Charge Possible in Girl's Death

3 Dead, $10 Million Loss at Baldwin Hills

By ROBERT M. BURNETT
LOS ANGELES (AP)—Three hundred million gallons of water roared out of a gaping hole in Baldwin Hills Reservoir, leaving three persons dead, at least $10 million damage—and one big unanswered question: Why?

Investigators probed the cause of Saturday's devastating flood today as cleanup crews and heartsick homeowners moved in to clear the stricken area of tons of muck and debris.

For some, there was nothing to be done.
The giant wall of water from the breaking dam swept blocks of homes away. Only deep, eroded gullies remained where attractive dwellings stood. Sixty-four homes were destroyed and 82 were severely damaged. More fortunate residents picked among the ruins of their shattered homes, hoping to salvage items left behind when the order to evacuate disrupted the tranquil neighborhood.

The big 19.5-acre reservoir, owned by the Los Angeles Department of Water and Power, burst with a mighty roar Saturday afternoon after a small leak developed earlier in the day.

The earth shook as huge chunks of earth from the dam collapsed into the hole created by the rushing waters.
The flood smashed through an expensive canyon residential area, hit a garden court apartment development, spread through two business districts and another residential neighborhood, then piled into a flood control channel and poured into the ocean about five miles away.
Up to 10 inches of thick mud covered everything in the path of the water.
The many-faceted investigation starting today will attempt to answer:
Mayer Samuel Yorty, who wants to know why the dam broke.
Thousands of flood victims, who want to know who will pay for the damage.
Thousands of other residents, living below similar reservoirs, and wondering...

EYEWITNESS ACCOUNT

Floats Six Blocks in Car

(Editor's Note — What's it like to float six blocks—in the family car? H. E. Dulude, in the following story—as told to The Associated Press and the Long Beach, Calif. Independent, Press-Telegram — tells how his car was swept away when a reservoir broke in the Baldwin Hills.)

By H. E. DULUDE

LOS ANGELES (AP) — I don't know how we did it. We floated six blocks in my car, and hit five or six other cars on the way. It's a miracle we're here.

My wife, Rosanna, and I live in an apartment below the Baldwin Hills Reservoir. My sister, Mrs. Orise Giguere, had come to visit from her apartment next door when we heard helicopters warning everyone to evacuate.

It was about 2:45 p.m. Saturday. The helicopters said the dam was breaking.

Policeman Slain in Minneapolis

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — A Minneapolis policeman was shot to death Sunday night as he answered a domestic complaint. Two other persons were critically wounded.

The victim was James E. Hendricks, 45, father of two daughters, who was shot twice in the back and once in the groin.

Listed as critical today were Mrs. Agnes Winje, 49, and Auburn Hare, 32, both of Portland Ave. near Lake St., an apartment where the shooting took place.

Inspector Calvin Hawkins said the woman apparently was lying wounded on a sofa when Hendricks entered Hare's apartment.

Police said Hendricks was shot as he entered. Officers said Hare, carrying a .25 caliber revolver, was shot twice by Hendricks' partner, Chester Langard, who was about five steps behind.

Bodies of 3 Americans Recovered

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — The bodies of three American aviators missing after their helicopter crashed into the ocean were recovered on a lonely beach in central Viet Nam today.

The bodies were flown to Saigon for an autopsy to determine the cause of death. No wreckage was sighted.

The copilot, only survivor of the crash 15 miles south of Quang Ngai, told authorities the helicopter crashed Saturday night half a mile offshore as it started to land to pick up wounded Vietnamese troops.

The American spokesman said the three dead Americans were considered noncombat casualties.

Max K. Socha, chief engineer of water works for the department, said the dam was of the most advanced design.

But he said that with the reservoir now empty, a long series of ragged holes can be seen in the asphalt inner surface of the dam.

The holes lead in a straight line from one side to the big break in the wall and may have been the leaks that caused the dam to collapse, Socha said.

Other possibilities mentioned included earth tremors, subsidence from oil drilling, and cracking and stretching of the whole area.

Payment for damage will probably hinge on a court decision on the cause of the break.

The Department of Water and Power is covered by $14.8 million in insurance, but if it is found that the dam collapsed because of an "Act of God" rather than structural failure, the insurance companies might not have to pay.

Most homeowners did not have flood insurance because of the high rates.

TOSSED ASIDE BY FLOOD WATERS... DEATH CAR... This is the car in which Susan Kaehler, 251 E. Wabasha St., died early Sunday morning. (Daily News photo)

Victim Asleep, Driver Tells Winona Police

Authorities today were considering whether to bring a charge in the traffic death of a 15-year-old girl here early Sunday morning.
However, no decision had been made this noon, according to County Attorney S. A. Sawyer.

SUSAN ANN KAehler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred M. Kaehler, 251 E. Wabasha St., apparently was asleep in the front seat of a car driven by Norman C. Meska, 32, 110 Winona St., when it struck a telephone pole on Lake Boulevard, about one-tenth of a mile west of Sugar Loaf Road, at 6:05 a.m. Chief of Police George Savord said that it appeared the girl was thrown against the dashboard of the car when it struck the pole on the south shoulder.

It appeared, he said, that her upper chest struck the metal dashboard and that her head snapped forward striking the windshield and top of the dashboard.

Death was caused by the chest injuries and a broken neck, according to Coroner Robert B. Tweedy. Savord said that the girl showed some signs of life at the scene of the accident, but was dead on arrival at nearby Community Memorial Hospital.

SAVORD SAID that police investigation has shown that the girl was a passenger in the car from mid-evening Saturday until her death.

Savord said Meska told police that she was in the car with her boyfriend and another youth Saturday evening. The boyfriend and the other youth went home late Saturday, police were told by Meska.

He said that Susan did not want to go to her home, because of the lateness of the hour and that she wrapped herself in an overcoat and slept in the car while he drove around the area, according to police.

In their investigation of the accident scene police found that there were no skid marks or brake marks. They said Meska's car was traveling east on Lake Boulevard, swerved toward the telephone pole about 87 feet west of it and struck it head-on.

Meska, who told police he fell asleep at the wheel, suffered a nose injury but declined medical attention.

Savord explained that Meska ran from his car to the front door of the Eugene Schuler residence, 811 Lak. Blvd., im-

Young Sinatra Set to Resume Singing Career

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Frank Sinatra Jr. made plans today to sing again while federal authorities prepared to take three men to court as his alleged kidnapers.

Friends said young Sinatra was anxious to return to work at Lake Tahoe.
A spokesman for Harrah's Casino, where the 19-year-old entertainer was employed at the time of his abduction Dec. 8, confirmed that a new motel room was being prepared for him.

Pat France, vice president of Harrah's, said, however, that Sinatra Jr. definitely wouldn't resume singing before Tuesday night. He is featured with the Tommy Dorsey Band, which takes Monday nights off.
Tino Barzic, the youth's manager, told newsmen:
"We're moving him to another room in the motel right now. It'll be harder for anybody to get to him in the new room."
Frank Jr. spent the weekend at the Los Angeles home of his mother.

The FBI, meantime, reported further progress in its efforts to account for all of the $240,000 that Sinatra Sr. paid for the release of his son.

With all but about $6,000 of the ransom recovered, a spokesman said:
"Additional funds have been located and steps are being taken to place them in federal custody."
Some time later this month a federal grand jury is expected to be asked for indictments against the trio of accused kidnapers—John W. Irwin, 42, a house painter; Joseph C. Amster, 23, an abalone diver and part-time professional boxer, and Barry W. Keenan, also 23, an unemployed appliance salesman.

Friends of the two younger men expressed shock and surprise at their alleged involvement in the case.
Keenan's father, stockbroker John J. Keenan, described his son as "a fine kid" and said that like most boys, he was interested in cars. He recalled that except for one minor brush with the law—the theft of a case of beer in 1959—he'd never been in serious trouble.

Amster's police record was a short one, too. He had three arrests in California, the latest for trespassing and an earlier one for violation of the Alcoholic Beverage Control Act.
Irwin had a record extending over 16 years in Maine, Massachusetts, New Jersey and California.

Russ Cut Army Budget 4.3 Percent

MOSCOW (AP)—A cut of 4.3 per cent in the Soviet military budget and an increase of 53 per cent in investments for consumer goods industries over the next two years were announced today.

The new budget submitted to the Supreme Soviet — Parliament — reflected Premier Khrushchev's proclaimed goal of giving the Russian people more bread and fewer guns. But it was only a modest start in his plans for giant boosts in fertilizer and other consumer industries in the next seven years.

With Khrushchev listening, Finance Minister Vasily Garbuzov announced the military budget for 1964 would be cut by 600 million rubles—$66 million at the official exchange rate. A cut had been promised by Khrushchev at the meeting of the Communist Party Central Committee last week.

Without giving figures, national planner Pyotr Lornako announced additional investments in agriculture, housing, light industry and food processing in the 1964-65 period would be 53 per cent higher than in the past two years.

Troops Will Stay in Europe, Johnson Says

PARIS (AP)—President Johnson assured the North Atlantic Alliance today that the United States will maintain its troop strength in Europe so long as these men are needed.

Johnson's promise was contained in a message read by Secretary of State Dean Rusk at the opening of NATO's 3-day winter ministerial meeting to survey the state of Western defenses and hopes for peace.

Johnson stressed that his administration would continue the late President Kennedy's strong line of support for NATO.
Johnson called for "a balanced NATO defense posture, including powerful nuclear and non-nuclear forces, which will deter aggression." The President added:
"To NATO's continuing fulfillment of this task, I pledge my country's will and resources. We will keep in Europe the equivalent of six American divisions that are now deployed there, so long as they are needed; and under present circumstances there is no doubt that they will continue to be needed."

Six Children Dead in Fire

PORTLAND, Maine (AP) — Six children died early today after a midnight fire swept their home, a two-story duplex house close to downtown Portland.

The fire was at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Harrigan, who lived there with their seven children and three state wards.
Six bodies were recovered by firemen, but they were not identified immediately.
Harrigan told firemen the blaze started near a space heater on the first floor. He said he tried to control the blaze, but when he couldn't, he and his wife ran to the second floor to try and save the children.

They dropped one daughter, Beverly, 9, out a window, and tossed two of their younger children, Edward, 5, and John, 9 months, down to her.

Then Harrigan said the flames drove him and his wife out.
Another of their children, Genevieve, 8, escaped unaided.

The Harrigan's other children were Holly, 6, Marty 4, and Heidi, 3.
Staying with them were three state wards, Ramona Malley, 7, Thomas Malley, 6, and Tammy Malley, 4.

BUSINESS MIRROR

'64 Forecasts Order of Day

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—That seasonal preoccupation of corporation executives is in full swing—the forecasts of what's ahead for all of us but particularly for their own companies. And rarely has the outpouring been so much in one key.

Optimism, restrained but assured, is sounded by the great majority.

They have plenty of current statistics to cite in their belief that the momentum of the business upswing is strong and as yet practically unchallenged. They have hope that past feelings of edginess between business and government can be eased. They even see signs that the international climate may be improving.

Heartening is the evidence that public confidence hasn't been shaken by the uncertainties inevitably accompanying the changeover in the federal administration. Retail sales have recovered after a period of faltering. Industrial orders have held up. So have production schedules. Some top executives have indicated sizable expansion plans for 1964 are unchanged.

As always, the most caution by individual businessmen is used when forecasting the trend of the national economy in general. Next, the problems of their particular industry may be stressed. But almost all are sure that their own companies are likely to see still better times in 1964 than in 1963.

The current feeling of well being in general is summed up on the economists of the Morgan Guaranty Trust Co. of New York: "General business activity is still trending upward, paced by a brisk tempo of holiday trade and a continuation of the automobile industry's remarkable performance."

"Pushed hard in the closing weeks of the year, auto output appears certain to exceed 2 1/2 million units for the full fourth quarter, a mark never before attained in any three-month period. And with retail demand for cars remaining strong (fourth quarter sales should approximate 2 million), a carry-over into 1964 of this potent stimulus to a wide range of supplier industries is indicated."

The First National City Bank of New York generalizes: "With widespread confidence in the future, and with a blend of fiscal and monetary policies dedicated to achieving economic growth without inflation, the economy can advance to new heights in the months ahead."

Youth Arrested For Ramming Crowd with Car

NEW YORK (AP)—A factory clerk is charged with homicide in the death of a basketball star run down by an automobile that police say was deliberately aimed at a group of college students.

The victim was Mike Schaffer, 19, sophomore star at City College, who only an hour earlier had led his teammates to their fourth straight victory.

He was high scorer with 18 points in Saturday night's 74-44 triumph over Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute of Troy, N.Y.

