Governors Hold Fire On New Guard Plan

By LARRY OSIUS
WASHINGTON (AP)—Governors held their fire for the most part as the Pentagon unveiled its program designed to get more ready-to-go combat punch into fewer National Guard and Army Reserve units.

Leagues withhold approval of the National Guard proposals until after a Pentagon meeting with state adjutants general next Monday.

REORGANIZATION . . . Defense Secretary Robert McNamara and Secretary of the Army Cyrus R. Vance, right, have announced a drastic modernization of the Army Reserve and National Guard. The sweeping reorganization involves eliminating eight reserve and National Guard infantry divisions, all of low priority, and dropping 731 smaller units which are considered out of date. 66 Units of 103rd Will Be Eliminated

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—The 103rd Infantry division will undergo a complete overhaul as a result of reorganization plans announced Tuesday by the secretary of defense. The division has units in Minnesota, Iowa and Wisconsin.

The 14th Army Corps said here that 66 company and detachment-sized units will be eliminated and five new ones organized in the five-state corps area of Minnesota, the Dakotas, Iowa and Wisconsin.

Badger Units Face Loss Of 3,849 Men

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Army National Guard and Reserve reorganizations announced Tuesday could result in a reduction of such forces in Wisconsin by 3,849 men.

Under the plans of Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara National Guard units in Wisconsin face cuts of 2,766 men to a strength of 8,564.

The XIV Army Corps headquarters in Minneapolis announced that 18 Wisconsin units of the 103rd Division of the Army Reserve are to be inactivated, reducing the unit's strength in Wisconsin by 1,083 men to 8,773.

retain their numerical designations but will be organized into battalions instead of the present battlegroups.

The 103rd Infantry will be reduced to an operational headquarters in Des Moines. Other changes will be concluded by spring, according to Maj. Gen. Frank J. Stackton, the 14th corps commander.

Minnesota has 24 units to be inactivated, Iowa 23, Wisconsin 18, South Dakota 1 and North Dakota none.

Two units will be relocated—the 826th Ordnance Co., from Lake Geneva, Wis., to Madison, Wis.; Co. B of the 757th Transportation Bn., from Fort Snelling, Minn., to Milwaukee.

New units will be the 312th Quartermaster Co., Des Moines; a new unit in Minneapolis, as yet unnamed; the 365th Public Information Detachment in Minneapolis; the 785th Medical Detachment, Madison, Wis.; and the 220th Medical Detachment, Madison.

Election in Supreme Court For 5th Time

By ADOLPH JOHNSON
Associated Press Writer
A month after it took place, the Nov. 6 election is still the principal topic of discussion around the State Capitol.

Various phases of the election have four times before the Supreme Court and are again there.

The Supreme Court will make the final decision on the GOP motion to shift the scene of activity from Freeborn County District Court in Albert Lea, where the DFL action was started, to Ramsey County District Court in St. Paul.

There also may be considerable other legal activity before actual recounting of votes can start. Estimates of the time it will take to recount the votes vary from a few days to six months or more.

Those who make the lower estimate do so on the basis it will be a smooth operation with 100 or more teams counting at the same time. Those who believe it will take longer say they are more interested in accuracy than speed.

Some say the votes should be rechecked down to the last precinct. Others anticipate the recount will stop part way through if a steady trend develops in favor of either Gov. Elmer L. Andersen or Lt. Gov. Karl Rolvaag.

Some see the recount as a battle of disputed ballots, with each side questioning a large number. Disputed ballots would come before the district court for consideration.

Those worried about the disputed ballot problem suggest that several retired district judges could be appointed to serve as referees. The referees would study and classify the disputed ballots to help the presiding judge to decide as to their disposition.

In this connection, there have been proposals that a three-judge court, rather than a single judge, should handle the recount.

While it has not been tested in court—and may be before the matter is settled—there seems to be fairly general agreement that Gov. Andersen will continue in office until the recount matter is settled.

Goldwater May Prefer Arizona Senate Position

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP)—Republicans who want Barry Goldwater to head their 1964 presidential ticket may have shoved the Arizona senator on to a hot political spot.

While he has about a year to weigh the idea of making a bid for the presidential nomination, Goldwater eventually is going to have to decide whether the effort would be worth giving up the chance for six years more in the Senate.

It has been Goldwater's position that Arizona voters will not go along with the kind of parlay Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson managed in getting elected in 1960 both to the Senate in Texas and to the vice presidency.

Goldwater has said over and over again that he wants another team in the Senate and isn't interested in seeking the presidential nomination.

Goldwater obviously is having some second thoughts about his future course as the result of a secret meeting of party conservatives in Chicago last Sunday. If this group expands into a national organization that demonstrates it can assemble a campaign war chest and throw its weight around, he probably would be happy to go along with it for a while to see what happens.

Many delegates favor Thant's plan to reify Katanga Province with the Cong. But they feel that the staggering expense of the operation makes it imperative that the United Nations abandon its Congo commitment as soon as possible.

Nations who have faithfully carried their share of the Congo cost have grown weary of the extra burden of buying bonds because the Soviet Union and others refuse to assume any part of the load.

The United States has paid more than $114 million of the $240 million the Congo force has cost since it was formed in July 1960.

U.S. Marshal Elmer Dispayne led the man, blood streaming from his head and face, from the courtroom and would not permit newsmen to question him.

Judge Miller, who watched the drama abruptly unfold, ordered a recess and told the marshals that he wanted a full and complete report of the incident.

Laborer Fires at Hoffa in Court

Union Leader Not Injured By Air Pistol

By GAVIN SCOTT
NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—A Washington, D.C., laborer, who said he "had a vision" that told him to shoot Teamsters President James R. Hoffa dashed into U.S. District Court today and fired several pellets from an air pistol at the stocky labor leader.

Hoffa, being tried on a $1 million conspiracy charge, suffered only pellet marks on the back and left arm.

U.S. Marshal Elmer Dispayne identified the gunman as Warren Swanson, a laborer from Washington who arrived here only Tuesday. Dispayne said Swanson told him he did not know Hoffa but added:

"I had a vision a month ago that told me to do it."

Swanson, bruised and bloody from a mauling he received from marshals and Teamsters Union spectators, was taken to a hospital for treatment.

His condition was undetermined immediately.

The outburst spread excitement in the courtroom.

Hoffa was not injured.

"I saw the gun," Hoffa said. "I knocked him down."

Lack of Funds Can Cripple U.N. Work

By TOM HOGE
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—U.N. prestige faces a mortal blow if lack of funds forces the world body to abandon its Congo operation.

Secretary-General U Thant warned this week that the United Nations cannot survive as an effective instrument unless members lay aside their differences and help pay the $130-million Congo debt.

Chances of getting out of the red appeared remote after the Soviet Union and France told the 110-nation budgetary committee they have no intention of paying any part of the $10-million monthly effort.

There was no sign of help coming from 48 other U.N. members who have never paid anything for the upkeep of the Congo force since it was put into the field more than two years ago.

Thant has slaved off financial disaster by raising about $150 million on a $200-million emergency bond issue. He warned there is only enough money left to keep the operation alive for a few more months.

Nehru Visits Indian Front

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru flew to northeast India today for talks with army commanders and speeches to the population recently threatened by the Chinese Communist invasion.

Nehru was accompanied on the two-day trip by Defense Minister Y. B. Chavan and several generals from army headquarters in New Delhi.

The party stopped first at Guwahati, in Assam.

They were expected to fly later to Tezpur, headquarters for the troops facing the Chinese Communists.

At Gauhati, 70 miles down the Brahmaputra River from Tezpur, Nehru told a public meeting the people of northeast India had stood up well to the Chinese threat.

Scholarship Too Stringent

JACKSON, Mich. (AP)—A scholarship fund no one has been strait-laced enough to touch may be legislated under a liberalized set of prerequisites established by a judge.

Jackson County Circuit Court Judge John Simpson ruled Monday the requirements set down in the will of Elmore Dennis in 1946 are now "too stringent under presently accepted social habits," and set up more conventional applicant requirements.

The will restricted use of the $14,000 fund to Jackson High students with perfect school attendance records who abstained from smoking, drinking, social Greek-letter organizations, and "frivolous amusements."

Judge Simpson's new standards for the one-year grants are based on ability, need and citizenship, with preference going to students interested in science and engineering.

Should Mrs. Kennedy Pay at State Dinner?

By FRANK CORMIER
WASHINGTON (AP)—Should Mrs. John F. Kennedy pay for her own meal at White House dinners honoring foreign dignitaries or is this a legitimate business expense of the President of the United States?

WHAT ABOUT WIVES?

Wesley M. Chandler, a St. Paul manufacturer of burial vaults, predicted dire results if a new tax law is interpreted as prohibiting expense deductions for the cost of having wives attend business entertainment functions.

Conditions Eased

The NAM's general counsel, Lambert H. Miller, argued the proposed tax reporting provisions would "encourage a breakdown of the self-assessment tax system and curtail such business expenditures to a point of serious economic impact on many important sectors of the national economy."

Conditions Eased

Other witnesses challenged the detailed record-keeping that would be required by the regulations. They claimed the proposals would impose an impossible burden and discourage business patronage of hotels, restaurants and taverns, with adverse effects on the national economy and federal revenues.

Three Districts Confer With State Officials

Members of St. Charles, Utica and Lewiston school boards, interested citizens and Winona County Superintendent Jesse Jusus gave their views on a plan to join Lewiston and Utica districts at a meeting before the state advisory board on school reorganization at St. Paul Tuesday.

The hearing had been arranged by the state Department of Education following a request by St. Charles school board for an audience on the plan.

DAVID Christie, former chairman of Utica school board, spoke in favor of Utica joining St. Charles. St. Charles board had submitted a plan to the county superintendent after the Lewiston plan had been sent to the state department, requesting a plan of St. Charles and 11 other districts, including Utica. This plan was rejected because the previous plan had been sent to the state for consideration.

Alfred Steurnagel, member of Utica district, spoke in favor of Utica remaining a separate district.

Alton Bergh, spokesman for St. Charles school board, requested rejection of the Lewiston-Utica plan by the state. He pointed out that St. Charles always has served Utica high school children and said St. Charles needs the extra valuation attachment of Utica would provide.

