New DST Bill Passed by Senate

U.S. Expected to Step Up North Viet Attacks

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Speculation grew today that the United States may broaden its air attacks on North Viet Nam following their resumption Tuesday.

Since the air strikes so far have not done sufficient damage to the North Vietnamese to bring them to the conference table, there was speculation that the raiders may seek more important targets, possibly in the industrialized Hanoi-Hai-phong region.

been directed against military barracks, ammunition depots, air fields, bridges and road and railway traffic. The northernmost point hit was a bridge at Dong Phuong, 65 miles south of Hanoi, on April 3.

The air strikes against the Communist North were resumed after a six-day pause during which the United States reportedly sent out feelers to North Viet Nam for peace talks. Hanoi evidently rejected them.

State Department spokesman Robert J. McCloskey said in Washington the United States was disappointed at the failure of North Viet Nam to respond in any way to the suspension.

"If the other side saw anything in it," McCloskey said, "We've had no evidence of it."

A North Vietnamese Foreign Ministry statement broadcast a few hours after Tuesday's raid called the suspension an effort to camouflage American intensification of the war and to deceive world opinion.

Hanoi said North Viet Nam "affirms once again that the four-point stand made public on April 8, 1965, is the only sound basis for a political settlement of the Viet Nam problem."

The four points include withdrawal of U.S. troops from Viet Nam.

Senior Western officials in London said the United States made its peace approach to Hanoi through a third country. The country was not identified, but there was speculation that the British consul-general in Hanoi was the go-between.

The officials reported the United States suggested the air attacks would be halted indefinitely if Hanoi made some comparable gesture. Presumably, Washington would have been satisfied, they said, if the Communists stopped the flow of arms and recruits to the Viet Cong in the South.

U.S. Hopes for Coalition Regime in Dominicans

WASHINGTON (AP) — The focus of Johnson administration efforts in the Dominican Republic is to get a middle-road, civilian regime set up.

George Bundy, his adviser on national security affairs, scores with its on-the-spot diplomacy, the success story could go like this:

Rival factions agree on a provisional, Communist-free government commanding widespread acceptance; this ends the fighting; the Organization of American States takes over the supervisory chore as the country moves toward free elections for a permanent government; Johnson pulls out all of the 23,000-man U.S. force except for a fraction remaining with other Latin-American units under the banner of the Organization of American States until stability is restored.

Hopefully, such a body would command enough respect and authority to quell the fighting and lay the ground for a more permanent democratic government.

If President Johnson's high-powered team, headed by Mc-

A failure to find a formula for an accepted government, U.S. sources privately acknowledge, could mean that large numbers of U.S. Marines and paratroopers will be kept in the country for many months.

Tensions Ease In Jerusalem

JERUSALEM (AP)—An Arab-Israeli conflict over the Jordan River waters still threatens the Middle East, but tensions have eased in this capital.

pletely mechanized and strengthened with American anti-aircraft missiles and other new weapons.

Premier Levi Eshkol in an Independence Day speech May 6 cautioned his countrymen, however, that nothing as yet has happened to justify any slackening in Israel's efforts to "create the military potential required to avert war and repel aggression."

The easing is attributed to the Arab world split over Tunisian President Habib Bourguiba's moderate views toward Israel, successful Israeli armed attacks on Syrian projects to divert the Jordan River, and Israel's armed forces—now com-

These efforts, he said, should be continued "much as we should like to draw encouragement from every manifestation which may hold out hope for a change toward peaceful coexistence" with the Arabs.

In any event, with some Latin-American forces now on the scene, the Johnson administration is expected to announce withdrawal of a part of the American force fairly soon.

500 Dropped for Poor Grades at Mankato State

MANKATO, Minn. — Some 500 Mankato State College students were dropped for academic reasons at the beginning of spring quarter, but on campus enrollment still is a record spring high of 7,671, which is 14.1 percent above enrollment last spring.

One of the difficulties at the moment, according to Washington sources, is that both junta President Brig. Gen. Antonio Imbert Barrera and rebel leader Col. Francisco Canmano Deno keep pushing for sole control of the country.

They say each side has made demands unacceptable to the other and has bitter-enders ready to fight to the finish. A cease-fire has been broken repeatedly. Each has rebuffed pleadings by OAS and U.S. emissaries, who get freely blamed.

A college spokesman said there is nothing unusual about the number of students dropped, but the timing is different from that of previous years.

STUDENTS FORMERLY were given three quarters to prove themselves, but this year a 1.5 grade point average, roughly a C-minus, was required after two quarters.

Originally 630 were dropped but 131 were reinstated because their average was close to 1.5 or there were other extenuating circumstances.

This summer Mankato State will initiate a new policy that may become a "requirement." This will be "inviting" the lowest third of the newly admitted freshman class to start college with the two summer sessions.

Vacation Tired

House Now Big Obstacle To Adoption

ST. PAUL (AP) — The Senate passed a bill for six months of daylight saving time each year without a word of debate today. The vote was 36-30.

The bill now goes to the House which has been cool to fast time proposals all session. No bill on DST has been able to get to the floor from the House General Legislation Committee.

The bill passed by the Senate provides for fast time from the last Sunday in April to the last Sunday in October. Under present law the state's fast time period runs from the fourth Sunday in May to Labor Day.

For the bill (36) — Adams, Allen, W. R. Anderson, Bergerud, Blatz, Coleman, Davies, Dunlap, Gritter, Mel Hansen, N. W. Hanson, R. Hanson, Higgins, Holm, Holand, Hughes, Kalina, Krieger, LaBrosse, Lauf-enburger, McCarty, McKnight, Mosier, Novak, Ogdahl, Parish, Parks, Patterson, Perpich, Pop-ham, Salmore, Sundet, Thuet, Wanvick Westin and Wright.

Against (30) — E. J. Anderson, Benson, Dosland, Franz, Franz, Harren, Heuer, Holm-Imm, Jensen, Josefson, Knud-son, Kroehler, Langley, L. Lar-son, N. Larson, Lovfegren, Mar-uska, McGuire, Mitchell, H. S. Nelson, Howard Nelson, Olson, Popp, Rosenmeier, Sinclair, Swenson, Ukkelberg, Walz and Zwach.

Not voting (1) — Vukelich.

It appeared the strategy in the House might be to try and get the DST bill referred to the Rules Committee, rather than the Committee of General Legislation which has bottled up previous DST bills.

Another gambit may be to soften the bill by limiting it to two years as an experiment.

State Senate Takes Up Redistricting

ST. PAUL (AP)—The Minnesota Senate took under consideration today a compromise reapportionment plan that shifts 15 seats from rural to city areas and sets up 14 contests between incumbent legislators.

House action will follow on the plan, which came out of a month-long study by committees of both houses of the legislature.

Gov. Karl Rolvaag had no comment Tuesday when the plan was first made public. He could veto the bill if he feels it is unfair to DFL minorities in each house. Liberals have said they will urge the governor's veto if the final bill has what they termed a partisan flavor.

Said Rep. Robert Latz, Minneapolis Liberal: "It's safe to say the bill will be vetoed, and it will be challenged in federal court if the veto is not upheld."

Liberal Sen. Thomas Vukelich of Gilbert did not sign the conference committee report. He said the bill unnecessarily splits counties and cities and provides for at-large House races in Hennepin County.

Reapportionment was ordered last fall by a federal court which contended the 1959 legislative alignment did not fairly reflect population growth in urban areas.

Sandbaggers Given Picnic At La Crosse

LA CROSSE, Wis. — An estimated 1,200 teen-agers chomped hot dogs, sipped soft drinks and danced Tuesday night at a Sandbaggers' Picnic in a park flooded by three feet of water only a month ago.

The festivities marked La Crosse's "Youth Appreciation Week," declared by Mayor Warren Loveland as a civic "thank you" for the hundreds of young people who aided in the battle to keep rising floodwaters from swamping the city last month.

La Crosse businessmen donated the refreshments for the picnic at Copeland Park, bordered by the Black River, a Mississippi tributary that spilled over the area at the peak of the flood. Loveland, who estimated the turnout, gave a brief welcoming speech.

A ball at Sawyer Auditorium Friday night will cap the week-long celebration.

Man, Son Drift 1,400 Miles on Raft in Pacific

MANILA (AP) — An American and his son, given up for lost after their raft drifted away from Guam, have been rescued 1,400 miles from home after 32 days at sea.

Frank H. Cushing, 63, a former aviation stuntman, and Frank Jr., 29, were sighted by a police patrol boat Monday off Camiguin Island, north of the main Philippine island of Luzon. Police at first thought they were smugglers.

The constabulary's northern zone headquarters reported today that both were well. Their provisions and clothes were still intact despite their ordeal.

The two men, who live on Guam, told their rescuers they were searching reefs around Guam for rare fish for young Frank's collection. They anchored off Puto Point on the night of April 15. While they slept, strong currents pulled the raft out to sea.

They woke to find themselves lost. The U.S. Navy made a search but couldn't find them. The Cushings drifted all the way to the Philippines over one of the world's most deserted stretches of ocean. The raft was making about 3 knots when it was sighted.

Flood-Area Mosquitoes Of '65 Worse Than Ever

CHICAGO (AP) — A farmer's son develops lumps as big as baseballs.

The incidents concern flood-water mosquitoes, a vicious brand of insect that breeds best on spring flood waters.

River flooded its banks from Minnesota to Kentucky.

A St. Louis pediatrician says he has "never seen it so bad."

A university professor says, "I've never heard so many people complaining."

"It's simple," says Prof. W. R. Horstfall, University of Illinois entomologist, "the more area you get under water, the more mosquitoes."

MAYO RE-ELECTED REGENT

Rolvaag Appointee Heaney Rejected

ST. PAUL (AP) — Gov. Karl Rolvaag's appointee, Gerald Heaney of Duluth, was rejected Tuesday night in his bid for election to the University of Minnesota Board of Regents.

House failed to re-name a regent. It was the first time in long memory, some legislators said, that the joint houses failed to elect the full slate presented for their consideration by the nominating committees of the two houses.

Mosquito outbreaks have been reported in many cities in Illinois, Missouri and Kentucky. Health officials in Benton and Paducah, Ky., have described the situation as the worst in 10 years.

It was the first time in 12 years the Minnesota Senate and Elected to the board for six-year terms were Mrs. C.E. Howard of Excelsior; Lester Malkerson of Minneapolis; and Dr. Charles W. Mayo of Rochester, all incumbents, and George Rauenhorst, Olivia farmer.

Adding to the complaints is the fear the mosquito-borne encephalitis (inflammation of the brain), which claimed several lives in Illinois last year, may break out again.

Rosemount Man Dead in Mishap

A Rosemount, Minn., man was killed Tuesday night when his car rolled over after leaving Highway 52 about 25 miles south of the Twin Cities.

He was Richard L. Flint, 35, the Highway Patrol reported.

St. Louis officials describe the mosquito infestation as possibly the worst in modern history.

Also recorded Tuesday was the death of Michael J. McSweeney, 24, Minneapolis, at General Hospital. He was injured in a traffic accident May 8.

The deaths raised Minnesota's traffic toll to 196 compared with 269 on this date one year ago.

Dr. Raymond Hellweg, 33, a St. Louis pediatrician, said he and his colleagues have "never seen it so bad."

Manitowoc Store Destroyed by Fire

MANITOWOC, Wis. — Fire, apparently starting in the basement near a boiler room, spread quickly through the two-story building housing the Shlmeck Furniture store on the northern edge of the business district early today.

Before the unusually long election took place at a joint meeting of the houses, there was some rare maneuvering aimed at keeping Heaney's name off the slate. The move by Conservatives failed, largely because Heaney had the support of such Conservative leaders as Sens. Robert Dunlap of Rochester and Donald Wright of Minneapolis.

The huge bites aren't because the mosquitoes are different, Hellweg said, "but because they're bigger than I have ever seen."

Clarence Shimek, co-owner of the store, said it appeared that all of the merchandise, which he valued at $50,000 was lost.

The result of the election is expected to intensify the bitterness between the Liberal and Conservative factions, and between the governor and Conservatives in the remaining days of the session.

River cities in northern Illinois, Iowa, Michigan and Minnesota have stepped up mosquito abatement programs.

Heaney's name had appeared on slates endorsed by the House University Committee and the Senate Education Committee and on the slate agreed upon by the two groups at a joint meeting.

However, Tuesday night a slate listing Mrs. Howard, Malkerson, Mayo, Heaney and Rauenhorst was presented, and Sen. Ben Patterson of Deer River moved that Hartl's name be substituted for Heaney. The motion carried, 101-92.

Stockholders Of CNW Vote For Merger

CHICAGO — Chicago and North Western Railway stockholders approved Tuesday a proposed merger with the Milwaukee Road and cleared the way for submission of the project to the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Sen. Thomas Vukelich, Gilbert Liberal, then moved Heaney be substituted for Rauenhorst on the slate, but the motion lost, 104-90.

In the final balloting for six-year terms, Mayo got 145 votes, Malkerson 127, Mrs. Howard 123, and Rauenhorst 117.

Milwaukee Road shareholders okayed the consolidation at their meeting last week.

In the final balloting for six-year terms, Mayo got 145 votes, Malkerson 127, Mrs. Howard 123, and Rauenhorst 117.

Heaney got 77 votes for a six-year term and 87 votes for the four-year term won by Hartl with 107 votes.

In the North Western voting today the count was for 1,300,655 shares, and against, 11,622.

M. O. Gillett, St. Paul business man, got 46 votes for a six-year term.

The agreement calls for each share of Milwaukee Road common stock to be exchanged for 0.70 of a share of the common stock of the new company and each share of North Western common stock to be exchanged for one share of the new company's common stock. In addition, each share of Milwaukee and North Western 5 percent preferred will be exchanged on a share-for-share basis for the new company's preferred stock which will have a 6 percent dividend rate, cumulative if earned. The new preferred will not be convertible and will be non-participating. It will be non-callable for a period of five years from date of issuance, after which it will be callable for cash or for $100 principal amount 6 percent debenture, the exchange for debentures being subject to approval of the ICC at the time the exchange is contemplated.

Insurance Coverage Disputed by Witnesses

Contrary versions of a telephone conversation highlighted conflict today in District Court over an automobile insurance policy involved in an $80,000 damage suit.