After the game, Schaffer left the uptown Manhattan gymnasium with nine other boys and girls, including his girl friend, Molly Irgang, 15. They began walking toward a subway. But death intervened five blocks away. Police said a young motorist, after making remarks to the girls and scuffling briefly with one of the boys, climbed back into his auto and gunned it right at the group. All jumped to safety except Schaffer, who apparently didn't see the car coming. He was dragged almost a block.

About four hours later, armed with the license number of the auto, police arrested Eddie Weissman, 19, of Manhattan, and charged him with homicide. Weissman admitted being in the car at the time Schaffer was killed but denied trying to hit anyone with it, police said. He was held without bail.

Retarded Children Entertained at Party At Rushford School.

RUSHFORD, Minn.—A Christmas party for retarded children of Fillmore County was held at the Rushford Public School. They played games and watched a baton twirling performance to the music of Christmas carols. Terri Hatleli, Carol Jean Nordby and Beverly Christianson, students of Merrie Sue Dubbs and Sibil Betz, performed.

Each of the 25 children was presented with a Christmas tree with his or her name on it. Santa Claus called with treats, provided by mothers of the special education class. Rushford Lions Club donated to the party Dec. 7.

At a meeting of the Fillmore County ARC at the courthouse in Preston last Tuesday night, Mrs. W. W. Thomas reported on the national convention in Washington, D.C., and Mrs. Arnold Erickson on the friendship drive.

Payrolls Here Show Only Small Decline

Winona's employment rate during November continued at the high level which has prevailed through much of 1963, according to a report prepared by Ray Brown, manager of the state employment service office here.

The total of 10,738 at work was only slightly lower than October's record level, and is the second highest total ever recorded here.

EXCEPT for some small seasonal declines, industrial categories held strong, Brown reported. Manufacturing too, although down slightly, was strong.

Construction showed a small drop, but retail trade and utilities edged upward. Retail trade is expected to advance further as the holiday shopping peak continues, Brown predicted.

Manufacturing continued to maintain top crews. Normal seasonal slowdowns in several industries accounted for the small loss in this classification. Metal working dropped because of temporary layoffs in heavy equipment. Other industries — such as paper and related fields, concrete products and wood products — slackened off at the end of their heavy production seasons.

The factory group expects continued high levels through-out December, Brown's report stated.

RETAIL TRADE figures were boosted slightly during the month as additional sales personnel were added at the beginning of the holiday season. Most substantial advances were in the general merchandise category. Good gains are expected during December, when the shopping rush will go into high gear.

Construction employment which had reached its high point for the year in October, moved back slightly in November. Recent project closings, brought on by cold weather, probably will lower the figure more in December.

Labor demand during November slackened off. Heaviest needs continued to be in manufacturing. The labor supply moved up. The total number of applications on file at the employment service office here was about 900. Of the total, 425 were women and 170 were persons seeking part time work.

Historical Unit Shows Ornaments

The Winona County Historical Society's current exhibit recreates for the modern visitor an old fashioned Christmas, according to Dr. Lewis I. Younger, society president.

A Christmas tree has been decorated with ornaments taken from the society's collection. A collection of toys—many of them dating back 80 years—will be on display throughout the holidays.

Most of the toys were obtained from Miss Frances Swain, La Crosse, who is a former Winona teacher.

A German heritage program will be given during the society's Christmas party at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the group's headquarters, 125 W. 5th St. The meeting is open to the public.

Dr. Philip von Rohr Heise will present a history of the Von Rohr family written by Dr. Philip Sauer, Bemidji. Mrs. Gretchen Lambertson will discuss her interviews with Mrs. Ada Bollman about early Christmases in the Von Rohr family.

Mrs. Henry Williams is in charge of refreshments, which will be German cookies made by members of the Von Rohr and Heise families. The Dakota school chorus, directed by Mrs. Ruth Girod, will sing.

Not Guilty Plea Entered by Husband

Teofil Glomski, 56, 1018 E. King St., pleaded not guilty in municipal court today to a charge of assault.

Judge John D. McGill set the trial for Dec. 31 and set bail at $100. Glomski was making arrangements to post the bail deposit.

He was arrested by police at his home at 2:15 p.m. Saturday on a complaint by his daughter, Mrs. Janet Rihs, 1750 W. Wabasha St., that he slapped his wife, Mrs. Theresa Glomski, Friday.

Another Cold Week Expected

Winter doesn't officially arrive until next Sunday but don't try telling that to any Winonan today.

For after encountering 10 below weather this morning he won't settle for calling this anything else but WINTER.

PARTLY CLOUDY and not quite so cold tonight is the official forecast for the area with scattered light snow or snow flurries. A low of 5 to 10 below is predicted for tonight. Tuesday will be partly cloudy, too, and more snow flurries may appear. A high of 5 above is predicted.

Colder again with snow flurries is the prediction for Wednesday.

Even the extended forecast for the next five days indicates temperatures will be 5 to 15 degrees below normal highs of 25-30 and nighttime lows of 6 to 13.

Crash Victim Frostbitten; Out 5 1/2 Hours

A Minneka motorist suffered frostbite Saturday evening while looking for help after his car went off Kreidermacher Road, three miles northwest of Rollingstone.

Robert N. Weis, 39, today was listed in satisfactory condition at Community Memorial Hospital. He suffered frostbite on his hands, feet and knees, Sheriff George Fort said.

DEPUTIES SAID that Weis told them the car went into the ditch about 6 p.m. It was 11:30 p.m. when he was found by Game Warden Francis Teske. Weis had crawled about one-tenth of a mile from his car.

Deputies said investigation showed that Weis had been crawling and stumbling in woods in the area before getting onto the road.

They said that he had been traveling northwest on the road, which is Mount Vernon Township Road 2, when the car went out of control.

Weis' car went 75 feet on the right side of the road, then slid backward into the ditch, went 40 feet down the bank and the rear of the car hit a tree, said deputies. There was about $100 damage to the car.

DEPUTIES SAID that the car left the road about seven times before hitting the tree. Weis has said that this is an error and that people in the area have verified that the road had been used daily and that the tracks noticed by deputies were there long before the accident.

Weis also said that he braked his car before coming to a dip in the road where water drains out of a ravine. The wheels of the car locked, it spun and went backwards into the ditch, he said. His wife said today that the brakes have locked before.

The driver also said that he started to crawl up the embankment and onto the road after he regained consciousness. He said he was crawling to the nearest farm when Teske found him.

Deputies said that he appeared that Weis was unable to walk, but that he was not injured in the accident.

Train Strikes Woman, 68, Near Dakota

A brief warming up is indicated for today and Tuesday but cold again by midweek with another warming trend the later part of the week.

Precipitation will average .10 to .25 of an inch (melted) in frequent periods of light snow or snow flurries.

WINONA HAD a chilly week-end with the temperature up to 12 Saturday afternoon, down to zero Sunday morning and no higher than 8 Sunday and then plunging to -10 this morning.

A year ago today the high was 32 and the low 2. All-time high for Dec. 16 here was 58 in 1959 and the low -21 in 1932. Mean for the past 24 hours was -1, normal is 20 above.

The Mississippi River was frozen from shore to shore, including Lake Pepin, in all but a few places between here and the Twin Cities.

The river was open in the swift-flowing stretch at Reads Landing and immediately below the area dams but elsewhere was a mass of ice.

WITH FEW exceptions main highways in Minnesota and Wisconsin were clear of ice and in good driving condition.

Bitter cold prevailed throughout the Northwest with Bemidji reporting a morning low of -36, minimum for the nation and International Falls having a reading of -30. Even St. Cloud reported a -20 and Duluth -12.

At Rochester the low today was -14 after a Sunday high of only -1. La Crosse posted figures of -8 and 7 above for the same times.

The Twin Cities low this morning was -16. This was the lowest ever recorded for the date. The previous low for Dec. 16 was -13 in 1897 and 1932.

Temperatures everywhere in Wisconsin were below zero this morning, and no relief is in sight. In addition, more snow is predicted for Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

Eau Claire hit the Wisconsin low of 15 below zero early today and Superior and Lone Rock had 13 below.

Green Bay set the state high of 22 degrees Sunday.

A few scattered snow flurries fell in Wisconsin Sunday. Lone Rock, La Crosse, Eau Claire and Park Falls had a trace of snow. Skies were clear throughout Wisconsin today.

The nation's high Sunday was 29 at Marathon, Fla.

Thomas L. Nissen, 18, 429 W. Mark St., pleaded guilty in municipal court this morning to four charges. He paid fines totaling $105.

Nissen, who appeared before Judge John D. McGill, was arrested by police at West Broadway and Pierce Street at 11:15 p.m. Sunday.

He was cited for speeding, 45 m.p.h. in a 30 m.p.h. zone, violation of his instruction permit, being a minor with beer in his possession and driving with an open bottle of beer in his car.

He was sentenced to pay a fine of $25 or to eight days on the first charge, a fine of $10 or to serve three days on the second and fines of $35 or to serve 12 on the third and fourth.

A bench warrant was issued this morning for the arrest of Parker W. Smith, 19, Brooklyn, N. Y., St. Mary's College student. He was cited for driving without a driver's license following an accident at 3rd and Main streets Dec. 7.

Smith told Judge McGill last Monday that he had a New York driver's license and that he had sent for it. The case was postponed one week.

Train Strikes Woman, 68, Near Dakota

DAKOTA, Minn. (Special) — A 68-year-old Dakota woman, who was returning to her home after taking daily river gauge readings, was killed instantly when she was struck by a Milwaukee Railroad freight train from the rear here Sunday evening.

Mrs. Minnie Drexel was about one block from her home when she was hit by eastbound freight No. 331 at 5:15 p.m.

SHE HAD just crossed a bridge on the north end of Dakota. The train was traveling downriver and she was walking in that direction, according to Sheriff George Fort.

The woman's body was thrown 150 feet southwest of the point of impact and onto the west shoulder of the right of way, deputies said.

The body apparently bounced along the ground and then struck a telephone pole about 15 feet west of the tracks. Deputies found the body wrapped around the pole when they arrived.

Deputies said she was walking on the west set of rails — the rails the train was on.

She apparently was planning to descend from the tracks to take a path to Highway 14-61, which she had to cross to get to her home.

CORONER Robert Tweedy said that the bones of her body were badly crushed.

The engine of the mile-long train had reached Dresbach, a mile southeast of Dakota, before Engineer Henry Kroll, St. Paul, could stop it.

Kroll told the division superintendent at La Crosse that Mrs. Drexel was walking on the ties along the river side of the tracks. He sounded the whistle, she glanced around, and stepped onto the tracks directly in front of the train. It appeared that she felt she would get across in time.

After stopping the train, Kroll called the sheriff's office. Conductor was William Baxter, St. Paul.

Mrs. Drexel had been taking river gauge readings in Fishermen's Park — several blocks away — for the U. S. Corps of Engineers for 10 years or more. She took morning and evening readings each day.

THE FORMER Minnie Jacobs, she was born Nov. 1, 1895, in the Town of New Hartford, daughter of August and Emma Jacobs. She lived in that area most of her life and resided on a farm in Dakota Valley with her husband, George Drexel. Following his death about 14 years ago she moved to Dakota.

Survivors are: Three daughters, Mrs. Donald (Beverly) Oldenburg and Mrs. Norman (Elva) Wardwell, La Crosse, and Mrs. Charles (Marlene) Wacholz, Rochester; one son, Irvin, La Crosse; 10 grandchildren, and two sisters, Mrs. Charles (Martha) Leske and Mrs. Robert (Theresa) Leske, La Crescent.

One son, Robert, was drowned about two years ago in a river accident at the foot of Isle La Plume, La Crosse. A brother, William, died as a child.

Nelson Funeral Home, La Crosse, is in charge. One of her daughters said this morning funeral services will probably be Wednesday afternoon at St. John's Lutheran Church, Nodine.

La Crescent Logger's Car Hits Tree; Dies in Crash

LA CRESCENT, Minn. — A 39-year-old La Crescent logger was dead on arrival at a La Crosse hospital Saturday night after his 1954 station wagon went out of control on Highways 14-16-61 west of the interstate bridge near the Holliday Inn and crashed into a tree about 8 p.m.

Alfred J. Walter, who was en route home from La Crosse where he had been helping repair caterpillars and other logging machinery, died of a fractured skull, according to Dr.

TRAIN-TRUCK CRASH . . . A St. Charles milk truck driver escaped with several fractured ribs Saturday afternoon when his truck was hit by a train a mile east of Lewiston. The truck was spun around and knocked into a ditch. Thomas Smith, 43, remained in the truck after it was struck behind the cab and hurled aside by a Chicago Great Western Railroad freight locomotive. Following local treatment, he was taken to a Rochester hospital. The truck, lying on the north side of the east-west tracks, is pointed in the direction from which it came. Smith had been driving north across the crossing which sheriff's officers said had limited visibility. The train, traveling about 20 miles an hour, was moving toward the point where the photo was taken. (Photo by Lamar Fort)

HIS SISTER, Mrs. Julius Tschumper, La Crescent Rt. 1, said this morning there were indications he may have suffered a heart attack previous to the accident. He had had a heart attack last summer, she said.

