increase on payroll taxes—a tax increase of one-fourth of one percent for employees and employers alike, three-eighths of one percent for the self-employed. . . plus an increase in the tax base from $4,800 to $5,200.

In plain language, this means that in 1963 when the tax for King-Anderson would first be deducted from our paychecks, we would be paying 40 percent more tax than we paid in 1961. By 1963, assuming there would be no further increases in Social Security tax—a worker earning $4,200 would pay 76 percent more taxes than he paid in 1961.

In other words, this bill will tax the wage earner to provide care for millions who can and are, taking care of themselves.

Please, let's help those who need help—and let those who can, and are, taking care of Henry J. Williams, 65 W. Broadway

Opposes Field House, Swimming Pool

To the Editor:

It has come to my attention that there is some sentiment present in our St. Charles community which favors the building of a field house and swimming pool in our city at a cost of about $400,000.

I think we voters should be aware that our present school system is already overcrowded, necessitating the rental of classrooms in other quarters. It seems to me that it is clearly a matter of misjudgment to provide for the incidental aspects of education before the fundamentals.

The incumbent members of our school board have experience and foresight. They do not favor the swimming pool-field house project.

Carl Fischer, St. Charles, Minn.

May Day Camping
May days bring forth the park campers regardless of the chill in the air. Lyle Fryer, Rochester, is shown with his son Scott in this early morning scene in Merrick State Park. On the menu are buckwheat pancakes.

It was test out day also for a new stove and a supply cabin built during the winter. Sleeping in sleeping bags was lots of fun, according to Scott. Lyle fished for walleyes over the weekend.

Wisconsin Hunting
That the Wisconsin Conservation Department has a pretty good idea of the thinking of Wisconsin sportsmen, and that sportsmen have a lot of confidence in the reasoning of their department, was revealed in the county tabulation of results of voting at the county meetings held April 23. Here are the results as announced by the department:

The State Conservation Department said commission proposals for next fall's hunting seasons in Wisconsin received unanimous backing at county fish and game hearings conducted April 23.

Only the proposal for an early bear season in certain portions of the north received opposition. On the bear question, 36 counties voted in opposition and 33 favored the plan. The county vote favoring a two-day antlerless deer season in the south was 29 to 22 with 20 counties not voting.

Among items given approval were: A two-day antlerless deer season south of Highway 60 and the Wisconsin River with a spike buck season for the remainder of the state.

Concurrent opening dates on ducks and geese except in Dodge and Fond du Lac counties. Concurrent opening hours for waterfowl and upland game. A closed quail season. A state-wide bear hunt.

Most counties favor present limited motor trolling regulations. A total of 43 voted in favor of current rules, which limit motor trolling to Green Lake, Lake Winnebago, Lakes Michigan and Superior and boundary waters. Twenty-three counties voted for a change.

The commission made no recommendations on the issue but has indicated that sentiment in the county hearings would be used as a guide in establishing this season's motor trolling rules.

Litterbugs
Last weekend while doing some casting from shore on the Wisconsin side of the river we noticed several spots where a case of beer cans had been thrown along the shore, and several large dead dogfish and carp.

Probably the fishermen who did these things did not realize that if a Wisconsin conservation warden came along, they would have been arrested under the litterbug law. The cans should be taken home and the dead dogfish buried. The fine for the offense is a minimum of $25. The following item that came to our desk today over the Associated Press wire from Wausau tells what can happen:

Thomas A. Johnson, 20, was fined $55 in Marathon County Court Monday after a conservation warden caught him and several others breaking bottles on Rib Lake Beach Saturday.

Johnson and two others were ordered earlier Monday to pick up the litter—eight boxes of broken glass, beer cans and other debris.

Badger Doctors Pledge Care to Needy Patients

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Wisconsin physicians have pledged never to refuse medical care to any of their patients who need it no matter what action is taken on federal proposals for health services to the aged.

The action was taken late Tuesday at the annual meeting of the House of Delegates of the State Medical Society of Wisconsin. The delegates said it was taken to clarify the attitude of Wisconsin's doctors toward a statement by 250 New Jersey physicians that they would not abide by provisions of such federal legislation.

The resolution stating the Wisconsin position was passed unanimously by the House of Delegates, the governing body of the society.

It stated: "To the best of our knowledge the New Jersey physicians have not in fact intimated that they would refuse to render medical aid, but only that they would refuse to complete the reports or accept the payments authorized under the proposed King-Anderson bill."

"At no time, under any circumstances, will we as physicians refuse to render medical care to any of our patients who need it solely because of the mechanism of payments for such services."

The society added that the action in no way lessens its criticism of the King-Anderson type legisla-

Profits Increase At Mabel Store

MABEL, Minn. (Special) — The first quarter financial statement of the Mabel Village liquor store for 1962, as released by Clerk Kenneth C. Herzog, reveals a considerable increase in profits.

The gross profit for the first quarter was $11,686, compared with $37,154 for all of last year. Operating expenses for the first three months of 1962 were $4,781, as compared with $16,836 for the entire 12 months of 1961. The net profit for January, February and March of 1962 was $6,905.40 as compared with $20,218.29 for all of 1961.

The action which sets up care for the aged under Social Security. It adopted another resolution reaffirming this stand.

The delegates also: Promised support of a proposed highway safety center at the University of Wisconsin.

Advocated use of seat belts in automobiles by all physicians and the general public.

Urged physicians to participate in sports injury prevention and control programs.

Urged colleges and universities to provide more extensive health education to students preparing for careers in teaching.

Expressed the view that the health insurance plan of its division, Wisconsin Physicians Service, was better designed to meet the needs of state residents over 65 than the proposed national plan of surgical, medical-nursing home benefits.

The meeting, which continues through today, has drawn more than 1,500 physicians.

Bob Hope Will Receive Gold Medal From U.S.A.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Banking and Currency Committee, usually concerned with matters involving big money, laid aside such affairs Tuesday to give swift approval for a gold medal for comedian Bob Hope "in the name of the people of the United States of America."

Chairman Brent Spence, D-Ky., interrupted a hearing on export controls to listen to Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., who is piloting the gold-medal resolution through Congress. It already has been passed unanimously in the Senate.

Swallowing 57 Goldfish Perks Up Ticket Sales

By day's end, Don Ross had swallowed 24, Gary Oswald had downed 14, Ed Morris had consumed 14 and Bob Bogucki had gulped 5. Bogucki said he would have swallowed more but had to get to a class.

HE STATED that there are three local brokerage firms in Winona that can work up any type of program, or a competent finance person can assist in selecting the type of investment program best suited to your needs and ability to buy.