When the advisory board introduced the subject of a central school for all three districts, the St. Charles spokesman voiced favor of it without indicating where such central school should be.

BERNARD Kennedy, chairman of Lewiston school board, reviewed past unsuccessful attempts to form a central district with a high school at Utica, culminating in a vote against it Oct. 30. He said Lewiston district is making plans to build its own high school, and he thought voters in the district would be against another attempt at a central high school.

Jesus repeated his previous stand that the people of Utica should be left to settle the problem themselves. He favored state approval of the Lewiston-Utica plan, giving the people of Utica an opportunity to vote on it.

The advisory board will give its recommendations to the state department, which within 60 days will reject or approve the plan. Mrs. C. A. Rohrer, Winona, is chairman of the advisory board.

ATTENDING THE hearing were Kennedy, Dr. Kenneth Klaus, William Robertson Jr., Charles Radatz Jr., Mrs. Milo Bundy and Harry Haack, Lewiston board; Frank Koch, Wally Ask, Del Rubberg, Cyril Persons and Gerald Wegman, St. Charles board; plus Superintendent Roy Belsaes and Bergh, St. Charles; Alvin Schweider, Kenneth Babcock and Christie, the former Utica board, and Kenneth Holl, Everett Timm and Leon Kieffer, new Utica board. Three members of Utica district also were there.

Carrie Nation, mother of the Prohibition movement, was born in Kentucky, the state that produces 80 per cent of the world's bourbon whiskey.

Slightly Colder Reading Tonight

Today's scattered snow flurries on the heels of an unrelenting storm which gave Winona an inch of snow and the appearance of winter are scheduled to diminish by night and be followed by colder weather tonight and a slight warm-up Thursday.

Decreasing cloudiness and colder tonight with a low of 12-20 is the forecast. Thursday will see increasing cloudiness and warmer weather with a high of around 35. Scattered light snow and near normal temperatures is the outlook for Friday.

THE FIVE-DAY forecast supports this with predictions of colder weather tonight with alternate warming and cooling at 36- to 48-hour intervals. Daytime normal temperatures will be in the low 30s and nighttime lows about 15. Precipitation is expected to average one-tenth in scattered light snow early in the period and late in the weekend.

Starting Tuesday evening slightly more than one inch of snow had fallen over the area by noon today. The temperature had dropped from a maximum of 42 at noon Monday to this morning's figure of 22. At noon today it was only 23.

TEMPERATURES returning to late fall normals were within the range of figures a year ago today when the high here was 42 and the low 18. All-time high for Dec. 5 was 51 in 1909 and 1911 and the low for the day -5 in 1873 and 1880. Mean for the past 24 hours was 33. Normal for this day is 25.

Today's snowfall was the second of the season, one inch having fallen on Nov. 23. Total snowfall for the 1960-61 season was 90.2 inches.

Snow was general over much of Minnesota today but was light in most instances. The temperature dropped to a low of 13 at Bemidji, 15 at International Falls and 16 at St. Cloud. However, Winnipeg had a low of 9 with snow and Minot, N.D., 11. It also was snowing there.

The cold front passing through Wisconsin brought rain to all sections of the state this morning while the northern and western sections reported snow flurries. Even though temperatures dipped throughout the state they were still above normal.

At mid-morning cloudy skies prevailed over the state.

La Crosse hit a state high of 51 Tuesday. Racine followed with 50 while Milwaukee and Wausau both reported 48. The low during the night was 19 at Superior.

THE SNOWFALL in northern and western Wisconsin was negligible but at mid-morning Marquette, Mich., reported that 2 inches had fallen in the past 6 hours.

Brownsville, Tex., reported 85 Tuesday, the nation's high temperature. A 5 degree reading at Douglas, Wyo., was the low.

Car Hits Rear End of Tractor; Truck Overturns

Two were slightly injured Tuesday afternoon when a car ran into the back end of a tractor on County State Aid Highway 33 about one mile south of Altura.

The accident, which occurred at 5:15 p.m., involved Lester Rahn, Altura, and James J. Connaughty, Utica. Both were taken to Community Medical Center, St. Charles, treated for minor cuts and bruises and released.

Rahn was driving his tractor south on CSA 33 and Connaughty could not stop his car in time to avoid hitting the rear of the tractor. Connaughty's car went over an embankment and through the ditch for 92 feet. The car was 65 feet from the highway and stopped on its wheels.

The tractor came to rest 58 feet south of the impact still on the highway. Neither driver was thrown from his vehicle. Damage was $350 to Rahn's tractor and $400 to Connaughty's car.

Connaughty will be charged with having an open bottle of liquor in his car, according to Sheriff George Fort.

Sheriff Fort reported another accident which occurred Monday morning.

In that accident a milk truck driven by Richard Hemker, 23, Winona Rt. 2, went off Larson road about one mile north of New Hartford at 10 a.m. The truck went into a four-foot ditch and overturned, landing on its top.

Hemker was not injured, but the truck had about $700 damage. He was driving south and met a gravel truck going north on a curve. He told sheriff's deputies that he pulled onto the shoulder which was soft and the truck went into the ditch and overturned.

The driver of the gravel truck is not known, said Fort.

TO STIMULATE the profit motive, Peyovich urged:

"More restraint on the part of some of our largest trade unions (they should not ask for wage increases in excess of the nationwide average rate of productivity increase) and more understanding on the part of our government in its taxation policy (lower taxes on corporate earnings, tax rebates to the exporting firms, etc.) could provide our business with more confidence with respect to profits."

"The subsequent increase in investment spending would more than compensate the government for the amount lost through a tax reduction. A higher level of investment spending would, at the same time, increase real wages of our workers. Why? Because it is the institution of profit which triggers increased production and creates the necessary and sufficient conditions for an increase in the living standard of the workers."

Red Chinese Group On Visit to Cuba

TOKYO (AP)—A Communist Chinese cultural delegation left Peking today for a visit to Cuba, Peking radio reported. It said the delegation is making the visit at the invitation of the Cuban National Cultural Committee.

All adults should be accompanied by children, and vice versa, the society says.

Construction was begun eight years ago by eight hobbyists with a mutual desire to build an expanded system beyond what each could accomplish individually. Although the society is an organization in name, it actually has no officers, bylaws or other organizational trappings to intrude on the hobbyists' central purposes: Construction, operation and enjoyment of one of the state's largest model rail systems.

Model Rail Club Sets Open House

Adults who grew up to be frustrated railroad engineers, model railfans, fascinated youngsters and the few individuals who achieved a youthful ambition for a railroad career will have a ball Sunday afternoon.

Open house will be held by the Winona Society of Model Railroad Engineers Sunday from 2 to 5 p.m. at their layout on the second floor of the Holden Drug Department Store, 953 W. 5th St.

NO ADMISSION will be charged for the society's ninth annual pre-holiday show, members announced, but contributions will be turned over to the Goodfellow's. Trains will be running continuously over the 500-foot track which is arranged in a 58-foot long dogbone pattern.

All adults should be accompanied by children, and vice versa, the society says.

Reluctance of the steel industry and investors to put money in Minnesota taconite plants is due to uncertainty about future tax loads, Mrs. Torgerson said.

If reasonable tax treatment were guaranteed under simple legislative statute, as taconite amendment opponents advocate, it would be a simple matter to upset the apple cart at any time by repeal of the statute in a fit of legislative whyness, she said.

The question of the governorship bears on the matter of taconite taxes, she said, because Rolvaag, if elected, would veto an amendment proposal while Anderson would approve its being submitted to the people for a referendum.

"If Gov. Anderson remains elected, I believe there will be an amendment submitted to the people," Mrs. Torgerson said. "There is no assurance it will pass but at least it will be there and available."

"It will take time for investment in plants to show returns in jobs and taxes while our immediate need is to raise money. We will simply have to raise more money or cut services."

Education appropriations should be "let alone," she said, even if it means some sacrifices in other areas of state spending.

If reasonable tax treatment were guaranteed under simple legislative statute, as taconite amendment opponents advocate, it would be a simple matter to upset the apple cart at any time by repeal of the statute in a fit of legislative whyness, she said.

The question of the governorship bears on the matter of taconite taxes, she said, because Rolvaag, if elected, would veto an amendment proposal while Anderson would approve its being submitted to the people for a referendum.

"If Gov. Anderson remains elected, I believe there will be an amendment submitted to the people," Mrs. Torgerson said. "There is no assurance it will pass but at least it will be there and available."

"It will take time for investment in plants to show returns in jobs and taxes while our immediate need is to raise money. We will simply have to raise more money or cut services."

Education appropriations should be "let alone," she said, even if it means some sacrifices in other areas of state spending.

Reluctance of the steel industry and investors to put money in Minnesota taconite plants is due to uncertainty about future tax loads, Mrs. Torgerson said.

Union Restraint Urged to Meet Common Mart

The United States could compete better with the European Common Market if this nation's largest labor unions used restraint in seeking wage increases and the government cut corporation taxes.

That's the view of Svetozar Peyovich, assistant professor of economics, St. Mary's College, who discussed "The Common Market and the United States" at a Rotary Club luncheon today at Hotel Winona.

THE EUROPEAN Common Market is composed of France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, Luxembourg and the Netherlands. The organization was formally established in 1958.

"The stated purpose of the Common Market is to abolish all tariffs and all restrictions on labor and capital movements among the member countries by 1970, and to set a single common tariff against non-members," Peyovich said.

"So far, a few important steps have been taken in this direction. Internal tariff among the members have been reduced by about 50 percent and all internal quotas on imports were abolished by the end of 1961."

The speaker urged American support of the Common Market which is expected to strengthen member nations economically, politically and militarily.

"The Common Market will relieve us from some of the burdens with respect to the defense of Europe," he said. "The Common Market will increase our chances to avoid another war. Finally, the Common Market is here to stay and we should not waste our time considering arguments for and against it."

HOWEVER, the Common Market will impose some serious problems on the United States, Peyovich said.

We export more goods to Common Market countries—$3.5 billion in 1961—than we import from them—$2.2 billion in 1961.

