ATTEMPTS TO RESCUE WOMAN... Police patrolman Charles Brereton climbs aboard boat in Prospect Park Lake, Brooklyn borough of New York, as he fails in attempt to rescue Mrs. Frances Carbon-

N.J. Armored Truck Robbed of $511,000

Gunmen Force Drivers to Open Vehicle

PATERSON, N.J. (AP) — Gunmen robbed a bank truck of $511,000 in cash outside a church rectory today after making prisoners of three priests and waiting with them for the truck's arrival.

The bandits invaded the rectory of St. Anthony's Roman Catholic church about 9 a.m. and handcuffed and bound the three priests.

They seized the two truck guards as they arrived, disarmed them and then looted the vehicle, making their escape by car.

Police said three gunmen wearing Halloween masks went inside the rectory, but they said an alarm had been broadcast for a getaway car carrying possibly six men.

Truck guard Frank Fernandi said that as he and his partner, John Godley, entered the rectory, a gunman ordered them inside.

The guards, who carry revolvers, were handcuffed and left inside the rectory with the priests.

After the bandits escaped by car, an alarm was telephoned to police headquarters from the rectory.

John Anderson, vice president of the First National Bank of Passaic County, said the bank's vehicle was of the conventional armored type.

"We still don't understand why the alarm didn't go off," Anderson said. "If the doors of the truck are open without the alarm system being shut off, then a siren begins. The alarm can be turned off manually. As the police said, if you had a gun in your back, you'd turn it off too. Perhaps that's what happened."

Anderson said the bank's $511,000 was covered by insurance. Fernandi and Godley, both about 40 and veteran employees, were on a regular Monday route which included cash pickups from three churches and deliveries of cash to three of the bank's branches, according to Anderson.

They started at the bank's main office where they picked up money for the branch banks. They had not made any deliveries to the branches before the holdup, Anderson said.

Four Children Die in Fire At Pine River

PINE RIVER, Minn. (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Charles Baker relaxed over coffee at the home of friends early Sunday. They talked of the night's benefit dance for a couple who had lost their home in a fire.

Moments later, a screaming fire siren became a death knell for four of the Bakers' six children.

The victims were Susan, 9; Debbie, 7; Randy, 4; and Dennis, 2.

Janice Baker, 14, dashed through the snow without shoes, carrying baby Perry, 1, to the home of a neighbor.

The neighbor, Carl Brasshoff, had no telephone and had to drive three-quarters of a mile to a cafe to call the Pine River fire department.

After attending the dance, Mr. and Mrs. Baker stopped for coffee with Mr. and Mrs. George Wynn. When the fire alarm sounded, Mrs. Wynn telephoned for the location of the blaze.

The Bakers sped the six miles to their four-room home. The sobbing Janice, still carrying the baby, fell into their arms.

Brasshoff said he ran the 100 yards to the Baker house before going for help but found it "already an inferno." His heavy glove was singed when he tried to push in a window, he said.

Firemen blamed an overheated wood-burning stove for the blaze. The four dead youngsters slept in a single bedroom. Janice had been sleeping on a couch in another room.

Neighbors said they would take up a collection for the Bakers, both of whom worked at pulpwood cutting. They said another benefit dance might be staged.

Holiday Toast

The Broadwayite's holiday toast: "May you have a Christmas you'll never forget — and a New Year's Eve you won't even remember." The number of accidents in the home is rising. People aren't spending enough time there to know their way around... "An elephant," defines the cynic, "is a mouse built to government specifications." This is the time of year, as any father can tell you, when the kids who've treated you like a stranger all year suddenly treat you like a bank.

Conrad to Try Again

Hopes to Start Christmas Eve

CAPE TOWN, South Africa, (AP) — America's flying grandfather, Max Conrad, plans to take off Christmas eve on a lonely 65-hour solo flight in a small twin-engine plane from Cape Town to New Orleans.

The 61-year-old veteran ferry pilot was turned back by engine trouble Wednesday only 700 miles after he started out on the 8,316-mile flight.

Conrad limped back to Alexander Bay with an oil leak in one engine. After repairing his plane in Pretoria over the weekend, he returned here Sunday to prepare for a second attempt on the long flight.

Referring to his five-hour flight to bring the plane—heavy with fuel—back to land Conrad said, "I had no hope at all in the first hour—if I had ditched I would never have been seen again. I don't want that trouble again."

If Conrad makes it to New Orleans nonstop, he will break the world's distance record which he holds for light planes.

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The future of South Viet Nam's government and the war against the Viet Cong have been thrown into doubt by a weekend political purge by young Vietnamese generals.

The "Young Turks" dissolved the High National Council and arrested most of its nine members, plus more than 20 other leading politicians.

U.S. military and diplomatic officers made no official statement on the crisis — the country's sixth government upheaval in less than 14 months — but American displeasure was evident.

"This power play did not seem called for," said one U.S. official, "and basically we have to regard these generals as rebels against the duly constituted government."

Premier Tran Van Huong and Chief of State Phan Khanh Su were still nominally in power. In a broadcast proclamation, the junta of young generals declared confidence in and support for both men.

U.S. officials said the latest assertion of over-all authority by the military badly damaged the civilian government's position.

Brig. Gen. Nguyen Chanh Thi, commander of the 1st Army Corps, is the dominant member of the junta. He escaped to Cambodia in 1960 after falling in an attempt to overthrow the Ngo Dinh Diem government.

Since Diem's death he has risen rapidly in the Vietnamese army.

Acting with him in Sunday's pre-dawn, bloodless purge were Brig. Gen. Nguyen Cao Ky, air force commander; Brig. Gen. Le Nguyen Khang, Marine Corps commander, and Brig. Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu, 4th Corps commander.

About 70 staff officers who had been assigned to the chief of state's office were shipped off under guard to the mountains north of Saigon. All had been on the staff of the former chief of state, Lt. Gen. Duong Van Minh, and had been left at the disposal of his successor.

Montgomery Man Killed In Accident
MONTGOMERY, Minn. (AP) — A Montgomery man was killed and a police officer injured in an accident on a slippery county road near here Saturday night.

Fred Kotek, 56, Montgomery, was thrown from his car when it missed a curve on County Road 26, 2 1/2 miles east of Montgomery. Montgomery policeman Fred Hart, 59, was taken to a New Prague hospital in serious condition. Sheriff Pat Smith Sr. of LeCenter, said Hart was pursuing the Kotek car. Kotek was thrown from his machine and crushed as it overturned several times. Hart's car also overturned but his seat belt held him in the machine. The death raised Minnesota's highway toll to 798 compared with 777 at this time last year.

Fresh Snow, Cold Sting U.S. Again

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Heavy snows choked mountain passes from California to Washington today while rains and gales continued to pound wide areas of the Pacific Northwest.

Eastern Washington and Oregon were under a snow blanket with some depths reaching 5 feet and more in some of the passes across the Cascades.

Whole gale warnings were up for coastal sections of the Pacific Northwest. Winds of 75 miles an hour lashed North Bend, Ore. this morning. By an odd quirk the temperature early today was warmer in North Bend, Ore., than it was in San Diego, Cal.

Newport, Ore., got 1.27 inches of rain in six hours and Eugene, Ore., measured one inch. Heavy rain falling on a 7-inch snow blanket made Portland, Ore., a sea of slush.

Yakima, Wash., measured 10 inches of snow on the ground as the storm moved toward the northern Rockies.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 14 below zero in Havre, Mont., to 69 degrees in Key West, Fla.

The northeastern section of the nation also was stung by fresh snow, rain and falling temperatures.

At least 25 deaths were attributed to violent storms that followed a coast-to-coast cold wave.

Although the South and many of the middle states are experiencing a warming trend, the northern corners of the nation had no relief.

With 8 inches of new snow today, portions of the Montana-North Dakota area were still digging out from the storms in an effort to save thousands of stranded cattle and sheep.

Hundreds of cattle suffocated as ice formed on their nostrils and mouths. North Dakota Gov. William Guy called a meeting with Civil Defense, National Guard and highway department officials to determine what can be done to help the snowed-in ranchers.

"I've never seen a storm like that one," said one North Dakota rancher. Some portions of the state were declared disaster areas.

Lightning, thunder, hail, snow and gusty winds struck sections of Montana as cold arctic air met with warmer Pacific air.

Lightning knocked the face from a clock in a Helena valley home.

Most of the state and federal highways were open to traffic but back roads were snowed in. Some officials said it would take weeks to open the country routes.

The Air Force planned to airlift five tons of hay to stranded cattle and sheep.

In the Northwest, mixed rain and snow caused hazardous driving conditions in Washington, where three persons died in traffic accidents. Two boys were killed in sledding mishaps near Seattle.

Heavy rains struck northern California and gale warnings were posted along the northern coast. Heavy snow was expected in the northern and central Sierras where travel warnings were issued.

memory of Russell Olson, 49, a rancher and farmer who operates a 2,400-acre spread near this little southwestern North Dakota town.

It should. The savage storm which raked the northern Great Plains — called in some areas the worst in nearly 40 years — cost him at least 160 head of Black Angus cows and calves valued at nearly $25,000.

Countless thousands of cattle and sheep were lost amid subzero temperatures and vicious winds that drove snow like billions of tiny needles.

The sandy-haired rancher, father of seven children, recalls hearing the blizzard forecast last Tuesday morning. A careful man known to neighbors as "one of our top men," he drove his truck into the little town of Seranton for a standby feed supply of barley pellets.

But the storm was moving in faster than he expected.

"I started back about 10 o'clock, but the storm hit while I was loading and I only got about four miles when I had to stop," said Olson. "I couldn't see a thing."

Olson stayed with friends until the storm lifted briefly about 2 p.m. His oldest boy, Dennis, 19, and a daughter, Annette, left home in a station wagon to meet him. Olson sent word for his

DEAR ABBY:

Second-Hand Invitations Out

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My daughter's mother-in-law invited my daughter and her family for Christmas dinner, which is no big deal, because she has a fine big home with plenty of help in the house and she won't have to stand in the kitchen and prepare it herself. Well, she told my daughter to "bring her mother." I don't care for second-hand invitations. I have a telephone and it wouldn't have hurt this woman to pick up a phone and invite me herself. Just because I'm a poor widow and haven't a big splendid home to invite her back to is no reason for her to treat me like dirt. What do you think of a person who is this cruel and stuck up?

A POOR WIDOW

ABBY

DEAR WIDOW: I think you are looking for a reason to be "mad" at your daughter's mother-in-law. Be grateful that she asked your daughter to bring you. The woman may be guilty of thoughtlessness, but don't label her as cruel and stuck up.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 12-year-old girl and I have a problem. A girl friend of mine can attract boys very easily. She smokes, swears and wiggles. Her personality isn't too good and she isn't that pretty. I don't smoke, swear or wiggle. I have a pleasing personality and I'm fairly pretty. How can I attract a boy without really trying?

UNSUCCESSFUL BOY-SEEKER

DEAR BOY-SEEKER: I don't recommend smoking, swearing or wriggling (at any age). You could work on developing your personality, but if you should happen to "attract" a boy at age 12, what on earth would you do with him?

DEAR ABBY: How does one tell a dear friend, who is also a handsome, well-groomed, refined gentleman that the next time he goes to his barber he should ask the barber to remove a large, unsightly blackhead on his right cheek, near his nose? It detracts from his otherwise clean-looking appearance.

SAN CARLOS

DEAR SAN: I would never suggest that a barber remove ANYTHING from the face of a client. What appears to be a "blackhead" could be a mole, growth, discolored wart, or a number of other things which neither I nor a barber is qualified to diagnose. If the man is a "dear friend," tell him to see a dermatologist for a professional opinion.

66 Fire Deaths Over Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

At least 66 multiple fire deaths have been recorded over the nation in the last three days with more than half the victims children.

House fires killed six and seven persons at a time as cold weather gripped parts of the nation in advance of today's calendar start of the winter. Home furnaces were pushed to near maximum capacity.

The death toll by days: Sunday: At least 20 dead, 14 children and six adults. A mother and her six youngsters perished in one upstate New York blaze.

Saturday: At least 28 dead, 23 children and three adults, with one fire killing six youngsters, and two others claiming five each.

Friday: Fire swept a nursing home in Fountaintown, Ind., killing 20 elderly residents.

The upstate New York fire killed Mrs. Paul B. Breeden, 26, and her six children, aged 2 to 8, in their home in Palmyra, near Rochester.

The 31-year-old father returned home from a business trip to Chicago an hour after the blaze was discovered. Two adjacent homes also were destroyed but the occupants escaped. Breeden, a spot welder, had found work in Chicago and returned to pick up his family.

four children working and attending school in Bowman to stay in town.

The rancher and his two youngsters met on the road and returned home in the station wagon. Sometimes, one of them would walk in front so the driver could tell where the road was.

"We got home about sundown and it was 10 below zero," Olson said.

"Then it just gradually got worse. The wind got stronger in the night — 35 to 40 miles an hour — and we could feel it shake the house. It went down to 30 below. I've never seen snow so fine. It was like sand."

All day Wednesday and Wednesday night the blizzard howled around the Olsons' 12-room frame and stucco house. Movement outside was all but impossible.

Olson was worried about his herd of some 170 cattle feeding in cornfield stubble about three miles from the house. Once he considered riding a horse out there to drive them in but decided against it.

"I'm glad he didn't," said

Mrs. Olson. "I'd rather have my husband than all the cattle. He'd have frozen to death for sure."

Mrs. Olson herself headed for the chicken house about 200 feet from her home, was forced to keep her head down against the biting wind and found herself in the granary instead.

"The water froze solid in the bathtub," she said, "and the coal stoker just ran wide open all the time."

Thursday morning the storm began to let up. Olson drove to the cornfield. The terrified cattle had broken through the fence and were gone — but not far.

"I found 10 dead cows outside the fence," the stocky rancher said. "There were more as I drove along. I found dead cattle for about eight miles."

"Some were along the road, some had got through fences, some were in the road ditches. A lot of them froze to death standing up. They had chunks of ice on their noses as big as a football. Their eyes were crustied over so they couldn't see."

