Confusion Over Wisconsin Court Ruling

Newswoman Is Killed By Viet Cong Mine

DA NANG, South Viet Nam (AP) — "She didn't seem like a girl at all."
When U.S. Marines said this of Dickey Chapelle, they meant it as a sincere compliment.
The American photographer-correspondent, a veteran of three wars, gave her life for her profession early today in the same way she had lived it, asking no privileges because she was a woman alone in a man's world.

Miss Chapelle, 47, died on the floor of a helicopter as it was taking her to a field hospital. She had been wounded in the neck when a mine booby trap exploded among Marines 64 miles south of Da Nang.

Argentine Plane Carrying 68 Lost

PANAMA (AP) — An Argentine air force transport with 68 cadets and crewmen aboard was missing today in Central America. When last heard from, one of its four engines was on fire.
The DC4, en route to the United States via El Salvador and Mexico, reported trouble Wednesday morning when it was 75 miles from Puerto Limon, on Costa Rica's Atlantic coast.

The plane vanished between the Canal Zone and El Salvador. U.S. planes were to continue the search today. One American plane braved bad weather Wednesday night to fly on the lookout for flares. Six U.S. Air Force planes searched in vain during daylight Wednesday.
The transport was one of two Argentine aircraft on a training flight. They took off early Wednesday from Panama for San Salvador, capital of El Salvador. They were to refuel there before continuing to Mexico and the United States.

The other plane, with cadet commander Brig. Benigno H. Andrada aboard, arrived safely. The two planes had landed in the Canal Zone Tuesday from Lima, Peru.

36 Cuban Refugees Feared Lost

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — The Mexican navy searched today for 36 Cuban refugees feared drowned off the Mexican coast after their fishing smack cracked up on the reefs.

As hope of finding them alive dwindled, the Cuban government's order to halt the exodus of small boats from Cuba to Florida, was in effect.
The Ministry of the Interior said the action — effective at noon Wednesday — was taken due to bad weather and an imminent agreement between the United States and Cuba for an orderly airlift of refugees.

U.S. Coast Guard cutters braved 28-foot swells in the Florida Straits to search for two refugee boats long overdue at Key West from Camaricoa, the port emigrants must use.

The straits, which separate Cuba from Florida, were dotted with empty boats left behind when the Coast Guard transferred refugees to its cutters.

1st Cavalry Mopping Up Near Plei Me

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A company of U.S. 1st Division air cavalrymen ambushed a column of North Vietnamese regulars near the Cambodian frontier Wednesday night and then stood off four counter-attacks with the help of airlifted reinforcements, participants said today.

At least 20 of the North Vietnamese were reported killed as they hiked talking and laughing on the last three-mile stretch of a jungle trail leading into Cambodia, which has repeatedly denied Saigon charges it is a haven of the Communist forces.

A U.S. spokesman said American casualties were light. There was no word on what losses the North Vietnamese may have suffered later in the action, which they broke off after helicopters opened up on them with rockets.

One helicopter was shot down, but the four-man crew reached American lines safely. The ambush was staged 12 miles south of Duc Co and 18 miles west of the Special Forces camp at Plei Me, which the Viet Cong besieged for a week last month.

In the air war, another U.S. fighter-bomber was shot down over North Viet Nam and the pilot was presumed killed. U.S. B52 bombers from Guam pounded a Communist storage area 30 miles northwest of Saigon for the third successive day.

An American newswoman, photographer-correspondent Dickey Chapelle, 47, was killed by a mine booby trap during a U.S. Marine patrol 64 miles south of Da Nang. She was the first newswoman and the third member of the press killed in the Viet Nam war.

Two rifle platoons—about 80 men—sprang the ambush only 3 miles from the Cambodian border. The fighting lasted three hours, and the Americans suffered 11 light casualties, the spokesman said.

Other 1st Cavalry units sweeping the area killed four Viet Cong and found 37 enemy bodies, believed to have been killed by U.S. air attacks during the siege of Plei Me.

In the Mekong Delta, the Viet Cong penetrated an outpost 45 miles southwest of Saigon and inflicted moderate casualties on a force of about 150 South Vietnamese rangers, the spokesman said.

Another Vietnamese unit clashed sharply with a Viet Cong platoon near Can Tho, 80 miles southwest of the capital, and reported 15 guerrillas killed. No government losses were reported.

Princess Margaret Flying Atlantic for U.S. Visit

LONDON (AP) — Princess Margaret left for her first visit to the United States today after two false alarms.

The British jetliner taking Queen Elizabeth's 35-year-old sister to America was delayed 17 minutes by an anonymous telephone caller who said strychnine missing from a warehouse at London airport had been put in the drinking water on Margaret's plane.

Security men drained the water supply on the plane and refilled the tanks. Airline officials discovered Wednesday that a box of 35 pounds of strychnine nitrate being shipped from India to a warehouse was missing from a warehouse. Police said they believed it had been stolen.

Wednesday night another anonymous caller telephoned the airport and said an attempt would be made to bring down the royal flight "either by a bomb or other dubious methods."

A search of the plane, a regular British Overseas Airways Corp. airliner, revealed nothing suspicious. The plane was tightly guarded until takeoff.

The princess was accompanied by her husband, Lord Snowdon; her lady-in-waiting, Lady Elizabeth Cavendish, and her private secretary, Maj. Francis Legh.

For the flight, Margaret wore a coat of multicolored pastels with a matching high-crowned hat. Her husband had on a dark suit and a gray overcoat.

Among those who saw the royal couple off at London airport were the Earl of Westmoreland, the Queen's lord-in-waiting, who said farewell on behalf of the monarch; and U.S. Ambassador David Bruce and his wife.

The princess, 35, was scheduled to land for 90 minutes at New York's John F. Kennedy Airport and then fly on to San Francisco, arriving there about 9 p.m. EST.

Margaret's three-week tour will include visits to San Francisco, Los Angeles, the Arizona ranch of former Ambassador Lewis W. Douglas, Washington and New York.

An informant said the fun-loving princess and her husband will try to break away from the usual formalities of royal tours during the trip.

"For this reason several days have been left completely free," he said.

Lord Snowdon visited the United States before he was married. Margaret's only trip to North America was a visit to Canada in 1958.

Justices Hold Attorneys Can't Issue Warrants

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — One court was shut down, two youths accused of murder were freed, and confusion swirled in legal circles today after a Wisconsin Supreme Court decision stripping district attorneys of the power to issue warrants.

The landmark ruling, handed down in a Milwaukee paternity case and largely overlooked for nearly 24 hours, threatened to unlock a Pandora's box of courtroom problems.

The court decided Tuesday that the 20-year system of district attorneys authorizing arrest warrants did not meet judicial standards. It said warrants should be issued only by a "neutral, deliberate and impartial magistrate."

The apparent requirement that warrants be issued only by judges prompted Milwaukee County John Krueger to close his court Wednesday and postpone all proceedings until the issue is clarified.

Milwaukee County Judge F. Ryan Duffy dismissed, at least temporarily, third degree murder charges contained in a warrant against Odell B. Young, 18, and Eugene Rogers, 16, accused in the fatal beating of a Milwaukee man as he walked home from a tavern at night.

An abortion charge against another defendant was dropped by Milwaukee County Judge Christ T. Seraphim after attorneys questioned the validity of the arrest warrant.

Dodge County Dist. Atty. John P. Kaiser of Juneau, president of the Wisconsin District Attorneys Association, said charges dismissed because of improper warrants could be filed again. Kaiser, who has called a meeting of the association's executive committee with Asst. Atty. Gen. William Platz in Madison next Wednesday, said he understood from published reports the decision would apparently not affect previous convictions.

Kaiser noted the language of the decision, as reported publicly, required warrants to be issued by a neutral, deliberate and impartial magistrate "in the future."

However, it is considered likely that at least one test case will reach the State Supreme Court eventually to determine the legality of a conviction following an arrest on a district attorney's warrant.

The court said in its ruling in Simpson vs. White, in which a warrant was issued for a person accused in a paternity case, that:

"We must determine whether a district attorney is the equivalent of a neutral and detached magistrate who may constitutionally be empowered to authorize the issuance of the warrant. Our conclusion is that he is not."

As a result, prosecutors were trekking before judges Wednesday to seek proper warrants. One court commissioner issued enough time to review 2 other arrest requests.

He noted the county spent $10 million a year on its courts and public safety and snapped, "We're not running a popcorn stand here."

House Probers Impatient With Klan Answers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Members of the House Committee on Un-American Activities are beginning to show some impatience with the string of refusals to answer that they are getting from Ku Klux Klan leaders.

"Frankly I don't think you look very good to the American people coming here and taking the Fifth," Rep. Joe E. Pool, D-Tex., told Charles Bartlett of Jonesboro, Ga., Wednesday.

Bartlett, 38, a bulldozer operator, was identified as the grand klorko, or inner guard, of the Georgia Klan and a Klan instructor in the use of dynamite bombs, karate, judo and guerrilla warfare. Like practically all the other Klan witnesses, Bartlett declined to answer any questions on Fifth Amendment and other grounds.

LBJ Signs Farm Bill, Plans Study

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson announced today for "the most thorough study ever conducted" of federal farm programs after signing into law a four-year omnibus agriculture bill affecting most major commodities.

Johnson just got under the wire in signing the measure — one of the major bills of the 1965 Congress and one carrying an estimated $4-billion price tag for the 1966 crop year.

The President's action was announced Wednesday night by the Texas White House shortly after 11 p.m. Had he waited until after midnight, the legislation would have died by pocket veto.

Issuing a 1,500-word statement on his action, Johnson hailed the new law as establishing "a farm policy geared to growth" and one opening a new chapter "in the miraculous story of American farming."

The chief executive said the legislation, with major innovations affecting wheat and cotton growers and dairy farmers, marks a milestone.

"Yet," he said, "all of this can be — and should be — only a beginning."

Then he announced establishment of a National Advisory Commission on Food and Fiber which will "construct the most thorough study ever conducted of the effects of our agricultural policies on the performance of our economy and on our foreign relations."