"High tariffs on our exports to the Common Market countries are bound to have some negative repercussions on the level of employment in the USA and the international position of the dollar. A few weeks ago, our Secretary of Agriculture expressed his concern over new and high tariffs imposed by the Common Market countries on our agricultural products. And our exports of agricultural products account for 40 percent ($1.5 billion) of our total exports to the Common Market."

Common Market manufacturers will lure away Asian and African buyers of American goods, and at the same time there'll be an increased flow of Common Market goods into the United States, Peyovich said.

This will increase unemployment in the United States and will weaken the status of the dollar abroad, he said. He urged stimulation of the profit motive of American business. That would lead to a high volume of investment spending, a high level of employment and improved international status for the dollar.

TO STIMULATE the profit motive, Peyovich urged:

"More restraint on the part of some of our largest trade unions (they should not ask for wage increases in excess of the nationwide average rate of productivity increase) and more understanding on the part of our government in its taxation policy (lower taxes on corporate earnings, tax rebates to the exporting firms, etc.) could provide our business with more confidence with respect to profits."

"The subsequent increase in investment spending would more than compensate the government for the amount lost through a tax reduction. A higher level of investment spending would, at the same time, increase real wages of our workers. Why? Because it is the institution of profit which triggers increased production and creates the necessary and sufficient conditions for an increase in the living standard of the workers."

Strong Boy of The Sexy Sixties

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — The Great Brains of Broadway are currently debating whether Robert Goulet, the new heart-strumming singer with the manish tonsils, the Boston Strong Boy of the Sexy Sixties, can make it real big — become an international epidemic — a menace to happy heartsides all over the world.

"But wait," said one of those disputatious Hollywood types. "How much do they know about him in San Francisco and Honolulu — and have they heard of him yet in Tokyo?"

How Far Can You Go On Nothing?

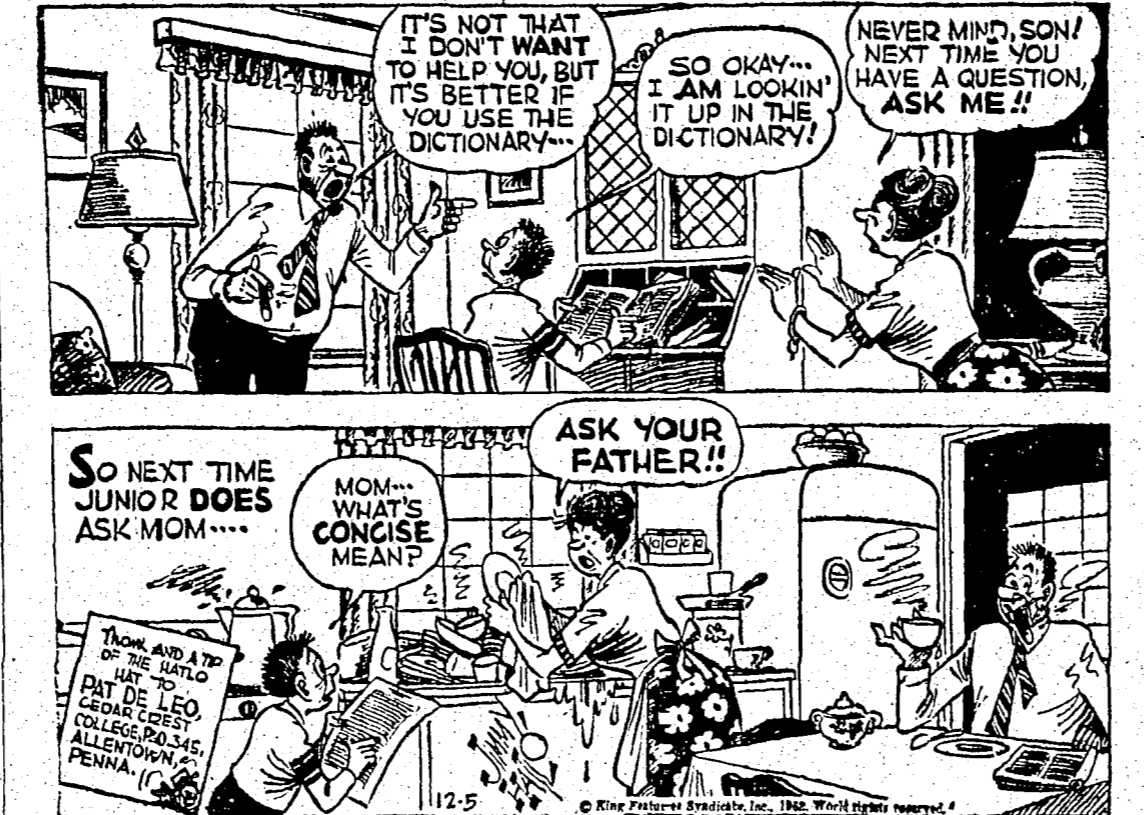

CIRCLEVILLE, Ohio (AP)—How far can you go on nothing? Don L. Farley, 24, of Chapmanville, W. Va., gave a pretty good answer to that question Tuesday before Municipal Judge Sterling Lenth.

Farley was arrested by the highway patrol and his citation in court said the truck he was driving had no license plates, no tail light, no horn, no windshield wiper, no emergency brake, no turn signals, unsafe tires and the certificate of title for the truck was not transferred from the previous owner.

Farley told the judge he had purchased the truck in Chicago and had driven it through parts of three states.

The judge imposed fines totaling $109 and costs.

Galesville Entertains Seven Foreign Students

GALESVILLE, Wis. (Special)—Seven foreign students at La Crosse State College were guests of Galesville Presbyterian Church and members during International Weekend just past.

Highlight was a potluck supper at the church Saturday night when the guests were shown colored slides of Galesville and area in all seasons. The screen also was used by Galesville Boy Scouts and young women of the church to demonstrate sports engaged in during the year and the equipment used.

HOLIDAYS and special events were explained to the foreigners, most of whom come from warm countries. Fields of peas and lima beans harvested and processed at Gale Packing Co. were shown; buildings and homes constructed by the city's two lumber companies, and apple orchards, a big business in the area.

Mrs. Robert Sacia, narrator, explained the coming of the hardy Scotch pioneers, who looked not for farmland alone but for small lakes where they could engage in their native sport of curling in winter.

A Christmas scene and singing by the young girls choir, accompanied by Mrs. Alfred Anderson, closed the program. The Rev. Robert M. C. Ward, new pastor, presided.

EACH FAMILY entertaining a student took him on a tour of the city and area before their return to La Crosse Sunday. Most difficult for them to understand was the convention badge and button selling business of Frank T. Dahlgren, commercial artist, who handles his orders by mail order. The visitors were fascinated by badges made for Hawaiians, Alaskans and a Mexico City convention, among others.

The guests and their hosts were: Phillip Muelle, Machakos, Kenya, East Africa, who stayed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Price Hilton; George Shalibi, Haifa, Israel; at L. S. Montgomery's; Jung Kwan Choi, Inchon, Korea, at Ralph Young's; Yaghoub Yaghoubian, called Jack Jacobson at school, a guest of Mrs. G. M. Wiley and her brother, Gerald Arnold, Eastside Farm; Parsram Sri Thakur, British Guiana, South America, guest at Vernon Bell's; David Inabai Kang, Seoul, Korea, at Troy Stellrecht's, and Elias Kreish, Nazareth, Israel, at Hilton Moran's.

MULLEI from Kenya, who is studying to become a teacher, said Africa's school system is so different from ours it is difficult for him to aim to teach one grade or major in a certain subject. Choi will teach foreign languages in Korea. Probably the most difficult will be English as it is spoken in the U.S., he said.

Thoughts at Random — From Editor's Notebook

THERE WAS war in the world on Dec. 5, 1941, but there was peace in America.

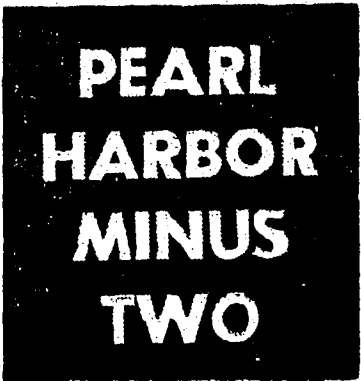

It was a troubled peace, to be sure. Some National Guard divisions were on full-time federal status. Many hundreds of reserve officers were on active duty. The draft had taken thousands of young men from their jobs or classrooms and put them in uniform. Most of them were saying, "I'll be home in a year, dear."

But the people of the United States, the only major power not embroiled directly in war, could not believe that the wars across the oceans actually would involve them.

The German juggernaut, turned loose on Poland on Sept. 1, 1939, had rolled ruthlessly across Norway, Denmark, Holland, Belgium, Luxembourg and France and now was deep in the territory of a former Nazi ally, Russia. British seamen were fighting in American destroyers and Soviet soldiers fought with American arms, while across the globe, Japan's army used armament made from scrap iron shipped, until recently, from America.

EVEN SO, most Americans doggedly believed that their country's participation in the wars of the world would remain on this indirect basis.

Despite the bellow of cannon and the scream of bombs from across the seas, despite the men in uniform in their own camps, on their own streets, Americans did not feel that these were their wars. Despite the tensions, America was at peace and Americans were well fed and content, looking forward to Christmas, not to Armageddon.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Complete collapse of Japanese-American peace talks appeared imminent on the basis of official Tokyo dispatches that U. S. terms offered last week were utterly impossible for Japan to accept.

"The showdown may come when Japanese Ambassador Kichisaburo Nomura will hand to Secretary of State Hull the Japanese reply to President Roosevelt's request for an explanation of intentions in Indochina.

"Collapse of the peace talks, started in April, could place the peace of the Pacific in greater peril than it has since the turn of the century."

THAT WAS the news from Washington, and it was ominous. But it was bigger news to many Americans that Christmas furloughs for thousands of soldiers would begin on next Friday, in just one week, and that such furloughs were in the mill at most big military installations of the country.

Johnny would be home for Christmas. And soon his military service would be ended and he would be home for good. American mothers were happy. It would be a good Christmas.