For two days, Olson and neighbors Frank De Mott and Harold Kelter searched the range. They found about a dozen cattle alive but suffering from frozen hooves and ears.

"We had to shoot one of them and probably will have to shoot at least three more," he said. "We don't want to leave any suffering."

"Why, we'll rebuild the herd," he replied in a surprised voice which plainly said he never thought of any other course.

Probably in better financial shape than most ranchers in the area, Olson figures on making up the loss himself without government help.

"I'm glad it was us and not one of the neighbors who might not have been able to stand the loss," said Mrs. Olson.

"This is really the first time we've had adversity that big since we were married," she added. "I guess we can take it one time and keep going."

"To tell the truth, the Lord has been pretty good to us."

City Police Count 13 Weekend Crashes

By TERRY BORMANN
Daily News Staff Writer

While engaging in 11 collisions from Saturday evening through Monday morning, Winona drivers apparently ran out of new ways to have accidents.

In two separate incidents, two pairs of drivers enacted similar maneuvers with very similar results in "rear-end" collisions on Broadway at Huff Street Saturday night.

GARY P. CURRAN, 17, 256 E. Howard St., was unable to stop in time to avoid colliding with a car stopped for a red light at 8:50 p.m. The car ahead was driven by Paul R. Andrus, 16, 765 Glen Echo.

Both were eastbound on Broadway. More than $50 damage was done to the front and rear of the above cars, respectively. Patrolman Richard L. Peterson and Richard D. Braithwaite investigated.

THE SAME officers investigated virtually the same accident at 9:14 p.m. the same night. More than $100 damage was done to the rear of a car stopped facing east on Broadway by Eldon A. Thomas, 1065 W. Howard St., when a collision occurred with a car unable to stop while moving east on Broadway driven by Stacey A. Wolcott, Fountain City, Wis. More than $25 damage was done to the front of Wolcott's car.

A COLLISION Sunday at 10 a.m. at U.S. 61-14 and Huff Street injured four, none seriously, and wrecked one of the cars involved.

Alvin R. Beeman, 39, 520 Wilkie St., was driving east on U.S. 61-14 when he attempted to make a left turn north on Huff Street across the path of a car moving west on the highway.

The driver of the second car, William F. Brune, 29, Akron, Ohio, his wife, 27, and a 4-year-old daughter were all bruised in the ensuing collision.

Beeman was also bruised, but not hospitalized, after his car rolled into the ditch at the northwest corner of the intersection following the collision. Beeman's car was a total loss. Brune's received more than $200 damage to its front.

Patrolmen Willis H. Wogan and Paul Kapustik investigated. A COLLISION Sunday at 2:40 p.m. at Broadway and Washington streets caused more than $100 damage to both cars.

Walter W. Christensen, 101 Orrin St., was driving north on Washington Street when he stopped for the sign at Broadway. Police said he proceeded north into the path of a car moving east on Broadway driven by Merritt V. Kelley, 626 S. Howard St.

Damage was to the front of Kelley's car and to the left side of Christensen's vehicle. Patrolman Paul Kapustik investigated.

HERBERT L. Olson, 473 W. Sarnia St., complained of pain Sunday at 12:20 a.m. after a car slid into the rear of his car, which was stopped in front of his home before turning into the driveway.

Police said Olson had his left turn signal on and was facing west on Sarnia Street, when a car driven by Bernard A. Benson, 775 1/2 W. Wabasha St., was unable to stop and slid into the rear of the Olson car.

Damage was more than $200 to the front of the Benson car and more than $50 to the rear of the Olson vehicle. Patrolman Willis H. Wogan investigated.

BOTH CARS were moving east on King Street when another "rear-end" collision occurred at Center Street Sunday at 5:06 p.m.

A car driven by Germaine Lauer, 16, 204 W. Wabasha St., slid into the rear of a car stopped for Center Street traffic by John W. Kryzer, 475 Lafayette St. Patrolman William A. King investigated.

Damage was more than $100 to the front of the Lauer vehicle and more than $50 to the Kryzer car's rear.

THERE WERE two hit-run accidents among the weekend mishaps. One was solved.

Donald R. Burt, 18, 117 Chatfield St., was driving east on 3rd Street Saturday at 9:20 p.m. when he spun around, striking a car parked at the intersection.

Two Drivers Plead Guilty In City Court

Charles D. Benson, St. Paul, pleaded guilty today in municipal court to going through a stop sign at Sioux Street and the Milwaukee railroad tracks Saturday (causing an accident).

Benson paid the $25 fine imposed by Judge John D. McGill as the alternative to eight days in jail. The St. Paul man told Judge McGill that he started to stop, then saw that he wouldn't be able to do so before reaching the tracks.

Judge McGill told Donald R. Burt, 18, 117 Chatfield St., that a subsequent serious offense by the youth could lead to a straight jail sentence, after Burt pleaded guilty to leaving the scene of an accident Saturday night.

Burt was trying this morning to arrange payment of the $50 fine imposed by Judge McGill as the alternative to 17 days in jail.

Visitor Charged With Damaging Goodview Boxes

An alleged hit-run driver was apprehended by Sheriff George Fort Sunday after his damaged car was discovered in downtown Winona.

Leonard J. Sandback, 21, Chisholm, Minn., is scheduled to appear in Goodview justice court today after 5 p.m. to answer a charge that he left the scene of an accident Saturday at 1:10 a.m. at 6th Street and 43rd Avenue, Goodview.

The sheriff's accident report shows that a car moving east on 6th Street went out of control Saturday morning, knocking over two mailboxes and striking a light pole. A broken taillight bracket found at the scene fits the damaged taillight of Sandback's car, Sheriff Fort said today.

The car was discovered Sunday parked on Market Street between 3rd and 4th streets with more than $600 damage to the right rear. The damaged mailboxes were placed at 4235 and 4245 6th St., Goodview.

Husband Receives Suspended Sentence

Raymond Thilmann, 51, 107 Chatfield St., pleaded guilty today in municipal court to disorderly conduct at his home Saturday at 5:30 p.m.

Judge John D. McGill imposed a $25 fine or eight-day jail sentence, suspended on condition Thilmann remains peaceful for at least six months. Thilmann's $25 posted bail was refunded.

He was arrested Saturday on a "complaint sworn out by his wife."

Stockton Vandalism

Sheriff's officers have been unable to locate a dark green car which ran into a fence in Stockton, doing about $10 damage to the fence early Sunday and letting some horses loose.

John Van Winkle, 411 Franklin St., owner of the property, reported the damage Sunday at 9:30 a.m. Four fence posts had been knocked over, he said. The "guilty" car could not be found in Stockton Sunday.

John Rotz rode 20 winners at the recent Saratoga meeting, 12 of them for Greentree Stable, to finish second in the jockey race. Manny Ycaza was first with 22 wins.

Six File for City Offices

By FRANK UHLIG
Daily News Staff Writer

Six filings for city governmental positions were received before noon today by City Recorder John S. Carter.

Hats sailed into the ring in opening-day filings for the positions of mayor, city treasurer and aldermen for 1st, 2nd and 3rd wards.

No filings had been entered at noon for the 4th Ward council position or for that of alderman-at-large. Fourth Ward Ald. Daniel Bambenek, whose term expires, has indicated he may not seek re-election. Jim Mohan, alderman-at-large, announced last week that he will run again.

Two incumbents, Mayor R. K. Ellings and Treasurer Alfred Berndt, paid their filing fees this morning. No opponents have thus far appeared to create a contest in either position.

Aspirants for 1st and 2nd ward council positions have

David L. Johnston

A third two-year term is being sought by Mayor R. K. Ellings, 56, who lives at 516 S. Baker St.

Born in Ellsworth, Wis., he attended high school there before taking courses at Winona Business College. He has lived in Winona continuously since 1927 when he became an employee of Winona Paper Box Manufacturing Co.

In 1936 he and a partner, Ed Cieminski, founded the Liberty Paper Box Co. Ellings sold his interest in 1952 and started the company he now heads, Winona Boxcraft Co.

HE SERVED one term as 1st Ward alderman, from 1949 to 1953. He also was named Jack Frost for 1960 and has served as general chairman of Steamboat Days. He was elected to his first term as mayor in 1961.

He is a member of Central Lutheran Church, Improved Order of Red Men, Winona Athletic Club, Arlington and Elks clubs, Winona Area Shrine Club and its motorcycle patrol, Winona Masonic Lodge, Exchange Club, Winona Country Club and is president of the Winona Bowling Association.

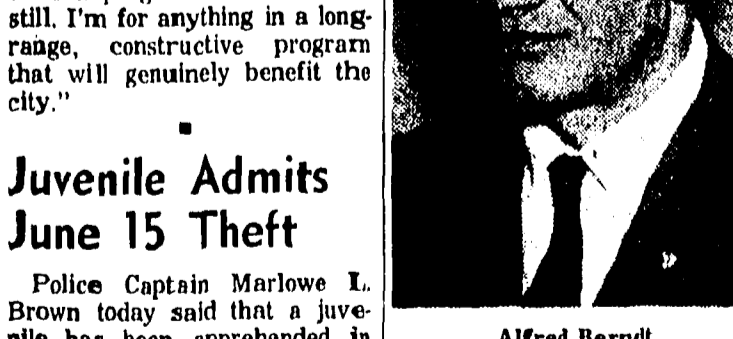

Ellings and his wife, the former Stella Peterson, Blair, Wis., have one son, 21, and two daughters, 18 and 14. He issued the following statement:

"THERE IS a lot of unfinished business in the city but things are moving and we mean to see that they keep moving. I strongly hope we will make every effort to get as much information as possible on redevelopment of downtown areas, giving us the basis for an intelligent decision.

"We must do something about additional downtown parking because it is so important to the survival of a major tax-producing area.

"We will continue our efforts to make up in every possible way for the loss of the Swift & Co. plant and to attract additional industries to give employment opportunities to as many of our citizens as possible."

Treasurer

Alfred Berndt

Seeking his first full term as city treasurer is Alfred Berndt, 45, Latsch Drive.

A native of Winona, he attended Winona Senior High School and Winona Business College. In October 1940 he was appointed deputy clerk of municipal court and assistant city recorder.

Berndt served from 1943 to 1946 with Navy amphibious forces, achieving the rank of the fields to themselves at present. Filing for the 1st Ward post, held by William Holden, an interim appointee, was David L. Johnston, a previously announced candidate. Filing for another term as 2nd Ward council member was Ald. Henry Parks, whose service covers 20 years, not all of which is continuous. Holden said he would not seek an elective term after being appointed early this month to fill the unexpired term of Mrs. Muriel Ollom.

In the 3rd Ward, Ald. Clarence Tribell had not filed at noon for re-election but is expected to do so. Meanwhile, two candidates filed today for his post. They are M. F. (Jack) Sweeney and Don W. Klagge. If Tribell files, as expected, a city primary election in February will be assured.

No one had filed this morning for the position of Municipal judge, held by Judge John D. McGill, or special judge, held by Loren W. Torgerson.

Filings, which must be made with Carter, will close Jan. 4 at 5 p.m.

Vandals Drive Car Into Tri-State Hut

Vandalism on Latsch Prairie Island Park has convinced him that he should move the Tri-State Hunting Dog headquarters out of Winona, Richard Gehlhaart, 4720 8th St., Goodview, said today.

"This might be the straw that breaks the camel's back," Gehlhaart said after reviewing years of vandalism and abuse of the association's grounds on the island. The Goodview man is president of the association.

GEHLHAART was expressing outrage over the act of vandals who, sometime in the past week, used a car or truck to push in the end walls of the association's quonset hut headquarters on Prairie Island.

"The whole quonset is full of holes from 'hunters' who used it for target practice," Gehlhaart said. "There used to be a permanent door and windows," he continued, "until the Sunday garbage dumpers smashed them, as well as a stove we kept inside."

The association's president said that removable windows and door had been used on the hut since the old ones were smashed.

SAYING HE thought sentiment among Winona club members favors a move, Gehlhaart said that an attractive offer had been made by a man from out of town. This would mean the loss to Winona of business from entrants in the association's annual field trials in June and its "Informal" monthly trials, according to Gehlhaart.

He added that expensive dogs from surrounding states are entered in the trials. Their owners, many of them businessmen, receive a bad impression of Winona when their animals come in with cuts picked up from broken glass on the island.

As a result, Gehlhaart said, some withdraw their dogs from the trials, and all go home with a poor impression of Winona and its people. This is in spite of the 150 to 200 man-hours that club members put in each May to clear away rubbish from the trial course, he maintained.

THE ASSOCIATION president estimated the quonset repair bill, including some damage prior to last week's, at around $500. He said that the club doesn't have that kind of money to throw away.

The metal sheeting of the quonset's end walls is buckled at both ends, Gehlhaart said, and the steel studs forming the walls' framework have been pushed back about three feet, tearing them out of the concrete foundation.

Flier Down In Rugged Utah Mountain

OGDEN, Utah (AP) — Rescuers planned again today to try reaching the light plane of a South Dakota man downed Saturday in rugged, 8,000-foot high terrain north of Ogden.

The pilot and lone occupant of the aircraft was identified as Harold L. Rintoul of Chamberlain, S.D.

High winds and heavy snow forced about 100 searchers to turn back less than one-half mile from the crashed green and white Piper Comanche Sunday. The plane was spotted earlier in the day by the Civil Air Patrol.

The CAP said the overturned aircraft had not burned and there were no signs of life around it.

Rintoul is head mechanical engineer for the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers on the Big Bend dam project on the Missouri River near Chamberlain, associates said.

He reportedly was on his way to Hemet, Calif., to visit his father, L. G. Rintoul.

Ran Out of Gas Young Couple Found Unconscious in Car

ETTRICK, Wis. (Special) — A young Eltrick couple probably escaped death from monoxide poisoning in their car early Sunday morning because they ran out of gas and a small window in the back seat was open.

Mrs. Dean Larson, 21, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brush, Eltrick, and Kenneth Baaken, about 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Baaken, Abrams Coulee, were discovered at 7:30 a.m. by Robert Stensven, custodian at Living Hope Lutheran Church. A doctor was called and they were rushed to St. Francis Hospital, La Crosse, where they still were patients this morning.