Whether an accident insurance policy was in effect at the time of the automobile accident became the only point of contention — since plaintiff and defendant agreed on the details of the accident — in a damage suit begun Tuesday afternoon in District Court.

MISS PHYLLIS C. Holliday, St. Paul, brought suit against the driver of the car in which she was riding when an accident near Lexington, Ky., scarred her face July 30, 1963, Mrs. Bert Johnson, St. Paul, the driver, brought suit against Miss Holliday's insurance company in an attempt to force it to pay any claim awarded Miss Holliday.

Mrs. Harold S. Streater, 275 Wilson St., testified that she had a conversation with insurance agent Bernard J. McGuire, 1159 W. 4th St., in which he had assured her that he would "bind" covering on an insurance policy taken out by Miss Holliday.

The policy expired July 10, 1963; but Mrs. Streater testified that McGuire told her it was customary to renew such policies automatically and give clients 60 days credit period in which to pay the premium.

McGuire, called to the stand, denied that he had used the words "bind" or "renew" in his conversation with Mrs. Streater. He added that it was not his policy to automatically renew policies and that he had called Mrs. Streater with the intention of getting Miss Holliday's address so he could notify her to get a new policy.

THE AGENT explained a letter to his district office in which he wrote that he "believed" he had "bound coverage" for Miss Holliday after the expiration date of her policy. He told the court that he had felt sorry for her.

Miss Holliday had had her accident by then and he wanted to "sell the company on the idea of taking care of Miss Holliday," McGuire testified.

A letter to Miss Holliday at her Oregon address to notify her of the expiration of her policy was sent July 8, 1963, too late to reach her before the expiration date, July 10, 1963.

Application for Federal Aid Cut $230,500

The city's preliminary application for Office of Emergency Planning disaster funds was reduced Tuesday from $1,020,000 to $1,889,500.

OEP officials at Mankato recommended the $230,500 cut in debris removal estimates. The amount was part of the $425,000 city officials had estimated would be costs of removing temporary dikes at Crooked Slough and Prairie Island and other debris removal.

FULL APPROVAL was given by the OEP to the application section dealing with costs of dike construction and damages which totaled $1,495,000 at the time it was drawn. Bills continued to come in this week and the city is expected to file several supplementary applications for additional funds before the July 10 deadline.

R. B. Van Dame, regional natural disaster coordinator for the OEP, advised the City Council to pass a resolution authorizing the Corps of Engineers and the OEP to collaborate on disposition of Prairie Island and Crooked Slough dikes. A reservation should be included stipulating that the city will receive enough material to fill some borrow pits on private land, Van Dame recommended.

IN HIS letter explaining the OEP decision to reduce the application amount, Van Dame said: "The major difference between the attached engineering reports and the recommended approval concerns deletion of costs of debris removal of two temporary dikes: Prairie Island and Crooked Slough."

"Removal of these two dikes, estimated at $230,500, is not contemplated by the city at this time since it affords flood protection until such time as the Corps of Engineers permanent flood control dikes are contemplated in the same area."

ALTHOUGH city officials have not had explicit assurance, the government agencies appear to accept the idea that temporary dikes will go down only as new permanent dikes are built. The city has asked for such guarantees from the Corps but so far has not received them.

A contract for permanent dikes at Crooked Slough and Prairie Island already exists between the Corps and Park Construction Co., Minneapolis. City officials believe it should be up to the Corps and its contractor to negotiate such things as what parts of the present system can be incorporated into new dikes, provided that protection—either by temporary or permanent dikes—is uninterrupted.

Reviewing the application with OEP officials were Mayor R. K. Ellings, City Attorney George M. Robertson Jr., and City Engineer James Baird.

THE APPLICATION now goes to the OEP regional office at Battle Creek, Mich., for approval, then to Washington, D.C. Funds are allotted through state governors by the federal agency.

The city expects to get an advance grant, equal to 75 percent of the amount applied for, within two weeks. The balance will be forwarded later as needed. The mounting pile of invoices indicates the need definitely will exist.

Swift Remodeling Work Under Way

Fowler & Hammer, Inc., has begun work of remodeling the former Swift & Co. plant here to bring it up to state and federal standards.

The plant will be operated by Bravo Foods, Inc., a division of Charles A. Snyons, Inc., New York City, which will begin beef production as soon as the building is ready.

The remodeling work, which includes improving coolers and installing a new floor in sections of the plant, will take about three weeks.

The firm is not hiring any workers yet, officials emphasized.

County Welfare Board Cites Foster Parents

By JEAN HAGEN
Daily News Women's Editor

Winona County foster parents were lauded Tuesday night by the Winona County Welfare Board.

Guest speaker was Miss Vivian Hargrave, St. Paul, consultant in the boarding home program of the Department of Public Welfare of the state of Minnesota.

Certificates of commendation for helping children, signed by Morris Hursh, Minnesota Department of Public Welfare commissioner, were given to Mrs. Edwin Zeliff, Sugar Loaf (posthumously), and the Messrs. and Mrs. Floyd Baker, St. Charles; Clarence Christenson, Winona; Ronald Conway, Houston; Harold Kahn, Elba; Harold Laak, Minnesota City; John Latcham, St. Charles; Guy McCollum, La Crescent; Lyndon Pierce, Winona; Alois Mueller, Winona; Thomas Rowan, Winona; Alton Rosenow, La Crescent; Eugene Sweazeay, Winona; Robert Wolf, Winona; John Van Winkle, Winona; and Ben Volkman, Minnetonka, and the Rev. and Mrs. Robert Qualls, Winona.

Miss Hargrave discussed the role of foster parents, the role of social workers and the problems which foster children bring into the foster home.

"Being a foster parent is a tremendous responsibility," Miss Hargrave said. "It's a 24-hour-a-day task." She emphasized the importance of understanding the welfare department and how it operates, of understanding the child and most of all of understanding oneself.

CHILDREN who are placed in foster homes because of trouble or emergencies in their own families are usually more sensitive than one's own children and need skillful handling, by the foster parents, she pointed out.

"Foster parents are very special people," Miss Hargrave said. "They give a service to society and their own communities by sharing in the building of a bright new world for children, so that their tomorrows may be better than today."

Without foster parents, the welfare department could not function in its work of caring for needy boys and girls, she pointed out.

Foster parents, Miss Hargrave said, need to be possessed of common sense, strength and tolerance. She gave the reasons why people chose to become foster parents — their own children are grown up and away, they love little babies, the father likes the challenge of dealing with adolescents, etc.

"But you all are interested in children and willing to change your life by taking them into your homes," she told the parents.

Miss Hargrave explained the workings of the welfare department and emphasized the importance of cooperation between welfare workers, foster parents and the children.

"Foster parents and social workers must work together as a team and have communication, so that the child will know they are working together for his good," she said.

WILLIAM P. WERNER, director of the Winona County welfare department who presided at the meeting said that the care and protection of children is part of society's belief in the worth and dignity of man as outlined in the statutes of the country's laws. In planning for the care of children in foster homes, Werner said "we think of you foster parents as an extension of our staff, working with us in the best interests of our children."

Werner introduced members of the intensive service unit of his department, who planned the meeting, headed by Miss Evelyn Taraldson and including Miss Ruth Smedstad, Mrs. Mark Duran, Kenneth Brandt and Lawrence Curran. Also present was Mrs. Mary Crane, Winona public health nursing supervisor and president of the Soroptimist Club, who spoke briefly. Soroptimists were social hostesses.

Leo Borkowski, chairman of the Winona County Welfare Board, lauded the foster parents. "Without you, who open your homes to foster children, our problems would be difficult,"

FOSTER PARENTS HONORED . . . Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Sweazeay, left, were among 18 recipients of certificates of commendation from Morris Hursh, state commissioner of public welfare, for their work as foster parents. Mrs. Paul Michalowski and Roy Swett, two board members, were introduced.

SWEAZEAY, who with his wife have taken foster children into their home since 1946, was asked by Werner to tell how it feels to be a foster parent. Sweazeay praised the mothers in foster homes, upon whom most of the burden of caring for foster children, lies, he said.

He amused his audience by saying that he was late in arriving at the meeting, because he was helping a foster child now in their home to learn how to fly a kite.

He cited two main reasons why people become foster parents: Because they are citizens of democracy and are helping children to become good citizens; because they are professing Christians.

"We can't help but be foster parents when we think in terms of the Golden Rule, loving one's neighbor and being one's brother's keeper," he said.

WERNER, in a concluding statement said, "You are undoubtedly the most unselfish, devoted people I know. Yours is a contribution of the heart. I know only too well yours is not a task undertaken for money, since we pay less per day for food, care, lodging, washing, etc., than many babysitters get per hour."

Musical entertainment was provided by the Mississippi quartet: Lawrence Curran, John Stephan, Michael Hengel and Willard Adank.

Refreshments were served during a pleasant get-acquainted hour by Soroptimists, with Mrs. Michalowski and Mrs. D. B. McLaughlin pouring.

Nursing Home Being Proposed At St. Charles

ST. CHARLES, Minn. (Special) — The first project of a St. Charles development corporation, approved by the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night, is building a 50-bed nursing home.

Jack Dorey, Robert Waldee and Dr. James B. Flannery will be incorporators. The development group anticipates turning the nursing home over to an operating corporation. Groundwork has been done on the proposed home and an option has been taken on a site.

William Glover, member of the county fair board, told the chamber the board expects to install water and electricity in the parking lot of the grounds for furnishing utilities for trailer houses. The trailer houses will be available for the carnival at the fair and personnel directing or exhibiting at the fair.

At other times, the trailers will be available for taking care of the overflow from White-water State Park and other tourists.

The Chamber will sponsor a white elephant sale June 12.

Youth Jailed On Bottle Charge

A Winona youth is in county jail today, serving a 15-day term after pleading guilty to violation of the open bottle law, Sheriff George L. Fort reported.

James D. Franklin, 18, Winona, pleaded guilty Tuesday afternoon in Goodview justice court to a charge of having an open bottle in his car on U.S. 61 in Richmond Township Monday at 10:30 p.m.

Flood Workers Urged to Collect Their Pay Checks

City Recorder John Carter appealed today for people to come and get their money; that is, he urged unpaid sandbaggers to come and get their checks.

He estimated that about 1,500 checks remain in his office. No addresses are available; many of the temporary flood workers live out of the city.

Carter's office is on the third floor of City Hall.

City Recommends Testing of All Private Wells

All private wells should be tested for contamination, regardless of where they are, the city health department warned this week.

More than 70 private water supplies have been tested by the department since the recent flood crisis. More than half of these have been found to contain unsafe levels of contaminants.

Not just lowly wells are affected, says the department. Elevation and location appear to make little difference in whether a well is likely to become contaminated, test results show.

Department procedure is to ask well owners to chlorinate wells before taking test samples. Chlorination eliminates bacteria, one of two major forms of pollution.

After chlorination has been done, a test is made for nitrates. These indicate the presence of sewage, and cannot be removed by chlorination or boiling of water.

Fillmore Board Awards Contract

PRESTON, Minn. (Special)—Fillmore County commissioners Tuesday authorized Mutual Service Life Insurance Co. to continue covering county employees at $3.50 per month effective June 1.

Mrs. Thelma Ibach, auditor, was authorized to advertise for bids for culverts on CSAH 30 east of TH 139 south of Harmony.

The board will purchase one structural type arch culvert 11'10" by 7'7" by 58 feet, 8 gauge, for a location three miles south of Harmony. Two of the same type culverts 2'10" by 8'4" by 66 feet will be purchased for No. 30 1.8 miles south of Harmony. Bid forms may be secured from the county engineer.

The culverts are to be delivered FOB at site. Surety bonds are to be made payable to Clayton Fishbaugh, treasurer.

The board moved that Leonard Joyce, Rochester contractor, should mix and lay bituminous material for patching and repair on County Roads 14, 17, 25 and 27 at $1.35 per ton.

The 7-ton load limit was removed from CH 2 west of Chatfield.

Ralph Gross was rehired as county highway engineer for four years effective July at $10,500 per year.

Pre-School Center Set at Chatfield

CHATFIELD, Minn. — Chatfield has been selected for one of the grants in Minnesota for what is called the "Johnson administration's plan for a head start for school children."

The plan calls for 17 grants in Minnesota. Under the legislation the state will be serving 2,941 children in 73 centers at a cost of $266,826 to the federal government and an additional $49,067 from non-federal sources.

Chatfield has been allotted $12,575 to serve 100 preschool children in one center.

Lake City Awards Night Thursday; Scholarships Set

LAKE CITY, Minn. (Special) — At awards night at Lincoln High School Thursday at 8:15 p.m., senior who have been elected to the National Honor Society will be announced; two of them, a boy and girl, will receive the $500 Patton awards, and three scholarships will be awarded.

Lake City PTA and Lake City Education Association will give $100 scholarships each and Zumbro Falls PTA, $50. Other achievement and performance awards will be presented.

The Rev. Eldor W. Richter, Bethany Lutheran Church, will conduct baccalaureate services at the school Sunday night. Final tests will begin next Wednesday. There'll be no school May 31, but students will participate in Memorial Day services. Examinations will continue June 1, commencement exercises are scheduled June 1, and report cards will be issued June 4.

Removal of Boats From Marina Required

Municipal marina dredging to remove earth and sand carried in by the flood will begin either Friday or Monday. As a consequence early removal of boats will be required, a city official said.

Miracle Mall Opening Delayed

Opening of the new Miracle Mall shopping center, originally scheduled for Thursday, has been postponed until sometime next week.

Stan Meyer, manager of the Tempo store, one of the major stores in the center, said a definite date for the opening will be selected sometime today.

Chief cause of the delay, Meyer said, is the difficulty workers are having in readying the parking lot. Frequent rains have made it impossible for them to finish the project on time, he explained.

"You can't control the weather," he said wryly.

St. Mary's Gets $360,000 Loan

A $360,000 federal college housing loan has been approved for St. Mary's College, Sen. Eugene McCarthy and Sen. Walter Mondale announced today.

The loan, which has just been approved by the Community Facilities Administration, will be used for conversion of the college's old gymnasium into a dormitory to house 108 students and three counselors.