The commission, to be headed by Dean Sherwood Berg of the school of agriculture at the University of Minnesota, will report to the President within 18 months.

Said Johnson:

"I am asking this commission to make a penetrating and long-range appraisal of our agricultural and related foreign trade policies. This commission will undertake this review in terms of the national interest, the welfare of our rural Americans, and the well-being of our farmers, the needs of our workers and the interests of our consumers."

Simultaneously, Johnson announced establishment of a committee on food and fiber to be headed by Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman.

Magnusson Asks To Continue Work

ST. PAUL (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert Mattson says he might have an answer today for Insurance Commissioner Cyrus Magnusson, who seeks to be assigned as "rehabilitator" of a St. Paul firm, National Family Insurance Co.

National Family lost at least $150,000 in the collapse of American Allied Insurance Co. Commissioner Magnusson is among 17 men indicted by a federal grand jury on fraud charges stemming from American Allied affairs.

There was speculation Mattson was very unlikely to accept Magnusson's offer regarding National Family.

Magnusson asked the attorney general to go into district court to have the commissioner named rehabilitator. Magnusson said he feels National Family is in such a condition "that further transaction of business will be hazardous to its policyholders and creditors."

Mattson said National Family bought a re-insurance contract from American Allied on the strength of a recommendation from Magnusson.

Gov. Karl Rolvaag and Mattson announced earlier this week that legal means are being investigated to remove Magnusson from office.

The attorney general denied reports Thursday that Magnusson might be suspended pending the outcome of the removal hearing. Mattson said Rolvaag's charges, accusing Magnusson of not carrying out duties of his office, will be filed after the governor returns from Washington tonight.

Mattson, in a report Tuesday, said Magnusson had not regulated the insurance network of the Phillip Kitzler family of Chicago, owners of American Allied. The report said the public was injured when the Kitzlers drained company funds.

Kitzler and his two sons, like Magnusson, were indicted by the grand jury.

Magnusson said Wednesday the attorney general's report "tells only one side of the story."

War Being Run With "Energy, Resolve" — LBJ

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — The Texas White House said today President Johnson is satisfied that the government and people in Saigon are prosecuting the Viet Nam war "with energy and resolve."

Press secretary Bill D. Moyers was asked about a published report the Saigon government lacked cohesiveness and determination.

"I don't believe the President shares that opinion," Moyers said. "He and his senior advisers feel that the situation in Saigon is encouraging, and that the people of Saigon as well as the government of Saigon are prosecuting the war against the rebels with energy and resolve."

Colder Air Won't Stay; 60 on Friday

The present cool wave moving across Southeastern Minnesota and Western Wisconsin will not be as severe or of as long duration as first expected.

After dipping to a low of 29 this morning, the thermometer was expected to rise to 35 by mid-afternoon and drop no lower than between 32-36 tonight.

MOSTLY fair and warmer tonight and Friday, said the weatherman, predicting a high of 60 Friday. Saturday, he said, will be mostly fair with little change in temperature.

Today's 28 reading has been equaled several times, this fall; the mercury dropped to 27 on Sept. 29 for the season's low.

The temperature rose to 68 Wednesday afternoon. The reading at noon today was 47. This contrasts with a high of 76 a year ago today and a low of 52. On that day .74 of an inch of rain fell. Alltime high for Nov. 4 was 68 in 1895 and the low for the day 7 in 1951. The mean for the past 24 hours was 48. Normal for this time of the year is 42.

Cold weather gripped Northern Minnesota today with the temperature dropping to 15 at Bemidji, 16 at Brainerd and 19 at International Falls.

Rochester had a low of 25 after a high of 65 Wednesday and La Crosse posted readings of 26 and 68 for the same times. At Fargo, N. D., the morning low was 16.

A quick shift in the wind from southwest to northwest meant a sudden drop in temperatures throughout WISCONSIN Wednesday.

The mercury had climbed all the way to 70 at Racine, Elloit and Lone Rock before the surge of cold air hit the state. Maximums were 15 to 20 degrees above normal during the day.

Milwaukee and Burlington had 69, Green Bay 68, Madison and Wausau 66, and Eau Claire 65, Park Falls 64, and Superior 65.

But during the night, a chilling low of 23 degrees was recorded at Superior and Eau Claire. Park Falls had 25, Madison 26, Wausau 27, Lone Rock 28, Green Bay 29, Racine 33, Milwaukee 36 and Beloit 37.

Gusts of wind up to 40 miles per hour accompanied the shift in the wind direction late Wednesday.

Skies continued generally clear today.

ABERDEEN, S. D., had the national low of 14 degrees early this morning and Gila Bend, Ariz., set the high of 91 Wednesday.

Galesville Well Shaft Runs Through Granite

GALESVILLE, Wis. (Special) — A water extension project has begun here.

An additional well has been drilled on land purchased by the city from Leon and Douglas Saca. It is about 200 feet from Highway 35, across the road from the Schilling Electric plant. Some difficulty was encountered in drilling the 448-foot well as a shelf of granite was struck before water was reached. A flow of 300 gallons per minute is desired. Mayor Ralph Myhre said much more than the required amount may be obtained.

A pump house will be constructed of concrete blocks. It will include a meter testing room.

Cost of the improvement is about $116,000.

Reinke Becomes Minnesota City Mayor by Lot

MINNESOTA CITY, Minn. — With the flip of a silver dollar, John Reinke Jr. was declared elected mayor of Minnesota City Wednesday night.

The tie between Reinke and Glenn Allemann, each of whom had received 35 votes in the election Tuesday, was broken by lot in accordance with law following a canvass of the votes.

Allemann is incumbent mayor but did not file. No one else had filed either. Reinke's name was announced as a write-in candidate Monday. Seventy-one votes were cast. One was blank.

The new mayor will take office Jan. 1.

Chief Approves Route of March

Police Chief James W. McCabe said today that he had approved the students' march route Saturday.

Stephen Nekola, St. Mary's senior, told Chief McCabe that his marchers probably will walk four abreast east on Gilmore Avenue to Villa Street where they will be joined by a contingent from the College of Saint Teresa.

The combined group will continue east on Gilmore Avenue to Mark Street, east on Mark to Main Street and north on Main to Sanborn Street where they will be joined by a Winona State College group.

Demonstrators from the three colleges will proceed north on Main Street to the park.

The marchers will walk in the street once they get into the city proper but have promised not to obstruct traffic, Chief McCabe said. They will have a police escort to insure their safety from traffic, he added.

Conferences Set For Gale-Etrick District Schools

GALESVILLE, Wis. (Special) — Administrators of Gale-Etrick School District announced that both elementary and high school parent-teacher conferences will be held Monday and Tuesday.

Planning the schedules are Robert Howard, superintendent, and Clayton Olson, elementary supervisor.

All pupils will be dismissed at noon on the two days. No hot lunches will be served. The Parent-Teacher associations will serve refreshments in their respective schools both afternoons of conference days. Literature will be distributed. American Education week posters, made in art classes, will be displayed in stores and public places both in Galesville and Etrick. The annual book fair of the Galesville elementary school will be conducted throughout the week.

An educational readers service will display a selection of books for children. Parents and children may purchase or order any of the books on display.

Representatives of the Galesville PTA will receive new members and will collect membership fees for the current year. High school teachers will be available for conferences Monday and Tuesday from 1 to 4:30 and from 7 to 9 p.m.

In addition to observing American Education Week Nov. 7 to 13, pupils and teachers of the Etrick school will present a special Veterans Day program Nov. 11 at 11 a.m. The public is invited.

While parents may visit the schools at any time, Howard and Olson hope that special effort will be made to come during American Education Week.

Children's progress reports for the first quarter will be issued to elementary children's parents. Parents unable to meet the schedules may confer with teachers at another time, perhaps in the evening.

OPERATOR AT ETRICK

ETTRICK, Wis. (Special) — Wayne Trux will be the new operator of the Wayne Erickson service station on Highway 53, west of the village.

Tri-College Students To Collect Toys Again

Collection of toys in usable condition, or in need of renovation, for distribution at Christmas to needy children will be undertaken again this year by the Tri-College Action Group as a "Toys for Toys" project.

An appeal for contribution of toys is being made by the Christmas Bureau of the Council of Social Agencies in support of the program by the college group which will be similar to the "Making Christmas Merry" project of the 1964 season.

Persons with toys to contribute may bring them at any time prior to Thanksgiving to the office of Mrs. Lawrence Breitbach in Room 10 at City Hall.

Mrs. Breitbach is the chairman of the Christmas Bureau which serves as a clearing house for all Christmas giving through schools, churches, colleges, individuals and other interested groups — so that duplication can be avoided — and works closely with clearance on all names submitted to the Good-fellows organization.

The college group plans to renovate used toys and distribute them at a party for children at St. Mary's College just before the Christmas holidays.

Directing preparations on the three college campuses are Richard Hinterberger, St. Mary's; Nancy Kratch of the Newman Club at Winona State and Christine Wroblewski Saint Teresa.

Jaycee Panel Urges Manager Type for City

Problems of city government in Winona are those of form, not personnel, Winona Jaycee speakers said Wednesday evening at a meeting of the Winona Athletic Club.

The city is trying to meet 20th Century problems with government designed for the 19th Century, a three-man discussion group stated. On the speaking panel were Herbert Pefer, David Peplinski and Michael Moore, members of the Jaycee speakers bureau.

According to speakers, the council-manager plan of city government would be the most effective for the city. Under this plan voters elect aldermen who are responsible for policies of government. The council appoints — and may remove at any time — a professionally trained manager who is in general charge of administration.

Enforcement of ordinances and codes, personnel administration and control of budgets and expenditures would be responsibilities of such a manager, they explained.

Trends are toward this form of city government, speakers stated, with few cities moving toward the weak mayor-council system prevailing here.

Schools, labor unions and public corporations usually hire trained administrators to carry out policies laid down by elected boards, the speakers maintained. Therefore, they said, a city — whose operations are no less complex — also should adopt this form of professional management.

Blair Nursing Home Delayed Until Spring

BLAIR, Wis. (Special) — Construction of the Blair Nursing home was deferred until spring by the Blair Common Council Monday night.

