Favor Goldwater in 1964

GOP Conservatives Don't Want Rocky

By ARTHUR EDSON
WASHINGTON (AP)—Conservative Republicans have begun a determined drive to keep the 1964 presidential nomination from going to Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York. Their favorite is Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona. The Associated Press learned Monday that between 30 and 50 Republicans, from all over the country, met secretly in Chicago Sunday. Possibly because it was an informal meeting, it still wasn't too clear what they did. One report was that $250,000 was pledged as a start on a $3-million campaign fund. Another report was that this was only an exploratory meeting.

and that little was accomplished. One of the organizers said "I've attended dozens of meetings like this, and nothing ever came of them." It was learned from several of those who were there that the sentiment was distinctly pro-Goldwater and anti-Rockefeller. Goldwater said Monday night in Phoenix he didn't know a thing about the meeting. He told a newsman: "I don't know who the group was, where they met or what it's all about. I did see or hear something about it today, but I don't know a thing. I still plan to run for the Senate two years from now."

Birth Control For Illinois

CHICAGO (AP)—The state of Illinois plagued by money problems for the past year, has decided to supply contraceptives free to single mothers or married women on state relief rolls in an attempt to cut welfare costs. Clergy, social workers and state officials have lined up largely along denominational lines over the action, approved Monday by the Illinois Public Aid Commission, the state's welfare body. Protestants and Jews mostly approved it; Roman Catholics opposed it. The commission, in a stormy 2½-hour meeting, approved the new version of the birth control plan by a vote of 6 to 4. All four commissioners who opposed the plan are Catholics. A spokesman for the Roman Catholic diocese of Chicago said comment would be withheld until the text of the decision was studied. The sources of the bitter battle stem from Illinois' financial problems. Gov. Otto Kerner, a Democrat, has brought increasing pressure on the State Welfare Agency to slash its costs. Some 400,000 of the state's 10 million residents receive some form of state aid. Ten years ago the two-year welfare bill was $275 million. More than $631 million has been voted for the present biennium — and that's still not enough. The IPAC's former chairman, C. Virgil Martin, president of a Chicago department store, quit last July, saying Kerner was trying to blame all the state's financial woes on welfare costs. Kerner appointed Industrialist Arnold H. Marenton as the new IPAC chairman, and Marenton almost immediately proposed the distribution of contraceptives as a means of cutting relief rolls. Noting that 50,000 mothers received aid to dependent children, Marenton argued that preventing more children from being born and getting on ADC lists would save Illinois $30 million a year. "Assuming the birth daily in Illinois of 15 illegitimately born infants requiring public support," Marenton has said, "we are creating a liability of $105,000 a day. If adequate birth control advice and assistance avoided 80 per cent of these births, we are saving $80,000 a day."

Opponents of the plan centered their fire on the distribution of contraceptives to single women and wives whose husbands had deserted them. Commissioner James M. Cleary of Winnetka, who led the opposition, argued at Monday's meeting that such a program would subsidize the "crimes of adultery, fornication and prostitution."

Tito Greeted Warmly by Khrushchev

By PRESTON GROVER
MOSCOW (AP)—President Tito of Yugoslavia got a warm handshake from Soviet Premier Khrushchev and the trappings of a state visit as his train rolled into Moscow today for what is billed as a vacation. A guard of honor and a band were mustered out to greet the independent, neutralist Communist leader whose trip to Moscow has been furiously attacked by Peking commentators. The stocky Tito rode into the station on the steps of the train and leaped off to grasp hands with Khrushchev with whom he has feuded ideologically on and off for a number of years. Khrushchev, who little more than a year ago was condemning Yugoslav Communist party policy as "deviationist," declared there is every condition for "our good relations to continue to develop successfully and grow stronger." He referred to Yugoslavia as one of the "socialist" countries and the tone of the greeting indicated Khrushchev expected a considerable warming in relations between the two nations. Khrushchev said he hoped Tito would have a good rest but that he also hoped they would discuss "international problems which concern our peoples" as well as their own countries' relations. Tito, replying in strongly accented but clear Russian, said he "welcomed the opportunity for a happy exchange of views on international problems and relations between our two countries."

James D. Martin of Gadsden, Ala., who narrowly lost his Senate race to Sen. Lister Hill, is another who was there and didn't mind speaking out. "I'm convinced the South would vote for Goldwater," Martin said. "He's the only one the South would vote for, right now, although somebody might develop during the next two years. Certainly the South doesn't want Rockefeller."

Soviets Won't Renege on MIGs, Nehru Believes

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru announced to Parliament today that the Soviet Union has promised she will not renege on her promise to deliver a few MIG21 jet fighters to India for training purposes. "A few will come in December of this year, a few in 1963 and a few in 1964," Nehru said. The prime minister described the planes as samples of the production from the MIG factory the Soviet Union has promised to build in India. Defense Minister Y. B. Chavan (old Parliament) the Soviet Union had given assurances to the Indian ambassador in Moscow that the MIGs would be delivered "in December or a little later." He did not say how many. Six MIGs originally were scheduled for delivery in December and six in January. The factory is scheduled for completion in two to four years.

Change of Venue Sought In Recount

ST. PAUL (AP)—Attorneys for Gov. Elmer L. Andersen asked today that court matters dealing with a recount of the governor election be shifted from Albert Lea to St. Paul. Attorney Richard Kyle of St. Paul filed a petition in Albert Lea asking the change to Ramsey County District Court. Lt. Gov. Karl Rolvaag, loser by 142 votes, had asked the district court in Albert Lea Monday for the recount.

