House-Passed Civil Rights Bill to Senate

By JOHN BECKLER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has approved the civil rights bill in an overwhelming vote hailed by President Johnson as "an historic step forward for the cause of dignity in America." It now faces a tougher battle in the Senate where Southerners hope to whittle it down with talk.

As turned out by the House in a 290-130 roll call Monday night, the bill amounts to the most sweeping civil rights legislation in history. Southern efforts to water it down were crushed at every turn by a coalition of Republicans and Northern Democrats.

But in the Senate with its different rules of debate, the Southerners hold the weapon of a filibuster and hope to weaken the measure by forcing a compromise.

Girding for the battle ahead, Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield outlined parliamentary moves Monday designed to delay Senate action on civil rights until the tax cut bill clears Congress, probably by the end of the month.

Johnson, in a statement, paid tribute to the bipartisan nature of the triumph in the House, declaring:

"It represents the culmination of months of hard work by men of good will in both parties."

"Now the task is before the Senate. I hope the same spirit of nonpartisanship will prevail

Late Bulletins

SAIGON, VIET NAM (AP) — A grenade exploded in the front of a U. S. Air Force captain tonight, blasting down the fence and smashing windows. No one was reported hurt.

DALLAS (AP) — Stanley Marcus, local merchant, testified today he doubts that Jack Ruby could get a fair trial in Dallas on the charge that he murdered accused presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald. Ruby's murder trial is scheduled to begin here Monday.

GENEVA (AP) — The 17-nation disarmament conference met for 2½ hours today without any mention of Yuri I. Nosenko, the Soviet delegation member who defected to the West last week.

NOTASULGA, Ala. (AP) — A boycott by white pupils left the classrooms at Notasulga High School deserted again today but still no Negroes showed up although the way was left clear for them to enter.

Two-State Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here is how Minnesota and Wisconsin Congressmen voted Monday as the House passed the civil rights bill:

Minnesota: Blatnik, Fraser, Karth, Olson, Langen, MacGregor, Nelsen, Quie for.

Wisconsin: Johnson, Kastemeier, Ruess, Zablocki, Byrnes, Laird, Schadeberg, Thompson, for. Against: Van Pelt, Not voting O'Konski.

there to assure passage of this bill guaranteeing the fundamental rights of all Americans."

Voting for the bill in the House were 152 Democrats and 138 Republicans. Voting against it were 96 Democrats and 34 Republicans.

The bill is aimed at ending racial discrimination in employment, public accommodations, voting, schools and other public facilities, and in federally aided programs. A new section added just before passage would create a community relations service to mediate racial disputes.

Six Companies Indicted in Minneapolis

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Six companies, including U.S. Steel Corp., and an official of each face federal charges that they conspired to allocate customers and rig bids in the sale of fabricated structural steel.

A federal grand jury late Monday returned the indictments in U.S. District Court here, climaxing an investigation which began last May.

The indictment charged the defendants conspired to restrain trade in Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota and Wisconsin, in violation of the Sherman Antitrust Act. Defendant firms, the true bills said, are the principal fabricators of structural steel in that four-state area and have annual sales in excess of $14 million.

The combination and conspiracy, the indictment said, "consisted of a continuing agreement, understanding and concert of action among the defendants."

The indictment accused the defendants of meeting weekly at various places, including the Minneapolis Athletic Club and the Criterion Restaurant in St. Paul, to "allocate" specific structural steel jobs among themselves, pursuant to an agreed upon formula.

Named defendants were: U.S. Steel, Pittsburgh, and A. Wayne Willard, district contracting manager of the corporation's American Bridge Division.

St. Paul Foundry & Manufacturing Co., St. Paul, and its vice president, Joseph B. Klump. Paper, Calmenson & Co., St. Paul, and Ray C. Edlund, vice president.

Crown Iron Works Co., Minneapolis, and its president, Clifford Anderson.

St. Paul Structural Steel Co., St. Paul, and its president, Thomas H. Comfort.

The Husted Co., Minneapolis, and John C. Husted Jr., vice president.

The indictment covered the period 1949 through 1961. Maximum penalties on conviction would be a year in prison and a $50,000 fine for each individual and a $50,000 fine for each corporation.

Barry Seeks Oregon Votes

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater makes a campaign foray into Oregon today, and his supporters hope he'll draw larger crowds than those which greeted New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller there last week.

The Arizona senator, like Rockefeller, an announced candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, speaks at a Lincoln Day dinner in Portland's Memorial Coliseum.

His backers say all 2,200 dinner seats have been sold out, with 9,000 free places in the hall to be opened when Goldwater speaks.

Rockefeller's largest crowds in Oregon last Thursday and Friday were an estimated 1,000 persons each at Portland, Medford and Salem.

Rockefeller has conceded Goldwater holds an edge for their May 15 Oregon primary clash.

Before coming to Oregon for the first leg of a three-state Far West swing—including California Wednesday and Nevada Thursday — Goldwater criticized the civil rights bill passed by the House Monday.

Answering a question by a Negro college student in Thatcher, Ariz., Goldwater praised sections granting the attorney general new powers to deal with defiance to school integration, but added: "I don't think the rest of the package is going to accomplish much, in fact it may cause more harm than good."

Goldwater said he hoped the controversial section banning discrimination in public accommodations "will be modified to the point where it can be enforced, or dropped altogether."

A Republican presidential possibility, former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, urged President Johnson to make a television address to the American people and "lay the facts on the line about what our Cuban policy is."

Meanwhile, Sen. Margaret Chase Smith continued her campaign for New Hampshire's March 10 GOP presidential primary.

Australian Destroyer Sinks in Collision

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Prime Minister Sir Robert Menzies ordered a public investigation today in the sinking of Australia's first pushbutton destroyer, the Voyager, after a collision with the carrier Melbourne Monday night.

The navy said an air and sea search is continuing off the Australian coast for 85 missing crew members of the 3,500-ton destroyer. There were fears many went down with their ship. Nine of the Voyager's 17 officers were among the missing.

Calling the disaster shocking and unparalleled in Australia's peacetime naval history, Menzies said a normal navy inquiry was inadequate. He said he would appoint a judge to investigate.

The 20,000-ton Melbourne, the Australian navy's flagship, smashed into the Voyager amid-ship, breaking the destroyer in half. The Voyager's bow section sank within minutes. The after section remained afloat for nearly three hours.

The Voyager carried 342 officers and men. At least 257 were rescued.

No casualties were reported aboard the carrier. Its bow badly battered, the Melbourne continued under her own power to Sydney, 120 miles north. The collision occurred 20 miles off the coast, near the Jervis Bay naval base, shortly after 9 p.m. Both ships were equipped with radar-controlled steering, and their modern equipment was a source of pride to the Australian navy.

The Voyager, launched in 1957 was the largest destroyer ever built in Australia. With her anti-aircraft guns as well as steering controlled by radar, the electronically guided vessel could go into action with all hands below deck.

Navy Minister Alexander J. Forbes said the accident occurred while the Melbourne's planes were carrying out touch-and-go exercises — swooping down on the deck, then taking off again without stopping.

The Voyager was standing by about a half mile astern of the Melbourne to pick up any fliers whose planes crashed into the sea.

The collision occurred as the Voyager cut across the Melbourne's bow when the carrier reversed course, Forbes said.

The Voyager's skipper, Capt. Duncan Stevens, was reported to have been on the bridge at the time. He is among the missing.

20 State Banks Fined $253,000 For Rate Fixing

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Twenty Minnesota banks and banking institutions entered pleas of no contest in federal court today to charges of restraining competition and fixing rates and charges for various banking services. Judge Edward J. Devitt said by virtue of their pleas the "defendants are convicted."

He immediately imposed fines totaling $253,000. The defendants had pleaded innocent earlier.

These are the fines imposed:

In the so-called Minneapolis case: North western National Bank of Minneapolis, $35,000; First National Bank of Minneapolis, $35,000; Midland National Bank of Minneapolis, $10,000; Marquette National Bank of Minneapolis, $2,500; First National Bank of St. Paul, $20,000; Northwestern National Bank of St. Paul, $5,000; American National Bank of St. Paul, $1,000; Stockyards National Bank of St. Paul, $7,500; Northern City National Bank of Duluth, $5,000; First American National Bank of Duluth, $5,000.

In the so-called St. Paul case: First National Bank of St. Paul, $25,000; First Grand Avenue State Bank of St. Paul, $5,000; First Security State Bank of St. Paul, $5,000; First Merchants State Bank of St. Paul, $5,000; First State Bank of St. Paul, $5,000; First Bank Stock Corp., $5,000; Northwestern National Bank of St. Paul, $15,000; and Commercial State Bank of St. Paul, $5,000.

In the so-called Duluth case: Duluth Clearing House Association, $2,000; First American National Bank of Duluth, $25,000; Northern City National Bank of Duluth, $15,000; Northwestern

Bank of Commerce of Duluth, $5,000; and Duluth National Bank, $10,000.

Government attorneys said they would move to dismiss the criminal indictment against the Midway National Bank of St. Paul.

The defendants agreed to several consent decrees.

Those named in the Minneapolis case consented to an injunction which prohibits each defendant from agreeing with another commercial bank to limit or forego the solicitation of business with any correspondent bank.

The consent decree also provides that the defendants will not furnish stationary or other bank supplies or gifts to third persons. Nor may they fix rates of interest or terms and conditions for loans by any bank. The latter provision covers the commission paid to any third bank which originates or services a livestock loan.

An injunction against those named in the St. Paul case forbids agreements regarding service charges and forbids the defendants from suppressing or restricting competition for the account of any depositor.

The Duluth group consented to an injunction prohibiting agreements among the members of the group to fix interest rates on deposits, to limit bank advertising, or to set rates of interest and terms on mortgages.

The decree also provides that the Duluth Clearing House Association shall be limited to daily clearing transactions and to civic and charitable activities.

Police, Greek Students Clash

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — A clash between police and thousands of Greek students trying to march on the U.S. and British embassies greeted Undersecretary of State George Ball on his Cyprus peace mission Monday.

Demanding union of Cyprus with Greece, the students demonstrated to underscore their opposition to the London-Washington plan for an international peace force to police Cyprus.

Ball was reported to have run into an unexpected check in trying to win Greek approval of the plan. He delayed his departure for Turkey, second stop on his mission.

Informed sources said Greece approved the peace force plan provided it first got approval of the U.N. Security Council. The Soviet Union, which opposes the peace force, could veto it in the council.

Government sources in Nicosia said the president of Cyprus, Archbishop Makarios, was certain to reject the plan, unless the proposed force was placed under Security Council control.

Makarios was said to have conferred with advisers on the best way to bring the Cyprus issue before the Security Council.

A British force has been trying to keep the peace between Turkish and Greek Cypriots, engaged in bloody clashes since last December. The United States and other Atlantic alliance nations would contribute soldiers to the peace force under the U.S.-British plan.

Urge Heart Checkups for All Over 35

By ALTON BLAKESLEE Associated Press Science Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Several million American men are walking around with silent coronary artery disease, two heart specialists said today.

This means arteries carrying blood to the heart muscle have started to narrow to a significant degree. This sets the stage for many heart attacks, which occur when the blood flow becomes blocked.

Some men have even had initial heart attacks with no pain or any other signs, said Drs. Arthur Master of New York City and Arthur Beller of Englewood, N.J.

They urged all men over age 35 to have annual checkups, including X rays, to detect signs of the artery disease.

The checkup also should include electrocardiograms taken during or immediately after mild exercise, such as a two-step test or treadmill workout, the physicians told the New York State Medical Society.

An electrocardiogram taken when a person is lying down can fail to show signs of the underlying artery disease, they said.

They cited reports that 40 to 80 per cent of electrocardiograms taken during rest of persons with angina pectoris — caused by narrowed arteries — look quite normal. The angina patient gets pain on exertion or under emotional stress.

If silent disease is found, men can greatly improve their chances of escaping heart attacks by moderate changes in living habits, Dr. Master said.

U.S. Protests Ghana Attacks

ACCRA, Ghana (AP) — The U.S. Embassy has protested to Ghana's Foreign Ministry against "scurrilous attacks" on an American Negro attaché who replaced an American flag torn down during a Ghanaian demonstration.

The U.S. protest cited an article in the government-controlled Ghanaian Times which criticized the attaché, A. Emerson Player of Denver, for replacing the banner. The paper said Player and other members of the U.S. Embassy staff were engaged in "nefarious activities."

France Gets U.S. Jets

PARIS (AP) — Informants say France has received the first of 12 U.S.-made jet tanker planes ordered to refuel its atomic bombers.

The United States has refused to give direct aid to the French atomic weapons program, but it agreed in 1962 to sell France the tanker planes.

Who Besides Squealing Teens Like Beatles?

NEW YORK (AP) — Who, besides squealing teen-age fans, likes the Beatles?

A symphony orchestra conductor, for one. He comes from England, home of the mop-topped rock 'n' roll quartet.

Not evangelist Billy Graham, however. "I'm afraid I'm on a different wave length," he said Monday.

From the nation's press came editorial criticism. The Washington Post suggested that "the British are taking Finnish revenge" for U.S. exports of rock 'n' rollers to the British Isles in past years.

Reaction from the man-in-the-street included that of a career girl in Dallas: "To me, it was a 'so what?' reaction. They're no different from all the others, just with straggly hair."