By ballot, the six aldermen agreed that the city negotiate with a Twin cities architect-builder for construction of the 61-bed facility.

COUNCILMEN heard two representatives of the building firm discuss the merits of building in winter or waiting until spring. They also heard recommendations from a Twin Cities bonding firm. It pointed out that revenue bonds are now selling at a relatively high interest rate.

The council and the nursing home corporation voted for construction of a flat-top roof at a possible saving of $7,000 over a single type.

Other activity found the group taking another step beyond its planned expenditures in the current water system renovation project by agreeing to lay new water mains on South Knutson Street between Taft and Olson.

This is the second extension since the project was approved by a referendum a year ago.

MAYOR AMOS Kolve appointed a council construction committee to handle the nursing home project. Members are Rudolph Anderson, Donald Johnson, and Donald Stanford. Appointed to the finance committee were C. B. Immell, Duane Johnson and James Davis.

Councilmen agreed to a water line easement and holding tank site for the iron removal plant backwash tank on the Anderson Bros. Mill property for the sum of $100.

Wabasha Co. Crash

WABASHA, Minn. (Special) — A 20-year-old Hammond man whose borrowed pickup went out of control 150 feet and rolled over Tuesday at 11 p.m. escaped injury. James King was driving one-half mile east of Zumbro Falls on Wabasha County Road 68 when he apparently went to sleep. The vehicle, owned by Howard Kennedy, Hammond, was completely off the highway for 25 feet before it rolled over twice and landed upright in the Zumbro River. Deputy Everett Lorenz charged him with careless driving. He will appear in municipal court later this week.

ARNOLD Thorpe, Blair, police officer hired by the club on dance nights, and Mr. Holtan also were witnesses. The tax department representatives remain unidentified because of the nature of their work.

The case opened at 10 a.m. and ended at 4 p.m. Drawn on the jury were: Gerhart Hammer, and Melvin Gilbertson, Town of Unity; Floyd Dahl, Whitehall; Lyle Anderson, Blair; John Briggs, Etrick; Eddie Anderson, Osseo; Arnold Gunderson, Strum; Mrs. Keith Anderson, Eleva; Chester Everson, Town of Pigeon, and Mrs. Robert Byrne, Town of Gale.

City Census Begins Tonight

Census takers will start this evening on a citywide population count that could have important results for Winona.

For city officials, it means the chips are down. The city is, in effect, betting about $5,310 that the special census will show an increase of 5 percent or more in city population since 1960. This is about 1,250 people.

IF THE rise has occurred—and officials believe it has —

Winona will reap an additional $19,000 or more in state liquor and cigarette tax apportionments over the next five years.

Present apportionments are figured on the basis of 1960 population.

On the other hand, if the head count shows a 5 percent rise has not occurred, apportionments stay the same until the next regular federal census in 1970.

Local residents will make the canvass under direction of federal Census Bureau officials.

An orientation course is being held this afternoon at City Hall for 39 persons hired to conduct the count.

Crew leaders will be: Mrs. Gerald Masysga, 1018 W. Wabasha St.; Mrs. R. H. McCluer, 527 Johnson St., and Mrs. David Sauer, 363 E. Broadway. Named clerk was Mrs. George Hoepfner, 428 W. King St. Hiring of 35 enumerators was still uncompleted at noon.

THE CENSUS will be simple but thorough, said Sigurd Dahlen, of the Bureau of Census St. Paul office. Dahlen and John Rundle are here to direct the operation, whose completion will require slightly more than a week.

"It's very important that everyone be counted," Dahlen said. "Winona must make that five percent increase or it's out the $5,310 in costs."

"If we miss a few here and there, it can spell the difference. We need full cooperation of the public. College students living here will be counted, for example, and it's highly necessary that they be counted. Many of them room in private dwellings all over the city, so we have to be sure none of these is overlooked."

"We realize Winona is not one of these mushrooming big-city suburbs with a fantastic growth rate, so each individual is important in the count. Some cities have had special censuses and failed to show the required increase. Among these are Clinton, Iowa, and Waseca, Minn."

"ALL information we take is fully confidential. No city or state or federal agency can have access to this information. We always say 'The only one who can find out anything from the Census Bureau about you is you.'"

All enumerators will wear red, white and blue badges. They will ask each individual's name, sex, race, year of birth and relationship to the head of the household. For Civil Defense purposes two other questions are included: Is the house a one- or two-family dwelling? and does it have a basement?

Students living in college dormitories will be listed from information available at registrars' offices and will not be interviewed individually. Cross-checks will be made to aid in listing those living off campuses.

Arcadia Boy Killed In Hunting Accident

ARCADIA, Wis. (Special) — A 9-year-old Arcadia boy was dead on arrival at St. Joseph's Hospital of a ruptured femoral artery about 3 p.m. Wednesday. He had been shot with a 410 gauge bolt action shotgun.

Officers still are investigating who fired the shot causing the death of Joseph Sobotta, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sobotta.

THE ACCIDENT happened on wooded hillside east of the East Side Mill near Old Arcadia.

Joey, as he was called, was on his way to attend a Cub Scout meeting at the home of the den mother, Mrs. Al Woychik, living near Highway 95 east of the East Arcadia crossroads and near the mill. The Cubs, newly organized, were to meet at 4 p.m.

He stopped to see Douglas Sonsalla, a cousin, son of Daniel Sonsalla, living in the area.

Reportedly a shot was heard in the area at 2:15 p.m. At 2:50 p.m. Douglas ran to John Olson, mill manager, and told him someone was hurt on the hill.

Olson called Ed Kaiser, chief of police, who brought an ambulance. They found the boy on the hill. He was still alive, but was dead on arrival at the hospital, his doctor said. The shot was in the lower abdomen on the left side.

Damage $300 In Collision On Johnson St.

A two-car collision today at 8:50 a.m. at West 2nd and Johnson streets caused $150 damage to each vehicle, police reported.

James W. Erwin, Menomonie, Wis., was driving north on Johnson Street; Loren L. Jaekls, 23, Foley, Minn., was driving east on 2nd Street.

Damage was to the left side of the Erwin car and to the left front of the Jaekls vehicle, Patrolman Paul Kapustik said.

THE SHOT came from a gun belonging to Daniel Sonsalla, father of Douglas. Previously it was in the residence of Daniel's father, Ernest, who also lives near the mill, and had been placed against the wall in the stairway leading to the basement. It was found on the hill.

Trempealeau County Coroner J. E. Garaghan said at 1 p.m. today he and Sheriff Eugene Bjold still were investigating.

JOEY was born here Jan. 3, 1956, to Ralph and Angeline Woychik Sobotta. He was a Mass server at St. Stanislaus Catholic Church and in fourth grade at the school, which had been dismissed for Wednesday afternoon.

Survivors are: His parents; four sisters, Mrs. Kenneth (Judy) White, Joan, 15, Jane, 12, and Joy, 2, all of Arcadia; one brother, Jeffrey, 5, and his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Mary Woychik, Arcadia. One brother, Jack, died in a car accident in Arcadia in 1962, the day before he was to graduate from high school.

Funeral services will be Saturday at 9:30 a.m. at St. Stanislaus Catholic Church, the Very Rev. Joseph Andrzejewski officiating. Burial will be in the church cemetery.

The Rosary will be said at 7:30, 8 and 8:30 p.m. today and Friday at Killian Funeral Home.

Strange Lights Seen at Stockton

STOCKTON, Minn. — Nearly 10 Stockton residents saw strange lights in the sky Wednesday about 6:30 p.m.

Among them were Mrs. Bernard Mullen and her daughter, Coleen, who spotted the object when they were driving home from Winona, over Stockton hill.

Two bright lights moved silently and rapidly from the east, to the north and then to the west.

Stocktonites watched while the lights remained stationary in the west for about five minutes. The twin white lights were side by side, flashing on and off, on and off.

Suddenly they disappeared.

Mazeppa Man Fined In Wabasha Court For Soybean Thefts

WABASHA, Minn. (Special) — A Mazeppa man, Martin Schultz, was arrested on three counts of theft of soybeans from Vernon Siems, Omer Ross and Gordon Moore, Mazeppa farmers, and pleaded guilty in municipal court before Judge Kenneth Kalbrenner Tuesday.

He was sentenced to pay a fine of $100 on each theft. He made restitution and paid the fines plus costs.

Deputy Everett Lorenz, by contacting elevators and tracing tire tracks at the farms, uncovered the thief, who took 55 and 39 bushels of soybeans from two of the farms Oct. 30 and 31 bushels the Siems place Oct. 19, 1964.

Galesville Seeks 200 Blood Donors

GALESVILLE, Wis. (Special) — Eight donors will be accommodated approximately every 15 minutes when the Red Cross bloodmobile is set up in the dining room of St. Mary's Catholic Church here Nov. 22 from 1 to 7 p.m.

Donors will be notified when they are to be at the center. All donors will be accepted, but advance registration will assure a more methodical operation. Especially needed are O-negative and A-negative blood.

The quota is 150 pints. To secure this amount, more than 200 donors should be registered, according to Mrs. Lu Twesme, chairman. Recruiters are working in the city and the surrounding area. Arrangements are being made by Mrs. Twesme, Mrs. Clarence Brown, Mrs. E. P. Rohde, Mrs. Virgil Beer, Mrs. John Quinn, and Mrs. Arthur Klindschy.

For the first time in Trempealeau County the new plastic packs will be used, dispensing with the familiar glass bottles, said Ed Ausderauer, Whitehall, county blood chairman.

Telephone appointments by prospective donors may be made with any of the committee members. Donor registration cards may be left at the Hanson drug store not later than Nov. 15.

It Happened Last Night Doris Day Getting 'Hello Dolly' Role

By EARL WILSON
NEW YORK — How'd you feel about Doris Day stealing the "Hello, Dolly!" movie role from Carol Channing and Ginger Rogers? She talk at 20th in Hollywood is that Doris'll get it because she has a B.O. (Box Office) ... Richard Burton'll grab $1,000,000 for himself alone in a movie now planned for late '66, without Liz Taylor, with Julie Andrews or Julie Christie of "Darling" as his leading lady ... Sukarno told Cindy Adams, who wrote his life story, he should dedicate it of his wife, but she said, "You wouldn't have room on the page." (He has four).