The young people had attended a dance in Eltrick Saturday night. Stensven found them in Baaken's car in the parking lot of the new Sunday school building at the church. They were only 250 yards from the Brush home.

Mrs. Arthur Runnstrand, coming to church early, assisted in getting the unconscious young people from the car into the Sunday School building and accompanied the ambulance to the hospital, where oxygen revived them.

Mrs. Larson was found in the back seat and Baaken in front. The small window in back either had been open or was kicked open. The ignition key was on and the heater fan was running.

Mrs. Brush said this morning both youths were being treated for exposure to cold. She said they may be released from the hospital tonight.

During this excitement Sunday Mrs. Brush also learned that her brother, James Jacobson, Maunton truck driver, was in an accident at Menomorie and was hospitalized. She didn't know the extent of his injuries.

RAILROAD CROSSING AFTERMATH — Three persons were hospitalized, none in serious condition, after a Milwaukee Road freight train clipped one car, spinning it into another vehicle stopped at the Sioux Street crossing Saturday evening. Mrs. Charles Benson, St. Paul, wife of the first car's driver, and Mrs. "Babe" Meldinger, St. Paul, in the same car (shown at right), still are hospitalized today, but are in good condition. Mrs. Donna Christensen, 608 W. Wabasha St., also a passenger in the Benson car, was released from the hospital Sunday. (Daily News photo)

Don W. Klagge

Don W. Klagge, 54, candidate for 3rd Ward alderman, is a native of Winona.

He attended Winona Senior High School and Ripon College in Wisconsin, where he majored in business administration. He was active in athletics while in high school and college.

After eight years in Chicago in the laundry and dry cleaning business, he returned to Winona in 1941 to enter the insurance business. He has operated a retail monument sales business continuously since 1943.

Klagge is a member of St. Martin's Lutheran Church. He and his wife Dorothy live at 270 E. King. They have one son, Don Jr., a high school teacher and coach at Beaver Dam, Wis.

In a filing statement, he said: "I welcome a chance to get into civic affairs. I have always been interested in the affairs and government of Winona and I would like to do my part to help. I feel the city is definitely on the upswing."

petty officer, second class. In 19 months of combat service in the Southwest Pacific, he participated in nine amphibious assault landings, including those on Leyte, Mindoro and Luzon, in the Philippines. Okinawa and several other Japanese-held islands. He also served with occupation forces in Japan.

Berndt was made acting city recorder from April 6 to June 15, during an illness-enforced absence of Roy Wildgrube. He was appointed treasurer July 24, 1961, to fill the unexpired term of the late Lester Stevens.

Berndt is a member of Central Lutheran Church, Improved Order of Red Men, Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Legion and the Red Men 24-Hour Club.

He and his wife Olga have one son, 8, and three daughters, 17, 15 and 11. Berndt's filing statement:

"The treasurer's job has grown each year and experience therefore becomes more important as time goes by. The treasurer's office is responsible for 27 separate city funds. Every cent of income and outlay for the city government, its boards and the school district, is received or disbursed through the treasurer's office. I believe my 25 years of city administration work have qualified me adequately for further service in the treasurer's position."

Montevideo and Jamestown Men Rhodes Scholars

SWARTHMORE, Pa. (AP)—A topflight basketball player from Harvard and Montevideo, Minn., and an Air Force man from Jamestown, N.D. were among 32 college seniors named to Rhodes scholarships Sunday. They are Merle McClung, 21, Montevideo, who is considered the best basketball player in Harvard history, and Alva Bart Holaday of Jamestown, a senior at the Air Force Academy. Holaday has been the star place kicker for the Falcon football team for the past three seasons.

McClung holds the Harvard single game scoring record of 39 points and the season record of 436 points.

At Montevideo Central High School he earned all-state honors in basketball and baseball. McClung actually won 11 letters in high school sports, including track and tennis. Except for his freshman year, when he was a member of the track team, McClung has concentrated on basketball at Harvard.

"I've found my studies quite demanding," McClung explained, "so I haven't had time to play other sports." He plans to take the "politics, philosophy and English program" at Oxford next year. His major at Harvard is English. Harvard Coach Floyd Wilson calls McClung "the best offensive player I've coached. He's very clever under the basket, an excellent shooter both from the corner and from the key, and he also drives very well."

NASON ON EDUCATION '65 Resolutions For Students

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed.D., Professor of Education, University of S. Calif.

More than ever, the new year calls for strong resolutions by students. No generation of students has been faced with so severe a challenge. There is more opportunity at the top, less room at the bottom. The need to prepare for lifelong learning is urgent.

PRESENT-DAY students cannot afford to drift. Each should set a goal and work vigorously toward it. Only through his own effort can he grow and develop the attributes of success.

Here is one basic resolution every student should make: Throughout 1965 I will strive to develop my learning skills. I will prepare myself to continue learning after the end of my formal schooling.

The following more specific resolutions will help a student meet his goal:

- I will develop the habit of independent study! I will learn as much as I can about each subject rather than just complete my assignments. I will use the library and read supplemental books.
- I will plan the way in which I study each course, reviewing the plan as the course proceeds! I realize mathematics should be understood in "words." I will study each principle of chemistry or physics and think about them until I have precise understanding. I will relate events of history to their locations and visualize them on a map.
- I will learn as much as possible during each class period! I will read ahead to get a general idea of what will be taken up in class, study the book developments in mathematics and science. In class, I will think about what is being said and fit it in with what I already know, and summarize the ideas presented.
- I WILL practice formulating and expressing ideas! While reading my assignments I will stop at the end of each section and restate the ideas in my own words. I will take a few minutes each day to think back over the ideas I have gained through reading and listening. In preparing for tests, I will practice formulating questions and answers.
- I will keep the overall pattern of each subject clearly in my mind! Every few days, I will review each course from the beginning, attempt to state in as few words as possible the big ideas that have been covered, and "think" the details into place so they can be recalled readily at examination time.
- I will strive to improve my reading ability and my handwriting through practice! I know most of my new knowledge, especially after leaving formal schooling, must come through reading. I know ease in

More Racial Disturbances Seen in '65

WASHINGTON (AP) — LeRoy Collins, director of the Community Relations Service, expects more civil rights disturbances next summer — both in the North and South — despite his agency's efforts to encourage communities to eliminate sources of unrest.

Racial problems in the North, said Collins, who heads the conciliation service created by the 1964 Civil Rights Act, are far more complex than they are in the South.

Ghettos based on long-standing discrimination, Collins said, make solutions enormously difficult and complex. Collins was interviewed Sunday on CBS' radio and television show "Face the Nation."

U.S. Plane Ignored Order, Egypt Claims

CAIRO (AP) — The Egyptian government said today a U.S. oil company plane shot down near Alexandria Saturday ignored repeated orders to land.

Its American pilot and Scandinavian copilot were killed. They were identified only as Hoyt Williams, 44, of Texas, and Kejel Grup, 35, a Scandinavian.

A U.S. Embassy spokesman said the plane, a twin-engine Fairchild C82, belonged to the John W. Mecom Oil Co. of Houston, Tex.

The plane was on a flight from Amman, Jordan, to Benghazi, Libya, to buy drilling detergent for Mecom's operations in Jordan, a company spokesman said.

The Egyptian government said two Egyptian MIG fighters intercepted the plane as it started across the Sinai Desert south of Aqaba, Jordan, and ordered it to land at Cairo Airport.

After starting to set down, official reports said, the plane resumed its northwesterly course. It was shot down over Lake Idku, on the shores of the Mediterranean, the government said.

The pilot apparently filed a flight plan an hour before taking off from Amman. Egyptian authorities normally take a week to approve a flight plan and there appeared little doubt that officials here were not promptly informed of the flight.

The U.S. Embassy said it had requested a thorough analysis and review of the incident. It said the U.S. and Egyptian governments were cooperating in the investigation.

Although embassy sources said they viewed the situation with the utmost gravity, both governments appeared to be trying to prevent the incident from increasing the strain in U.S.-Egyptian relations resulting from the sacking a month ago of the John F. Kennedy Memorial Library in Cairo by a mob of African students.

Another Test Shot Fired Underground

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission exploded another underground nuclear device at its Nevada test site in its efforts to develop excavation techniques which conceivably might be employed to build the proposed sea-level canal through Central America. The announcement late Saturday said the Friday blast was equivalent to about 100 tons of TNT.

Wants Americans To See JFK Film

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress will be asked next year to make it possible for the American public to view a film prepared as a memorial to the late President John F. Kennedy. Sen. George S. McGovern, D-

S.D., said Saturday he will introduce a "sense of Congress" resolution urging the U.S. Information Agency to arrange for distribution of the film through domestic educational media and commercial television. The film, "John F. Kennedy — Years of Lightning, Day of Drums," was prepared for showing around the world. The agency has no authority to release it for domestic audiences.

"At the Sign of the Street Clock"

Save Money By Spending

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — A lot of people can save money by spending more right now. The money will be saved in taxes. The money spent must be for the right things, in the right way: charitable contributions, doctor bills, interest due, state and local tax bills due.

If you're in love, you could save tax money by getting married before New Year's Day. If you're moving to a new job in another town and the costs are up to you, you might save by transferring now rather than waiting to celebrate the New Year with your present neighbors.

Or you might save in the long run by the money you don't take in right now — by delaying to mail bills, or to dun people for interest due, or to cash in those paper profits to get money for the holidays. You might save by admitting you picked some sour ones this year in the stock market and selling the stock and taking your loss — now, not sometime next year.

These possibilities arise because the federal income tax rates, which were cut on 1964 incomes, go down another notch in 1965. In 1963 the tax brackets ran from 20 per cent to 91 per cent. This year you pay from 18 to 77 per cent depending on how much income is subject to tax. The drop next year isn't that steep, but it's still something to consider. The 1965 rates will range from 14 to 70 per cent — and Congress could always get still more generous.

So you'll pay less on the same amount of income next year. Therefore, any deduction this year will mean more money left over after taxes. And any income that can legally be put over till next year will be subject to a smaller bite from the U.S. Treasury.

Many people can't do much about it. But many can. And here are some of the possibilities:

Study your profit and loss sheet. Time is growing short. If you have paper losses on stocks or other investments, you can take the loss and use it to offset any capital gains up to $1,000. And under the new law, losses above $1,000 taken now can be carried forward to future years.

You may want to take profits now if you're among the really lucky one sure of much higher income next year that will be pushing you into a higher bracket than you're in now.

Pay all the bills now that are deductible — doctors and dentists, taxes and interest due this year. Don't put it off till next year just because your creditor is lenient.

Remember, under the new law, contributions to all public charities are now allowed as deductible up to 30 per cent. This actually cuts the cost to the giver by the amount of tax saved — and the saving will be more under this year's tax rate than next.

Some people may be working at cross purposes just now. Some will be anxious to pay bills by Dec. 31, while others may want to delay sending such bills till January, so the receipts will be subject to the new rates. Weddings may cost the father of the bride plenty. But the bridegroom will get another exemption, plus a lower assessment schedule.

Chaos, Mess Result Of High Court Decision

WHATEVER THE Supreme Court had in mind when it decided that all state legislatures must have houses apportioned on the basis of population, it couldn't have meant to create the mess that has resulted.

In New Jersey, there is talk of keeping all the legislators and districts pretty much as they are now, but allowing each legislator a number of votes, reflecting to a decimal point the number of people he represents. So, one man's vote would be worth one, while another might be worth 21.4. If ever there was a formula that invites selective bribery and corruption, that is it.

New York, on the other hand, is to consider a redistricting plan which would add a couple of score of new legislators to the already large number for whom taxpayers must provide livings.

IN SOME OTHER states, the order to redistrict has been construed as an opportunity to gerrymander outrageously, which it is.

And in Illinois, the voters found themselves forced to vote for all legislative candidates "at large" — a matter of selecting 177 names from among 236 in a matter of nine minutes. If this improved the democratic process materially, it's hard to see how.

The new Congress could consider a remedy for the chaos that has followed the court decision. If Congress fails to do it, the states themselves could do it through initiative of a Constitutional Amendment—a process difficult but possible at least in theory.

WHAT WE HAVE now is a disruption of the state governments at the very moment that the threat of federal take-over of their functions is greater than it has been in years.

Flashing Signals Asked For Trevino Crossing

A TRAGIC ACCIDENT occurred at the railroad crossing at Trevino recently — but this is not the first one, but still nothing has been done by the railroad to put an end to such accidents.

In the 18 years that we have been in Pepin, there have been other fatal accidents at the same crossing and who knows how many close misses there have been? Black skid marks show that other vehicles have had close calls too.

This freight train does not run on a set schedule — it is liable to come at most any time after dark on its way to Winona. The return trip is usually made some time after midnight, also on an unscheduled time.

Many drivers have difficulty in seeing a train on the tracks after the engine is past because they may have their lights on a low beam. If there are a number of flatcars on the train it is nearly impossible to see them. Another factor that has been dangerous is the fact that often times there is a strip of fog before you reach the tracks when you are coming toward Pepin. This usually occurs during the summer months.

IT HAS SEEMED to many that the engine on this train has a very poor light that does not show up well and that its whistle or horn is not loud enough to be heard, especially when the car windows are closed.

A set of flashing lights at the crossing would be a mighty big help in preventing more accidents in the future. Another feature that could help would be a headlight on the engine that would weave from side to side, like we see on most Burlington trains that go through here.

It is high time that something is done about this crossing. The state might have the power, we don't know for sure, but if they have, the Milwaukee Railroad should be forced to correct the situation, and the sooner the better. — Pepin, Wis. Herald.

The way some hunters stumble around in the woods presents a special hazard for the deer. Those that don't get shot may die laughing.

Vehement Words In Court Ruling

By DAVID LAWRENCE
 WASHINGTON — Every now and then justices of the Supreme Court who dissent from a majority opinion of the tribunal speak out in vehement language. But rarely, if ever, have four of the justices told the five others, in effect, that they really didn't know what they were doing when they issued — as they did this week — a ruling unprecedented in American history.

