4 Precincts Missing, Andersen Leads

Results Being Rechecked For Errors

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — A Martin County official canvassed today cut 100 votes from Gov. Elmer L. Andersen's lead over Lt. Gov. Karl Rolvaag in their tight race for the Minnesota governorship.

The change left Andersen leading Rolvaag 509 votes, still with four small northern precincts missing.

Totals with the canvassed Martin vote are Andersen 620,201, Rolvaag 619,692.

Andersen lost 143 votes, Rolvaag 43 in the Martin canvass.

A complete AP recheck of unofficial county returns this morning turned up several errors in an earlier tabulation which had given Rolvaag a narrow lead last night. Chief among them was a 594 vote error in Ramsey County.

The four missing precincts, all small ones, are two each in Koochiching and Lake of the Woods counties. They are not expected to cut into the complete unofficial Andersen lead much. But a state canvass to determine the official winner is certain.

The AP tally is based on figures on which county canvassing boards have not yet acted.

Spokesmen for both parties agreed that whoever is declared the victor, the margin would be so narrow as almost to insure a recount demand.

Statehouse veterans said the contest certainly would go into the record books as one of the closest gubernatorial races of history.

Complete unofficial totals on all but four of the state's precincts gave the DFL candidate for lieutenant governor, State Sen. A.M. (Sandy) Keith, a lead of 5,035 votes over his GOP opponent, State Rep. C. Donald Peterson.

The vote totals were Keith 614,178, Peterson 609,143.

In the early counting of returns from Tuesday's election, Rolvaag had built to a 30,000 margin but saw it whittled away as heavily GOP areas in the southern farming areas reported.

Andersen had held a tenuous lead late Wednesday until results from northern, predominantly DFL territory, were filled in to put Rolvaag out front again.

Andersen, 53, sought to become the first Minnesota governor to serve a four-year term under a recent constitutional change. It would be his second term.

Rolvaag, 49, made two unsuccessful tries for Congress before moving into the lieutenant governor's chair for four terms.

Four incumbent Republican congressmen — Albert Quie, Ancher Nelsen, Clark MacGregor and Odin Langen — won re-election and will be joined in Washington by that many Democrats.

Veteran GOP Rep. Walter Judd, was unseated by Donald Fraser in the 5th District and Alec Olson, 32, Montevideo insurance man bested Republican Robert Odegard for the seat held by Rep. H. Carl Andersen, R-Minn., who lost out in the primary. Democratic Reps. John Blatnik and Joseph Karth both won re-election.

A recheck of unofficial vote totals in the 19-county 6th District, today showed Alec Olson, DFL, the victor over Robert Odegard, GOP, 77,700 to 77,346, a difference of 354 votes.

Kuehn Awaits Official Count

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Philip G. Kuehn, loser by about 12,000 votes to Democrat John W. Reynolds in unofficial returns from Tuesday's election said today that Republicans will await the outcome of the canvass before deciding on whether to ask for a recount of gubernatorial ballots.

"We will watch the canvass very closely," Kuehn said, particularly in some of the Milwaukee wards where tabulating errors were discovered during the unofficial count early Wednesday.

U.S. to Check Ships Returning Missiles

WASHINGTON (AP) — Blocking U.S. Navy ships were ready to check homeward bound Soviet vessels today for proof that they are hauling Red missiles from Cuba.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev said Wednesday that 40 Soviet rockets had been dismantled in Cuba and probably were on their way back to the Soviet Union.

The pentagon said Wednesday night that arrangements were being made with Soviet representatives for the Navy to check on the number of dismantled missiles aboard the homeward-bound Soviet ships.

In announcing that the first contact would be made today, Arthur

What to Do For Recount

ST. PAUL (AP) — A small, white book is being thumbed overtime today by political leaders checking all angles in what apparently is Minnesota's closest gubernatorial race in history.

It takes 247 pages to list all the state laws dealing with elections and how they may be contested once the ballots are cast.

In general, here is the procedure now being followed and the avenues available to Gov. Elmer L. Andersen and Lt. Gov. Karl Rolvaag.

County vote totals are not official until certified by the county canvassing board. This must be done within 10 days of election. The county board by a four-fifths vote may open the sealed envelope of any precinct and inspect ballots where there seems to be an obvious error. A transposition of figures would be one example.

Rep. Duxbury Mentioned for House Speaker

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Unofficial returns from Tuesday's Minnesota election apparently assured Conservatives of control of both houses of the Minnesota Legislature in the 1963 session.

Liberals bossed the House in 1961 and four preceding sessions. Conservatives held control in the Senate two years ago but indications are that their margin will be whittled slightly in the next session.

Any voter or candidate can contest an election by filing his notice with the district court. This must be done within 10 days of the final canvass, giving either side until Nov. 30 this year.

Once a contest is filed, the candidate can ask for the ballots to be inspected. This must be authorized by the district court.

Rarely is a recount asked for an entire state. Usually candidates seek to recount ballots in specific precincts or counties where the vote total seems to go against the general trend.

The man applying for the recount must post a bond to cover the costs if he loses. An interesting sidelight in the law permits the court to assess some of the costs against municipalities where counting errors occur, if those errors reverse the election outcome.

The ballots would be recounted in the office of each county auditor. Voting machines must be locked and sealed and left that way at least 30 days.

The final arbiter is the state supreme court, to which an appeal may be taken from any order of the district court in a recount proceeding.

2 Found Slain In Woods Near Stevens Point

STEVENS POINT, Wis. (AP) — A father and son were found shot to death in a remote wooded area of Portage County Wednesday and authorities said it appeared to be a case of double murder with robbery as the apparent motive. A 23-year-old man was being held for questioning.

Portage County Sheriff Emil Meshak said a small bullet hole was found in the left cheek of 37-year old Robert Wesley of Wisconsin Rapids whose body was discovered near his truck by a hunter on Deer Road 20 miles southwest of Stevens Point. A bullet hole was found in the back of Wesley's father, Frank Wesley Jr. of Route 1, Adams, whose body was located in a nearby wooded area Wednesday night by a 17-man posse.

Autopsies were planned on the bodies today.

The scene of the slaying is three miles east of the community of Kellner in Portage County's Town of Grant.

DETROIT (AP)—Gov. John B. Swainson called home Wednesday after the returns showed the Democratic incumbent had lost his bid for re-election.

"Well, we lost, son," Swainson told Peter, 12.

Peter has been working as a page for Democratic Lt. Gov. T. John Lesinski.

"Did T. John lose too?" Peter asked.

"No, T. John won," the governor replied.

"Well, anyway, my job is safe," Peter said.

CHANGE IN RUSSIAN PLANS

Early Berlin Showdown Doubted

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev evidently is revising his diplomatic strategy to bring it into line with his nuclear weapons retreat from Cuba.

This may mean that he is dropping plans for an early showdown with the United States, Britain and France over the future of West Berlin.

It may also mean that the main Soviet emphasis in the next few months will be on a peace offensive, as developed in a variety of East-West negotiations, rather than on threats and pressures designed to achieve Kremlin purposes by brandishing Soviet power.

These are speculative conclusions suggested by remarks which the Soviet leader made Wednesday to reporters whom he met at a reception at Moscow. Authorities here noted that his tone was the whole conciliatory and in accord with his published letters to President Kennedy when the Cuban missile crisis was at its height 10 days ago.

Perhaps the one remark he made which is of most interest to officials in Washington was "I was never in favor of a summit meeting" with President Kennedy.

Reports of this remark were read here in the context of what most officials now believe to have been one of Khrushchev's principal purposes and possibly his main design in putting nuclear missiles into Cuba in the first place.

The belief that such a plan did in fact exist arises out of the timing of various Khrushchev maneuvers which pointed to an early effort on his part to force a Berlin showdown and, in that connection, to have a summit meeting with Kennedy. The assumption here is that he planned to use the Soviet buildup as a surprise move aimed at gaining U.S. concessions on Berlin.

Mrs. Roosevelt Dead at 78, Rites Saturday

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, a first lady whose stature grew from the White House to the world, died in her Manhattan apartment Wednesday night.

The 78-year-old widow of the nation's 32nd president and niece of the 26th president had suffered from what the family described as "a complicated type of anemia" for two and a half years.

Her health failed rapidly during the last six weeks, accelerated by non-contagious tuberculosis which was not proved until Oct. 25.

Her physicians, expecting heart failure, were with her at the end, along with three of her five living children. Two sons were en route by plane from distant points in the nation. Nineteen grandchildren and four great-grandchildren also survive her.

"One of the great ladies in the history of this country has passed from the scene," said President Kennedy. "Her loss will be deeply felt by all those who admired her tireless idealism or benefitted from her good works and counsel."

Leaders of the nation and the world joined in expressing sorrow and loss.

"I have lost an inspiration," said U.N. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson, the only person outside of the family to visit Mrs. Roosevelt during the final weeks of her illness. He went by her invitation.

"She would rather light candles than curse the darkness," Stevenson said, "and her glow has warmed the world."

Private funeral services will be held at St. James Episcopal Church in Hyde Park, N.Y., north of New York City on the Hudson River, at 2 p.m. Saturday.

She will be buried in the rose garden of the family estate at Hyde Park, beside her husband, "in accordance with the joint wishes," the family said. His simple gravestone already bears her name and the year of her birth, 1884.

"Those at the interment service, in addition to family, will include representatives from the U.S. government, the United Nations, and the state of New York, as well as close friends of Mrs. Roosevelt," the announcement said. President Kennedy will attend. So will former President Harry S. Truman and his wife.

A memorial service at the Cathedral of St. John the Divine in New York City is being planned for sometime within the next two weeks.

The family gave permission for an autopsy, but its purpose was not made clear. Eight years ago, Mrs. Roosevelt willed her eyes to an eye bank.

Mrs. Roosevelt fought her illness with the same vigor with which she had pursued a career which took her to the far corners of the world.

She was often on the go—shuttling around the world on one or give him the shaft—put one lonely reporter on the campaign who will report what the candidate says, now and then. Thank you, gentlemen, and good day."

The former vice president made it clear his indictment was not directed at all reporters.

"There is one reporter here," he said, "who has religiously, when he was covering me—and, incidentally, this is no reflection on the others because some of you, you know, weren't bothered. One reporter, Carl Greenberg—he's the only reporter on the (Los Angeles) Times that fits this thing, who wrote every word that I said—wrote it fairly, wrote it objectively."

"I don't mean that others didn't have a right to do it differently, but Carl, despite whatever feelings he had, felt that he had an obligation to report the facts as he saw them."

Nixon also defended the right of editorial expression:

"I can only say that the great metropolitan newspapers in this field have a right to take any position they want to on the editorial page. But on the other news pages they also have a right to have reporters cover—men who have strong feelings—whether they're for or against a candidate, but the responsibility also is to put a few Greenbergs on a candidate they happen to be against."

"Whether they are against him on the editorial page, or just philosophically, deep down a fellow who at least will report what the man said. That's all anybody can ask."

Gov. Brown said his campaign received "very fair coverage."

"The press has treated me fairly," Brown said. "I'm almost afraid to say that because my opponent might say this is evidence of special treatment (from the press)."

Of Nixon's news conference, Brown said: "I think Mr. Nixon took the defeat a little bit hard. In retrospect, he'll feel differently."

At this news conference, Nixon said this of his future:

"Well, my plans are to go home. I've got to get acquainted with my family again. My plans, incidentally, are, from a political standpoint, of course, to take a holiday. It will be a long holiday.

"I don't say this with any sadness. I couldn't feel, frankly, more proud of my staff for the campaign they helped me to put on."