ON THE OTHER side of the world, a force of ships was sailing from Etorofu Island north of Japan, toward Hawaii, home of the world's most powerful and important naval base, home of Hickam Field, home of Wheeler Field and Bellows Field, of the Kanoche Naval Air Base, the Marine base at Ewa and Schofield Barracks, home of Pearl Harbor.

There were six carriers, Kaga, Akagi, Soryu, Hiryu, Shokaku and Sulkaku, supported by two battleships, two cruisers and 12 destroyers.

It was a normal day at the mighty installations of the United States in Hawaii.

DEC. 5, 1941. Just another day in America. Twenty more days to Christmas. Two more days to Dec. 7.

And the Spirit and the bride say, Come. And let him that heareth say, Come. And let him that is athirst come. And whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely. (Revelation 22:17)

How to Tell an Offensive Weapon

By SEN. BARRY GOLDWATER
When is a weapon offensive, and when is it defensive?
This question keeps growing in importance in the highly-confused Cuban situation. President Kennedy has insisted that offensive weapons be removed from the Communist bastion in the Caribbean, and he has defined what he means by offensive weapons. His definition includes such things as missiles and bombers of the types placed on Cuba by the Soviet Union.

But while the debate with the Russians and the Cubans and United Nations officials goes on, the importance of lesser weapons in the hands of Castro is becoming apparent.
For example, under the administration's definition, a hand grenade would be considered a defensive weapon. But what about the hand grenades found in the cache maintained by a band of Cuban saboteurs arrested in New York by the FBI on charges of espionage and conspiracy? The government says the Cubans were planning to plant explosives in Manhattan department stores during the busy Christmas season and to touch off fires at the oil refineries of northern New Jersey.
If the Cubans had been able to use the grenades and the incendiary devices in their cache as planned, they would have been using them in an offensive manner. By the same token, the devices used by Castro terrorists to knock out one-sixth of Venezuela's oil-producing capacity also were of a defensive type.

I SUGGEST that the difference between what are offensive weapons and what are defensive weapons rests entirely with the man who uses them. In Castro's case, any weapon capable of destruction must be considered offensive.

Let's assume, for the sake of argument, that all the weapons which President Kennedy has defined as offensive are removed from Cuba. Let us assume further that they are removed under conditions which assure us definitely that no missiles have been hidden in caves, that there remain no caches of nuclear warheads, that every last Soviet bomber is dismantled and gone.

Such a situation, presumably, would leave Castro with only his anti-aircraft emplacements, his tanks, machine guns, rifles, conventional bombs, grenades, incendiary devices, revolvers, etc. These, again presumably, would be regarded by the United States government as defensive weapons inasmuch as they could not be used to mount a first strike against the North American continent.

BUT WHAT ABOUT the kind of sabotage launched against Venezuela and thwarted once in the United States? This type of warfare doesn't require the massive, efficient weapons of the nuclear age. This kind of warfare can be conducted effectively, even disastrously, with what is generally regarded as "small arms" in the lexicon of military weaponry. And this is a kind of warfare, at which the bearded, one-time guerrilla leader of Communist Cuba has shown himself to be particularly adept.

Another important consideration in this vein is the use that Castro can make of his so-called defensive weapons against the people of Cuba. The growing dissatisfaction with the Castro government inside Cuba accentuates this problem, because under our present definition of weapons which it is permissible for Castro to retain, the Communist dictatorship could mount an offensive against freedom-loving elements in Cuba which could consign them to slavery forever.

How do you stand, sir?

HOW TO GET A FIGHTER IN SHAPE

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Hoffa Trial Goes Back To Pearson Column Note

By DREW PEARSON
WASHINGTON — The other day I dropped in on the Nashville trial of Jimmy Hoffa. A battery of government lawyers was introducing stacks of documents — over 200 of them — as evidence against the embattled head of the teamsters union.

This is the fourth attempt by the U.S. government to get James Riddle Hoffa, the current one in fulfillment of a public vow made by the Kennedys during the election campaign; and it's estimated the present case, with its advance preparation, is costing the government half a million dollars. A crew of attorneys and investigators has been working with special grand juries in Washington, Miami, Los Angeles, Chicago, San Francisco, Indianapolis, Detroit and New York to delve into every nook and cranny of Hoffa's life.
So much money was spent on these special grand juries that U.S. commissioners remained unpaid last summer and a special appropriation was asked of Congress to pick up the tab. All they came up with is an alleged misdemeanor or resulting from a set of facts published in this column on June 7, 1936, six years ago.

These facts were that Mrs. Hoffa and Mrs. Bert Brennan, wife of the late teamster boss in Detroit, 12 years ago were handed a company called the Test Fleet Corporation to haul cars from Michigan to dealers, after Hoffa had settled a wildcat strike.
This was, as I reported June 7, 1936, both a profitable and reprehensible deal. However, under prevailing U.S. statutes it's only a misdemeanor.
HOPING THAT the trial might develop some further fireworks, I dropped in at the federal court in Nashville. It was not exciting. The lawyers were lethargic, jurors looked puzzled, spectators and newsmen seemed bored.

When a Negro mob swarmed across the Washington stadium's football field on Thanksgiving day to beat up rooters for the victorious St. John's parochial school team, the first reaction of the D.C. commissioners and Catholic authorities was to ban championship high school games in the future.

That, however, was like putting their heads in the sand. Racial tension and crime can't be avoided simply by looking the other way.
The police have been powerless to do much about Washington's growing rate of crime. Their funds are inadequate, and it would take a cop on every block to keep down the wave of yokings and purse-snatchings that plagues the capital.

NOR CAN the District of Columbia government do too much about it. For years the district has been the stepchild of Congress and the victim of niggardly appropriations reluctantly voted by the Dixiecrats who control the key committees and who secretly delight in the high Negro crime rate as proof of their belief that integration won't work.
One congressman, Jim Davis of Georgia, was able to block additional juvenile court judges for the district for almost 10 years.

The problem of racial relations and racial crime, therefore, must be tackled largely by individual leaders and private organizations.
Listening to the monotonous introduction of evidence at the Hoffa trial in Nashville, I recalled another famous trial when the Roosevelt Administration was out to "get" one of its opponents, Andrew W. Mellon, long-time Republican secretary of the treasury, for income-tax invasion — a much more serious crime than the misdemeanor charge against Hoffa. In the middle of the Mellon trial, his lawyer, Frank Hogan, worked out a deal whereby the government dropped its charges and Mellon in return built the National Gallery of Art on Constitution Ave., now housing the greatest art treasures in the U.S.A.

WASHINGTON AND the nation were the beneficiaries of that trial. And I suspect they could also be the beneficiaries of an even more important contribution of a youth center, to heal racial, religious, and human misunderstanding among the youngsters of the nation's capital, as a result of the Hoffa trial.

The biggest causes of Washington crime are illegitimacy, broken homes, and the fact that youngsters are turned out on the street with no one to guide them and no place to go except beer parlors and pool halls, houses of prostitution and breeders of juvenile delinquency.
Big Brothers, the Boy Scouts, and the Boys Clubs have been trying to fill the vacuum of the broken home, but with inadequate funds, meagerly paid personnel and lukewarm community support.

What the youth of the nation's capital needs in order to prevent more football riots is a youth center as imaginative in coping with the problems of teenagers as the Mellon art gallery was in housing the beauties of art.

PARADOXICALLY, the two bitter protagonists in the Hoffa trial — Attorney General Kennedy and the man he seeks to get — both have the same ideas on youth. Bob Kennedy has established "Halfway Houses" in some major cities to help boys who are just out of reformatories and have problems getting readjusted. Hoffa in turn has established a halfway house in St. Louis and has been a heavy contributor to Boys' Town in Israel.
Perhaps these two men, both tough, both able, both inclined to be vindictive, could work out a plan whereby a misdemeanor could be turned into a great contribution for the youth of America.

WELL-KNOWN HEROINE LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A fourth grade teacher, discussing heroines from history, asked the class if it knew "who Joan of Arc was?"
"I think," piped a small voice from the rear of the room, "she was Noah's wife."

GOP Must Patch Split

By DAVID LAWRENCE
WASHINGTON — What's wrong with the Republican party? This isn't exactly the theme of the meeting to be held here next Friday and Saturday of the Republican National Committee and state chairmen, but it might well be.

For the Republican party, while possessed of potential strength with the voters, has failed to pay attention to the most practical lesson that party politics in America has taught. It is that a party out of power is the party of opposition. It is obligated to inform the country of the mistakes and errors in policy committed by the party in power and to point out what such acts can mean to the future welfare of the country.

An opposition party doesn't really need a concrete program of its own, nor is it expected to be "left" or "right" or "center" or "moderate." It is primarily concerned with questioning the office what it considers — and seeks to make the country believe — a fumbling, misguided and dangerous party.

To be effective, an opposition party has to be a united party — united on only one thing: How to defeat the party in power. If the leaders of the opposition party spend too much time fighting each other and trying to pick candidates on the basis of particular programs or legislative proposals, the party is doomed to defeat.

For the last two years the Republicans have been quarreling among themselves. They managed to win some state elections recently, but they haven't discovered yet why they won them. The truth is in most cases they won by persuading the electorate that it was "time for a change" — that the incumbent governors had made too many mistakes for the good of the states. This is called voting "against the ins and in favor of the outs."

IN GREAT Britain, for example, the opposition is well organized. Year in and year out a "shadow cabinet" is on the job. It consists of men who will not necessarily occupy the same posts if the opposition is victorious at the polls, but it does mean that specialists in the work of each department of the executive branch of the government spend full time every day observing and analyzing the news of current proposals — domestic and foreign. The group consists of knowledgeable persons able to speak out and tell the public what's wrong and how much better off the country would be if it only had a different party at the helm.

In this country, the most spectacular example of how an opposition party worked toward eventual success occurred between 1923 and 1932. Herbert Hoover was elected president in 1928 by an overwhelming majority. The Democrats were discouraged. The late John Raskob, however, promptly helped to finance the Democratic National Committee and insisted on an opposition strategy. The late Charles Michelson, well-known newspaperman of his day, was hired to supervise

Aspirants for the Republican presidential nomination would fare better by spending more time making speeches of opposition than by fanning the flames of dissension within their own party. The Republicans allow themselves to be divided into factions when their main job, politically speaking, is to tell the country what's really happening to it. This is especially important at a time when even some of the best friends of the administration are accusing it of "manipulating" the news. The President's virtual monopoly on the air and on the front pages of the newspapers nearly every day isn't the fault of the broadcasters or of the press but is due to the fact that the Republicans don't seem to know how to make news, which is the first lesson a party out of power needs to learn.