The Beatles answered with one voice Monday when asked how they added up their successes.

"Money," they chorused at a news conference.

They reportedly have grossed $17 million in Europe. Capital Records said their hit song, "I Want to Hold Your Hand," sold 1,880,000 records in three weeks, fastest in the industry's history.

The Beatles made their American television debut Sunday night. Hundreds of teen-agers, mostly girls, mostly screaming, besieged the quartet at the studio and their hotel.

Tonight they perform at the 8,000-seat Coliseum in Washington, D.C. It's sold out.

In Pittsburgh, John Pritchard, conductor of the London Philharmonic, said: "Really, despite the fantastic ballyhoo, I find them good entertainers. Their numbers are extremely good, absolutely technically all right — both harmonically and rhythmically."

Harold Stassen Undecided On Wisconsin Race

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Harold Stassen said Sunday night he has not decided about entering Wisconsin's April 7 primary as a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination.

The 56-year-old former Minnesota governor said in Philadelphia, where he practices law, that he hadn't "decided one way or the other" about the Wisconsin contest.

Stassen said in a telephone interview that he knew he would "have to decide in a few days" because the closing date for filing a slate of convention delegates is March 6. "I have gotten my New Hampshire delegation squared away and now I will be thinking about Wisconsin," he said. "I had quite a talk with Talbot Peterson, state GOP chairman last week. I will be talking to him again and to Laird Rep. Melvin Laird, R-Wis., who conceived the favorite son delegation plan."

Police Chief Dies Helping Heart Victim

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Les Peterman, police chief in suburban Bentleyville, died of a heart attack minutes after administering oxygen to a heart attack victim Monday night.

Peterman was called to the home of George C. Breymaier, 54, who had been stricken. The police chief used an oxygen tank, applying a face mask to Breymaier, and restored him to consciousness.

Then Peterman walked into the kitchen and collapsed.

Efforts of Breymaier to use the oxygen tank on his rescuer were unsuccessful.

Some Finances For Dropout Course Oked

A plan for partial financing of an evening school course to assist persons who have left high school before graduation to complete work toward a diploma was approved Monday night by the Board of Education.

The board agreed to an expenditure of up to $75 a month for two instructors who would teach classes meeting two nights a week.

THE PROGRAM had been suggested to the board previously by Superintendent of Schools A. L. Nelson who said Monday he did not wish to go further in its organization until there was an expression by directors of their formal approval of the plan.

More than 40 persons between the ages of 19 and 55 already have expressed an interest in the evening program. Nelson had informed the board. If the classes were organized, credits could be earned toward high school graduation and students enrolled for periods of up to three years or so could qualify for diplomas.

Pending board action, the superintendent has made no arrangements for hiring instructors. Because of the number of hours of work involved, members of the public school faculty would not be employed in this program.

The board previously had expressed favor for the proposed program in general; Monday's discussion was concerned primarily with its financing.

SOME TUITION would be charged students but, since many are unemployed or employed in relatively low-paying jobs, the superintendent and board agreed that any charge should be as low as possible.

A charge of $5 a student a course has been mentioned as a possibility. Classes would meet three hours a night, two nights a week.

Nelson said Monday that he thought that a board allocation of $75 a month should cover the instructor's cost. Texts probably will be furnished.

Specific action on class programs and content and instructors' salaries has not been taken.

Specific action on class programs and content and instructors' salaries has not been taken.

Allan Pruka, Rushford, appeared as first witness in a contractual dispute when the case opened in District Court this morning.

Pruka, represented by E. D. Blair, of Prizing & Blair, Rushford, is suing Edward L. Pruka and George B. Pruka, Rushford. Clinton J. Hall, Rushford, represents the defendants.

Allan Pruka testified that he had contracted to farm about 640 acres near Rushford in partnership with Edward Pruka from March 1, 1961, to March 1, 1966. He said that the first year the crops were fair, that he and Edward Pruka evenly divided expenses except in fertilizer and machinery repair, and that on the average the farm had 180 head of cattle and he milked 45-55 cows daily.

He said that the first year he failed to get all the grain harvested and the second year he had similar trouble with the oats. He said the condition of the sewers, the hot water heater, and farm equipment was poor. In January 1963 he left the farm, Allan said.

At that time, he said, Edward Pruka agreed to pay him $1,231. He claimed only $100 of that has been paid.

Judge Leo P. Murphy is presiding. There is no jury.

Accident Victim Is Transferred

One of the two passengers injured when a foreign car in which they were driving tipped over at Broadway and Olmsland Street early Saturday was taken by ambulance to Rochester for further treatment Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Joyce Denzer, 858 E. 4th St., was taken to St. Mary's Hospital, according to her physician, where she may be put in traction to relieve neck injuries.

The driver, Leland Rain, 850 E. 4th St., is reported in good condition at Community Memorial Hospital.

Cigar or Match Blamed for Fire

A cigar or a match smoldering on a davenport caused the fire that roared through a home at 464 E. Broadway Saturday night, according to a state fire marshal's investigation.

William Markwardt, 70, who lived in an apartment at the rear of the home, died in that fire.

A friend had reported Sunday that Markwardt was smoking a cigar when he entered his home Saturday night, State Fire Marshal G. J. Thaug and Winona Fire Chief John L. Steadman, concluded their investigation today. They decided that the fire was caused by a cigar or match smoldering on a davenport on the south side of the porch at the rear of the one-story home.

The friend, Ernest Gernes, 451 E. Broadway, brought Markwardt home about 9 p.m.; the roaring blaze was discovered at 10:55. Markwardt was found on the floor just inside the door.

Markwardt had already been in bed when the fire started. When found he had on a shirt over underwear. His trousers were flung over a chair near his bed.

The house was owned by Mrs. Cleo Pagel who was visiting a sister in Kendall, Wis., when the fire started.

She said today that she had just remodeled the home. Mrs. Pagel said that she and her late husband had invested between $3,500 and $4,000 last year enclosing the front porch, installing a private bath and painting the interior in beige and yellow.

The home and the personal belongings were insured. An estimate of total damage will not be available until Wednesday when insurance adjusters examine the damage.

Plainview Bulk Tanks Get OK From Council

PLAINVIEW, Minn. (Special) — Riverside Elevator Co. will receive permission to install two bulk tanks if all parties concerned approve an agreement to be drawn up by the city council.

Marvin Peterson, manager, was told at Monday night's council meeting that, if the tanks become a nuisance, the firm must take corrective measures. The council will issue a permit for the installation if the agreement is approved by the Smith-Douglas Co., which will do the actual work of installing them.

The tanks would hold 20 percent ammonia.

MARVIN Richardson, a representative of Interstate Power Co. here, asked the council Monday night to install four new street lights in the city. Two would go in the new Keroksky Addition, he said, and another would go in the eastern part of town, where Rolfe Howser has built two houses.

The fourth, a mercury vapor light, would be installed near the site of the new American Legion building, across from the city park. A cross-arm light now on the corner would be dismantled, Richardson told the council.

Councilmen will inspect proposed locations of the new lights, and Richardson will bring a power company representative to the next meeting, when the group will give its decision.

The council granted two salary increases Monday. Edwin Nielson, city policeman, received a raise from $320 to $340 a month. A $10-a-month raise was granted to Alfred Schuchard, who has charge of the city's sanitary landfill.

THE COUNCIL also approved a request by Chief of Police William Clayton that tires for the police car be recapped before spring.

Schuchard also appeared with Durward Zabell, asking that a street contiguous to property owned by Immanuel Lutheran Church be closed. They were told they would have to submit a petition asking that such action be taken.

Councilmen told Schuchard and Zabell that they probably would have no difficulty in getting the required number of signatures on the petition because the street is adjoined by church land only.

Montevideo Votes For School Bonds

MONTEVIDEO, Minn. (AP) — Montevideo voters at a special election approved Monday a $1,640,000 bond issue for construction of a new high school, a project defeated five times previously.

In advisory balloting voters also picked the Sanford School property as the site for the new building. The bonds carried by a 1,695-671 margin.

School Lunch Program Now Making Money

The public schools lunch program which was operating around $2,700 in the red at this time a year ago has been lifted into the black by just about the same amount this year, members of the Board of Education were informed Monday night.

Cash and receivable accounts for the period of this year's report by Clerk and Business Manager Paul W. Sanders amount to $47,019 with expenses listed at $49,645.

ALTHOUGH this shows a cash loss of $2,625, the inventory increase of $4,964 for this period pushes the net gain to $2,338.

A major factor in the ledger reversal probably is the increase in charge for lunches instituted at the beginning of the current year while elimination of a cook at Lincoln School when food service for Lincoln was taken over by the Senior High School cafeteria also contributed to the gain.

There were fewer lunches served this year — 112,698, compared with 119,019 for the same period the previous year — and Sanders said that mild weather and an earlier dismissal period for some students could account for this drop. As to the latter reason, he explained that there was reason to believe that some students who now are being dismissed at 2:30 p.m. aren't eating lunches at school.

SEVERAL directors asked whether the report would be more significant if certain capital outlay items — such as purchase this year of insulated food containers for transportation food — were to be charged against the school lunch account rather than accounted for in the capital outlay portion of the general budget.

Ordinary replacement equipment is charged against the school lunch account.

Teachers Asked: What's Basis for Talks?

By C. GORDON HOLTE
Daily News Staff Writer

The door is open and the welcome mat is out for a public school teacher delegation to discuss 1964-65 salary issues with a Board of Education salary study committee, its chairman said Monday night, adding, however, that some basis for discussion should be established prior to any such meeting.

The committee's position was spelled out by 4th Ward Director Franklin A. Tillman who last week had advised a joint salary committee representing the Winona Federation of Teachers and Winona Education Association that his committee had found the teachers' original request for a $403 increase in current salary schedule maximums — as well as several other recommendations for changes in wage matters — "totally unrealistic from a cost standpoint and unsubstantiated except for the implication that, taxwise, Winona can afford to hear the increased cost."

TILLMAN'S LETTER to the teachers, sent last Tuesday, said, in part: "The committee feels that your proposal would serve no purpose even as a starting point for discussion and that upon its reconsideration in the light of reality your committee would agree that a revised and more realistic proposal would serve not only as a basis for discussion of our mutual problems but for their interpretation and for understanding by the community." Will you kindly notify me of your decision as to our committee proposal? The committee has indicated a willingness to meet with you again at your convenience if it is your desire to present a revised proposal."

Early in Monday night's meeting, Superintendent of Schools A. L. Nelson told directors that the chairman of the joint teachers' committee, John Duell of the WEA and Robert Neujahr, WPA, had contacted him in the afternoon and said they'd be available to meet with the committee Monday night.

Tillman said that he, personally, was not in favor of a meeting last night. He noted that the letter to the teachers had requested a reply and that there should be some advance notice before a meeting is called.

BOARD PRESIDENT Lawrence Santelman also observed that it was impossible that early in the meeting to know when directors would complete business before the board and be available for a meeting with the teachers.

"The intent of my letter," Tillman explained, "was to inform them that if they did not present a revised proposal the only thing the board committee could do was sit down and talk over the situation, decide on some proposal and present it to the teachers."

HAVE A HEART . . . Chairmen of the Heart Fund drive discuss the importance of contributions in the battle against heart disease. Left to right, Erwin Richter, Lewiston, president of the Life Underwriters, who sponsor the drive in Minnesota; Maurice Schuh, rural Winona County chairman; Victor Bohnen, county chairman; Mrs. Charles Hagedorn, a 3rd Ward precinct chairman, holding her daughter, Shari Lynn; Mrs. Francis Kreidermacher, Rollingstone, chairman, and Barbara Banicki, Miss Banicki, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Banicki, 1026 E. Wabasha St., is a senior at Cotter High School. Last April, doctors discovered she had a heart defect. It was corrected by surgery last June at University of Minnesota Hospitals, and she now can lead a normal life. Shari Lynn Hagedorn, 1 1/2, whose parents live at 218 E. Mark St., had heart surgery when she was 2 months old. Doctors at University Hospitals opened a valve to the right ventricle. They now say she can lead a normal life, but she will have to be checked later to see that the correction is growing with her. (Daily News photo)

Most Offices Close on Wednesday

State, county and city offices here will be closed Wednesday for the Lincoln's Birthday holiday but federal offices will remain open.

City Hall departments, including municipal court, will be closed, as will all offices at the Winona County courthouse. The Minnesota Employment Service office, 163 Walnut St., also will be closed for the holiday.

Federal government offices will be open for business as usual Wednesday. Mail service will be uninterrupted, postal officials said, with all star routes, rural mail carriers and city letter carriers on regular weekday schedules. Window service will be available to the public for the usual weekday hours.

It will be business as usual in the city's commercial sector. Banks and all other businesses will be open for the customary daily hours.

Schedules will be altered somewhat by Washington's Birthday, a legal holiday observed by all governmental units. Since Feb. 22 falls on Saturday this year, federal offices will be closed Friday, Feb. 21. Internal Revenue Service taxpayer assistance will be rendered Thursday afternoon next week instead of Friday afternoon, the usual day for extending this service.

City, county and state offices will not take an extra working day off but will be closed for the holiday itself. City Hall offices which usually remain open until noon Saturdays will be closed all day Feb. 22.