Publisher Otis Chandler of the Los Angeles Times said his paper has supported Nixon in all his campaigns and "we continue today to believe that he was the best qualified candidate for governor, as we said in our endorsement editorial of Oct. 21."

and or another, both public and private. She lectured far and wide and was known to the public in many lands.

Her travels were often the subject of good natured humor. They also brought barbed criticism from many who disliked her or her husband—or both of them.

Only after her death did the family disclose that her illness was discovered two and a half years ago. Initially, treatment permitted her to continue writing, speaking and battling for the causes for which she had become famous.

Nixon Bows Out With Blast at Reporters

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Richard M. Nixon, as angry and distraught as he has ever been in public, met reporters in what he called his final news conference—and accused segments of the press of utterly failing to give him a fair shake.

Newsman thought the Republican gubernatorial candidate had called the conference Wednesday to concede victory to Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown. Nixon did that, but he kept talking.

"As I leave you," Nixon told reporters coldly, "I want you to know just how much you're going to be missed."

"You won't have Nixon to kick around any more because, gentlemen, this is my last press conference."

"It was carried right up to the last day (of the campaign). I made a talk on television, a talk in which I made a flub.

"I said I was running for governor of the United States. The Los Angeles Times dutifully reported that. Mr. Brown the last day made a flub. He said 'I hope everybody wins, that you vote the straight Democratic ticket, including Sen. Kuchel (a Republican)'. The Los Angeles Times did not record it.

(The Times endorsed Nixon.)

"And I can only say thank God for television and radio for keeping the newspapers a little more honest."

"Among the great newspapers in this country that people say I should be concerned about are the Louisville Courier-Journal, the New York Post, the Milwaukee Journal and the Fresno and the Sacramento Bee.

"I would hope that in the future, as a result of this campaign, that perhaps they (the newspapers) would try, at least simply, to see what both candidates say is reported, that, if they have questions, to ask the same questions of the other candidate.

"I hope that what I have said today will at least make television, radio and the press first recognize the great responsibility they have to report all the news and, second, to recognize that they have a right and a responsibility, if they are against a candidate—give him the shaft.

"But also recognize, if they

Nixon was endorsed by some 75 per cent of the California daily newspapers that took sides in the turbulent gubernatorial campaign. But he said many of his statements had been ignored by the press.

"I have no complaints about the press coverage," Nixon said early in his statement. But it turned out he had plenty.

Samples:

"I am proud of the fact I defended my opponent's patriotism. You gentlemen didn't report it, but I am proud that I did that."

"As I leave the press, all I can say is this: For 16 years ever since the (Alger) Hiss case, you've had a lot of fun, you've had an opportunity to attack me and I think I have given as good as I can take."

Chinese Reds Renew Attacks In Himalayans

By HENRY S. BRADSHAW
NEW DELHI, India (AP)—The Chinese Communists have launched fresh attacks at the eastern end of the Himalayan battle line, the Indian Defense Ministry announced today. The action broke a lull of more than a week.

The fighting was at Walong, 15 miles from the Burma border, with the Communists making five shooting strikes in the past two days.

A defense spokesman also reported an Indian patrol clashed with the Red Chinese outside Chang, near the monastery town of Towang.

Towang, just east of the Bhutan border, was captured by the Chinese more than a week ago.

Some 850 miles to the northwest, the Red Chinese continued a military buildup near the strategic front line Indian airport of Chushul in Ladakh.

The Red Chinese attacks came as Indian defiance grew against Peiping overtures for a deal.

Parliament cheered Prime Minister Nehru as he declared the Indian people will drive the "expansionist, imperialist-minded" Red Chinese invaders from "the sacred soil of India, no matter how long and hard the struggle may be."

"No self-respecting country that loves its freedom and integrity can possibly submit to this challenge," Nehru told the crowded chamber. "Certainly not India."

His defiant statement in effect rejected a new Chinese offer to withdraw from the territory it has occupied on the Northeast Border if India would give up the Ladakh area adjoining Kashmir and Tibet in the Northwest. India rejected a similar swap in 1959.

Peiping's offer confirmed what many observers have felt was the Chinese aim in the last five years of border encroachment—to make Ladakh a secure connecting route between Tibet and western Chinese province of Sinkiang. The Chinese have already built a road between Tibet and Sinkiang across Ladakh.

Nehru warned Parliament the fight against the "massive Chinese invasion" was not going to

ROBERT C. RUARK

Time to Recall Kenya's History

WASHINGTON — I know full well that the chiefs of state make a habit of embracing recently elevated revolutionaries almost before the visitors have sufficient time to wash the blood off their hands, preparatory to receiving the 21-gun salute. But it might be useful to remember next time Mr. Tom Mboya of Kenya comes begging for American money that he recently officially opened a weekend rally in Nairobi which was devoted entirely to the glorification of the bitter bloody days of Mau Mau terrorism.

Mr. Mboya's current title with Kenya's dominant political party, KANU, is that of labor minister. Mr. Mboya was never actually confined as a Mau Mau suspect himself, which seems rather a pity since it now appears that having been a member of the terrorist gangs is a valid qualification for future enshrinement as a savior of that bedeviled country, Kenya.

This was quite an exhibition, from all accounts. Also presiding was the country's as yet uncrowned leader, Jomo Kenyatta, who was penned up as a Mau Mau and had been formally acknowledged as the titular chieftain of the entire murderous gang which kept Kenya in turmoil for seven years. Chief among the exhibits were pictures of the likes of Dedan Kimathi, who is described by the London Daily Mail's Peter Younghusband as "the filthiest, most brutal and cowardly murderer of all the Mau Mau leaders."

They finally caught and hanged Kimathi after he had personally murdered upwards of 2,000 of his own people.

The exhibition describes Kimathi as "Field Marshal Sir Dedan Kimathi, the great hero of the Forest Army." I was at hand when the great hero of the forest army was finally run down and captured by a fantastic team of jungle fighters headed by a man named Ian Henderson, and the chief marshal at the time was crawling with lice and was rather greatly inhibited by syphilis, incurred, no doubt, in the line of duty.

SAID MR. Mboya when confronted with criticism of the enshrinement of Kimathi: "Whether or not some people like that part of Kenya's history is immaterial." Mr. Mboya said that those Europeans who took offense at Dedan Kimathi's photograph being shown "should go back to Europe where statues had been erected in memory of people more rotten than anyone I can think of in Kenya."

Mr. Mboya also praised the Indian convenor of the exhibition, Mr. Ambu Patel, who looked after old Kenyatta's daughter while the Mau Mau leader was clapped off in a concentration camp. Much of the ammunition, weaponry and general supplies furnished the forest gangs were said to have been provided by members of Kenya's heavy Indian population.

In full flow of beatific rhetoric, Mr. Mboya promised that his party, KANU, would help Patel present a fuller exhibition of a similar white employers and their white government. I recall that President Kennedy recently embraced Algeria's Ben Bella with full honor of state on Ben Bella's trip to Castro's Cuba and that a great to-do was made over the late and unlamented Patrice Lumumba, whose paranoiac shenanigans ignited a great deal of the horror in the Congo.

Perhaps when the new supplicants for recognition and assistance come to town, some details of Mau Mau batings involving baby slaughter, brains, blood and other unspeakable commodities, might slightly temper the wine of our hospitality, at least insofar as service welcome to the spouses of mad and needless murder are concerned.

2 Groups Pay For Surgery on Polio Victim

Two area organizations are donating about $900 to pay for hospital and surgical care of a Winona boy who recently underwent a successful operation to restore normal growth to his leg that was afflicted by polio.

The Winona County Chapter of the National Foundation will pay the hospital bill, estimated at $500, and the Winona Area Shrine Club will pay $400 for surgeons' fees.

THE CHILD is Gerard Erdmanczyk, 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Erdmanczyk, 407 E. 4th St. Announcement of the donations was made by Steve Morgan Shriners' Club president, and Roger Poole, Lewiston, county chairman of the National Foundation.

Morgan said his club donated the money after his club received word about the case from the Mayo Clinic via the Rochester Shrine Club. The Shriners then discussed the case with Poole's group which agreed to pay hospital costs.

Gerard was afflicted with polio when he was 1 year old. His right leg is paralyzed and has been growing more slowly than normal. Oct. 23 Mayo Clinic surgeons fused two blood vessels in the upper leg to stimulate the leg's growth.

MRS. ERDMANCZYK said the operation was successful and that the child would visit the clinic Friday for a checkup. She said four more operations would be needed in the future to repair other damage to the leg caused by polio. The three-hour operation was performed at St. Mary's Hospital, Rochester.

Gerard is one of seven children. His father, a salesman and former Winona policeman, is seeking employment.

Wardens Silent On Duck Check

No comment was available today from federal or state officials concerning an intensive investigation now in progress for possible waterfowl possession limit violations.

Teams of inspecting officers of both the state Conservation Department and the U. S. Fish-Wildlife Service are reported to be conducting a thorough check of city meat dressing and commercial locker firms. Owners of the establishments said the investigation appeared to be more than the routine annual examination normally made by state game wardens.

Game wardens declined to comment on any possible findings in the inspection which has continued since last week.

Present regulations permit an individual to have eight ducks in possession. Ducks stored in commercial lockers must be tagged with the name and address of the hunter and the date they were taken. If the ducks are a gift from another person, this fact must be noted on the attached tag. Other required information includes date of the kill, by whom taken and the species of duck.

Coroner's Jury May Check Road Death at Whitehall

WHITEHALL, Wis. (Special)—An inquest into the traffic death of Ole Haug, 84, rural Whitehall, may be held, according to J. E. Garaghan, Trempealeau County coroner.

Haug was killed instantly when he was struck by a station wagon driven by William Bates, Chippewa Falls Rt. 1, on Highway 53 about 2 1/2 miles northeast of Whitehall at 6:05 p.m. Wednesday. Haug was Trempealeau County's eighth traffic fatality of 1962.

THE CORONER and Donald S. Johnson, district attorney, have not decided yet whether to hold the inquest.

Haug was crossing Highway 53 after his son, Palmer, had crossed the road. The son told him not to cross, according to Eugene Bijold, Trempealeau County chief deputy sheriff.

Haug and his son had been walking home from Haug Machine Shop about two or three blocks away. As Ole crossed, walking north, Bates was attempting to pass a truck. Bates and the truck both were going east.

Bates passed the truck and was starting to get back into his own lane when he struck Haug in the center of the highway, Bijold said. The truck was driven by Charles Dane, Mankato, Minn.

As Bates hit Haug, Bijold said, he applied the brakes and the body slammed against the windshield. Bates stopped the station wagon in 125 or 130 feet. The body went over the car and onto the highway, said Bijold.

JOHN NEPERUD, Whitehall, traveling west, witnessed the accident from four or five blocks away. He told Bijold that he saw the outline of Haug's body in the on coming headlights.

Bates told Bijold that he was confused by the headlights and did not see Haug until just before he hit him. The truck driver, Dane, also told Bijold that he did not see Haug.

Coroner Garaghan said that Haug had a brain concussion, body contusions and two broken legs and that he had died instantly.

MR. HAUG was born Dec. 12, 1877, in La Crosse County to Mr. and Mrs. Petef Haug. He married Minnie Tharaldson at Pigeon Falls in 1903. They farmed, then retired to Whitehall. Mrs. Haug died in 1957 and he had since lived with his son.

He is survived by another son, Tilman, Whitehall; one daughter, Mrs. George (Agnes) Smick, Arcadia; four grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. Friday at Our Saviour's Lutheran Church, the Rev. O. G. Birkeland officiating. Burial will be in the old Whitehall Cemetery.