Tariff Free Club For Members Only

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Protectionism is far from dead—on either side of the Atlantic or Pacific. And Christian A. Herter as the U.S. government's foreign trade czar may have plenty of trouble translating the President's new tariff bargaining powers into the freer trade it envisions.

is acclaimed for its striking efforts to lower trade barriers. But its aim is to achieve one big tariff free club—for members only. It plans to maintain at least some tariff barriers against the rest of the world, including U.S. manufacturers and farmers.

And in recent weeks the spirit of keeping these walls fairly high has been reported to be rising.

Britain has been yearning to join the club. But protectionism is far from dead in the United Kingdom either, and certainly is very much alive in the British Commonwealth. Political opposition in Britain to joining the Common Market is growing louder, and is becoming bitter in many of the Commonwealth nations.

Damage to British industry, labor, farmers, and to Commonwealth producers is stressed by the protectionists.

On the Continent there is stubborn resistance to letting Britain into the club on terms that French, German or Italian businessmen and farmers fear might favor competitive British products or commodities from the Commonwealth nations.

And hints have been going out that the Common Market, because of its fast growth rate of industrial production and consumer markets, thinks it is in a better bargaining situation than the United States on the question of trade barriers. Some cocky Europeans are saying that Americans need access to their markets more than they need lower tariffs here.

So Herter, a former secretary of state under President Dwight D. Eisenhower, will need plenty of bargaining savvy in the post to which he was named recently by President Kennedy. Those who saw the passage of the Trade Expansion Act as opening a new trading era in jig time are now beginning to set back their schedules.

Tariff bargaining is always a long and slow process. Too many interests are involved, on both sides of the table, for the negotiators to act fast.

This time the bargaining may be the harder for several reasons. The desire of Europeans and Japanese to protect their growing industries; the costs of production that are rising faster in Europe now than they are here, and therefore make the price protection of tariffs seem more attractive; and the very nature of the new look in world trade—the trend toward trading blocs in various parts of the world, which increase consumer markets at home and build up the volume of goods that can be exported.

Uncertainty May Impair Stevenson Effectiveness

EDITOR'S NOTE—Suddenly a cloud of uncertainty has passed over Adlai E. Stevenson's future in the Kennedy administration. Some officials believe someone is "out to get Adlai." John M. Hightower, a Pulitzer Prize winner and a veteran AP diplomatic affairs writer, analyzes the situation.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP)—The future of Adlai E. Stevenson as President Kennedy's ambassador to the United Nations rested under a cloud of uncertainty today—a cloud which only Kennedy himself can dispel.

Unless the uncertainty is cleared up soon Stevenson's effectiveness in dealing with other diplomats in New York may be impaired. His prestige and persuasiveness depend upon the faith foreign envoys place in the President's confidence in Stevenson. That seems, for the moment, to be the central issue the President must now deal with.

Some well-placed officials expect that Kennedy will speak out publicly in support of Stevenson. Associates of the ambassador say privately that the President already has assured him of his full support and that Stevenson is planning to carry on as usual.

Unless Stevenson was convinced of Kennedy's complete backing, one informant said, "he would have resigned already."

In official quarters two other questions are coming into focus: How much tolerance is there at the White House for disagreement in policy making?

Should anonymous but apparently authoritative criticism of a high official be interpreted as evidence that his resignation would be welcomed by the President?

Stevenson's troubles began Sunday with the disclosure in New York of an article in this week's edition of the Saturday Evening Post. The article was written by Charles Bartlett, a reporter for the Chattanooga Times and a very close friend of Kennedy, and by Stewart Alsop, the Washington editor of the magazine who is reputed to have excellent contacts within the administration.

The point of the article which attracted immediate attention was a report that Stevenson had dissented from the general agreement within the executive committee of the National Security Council last October that a naval blockade should be imposed around Cuba to block the flow of Soviet nuclear weapons into Cuba. In a statement Monday the White House denied the report and declared that Stevenson had in fact "strongly supported" Kennedy's decision for the blockade. Press Secretary Pierre Salinger also said there was "absolutely no question" but that Stevenson would remain as U.N. ambassador.

Stevenson himself assailed the article as "inaccurate and grossly misrepresenting my views."

The ambassador conferred with the President and it was in that meeting on Monday that he reportedly received the President's personal assurance of support.

There is a strong impression among other officials, however, that someone is "out to get Adlai."

Pepin School Vote Dec. 14

PEPIN, Wis.—The 29 voters attending a special meeting of Pepin school district Monday night voted unanimously to hold an election Dec. 14 on whether to sell a $365,000 bond issue to incorporate a $127,500 long-term debt and build an addition to the school estimated to cost $235,000.

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. at the school. A district meeting was held early in November to discuss a building program, and the meeting Monday night was necessary to pass a resolution calling for the bond election.

An 11-classroom addition for elementary students is planned. The new structure, if approved, also will include a music room and expansion of boiler room facilities. The district has an enrollment of about 540, according to Harold L. U. n.d.c. supervising principal. Most of the students attend school in Pepin although the district operates a school with grades 1-6 at Stockholm. Crowded conditions make the addition necessary, Lunde said. An addition was built on the school in 1960.

The proposed new building, which will be annexed to the original school, would occupy part of the district's baseball diamond. To secure room for a new diamond, the district has negotiated with Gerald Kireher for purchase of 11 lots adjacent to the present field. This land will cost $3,000.

Equalized valuation of the district is nearly $7 million, Lunde said. Rural schools in the area have been consolidated with Pepin district.

BLAIR PATIENTS
BLAIR, Wis. (Special)—A. R. Sather has been a patient at Lutheran Hospital, La Crosse. Amund P. Skaugla, 92, former Blair resident, who has been a patient at Tri-County Memorial Hospital, Whitehall, has been transferred to Rustad's Nursing Home, Strum.

lai." These officials seem to have no doubt that Bartlett and Alsop obtained their information on the various opinions expressed in secret meetings of the NSC executive committee from persons the newsmen considered to be fully competent and highly authoritative informants.

This generally accepted view of the authoritative nature of the sources for the article has raised speculation Stevenson was being subjected to the same kind of treatment some other officials have experienced.

There were apparently authoritative critical articles written about Chester Bowles a year ago before the President accepted his resignation as undersecretary of state and reassigned him to a special White House advisory role on foreign policy. Criticism also appeared about the work of Fowler Hamilton prior to his recent resignation as director of the Foreign Aid Administration. Reports that the President did not get on well with West German Ambassador Wilhelm Grewe came out in advance of the disclosure that Grewe was being recalled some months ago.

Against this background Washington newsmen and officials immediately saw a potential significance in the publication of a report that Stevenson was a dissenter on the first and most important administration decision for meeting the Soviet challenge in Cuba.

The White House denial and Stevenson's own declaration that he supported the blockade measure have only partially succeeded in dealing with the issues. Some administration officials say Kennedy was personally disturbed by the widespread assumption that Stevenson was on the skids and it was learned that Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Undersecretary George Ball were upset. Both were described by associates as strongly pro-Stevenson.

ROBERT C. RUARK

Old Writers Too Busy Drinking

By ROBERT C. RUARK

NEW YORK — As a man of upper middle years in the business of taking in writing for a living, I have always been slightly over-stuffed with all the written and spoken bosh about the gay life in Paris during the irresponsible 'Twenties, when the term "lost generation" was coined by that cropped-haired old battle-ax, Gertrude Stein.

Surfeit? We have all been crammed to the ears, in a hundred volumes of reminiscence and heaven knows how many bad novels, of the wonders of that age of the young Hemingway, the young Scott Fitzgerald, the not-so-young Ezra Pound, James Joyce, Ford Madox Ford, Robert McAlmon, Miss Stein, Sylvia Beach — a sort of prelude of Valhalla on a closed circuit too rich for the po' folks' blood.

Ruark

Nobody wrote much in those days and a good percentage of what was written appeared in the "little" vanguard magazines which forebore the use of capital letters, were privately published and quite frequently handset in tears. Nobody wrote much, it is true, because all the heroes and heroines were too busy getting loaded at the Select or the Dome or the Deux Magots.

They were too busy indulging in catfights, petty jealousies and snide appraisals of each other's unproduced products. They were too busy sneering at the "outside" world which was not really up to understanding them, too busy growing beards and humming drinks and protecting each other from each other to put very much on paper at the time.

THEY WERE too busy creating an era that really never existed, except in a few folks' heads. Fitzgerald was a pathetic drunk, even early on, with a considerably more than wacky wife. Hemingway was afflicted with a superman complex in terms of the cornier aspects of Falstaff, which is to say the accent was mainly on the muscular.

Some wrote gibberish and railed at the Philistines, like Stein; some wrote filthy gibberish, like Henry Miller; some wrote lofty gibberish, such as James Joyce; some wrote one book and married money, like Michael Arlen, and a great many did not write at all. Practically none was a professional writer, including Hemingway, who did quit talking finally to write a couple of coherent books.

Mostly they posed. Posing was close to a 24-hour job, and it was livened by petty spites and feuds that read, in retrospect, more like a rainy Sunday in a small-school sorority than the mighty exploits of a band of giants. Altogether, the Golden Age of the burnhood of the still unused was a pathetic scabbler for prominence in the kindergarten sandbox.

NOWHERE HAS this old suspicion been more strikingly verified than in a recent book by Morley Callaghan, one of the few writers of that Left Bank menagerie who actually wrote with a hope of mature acceptance on a broad commercial scale. Callaghan's recent book, "That Summer in Paris" (Coward-McCann, $5), is almost shocking in its wide-eyed expose of rampant naivete among the Parisian horse chestnuts.

The very naive of this adult kindergarten, presided over by Miss Sylvia Beach, of bookshop fame, as housemother, is best exemplified by a series of anecdotes of that fabled summer which led to a major upheaval in the literary world, and a war which was waged by cable and letter from New York to Europe.