FREMONT SUNSHINE
LEWISTON, Minn. (Special) — The Fremont Sunshine Club will meet Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Fred Henry. Mrs. Carl Tollefson will be assisting hostess.

PHYSICIAN ADVISES: Moderation Best Heart Attack Guard

"The heart is the strongest muscle in the body. It pumps six tons of blood a day," Dr. William Heise said at the kick-off luncheon of the Heart Fund drive at the Hotel Winona Monday noon. Attending were Life Underwriters and ward and precinct volunteer chairman.

Dr. Heise said that heart disease is congenital, infectious or due to aging. To prevent heart attack, Dr. Heise recommended weight control, moderate eating, exercise in moderation, proper kind of diet, moderation in cigarette smoking and periodic checkups after age 40.

"Moderation is the most important single factor," he said. Dr. Heise, who is a corporate member of the Minnesota Heart Association, said 56 cents of each dollar donated to the Heart Fund goes to research.

ERWIN RICHTER, Lewiston, president of the Life Underwriters, sponsors of the drive in Minnesota, and Victor Bohnen, county drive chairman, welcomed the group. Rural Winona County chairman is Maurice Schuh; treasurer, Walter Thompson, Merchants National Bank, and special gifts chairman, William F. White.

Residential solicitations will be conducted during the week concluding with Heart Sunday, Feb. 23. Chairman of the city drive and secretary is Mrs. Elmer Hannon. Goodview chairman is Mrs. Elmer Bolter.

Mrs. James Sveazey is 1st Ward chairman, and precinct chairmen are Mrs. Robert Frank first; Mrs. Robert Dorn, second; and Mrs. Eugene Reynolds, third.

Mrs. John W. Dugan is 2nd Ward chairman. Precinct chairmen are first, second, third, fourth in order: Mrs. Donald Gostomski, Mrs. Everett Konner, Mrs. Gladys Gallien and MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — A nine-ton simulated spacecraft platform so sensitive it can be set in motion by the touch of a little finger was shown Monday by Minneapolis Honeywell Regulator Co.

The huge device was constructed to give earth-bound scientists as close a look as possible into characteristics of the Apollo moonship out in space.

It will be used mainly to test the stabilization and control systems of the Apollo's command module.

Lee Loomis, Head of Newspaper Group, Dead at 79

MASON CITY, Iowa (AP) — Lee Pierson Loomis, 79, chairman of the board of Lee Enterprises, Inc., a group of Midwest and Rocky Mountain newspapers and radio-television stations, died at his home Monday.

He was publisher of the Mason City Globe-Gazette for 37 years, retiring Sept. 30, 1962. Prior to that he was publisher of the Muscatine Journal, one of 16 newspapers comprising the Lee group.

Loomis was board chairman of Lee Newspapers, a group of daily publications in Iowa, Illinois, Wisconsin and Missouri; Lee Newspapers of Montana, in four cities in that state; Lee Radio, Inc., operators of KGLR radio and television in Mason City and KEYC-TV at Mankato, Minn.; and Lee Broadcasting, Inc., operators of WTAD at Quincy, Ill., and KIQA-TV at Hannibal, Mo.

Born at Hannibal, he began his 61-year career with the Lee Group as a subscription solicitor for the Ottumwa Courier in 1902.

New Teacher Named; Three May Retire

One new teacher was hired by the Board of Education Monday night for the 1964-65 contract year. Appointments were made for the public school music program for the remainder of the current year and notices were drafted stating the intent of the board to terminate in June the contracts of four members of this year's faculty.

Hired to a new contract was Dennis Ludwitzke, a Winona State College graduate now teaching at Owatonna, Minn.

Ludwitzke, who'll receive an annual salary of $6,050, will teach in the fifth grade at Madison School.

Mrs. Robert Maszga, 621 Sioux St., was hired to teach vocal music three hours a day at Jefferson School for the rest of the current school year at a salary of $1,252.

The appointment was made in conjunction with the assignment of Jerry Lehmeier, vocal music instructor at Jefferson School, to half-time instruction in the instrumental music program.

Mrs. Maszga will work afternoons in vocal music at Jefferson and a member of Jefferson faculty, Mrs. Frank L. VanAlstine, will work with the Jefferson Junior High School chorus before the beginning of the school year. The appointment is for the balance of the school year and she'll receive $14 a week for the work.

Mrs. E. Bernice McCourt, a second grade teacher at Jefferson School who has been ill for a greater part of the current school year, was granted a leave of absence from Nov. 27, 1963, to the end of the school year.

In a second action, directors accepted Mrs. McCourt's resignation from the faculty to be effective at the end of the school year in June.

The board voted to send notices to three teachers of its intent to terminate their contracts at the end of the school year in accordance with board policy prescribing a 65-year retirement age.

Involved in the action are Miss Vera Jozwick, second grade instructor at Washington-Kosciusko; Harvey Gordon, industrial arts teacher at Jefferson, and Miss Hazel Molsberry, mathematics instructor at Central Junior High School.

The board's long-standing policy calls for compulsory retirement of all its employees at the end of the year during which the age of 65 is reached. Each has the right to a hearing on the notice to terminate. If no request is made, final action on contract termination would be taken at the March meeting.

ALSO RECEIVING a similar notice of intent to terminate her contract is Mrs. Roger Roling, a first grade instructor at Washington-Kosciusko.

The action was taken on grounds that Mrs. Roling was married after signing her 1963-64 contract and thereby violated the terms of the contract. Contracts issued to single women teachers provide that if they become married the contract automatically becomes void.

Before-Lunch Swims for LBJ

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — President Johnson's lean, healthy look may be ascribed to frequent before-lunch swims in the White House pool — often without swim trunks.

I button-holed Leonard Goldenson, ABC board chairman, as he was leaving for a small reception the President was giving at the Carlyle after the Kennedy Foundation dinner . . . and asked about a printed report that he'd swum with LBJ at the White House . . . a la birthday suit.

"Yes," said Goldenson. LBJ had asked him, James Hagerty and Jesse Zousmer of ABC to go for a dip. "But I didn't bring a bathing suit," Goldenson had replied. "What bathing suits?" LBJ said. "We go bare!"

It was practically a Presidential order, after all . . . (Can't you just hear Nixon screaming, "He's even got the nudist vote!")

Ethel Merman and her 45-pounds thinner fiance Ernie Borgnine planned a "You're Not Sick, You're Just In Love" violin number with Jack Benny to break up the President, but ran out of time. "I'm sorry Mary Bird couldn't be here with me," Benny told the Americana crowd (unaware that some crackpot had phoned the hotel while he was on stage claiming that Mary had passed away).

Jack said he's a Write-In Voter. "I'd even write in the names of Casey Stengel and Tomis Shor, since I know THEY couldn't," he said.

YOU HEARD about the Tokyo-type restaurant rushing over four boys called "the Japanese Beatles"? . . . Dorothy Loudon was so imaginative and creative with her opening night at the Plaza Persian Room that Garry Moore led the standing ovation. (Garry said he's TV cancellation: "I'm not going to twiddle my thumbs next year. I'll be on somewhere"). One report: That CBS'll try to give him a half-hour show.

Benay Venuta got into a big jam with her dir. Debbie Deutsch, 18, a freshman at Boston U. Benay threw out her dir's soiled white loafers—which Debbie says is unforgivable. They aren't speaking . . . Shepherd's at the Drake is expected to be the NY hit during World's Fair time (Nothing like it back home anywhere).

Groucho Marx, invited to dais-sit at the March of Dimes Man of the Year dinner for Harry Hershfield Mar. 8, replied: "Sorry I can't accept your invitation to appear with Harry Hershfield. However, if you can arrange to bring him out here, I'll have a look at him."

GEORGE JESSEL so loved a line that Vaughn Meader used at the Blue Angel that he borrowed it and added to it. "Since the success of 'The Singing Nun,'" Meader said, "Jessel has been out scouting for a Whistling Rabbi." Jessel adds: "And a Yodeling Moeh!"

A plush new hotel in Los Angeles, the Wilshire House, has an El Gaucho Room — and Proprietor Yale Wexler's wife, former Argentinian film star Linda Cristal, insisted on personally preparing him "puchero," the Argentine national dish.

"You have nothing in America like this," Linda said. "It's boiled meats and vegetables. It's only available in the Argentine."

She prepared it. It was New England boiled dinner.

PAN MAIL: "I've just finished reading Arthur Miller's 'After the Fall,' the Sat. Evening Post, and your column complimenting Barbara Loden who portrayed Marilyn Monroe. The play should bring in a lot of money. With the help of Mr. Miller's present wife who took the pictures for the SEP, they must have been done quite well. And you condone such a play and such a man . . . a play that sits below the belt by revealing thoughts and feelings supposed to be sacred between man and wife. I would love to have lots of money. But I would hide my head in shame if I had to make it the way Mr. Miller is making it. I wish I had the proper words to blast all of you." (Mrs. C. M. Dickerson, Highlands, Tex.) Dear Mrs. D.: I only intended to report that Barbara Loden was excellent. As for the play and Mr. Miller — you'll hear from me later, EW.

An Eye Catcher Karen, four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Schneider, Homer, may not have caught any fish at the Winona Rod and Gun Club's fishing contest on Straight Slough Sunday but she did catch the camera eye of Merritt Kelley, Daily News photographer, when he visited the contest.

Like most contests held this winter along the river, this one failed to draw any large quota of fishermen. It was estimated that about 200 were on the ice in mid-afternoon, and a dozen cars. It was an excellent afternoon to fish, just cool enough to keep the ice from being sloppy, and warm enough to be enjoyable.

We made a trip up the Mississippi and to Durand, Wis., along the Chippewa. Most popular fishing spots had a good quota of fishermen after patfish. The parking area below Alma was crowded. There were scattered fishermen all along the Chippewa. The area off the Ella Park seemed most popular. There were a few groups on the Lake Pepin ice, mostly over deep water areas.

Pollution

The big meeting attended by governors of Minnesota and Wisconsin, top representatives of the U. S. Dept. of Health, Education and Welfare, and some 300 others interested in Mississippi River pollution, concluded in St. Paul Saturday. The report covered the 109 miles from St. Paul to the mouth of the Chippewa River. Arlin Albrecht, managing editor of the Red Wing Republican Eagle, attended the session. Here are some paragraphs from his article:

The HEW report was presented by Jack Rademacher, senior sanitary engineer. He said that despite efforts of the Minnesota and Wisconsin water pollution control agencies and of the Twin Cities Sanitary District these conditions exist on the river:

— Bacteria levels are too high for sports that require intimate water contact.

— Oil spills and leaks, in addition to bilge pumping by barges, has caused unsightly scum on waters and beaches. (In addition to the upwards of 10,000 ducks killed last spring by two major spillages.)

— Fishermen, both sport and commercial, have been plagued by tainted and inedible fish.

— River bottom sludge up to 4 1/2 feet deep extends downriver 2 1/2 miles from the Twin Cities treatment plant.

— Beginning a half mile below the Twin Cities treatment plant, oxygen in the water has been totally depleted at times for a stretch of 7 1/2 miles long. This lack of oxygen kills fish and plant life. In addition, the banks of sludge on the river bottom have eliminated feeding and spawning grounds for fish.

Rademacher said a swimmer at Lock and Dam No. 3 just above Red Wing could take in a maximum of 65 bacteria by swallowing a single drop of water.

Below the South St. Paul treatment plant, a single drop of water at times carries 1,750 bacteria.

At Hastings the water droplet would still carry 460 bacteria. The St. Croix considerably dilutes the Mississippi's pollution at Prescott and by the time the drop of water reached Frontenac its bacterial content would be down to 12.

The bacteria in these counts are known as coliform organisms. All these bacteria are not harmful to humans, but the total count is a valid measure of pollution and included in the total it's generally assumed are bacteria that create health hazards.

Rademacher said: "Although commendable progress has been made in sewage treatment in the entire Twin Cities area, including the significant Minnesota and St. Croix rivers, further improvements are hazards of excessive bacteriological contamination."

Congress has made available $250,000 for a complete study in two years. A HEW crew of 12-15 has opened up a Twin Cities office.

Albert Printz will be resident director under the overall supervision of Rademacher, who is headquartered at Chicago. Full report of study results is expected in the fall of 1965, according to Printz.

Judd Backers Win, Dunlap Senate Favorite

ROCHESTER, Minn. (AP) — Supporters of Walter Judd as a favorite son candidate for president won a 3-2 victory over Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., Monday night as Olmsted County Republicans held precinct caucuses.

Resolutions favoring Judd, former Minnesota congressman, were enacted in 15 districts while Goldwater found favor with 10, mostly in rural areas. The caucuses attracted a turnout of more than 300, about double the number that attended them two years ago.

At least three precincts went on record for State Sen. Robert Dunlap, Plainville, to make the race against U.S. Sen. Eugene McCarthy, a Democrat. Two others passed resolutions asking Wheelock Whitney, Wayzata, to take on McCarthy.

Homer Resident Celebrates Her 95th Birthday

Mrs. Lily Lake Cutting 95th Cake

HOMER, Minn. (Special) — One of Winona County's oldest residents celebrated her 95th birthday Friday at her home in Homer.

Mrs. Lily Lake, who has spent all her life here, was surrounded by relatives and friends for the birthday lunch at 3:30 p.m. It included a cake decorated in pink roses, ordered through a Winona bakery by her son Harry and family of Spokane, Wash., and another cake from her nephew, Ray Sampson, and wife of La Crosse.