Friends may call this afternoon and evening at Johnson Funeral Chapel.

Two Arcadia Stations Entered

ARCADIA, Wis. (Special)—Two Arcadia service stations were the targets of break-ins Wednesday night.

They were the Fonfara Standard Oil station and the Mileage station owned by Albin Burns of Eltrick. The stations are only two doors apart.

The Fonfara station was entered by the same rear window used in a similar break-in a month ago. An office door was forced open and the coin box of a pop cooler was opened and rifled. No estimate of the amount of money taken was available.

Fonfara said he closed his station at 11 p.m. Wednesday and discovered the burglary after opening for business today at 8 a.m.

A side window was broken at the Mileage station. Burglars broke into the cigarette machine, taking an undetermined amount of money.

Investigating the break-ins are Arcadia Police Chief Edward Kaiser and Deputy Sheriff Eugene Bijold.

Galesville Barn, Cattle Burn

GALESVILLE, Wis. (Special)—The barn, silo, granary and corncrib — plus hay, oats, equipment and 17 head of cattle — were destroyed in a fire on the Delbert Pickering farm south of here Wednesday night.

Mr. Pickering and children were asleep when the fire broke out in the 24-by-70-foot barn. Mrs. Pickering was visiting.

Mrs. Frances Hackett, a resident of the vicinity, observed the towering flames from about a half-mile away while driving home about 11 p.m. after a visit at the Mulder Brothers farm. She had to return to that farm to call the Galesville firemen because the Pickering's have no telephone.

Lost were Pickering's 10 milking cows, 6 yearling heifers and one calf. There were about 2,500 bales of hay in the barn. A half load of oats was saved from the granary. Some of the silage may be salvaged. The loss is only partly covered by insurance.

While Galesville firemen were fighting the blaze, the wind shifted from the north to the northwest, endangering fire equipment and the house. Glass on one of the trucks was broken and red warning lights melted. Paint was blistered on the second truck.

Bank Bids $151,500 On Old Post Office

First National Bank, Winona, submitted a high bid of $151,500 to the U.S. General Services Administration to buy the old Winona post office building, Sam J. Parker, regional director of the agency's utilization and disposal service, Kansas City, told the Daily News this morning.

The agency has 60 days to make an award. If the bank gets the award, it will take possession of the building about April 1. The new post office is expected to be finished Feb. 27.

Arnold E. Stoa, president and board chairman of the bank, was out of town this morning and could not be reached for comment about the bank's purpose in bidding on the old post office.

Bids were opened by Parker at the Kansas City GSA office Wednesday afternoon. Other bidders follow: WMC, Inc., Winona, $59,200; Arthur Jackman, Winona, $18,346, and Ben Schwartz, Marshalltown, Iowa, $10,100.

The bank's high bid was $62,300 or 41.1 percent higher than the second high bid submitted by WMC. The present three-story post office is at the northwest corner of Main and West 4th streets on a 140-by-180-foot plot.

Two Industries Work on Smoke

Two city industrial firms are taking action to control smoke discharges which brought complaints to the City Council at its Monday night meeting.

George Rogge, city building inspector, said smokestack alterations will be made by Thurov Industries, Inc., at its plant at 363 W. 3rd St. He also said a study of smoke problems was being made by Division Manager S. J. Petterson, Northern States Power Co., and company engineers in Minneapolis.

A 20-foot extension of its present chimney by the Thurov firm will discharge smoke from its steam plant well above the tree line, William J. Thurov, company president, said today. Downdrafts which formerly swirled smoke and soot about neighboring residences will be avoided in this way, Thurov said.

Extension of the chimney was recommended by engineers and by the Chamber of Commerce smoke control committee as the proper solution for the problem, Thurov said. Installation is expected to be completed by the Winona Boiler & Steel Co. within 10 days.

Shell to Build Sarnia Station

After being postponed repeatedly since August 1961, construction was scheduled to begin this week on a new Shell service station at the intersection of Mankato Avenue and Sarnia street.

A letter to the City Council from the oil company said all obstacles had now been cleared. Located on what originally was city land, the project has been delayed by discovery of unforeseen exceptions to the title, the necessity to obtain easement easements from the State Highway Department and by disagreements on cost factors.

At their meeting July 15, aldermen were told by a Shell representative that the lowest bid for the building had been $6,000 higher than the $31,000 cost estimated when the building permit was drawn. A transfer of the company's regional management from St. Paul to Chicago had occurred in the interim, he said, and this also contributed to the slowdown.

Contractor for the building is Ralph Scharmer.

It Happened Last Night Wash Your Hair In Mayonnaise

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Some people think Broadway's a kooky place, which is all wrong of course.

For example, now, here's something from Broadway that's very sensible.

Yes, I've a beauty secret for all you girls... Latin Quarter lovely Nora Alexis washes her hair in mayonnaise.

"Many women use a vinegar rinse... or a little oil... or egg. Mayonnaise has all three. Why not a mayonnaise hair wash?" says Nora.

Nora's a stunningly shapely Beverly Hills brunet who's got the mayonnaise commercial all figured out.

"Does your hair have that rich, tangy, tasty, succulent flavor? Wash it with Miraculous Mayonnaise — you'll taste the difference."

Nora's a girl to whom strange things happen.

"A man gave me this corduroy raincoat on the subway," she said, in a coat three sizes too large.

"I guess my skirt was too high. He kept saying 'Don't do that.' He took off his coat, he put it across my knees... and he left."

"I've had," Nora continued, "32 accidents. People can't seem to drive when I'm around."

"I was with Oscar Levant's daughter Marcia. She was driving without a license, and was under age. We hit a tree. Her father was very angry. It was a 1929 Cadillac, and he was very attached to it."

THAT'S ALL except for Nora's pet snakes, one of which she called "Slimy," he was so sweet. Slimy used to get in the cookie jar, so her mother said, "Slimy goes or I go."

Nora asked me to be very careful about how I wrote this story. "Don't give people the idea," she warned, "that I'm some kind of a nut."

Anthony Quinn revealed at the big salute to Eddie Fisher at Danny's Hideaway that he leaves "Techni-Techin" in March to film "The Visit," with Ingrid Bergman who insists on not working summers, so she can be with her children.

Soviets Parade Type of Rocket Shipped to Cuba

By PRESTON GROVER

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union paraded some of what were believed to be its Cuban rockets through Red Square Wednesday to mark the 45th anniversary of the 1917 Bolshevik Revolution.

The annual march of men and arms past the Soviet leaders atop Lenin's tomb included a large variety of rockets, including some which observers felt certain were types spotted by American reconnaissance planes in Cuba.

Also on display are aerial rockets which a Soviet television commentator said had been tested "through no fault of the Soviet Union." He apparently referred to the shot that brought down American pilot Francis Gary Powers and his U2.

The rocket, which has two levels of guiding fins, also may have been the one that brought down another American U2 over Cuba. Among the rockets shown was what appeared to be a new multi-stage missile, described by the television commentator as a "strategic rocket" and the "junior sister" of the rockets which have launched Soviet space ships. No space ship rockets were shown, however.

The marching soldiers began their parade to the Cuban revolutionary tune "26th of July." The address of the day was given as usual by the Soviet defense minister, Marshal Rodion Malinovsky. In both his speech and his order of the day to the armed forces he repeated an explanation of the Cuban crisis.

Top Mudcat

This Iowa fisherman, visiting a brother in Winona, probably landed the big catfish of the year taken on a hook and line in this sector of the river. The big mudcat that Lester Schmitt, Cresco, Iowa, boated tipped the scales at exactly 45 pounds.

He was fishing with his brother Ray, 153 Fairfax St., out of Robick's Bass Camp below the Whitman dam for walleye, using a homemade jig on a spinning outfit with an eight pound test line, when he contacted the snag that moved. It was a half hour later when Ray was able to get a net under the fish, and with all his might lift it into the boat. It was 45 inches long and had a girth of 23 inches.

"It was as long as the width of the boat," Ray said, "and laid perfectly still in the bottom of the boat after we landed it. It was tired out. I cracked the handle of the dipnet in raising the fish into the boat."

Snow in North

There was six inches of snow in Clearwater County on Wednesday and predictions are that it will stay cold over the deer season opening this weekend. There was snow on the ground this morning north of Moorhead and over the main rifle deer hunting country of northern Minnesota including the nine-day zone.

This Weather Bureau announcement should encourage a big movement of red-clad hunters into the rifle zone. After all, real deer hunting calls for snow in the woods and around the camp.

Locally, the weatherman says the temperature for the weekend will be slightly above normal with some light rain or snow on Friday. It might turn to snow. It may be sufficient to wet down the noisy leaves prevailing on the ground at present in most of the Southeastern Minnesota deer habitat.

The demand for deer licenses in most Southeastern Minnesota counties is running slightly under a year ago, but there is plenty of time before Saturday morning to get "deer fever." No license may be issued after the first day of the season—Saturday. The deer license costs $3.50. A deer license is required regardless of the hunter's age.

Area hunters will get a break in their hunting along the river with the duck season closing Tuesday. The ruling made last season states that the closed area of the Wild Life refuge open to deer hunting, regardless of the open season on geese. Geese can be hunted until Dec. 4.

Possession Law

Here is the regulation governing storage of game which is important right now with the close of the duck season:

"Game and fish taken under license in this state may be retained in closed season in all places of cold storage (commercial cold storage warehouses excepted) without tag or permit provided each package is marked in ink showing name and address of owner, number of license under which taken, number and species in each package and date when placed in storage. Where storage is had in any home or private storage place it is necessary to notify the director or agent in writing within five days after the close of the season, giving license number, species in storage, name and address of licensee and where kept. Large and small game and game fish lawfully taken in other states or countries may be brought into state during closed season if proper coupons are attached if above is complied with within five days after bringing into state. Not to exceed possession limits, upland game birds, game fish and game animals may be kept indefinitely."

The snapping turtle can feed only under water and unlike most other turtles, cannot draw its head or tail into its shell.

The Good Old Days, Remember?

By HAL ROYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Everybody says it was different in the old days.

What were the old days really like? Well, they are at least a part of you if you can remember when: A dime-a-dance girl didn't mind two for a nickel. If you were a fancy stepper.

The customer was always right. If he failed to return, his absence had a threat of importance. No kid who wanted to get into the circus free could ever agree on how many buckets of water it took to fill an elephant.

A boy remembered his last enjoyment by where he had parked his chewing gum. It was always on the immaculate underside of a piece of dining room or living room furniture.

You learned about women by studying the mail order catalog pictures of what they could wear in winter to keep themselves warm.

The man with the largest family of marriageable daughters in the neighborhood usually had the largest front porch and the darkest back yard—in which he sometimes later grew prize vegetables.

One of the most distinguished forms of individual charity was to confide to the other person your own solution of how to deal with foot corns.

When chicken was served, someone at the table was bound to observe, "I'm pure Southern—I simply can't enjoy it unless I hold it in my hands."

You could always cheap date a homey girl by playfully telling your mutual fortune by her freckles: "This loves me, this loves me not..."

Everybody predicted the lady who played the piano at the silent movies would make her mark in the musical world. She was so sensitive to moods.

Kaiser Wilhelm was held by some to have exemplified the full depths of human depravity. Others disagreed.

The height of male sophistication was to say, "Never chase a girl. They're like street cars. Wait a few moments and there'll be another one along."

Ice cream came in only three flavors. If you couldn't enjoy chocolate, vanilla or strawberry—well, you had to take the apple pie and cheese for dessert.