The decision concerned two groups of persons, one of which went into a tearoom in a department store in Arkansas, and the other of which entered a luncheon room in a store in South Carolina. They seated themselves as part of a "sit-in" demonstration and asked for service. It was refused, and they declined to leave when requested. They were arrested as trespassers and convicted, but appealed their cases through the state courts without success.

But between the time they were convicted and the date that the Supreme Court considered their appeal, Congress passed the civil rights act of 1964. The main question before the court, therefore, was whether the passage of the new law nullified the convictions. The court said it did and freed the convicted individuals.

THE ISSUE was not at all the same as that which was resolved by a unanimous Supreme Court last Monday when it upheld the "public accommodations" section of the new law. The demonstrators had performed their acts before the law was passed. They had refused to leave the premises and were arrested and convicted under state law.

Justice Black, one of the four dissenting justices of the Supreme Court in this case, said: "Even assuming, however, that the civil rights act was intended to let people who enter restaurants take the law into their own hands by forcibly remaining when service is refused them, this would be no basis for holding that Congress also meant to compel states to abate convictions like these for lawless conduct occurring before the act was passed."

Justice Black pointed out that the "legislative history" of the act is "perhaps the most extensive and careful" ever compiled for any bill passed by Congress — "including millions and millions of words written on tens of thousands of pages contained in volumes weighing well over half a hundred pounds, in which every conceivable aspect and application of the 1964 act were discussed ad infinitum." He said that "not even one old single sponsor, proponent or opponent of the act intimate a hope or express a fear that the act was intended to have the effect which the court gives it today."

JUSTICE STEWART, another one of the four dissenters, said that if Congress had provided that such state convictions were to be dismissed, he would find no difficulty in joining the court's disposition of the cases. But since Congress was silent on the subject, he felt that the cases should go back to the state courts for reconsideration in the light of the new civil rights statute.

Justice White also dissented. He was appointed by the late President Kennedy and served under him as deputy attorney general. In a separate opinion, he said:

"Finally, had Congress intended to ratify massive disobedience to the law, so often attended by violence, I feel sure it would have said so in unmistakable language. The truth is that it is only judicial rhetoric to blame this result upon Congress."
 "Whether persons or groups should engage in nonviolent disobedience to laws with which they disagree perhaps defies any categorical answer for the guidance of every individual in every circumstance. But whether a court should give it wholesale sanction is a wholly different question which calls for only one answer."

Justice Harlan, the fourth dissenter, declared that the majority, in setting aside the convictions for offenses which had occurred before the civil rights act had passed, was relying on "the federal doctrine of criminal abatement." He said:

"THE SUPREMACY clause cannot serve as a vehicle for extending the federal doctrine of abatement beyond proper bounds. That provision of the Constitution would come into play only if it appeared from the civil rights act itself or from its legislative history and setting that Congress' purpose was to displace past as well as prospective applications of state laws touching upon the matters with which the federal statute is concerned."

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

New Secretary Clashed With Kefauver on Drugs

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, the late friend and colleague of ex-Sen. Lyndon Johnson, may be stirring a bit in his grave over the appointment of John T. Connor, president of Merck Drugs, to be secretary of commerce.

However, Kefauver would be much more restless if one of the Neanderthal executives of the drug industry had been promoted to the cabinet. For, compared with most of the drug moguls whom Kefauver investigated, Connor is a knight in shining armor.

Nevertheless, the Senate hearings into the exorbitant price of drugs gave some uncomfortable moments to Merck President Connor. Kefauver disclosed that Merck had developed a cortisone derivative called decadron as a relief for arthritis, and put it on the market before it was thoroughly tested.

KEFAUVER further showed that Merck had concealed the harmful side effects. In fact, two years after Merck introduced decadron in November 1958, Kefauver put Merck's medical director of research, Dr. Augustus Gibson, on the witness stand. Gibson testified that decadron had side effects ranging from "simple rounding of the face or easy bruising of the skin to severe mental disorders or spreading infection."

Despite this, Merck had advertised: "No worrisome side effects contributable to decadron have occurred as yet."
 "Is that statement true?" Sen. Kefauver asked.
 "As of today I would say it is not true," answered the doctor who heads medical research for Merck.

MERCK HAD continued to advertise that decadron had no worrisome side effects, despite reports to the contrary and despite advice from Food and Drug that it was too early to be sure about adverse side effects.

Kefauver also developed that Merck, Upjohn, and Schering, three of the biggest drug companies, had charged American druggists 17.8 cents per unit for Prednisone, a medicine for rheumatism, despite the fact they had sold exactly the same drug in England for 7.2 cents.

Kefauver's hearings on the high price of drugs were among the most sensational of the 1960 session of Congress. They paved the way for legislation providing much stricter control of new drugs.

They also caused a furor inside the drug industry, with Neanderthal executives insinuating that Kefauver and his staff were Communists.

In this industry debate, two executives argued in favor of government regulation: John T. Connor of Merck and Eugene Beesley of Lilly.

CONNOR, now the new secretary of commerce, argued that there was a need for legislation and that the industry should accept reform.

Those who know the new secretary of commerce describe him as a dynamic leader who, if he throws the same weight behind government that he has thrown behind private industry, has the potential to do a lot of good.

Note — One final result of the drug investigation was that when Kefauver was up for re-election in the fall of 1960, certain executives of the companies belonging to the American Pharmaceutical Manufacturers Association sent a secret campaign kitty of $75,000 into Tennessee to defeat Kefauver. They failed. Kefauver was re-elected by the largest majority in history. It is understood Connor was not one of those who contributed to the fund.

The President's Club, those sacrosanct gentlemen who have coughed up $1,000 to re-elect LBJ, have received their tentative passes to the inauguration and the form they must fill out looks as if they were applying to enter the pearly gates.

THEY MUST answer 21 questions. Question 7 is "height and weight." Question 8 is "marital status." Question 9 is "name of spouse." Question 10 is "political affiliation and date of registration." Apparently the inaugural committee is leery about anyone who gave their dough but didn't bother to vote.)

Question 11 is "race." Question 12 is "religion." The latter two are interesting in view of the fact that Johnson has pioneered new milestones for racial equality and JFK pioneered new milestones for religious equality.

"Maybe," remarked Pare Lorentz, a perplexed member of the President's Club. "I should say I'm a Negro Catholic only five feet high. Then I'd get a seat up front. A tall Texas Protestant would get standing room only."

The East Germans have sounded out the Kremlin about letting East Germany produce its own nuclear weapons. The Soviet leaders reportedly are cool to the idea . . . U.S. Ambassador Howard Jones has reported that the anti-American campaign in Indonesia suddenly flared up immediately after Foreign Minister Chen Yi of Red China arrived for a visit . . . The Catholic clergy in Spain has blocked a law that would have granted greater religious freedom to Spain Protestants. The Catholic bishops were encouraged by the failure of the ecumenical council to vote on religious freedom in Rome.

TREASURY officials are upset over the use of Kennedy half dollars for key chains, bracelets, paper weights, and other trinkets now being sold round the world for Christmas gifts. However, there is no law the treasury can invoke to stop the half-dollar jewelry trade . . . Rep. Tom Steed, R-Okla., has just returned from the most disagreeable junket of the season — a one-week trip to the South Pole. Steed cut his leg on the ice. His plane had to land and take off on skis. The temperature was 30 below zero. It was just no place for a southern boy!

ROBERT C. RUARK

Freeloaders Should Pay

NEW YORK — By the time this is finished Cassius Clay may be the new secretary general of the United Nations, out of deference to the Black Muslim vote, so I cannot inform the pleading populace as to whether Red China is in or out, or if any of the freeloaders are going to get up their arrears. For all I know, Yogi Berra has replaced Adlai Stevenson.

But I remember an axiom from my verdant youth. If a fighter was a real bum, somebody would say that he ought to pay to get into the joint. This is how I feel about the United Nations.

I don't care who's in it. If you can dignify most of these mangrove swamp republics with membership, I don't see a great deal of sense in excluding Red China. One more bum in the place won't make a lot of difference.

In point of actual fact the United Nations' peace-keeping effort has been one of the funniest farces since John Bunny was a silent film star. It has been an amusing floor show in New York, if you think back to poor Mr. Khrushchev's shoe-thumping, or the cold lies that the late Russian delegate told during the Cuban crisis. But it hasn't accomplished much else outside the entertainment field.

The United Nations peace-keeping apparatus spent a few hundred million bucks helping the Congo to pillage itself, and then breezed off on deadline without having accomplished anything of value apart from the hijack of Kantanga. I haven't noticed any real potent activity in such places as Hungary, when the Russians were crushing it, and I never did understand anything about Korea.

I'LL GUARANTEE that the U.N. isn't needed to keep the peace in Southeast Asia. The Amerclans are keeping the peace there, because they sure as hell ain't winning any war. We can't even police a couple of gross of aircraft in face of a few long-range hand grenades. But the major point I wanted to make is that anybody who joins this select club ought to be made to pay his dues in advance. I don't really blame the French and Russians and some of the hog-wallow democracies for not getting up the loot, but I do blame the United States for grabbing a huge chunk of the tab.

And I don't buy Mr. Stevenson's committing us to forgiveness of overdue club dues any more than I applaud France's sudden decision to put up "contributions" to the U.N. assistance funds. This is the kind of dialogue which makes you laugh when you hear talk about a "balanced budget" in America. When you're 300 or 400 billion in the hole, a "balanced budget" is straight out of Weber and Fields.

THE WINDS change daily in the U.N., but I don't think that Mr. Stevenson has the right to say that the United States will no longer press countries in arrears on pain of vote loss. He hasn't checked in with me, yet, and I pay my annual whack of this minstrel show. My tax receipts show it all too plainly.

The U.N. is a luxury. Like all luxuries, it runs a steep overhead. It does no real harm, any more than it does any basic real good, but if you want a luxury, you ought to pay for the ability to play.

Apart from its other functions, the U.N. is a handy drop for the spy business, and I think that spies ought to pay their way, too. We provide the forum. For God's sake, the least the spies can do is buy the light bill and tip the men's room attendant.

I think we can use Red China in the U.N., as a steady ratepayer, instead of as "observers" as has been recently suggested from the Mount Olympus of double talk. Even if they have to pay off in tea or sampans, we have to admit that Red China is with us, as Russia is with us, as India (heaven pity us all) is with us.

MY SUGGESTION is simple. We hire a flock of bonded ticket sellers, ushers and doormen from the Pinker-

Answers To Your Questions

Dear Dr. Molner: Is there any harm in letting young children watch horror films and war pictures on TV? My five-year-old grandson loves them, according to his parents. They don't think the pictures hurt him. I don't agree. What is your opinion?—GRANDPARENT

Ghost stories, and fairy stories with gruesome aspects (even the wolf gobbling up Little Riding Hood) are as old as the hills. Apparently some scariness fills a need in complicated human emotions. But I don't know what.

There are some theories; I'm not sure that very much is positively KNOWN, and I dare say that many circumstances have a bearing. Does the child (or older person, for that matter) realize that it is "just a story"? How stable, emotionally, is the person to begin with? Is the story just a "scary" one or are there overtones of abnormal brutality for its own sake? (That is a malignant aspect.)

A little of this horror nonsense probably does no harm. But a steady diet of it does no good that I can see, and probably is harmful sometimes, and in any event is a waste of time. I'd drastically limit the amount of time spent watching horror films, but I wouldn't worry about an occasional viewing.

tons. The price of admission will be clearly stated. If the vote is equal, as in the case of Outer Mongolia, to that of the United States, the country pays the same price for the admission.

Otherwise, outside, bum. You're supposed to pay to get in the joint, otherwise the gentlemen from Ghana and Kenya and whatever-the-hell they call the merger between Zanibar and Tanganyika don't get any equal television time.

And one thing more: Stop sending the tab to me. I am not, never have been, and will never be a member.

Bullet From Thigh Goes Through Heart

ATLANTA (AP) — A 35-year-old man who accidentally shot himself in the thigh has had the bullet removed — from his lung.

The bullet, washed through the blood stream, passed through his heart and into his lung.

Herbert Fowler, manager of a private club at Rome, Ga., underwent surgery last week at Emory University Hospital here, two weeks after accidentally shooting himself when his pistol fell out of his pocket.

Fowler, at the club when the accident occurred, received immediate treatment from his doctor. An X-ray showed the .22-caliber bullet lodged in his thigh and it was decided to leave it there where it was unlikely to do any harm.

Fowler then went back to work. Two weeks later he had sharp chest pains. He again consulted his doctor who X-rayed his chest. The doctor saw the same .22-caliber bullet, this time in Fowler's lung.

His surgeon, who declined to be named, said "the bullet must first have lodged near a large vein in Fowler's thigh. It then obviously worked itself into the vein and traveled the vein route with his blood all the way up through his heart and into the lung."

"It's a very unusual case," the doctor added. "Even more unusual than the case last week in Portland, Maine, in which a

Goodview Gift Shop Opening

Opening just in time for last-minute Christmas shoppers is a new gift shop at Service Drive and 34th Avenue — "in the shadow of the Goodview water tower."

The shop is operated by Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Brems. Brems is owner of Brems Sign & Display, formerly at Junction Street and Broadway and now moved to the new building.

The shop will be open from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. Mondays through Fridays. After a grand opening, to be held this spring, it will be open longer hours.

Brems, who — with his wife — designed the new steel building, said he would try to stock unusual gifts. He plans to carry Eskimo ivory carvings and authentic Indian souvenirs — "not imported from Japan," he said.

Brems said he planned, too, to include more display items for retail sale and to expand his rental of displays for stores, parties or clubs.

Mr. and Mrs. Brems and two employees now run the display business and the gift shop.

Mondovi Theatre Owner Receives Showman Award

DURAND, Wis. (Special) — The Mondovi theater owner received honorable mention as "Showman of the Year" at the 31st annual meeting of allied Theater Owners of Wisconsin last week.

Mrs. Louise Miller, Durand, was the only woman to receive an award. It was presented "for continuous showmanship activity fortified with great humor."

This is the second year the contest has been held. "Every effort to support the small town theater should be made," one manager said, "for it has been proven that small towns that lost their theater also lost business in general."