MRS. FRITZ Drewes gave the blessing and guests sang "Happy Birthday." Another senior citizen here who celebrated her birthday in November, Mrs. John Ramsden, shared the head of the table.

The newest Homer resident, Miss Isabelle Hanson, now living in the Nelius Sebo house, was introduced. The youngest guest was Kay Marie Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. LaVerne Johnson.

A greeting from President Lyndon B. Johnson and other cards and letters from 11 states totaled 60 by the end of the day. In the evening she received a telephone call from her son, Harry, who is spending some time in California.

Mrs. Lake has another son, Ross Lake. He and his wife live with his mother at Homer. She has two grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

MRS. LAKE, the former Lily Sampson, was born in Homer Valley. Her husband is dead and she is the only one remaining in her immediate family.

Rochester Folk Taking Sides on Sunday Closing

ROCHESTER, Minn. (AP) — Some Rochester folks who aren't regularly involved in merchandising have acquired some unholly thoughts about the city's brand new Sunday closing ordinance.

The ordinance was aimed primarily at halting retail store operations on Sundays. It was advocated by retail people after some large firms opened Sundays before last Christmas.

But, it appears now, the ordinance has wider application than anticipated. It may effect such events as antique sales, the Rochester Art Festival—and even church bazaars.

The ordinance is so new it hasn't even taken effect. Mayor Alex Smetka signed the measure Thursday, and it becomes law Feb. 16.

A spokesman for the American Legion Auxiliary, which plans its annual antique show for May 1-3, cites an opinion by City Atty. R. V. Ehrick. The ruling held that, under the ordinance, sale of a "restricted item" on Sunday was as illegal at an antique show as at a store.

Under the ordinance, it makes no difference that profits from the antique show are used for welfare projects.

The auxiliary already has contracted for about $800 in show expenses.

"Sunday will be by far our of art, pottery and jewelry—items sold annually at the Rochester Art Festival. Last year 4,000 persons attended the event.

Dr. Fred Helms, president of the Rochester Art Center, which sponsors the show, said he would ask for a ruling. If the art sales are held illegal, Helms said, "there's no question that our event will be adversely affected."

U.S. Buildings For Quake Victims

SKOPJE, Yugoslavia (AP) — The quake-stricken population of this Macedonian capital received Monday 253 new prefabricated buildings donated by the U.S. government and built by U.S. Army units.

The buildings were offered by the late President John F. Kennedy to President Tito when he couldn't issue an immediate opinion, Eustis said, on the sale, October last year.

Olson Getting Hate Letters

MADISON, Wis.—Jack Olson, 18-year-old freshman who escorted Lucy Baines Johnson during her recent visit to the University of Wisconsin, says he has been receiving hate literature, pleas for help and crank letters.

Olson said Saturday that the mail started coming soon after he started dating President Johnson's 16-year-old daughter, Olson, a native of Maiden Rock, Wis., said that the mail has been predominantly anti-Negro and anti-Semitic, with some anti-Catholic material.

He escorted Miss Johnson around the Madison campus Jan. 22 to 24 when she visited him here and also has been a guest at the White House and the Johnson ranch in Texas.

The Standard by Which Lincoln Judged Himself

THE ENDURING name of Abraham Lincoln rests on a standard by which he himself said he would be judged: "If the end brings me out all right, what is said against me won't amount to anything. If the end brings me out wrong, ten angels swearing I was right would make no difference."

He lived four years in a cave of the winds where immense passions swirled around his head. The tide of events and the vast movements of men on battlefields were almost beyond the power of one man to control. To Sen. Morrill of Maine Lincoln remarked:

"I do not know but that God has created some one man great enough to comprehend the whole of this stupendous crisis from beginning to end, and endowed him with sufficient wisdom to manage and direct it. I confess I do not fully understand and foresee it all. But I am placed where I am obliged to the best of my poor ability to deal with it. And that being the case, I can only go just as fast as I can see how to go."

OUT OF the crash and clamor of war there finally came silence. Stillness descended on the battlefields—the Peach Orchard and the Wheat Field at Gettysburg; Stones River, Shiloh, Malvern Hill, the Wilderness, the Sunken Road, and all of the thousand and one places where men had died.

Even amid the crack of great guns during the years of war there was the promise of a final silence, so that a woman at Vicksburg could muse in her diary in the spring, "In the midst of all this carnage and commotion . . . birds are singing . . . flowers are in perfection . . . and the garden bright and gay . . . all save the spirit of man seems divine."

And in April of 1865, when the lilacs bloomed in the Washington dooryards, Lincoln passed into silence. The guard at the door was careless and the assassin had his chance.

EVER SINCE people have been trying to fill the void of silence and fathom the strange, contradictory, great man who had been placed in the eye of the hurricane. Some found only poetry in his life. Some said the poetry was contrived, that Lincoln created himself as a poetic figure and that people accepted the epic that he directed and lived and wrote.

Biographers as diverse as Beveridge, the senator, and Herndon, the lawyer, were struck by the artful ability of the man as a practical politician. "That man who thinks Lincoln calmly gathered his robes about him, waiting for the people to call him, has a very erroneous knowledge of Lincoln," Herndon wrote. "He was always calculating and planning ahead. His ambition was a little engine that knew no rest."

EVERY MAN has seen him in a different light, has read into Lincoln the mysteries and contradictions of his own mind and soul, so that the composite character of the War President has both the firmness of accepted legend and the fluidity of a moving stream. Lincoln contributed to the instability of the portrait.

"It was a time when a man with a policy would have been fatal to the country," he said. "I never had a policy. I have simply tried to do what seemed best each day, as each day came."

NOW THESE ambiguities and uncertainties have gone into the insubstantialities of history. As Mary Todd once wrote, at a time when she thought Lincoln was gone from her, "this is past and more than this." But the mind keeps turning to the paradoxes of this strange and unforgettable man, and the universality of Lincoln lies precisely in the ability of each of us to read into him something of ourselves.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A golf foursome, serious devotees of the game, had been held up from the second tee all the way to the ninth by two dumpy little ladies who hacked their way through rough and trap, forty yards at a clip, and who obviously had no intention of letting anybody play through.

The foursome's chance came on that ninth hole. The ladies had been stomping about in one patch of rough for some moments, and Judge Thomas, spokesman for the foursome, finally walked up to them and suggested, "May I help you look for your ball?" "She hasn't lost her ball," one lady explained testily. "She's looking for her club."

And he did not many mighty works there because of their unbelief. Matthew 13:58.

WASHINGTON CALLING

Let De Gaulle Talk to Nehru

By MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON—If he were able and willing to speak frankly, a figure still on the world stage could utter some home truths about the De Gaulle neutrality ploy (cq.)

Failing in health, his hold on his country weakened, Prime Minister Nehru saw his own dream of neutrality for India mocked. More than a decade ago he was saying the same things about Red China that President de Gaulle said in his recent press conference.

You had to recognize that the Communists were in control of the mainland. They had their own internal problems which would preoccupy them for a long time to come. To bring them into the world family through diplomatic recognition, trade and admission to the United Nations would temper their hostility.

That was India's line expounded by Nehru and his one-time adjutant, V. K. Krishna Menon. It was Nehru's reason, the rivalry with Pakistan and personal antipathy to one side, for indignantly rejecting John Foster Dulles' appeals to join up with the West.

INDIA'S REWARD for repeatedly championing China was soon foreshadowed. The Red Chinese took over Tibet and the harried Dali Lama narrowly missed capture by escaping over the Indian border. With this ruthless envelopment the military power of Red China was an ominous cloud suspended over the Indian subcontinent.

The reward proper came when the Chinese attacked in October, 1962. The attack had been thoroughly prepared. A network of roads had been built, almost certainly with extensive use of slave labor, through high mountain passes considered almost impenetrable.

There could no longer be any illusion about Peking's intention. The Indian people rallied in patriotic fury. Britain and America sent military aid with promises of more to come and so did the Soviet Union. The assault was blunted before it spilled out onto the plains of Assam.

BUT THIS was not the end of the story as reports from India now make clear. The Chinese still hold from 12,000 to 14,000 square miles of Indian territory in the area of Ladakh. That is not, however, the real menace.

In the Northeast an estimated 150,000 Chinese troops are stationed on the Indian frontier. They have ample supplies for an invasion. Many more roads have been built through well high impassable terrain and troop transport is greatly improved. This is, in short, a dagger pointed at the vulnerable population centers to the South with the two little states of Sikkim and Bhutan as pawns.

THE INDIAN government is divided between those who believe another Chinese attack is coming in the near future and the opposing school that sees no invasion attempt in the foreseeable future. The latter have a brutal logic on their side—why should the Chinese attack when the threat alone achieves so much?

In India there is deep discontent over still new taxes to pay military costs that had been comparatively minor under the neutrality policy. Inflationary price rises feed the unrest and the deep disillusion over the consequences of past errors in judgment.

What better way to undermine the Indian effort to develop a modern industrialized state by democratic means? The success of the Indian experiment, as opposed to the ruthless dictatorship of Red China, has always been held in the West as vital to the future of Asia. China's strategy is to disrupt and destroy that experiment. A final irony is that Peking is now playing up to Pakistan which spurred neutrality and joined the futile Southeast Asia Treaty Organization to receive substantial American military help.

AFTER ALL, the grievous errors the West has committed since the Indo-China settlement of 1954 it may be that a face-saving "neutrality" is the only way out of the war in Viet Nam on which the United States has staked so much. But there should be no delusion about how high the cost will be.

Why So Much Freedom for Farmers?
To the Editor:

There are many persons, including some members of Congress, who make little sense with their appraisal of the farm situation. They reason about as follows: "Just set the farmer free. Get the government out of agriculture. Let's have a free market on farm products. Go back to the American way of doing things and let those farmers who can't make a go of it find something else to do."

That's fine except that they overlook just exactly one-half of the facts of life in the economy of agriculture. One-half is farm income and the overlooked half is outgo or farm operating expenses.

We would applaud the idea of "setting the farmer free" if the proponents of this notion would also take steps to "set labor and industry free" at the same time. We refer to "freedom" from the minimum wage law, overtime after 40 hour week, government support of unions even for absurdly high wage scales, social security, and immigration restrictions.

If these "freedoms" were granted to labor, prices of manufactured goods would drop in a hurry. Farmers could and would take a chance on a free, competitive market for the things they sell, with labor and industry operating on a similar level.

To round out the picture, industry would give up its many government props including tariffs which result in farmers and others paying much more for merchandise which is produced at lower costs in other countries.

So, my conclusion is that those who say "set the farmer free" are not friends of agriculture since they will know that agriculture will be at a great disadvantage unless all other segments of our economy are "free." And that just isn't going to happen.

I may be a little thick-skulled, but I have an open mind. I would like to have these "freedom for farmers" preachers explain just why they want so much freedom for farmers while at the same time they won't "free" themselves to an open, free, competitive market and be willing to take what the "free" market will pay the way they want the farmer to operate.

Never Heard Sibley Advocate Own Views
To the Editor:

I wholeheartedly agree with the view expressed in the Winona Daily News for Feb. 7, that the news media have a responsibility to put controversial issues such as the Sibley-Rosen dispute in proper perspective. The editorial writer's assertion that Professor Sibley is "an irresponsible role-player" with a murky complex seems, however, to violate the very standards of reporting the editorial advocates.

What evidence supports this judgment of Professor Sibley? My entirely different view of him is based on my experience in taking four of his courses in the History of Political Theory while I was a graduate student at the university. In none of the many lectures I heard did Professor Sibley advocate his own views. On the contrary, he showed those qualities which students of all ages appreciate: thorough scholarship and a scrupulous fairness in presenting different points of view.

As the editorial points out, the reputation of the University of Minnesota is a matter of great concern. So too, I wish to add, is the reputation of a professor as competent, conscientious and stimulating as Professor Sibley.

Winona Needs Proposed New Motel
To the Editor:

I have read with interest the two recent letters of Thomas F. Richards. Since I have achieved approximately the same age as was Mr. Richards when he knew me best, I recognize him, if it is not too late, as a wise mentor, possibly one of the few real friends I ever had, if only I had had the sense to recognize that friendship for what it is.

Mr. Richards is a practical pragmatist, unless I completely misread his personality. I face up to the fact that Winona apparently will never be a commercial or industrial city. BUT commerce and industry come to Winona in the form of salesmen who sell Winona what I want and needs, buyers who buy the many products Winona has to sell and "time-study" experts who, for better or for worse, are rapidly automating Winona, as they are automating practically everything except the mind, the soul and emotions, which hopefully shall always find constructive outlets.

Boarding the southbound Hiawatha 14 years ago, I sat smoking in the lounge listening to two out-of-town businessmen. They were mature men, who may well have been born in the same year as was Mr. Richards. In language little children shouldn't read or hear, they said the worst part of their jobs was "to be stuck overnight in Winona," not because of lack of business, but because Winona, to them, offered no decent overnight accommodations. How many goods, services and sales are we missing on account of this fact?