College boys and hoboes rode box cars from New York and California to harvest Kansas wheat.

Only the rich drank orange juice except to cloak the taste of castor oil.

For less than the price of present stamps, the postman came twice daily—not once — to your door to deliver the mail. This enabled a kid taking a correspondence course in ventriloquism to learn to throw his voice doubly quicker and at less cost than he can today.

A cult held that if you chewed milk 15 times before swallowing it would improve your digestion. Everyone confidently predicted science would free man—not burden him with fresh fears.

Those were the old days. Remember?

Corn Harvesting Has Annual Rash Of Accidents

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Corn harvesting is producing its annual fall rash of severe accidents — amputations, mangled fingers, and even death — in Minnesota and neighboring farm fields.

The latest carnage brought renewed pleas from safety experts today to farmers to exercise caution in working with power driven harvesting machinery.

Last week a Dawson area farmer lost both hands in a corn picker when he apparently attempted to clear the clogged implement as it ran.

A Stillwater farmer lost his life when he was caught in the mechanism of a power-driven farm wagon used in transferring corn into a silo.

A farmer at Ringsted, Iowa, near the Minnesota border, used his own jackknife to cut his fingers free when trapped in the mechanism of a corn picker as he worked alone in a field.

A Hutchinson farmer lost three fingers and parts of two others, and a Monticello farmer lost two fingers and parts of two others in similar accidents.

"Human reflexes are no match for the speed of corn pickers or power takeoffs," says Glenn I. Prickett, University of Minnesota farm safety specialist.

"Some persons use a stick to clear an operating picker when it becomes clogged, thinking they can't get caught," he said, "usually they're caught before they can let go."

Prickett said there is only one sure way — "stop the machine before servicing it."

Of 51 known corn picker accidents in the fall of 1951, 45 occurred in the running picker, Prickett said.

Last year's picker deaths included one fatality, another death from shock at the scene of an accident, one arm lost, nine hands mutilated and lost and 17 cases where from one to five fingers were amputated.

'Y' Youth Head Takes New Post

Louis S. King, Winona YMCA youth director, announced this week that he would resign Dec. 5 to take a similar position with the Dearborn, Mich., YMCA.

King, who has been here four years, informed YMCA directors earlier this week of his plans to move. He will take up duties as senior program secretary Dec. 10 at the Dearborn Y, a branch of the Detroit metropolitan organization.

In his new position King will handle public relations, promotions and programs. He will be responsible for recruitment and training of prospective leaders and the development of senior and junior Hi-Y and Indian guide programs.

King came to Winona in September 1958 from Abington, Pa., where he had been YMCA youth director two years. He is a native of Grand Forks, N.D., where he graduated from high school. He attended the National Agricultural College, Doylestown, Pa., and coached baseball and football at high school and college levels.

Some of the changes inaugurated since he became youth director here include:

10 Wisconsin House Members Win at Polls

By HARVEY BREUSCHER
Associated Press Staff Writer

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A majority of voters registered satisfaction Tuesday with the House delegation that represented Wisconsin in Congress last session and returned all 10 members to Washington for another two years.

Re-election of the incumbents bore out most election forecasts. But early returns held some shaky moments for a couple of the eventual winners.

The final result means Wisconsin again will be represented by six Republicans and four Democrats when the House convenes for its 88th regular session in January.

Here are the district vote totals: First district (261 of 261) Flynn (D) 62,335; Schadeberg (R) 71,496

Second district (340 of 353) Kasanmeier (D) 84,017; Kindtschi (R) 76,261

Third district (409 of 409) Thomson (D) 34,356; Thomson (R) 54,240

Fourth district (329 of 329) Zabolocki (D) 116,855; Tillotson (R) 44,642

Fifth district (377 of 377) Reuss (D) 103,634; Nelson (R) 60,025

Sixth district (252 of 253) Race

(D) 46,621; Van Pelt (R) 70,870
Seventh district (391 of 403) Evans (D) 33,287; Laird (R) 68,388
Eighth district (308 of 309) Monfile (D) 47,320; Byrnes (R) 80,190
Ninth district (410 of 413) Johnson (D) 49,498; Danielson (R) 39,362

Eugenie Walks Out of Soviet Rally in Sofia

SOFIA, Bulgaria (AP) — U.S. Minister Eugenie Anderson walked out of a Soviet reception Wednesday night after Bulgarian President Dimitar Ganev accused the United States of piratical action against Cuba.

Ganev made the accusation in an address during the Soviet Embassy's reception in honor of the 45th anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution. It was attended by Sofia's diplomatic corps and chief delegates to the Bulgarian Communist party congress now being held here.

The guests also included Soviet chief ideologist Mikhail Suslov, and Blas Roca, former secretary general of the Cuban Communist party.

Ganev spoke after Soviet Ambassador Georgi A. Denisov addressed the guests. Denisov made a passing reference to American imperialism before launching into the familiar Soviet line that Premier Khrushchev saved the world from war by withdrawing Soviet missiles from Cuba.

Ganev said the United States had violated all international laws in trying "to put up the blockade around small but heroic Cuba, in beginning piratical action and in openly preparing an armed attack on revolutionary Cuba."

"I think we had better leave," said Mrs. Anderson to her American interpreter. They started out. Bulgarian government officials rushed over in an attempt to smooth things over, diplomatic informants said, but Mrs. Anderson would have none of it.

The Bulgarian press did not mention the incident today.

Council at Blair Gets Right of Way

BLAIR, Wis. (Special) — The Blair Common Council has decided to buy water main right of way for $1,200 from Archie Johnson.

Bids will be opened next Thursday for installation of 6-inch main past the new Preston Cooperative Creamery cheese factory and to connect with the main on Main Street. A public hearing will be held at the same time as the bid opening.

The council said the State Board of Health should rush approval of a plan to eliminate rust from the municipal water supply. The Blair-Preston fire department charged in a letter that aldermen had failed to provide a better fire alarm system. Aldermen Jerome Mattison and James Frederixson, who are firemen, were authorized to make changes in the system.

The council resolved that the overtime rate for city employees should be at least as much as their regular rate. A La Crosse firm was hired to clean and seal floors in the post office lobby. The council studied the proposed 1963 budget.

They'll Have to Invent Some New Terms

They'll have to invent some new terms. "Barn burner" and "cliff hanger" are now too mild when it comes to describing a race such as that between Gov. Elmer L. Andersen and Karl Rolvaag which at this writing is still undetermined.

There will be a lot of post mortems, one of which will be the highway squabble over Interstate 35 in the vicinity of Hinckley—and the result, whichever way it is decided, has shown that polls, again, can be wrong.

Passage of the three amendments is gratifying—and significant, too, for Winona because of Winona State College which should now get the green light on its building program.

The Legislature, despite a great upheaval among its members, apparently will be conservative in both houses for the first time since 1953 and this, too, should be a relief because of the constant bickering between House and Senate during the last few sessions.

MOST SIGNIFICANT point about the Tuesday election, at least so far as this section of Minnesota is concerned, was the almost universal disappointment over the defeat of Rep. Walter Judd of Minneapolis for Congress.

This was true, not because anyone hereabouts has anything against Don Fraser, but rather, because they have great respect for the long and distinguished career of Dr. Judd—a devoted statesman.

Dr. Judd, who has appeared frequently in Southeastern Minnesota, didn't want the job—he wanted to retire. But he succumbed to the urging of his friends to again be a candidate and he accepted with reticence. The question now is, did those same friends support him as they should?

IT IS OBVIOUS that the voters, in Minnesota at least, voted for individuals and did not follow the party line.

Item: Re-election of veteran State Auditor Stafford King and Treasurer Val Bjornson by substantial margins vs. the close race for governor.

Item: Defeat of conservative legislators in Winona County, Sen. James R. Keller and Rep. Don McLeod and the election of liberals Roger Laufenburger as senator and George Daley as representative.

Item: Defeat of liberal John McGill seeking return to his state legislative post from the city and election of Mrs. Virginia Torgerson, conservative.

Item: Re-election of Cong. Albert H. Quie despite heavy DFL pressure and financial backing for David Graven. Quie, apparently, is now pretty much of a fixture in Washington as was his predecessor, the late August H. Andersen.

Nationally the results were not too surprising. Campaign tactics and speeches of Sen. Alex Wiley in Wisconsin indicated his popularity was slipping and the fact remains that a majority of the voters of that state felt that Gaylord Nelson had performed satisfactorily as governor.

THE VERDICT in California undoubtedly will relegate Richard M. Nixon to a role such as that being filled by Harold E. Stassen, one-time popular governor of Minnesota. Both are "has beens." The presidential election two years ago, however, and now the result in California proves that Stassen wasn't off the beam when he said prior to November 1960, that Nixon couldn't be elected to anything.

Reporting of Spending Needs Change

RECENT WEEKS have been hectic ones, what with the Cuban crisis coming on top of the election contests. Election day provided a lull before the storm begins all over again.

So this one-day lull is perhaps a good time to reflect upon the clear need for reform in campaign fiscal practices.

Campaign spending acknowledged by most candidates in compliance with federal and state laws bears about the same relationship to what is actually spent as the olives bear to a full course banquet.

The reason for this, on the federal level, for example, is that the law requires a candidate for Congress to report only on what he personally receives and spends. The so-called "volunteer" committees, which often handle virtually all of a candidate's campaign finances, are not required to report.

THE RESULTS are curious, and often ludicrous. How often have you read that a candidate's pre-election report shows he has received no contributions and has spent $202?

Do you marvel that this modest sum could provide all that radio and TV time, all those newspaper ads, all those lawn signs, billboards and the rest?

The point need not be labored. Even when the final post-election report on campaign finances is made, it generally discloses only the tip of the iceberg. By far the largest part of the campaign spending remains hidden.

Years ago it was the Democrats who always accused the Republicans of trying to "buy" elections by vast campaign spending. Nowadays few persons with functioning eyes and ears could believe such an accusation.

BUT THIS is not a partisan issue. If the reporting of campaign spending is a desir-

Washington Calling

President Gets Full Support

By MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON—The harvest of reaction from around the country in the wake of the Cuban crisis shows many variants from panic fear to cynical disbelief in the peril.

But, above all, it reflects overwhelming support for the President throughout the ordeal.

This was so impressive that it could not have escaped the Kremlin and it may have been a factor in the final decision. The usual pickets paraded outside the White House, some for and some against the blockade. Small organizations of earnest believers in peace, such as the Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy, concentrated on trying to counter the demand for more drastic action, including an invasion to overthrow Fidel Castro.

Childs

If any demonstration had been needed of how negligible the Communist influence is in this country the Cuban crisis supplied it. In view of what had been quite obvious before Cuba, the fear—the almost-paranoid fear—of some Americans is hard to understand. The fact that a few of the tired old hacks of communism are allowed to speak on college campuses throws them into a spasm of denunciation and protest.

ONE FORM this fear has taken is seen in Proposition 24 on the ballot in California to amend the state constitution. This would give, in the interpretation of most lawyers who have studied it, any law enforcement agent in the state the power to determine whether an organization is a "Communist front" organization. The individuals comprising such organizations, loosely defined in Proposition 24, would then be subject to severe penalties. Their recourse, in the words of the sponsor of Proposition 24, former State Assemblyman Louis Francis, would be to go to the courts, a long and costly process beyond the reach of most individuals.

It has been suggested that the John Birch Society could be found subversive under the proposed amendment. A great deal would depend on the outlook—the prejudices, in fact—of a particular Federal marshal or of a grand jury convened in any one of California's counties.