On Election Day in New York bars are closed, but the Hippies all know (as Billy Reed of the Little Club pointed out) they could get buzzed at lunch or dinner just ordering dinner dishes with wine ingredients: fresh fruit with kirsch, green turtle soup with sherry, chicken hash with sherry, beef in burgundy, veal scallopini with Marsala wine, coq au vin, crepes suzette, cherries jubilee, cafe d'iable, cafe brulot or Irish coffee. They were able to get liquor without liquor.

Natalie Wood and Ladislav Blazek flew up from Biloxi where she's filming "This Property is Condemned" and went to Arthur — where the rumor cracked that she was with "her husband." Nope, "isn't so." Natalie told me that she and her Venezuelan fiance, who postponed their wedding, have still not picked a date and are just "going together."

COMEDIAN JOE E. Lewis sent flowers to Sophie Tucker at Mt. Sinai Hospital with a note saying, "I'd come to visit you but the hospital doesn't have a liquor license."

The gossip about celebrities' abnormalities is now so confusing that there's talk of publishing a book titled, "Who's What." For example, they say of one very well-known woman cafe personality "She's a real regular guy."

The politician's inability to do anything but double-talk has impressed Joey Adams, the comedian, who was reminded of a story of a judge hearing a divorce case. The wife said "My husband lied to me, cheated on me, stole from me, and I'm entitled to alimony." The judge said, "You're right." The husband retorted: "She kept a miserable house, was extravagant, went out with other men, and isn't entitled to alimony." The judge said, "You're right." His bailiff said, "Judge, they can't both be right." The judge said to him, "You know, you're right, too."

I THANK YOU all for your big response to my National "Be-Kind-to-Your-Wife" Week idea. It is going to be observed by radio and TV stations and in some large department stores. The strange part of this movement is that quite a number of wives don't have any complaints against their husbands and want them just to continue being as kind as they have been in the past. (The wives who wrote this way about their husbands have mostly been married for ... oh ... five or six months).

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Producer David Merrick was asked if he'd been nervous during his Viet Nam visit, and he answered: "I've faced 40 Broadway first nights — nothing frightens me!" WISH I'D SAID THAT: A fellow noted that his wife spends money like water: "And lately they've both been disappearing."

EARL'S PEARLS: Why try to understand a sex that's too proud to do housework for $30 a week, but will get married and do it for nothing. — Harry Marsh.

"Teen-agers, says Paul Anka, "give U.S. industry a boost. They buy more records, more clothing, more food — in fact, more of everything except haircuts." ... That's earl, brother.

Champion Gets Deer

It is one thing to win tournaments, another to get a deer. Gary Fratzke, 15, 878 E. Broadway, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Fratzke, demonstrated that he can do both when he got the yearling doe in the picture with the "first arrow in the Black River Falls area recently. It was his first time hunting this fall.

Gary is Winona Archers Club champion, two-year champion at the Necedah Broadhead shoot and the West Central Field Archery League's junior champion. All the Fratzke family are bowhunters. Three of them have gotten deer this season in nearby Wisconsin.

Your Heart And Your Deer With the deer seasons in Minnesota and Wisconsin almost here, the following article from a sporting arms company is timely. Deaths from heart attacks outrank firearm accidents in the field about three to one. The few precautions offered if put into use might save your life. Here is the article:

"How many hunters would think of going afieled with a gun that's been neglected, inadequately cared for, even abused? Not many. We clean our firearms faithfully, give them the best of care, make sure they will function properly when called upon.

"This is because we know that without proper attention and certain maintenance procedures, any gun will eventually stop working. It is why we take such good care of our guns, show them more concern than a mother does a new-born babe.

"Yet, how many hunters will give the slightest thought to their own physical condition to the question of whether age or lack of exercise have cut down their stamina, perhaps weakened their hearts?

"Statistics show that heart attacks kill more hunters than do firearms accidents — three times as many. A possible heart malfunction should be of more concern to the hunter than a gun malfunction. Apparently this is not so. Few sportsmen give their tickers half the attention they give their firearms.

"There are several ways of protecting yourself against a heart attack. Remember that you are no longer a college football star, nor are you fresh out of military service with a perfect physique. You've put on weight and you've slowed down more than you think. You need the kind of check-up your gun gets so frequently.

"A complete physical examination by your doctor is your best bet. He will tell you whether you can take on the rigors of another hunting season or whether you ought to sit this one out. If there are no danger signals, get in shape anyway by exercising.

"One suggestion is to hike through the area you intend to hunt. This will give you an idea of the exertion you will be subjected to. It will condition your body, familiarize you with the terrain and orient you as to where game is located.

"A year-round exercise program is the best way to get in shape but how many of us bother. The next best thing is to begin a daily program of simple, body-building exercises that will help prepare you for the season.

"If you're a war veteran you'll know the right exercises. They were dished out every morning for a half hour before breakfast. Many of us find extended walks or various outdoor chores more palatable and equally beneficial.

"Finally, be selective in the type of hunting gear and clothes you plan to equip yourself with. Wear lightweight but warm clothing, don't carry a gun that's too heavy and make sure your shoes or boots fit properly.

"If you're wise you'll take other precautions, such as taking time to rest in the field before you become exhausted, getting a good night's sleep, using moderation in eating and drinking, hunting with a companion, and getting help to drag out a deer. Taking care of your gun is important but if you don't take care of yourself as well, you may not live to use it."

Man Accused of Shooting Marshal Would Call LBJ

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — An International Falls, Minn., native accused of wounding a deputy U. S. marshal said in court Wednesday that President Johnson, Gov. Karl Rolvaag and numerous other top state and federal officials should be summoned to testify at the trial.

Robert D. Hodgdon, 31, is on trial in U. S. District Court on a charge of wounding Marshal Robert Allie.

Hodgdon claimed Johnson, Rolvaag, a member of the Minnesota Supreme Court, the Minnesota attorney general and some others should be called to answer "some very serious questions I have." The defendant's counsel, Douglas Hall, and Judge Gunnar H. Nordbye disagreed. Hodgdon testified he fired only one bullet at Allie, "as a warning." The shooting occurred last April when Allie and two other federal officers were attempting to arrest Hodgdon regarding a threat against a commissioner.

Democrats Hold Most N.Y. Posts Except Mayor

NEW YORK (AP) — Republican Mayor-elect John P. Lindsay faces lopsided Democratic control in New York's City Hall, but he has President Johnson's assurance of federal help for the problem-plagued city. The President wired his congratulations to Lindsay for his victory. He said: "The problems of our largest city must be tackled with resolve and unfailing energy and without regard to party affiliation. We will do our best to see that city and federal officials work together to make New York a good place to live."

Johnson also sent a message to Lindsay's Democratic opponent, Abraham D. Beame, whom he had backed in the election. He told Beame that "your fellow Democrats are proud of the effort you made."

Returns from 5,090 of 5,088 election districts gave Lindsay 1,165,506, Beame 1,080,119 and William Buckley, 338,324. Lindsay, who swept to victory Tuesday despite 3-to-1 Democratic voter registration in the city, set to work within hours to take over the reins of office from Mayor Robert F. Wagner. He met with Wagner Wednesday to set up an "orderly and constructive" transfer of government. Lindsay becomes mayor Jan. 1.

Your Social Security

Q. I was divorced in 1962 after having been married for 28 years. At the time of divorce the court ordered that my husband continue to support me. He died in 1964 and I am now 63 years of age. Am I entitled to monthly benefits based on my former husband's social security account?

A. Yes, since you were married to him at least 20 years and he was either contributing to your support at the time of his death or obligated by a court to contribute, you could become entitled to monthly benefits on your former husband's account.

Q. I am 66 years old. My first husband died in 1960 and I remarried in 1963. My present husband is not old enough to receive social security payments. Is there any way that I could receive monthly benefits under the new social security law? I have never worked myself.

A. Yes, if you could have qualified for benefits as a widow and remarried after reaching age 60, you are eligible for whichever benefit is larger: Either one half the retirement benefit of your former husband or a wife's benefit based on the earnings of your present husband. Since you are not entitled to wife's benefit on your present husband because he is not receiving benefits himself, you may be entitled to benefits based on the earnings of your former husband. The key in this situation is that you remarried after reaching age 60.

Missile Shots Stop For Deer Season

WHITE SANDS MISSILE RANGE, N.M. (AP) — Spokesmen at this southern New Mexico missile range say all missile firings that might necessitate daytime use of an 804,000-acre safety impact area have been halted for the current deer season, ending Nov. 21.

The same action was taken last month in southeast Utah so hunters would be protected from falling boosters in the 271,000-acre booster impact area set aside for Athena rockets.

Open House Set At City Day Activity Center

An opportunity for the public to become acquainted with the program for retarded children offered at the Winona Day Activity Center will be afforded during an open house at the center Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday from 9:30 to 11 a.m. at Room 202 in Central Elementary School.

The day center is one of nearly 50 centers established in Minnesota serving three groups of retarded children:

- The severely retarded who are not eligible to attend classes in special education in the public schools.
- Young retarded children who require early training and may later attend special classes.
- The older retarded, some of whom may have attended special classes but cannot find employment and some of whom have never been in school.

SPECIAL classes in the public schools here develop the educable and trainable retarded children while the Day Activity Center provides services for the more severely retarded and their parents.

The program is varied and flexible with much of the learning taking place in fellowship and shared experiences at the center. Communication, courtesy and health are promoted as well as skills in handicraft and recreation. General knowledge is gained from trips and tours.

The Winona center is in its third year of operation with Mrs. James Cole this year's director. It is supported by the Winona County Association for Retarded Children, an agency of the Board of Winona County Commissioners and several local organizations. The state matches local funds.