He said that he felt it would be wise to stay away from any companies that are subject to government control, such as railroads, airlines, and recently, steels. He stated that many institutions that have huge funds will stay away from these fields also, and this will be felt on the stock market, so that there is "little to win and everything to lose in these companies."

The marriage of Miss Nancy Kay Alfaro, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Morphew, 411 Franklin St., to James J. Smokey, son of Mrs. Agnes Smokey, 318 Carimona St., took place April 28 at 10 a.m. in St. Stanislaus Catholic Church. White and yellow snapdragons were used at the altar where the Rev. Robert Kulas, assistant pastor, took their vows.

Boy Scouts Open Madison PTA

Members of Boy Scout troop 5 presented the colors and lead the pledge of allegiance to the flag to open the Madison School PTA meeting Monday. Boy Scouts taking part in the ceremony were Steve Bachler, Tom Tindal, Jack Hemming and Robert Linden.

Dr. A. W. Sturges, president of city PTA council installed officers for the year as follows: president, David Wayne; vice president, Richard Alf; secretary, Mrs. Severt Tindal; and treasurer, Gordon Ness.

Miss Grace McLeod, third grade teacher, who will retire at the close of the year, was presented a gift.

"The Parent's Responsibility in the Education Process," was presented by Miss Ruth Kottschade, first grade teacher, and Dr. M.O. Wedul, Winona State College. Miss Kottschade, stressed the fact that schools need the help of interested parents. They should show interest and pleasure in the accomplishment of their children. This enthusiasm must continue through all the years of their schooling.

Miss Kottschade spoke of the importance of the reading program. She urged parents to make each family a reading family. Parents should surround children with the right kinds of books and guide them in choosing books related to their interests. Even in the summer it is important that a child do some reading everyday. In closing Miss Kottschade stated that parents should have faith in the teachers and the school. Dr. Wedul said he had found

Galesville Prom Theme 'Blue Hawaii'

Junior class advisers assisting in general arrangements are Mrs. Sally Schendel, Miss Fern Rasmussen and Dennis Raarup.

the greatest problem in the upper grades is the lack of interest of the parents. Parents interest in school should be for what is best for the child and not for the honor of the parent. It is important for a child to know that his parents and teachers have a good relationship. Dr. Wedul suggested that parents take the initiative in getting acquainted with teachers informally and not always to talk shop. Dr. Wedul suggested that parents give practical use to children's learning by letting them become involved in simple home problems. A social hour and coffee followed the meeting. Mrs. Ernest Yeske, Mrs. Clarence Krenz, and morning kindergarten mothers, Mrs. Oscar Horner and Mrs. Philip Newman, were in charge of refreshments.

Minnesota Miracle

1952 Presidential Primary Recalled

By ADOLPH JOHNSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

Ten years ago at this time politicians over the nation were still talking about the "Minnesota miracle."

They were talking about the Minnesota presidential primary election conducted on March 18, 1952.

As the day for voting approached there was no reason to expect anything especially interesting or newsworthy.

Harold Stassen was opposed for the state's Republican delegates by Edward C. Slettedahl, who described himself as a stand-in for Sen. Robert Taft.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey was the favorite-son candidate on the Democratic side. He had no opposition.

A few days before the election the Minnesota Supreme Court had removed what appeared to be the last possibility for fireworks when it ruled that the name of Douglas MacArthur could not be put on the Republican ballot against his will.

It appeared then that Stassen would capture the Republican delegates and Humphrey the Democratic delegates.

Then, a few days before the election a group of Republicans got busy on the telephone, soliciting votes for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, then allied commander in Paris.

Gen. Eisenhower had been mentioned as a possibility but had up to that point given no indication he was at all interested in getting into politics.

The results of the telephone write-in campaign are now history. In the statewide vote Eisenhower got 108,692 write-in votes to 129,076 for Stassen. Eisenhower actually carried two districts, the 3rd and the 5th, and thus won the national convention delegates to which they were entitled. The rest went to Stassen, but eventually wound up at the convention in the Eisenhower column.

The vote was literally heard

6 Killed in Tanker Crash

LIMESTONE, Maine (AP)—An Air Force KC135 jet tanker plane carrying six men crashed and burned on takeoff early today at Loring Air Force Base.

Air Force public information officers reported all six bodies were recovered. The tanker normally carries a four-man crew.

The fire started by the crash was reported under control.

round the world. Eisenhower later acknowledged that the unexpected show of strength in Minnesota had played a major part in helping persuade him to get into the race for the presidency.

One of the big questions among Minnesota politicians in both parties and from all parts of the state continues to be: Will Congressman Walter Judd run again.

He currently is taking another look at his announcement of several weeks ago that he would not seek re-election.

Two things currently encourage Republican leaders hopeful he will be a candidate again: First, the very fact he was willing to reconsider; and second, the length of time he is taking.

They reason that the longer he takes to make his decision the more likely it will be favorable.

Stockholders OK Penn-N.Y. Central Union

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads turned their efforts today to persuading the federal government that their proposed merger, endorsed by stockholders of the two huge lines, was in the public interest.

The merger plan highballed through simultaneous annual meetings of the railroads Tuesday, the Pennsylvania's in Philadelphia and the Central's in Albany, N.Y. The endorsement was overwhelming.

The proposal next goes to the Interstate Commerce Commission where it is expected to face a stern test. Rail officials predicted ICC hearings beginning in mid-summer with approval of the merger by the end of next year.

The Transport Workers Union, which claims 30,000 members employed by the two lines, said in New York City the proposed "monopoly merger jeopardizes our national safety" and "threatens wholesale slaughter of railroad jobs."

If the merger goes through, the combined system—to be called the Pennsylvania New York Central Transportation Co.—would have assets of about $5 billion, 20,000 miles of rail routes, and 120,000 employees.

The merger is the largest ever proposed. The Pennsylvania has greater assets than any other U.S. railroad. The Central ranks third, behind Southern Pacific.

The roads expect savings of more than $75 million a year to result from their union.

Last year, the Pennsylvania had a net profit of $3.5 million on an investment of $2.9 billion. The Central reported a net loss in 1961 of $12.5 million.

Under the merger plan, Central stockholders would receive 1.3 shares in the new company for each share of Central stock they hold. Pennsylvania stock will be exchanged on a one-for-one basis.

'Funny Thing' Big Hit on Opening Night

By WILLIAM GLOVER
Associated Press Drama Critic

NEW YORK (AP)—"A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum" really is.

Laughter, rowdy and ribald, rocks through the musical that slambanged its way into the Broadway amusement lists Tuesday night at the Alvin Theater.

Zero Mostel highlights the rough-house hilarity about a smartaleck slave in ancient Rome conniving his way to freedom.