The change of venue likely will come up Wednesday morning as attorneys for both candidates argue out final details of the recount. No reasons for the shift were set forth in court papers, although Republican officials had said earlier they would push for the change. Ramsey is the home county of both Andersen and Rolvaag. Judge Warren Plunkett, who signed preliminary orders setting up the recount Monday, was not in Albert Lea today to act on the governor's petition. Plunkett was holding court in Preston.

Rolvaag has asked for authority to name recount teams to check ballots and voting machines in all 87 counties. Rolvaag was ahead by 58 votes on original returns but lost the lead to Andersen when the Supreme Court directed acceptance of corrected figures from 10 counties. Meanwhile, Republican C. Donald Peterson completed legal work asking for a recount of the lieutenant governor race by filing a petition in Ramsey County district court. Peterson had served initial papers on the secretary of state last Friday. He lost to A.M. Keith by nearly 5,000 votes.

Duxbury Urges Changes in Committees

CALEDONIA, Minn. (AP)—Rep. Lloyd Duxbury, due to become speaker of the Conservative-controlled House, said today that the committee structure should be revamped to help lawmakers get their work done on time. The reorganization may involve naming some more committees, Duxbury said in a news release. The committee structure he will recommend, Duxbury added, "will reflect the concern of the conservative group with the necessity of meeting the most pressing and immediate problems facing the legislature, without delaying work or piling up bills at the end of the session for lack of committee attention." "The people of Minnesota are tired of prolonged legislative sessions and petty haggling," the veteran legislator said that his faction would present a "sound and positive program" and would strive to adjourn the legislature within the old constitutional limit of 90 legislative working days. An amendment to the constitution approved by voters last month lengthens sessions to 120 days if needed. Duxbury said forms are being mailed this week to all House members asking that they designate which committee assignments they prefer.

2 Divers Die Off California

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Two frogmen, seeking a diving record, dropped 1,000 feet into the sea—and something went wrong. One man was fatally stricken and another, coming to his aid, vanished in the depths. Both were Englishmen taking

INTO THE WATER . . . Skindivers Chris Whittaker, left, of England, and Dick Anderson of Gardena, Calif., jump into the water at Santa Catalina Island, Calif., to perform their duties in an attempt to set a new frogman's diving record. Whittaker lost his life when he attempted to repair the diving bell used in the descent. Newsman Peter Small of England, one of two men in the diving bell, also died. (AP Photofax)

Ceiling and Visibility at Idlewild Zero

NEW YORK (AP)—Thick fog blanketed the New York metropolitan area Monday night and today, closing down all three major airports and contributing to a collision of two ships. No one was hurt when a tanker and freighter came together off a Staten Island pier in New York harbor, but both ships were slightly damaged. A Port of New York Authority spokesman said he could recall only six other times in the past 14 years that Idlewild, La Guardia and Newark (N.J.) airports were all shut down because of bad weather. Ceiling and visibility at Idlewild were zero early today. The only aircraft to take off from Idlewild Monday night was a specially equipped Navy Constellation used as a radar picker. There were no landings. The heavy fog blanket over Idlewild was similar to one which prevailed last Friday night when an Eastern Air Lines DC7B crashed at the airport on arrival from Charlotte, N.C. Of the 51 aboard, 25 were killed. Most flights scheduled to land at the three airports were diverted to Boston, Baltimore and Philadelphia.

Bucks Congo, Middle East Costs

Russia Tells U.S. It Won't Share U.N. Bill

By TOM HOGE
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The Soviet Union has told the United Nations once more it has no intention of sharing the huge cost of U.N. forces in the Congo and the Middle East despite warnings that refusal could bankrupt the United Nations. Soviet delegate Pavel M. Tchernyshev told the 110-nation budgetary committee Monday that the Soviet Union rejects responsibility for the two peace-keeping operations because they were approved by the General Assembly instead of the Security Council, where the Soviets have a veto. "This has been and continues to be the position of the Soviet Union," Tchernyshev declared. The Russian rejection came after Secretary-General U Thant and U.S. delegate Philip M. Klutznick both warned that the United Nations is headed for financial disaster unless members abandon political considerations and find a formula for raising the money.

The committee began debate on a U.S. resolution calling for acceptance of the World Court's opinion that costs of maintaining the two forces come under "expenses of the organization" that the U.N. charter says shall be shared by all members. Thant asserted that the United Nations' financial plight "transcends political controversy." "A financially bankrupt United Nations would be an ineffective United Nations," he said, "if indeed it could survive on such a basis." The secretary-general recalled that member states have agreed that the United Nations is indispensable. To resolve its financial crisis would "represent a vote of confidence on its future," he said. Klutznick said it was not a question of what was the right or wrong method of providing the money.

South to Send Negroes to Eat With Humphrey

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The segregationist Citizens Council of Greater New Orleans said Monday it plans to send 10 Negroes to Minneapolis "to have Christmas dinner" with Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn. George Singelmann, director of the council, said the Minnesota Democrat would be notified by registered letter when the Negroes would arrive by train in Minneapolis. He said he expects final plans to be made soon. Singelmann said he had discussed the plan in Shreveport, La., with Charles Barnett, president of the Citizens Council of Louisiana. The two groups sent a number of Negroes North and West last spring in a series of "reverse freedom rides."