Construction is to begin in one month and be completed in five months. W-Smith Architectural & Engineering Services is the architect for the project.

Court Case Started In Wabasha County

WABASHA, Minn. (Special)—A court case was in session before District Judge Donald E. Franke here this morning. Gas & Fertilizer Co. was plaintiff and Michael Deady and others, defendants.

The jury is called for Monday to hear the criminal negligence case against Gene Turner, Lake City.

Work Training Project for City Approved

A work-training project for young men will be set up shortly by the Parks-Recreation Board under provisions of the Federal Economic Opportunity Act.

Designed for youths from 16 to 21, the program was approved at a brief special meeting of the board Monday. The federal government share of projects costs would be 90 percent. The city's 10 percent contribution may be in cash or in kind, which could include equipment, transportation and office expense.

BOARD MEMBERS said they believe the full 10 percent department share can be made up by such non-cash items.

The program was outlined by Ray H. Brown, manager of the local office of the state employment security department, and Lewis Schoening, student guidance program head at Winona Senior High School.

Youths taking part will be recruited and hired through the employment office. They will be paid $1.25 an hour and work 32 hours a week, assisting department personnel in repair and construction of park and recreation facilities. The program is expected to last 18 weeks.

About 20 youths and two supervisors, who will also be hired through the employment service are to be participants. The emphasis is on hiring unemployed youths who have been unable to find work because of lack of job skills, said M. J. Bambernek, director of parks and recreation.

THE PROGRAM, similar to those now under way in White-water and other area state parks, will also involve some guidance and basic education for the participants, Brown said.

It will attempt to give disadvantaged youth an opportunity to learn job skills and develop attitudes that will help them find other work later, he explained.

After approval of the program by the board Tuesday, an application was sent to the federal Office of Economic Opportunity, asking it to authorize the new project.

Student Honors To Be Given At St. Mary's

Two Winonans will be among top students honored at the president's honors dinner at St. Mary's College at 6 p.m. today.

They are Robert S. Rivers, son of Mrs. Janette M. Rivers, 721 E. Wabasha St., top student in the senior class, and Charles A. Sieracki, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Sieracki, 212 Mankato Ave., who tied for second academic honors in the junior class.

Students will be cited for academic achievement and leadership at the dinner, which will be conducted at 6 p.m. in the college student union.

Speaker at the dinner will be Sister M. Emmanuel, academic dean at the College of Saint Teresa, who will discuss the importance and long-term significance of academic achievement and scholastic leadership. Also speaking will be Brother Julius, FSC, academic dean at St. Mary's.

Students with the highest scholastic averages in each class are: Seniors — Rivers and Jan F. Chlebowski, Toledo, Ohio. Juniors — Richard J. Paul, Evergreen Park, Ill., and Robert A. Kulinski, Chicago, and Sieracki.

Sophomores — Dennis I. Workman, Prospect Heights, Ill., and Robert O'Dea, St. Paul. Freshmen — Richard C. O'Brien, St. Peter, Minn., and Joseph J. Connell, Chicago.

Also to be honored are the presidents of each class, as well as John E. Bigane, Riverside, Ill., president of the student senate. Class presidents are Thomas Moynan, Chicago, seniors; Robert Mondt, River Forest, Ill., juniors; Ralph Zito, Broadview, Ill., sophomores, and Robert Halm, La Grange, Ill., freshmen.

NEW YORK — Garry Moore's had a meeting with new CBS TV president John A. Schneider, since returning from his round-the-world trip...

I never thought I'd hear Ed Sullivan top Berle — but he did at Danny's Hideaway: Billy Berle, Milton's 3-year-old son. Milton, phoning Ruth Berle and the 3-year-old in Los Angeles from Danny's, had asked Billy to repeat some information. Billy said, "You middle-aged men can't remember anything!"

Soldiers Call It LBJ Ranch

By HAL BOYLE

GIA VUC, South Viet Nam (AP) — As you land on the small runway in a plane that contains native soldiers, some chickens and ducks, five squealing pigs and three small steers, the first thing you see is a sign saying, "The LBJ Ranch."

That sign is the way a U.S. Army Special Forces team has chosen to say that America is here to stay for the duration. "The LBJ Ranch" is engaged in a bitter fight against enemy rustlers.

It is typical of many Special Forces bastions throughout South Viet Nam which seek to protect villagers from the Viet Cong.

Gia Vuc lies in a valley bordered by rugged and lovely hills 83 miles south southwest of Da Nang, the country's second largest city. It is astride the famous Ho Chi Minh trail, the chief north and south pathway for infiltrators.

It centers around old French-built fortifications and resembles in some ways an American 19th century fort—against the Indians on the Wyoming or Montana frontier.

The "ranch" covers some 50 square miles in which 3,000 Montagnards, or mountain tribespeople, till their farms and dwell in a dozen closely grouped hamlets of thatched huts. The group of a dozen Americans is led by Capt. William A. Hicks of Linden, N.C.

It is his job to work closely with a strike force of 375 native troops who make up a miniature United Nations themselves. They consist of the hillbilly Montagnards and Vietnamese and 25 Nungs, who are Chinese mercenary soldiers.

The Nungs get roughly $40 a month each, paid for by Uncle Sam. That is about three times what the other native troops earn. But they win high praise from the Americans here.

"They are real good troops — about the best you could ask for," said Lt. Charles A. Carroll Jr., of Delmar, N.Y. Sgt. Dominick Tantalio of Waterloo, N.Y., added: "If we run into any real trouble, the first thought of the Nungs is to cover the Americans."

Under Hicks, no American here has been killed, but a number of Viet Cong have. "We run continuous local patrols. Air strikes have been a real help to us in these hills," Hicks said.

"We estimate that there are

3-Orchestra Program Set

A three-part program will be presented by the public schools' music department at 8 p.m. today in the Winona Senior High School auditorium.

Each of three separate orchestras will play a section of the concert. Participating groups will be the elementary and junior high school orchestras, directed by John D. Wood, and the senior high school orchestra, directed by Milton Davenport.

- The program, which is open to the public, is as follows: "In a Glider" Adams "Ting-a-Ling" Isaac "Autumn" Monroe "Jinrikisha" Drake Elementary String Orchestra "Alle Turca" Schmidt "Alma" (from the "London Symphony") Haydn "Sonata in G" Beethoven "Bourne" Mary Lautenburger, soloist "Bourne" De Fosse Junior High School Orchestra "Rimski" (overture) Wagner "Romeo and Juliet" (introduction and finale) Tchaikowsky "Pop-Korn" (string novelty) Davenport "If I Loved You" (from "Carousel") Rodgers "Marche Militaire" Saint-Saens Senior High School Orchestra

Battle Brewing Over Labor Legislation

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's proposals for new labor legislation — including repeal of a provision of the Taft Hartley Act — may lock him in a rough battle with Congress. At least the signs point that way.

The President could be caught in a political crossfire between those who think he is asking too much and those who want more.

Johnson asked Congress Tuesday for legislation extending coverage of the minimum wage to 4.5 million workers, requiring payment of double time for some overtime, providing federal benefits for the long-time unemployed and repealing section 14B of the Taft Hartley Act.

That's the section that permits states to outlaw the union shop in collective bargaining agreements. Nineteen states have such laws.

Organized labor has made repeal of 14B its No. 1 political goal, and it can't be too happy over the way Johnson made the request to Congress.

He used hundreds of words arguing for his minimum wage, double time and unemployment insurance proposals, but devoted only the last sentence of his message to 14B. He was recommending its repeal, he said, "with the hope of reducing conflict in our national labor policy."

Any such reduction will come only after greatly increased conflict in Congress, particularly in the Senate. If anything can revive the Republican-Southern Democrat coalition that civil rights legislation has sundered, it is a proposal to repeal 14B.

Cattle Buying Station Asked Near Krause's

Three petitions for variances will be heard by the Board of Zoning Appeals at its meeting May 27 at 7:30 p.m. at City Hall.

Lloyd Ozmun, Sugar Loaf, will ask permission to erect a building to be used as a cattle buying station just south and west of Krause Implement Co. The area is an M-1 zone, permitting light manufacturing and warehousing.

Cattle buying stations are permitted only in M-2 general manufacturing zones, unless variances are granted. According to Ozmun's application, he expects to build a building but no outside cattle yards. No cattle will be housed overnight on the premises.

Ozmun expects to operate the station for Swift & Co. if the variance is granted.

Richard Raine, 509-511 Wilson St., seeks permission to build additions at the front and rear of his house which will be closer to side lot lines than the statutory five feet. The house is within three feet of the lines and the proposed additions would conform to existing house clearances.

Permission to erect an illuminated sign, three by five feet, is sought by Breitlow Funeral Home, Inc., 376 E. Sarnia St. The sign would be in the front lawn. Since the establishment is in an R-3 multi-family use zone, the sign is prohibited by provisions of the code, unless a variance is granted.

Collectors Will Grab Up New Silver Dollars

NEW YORK (AP) — Silver cartwheels are scheduled to roll out of the Denver Mint soon, but they'll probably roll right into the pockets of souvenir hunters and speculators and never be seen again.

The 45 million silver dollars would be the first to be minted in three decades. They should be worth at least $2 each, coin dealers say.

"It's ridiculous," said Tom Wass, president of International Numismatics Corp. Tuesday. "Everybody's crying about the silver shortage and now the government's throwing away $45 million on silver dollars nobody needs."

Benjamin Stack, a partner in Stack's Coin Co. and a member of the U.S. Assay Commission, said: "I'm absolutely stunned. Those silver dollars will never even get into the collectors' hands, much less the public's. The speculation will be tremendous. It will be an absolute mess."

The speculators would be betting on an increase in the price of silver or in the numismatic value of the dollars.

The Silver Users Association, an industry group, also believes that the new silver dollars would disappear immediately. Even silver producer interests indicated surprise at the order for minting them.

Silver, however, is in such short supply that even if the United States eliminated silver from all coins, industrial demand would still far outstrip the production of mines. The government's dwindling stockpile has been filling the supply gap.

The Treasury is expected to disclose soon its recommendations for reducing or eliminating silver in dimes, quarters and half-dollars.

The Mint turned out more than 855 million cartwheels between 1794 and 1935, but none is in general circulation today. Coin dealers ask as much as $1.50 for even the most common specimens.

Johnson directed the Denver Mint to produce the silver dollars by June 30. Fern Miller, superintendent of the mint there, said she doesn't know yet when production will start.

Little people grow up in a big world, go through big doors, use big furnishings, hear big talk, and are apt to develop little ideas about a world that's all out of proportion to them.

Today let's give some thought to a child's point of view. The story goes that a grown man was seen on his hands and knees in an art gallery looking up at the pictures. "What are you doing?" came an inquiry. "I plan to bring my child here tomorrow and I thought it a good idea to take a look at the pictures from his point of view," came the answer.

While I'll not advocate that parents with little tots all start crawling on their hands and knees, I would like to suggest that we would do well to try to understand the strange out of proportion world that little ones live in, for if we understand, we might do much to prevent misconceptions that are easily formulated in little minds.

OUR SCHOOLS have captured the need of creating a realistic world for children. When did you last visit a kindergarten: If you have some little ones in your family, you may truly learn something of getting through to children at the local kindergarten. When a youngster walks in to his schoolroom developed just for him, he finds a whole new world scaled to his size. Usually there are small chairs, low tables, and even the clothes racks are pint-size. Now I'm not suggesting that we should scale everything to their grasp either. They have a need to reach up a bit. I only suggest that there is cause to believe that some attention should be given to their viewpoint.

Understanding a small child is often a case of reading between the lines. I'm sure many a youngster demands attention by aggravating adults because adults fail to give them sufficient attention on their own.

"TELL ME A story," my five-year-old will say, and then grins as her daddy makes a feeble attempt to come up with some kind of a yarn. So poorly done are these stories, that often my daughter will fill it in with questions and statements, typical of her idea of what a story should be like. But the fact that it's a poor story isn't so important. Mostly she's delighted because her daddy is taking time out to do something that highlights her as the center of attraction.

Try this sometime. When your child brings home a picture drawn in school, take a look at it and say, "Oh, I'm glad you showed this to me. Tell me what it is." That's right, ask that little one to explain his or her picture. You'll not insult him. He's more interested in these early years of your attention than in drawing a lady playing ball that's so good you're sure to know what it is.

YOU SEE, from a child's viewpoint you have to meet him on his level, and to do so calls for stooping down a bit, and while adults may not and should not think like a five-year-old, it's good business to know how these little people think. In a sense one might suggest that to take time out to spend ample time in a child's world will prove one of the best guarantees that the child will do well when he's grown up and finds himself in an adult world. I'd say seeing the world through the eyes of your child might be a good way to nip delinquency in the bud.

Winona State Library Gets $466,036 Grant

The federal Office of Education has approved a grant of $466,036 for Winona State College's Maxwell Library addition, Minnesota's two senators announced Tuesday. Contracts will be awarded this summer.

The grant, authorized by the Higher Education Facilities Act of 1963, was earlier approved by the Minnesota Higher Education Facilities Commission.

In January, the Office of Education had notified the state commission that fund for seven projects, including Winona State's would be "processed for approval."

Cost of the addition, which will be constructed east of the present library and will be larger than the original building, has been estimated at $1,390,110. The rewarding is by legislative appropriation.

Approval of the grant by the federal agency was announced by Sen. Eugene McCarthy and Sen. Walter Mondale.

Dr. Nels Minne, college president, had been advised by the commission last week that the grant had been approved.

Because of a circulatory ailment on fingers of his right hand, Open champion Ken Venturi missed qualifying for the final two rounds of this year's Masters by nine shots. He shot 77 and 80.

De Gaulle Warns East-West Blocs Threaten Peace

LES SABLES D'OLONNE, France (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle said today that if the two East-West power blocs continue to exist as they are, world peace will be threatened.

De Gaulle, speaking during a grass roots tour of the countryside, called for a power balance different from that established at the Yalta conference 20 years ago. France was not represented at the conference which largely decided the postwar power structure. De Gaulle declared "there must be established an equilibrium which is no longer that of Yalta — that is of two hegemomies, which if they endure would menace international peace. What is needed is an equilibrium based on the responsibility of each of the nations of the earth."