Unless I am horribly confused, the proposed motel will be built on the south side of the lake, a not too outstanding a paragraph of sheer beauty to begin with. No longer will businessmen and conventioners shun Winona, or bear it as a burden of sin. Tourism will be helped, because each of these motels in the chain has a swimming pool. I myself would gladly weekend there just so my children could swim in pure water, at least until the governors of two states have cleaned up the Father of Waters from its notorious and tourist-scaring pollution of yesterday and on into this year. Needless to say, Winona's finest, the highway patrol and the sheriff will brook no violation of vice and liquor laws which plague big city motels of lesser prestige.

I feel I am not alone in loving Winona. Were it in my power alone, I would offer Winona this precious jewel of a motel. Then maybe Winona would accept me. I certainly would accept Winona, then.

Let's Get Fact First, Then Vote Sensibly
To the Editor:

The simple truth is hard to come by. V-O-T-E would like to document the truth in the latest phase of the St. Charles School ruckus.

Item: Quoting from Walter Ask's letter presented to the St. Charles Board Feb. 4, in part: "We - number in excess of 900 individuals opposed to any action . . . in employing the University of Minnesota field survey . . ." We challenge the validity of the "900" count. An examination of the signatures shows a duplication of some names.

Some of these signatures were discredited at the public meeting Nov. 14. Since then, V-O-T-E has been reliably informed that many people who signed, believed they were signing a petition "for a new school" or for a chance to vote on the Daley Bill; others were told "you'd better sign now, because we'll pester you 'til you do."

Quoting from the same letter by Mr. Ask: "There is no doubt in our minds that whatever personnel must be employed on a survey of this nature will be biased. This is inherent with this organization especially." The L.C.C. is paranoic in its suspicious attitude. They feel that because the University Bureau has an educational background (it is a part of our great state university, no less) that it is biased in favor of education. V-O-T-E submits that this is the whole issue: one of providing the best possible education for the greatest number of children at the most reasonable cost to the taxpayers concerned. To do this, certain basic factual information must be presented to the people. The proposed Field Study is the least biased method and the bureau the most competent agency for doing this job! These men are educators. They are experts in assessing the problems. They have some practical answers.

Quoting further from Mr. Ask's letter: ". . . the organization (Bureau of Field Studies) was contacted privately to appear before the school to sell their wares." Did the Loyal Citizens Committee contact Dr. Dornian before he was called upon by the school board? This is an interesting speculation in view of the Loyal Citizens' subsequent attempt to refuse the public an opportunity to hear him.

(Still quoting) "Dr. Dornian practically assumed control even before his appearance by encroaching upon the prerogative of the school board and working outside the board with private individuals in requesting the presence of others, . . . etc." Dr. Dornian did not encroach. Dr. Dornian's staff is currently conducting a survey in Winona City. Dr. Dornian was very likely fully aware of our con-

Merry-Go-Round

Doesn't Want To Be McKinley

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — This week, Feb. 15, marks the anniversary of the sinking of the Maine, an event which precipitated the United States into an unnecessary war.

There's only one member of the House of Representatives remaining who served in that war — the redoubtable 81-year-old Barratt O'Hara, Democrat of Chicago.

And since the United States now faces an emotionally dangerous crisis over Cuba and Guantanamo, it might be well to recall some of the events which precipitated the unnecessary war in which O'Hara fought.

President McKinley had on his desk an offer from the King of Spain to give us Cuba. Spain did not want a war. At heart, neither did McKinley. However, popular opinion, whipped up by certain newspapers and certain politicians, was too strong. McKinley never made public the note from the King of Spain. Instead, we went to war.

The politician who chiefly wanted war was Teddy Roosevelt, then assistant secretary of the Navy, who shortly after the sinking of the Maine resigned from the Navy to organize the 1st Volunteer Cavalry Regiment and became a hero at the battle of San Juan Hill.

As a result of his heroism, T. R. later became vice president and a courageous President. But there's no question that he contributed to an unnecessary war. I'll probably get in wrong with my wife for reporting this because she was his cousin. Nevertheless, it was true.

REGARDING the present crisis, the Air Force and the Army recommended long before the showdown with Castro that we get rid of Guantanamo. They trove before he was even approached by our board. It is his business to have his fingers on the pulse of the educational matters in the state. His was a reasonable request under the circumstances.

The L.C.C. is afraid of facts. But they have failed to come up with a satisfactory answer to any of the questions which are being asked by thinking citizens about the number of children to be educated; the tax base on which to spread the cost of a year-old proposal for a $975,000 building "in St. Charles"; the kind of curriculum to be offered. These are pertinent questions and must be answered before a bond issue can be submitted to the people.

In planning educational facilities — a school — the building is planned to accommodate a foreseeable future enrollment; a building is not built first, then an attempt made to jam the children in willy-nilly whether they fit or not! Yes, we need facilities. We need desperately to educate all our children for their needs in their future. We do not need facilities to accommodate the whims of a few who today are magnifying relatively small obstacles which have been overcome many times over by communities in similar situations, to the detriment of the one.

The procrastinating methods, the tampering with truth and fact by the Loyal Citizens Committee must be halted. St. Charles needs its rural areas. A central school would be the best for the largest number of children, as matters stand today. But opinions are still a large part of the American way of life, and in order to respect the opinions of all, we can have a referendum. However, a vote should reflect the best thinking of the people. The people must have a basis for judging what, in the opinion of each, is best. This basis is in facts which can be verified. These facts must be presented in a clear and understandable manner, for all—not for just a few to generalize about — but, so that each voter might judge for himself.

Let's get facts first — then let's vote sensibly. Mrs. Antoinette M. Bergh, Vice Chairman, For V-O-T-E, St. Charles, Minn.

pointed out that modern missiles had made Guantanamo out of date and it could become a political liability. Furthermore, it was an old-fashioned, unnecessary expense.

However, the Navy vigorously disagreed. Guantanamo has long been a pleasant place for Navy personnel in ill health and a wonderful spot for senior officers nearing retirement.

So Guantanamo was retained. Today and for the past four years, ever since Castro took over Cuba, we could not give it up without appearing to retreat.

DESPITE ALL his past foibles, and his frequent blast against Uncle Sam, Castro never cut off Guantanamo's water until last week. His action now probably stems from three factors:

1—Castro feels stronger today as a result of renewed Russian aid, the purchase of British buses, and the promised purchase of French trucks and railroad cars; also the expected visit of President De Gaulle. Though Khrushchev has carefully stayed away from Cuba, reportedly to keep from inflaming U. S. opinion, De Gaulle is expected to stop in Havana in mid-March.

2—Castro knows the United States is on the spot in Panama and wanted to multiply American troubles in Latin America.

3—The four Cuban fishing boats were actually watching CIA operations on the dry Tortugas Islands where CIA had set up a spy base in a decrepit old pirate's fortress from which agents were being smuggled into Cuba with fake passports to undermine Castro.

CASTRO WAS fully aware of this operation and had sent the four alleged fishing boats to report on the CIA and if possible intercept the agents before they landed in Cuba. The four boats were equipped not for fishing but with radio apparatus and the CIA had picked up some of their conversations with Havana and put them on tape.

This was the real reason why the Coast Guard took the four boats into custody and why they were turned over to Florida authorities when no federal law could be found to hold them.

Thus both sides were spying on each other. Castro had caught the CIA cold with its spy base and CIA had caught Castro cold with his radio-equipped fishing trawlers. So indignation over CIA espionage was more security over Russian-British-French support probably led to the crack-down on Guantanamo water.

IT'S NOW LEAKED out that many of the intelligence surveys for the disastrous Bay of Pigs invasion were prepared by private corporations including General Electric, Radio Corporation of America, Aerojet, and Rand.

Many Favor Birth Control

By LOUIS HARRIS

By better than 3 to 2, the rank and file of Catholics in the United States say they would like to see their church remove the ban on the use of contraceptive devices.

There appears to be widespread consensus among the American people — including both Catholics and non-Catholics — that modern means of controlling population growth should be employed.

The use of artificial birth control devices is legal in every state except Connecticut. However, a survey of a cross-section of married adults over 21 just completed indicates that fully 45 percent do not use these methods.

AMONG Catholics, as might be expected, non-users are even more numerous — 65 percent. Yet, better than a third of these Catholic married couples interviewed in this survey admit to using artificial contraceptives today, despite policies of their church forbidding it.

A probability cross-section was asked:

"Right now, Catholics are forbidden by the church from using artificial birth control devices. Would you like to see the Catholic Church decide to allow Catholics to use birth control devices (contraceptives) or would you oppose that?"

Total Public	Catholics
Should allow	52
Not allow	15
Not sure	33

Only one Catholic married person in every three is in favor of the church continuing its present policy of prohibition of the use of artificial birth control devices. A substantial percentage isn't sure what the policy ought to be, but fully one in two believes a change in the long-standing position of the church should take place.

WHEN PROBED in depth to find out the reasoning back of these stated views, people tended either to personalize their own situation or to discuss the world-wide problem of overpopulation. One Catholic in every three, for example, reported that they are having difficulty managing to provide the full education, food and health needs of their children today.

The biggest objections to changing policy among Catholics are the belief that the conceiving of children is basically God's will and for a Catholic to violate church precept is to turn one's back on his faith.

When all of the replies in people's own words are added up, here is the pattern of reasoning pro and con on the birth control issue:

ON CATHOLIC CHURCH PERMITTING CONTRACEPTIVE DEVICES

WHY FAVOR CHANGE

Can't provide for child's needs	17
Curb world over-population	16
Individual should decide, not church	13
Family too big now	11
Relief families need it	4
Many Catholics low income	4
Catholics would be freed from sin	3
I'm Catholic, want change	2
Hard on mother's health	2
Make church modern	2
Some parents unfit	1
Unwanted children wrong	1

WHY OPPOSE CHANGE

Children are God's will	8
I'm Catholic, believe in church	3
Would be immoral	2
Against nature	2
Not sure	24

NOTE: Percentages add to more than 100 percent because some people gave more than one reason.

The pattern of present use of contraceptive devices as reported among the total married population compared with married Catholics:

USE OF CONTRACEPTIVE DEVICES	Total Public	Catholics
Use devices	55	35
Don't use	45	65

Discussion of the birth-control issue among Catholics has, of course, been intensifying over the past few years. With the introduction of oral contraceptives for women, some authorities believe the efficiency of artificial birth control has also been increased.

SHENFIELD, England (AP) — A consignment of money — at least $140,000 — was scattered over the tracks when a freight train and a passenger train collided at the Shenfield station today.

Five Minnesota Counties Will Share Teachers

ST. PAUL (AP) — Five northwestern Minnesota communities will share their high school teachers for the 1964-65 school year under a plan approved late Monday by the State Board of Education.

The towns are Felton, Borup, Ulen, Hiltterdal and Glyndon, in Clay, Becker and Norman counties.

The board gave the green light to the proposal after State Sen. W. B. Dosland, Moorhead, explained that all of the schools but Glyndon have fallen below minimum attendance standards to retain their standings as high schools.

By sharing or exchanging teachers, Dosland said, the schools can avoid being reduced to department schools and it would not be necessary to transport pupils from one school to another for the next two years.

With Felton as a geographical center, Dosland said, the radius of all schools involved is about 10 miles.

Schools would share teachers, in addition to the librarian, in such subjects as remedial reading, driver training, industrial arts and foreign language.

The board approved a motion that it "looks favorably on establishment of an area vocational-technical school" at Granite Falls but deferred action until the March 3 meeting.

The board will refer the application to the higher education liaison committee for recommendation before it takes final action. This committee is composed of representatives of the University of Minnesota, the State College Board and the State Board of Education.

A local advisory committee made a survey of the community and reported a "very high interest" by citizens.

The school district pledged it would provide buildings and equipment and employ an area vocational-technical school director and instructors.

Courses would be given in machine trades, machine drawing and design, hydraulic instrumentation, and business.

DEAR ABBY:

Chances He's Not A Big Contributor

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: What is wrong with you? First you advise a young married couple, who ask if it's proper to "tip" their minister for helpful counseling, to give a "donation" to the church instead. Then some preacher's wife writes in crying poor mouth and says, "No, giving the church a donation for services performed by the minister makes about as much sense as sending a 'tip' to Conrad Hilton because you got good service in his hotel." And you agreed with her! You must know that no self-respecting clergyman would accept money for performing a service that is part of his job. And another thing, most churches today are so rich they don't know what to do with their money next.

BURNED UP IN ST. PAUL

Abby

DEAR BURNED: It's difficult to speak for "all" clergymen, and "most" churches. But according to my mail, "most" clergymen have a struggle making ends meet. And "most" churches know only too well what to do with their money.

DEAR ABBY: Since when should the people who belong to a church pay the preacher extra if they call on him to perform a service? If the preacher should be paid for counseling, or marrying, or burying, then by all means let's pay the teacher for holding special conferences with parents, and let's tip the dime store clerk who looks under the counter for something, and the mailman for delivering the mail.

FROM A TEACHER MARRIED TO A PREACHER

DEAR ABBY: To say that the letter from "A Clergyman's Wife" infuriated my husband is putting it mildly. Granted, the clergyman and his family can use money. Who can't? But to expect payment for a service that is part of one's training in the service of God — this is asinine. My husband would rather live on beans and rice, and wear tattered collars on his shirts than take money for himself for baptisms, marriages, funerals and counseling.

PASTOR'S WIFE, FORT BRAGG, N. C.