More than 300 exhibitors attended the convention in Milwaukee. Mayor Henry Meier said in his welcome. "It takes a lot of guts to be a successful theater operator today."

State Master Education Plan May Be Drawn

ST. PAUL (AP) — Will some sort of a master plan for higher education in Minnesota emerge from the 1965 legislative session?

A House leader suggested over the weekend that this may happen.

The big question for Mankato State College is whether such a plan will include backing for its sought-after university status.

The State College Board adopted a watered-down resolution Saturday, implying support for Mankato's proposal but hedging its support with some "ifs."

The board's resolution says it will support permissive legislation allowing the College Board to set standards for a university and then allowing the board to grant university status when those standards are reached.

Mankato, of course, would be first in line. But it was not mentioned specifically.

Rep. Rod Searle of Waseca, who attended the meeting, criticized the board and other education leaders for failing to hoist any clear signposts for legislators to follow.

"We'll have to take the bull by the horns in the legislature and do our own planning during the session," Searle said.

He suggested that formation of the junior college system in the 1963 session was a start toward a master plan of sorts.

The College Board, after hemming and hawing over various forms of endorsement for Mankato's plea, finally adopted a resolution proposed by Bevington Reed, the board's director.

The resolution says that any development in higher education be part of an overall plan that takes in all levels of schooling — from area vocational-technical schools to the university.

Just how kindly the University of Minnesota would feel toward a master plan is problematical. The state's founding fathers made the university an autonomous institution, and it seems to like things that way.

Its main checkreins are the amounts of money the legislature dishes out each session. Otherwise, it goes its own planning. And it doesn't like the idea of another school bearing the "university" label.

The university has a persuasive squad of lobbyists on hand each session, and has strong friends in the legislature. Nevertheless, it cannot too directly attack another school for fear of recriminations.

Legislation to be introduced by Sen. Val Imm and Rep. Roy Schulz of Mankato will propose that Mankato remain under the College Board when-and-if it attains university status.

Mankato President C. L. Crawford called Saturday's board action "very satisfying." He assured the board the col-

As the wind blows, metal will rub the bark and may cut into it, injuring living tissues. Warren's Clerk Kin of Former Winona Family

The University of Minnesota law school senior who will be Chief Justice Earl Warren's personal law clerk next year has Winona connections. His great-great-grandfather was the first lawyer here.

The student is 24-year-old James T. Hale, one of three selected for the post from about 100 law school seniors from throughout the country. He is the first University of Minnesota student to be offered the job since the law school was founded in 1888.

Hale, Hopkins, Minn., is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas T. Hale, Wayzata. His mother is the former Alice McConnon, daughter of a former Winonan, Mrs. J. R. McConnon, now of Minneapolis. His mother's great-grandfather was Charles Henry Berry, who practiced law here before becoming Minnesota's first attorney general in Governor Sibley's administration. He was later a federal judge in the territory of Idaho.

There is a lot of law in Hale's background. His maternal great-grandfather, Charles A. Morey, was also a lawyer, and his paternal grandfather, another lawyer, was the first municipal judge of Duluth.

Beeman was attempting to go north on Huff Street when the collision occurred with a car moving west on U.S. 61. The driver of the second car, William F. Brune, 29, Akron, Ohio, his wife, 27, and one of their daughters, 4, were all bruised in the mishap. Mrs. Brune was treated at Community Memorial Hospital and released. (Daily News photo; story on Page 3)

Burns Valley Crash Damage Exceeds $200

Two Winona teen-agers whose car went out of control on County Road 105 in East Burns Valley Saturday afternoon escaped injury but their 1933 4-door sedan received more than $200 damage, Sheriff George Fort said today.

Donald J. Zimmerman was driving the car owned by his father, Wilbert, 465 Carimona St. David Zimmerman was with him both are 16.

The car was rounding a curve moving northwest at the Robert Przybylski driveway about 2:20 p.m. when it skidded. The vehicle went over the bank on the right side just east of the driveway and came to rest 20

Silo Burns Near Eitzen

EITZEN, Minn. (Special) — A new 15- by 60-foot stave silo on the Lowell Benke farm near Eitzen burned Sunday.

Benke noticed smoldering in the stave structure a week ago and attempted to put it out by soaking it with water from the top. Sunday he noticed smoke coming from the door and called Eitzen volunteer firemen, who were on the scene from 1:30 to 9:30 p.m. and resorted to the use of chemicals to quell the flames.

Lowell continued to fight the fire and twice was overcome by gas escaping from the silo. Benke lost his barn in a fire Aug. 7. Following that loss he erected a pole barn and the new silo. He filled it about half full with chopped hay. Spontaneous combustion apparently started the new blaze.

Because it is poisoned by the fire department chemicals, the silage must be removed and buried so stock can't eat it. Benke, 28, has had a year of losses. It was he who shot an elk in the Caledonia area, probably the first elk taken in Southeastern Minnesota in a century. Because it is protected game, he wasn't allowed to keep it, not even the antlers as a trophy.

The car was rounding a curve moving northwest at the Robert Przybylski driveway about 2:20 p.m. when it skidded. The vehicle went over the bank on the right side just east of the driveway and came to rest 20 feet from an incline, a tree stopping it, the sheriff said.

He is Hiroshi Tamura, an 18-year-old student at the Kyoto University of Foreign Studies. He wrote to the Daily News after being told by one of his professors that the best way to find correspondents in the United States was to write to a newspaper here.

His address is 78, 9 Bancho Koshien, Nishinomiya City, Hyogo Ken, Japan.

WSC Graduate To Head College

SIoux FALLS, S.D. — A Winona State College graduate will become the 16th president of Augustana College here.

He is Dr. Charles L. Balcer, 42, who has been dean of academic administration at St. Cloud State College. He will succeed Dr. Lawrence M. Stavig, who will retire effective July 1. Dr. Stavig, Augustana president since 1943, did not announce his plans for the future.

Dr. Balcer is a native of McGregor, Iowa. He received his bachelor of science degree from Winona State, and he holds master of arts and doctoral degrees from the State University of Iowa, Iowa City.

He is married to the former Martha Belgium of Appleton, Minn., another Winona State graduate. They have four children.

Dr. Balcer's major concentrations have been English and speech, with related studies in social science, education, history and political science.

He assisted the president with budget planning, building programs and faculty selections while at St. Cloud State.

His election as new president occurred at an Augustana board of regents meeting this week-end.

BILL MERRILLS..

Something to Live by

I'VE been thinking. Determination in the form of some good old-fashioned Model-T stick-to-it-ness is the answer to the hump we keep talking about getting over.

I suspect the number of people that can remember the Model-T is fast giving way to those that can't remember a time that cars weren't plentiful, power high, comfort great, and roads good. But it hasn't always been like this. I would guess that the history of the auto will never be complete unless the tin-lizzy, called the Model-T, has a prominent place. It seemed to those that knew them best that the old "T" would never throw in the sponge. Every hill was a challenge, and the Model-T took on all challengers.

On some occasions the proud owner, I have been told, would fail to make the hill frontwards, and so he would back down, turn it around, and back up the hill. And, be sure, both car and driver gave their all to get to the top.

We can learn a lesson from the Model-T. Before each of us are hills of challenge, and stick-to-it-ness. Determination is the difference between success and failure.

"I THINK I can. I think I can," the old "T" seemed to say on the climb. "I think I can. I think I can," "I think I can." And down the road it would go, a victor in its own right.

"I think I can" is the magic phrase. If applied to one's effort, it could claim many a peak of victory. We read in the scriptures, "As he thinketh in his heart, so is he." If you think in terms of failure, you're a failure, and most any obstacle will be a factor of defeat. What a shame when one says, "I can't help it. It's just beyond me." and then gives up, when all along, what he really needed to say was, "I think I can. I think I can" until, through determination and stick-to-it-ness, he can look back and say, "I knew I could. I knew I knew I could."

FAILURE QUITE often builds into one the kind of fiber he needs to truly be a success in the long run. It's not only that one fails that defeats him. It's when he lets that failure breed negative thoughts until every obstacle lends itself to a pattern of defeat. It seems most stories of success were preceded with failure. The difference was determination, linked with the positive, "I think I can" attitude that causes one to keep trying. And to those that keep trying, success is forthcoming. And then one can boast, "I knew I could. I knew I could. I knew I could." So, whatever the task before confirming you're a failure, look it squarely in the face and give it that old Model-T try and see for yourself what stick-to-it-ness can do to that otherwise hopeless situation.

So, make like a Model-T.

What About Viet Nam?

Public Unhappy About Situation, Unsure of Action

By LOUIS HARRIS

The American people still cling uneasily to the view that they want this country neither to pull out of the war in Viet Nam nor to extend it to North Viet Nam or to China.

Only a minority (18%) of the American people favors our taking the offensive against North Viet Nam, while a clear majority (58%) supports the general policy of aiding the anti-Communist cause in South Viet Nam in some fashion. One in five Americans favors withdrawal or a negotiated peace.

The public's rating of the job the Johnson administration has fallen once again on the negative side of the ledger, approaching the low recorded last July.

Administration Rating on Viet Nam

	Positive %	Negative %
December	44	56
November	48	52
October	52	48
September	56	44
August	72	28
July	42	58

The high in public confidence was recorded in August just after President Johnson responded to an attack by North Vietnamese PT boats on American destroyers in the Tonkin Gulf. The American people supported the air strike retaliation by nearly three to one.

With the passage of time, continuing changes in governments in Saigon, wave on wave of rioting and unrest and recent military reverses, the public has now once more become discouraged about the Viet Nam situation. Most Americans, however, have no ready solution to the problem or even an alternative to the present administration policy. People were asked:

"In the fighting in Viet Nam, would you favor taking the war to North Viet Nam by bombing supply bases there, or would you favor getting out of the country and negotiating a settlement, or do you want to continue to support the anti-Communist government there, despite the way the war has been going lately?"

Viet Nam Policy Alternatives

	Total Public %
Bombing North Viet Nam	18
Get out of Viet Nam; negotiate	20
Continue to support anti-Communist government	40
Not sure	22

While more than one person in every five is either genuinely undecided about the course to follow in Viet Nam, or simply has not kept up with it, a majority of the rest of the public favors continuing the policy of supporting the war against the Viet Cong.

country and challenged American policy in Viet Nam, following the overthrow of her brother's regime. But only specific crises have galvanized the American people to full and united support of government action in Viet Nam. Overall, there remains a sense of frustration and uneasiness.

Nonetheless, the situation in no way up to now has approached the widespread discontent that was rampant at the time of the stalemate war in Korea back in the early 1950s. The reason is apparent: while American lives have been lost in Viet Nam, there is no wholesale commitment of U.S. ground troops in the fighting. Furthermore, many Americans still feel remote from Viet Nam, for all of its attention on the front pages of the newspapers. Possible alternatives to present policy seem difficult to comprehend.

In this situation American public opinion has not grown impatient nor has it carped about the lack of success of the Viet Nam policy. Most Americans continue to maintain a wait-and-see attitude.

More Exercise Set for Duke

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Increased activity was scheduled today for the recuperating Duke of Windsor, who underwent abdominal surgery in Methodist Hospital last Wednesday.

The 70-year-old former British monarch already has walked in the hallway outside his room with a minimum of assistance.

He sat for short periods, read newspapers and watched television over the weekend. He continued on a liquid diet.

The surgery was for removal of an artery blister known medically as an aneurysm.

Tokyo, meaning "Eastern Capital," is an appropriate name for the world's largest city. The metropolis already has 10,500,000 residents, and the population is skyrocketing.

More Negroes Hold Higher Paying Jobs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The number of Negroes holding high paying federal jobs has increased for the third year in a row.

The White House made public late Saturday in a minority census taken in June for the President's Committee on Equal Employment Opportunity which showed a 19.5 per cent increase — 32 persons — in the number of Negroes holding federal jobs paying from $10,250 to $24,500 yearly.

Sharp Rise in Savings in U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Securities and Exchange Commission says savings by individuals rose to a postwar record of $8.3 billion during July, August and September. This was $700 million more than the second quarter total and $1.5 billion higher than the July-September period last year.

HARMONY, Minn. — A truck driver, Dennis G. Fishbaugh, 18, and Robert E. Rosedahl, 25, both of Harmony, were involved in a car-truck collision which sent Larry Reimers, 16, Marion Township, to St. Mary's Hospital, Rochester, Saturday morning.

The accident happened on snow-slicked U.S. 52 about a half-mile north of Chatfield at 10:15 a.m. Larry was a passenger in the car driven by his brother, Johnny, 20, which slammed into the rear of a stopped truck driven by Donald P. Mueller, 45, Rochester.

Mueller's truck was stopped to avoid colliding with another car and truck which had been in an accident minutes earlier, the Highway Patrol said.

Fishbaugh, according to officers, had stopped to turn into a stockyard road when his vehicle was hit from the rear by Rosedahl's car. The Mueller car had been stopped to avoid

It's Winter for Sure; Below Zero Tonight

If last week was fall, how can winter, beginning today, be any worse?

The weatherman's answer to the question was a prediction of much colder weather tonight and Tuesday. He foresaw partly cloudy skies and a low of 5 above to 8 below tonight and a high of 10 Tuesday.

Light snow was forecast for Wednesday.

THE EXTENDED forecast predictions through Saturday, indicates temperatures will average nearly normal with daytime highs 22-28 and nighttime lows 4 to 11 after the initial cold period at the beginning of the week.

Precipitation for the period will total .10 of an inch or less as light snow Wednesday and Friday.

After 2½ inches of snow Saturday, temperatures were moderate over the weekend with a Saturday high of 20 and a maximum of 25 on Sunday. Low Sunday morning was 6 and this morning 22. At noon today the reading was 31.

A year ago today was the coldest day of the 1963-64 winter with a low of -16 and a high of -1. All-time high for Dec. 21 was 60 in 1877 and the low for the day -29 in 1872. Mean for the past 24 hours was 18 with normal for this time of the year 19.

WINTER officially came at 1:50 p.m. today.