Burt Shevelove and Larry Gelbart have compounded the gag-and-slapstick mixture of the plays of Plautus, a boisterous bard who mocked the Latin life in the 3rd century, B.C.

Stephen Sondheim has turned out music and lyrics that neatly enhance the tongue-in-cheek merriment.

Director George Abbott runs proceedings with a copious clangor of sight gags to augment the absurd plot substance.

In addition to Mostel, a maestro of behemoth buffoonery, the comic corps includes David Burns, Jack Gilford, John Carradine and Raymond Walburn.

The musical assignments are handled in fine style by Ruth Kobart, Presley Marker, Brian Davies and Ronald Holgate. Standout opening night numbers included "Free," "Lovely," "Everybody Ought to Have a Maid" and "That Dirty Old Man."

"A funny thing" may not be art, but it jumps with mirth.

Batter Hits Julie Nixon

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—Julie Nixon has a bump on her head—and no wonder.

The former vice president's daughter was bonked on the head with a baseball bat Tuesday.

She is home, under a doctor's care, recovering. The doctor says Julie, 14, was watching a softball game Tuesday at a private school where she is in the ninth grade.

A pitch came in wide of the plate and the girl at bat scooted over to swing at it. She missed the ball. But she hit Julie.

Julie's mother, Pat Nixon, took her to a doctor and then home.

Hong Kong Returning China Refugees

By FORREST EDWARDS

HONG KONG (AP)—Hong Kong police and British troops have rounded up thousands of refugees from hunger-ridden Red China in recent days and returned them to their Communist homeland.

Overcrowded Hong Kong doesn't have room for them. Other non-Communist nations won't take them.

Some had endured almost incredible hardships in their futile flight by land over rough terrain or by sea crammed below the decks of smuggler junks.

Border patrols caught many as they hid in the underbrush-covered hills on the Hong Kong side of the border.

Others were trapped aboard junks or picked up on side roads as they tried to make their way to the crowded cities of Hong Kong and Kowloon.

They were gathered at a police camp in the closed border area, fed, given some food to carry, and then returned to border crossing stations in police vans and trucks. Their fate, after their forced return to Red China, is unknown.

Government officials refuse to say how many illegal immigrants have been returned. The conservative English-language Morning Post, quoting sources close to the police, said several thousand had been forcibly returned to China in the last week.

Residents said they saw 20 or more truckloads of men, women and children hauled to the border every afternoon.

Since 1949, the year the Chinese Communists mounted their final drive to seize control of the mainland, more than a million refugees have crossed the China border into this tiny British colony.

Most of them—and their children born since then—are still here. No other nation has been willing to accept them in significant numbers.

Tight Security For Kennedy's Milwaukee Visit

MILWAUKEE (AP)—There will be ample opportunity for the public to greet President Kennedy during his weekend visit to Milwaukee—but at a safe distance.

Tight security regulations underline every phase of the itinerary mapped out for the Chief Executive, including the high point of his brief stay—his speech at the $100 a plate Jefferson-Jackson dinner at the Milwaukee Arena Saturday night. They will be in effect until his plane leaves Sunday, perhaps after the President attends Mass here.

HUNDREDS OF police officers and deputy sheriffs will be on duty. But, as always, the Secret Service has the chief responsibility for protecting the President. Local law enforcement agencies are working with the SS.

Milwaukee Police Inspector Raymond Dahl said that a special detail of 50 police officers will be with the presidential party throughout Saturday, from his arrival at Gen. Billy Mitchell Field at 4 p.m. until he goes to bed at night. Auxiliary police will be used to guard the nine-mile motorcade route, supplementing regular officers from the four precinct districts through which the parade will travel.

When the President arrives Saturday, his big jet will be parked at the north ramp area of the airport terminal building. The public will be allowed to advance as far as an 800-foot fence.

From the airport Mr. Kennedy will tour 9.4 miles of Milwaukee streets in his bubble-top parade car to the Schroeder Hotel where an entire floor has been set aside for his party.

The dinner is scheduled for 6:30 p.m. with 2,390 places available. Another 6,000 spectators' tickets for the President's address also are on sale at $5 apiece.

State Tax Commissioner John A. Gronouski said the cost of the food at the dinner would be subject to Wisconsin's new 3 percent sales tax, but the tax would not apply to the whole $100 price. The actual cost of the roast sirloin dinner is estimated at $4.75 a plate.

DEAR ABBY:

Youth Asks About Her Bank Account

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My boy friend and I are making plans to marry. Do you think it is proper for him to ask how much money I have in the bank? I did ask him what his financial situation was, and he claims he has a right to know mine, too. He says we should combine all our money into one account. I worked hard for 22 years (I am 40 and he is 42) and I feel that what I saved should not be divulged. If it were needed I would be glad to share it, but he is the type who would buy a new car every year, as he spends money faster than he makes it. Am I wrong in my thinking?

Abby

DEAR CONFUSED: Your boy friend appears too eager to "combine" your money with his. And you appear properly unwilling to do so. This is a rather shaky foundation on which to build a marriage that should last forever. Don't marry a man with whom you are reluctant to share everything.

DEAR ABBY: Recently my daughter got a corsage made of DOG biscuits! She thought it was very funny and wore it to the dance. What on earth is this world coming to.

DISGUSTED MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: I'll bite! I don't know what it's coming to, but apparently it is going to the dogs!

DEAR ABBY: I read with amusement the letter from "EX-OTHER-WOMAN," who said if girls got together and compared notes they would learn that two-timing husbands all tell the same story.

Boys get together, too, you know, and the stories told to them by two-timing wives are not very different from their own. "My husband is cold and unaffectionate and he doesn't understand me" is a line many frustrated women use. It's pretty corny, but it still works!

School Principal Killed in Collision

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A collision in Jefferson County Tuesday night claimed one life, raising Wisconsin's 1952 traffic toll to 238, compared with 259 one year ago.

William Hornburg, 40, principal of the Union Grove School, was killed Tuesday night in a head-on collision six miles west of Fort Atkinson on Highway 12. Three persons were hospitalized.

Barn Burns At Paynesville

PAYNESVILLE, Minn. (AP)—Damage was estimated at $35,000 Tuesday after fire destroyed a barn housing 15,000 young birds on the Paynesville Turkey Industry Farm 1 1/2 miles west of here.

Firemen prevented the flames from spreading to nearby buildings housing 50,000 other young turkeys.

Cargill Termed 'Price Cutter' In Salt Trade

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The head of a salt company under indictment for price-rigging testified Tuesday the industry was upset by the threat of Cargill, Inc., Minneapolis, to lay salt pricing policies before the Federal Trade Commission.