DEAR ABBY: You were right the first time. When a member of a congregation receives professional services from his pastor, he should not feel compelled to give him a personal gift. If the pastor's salary is inadequate, this should be remedied, but a clergyman should not have to depend on "fees" or "gratuities" in order to make an adequate salary. Perform a double reverse.

Catholics Urged To Keep Lenten Fast Voluntarily

LA CROSSE, Wis. (AP) — Bishop John P. Treacy has directed Roman Catholics of the La Crosse diocese to keep the Lenten fast as a voluntary act of penance rather than a mandatory requirement.

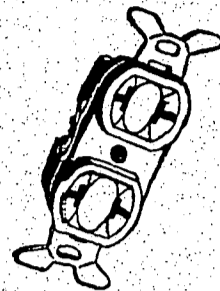

"Many people have observed the fast merely out of fear of mortal sin," the bishop declared in a pastoral letter published Friday in the diocesan publication.

"I ask all the people of the diocese to continue the customary Lenten fast even though the threat of mortal sin no longer applies," he added. "I urge you to do this and other acts of penance during the year in a voluntary spirit, making your own judgments in freedom and responsibility."

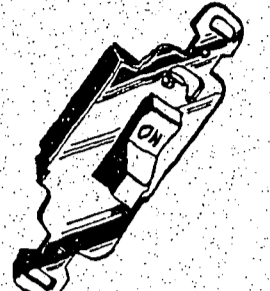

There are some 180,000 Catholics in the 19 counties comprising the La Crosse diocese. Spokesmen said it was the first time that a Wisconsin bishop has seen fit to exempt church members between the ages of 21 and 59 to keep the Lenten fast under penalty of mortal sin unless given special dispensation.

Ruskin Club Hears Talk On Holy Land

Mrs. Lester H. Stevens was the featured pre-Lenten speaker at the Monday afternoon meeting of the Ruskin Study Club at the home of Mrs. William F. White. The event was attended by 20 members and guests, who were able through Mrs. Stevens' color slides and her graphic descriptions to imagine themselves on a journey that in Mrs. Stevens' words was "just like pages out of the Old Testament."

SHE TOOK her listeners on an imaginary trip through the Holy Land, where she herself had traveled last fall. Beginning with Damascus, Mrs. Stevens traced her itinerary through the ancient cities of the Holy Land, across the River Jordan, to the banks of the Dead Sea and then into the new bright land of Israel.

She said the sights she saw in the new part of Jerusalem, being rebuilt by Jews from all over the world, were unbelievable. Modern apartment houses, green fields and vineyards, institutions of learning, of industry and agriculture are growing up under their industrious hands, she said.

MRS. STEVENS, who is a student of the Bible, having studied it in college and taught it after her graduation, interspersed her travelogue with bits of Biblical history that made her trip come alive for her listeners. As it did for her on her trip, she said, the land and people she saw "throbbled with the pulse of the past."

Miss Frances Blanchard, president, conducted a brief business session. Co-hosts with Mrs. White was Mrs. J. Milton Dahm and Mrs. S. A. Boyd poured when refreshments were served.

Spiritual Growth Urged by Speaker At PTA Meeting

The Rev. David Ponath, pastor of Goodview Trinity Church, was speaker at the recent meeting of St. Matthew's PTA. Talking on the theme, "Growth in Christ Through Bible Use," the Rev. Ponath explained that children must grow not only physically, but also spiritually.

He urged the reading of the Bible for spiritual growth and suggested the families have devotion periods in their homes, thus setting an example for the children.

The Rev. Arnold Mennicke gave the devotions and Gerhard Schapekahn reported on the school. Howard Heup gave the athletic and school patrol report.

The ninth grade won the penny count with the largest number of parents present.

Refreshments were served by Messrs. and Mrs. Robert Mahlke, William Powell and Rudolph Sutter.

260-Year-Old Handel Work Sung By St. John's, Local Choruses

The American premiere of a 260-year-old composition by George Frederick Handel was presented Saturday night at the College of Saint Teresa by the combined choruses of Saint Teresa and St. John's University, Collegeville.

Gerhard Track, the director of the St. John's group, was the guest conductor.

"THE PASSION According to St. John" is a work of the 19-year-old Handel. Performed for the first time in Hamburg in 1704, the Passion jarred the traditional and collective musical ears of its time. It was severely criticized by a famous musician, Johann Mattheson, at its original performance, and sifted without a struggle to the bottom of a rapidly growing stack of musical manuscripts by the prolific Handel. In 1957 the work was published in complete practical edition for the first time.

The work hints of the strength and the glory to come, some 37 years later in Handel's most well-known oratorio, "The Messiah". Perhaps a few in the audience of 260 years ago heard the promise of the "Hallelujah

Insurance Study Group Appointed

A school board committee was appointed Monday night to work with board Business Manager Paul W. Sanders in drafting a recommendation on insurance coverage for the public schools for the year beginning April 1.

Board President Lawrence Santelman named 1st Ward Director Ray Gorsuch and Frank J. Allen Jr., 3rd Ward, to the insurance committee which will submit its recommendation at the March meeting on allocation of commissions to participating firms.

Board policy has called for Winona Insurance Agency to write the insurance with other agents in the city eligible to apply for participation in the commission distribution.

The plan provides for Winona Insurance to receive 30 percent of the commissions and the remaining 70 percent to be divided among eligible participants as determined by the board.

Directors Monday approved payroll for homebound instructors amounting to $1,086; substitute teachers, $697; band rehearsal personnel, $160; sheet metal evening class instruction, $78; attendance teacher, $60; Maintenance Development & Training Act program secretarial work, $770; towel room attendant, $9; noon hour supervisors, $715 and student assistants, $183.

Overtime payment to custodians of $373 and cafeteria personnel, $63, also were approved.

Woman Killed When Auto Strikes Tree

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — A woman identified at General Hospital here as Mrs. Dana Emerson, 38, of suburban Crystal died early today, shortly after the car in which she was riding struck a tree in nearby Golden Valley. Stanley Murphy, 35, of suburban Brooklyn Center was seriously injured.

Mrs. Emerson's death raised Minnesota's 1963 traffic accident toll to 54, two under the total a year ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Emerson were in the car and supper was served to 45 attending relatives. Cards were played throughout the afternoon. The honored guest was Miss Marie Hager of Hebron, Nebraska. Relatives attended from Wabasha, Fountain City, Wis., Kellogg and Nebraska.

Much of the modern treatment of mental illness has come about since World War II, he said. With many severe cases of mental illness resulting from the war, psychiatrists were called upon and successfully treated these people. No longer are people treated and isolated. The new approach is early diagnosis and care.

Brother Raymond said that locally, the Winona County Mental Health Association has been instrumental in establishing the Hiawatha Valley Mental Health Center which will serve Houston, Wabasha and Winona counties.

THE CENTER will help children and adults with mental problems. By early diagnosis and care, it is expected they will prevent more severe problems.

A staff of professionally trained people must be recruited, and funds obtained on the local and state level, Brother Raymond explained. The center will provide out-patient care.

Brother Raymond said that active support of the center by the community will insure its success in returning people with mental health problems to an active, useful life.

Teacher on Part-Time Manpower Assignment

Assignment of an industrial arts instructor to half-time duty in the organization and supervision of new courses to be developed under the provisions of the federal Manpower Development & Training Act was objections of several directors.

School Board
The Board of Education met Monday night by the Board of Education over the tors who were reluctant to make a midway faculty adjustment for this purpose.

By a 5-3 vote, the board accepted a recommendation that Warren Macemon, industrial arts teacher at Washington-Kosciusko School, be assigned on a half-time basis as MDT planning and organization supervisor.

Superintendent of Schools A. L. Nelson said that consideration has been given to obtaining a qualified Winona State College graduate student to work at W-K for the time Macemon will be devoting to the new assignment.

SEVERAL NEW courses are being discussed as possible additions to the MDT instructional program offered through the Winona Area Vocational-Technical School and for which federal funds are available for complete financing, including cost of instruction, equipment and, when necessary, for rental of classroom or workshop space.

Macemon would be responsible for surveying the eight-county area served by the school to determine areas in which employment needs would justify organization of training courses, prepare courses of study for those courses which might be offered, arrange necessary rental areas, assist with the purchase of equipment, supervise courses as they're established and be responsible for all reports necessary in conducting the courses.

DR. C. R. Kollofski, chairman of the board's committee on personnel, said he didn't like "the idea of taking a teacher out of a class at this time. Don't you think it could wait until summer?"

Nelson answered, "He's the only one qualified for this assignment. We're concerned, too, about taking a teacher out, but he will still be there half-time and we think this is the best solution."

Nelson said that it was necessary to make the assignment now so that preparations could be made for an expansion of the program at the beginning of the fall term.

The MDT program is administered in cooperation with the state Employment Service which makes formal determination of need for instruction and recommends organization of courses. The employment service screens applicants for enrollment and decides who is eligible for training in each course.

THERE'S AN MDT course in stenography in progress now and there have been previous courses during the past year in stenography and welding.

Fourth Ward Director Franklin Tillman wondered if schools in the area served by the Winona vocational-technical school couldn't be contacted and asked for their cooperation in doing the student survey work contemplated for Macemon "and save us all of this leg work."

Nelson questioned whether schools in other cities would be as interested in the vocational training program here and added, "It's primarily the duty of the vocational school to set up these programs and organize them."

"I'M NOT against vocational education," Tillman continued, "but I am concerned about taking out a real good teacher. I'm lukewarm on this proposal until we get a report on the survey that's being made (he was referring to one being conducted by the University of Minnesota Bureau of Field Study to be used as a basis for recommendations on long-range

It's Fairly Safe Working For Schools

Misfortunes ranging from a bee sting to a severe back injury befell Winona public school employees in the line of duty during the past year but only four accidents resulted in time lost from work.

A report prepared by the Board of Education's clerk and business manager, Paul W. Sanders, and submitted to the board Monday night showed that there were a total of 24 accidents involving school employees reported during the year ending last Dec. 31.

ONLY 47 DAYS were lost because of injuries, though, and two of the accidents accounted for 40 of these days.

Superintendent of Schools A. L. Nelson was asked how Winona's accident record compared with other school systems and he said that he thought that in view of the fact that 235 employees are involved the record appeared to be very good.

Victims of the most serious accidents were two members of the buildings and grounds staff, each of whom was off for 20 days. One was injured when he

International 'Y' Work Discussed

The relation of local club work to international Y's Men programs was discussed Monday at a special district meeting at the Winona YMCA.

John Peckham, Appleton, Wis., an international director, spoke at a dinner meeting to 50 members of Rochester, Red Wing and Winona clubs.

Peckham said local Y's Men are members of a group of 700 clubs forming an international association that extends into 40 countries. While their primary duty is to their own individual clubs, boards and secretaries, their outlook must also encompass the broad program of the international organization, he said.

Guests included Steve Boehlke, Mankato, governor of the Southern Minnesota District, Jerry Frosch, Winona Y's Men president, presided.

District Judge Disposes of Seven Cases

District Court Judge Arnold Hatfield disposed of seven cases in a special term session Monday.

Edward Dionysius, 52 Lenox St., was ordered to pay his former wife, Frieda, $527.30 in back support and alimony payments. Dennis A. Challeen of the Peterson & Plunkett firm, represented the defendant, and Donald T. Winder appeared for Dionysius. The couple was divorced Oct. 30, 1961.

GARLAN POLUS, 477 Wilson St., in two cases, asked that judgment be brought against defendants Mrs. John Curtis, Adele Heise and Mrs. Lloyd Campbell in one case and against defendants John Curtis, Dr. William von Rohr Heise and Mrs. Curtis in the second case. The suit involves payment for work Polus did through the A-1 Contracting Co.

Polus originally filed his complaint in November 1962. The defendants had 20 days to answer but this was extended until January 1963 by agreement of attorneys Thomas Skemp, La Crosse, representing the defendants, and Martin A. Beatty, representing the plaintiff.

The defendants had failed to file answers by that date also and were in court Monday asking for permission to still do so. The judge denied their request and ordered judgment which involves $715.65 against the first set of defendants and $144.64 against the second set.

Ambrose Schwartz, 517 W. 4th St., asked the court to dismiss a personal injury suit brought against him by Murlie and Ardell Hanson. William Hull, of Hull & Hull, appeared for the defendant. The court ordered that the case be dismissed without prejudice.

THE COURT removed three cases from the court calendar involving the same incident. All attorneys agreed pending an appeal in the case.

George W. Ehlers, Floyd Voss and Zywicki Investment Co., Inc., each were suing H. J. Kramer, Ross Kranning and U.S. National Heating & Cooling Manufacturing Co.

The lawsuits involved the partial destruction of a building at Howard and Center Streets by a fire in 1959. Kramer installed a heating unit which allegedly caused the fire; Kranning supplied the unit, and the U.S. Heating & Cooling Co. produced it.

Wabasha Man, 102, Plans November Vote

WABASHA, Minn. (Special)—A group of 25 relatives gathered at the Schuth farm 3 1/2 miles southeast of Wabasha Sunday for a birthday dinner honoring Anton Schuth who will be 102 years old Thursday.

Schuth was born Feb. 13, 1862, at Hanover, Germany. He came to this country and to Wabasha when he was 16 years old and has lived here since; that's 86 years. He first worked on farms in the area owned by the Passe family.