The cause belli, the cause of all this commotion had to do with whether or not Mr. Callaghan did or did not knock out Mr. Hemingway with one punch in a literary argument, with a farrago of insults exchanged, profane challenges to further fistfights, and a good portion of the Left Bank drawn into the squabble. Mr. Fitzgerald was both drunk and pathetically disconsolate; in New York the late, famed editor, Maxwell Perkins, was jarred from his customary icy calm; the Herald Tribune became involved in the act, and lots of people left Paris in testy temper, or snit.

NEVER HAVE I been reminded more of an epic battle I once saw between effeminate cooks. From the screeches that came out of the kitchen I thought the cooks were carving each other up with meat knives and cleavers. In reality, they were pelting each other with boxes of cornflakes.

I do not hang out in colonies, for I am a professional writer who writes, instead of talking it to death, but I have occasionally been around the colonies. Whether it's the Village or the Left Bank or Tangier or Torremolinos or Ibiza, it is much the same today as Callaghan, a professional, described it in his not-very-salty reminiscences of the old brave days in Paris. Man, there was certainly a lot of literary cornflakes being thrown in those days.

Caledonia to Get Jobless Office

CALEDONIA, Minn. (Special)—The Winona office of the State Employment Service will resume service to Caledonia starting Dec. 18, Ray H. Brown, manager, announced.

Representatives of the office will be at Caledonia City Hall basement every other Wednesday from 9 a.m. to noon to serve unemployed persons who are eligible to claim unemployment insurance benefits while out of work.

Miss Martha Webster, assistant manager, who is in charge of the Caledonia service said:

"This itinerant service which is provided by the Employment Service has been set up to bring the facilities of the department nearer to those people who reside in communities which are distant from our headquarters in Winona. Providing service in this manner saves hundreds of miles travel for residents of the Caledonia area, especially during a time when they can least afford the expense."

Persons from the Caledonia area and Houston County who are reporting at the Winona office will be notified by letter when to report at Caledonia.

Move to Unseat Adenauer Planned

BONN, Germany (AP)—The conservative Free Democrats scheduled a meeting with leaders of the opposition Socialists today in the surprise bid to form a right-left coalition to unseat Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

West Germany's serious political crisis showed no sign of solution, Adenauer and his Christian Democrats discussed coalition with Socialist leaders Tuesday but reached no decision.

A communique said that they discussed "future political cooperation." Half the Socialist members of Parliament were reported opposed to a coalition with the Christian Democrats unless Adenauer retired.

The unresolved crisis, touched off originally by the walkout of Free Democrats from the government as a result of the Spiegel affair, has put Adenauer in one of the toughest spots of his political career.

A union of Free Democrats and Socialists would mean an end to the 86-year-old Adenauer's rule. The Free Democrats, with 67 seats, hold the balance of power in the present Bundestag (lower house). Adenauer's Christian Democrats hold 241 seats and the Socialists 190.

NASON ON EDUCATION

Set Your Goals In Junior High

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D., Professor of Education, University of Southern California. When a student reaches the junior high school level in Europe, his educational future is mapped out by the state or the school authorities. The student is directed toward training in the professions or in the trades on the basis of his previous record. After this point any change is difficult. In the United States all paths are left open to those who can qualify. The decision on which path to follow rests on the individual. We provide counseling and guidance, aptitude tests and interest inventories to help students choose the best goals which they seem capable of reaching. PUPILS WHO choose goals and work out plans for their future in cooperation with their parents are happier and more successful than those who drift. Drifting leads to poor mental health, lack of responsibility and lower grades. Such drifting results in a million young men and women between the ages of 16 and 21 being out of school and out of work, unskilled and untrained. They are a problem to society and to themselves. These young people did not prepare themselves well enough. Schools gave them the opportunity, but failed to start them work-

DEAR ABBY: The Landlubber And the Sailor

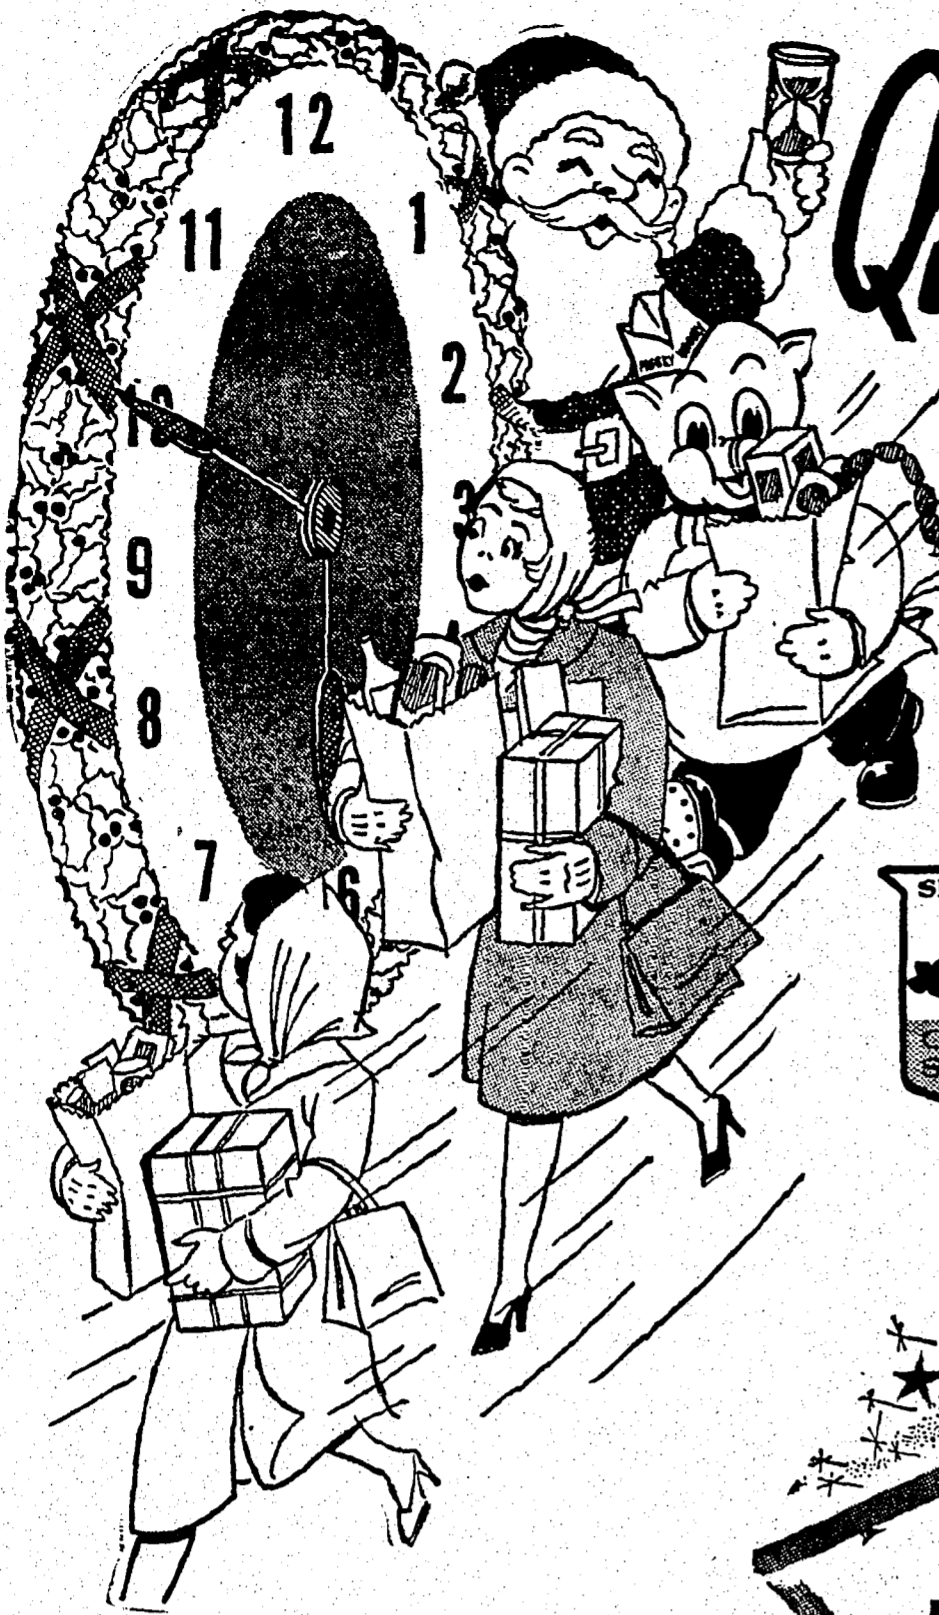

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN DEAR ABBY: I had a date with a sailor, and he was a doll. He is my girl friend's steady's shipmate and it was a fixed-up date. I had a marvelous time. When he took me home he asked for a goodnight kiss. I told him I didn't believe in kissing a boy on the first date, and that a kiss was meant to show "love," and I didn't know him that well. He said a kiss was meant to show appreciation and I was "old-fashioned." Was I wrong, Abby? Do girls kiss boys to show their "appreciation"? My girl friend said he liked me a lot and would call me again. If he does, should I go? I am 16 and he is 19. DIMPLE BY MY CHIN DEAR DIMPLE: If he calls you again, go. It might indicate that he respects your "old-fashioned" ideas. But if he insists that "affectionate gestures" mean "thank you," kiss him "goodbye—forever." DEAR ABBY: In the interest of one's health, do you think it is wise to bathe during the winter months? A. L. DEAR A. L.: Out of consideration for one's FRIENDS, I would recommend it. DEAR ABBY: We are a family of eight adults. Our father passed away years ago and our mother is 80. She is senile and has been in a sanitarium for six years. Only one of my sisters and I visit her regularly and attend to her needs. Mother will not be with us much longer, and I am wondering if my sister and I should waste the time and money to notify our brothers and sisters when mother dies. They live near enough so they could have visited her once a year. They all take vacations elsewhere and not one of them has ever sent her a card or a cent. They never write to us, or call to ask how she is. She was a wonderful mother and doesn't deserve to be forgotten this way. A DAUGHTER DEAR DAUGHTER: Yes, notify them when your mother dies. And don't be surprised to see the one who did the least for her when she was living cry the loudest at her funeral. DEAR ABBY: The doctor told my husband that whisky was good for a cold, so every time my husband gets the sniffles he buys himself a fifth of whisky and gets plowed out of his mind. This has been happening more and more lately until I am beginning to wonder if my husband really has a cold. Right now he is stretched out on the sofa stepping off another one of his "cures." Isn't there another way to cure a cold, Abby? GETTING DISGUSTED DEAR GETTING: You bet! Call your doctor and ask him to prescribe a remedy. I think your husband is looking for an excuse to get a snoofer. What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, Box 388, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Battle Over 2 Committees Set in House

WASHINGTON (AP) — Moves to "liberalize" two major House committees—Rules and Ways and Means—may get the new Congress off to a battling start next month.

