Pleads Issue Before AFL In New

By NEIL GILBRIDE NEW YORK (AP) - President Kennedy told the AFL-CIO convention today his proposed $11-billion tax cut would put wind back in the sails of the na-tion's economy and create millions of jobs.

He agreed with the union delegates that unemployment is the nation's chief domestic prob-

"If we can obtain the prompt passage of the pending $11-bil-lion tax reduction bill we will be sailing by next April on the winds of the longest and strongest peacetime expansion in our nation's economic history," Kennedy said in a prepared speech.

But he avoided the question of reducing the work week, the top priority item of business laid before the convention by AFL - CIO President George Meany.

"We urgently need a tax cut now as insurance against recession," Kennedy said.

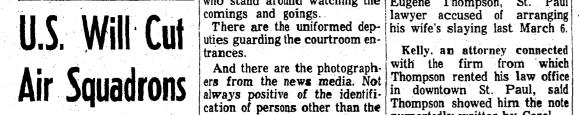

The tax bill, which the administration hoped to get passed early this year, is bogged down in Congress.

"We need that cut, as this bill provides, where it will do the most good-the percentage cuts in tax liabilities in the lower brackets are three times as large as those in the upper brackets," Kennedy said.

"I want to get Professor Barhoorn out of prison."

In the view here, the Yale political scientist's arrest marks the low point so far in a gradual deterioration of U.S.-Soviet relations' since the agreement reached in Moscow on the limited nuclear test ban treaty. This once-heralded "Moscow spirit," officials said, is fading as swiftly as the "spirit of Camp David" in 1959-the brief period of relaxed tensions following Soviet Premier Khrushchev's meeting with President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The Barghoorns case is one of several signs that Moscow is getting impatient because the test ban pact failed to bring the results for which the Russians evidently hoped.

Other major incidents were the Russian blocking of Allied convoys on the road to Berlin, Khrushchev's belligerent re marks and recent anti-American articles in Moscow's government-controlled press.

NIGHT before last some farm friends took me to Lewiston to the annual Town and Country dinner of the nonpolitical Winona County Farmers Union. This annual din ner has been set up for the purpose of promoting better understanding and cooperation between the farmers and the businessmen of Winona County. Present were most of the prominent farmers of the entire county; but the only "town" folks from Winona that I noted were Toastmaster Jerry Papenfuss, high school agricultural teacher John Januschka, Frank Brueske, farm editor from the Daily News and Loyel Hoseck, from First National Bank. I was impressed with the number of outstanding young farmers who took the trouble to come — and it IS trouble to get cleaned up and go out when farm chores aren't finished until 7 o'clock or later.

About the best turkey dinner I've ever eaten was served by St. John's Lutheran Church women, and then after two short but excellent musical numbers the president of the Minnesota Farmers Union, Edwin Christianson, spoke briefly and to the point. Quoting from a booklet produced and distributed by the Independent Bankers Association he showed how closely the financial welfare of the county (and the nation) is dependent upon the income of the farmers. These figures compiled by the bankers are both startling and convincing.

SOME HYBRIDIZERS have been developing new varieties of mums with particular stress on hardiness and have been improving them gradually in this regard. However, none of them appear to be as reliably hardy as some of the older kinds that have been superceded by the newer ones.

We have not learned of any ertain method of protecting mums that will insure winter survival in all cases. Our experience indicates that, as a rule, they do not seem to require much winter covering. In fact, during some winters a rather heavy mulch seems to be detrimental, if it packs down too much over the plants.

A great deal depends, also, upon where the plants are located. If they are growing near the house foundation, or in another protected place, a light covering of leaves, or marsh hay, can be placed over the cutoff stems after the ground has frozen and held in place by a few pieces of boards, branches,

The play takes place in 1948, and that meant that the girls had to wear skirts 2 to 3 inches below their knees and wear their hair quite differently - a local beauty shop had to come to the rescue and do the girls' coiffures in the style of that time. An old record player with brassy records of 1948 is used on stage.

The play tells the story of Agatha Reed, a famous congresswoman of about 40 who comes back to her old college to receive an honorary degree. One of the several complications: She had been quietly expelled just before graduation for an escapade with - of all people - the man who is now president of the college. The actors were all amazingly good, but Margaret Shaw as Agatha Reed is superb, and so is Nancy Ackels who plays "Woody" the congresswoman's secretary with wry and subtle humor.