HE MARRIED Caroline Evers in 1888. They moved to his farm in Greenfield Township, where he still makes his home. Although he has been blind 13 years, Mr. Schuth has good health. He has never been in a hospital and had medical attention only once, for an earache. That was when he was 99.

He retires at 10 p.m. daily and often sleeps for 12 hours. He follows current events via radio. He cast his first vote for President Grover Cleveland and has voted ever since.

Schuth says he intends to vote for President Lyndon Johnson in this year's election.

ACTIVE IN community and church affairs in the past, he was chairman of the town board, director of the Wabasha Telephone Co., and in 1911, went to Washington, D.C., with a group of farmers to protest the price of barley, then 25 cents a bushel. He was on the building committee for St. Felix Catholic School in 1902.

Of Schuth's 12 children, six are still living: Henry, Augusta, Mrs. Christine Stramschror, Mrs. Ezra (Caroline) Behrens and Math, Wabasha, and Mrs. Carl (Agnes) Gohl, Lake City. Six are dead: Mary, Ann, Mrs. Henry (Regina) Ahlers, Joseph, Leo and Lucy.

He has 56 grandchildren and 20 great-grandchildren. Two granddaughters are nuns, Sister M. Katarina of the College of Saint Teresa, Winona, and Sister M. Jerome, Jamestown, N.D.

The Schuths were married 62 years at the time of Mrs. Schuth's death on May 2, 1950.

ANTON'S ONLY objection at the birthday party his daughter gave for him was Augusta, who lives with and cares for him, insisted he wear a white shirt. "The company can dress up," he said. "I'm at home, I don't have to." But Augusta prevailed; he wore a white shirt.

Not Centered On Divine, Says Universalist

"The liberal church is humanistically oriented rather than centered on the divine as such," Dr. Kenneth Marsh, Hamline University, told the Unitarian Universalist fellowship Sunday.

In his talk, titled "Liberal-Religion challenge of Escape?" Dr. Marsh pointed out that religious liberalism is an escape from religious commitment and from theological faith and ritual observance.

Said Dr. Marsh, "The Unitarian Universalist Church does not lay down rules nor make decisions for people. Association is voluntary and continually renewed by the acts of individuals."

"Religion of experience, rather than one of faith and creed, results in experiencing multiple insights into reality," he said. "It is a quest and a journey rather than a goal. By expanding our experiences with others, we enrich our own lives and in being receptive to conflicts and ideas and practices, develop tolerance of the beliefs of others."

"Where do we stand in relation to other sects and faiths? Our name Unitarian Universalist is at variance with the facts. We are not in the normal sense unified nor do we necessarily believe in a unity. We might better be called multitarian. Since we are a small minority church, we are not universal, and because we do not claim to be an ultimate haven for all, we are not actively proselytizers. What we do have which justifies our name is a confident hospitality."

"We are open to all who wish to join with us asking no more than assent to a courteous fellowship and we respect those who do not wish to do so," Dr. Marsh said. "We try to make sure that there is room in our house for any persuasion, thus we are a University in microcosm, and we agree in unity to maintain it that way."

AT WHITEHALL

Car Was Going 110, Witness Tells Jury

WHITEHALL, Wis. (Special)— Counsel for the plaintiffs in two $20,000 suits brought by independence mothers against Economy Fire & Casualty Co. for the deaths of their sons in a car accident April 21, 1962, called four witnesses as testimony opened in Trempealeau County Circuit Court here Monday afternoon. Judge Merrill Farr presided.

The jury was drawn Monday morning to hear the cases brought by Mrs. Julia Kulig for the death of her son, Richard, and Mrs. Stella Espeseth, Town of Chimney Rock, for the loss of her son, Wyliss, both 20 plaintiffs' witnesses were to go on the stand again this morning.

WILLIAM Adler, Eau Claire, with Edward J. Kulig, Independence, representing the mothers, said in his opening statement the car in which the boys were riding, driven by Warren Nelson, Chimney Rock, was traveling 100-110 miles an hour when it went off the road on a curve and down a hill. The accident resulted in apparent instant death for Kulig and Nelson. Espeseth died later in an Eau Claire hospital. Economy had insured the Nelson car.

Adler said George Jacobson, Chimney Rock, the only survivor, had told Nelson to slow down as they neared the curve but he hadn't done so.

Adler said Richard was the youngest son of Mrs. Kulig and her husband, William. He said they had had to retire from the farm because of Mr. Kulig's ill health and are now living on about $98 per month social security.

Counsel stated that Richard had planned to help his parents in appreciation for what they had done for him when, as a seventh grader, he had been severely burned and had been hospitalized and cared for at home many months.

Adler said that Espeseth, following graduation from high school, worked on the family farm operated by his parents and two uncles, Theodore and Arthur Espeseth. The father, William Espeseth, was hospitalized with hardening of the arteries, he said, and was unable to work.

FRANK Morrow, Eau Claire, counsel with Burr Tarrant, Whitehall, for the insurance company, said in his opening statement the boys had been in a tavern prior to the accident.

The car had been driven 60 m.p.h. until about one mile south of the accident, when speed had been increased to 120 miles an hour. Nothing had been said to the driver about slowing down until immediately before the car went out of control, he contended. He claimed each occupant was as much concerned with how the car was driven as the driver.

Dr. Charles P. Meyers, Independence, first witness, said William Kulig, his patient, is suffering from coronary arteriosclerosis, unable to make a living, and his life expectancy has been affected.

The doctor said William Espeseth, suffering from general arteriosclerosis, mentally recognizes people but is unable to make decisions of his own. He is a patient at the Trempealeau County Hospital and in the doctor's opinion will remain there. Dr. Meyers is physician for the institution.

Dr. Meyers said he was called to the accident scene the night of April 21. He testified he found Kulig in an open field north of where the car stopped. He was dead, probably from a broken neck.

He described Wyliss Espeseth as verbalizing when he found him and apparently in pain. The doctor said his primary examination showed injuries could have included a lesion of the spinal chord, there was paralysis, his chest showed multiple injuries, there was probably he had a punctured lung, and he was bleeding from the nose, mouth and ears. Within 15 minutes he was transferred to an ambulance and taken to the hospital.

GEORGE Jacobson, 21, Eau Claire, now employed by the Chicago & North Western Railway, testified that Kulig and Nelson came to the Russell Paulson farm in Chimney Rock, where he was employed, at 5:45 on the fatal day. They waited for him while he finished milking and had supper there with him and Palmer Risberg.

Then they went to the home of his father, Ernest Jacobson, at 7:15 so he could change clothes. Risberg, Ernest Jacobson, Kulig and Nelson started to play cards, he said. The game was interrupted about 8:20 p.m. when he, Kulig and Nelson went to the George Knutson tavern in Elk Creek. The Espeseth car was outside. They went in, he said, joined Wyliss, and each had four glasses of beer. Then they left in the Nelson car. They planned to stop in Eleva and finish their game of cards with his father and Risberg and later go on to Brackett to a dance.

Jacobson testified Nelson was driving 50-60 miles an hour until about a mile south of the Van Pelt curve on Highway 93. Just as they were approaching the curve leading to a straight stretch of highway about 1 1/4 miles long, Jacobson said, Nelson increased his speed to 110 miles.

Jacobson testified that he said, "Slow down or you will never make it." He didn't reduce speed, and at the curve, Jacobson testified he said "Here we go." Kulig and Espeseth were in the back seat; he was sitting beside Nelson and watched the speedometer.

THE COURT removed three cases from the court calendar involving the same incident. All attorneys agreed pending an appeal in the case.

George W. Ehlers, Floyd Voss and Zywicki Investment Co., Inc., each were suing H. J. Kramer, Ross Kranning and U.S. National Heating & Cooling Manufacturing Co.

The lawsuits involved the partial destruction of a building at Howard and Center Streets by a fire in 1959. Kramer installed a heating unit which allegedly caused the fire; Kranning supplied the unit, and the U.S. Heating & Cooling Co. produced it.

JOHN Lucente, vocational agriculture teacher at Independence High School since graduating from River Falls State College 17 1/2 years ago, testified that Espeseth had been an exceptional student in his classes throughout high school, 1936-60. He was a B average student, better in some subjects, and very accurate.

He said during his junior year Espeseth had made a farm wagon. He was exceptional in exhibiting animals, he said, and had won $50 from the Eau Claire Leader in 1959 for showing the outstanding lamb at the Northwest Junior Live Stock Show. He also had exhibited swine and beef.

In 1960 Espeseth received the state Farmer Degree, Lucente said. He improved his dairy herd through DHA, he added. The case is expected to go to the jury today.

3 Winona Fighters Score Victories

MINNEAPOLIS (Special)—Three of Winona's four-man aggregation stayed alive in the running for Upper Midwest Golden Gloves tournament championships by scoring victories during first-night action at the Auditorium here Monday night.

The only member sidetracked in his quarter-final bid was Lee Huwald, a lightweight, who lost a split decision to Jeff Hackey of Wheaton.

"That was a real close fight," stated Jim Mullen, coach of the Catholic Recreational Center team. "I thought they might stop it in the first round when Lee hurt Hackey, but they didn't. Hackey was a big lightweight and he had Lee outweighed."

The remaining three members came through with Ron Puterbaugh, a strong contender in the heavyweight division, scoring a first-round knockout over Oscar Resendiz of Hibbing.

"Ron had no trouble at all," said Mullen.

Mike Kittleson, who operates in the middleweight division, won a unanimous decision over Manuel Bartello of Blue Earth.

Jerry Puterbaugh made it three victories for Winona with a split decision over John Crandall of Hibbing.

"Mike won big," recalled Mullen, "but Jerry had a bout with a real tough cookie. It was a good fight."

The semifinals and finals will be fought Monday night with the eight winners advancing to the national tournament at Louisville, Ky.

"I think all of our fighters stand a good chance of getting into the finals," said Mullen. "But the finals are going to be awfully tough. This seems to be a real good tournament, a little stronger even than last year."

Three 1963 champions remain in the running after first-round action.

St. Paul's team sends seven fighters into the semifinals. Minneapolis has six, Wahpeton and Hibbing five, Rochester and Wadena four and Blue Earth one.

Heavyweight champion

Charlie Smith of Minneapolis defended his title with a decision over Rover Busch of Blue Earth. Welterweight champ Ron Lyke of Minneapolis stopped Dave Hardy of Rochester in the first round.

Duane Mann of Hastings, moving up from 112 pounds to the featherweight class, stopped Jim Sundry of Wadena in the second round.

Derailed in a repeat bid was Fred Jimenez of Blue Earth as he lost a lightweight decision to Denny Kordusky of Hastings.

Eagles Are Still After Dutchman

ST. PAUL (P)—The flirtation between the Philadelphia Eagles and Coach Norm Van Brocklin of the Minnesota Vikings appears to be going full tilt.

But it's being carried on in a very impersonal manner, with news media seemingly carrying the tidings back and forth.

Jerry Wolman, young millionaire owner of the Eagles, told the Minneapolis Tribune he was prepared to give Van Brocklin such a heady offer as coach and general manager that he feels the Dutchman can't turn it down.

Wolman told the Associated Press in Chevy Chase, Md., that he has "never, ever, ever" spoken directly to Van Brocklin. But he didn't challenge the standing offer to Van Brocklin to take over the reins of the team in Philly where he starred at quarterback.

Van Brocklin, 37, has three years to go on a Viking contract that pays somewhere in the $27,000 class, along with radio-TV sidelines.

Van Brocklin has said he likes it in Minnesota. He said Monday he doesn't have an offer in front of him so he can't consider the Philadelphia deal at the moment.

But that was before he read his morning newspaper.

E. W. Boyer, Vikings' president caught in the middle of the romance, said he will formally convey the Eagles' interest to Van Brocklin today and let the Viking coach decide if he wants to pursue it.

"Right now, he's our guy," Boyer said.

Redmen Victory Recipe Is Simple

LOUIS TODNEM, the dean of Big Nine Conference football coaches for a decade or so, was presented with the 1963 Mankato Sportsman-of-the-Year award Friday night.

Those of you who remember back to 1920 recall that Louis guided the fortunes of the Winhawks for three years before moving to Mankato.

Todnem has wound up his coaching career with 44 years of football under his belt as well as 33 years of basketball.

When the likeable gentleman decided to quit prior to last fall's football season, a great reign marked its end.

But Very Effective

By GARY EVANS
Daily News Sports Editor

St. Mary's has a victory recipe. The ingredients are simple, but effective.

The dish for cage gourmets reads like this: Balanced scoring, liberal use of the driving shot and just a sprinkling of the long jumper.

All were blended perfectly at Terrace Heights Monday night as St. Mary's posted its 14th victory of the season and sixth in the MIAA, a 90-77 decision over Concordia's Cobbers.

After toying with the Cobbers and leaving the court at intermission with a comfortable 48-39 lead, the Redmen salted it away with comparative ease in the second half.

And when the game was history and Coach Ken Wiltgen had a chance for verbal recollection, he was satisfied.

"We did a good job," he said. "Our offense was working and the kids were really putting out. This was no false effort." He went on. "At Gustavus Saturday we didn't have it, but tonight was much better."

The Cobbers broke to a quick 7-1 lead behind three points from Gary Larsen and a field goal each by Keith Bangs and Robert Nick.

But St. Mary's hurried back, tying the count at 9-9 on a stolen ball driving shot by Al Williams.