Missing was Christopher Whittaker, 22, a geology. Small and Hannes Keller, 28, a Swiss mathematician and skindiver, went down off Santa Catalina Island in a diving bell. The men wore frogman suits and air tanks filled with a mixture of gases devised by Keller. Water was pulled into the bell to equalize pressure. The bell dropped to 1,000 feet, the men opened the hatch and dropped out two flags—Swiss and American. Plans had called for them to swim around at the tremendous depth. Then something happened. A television camera, lowered from the vessel which dropped the bell, showed them collapsed on the platform inside the bell. It was brought up, slowly. Whittaker went down to help, but vanished on his way back up to the surface. His body was being sought. Keller—who claims the world's diving record of 728 feet—apparently survived unhurt. He was treated at a hospital and released. Small, who went down despite suffering the bends two days earlier in a 300-foot training descent, was a last-minute replacement for another London newsman, John Light. Keller's mixture of gases was designed to prevent the bends, hane of divers. The bends are caused when nitrogen from the air is dissolved in the blood under pressure, then forms bubbles as the diver ascends.

British Liner, U.S. Carrier Collide in Fog

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—A Navy board of investigation will begin an inquiry today into the collision between the U.S. aircraft carrier Kearsarge and the British luxury liner Oriana. The two ships collided Monday in dense fog off the Long Beach breakwater. There were no injuries. The Oriana's paint locker caught fire, but the blaze was quickly brought under control. Rear Adm. D. F. Smith of the 5th Fleet at Alameda, Calif., was appointed head of the board. The 40,000-ton Oriana had a 25-foot rip and Kearsarge had a 25-foot tear, both across the starboard bow.

Our Ancestors Needed Lunch

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Is America abolishing lunch? Are you abolishing yours? "We city-dwellers don't need three meals a day," says Tony Perkins.

Tony's been non-lunching daily during preparations for his show "Harold." He may organize a national non-luncheon club. Being a breakfast enthusiast, he feels if people must meet to sing songs, they form a breakfast club and listen to after-breakfast speeches.

"Lunch was only needed by our hardy-pioneer ancestors when food wasn't so good," claims Tony. "A check-up at Toots Shor's, 21, Colony, etc., shows however, that lunches are still very popular—especially the martini course.

Perkins doesn't even lunch in France, where it's a two-hour ritual.

"Skipping lunch," he says, "you notice a change in your weight." "You're so right, Tony. I noticed a change in mine after skipping lunch. Thanks to that huge, mid-night supper, and 4 a.m. icebox raid, I gained 8 pounds."

EDDIE FISHER'S going to loaf in Puerto Rico after finishing his latest album. He was a very popular Fall Guy at the Circus Saints & Sinners where Roastmaster Tex O'Rourke said, "When I asked the man at the record shop for his latest release, he thought I meant the one he got from Liz Taylor." . . . Katharine Hepburn went to the matinee of "A Thousand Clowns" in slacks! . . . Patrick Dennis & Peggy Cass are doing a picture book, "My 30 Days Upstairs in the White House," with Peggy modeling for all the First Lady pictures. Regarding resemblance between Peggy and the current First Lady, Dennis says,

"Certainly. Each once lived in Boston."

Bosomy Choo Choo Collins — opening a singing engagement at Hy Uchitel's Encore before Rudy Valle, Marty Allen and other stars — pleased the males with her measurements as well as her melodies—but it was singer Joan Edwards who cried out from the sidelines, "What beautiful legs! If I'd have had legs like that, I'd have been a star!" Joan therefore urged Choo Choo to do a complete reversal in the singing business: To come out and show her LEGS all the way to her waist.

THE GLORIA Vanderbilt Sidney Lumet marriage story is one that Gloria might write for a slick magazine or Sidney might direct for a movie. For weeks Lumet's lived away—partly at a top hotel. But at Thanksgiving they nonchalantly and jointly entertained several guests at dinner. Lumet has insisted on being "provider" and tab-grabber though wed to a Vanderbilt. A close friend says, "I'll bet 5 to 1 they'll never divorce." (Some scenario?)

Toots Shor went to Chicago to see Frank Sinatra, Dean Martin and Sammy Davis open at the Villa Venice. He says they stayed up so late, they outguzzled him! . . . Flash from Alan King: Richard Nixon did not receive the Newspaper Guild Man of the Year Award . . . Debbie Reynolds is saying her late '63 TV spec will be "$1 million worth" . . . The NY Hilton's hoping for an April '63 opening . . . Walter Matthau to play opposite Judy Holiday in "Hot Spot" . . . Yul Brynner set up two trust funds for children from "Taras Bulba" fees.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: It's really amazing what scientists are doing with poultry. Now they've developed a two-pound chicken that gives three pounds of meat.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: If it weren't that the TV set and refrigerator were so far apart, some of us wouldn't get any exercise at all.

EARL'S PEARLS: A really small town is where one alarm clock gets everybody up in the morning. Everybody's kidding about the Kennedy Dynasty in Washington, and Bob Orben figures it's just a coincidence that Caroline got a Princess phone . . . That's earl, brother.

Miami Beach to Have Good Christmas Season

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Mayor Kenneth Oka says President Kennedy's remarks about his family's Christmas in Florida are worth more than any advertising campaign.

"And now that the heart of the Cuban crisis is over, it looks as though Miami Beach will have an excellent Christmas season," Oka said. "Prospects for the rest of the season look good, too."