With the beginning of winter also came the shortest day of the year. Rising at 7:38 a.m., the sun set at 4:31 p.m., giving Winona and vicinity 8 hours and 53 minutes of daylight. This contrasts with June 21 when the rising time is 4:23 a.m. and setting is 15 hours and 30 minutes.

Although Canadian points has temperature readings far below zero (-29 at Edmonton) all Minnesota thermometers stayed on the plus side of the tube with Alexandria's 5 above the lowest in the state. It was 6 at St. Cloud and 12 at Duluth.

The start of winter also was something of an anti-climax to WISCONSIN residents who are already acclimated to snow and sub-zero temperatures.

The new season was greeted by generally warmer weather in most of the state, although the mercury slipped to 7 above zero at Milwaukee early today.

Lone Rock and La Crosse had a low of 9, Madison, Green Bay and Eau Claire 10, Wausau 11, Superior and Beloit 12 and Racine 14.

Some very light snow was reported in the Superior region this morning and some scattered light snow or flurries fell in the north Sunday.

Temperature maximums Sunday were topped by Beloit's 28, with others ranging down to 18 at Eau Claire. The highs were 5 to 10 degrees below normal for the season.

FORT MYERS, Fla., topped the country Sunday with 81 degrees and Havre, Mont., had the low of 19 below zero early today.

Southern Colonial With Modern Touch

By ANDY LANG

A house in the true Southern Colonial style is appealing. But the modern family in search of a new home wants more than a pure American design, enchanting as it may be. The family of today demands the best in up-to-date materials and conveniences as well as a structure that is pleasing to the eye.

ARCHITECT LESTER Cohen has designed a contemporary adaptation of a Colonial for the latest House of the Week. It has all the height and stateliness of the traditional model, thanks to a large front portico with a two-story colonnade.

There's an extra sense of spaciousness because of twin wings that add to the visual width. One of these wings encloses a family room, the other a two-car garage, but design similarities make both appear as portions of the home's living area.

The two stories under the single, main roof include four bedrooms, two and a-half baths and a first-floor center hall entrance with an excellent traffic pattern. A fine first impression is inevitable with anyone who crosses the flagstoned portico and moves through the front door into the center hall.

DIRECTLY ahead is a graceful curved staircase to the upper floor in the most elegant Colonial tradition. Stairways like this always make ceilings seem higher and rooms larger. And decorating in any style takes on new highlights. To the left of the center hall is a fireplace living room, to the right a dining room with an unobstructed sweep across the family room. Both the living room and the dining room enjoy a porticoed view across the front lawn. Having the windows of these two rooms set back means filtered sunlight and privacy.

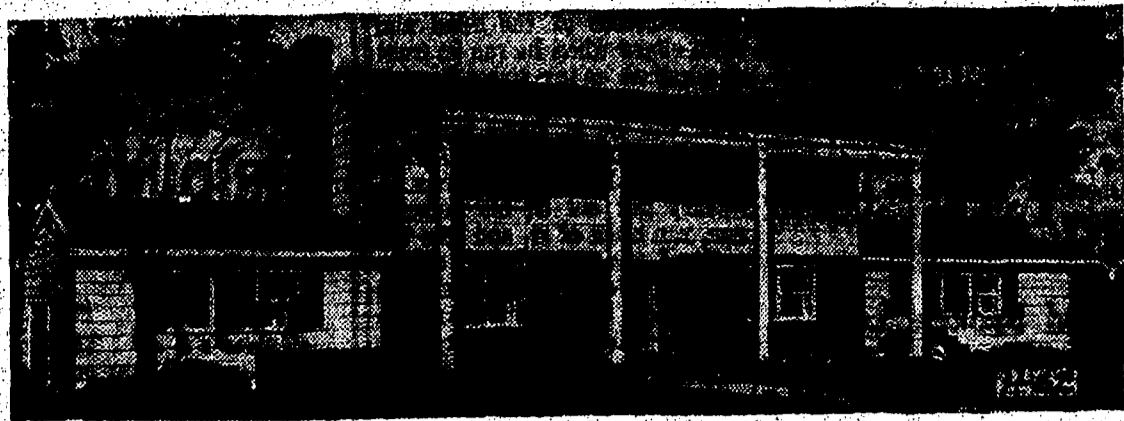

Modern planning at its most practical is seen in the layout of the service area at the back of the house. There is a total width of about 26 feet, combining the dinette, kitchen, laundry, mud room and lavatory.

A COVERED porch adds outdoor area available to the kitchen-service section as well as to the family room. If desired, the porch could be turned into an old-fashioned sun room with the addition of a glass enclosure.

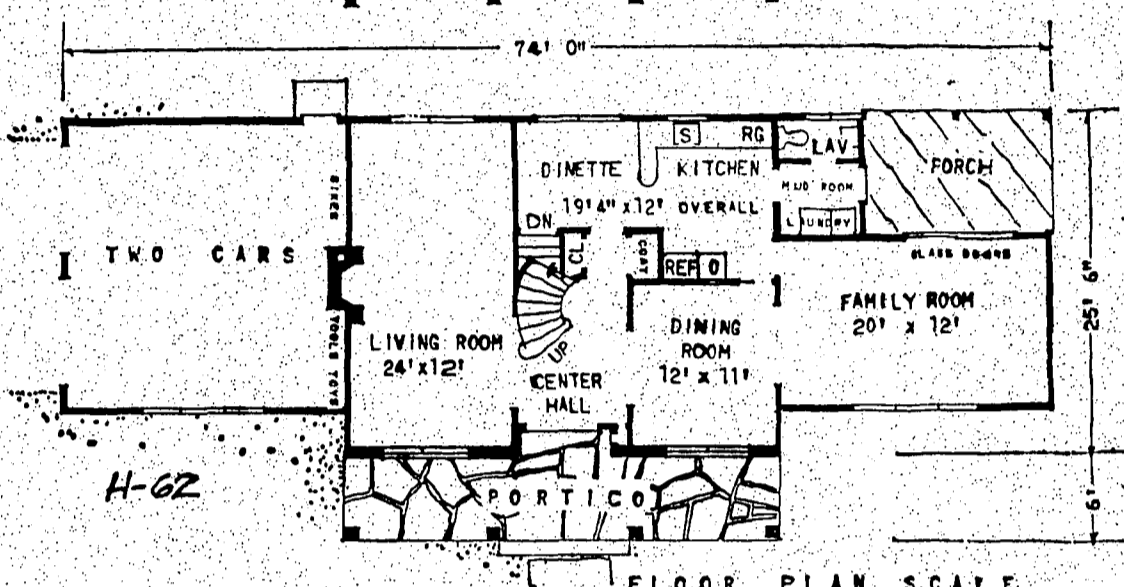

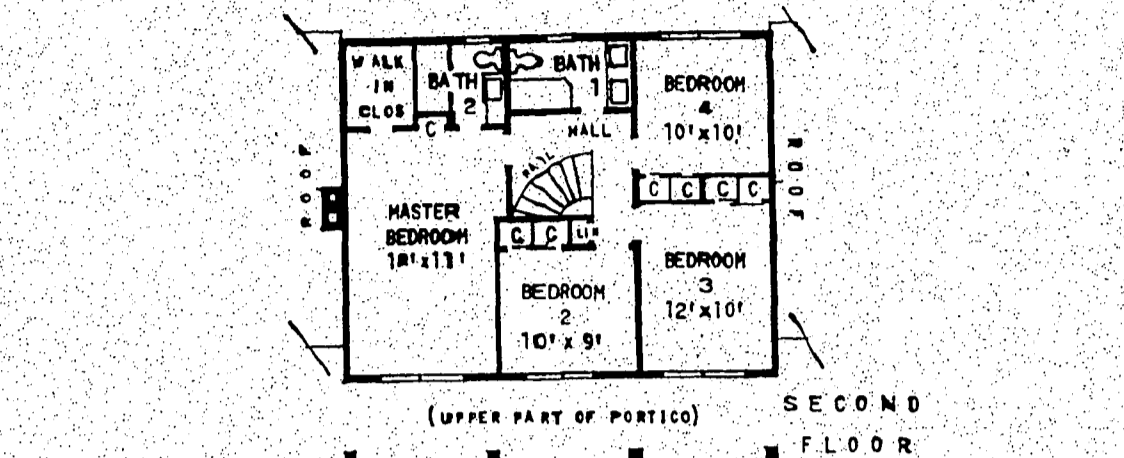

Sliding glass doors lead to the porch from the family room, which is as large as many living rooms, although not as large as the living room in this house.

There are four bedrooms upstairs, with one bathroom in the master bedroom and another conveniently located to the rest of the sleeping quarters. Large closets are featured in each of the four rooms, with an especially sizable one in the master bedroom. This entire floor is, as we mentioned previously, at the head of the attractive curved staircase.

BICYCLES, tools and toys can

FLOOR PLANS: King-size family can be accommodated in this four-bedroom Colonial, with a well-designed service area at the rear.

be stored in the two-car garage, a rear door making this section accessible without going past the space reserved for the autos. The part of the garage facing the front has the same type of Colonial windows as the rest of the house, adding to the overall impression of comfortable width.

But Design H-62's overall dimensions, including the garage and the front portico, are 74 feet by 31 feet 6 inches, modest figures for a house with 1,784 square feet of living area.

H-62 Statistics

Design H-62 has a living room, dining room, kitchen-dinette, laundry, mud room, family room, porch, lavatory and two-car garage on the first floor — with a habitable area of 1,051 square feet.

There are four bedrooms, two baths and plenty of closets on the second floor — with a living area of 733 square feet. The overall dimensions, including the garage and front portico, are 74' by 31' 6". The plans call for a basement, highly desirable if additional recreational area is needed.

Embossed Hardwood Can Provide Variety

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

The majority of inquiries about embossed hardwood ask whether it looks like real wood when it is used in the house. Yes, because most of these hardwoods are real wood. Some of the boards are tempered for use out of doors or in high-moisture interior areas such as utility rooms.

THESE WOODS catch the look and feel of woven burlap or reproduce the appearance of travertine marble, down to the random pits and indentations characteristic of marble. In many luxury textures, the cost may be less than another simulated product, as it offers advantages of wood. Designs are embossed by a press, permitting great variations. Light and shadow effects are produced by shallow variations in the surface of panels. One unique texture in a striated design looks like closed louvers. Another has a four-triangle in square motif, for an interesting effect.

One design resembles wicker or woven cane. A variation offers a pattern of wider horizontal and vertical stripes. THE GREATEST use of these embossed boards are as accents in fun and utility rooms, we're told. They are particularly good where interesting effects are desired without the penalty of delicate care as in children's rooms. Some of the textured boards are used to cover existing surfaces of beat-up furniture. Closet and wardrobe doors of these materials can afford handsome effects.

Interior designers find practical uses of embossed hardwoods, such as a marble pattern used on a coffee table in the family room. Other patterns are painted for usual effects in screens and room dividers. Decorators also gravitate to the cut-out filigree patterns of hardwood. One interior designer used these for closet doors in a bathroom, setting them in a pine frame. The filigree was painted a charcoal color, the pine painted gold for a very unusual look in a gold and charcoal colored bathroom.

HARDBOARD is easily handled by a do-it-yourselfer. The one area most do-it-yourselfers need assistance in is selecting the materials. Some jobs look so professional, it is unbelievable to learn that the kitchen or living room was completely built by a bank clerk or milkman, just from studying plans and reading books.

As we have stated at other times in talking about annuals, the four leading kinds, according to a poll of private and commercial plant authorities, are the petunia, zinnia, marigold and aster in that order. Most home gardeners will probably agree with this ranking of the four leaders, since there is no question in regard to their popularity.

THE PETUNIA is a most versatile flower, does well in any part of the country under varying conditions of soil and climate, is easy to grow and has a long season of bloom. The hybridizers have produced some beautiful varieties in the past and are continuing this productive work from year to year. Some of the newest outstanding hybrids listed in recent catalogs are Burpee's Giant All-doubles in colors of white, salmon and orchid with blooms up to five inches across. Other varieties are fringed, ruffled, or frilled, in a great diversity of colors. The singles have come a long way, also, and today there are dwarf and mounded-shaped early flowering kinds that are very fine for beds, or as edging plants.

THE ZINNIAS, of course, have been developed into wonderful flowers, typified by the Burpeeana Giants, as compared with the old kinds of long ago. The development of the modern zinnias is one of the most remarkable examples of the great improvement in the art of flower hybridizing. The recent hybrids have large flowers up to six inches across of various delicate colors with ruffled and quilted petals. Then, there are the ball-flowered types, the dwarfs, and small flowered groups, including the pompona and the miniaturs.

Turning to the marigolds, the same progressive improvement is found, perhaps even to a greater extent. Next to the zinnias the marigolds are easier to grow than any other annuals. The blooms of the large hybrids such as Burpee's Citrinax are densely petaled, yellow to orange in color, and up to five inches across. Some of the dwarf types have single flowers and others are fully double. During recent years efforts have been made to produce a large pure white marigold, but without success thus far. However, a large, double, creamy white named Hopeful is on the market this year for the first time.

PASSING ON to the asters, we find flowers that make a delightful show in the garden and are in a class much by themselves as cut flowers with a variety of pleasing colors. The blooms of the giant types are large, five inches, or more, across, and some varieties have incurved petals. Other extra early kinds have flowers slightly smaller in size on down to the small pompon types. Asters have now been developed that are resistant to the wilt disease that has been a bane to gardeners in the past.

Let's Get Growing

By A. F. SHIRA
Flower Improvement

OUR readers probably do not have to be reminded that this is, officially, the first day of winter. It can be considered to some degree the rigors of the winter days ahead.

Looking forward to the spring the gardener can derive some pleasure and perhaps profitable ideas in further beautifying the home grounds by going over a few of the seed and nursery catalogs that are now arriving through the mails. If you are not on the mailing list of some of the larger seed houses and nurseries, send for their catalogs.

One of the most noticeable developments in the various kinds of plants is the great improvement in the size and colors of the flowers. This is very marked from year to year. It is true of the annuals as well as the perennials, roses and others. We will confine our remarks to a few of the annuals at this time and take up some of the other forms in future articles.