THE ACTIVITIES of extreme rightists as reported from time to time from certain areas of the country have a subversive sound. By anonymous telephone calls they set out to destroy the reputation of a school superintendent because he has refused to comply with their demands. Because a market sells Polish hams they try by secret means to indict it as part of the Communist conspiracy.

The techniques of the extreme right resemble those of Communists and fellow travelers when there was a ponderable Communist influence in this country. In the same way they were out to destroy anyone in their immediate orbit who would not conform.

Former President Eisenhower in his flurry of campaign activity, more extensive than any political manifestation while he was in the White House, warned of the dangers of conformism—a conformist America moving as a submissive herd. The Eisenhower political definitions are always loosely drawn and this seems to be even more true in his "retirement" than during his Presidency.

I HAVE A NEW ASSIGNMENT FOR THEM

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Chinese Reds Assail Tito and Drew Pearson

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—In view of increasing dissension reported inside the Communist world, it is important to study a recent blast delivered by the Chinese Reds against Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia as a result of an interview Tito gave me on his Adriatic summer island, Brioni, last August.

The Chinese Reds apparently waited some time to get a full copy of this interview and have been boiling over it ever since. Finally they launched a 5,000-word blast against Tito—and indirectly me—in an editorial in the People's Daily of Peking.

Pearson

The editorial was broad-based over the Peking radio and was picked up by U.S. monitoring services from whom I obtained a copy.

What it says about Tito is worse than Congressman Otto Passman of Louisiana, or H. Carl Anderson of Minnesota, or various presidents have said about me.

"Tito gave a long interview to American correspondent, Drew Pearson," says the Chinese editorial. "U.S. monopoly capital attaches much importance to this interview and published it in 250 U.S. newspapers. (Actually around 600 papers.)"

"In his interview with Pearson, this renegade Tito has taken another step forward. He openly advertised the need to effect the 'economic integration' and 'political integration' of the world, and asked his master, U.S. imperialism, to use 'economic and democratic methods' to cope with certain infiltration or aggression in a broad sense by Communism."

Note—This should be interesting to Rep. Wilbur Mills D-Ark., who as chairman of the Ways and Means Committee went out of his way to kill the long-standing trade treaty between the United States and Yugoslavia giving it most-favored nation treatment. President Kennedy had urged Mills not to do this, on the ground that Yugoslavia was leaning our way but Mills ignored the President's advice. As a result, Yugoslavia now is seeking closer trade ties with Moscow.

THE WORST word you can call anyone in the Communist world is a "revisionist." This means that you have revised the creed of Karl Marx. Khrushchev has been called a revisionist by Chinese leaders because he has urged a doctrine of coexistence instead of the inevitability of war between capitalism and communism.

Here is the vitriolic poison the Red Chinese poured into the press and onto their airwaves against "revisionist" Tito.

"The interview with Pearson glaringly shows up the features of the modern revisionists of Yugoslavia as renegades. By its words and deeds the Tito group proves to the world how degraded modern revisionists have become and how much more degraded they will become in the future."

Then after calling the roll of Trotsky another "old renegade of the international workers' movement," the Chinese people's world continues:

"THE TITO group propagated its modern revisionist views centering on the questions of war and peace. In the interview with Pearson, Tito not only did not expose the real enemy of war and peace, but on the contrary defended U.S. imperialism."

"Tito held that the danger of war exists at present merely because 'everybody' is 'armed to the teeth' and because military circles have influenced the U.S. and Soviet governments."

Actually what Tito told me was that the Red Army had an important influence on Khrushchev just as military men, he said, have an influence on governments in most countries.

"Tito tries to make people believe that only 'wise men' are needed to bring about world peace," continued the Red Chinese diatribe. "According to him, 'wise men' would not entertain the thought of war. In Tito's eyes, U.S. imperialist leaders, such as Kennedy are 'wise men.'"

WHAT TITO actually told me was that Kennedy and Khrushchev should meet frequently, not just when a crisis is developed. He contended that when two sensible men meet frequently they could adjust all problems between the world's two most powerful nations.

But according to the Red Chinese editorial: "It is precisely with these unscientific absurdities that renegades attempt in vain to negate completely the Marxist-Leninist scientific analysis of imperialism, to deny that imperialism is the source of war in modern times and that U.S. imperialism is the enemy of world peace."

"They try by such means to lull the vigilance of the people, to shield such acts of aggression of U.S. imperialism, and to give an even freer hand to prepare for the unleashing of a new world war."

These are only some of the highlights of the 5,000-word blast at the head of an important Communist country—a blast which indicates the upheaval now taking place inside the Communist world.

Letters TO THE EDITOR

Importance of Vertical Integration Stressed

To the Editor:

The purpose of this paper is to bring up, once again, the important question of vertical integration of farmers' cooperatives. My intention is to explain, briefly, the background, importance and eventual future trend of this process.

By vertical integration we understand control by one management of more than one stage in the process of production, processing or marketing of a farm product.

The vertical integration in both industry and agriculture is a consequence of economic progress. New technology, opening up of new markets, the rise in the standard of living, industrial concentration, new concept of business management, etc, etc, have been giving the impetus to the process of vertical integration.

Historically, the process of vertical integration had begun in industry. Consequently, farmers had become dependent on the other forces in the economy. Their existence and the standard of living became endangered because a single farmer could not, despite technological improvements, use better and more efficient methods of production. These were too costly and risky for a single farmer. The industry, however, continued to grow, making the gap between the incomes of the farmers and of the non-farming population ever wider. It did not take long for the farmers to realize that, first, by establishing their co-ops and then by their further vertical integration they could acquire market power and stability enjoyed by industry.

One of the most important features of vertical integration is contract farming. Contract farming means that either processors, suppliers, or retailers enter into various types of contractual arrangements with farmers for the production of some products. Contracts, quite often, specify the quantity, quality and price of the product. In fact, the farmer gives up his opportunities for profit but, also, to a considerable extent the risk for more and better security.

The integrated co-op faces many new responsibilities: 1—meeting new needs; 2—providing better management; 3—assuming business risks; 4—education of members and 5—research, etc.

Two of these deserve special attention. First, the extent to which co-ops will be able to meet new responsibilities and opportunities will depend upon their leaders. Their functions have become twofold: 1—they have to run a multi-function association and 2—they have to educate their members as to the basic co-op objectives. That is, they have to be both the ideological as well as business leaders.

It is certainly not an exaggeration to say that the future of co-ops depends upon the ability of their leaders to meet both challenges. Secondly but equally important is research which gives necessary information and standards for operating efficient business units.

Unfortunately full advantage has not always been taken of research findings. In many instances co-ops have been negligent to use them and many valuable research reports have died in managers' files.

With increased responsibilities new opportunities have developed for co-ops. Such opportunities can be exploited only if responsibilities are faced and adequately dealt with. Some of the new opportunities that will open up to the co-ops as the result of the process of vertical integration are greater savings, improved services and increased bargaining power.

But new opportunities and responsibilities bring many problems. One of them is the use of accumulated savings accruing to the co-op. Suppose for example that certain departments in a vertically integrated co-op are in the black and others in the red. Should savings be distributed across-the-board or only to those departments where they have occurred?

In conclusion it could be said that process of vertical integration seems inevitable and should continue in the future. A farmer is not able to accomplish vertical integration by himself. It could be best done through co-ops. And co-ops, in a new situation, are faced with the necessity of making far reaching changes in their operations if they are to meet the new challenges confronting them.

AAA Family Group Helps Members

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: In regard to your letter from "M. S." about an alcoholic daughter, those of us in the Al-Anon Family Group know that "trying everything" as "M. S." says, only aggravates the situation. But we realize that when we admit we are powerless over the alcoholic, we CAN do much to help OURSELVES.

"M. S." as a relative of an alcoholic, is eligible to attend Al-Anon meetings. Either call the local Alcoholics Anonymous chapter for information, or write to P.O. Box 182, Madison Square Station, New York 10, N.Y.—MRS. J. R.

I have mentioned Al-Anon before in this column, and certainly will again. It merits the highest respect.

If you want to think of it this way, the alcoholic may perhaps have the right to ruin his own life if he so desires—although as a member of the human race I wonder whether any person really has the right to destroy the good that resides in anyone. Including himself or herself.

In any event, when an alcoholic harms not only himself but makes life miserable for those near to him, and these others are terribly and continually hurt through no fault of their own, this is where Al-Anon comes in.

AL-ANON is made up of people who are not alcoholics themselves but are relatives. The group is closely affiliated with Alcoholics Anonymous.

Al-Anon pool their knowledge and experience. They counsel each other concerning things they can do to help and things that prove to be a total waste of time, such as "trying everything" when the alcoholic still refuses to do anything for himself.

They learn also to insulate themselves, to such degree as is reasonably possible, against unproductive heartbreak—in a word, to know what is possible to do, and what is not, and to stop wasting time and energy on things which will not help.

This is an over-simplification, I confess, but it may give a rough idea of Al-Anon.

Thank You

GEORGE DALEY

Both Parties Find Some Good News

By JOHN CHADWICK
WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats and Republicans alike found something to cheer about today in the make-up of the new 89th Congress that will convene on Jan. 9.

For the Democrats, the big talking point was that they had not suffered the big losses that usually befall the party in power in an off-year election.

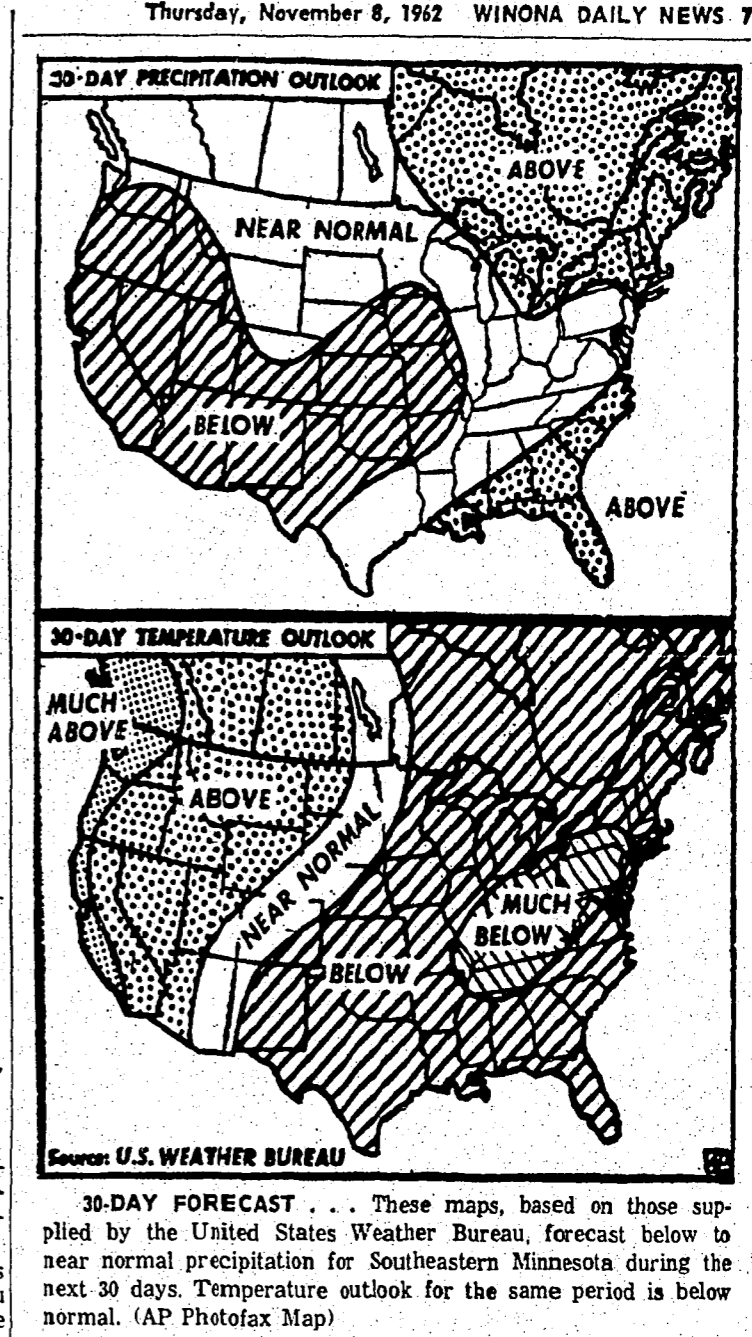

President Kennedy said in a statement issued by the White House that he was heartened by the outcome of Tuesday's elections and was certain Congress would meet its responsibilities "in a progressive and vigorous manner."