Fish of the Season
This big northern that tipped the scales of the Sportsman's Tavern contest at 18 pounds and eight ounces is probably the biggest game fish caught during the season out of this sector of the Mississippi. At least it's the largest to our knowledge and the biggest entered in the Sportsman's contest.

Mike Mestel, Parkside Trailer Court, Rochester, caught it while fishing in the backwaters below the Whitman dam, or the small slough next to the dike. He got it on a slug with a spinning outfit.

Big walleye of the week was a nine pound nine-ounce one entered by Mrs. Ray Rice, 711 W. 4th St. Harry Pelowski, 355 E. King St., got one an ounce lighter, or nine pounds eight-ounce.

Ben Allen, 223 W. Howard St., back in town after a sojourn in the Veteran Hospital, was again catching big bass. He entered a five-pound three-ounce large-mouth, incidentally. Ben tells us that while fishing recently in the river, he landed a two pound eight-ounce muskie, a rarity in this part of the river although they are caught occasionally above St. Cloud. The only other muskie verified report was a good sized one taken in Lake Pepin a few years ago. Ben has caught a lot of muskies and had no trouble identifying his fish.

Fishermen do not seem to miss ice fishing too much. It is nearly three weeks late. The weekend saw a lot of fishermen on the river. We counted 45 fishing boats below the Whitman dam at 2 p.m. Sunday. There were just as many there on Saturday. Similar fishing groups were below the other dams. The floats at Alma had a big play. Most of the fishermen were after walleyes. Sandpiper made up a greater part of the catch. Crappies were hitting in some of the sloughs. This fish seems to have moved out of the main channel.

The Minnesota division of the Izaak Walton League, at its annual convention in Minneapolis over the weekend, voted down a resolution asking for a dollar increase in fishing and hunting licenses on the grounds that if the Legislature would discontinue diverting license fees now paid for other purposes, there would be sufficient funds for the operation of the division. The $2 trout stamp suffered the same fate, according to Willard Matzke, president of the local chapter.

The convention, however, passed a resolution which called for a 50 million dollar fund to develop necessary lands for recreation and fish and wildlife habitat in the state.

The move, is 30 million dollars higher than the proposal made by the Minnesota Natural Resources Council.

The council report, which came under considerable fire during the election campaign, had recommended a general obligation bond issue in the amount of 20 million dollars for the same purposes.

This money, according to the Waltonites and the council, would be spent for outdoor recreation and research, state park lands and canoe sites, purchase of the Minnesota Memorial Hardwood Forest.

Rochester Dairy Sales Increase; Near $18 Million

ROCHESTER, Minn.—Rochester Dairy Cooperative had sales of nearly $18 million the past year and added two member creameries. Sales increased $126,618, to $17,696,618.

That was reported to the 2,500 patrons attending the 21st annual meeting at Mayo Civic Auditorium Saturday.

ROBERT BADGER, Rochester area; Gregory Kramer, Elba area; Edward Ringhofer, Orwatona area, and Warren Graskamp, Harmony-Fountain area, were re-elected directors. Paul Bauer, Arkansas, Wis. area, is the newly elected director.

According to Treasurer Badger butter and powdered products again were the main items marketed. More than 10 million pounds of butter were sold and more than 40 million pounds of nonfat powder. The two products made up 70 percent of the sales volume.

Total milk receipts increased by 26,000,000 pounds last year, to $74,000,000 pounds. The increase was attributed to the new creamery members, Utica and Stewartville Co-op creameries.

Assets of the dairy cooperative exceed liabilities with $1.11 in quick assets for every dollar in current obligations. Cash on hand was down slightly from last year, to $236,487. Inventories on hand were $394,544.

There has been continued reduction of loan and contract indebtedness, down $876,600 since Sept. 30, 1961. This has resulted in an improved working capital position, said Badger. Net overage was $67,464.

GEORGE P. DALEY, Lewiston, president of the board, told the audience attending the afternoon session of the development of the cooperative:

"When our organization was founded 21 years ago, it came in to being through necessity. We

Cornell Wants Rid Of Boa Constrictor

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP)—Cornell University has asked a fraternity to get rid of its pet boa constrictor until it can be determined whether the 7½-foot snake posed a danger.

The Delta Tau Delta fraternity said it would comply with the request made Monday by Charles Warwick, assistant dean of students in charge of fraternities.

The snake was purchased from Alfred MacDonald, an assistant in the child development and family relation department at the school.

It was in a wartime economy and milk as a food was listed high in priority as one of the essentials of a wartime effort.

"Many of us thought at the time that this surge and demand for milk as a basic food product, other than butter and cheese, as we had previously thought of the dairy business, was a temporary thing," he said.

"I maintain that we as dairy farmers in our area must take a vigorous and vigilant position with regard to milk supplies and how they come to be on a national basis."

"I am glad to report to you today that our organization is in a sound working position."

MANAGER Walter Palmo said, "We had a good year, but we are still not satisfied."

Kenneth Wallin, general manager of Badger Breeders Co-op, Shawano, Wis., spoke on cooperatives in general, milk consumption and production and dairying in general using graphs and illustrations to bring across his points.

Moren Bros., Harmony, received a quality award for 15 perfect years. They were awarded certificates for the honor. Albert Hacler, Zumbrot, received an award for 14 perfect years, Bernard Relland, Fine Island, 13 years, and Fred Bennstedt, Harmony, 12 years. About 220 quality awards were in the three to 15 year bracket.

Vernon Rucker, Ononoco, co-op secretary, reported. Francis Whitcomb, Eyota, is the co-op's vice president.