MR. WALTER was born Oct. 30, 1924, in the Town of La Crescent, son of Joseph and Barbara Schneckedecker Walter. He attended St. Peter's parochial school at Hokah.

He served overseas with the U. S. Army in World War II. He lived a short time in La Crosse following the war and later on La Crescent Rt. 1.

He was married to Irene Olson of La Crosse 16 years ago.

Survivors are: His wife; five children between 9 and 15, including three daughters, Cheryl, Dawn and Patricia, and two sons, Ricky and Joseph; his mother, Mrs. Barbara Walter, Hokah, and two sisters, Mrs. Julius (Marie) Tschumper, La Crescent, and Mrs. Helen (Clarence) Schmitz, La Crosse. His father died in 1941.

The funeral service will be Tuesday at 10 a.m. at Schumacher Funeral Home, La Crosse, the Rev. Michael Kusile of St. Peter's Catholic Church, Hokah, officiating. Burial will be in Mt. Calvary Cemetery, Hokah.

He was not thrown and there was no blood in the car, she said.

There were no skid marks behind the vehicle as it jumped the curb, traveled 126 feet along the shoulder and crashed into the three three feet in diameter, Captain R. W. Loeffler of the La Crosse police department said.

Gerald Johnson and Donald Schoenfeld, patrolmen, investigated. The car crashed, which hit the tree head-on, was a total wreck. The accident happened on a straight stretch of concrete.

Council to Hear Housing Code

City Council members will unwrap a large package of pre-holiday work at their regular meeting at City Hall at 7:30 p.m. today.

A comprehensive housing ordinance, prepared by the city attorney and department heads will be read for the first time. Passage of such a code is one of the requirements laid down by the federal government for issuance of a certificate for a workable program of community improvement. The city must be so certified to qualify for federal redevelopment funds, should it undertake such a project.

Bids for purchase of city gasoline supplies in 1964 also will be submitted.

Do Indians 'Own' Black River Area?

The Medawak-Anton band of Sioux Indians has interest in some 800,000 acres of land across the Mississippi River from Winona, according to an order issued by the U. S. Court of Claims.

The court Friday reversed an earlier order of the Indian Claims Commission, which excluded this territory from the area ceded by the Sioux to the United States by the treaty of Sept. 29, 1837.

The commission had ruled that the Sioux had title to the area, but held that the 800,000 acres, known as the Black River area, were not included in the cession. This opinion was based on the commission's conception of the eastern boundary of the 1837 cession.

The court, ruled Friday, however, that the commission had erred in not including the land. It returned the case to the commission with instructions to amend its order, originally issued Jan. 12, 1962, to include the Black River area.

The commission had ruled earlier that the Indians owned some 30 million acres of land which they had ceded to the government. It will begin hearings in June to determine the value of this land, plus the 800,000 acres which were added Friday.

Can America hold its lead?

Yes... if we train enough leaders for the job. Leaders are needed to keep us ahead in science and development... business and jobs... living standards.

Where do we get leaders? Colleges supply most of them. But the cost of leadership has gone up. Colleges feel the pinch. They need classrooms, laboratories, able teachers.

To help America, we must help our colleges. College is America's best friend.

Remember the Lonely at Christmas

It will be a lonely Christmas for Mrs. Dora Thompson, Galesville, instead of the happy one planned with her only daughter and grandchildren in the state of Arkansas. She slipped on the icy street last week and cracked a bone in her right arm. The cast is too awkward to manage the bus trip, she says.

William Byrne, Galesville, will be spending Christmas at Oak Forest Sanitarium, Onalaska.

Mrs. Mattie Hollinger, Galesville, is still bothered by the broken hip she received this fall.

Other Galesville people who might appreciate a card of cheer from friend or stranger this Christmas season are: George Kells, Mrs. Gus Apel, Mrs. Hannah Neeker and John Zahorik.

FOLKS AT the Elmeroft Rest Home, Galesville, whose spirits would be lifted with cards, are Richard Mulder, William Rezab, Mrs. Felix Malchanski, Anton Anderson, Jack Pluberty and Hans Madison.

Clarence Sherman and Sylvia Peterson are at the Golden Age Home, Whitehall.

Mrs. Milfred Beardley's address is in care of Elmer Daulton, Galesville.

Blair folks who'd like to share in the card shower might be Mrs. Clara Olson of Blair Rest Home and Mrs. C.T. Hanson.

THE ONLY HOME for the aged and the only rest home in Arcadia, Wis., is on the third floor at St. Joseph's Hospital. The following folks there might like a bit of Christmas cheer:

Mrs. Elizabeth Krubich, Mrs. Victoria Jlek, Miss Tena Kirkhofer, Miss Maggie Loretz, Miss Lena Barry, Henry Pape, Olaf Amundson, George Shonkey, Frank Gamroh, Mrs. Agnes Bach, Mrs. Elsie Hohmann, Mrs. Mary Clower, Mr. and Mrs. William Waters, Mrs. Anna Hinke, Mrs. Mary Knudson, Edwin Grover, Mrs. Katherine Kampa, Mrs. Lena Danuser, Mrs. Susan Salway, Lena Edelbach, Mrs. Mary Pierzina, Miss Lena Scholdon, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Kokenge, Mrs. Josephine Crampton, Mrs. Anna Schindler, Mrs. Sophia Tempka, Edward Servais, Sr., Irwin Wolfe, and John Puchalla.

AT BUFFALO Memorial Nursing Home, 211 N. Eau Claire St., Mondovi, there are 10 shut-ins who may be lonely at Christmas.

Among them is Adam Safford, the oldest, who will be 90 Dec. 23.

Adam has no relatives except a distant cousin who lives some distance away.

Wouldn't a birthday card shower for him be a friendly gesture?

There are the other shut-ins at the nursing home: Otto Johnson, Mrs. Belle Krumpel, Theodore Boger, Anton Bergh, Arthur Bolles, Mrs. Elizabeth Koerig, Mrs. Leona Bollinger, Mrs. Igna Bloom and Mrs. Helen Gribbon.

You won't have any cards left over this year if you make people like the following happy with a greeting:

Mrs. Cyril Kulas, Fountain City, Wis.
Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kulas, Sr., Trempealeau, Wis.
Theresa Wener, Trempealeau, Wis.

It Happened Last Night

Pat Is Giving Dick 'Status'

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Nowadays when a $25,000 powder room is one of the favorite extravaganzas of the New York Status Symbol Set, it's interesting that Mrs. Richard Nixon has spent several thousand $ (probably less than $5,000) for her ladies' retiring room in the new Nixon manège on Fifth Av. next door to Gov. Nelson Rockefeller & "Happy."

"It would seem to indicate that Mrs. Nixon is expecting a very high class group using her powder room," I was told.

Mrs. Nixon went personally to see fancy bathroom designer Sherle Wagner. Moving in the same league with the King of Morocco, the Maharane of Baroda, Burt Lancaster, Bob Hope and Debbie Reynolds, Mrs. Nixon ordered some "acanthus" design gold faucets. In a bargain-hunting mood, she made clear she didn't want anything "expensive." (The cheapest faucets are about $150.)

The conclusion is that Mrs. Nixon is leaving nothing, but nothing, returned to give her husband "Status." Barbara Hut-ton, Mrs. Vincent Astor, the David Sarnoffs, Frank Sinatra and others have been known to have guests come in and look at the powder room first. Some guests so love the bathroom they never leave it.

Sen. Goldwater's Sherle Wagner bathroom is considerably more grandiose than Mrs. Nixon's.

FANCY BATHROOMS don't always win fair lady. A wealthy man in Miami Beach, showed his bathroom to a fashion magazine photographer, said to the photog, "Pardon me if I'm not myself today. My wife has just run away with the chauffeur." As the Greenwich Village beatnik explained to his girl friend, "Pardon the appearance of my room. My mother came to see me, and, to being a square, she cleaned it." "A beautiful woman's one you notice; a charming woman's one who notices you." (Aldi Stevenson)

HARRIS SURVEY

Public for Russ Trade

By LOUIS HARRIS

In negotiating with the Russians, President Johnson will be limited by American public opinion as well as by considerations of national security.

In a survey of a carefully-selected cross-section of this country, the people indicate in sharp and unmistakable terms just what the limits of public opinion are as to United States dealings with the Russians.

The American public favors widespread cultural exchanges with the Russians, is willing to sell food and consumer goods, is clearly opposed to joint scientific projects and overwhelmingly rejects any deals which would remotely enhance Soviet military capabilities.

First, people were asked how they felt about the exchange of musicians and artists and also about exchanging students:

Galesville Woman Found Ill, Alone

GALESVILLE, Wis. (Special) — After suffering a light stroke so affecting her speech that she couldn't call for help, Mrs. William Mack, Galesville, was discovered on her bathroom floor Saturday at 3:30 p.m. Mrs. Mack lives in an upstairs apartment of her home on the lower table. The Victor Olsons, who live in the lower apartment, work away from home and didn't think it was unusual they didn't hear Mrs. Mack in her apartment because she also works; she is a practical nurse caring for an elderly person in Winona.

A visitor at Olson's insisted Mrs. Mack must be home. Virginia, daughter of the Olsons, found her lying helpless. She was taken to St. Francis Hospital, La Crosse. Her brother, Edward Jacobs, Galesville, reported Sunday she is improving satisfactorily.

It is estimated she lay on the floor at least 14 hours. She remembered retiring but didn't recall going to the bathroom.

It is at the point of sharing jointly in scientific information or cooperative ventures into outer space that the American people firmly draw the line.

Implicit, of course, is the fear that such action would be aiding and abetting Russian military power.

This deep concern over not helping Russia in any way that could lead to military assistance emerged most sharply of all when people were asked how they felt about selling the Russians such items as machine tools and computers or letting them have U.S. jet planes for commercial use:

In the direct area of selling Russians equipment that might have a military application, the American people are adamant and nearly unanimous in opposition.

The idea of taking cautious first steps toward peace has recently taken hold in this country, but the lesson of dealing from strength at all times with the Russians is indelibly stamped on American public opinion.

Many Write to Mrs. Johnson

By MARTHA COLE Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some wrote in the spidery script of the old.

Children enclosed pictures of their dogs. Some offered their prayers, and others sent copies of the services in their churches for the dead president.

The letters started coming to Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson just a few days after President John F. Kennedy was killed and Lyndon B. Johnson became president.

The mail for the new First Lady has been running about 500 to 600 letters a day, the White House says. It has no cumulative total, because the letters have been going, too, to the Johnsons' old home.

In general, the letters are expressions of sorrow for the tragedy that took the life of a president and words of encouragement for the new First Family.

One Texas judge told President and Mrs. Johnson there is "great sorrow in our hearts for President Kennedy and his fine family, but we look to the future with confidence under your calm leadership."

In her replies, Mrs. Johnson has told her good wishers— "These have been anguished days for all of us. The good wishes and confidence of people all over the world have sustained us through these trying times."

"The thoughtful good wishes of so many people have been most reassuring."

"How thoughtful of you to write me in the days of anguish."

It is her practice never to begin a letter with "I."

At first, it seemed, people just wanted to write Mrs. Johnson about the tragedy and their good wishes for her. Some told her not to take the time to reply.

In the past week, they've show a curiosity about the new First Family—where does the family eat dinner? Where do the dogs sleep? Requests for pictures of Mrs. Johnson and her two daughters, Lynda Bird, 19, and Lucy Baines, 16.

The girls are getting mail, too, and handling as much as they can themselves.

When a member of Mrs. Johnson's staff can handle the ques-ries and requests, that is done. Mrs. Johnson likes to see as much mail as she can. Sometimes she can tell an aide. "Answer this one this way." At other times she dictates the answer herself.

Every morning she signs about 200 letters.

Johnson Calls Top Aides in On Budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson summoned five top aides to the White House today for a conference on the budget he will send to Congress next month.

Called to the late morning session were Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon, Budget Director Kermit Gordon, Undersecretary of State George W. Ball, Director David E. Bell of the Agency for International Development and Deputy Secretary of Defense Roswell L. Gilpatric.

The President's schedule called also for ceremonial signing of a bill to authorize $1,195,000,000 in federal aid for construction of college classrooms, laboratories and libraries, and a luncheon with FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover.

Conviction in Alabama Case Is Overturned

WASHINGTON (AP) The Supreme Court overturned today contempt convictions of two officials of the National States Rights party, an Alabama segregationist group.