Republicans failed to make the gains they had hoped for in congressional races, but the GOP national chairman, William E. Miller, said he did not see in this "in any way an endorsement of the New Frontier and its programs."

The new line-up in the Senate will be 68 Democrats and 32 Republicans. This hits the Democratic majority to the highest peak since they won 69 seats in the 1938 election. They had a 64-36 margin in the outgoing Congress.

In the House, where 435 seats were at stake this year, the Democrats captured 258 and the Republicans 176 and the Democrats were leading in one undecided race in Alaska. If the Democrats win this, they will have a hefty majority of 83.

Even so, the Democratic majority will be less than it was in the 87th Congress when there were 437 house seats and the Demo-

Age Factor in Wiley's Defeat, Chairman Says

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Claude Jasper, Wisconsin's Republican chairman, says he feels contributing factors in the defeat of Sen. Alexander Wiley were his age and an explosive press conference.

Jasper blamed the defeat of Philip Kuehn, the Republican candidate for governor, on the nominee's tax stand.

The 78-year-old Wiley, a veteran of 24 years in the Senate, was beaten in Tuesday's election by Democratic Gov. Gaylord Nelson, whose victory gave Wisconsin two Democratic senators for the first time in history.

Nelson, completing his second term as chief executive, gathered 619,832 votes to 583,256 for Wiley on the basis of unofficial returns from 3,485 of the state's 3,525 precincts.

Kuehn, losing for a second time in the governor's race, was defeated by Democratic Atty. Gen. John Reynolds. Reynolds' vote count in the same number of precincts was 627,438 to 615,454 for Kuehn.

Jasper said Wednesday night he was "inclined to think" Wiley was rejected because "the people mistakenly related the senator's annoyance" during a press conference Oct. 9 "with his age."

Wiley became angry during the conference when questioned about his stand on the administration's medicare bill, which he opposed, and told a newsman to mind his own business.

Jasper said he thought Wiley "was badly maligned by the press as a result of the conference," and added:

"I'm not blaming the press. It was just an unfortunate thing and I'm sure if they had known all the facts they would not have been as rough. Actually, as we know now, the senator was under the tremendous pressure of foreign affairs, especially Cuba.

"In view of this, when the inconsequential issue of medical care was raised, he became extremely annoyed. This created a false image of the man. I'm sure that, in the same situation, a man of 45 years would have acted the same way."

Turning to the governor race Jasper said, "We had the tax monkey on the Democrats' back until about six weeks ago, but in some way the psychology or image changed to show the Republicans stood for more taxes and the Democrats for less taxes and more services."

While the Republicans were losing the two plums in the election, they won the four remaining constitutional state offices, maintained control of the Legislature and re-elected their six congressmen. The state's four remaining congressmen are Democrats, also re-elected.

Boy, 6, Killed At Mankato

MANKATO, Minn. (AP) — A six-year-old boy was killed here Wednesday by a car at a school crosswalk.

He was Randy Kuhlmann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Kuhlmann, Mankato.

Authorities said the traffic patrol flag was down ordering traffic to stop when the accident happened. The boy was dead on arrival at the hospital.

The death raises the state's traffic toll this year to 569 compared with 638 through the same period last year.

President of St. Olaf Speaks on Aggression

DULUTH, Minn. (AP) — The president of St. Olaf College, Northfield, said Wednesday that "much of the enmity between the West and newly-developed Communist China is due to aggressive means employed by the West which have resulted in disturbing established cultural patterns."

Dr. Clemens Granskou, Northfield president and a former missionary to China, talked to the Kiwanis Club here. "We must be sympathetic in our approach toward these people, even those who hate us," he said it is up to the West to "break the bamboo curtain."

DEAR ABBY: Gamblers Must Take Bitter, Sweet

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband started to gamble a few years ago. He used to win big so it was no problem. Lately he is betting heavy and now his losses are more than we can afford. Should I set a limit on how much he can gamble? I've heard that gambling is a sickness. If it is, what is the cure? GAMBLER'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: You can't have it both ways. If you accept a man's winnings, you can't complain when he gambles away the grocery money. Gambling can indeed become a sickness. Write to Gamblers Anonymous, P. O. Box 17173, Los Angeles 17, Calif., for helpful information. (It's free.)

DEAR ABBY: I have always known that my nose was not my best feature but I don't think about it until someone gets me off in a corner and asks, "How come you don't get your nose fixed?" I have seen worse noses than mine and don't give it a second thought if the person's personality is pleasing. But what do you say to people who ask questions like that? NOSE BETTER

DEAR NOSE: Tell them you don't need to have it fixed because it still runs all right. P.S. The only reason one should consider cosmetic surgery is to please himself.

DEAR ABBY: Please tell your readers that there is a simple way to have one's keys returned in case of loss without foolishly tagging keys with one's own name and address, thus risking burglary or car theft. Tag the keys with the telephone number of a close friend or relative. The person whose number is on the keys can then arrange to return the keys to their owner. PAUL, THE BRONX

U of M Professor Talks on Artists

DULUTH, Minn. (AP) — A University of Minnesota professor said Wednesday "today's philosophers and artists mutter to each other in the corners instead of communicating with the general public."

Professor Brian Blanshard, speaking to the University of Minnesota Duluth chapter of the American Association of University Professors, said modern thinkers debate highly technical philosophic points and no longer are concerned with subjects of interest to society at large.

Weber, 40, Madison Lake, Minn., was given a ticket for failure to yield the right of way.

A new 300,000-gallon water storage tower is planned, plus a new treatment plant to replace the present one, which was one of the first in the area. A federal grant of about $84,000 has been allocated to the village for the treatment facilities.

Cost of the entire project has been estimated at $420,965.

No Change in National Mood

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—This was a catch-as-catch-can election. It showed no sign of any real change in the national mood. But it did reveal a lot of discontent among voters toward their state parties or individuals.

Nor could President Kennedy or former President Eisenhower claim any infallible political magic. Both campaigned for their party candidates in a number of states. In some their side won, in some it lost.

The national mood was expressed in 1960 when the Democrats were given control of the federal government. Voters could have swept them out Tuesday, if they were dissatisfied, and given the Republicans control of Congress. This didn't happen.

The Democrats went into this election with huge majorities in House and Senate. And, just as predicted, when the election was over they still retained them.

The reason was pretty clear. In this campaign there was no real issue dividing the country or compelling the voters to seek a new national direction. This much was probably good news for Kennedy.

But it won't make his task of trying to get Congress to accept his domestic programs any easier. The Democratic-run Congress was conservative before the election. It remains so because the changes there were so few.

It was in the states that the discontent and upsets showed. They were most startling in those rock-ribbed Republican states of Vermont and New Hampshire where Democrats, for the first time in generations, were elected governors.

In Vermont it was Phillip H. Hoff, the first Democrat sent to the state house in 108 years. In New Hampshire it was John W. King, the first Democrat so chosen in 40 years.

But in Michigan and Oklahoma the upsets went the other way. In Michigan George Romney was the first Republican elected governor in 14 years. In Oklahoma the first Republican ever was made governor. This was Henry Bellmon.

Eisenhower had campaigned in New Hampshire, Kennedy in Michigan. But Kennedy also went to Connecticut where his friend and fellow Democrat, Abraham Ribicoff, was elected to the Senate. And Eisenhower talked in Pennsylvania where a Republican, William M. Scranton, was elected governor.

A prime example of voters' switching around showed up in Ohio where a Democrat, Sen. Frank J. Lausche, was re-elected, but Republican James A. Rhodes defeated Gov. Michael V. DiSalle for the state house.

The best all around news for the Republicans was the fact they had governors elected in New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, and Michigan, all big states which should give the party needed strength in the 1964 presidential race.

Early today the biggest casualty of the election appeared to be former Vice President Richard M. Nixon who sought the governorship of California held by Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

It was taken as granted before Nixon ever made his bid there, that if he lost he was through as a national political figure.

Nelson A. Rockefeller, by his re-election as governor of New York, seemed as if now to have the inside track for the Republican presidential nomination two years from now.

BETWEEN THE EYES
MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP)—Hunting under a special permit, Albert Little of Germantown, Ohio, bagged a raccoon near here. The coon also got Little.

The 29-year-old hunter said the raccoon fell from the tree where he cornered it, hitting him right between the eyes.

"I was out like a light for about five minutes, I guess," Little said. "When I came to, my dog was licking my face."

Brother Lecturer At New Novitiate

Brother J. Frederick, FSC, STD, chairman of the department of religion at St. Mary's College, is concluding a series of eight lectures to the first group of American Second Novices at the Christian Brothers' Novitiate at Sangre de Cristo, near Santa Fe, N.M.

Brother Frederick left Winona Oct. 24 and is to return to St. Mary's this weekend. At Sangre de Cristo are brothers from all over the United States and one each from Ceylon, Australia, Canada and Brazil for a total of 20 on this initial retreat at the American Second Novitiate.

Included in the 20 are Brother Justin Anthony and Brother I. Baldwin of St. Mary's College. Brother Frederick lectured on Scripture and liturgy, the Gospels, faith and the sacraments.

As the name implies, a second novitiate means ordinarily a return to the house of formation for a full year. Owing to the growth of the Christian Brothers' order in this country, it is not possible to take four or five brothers in each district away from their duties for a year. Hence, the time spent in the American Second Novitiate is cut to 100 days of intensive religious study, conferences and research on the religious life and history of the Christian Brothers.

The Sangre de Cristo Novitiate was opened in September.

Pair Arrested For Using Slugs

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP)—Police Wednesday night caught a girl, 19, and a man, 40; they said had used homemade slugs to loot vending machines of 700 worth of cigarettes, food, nylon stockings and other items.

The girl told police she had made the slugs, using techniques she had learned as a dentist's assistant making false teeth.

Count Speedy In California

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Twenty-four hours after the last polls closed, virtually all of the nearly 6 million votes cast in California's election Tuesday were counted and reported.

The polls in San Francisco closed at 8 p.m. Tuesday night. By 8 p.m. Wednesday night, all but 672 of the state's far-flung 31,820 precinct had been tallied.

By contrast, in the 1960 election, it was Thursday after the week following the voting before Richard M. Nixon won California from John F. Kennedy.

One county, Kern, used an electronic vote tabulator as an experiment in Tuesday's election. It counted more than 92,000 ballots in six hours and 50 minutes.

Fall Bargains Tempt Weekend Market Visitors

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The calendar is the housewife's friend right now, with seasonally low prices posted on many major menu items at the nation's supermarkets.