MEMBERS of the center's board of directors are: Gary Rupperecht, chairman; Dr. Carroll Hopf, vice chairman; Mrs. Mary Crane, secretary; Miss Susan Steiner, treasurer; W. P. Werner, Dr. C. W. Rogers, Leo F. Murphy Jr.; Dr. Harold Rogge, Miss Margaret Driscoll, Mrs. John Tweedy, Mrs. Myron Findlay and Mrs. H. L. Harrington.

Volunteer service for the center is provided by students from local colleges, clubs and individuals. Free bowling is provided once a week.

Invitations to the open house have been sent to all supporting groups and the public is urged to attend.

Rotarians See Yukon Pictures

Pictures taken on a deluxe big game hunt in the Yukon in August were shown to the Rotary Club at Hotel Winona Wednesday.

Packing into the wilds of the Yukon, the hunters bagged a moose, three rams and one goat. It was a three-week pack train trip. Hunters were Stanley Hardt, Argan Johnson and Carlton Pingle.

David Brom, Cotter High School, and Douglas Ermanuel, Winona Senior High School, were introduced as student guests for the month.

A series of fireside meetings at members' homes will replace the club's regular luncheon next Wednesday. The meetings will be held at 8 p.m.

Mankato Hopes To Save Elk

MANKATO, Minn. (AP) — A "don't shoot Mabel" campaign is being organized here, lest the 700-pound female elk gets in the way of deer hunters.

Mabel is her own worst enemy. First, she fled the Mankato zoo during last April's floods. She remained in an area closed to hunters, however, but swam the Minnesota River recently into an area where there is a one-day shotgun season.

Charles Lowery, parks superintendent, remains hopeful. He says Mabel has many admirers hearabouts — including game wardens, farmers and hunters.

Zoo officials think Mabel may hoof it home soon, if she hears the November mating-season calls of the zoo's male elk.

Jurors Picked For Trial of Communism

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States opens its case against the Communist party today before 12 jurors who swear they've never heard, said or read a bad word about it.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Joseph Lowther was prepared to call upon a list of eight prosecution witnesses — including at least one who will testify he made himself available to the party to register with the government as required by law.

The absence of such testimony in the party's December 1962 trial cost the government a victory. The U.S. Court of Appeals, reversing the conviction and $120,000 fine, said the government had to prove such a volunteer was available.

The party is charged with failing to register with the government as a Soviet agent and could face a maximum fine of $230,000.

Lowther read the names of his witnesses to the prospective jurors Wednesday. He later identified all but one — Herbert Oscar Marriot — leading to speculation that Marriot is the "willing volunteer" the government needs to close the loophole that spelled defeat in the Court of Appeals.

When the panel of 37 prospective jurors was ushered in — with government workers already eliminated by general agreement — Judge William B. Jones posed some 30 questions to the group.

Those who stood in response were summoned to the bench for a private discussion with Jones and the opposing lawyers. Lowther for the government and Joseph Forer and John J. Abt for the Communists.

Alliance for Progress Becomes 2-Way Street

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Alliance for Progress is becoming a two-way street.

Latin Americans are contributing teachers, technical services, art exhibits, minerals, plants and other things to the United States.

And it is done without government financing at either end. The communities in Latin America and the United States are sharing the costs — and the benefits.

"The plan is what you might call grass roots cooperation between the peoples of Latin America and the United States, on a private enterprise, good neighbor basis," says James H. Boren, director of the U.S. Agency's partners program.

Boren's friends in the U.S. Agency for International Development, of which the alliance agency is a part, say Boren practically invented the partnership plan. Partnership programs now are under way between 26 states or communities in the United States and an equal number of areas in Latin America. Additional plans are in the formative stage.

For example, Delaware sent an eight-member team headed by former Gov. Elbert N. Carvel, to Panama. The team developed plans to provide equipment and manuals for Panamanian Boy Scouts and Girl Guides, funds for vocational training in Santiago, and financial aid for the purchase of nets and outboard motors by fishing cooperatives in San Carlos.

In return, Panama was asked to select three Panamanians to advise the Delaware Highway Department on seaside road construction, beach erosion control, and ways to eliminate mosquitoes.

Oregon sent a five-member team to Costa Rica to work out specific projects in advance of a campaign to obtain statewide public support for an exchange plan. Said Max Harriger, head of the Social Studies Division of the Oregon Department of Education and chairman of the team:

"This is not a Big Brother program under which we tell other people what to do. It is a mutual exchange between our people and those of other countries."

Boren, a noncareer man, formerly was a professor in Arlington (Tex.) State College and an administrative assistant to Sen. Ralph W. Yarborough, D-Tex. He was in Peru in 1961 and 1962 to help direct the AID operations in that country.

"I soon got the feeling the people in the communities of Peru wanted to do something effective to share their skills, experience and other things with the people of the United States," says Boren. "The idea of the partners plan possibly was born there, but actually the alliance charter, approved by 20 American republics, contemplates the active cooperation and participation at the citizen level, on a private basis. That is what is happening now, and the enthusiasm in all areas is something remarkable."

This year, little Costa Rica, in Central America, sent to Lane County in Oregon's Crow-Apple-gate School District a group of teachers who taught Spanish and worked with Spanish language teachers in 12 elementary and junior high schools. They lived with families of the region, spent half of each day teaching Spanish and history and sociology of their area, the other half in training.

"It was so successful that 40 school districts have expressed interest in a similar project for their schools next year," Boren said. The Costa Rican teachers spent three months, at a time when their schools were closed for yearly vacations, and the Oregon schools were open.

In Kentucky, the Louisville school system, and the state school authorities, have expressed interest in bringing in a group of teachers from Ecuador. Texas' private committee on the alliance partners is working on similar plans with Peruvians.

Miami University of Ohio wanted to train teachers in Portuguese. So the state of Parana, Brazil, sent up an expert teacher to work with high school teachers taking summer courses at the university.

From the State of Rio Grande do Sul, Brazil, the Indiana Department of Agriculture received seeds of an alfalfa-type legume plant which puts its roots down 40 feet to reach water. Specialists there are studying the possibilities of its adapting to rain-short areas in the United States.

From Bolivia, 10 agricultural students of high school age went to Utah last year to live with families in that state, and study U.S. farming methods.

High school students in Minas Gerais, Brazil, are sending samples of minerals from that state to a number of high schools in Colorado.

'Happy Hunting Ground' Now Commonplace

BACK IN 1807, a visitor to the North West Co.'s trading post on Leech Lake reported that "hunter's meat is scarce in this country." The fact is that the Indians of that era frequently endured the pangs of privation due to the scarcity of game. The early explorers found them a lean and hungry lot.

Strangely enough the supply of game upon which the Indian depended has greatly increased with the coming of civilization. The aborigines would be astonished with the number of deer that now roam the country they once called their own.

Because of the relentless crusade that the white man has waged against wolves and other predators the deer population has been growing in surprising fashion. A recent bulletin of the Wisconsin Conservation Commission notes that deer that once inhabited only the northern regions of that state are now seen in every part of Wisconsin. And their numbers appear to be increasing despite the heavy annual toll taken by hunters.

In 1964, during the nine-day hunting season, some 355,000 sportsmen shot 93,445 deer in our neighboring state. Bow and arrow hunters accounted for another 3,164. And more than 5,000 were accidentally killed by automobiles.

THIS WOULD SEEM to indicate that the "happy hunting ground" that the Indians dreamed of in the land beyond the setting sun has become a commonplace reality in the earthly world of their successors.

Milwaukee-Madison Freeway Completed

(The Milwaukee Journal)

IT IS MORE with relief than with gratification that drivers who frequently travel between Milwaukee and Madison note the completion of I-94 between the two cities. Built in bits and pieces, the 78-mile thoroughfare has been under construction for 10 years. It is being finished now only because Milwaukee County's willingness to borrow for its freeways makes state money available for use elsewhere.

How much this snail-like process cost in inconvenience to motorists, waste of motor fuel, wear and tear on vehicles, escalation of construction prices and human safety can only be guessed. The dedication ceremony was held near the scene of three accidents that claimed six lives in a single week last August.

IT CAN BE argued that available state fund and federal aids should have been concentrated on the Milwaukee-Madison route. There were pressing needs elsewhere in the state, however. The highway commission can do just so much.

Construction of the I roads and freeways that Wisconsin so badly needs could proceed in orderly and rapid fashion, to the great advantage of motorists and the state's economy, if Wisconsin had a highway bonding program under a dummy corporation. But the ambitious Project 66 proposed by Gov. Reynolds was rejected, and now the modest plan backed by both Republican Gov. Knowles and Democratic Lt. Gov. Lucey has been sidetracked in the legislature.

THE BONDING plan should be enacted. At the same time an effort to amend the state constitution should be set in motion so that Wisconsin can have an honest debt policy and not continue resorting to the expedient of dummy borrowing corporations.

Public Opinion Is Disillusioned

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Public opinion in America is slowly becoming disillusioned about the value of settlements forced under threat of strikes. For they are turning out to be not just a battle between employers and labor unions but often bring cruel hardships to workers who, weeks after a settlement, find themselves without jobs.

Plenty of news space is given to the happenings during a critical negotiation on the eve of a possible strike, but unfortunately the story of what happens in the weeks and months afterwards doesn't get widespread attention — mostly because it develops through fragmentary disclosures, as both unions and management are reluctant to comment on the ensuing events.

What has occurred, for instance, since the big crisis in steel last September, which was settled by presidential intervention? Steel inventories — piled up in anticipation of the strike — now are being absorbed. The index of production, based on the years 1957 through 1960, is down from 160.6 in April 1965 to 108.1. There is uncertainty as to how long the decline will continue, but the effects of the downward turn are conspicuous. Some of the so-called highest cost units are at a standstill and layoffs have been substantial, especially in the older steel areas. While skilled workers haven't been as much affected, the damage to the non-skilled is considerable.

MANY PRIVATE estimates by reporters who specialize in news of the steel industry indicate that employment of hourly workers is down about 15 percent since its peak last summer. There has been a lesser impact on salaried workers, as they are not readily replaced without a loss of training-time. The overall figure, however, for both hourly and salaried personnel is about 10 percent below the July level. In one plant in the Pittsburgh area, wage earners must have a seniority going back as far as 1948 in order to keep their jobs.