YMCA Y's Men To Sell Trees

The Y's Men's Club of the Winona YMCA will be selling Christmas Trees for the first time this year. This is an annual project throughout Y's Men's Clubs in the Nation.

The tree sale will open Saturday at the YMCA.

Trees to be sold are nursery grown and include Norway, Balsam and Scotch. Proceeds will be used for youth work in the community.

James Dresser and Scott Tolleson are co-chairmen.

CHAMBER AT WHITEHALL, WHITEHALL, Wis. (Special)—The Whitehall Chamber of Commerce will meet at City Cafe Wednesday at 8:30 p.m.

The President's Commission on Campaign Costs reported expenditures in behalf of all candidates for public office in 1960 totaled $165 to $175 million.

Lewiston 4-H Garden Winner

LEWISTON, Minn. — Lewiston Rural Ramblers 4-H Club this year won first place in the Young America Gardens contest, club division, and has received a plaque from the Flower and Garden Foundation, according to Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Ahrens, project leaders. Mr. and Mrs. Ahrens received a certificate of merit.

Richard Ahrens, son of the club leaders, received a $100 scholarship from the foundation for his home garden project last year and second place this year.

THE CLUB award was won for a perennial flower bed in Lewiston's park. Six members in the project started with a plot 8 by 12 feet and ended with a garden 9 by 20 feet.

Al Siebenaler, owner of the local greenhouse, donated five large-potted petunia plants — they aren't perennials but added colors to the bed, club members pointed out.

Perennials planted were three kinds of iris, phlox, late and early tiger lilies, peonies, painted daisies, blue delphinium, chrysanthemums, hollyhocks, lilies, pansies and three shrubs — honeysuckle, red spirea, and hydrangea.

Something was blooming in the flower bed all summer. Next year they anticipate it will look better because the peonies didn't bloom this year.

THE CLUB'S flowers were the first ones planted in Lewiston village park, which was started nine years ago. The Ramblers worked on the initial project.

Winona's Gilmore Starlighters 4-H Club won a second place prize in the same competition.

Jackie's Unhappy About Hollywood Movie Magazines

WASHINGTON (AP) — Jacqueline Kennedy isn't happy about her popularity with Hollywood's movie magazines—and she has a lot of company.

Dozens of protests have been received by the White House from letter-writers who object to the pictures and articles on the First Lady in publications that spend most of their space on movie stars.

Such magazines have been running photographs of Mrs. Kennedy with articles under titles like "Jackie Turns Her Back on Hollywood," or "Jacqueline Kennedy—America's Newest Star. What You Should Know About Her Fears."

White House sources said Monday Mrs. Kennedy does not have to cooperate with magazines that want to write articles on her. In the case of the movie magazines, they said, she has offered no help or encouragement.

But the White House has made no effort to challenge the publications, fearing this would only

Lake City Hospital Receives 1st Payment From Hassinger Trust

LAKE CITY, Minn.—Lake City Municipal Hospital has received the first check from a trust set up by Miss Attelia N. Hassinger, formerly of here, who died in Santa Barbara, Calif., May 18, 1962, at 93.

The money received from this trust will be set up as "The Hassinger Memorial Fund" and will be used to provide better patient care, according to Robert Polk, administrator, who received the check on behalf of the hospital board.

Miss Hassinger established the trust in 1938, from which she was to receive income for life. Upon her death payments were to be made to several individuals and charities. She directed the trust administrator in Santa Barbara to make semi-annual payments to the institution here "for so long as such hospital shall exist."

Miss Hassinger was born in Lake City March 29, 1869, to James C. and Mary Elizabeth Hassinger. She was a direct descendant of the Thomas Mifflin family who moved to the Midwest from Pennsylvania.

Broker vs. tipster

"I've got a hot tip—a chance for a quick killing!" That's the tipster speaking—a strange voice on the phone, or perhaps even a friend, or a broker who doesn't deserve the name.

If you're thinking of investing in stocks and bonds, consider the important differences between the tipster and a reputable broker.

Tipster: "I've got a sure thing for you. It can't miss."

Broker: "No investment is without risk. When someone says he has a sure thing, he means a stock whose price can only go up. There is no such thing. The price of stock fluctuates—now down, now up—like the price of almost any property. But over the years, the value of a prosperous, expanding company has a good chance of rising. Its dividends may also increase."

Tipster: "Buy now—before the price goes up."

Broker: "Never act hastily. First, take time to check the facts. What have the company's earnings been over the years? What is its dividend record? Have sales been going down, holding steady or moving upward? A broker in a Member Firm of the New York Stock Exchange can help you get such information. And he will be happy to give you his opinion about the company's prospects."

Tipster: "Who wants to wait years for a stock to pay off?"

Broker: "Set your goals carefully to fit your circumstances. Your goal may be extra income through dividends. Or you may place more emphasis on growth in the value of the stock over the years. Or you might want to consider bonds which usually offer a more stable income with less risk to your principal."

Tipster: "Scrape up all the money you can and bet the bundle."

Broker: "Living expenses have first call on your income. And provision should be made for emergencies. Then you might consider investing."

"One convenient method for investing on a budget is the Monthly Investment Plan which Member Firms offer. You can invest systematically with as little as $40 every three months."

If you've decided to own your share of American business by investing, choose your broker with care. Not all brokers are alike. In Member Firms of the New York Stock Exchange, for example, Registered Representatives have had to measure up to Exchange standards for knowledge of their business—by experience or written test. Their judgment may not always be right, of course, but they can help you evaluate information and start you off on a sound footing.