Pork loins, ribs, chops, steaks and bacon and sausage are widely featured over the country. These lower pork prices may not last too long, since government estimates put hog slaughter at lower than year-ago levels in coming months.

Beef prices have also felt the seasonal influence, with rib roasts and several steak cuts offered at attractive prices. The flow of fed cattle to market has been stepping up, which could lead to lower prices.

Turkey volume keeps that bird's price attractive. Production will run within 10 percent of last year's record, industry experts estimate. Other foods enjoying a bountiful harvest are potatoes, with production running 22 percent above average, and cranberries, up 13 percent from average.

Anise, artichokes, squash, sweet potatoes, broccoli, pole beans, turnip greens, rutabagas, spinach, carrots and cabbage are among other vegetable attractions.

Fruit attractions, beside autumnal cranberries, include apples, avocados, red grapes and limes, with pears, persimmons and pomegranates regionally attractive.

Switchboard in Sweden Is Dead for 1 Week

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — One of the world's biggest manufacturers of telephones, the Ericsson Telephone Co., admits with embarrassment today that for a week its main switchboard hasn't had contact with the outside world.

A company engineer explained that the board is a new model, and all the small screws were a fraction of an inch too large. A team of mechanics is still replacing the screws.

The company is convinced the new model will ultimately be a success on the international market. The firm said it had similar trouble with the old type when it was first installed and now it's used all over the world.

Mrs. Roosevelt Loved by Many

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—Life for Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, the great and gracious lady who died Wednesday night, would have been deeply different if she had been born a generation earlier.

Then she might have been considered just a goodhearted but ineffectual busybody. But she made the most of her times and her opportunities until, when she died she had become the best-loved woman in the world.

She had that priceless quality in a human being: Concern for other people. She had an even rarer quality: A willingness to do something about her feeling.

The underlying philosophy in much she did for people was the belief the government must take

Plainview Board Asks Federal Aid

PLAINVIEW, Minn. (Special)—An application will be made by the Plainview Board of Education for National Defense Education Act funds to help finance improvements at the high school.

The NDEA funds would be used for construction of a language laboratory and for purchase of new equipment for the science room. Approval of the application was voted by the board at its meeting Monday.

DIRECTORS received a reply from T. J. Berning, assistant state commissioner of education, to an inquiry about use of bowling lanes in the educational program. Berning said that his office had no objection to such use providing the establishment complied with state law regarding sale of beverages.

A study of possible revision of school bus routes was authorized. Salaries, to be effective Nov. 1, for three secretaries in amounts of $200 to $275 were approved and reimbursement of $11 to parents of a member of the school patrol whose glasses were broken while the boy was on duty was authorized.

THE BOARD voted to increase insurance coverage, carried through Miller-Harrington and Peoples State Bank by $37,330 and to have Don Jacobs install a hoist in the school basement.

The request of Immanuel Lutheran Church for use of the high school gymnasium Nov. 18 at a rental fee of $10 was granted. Miss Cora Wingerd was granted two additional days leave without pay at Christmas.

John Welti and John Boehlke will represent the board at the annual Wabasha County School Officers meeting at Wabasha Tuesday.

New Federal Law On Rehabilitation To Aid Veterans

Nearly 2,500 peacetime veterans in Minnesota will benefit under terms of the vocational rehabilitation bill signed into law by President Kennedy, Winona County Service Officer Phillip R. Kaczorowski announced.

The veterans are those who have suffered service-connected disabilities. The bill extends to them the benefits of the Veteran Administration's wartime vocational rehabilitation bill.

The VA reported some 12,000 peacetime veterans in the nation incur injuries each year and may be eligible for the new benefits. The new law provides similar vocational rehabilitation training for the peacetime disabled veterans as did the original vocational rehabilitation bill.

Veterans entitled to the benefits are those who sustained service-connected disabilities while in the armed forces during the period between World War II and the Korean War, and since Feb. 1, 1955.

One difference between the original law and the new one is that a peacetime veteran with a disability rated less than 30 percent must have a "pronounced employment handicap" to qualify for vocational rehabilitation.

Another important change is that there is no time limit or final date for benefits under the new law. Under the previous law, benefits for most World War II veterans ended July 25, 1956, and for most Korean veterans will end January 31, 1964.

Open House Set At Spring Grove Telephone Firm

SPRING GROVE, Minn. (Special)—Spring Grove Cooperative Telephone Co. will hold open house in its new building and headquarters Friday and Saturday from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m.

Door prizes will be given and coffee served.

The new dial system went into operation Sept. 16. The brick building is located on Main Street in the western part of the village.

Mrs. Emil Rauk, former chief operator for the old company, is the bookkeeper. Chester Hansen is manager.

In the new system one number automatically calls 20 homes for firemen and rings continuously for a certain length of time.

Only 10 country lines carry five subscribers, the remainder have less than five. This is the first engineered operation of five party or less in the rural area in Minnesota and one of the few in the entire United States, Hansen said.

The newly organized cooperative received a loan of $24,000 from the REA with which it built the new building and equipment on the former Thoreson property. The building, costing $46,870, was built by the Bowers Construction Co., Montzuma, Iowa; lines and installation, Horton Construction Co., Tulsa, Okla., and engineering, Peterson Engineering Co., Iowa City, Iowa.

Lines are underground. Officers and directors are C. O. Lee, president; C. C. Ike, vice president; Ted Twitlo, treasurer; E. A. Schmidt, secretary, and Clarence Jetson and Elmer Flaten.

LINEMAN OF WEEK... Lee Roy Jordan, Alabama's star center, was voted Lineman of the Week in the Associated Press weekly poll.

Bruhn: 'It Will Take 60 Minutes of Football to Win'

MADISON (AP)—University of Wisconsin football Coach Mil Bruhn doesn't feel that playing top-rated Northwestern Saturday simply amounts to putting a double-barreled Myers-Flatley shotgun to the collective Badger head.

"Myers aboveall must be stopped," Bruhn said, "and how do you stop a fellow like that? He has wonderful hands and moves, gets the ball away so quick, I don't know."

The Wisconsin Coach said Northwestern has a good running game "but that's sometimes lost sight of because of what Myers can do. But they can pound you."

GOPHERS VS. IOWA

Defensive Tilt? Punters Are Set

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—If Saturday's Minnesota-Iowa game turns into a defensive slugfest with both teams forced to do a lot of punting it should be a whale of a kicking duel.

Iowa's Matt Szykowny and Lennie Rogers are Iowa's kickers. Szykowny stands second in the conference with a 38.1-yard average for 10 kicks and Rogers fourth with a 37.4 mean for 9 boots.

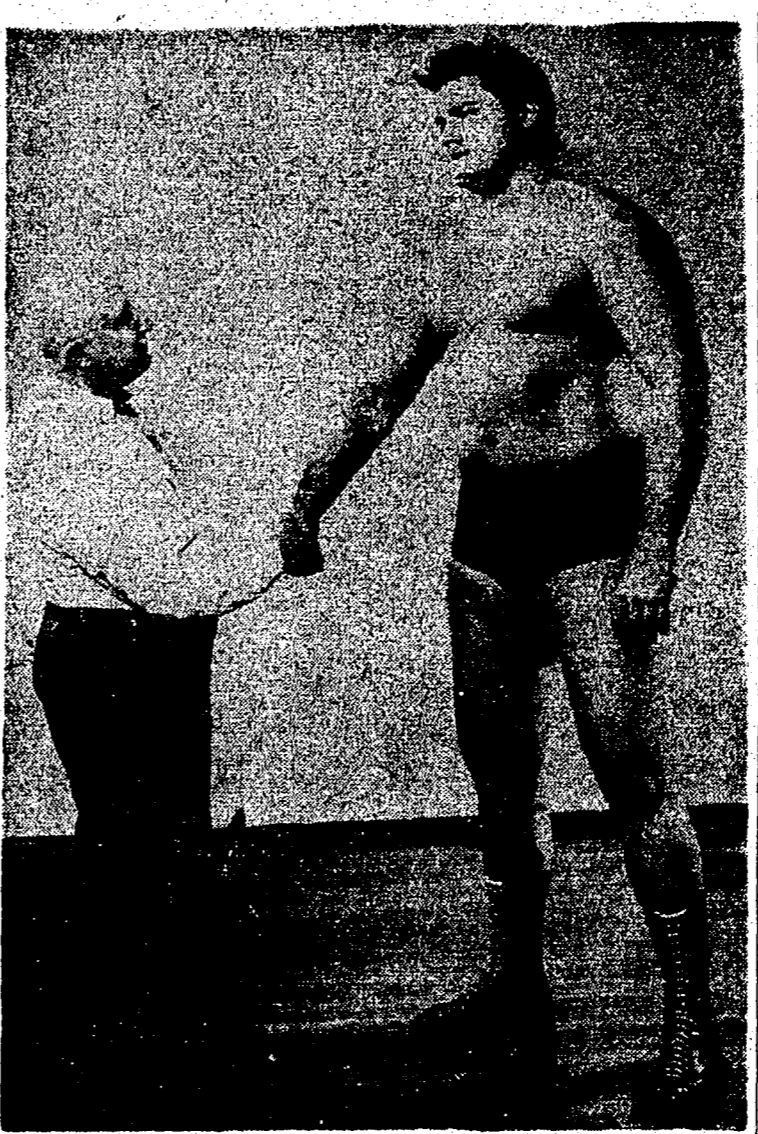

Minnesota has another ranked high in Big Ten statistics this week. Quarterback Duane Blaska is fourth in total offense with 449 yards on 96 plays, and is fifth in passing with 29 of 65 passes completed for 375 yards.

Iowa's Larry Ferguson is receiving the rave notices expected before the season opened. He ranks high in Midwest All-America ratings this week and is described by Dick Culium of the Minneapolis Tribune as "all football player, attack or defense."

The Gophers continued their hard work in preparation for Iowa Wednesday. The defense was drilled long in stopping the Hawk eye floating-T offense spearheaded by Szykowny and Ferguson.

Sophomore halfbacks Bill Crockett and Bill McMillan manned second-team posts, knocking Al Fischer and Jerry Felletier to the third unit.

Behind the Eight-Ball

By AUGIE KARCHER Sports Editor

THE MORNING BEFORE, Winona State left for River Falls and the Warriors' finale with River Falls State, Moon Molinari and I were chinning about the game in general.

Among other things, Moon commented that he can't understand why Northern States Conference teams fare so poorly against Wisconsin College Conference clubs.

Then he injected the information that since he has been at WSC, his teams have had little trouble with the Badger league schools.

The irony of it all is that NSCC teams on the final full Saturday played Badger schools in four games.

HERE'S AN INTERESTING note from the Wisconsin Interscholastic Athletic Association:

Wisconsin schools with enrollments of 300 students or less, may use any eligible boy in volleyball tournament competition.

There's going to be some very nervous basketball coaches should their cage stars decide to play volleyball, too.

MEMBERSHIP IN THE Daily News "300 Club" is growing fast.

Podjaski, bowling in the City League at Hal-Rod Lanes, rapped a 390 series. And his average was 163, three sticks over minimum.

Out at Westgate's Lakeside League, Rich House, 164 average, counted 373, and LeRoy Anderson, 167, had a 363.

IN THE RUSH of the local football season finishing up, a personal anniversary came and went Nov. 1.

That marked the end of my first year back in this chair at the Daily News. It has been an eventful year and went faster than an ice cream cone in the hands of a five-year-old on a hot summer day.

Undoubtedly, some things written on these pages from time to time haven't drawn 100 percent approval. But it wouldn't be any fun if everyone agreed with everyone else.