Another consequence of the settlement with the major steel companies has been an outbreak of strikes against the smaller producers of steel, who contend they cannot afford the high wage costs imposed by the recent contracts accepted by the larger companies. In five small companies alone at least 17,000 workers are idle.

FROM THE standpoint of earnings and the effects on individuals who have invested their savings in steel companies, a survey by "The Wall Street Journal" last week showed that, out of 23 companies studied, at least ten suffered serious declines from the third-quarter figure, though other segments of the national economy made gains.

There is no question but that the economic convulsions precipitated by major industrial conflicts will result in steadily rising price scales as the purchasing power of the dollar continues to go down. Meanwhile, foreign steel producers, with lower wage costs and lower prices to offer, are increasing their shipments to the United States.

What is the answer: Neither labor nor management has come up with any solution, and the government as an interested bystander prefers to do nothing remedial but to wait instead until the situation drifts into another crisis, when presumably pressure will be applied again without warrant of law.

CANDIDATES FOR high office in the steel union outdo each other in campaign promises. Indeed, they promised this year as much as $3 per hour in new wages and benefits for a three-year agreement as contrasted with what the companies considered the maximum — namely, 27 cents an hour.

Presidential intervention in this situation, therefore, was a restraining influence and helped to get the union leaders off the hook. But it means an ominous trend in the direction of government control unless voluntary action is taken by the rank and file of labor-union members. For only when they become better informed and vocal will they remove the danger to the free-enterprise system and to the growth of employment.

Top Brass Honors Rivers At Expense of Taxpayers

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Seldom have so many top brass flown in so many government planes to pay tribute to an alcoholic — all at the taxpayers' expense — as flew to Charleston, S. C., the other day.

Secretary of the Navy Paul Nitze flew a plush C-140 jet transport, carrying a load of admirals.

Deputy Secretary of Defense Cyrus Vance flew in another C-140 carrying Secretary of the Army Stephen Ailes, Secretary of the Air Force Harold Brown and a dazzling array of generals — again at the taxpayers' expense.

The Defense Department also furnished an older C-121 Constellation to fly to Charleston. This was not quite so plush, but it was only to fly congressmen. Admiral William Raborn, now chief of Central Intelligence, also made the trip to Charleston.

Reason for this pilgrimage was not to commemorate some of the courageous battles fought there by the North or South during the Civil War, but to dedicate a monument to Rep. Mendell Rivers, D-S.C.

IN THE House of Representatives, Rivers has long been famous for his love of the bottle. This has been a considerable embarrassment to his colleagues, especially on foreign junkets. Bethesda naval hospital knows him well. Many a time he has been brought there to "hew out."

Despite this, the top brass of the Pentagon flew to Charleston to participate in a ceremony in which Rivers took his place in life-size bronze alongside Gen. Pierre Gustave Toutant de Beauregard, heroic southern defender of Charleston.

The great heroes of the Civil War, Lee, Beauregard, Stonewall Jackson, had to await death before they were commemorated by grateful countrymen. But not the congressman from Charleston. Grateful businessmen who have benefited from the military bases Rivers has brought to the area, decided to rush history, and erect a noble bust of Rivers, mounted atop a solid, seven-foot granite shaft on which was once called route 52.

Route 52 is now called Rivers Avenue.

MRS. RIVERS cut the ribbon.

WASHINGTON CALLING

Life Orderly In Stockholm

By MARQUIS CHILDS

STOCKHOLM — The unchanging face of this handsome northern city with the thin October sun bringing out the rosy color of the Great Square Palace is a sharp contrast to a world in upheaval. The careful ordering of life at every level is the rule in this nation that puts a high premium on stability.

From a past vanished almost everywhere are the tokens of continuity that mean much to a people who treasure tradition. The widower King, who will soon be 83, is not in residence now. He is in Rome, incognito, as the Count of Gripsholm indulging in one of his greatest joys. That is to dig in the Etruscan ruins near Rome, for he is a passionate archaeologist who could rank as a professional.

When he is in Stockholm he visits at least once a week the new Museum of Asian Art containing distinguished collections put together by Swedish travelers over many years and he knows with a practiced eye how the bronzes and the ceramics of the ancient past are being assembled. Despite the loss of the heir to the throne many years ago in an airplane accident, the succession is assured. The King's grandson, Crown Prince Carl Gustav, will succeed him.

THE GOVERNMENT, too, is stable and the same party has been in power for 33 years. During World War II, and briefly at other times, the Social-Democrats have been in coalition with parties on the right. But while their margin is small the Laborites have exercised the real authority over a span of time that has seen the tides of change sweep away so much.

The Socialists won the last election on their proposal to expand the old age pension system raising the level to what is said to be the highest in the world. Eventually when the system is fully in force the citizen who retires at the age of 67 will receive a pension equivalent to about three-fourths of his average wage over the 15 best years of his working life. Nor is there any restriction on how much he may earn over and above his pension.

THIS IS the culmination of the Welfare state — Sweden's middle way — that has stirred so much debate not only here but around the world. It became an issue in the recent West German elections with Willy Brandt and his Social-Democrats saying they would follow the Swedish pattern if they came to power and bring cradle-to-the-grave security. The Christian Democrats, who won by a comfortable margin, replied that they wanted no more welfareism than Germany already has, which is considerable. Suicides, sin, drunkenness — these are the fruits of Sweden's welfareism — the overprotection of an overprotective state, critics say. No less distinguished a critic than former President Eisenhower took this line in a public attack based on a document that had been put in his hands. Visiting Stockholm later, he made a public apology.

In a typically Swedish pamphlet "For and Against the Welfare State," United Nations statistics are used to refute the charges. The U.N. figures on suicides for 1961 show Sweden eighth in the list of nations, with just under 17 suicides per 100,000 people. Hungary, Austria, Finland, Denmark, Japan, Switzerland, West Germany had higher rates. The pamphlet quotes an analysis by an American professor to show that if there is any correlation between welfareism and suicide it leads to a decrease in the rate.

ON THE CONSUMPTION of alcohol, the figures show that Sweden is eighth, with France in the lead and the United States fifth and West Germany fourth. When the restrictive system severely limiting the purchase of hard liquor and wines was removed 10 years ago, consumption went up sharply. But it has since leveled off to roughly the earlier rate. Measuring sin is difficult.

New Crisis in Indonesia Well Run by Army

By DON HUTH
JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — If your travel agent can't come up with any other intriguing suggestion, try a coup crisis in Indonesia.

It's well run by the army, with a minimum of inconveniences to the public during the day. At night there is no difficulty — the capital is locked up tight at 7 p.m.

Tour groups can catch a demonstration or the burning of some Communist headquarters almost daily. The time schedule varies.

A demonstration or burning is well organized. Troops are on hand to keep anyone from interfering with the demonstrators. They step in only if it looks as if someone will get hurt.

Americans and British will find a pleasant change in Jakarta. New signs appearing in the city do not read, "Down With Capitalism" and, "Crush the Imperialists and Neocolonialists."

The fences have been freshly painted with "Kill Aidit" and "Crush the PKI." D.N. Aidit is the Communist boss and PKI is the designation of the Indonesian Communist party.

The U.S. Embassy now is a pleasant place to visit. Demonstrators passing by used to shout threats. Now they are heard to say, "Long live America." It is so peaceful that the government does not even reinforce the guard at the U.S. Embassy when a demonstration is scheduled in the city.

Taxis will take you to any part of the city — provided streets have not been blocked off by armored cars or obstructed by soldiers on their daily rounds of arresting Communists.

President Sukarno's palace, one of the many he has around Indonesia, is a little difficult to see.

Barbed-wire barricades surround it, front and back. The streets are securely blocked off. Accommodations are excellent at the plush Hotel Indonesia. Of course you cannot telephone anywhere outside the hotel because communications have not been restored since the coup. Room service is limited. Laundry facilities are slow. The main dining room and coffee shop are operating. The one bar does a roaring business.

The hotel has a captive audience from 7 p.m. to 6 a.m. The longer you stay in the hotel the better acquainted the residents become. Strangers say hello to each other like old friends solely because they see each other day in and day out.

A guest with no place to go keeps pacing the lobby and shopping arcade to keep the waitline down.

Entertainment is provided in the dining room by a folk singer, an Indonesian dance troupe and a band. Guests do not have to stay long before they are singing along with the folk singer or repeating the Indonesian dances without a misstep.

Money is a little hard to handle but if rupiahs are kept in 10,000 denominations, pockets and purses do not bulge too much. The rate is 17,300 rupiahs to $1.

Planes fly in and out of Jakarta almost daily. One word of caution to the traveler: Book your outward passage early. More passengers are leaving than arriving.

General's Complaints Outdated, Officials Say

WASHINGTON (AP) — A U.S. Marine general's letter complaining of insufficient forces and authority in Viet Nam was written last July before President Johnson ordered the big military build-up, Marine and defense officials said today.

Thus, they told a reporter, the views expressed by Major Gen. Lewis W. Walt have been overtaken by events and are obsolete, these officials said.

There was no direct word here as to whether Walt, commanding general of the 3rd Marine Division in Viet Nam, has changed his views.

However, one knowledgeable Marine Corps source said, "I am sure he has different feelings now."

Publication of Walt's letter Tuesday caused a stir at high levels in the Pentagon.

It was reported that Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara asked for an explanation when it came to his attention. A check was made by the Navy Department and the Marine Corps and McNamara was told that the letter was a personal one addressed to friends and family and was old stuff.

This apparently satisfied McNamara. Official pronouncements by military and civilian officials must be cleared in advance for security and policy considerations.

Letters to friends and family, even though they may be made public by some of the receivers, are not in this category and Walt is not being held responsible for release of the letter.

Actually, there are some high military officials who still believe much more should be done in Viet Nam, including a far greater military build-up than the 148,000 Americans now there and bombing of more important targets in North Viet Nam such as the capital city of Hanoi.

In his letter, which appeared in a publication of the 3rd Marine Division Association, Walt wrote: "We have neither the forces nor the authority to do the entire job under the present policy guidance that we operate within."