New Deadlock Expected in Lockheed Talks

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Talks may start again this weekend in the Lockheed strike. The subject, most likely, will be the same bitter deadlock: a union shop vote. The strike itself has been temporarily halted. A federal court order prohibits picketing until Dec. 13. The court is to start hearings Monday on whether to order an 80-day cooling-off period under the Taft-Hartley law.

The union says it cooled off plenty — while waiting for a chance to strike. Last week's strike only lasted two days. But the picket signs are stockpiled, waiting.

Negotiators for both sides—Lockheed Aircraft Corp. and the International Association of Machinists—have indicated a willingness to resume bargaining.

There is no indication that either side will relent on ironbound positions on the union shop issue. The IAM wants workers to vote on it. The company refuses.

Company officials at Lockheed's Sunnyvale, Calif., plant said that 600 union members there have filed notice of intention to quit the union.

The union said it hadn't been able to confirm the number. One union official said such withdrawals are not uncommon when a strike is pending.

Monday's court action followed a request by President Kennedy to the Department of Justice to request an injunction.

The President earlier received a report from a three-man board of inquiry which he appointed last week to look into the Lockheed situation.

In requesting an injunction, Department of Justice attorney Carl Eardley submitted affidavits from Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara and space agency director Robert Seamans Jr.

Both said Lockheed's production was essential to the national defense effort. Company attorney Robert Canan supported the government request.

Katanga Is Rich, Rest of Congo Poor

NEW YORK — The rich, ripe reek of fish in the secessionist African state of Katanga has nothing to do with a national industry; the national industry is the extraction of such things as copper and cobalt from Katanga's conspicuous earth. Katanga is stinking rich, and the remainder of the Congo is relatively poor.

Katanga is owned, lock, stock and Moose Tshombe by the Belgian government, via the Union Miniere du Haut Katanga, whose parent is the Societe Generale Belge, one of the three largest financial octopi in the world.

This explains the presence of Henri Spaak, Foreign Minister of Belgium, who was in New York recently to palaver with U Thant, Dag Hammarskjold's successor as United Nations boss.

Although Belgium is officially out of the Congo, Belgium still owns its holdings in Katanga, and still pays millions in tribute to the dissident state of Katanga. When Foreign Minister Spaak talks to U Thant, he is not really talking freedom and solidarity in the Congo. He is talking money, and representing his country, Belgium, in matters much more financial than geopolitical. This is not wrong. Big-business bartering is never supposed to be "wrong," and it is the duty of a Foreign Minister to represent the best interests of his country.

IT HAS BEEN said that Katanga is now willing to offer the rest of the hungry Congo a slice of its metallic pie, in return for peace and lack of harassment by the U.N. forces. You might say that "harassment" is an euphemism.

What the United Nations did last year, in the name of solidarity, was to declare all-out big-bomb war on Katanga, which had announced its early intent to secede after the Belgian abandonment of its titular colonial interest in the Congo created chaos, death and havoc more than two years ago.

There was no real reason why Moise Tshombe should not be allowed to secede from the obscene minstrel show that Congolese politicians were staging with the Leopoldville government — a so-called government which at one time had at least two-and-a-half

WORLD TODAY

Two Basic Ways To Keep Secret

(Editor's Note: This is the second of a series of three analyses on government information policies.)

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—It's not only paper, it's people. Stamp a document "secret" or "don't talk." The government has those two basic ways to keep information from the public. The excuse is the general good.

The idea is to prevent release of certain kinds of information which might hurt national security. Sometimes this is justified. Sometimes it's not and is overdone. Two examples of overdoing it:

1. The Pentagon several years ago concealed information on the number of transport planes used to ferry officials abroad. The ban was lifted under protest from Congress.

2. The Migratory Bird Conservation Commission and the Indian Arts and Crafts Board had the right to withhold documents secret. This happened under President Eisenhower's administration. The reason wasn't sinister.

Some of his aides, in a grand gesture giving all kinds of agencies the right to withhold documents, forgot to exclude the bird commission and the arts and crafts board.

The planes, the birds and the crafts illustrate the reason for the endless dispute between Congress and news media on one side and, on the other, the government and some of its overly secret-minded officials.

The squabbling now is with the Kennedy administration. But it has a history. From earliest times the government, if necessary, had the right to hold back certain military-diplomatic information. There were few restrictions before World War I. They multiplied from then on.

As soon as that war began, before this country was in it, President Wilson warned Army and Navy officers not to talk on Europe's military and political problems. When this country got in, two things happened: censorship and the first organized attempt to classify documents to restrict their release.

A year before the United States went into World War II news organizations were asked to avoid mentioning certain kinds of information, like ship movements. (The Kennedy administration did the same thing during this year's Cuban crisis.) Information controls tightened as the World War II defense program progressed. Once in the war, censorship began again.

After the hot war came the cold war, far more secrecy was needed, and was imposed by the government, than in any previous peacetime period. President Truman's administration wrestled with plans for withholding certain information, the so-called "classified" material. In 1951 he finally issued regulations for such classification. They were too sweeping, needed revision.

In 1953 Eisenhower kept the plan but did revising, and more of it later. Yet in 1956 one Air Force official told Congress he estimated that perhaps one million government employees had authority to classify documents. To make things go faster some documents couldn't be declassified unless the original classifier approved, although by then he might have been out of the government and even his agency abolished.