De Gaulle said France has shown the way.

"We do so," he said, "when we establish with our neighbors a common economic organization (the Common Market); when we establish contacts with the countries of the East in the measure that they halt their troublesome ambitions; when we cooperate with the peoples of Latin America, Africa and the Far East."

Man Offers U.S. Farm to Settle Tax

DELRIO, Tenn. (AP) — Wilford Metcalf, who says he is so hard up that poverty looks good to him, offered today to give the government his 86-acre mountain farm to settle its $1,777.52 claim against him.

"My daddy raised all 13 of us children to be honest," said the 48-year-old World War II veteran. He is accused of cutting timber on government land.

"I hope to settle this matter honorably. I don't have $1-717.52. But I want to be honest. I would be willing to give this farm in settlement of this claim."

He wrote his congressman, Rep. James F. Quillen, R-Tenn., after a government attorney advised him he had until May 26 to meet the claim. Quillen turned it over to Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman with the comment that if this problem couldn't be solved "we had better forget about winning any war against poverty."

Metcalf's farm is in a deep valley in a remote section of Cocke County, adjoining Cherokee National Forest. The government claims 55 acres of his farm lies within the forest and hases its claim on timber cut there.

Metcalf has carved a narrow road down the hillside to the house. It is barely passable by foot. No vehicle can use the road.

Metcalf, his wife and four children, moved to another house four years ago so the children could get to school without climbing the steep trail.

Buffalo Valley

Needs Your Support

A GROUP OF Buffalo County business and civic leaders, interested in the natural resources of this area and its tremendous tourist potential, have worked hard for more than two years to make a reality of the Buffalo Valley Recreational Area — a 600-acre summer and winter playground for residents of this area and the entire Upper Midwest.

The plan already has received approval of the Farmers Home Administration which has earmarked $589,000 for its development — on one condition. It must have public acceptance.

The sad situation at this moment is that public acceptance has not been nearly as substantial as required — and unless this is forthcoming in a robust way within the next few weeks, there is a possibility that the entire project might be lost.

THIS WOULD BE A tragedy and must not happen.

Briefly, this is what the project encompasses: A 27-hole golf course, a 90-acre ski area with 3,100-foot double chairlift, $50,000 chalet doubling as a golf clubhouse, 600-foot marina, 100-unit motel, restaurant and convention facility.

Seven hundred acres between Cochrane and Alma adjoining Wisconsin Highway 35 and the Burlington railroad right of way are involved in the project. Included is Flury Mountain. Landscape and golf architects have been hired and the federal loan will be available when certain membership requirements—showing public acceptance—have been met.

The federal and state governments are advocating local recreation projects and bills are pending before both Minnesota and Wisconsin legislatures to stimulate such programs. The Buffalo Valley project is far ahead of the pack. All it now needs is adequate local support.

THIS CAN BE DONE in two ways.

First, $75 lifetime family memberships are available. All that is necessary is for potential family users of this great recreation area to sign a family membership agreement. The federal agency has asked that 1,000 of these agreements be obtained. To date only 185 have been signed.

Second, $25 individual lifetime voting, non-assessible memberships are available. The federal agency asks that 1,000 of these be sold. Up to the present time 420 have been sold, leaving 580 open.

Sale of memberships in the immediate Winona area is in charge of the Junior Chamber of Commerce but officers of the development association say the sale is dragging and is badly in need of impetus. Business associations and civic groups are sponsoring the sale in such places as Arcadia, Durand and Eau Claire, Wis.

This project is an important one to everybody in the Winona area of Southeastern Minnesota and Western Wisconsin. It needs help and it needs help now.

We urge all persons interested in the future of this important segment of the Hiawatha Valley to buy an individual membership or sign a family membership agreement now.

SUCCESS OF THIS tremendous project is up to you.

Community Concerts Set Musical Standards

MUSIC IS recognized as a human necessity rather than a luxury or matter of mere entertainment. Man has always turned to music in the most important hours of his existence. Gladstone wrote "Music is one of the most forcible instruments for training, for arousing, for governing the mind and the spirit of men."

Such music must be maintained by public spirited citizens in various organizations that are concerned with the cause of great music. The Winona Community Concert Association is one of the leading organizations with such a purpose, and is a non-profit organization with a one-week membership drive scheduled for next week.

There is nothing like the finest music to stimulate a desire for more music. Other musical activities in the community, such as church choirs, high school bands, orchestras, and choruses, are benefited directly or indirectly by the Community Concert Association. Association officers have noted that, often, the musical standards of all other organizations are improved by the high caliber of the artists presented in the community concert course.

WINONA IS PROUD of its 34 years of participation in the community concert organization. Music-lovers here have been treated to thrilling concerts by talented young performers and some of the all-time great names in the concert world have performed in Winona: Helen Jepson, James Melton, Alec Templeton, Rise Stevens, Albert Spalding, the Trapp Family Singers, the Robert Shaw Chorale, and many others.

The Winona Community Concert Association is especially proud to announce the artists for the 1965-66 season: The Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra, the Robert DeCormier Folk Singers, so highly acclaimed by Winonans only a few years ago, and the 18-year-old violin virtuoso, James Oliver Buswell.

COMMUNITY CONCERTS have made music a living thing in the community rather than a treasure to be kept under glass in a museum. In community concerts everyone participates and enjoys the benefits of good music.

TODAY IN WORLD AFFAIRS

Communist China Enemy of Mankind

By DAVID LAWRENCE
WASHINGTON — The United States has at last labeled Communist China as an enemy of mankind. President Johnson came out openly last week with a declaration of this country's unswerving intention to prevent Communist China from taking over the continent of Asia and its neighboring islands.

"Communist China," said the President, "apparently desires the war to continue, whatever the cost to their allies (in North Viet Nam). Their target is not merely South Viet Nam — it is Asia. Their objective is not the fulfillment of Vietnamese nationalism — it is to erode and to discredit America's ability to help prevent Chinese domination over all of Asia. In this domination they shall never succeed."

Mr. Johnson declared that, while America is demonstrating that force will meet force, he believes "armed conquest is futile and that aggression is not only wrong but it just will not work."

PRESIDENT JOHNSON was careful not to give the impression that the United States is concerned solely with military operations in Viet Nam. He stated unequivocally that the United States is ready for "unconditional discussions." He reiterated that it is clearly to the interest of North Viet Nam to come to the conference table, since North Viet Nam, an ally of Communist China, is being severely damaged.

But, while the President spoke of America's "unlimited patience" and "unlimited resources" in "pursuit of an unwavering purpose," and repeated that America will not abandon its commitment to South Viet Nam, there is another phase of the problem which he emphasized — the opportunity for economic aid to all the peoples of Asia. Mr. Johnson said, for instance, that "it is not enough to just fight against something — people must fight for something."

The President's speech was addressed to the people of North Viet Nam as well as the Communist Chinese. He spoke sympathetically of restless people whose desire is to improve their own well-being and said that it is this, and not "lust for conquest, which moves many of the individual fighting men that we must now sadly call the enemy." He added:

"IT IS, THEREFORE, our task to show that freedom from the control of other nations offers the surest road to progress, that history and experience testify to this truth."

The President pointed out that the whole world today is interrelated and that "those who live in the emerging community of nations will ignore the perils of their neighbor at the risk of their own prospects." He said that this is true not only for Viet Nam but "for every part of the developing world" and that this is why he recently proposed a "massive cooperative development effort for all of Southeast Asia" and now is prepared to support an Asian development bank "to carry out and help finance the economic progress in that area of the world."

MR. JOHNSON called on every industrialized nation, including the Soviet Union, "to help create a better life for all of the people of Southeast Asia."

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

OAS Consulted Before U.S. Went to Dominicans

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Latin-American members of the diplomatic corps don't like to talk about it, but privately many of them agree that there's going to be continuing trouble in Latin America unless the Organization of American States (OAS) is drastically strengthened.

Inside story of what the OAS ambassadors did during the Dominican crisis bears out this pessimistic prediction.

Last week, for instance, members of the OAS truce team wanted to fly back to Washington to take the weekend off. As Friday approached, it looked as if war was imminent again. Later, fighting increased; shooting became dangerous.

Despite this, the OAS ambassadors wanted to come back to the comforts of Washington.

Meanwhile they didn't bother at first to answer an offer of 200 troops from Honduras as part of the OAS peace-keeping force. Finally the Honduran commander complained that his men had been on the alert, waiting transportation, for 48 hours. The State Department nudged the OAS and the Honduran troops were then accepted.

SIMULTANEOUSLY, the three Caribbean champions of democracy, Ex-President Betancourt of Venezuela, Ex-President Figueres of Costa Rica, and Ex-Governor Munoz Marin of Puerto Rico, were all set to go to Santo Domingo to help form a compromise government. But the OAS peace mission objected. It was jealous of help from others.

There was a time when the Organization of the American States was one of the most potent influences in the Western Hemisphere. This was when it was under the direction of Ex-President Carlos Davila of Chile and Alberto Lleras, later president of Colombia. These were strong, respected leaders. They acted in a hurry when war threatened any place in Latin America.

When Costa Rica and Nicaragua were in danger of war, Davila, as secretary general of the OAS, loaded up five Pan American observers in a U.S. Air Force plane and flew them to the trouble zone immediately. They left Washington around midnight, went to work before daybreak the next morning, stopped the war.

BUT WHEN President Johnson referred the Dominican crisis to the OAS on April 27, before he landed the Marines, the ambassadors met, debated, referred the matter back to their governments.

This column was in error in previously indicating that the President did not consult the OAS. He did. But because he did not want to be critical, he leaned over backward not to reveal the OAS had been called in 36 hours in advance.

Not only did the OAS refuse to take action before the Marines were landed, but one day afterward, when they were called in again, the ambassadors sat briefly, adjourned for two days. Impatient, President Johnson asked them to reconvene immediately. After this pressure, they finally voted to send a peace-keeping force to Santo Domingo.

IN RECENT years, Latin governments have not sent their top men to the OAS. However, Central Intelligence has reported that other revolutions are expected in Colombia, Guatemala and Honduras. The latter two have been ruled by military dictators — as was the case for years in the Dominican republic — and, when this happens, revolt is inevitable, whether Communist-inspired or not.

To cope with pending revolts, it is essential that the OAS be strengthened. First step in that direction is to transfer the charming, ineffectual present secretary general, Jose Mora, who listens to his wife's bidding but seems stymied when it comes to taking any firm action for Pan American peace.

Most people don't realize it, but Queen Elizabeth has four sisters-in-law living in Germany, and this Saturday she will go to see them. They are the sisters of her husband, Prince Philip, who is part German, part Greek. The four sisters are the Markgräfin of Baden, the Duchess of Hesse, and the widow of Prince Hohenzollern-Langenburg.

All are descendants of Kaiser Wilhelm II against whom the British fought so bitterly during World War I.

SOUTHERN school officials have reported privately that most school boards in the South will desegregate in order to qualify for federal funds. However, the school officials pleaded that these decisions be given just as little publicity as possible. Many of the school boards are holding secret meetings and keeping no formal minutes of their desegregation discussions. Defense officials have asked President Johnson to pin the Distinguished Flying Cross on the pilots who broke the world's speed and altitude records in the YF-12A, the plane that flies like a lightning bolt. This has upset some Air Force officers who agree that the speed pilots deserve medals, but believe they shouldn't be played up over the fliers who are risking their lives in North Viet Nam. These combat pilots usually get their medals not from the President, but from some Air Force colonel.

Shock Can Help Some Patients

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M. D.

Dear Dr. Molner: The doctor has just told us (that our father (age 50) should have a series of shock treatments. Dad has always had a tendency to be nervous and in recent years the condition has gotten worse.

Today a family friend told me that these are ONLY for insane people. I'm upset quite a bit. Is this opinion correct? — B.S.

Some friend! I hope I don't have any such under to cheer me up when I'm troubled.

Actually what the friend said doesn't have any real meaning. You'd find this out if you asked the person to give a precise definition of what is meant by "insane people."

Insane is a legal term, and it means whatever a jury decides it to mean. Was a defendant so upset that it excuses him from whatever act he committed? That's all it means—and you've read enough articles about "temporary insanity" and so on to see what I mean.

So — and I've said this before — let's just stop using the word insane. Let's use emotional or mental illness instead. Let's keep in mind that there are all degrees of this condition, from very mild to very severe.

WHEN somebody needlessly loses his temper, it's an emotional problem. It's also an emotional problem when someone has such a hard time getting along in society that he has to go to a mental hospital. But there is no exact line of demarcation.

What your friend should have told you is that shock treatment is used for a variety of emotional conditions. Schizophrenia (a difficult problem) is one. Severe depression is another, and in that case, results often are astonishingly successful. And there are still other types of emotional disorders for which shock treatment is used.

OBVIOUSLY YOUR father's nervous (emotional) difficulty is rather severe, or else such treatment would not have been suggested. But I most seriously urge you to forget completely about your friend's ignorant remark. Think of his treatments as being intended to give him a chance to get a new outlook on life, to shake himself loose from whatever fears or worries may be upsetting him.

That is the purpose of such treatments. While we do not know exactly how they work, we know from experience that they break the pattern of habit of fear, anxiety or other paralyzing emotions which cause so much trouble for so many people.

Whether they are done with a controlled electric current, which is the usual way, or with such chemicals as metrazol or massive doses of insulin, they are a very effective method of altering emotional disturbances which have become too strongly established.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am 27 and must have a tonsillectomy. Just how serious is this for an adult? — S.S.

You'll be uncomfortable for a few days, but the operation is not uncommon for adults. There are times when it is necessary.

Dear Dr. Molner: My hair has become thin at the temples through not enough to warrant a "topper." Recently I have heard that a new and relatively simple operation permits transplanting hair follicles from one part of the head to another. Can you give me some details and the approximate cost? — M. T.

Frankly I don't know a great deal about it myself

Letters to The Editor

(Editor's Note: Letters must be temperate, of reasonable length and signed by the writer. Bona fide names of all letter-writers will be published. No religious, medical or personal controversies are acceptable.)

Suggests Letter Writer Does More Homework To the Editor:

I suggest that Michael Biesanz please do a little more homework before criticizing, in this column, your excellent editorial of May 11.