"I think the free world will soon have to decide whether or not we are going all the way in order to win this conflict."

'Yankee Stay' Sentiment, Too

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — The storm over American military involvement in South Viet Nam isn't blowing just one way in Southeast Asia.

Along with gusts of criticism against the United States, there is a current of "Yankee, stay" sentiment.

Wellsprings of support for American policy are Thailand, the Philippines, Malaysia and Laos, whose governments and people feel their future is closely linked with the fate of South Viet Nam.

One Malaysian observer cautions: "If Viet Nam goes Communist, for us there may be no tomorrow."

The most strident opposition to U.S. involvement has come from Indonesia and Cambodia, which have bonds with Communist China and North Viet Nam.

Indonesian President Sukarno has condemned what he calls American "intervention and aggression" in South Viet Nam. It remains to be seen whether the recent crisis in Jakarta, with the solidifying of army power there, will mute Indonesia's anti-U.S. outcry.

Little change, if any, can be expected in the attitude of Cambodia. Its chief of state, Prince Norodom Sihanouk, sees China as the eventual victor.

Sihanouk is both scornful and angry toward the United States and what he calls the "pretended government" in Saigon. He broke relations with Washington last May after accusing U.S.-Vietnamese forces of intruding into Cambodian territory — where the Viet Cong are said to take refuge.

Singapore, Southeast Asia's newest independent state, has taken a somewhat less than warm line toward the American effort in Viet Nam. Its premier, Lee Kuan Yew, is pessimistic about U.S. ability to sweep back the Communist tide. He claims Americans know nothing about Southeast Asia — "that's why they are in a mess."

But in the Philippines, Thailand and Malaysia, official and popular opinion are running in favor of America's presence in South Viet Nam and its air strikes against the Red North.

The Thais, in fact, think the Americans could have moved in a bit earlier.

Thailand's Communist-hating Foreign Minister Thanat Khoman advocates "careful use of armed force" to prevent a Communist takeover in Viet Nam and eventually in all of Southeast Asia.

A long border with Laos has put Thailand close to the Indo-China firing line. The feeling in Bangkok is that if Viet Nam falls, Laos will fall too, and Thailand also.

Thanat Khoman believes that, facing with American military power, the Communists "are beginning to feel that they cannot get what they want. There is no other way to stop aggression."

Although Thai military leaders say they need all their armed strength to meet threats developing along their own borders, Thailand has pitched in with some active help for the American-Viet Nam effort, including use of airfields.

The Thai air force has trained some 30 South Vietnamese pilots, and promises more of the same. Thai medical and development project teams are operating in South Viet Nam.

Similar aid is being supplied by the Philippines whose foreign secretary, Mauro Mendez, is known to feel that no action taken by the United States in Viet Nam could be too strong. Neither President Diosdado Macapagal nor his chief opponent, Ferdinand Marcos, has made Viet Nam an issue in their campaigns for Nov. 9 presidential elections. A reliable private poll recently showed that 76 per cent of the Filipinos cheer for the Americans in Viet Nam, with only a few of the remaining 24 per cent actually in opposition.

Malaysia's Prime Minister Abdul Rahman is a vocal supporter of America's policy.

Although elements in his government would like to see Malaysia take a more neutral stand — in keeping with the country's efforts to win Afro-Asian friendship — Rahman insists the United States has no alternative but to fight.

"It is clear that the Communists were the aggressors. It is wrong to speak of American intervention," he says.

Rahman notes that Malaysia, while saddled with its own defense problems involving hostile Indonesia, is throwing open military centers to South Vietnamese personnel for training in jungle warfare. He recently welcomed Vietnamese Premier Marshal Nguyen Cao Ky.

The influential Straits Times, which does not hesitate to twit the United States on other matters, has praised President Johnson's Viet Nam decisions.

In neutralist Burma, which shares a frontier with Communist China, there has been criticism of U.S. policy — and also of North Viet Nam's refusal to negotiate a peaceful settlement. Burmese condemnation of "power bloc" competition in Viet Nam cuts two ways.

Laos has not let its official neutralist line get in the way of support for the United States. The government of Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma has become increasingly aware of the role played by North Viet Nam and Communist China in stirring up Laotian civil strife. Its acknowledged that American pressure on the North Vietnamese has slackened the Fed war effort in Laos.

The American-equipped Laotian air force raids the Ho Chi Minh trail, the jungle corridor in southern Laos used by the North Vietnamese to funnel men and equipment to South Viet Nam.

2 Escape Injury In Plane Crash

SHELBYVILLE, Ill. (AP) — Pilot Donald Klein and passenger Bob Hendee, both of Beloit, Wis., have escaped injury in the crash landing of their light plane.

The plane was forced down Tuesday when it ran out of fuel, the Federal Aviation Agency reported. The plane had taken off from Janesville, Wis.

Sergeant Gets Four Months for Posing as Officer

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — A former Air Force sergeant who told a woman friend his service connection was a cover-up for an undercover role was sentenced Wednesday to four months in prison for impersonating a federal officer.

Judge Gunnar H. Nordbye of U. S. District Court also placed the defendant, Charles Botean of Canton, Ohio, on probation for three years following his release from prison.

Botean, 33, pleaded guilty to the impersonation charge. Authorities said Botean, during a year and a half courtship of Mrs. Dolly Ann Fairchild, represented himself as a Central Intelligence Agency operative involved in international intrigue. The woman was told Botean had made dangerous trips to Viet Nam and Brazil to rescue important people from the Communists.

The masquerade ended when Mrs. Fairchild, a pretty blonde now divorced and living at Zimmerman, Minn., contacted CIA headquarters. She asked help in getting back some $1,800 which she and relatives had loaned Botean. Mrs. Fairchild said Botean had told her the CIA was preventing him from repaying the money, and that this was to test whether she was loyal enough to become his wife.

What a Way to Hurt Your Back

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Comedian Bob Hope is recovering from a back injury suffered on the golf course — then aggravated in pulling bikini-clad actress Elke Sommer from a bathtub on a movie set.

A spokesman said Hope suffered a pinched nerve in his back playing golf Sunday. During the filming Wednesday of his new movie, "Boy, Did I Get a Wrong Number," the script called for Hope to pull Miss Sommer from the bathtub. He apparently reinjured his back during the filming of the scene.

Wisconsin Teacher Pensions Increased

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Retired public school teachers with more than 20 years of service will have their benefits raised to levels ranging from $100 to $160 a month under terms of a bill signed Wednesday by Gov. Warren P. Knowles.

The Republican chief executive said the law will aid about 3,200 teachers and called it a "worthy companion to the other fine education measures enacted this year."

The new law provides supplemental benefits at the rate of $5 a month for each year of service up to 32 years. Teachers with 20 years experience who now receive less than $100 per month will have their annuities raised to that level. Those with 32 years experience will receive $160.

DR. PHILIP Utz, health officer, asked about fluoridation and was informed the engineers have not submitted estimates on installation and operation of fluoridation equipment.

Floyd Edminister was appointed village assessor for 1966 at a salary of $1,200. The appointment at this time allows him to attend county assessor instructions.

Gene Silberberg reported that a high-powered rifle was shot about 100 feet from his home, with children playing on the hillside. He was told by L. L. Duxbury, village attorney, he can sign a complaint against the offender. Mayor William Mishler asked parents to control the use of firearms within the village.

On behalf of Mrs. Swanson's mother (Mrs. Ethel Marsh) Mr. and Mrs. Carl Swanson, maintained that the Prospect Cemetery road improvement was on her property and damages will be sought if the new roadway proves to be on her land.

THE COUNCIL approved an easement from Mrs. Matilda Hafner for the streets between the high school and Crucifixion Catechetical school.

A request from George Busse to rezone his property in Shore Acres for camping ground was referred to the planning commission.

Winter hours at the sanitary landfill will be from 1 to 6 p.m. Monday through Friday and 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday, with no dumping on Sunday

Big Diamond Found in Indonesia

AMSTERDAM, Netherlands (AP)—A diamond the size of a small matchbox estimated to be worth $150,000 to $450,000, found in the Indonesian jungle two months ago, was displayed at the Asscher diamond plant here today.

Jan Asscher Jr. said the 168.85-carat gem was one of the biggest diamonds to be found since World War II.

It was found by a group of 40 persons who handed it to the police. President Sukarno, who named the stone tri sakti (three supernatural powers), rewarded the group with a pilgrimage trip to Mecca.

Asscher said the diamond's value depends on its quality and color. The Indonesian government and Asscher jointly control diamond mining in Indonesia, with the government doing the actual mining and the Dutch firm advising and marketing.

$85,000 Damage In Racine Fire

RACINE, Wis. (AP) — Fire officials estimated damage to $85,000 after flames wrecked the Racine Heat Treating Co. plant Wednesday.

Two firemen were injured in the blaze, neither seriously. The fire started while metal was being withdrawn from a heat quenching furnace. The furnace contained a 300-gallon tank filled with heated oil.

Harry Kwen ski, company owner, said the plant was a total loss.

Studded Tires Illegal in Illinois

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Tire manufacturers and dealers have been informed that metal studded tires are illegal on Illinois highways.

Francis S. Lorenz, Illinois public works director, said Tuesday the state's traffic laws prohibit operation on improved highways of vehicles equipped with anti-skid or non-skid devices "so constructed that any rigid or non-flexible portion comes in contact with the pavement."

David Carley Seeks Nomination In Wisconsin

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — David Carley, a Madison business executive and national committeeman of his party, pledged all the vigor of his 36 years today to pursuit of the 1966 Democratic nomination for governor.

Carley's announcement made him first to declare for a nomination that is expected to attract at least two or three others.

Lt. Gov. Patrick J. Lucey wants the nomination but said Tuesday night he will make no announcement until next year.

Dominic Frinzi, a Milwaukee attorney, and Abe Swed, a Milwaukee businessman, also would like to head the party's state ticket.

Frinzi opposed former Gov. John W. Reynolds in the 1964 primary. Swed's wife is the state's Democratic national committeewoman.