In an unusual twist in the integration struggle, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People had — on principle — joined the segregationists in fighting the convictions.

The NAACP was concerned that its own activities might be put under a disadvantage if the convictions stood up in the case of the segregationists.

The Supreme Court's decision was announced in a brief, unsigned order. Dr. Edward R. Fields, information director of the National States Rights party, and Robert Lyons, youth organizer for the group, were convicted of contempt on the ground they violated an injunction against distributing handbills and holding a rally in Fairfield, Ala.

Pitcher John Tsiouris turned in two two-hitters and a pair of three-hitters for Cincinnati last season, all after July 1.

NOW...and from now on... you can buy a new Studebaker with complete confidence!

Today we can clear the air.

Back in October the rumor started—and spread like wildfire that Studebaker was going out of the auto business. Matter of fact, some of us even began to believe it.

But, in spite of this vicious threat of buying an "orphan," almost half of all those having the nerve to come in and test-drive the '64 Studebaker bought it. This is unheard-of—even in normal times—with people now shopping two, three and four makes before buying.

These people bought the '64 Studebaker because of very obvious qualities—superior qualities that almost anyone can see and feel in one single test-drive.

But, as Studebaker's President told the press just last week, "The one thing killing us was the rumor—and because of it, fewer and fewer people would even step into the car and drive it."

That rumor can now be squelched completely. Studebaker management has stated, positively—in the press, over television and radio—that Studebaker is staying in the automobile business. This year... next year... and years to come!

As always, there will be complete continuity of parts and service for all Studebaker owners... present and future. And the kind of honest, experienced, personalized service for which Studebaker dealers have always been known.

The only real difference is that future production will be concentrated in Studebaker's own modern plant in Hamilton, Ontario—just 66 miles from Buffalo. This highly efficient plant has always made the same identical cars as all Studebaker owners have long enjoyed. It is geared perfectly for Studebaker's high quality production standards, and future volume.

WHAT DOES THIS MEAN TO YOU...RIGHT NOW?

There's no hiding the fact that many, many people have been hesitating about Studebaker. And most of us now have a heavier-than-usual inventory of brand new '64 models that we must move rapidly. We must do this in order to get a proper balance between dealer and factory inventories—and as soon as possible.

If you happen to be one of those who have already considered Studebaker—but have been hesitating—come on in!

Or—if you've already shopped two or three other low-priced cars, shop Studebaker, too.

Right now, today, you can make the buy of a lifetime—and buy with all the confidence in the world! COME ON IN!

New York Adopts Unsafe Tire Law

THE FIRST law regulating unsafe tires goes into effect in New York State Jan. 1. It forbids the use of bald or unsafe tires, which elsewhere are permitted at the driver's own risk. The new regulation may prove to be the prototype for tire safety laws in all 50 states.

The law is designed to reduce accidents caused by poor tires. In addition to a visual inspection, it provides for scientific measurement of tread depth. A tire with less than 2-32 of an inch tread must be rejected as unsafe. Unofficial industry standards specify that tread may be worn to 1/32 of an inch before the tire is considered unsafe.

Safety-minded commercial fleet operators have long used a simple tread measurement gauge to determine the life remaining in tires. Readings are taken in the center groove at two points 15 inches or more apart. In addition to tread depth, a tire may be rejected for broken or cut fudge, blowout patch or boot, any bump, bulge or knot related to structural failure, or exposure of ply or cord.

TIME WAS when anything which would hold air made a suitable tire for short trip travel. But the advent of sleek, new super highways and interstate throughways with minimum speed limits, and the perfection of automobiles that travel faster than a mile a minute have changed the demands placed on tires. Where once the driver traveling on thin tires was risking only his own neck, today he risks the lives of hundreds of people on a crowded highway.

In Minnesota, the driver is still responsible for making his own tire check. There is no law which sets the safety standard for him, but common sense demands a standard. Careful testing of your own tires could save a lot in life, limb and property.

Educational Bill Boost for Colleges

APPROVAL OF a bill allocating $1.2 billion to help the nation's colleges and universities, of which Winona has three, build additional classroom space may turn out to be one of the best investments Congress ever made. This judgment is based on two basic facts.

One of these facts is the inexorable rise in college enrollments. The post-war babies are just beginning to come to maturity. As the tide rises, there will be a corresponding increase in pressure on both faculty and physical plant in institutions of higher learning.

Faculty is the more important of the two, and also the most difficult to increase. But Congress has always been reluctant, and continues to be reluctant, to help by boosting salaries. Its action on construction aid will contribute greatly, however, to the strengthening of higher education.

THE VITAL importance of this strengthening process is the second of the basic facts mentioned above. Higher education has always been a significant element in this country's growth. Its role in our continuing progress is more important now than ever before. It will become more, rather than less, important in the future. It is absolutely essential that higher education be vigorous. The bill enacted by Congress after long delay is a big step toward assuring this.

That is the bare bones of the matter. Though some Americans may still have doubts as to the philosophy of government aid to colleges, circumstances compel action. The importance of giving higher education a helping hand just now outweighs the usual reservations about such aid.

Former President Herbert Hoover regales fishing companions with the story of an angler who loved to boast of his phenomenal catches to increasingly skeptical acquaintances. Enraged by their thinly veiled insinuations that he was a liar, he bought a pair of scales, installed them in his library and made his friends watch while he actually weighed the fish he had caught.

One evening a neighbor burst in and excitedly sought permission to borrow the scale. He was back in ten minutes, his cheeks flushed with delight. "Congratulations!" he cried. "I'm the father of a forty-eight pound baby boy!"

HOW DO YOU STAND, SIR?

Fulbright Rubs Issue Wrong Way

By SEN. BARRY GOLDWATER

Many Americans, I believe, were heartened by President Johnson's actions with regard to French President Charles De Gaulle.

When the latter was in Washington to attend the funeral of the late President John F. Kennedy, Mr. Johnson went out of his way to hold a 40-minute conference with the French leader and to encourage Gen. De Gaulle to make another visit to the United States next year.

The image certainly was one of improved relations between Washington and Paris at a time of crucial importance to the United States. And because of it, many Americans, who have been uneasy over the touchy French-American relations, were encouraged to believe that a new era in those relations might be at hand in the near future.

This being the case, the recent statements of Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.) on this subject struck a particularly discordant note.

Goldwater

IN A RADIO broadcast intended for world-wide use by the Voice of America, Sen. Fulbright went out of his way to widen the old breach between Washington and Paris by singling General De Gaulle for particular abuse. He termed the French President a "very disruptive influence" in the Western alliance and went on to complain that De Gaulle had been "unnecessarily offensive" to Britain and the United States.

Sen. Fulbright's complaint was that Gen. De Gaulle had made what he termed "a contemptuous reference to the Anglo-Saxons as though they were a species beneath notice."

The remarks to which Sen. Fulbright took exception were made months ago. In fact, they were made way last January when President De Gaulle rejected Britain's entry into the European Common Market and President Kennedy's offer of nuclear cooperation.

JUST WHY Sen. Fulbright felt that recent weekend was the appropriate time to renew our differences with the French chief executive is difficult to understand. This becomes even more difficult to understand when it is realized that, as chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, Senator Fulbright speaks with more authority than an ordinary member of the Senate. In the past, for example, comments of the powerful Foreign Relations chairman have been taken as coming almost directly from the White House.

In commenting on the French president, Senator Fulbright took it upon himself to express doubts over whether President Johnson will be able to do very much with the French leader. Ironically enough, Senator Fulbright said at the same time that Mr. Johnson has a better than even chance of becoming a great President because of his leadership experience in the Senate. He stressed in particular President Johnson's ability to get along with people and to get people to work with him.

IT STRIKES me that President Johnson would have a much better chance of getting along with the French and of repairing the disarray that has characterized the Atlantic community in recent months if the Senate Foreign Relations chairman would stop muddying the waters with ill-timed remarks about French President De Gaulle.

There is great need at this particular time for improving our relations with all Western European countries, and especially with the French. Many Americans took the action of General De Gaulle in coming to President Kennedy's funeral as an indication that he is ready to ease the tensions which have strained relations between Washington and Paris for almost a year.

IT WOULD be unfortunate if the remarks of the Senate Foreign Relations chairman should have the effect of undoing any good that might have resulted from the Johnson-De Gaulle conference. In any event, it was an ill-considered risk to take at this time. How do you stand, sir?

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Army Investigators Cross Wires With FBI

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Lack of cooperation between the FBI and the Secret Service, which may have contributed to the tragedy of Dallas, isn't the only area where there is investigative friction.

On J. Edgar Hoover's desk recently has been a study of overlapping jurisdiction between the FBI and the criminal investigation division of the Army, with Hoover wanting to take over all of CID's work in the continental United States.

The Defense Department has opposed this, argues that the military are better able to police and investigate their own security problems. It also suggests that the FBI might be getting too big without adding more duties.

Pearson

The FBI-CID jurisdictional conflict came up as a result of the suicide of Sgt. Jack Dunlap, the man accused of selling secrets from the National Security Agency at Ft. Meade to the Russians.

Both the FBI and CID were shadowing Dunlap, but both let him commit suicide though they were within 500 feet of him when he stopped on the road, hooked a hose to his exhaust, and brought it into the car where he sat with the windows closed.

It's reported that in this case both the FBI and CID were under orders not to interfere with any suicide attempt, in order to avoid a sensational trial which would upset Senate ratification of the test ban treaty. This report, however, has not been confirmed.

WHAT HAS been confirmed is that sometime last May Dunlap became conscience-stricken over what he had done and made his first suicide attempt. It was then that the Defense Department became suspicious and called in the FBI and CID. During every minute from that point on Dunlap was shadowed. No arrest was made, in order to try to catch him in actual contact with Red agents. He was not able to re-establish contact. Presumably his Russian employers knew about the suicide attempt and figured he was under surveillance.

Meanwhile, Dunlap, a high liver, got short of cash and became desperate. He sold his fancy $1,500 boat for $200. He lost a lot of money at the track and rolled up debts.

Finally, he made his second and this time successful suicide attempt, with FBI and CID agents virtually looking on.

SINCE THEN the FBI has been pressing to have all criminal intelligence for the Defense Department, within the USA, turned over to J. Edgar Hoover. The file on Dunlap has been transferred to Hoover.

Note—One piece of information Dunlap gave the Russians was the exact U.S. build-up in Florida and the Caribbean waters before the Oct. 22, 1962, showdown with Moscow over Russian missiles in Cuba. Ironic fact, however, was that Kennedy wanted Khrushchev to get this information, and purposely leaked it through the British, so Khrushchev would realize we weren't bluffing. Russian agents paid Dunlap around $50,000 for the information. They could have saved the money.

KEN O'CONNELL, JFK's efficient appointment secretary, has been asked by LBJ to continue on in the White House. However, Ken doesn't have his heart in his work. . . . On the same day Prof. Linus Pauling of Cal Tech was receiving his second Nobel prize in Oslo, John J. McCone, who tried to get Pauling fired from Cal Tech, was briefing President Johnson on Central Intelligence.

Pauling was given the Nobel peace prize for exactly the same thing McCone tried to get him fired for—namely, urging a test ban treaty. McCone was then a West Coast businessman and regent of Cal Tech. Now, he's head of Central Intelligence and supposed to have farsighted judgment.

TODAY IN NATIONAL AFFAIRS

Right to Rule Airwaves Hit

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — One of the most dangerous tendencies nowadays is the inclination to deal with any inconvenience in the life of the nation by saying: "Let the government take care of it." Yet this is the way indifference builds up that can lead eventually to destruction of individual initiative and enterprise in the community.

The latest example of this trend is the announced determination of the Federal Communications Commission to regulate what shall be presented to the people on radio or television. No such power is really granted under the Constitution to any governmental agency. The FCC insists it is not applying censorship but merely fixing "standards," yet the very word furnishes a device for governmental intrusion whenever it pleases. A subcommittee of the House Commerce Committee has just approved a bill to prohibit the commission from wielding any such power, but the FCC is holding hearings nevertheless in the belief that it does have this authority.

Just now the controversy is centering on how many "commercials" can be used in connection with a given program. Of this, this might seem a plausible regulation. The average person doesn't like to have his radio or TV programs interrupted so much and, on the surface, it would appear logical that the FCC should have control over "commercials." But those who acquiesce in the use of such authority haven't stopped to examine just what is involved, especially the possibility that television and radio can be materially weakened by governmental intervention.

IF THERE are too many "commercials," for instance, the public has the right to decline to listen to them, and the advertisers could soon discover that they are not getting the sales results they anticipated. This is the natural way for the subject to be dealt with under a free-enterprise system. Newspapers and other publications have sometimes been faced with complaints about too much advertising and too little reading matter, but have found their own solutions on the basis of what makes for effective advertising as well as what makes for consistent reading of the publication themselves.