Charles F. Moore, president of the Diamond Crystal Salt Co., St. Clair, Mich., testified that Cargill had become known in the industry as a "price cutter."

Moore said Cargill's threat to submit the price policies of Morton and International Salt Co. to the FTC resulted in a meeting at which Cargill was asked to halt its price cutting.

"We were all upset about it," Moore said, testifying as a government witness.

Osseo High Names 12 Honor Students

OSSEO, Wis.—Honor students have been selected at Osseo High School.

Elen Wik, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wik, is valedictorian and Michael Kaas, son of Mrs. Evelyn Kaas, is salutatorian.

Also among the 12 honor students are Charles Anderson, Mary Ann Bjorke, Judi Briggs, Judy Deinhammer, Harvey Gunderson, Nancy Henning, Barbara Nyen, Loraine Porter, Richard Rathjen and Linda Thompson.

Moore said Cargill was a distributor for Diamond Crystal Salt Co., but set its own prices for resale of the product.

Diamond Crystal, Morton and International are charged in a federal indictment with conspiring to rig bids and divide up the rock-salt market. Cargill is listed as a co-conspirator but not a defendant.

White Geese Join Up With Peace Corps

WASHINGTON (AP)—Those 25 white geese that joined the Peace Corps are honking happily on St. Lucia Island and raising families.

This was the report today to Peace Corps headquarters, which keeps tabs on its volunteers around the world.

The geese arrived last January in St. Lucia, a small island of the West Indies. They were the "I want to do something to help" gift of farmer Harold Weisberg of Hyattstown, Md.

In no time at all the big China geese pitched right in to do their share of the agricultural assistance program started by 16 youths of the Peace Corps.

The geese arrived in January and adjusted themselves quite easily to their new surroundings," reported Merlin Skretvedt of Gary, Minn., the Peace Corps volunteer in charge of the geese division on St. Lucia. "Seemingly to prove their worth, they began laying eggs almost immediately.

"This breed of geese will lay up to 60 eggs each year. If all eggs are kept for hatching and all females kept for breeding purposes, in a few years time the original 25 will have increased to thousands."

With the geese went incubators with a 6,000-egg capacity. These were donated by a Maryland hatchery, Heifer Project, Inc., a nonprofit group that distributes livestock and poultry to areas of the world where they are needed, helped get the geese and incubators to St. Lucia.

The geese are meant to help increase the food supply on the island and also, being good grazers, to keep down weeds on the banana plantations.

THE HONKING ambassadors of goodwill were divided among three schools on St. Lucia.

"They carry their beaks high, for it is their destiny to help increase the food supply of St. Lucians," Skretvedt wrote.

"As the geese increase in numbers, young geese will be given to other schools and to students for their own home flocks."

"The school children of St. Lucia are proud of their feathered friends from America."

Discrimination Case to Be Tried In Virginia Court

VIRGINIA, Minn. (AP) — A discrimination charge brought against Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cluts by a Negro vacationer from Minneapolis will be set for trial in district court. Cluts, 44, and his wife, 39, were bound over for trial at a preliminary hearing Tuesday. They were accused by Richard Barrett, 39, of denying accommodations for his family because they are Negroes. Barrett, an engineer for Minneapolis-Honeywell, said he had mailed a check to the Cluts' Arrowhead Lodge for accommodations on Aug. 12, 1961, but was told upon his arrival the lodge was full. Barrett said the check has not been cashed or returned. Mrs. Cluts said the refusal was not based on race, but merely on the absence of rooms. She could not recall disposition of the check. No date has been set for the trial.

Area Directors Meet

Civil Defense Aims For Better Planning

By BUD EHLERS Daily News Staff Writer LANESBORO, Minn.—The era of disorganized Civil Defense activity is past. Any work now should reflect national purposes and goals, Roy Aune told about 100 here at a dinner meeting of MSA-I members. Aune, Minnesota deputy CD director, conceded that too much time and effort had been wasted in past CD activities. "There was no definite plan," he said. Many have gone through training periods, then through retraining courses. They fell as if they were on a "treadmill" — and for good cause. Aune's duties are associated with Mobile Support Area-I, an organization of 13 counties in Southeast and south central Minnesota.

Kennedy Sure Congress Will Pass Medicare

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy says his medical care for the aged plan will be approved by Congress and that all doctors will treat patients under it — an indirect reference to some 200 New Jersey physicians who say they won't. Thus Kennedy obliquely joined a more direct assault on the physicians' stand launched by other administration officials. The New Jersey physicians, from Point Pleasant Hospital and Pitkin Memorial Hospital at Neptune, signed a resolution last week saying they would refuse to treat patients under Kennedy's Social Security-financed medical plan if it passed Congress. Kennedy, speaking Tuesday at the United Auto Workers convention in Atlantic City, said "I am confident that the great majority, in fact all doctors, will treat those who may be covered by this national program." Also speaking before the auto workers, Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg called the resolution "a disgrace, a disgrace to the country."

Secretary of Welfare Abraham Ribicoff said the doctors were violating their professional oath and that the resolution was an attempt to blackmail Congress and the American people.

Ribicoff said "these doctors apparently believe it is all right for the federal government to help build the hospitals in which they practice, but that an insurance plan that would help their patients pay their hospital bills would not be good."

Dr. J. Bruce Henriksen, who initiated the New Jersey resolution, denounced Ribicoff's statement as a threat to withhold federal aid from hospitals whose doctors oppose the medical care plan.

New Jersey's six Democratic congressmen appealed to the New Jersey Medical Society to repudiate "this attempt by a small group of men to impose their will upon the elected representatives of the people."

At Point Pleasant, Henriksen said: "This thing has been twisted to make us look like a bunch of slinkers, as if we were not going to take care of old people, but that isn't true. Our fight is against the King-Anderson bill (the medical care bill) and the socialization of medicine."

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Phyllis Irene Jarvis of Gravesend, Kent, England, and Norman Barrett of Kansas City were married Tuesday in Room 301 at Research Hospital.

U.S. Rejection Of Power Plan Shock to NSP

MINNEAPOLIS — Northern States Power Co. was shocked to learn that the federal government had rejected the proposal made by NSP and thirteen other Midwest power suppliers to firm up the Missouri River hydro-electric system. Allen S. King, NSP president, told the annual meeting of company shareholders today. "The offer we made was as sound as the Rock of Gibraltar and would have saved the taxpayers an investment of $130,000,000 in generating facilities and many millions more in transmission lines," King said. "It would have enabled the federal government to increase the year-round firm capacity of its hydro system by at least 650,000 kilowatts and add more than $10,000,000 annually to its revenue from power sales. All this would have been accomplished through the full use of present equipment without a cent of additional expenditure by the government or the local power suppliers."