After Concordia had spurred in front 17-9, the two teams traded buckets until St. Mary's pulled within 24-23 on the first of a pair of free throws by Mike Maloney and then tied it again.

After a 26-26 tie, St. Mary's was on its way again. With the score 30-28 in the Redmen's favor, Williams dumped in two charity tosses. Maloney scored on a drive, was fouled, missed the free throw and Jim Rockers stuffed it back in for a 36-28 gap. The margin held and Maloney's driving shot minutes later made it 46-39.

The second half was no contest as St. Mary's pushed it out of reach early and then coasted in.

With 7:30 left, Williams hit a drive to make it 73-58 and after a layup by Concordia's Keith Larsen, the Redmen whipped in seven quick points to take an 80-60 lead with 5:30 remaining.

After George Valaika had dropped a free throw, Williams rammed home two quick jumpers and captain Tom Hall drove around the horn and scored left-handed.

A Cobber defense with a new twist—half zone, half man-to-man—resulted in mild confusion and the visitors cut it to 80-67, but the Redmen finished it out with a cool semi-stall that resulted in easy buckets.

When it was over, all five St. Mary's starters had hit "n double figures.

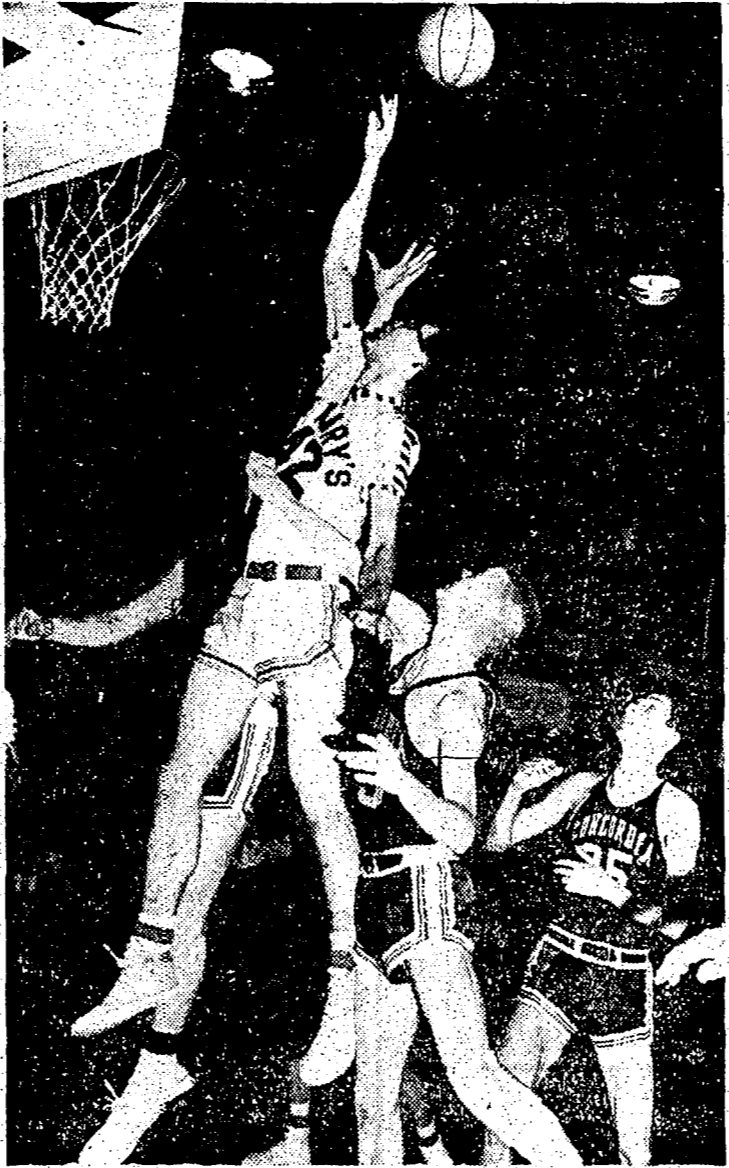

Williams led the parade with 20 points and his guard cohort Mike Maloney netted 18. Denny Burgman, a whirling dervish in the pivot, wound up with 15, Hall got 12 and Rog Pylewski 10.

Matching Williams' total was Concordia's Bangs, who meshed 10 long jumpers. Frank Johnson scored 15, Keith Larsen 13 and Gary Larsen and Nick 11 each.

"They can shoot," said Wiltgen with a sigh of relief. "If you don't take them out of their offense, they can really be dangerous."

St. Mary's, which now is 14-6 overall and 6-5 in the conference, gets its next action at St. Thomas Saturday night. Clashes with the co-leading Bulldogs and Auggies remain on the schedule, casting the Redmen in the role of spoilers. Both of the tilts crucial to league placings will be played at Terrace Heights.

Friday was just fine as far as the Old Swami was concerned. In fact, the entire weekend made him feel quite important.

In addition to hitting the Cotter-Pacelli and Taylor-Fairchild games on the nose and missing a host of others by just one point, he wound up with 29 of 36 correct.

That performance runs his total to 369 of 506 for a .727 percentage. With handicaps, he has 288 of 506 for a .565 percentage.

But the old boy will have little time to rest on his laurels as today brings another round of games.

This is what the crystal ball says:

Beaulieu Gets Five as Redmen Sextet Wins

NORTHFIELD, Minn. (Special)—The St. Mary's Redmen hockey team kept rolling along Monday against St. Olaf. The Redmen tripped up the Oles 10-3 in non-league play.

It was the powerful play of ace defenseman Andre Beaulieu, who scored five goals and assisted on two others, that helped St. Mary's to victory No. 13 of the year against one defeat. The Redmen have a 10-1 slate in the MIAA and are 2-1 outside the loop, the lone loss coming at the hands of Bemidji.

St. Mary's started the night off on the right foot, with Mike Bishop hitting at 2:23 on an assist from Beaulieu. Freshman Brian Desbiens then rammed one in at 4:37 on an assist from Phil Reichenbach. Beaulieu closed out the Redmen scoring on an unassisted goal at 14:37.

The first period ended 3-3 as St. Olaf hit on three markers. Two were by Suter at 3:34 and 7:26 and the other by Rasmussen at 13:49.

The second and third periods were all St. Mary's. Beaulieu, Desbiens and McCormick scored in the second stanza, and Beaulieu hit on three and Dennis Cooney one in the fourth period.

Coach Keith Hanzel was extremely happy with the results. "We had real good second and third periods," said Hanzel, "the freshmen line looked terrific and Cooney played one of his best games of the year."

St. Mary's closes out its regular season schedule this week with home encounters against Augsburg Thursday at 7:30 p.m. and second-place (in the Macalester Saturday).

Hanzel will go with his regular lineup Thursday against the Auggies. The only change will be in the nets, with Jerry Archambeau manning the position.

A.L. Must Deal With Finley Now

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Mayor Ius W. Davis has put the city's stadium lease dispute with Charles O. Finley in the laps of the American League club owners by refusing impartial arbitration, offered by league President Joe Cronin.

Both Finley and the league refused to disclose Finley's reaction to the arbitration proposal.

Gunderson Gets Formal Appointment

Marvin Gunderson of St. James, Minn., tapped as Winona Senior High School's next head football coach, received formal appointment by the Board of Education to the Winona public school faculty Monday night.

The recommendation that Gunderson be hired to fill the staff vacancy created by last fall's resignation of football coach James Elliott received unanimous but informal approval from board members at a committee meeting a week ago and the formality of employment was voted at last night's regular meeting of directors.

Specifically, he's been hired as a Senior High biology and physical education instructor at an annual salary of $6,050.

Superintendent of Schools A. L. Nelson pointed out that board procedure calls for assignment of coaching duties in separate action later in the year so Monday's board action did not cover Gunderson's coaching job.

There has been an understanding that Gunderson, in addition to being assigned the coaching post for which an increment of $800 is paid, also will be named to the coaching staff of some spring or fall athletic activity and it's contemplated he'll be on the public school's summer staff this year.

Board members understood that he plans on moving to Winona with his family sometime after the end of the current school year in June.

Bradds Hits 49 As Bucks Win

CHICAGO (P)—Gary Bradds finally did it. He not only smashed a pair of Ohio State scoring records but he also led the Buckeyes to a 110-92 basketball victory over Illinois.

The triumph pulled Ohio State within one game of league-leading Michigan and kept Ohio State in running for what could be an unprecedented fifth straight conference title.

Bradds' 49 points eclipsed the mark of 48 held jointly by Bradds and predecessor Jerry Lucas. It was the highest point total scored by a Buckeye at St. John's arena and also marked the fifth straight game in which Bradds has scored 40 or more points.

Bradds connected on 17 of 29 attempts from the field and also scored 15 free throws in 16 tries. Ohio State, meanwhile, scored 41 goals in 79 attempts for a percentage of 56 and far outdid Illinois' percentage of 41.

Bradds' effort brought him closer to the Big Ten record set by Terry Dischinger of Purdue at 52.8 in 1951. Bradds now is averaging 39.0 points a game in conference play for eight games and the Buckeyes have six games remaining.

Ohio State moved into a 57-40 halftime lead and retained the advantage throughout the second half. Don Freeman and Tal Brody shared scoring honors for Illinois with 17 points each.

Kowa kept Indiana in the Big Ten cellar as Dave Roach scored 23 points and Ed Bastian added 18 points. Jimmy Rodgers scored 17 and Gary Olson had 12 to offset the output by Indiana's Van Arsdale twins.

Tom Van Arsdale scored 23 points and brother, Dick, added 22 as the Hoosiers never retaliated from a 34-32 half-time deficit.

EAST END COACH HITS 3,024

Main Tavern '5' Smashes 2,786

Team scoring was the mode of the night in Winona bowling circles Monday night as both men's and women's group climbed into the top ten department in team series.

Main Tavern, a Monday night entrant in Westgate Bowl's Pin Topplers League, rattled a 2,786 to annex second place.

The Main Tavern group already has first place in that department nailed down with a 2,806 total hit Sept. 30, 1963.

Betty Englerth paced the top effort with a 223 as all five team members climbed above the 500 mark.

Vivian E. Brown held the quintet series topper with a 558. She was followed by Betty Englerth with 549, Helen Englerth 532, Pat Rozek 531 and Dolores Wicka 514.

The Tavern five made it a clean sweep of team honors with a 969 team single, but Marianne O'Brien, the same lefthander who cleaned up honors in the city women's tournament, took series laurels with a 572 for Watkins Mary King. Another 500 came from Esther Poanac, who ripped 510.

And while the girls were at it at Westgate, the men were doing the same at Winona Athletic Club in the Monday Night League where East End Coach Co. cruised to 1,029 - 3,024 behind Ted Barnbeck's 248-656.

The team series was good for 10th place.

Rich Chuchna made it two honor counts for the loop with an even 600.

WESTGATE Community - Frank Vondrashek of the Oasis team took game honors with 216. Francis Haney tagged 571 for Oasis. Hackbarth Feed Mill crashed a 1,005-2,810 for team counts.

Alley Gater's - It was Janet Wiczorek of Taverna Barber Supply with a 224-530, and high three-game series went to Gerry McLaughlin of Taverna at 534. The Beauty team bounced 921-2,678 for team highs.

Ladies - Helen Grukowski rapped 196-493, and Grukowski Beauty Shop smashed an

Barely Freezing Tonight Reading Tonight

Above normal temperatures continue to make Winona weather less like winter than usual.

Mostly cloudy and warmer is the forecast for tonight with the thermometer going no lower than 25-30 Wednesday with mostly cloudy and continued mild with the mercury 35 or better. Above normal temperature with no precipitation likely is the outlook for Thursday.

AFTER REACHING 31 Monday afternoon, the thermometer dipped to 14 during the night but was back to 31 at noon today.

A year ago today the Winona high was 36 and the low 5. All-time high for Feb. 11 was 49 in 1892 and low for the day 21 in 1899. Mean for the past 24 hours was 23. Normal for this time of the year is 18.

Lowest reading in Minnesota this morning was 1 at Redwood Falls, and 3 at International Falls, and 10 at Duluth. Hochester had a morning reading of 12 after a high of 30 Monday and La Crosse posted figures of 13 and 32 for the same time.

All Minnesota and Wisconsin highways were reported in good winter or driving condition today. Another unlikely February day of mild temperatures and sunny skies was served up for WISCONSIN, too, today.

Temperatures again were in the 30s and the weatherman predicted warmer weather for Wednesday. However, there is a chance of some light rain or snow in the state by Wednesday.

Minimum temperatures early today ranged from 4 above zero at Wausau and Lone Rock to 14 at Racine, Madison and Lone Rock set the high of 35 Monday.

Stock Prices Recover in Light Trade

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market recovered in moderate trading early this afternoon.

Savings and loans, selected motors, tobaccos, electronics, chemicals and aerospace issues helped boost the averages following Monday's decline.

Rails, airlines, building materials and mail order-retail issues also worked higher on balance.

The business news background remained encouraging and specific groups or issues responded to favorable comment.

Most gains were fractional, although Du Pont's 3-point rebound was a substantial factor in the rise of the averages.

The Ass. Iated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 9 at 283.6 with industrials up 1.9, rails up .3 and utilities up .1.

Corporate bonds were mixed. U.S. governments were mostly unchanged in light dealings.