On their success or failure depends the fate of much of President Kennedy's domestic legislative program.

Administration spokesmen disclosed privately today that they would fight to keep the membership of the powerful Rules Committee at 15. The committee will revert to its original 12-man size in the new House unless the House votes for the larger number.

Membership was increased to 15 two years ago in a bid to add liberal votes and thus break the grip a conservative coalition had held for years.

The committee now is composed of 10 Democrats and five Republicans, with eight liberal Democrats normally—but not always—in control. Under the 12-man arrangement, a conservative coalition of two Southern Democrats, Chairman Howard W. Smith of Virginia and William M. Colmer of Mississippi, often teamed with the four Republican members to block administration bills.

The Rules Committee is a clearing house for bills approved by other committees. Without its approval, it is extremely difficult for a bill to reach the House floor. Even the enlarged committee blocked some Kennedy-backed bills.

The enlargement was a prestige battle between the late Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas and Chairman Smith. Rayburn won by a vote of only 217 to 212.

Unless a compromise is reached to avert another fight, the outcome next month may be a toss-up.

Leaders of both warring groups privately claim they have the votes. Both concede that the result may hinge on new members elected last month. There will be 33 new Democrats and 31 new Republicans in the new house.

Conservative leaders claim the election added to their strength. Liberal spokesmen insist the opposite is true.

Slight Down Trend In Births Noted

WASHINGTON (AP) — There were 4,282,326 babies born in the United States during 1961, the Public Health Service said Tuesday in reporting final figures for last year.

The birth rate for 1961 was 23.3 per thousand population, down from 23.7 in 1960.

The record rate for any year was 25.8 in postwar 1947. A rate of 25 was listed in 1915, the year federal reporting of birth was instituted, and again in 1950. Since 1950 there has been a slight downward trend.

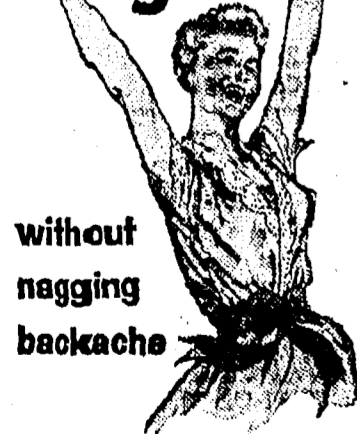

Princess of Kent Is Hospitalized

LONDON (AP)—Princess Alexandra of Kent was admitted to a hospital Tuesday night and court informants said she will have an operation for the removal of impacted wisdom teeth.

The princess, who will be 26 on Christmas Day, announced her engagement last Thursday to wealthy Angus Ogilvy.

Jane Balk Weds Gerald Dale

GILMANTON, Wis. (Special)—Jane Marie Balk, Eau Claire and Gerald Edward Dale, Seattle, Wash., exchanged wedding vows Nov. 24 in a candlelight ceremony at Trinity Lutheran Church, Eau Claire.

The Rev. Waldo Johnson read the 8 p.m. rites. Parents are Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Balk, Gilmanton, Wis., and Mr. and Mrs. George Dale, Eau Claire.

GIVEN IN marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of satin brocade with long sleeves, fitted bodice, and a sabbina neckline. Her controlled skirt was accented with a dropped waist and three dainty bows flowing down the back into a chapel train.

Her bouffant veil was attached to a satin cabbage rose enclosed in a circle of seed pearls and crystal. She carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums with yellow tea roses.

Mrs. Larry Balk, Alma, Wis., was matron of honor. She wore a floor-length gown of silk taffeta in Jadette green with a fitted bodice, three-quarter-length sleeves, controlled skirt and a Watteau back train. Her blusher veil was held by a circular rose head-piece trimmed with velvet and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of bronze chrysanthemums.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Larry Magadance, Eau Claire; Miss Diane Rud, Gilmanton, and the Misses Georgia and Margaret Dale, Eau Claire. They wore gowns styled similar to the matron of honor's in sapphire gold, and carried bronze chrysanthemums.

THOMAS Schwartz, Eau Claire, was best man. Groomsmen were Thomas Weaver, James Rude, James Allen, and Steve Stolp, all of Eau Claire.

The bride is a 1959 graduate of Gilmanton High School and a 1960 graduate of the Eau Claire Accredited School of Beauty Culture. The bridegroom is a 1959 graduate of Eau Claire Memorial High School and attended Eau Claire State College.

The couple will reside at 1319 15th Ave. S., Seattle, where the bridegroom is employed by the Boeing Co.

Chinese Theater Form Conveys Exact Emotion

Something old became something new Tuesday night for a capacity audience at the College of Saint Teresa in the Foo Hsing Theater presentation of "The Beautiful Maiden," a Chinese opera. This theater form in its 3000-year history has developed a mode of drama so sophisticated in its simplicity that a turn of the wrist conveys an emotion or thought that Western actors take a full scene to produce.

In flashing, and excellent, acrobatics or silencing movements, the drama, a story of an ambitious prime minister in the Han (206 B.C.-220 A.D.) dynasty who tries to overthrow his king but is beguiled by a beautiful maiden, was at once ancient and contemporary.

EACH ACTOR in his stylized performance where a sleeve raised to the eyes indicates deep sorrow, or two hands cupped around an empty mug placed to the lips shows partaking of a meal followed a familiar pattern in Chinese theater. Characters enter an open stage, through an imaginary door by taking a high step at the threshold.

Makeup was equally indicative of the role and position of the actors. Heavy white face makeup is used to show evil intent, particularly when carefully symbolic streaks of color are used. Red makeup means loyalty and dignity. Here again the cast last night perpetuated a theater form followed by generations of players.

A proscenium curtain of sky blue silk hand embroidered in gold and black, a specially designed red carpet and brilliant red chair and table covers used on angular, sparse furniture was manipulated about the stage by costumed actors in authentic fashion. The vivid colors, rich and gleaming headresses and array of costumes were made especially for the tour to give stage and action added zest.

Throughout the opera a cacophony of orchestral sound accompanied the simulated fights, songs and story-telling. Six instruments, the Hu chin, a Chinese violin of two strings played with a horsehair bow; the Yueh chin, or rnoo, guitar; ni na, lute like instrument; ti tsu, bamboo flute; clackers, time beater; and varied sizes of gongs and cymbals carried the music as in the days when the orchestra was mainly a means of quieting the audience to make the actors' voices audible. High falsetto voices used in song and speech were another of the new-old experiences of sound, strange to Western ears, but carefully projected by the cast.

A TROUP of 40 youngsters ranging in ages from 7 to 17 play all the parts in this American tour company. They are members of the Foo Hsing Opera School where they live, eat, practice and learn. Founded only four years ago by a group of stars from the China mainland, the school, in a suburb of Taipei, Formosa, provides training

Bottom Concedes To McGovern After Recount

SILOUX FALLS, S.D. (AP)—Sen. Joe Bottom, R-S.D., today conceded the election of Democrat George McGovern to Bottom's U.S. Senate seat.
Until Bottom's surprise concession, it had been expected his backers might carry the fight to the state supreme court after a complete canvass of the Nov. 6 general election showed McGovern winning by an unofficial margin of 504 votes.

"I do not intend further action now that the recount is completed," said Bottom, who was a Republican appointee earlier this year to succeed the late Republican Sen. Francis Case.
The Associated Press tabulated the statewide recount results as 127,499 votes for McGovern to 126,995 for Bottom. McGovern is former food-for-peace director and a former South Dakota congressman.
As a wedge of Canadian geese flies along, it seems to undulate, an illusion created because the strong, measured wing beats are not in unison.

McKian to Start for Redmen

St. Mary's Redmen put a modest two-game winning streak on the line at Menomonie, Wis., tonight against Stout State College.

The Redmen, having shown that they can win by a big score or by the narrowest of margins at home, take to the warpath to test their prowess away from the cozy confines of the home reservation against the Blue Devils. St. Mary's captured its season opener over Loras in a 72-54 walk-a-way, then squeaked through with an 81-80 win in a double-overtime thriller against Stevens Point Monday. That one wasn't decided until Al Williams dropped in a rebound for the winning points with two seconds remaining. But St. Mary's hasn't played a game away from Terrace Heights yet, and in seasons past a strange floor, invariably larger than the local hardwood, has blunted the Redmen tomahawks.

Stout also saw action Monday, dumping host Northland College of Ashland, Wis., 71-63 for its first victory in three outings.

Redman coach Ken Wiltgen plans only one change in his starting lineup. Freshman Dan McKian will open at a forward spot, replacing Denny Burgram. Wiltgen hasn't had a chance to use the 6-5 McKian to any extent in either of the first two Redman matches. Burgram, a 6-5 junior, will be in ready reserve.

Tom Hall (6-2), hero with Williams of the Stevens Point game for his 24 points, will be at the other forward, while Jim Rockers, a 6-7 rebounding terror, will man the pivot. Rockers also has looked impressive in the first two Redmen tilts.

Williams (6-2) will team with Jim Clarkin (6-0) at the guard posts. Also due to see action are freshman forward Roger Pytlewski (6-6), a tough board man, sophomore forward-center George Valaika (6-5), and sophomore guard Mike Maloney (6-3).

Stout has only three returning lettermen and is no match for the Redmen in the height department. The tallest man on the Blue Devil squad is center Fred Saggelin, a letterman who checks in at 6-5.