"We are now studying the Department of the Interior report explaining the basis for the rejection of our offer and we intend to use every means at our disposal to prevent the expenditure of federal tax money for construction of duplicating generating plants that are not needed. "Investor-owned power companies are leading the way toward heightened efficiency and economy through interconnections," King continued.

Power company plans envisage larger interconnections in the future, King said. Among plans now under study by NSP are extra high voltage lines connecting the Twin Cities with Chicago and similar ties with Des Moines and St. Louis. The Upper Mississippi Valley Power Pool is a reality, with NSP, Interstate Power Company, Duquesne, Dairyland Power Cooperative, La Crosse, and Otter Tail Power Company,ergus Falls, now interconnected and a 230,000-volt line connecting NSP with Minnesota Power and Light Company, Duluth, now under construction.

Judge Orders Case Appealed

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — A youth convicted of the slugging death of a North Minneapolis woman will have his case appealed to the Minnesota Supreme Court, by order of a district judge.

John F. Biron, 18, was convicted of third degree murder Tuesday by a Hennepin County District Court jury that struggled for parts of two days with the case. Biron was charged, along with two companions, in the death of Mrs. Anne Dantelski, 54, last March.

Judge Leslie Anderson set sentencing for Monday, but he ordered public defender Gerald Singer to appeal the case. At issue will be a confession obtained from Biron by police and recorded on tape.

Judge Anderson permitted the tape to be played. Defense counsel contended the confession had been extracted by promises of better treatment for Biron.

Dentist Sued For $30,000

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP) — Mrs. David Hashagen of Nixa, Mo., has sued a Springfield dentist for $30,000, alleging she took his advice to have a wisdom tooth removed almost a year ago and as a result is impaired in eating, speaking and kissing.

The suit was filed Tuesday against Dr. Paul Bunch. "Plaintiff's ability to form (sic) the age-old art of kissing has been impaired and lost," says Mrs. Hashagen's petition. She contends the extraction did physical violence to her nerves and damaged her lower jawbone.

Adenauer Raps U.S. Efforts

By JAMES MARLOW Associated Press News Analyst WASHINGTON (AP) — Allies, like a banjo, make good music until a string pops. The United States, trying to make music with its allies, is having trouble with the strings. Because so many allied nations follow toward the United States a policy laid down by one man, this country can only hope a change in men won't mean a change in policy.

In West Germany Chancellor Adenauer, very pro-Western and a firm ally, has just gone out of his way to belittle this country's efforts to reach a Berlin settlement with the Russians.

The State Department fired back with a public suggestion: Let Adenauer come up with a better idea, if he has one. He was told this country will continue its Berlin talks with Russia.

Diplomats seem to think this spat will be patched over although there has been American-German fussing for weeks. The days are growing shorter for the 86-year-old Adenauer. The United States can only hope it can't be sure—that when he goes his successor will want to keep Germany tied as closely to its allies as he has.

France has been a long-time ally, too, but by the time President de Gaulle took over four years ago it had begun to look like organized chaos. De Gaulle, like Adenauer, is a pillar of the Western alliance.

But he can be a sticky one. Like Adenauer, he holds his nose over American dealings with Russia on Berlin. Months of talks with the Soviets haven't achieved a settlement but at least some of the heat has died down.

There's no predicting what happens after de Gaulle, judging from the instability of the French governments which preceded him. History may show he was just a brief interlude in turmoil.

Britain looks like one ally which figures to stand solidly with the United States, no matter who succeeds Prime Minister Macmillan. But the next prime minister, for reasons personal or due to changing times, may be more difficult.

Yet the American problems with the Western allies, painful as they are at times and disastrous as they could become, are less acute than the dilemmas at the opposite end of U.S. efforts to draw a line against communism.

This country has had its hands full with the pro-Western but right-wing government of conservative Prince Boun Oum in Laos in Southeast Asia.

The Kennedy administration could have thrown American forces into Laos to keep the Communists from overrunning the place. But it felt this was the wrong place to risk a war.

To keep Laos from being taken over completely by communism, the administration agreed to a coalition government made up of conservatives, neutralists, and leftists. In the end could lead to a Red take-over anyway.

But the prince wouldn't go along and so far this government hasn't been able to persuade him to, even though as a nudge it has given $3 million monthly in economic aid to his government.

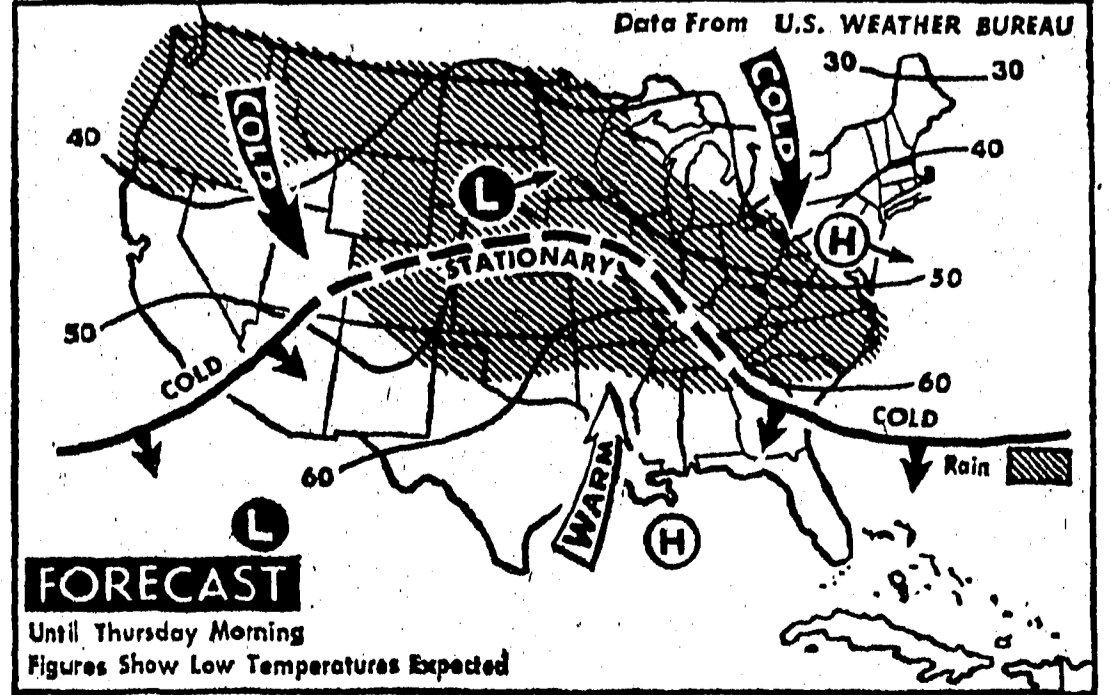

In the past few days the Communists began a new offensive. Right next door in Viet Nam the United States is steadily getting more involved militarily — just hoping it won't lead to war — in trying to save the pro-Western regime of President Ngo Dinh Diem.