As we have stated at other times in talking about annuals, the four leading kinds, according to a poll of private and commercial plant authorities, are the petunia, zinnia, marigold and aster in that order. Most home gardeners will probably agree with this ranking of the four leaders, since there is no question in regard to their popularity.

Barn Burns Near Sparta

SPARTA, Wis. (AP) — Fire of undetermined origin Sunday destroyed a 102 by 34 foot barn on the Robert Christopherson farm five miles west of Sparta. 47 Miners Killed in Peru Blast
LIMA, Peru (AP) — An explosion in a U.S.-operated coal mine in central Peru Sunday killed 47 miners and injured two others. Reports from the mine, near Cerro de Pasco 125 miles north-east of Lima, said gas and coal dust exploded. The mine's output is used to make coke for copper, gold and silver mining operations at Cerro de Pasco. It is operated by the U.S.-owned Cerro de Pasco Corp. While rescuers dug for bodies, officials of the government and the mining company tried to determine the cause of the accident.

British Pound Off Critical List

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — The international financial doctors have taken the British pound sterling off the critical list but not off the ailing list.

And its continuing basic weakness still affects America's own financial status and planning — in world trade, interest rates, balance of payments, the world price of gold, even the worries besetting the stock market.

A $3 billion, 11-nation bailout fund halted a serious run on the pound and since then its exchange value has rallied. But the fundamental ailment — too much outgo of pounds for imports and too small a return flow of pounds for British exports — continues.

The uneasiness over the pound's future shows up in that very market — the futures market.

The spot price for pounds is $2.79 (against the official $2.80). But for 90-day delivery speculators or businessmen hedging their activities can buy the pound for $2.77.

The thinking is that the pound might still fall to that level, which is below the $2.78 at which the Bank of England is ordered to support it. So the fear of devaluation is diminished but not silenced.

The United States becomes involved both in furnishing the largest share of the $3 billion fund the Bank of England could use to bolster the pound against any day-by-day runs, and in the methods which Britain is taking to try to cure the real ailment — its balance of payments deficit.

The latest move — postponement of the repayment of $138.1 million in interest and principal due the United States this month on postwar loans — cuts the British deficit by that much. It also increases America's own balance of payments deficit.

Estimates of this year's U.S. deficit, a bit in excess of $2 billion, were based on expectations of British payment, along with many other items. Postponement of payment will raise the U.S. deficit by $138 million. This may seem a small amount. But the deficit is the sum of many small amounts.

The United States has been affected directly by other measures the British government has taken in the last two months to fight off its financial ailment.

First it slapped a 15 per cent surcharge on most of its imports. Americans may see some of their British market shrink.

Then the bank of England boosted its lending charge to 7 per cent from 5 per cent. The U.S. comparable charge, the Federal Reserve discount rate, was quickly raised to 4 per cent from 3 1/2 per cent. Other short-term interest rates in America rose, but so far the government has discouraged any increase in long-term interest rates here.

Uneasiness about the future of the pound, and perhaps even of the dollar, is blamed for the recent rise in the price of gold.

It had been selling on the London free market at around $35.06 an ounce (roughly the U.S. official price). Now it has climbed close to $35.13 cents an ounce, the highest point since the 1962 Cuban crisis. A premium price for gold can carry the threat of another drain on the U.S. reserves, which so far this year has all but halted.

Close ties of the dollar and the pound as the world's standards of foreign exchange keep Britain's troubles close to American financial markets. And some of the uncertainty that still persists is credited with causing at least part of the weakness that has plagued the American stock markets through most of December.

Most financial authorities express confidence that Britain will work out of this crisis as it has out of previous ones since World War II. It's how she does it, and how long it takes, that Americans are watching.

Woman Found Slain, Estranged Husband Held

HUDSON, Wis. (AP) — A 35-year-old woman, mother of six, was found strangled in her home Sunday. Her estranged husband, located in a nearby city, was held for questioning but steadfastly maintained he knew nothing about his wife's death.

The victim, Mrs. Delores Morrison, lived with her children ranging in age from 15 to 5 years, in a rural area north of Roberts, in St. Croix County, about 10 miles east of the Wisconsin - Minnesota state line. Dist. Atty. Richard Rivard said she and her husband, James, 34, separated Oct. 31.

The prosecutor said Morrison related that on Saturday she visited his wife for the first time since their separation. Morrison said he arrived at the family home at about 8:30 p.m. and left between 10:30 and 11 p.m.

One of the children told authorities he heard what he thought was his mother screaming during the night.

Sunday morning, a 14-year-old son found his mother, clad in pajamas, lying on top of her bed. She was dead.

A physician who performed an autopsy said the condition of Mrs. Morrison's lungs indicated she had been strangled. There were abrasions on her body.

Sheriff Ray Hansen said Morrison was taken into custody at a hotel at New Richmond where he was registered as Richard Anderson. Morrison had a cut on his left wrist.

Morrison was brought to Hudson and questioned at length by Chief Deputy Sheriff Gerald Wallace and the district attorney.

Morrison was the father of the three younger children. Three older children were his wife's by a previous marriage.

Time for Change In U.S. Senators To Be Announced

ST. PAUL (AP) — Vice President-elect Hubert Humphrey and Atty. Gen. Walter F. Mondale probably will announce the week when they'll make the swap for Humphrey's Senate seat.

Humphrey is expected to resign either this week or next to give Mondale a few days' seniority on newly-elected Senators. Mondale will be appointed to the post by Gov. Karl Rolvaag. Mondale had another national television appearance Sunday on NBC's "Meet the Press," but made no mention of when the changeover might take place.

Humphrey visited his ailing 84-year-old mother at Huron, S. D. Sunday and made his usual stop at the Humphrey Drug Store before flying to Chicago for another speech.

Mondale parried a question about whether an increasingly urban nation will be willing to continue costly farm subsidy programs.

"It might be that it is the farmers who are actually subsidizing the public because the best bargain in the country today is food," Mondale said. He said some way must be found to give farmers adequate bargaining power in setting food prices. Mondale said he had doubts about the proposal of one farm organization to buy into a food chain, because the profit margin is so small.

In his Huron stop, Humphrey delivered a Christmas gift and a poinsettia to the rest home where his mother, Christine, resides. At the store, he chatted with brother Ralph and rummaged on the shelves — "straightening them out," he said.

Humphrey promised a well-wisher he would have a good visit when the high school band from his home town of Doland, S.D. marches in the inaugural parade.

Cuban Radio Reports Three Executed

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Three agents of the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency were executed by a firing squad for "crimes against the nation's integrity and stability," Havana Radio said today.

Other agents were sentenced to prison terms of one to 30 years, the radio said. It did not say how many others were involved.

The Miami-monitored broadcast identified the U.S. agents shot to death as Ricardo Ulloa Olivera, Daniel Montero Camalier and Desiderio Valladares.

Ulloa and Montero were formerly in the Cuban militia, the radio said. It said Valladares was one of the leaders in what it called a "CIA necktie of espionage named the Western Unique Front."

Havana Radio said the CIA ring had been operating in Pinar del Rio province.

Debate Over Bounties to Legislature

ST. PAUL (AP) — The long dispute over payment of bounties will take a new twist in the 1965 Legislature.

The Game and Fish Division of the State Department of Conservation headed by James A. Shields, has advanced a proposal which should please opponents of bounty payments and may win over some of those who favor the rewards.

The plan would stop use of state money for bounty payments and use it to improve game and fish habitat and public hunting grounds.

"The bounty system was established originally in the belief that by reducing the number of predators, the game populations would thereby increase," says the division in explaining its plan.

"However, according to careful studies, this method produces no such effect at all. It is an ineffective 'shotgun' approach which does not provide for control of individual animals which may be causing damage."

The division cites statistics showing there is no relationship between the number of foxes on which bounty is paid in a given year and the annual pheasant harvest.

"Investigations in Minnesota have shown that about three-fourths of the predators are taken by people who kill only two or three a year and the bulk of these are taken accidentally, incidentally or in defense of property," the department report adds. "In other words they would have been killed anyway, without the incentive of a bounty payment."

During the past 10 years, county payments have averaged $165,000 a year, most of it for foxes.

The proposal is that $280,000 in game and fish money which now goes for bounties be apportioned every two years to all 87 counties on a matching basis to improve game and fish habitat and public hunting grounds.

Half the total would be apportioned on the basis of area and the other half would be divided equally among the counties. Projects would be selected at the county level, in cooperation with the game and fish division.

Proposals could originate with county boards, local sportsmen clubs or other groups. They would be confined to county, state and federal lands. County matching contributions could be in the form of personnel, equipment or materials as well as money.

Santa Claus Gets 'Reindeer Street'

SANTA CLAUS, Ga. (AP) — Santa Claus is on the move this Christmas season.

"We're doing rather well in Santa Claus, we feel," Mayor Bill Salem said today. "We have our first street being paved — Reindeer Street."

The mayor said the population of the city has increased from 5 in 1900 to 28 at present. "We've issued permits for three or four new homes and are looking forward to an additional 12 to 16 soon," he said.

During the Christmas season, Salem said, letters from all over the world arrive to be post-marked.

CONRAD AIRLINER . . . Twenty-seven years ago Max Conrad, who was later to become one of the world's best-known light aircraft pilots, was operating Conrad Flying Service at the airport here and was announcing plans for three winter "Grand Flying Trips" in this Ford Tri-Motor plane. One flight was to leave Dec. 28, 1937 for California to carry local football fans to the Rose Bowl game. Another was a two-week trip to Mexico City and the third a flight to Jacksonville, Fla. Costs of the trips ranged from $135 to $185. The photograph was furnished by Conrad's father-in-law, Charles P. Biesanz, Winona.

FIRST OF ITS KIND . . . The first gravel washing plant in Minnesota was built in 1908 by Charles P. Biesanz adjacent to old Highway 61 near the west city limits. The operation was later consolidated with Winona Sand & Gravel Co. The photograph is the property of Mr. Biesanz.

ABOUT THIS QUESTION:
"Last year, a fire in a nearby town put several stores out of business during the busy holiday shopping. Truly fire insurance covered the building and chairs, but what about the total loss of income during this season? Does your agency have insurance to pay all expenses and net profit during business interruptions?"

Hard Facts Predict Buffalo Over San Diego for AFL Title

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The hard facts from the statistics sheets and a quick review of recent history would point to a Buffalo victory over San Diego next Saturday in the American Football League's title game.

But it's those pesky, unpredictable intangibles that have a way of turning things around and make it impossible to answer these questions until Saturday afternoon in Buffalo.

Will Buffalo's momentum, plus the lift of the Eastern Division — clinching 24-14 decision over Boston Sunday be enough to carry the Bills to their first title in the five-year history of the league?

Or will defending champion San Diego be able to shake off the disturbing effect of two straight losses, including a 21-20 upset at the hands of Oakland, and nail down a second straight title?

San Diego Coach Sid Gilman tends to discount the intangible and stick to hard facts.

"We played Buffalo two times and they beat us two times," he said after Sunday's unpleasant surprise by Oakland. "In the first game we didn't have any of our big guns and took a good beating. The second time we had them all, but we lost because we gave the game away."

"We'll try to contain Cookie Gilchrist the best we know how.

If we don't, they'll beat us."

Buffalo won both regular-season meetings between the two contenders, 30-3 and 27-24. Buffalo has a 12-2 record, San Diego 8-5-1.

In addition to the key games involving Buffalo and San Diego, the other regular-season finals saw Kansas City clip New York 24-7 and Houston beat Denver 34-15.

Jack Kemp was the prime mover for the Bills against the Patriots as a swirling snowstorm and Boston's line contained the rush of Gilchrist and Wray Carlton.

Kemp opened with a 57-yard scoring pass to Elbert Duxenon and sneaked across for the other two himself, after setting them up with passes.

Boston's lone chance to get back into the frosty game came in the first period when a Babe Parilli pass to Tony Romeo went 37 yards for a touchdown, but a two-point try for conversion failed. That made it 7-6 Buffalo, and the Bills had a 17-7 halftime margin on a Kemp sneak and Pete Gogolak's 12-yard field goal.