If, however, the government is to step in and regulate media of expression, the responsibility for a business failure that may ensue is not going to be assumed by the government. It is the business itself which will have to bear the expense and the losses when it finds itself with reduced profits and diminished opportunities adequately to compensate its employees. A business that has to adjust its operations to the response of the public is likely in the long run to be better able to serve the people than one which has to tailor its operations to suit governmental whims.

THE "COMMERCIALS" which sustain a radio or television program furnish the money to pay for the over-all cost of the talent, the cost of the various stations and their personnel, and the cost of the services of the many individuals employed in the actual production of shows. The whole operation involves the delicate question of price-making by the broadcasting companies.

The American people have steered clear of price control except in wartime. To tell the radio or TV stations how many "commercials" they can carry is in reality to fix prices. It means that, instead of the cost being spread over several advertisers, it will have to be borne by a smaller number who will have less frequency and less time on the air and pay a higher price. This may force TV and radio advertisers to turn to other media which may become more economical.

This constitutes governmental interference with price-making by a private enterprise. It negates the principle back of the whole free-enterprise system. It is argued, of course, that radio and TV are different, because the air waves are controlled by the government. But this is tantamount to saying that, because the government builds the highways, it may determine how often certain cars can use such thoroughfares or at what prices the goods transported thereon are to be sold. It implies that, because the government controls the air waves, it can decide whether they shall be used for music or drama or comedy and to what extent each form of entertainment shall be allowable.

IF THE government is to take over everything connected with the air waves just because it was originally given the power to prevent collision of frequencies or to regulate mechanical operations on the air due to the limited number of wave lengths, then in the end government control can be envisaged for every form of publication — including the printed word — on the theory that the government transports the publications in the mails. Public indifference is the usual reason why government gets deeper and deeper in control of private enterprise.

He discussed the big business competition the small farmer faces.

"The small farmer can't export his butter or milk to foreign countries himself, Zeddes said. "He needs help from his cooperatives.

"The farmer can't depend on government or political organizations to do the job for him. But he can do a lot working with cooperatives and helping his cooperatives become a strong organization by marketing his products and buying his supplies through them."

TV Tower At Galesville

MADISON, Wis. — Circuit Judge Richard W. Bardwell upheld today the Wisconsin Aeronautics Commission's approval of a 1,629 foot television tower by WKBT-TV of La Crosse near Galesville.

In approving the tower, which would be the tallest in the state, Bardwell rejected a suit filed by four Eau Claire pilots who contended the structure would be a hazard to aviation.

The commission granted WKBB-TV, Inc., operator of WKBB-TV, La Crosse, permission to build the tower Dec. 16, 1962.

Construction is well under way. Pilots Willard C. Pire, Paul R. Giles, Darrell W. Gibson and Richard Hense brought action in Dane County Circuit Court. They claimed the tower would be hazardous for visual flights between Minneapolis and Chicago and between Eau Claire and La Crosse.

FAMOUS UNIVERSAL Gifts For Her

DEAR ABBY:

A Meeting's In Order

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I married a woman who is "club happy." She joins everything she can get into — accepts offices, volunteers for committees and goes like a house afire six days a week. She keeps a date book in her purse and schedules herself for every hour. We have very little home life because she never has time to cook a meal or to spend an evening at home. Our phone rings constantly with her club business and she thinks this is popularity. When night comes she is so keyed up she has to take pills to sleep. Any suggestions?
HER HUSBAND

Abby

DEAR HUSBAND: Make an appointment with her for an emergency "State-Of-The-Family" meeting. Let the first order of business be your list of complaints with regard to her clubbing your marriage to a pulp. Only when she realizes that you won't stand for it will she ease off. Otherwise, YOU had better resign yourself to being last on her agenda forever.

DEAR ABBY: How about this? My brother's wife phoned me and said, "We have some Christmas gifts for you and your family. Come and get them." They have a car, too, and they live less than ten minutes from us. I just said, "Thank you," and never picked them up. Now she is mad anyway. What would you have done?
STUBBORN

DEAR STUBBORN: If you had been sincere in not wanting "bad feelings," you should have picked up the gifts and kept quiet.

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter, who is 14, was invited to a slumber party at a girl friend's house. There were 12 girls in all. Some boys crashed the party. As we understand it, the girls let them in and seemed to enjoy their company, but later on they got rowdy and more boys came, and the police had to be called. We later learned that the parents of the girl who gave the party did not sleep at home. They slept at some friend's home so the girls could have an extra bedroom. Our daughter is invited to another slumber party. Her father says she can't go. I say, if we call the mother of the girl who's giving it and she says they will be home, it's all right. Our daughter says if we call the mother it will be like saying we don't trust her. What do you say?
CONCERNED

DEAR CONCERNED: I say your daughter is lucky she didn't get a flat NO from both you and her Dad. I would not permit her to go unless I had the assurance of the mother that the parents would be at home. And even then, I'd think twice.

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Pilot Whales At Palo Verda

PONTE VEDRA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Just as they did three or four years ago, pilot whales returned Sunday to Palo Verda Beach. Most of them perished on the sand.
Roy Landrum, St. Johns County deputy sheriff, said 150 whales were reported on the three-mile stretch of beach. He said some weighed as much as a ton and measured up to 16 feet.

Three young whales, weighing about 300 pounds each and measuring 6 feet, and two of 800-1,000 pounds each and 12-14 feet, were rescued by crews from Marineland of Florida.
Bob Dahne of Marineland said there are several theories as to why pilot whales come ashore. One is that their sonar devices ricochet off shallow, sloping beaches and confuse them. Another is that they are chased ashore by killer sharks. Pilot whales are so called because they follow a male leader.

Memorial Rites For Air Victims Held in Field

ELKTON, Md. (AP)—In a frozen cornfield covered with snow, about 100 friends and relatives and three clergymen held a memorial service Sunday for 31 persons killed in a jet liner crash.
The simple ceremony was conducted about 50 yards from the place where the Pan American jet crashed in flames a week ago Sunday night.

Boone Orders Crockett Jailed

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Daniel Boone ordered Davy Crockett jailed.
Mrs. Crockett swore out a warrant Sunday night against her husband, David Tidwell Crockett, 52, of Nashville, charging him with drunkenness.
Judge Daniel Boone of General Sessions Court refused bail.

Man Found Dead In S.D. Cabin

SIoux FALLS, S.D. (AP)—Eliacuth O. Loken, formerly of Lankin, N.D., was found dead in his cabin home here Sunday, apparently of asphyxiation. Ed Jorgenson, Loken's landlord, said gas stove burners were lit. Coroner H. L. Bunz estimated the man had been dead two days.

By GRETCHEN L. LAMBERTON

IN case you need a few more ideas for Christmas gifts here are a few gleaned from ads in papers or mail order catalogs. For your dog: For $3 apiece you can get foam-backed plastic place mats for your dog or cat to keep the dish from slipping. They come in blue or red cat or dog designs and bear the name of your pet. For $7.98 there is an electric dog-dryer kit that looks like a plastic rain coat that you slip over your dog after a bath. For large dogs you pay a dollar more.

Then for $3.50 you can get a "personalized pin-striped plastic dog collar" shaped like a man's come-to-Jesus collar. There are two kinds of spray-liquid for dogs. For $2 you get a spray that makes a newspaper or corner so attractive to a dog that he will always seek out this particular spot and is house-broken in no time at all. For $1 you buy an evil-smelling (to dogs) spray that will repel dogs from any spot you wish to keep them out of. A New York store sells false eye lashes for dogs at $3.95. And special low-placed doorbells for dogs to use are priced at $3.98.

Typifying this age of violence there is a pocket-siren alarm that emits a continuous ear-splitting shriek that can be heard for 5 blocks. It costs $2.79. For only $1.98 you can get a little plastic squirt bottle that you squeeze and blind your attacker with some chemical that also stains him bright red. Or if you're feeling plush you can purchase — for $19.95 — a life-sized "6-foot handsome gunman that will shoot it out with you. Wears gun belt with two .45 trigger-action guns. An electronic eye and split-second timer shows who's the winner and who's dead. Mr. Outlaw also talks back to you in side-splitting comments over electronic tape-speaker system."

A few luxury items: A synthetic 7-foot potted gardenia tree at $150. "Hers" and "His" bed pillows — a cerulean mink one at $299 for "her" and a Somali leopard one for "Him" at $444. A "Sea Shark" model fiberglass submarine for $1495, and a deluxe model for $2495. A "Whirlybird Kit" for building your own helicopter costs only $495. The catch: "This Whirlybird operates like a glider — no FAA license needed to fly it. Later you can buy your own standard 72-horse power aircraft engine."

The human ingenuity and energy wasted on looney gifts never ceases to amaze me. There is a pocket-size blow torch, a telephone that plays soothing music for you if you have to wait; an electric back-scratcher. And an electric "hula wiggle dancer to decorate the dashboard of your car."

You can buy a green spray that sprays your lawn bright green, or an artificial carpet of flowers to make a fake flowerbed. Or a pen that writes in luminous ink for writing in the dark. You can get an "atomic whisky bottle" that will jump, kick and shake when touched. ($4.99).

Or a tiny jeweled tie clasp shaped like a pistol that "will go off with the roar of a full-sized gun". So, don't say I haven't tried to help you baffled shoppers.

Brain Outpaces Any Computer

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D.
Professor of Education
University of Southern California

Let me give you some examples.

Don't let computers give you an inferiority complex, even if one as been designed to locate a particular document among two million in one second!

You as a student, while reciting and taking examinations, are constantly tracking down bits of information from all the millions or billions of items in your memory. You get instantaneous answers because your brain is more efficient and complex than any computer.

The success of the computer is dependent on the thoroughness with which each item is keyed on the punched card.

A SUFFICIENT number of characteristics is indicated on each card so that all cards not having a certain combination can be eliminated by the machine at great speed.

Just how your brain does its sorting is of course still largely a mystery. But we do know that successful students make use of a multiple mental index system in studying for examinations. Each fact is associated with not just one, but several, related ideas.

When studying physiology (or any life science) a student must be able to recall the names of hundreds of individual parts. He should picture each part in relation to its location in his own body, think of the function of that part, consider those parts that are next to it, and think of its shape, texture and any other information with which he can associate it.

IN STUDYING history, each event should be pictured in the location where it happened, perhaps with the characters in costume, at the same time thinking of why the event occurred. What purpose was involved? The time of the happening should be visualized in its place on a time line.

In learning a foreign language vocabulary, a new word should be studied until the mental picture of its meaning appears automatically and without the use of English when a student sees the word printed, writes the word and hears it.

Every student has this fantastic device—the brain—at his command if he will but use it with reasonable efficiency.

Stained Glass Window Program Given for Guild

"The Story of the Window," a tape recording by Mrs. Odell Prather, stained glass artist from Philadelphia, was presented by Dr. E. Clayton Burgess at the meeting of the Wesleyan Service Guild Thursday evening. The window is one which will be in the sanctuary of the newly constructed Central Methodist Church. From the model of the stained glass window, which Mrs. Prather had built to scale, Dr. Burgess pointed out the various symbols which Mrs. Prather in her recording related to scripture.

A Christmas story, which had its setting in Hungary, titled "Triptych of the Three Kings" by Felix Timmermans, was read by Miss Ruth Mary Payne. Miss Viva Tansey read a Scripture passage from the Book of Luke and led in the singing of Christmas hymns. Prayer was offered by Miss Eileen Hewitt. Miss Elsie Santel read Peter Marshall's "Christmas Prayer". Gifts from Wesleyan Service Guild members to be taken by Miss Hewitt to the patients at the Etta-Del Nursing Home in Lewiston were brought to the meeting.

Miss Pauline Utzinger, president, presided at the business session. She announced that there would be a joint meeting with the WSCS in January.

Future Medical Secretaries Attend Workshop

Students training for medical secretaries at the Winona Secretarial School attended a workshop for medical secretaries at the school Friday. The program, under the direction of Mrs. T. C. Bernatz of the medical department, was planned to bring the students preparing for the medical field in personal contact with personnel from the Mayo Clinic, Rochester.

Following the morning workshop classes, a panel discussion was held with members of the staff of the Mayo Clinic talking to the students. A buzz session followed the panel as students made inquiries of particular interest to them.

H. B. VILEN, administration department, talked on various points of interest regarding the administration policies at the clinic. Mr. Vilen stated that the Mayo Clinic is a voluntary association of physicians engaged in the private practice of medicine as an integrated co-ordinated group.

The members of the staff also carry out varied medical research and a large program of medical education through the Mayo Foundation for Medical Education and Research. This three-part program of medical care, graduate medical education, and medical research is conducted only in Rochester, he pointed out.