Disasteful as he has been to many Vietnamese—and ineffective as he was in holding back the Communists until the United States pumped in big military supplies and men to help—he has kept a semblance of a government together.

If he goes, internal struggles may turn Viet Nam into a shambles. Even in a neutral country like India the relationship between it and the United States has been guided almost entirely by one man and, as may show when he's gone, depended upon him.

The neutral but Western-educated Prime Minister Nehru has been friendly to the West and not pro-Communist. But India, with the world's second largest population, has explosive forces bottled up under Nehru.

After him an explosion, shattering to the West, would be no surprise. Thus all around the world American strings are attached to one man here, another there. When these strings pop, there may be no replacements.

Allen Keeps String Alive; Twins Lose

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Will success spoil Dick Donovan? The Minnesota Twins hope so, but there doesn't seem much chance of stopping the Cleveland Indians' crafty righthander this season.

Tuesday night he won his fifth without a loss, beating the Twins 6-3. With less than one-sixth of the season gone, Donovan appears a cinch to notch at least 20 victories.

And he'd just as soon plug away at the Twins as anybody, since the 6-foot-3 hurler has a 20-7 all-time record against them.

While the top-coated fans, numbering 13,891, felt chilled by temperatures in the mid-40s, the Twins were in a scoring freeze themselves.

After Cleveland tallied twice in the third, the Minnesotans countered with one in the fifth. Losing pitcher Jim Kaat (1-4) dumped a swinging bunt down the third base line. He advanced on an infield out and scored on Rich Rollins' single.

Rookie Bernie Allen stretched his consecutive game hitting streak to 12 with a last-chance single in the ninth. That set the stage for Lennie Green's third homer of the year. The blow buoyed the fans' spirits like the roman candles they shoot on such home-team occasions at Cleveland's stadium.

Barry Latman replaced Donovan and got Bill Tuttle on a fly to Willie Tasby. With two out, the Twins kept hopes alive on singles by Rollins and by Harmon Killebrew, who'd ended three previous innings with men on base. The runners advanced on a wild pitch, but the fireworks sputtered when pinch hitter George Banks struck out.

Although they outhit Cleveland 11-9, the Twins left 11 men on base. Tasby knocked in three Cleveland runs with singles in the third and seventh innings.

Don Mincher was injured in the ninth inning when he collided on a putout attempt with the Indians' Donn Dillard. Mincher was hospitalized overnight for what appeared to be a concussion.

Tonight, it'll be Jack Kratick (1-2) for the Twins against Gary Bell (2-1) of Cleveland.

Jim Lemon, out with a shoulder injury, was placed on the disabled list and the Twins will cut two more players today to get down to the 27-man limit by mid-night.

After a postponement because of cold weather Tuesday night, Manager Birdie Tebbetts went in to a huddle with his coaches and then General Manager John McHale.

The Braves, like other National League clubs, must trim their roster to the 25-player limit by mid-night tonight. With Lee Maye on the disabled list, that means two players must go.

The arrival of the out-of-town limo touched off speculation. There were many guesses, and that's what they were. Nothing but guesses. A top bet, however, was that right-hander Tony Cloninger, plagued by illness, may be farmed for more experience.

Others who many observers think aren't ready for major league play include Amado Samuel, Howie Bedell and Lou Klimchick. However, this is a rebuilding year for the Braves—and Tebbetts and McHale are determined to go with young prospects. So the "official" cut down talk remained a secret as County Stadium felt like the polar regions.

Maye underwent sinus surgery Tuesday at Milwaukee Hospital. Since one pinching appearance in the opening game of the season at San Francisco, he has been hospitalized except for a flight to Milwaukee.

The fleet outfielder, whose illness originally was described as a virus infection, was reported in a "much improved" condition. However, he will be out of action at least until next month as a player cannot come off the disabled list for 30 days.

Third baseman Eddie Mathews, the team's top slugger with six homers and 21 runs batted in, is out indefinitely with a right shoulder injury. Mathews pulled a muscle in fouling a pitch in the first inning of Sunday's second game of a doubleheader against Houston.

Dennis Menke, a $125,000 bonus grab by the Braves a few years ago, took over for Mathews against the Colts and had a double in three times at bat. Menke will remain at third for the Pittsburgh series.

Right-hander Ron Piche, owner of a 1-0 record, is scheduled to oppose the Pirates tonight. His probable mound opponent is Earl Francis, who has a 1-2 record.

Tebbetts Talks With McHale; Who Will Go?

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves try again to open a series with the Pittsburgh Pirates at County Stadium tonight—with the ax hanging over two heads.

JERRY DURESKE Four-pin Fails Bid for Perfect Game

BALKY 4-PIN HALTS STRING

Dureske Hits Record 299 Game

Jerry Dureske came within a single pin of bowling the second sanctioned 300 game in Winona Bowling history Tuesday night. Dureske, shooting for the Hot Fish Shop in a roll-off in the Classic League at the Winona Athletic Club, started his night with 11 strikes and left a balky four-pin on his 12th pitch.

The 299, of course, is the highest score rolled this season. Had the four-pin fallen, it would have matched the perfect game rolled by the late Ozzie Kozir, the only league 300 in city history. Previous high mark for the year was a 289 by Rollie Tust, also at the Athletic Club, on March 5.

Dureske, 21-year-old sharpshooter, finished the night with a 649 total, skidding to 169 and 181 games.

His 11 strikes were all 1-3 pocket hits except in the third and fourth frames when he hooked across but carried the full count.

COTTER—6th Verdict For Ramblers

LEWISTON, Minn.—Cotter High School grabbed its sixth baseball victory of the season against one defeat by defeating Lewiston 8-3 here Tuesday.

Larry Modjeski was the big man with the bat for the Ramblers. He drove in three runs on two triples and a single for a perfect three for three.

COTTER MANAGED only six hits off of Merlin Wilde, Lewiston pitcher, but took advantage of seven Cardinal errors to wrap up the victory.

Knopick allowed Modjeski two runs on four hits in picking up his first decision of the season.

PRIGGE SMASHED a triple and a single for Lewiston, which got five hits along the way.

Other safeties for the Ramblers came from Bill Kneec, Knopick and Al Breza.

Cotter led 4-1 going into the sixth when it added four more runs to the total. Lewiston scored two in the seventh before Knopick stiffened to retire the side.