Concerning the fact that a communist takeover was narrowly prevented in the Dominican Republic, he says "nothing is further from the truth" and advocates support of the "rebels." What's going on here?

On May 11, one week after the beginning of the revolt, the more idealistic supporters of Juan Bosch admitted the rebellion was in Communist hands and at least one of them, Pena Gomez, so informed an American embassy official.

It was in fact the massive evidence of communist penetration of the "rebel" movement which caused the President to act. The U. S. government listed the names of those Communists and their sympathizers who held important posts in the rebel "provisional government" and has made public the facts that pro-Communists were in such strategic positions as the head of security and the office of attorney general. A key figure in directing the rebel forces was a Spanish Communist, Manuel Gonzales Gonzales who was listed along with 57 others who were leaders in the revolt. Does Mr. Biesanz still think we supported the wrong side?

Shortly after the coup which overthrew the leftist troublemaker Bosch on Sept. 25, 1963, another incident occurred which contributed to the strong evidence of communist infiltration of the Dominican Revolutionary Party (PRD). Angel Melan, an agent of Bosch and the PRD, was careless enough to be arrested on American soil carrying Communist documents. As a matter of fact, all pretenses of disassociation with the communists were dropped after the early successes of the Bosch party, according to Peter Nehermisk, author of the current Washington best-seller "Latin America — Myth and Reality," and who is a lawyer specializing in Latin American affairs, former Alliance for Progress official, and OAS appointee as election monitor in the Dominican Republic in 1962.

Even more astonishing than Mr. Biesanz's uninformed views, however, is the total escape of the obvious solution to the Dominican problem in the person of former Dominican President Joaquin Balaguer, now sitting under the nose of the U. S. State Department. Balaguer is head of the Partido Reformista and easily leads the Dominican field, having published last February in one of the Santo Domingo dailies the names of 45,000 Dominicans who are publicly supporting him. This is a massive showing in the comparatively small Dominican electorate and is good evidence that, under U.S.-enforced free elections and with the active support of the sober and intelligent Dominican middle class, a highly gifted man, a genuine conservative, and a spotless anti-communist is available to lead his country out of chaos and onto the road toward slow but sure and steady progress.

Junta Rejects Cease-Fire In Dominicans

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — The Dominican junta, scenting victory in the civil war, turned thumbs down Tuesday night on a United Nations appeal for a cease-fire. The rebels said they were willing.

Jose Antonio Mayobre of Venezuela, U.N. Secretary-General U Thant's special Dominican envoy, told a news conference that Gen. Antonio Imbert Barrera, the junta chief, "indicated he thought he was winning and therefore could not talk of a cease-fire."

Mayobre said Col. Francisco Caamano Dena, the insurgent leader, had expressed willingness to accept a truce. Imbert's forces were pressing a tank-led offensive to smash rebel pockets north of the U.S.-controlled east-west corridor across Santa Domingo.

Commodore Francisco J. Rivera Caminero, the armed forces secretary, claimed the drive was progressing steadily. But there were signs the junta forces were running into stiff resistance on the southern flank of the eastward push.

Sharp explosions jolted the capital waterfront Tuesday, arousing fear that the junta troops were shelling the rebels' main stronghold in the downtown area. The junta blamed the blasts on dynamiting by U.S. troops in an area east of the Ozama River, but this could not be confirmed by U.S. authorities.

A U.S. attempt to woo away the junta's military support failed when the Dominican armed forces refused to abandon Imbert.

The United States reportedly hoped to force the junta out to set the stage for formation of a coalition government acceptable to both the rebels and the military forces opposing them. Rejecting what he called official U.S. pressure, Rivera Caminero said the military would only accept a new government of "national harmony" composed of the junta and "all democratic parties in the country."

Legion Post Picks Delegates

Delegates to the district and state conventions at Glenville and Moonhead were elected by Leon J. Wetzel Post 9 at the American Legion Memorial Club Tuesday evening.

The district convention will be June 4-6 and the state July 15-17. Elected were Commander Lyle Haney, Adjutant Donald Gray, Adolph Bremer, Bernard P. Boland, Harold Thiewes, Ronald Hammond, Roy Peterson, Clarence Olson, David Morse, John Prosser, James Donahue and Ray Dorn. Alvin Beeman is alternate.

The color guard of the Brigadiers will be in the parade in Glenville and possibly in Moorhead. The drum and bugle corps itself is being disbanded temporarily.

David Sauer, school patrol chairman, said 30 boys and 5 girls will attend Legionville, a camp near Brainerd, this summer. Commander Haney named these chairmen: Golf, Donahue; picnic, Arthur Stevers and Kenneth Kinowski; Memorial Day, Walter Schmidt for the shrine with Paul Marchek, Olson for the parade and Prosser for grave decorations.

Morse, safety chairman, made plans to distribute safety leaflets at principal intersections Memorial Day weekend. Vice Chairman Ronald Hammond reported on the "flood bust" dance to be held this Saturday night. Maurice Gadsby, baseball chairman, said two junior teams will be fielded this year. The Precipitation through Monday will average up to one-half inch in occasional showers or thunderstorms. High Tuesday afternoon was 68. Today's weather was in marked contrast with a year ago when on May 19 the thermometer rose to 92 degrees from a morning figure of 58. All-time high for the date was 98 in 1934 and the low 32 in 1929. Mean for the past 24 hours was 55. Normal for this time of the year is 61.

Fishermen in the north country found ice on the ponds with the temperature dropping to 30 at Bemidji, Fargo, N. D., had a low of 30 and Edmonton and Regina, Canada, registered 32s at 7 a.m.

At Rochester the low today was 42 after a Tuesday high of 63. La Crosse posted figures of 43 and 69 for the same times. The stage of the MISSISSIPPI RIVER at Winona today was 11.1, up 1 of a foot since Tuesday and expected to go to 11.5 Thursday and 11.6 Friday and Saturday.

Clear, cool weather settled over WISCONSIN today and there might even be a touch of frost tonight. Madison had a near-freezing 23 degrees early today, with other minimums ranging up to 49 at Milwaukee. Burlington hit the high of 70 Tuesday.

A few scattered showers and thunderstorms accompanied the arrival of the cold front Tuesday. Madison reported the most rain — .07 of an inch.

BLYTHE and Imperial, Calif., reached the nation's high temperature of 103 degrees Tuesday, compared with the low of 28 early today at Kalispell, Mont.

Watershed Act In State Ruled Constitutional

ST. PAUL (AP) — The State Supreme Court has ruled that the Minnesota Watershed Act is constitutional. The high court said Monday the legislature can establish public corporations to undertake improvement projects "to conserve and regulate use of a natural resource."

The ruling came in a case brought by Joseph A. Adelman and Joseph W. Kennally for themselves and as representatives of land in the Lower Minnesota River Watershed District.

The decision reversed a Dakota County District Court ruling granting an injunction to prohibit the Lower Minnesota River Watershed District from carrying out a planned improvement on a portion of the Minnesota River. The case was returned to the Dakota County District Court with an order that Dakota County comply with assessment requirements with the improvement project.

Woman's Hand Hurt in Mower

A Goodview woman was reported in satisfactory condition today at Community Memorial Hospital after her right hand was mangled Tuesday afternoon in a power mower.

Mrs. Daisie Matzke, 5537 6th St., Goodview, was attempting to stop the mower shortly before 2 p.m. and tipped it up in the attempt. Not realizing the blade was moving at full speed, she tangled her hand in the blade area.

Her doctor reported today that Mrs. Matzke had lost half of her right index finger and had suffered severe compound fractures of her other fingers. He hoped to be able to save the little finger, the doctor said; it had been badly mangled in the accident.

Mrs. Matzke was driven to the hospital after the accident by her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Willard W. Matzke, who lives next door.

State tournament will be here in August. Two Legionnaires of the month were named, since the post did not meet in April. For April it was Leo Olson, in honor of all flood workers, and for May, Kenneth Kinowski, membership leader. Two films were shown and a dinner served.

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Vietnamese fighter-bombers killed 85 Viet Cong in an attack in Binh Thuan Province today, a U.S. spokesman announced.

The spokesman said a U.S. forward air controller observed the Viet Cong assembling in company strength in a mountain valley and called in Vietnamese planes that were flying to another target. The fighter-bombers attacked with heavy bombs and machine guns for 20 minutes.

Forty U.S. Navy planes destroyed three military barracks and inflicted heavy damage on other installations in the second consecutive day of air strikes against North Viet Nam, a U.S. military spokesman reported.

Miss Ranzenberger Becomes Bride Of John Morken

SPRING GROVE, Minn. (Special) — Mr. and Mrs. John Morken, who were married May 8 at St. John's Lutheran Church, Caledonia, Minn., spent their honeymoon in the Black Hills and are now at home on a farm near Spring Grove.

THE BRIDE is the former Miss Dorothy Mae Ranzenberger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Armie Ranzenberger, Spring Grove. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Morken, Spring Grove.

The Rev. A. B. Kant officiated at the wedding. Miss Irene Ranzenberger, Jefferson, Wis., was organist and Miss Carol Ranzenberger sang.

The bride wore a floor-length gown of silk organza over tafeta, trimmed with embroidered lace. The fitted bodice had long sleeves and a bateau neckline and the straight-line skirt was shepherdess style, with a chapel train. Appliques of sequin and pearl-trimmed lace were used on the bodice and skirt. Her bouffant veil of silk illusion was held by a silk organza rose trimmed with pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of red sweetheart roses.

MRS. GERALD Tollefsrud, Strawberry Point, Iowa, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were the Misses Linda and Kathy Morken, sisters of the groom. Mrs. David Weibke, Caledonia, sister of the bride and Miss Susan Ranzenberger, Miniature bride was the groom's sister. Mary Morken, and junior groom was Dean Ranzenberger.

The bride's attendants wore floor-length gowns of pink georgette chiffon over tafeta, with fitted bodices, long sleeves and pergola-styled skirts with wateau back panels. They wore matching flowered hats and veils and carried cascade bouquets of pink carnations.

The bride's mother wore a beige ensemble and the groom's mother, a light-blue suit. Both had orchid corsages.

BEST MAN was David Rossaen and groomsmen were Donald Ranzenberger and David Weibke. Ushers were Robert Muller and Gerald Tollefsrud.

A reception was held in the church parlors. Assisting were the Misses Barbara Doely and Hulda Ranzenberger, and the Mes. Robert Arneson, Tilford Morken, Herbert Solum, Donald Garness and Bob Ellis.

The groom's parents hosted a pre-rehearsal dinner at the Skyline Supper Club on the eve of the wedding.

The bride is a graduate of Dr. Martin Luther High School, New Ulm, Minn., and attended Milwaukee Lutheran Teachers College. She is employed at the office of Dr. H. S. Lovold.

The groom is a graduate of Spring Grove High School and attended Winona State College. He is employed at the Spring Grove Livestock Exchange.

Teachers Honored At Final Meeting Of Lincoln PTA

At the final meeting of Lincoln PTA Monday evening, teachers were recognized for their efforts and were presented with corsages. They are to be the guests of the PTA at the annual City PTA banquet Monday.

A TRIBUTE was paid to Mrs. Gladys Anderson who is retiring at the end of the year, after many years of service in Winona schools. A gift was presented to her and also to Mr. Philip Williams and Mrs. Robert Przybyski who have resigned.

Another highlight of the meeting was installation of officers by Lloyd Ferdinandsen, president of the Winona City PTA Council. Installed as president was Denis Jackson. Others were Gale Hunn, vice president; Mrs. Linn Florin, secretary; William Silsbee, treasurer; Mrs. Marcia Howrigan, historian; and Mrs. Robert Masyga, secretary of First District PTA.

Mrs. Donald Hittner, retiring president, read the names of parents who will be leaving Lincoln PTA and explained that books may be brought to school for the Books for Appalachia Project.

A PAST president pin was awarded to Mrs. Hittner, who has served two years.

It was announced that Jeanne Hittner, a former Lincoln student, received the $75 teacher's scholarship, awarded by the Lincoln PTA.

After the business session, members divided into six informal discussion groups, who later reported on program ideas and other suggestions for the coming year.

Mrs. Przybyski's fourth grade won the room prize. Dessert, and coffee was served by Mrs. Gale Hunn and Mrs. M. L. Spencer Jr. assisted by mothers of the sixth grade.

Gary Johnsons Will Reside In Illinois

WABASHA, Minn. — At home at 1519 N. Main St., Decatur, Ill., are Mr. and Mrs. Gary F. Johnson following their May 8 wedding at St. Felix Catholic Church here.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. John Gengler officiated and the St. Felix Choir sang.

The bride is the former Miss Marlene Kreye, Decatur, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Kreye. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson, Nokomis, Ill.

Miss Marie Burrichter, New Brighton, Minn., was maid of honor and Mrs. Richard Kreye, Wabasha, bridesmaid.

PAUL TESTER, Nokomis, was best man and Richard Kreye, brother of the bride, groomsmen. Ushers were Robert Lee Johnson, Irving, Ill., brother of the groom, and Joseph Kreye, Pepin, Wis., brother of the bride.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of sheer tulle nylon with long sleeves, an all-lace bodice with a scalloped neckline and a detachable train of nylon and lace over taffeta. A cobweb crown made of pearls and crystals held her veil and she carried a bouquet of pink roses and white carnations.

Her attendants wore floor-length gowns of taffeta with elbow-length sleeves. The bell-shaped skirts were sheath-style. They wore short matching veils and carried bouquets of white roses.

A noon dinner was served for 33 guests at the Idle Hour Cafe. The reception followed at the American Legion clubrooms.

THE BRIDE is a graduate of St. Felix High School and was formerly employed at the El Bauer Chevrolet Company, Decatur. Her husband, a graduate of Nokomis High School, is a computer operator at the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company, Decatur.

Mrs. Johnson was honored at three pre-nuptial showers. Her friends were hosts at a shower in Decatur; the groom's relatives were hosts at Nokomis and the bride's friends and relatives were hosts at the bride's home.

Nice Smallmouth

One of the things about Mississippi River fishing is that you are apt to catch any species of fish of any size any place in the river. This four pound smallmouth bass was caught by Jack Woods, 603 W. 5th St., while casting with a sonar in an extension of Bathhouse Slough, where it was probably building a nest.