There is an interesting balance between youthful college characters and older faculty members. As in many colleges there is friction between the liberal unorthodox professors and the stuffed shirt members of the faculty, and the situation is well handled in this play. An absorbing play, exceedingly well done, and a delight to watch. Today the high school students saw a performance of "Goodbye, My Fancy," and tomorrow night we, the public, have a chance to see it.

Toastmistress Clubs Noting Anniversary

SEVENTEEN THOUSAND members of the International Toastmistress Clubs are celebrating the anniversary of the organization's founding which was at San Francisco 25 years ago. This year the Winona club observed its tenth anniversary on June 1. Although the group met informally in November 1952, it was not chartered until May 20, 1953.

"To love our language and to use it with grace and facility" is the Toastmistress motto but the training offered is aimed at improving listening, thinking and speaking abilities of members.

The Winona club enjoys the unique advantage of professional assistance from staff members of the three local colleges as well as from the high school speech department. These instructors have generously assisted with programs, judged speech contests and are numbered among the most enthusiastic supporters of the organization.

THE ABILITY to communicate effectlvely should be of importance to every American, particularly today when propagandistic words are being hurled about so freely. Many people cannot fully understand the meanings of words they hear or read - it is only the emotional overtones which reach them. This could, in the long run, make them dangerous to their countrymen and to the world. More than a year ago, one of our nation's top industrialists went so far as to say that verbal incompetence may become a national calamity.

Members of the International Toastmistress Clubs believe that there are many instances when misuse and abuse of our language results from loose and undisciplined mental habits, a lack of respect for words.

THE WINONA Toastmistress Club offers women of this area a splendid opportunity to improve their communication skills. Our congratulations and good wishes go to the Winona Toastmistresses and to their sister members in the more than 1,-000 clubs throughout the United States and ten foreign countries.

Upsurge of Optimism In GOP Ranks

IF THE Republican presidential nominating convention were to be held tomorrow, Senator Barry Goldwater of Arizona would be the party's candidate against President John F. Kennedy a year from this November.

That is the view of the great majority of political writers and pundits, whether or not they happen to personally agree with the Goldwater philosophy. And it is backed up by public opinion polls with excellent past performance records. In these polls, the senator is significantly ahead of other possible candidates.

HOW DO YOU STAND, SIR? Early Training Quickly Lost

By SEN. BARRY GOLDWATER

One of the first things taught our elementary school youngsters when they get into American history is the U.S. Constitution. Yet it is surprising how short a time this learning is retained.

Many adult Americans were straight "A" students in all subjects relating to U.S. history and government, but today they are as ignorant of the basic provisions of our founding document as are those who have never heard of it.

An excellent example of this lapse is the popular misconception that only the President is responsible for the nation's finances.

Although a President whose party also controls Congress can get just about everything he asks for in the way of money, it is Congress alone Goldwater which has spending authority. Clause 7 of Article 1 of the Constitution states: "No money shall be drawn from the Treasury, but in consequence of appropriations made by law; and a regular state-ment and account of the receipts and expenditures of all public money shall be published from time to time."

THE CLAUSE is rather specific and has been interpreted in courts to be a limitation of executive power, considered necessary by the framers of the Constitution. Thus, a Democratic Congress, in the administration of a Republican President, could vote to spend three times the amount called for in the budget request. And should the strength of the Democratic Congress be sufficient, it could make the spending stick, even in the face of a Presidential veto.

The converse, of course, is equally true. A Republican Congress would have the same powers and could appropriate considerably less than called for by a Democratic President.

In such a case, a simple GOP majority in the House would be sufficient, for there would be nothing for the President to veto and no need for the two-thirds vote necessary to overcome such an executive action.

HISTORICALLY. Democratic and Republican Congresses have done just that-the Democrats voting for greater spending, the Republicans cutting back on unnecessary expenditures. Since the turn of the century, the result has been that the nation has compiled a national debt of approximately $311 billion, and more than 98 percent of it was rolled up by Democratic Congresses.

Add to this the estimated trillion dollars more for which Democratic Congresses have indebted the taxpayer in future spending, and the importance of which party controls the House becomes obvious. How do you stand, sir?