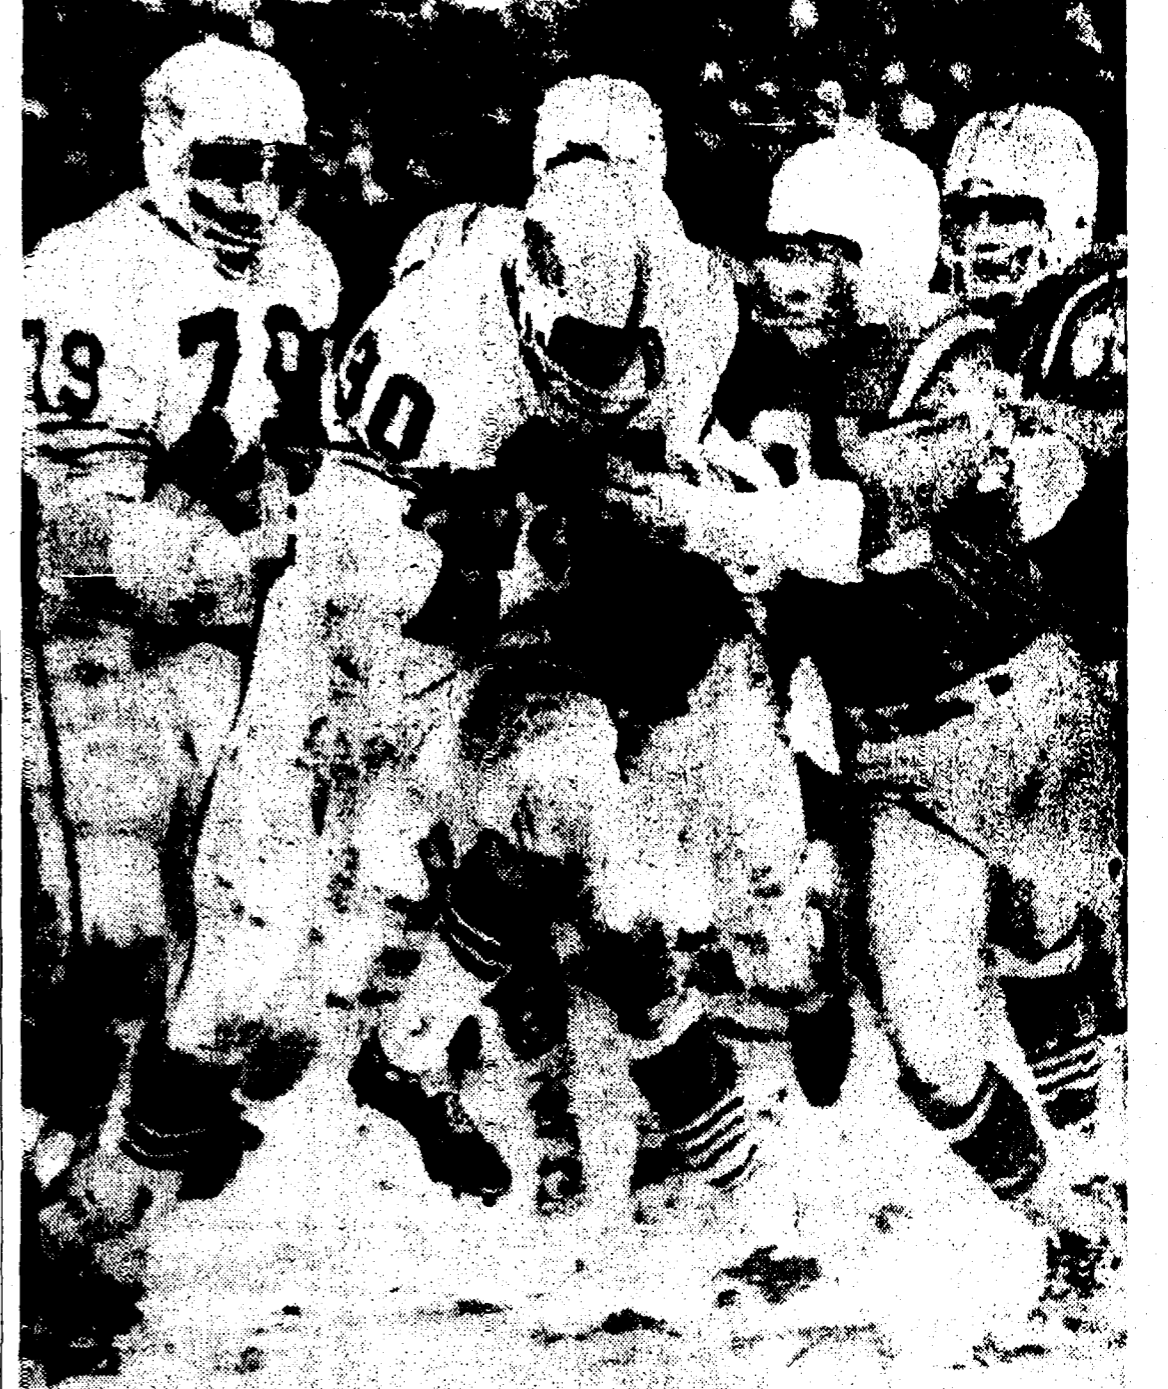

"This was the big one for us," Buffalo defensive back George Saimes said. "We're over the hump now and we'll take San Diego. We had this mental block about not beating Boston."

Oakland's Clem Daniels sparked the Raider comeback, running for 120 yards in the final quarter against San Diego. He accounted for 57 in the winning drive, capped in the closing minutes on a 12-yard touchdown pass from Tom Flores to Billy Cannon and Mike Mercer's winning conversion kick.

George Blanda set season records for pass attempts, 505, and completions, 262, in the Oilers' victory. Chuck Henningan caught eight for a season total of 101, a record.

Len Dawson passed for two touchdowns for the Chiefs, who evened their season record at 7-7. The Jets' Matt Snell ran for 103 yards, setting a rookie rushing mark of 945 for the season, but the Jets still lost their seventh straight on the road.

FUN IN SNOW . . . Wray Carlton (30) of the Buffalo Bills gains five yards before being stopped by Tom Addison and a teammate both of the Boston Patriots in the fourth period of their American Football League game at Fenway Park, Boston, Sunday. Also in on the play is Dick Hudson (79) of the Bills and Houston Antwine (65) of the Patriots. Buffalo won 24-14. (AP Photofax)

Alma Seeking Revenge Tuesday

A brief flurry of non-conference basketball games wind up the pre-Christmas cage schedule Tuesday.

The big contest sends Wabasha St. Felix, 2-1, to the Bi-State Conference, to Alma, undefeated and presently king of Wisconsin's West Central circuit.

St. Felix, coached by

Duke Loretz, owns a 3-2 record on the season, the three victories coming in rapid-fire succession over Hokah St. Peter, rival Winona Cotter and Caledonia Loretz.

The losses came at the hands of Lake and Rochester Lourdes, a hard-fought 67-63 decision.

Alma, under the direction of Greg Green, was rated as a power in pre-season balloting and has done nothing to damage the theory, rolling under Cochrane-Fountain City, Durand, Taylor and Arkansaw.

While St. Felix is 2-0 in the Bi-State, Alma is 2-0 in the West Central, scoring 120 points in the romp past Taylor.

Loretz is expected to start 6-3 Mike Cichanowski at center, 6-2 Tom Foley and 6-2 Bill Glomski at forwards and 5-9 Gene Wodele and 5-10 Doug Kennebeck at guards. The top reserve has been 5-8 John Wodele. All are seniors with Glomski and Gene Wodele carrying the most experience.

A year ago, Alma lost six games — St. Felix copped two of the victories.

"We haven't forgotten," said Green.

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Buoyed by an upset 62-61 victory over Wisconsin, the Marquette Warriors prepared today for their next assignment — a game at Ames, Iowa, Tuesday night against Iowa State.

Marquette's decision over the Badgers gave Coach Al McGuire's young team consolation honors in the Milwaukee classic holiday basketball tournament at the Arena. UCLA won the championship by defeating Boston College 115-93.

McGuire called the triumph over Wisconsin a "mental breakthrough."

"We finally won a game that we weren't supposed to win," he said. "I'd say these two games in the Classic were our best so far (Marquette now is 3-4), particularly the UCLA game. Against UCLA our boys proved they are capable of playing good ball against topnotch competition."

The new Marquette coach said his team "caught Wisconsin psychologically down. The Badgers had a late game the night before and they were cold to boot against us."

McGuire rated rebounding as the big factor in the hard-fought decision over the Badgers. He praised Billy Joe Smith, Paul Carbins and Tom Flynn for excellence in this department. Smith got seven rebounds, Carbins 19 and Flynn 14 as Marquette out-rebounded UW 51-37.

Flynn led in scoring with 18.

UCLA, led by the sharpshooting southpaw, Gail Goodrich, who made 35 points, demonstrated convincingly in the Classic finals why it is ranked fifth in the nation.

Collegiate Cage Pace Quiets

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Activity for Minnesota's college basketball teams slows down to a snail's pace this week as the cagers take the break for Christmas.

Only five games are on tap for the week, starting with Minnesota-Morris' visit to South Dakota State tonight.

Minnesota still has two ciphers — besides the Minnesota Gophers, that is.

Augsburg ripped Idaho 95-90 Saturday night for its eighth victory, while Moorhead State downed Concordia 82-75 for the Dragons' fifth in a row.

Minnesota-Duluth, which figures to give Augsburg a run for its money in the Minnesota Intercollegiate, ran its record to 5-1 by downing Montana University 77-71.

St. Cloud State, considered the team to beat in the Northern Intercollegiate, made its record 7-3 by ripping St. John's 92-81.

In other Saturday games, Montana State defeated Bemidji State 81-75 and Minnesota-Morris lost to Dakota Wesleyan 89-66.

Augsburg, still on its western trip, plays at Montana University Tuesday night.

Minnesota Passes Test

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Minnesota's rip-and-fire Gophers have passed the most crucial test of the young basketball season, and now can be considered a bona fide threat to Michigan's superiority in the Big Ten.

The Gophers, with fancy Lou Hudson drilling 33 points, gunned past Utah State 88-69 Saturday night for their fifth straight victory.

It was not so much the ease with which Minnesota cruised past the Aggies that made them impressive. It was the adversity they overcame in doing it. They had just lost senior forward Terry Kunze to ineligibility.

They had not had a full-squad practice session, because of quarter exams, for more than a week.

And they faced a team which could put on the floor a front line averaging 6-foot-8.

Yet none of these disadvantages were evident as the Gophers blew down the Aggies.

Junior Dennis Dvoracek moved into Kunze's starting berth and contributed 14 points. The Gophers shook off the lack of practice and the resulting decline in conditioning to run their fast break with devastating authority.

And Minnesota out-rebounded the taller Utah State team 57-37 with Hudson snaring 18 rebounds and Mel Northway 13.

Hudson has never been better. He hit seven points as the Gophers were romping into a 12-4 lead. Another flurry by the willowy 6-5 junior of four straight field goals shoved Minnesota ahead 37-22 late in the first half.

Loyola of Chicago invades Williams Arena Tuesday night to provide Minnesota's next opposition.

Ignore House Rule, Claim Meet Trophy

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Adolph Rupp and his Kentucky Wildcats—true believers in Southern hospitality—are gracious hosts each December at the UK Invitational Basketball Tournament. There is only one house rule for visitors to Lexington—don't walk off with the silverware!

That may explain the Baron's displeasure today with his cousins from Illinois.

The once-beaten Illini romped off with the tourney title last Saturday night, topping Kentucky 91-86 in the final despite a closing rush by the eighth-ranked Wildcats. It was Illinois' first victory over Kentucky since 1943 and the first UKIT title for a Big Ten team in nine tries. The host club had won seven of 11 previous tournaments.

Skip Thoren scored 27 points and Tal Brody 25 for the Illini, 6-1. They blew a 16-point margin late in the game before Brody and Bill McKeown hit six straight free throws to pull away from an 83-82 edge.

The tournament drew 23,300 fans, a record for the two-night, four-team event. Dayton beat West Virginia 71-67 for third place.

Three other tourney-stagers kept the home crowds happy. Ninth-ranked Vanderbilt edged Oklahoma State 60-58 in the Commodore's Tournament final at Nashville; Arizona State outran Murray, Ky., 107-96 to capture the Sun Devil Classic at Tempe, Ariz., and Evansville's giant-killers whipped Louisiana State 93-73 for the Evansville Holiday crown.

Larry Humes hit for 45 points as Evansville, the nation's No. 1 small-college club, completed a season-opening five-game sweep of major opponents and won its tourney for the sixth time in nine years. The Aces beat Iowa, Northwestern and Notre Dame before knocking off George Washington and LSU in the tournament.

UCLA's defending major college champions belted Boston College 115-93 and Alabama surprised North Carolina 66-61 in the finals of the Milwaukee and Virginia Tech Invationals, respectively.

A run of 18 straight points at the end of the first half sparked the Bruins to their fifth successive victory after an opening loss at Illinois. Gail Goodrich topped UCLA with 35 points, one more than BC's John Austin, who sat out 10 minutes of the second half with an injured wrist.

Elsewhere, No. 1 ranked Wichita and No. 10 St. Louis won Missouri Valley Conference games while Minnesota, Indiana, Utah, Providence and Connecticut remained unbeaten.

Dave Stallworth's 25 points led the Wheatshockers past Drake 71-60 and Randy Albrecht's two free throws with three seconds remaining wrapped up the Billikens' 76-73 decision over previously unbeaten Bradley.

Minnesota, 5-0, routed Utah State 88-69. Indiana buried Detroit 108-89; Utah beat California 59-74 and Providence nipped Iowa 71-70. The Hoosiers, Utes and Friars have won six straight. The Uconn, whose 7-0 mark tops the list of 11 major unbeaten, got past Fordham 70-67.

Sixth-ranked Duke ran over Virginia 104-91 and St. John's, N.Y., No. 7, outscored Notre Dame 76-72.

Is Kramer Set To Help S.F. Out of Cellar?

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Barry Kramer, first draft choice of the San Francisco Warriors and somewhat of a National Basketball Association disappointment so far, could be on the verge of helping the last-place club of the Western Division.

The 6-foot-4 rookie from NYU came off the bench Sunday night when the cause appeared lost and almost brought the Warriors even with the Philadelphia 76ers.

But the 76ers, behind Hal Greer's 30 points and the rebounding of Lucious Jackson, edged the Warriors 113-111 in the only game played.

With less than three minutes remaining Sunday, the 76ers held a 109-95 lead. Then Kramer went to work.

In the next two minutes Kramer stole two Philadelphia passes and scored six points on three quick field goals. His last steal and field goal left San Francisco trailing 109-107.

But the teams traded baskets until Greer put the 76ers ahead 113-109.

has 6-3 Dick Ebersold at center, 6-0 Larry Kreibich and 6-3 Dave Antrim at the wings, 6-1 John Stohr and 6-2 Mike Moham at guards. That's the simple part.

Should St. Felix press, Alma will use Brian Kreibich, 5-10 junior, to combat it. He replaces Ebersold and Stohr goes to center. If facing a zone defense, Lonnie Benson, 6-0 senior, goes in for added outside shooting strength. If the Rivermen decide to press, Don Ristow, 5-10 junior, heads up the harrying defense with Brian Kreibich.

Also certain to see action is 6-0 junior center Rich Stiel, the team's second leading rebounder as a reserve.

Stohr tops the teams with 56 ricochets in four games. Four Alma starters are averaging in double figures with the fifth just a shade below.

"Ebersold is really starting to come," said Green. "He and Stohr each had 14 rebounds against Arkansas. If we see a man-to-man, Ebersold will be in the center where he can use his hook shot."

"I saw St. Felix Friday night," said Green. "They're a good club. It should be a rugged test for us."

Other Tuesday games have Rochester at White Bear Lake, Faribault at Kenyon, Mankato at Breckenridge, Grand Meadow at Stewartville, Harmony at Mabel, Rushford at Caledonia Loretto and Ellsworth at Mondovi.

A lone Wednesday game has Hokah St. Peter at Colter "B".