Wall's note follows:

"Dear Augie: Thanks a lot for adding so much to my reading pleasure during the current football season."

OFF THE CUSHION: Seven-year-old Doug Boese, grandson of Ollie Davies, captured first place in his division in the Mankato "Pass, Punt and Kick" contest.

Cougars' Back Fortie Named Back of Week

By BEN OLAN Associated Press Sports Writer

Eldon Fortie, the slender Brigham Young tailback who led the Cougars to a 27-0 upset victory over New Mexico, was named back of the week today in The Associated Press poll.

Fortie, 21, a senior from Salt Lake City, passed for two touchdowns and ran for another as the Cougars handed New Mexico its first setback in the Western Athletic Conference race.

Fortie, the leader of Brigham Young's modified single wing attack, also directed drives in last Saturday's game that put the Cougars within field goal range. They kicked two of them.

Glynn Griffing of Mississippi, Daryle Lamonica of Notre Dame and Ron Vanderkelen of Wisconsin also came in for high praise.

Lamonica scored twice and passed 45 yards for the winning touchdown in Notre Dame's 20-12 conquest of Navy.

Vanderkelen passed for 202 yards and ran for 59 in the Badgers' 34-12 triumph over Michigan.

Rebels Lead in Total Defense

NEW YORK (AP)—Mississippi's Rebels have a simple formula for winning the unbeaten ranks among the nation's major college football teams. They just don't let you score.

The Rebels are the total defense leader, having allowed an average of 117.5 overall yards per game. They are third in rushing defense (60.2 yards per game), third in forward pass defense (57.3 yards per game), and third in defense against scoring (3.5 points per game).

Wagman Takes Witness Stand For Third Day

NEW YORK (AP) — Admitted basketball briber Aaron Wagman is scheduled to return to the witness stand for the third day today in the trial of Jack Molinas, former Columbia University and professional player.

Wagman testified Wednesday that he was with Molinas when arrangements were made for a Bowling Green (Ohio) player to dump a game against Michigan State.

Molinas, 30, is charged with bribing Billy Reed of Bowling Green, with conspiracy in an attempted fix of 25 games during the 1959-60 season and with subordination of perjury.

Wagman testified that he and Molinas and two others went to Toledo, Ohio, in December of 1959. While in Toledo, he said, Molinas arranged for Reed to dump his team's game with Michigan State at East Lansing on Dec. 3.

Wagman said $500 was paid to Reed and $500 to a teammate, Tom Falentano. The deal, Wagman said, was that Michigan State would win by seven points or more. The final score was Michigan State 96, Bowling Green 67.

Personality Plus Candidate Sought

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — The American electorate's demonstrated disdain for party labels in Tuesday's election indicates Republicans may need a personality-plus candidate in 1964.

It just happened in the balloting that the Republicans who won the big ones are just that type. They have the kind of fresh, voter appeal that is credited with helping make John F. Kennedy a hairline winner in 1960. And no one is doubting that the President will seek re-election in another two years.

The GOP stars in an otherwise confusing and somewhat frustrating election that ended in almost a numerical dead heat in congressional and gubernatorial contests were:

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, an omnivorous blitzer, consuming, hand-shaking, back-clapping campaigner who is mentally quick on his feet and knows the ways of television. By getting

Cousy Paces Celtics Win Over Cincinnati
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Old pro Bob Cousy, now in his last season with the Boston Celtics, still has that knack of getting the points when they count.

Cousy dropped in a field goal and a free throw in the last 11 seconds Wednesday night for the key points in Boston's 106-105 National Basketball Association triumph over Cincinnati. Los Angeles swept past San Francisco 132-118 and New York handed St. Louis its first home loss of the season 122-112 in the other games.

The 34-year-old Cousy, who has signed to coach Boston College next season, finished with 17 points, second to the Celtics' Sam Jones, with 23.

Ripon Puts Title Hopes On Line Against Knox

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Ripon puts its hopes for a share of the Midwest Conference football title on the line Saturday, traveling to last-place Knox in the season's final round of action.

The Redmen, with a 5-1-1 record, trail league-leading Grinnell by a game. Knox is without a victory in seven starts.

Lawrence, holding third place on a 5-2 record, goes to Carleton, 4-3, and Beloit, with one victory. In seven games, is at 4-2-1.

Whitehawk, champion of the Wisconsin State College Conference, will wind up its season at Independent St. Norbert in a non-conference game, and La Crosse, the only SEC team, will whip Whitewater, finishes its season at Northern Illinois, winner over White-water in the season opener.

Carroll, tied for second in the College Conference of Illinois, steps outside the loop to entertain Independent Northland.

Lakeland, 5-2 and seeking their best record since 1955, when they go to Illinois-Chicago to close out the season. A victory would be the sixth in a row for Lakeland since two opening defeats and mean an undisputed crown in the first year of activity for the Gateway Conference.

The season for Wisconsin's small colleges ends a week from Saturday when Carroll entertains North Central.

Alabama Center Is Top Lineman

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP)—Lee Roy Jordan of Alabama—called the best football player in the nation by his coach—has been named lineman of the week by The Associated Press.

The rugged Crimson Tide center today reacted with characteristic modesty when he first learned of his selection.

"Well, I certainly appreciate the honor," he drawled. "Of course, to be perfectly honest about it, I'm not certain it should be me. There's no doubt in my mind that a whole lot of folks played better than I did."

Jordan has been described by coaches, teammates and opponents as a tough individual to contend with on the football field. In his offensive center position, he blocks with ferocity. In his defensive linebacking slot he pursues relentlessly and tackles viciously.

When asked about his desire to be in on every play and his taste for tough football, Jordan said he always tries hard, but is not certain he plays any harder than anyone else.

"I would be dishonest with myself and shortchanging myself and the team if I didn't put everything I had into it," he said, adding, "I always thought you had to put 100 per cent into anything to make it worthwhile."

Jury Convicts Estes, Sets Term At Eight Years

By FINIS MOTHERHEAD
TYLER, Tex. (AP) — A jury convicted bankrupt promoter Billie Sol Estes of swindling and set his sentence at eight years in the State Penitentiary Wednesday.

The verdict, reached after the 11 men and one woman deliberated 2 hours and 8 minutes, ended a 17-day trial on state charges growing out of a transaction involving a mortgage on liquid fertilizer tanks. The state said the tanks did not exist.

Estes, 37, faces state anti-trust charges accusing him of fixing the price of liquid fertilizer. Also pending against him are federal charges of fraud, conspiracy and perjury in connection with $22 million in loans obtained on fertilizer tanks.

It was the first conviction for Estes since his multimillion-dollar complex of liquid fertilizer tank mortgage deals, collar allotment transfers and grain storage collapsed last spring.

Asked for comment on the verdict, Estes replied: "What can you say?"

Estes was accused of inducing Pecos farmer T. J. Wilson to sign a $94,500 mortgage on non-existent liquid fertilizer tanks. Prosecutors claimed Estes, his own credit exhausted, paid rental bonuses and got farmers to contract for non-existent tanks, leased the tanks from them and agreed to pay monthly rentals matching payments due on the mortgages.

The defense claimed he merely paid a bonus for borrowing credit. Estes remained free under $20,000 bond pending a motion for a new trial, promised within 10 days by defense lawyer John D. Cofer. Altogether, kinsmen have posted $140,000 bonds for Estes on state and federal charges.

In the second line, as prospective material for a vice presidential nomination, two young GOP crusaders came to the front.

They are Robert Taft Jr., son of the late "Mr. Republican," who won election to Congress in an at-large race in Ohio, and Gov. Mark Hatfield of Oregon, who won re-election while the voters of his state were giving another term to Democratic Sen. Wayne Morse.

Just how little attention Californians paid to party labels was demonstrated when they re-elected Brown and at the same time gave a new six-year term to the Senate deputy Republican leader, Thomas H. Kuchel.

This seemed to be the mood of voters all over the country as they installed the first Republican governor of Oklahoma and put Democrats in the governors' offices in Vermont for the first time in 108 years and in New Hampshire for the first time in 40 years.

In Pennsylvania the same pattern put Scranton in as governor and gave Democratic Sen. Joseph S. Clark another term.

In Michigan, Romney's victory was accompanied by the election of a Democratic lieutenant governor and a Democratic congressman at-large.

Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy was the shining star of the Democratic lineup. He won by a landslide the seat that his eldest brother gave up in 1960 to become President.

Ted Kennedy's run appeared to have pulled Endicott (Chub) Peabody to victory over Republican Gov. John A. Volpe. In the complete count of about 2.1 million ballots, Peabody had a 9,000 lead. Volpe talked of a recount.

The contest in Rhode Island was considerably closer. With about 6,000 absentee ballots yet to be counted, a 46-vote edge over his Republican opponent, John H. Chaffee.

The 81-year-old biblical scholar indicated his satisfaction over the contacts with more than 40 Protestant and Orthodox observers attending the council sessions.

He expressed the hope that more Orthodox churches would agree to send representatives, saying: "Our joy—I say our joy, including also the observers and the confessions they represent—is disturbed by the absence of a good number of venerable Orthodox churches of the East."

Cardinal Bea said he was impressed that "so many communities of non-Catholic Christians have made repeated appeals, even official ones, to their own faithful calling on them to pray for the council."

He noted that such appeals were made by various Anglican, Evangelical, Presbyterian, Baptist and Orthodox churches around the world.

"This is therefore already a first beginning of unity and, above all, a sound foundation for our trust in God," he said.

Protestant Prayers Help Christian Unity

By BENNET M. BOLTON
VATICAN CITY (AP)—The Vatican's top prelate dealing with non-Catholic churches said today a beginning has been made toward Christian unity. He credited Protestant prayers for the Vatican Ecumenical Council.

Augustin Cardinal Bea, German-born Jesuit who heads the Vatican Secretariat for Christian Unity, spoke to newsmen covering the council, which was in recess today.

He noted that such appeals were made by various Anglican, Evangelical, Presbyterian, Baptist and Orthodox churches around the world.

"This is therefore already a first beginning of unity and, above all, a sound foundation for our trust in God," he said.

DOUBLE TROUBLE
SANTIE FE, N.M. — Shooting into a game area at night with the aid of artificial light brought a fine of $25 plus court costs and a self-inflicted gun wound to a Captain ranger. The man was trying to unload two rifles and a pistol when a game department officer approached his vehicle. The subject shot himself in the leg.

Nation's Decay Toastmistress Reading Topic

Let's Have the Courage to Stop Our Nation's Decay, was the subject of a reading by Miss Sadie Marsh at the Tuesday meeting of the Winona Toastmistress Club at Hotel Winona. The reading was taken from a speech given by Jenkin Lloyd Jones of the Tulsa Oklahoma Tribune and evoked so much interest that thousands of copies were printed and distributed, largely through newspaper offices in the United States.

Miss Katherine Wasnoska, toastmistress, introduced program participants, carrying out the theme "Testing Our Skills — Learning by Participation."

Unusual table topics were assigned by Mrs. Lambert Hamerski who asked each member to introduce an imaginary person while carefully observing rules for this special situation and keeping within a time limit of one and one-half minutes.

Mrs. F. A. Lipinski was general evaluator, Mrs. F. A. McShane, timer, Mrs. Robert Ramonda led the pledge to the flag, Mrs. Constance Heron gave the invocation and conducted a vocabulary drill. Mrs. Irvin Teasdale served as individual evaluator for the reading by Miss Marsh. Mrs. John Robiecki provided the humorous note and Mrs. John Somers gave the thought for the day. A parliamentary lesson was conducted by Mrs. Anthony Chelowski, education chairman.