H. L. Howe, who is associated with the personnel department discussed the organizational make-up of the Mayo Clinic to familiarize the students with the vastness of the largest Medical Clinic in the world.

He related that the Mayo Clinic employs 400 staff doctors, 630 Fellows, and 2,200 non-medical employees. He explained the position of the Fellow at the clinic, duties of the medical secretaries, and other points of interest to the prospective employees.

IN HER TALK to the students, Miss Euna Nelson, director of the Medical Secretaries Training Department at the Mayo Clinic, explained the purpose of her department and the value gained here by each girl in preparing for her particular position.

"Training in this department introduces the new medical secretary to clinical procedures," Miss Nelson said. "On the job development and the ability to add atmosphere in the office are valuable assets to add to the already developed technical knowledge that you have attained in your course of study."

Miss Nelson explained that a girl accepted for work as a medical secretary at the Mayo Clinic must take a four-week period of instruction before she is placed in her respective position.

Under the topic "What Do We Look For," Miss Nelson made five points: attitude, training and background, personality, desire to do a good job, and willingness to spend at least two years as an employe with the clinic.

DEFINITE plans were formulated by the representatives from the Mayo Clinic and Mrs. E. G. Scherneck, director of the Winona Secretarial School for a program of orientation at the clinic for the 40 students in the current program.

Three basic areas would be studied by five or six students a month who would spend a day at the Mayo Clinic. The students would have an opportunity to visit the secretarial instruction section; individually observe a medical secretary complete her day's work in a field of interest to the individual student; visit allied departments to observe duties over and above the duties in a given field.

Plans are being completed to institute this method of orientation in the near future.

In the summation of the discussion of the day, Mr. Howe commended the director of the Winona Secretarial School on the thorough course of instruction provided at the school for those interested in becoming medical secretaries.

Bankruptcy Case Creditors' Meeting Scheduled for Thursday

A United States District Court order has set Thursday as the date for a meeting of creditors in a bankruptcy proceeding involving a Winona firm.

Creditors of Hall-Hafner Floors, a partnership which did business at 159 E. 3rd St., will meet at 1:30 p.m. Thursday at the Olmsted County courthouse, Rochester. They will vote on whether to accept an offer of $423.50 for the firm's inventory, made by a Rochester company.

Other offers, if any, also will be discussed at the meeting, according to the referee, Jacob Dim, St. Paul. Unsecured creditors unable to attend the meeting may vote by mail in advance of the meeting date and may, if desired, submit offers to purchase the stock, Dim said. Any offer must be accompanied by a certified check for 10 percent of the offer.

State Farmers Union Elects Christianson

ST. PAUL (AP) — Minnesota Farmers Union President Edwin Christianson said today strengthening of farm income would more immediately stimulate business than the proposed federal income tax cut.

"We wholeheartedly support the income tax reduction and revision proposal — it will be of genuine help, particularly in the long-run," he said, "but an increase in farm prices and income would be felt right away and it could be done without incurring a further federal budget deficit."

Christianson made the remarks in a speech prepared for the 22nd annual Farmers Union convention tonight but released earlier today.

He said more effective farm programs can be run at less cost under direct payment measures.

Earlier today, Assistant Director Leon A. Schertler of the U. S. Food-for-Peace Program said Minnesota benefits extensively under the plan because it ranks ninth among states in agricultural exports. He said the state income from the program is more than $72 million annually.

Minnesota Atty. Gen. Walter F. Mondale said extensive federal aid to education is needed "if we are to give our children the opportunity to live full social and intellectual lives in today's world, if our democracy is to remain strong and unfettered, if our economic growth is to continue."

The three-day convention opened Sunday night with a memorial address on the late President Kennedy by Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn.

The 2,500 farmer-delegates will be asked to consider a variety of issues in addition to agriculture, including state tuition-free junior colleges and compulsory auto insurance.

Investigation Of Kenyon Election Set

RED WING, Minn. (AP) — The Kenyon village election, in which write-in candidate Glenn Aronson defeated Mayor W.A. Bohan, will be investigated by a Goodhue County grand jury Thursday.

The jury will hear details of alleged violations of the state corrupt practices act, but County Atty. F.H. Watson would not discuss details.

Bohan charged that literature had been circulated election day, Nov. 6, and one pamphlet was posted in a voting place in violation of election laws. He withdrew the charges after Aronson agreed with them and refused to accept the mayoralty.

Bank Debits Decline For Month, Up for '63

Bank debits in Winona during November were down 5 percent from the same month last year, according to a report released today by the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis.

Despite this decline, however, the cumulative figure for the first 11 months of the year remained 2 percent ahead of the comparable figure for 1962.

BANK DEBITS represent the dollar volume of checks drawn by depositors against their bank accounts. Since most of these checks go to pay for local goods and services, the volume is considered to be a fairly reliable indicator of general changes in business volume, the bank points out.

Winona's dollar volume during November was $28,016,000, and debits during the January-November period amounted to $302,938,000.

Minnesota was the only state among the six included in this federal reserve region to show any increase in volume of bank debits in November. The volume was 11 percent higher than last year's. The cumulative total for the first 11 months of 1963 showed a 6 percent increase.

WISCONSIN, along with Montana, showed a decrease during November. Debits in Wisconsin were down 1 percent from the volume for November 1962. The cumulative total, however, showed a 2 percent increase from the comparable 1962 period.

Montana's November volume was down 2 percent, but the cumulative figure showed an increase of 3 percent.

The November volume for 1963 was the same as that for 1962 in Michigan and North and South Dakota. The three states showed increases in the first 11 months of 1963, compared with the same period of 1962.

A detailed report for other communities in Minnesota and Wisconsin follows ($000 omitted):

Johnson Signs College Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson signed today a bill putting the government in partnership with the nation's colleges to help them meet rapidly rising enrollments.

Johnson's pen put an end to a three-year struggle launched by the late President John F. Kennedy to provide federal aid for construction of college classrooms, laboratories and libraries.

The bill that finally reached the White House authorizes a federal outlay of $1,195,000,000 over three years.

2 Wisconsin Men Found Frozen to Death

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS — The frozen bodies of two men were found in separate Wisconsin areas Sunday as the thermometer hovered near the zero mark.

A search party found the body of Walter Johnson, 65, of rural Edmund, in a field about 1,500 feet from his Iowa County farm home. Authorities said Johnson apparently suffered a heart attack after he went into the field to cut wood.

The body of Juan Gonzales, 39, was found between two houses about six blocks from his Milwaukee home. Authorities said he may have frozen to death. An autopsy was ordered. The body was found by two boys.

House of the Week

Home a Builder Designed for Himself

A home builder with 20 years experience in his craft worked closely with an architect to design this home for himself.

Their combined know-how enabled them not only to satisfy the personal needs of the immediate owner but also to produce a design with the two important ingredients amateurs in the field have little way of recognizing: economy of construction and built-in resale value.

BUILDING economy comes primarily from selecting a type of design—side-to-side split level—with a low cost per square foot

TRANSITIONAL SPLIT: Elements of contemporary styling blend with a charming arched portico, shuttered windows and other features of proven popularity to assure top resale value for this attractive four or five-bedroom home. A professional home builder worked with the architect to design the house for his own family.

ratio. The living and bedroom levels contain 2,280 square feet of living area, but beneath the raised bedroom level is an additional 737 square feet of fully ventilated living area which otherwise would be basement space — and this doesn't even include the built-in garage.

Less obvious to the laymen are use of standard lumber lengths, stock pieces, stacked plumbing and other cost-cutting techniques known to someone with an intimate association with the home building industry.

RESALE value results chiefly from the livable and functional layout of the house, plus its durable and low-maintenance materials, and style of architecture.

Architect Rudolph A. Matern describes it as "transitional," containing elements of today's uncluttered contemporary styling but also with features of proven popularity, such as the arched portico and shuttered windows, which will give it charm for years to come.

The house contains up to five bedrooms, arranged for a growing family. One of them has easy access to the master bedroom — ideal for a nursery during the early years of marriage, and which can be converted into a sitting room when the youngsters grow up and leave home.

Similarly, the fifth bedroom on the lower level can even become a rental apartment or professional office. It has its own private rear entrance.

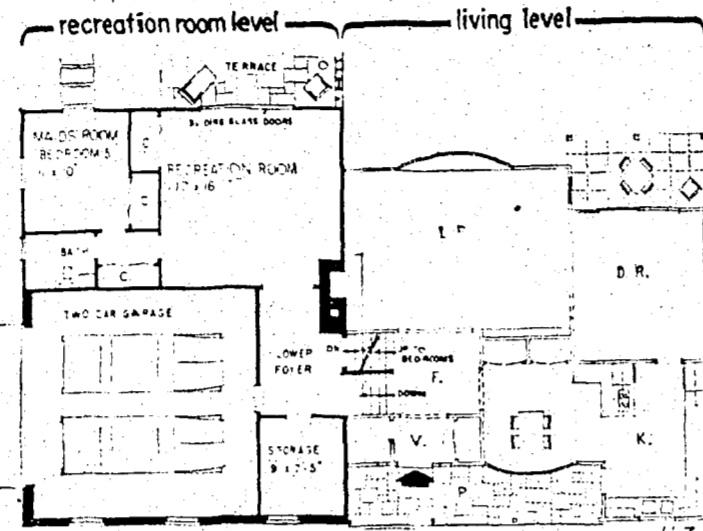

LONG experience taught this builder the practical value of a well designed main entry. Not only is the front door sheltered, but it leads to a vestibule with enormous closet space so that bulky overcoats, umbrellas, galoshes and all the rest can be shed before entering the house proper. If desired, the large closet could be converted into a lavatory.

The foyer thus is left free to perform its main function of funneling traffic to any section of the house — formal living room, informal housekeeping area, bedrooms or recreation area — with any section having to be used as a passageway.

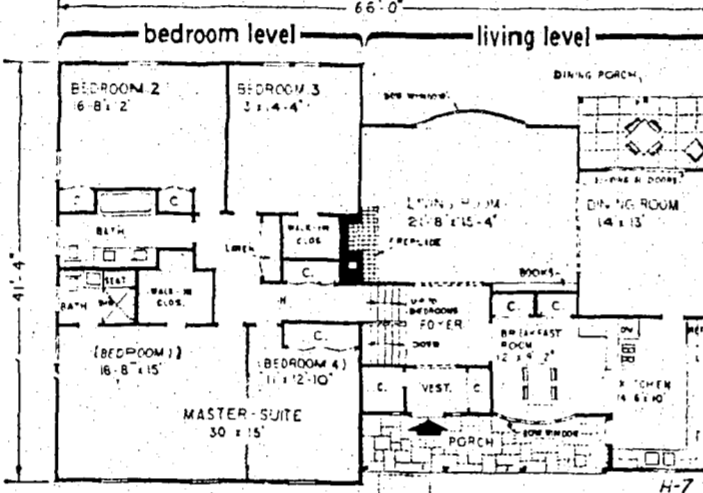

IT DOES this so efficiently that there is no need for a single foot of hall space on the main living level.

The kitchen is ideally placed in the front corner of the house, with the service entrance off the front portico. This is one of the most practical, step-saving features of the housekeeping area.

The ensemble of kitchen and breakfast room also is in keeping with today's informal pattern of living. The breakfast room, since it actually is used more than the formal dining room, is large, equipped with FLOOR PLANS: The living and bedroom levels contain 2,280 square feet of living area; the lower level 737 square feet of bonus space not including the two-car garage. Note the abundance of closet and storage space on all levels of the house.

Tub Caulking Can Improve Appearance

By AP NEWSFEATURES

The motor joints around the top of a bathtub are especially susceptible to the ravages of time because they are constantly under attack from water.

This is especially true if the tub has an overhead shower, which sends water against the walls and down toward the joints.

VARIOUS KINDS of caulking compounds are available for patching such areas, most of them far more effective than those on the market years ago. Before applying the compound, remove all loose mortar, but do not disturb that which is firmly in place.

Use a small brush to dust the crevices thoroughly otherwise the compound will not adhere properly. Be sure, too, that the sections to be repaired are completely dry.

Apply the compound directly from the tube, squeezing it with an even pressure as you move your hand along the joint. Don't worry too much if you don't get the hang of it immediately, since a certain amount of leveling will be necessary in any case.

A WOODEN spatula — or one of those wooden sticks from an ice cream pop — is excellent for the leveling of the joint. Do not attempt this immediately. Wait 30 or 40 minutes until the compound has started to set and you'll get a better result. Dampening the stick sometimes helps in smoothing uneven patches.

A single-edge razor blade will effectively remove compound which slips over onto the wall or the tub.

THE TERMS pre-fab and pre-cut are often used synonymously in discussions of home construction, but the building industry considers them separate techniques.