Giants Roll Past Cards

By JIM HACKLEMAN Associated Press Sports Writer

San Francisco's surging Giants march on while other National League contenders stand still—or worse. Whatever because of that multiple-team, wire-to-wire pennant race?

Taking on their closest pursuer and an old pitching nemesis Tuesday night the Giants carried away a 4-1 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals, boosting their lead to four games.

To gain the narrow win, the Giants had to beat Larry Jackson, who had whipped them eight straight times over a two-season span, and withstand some late Cardinal trouble. They did both on the tough pitching of Juan Marichal (5-2) and the star hitting of Orlando Cepeda, winning for the 12th time in their last 13 games.

Los Angeles counter-rallied against Houston for a 9-6 decision in 10 innings, Philadelphia beat Cincinnati 6-4 and New York's Mets got out of last place for the first time in their young history and shoved Chicago into the cellar, downing the Cubs 3-1. The Milwaukee Braves and the Pirates were rained out at Milwaukee.

The Marichal-Cepeda combination paced the Giants, with Felipe Alou and Ed Bailey chipping in with vital hits. Cepeda slugged a two-run double against Jackson (3-3) in the first inning, then he and Alou connected for successive doubles in the eighth, breaking a 2-2 tie. Bailey came through with a single, delivering what proved to be the winning run.

The Cards played long ball against Marichal, counting a homer and double by Stan Musial, a homer by Carl Sawatski and Ken Boyer's double among the five hits off the youthful right-hander. Sawatski's homer and Boyer's double came in the bottom of the ninth. Marichal weathered the uprising for his fifth complete game and the ninth in the last 11 games for Giant pitchers.

The amazing Musial, 41, with a host of records to his credit, climbed into the league batting lead with a .388 average. San Francisco's Harvey Kuenn, with 1-for-3, dropped to second at .381.

The Dodgers dissipated a five-run lead against the rambunctious Cards but pulled it out behind the hitting of rookie Larry Burright and Maury Wills. Burright, who tripled and doubled earlier, legged out a bunt single off Bob Tiefenauer (1-1) with two away in the 10th and moved to third on Frank Howard's pinch single. Wills then crashed in the winner with his third single of the night. Two more runs scored on Dick Farrell's wild pitch and catcher Merritt Raney's lap throw.

Reliever Ron Perranoski (2-0) was the winner. Billy Klaus' two-run homer was the big hit as the Phils built a 4-0 lead against Jim O'Toole (2-4). They nailed it down with two more off Howie Nunn in the sixth.

HAWKS—Gunn Hurls Four-Hitter

By AUGIE KARCHER Daily News Sports Editor

A four-hit shutout by right-hander Jim Gunn brought the Winona High Winhawks their third Big Nine Conference baseball triumph Tuesday, a 5-0 win over Mankato at Jefferson Field.

Gunn limited the Scarlets to just two singles over the first two innings, fanned six and did not walk a batter. It was the second straight Winhawk shutout.

EVEN SOME shaky fielding behind him failed to ruffle Gunn who didn't seem hampered by the chilly weather.

The Hawks, needing every possible win if they are to stay in contention for the conference championship they shared last year, scored once in the first inning and added four in the fourth. They collected six hits off lefty Gary DeRemer, including a triple by Bob Grausnick and a double by George Wenzel.

Coach Eddie Spencer's club, now boasting a 6-2 record, invades Faribault Thurs day afternoon. Cliff Warnken is scheduled to take the mound against the Falcons who have lost only once in league play.

Warnken yesterday drove in Grausnick with what proved to be enough to win. Grausnick, with two out in the first inning, singled to left and stole second. Warnken plated him with a shot through shortstop.

Two hits and two Mankato errors combined for Winona's four-run fourth. Wenzel opened with a double to center and Gunn got life on a miscue. Pat Boland singled sharply to short, with Steve Smedrud making a great stop, but not in time for a play. That filled the bases with none out.

DeREMERE, WHO has a 1-1 mound record, got Strand Wedul to force Wenzel at the plate but then unhooked two wild pitches to let Gunn and Boland score before he walked Leif Strand.

Don Walz lofted a high fly to center which popped out of Mike LaFrance's glove. That brought Wedul home and sent Strand to third after he had stolen second. Strand scored when Marly Farrell grounded out.

Terry Herman worked the final two innings for Mankato and retired five of the six men he faced. Both Mankato and Winona were sharp fielders. The Scarlets had 11 assists in 12 chances and Winona 12 in 13.

A double-play, Walz to Darrell Foster to Paul Heise, got Gunn out of possible trouble in the sixth and Gunn picked the singling Steve George off first base in the seventh.

FOUR HIT HOMERS Auggies Down Redmen 8-4

By GARY EVANS Daily News Sports Writer

Augsburg struck for six runs in a hectic fourth inning and went on to defeat St. Mary's 8-4 on the new Terrace Heights field Tuesday.

It was St. Mary's second loss in three MIAC starts while Augsburg gained its first victory in five outings.

Everything went wrong for the Redmen's Jim Harens in the fourth.

Harens walked Jim Roback to start the fourth before the scored on seven hits. After Lloyd Raymond had singled Bruce Gildeth cracked a sacrifice fly to score Roback.

John Ryski doubled in another run and Steve Strommen whacked a home run between center fielder Bob Magnuson and right fielder Rich Gabriel.

BEFORE MAX Molock, Redman coach, could get another pitcher into the game, Gary Reuss, cool-working Auggie pitcher who went all the way for the win, singled.

Milock went to Tom Von Holtum and sent Harens went to right field. Paul Swanson, first batter to face Von Holtum, smashed the right pitch over Harens' head in right field and came all the way around for a two-run homer.

St. Mary's scored one run in the first on a single by Justin Zalecki, the third baseman who turned in a top fielding job, and a sacrifice fly from John Chmelik.

THE REDMEN added one in the sixth on a walk to Chuck McCarter and a single by Zalecki.

The only time St. Mary's threatened seriously after that was in the seventh.

Paul's Trades For Cleveland Now Paying Off

By MIKE RATHET Associated Press Sports Writer Cleveland General Manager Gabe Paul, a wheeling and dealing type in the Frank Lane manner but a little slower and surer before he pulls the trigger, has come up with a pair of key additions to the Indians in pitcher Dick Donovan and outfielder Willie Tasby.

The often peddled players, both acquired from Washington, carried the Indians to a 6-3 triumph over Minnesota Tuesday night that pulled second-place Cleveland to within one game of the American League leading New York Yankees.

Paul, who previously pulled the strings in Cincinnati, got Donovan in the trade that sent Jim Piersall to Washington and raised a howl from Cleveland fans. He picked up Tasby for two lesser lights in a deal that raised not an eyebrow.