High water, with cold weather may have delayed the spawning time of the smallmouth which is usually during the early part of May when water temperature goes over 60 degrees. The male does most of the work. He rounds out a nest in the sand or gravel, usually of a backwater or small tributary stream, then goes hunting for a ripe female which he drives over the nest. They lie side by side during the egg laying, then the male drives the female away and takes over the job of guarding the nest and the young bass after they are hatched. He fights any fish that comes near including fishermen lures. That's the time most big lunkers throw caution to the wind, and hit lures hard.

The Mississippi River area has a lot of smallmouth but they are hard to find. In the last couple of weeks we have heard of several nice specimens being taken over flooded old windgam spots, which doesn't seem to be a natural place for this fish at this time of year, but fish life was disrupted by the flood.

Litterbug Crackdown

Fishermen fishing in popular spots, such as off the sandbars below the various dams, will become aware of a new yellow sign placed in the past few days. It is a warning against litter-bugging, pointing out that the litterbug laws are being enforced along the shores of the Big River.

These signs are being placed in a co-operative effort on the part of the St. Paul district

Corps of Engineers office, the Upper Mississippi Wild Life Refuge, and the game warden services of Minnesota and Wisconsin.

Below the Winona dam on the Wisconsin beach Monday, employees of the three agencies were "policing up" the area with Bart Foster and Stanly Apel in general charge. So our tip is to pick up that beer can and take it home and bury that carp instead of throwing it on the beach to rot. Your action may be under observation through field glasses and the fine is $25 in Wisconsin courts.

Here and There

Among the many successful walleye fishermen over the weekend was Bill Bochte, St. Mary's College student, who caught below the Winona spillway off Prairie Island three large walleyes. The largest weighed nine pounds four ounces, the next one seven pounds eight ounces and the third only four pounds. He was using a white jig.

Minnesota boat owners with marine toilets aboard won't need sewage treatment devices until April 1, 1966. Those operating their boats exclusively on the Mississippi River have until Jan. 1, 1967 to equip their watercraft with a treatment device. Milton Johnson, state director of boat and water safety, said the new dates are established in a bill passed by the legislature and signed into law last week by Gov. Karl Rolvaag.

In other action the Game & Fish Committee of the Senate recommended passage of a short term non-resident fishing license offering two days of fishing for $3. The bill cancels out the present non-resident combination (husband and wife) license which costs $9.25. Other bills recommended by the committee would end the beaver trapping season in Minnesota April 1, make the walleye the official state fish, and allow the removal of distinguishing markings from game warden cars.

Another flood clean-up job the Wild Life refuge's rangers face is to remove the mud from several hundred wood duck houses that have been placed in the last half dozen years low on trees and posts along the river. They became submerged and filled with silt.

NEW KIND OF SHOCK

SKOWHEGAN, Maine (AP) — Electrician Lawrence McIntyre got a different kind of shock than he's accustomed to while working in a law office. He opened a cupboard-like box to find a skeleton hanging inside. Seems it had been used as an anatomical model in court cases.

1924 Model Car Rebuilt at Osseo

OSSEO, Wis. (Special)—Many Osseo visitors are stopping to admire Erv Johnson's version of the "new line" of sports cars. Erv has spent most of his spare time the last two years in restoring a 1924 Ford, complete with authentic kerosene "side lights" and fender tool box. They weren't easy to find; he scoured the countryside for them.

Repairing and refinishing was a big job, too, but the result paid off: The 41-year-old now is in top condition and runs like a clock. It'll be in area parades.

Osseo Seniors Graduate Friday

OSSEO, Wis. (Special) — Commencement exercises for the graduating class of 1965 will be held at Osseo High School Auditorium Friday at 8 p.m. The class motto is: "Climb Though the Path Be Rugged".

Werner Vogel, exchange student from Germany, will speak as will four seniors — Tim

Briggs, Virginia Gilbertson, Joyce Risler and James Thompson and Diane Olson, salutatory. Charles Thomley, who is leaving the system, will sing a solo and direct the choir. LeRoy Johnson will be in charge of the prelude; the band will play; Principal John Leadholm will present the class and Superintendent Gordon E. Rodeen will award diplomas. The Rev. John Morrison will give the invocation and benediction.

The total retail sales value of domestically consumed photographic goods in West Germany amounts to approximately $250 million each year.

DEAR ABBY:

'Friends' Will Tell You Quickly

By BRIGIALL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: I know this will never get in your column but I am going to write it anyway just to get it off my chest.

DEAR NEWPORT: Don't worry. They will.
DEAR ABBY: I am 26, have six children and another one on the way. My problem is my husband. He likes women.

DEAR ABBY: My sister, who is a very beautiful woman, was widowed two years ago in her mid-40s. Her husband left her with a large sum of money, plus a thriving business.

DEAR ABBY: The man who insisted that both men and women were all washed up romantically at 60 should have known my father and his second wife.

DEAR ABBY: You probably can't. A woman who would make such a "trick" must feel that she has little else to offer other than money.

DEAR ABBY: I am 26, have six children and another one on the way. My problem is my husband. He likes women. Last winter I caught him trying to kiss my sister. I couldn't take it, so I threw him out. I've been on welfare ever since.

Souvenir Flood Edition Offered

Orders are coming in by the thousands for the special Winona Daily News souvenir edition of the 1965 flood which will be published soon.

The Daily and Sunday News staff now is completing the edition; it is almost ready for the printer. Copies should be in the mail late this week.

In the tabloid-size edition 40 pages of photographs and stories will tell of the flood fight in Winona and nearby cities in Southeastern Minnesota and Western Wisconsin.

There will be separate sections on weather conditions that were responsible for the flood and the story of the river's rise; the measures taken to combat the record river levels; the impact on industries, business, transportation and residential areas; the role of Civil Defense, Red Cross, Salvation Army and other agencies in the flood fight and a section on the flood period in the Winona area.

The special edition will not be distributed as a part of this newspaper. It will not contain advertising.

To make sure that you will obtain your copy (and those you wish to send to friends and relatives who reside elsewhere) fill out the following order blank and send it to The Daily News today. Send 50 cents (which includes postage) for each copy you want and your copies will be mailed to the destinations you indicate. This special publication will be entitled "The City That Saved Itself."

BUSINESS MIRROR

Prosperity Has 51-Month Run

By SAM DAWSON AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — There's nothing like a 51-month stretch of prosperity to gladden the heart of a federal tax collector.

Record corporate profits and record personal incomes are bringing the U.S. Treasury a windfall of $1.5 billion this fiscal year. It anticipates a like amount in the fiscal year starting July 1.

The $3 billion in revenue that the Treasury hadn't foreseen when it drew up its budget last January. Cuts in federal income tax rates both for individual incomes and corporate earnings are now being offset in sizable amounts by the increased totals on which to levy the new, if lower, rates.

And the windfall has led the Treasury to agree to share some of its good fortune with the individual and corporate taxpayers. The share will be in the form of a greater than previously planned cut in estate taxes, paid at retail by customers, or levied at manufacturers' level on some items.

The 51-month business expansion, which this month is setting a peacetime record of its own, has flourished this year in higher than expected profits and incomes.

Right now, for instance, the Commerce Department figures that corporate gross profits are turning at a record annual rate of 32.6 billion. The increase of $5.4 billion in these pretax earnings from the annual rate of $27.2 billion in the final three months of 1964 is pure gravy for the Treasury.

Even with corporate income tax rates dropped this year from 50 per cent to 48 per cent, the Treasury will take in a sizable bank of money, close to $4 billion, from the final three months of 1964.

The corporations aren't complaining because they're glad both for the lower rate and for the record profits. Part of what's left after taxes will be birth.

Constitution Updating Asked For Wisconsin

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Wisconsin's 117-year-old Constitution should be updated, government leaders generally agreed Monday.

But little consensus was reached on how to do it. Prof. Richard B. Dishman of the University of New Hampshire told the Milwaukee Sentinel's second annual Forum for Progress that sections of the Wisconsin Constitution were obsolete and others were overlaid with details better left to the Legislature.

Dishman, who has studied state constitutions for the National Municipal League, cited the $100,000 limit on state debt as among the unneeded details.

Dennis J. Roberts, former governor of Rhode Island and chairman of its present constitutional convention, said constitutions "must periodically be tested by their ability to meet the demands of tomorrow's generations."

Republican Gov. Warren P. Knowles and Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., each expressed reluctance, however, toward calling a constitutional convention.

"I know that politics is really the art of the possible," said Knowles. "It appears to me that the Legislature as it is presently constituted has no stomach for constitutional reform, let alone a constitutional convention."

U.S. Gov. Patrick J. Leahy and Atty. Gen. Bronson La Follette, both Democrats, supported a proposed convention. The two Democrats on a four-man legislative panel also backed it while the Republican members opposed it.

DUBUQUE, Iowa (AP)—Residents of Dubuque have pitched in to thank more than 6,000 volunteers who helped protect their homes and businesses from the mightiest Mississippi River flood in recorded history.

Bear Shakes Off Radio

OLYMPIA, Wash. (AP) — For at least one black bear, transistor radios are strictly for teenagers.

The State Department of Natural Resources trapped the 200-pound bear, fitted him with a collar carrying a small radio transmitter, then released him Monday in the wilderness of the Olympic Peninsula.

The idea, forest scientists said, was to trace his movements as part of research into animal-caused damage to forests.

Later in the day, officials reported the bear had lost the collar.

"We have a radio, but no bear," said Donald Hopkins, forest management supervisor.

Hopkins said the project would continue with tighter collars.

Young Pole Escapes to West Berlin

BERLIN (AP) — Another defection from Poland's diplomatic colony in Berlin was reported Tuesday, U.S. authorities said.

The chief of the Polish military mission in West Berlin, Stanislaw Tyssenski, detected Sanday and was flown to West Germany. U.S. officials said his request for political asylum in the United States was under consideration.

Young Pole Escapes to West Berlin

The economic attaché's son was Marek Radomski, who presented a diplomatic passport to the East German border guards at checkpoint Charlie on May 3 and crossed through the Berlin wall.

Ice Breaker Picks Up 20 On Ice Slab

BOSTON (AP) — The ice-breaker USS Edisto headed toward Boston harbor today after a month-long battle to rescue 20 men from a melting ice slab northwest of Iceland.

Her arrival will end the saga of Arlis II, the Navy's ice island that for four years carried scientists through the Arctic Ocean from Alaska to the Greenland Sea.

The Navy sent the Edisto north in April four days after she returned from a four-month mission in Antarctica.

After fighting 16 days to traverse 150 miles of consolidated pack ice, she reached the ice island and took aboard the inhabitants and 30 tons of equipment on May 20.

The evacuees left the ship at Keflavik, Iceland, for their homes or vacations.

Arlis II was operated by the University of Alaska at the Office of Naval Research.

Little Joe Rocket Fails In Test Flight

WHITE SANDS MISSILE RANGE, N.M. (AP) — A Little Joe II rocket exploded in flight shortly after launch today, ending in a failure a severe high altitude test of a safety system for moonbound astronauts.

National Aeronautics and Space Administration spokesmen said the explosion occurred about half way through the mighty rocket's first burning period of 40 seconds.

There was no immediate indication for cause of the failure.

The test was the fifth in a series of firings at this southern New Mexico army test range to determine how safe astronauts would be should a malfunction occur in their giant Saturn booster during launch toward the moon.

Badger Senate Majority Forms New Tax Plan

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — The Wisconsin Senate's Republican majority has voted to keep home utilities and building materials free of the sales tax while trying to close ranks today behind a substitute fiscal measure merging taxes with a slimmer budget.

However, three holdouts in the GOP ranks left the Republican leadership with only a bare Senate majority of 17 endorsing the combined program. The three objected to folding in the revenue program with the substitute budget bill.

A highly placed source present at the six-hour closed caucus Tuesday told The Associated Press that Republicans voted privately to reject Gov. Warren P. Knowles' recommendation to extend the three percent sales tax to the utilities and building materials.

At the same time, Republicans agreed upon a $20 million budget slash, to be accomplished in part through higher tuition fees at state-supported universities. A cut in funds for property tax relief for the aged was also agreed upon.

Caucus debate on an income tax increase was delayed until today.

The source said the present $1 a barrel tax on beer would be tripled to help balance the proposed budget for the 1965-67 biennium. Gov. Knowles had suggested doubling the tax originally.

While Republicans control the Senate 20-13, the three dissenters left only 17 members, the smallest majority possible, presently backing the program.

The three holdouts objecting to including the revenue program in the same bill as the budget were reported to be Sens. Chester Dempsey, Hartland; William Draheim, Neenah; and Ernest Kruppner, Sheboygan.

Sen. Robert Knowles, New Richmond, the GOP floor leader, told newsmen that, despite the dissenters, the combined proposal would be formally introduced today. He said the bill would be scheduled as a special order of business Friday. The timetable left no hope for a vote this week.

Man Warning of Radar Check Point Arrested

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Police said they cited Edward T. Sueser, 27, a Phoenix steel worker, Tuesday for driving 40 miles an hour in a 30-mile zone.

A little later, officers said they saw Sueser carrying a large sign with the words "Radar check ahead." They booked him on charges of vagrancy and obstructing police.

Winona, Olmsted Counties Gain In Population

Winona and Olmsted counties have gained population since 1960, according to estimates of the Minnesota Department of Health.

Winona County grew from an official 40,937 in April 1960 to an estimated 41,223 July 1 last year, a net gain of 286, according to the state agency.

Filmore County lost an estimated 555, dropping to 45,298, Olmsted County gained 4,689, increasing to an estimated 70,221.

State Buys Land For Tiffany Area

NEILSON, Wis. — The Wisconsin Conservation Department has purchased the 58-acre Tiffany Wildlife Area in Buffalo County and 49 acres of scattered wetlands in Trempealeau County.

The department also has purchased 2,028 acres of land in the state for recreational purposes, including in this area 509 acres of Muddy Creek Wildlife Area, Dunn County, and Van Loon Wildlife Area in La Crosse area, covering 29 acres.

Total cost of lands purchased in the entire state was $198,756. Easements were taken on 603 acres and 17,209 feet of lake and river frontage at a cost of $11,394 in various parts of the state.