Kennedy got up to his neck in news blackout when the Cuban rebels in 1961 made their tragic U.S.-backed attempt to invade their homeland. For a few days top American officials, from Kennedy down, professed innocence and ignorance about help for the rebels. CA somewhat similar blackout occurred in 1960 under the Eisenhower administration when the American U2 plane was shot down over the Soviet Union.

Then suddenly Kennedy took full blame for the invasion fiasco. Three days later he went before the American Newspaper Publishers Association and urged "self-restraint" on matters involving national security. He suggested some voluntary form of it. Then came the 1962 crisis over Russian missiles in Cuba. This

Russia Claims Rockets Lead

MOSCOW (AP)—The commander of Soviet rocket forces claimed today that the Soviet Union continues to lead the United States in the field of powerful military rockets.

Marshal Sergei Biryuzov's statement in the military newspaper Krasnaya Zvezda (Red Star) apparently was an answer to recent statements by American leaders that it is the Soviet Union, and not the United States, which suffers from a missile gap. The British Institute for Strategic Studies, in a report published Nov. 9, estimated that the Russians had about 75 operational intercontinental ballistic missiles, compared with 450-500 in the hands of the West.

MAYBE HE'LL RETIRE

COLUMBUS, Ohio —Gary McDonald, 11, must have the feeling that he's been through it all before.

On Oct. 2, 1961, in a playground football game at school, he was tackled and suffered a broken left leg. On Oct. 1, 1962, on the same playground, Gary fell in going after a pass—and broke the same leg in about the same spot.

time Kennedy's team truly "managed" the news. This was admitted by Arthur Sylvester, assistant secretary of defense for public affairs, who frankly said the administration manipulated news as part of its "weaponry." Newsmen hotly criticized him for this. He spent a lot of time trying to explain his phrasing.

London to Change Fleet Admirals

LONDON (AP)—Adm. Sir David Luce will succeed Admiral of the Fleet Sir Caspar John as a lord commissioner of the Admiralty, first sea lord and chief of naval staff next summer, the Admiralty announced today.

A statement said Queen Elizabeth had approved the appointment of Sir David, who last month became the first commander in chief of the new unified three-service command in the Far East.

The State Department subsequently dropped its order, or so it said. But Sylvester refused to back down on his. Rather, he said the Pentagon is giving out more information now than it ever did in the past 22 months, he said, the number of its news releases has increased 40 per cent.

3 Jet Bombers Leave Cuba in Soviet Ships

WASHINGTON (AP)—The first three of the jet bombers Soviet Premier Khrushchev promised to have out of Cuba by Dec. 20 are being carried away from the island by a Soviet ship, the Defense Department reports. It said Monday that U.S. patrol planes photographed Saturday three fuselages of the Ilyushin 28s on the deck of the Soviet freighter Okhotsk as it steamed off Cuba's northern coast.

"IL28 aircraft that have been seen on the island of Cuba are in the process of being withdrawn," Assistant Secretary of Defense Arthur Sylvester told a news conference. He indicated that American reconnaissance planes checked on the dismantling of the bombers even before they were loaded aboard the Okhotsk.

He said U.S. intelligence information indicates that as of last Friday the Soviet bombers were being disassembled at San Julian airfield at the island's western end.

The Pentagon has put the number of the two-engine bombers at more than 20. Unofficial estimates have ranged as high as 35.

The bombers, capable of dropping a nuclear bomb 750 miles from their base were listed among the offensive weapons that President Kennedy demanded be removed from Cuba.

City Gets Gas For 15.6 Cents

Standard Oil Division of the American Oil Co. was the successful bidder at Monday night's City Council meeting for the city gasoline contract with an offer of 15.6 per gallon for an estimated 55,000 gallons of 88 octane fuel.

Two other bids were received: Mobil Oil Co., 16.75 cents, and Midland Cooperatives, Inc., 20.5 cents. These prices are after refund of the state gasoline tax.

Gasoline bids were re-advertised after discovery last month of an error in specifications which resulted in delivery to the city of lower octane-rated fuel. Engines of city vehicles were not responding and an investigation disclosed the discrepancy.

Midland Cooperatives, Inc. offered last month to withdraw from its contract which specified delivery of 92 octane gasoline for 17.84 cents per gallon.

In other Council action, cigarette licenses were issued for Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co., 106 Johnson St.; Dominic Jerezcek, 851 E. Wabasha St.; Milton Meyer, 179 E. 3rd St.; Nick Deones, Highway Eat Shop, Sugar Loaf, and Briesath Shell Station, 74 W. 5th St.

An electrician's license was granted to Squires Electric Co., Rochester.

Declined by the Council was a re-application by Robert Mayer, 872½ E. Wabasha St., for on-and-off-sale 3.2 beer license for 315 Steuben St. Voting against issuance were Ald. Harold Briesath, Mrs. Muriel Ollom, Howard Baumann, Lloyd Dellke and Henry Parks. Voting in favor were Ald. Daniel Bambenek, Mrs. Mary Masyga, Clarence Tribell and James Stoltman.

DEAR ABBY:

Where There's Life There Is Hope

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My sister and I have lived together for 15 years and have been very close. We have mutual friends and have always gone to church, concerts, plays, etc., together. Now I find myself alone and no one to share my life with.