But Tasby raised a couple against the Twins. The 29-year-old righty swinger who hit .251 last season, made his first start for the Indians and responded with a 2-for-5 performance, knocking in three runs, including what proved to be the clincher in a two-run seventh inning.

Donovan aided his own cause with a bases-loaded single that accounted for one run before Tasby struck his hit for the decisive run.

Tasby's clincher provided Donovan with his fifth victory without a loss. The 34-year-old right-hander, who led the AL with a 2.40 earned run average while posting a 10-10 record last season, is the first hurler in the league to win five.

Al Kaline drove in four runs with his eighth homer, a triple and a single, leading Detroit to a 10-1 triumph over the Los Angeles Angels in the only other game played. Boston-New York, Kansas City-Baltimore, Chicago-Washington were postponed due to rain.

While Kaline was providing the hitting, Phil Regan provided solid pitching for the Tigers to skip a five-game losing skid. Regan (2-2) limited the Angels, winners of four in a row, to six hits—one a homer by Steve Biko, Eli Grba (1-1) took the loss.

Caledonia Tips Mabel in Eight CALEDONIA, Minn. (Special) — It took Caledonia eight innings to gain a 5-4 victory over Mabel in the Root River Conference here Tuesday.

The game was tied 2-2 going into the eighth. Mabel came up with two runs as Jim Sidebottom, who was two for three, tripled and scored on a wild pitch.

Davis Usgaard singled and was driven in on a sacrifice by D. E. Usgaard.

Caledonia came right back to take the victory with three runs. Mike Percuccio, the winning pitcher, singled and stole second and third. The next batter walked.

Jim Harris drove in Percuccio and Lyle Besse doubled in the final two tallies.

Harris was three for three for the winners.

Skating Group Latest to Blast Away at AAU

CHICAGO (AP) — From a relatively chill quarter, another shot was fired today at the reeling National Amateur Athletic Union by the Ice Skating Institute of America.

The skating institute Tuesday opened a three-day session with a blast directed at the United States Figure Skating Association which represents the AAU in international competition.

The AAL long has been bombarded by the National Collegiate Athletic Association, which has launched national federations for track, basketball and gymnastics to operate independently from the AAU.

The Ice Skating Institute, headed by Mike Kirby, once a partner of Sonja Henie, is composed of 150 rink owners from throughout the country.

The blast at the AAU-affiliated U.S. Figure Skating Association was leveled by David Comb, rink owner from Belmont, Calif., who called for a program to bring the USFSA into "realistic thinking," or break with the AAU group completely.

Comb and Kirby both said that the Figure Skating Association set ridiculous standards for maintaining amateurism among young skaters of promise who skate at public rinks.

MEET THIS WEEKEND 150 Dogs Expected For Trials Here

Field trial champion, Del Tone Colvin, Black Labrador that won the National Champion field trial at Dover, Md., last December, has been entered in the amateur all-age stake of the Golden Retriever Club of America trial to be run here this coming weekend. Ralph G. Boalt, local club secretary, announced today.

Del Tone Colvin, owned by L. J. Fnoeybos, Baldwin, Wis., and handled by Tony Berger, Minneapolis, was the sensational dog of 1961 and ran here in a licensed trial.

Up to Tuesday noon, 20 dogs had been entered in this stake, including dogs from most Midwest states, and some from other circuits.

The Winona trial is one of the "big time" events on the Midwest circuit, and present entries indicate that by entry-closing time, the total number of retrievers booked will exceed 150. That will make it one of the largest entry lists in any Midwest trial this spring, and one of the largest for a Winona event.

The open all-age stake, to start at 8 a.m. Saturday, has the largest entry, a total of 44 dogs, as of Tuesday noon. This is the professional handier's hotly-contested stake, and is the one in which top qualifying points are attained.

Starting also at 8 a.m. Saturday is the qualifying stake which has 26 entries. This stake will be handled by a separate pair of judges and will be run on a part of Prairie Island separated from the area of the open all-age event.

The derby stake will follow the open all-age stake. So far 24 dogs are listed for this stake.

Officers of the Golden Retriever Club of America are expected here Thursday. The sponsoring organization is the Tri-State Hunting Dog Association.

Lemon Placed On Disabled As Clubs Cut

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Boston pitcher Tracy Stallard, who proclaimed "I'm not going to lose any sleep over it" after serving up home run No. 61 to Roger Maris, was back in the minors today, a victim of the strategic moves being made by baseball club officials to reach the 25-player limit.

A 24-year-old right-hander who appeared in 43 games for the Red Sox last year, Stallard became a pawn in the annual scramble to reach the mandatory cutdown by trimming the fringe players from the roster. The deadline this year runs out at midnight tonight.

Stallard posted a 2-7 record last year, and had been used only once this season—in a one-inning relief appearance. He was shipped to Seattle of the Pacific Coast League along with right-hander Billy Muffett, leaving the Red Sox one over the limit.

Boston then got down to 25 by selling southpaw Ted Wills to the Cincinnati Reds.

Another of the more noteworthy players pared from major league rosters Tuesday was Pittsburgh hurler Joe Gibbon, a 13-game winner last season who has been unable to pitch because of a strained muscle in his left elbow. The Pirates sent him to Kingston, N.C., where the heat is expected to bring his arm around.

Minnesota reduced its roster by placing ailing outfielder Jim Lemon on the disabled list. Lemon has been idled by a torn muscle in his left shoulder and it is estimated by doctors he'll be lost to the club for from four to six weeks.

Philadelphia made three moves, sending infielder Billy Consolo to the Los Angeles Angels, farming pitcher Ed Keegan and placing shortstop Ruben Amaro on the national defense service list. Amaro had been denied permission by the Army for an extension of his furlough.

Others cut were pitcher Tex Clevenger by the New York Yankees, pitcher Jim Lehigh by Baltimore and pitcher Ray Daviault by the New York Mets.

Brain Injury May Cause Moss To End Career

LONDON (AP) — Star auto race driver Stirling Moss suffered such severe brain injuries in his April 23 crash that it may end his racing career, a hospital report implied today.

"Now that the conscious level is so much improved and he has quite lengthy and lucid periods, it is possible to say with certainty that he has a marked weakness of the whole of the left side of the body, involving face, arm and leg," the hospital said. "This weakness is due to severe bruising on the right side of the brain."

"There is a possibility that full recovery of the functions in the arm and leg will not take place," the report added.

Central Tips Hawk Golfers

Winona High School golfers dropped a 154-173 dual meet to Central of La Crosse Tuesday at Westfield Golf Club in Winona.

Fred Benning was low for the Hawks with a 41, despite taking an eight on the par-five seventh.