ARTLINES . . . Miss Orlane Kittle and Gerald Van Pelt, co-chairmen of Winona Coin Club's annual coin show, Valley Coin Rally, admire the sleek Best of Show trophy to be awarded to some lucky coin collector who exhibits his collection at the Winona show Saturday and Sunday. (Rollie Finner photo)

Valley Coin Rally Slated This Weekend

Coin collectors from the Upper Midwest will be competing for a walnut and gold trophy when they exhibit their finest coin collections at the "Valley Coin Rally," annual coin show of the Winona Coin Club, Saturday and Sunday.

The 30-inch trophy will be awarded to the collector whose exhibit is judged "Best of Show." Smaller trophies will go to the first, second and third place winners of each of six categories: U.S. coins, Canadian coins, foreign coins, currency, medals, and odd and curious numismatic items.

Open to the public without charge, Valley Coin Rally will be held at the Red Men's Wigwam from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. Saturday and from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Sunday.

According to Miss Orlane Kittle, club president and general planning chairman, "Twenty-four professional coin dealers will attend to buy, sell, trade and 'talk' coins with collectors during the two-day show."

An auction of rare coins will be held Saturday evening. Door prizes will be given away both days.

Assisting Miss Kittle are Gerald Van Pelt, Winona and Rollie Finner, Northfield.

WSC Graduate Wins $200 Prize

Edmund G. Facklam, who received his master's degree from Winona State College in 1964, has received a $200 professional scholarship award from the Wisconsin Elementary School Principals.

Facklam, principal and teacher at Manawa Graded School, received the award for original elementary research and study at a banquet at Wausau last week.

His paper was on "A Survey of Physical Education Programs and Facilities for Grades Seven and Eight of Selected Schools in Waupaca County." A summary will appear in the elementary principals publication.

Steelworkers To Hear New Voting Protests

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The United Steelworkers' executive board convenes as the union's highest appeals body today to hear protests arising from the Feb. 9 union election.

The 33-member board was called into session by President David J. McDonald, who was defeated for re-election to a fourth term by Secretary-Treasurer I. W. Abel.

When union tellers declared Abel the winner last month by 10,142 votes out of the more than 600,000 cast, McDonald said he would ask the executive board to investigate irregularities and order a recount in some locals.

It was uncertain how long the meeting would last, but it was expected to take up most of today and possibly another day or two.

A quick decision, however, was considered likely so the union can concentrate on basic steel contract talks.

The board was expected to hear numerous protests of voting irregularities in separate locals, plus general protests by McDonald.

The meeting came a day after the basic steel talks — twice interrupted by the bitter Abel-McDonald campaign and the election aftermath — resumed in Pittsburgh.

Although negotiations continued today, many board members have key roles in the talks and little hard bargaining was expected until the meeting ended.

The executive board is controlled by Abel men and in the only real test of strength in recent months it went against McDonald.

The 33 members include McDonald as president, Abel as secretary-treasurer, the international vice president, and the directors of the 29 districts.

NASON ON EDUCATION

New Courses For Colleges

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D., U. of Southern California

Higher education is taking on a new look at several colleges.

With the aid of foundations and a provision of $45 million for research in the new Education Bill, there are promising innovations.

For example, at Hanover College, Hanover, Ind., two 14-week terms are followed by a five-week term. Individual student research, independent study, off-campus study and concentration on particular academic interests are being stressed during this five-week term.

The student is introduced to a variety of study methods and field trips. Emphasis is being properly placed on training the student to learn rather than on the mere absorption of subject matter.

COLGATE University, at Hamilton, N.Y., places a similar four-week special studies period in the middle of the school year.

A field trip to New York's Wall Street is among more than 100 special projects undertaken by students and the faculty during these four weeks. They will visit the New York Stock Exchange; the New York Clearing House, and the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, and will have an opportunity to confer with experts from the financial world.

Another group will visit 150 art galleries; a dozen museums and 16 musical events, including two operas.

A group will have an opportunity to visit the studios of James Wines and Franklin Drake, who will demonstrate and discuss some of the newer materials and techniques now being explored in the world of visual arts.

Indiana University, Bloomington, Ind., is offering a number of social science and humanities courses in French and Spanish in an experiment designed to attract better language students and give them more opportunities to use other languages.

THIS SEMESTER, a survey in economics and a section of a Latin American history course are being offered in Spanish, and a fine arts course is being taught in French.

Last semester, the Latin American History and economics courses were also taught in Spanish and a special section of the history of Western Civilization was offered in French. The experiment began in September.

Northwestern University will soon abolish its traditional education courses for prospective teachers. Beginning in the fall of 1965, it will offer a new program, emphasizing the subjects to be taught and presenting the theory, methods, and problems of education in seminars, tutorials, and practice teaching. Development of the new program will be sponsored by a $125,500 grant from the Carnegie Corporation of New York.

In introducing the new program, B. J. Chandler, dean of the School of Education at Northwestern, states a basic principle which should regulate change at the college level. "If change of a radical nature is to come in teacher education," Mr. Chandler believes, "it will have to come through the efforts of a few colleges and universities that dare to initiate and evaluate programs with the aim of raising the quality of teacher education."

Senate Nears Showdown Vote On Poll Taxes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate votes today on a proposal that Congress declare the poll tax has been used in some states to deny Negroes their voting rights.

Offered by Republican and Democratic leaders as an amendment to the voting-rights bill, it is designed to mollify liberals who tried to have poll taxes for state and local elections flatly outlawed in the pending legislation. They already have been outlawed in federal elections by constitutional amendment.

Sen. A. Willis Robertson, D-Va., led a blistering attack on the proposed amendment, accusing Senate leaders of "marching down the hill" after beating down the attempt to ban the poll tax.

Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach and some strong supporters of the measure have said to outlaw state poll taxes by statute could be unconstitutional. They proposed instead that the voting bill provide for a quick court test of the tax.

The amendment for a congressional declaration is sponsored by Sens. Mike Mansfield and Everett M. Dirksen, the Democratic and Republican leaders.

It would declare the constitutional right to vote is denied or abridged in certain states by making poll-tax payments a condition to vote. Voting on the amendment was expected in midafternoon and despite some stormy vocal criticism, it appeared certain of adoption.

Meanwhile, Rep. William M. McCulloch of Ohio, ranking Republican on the House Judiciary Committee, said the way the bill now stands it could produce illegal ballots that might sow the seeds of revolution in the United States.

McCulloch is backing a voting measure generally in line with one proposed by House Republican leaders. This would guarantee voting rights anywhere in the nation where qualified people have been kept from casting a ballot by racial discrimination, he said.

U of W Officials Answer Hoover On Red Charges

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — University of Wisconsin officials defended the school's freedom of speech policy Tuesday against charges that campus protests against U. S. efforts in Viet Nam were led in part by individuals with Communist backgrounds.

The accusation was made by J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, in testimony at a congressional hearing and was echoed Tuesday by radio commentator Robert R. Siegrist of Madison.

"We think it is desirable to allow the students to be exposed to a wide variety of expressions and views," said Arthur DeBardeleben of Park Falls, president of the Board of Regents. "I see no reason to qualify our policy on the basis of Hoover's views."

Robben W. Fleming, chancellor at the Madison campus, added, "It is easy to blame Communists for everything one doesn't like and the university has suffered much from such loose thinking lately. There is no reason to believe that those who may be of the Communist persuasion have any significant influence on this campus."

Hoover, in testimony given March 4 before a House Appropriations subcommittee, but not made public until this week, charged a campus protest meeting against U. S. policy on Viet Nam "was led by individual students and faculty members, some of whom have Communist backgrounds."

Hoover identified one of the students involved as Daniel Friedlander and said he is active in the W. E. B. DuBols Clubs' Madison branch. Hoover was quoted as calling the organization Communist-oriented and Communist-controlled.

Robert Taylor, assistant to the university president, replied that the same professor who is faculty adviser to the DuBols Club is also adviser to a group which recently gathered 8,000 names on a petition backing the nation's Viet Nam policy. He identified the professor as David W. Tarr of the political science department.

Relief for night-backache lets you sleep again

Sometimes backache comes like a thief in the night, "steals" away your sleep, then robs you of energy all the next day. When the cause is overwork or just the daily strain of exertion or tension, that's the time to try Doan's Pills for speedy relief. Millions have found Doan's pain-relieving action often brings welcome relief from this nagging night backache, headache or muscular pain in the night.

Then, too, muscle aching or drinking may be the cause of minor yet annoying bladder irritation. Doan's Pills often help to bring prompt relief in two ways: first, their soothing effect on bladder irritation. And, second, their mild diuretic action tending to increase output of the 15 miles of kidney tubes.

Keep Doan's Pills handy. Millions have relied on Doan's for over sixty years. And for your convenience, get Doan's in the large size.

Redmen Baseball Story: Won Battle, Lost MIAC War

By JOHN VOTAVA
of St. Mary's College

ST. PAUL, Minn. — Max Molock's nine did it again, or that is, they almost did it again. Down 2-1 with only the ninth frame empty of score markers, St. Mary's tallied two quick runs on a walk, wild pitch and two singles after two were out and then fought off an "11th-hour" threat by St. Thomas to beat the Tommies 3-2 in their own back yard in the season finale.

Unfortunately for St. Mary's it was a case of winning the battle but losing the war. Even with Tuesday's defeat, St. Thomas edged out the Redmen in the conference standings on percentage points. The Tommies won it all with an 8-2 record and the defending champion Redmen were second at 9-3 — a difference of just 50 points. The conference champs cinched the title Saturday, or rather the weatherman had cinched it for them when a doubleheader was rained out. They were to have faced Concordia, which had managed a split with St. Mary's earlier in the year. But because of the weather and conference rules, which make rescheduling virtually impossible, the rained out games will never be replayed. The stars of the afternoon for the Redmen were left fielder Dennis Ludden and 6-2, 200-pound righthander Bob Paradise. Paradise yielded six hits and both runs were unearned. He walked two and fanned four. Since the St. Mary's attack was feeble — collecting just four hits off loser Dick Washburn — Paradise played an important role in the vital ninth. With two out and receiver Bob Magnuson on first, Paradise lined a 2-and-0 pitch down the left field line for a single to keep glimmering hopes alive. Mr. Ludden then did his heroic chore by singling to right to score the tying and winning runs on Washburn's first delivery. He previously had saved two runs. One in the Tommies' two-run fourth when he raced to the left field line to grab a single on one bounce, cutting the threat of extra bases. The other came in the eighth when leadoff man John Hermes lifted a high, soft fly toward the short fence in left. With his bare hand on the eight-foot barrier, Ludden leaped, reaching over the fence to spear the drive. That was the battle, but it wasn't the war. But credit for even the runnerup spot must be extended to Molock. For two years, St. Mary's has fielded a young team. The two-year totals show one championship and one second-place spot. The '64 Redmen fielded five freshmen in the starting line. This year only one senior — Magnuson — and two juniors — Paradise and Vic Fischer — were in the lineup. Fischer, too, was an untried quantity. Yet in '64 after dropping the opening four contests, the Redmen came back for ten straight conference wins. This year, fighting the same handicap and the addition of abominable weather which kept practice time at a minimum, the team almost pulled it again. A Tommie's loss in any one of their four postponed games would have accomplished no worse than a dead heat for first. Much credit must go also to Bill Knoedler, a 5-10, 180-pound sophomore southpaw. He faced the opposition from the mound in more than half the games while hitting a club-leading .360. His final statistics are set apart from the rest: 55½ innings pitched, five earned runs surrendered, 63 strikeouts, 18 walks and a .813 earned run average. St. Mary's didn't make it all the way in '65, but just two faces will be gone next year. Small wonder, then, that Molock eyes big things ahead.

USE SOLID SHOWING TO DOWN FALCONS

Boschulte Blast Ignites Winhawks

By GARY EVANS
Daily News Sports Editor

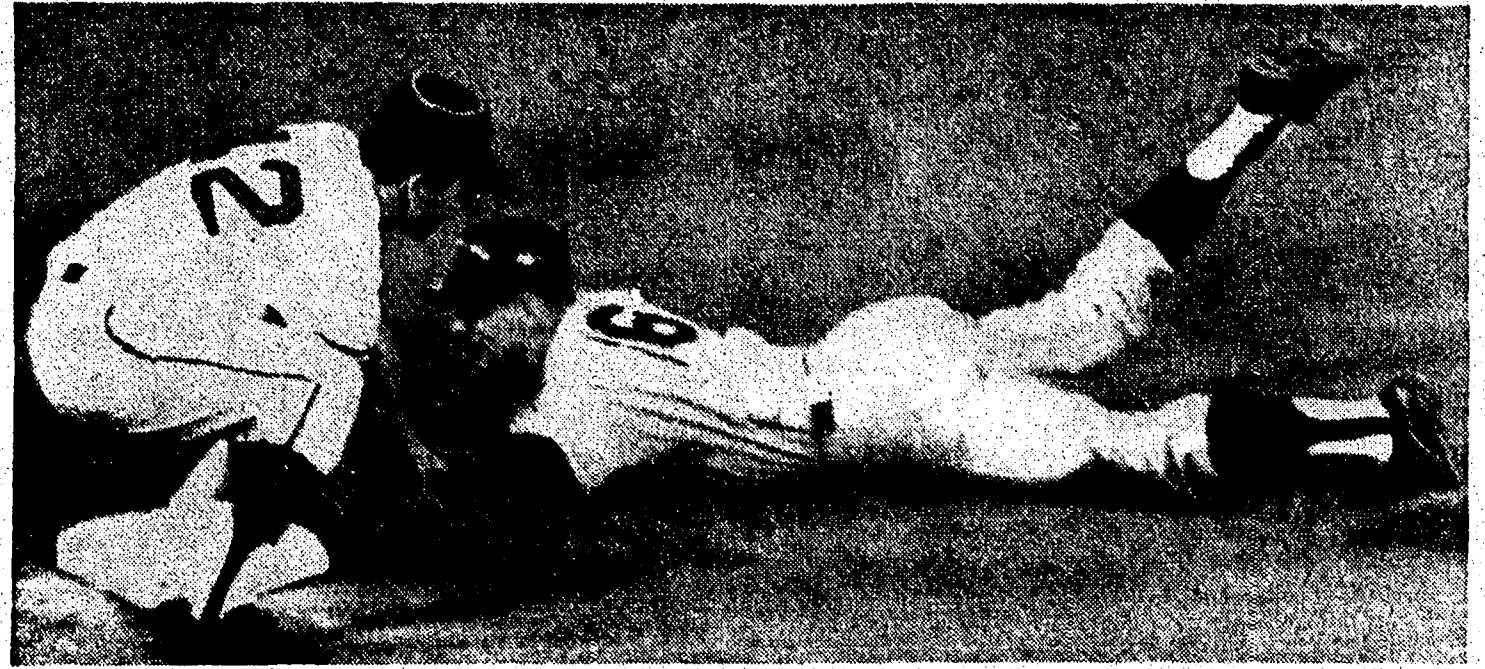

R. D. Boschulte is no giant muscle man in "chip-off-the-Roger Maris-block" tradition. But the compact "pepper pot" who bides his time around second base and shortstop for the Winona High School baseball team swings a mean bat. He proved that Tuesday as the Hawks put together one of their most solid games of the season for a 4-1 victory over Faribault, a team they last met and defeated in the Region One tournament a year ago. Thus, with the Falcons down and step No. 1 crossed successfully in the team's biggest week to date, the Hawks turned their attention today to a District

Three battle with Mazepa at Kellogg. The game was scheduled for a 4:15 p.m. start and Coach Ed Spencer's son Todd was the mound choice. Faribault made some unfriendly overtures in the first inning, but the bat of Boschulte erased those in the bottom of the frame and Winona High was off and running.