Glenn Bates, a 6-4 newcomer, and Dick Paske (6-2) will be at the forwards. Bates caught fire for 32 points in the Northland contest. Guard posts will be handled by a pair of freshmen, 6-0 Tom Forbako and 5-9 Bob Fruh.

Coach Dwain Mintz has letterman guard Bill Way (6-1) and forward Bob Hayhurst (6-4) to call on for reserve strength.

The Redmen posted a 79-76 victory over Stout last year.

Maple Leaf Teams Win in Four Tilts

Four teams in the Maple Leaf Conference posted basketball victories Tuesday night, two via the riot method.

Preston smashed Canton 62-39 while Chaffield drubbed Elkton 75-36.

In closer contests, Lanesboro squeaked by Preston 48-45 and Wy-koff downed LeRoy 68-60. Preston 62, CANTON 39

The Bluejays flew to a 62-39 triumph over host Canton behind the 17-point output of Preston's Joe Specht.

Preston broke a close game wide open in the third period, expanding a 29-22 halftime lead to a 52-32 gap entering the final stanza.

Rich Milne registered 14 points for the victors and Al Narveson had 11, while Don Halverson was the sole Raider offensive threat, canning 20.

Preston also won the B game. CHATFIELD 75, ELKTON 36

A rapid-fire attack spurred Chatfield to a 75-36 victory over Elkton.

The host school grabbed a 22-6 lead after one period and was never threatened.

Dick Tubby claimed game scoring honors with 22 points for the Gophers. Dave Harwood with 15 and Wayne King with 12 backed him up. Gary Glienke scored 15 points for Elkton.

Chatfield captured the B game 29-18.

Lanesboro 46, PETERSON 45

Larry Danielson swished a free throw with two seconds to play to give Lanesboro a 46-45 victory at Peterson.

Danielson's charity shot came after he tied the score on a 10-footer from the field and climaxed a come-from-behind effort by the Burros.

Down 17-13 after the first period, Lanesboro trailed 31-25 at halftime but managed to tie the score at 37-37 entering the final stanza and set the stage for Danielson's winning three-point play.

Danielson had 17 points for the winners, while Brian Bell notched 15.

Stan Gudmundson was the top man for Peterson with 15 points. Stan O'son and Murton Boyum backed the Peterson cause with 14 and 10 points apiece.

The B game also went to Lanesboro 38-23.

Wykoff 69, LEROY 60

Four men broke into the double figure column as Wykoff halted LeRoy 68-60.

Jerry Wagner guided the Wykat attack with 18 points, while Dick Anderson tallied 14. Merlin Hare counted 11 and Steve Gladly had 10 in the balanced offense of the host school.

Daryl Cartney captured evening scoring honors, though, firing in 23 points for LeRoy. His brother, Joe, contributed 12 to the losing cause, while Ed Lasline had 13.

The Wykats B squad dropped LeRoy 38-29.

Winhawk Jayvee Bows to Central

Winona High's junior varsity basketball team bowed to a torrid fourth quarter burst by La Crosse Central JV here Tuesday, losing 76-65.

The Hawk Jayvees, led by Pat Boland and John Duet who scored 19 and 14 points each, led 22-14 at the quarter and 35-20 at the half. Central outscored Winona 30-14 in the last eight minutes to pull it out.

Vikings Pleased With Draft Picks

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Are the Minnesota Vikings satisfied with the college players they drew in the National Football League draft in Chicago Monday?

You can bet your last buck, Charlie, and toss in a dime for coffee. The Vikings are more than satisfied, they're elated.

"We got five of the first 21 players on our evaluation lists," Coach Norm Van Brocklin said Tuesday night.

"We're real happy. We think we got some real fine football players. We feel the top five can all play for us."

Then what are the chances of signing them? "Real good," Van Brocklin replied. "We're already working on the signing, of course."

President Bill Boyer of the Vikings said money would not stand in the way of Minnesota signing a player the coaches wanted badly.

"We won't back down from anybody if it's a matter of money," Boyer said of competition in the signing market from American and Canadian football league rivals.

"We will pay whatever money it takes if Dutch (Van Brocklin) says he needs a particular player," Boyer continued.

"We're going to get the kids we drafted. We have already talked to every single player we drafted."

Here's how Van Brocklin rates Minnesota's two top draft picks: Tackle Jim Dunaway, Mississippi—"The best lineman in the country. He can play several positions, but most likely will be a defensive end or offensive tackle for us. He's a football player. I'm encouraged about signing him after talking to him."

Tackle Bobby Bell, Minnesota—"He does the things I think are important in the clutch situations—the things our players are not doing now. We had rated Bell 13th in the nation. Of course we're very happy to have drafted him."

Officiating, recruiting, financial aid and eligibility rules are certain to be discussed in the meeting called ahead of the Dec. 13 conference scheduled for faculty representatives and athletic directors.

On two occasions this season, officiating in the Big Ten came under fire. Coach Woody Hayes of Ohio State complained publicly about calls against his team and then was ordered to apologize by Big Ten Commissioner Bill Reed. The volatile Hayes complied but wasn't happy in doing so.

Then on Nov. 24 in the Minnesota-Wisconsin game in which the championship hinged, two officials' decisions against Minnesota helped Wisconsin to a 14-9 victory.

In the closing minutes of the game with Minnesota ahead 9-7, the Gophers drew a 15-yard penalty when tackle Bobby Bell was called for roughing passer Ron VanderKelen.

Another 15-yard penalty came when the Minnesota bench protested the call against Bell. This put the ball on the Gopher 13-yard line and Wisconsin took the ball for the game-winning score.

The meeting was called a week ahead of the regular sessions because most of the coaches have other commitments. All recommendations by the coaches will be submitted to the athletic directors for further action.

Hayes Improving After Attack

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Rully Hayes, 26, linebacker for the Pittsburgh Steelers of the National Football League, remained in fair condition today after suffering a heart attack while hunting deer.

However, a spokesman said the condition of the Pickens, S.C., player was improving.

Hayes, a former Clemson star, had been inactive most of the season because of a knee injury. He returned to the active list last weekend and played briefly against the St. Louis Cardinals.

Bemidji pulled into a 42-35 lead over Mayville and won handily. Dave Sjohlad's 24 points topped Bemidji while Ray Sliner hit 17 for Mayville.

Gustavus fell behind 31-25 at the half in its season opener and couldn't catch up. Bill Laumann got 18 points for the Gusties.

Bradley Victor PEORIA, Ill. (AP)—Bradley completely outclassed the University of North Dakota Tuesday night and rolled to a 90-57 basketball victory.

NEW YORK (AP) — Passing maestro George Bork, mammoth tackle Junious Buchanan, and Drew Roberts and back Joe Incone head the 11 small college standouts named today to The Associated Press' 1962 Little All-American football team.

Bork, the Northern Illinois quarterback who was the No. 1 passer among the collegians parading their talents in smaller stadiums around the country, is the only junior on the first team. All others are seniors, and many may be playing in professional ranks next fall.

Buchanan, a 6-foot-6, 272-pound lineman who does double duty as a sprinter for Grambling, was the No. 1 selection in the American Football League draft held last weekend. He immediately signed with the Dallas Texans.

Roberts of Humboldt State in California and Incone of West Chester, Pa., are the only repeaters from the 1961 Little All-American team.

Joining Bork and Incone in the first team backfield are Richard Kemp of Lenoir Rhyne, a barreling rusher on a team that has won 17 in a row, and Robert (China Doll) Paremore, fleet track star for Florida A&M, who also has established his reputation as a top-flight gridiron hero.

Rounding out the first team line are end Willie Richardson of Jackson, Miss. State; tackle Dick Peter of Whitlir; guards Ralph Soffredine of Central Michigan and Don Hunt of Wittenberg, and center Douglas Harvey of Texas A&I, who was tapped for the honor over an unusually large group of outstanding centers.

The backfield has lightning speed in Paremore and an accurate aerialist in Bork. Paremore was a member of last year's Florida A&M 440- and 800-yard relay teams which won numerous events. His football feats led the Bulldogs to AP small college team-of-the-year laurels.

Bork, the tallest member of the backfield at 6 feet, the lightest at 140 pounds and the youngest at 20, also is the one who has grabbed the major share of the headlines with his passing proficiency. He led the small colleges in total offense with 2,399 yards in nine games.

In the air, Bork completed 232 passes out of 356 attempted for a remarkable .652 completion percentage and gained 2,506 yards—almost 1½ miles.

Harold Hayes of Southern Mississippi heads the second team line with Jan Barrett of Fresno State and Howard Hartman of Southern Oregon at the ends, Paul Chesmore of Delaware and Richard Kohn of John Carroll at tackle, and Wayne Farmer of Los Angeles State at guards.

The second team backfield consists of Jerry Linton of Pennhamle A&I, Nate Craddock of Parsons, Jimmy Baker of East Tennessee State and Ron Deveaux of Tufts.

Cold Warriors In 91-55 Loss

CEDAR FALLS, Iowa (Special) — "We couldn't hit and that's what killed us most," said Dr. Bob Campbell, Winona State College basketball coach, after the Warriors lost to State College of Iowa here Tuesday night.

The Warriors suffered a 91-55 reversal to even their season's record at 2-2. They are now idle until playing host to River Falls State Monday in Winona.

THE PANTHERS set a blistering pace in the second half when they averaged better than 80 percent of their shots from the field.

LYLE PAPANFUSS caged 15 points and with Dick comprised the WSC double-figure scorers.

"We hustled fairly well, and then dropped off defensively in the second half," said Campbell. "We were a bit hesitant to try our offensive stuff because we weren't hitting."

"They are a good ball club, and we have been prone to tighten up a bit, though the boys outwardly showed no signs of fright," Campbell reported. "They were pushing us around, and we weren't battling back."

"If we can learn that against a good team, we can't let up, even for a split second, we'll still be all right."

On the boards, Winona trailed only 55-54 in rebounds. The Warriors picked up abundant fouls in the late going trying to press and four finally fouled out.

Despite the size of the score, the Panthers had only four men in twin digits. The topper was Christie with 17.