By DREW PEARSON WASHINGTON - The investigation, of Bobby Baker by the Senate Rules Committee should really be labeled an investigation of juvenile delinquency.

TODAY IN NATIONAL AFFAIRS FCC Helps Win Election

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON - The Federal Communications Commission is supposed to be a quasi-judicial and independent agency of the government, but it has just intervened in a Kentucky election — unwittingly perhaps — to help the Democratic party in its effort to win a gubernatorial election there. It has also undertaken to immunize President Kennedy from criticism for a statement which he made at his Sept. 12 news conference and which has been the subject of much controversy in political circles. The commission need not have appraised at all the merits of what Mr. Kennedy said at his new conference. It could have simply told the inquiring broadcasting stations in Kentucky that they were not obliged to carry a statement issued by the Republican party there because no use of facilities by the gubernatorial candidates was involved. The commission, however, went further and described the Republican statement as a "distortion of the. facts." This, of course, was in itself not a comprehensive discussion of the differing interpretations which grew out of the President's ambiguous utterance at his news conference. A reporter, in commenting on current politics and on the Negro vote, asked the President this question: "Apparently a lot of Negroes support you - that is, the latest poll showed that 95 percent probably would vote for you next year. Now, in your opinion, Mr. President, does this political self-segregation on the part of the Negroes, combined with continued demonstrations in the North, pose any problems for you as far as the electoral vote in the North is concerned next year?

"THE PRESIDENT: I understand what you mean, that there is a danger of a division in the party, in the country, upon racial grounds. I would doubt that. I think the American people have been through too much to make that fatal mistake. It is true that a majority of the Negroes have been Democrats, but that has been true since Franklin Roosevelt. Before that a majority of them were Republican. The Republican party, I am confident, could get the support of the Negroes, but I think they have to recognize the very as this would be contrary to the "no censorship" provision of existing law. ALL THE commission really had to do in this case was to tell the inquiring stations that they were not obligated to carry the Republican announcement since "there is no personal use of station facilities by a candidate involved."

By interpreting, however, a statement which has been regarded by many listeners as not clear in itself, the FCC is put in the position of aiding one political party as against another. Many people have remained puzzled as to what the Presi-dent meant by the following two sentences: "So I would say that over the long run, we are going to have a mix. This will be true racially, socially, ethnically, geographically, and that is really, finally, the best way.

It's the President's responsibility to the public, however, to clarify his own statements. That's why it causes surprise to see an official and formal ruling by a quasi-judicial agency of the government telling the citizens what a President's words mean and above all, that they are political words and are not to be construed as having any implications of a "mix" on the social or ethnical side. Yet the latter concept is what the ardent advocates of "civil rights" claim will, in the long run, inevitably be applied.

Dear Sir: Are there

The Goldwater boom has been a dramatic one. Numbers of his followers are imbued with almost a Messiah-like zeal. Goldwater clubs have sprung up throughout the country. Goldwater stickers and buttons are seen in growing number. He seems to have a particularly strong following among the younger Republicans, which is a very great asset indeed. And this has happened even though he is not a formally announced candidate for anything except his Senate seat. He has taken it in stride, with modesty and good humor.

Senator Goldwater is a conservative, who has small use for most of the ideas of the liberal wing either in or out of his party. Yet he is a strong party man, who had charge of the campaign to elect Republican senators in '62 and labored loyally for all concerned, including some with whom he is in profound disagreement. Moreover, he has gone to some length, particularly of late, to disassociate himself from the extreme conservative right wing. He has modified some of his positions - on taxation, certain government welfare activities, and other controversies. But he is the tireless and eloquent enemy of policies which, in his view, threaten to create a central governmental colossus, possessed of virtually limitless powers, at the expense of local and individual rights and responsibilities. The individual human being looms very large in his esteem. He doesn't think of people as statistics.