A pre-fab house is one which is cut and put together in sections which are delivered to the site and assembled there as a complete home. A pre-cut home is one in which the exterior materials are pre-cut before being assembled at the site. In the latter case, therefore, you would have what is generally referred to as a shell home, with the buyer either doing the interior work himself or contracting for it.

Let's Get Growing

Contemplative Gardening

With some of our garden errors of the past season hidden under a blanket of snow, this is a good time to consider the plantings about the yard and in the borders.

In order to derive a proper perspective this should be done before the colored and alluring nursery catalogs begin to arrive. Furthermore, the mind should travel back over the garden in review while the plantings are still fresh in the memory.

Gardening serves as an inspiration to the beginner and, even the experienced grower always feels the urge to try some of the new plant introductions and to alter the layout of the garden from time to time. This is not surprising, since change is the rule in most everything we do, for better or for worse.

We have often made considerable alterations from year to year, even to the extent of completely changing the entire layout of borders. There surely is no reason for continuing on with the old arrangement with the same plants and shrubs. A location might even be found for one of the newer varieties of trees.

HOUSES ARE remodeled, interior alterations are made and new furnishings acquired. Yet, in many instances no improve-

Lone Permit Boosts Volume Over $5 Million

A lone building permit issued during the past week at the city engineer's office has boosted the 1963 dollar volume past the $5 million mark.

The permit was for the construction of a $667,793 gymnasium on the St. Mary's College campus, Terrace Heights. It raised this year's dollar volume to $5,439,283 or more than double last year's volume of $2,614,835 at this time.

P. EARL SCHWAB CO. is contractor for the project. The gymnasium will be a one-story fireproof structure with dimensions of 176 by 175 feet. Heating will be done by the existing steam plant on campus.

The new building, which will be located between Benilde and St. Edwards dormitories and just south of the college library, will have a beige-colored exterior similar to that of the library.

Construction will be of concrete block with steel columns. The exterior will be of random ashlar stone.

Featured inside the gymnasium will be three full size basketball courts and space for other sporting activities. Fold-up bleachers will be in place during games and pushed compactly against the walls when not in use.

'Adding to' Purchase May Be Budget Strain

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Women often are attracted to a house for sentimental reasons. They will jump at the chance to buy a house that has charm and one outstanding feature, and so many other drawbacks that it doesn't even make sense. Sometimes there isn't even room for the family.

"We can always add to it," are famous last words that have made some families miserable.

- For one thing — you can't always add to it.
- And for another — you can't always afford to add to it.

THERE IS A notion among house buyers that if you buy an eight-room house for say $32,000 that you should certainly be able to add additional rooms at less than $4,000 each. This doesn't always work out.

Adding to a house can be a rich man's hobby, unless he can get materials at cost and do the work himself, or he lives in an area where labor is very cheap.

People who have had the experience of putting additions to a structure say they were appalled at the cost. In many cases they found it far better to sell the house and move to a larger one.

THERE ARE other reasons for deciding against an addition. If it is tacked on to a tiny house in a tiny-house neighborhood, it may look off base. Many people do not like the big-fish-in-a-little-pond look, so the improvement may not increase the value of the house when the time comes to sell it.

Even if one has lots of land so that he could add without affecting the original appearance of the house, an addition is very serious business. As costs of materials rise, we may not be able to duplicate the look of the old dwelling.

There is a wide margin in bids in the same neighborhoods, in some instances. Local carpenters often work for much less than high-powered contractors with big overhead.

LOCAL MEN have learned how to cut corners, and often are willing to employ ingenuity that can save their neighbors money. But a contractor with a big overhead may make the cost of adding to the house such a financial burden that you can't carry it.

A recent case in point are two houses, one-quarter of a mile from each other.

One addition by a local carpenter was a room 35 by 15 with a closet at a cost of $3,300 and a bathroom at a flat fee of $1,200.

THE OTHER house had a room 15 x 20 feet, several closets and a deluxe bathroom with built-in basin and dressing table. The cost — $12,000, half the cost of the original house.

The owner of the more expensive addition admitted that he could never get his money out of the house if he were to sell. But meanwhile the addition conforms to the house and the family loves it.

The less-expensive addition was done with wallboard instead of plaster and some other inexpensive features. But it falls into the pattern of the rest of the home.

WHENEVER there is the remotest idea that the house may not serve in the future unless it has additional rooms, it is well to discuss it with an architect or builder before purchasing it.

This was done recently by a couple who planned to buy a romantic looking little salt box for $26,000 (including four acres of choice land worth around $10,000). The wife talked so much about adding to the little house that her husband finally insisted that she find out for herself how much it would cost.

She wanted to add about 10 x 20 feet to the living room, requiring the removal of an existing wall, making use of a foundation that was laid for a terrace. She was amazed at the estimate of $9,000.

THEY couldn't swing it, and the woman had to admit that she couldn't be happy with the small living room.

They are big people, their furniture is large and her husband finally confessed that the low-beamed ceilings made him feel uncomfortable.

NOW, WHY should the garden be gone over in retrospect before the intriguing nursery catalogs arrive. In the first place a calm appraisal can be made before the deluge of varieties and colors become confusing. Then the possibility of over-crowding in adding new plants should be carefully considered. If new plants are added, it may be necessary to make room for them by thinning out some of the shrubs and dividing and reducing the sizes of some of the perennial clumps.

After the appraisal has been made, the gardener will be in better position to go through the beautiful nursery catalogs and make the desired selections.

Here's the Answer

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

QUESTION: I have finished a room in our basement, but have done nothing about the floor, which is made of concrete. I plan on using asphalt tile over the concrete, which I have been told is feasible, especially since the concrete is in good condition and very smooth. Are there any tips you can give me about this type of installation?

ANSWER: Yes, asphalt tile can be laid directly on the concrete when conditions are as you describe them. The type of adhesive for laying asphalt tile is a black, tar-like substance which is spread on with a notched trowel. Be sure you get the trowel when you purchase the cement.

The adhesive must be completely dry to the touch before the tiles are installed. In fact, you can wait two, three or more hours before putting down the tiles if you so desire. The important thing is not to place the tiles on the floor while the adhesive is damp. Place the tiles carefully; do not slide them. You can cut asphalt tile with a sharp knife and a straight edge if you are making a straight cut.

If you are making an irregular or curved cut, to fit around an obstruction, the tile must be warmed first. Do this very carefully, since if you heat the tile too much, you will spoil it.

Giants, Chicago Wrap Up NFL Divisional Titles

Bears Trip Lions 24-14, Browns Roll

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Y.A. Tittle was present. Night Train Lane was absent.

One was more apparent than the other, but each led the key Sunday for the New York Giants and Chicago Bears, who battled their way into the National Football League's championship game, at Chicago, Dec. 29.

Tittle passed for three touchdowns, setting a season record of 36, as the Giants overwhelmed the Pittsburgh Steelers 33-17 in a winner-take-all showdown and clinched their third consecutive Eastern Conference title.

The Bears steered their passes at the sector covered by Tom Hall. Lane's replacement, rode to a 24-14 victory over the Detroit Lions on the arm of Billy Wade and clinched their first Western Conference title since 1956.

The Chicago triumph eliminated the Green Bay Packers, who had won the Western championship three consecutive years and the league title twice in succession. The Bears finished with a 11-2 record to 11-2 for the Packers, who defeated San Francisco 21-17 Saturday.

Tittle "was tremendous," said Giants Coach Allie Sherman. Tittle "was great," said Steelers Coach Buddy Parker. And Tittle said Frank Gifford's amazing catch of an off-target Tittle pass "was a saver."

The Steelers had closed to 16-10 in the third quarter, and seemed to be gaining momentum. Then Tittle fired, and Gifford reached out his right hand to bat the ball into the air for a second try at grabbing it. But he didn't have to; he had caught it one-handed.

The play gained 30 yards to the Steeler 47. Tittle immediately arched another pass to Gifford, then hit Joe Morrison with a 22-yarder for the touchdown that broke it open.

"We did most of our passing on the side where Lane was missing. They had Mike Ditka pretty well hemmed in and it left Morris more open than usual."

Hall, a two-year vet, was covering Morris when he hauled in a 51-yard pass from Wade that pulled the Bears out front to stay. Three minutes later Wade connected with Ditka on a 22-yard scoring strike that clinched it.

Lane, a 12-year veteran, missed the game because of the death of his wife, singer Dinah Washington.

While the Giants and Bears were wrapping up titles, Jimmy Brown finished the mile he started 14 weeks earlier, bringing his record rushing total to 1,863 yards with a 125-yard pickup in Cleveland's 27-20 triumph over Washington.

The victory enabled the Browns to finish second in the East with a 10-4 record. Dallas knocked St. Louis into third at 9-5 by surprising the Cardinals 28-24 as Don Meredith passed for two touchdowns in the final quarter. The Steelers finished fourth at 7-4-3.

In the West, Baltimore finished third at 8-6 by edging Los Angeles 19-16 on Johnny Unitas' 14-yard touchdown pass to Tom Matte with 40 seconds remaining. And Don VanderKelen directed Minnesota to a 34-13 win over Philadelphia that pulled the Vikings into a four-place tie with the Lions.

Hawks Tip Lakers For 1st Place Tie

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The St. Louis Hawks, displaying a balanced offense along with an effective defense, have tightened up the Western Division race in the National Basketball Association.

The Hawks turned back Los Angeles 102-95 Sunday night and moved into a virtual tie for first place with the Lakers. In the only other game played, the San Francisco Warriors whipped the Baltimore Bullets 122-97.

Ramblers Roll To 4th Victory In Row 56-51

By GARY EVANS Daily News Sports Editor

For two and a half quarters at St. Stan's Sunday, Cotter struggled along, trailing St. Paul Hill by as much as seven points.

Then 6-3 reserve center Dan Pelowski entered the game, fired up the Ramblers and now Cotter owns a four-game victory string. Hill bowed under a fourth-period surge 36-51.

Through a ragged first half, Hill held the margin, leading at 13-6 for its largest gap with 2:52 to play in the first period.

EXCEPT FOR the efforts of John Nett Jr. and Gene Schultz, the first two periods might have been disastrous.

Nett paced the first quarter attack with long jumpers from the corner and totaled eight points in the first eight minutes to keep the Ramblers in contention and bring them within a point at 13-12 heading into the second period.

Schultz took charge in the second period, scoring 10 of Cotter's 17 points on a variety of jump and driving shots.

With the 5-11 guard befuddling the Pioneers, Cotter did pull even at 18-18 with 5:33 remaining in the half before losing the advantage. Hill's Bill Tetzlaff, who finished with 17 points to lead the visitors, quickly dumped in two hook shots and a free throw to push it out to 27-12. It stood 30-29 at halftime.

The margin hovered between one and five points in the third quarter (Cotter did lead at 31-30 with 7:36 left in the period) until Pelowski entered the game.

With 39 seconds left in the frame, after doing yeoman duty in the rebounding department, Pelowski tipped in a shot that gave Cotter a 43-42 lead. The score was tied at 43-43 with eight minutes to play.

THEN IN the fourth quarter, he immediately hit a short jumper to send Cotter in front 45-43 and the Ramblers were on their way. With Pelowski holding the high scoring Tetzlaff scoreless in the final eight minutes, Cotter was headed briefly at 51-49 midway in the period before regaining the lead and pushing it out of reach via free throws in the waning seconds.

"Pelowski really did a job for us," smiled Coach John Nett.

Y. A. FIRES 3 TD PASSES

Sherman Praises Tittle for Fine Game

NEW YORK (AP)—Allie Sherman fought his way through the mob surrounding Y. A. Tittle's locker in the mad, mad clubhouse of the New York Giants.

"You did as fine a job as any quarterback I have ever seen," said the Giants' coach, shaking the hand of the bald oldtimer who threw three record-breaking TD passes in the Giants' 33-17 victory over Pittsburgh in Sunday's winner-take-all game for the Eastern Conference title.

Tittle, named the National Football League's most valuable player in an Associated Press poll, was superb. He completed 17 of 26 passes for a gross 306 yards.

But Tittle had help, especially from Frank Gifford and Joe Morrison and those men up front who kept the Steeler rush off his back most of the cold, windy afternoon.

Gifford made a truly sensational one-handed catch in the third period that was the turning point. If a 33-17 game has such a thing. The Steeler, trailing 16-3 at halftime, had closed to 16-10 and the Giants were on their own 23 on a third-and-eight situation. Gifford grabbed Tittle's pass with one hand for a 30-yard gain.

"All I was trying to do was bat the ball up in the air—and it stuck in my hand," Gifford said. "It was the biggest catch I ever made."

Sherman had praise for Morrison, who scored three touchdowns, and everyone on the team. But he kept coming back to Tittle, who finished with a season record 36 touchdown passes.