With John Ahrens at less than maximum effectiveness in the initial frame, the first three Faribault batters — Mike Simon, Steve Shelum and Gary Morris — walked. Pitcher Rick Duffney then fled out to left field, a run scoring on the play. But Ahrens wasn't about to settle for a mediocre afternoon. He breezed through the remaining six innings (he was in trouble briefly in the fifth and sixth) to post his fourth consecutive victory without defeat. This was a five-hit win that featured nine strikeouts. Boschulte generated the spark Winona needed after the lackluster first half inning. He pounded a 1-and-0 pitch far into right field. The ball made a trip up and down the spillover near Jefferson School and R.D. made the trip around the bases for a home run. The score was tied, and Winona would soon take the lead as Gary Addington — up next — walked, took second on a wild pitch, third on an error and scored on a ground ball by Ahrens.

YOUNGSTER LOPEZ PROVES PESKY

Angels Tumble Twins 3-1

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Five years ago, Marcelino Lopez was a wide-eyed 16-year-old kid from Cuba who couldn't speak enough English to keep the signals straight with his catcher. Tuesday night, Lopez — now nearly as articulate with the language as he is with his fast-ball-fired six-hitter to pitch the Los Angeles Angels past Minnesota, 3-1.

It sent the Twins tumbling to their fourth straight defeat and dropped them 4½ games behind the Chicago White Sox in the American League. "I remember my first year in pro ball in 1960," Lopez said. "I couldn't speak English and it cost me several games. In one game, the bases were loaded and the batter hit a high pop-up near home plate. I yelled

"I got it." But I was pointing to the catcher. The ball fell and all three runners scored and it cost us the game." Now 21, Lopez has come a long way from those days. He's 5-3 this season, and the Angels are starting to rank him with Dean Chance as one of their aces.

The Angels rallied for three runs. Bobby Knoop beat out an infield hit and Lopez reached base as Kaat threw low to second on his bunt. Jimmie Piersall's single tied the game, and Joe Adcock's double off Joe Nosske's glove in center field plated two more runs. Lopez got ninth-inning relief help from Aubrey Gatewood, who pitched his way out of a two-on, one-out jam. He got Don Mincher and Tony Oliva to fly out with runners at second and third.

SAVES ALL BUT WILHELM'S JOB

'Flutterball' Lessons Make Fischer Tougher

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Eddie Fischer is saving everything these days except Hoyt Wilhelm's job. Fischer, quickly becoming one of the American League's best relief pitchers, appeared in another game Tuesday night and helped the Chicago White Sox extend their winning streak to nine with a 5-4 triumph over Kansas City.

son, was the losing pitcher in New York's 12-inning, 4-3 victory over Boston. In other games, Cleveland edged Baltimore 1-0, Los Angeles trimmed Minnesota 3-1 and Washington outslugged Detroit 15-9. The White Sox scored all of their runs in the fifth inning with the help of three straight walks by Orlando Pena and Moe Drabowsky's wild pitch. Ron Hansen capped the rally with a two-run single. The Yankees, held hitless for six innings by Dave Morehead, erupted for two runs and a 3-1 tie in the ninth on Ray Barker's home run off Morehead and singles by Horace Clarke, Bob Schmidt and Bobby Richardson against Radatz. Tom Tresh's run-scoring triple in the 12th sent Radatz' earned-run average to 7.27 and his record to 2-3. Fred Whitfield singled across Joe Azcue in the sixth inning for the Indians' winning run. Jack Kralick retired 13 Orioles at one stretch but had to leave after seven innings when he broke a blister on his pitching hand. Nelson Mathews of the Kansas City Athletics went hitless when he broke into baseball with Paris in the Midwest League in 1959 — with good reason. His team was the victim of a no-hitter.

Lopez and the Angels trailed Minnesota 1-0 going into the last of the eighth inning after Minnesota tallied a run in the fourth on an error, singles by Earl Battey and Rich Rollins and Jerry Kindall's sacrifice fly. But Jim Kaat ran into trouble in the eighth, with his throwing error getting him into hot water. The Angels rallied for three runs. Bobby Knoop beat out an infield hit and Lopez reached base as Kaat threw low to second on his bunt. Jimmie Piersall's single tied the game, and Joe Adcock's double off Joe Nosske's glove in center field plated two more runs. Lopez got ninth-inning relief help from Aubrey Gatewood, who pitched his way out of a two-on, one-out jam. He got Don Mincher and Tony Oliva to fly out with runners at second and third.

And he's been doing the job primarily with a knuckleball he polished with aid from Wilhelm, the 41-year-old master of the evasive pitch. "I joined the Sox (in 1962) with a pretty fair knuckler, but nothing like Wilhelm's," Fischer said. "Hoyt gave me a lot of tips on knucklers when we'd be sitting in the bullpen, but I learned most watching Wilhelm in a game. "Now when it's working, I will use my knuckler 75 to 80 per cent of the time." Fischer's latest save came after the Athletics had cut Chicago's two-run lead to 5-4 with a run in the ninth inning. Fischer replaced reliever Tommy John and ended the game by retiring pinch-hitter Reno Lachemann on a pop foul. Elsewhere in the AL, another relief pitcher, Boston's Dick Radatz, didn't meet with such success. Radatz, having a surprisingly difficult time this sea-

Have Ramblers Found 2nd Pitcher?

By DAVE HARRIS
Daily News Sports Writer

Fresh from a 3-1 decision over La Crosse Aquinas Tuesday, Winona Cotter faced another kind of challenge today. Calceonia Loretto tangled with the Ramblers in the second round of district Catholic high school baseball tournament play at Gabrych Park. Cotter Coach Jim Mullen named Steve Styba to pitch against Loretto. The righthanded ace pitched six shutout innings against Hollingsdale Holy Trinity Saturday in the first tournament game. SOPHOMORE pitcher Tom Angst went the distance Tuesday in hurling Cotter to victory over Aquinas. Angst apparently thus solved a problem for Coach Mullen: Finding a second pitcher. The young righthander gave up only three hits in his seven-inning stint. A fourth-inning double that dropped between left fielder Steve Christensen and centerfielder Don Kukowski led to Aquinas' only run. Mike Limberg lined out the double for Aquinas, but was forced to hold second when Steve Lathrop's slow grounder dribbled along the first base line, apparently a foul ball. Angst picked the ball up, but by that time first baseman Chuck Kulus also had come after the ball, and no one covered the bag. LIMBERG apparently twisted his left knee on a successful steal of third base. Lathrop stole second. Callahan, running for Limberg, scored as Angst made a bad throw to first on Ron Clements' grounder. Angst struck out the next batter and got the last to fly out to center to end the inning. Lathrop dying on third and Clements on first. Cotter had done its scoring in the previous inning off Aquinas pitcher Bob Luehne, who yielded a total of five hits in the game. Kukowski walked to open Cotter's half of the third. Angst sacrificed him to second, Bob Allaire walked and John Nett Jr. singled to score Kukowski. Chuck Kulus singled and drove Allaire home. After Christensen struck out, Luehne hit Bill Nougess' bat, and the ball bounced fair. When the dust settled, Nougess was safe on first, Nett had scored and Kulus was on third. The inning ended when Aquinas catcher Lathrop threw Nougess out at second on an attempted steal. Three Cotter errors, including two in the sixth, led to some dissatisfaction on Mullen's part. "Aquinas was just a little worse than we were," Mullen commented. Rathburn was safe to lead off the sixth when Cotter shortstop Mike Banicki and right fielder Christensen collided beneath a high pop fly. Lathrop hit a hard liner to third baseman Nett and was out. Then Nett made a bad throw on Clements' grounder for an error. A HARD HIT grounder to second baseman Steve Loshok turned into a double play ball to choke off the scoring threat. Angst struck out seven and walked out. Luehne struck out six and walked three for the visitors. Nougess went 2-for-2 at the plate to lead all batters. Cotter's season mark is 4-2. Aquinas dropped to 6-7.

Astros End Spin, Trip Los Angeles

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Los Angeles Dodgers are building a reputation as late-inning terrorists. That's when they break up no-hitters. But the light-hitting Dodgers probably stand a better chance of holding the National League lead than Houston's Ken Johnson does of breaking even on no-hit decisions. Johnson, who already has lost a no-hitter, came within eight outs of winning one indoors Tuesday night. He wound up with a ninth-inning shower and a 4-1, three-hit triumph over Los Angeles that ended a seven-game Astro-spin. The victory in Houston's domed stadium was the third against one loss for the veteran right-hander, who pitched a no-hit gem against Cincinnati last season but bowed 1-0 on errors. The near no-hitter was the second against the Dodgers in four days. Dick Ellsworth of the Chicago Cubs stymied them for 7 1/3 innings last Saturday only to lose 3-1 on the only LA hit, a three-run homer by pinch hitter Al Ferrara. The loss trimmed the Dodgers' league lead to 3½ games over the Cincinnati Reds, whose game with Pittsburgh was rained out. St. Louis drubbed Philadelphia 8-2 behind left-hander Ray Sadecki, Milwaukee nipped the New York Mets 4-3 and the Cubs downed San Francisco 7-6 in a game halted after 7½ innings because of darkness and rain. Ron Fairly doubled with one out in the seventh, ending Johnson's no-hit bid at Houston, and scored the Dodgers' run on a single by Jim Lefebvre. Lou Johnson followed with another single, the third and last hit off Johnson, who gave way to Woodeshick after walking Fairly with one out in the ninth. Bob Aspromonte knocked in two Astro runs with a third-inning single. John Bateman's sixth-inning home run padded the lead and Rusty Staub singled in the last run in the eighth. Sadecki gave up fourth-inning home runs to Richie Allen and Alex Johnson but allowed only three other hits while winning his first game in five decisions. It was the first complete game for the St. Louis southpaw, a 20-game winner in 1964 who had been knocked out twice in the first inning this spring. Home runs by Bill White and Tim McCarver paced the Cardinals' 11-hit attack.

9 Innings For Tony Is Victory

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves' pitchers are finding the nine-inning distance a long, long road, but Tony Cloninger is trying to show them it isn't too tough. Backed by a two-run homer by Rice Carty and a pair of run-producing hits by Frank Bolling, Cloninger survived a shaky start and finish as the Braves edged the New York Mets 4-3 Tuesday night before a crowd of 3,134 at County Stadium. Cloninger, who allowed 10 hits, earned his fifth victory in seven decisions with the help of a tremendous play by third baseman Eddie Mathews, who snared a hot grounder by Jim Jackson to start a game-ending double play after the Mets loaded the bases in the ninth. The complete game was Cloninger's fifth in eight starts this season. The entire Milwaukee staff has only eight in the club's 14-13 record. "I didn't have my usually good fast ball, so I had to battle them harder," Cloninger said. "When you don't have your best pitch, the only thing you can do is work harder. I had trouble loosening up at the start and when I saw the way my fast ball was working I tried to move the ball around more." A single by Joe Torre and Carty's first homer, a towering blast to the top row in the bleachers, tied the count at 2-2 in the Milwaukee half of the second. Carty, back in the lineup after treatment for a back injury, singled, went to second on an infield out and scored on Bolling's double to deep left in the fourth. A single by Mack Jones, a stolen base and Bolling's single produced the final run in the eighth. Singles by Joe Christopher and Smith and a double by Swoboda gave the Mets a run in the ninth. Cloninger then gave an intentional walk, told Manager Bobby Bragan he wasn't tired and ended the threat as Mathews grabbed Hiekkman's hard smash.

Lang's and Bakers' Local 390 have already begun to make shambles of the American League softball race.

The two teams ran their record to perfect 3-0 slates Tuesday and today hold two-game leads on the rest of the pack.

Lang's packed away a 20-4 victory over Oasis behind Tom Kulas' six-inning and Local 390 defeated Bisanz Stone 7-3 as Bob Larson pitched a four-hitter. In the other game, Fiberte climbed out of the cellar with an 8-7 win over Hof-Brau.

Kulas struck out seven and walked only two in beating Oasis. Henry Gerth led Lang's in hitting with a home run, double and single in five trips. Brian Trainor was 2-for-3 with a home run. Roger Munson paced Oasis with two doubles in two trips. Gene Garrison was 2-for-3.

JIM MEIER was 3-for-4 for Local 390 and Denny Landers and Russ Fisk each had two hits.

Don Schmanski gave up nine hits and walked three in taking the Fiberte victory. Gene Phlers and Roger Schultz had triples and Norm Johnson and Butch Benzelman two hits for the winners.

Kiki Williamson took the Hof-Brau loss. J. Nelson hit a single and home run and Gene Revor and Butch each had two hits.