A month ago my sister married a man after a courtship of only six weeks! A few years back I had two proposals of marriage and I turned them down because my sister did not want to be left alone. I am very hurt because of the way she has treated me. Am I wrong to think she should have refused this man because I turned down two proposals for her? My health is not good and I need her. Am I being unfair? LONESOME

DEAR LONESOME: You are wrong. Your sister had every right to marry, and so did you. Don't be bitter. Perhaps now that you are alone you, too, will be plucked out of the garden of late bloomers.

DEAR ABBY: There is a woman in our neighborhood who just burns all of us up. She has a child who attends the same school as mine (and three other neighborhood children). But do you think she would consider being in our car pool? Not on your life. We have all asked her, but she says, "No, thank you. I do not want to be responsible for driving anyone else's child and I don't need anyone to drive mine." She goes right past my house every morning on her way to school and she picks up her child every evening. What makes this woman so selfish? CAN'T GET OVER IT

DEAR CAN'T: Maybe she was in a car pool once.

DEAR ABBY: Last week my husband brought home a collie puppy. It is cute and all that, but how about when he grows up? I don't know anything about training a dog and you should see my house after one week! My husband says HE will train it, but he is gone all day and it's my job whether I like it or not. I have no yard to speak of, and it's too chilly to leave him outside all the time. Please tell me how to convince my husband that he should get rid of this puppy. LIKES PUPPIES - HATES DOGS

DEAR LIKES: If you know nothing about training a dog and are not willing to learn, do the little animal a favor by giving him to someone who does. And it's time you started to train your husband.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are going to a very swanky formal affair at the best hotel in town. His firm is putting on the party. My problem is that the boss' wife does not have a fur stole and my husband is afraid that if I wear mine, it will not look right. Should I borrow a cloth evening coat for the occasion? MRS. J.

DEAR MRS. J.: Certainly not! Wear your fur stole. (Maybe the boss' wife will borrow a fur stole for the occasion.)

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Farmer Held in Goodhue County Barn Fire Series

GOODHUE, Minn. — A 31-year-old Belle Creek farmer, Harold C. Malloy, was bound over to District Court here Friday on a first degree arson count after preliminary hearing in municipal court. Malloy, who was returned to jail when he failed to post $5,000 bond, is charged with setting fire to the barn of Leo Ryan in Belle Creek Township Feb. 4, 1960. Ryan owns a farm bordering Malloy's. He was picked up by Goodhue Sheriff Paul Zillgitt in October when the sheriff said, he admitted setting fire to three barns in the county two years ago, including Ryan's. Sheriff Zillgitt said Malloy is suspected as the arsonist who started several other barn fires in Goodhue County in 1960 and one as recently as early October. Malloy is married and father of five children.

BUSINESS MIRROR

Perennial Battle Starts Over Taxes

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Business and the administration are drawing up their lines today for another round in the perennial battle over taxes. At conferences here and in Washington the two sides are outlining their views. The debate is as much over the kind of taxes as over the high rates.

The final stands may be made clear when the President addresses a group of businessmen here Dec. 14 and perhaps reveals the forms his proposals to the new Congress will take.

At today's hearing in Washington businessmen are telling the Internal Revenue Service their objections to and perplexities about the new rules it proposes on expense account deductions. Commissioner Mortimer M. Caplin says the hearing will lead to a relaxation of some of the proposed crackdown.

In New York, businessmen and federal legislators are discussing the wider problem of tax reform at a meeting of the Tax Foundation, a nonprofit research body long dedicated to seeking lower tax burdens and less government spending.

And the complications of the tax rules decreed in the Revenue Act of 1962 will be discussed in Washington next week at a meeting of business executives, their tax attorneys, and federal tax administrators, sponsored by the Federal Bar Association and Foundation and The Bureau of National Affairs Inc.

All hands agree that they'd like to see the nation's economy grow faster and that the burden of high taxation may be holding this back.

The rub comes when tax cuts mean still higher Treasury deficits. This brings up the ticklish question of holding down government spending and how and if this can be done, or even if it should be done.

A call for "less heavy reliance on taxes which are imposed on business as such" is made today at the Tax Foundation meeting by Prof. C. Lowell Harris of Columbia University. He says Congress should "try to reduce rather than to enhance the deadweight burden of (tax) compliance costs on business, as well as on the public generally." The costs include the fees of tax counsel and the salaries of tax managers, as well as business activities changed or hampered by complying with the tax laws.

But another speaker at the conference, Rep. Thomas B. Curtis, R-Mo., says real federal tax reform can come only from expenditure cuts and the prospects for this in 1963 or in 1964 he calls grim.

Businessmen generally appear to be plugging for a return to a 47 per cent corporate income tax rate. This was raised to 52 per cent during the Korean War emergency and renewed annually since then. The return to 47 per cent would be automatic June 30, if Congress doesn't vote otherwise in the meantime.

Such a drop in the corporate rate would give business about $2.5 billion more to invest in expansion, or in building reserves, or in paying dividends. How much would go directly into economic growth is moot. But business leaders say such a boost to profits after taxes would increase the pace notably.

Winter Maneuvers In Central Germany

HANAU, Germany (AP)—U.S. Army tanks crunched across the frozen ground of central Germany today in the season's first winter-weather maneuvers for American troops in Europe. The exercise, involving some 30,000 troops, will be followed by similar maneuvers for other units throughout the winter. In the season opener, running through Friday, the 3rd Armored Division has pushed across the ice-frozen Main River, using a pontoon bridge and pontoon rafts. Opposing the advance is the 4th Armored Group.