It was the third straight Eastern title for Sherman since he succeeded the retired Jim Lee Howell.

Morrison, filling in for the ailing Alex Webster, caught two of Tittle's TD passes and also scored on a one-yard plunge. Del Shoffner caught a scoring "bomb" from Y. A. for 41 yards before he was injured. Shoffner suffered bruised ribs on the right side and didn't play the second half. Don Chandler added the first and last points with field goals of 4 and 41 yards.

Vandy Steers Vikings to Victory

Season Ends On Happy Note 34-13

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—The up-and-down season of the Minnesota Vikings finished on the upgrade Sunday — a 34-13 romp over the clawless Philadelphia Eagles.

As fans and team officials looked ahead to a fourth season, the 1963 verdict was: "not bad."

The Vikings wound up 5-8-1, good enough for a tie for fourth place with Detroit in the 7-team Western Conference of the National Football League.

The Eagles' loss sent them to the bottom of the Eastern Conference and may have put the job of coach Nick Skorich in jeopardy. San Francisco's Red Hickey got his walking papers after one of the Vikings' earlier victories.

Sunday's victory was especially zesty for three partisans.

It was coach Norm Van Brocklin's first visit to Franklin Field since he led the Eagles to the 1960 championship over Green Bay.

It was quarterback Ron VanderKelen's first starting assignment and he went 8-for-16 in the passing department.

And defensive end Don Hultz got himself a touchdown and an NFL record.

For any who feel kinship to the defensive infantryman, Hultz's big moment must have spread a warm glow.

He hauled in a screen pass attempt lobbed by Sonny Jurgensen and lumbered 31 yards for the third Viking touchdown. Hultz fended off repeated attempts by the officials to get the ball and lugged it tenderly to the Viking bench.

It was almost anti-climactic when Hultz, the Vikings' human vacuum cleaner, scooped up his ninth recovered fumble to set an NFL one-season record.

With the Vikings ahead only 20-13 in the fourth period, Hultz's touchdown was the real clincher, although Bill Brown added his second tally a bit later.

Van Brocklin had eight rookies in the lineup and a game plan that called for the Vikings to move on the ground. That they did, 163 yards to 109 for the Eagles. VanderKelen passed only sparingly, collecting 64 yards, but he looked cool under pressure and lost one sure touchdown when Paul Flattery dropped a wide open pass early in the game.

But it was the Viking defense that carried the day, intercepting two Jurgensen passes and recovering two enemy fumbles and in general giving Jurgensen a rugged afternoon.

The Vikings won three games in 1961, two last year. This year's output was better than that of five teams in the two NFL divisions.

Former catches and minor-league manager Ray Mueller now scouts for the Cleveland Indians.

NIC Teams To Begin Loop Play

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Teams in the Northern Intercollegiate Conference start playing for keeps this week, with defending co-champion Michigan Tech taking on two Minnesota challengers.

Michigan Tech and St. Cloud State tied for the NIC title last season. St. Cloud tests its muscles on a road trip this week.

Tech opens the NIC slate at Bemidji tonight and moves on to Moorhead Tuesday night.

Minnesota Intercollegiate Conference action resumes with Augsburg at Concordia tonight and Minnesota Duluth at St. Thomas Tuesday night.

The Auggies, defending MIAC champs, had a scare at Gustavus Saturday night but won it 70-62 as big Dan Anderson pumped in 44 points.

In other games tonight, Superior is at Winona and Minnesota Morris at Buena Vista.

Tuesday night's schedule has St. Cloud at St. Joseph, Ind., along with the UMD-St. Thomas and Michigan Tech-Moorhead games.

In a real cliffhanger Saturday, Macalester eased by St. Mary's 59-58. Gary Davis had 16 for the Scots. Tom Hall and Al Williams 12 apiece for St. Mary's. Things warmed up to the point where three players were ejected for fighting.

Duluth won its second straight MIAC game, downs Concordia 85-68. Mike Patterson had 26 for UMD. Hamline opened its MIAC season with an easy 78-70 romp past St. Thomas. The Pipers made it 68-46 and then let the reserves mop up.

In non-conference games, Mankato bested Superior 71-53. Bemidji dealt a 74-61 loss to Mayville, N.D., Moorhead lost to Valley City, N.D. 73-66. Bethel stopped Northland 69-61, and Loras downed Winona 88-72.

SIX CHALLENGE FOR POSITIONS

Ohio State 95-73, ending a 50-game home court winning streak by the Buckeyes. The Southern Conference Wildcats walloped Jacksonville 121-93 on Saturday and now have won five straight.

Toledo, rated a power in the Mid-American Conference, bowled over second-ranked NYU 87-74 and Saturday made it six in a row by edging San Francisco State 95-50.

Creighton likewise made it six straight with a two overtime 90-91 victory over Utah State. Chuck Offey saved the Bluejays from defeat in regulation time when he got off a shot from his knees for the tying basket as the gun sounded. On Friday Creighton had nipped Arizona State 84-83.

Three Top Teams Stay Unbeaten

Vanderbilt went overtime to hand Duke its first defeat at the start of the week, then crushed Arkansas 101-77 on Saturday for its fifth straight. UCLA, sparked by Walt Hazzard and Gail Goodrich, swept Kansas State 78-75 and Kansas 74-54 in the Sunflower doubleheaders at Lawrence and Manhattan, Kan. The Bruins now are 4-0.

Texas, the favorite in the SWC, capitalized on Jim Clark's closing heroics when he stole the ball and passed for the winning basket to beat Oklahoma 81-78. Altogether Clark figured in Texas' final six points as he pulled the Longhorns back behind in the last 60 seconds for their fifth straight.

Kentucky and Michigan, each 5-0, slaughtered Baylor 101-85 and Western Michigan 104-91 Saturday to further impress as national powers.

GOOD FOR 8TH PLACE

Leona Lubinski Hits 214-602

Leona Lubinski Sunday hit Winona's ninth national women's honor count by hammering a 602 in the Guys and Dolls Circuit at Westgate Bowl. That count put her in eighth place in the city's top ten. Leona, who bowls for Sundown Motel, also bowls for Sundown Motel. She moved on to a 197 the second time around and climbed past the magic barrier with a 191 in her third game. The 214 was good for a league high. Carol Fenske came up with her second torrid night in succession in the league. She blasted 199-525 to go with a 245-565 last week.

Fenske-Cisewski and Sundown Motel tied for game honors with 760. The Motel team took series high with 2,206. WESTGATE: Working Girls—Jill Schuminski scattered a 300-two game set, and Judy Ronnenberg plowed 183. Gutter Dusters hammered 695-1,342. Kings and Queens—Ralph Hardike slapped 585, and Ed Drwall spilled 207 as the paired Deuces Wild to 713-2,057 and the first-half title. Sharon Schubert tagged 171-402 for C and Sers to top the women. Jr. Stricketes—Peter Warner slapped 189 for Four Aces, and Allan Greenwood tagged 108 for Alley Cats. Blue Bells nailed 580-1,087. HAL-ROD: Sr. High Girls—Pat Weigel belted 187-444 for Alley Gators. Powder Puffs ripped 713, and Stricketes 1,884. Sr. High Boys—Bill Bonow led Spartans to 1,999 with his 511. Joe Albrecht ripped 212 to pace Knights to 715.

Face Three Rugged Tests

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — This is the week the Minnesota Gophers learn whether they're ready to make a serious run for the Big Ten basketball championship. They'll find out by testing three Missouri Valley Titans, at Bradley tonight and against Wichita here Thursday and Drake here Saturday. The Gophers warmed up for their toughest week of the season by crushing outmanned South Dakota 107-62 in a record-breaking performance Saturday night. It was the most points a Minnesota team has scored in history. Previous high was 105 against Indiana last March in Williams Arena. Coach John Kundla, who worried that perhaps his charges had gone stale after an 11-day layoff for examinations, had another worry after the Gophers beat the Coyotes off the court. "I just hope we didn't use up too many points tonight, and saved a few for this week," Kundla said. Minnesota ran up an 8-3 lead and with 7 1/2 minutes gone it was 19-6. The Gophers kept pouring it on to lead 56-31 at halftime. Despite Kundla's liberal substitution, Minnesota hit the 100-point mark with 3 minutes, 8 seconds left when Bob Jensen sank a jump shot from the free throw line. The Gophers' deep reserves then went nearly two minutes without scoring, and it looked like the record opportunity was going by the boards. But guard Wes Martins drove the baseline for a layup that gave Minnesota 105 points with 36 seconds remaining. As time ran out, Martins was fouled by Mike Wilson. Martins sank two free throws after play had ended to break the school scoring mark. Bill Davis topped the Gopher scoring with 22 points. Lou Hudson adding 15. Terry Kuntz 14 and Mel Northway 13. Roger Schaffer got 13 and Jim Dyer 12 for the Coyotes. The triumph was Minnesota's fourth straight, while South Dakota is winless in five outings against major opposition. The Coyotes play at defending NCAA champion Loyola of Chicago tonight.

No Warriors in SCI Mat Finals

Winona State College's wrestling team made its season debut in the State College of Iowa tournament and did not have a man gain the finals. All Warrior entrants, including defending 177-pound champion Pat Flaherty, were eliminated in the early running. "Some of our boys looked real good," said Coach Bob Gunner. "and some looked real poor. I think the trip may have tired some of them out." At 115, Larry Marchionda was eliminated by Lynn Hoffman of Cornell College and Chuck Holt of Iowa State at 130. In another 130-pound match, Perry King was beaten by Iowa State's Joe Frank. Ken Knutson defeated Iowa State's Jerry Brown at 137, but lost his second match. Dan Scrabeck, at 157, defeated State College of Iowa's Bob Graham before being pinned by NCAA runner-up Hassman of Iowa State. Jeff Wolfert lost to Masserly of Port Dodge at 167 and Flaherty was knocked off by Iowa State's Roy Francis at 177. Dale Nelson was defeated by an independent Winona entry Tom Caron in the consolation finals at 191. Caron, who is not out for wrestling this year, made the trip himself under the AAU rules and placed third at 191. In the heavyweight category, Larry Wedemeier lost to Pierro of Mankato 6-1. State will compete in the Iowa State quadrangular Thursday. Other schools entered are Iowa State, Adams, Colo., State and Northwestern Missouri.

Watkins Wins 3rd Straight

Watkins won its third straight City League basketball game Sunday by hammering Rollingstone 92-43. In other action, Miller Salvage outscored Westgate's defending champions 3-2 in the second overtime session to take a 51-50 victory and Standard Oil broke in the win column with a 59-54 verdict over National Guard. Watkins led 45-17 at halftime. John Koprowski hit 20 points for the winners, Bill Holm 19 and Bruce Hartert 15. Jack Rader garnered 19 for Rollingstone. Tom Thaldorf's 16 points paced Miller Salvage, which led 24-19 at halftime, to its victory over Westgate. The game was tied at 45-45 at the end of regulation time and 48-48 at the end of the first overtime. Bob Hazelton had 17 for the losers and Ron Richter 12. Bob Cyert hit 22 points for Standard Oil and Lance Carroll 14 for National Guard. The Oilers were in front 29-26 at halftime.

Upsets, Snakes Take YMCA Wins

YMCA BASKETBALL. Hawks 2-1 Upsets 2-1 Snakes 2-1 Devils 0-3. In YMCA eighth and ninth-grade basketball action Saturday, the Upsets topped the Hawks 49-39 and the Snakes beat the Devils 52-35. Bill Christianson hit 13 points for the Upsets and Paul Fay 12. Jim Heimlem led the Hawks with 17. Paul Plachecki had 27 points for the Snakes and George Hubbard 11 for the Devils. Games in the league will not be played on Saturday during holiday vacation. The league will operate on Dec. 23 and 26 and Jan. 2.

YANTES SECOND

Zierke Wins Bub's Classic

Bill Zierke, rolling games of 236, 156, 231 and 240 won the Bub's Bowling Classic at the Winona Athletic Club Sunday. Zierke, a La Crosse bowler, totaled 863 to win the $100 first-prize money. Coming in second was Winona's DeWayne Yantes, who totaled 822 on games of 172, 190, 235 and 225 the first week of the tournament to emerge as the leader at that point. Bud Steinhoff, another Winona bowler, was third with an 809 count on games of 222, 212, 201 and 174. Zierke started off his first game by stringing six strikes in a row and then blowing the seventh frame. He then struck, spared through the ninth and struck, picked up seven on his second ball in the tenth and spared for the 236 count. The 240 games was an immediate four strikes, a blow in the fifth. A turkey followed before he spared in the ninth. He struck on his first two balls in the tenth and picked up eight pins on his third trip. The cutoff point this year was 751 compared to 746 a year ago.