BUT THE fact that the senator now seems well ahead of any other Republican hopeful does not mean that this condition will prevail next summer, when the convention is held. A great deal of water can go under the bridge between now and then, Some Goldwater supporters feel that the drive to nominate him may have started too early -- that it may run out of steam at the crucial time. In any event, a real fight looms. The anti-Goldwater forces are now gathering, in large part at least, behind Gov. Rockefeller,

Rockefeller, like the senator, has beep clarifying his ideas on the big issues in speeches and interviews. His purpose is to avoid labels, either liberal or conservative, and to make it clear that his views aren't just a Republican version of the present Administration's. He has strongly emphasized his faith in private enterprise, in maintaining vigorous and responsible local government, in holding federal spending to the present level, and so on. Actually, there are a good many important areas in which he and Goldwater see pretty much eye to eye. But there are others where the differences are great, and it is this that will be stressed in the months ahead,

MEANWHILE, THERE seems to have been an upsurge in GOP optimism so far 8

DES MOINES, Iowa (P) -The other day a woman dashed into the Standard Glass and Paint Store in Des Moines and asked, "Has my husband been here yet?"

Proprietor Mark Woods nodded. "Oh, did he buy paint for the bathroom?" the woman asked.

"I wouldn't sell it to him," Woods replied, and pointed to a sign on the cash register saying: "Husbands picking out paint colors — you bring note from wife."

"So I would say that over the long run we are going to have a mix. This will be true racially, socially, ethnically, geographically, and that is really, finally, the best way."

NOW, A NUMBER of Kentucky broadcasting stations had received a statement on a tape recording from an agency representing Republican nominees in the Kentucky campaign and a voice, presumably that of the President, spoke the last paragraph of the foregoing quotation about the "mix." The Kentucky broadcasters association had asked for an opinion trom the Federal Communications Commission in a telegram. The formal answer given by Chairman E. William Henry was that the Republican announcement, as submitted to the broadcasting stations, was "an apparent distortion of the facts concerning the President's press conference," and hence the "policy" set forth in a previous ruling of the commission was applicable. This "policy" held that "no discussion of the issues involved in any controversy can be fair or in the public interest where such discussion must take place in a climate of false

"RAISING" CHILDREN BY THE

We have a choice in America ... a choice denied millions who live under godless communism.

Here is a man who is exercising that choice!

He believes that children growing up in the free world ought to know the Author of Liberty. He wants his son and daughter to cherish and embrace the spiritual insights God has given man.

This father introduced his children to the Bible when they were very young. Today the Book of the Ages is their friend. Tomorrow it will be their guide through the frightening age to which they have been born.

The American Bible Society — supported by earnest Christian citizens and the churches they attend - enables millions of families around the globe to share our heritage of Truth with this new generation on whose spiritual fibre rests the hope of the world.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church, They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself. which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

DEAR ABBY: A lifelong friend of mine became engaged and said she was going to invite me to her wedding. I was so sure she would that I sent her an expensive wedding gift, not to mention the outfit I had made especially for the occasion. I was heartbroken when the wedding day arrived and I had not been invited. When she returned from her honeymoon, she telephoned me and asked why I didn't attend. I told her I never got an invitation. She said, "Oh, you silly little fool, I am sure I sent you one, but we are such close friends, even if you didn't get it you should have come anyway." Tell me, Abby, can friends be so close that they attend affairs like this without a formal invitation?

CUT TO THE QUICK

DEAR CUT: Yes. But had you really felt "close" to her, you'd have called a few days before the wedding and asked what happened to your invitation.

ALMA, Wis. - The Buffalo welfare paid $39,580 in aid to That no action or proceeding the debi 492 persons in the county in secured by said mortgage, or any part September.

month. Compared with Sept., ($14,540,38) Dollars, 1962, the number of persons And that pursuant to the power of sale therein contained, said mortgage will be aided increased by 7 percent foreclosed and the tract of land lying while total grants were up by and being in the County of Winona, State of Minnesota, described as follows, to-5.4 percent.

Old age assistance grants totaled $24,227 and aided 232 persons. Aid to dependent children totaled $6,872 and assisted county at public auction on the 20th J15 children and 39 adults in 37 day of December, 1963, at 10:00 o'clock family groups. Aid to totally and house in the City of Winona in said permanently disabled persons county and state, to pay the debt then secured by said mortgage and taxes, if assisted 59 persons with grants any, on said premises and the costs and disbursements allowed by law, subtotaling $6,375.

The average cost per person from said date of sale. was $80.45 compared with a statewide average of $66,12. Buffalo County consistently has Attorney tor Mortgagee a higher cost per person than most other Wisconsin counties.

'This can be attributed mainly to high medical costs which include hospitalization, nursing the County Auditor of Winona County.