Carley said he was fully aware of the prospects of a crowded nomination field.

Tourist Spending Abroad Not as Bad as Feared

By RICHARD L. GRAVES
AP Business News Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Overseas tourist spending by Americans apparently has done less to increase potential dollar claims of foreigners on U.S. gold than was feared.

are not settled yet, but Federal Reserve statistics for the summer months through August provide some clues to the impact of overseas travel on the nation's worrisome dollar outflow.

In that same period foreign holdings of dollars — each a claim on gold — have accumulated. At the end of August total holdings of dollars by foreigners amounted to $26.4 billion. Of that total a little more than $5 billion represented U.S. deposits with the International Monetary Fund and other international they are U.S. government assets.

Of the remaining $23.4 billion, Europe held $11.3 billion; Latin America, $3.8 billion; Canada, $2.7 billion; Asia, $5 billion, and the remainder was in Africa or other parts of the world.

The United States guarantees to exchange gold for dollars at the fixed rate of $35 an ounce. Therefore, every dollar in foreign hands represents a potential claim on U.S. gold.

trying to curb the deficits which lead to the gold reduction. As part of their over-all concern about overseas spending, U.S. government officials have expressed considerable worry about the level of tourist spending.

Death Takes a Holiday in San Quentin

By HAROLD V. STREETER
SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (AP)
— Death is taking a strange holiday in California. The little green-walled, two-chair gas chamber in San Quentin State Prison — where four women and 190 men have paid with their lives for crimes — has executed no one in almost three years. Death row, originally set up to house 34 condemned men, now has 47. Two have been there more than eight years. Twenty more also would be there were it not for appeals now part of a courtroom logjam likely to prolong the moratorium on executions indefinitely. There's an irony in this. Gov. Edmund G. Brown tried to get the legislature to abolish capital punishment. It wouldn't do it. Then he asked for a moratorium on executions. The legislature turned him down. Now, in effect, he has it anyway. The last execution was on Jan. 23, 1963. Since then a steady buildup of death row inmates has conformed to the routine of being locked up 20½ hours out of 24 in 4½-x-11-foot cells. Under armed guard, the condemned men exercise the other 3½ hours in a fenced enclosure. Their view of the world outside is what they see on television screens at night. "The absence of executions in California for nearly three years is primarily the result of various court decisions including the Morse, Dorado and Griffin decisions," explained Walter Dunbar, director of the California Department of Corrections. He capsuled these State Supreme Court rulings: "Morse decision — During the penalty trial — in California the penalty is determined in a trial separate from that on the verdict — no reference can be made to the fact that men with life sentences are eligible for parole in seven years. "Dorado decision — A suspect must be informed of his right to remain silent, his right to an attorney and the fact that anything he says may be used against him in court. "Griffin decision — No reference can be made in court to the defendant's failure to testify on the witness stand." Since the Jan. 7, 1964 Morse decision, rendered in the case of a San Diego teen-ager convicted of killing his mother with a rock and his sister with a baseball bat, there have been 26 penalty reversals based on it. Eleven killers have been retried and all back on death row. Three got a switch from the gas chamber to life.

AGELESS CHARMER . . . Maurice Chevalier, the ageless charmer of show business, is working in the role of a priest (above) for a Walt Disney movie — but already planning ahead to a world Grand Tour in his 80th year. That's two years away. He's been before the public 66 years, and determines to go on as long as he has health and audiences. (AP Photofax)

Maurice Chevalier, 78, Still Busy Showman

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "When I was 75, I thought that would be the end of my career. But then I became 76 and the offers still kept coming in and I was still performing at the height of my powers. So I just kept on going."

Now Maurice Chevalier is 78 and going stronger than ever. At least he advertises himself as 78, calculating his age in the European manner. He considers himself in his 78th year, since he was born in 1888.

Whatever his age, Chevalier remains one of the marvels of the Western world. No one is more aware of the fact than Chevalier.

Chevalier is the one great passion of his life, and he speaks of it with eloquence. He reported the triumphs of his 75th year — a stand at the Ziegfeld Theater in New York, runs in Chicago, Washington, South America, London, ending with appearances in his beloved Paris.

"And I did it the hard way — just one man and a piano," said Chevalier. "No one else has been able to do that, certainly not at such an advanced age. Harry Lauder couldn't. Al Jolson finished when he was 45. Later he was a sensation again, but with someone else's face and body. That wasn't quite as good as Jolson."

Feeling no diminution of his power, as a draw and as a human machine, Chevalier told himself: "Dammit, why should I quit?"

He didn't. He continues at a merry clip, taking his one-man show to far-off places, lending his charm to television — a tribute to Cole Porter coming up at Thanksgiving — and to films. He is now at Walt Disney's fun factory for the first time, portraying a priest in "Monkeys Go Home" with Dean Jones and Yvette Mimieux.

The hair is silver-gray, but Chevalier's face is as pink as a baby's and there is a lightness in his step. His regimen is that of a fighter, which is what he was, early in the game.

When will the Chevalier legend end?
"Now I am planning a grand tour for my 80th year on the same scale as when I was 75," he said.

DEAR ABBY:

Double Job, Only One Pay

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: In spite of my 66 years, I am a healthy, active woman who does a lot of "baby jumping," not "sitting."

My problem is when two young mothers go out together to the same place, they ask me if I "mind" taking care of two sets of children. It involves twice as much work, as both sets may need baths, diapers changed, supper, etc. Also, small children from different families usually don't get along very well together, and I have to watch them carefully and settle their squabbles and keep them entertained. I don't mind the extra work involved, but when it comes to paying me, the mothers split the cost. So four hours of freedom costs them a dollar each. Is this fair to me? Your answer in the column might help many of us who are imposed on in this way. Thank you.

ABBY

DEAR SUCKER: When you are asked if you "mind" taking care of two sets of children, speak up and say, "Not if each mother pays the going rate." When you buy two quarts of milk, you don't get the second one free!

DEAR ABBY: I know it was wrong, but I read some letters my daughter received from her boy friend and I've been crushed, frustrated and heartsick ever since. She is 22, works in a university town and has been dating a student there. She's brought him home for week-ends and he seemed so fine. She has repeatedly condemned girls who have had to get married, but her sin is worse because we are Catholics and do not believe in birth control, which she apparently has been practicing. She goes to church and confession, yet she continues in this behavior, which the boy's letters reveal. He writes of looking forward to another week-end at her apartment because her roommate will be out of town again. And he refers to "wonderful" nights in a motel, and says he is sorry that next week-end they can't go because he is broke and "Mom" hasn't come through with the money yet. (His mother is a widow and works hard. He should be helping HER instead of taking her money for illicit week-ends.) I haven't told my husband as I am deeply ashamed and sorry I read those letters. But, nevertheless, the problem is there. Shall I tell the young people I know what they are up to, and suggest marriage?

HEARTSICK MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: If you were to tell the young people you read those letters, it would destroy (for a long time, and possibly forever) the relationship between your daughter and you. Don't suggest marriage. People should marry because THEY want to and for no other reason. Try to improve the mother-daughter relationship. Perhaps she will confide in you and you can advise her accordingly. Parents have no sure weapon against their children yielding to temptations such as these. They can only instill in their young people high moral standards and pray that they are stronger than temptation.

DEAR ABBY: I have to agree with the woman who resented having a "working mother" who didn't really have to work. I had one, too.

I hated to come home from school to an empty house day after day. When my mother did finally come home she had to catch up on her housework and everything was hectic and hurried. During my teen years I had to stay home all summer and look after my younger brothers. It was awful. Brothers rarely obey their older sisters and I worried myself sick when they'd run off. There was much mutual resentment and bitterness.

Well, that's over now. I am grown and married, and my mother is still working. It's funny, but I can't remember any of the "extras" the additional money provided by my mother's working. But I can remember how miserable and lonely I was. My mother and I will never be close. There just wasn't enough time for us to become acquainted.

BILL MERRILL'S
Something to Ruby

Did you ever notice that out of the experience of life, man has formed descriptive phrases typifying his strengths and weaknesses. For example, on the one hand we state that man in his own worst enemy, and on the other hand, claim that the dog is man's best friend. Let's try to understand the why — for's of such contrasts.

Often I have heard it said in a philosophical tone that man in his own worst enemy and when we see the monsters he has created in the form of explosives, social pressures, political farces, and the image of moral decay throughout this old globe, one is inclined to believe that as mankind goes, in many areas we haven't done ourselves any favors. On the other hand, folks have been quick to note that the household pet in the form of friend dog, is forever faithful, thus earning the title of man's best friend.

NOW BEFORE WE sell man down the river, let me be the first to note that man can also be his own best critic. And when mankind analyzes his weaknesses, some really good things begin to happen. Let's narrow this down to the individual, for it's on this level that we can achieve the most noticeable progress.

I expect we have all tried our lot at analyzing the faller, suggesting he was too headstrong, too easy-going, or too something that we can easily see from a distance, suggesting that in this sense, that person was doomed to failure, not taking note of his own faults. It's at this point that I fear man can become his own worst enemy. While he sees the fault of others, he fails to see his own worst enemy. While he sees the fault of others, he fails to see his own shortcomings, or, if he is aware of them, excuses them on the basis that he has a right to be as he is and that he can't help himself — it's just his nature. The difficulty lies in the fact that others about you are not prone to be as tolerant of one's weakness in make-up. Criticism is soon forthcoming as others "call 'em as they see 'em."

THIS IN PART is why man considers dog his best friend. The pooch is never critical of his wayward master. Just faithful as a companion. You see, Public Enemy No. 1, if kind to his dog, will be rewarded by the loyalty of the canine as quickly as if he were an A No. 1 citizen. His loyalty is based on simple action and reaction.

I guess if we stop and think about it we could expect as true a loyalty on the part of our human friends as we do on the part of Towser, if our human friends didn't know so much about our weakness. It seems that the solution to this dilemma is to make the effort to see our weaknesses and shortcomings as others do, and really try to correct them, gaining self-respect, and thus deserving the true loyalty of others, and in this sense, becoming a good friend to one's self.

Traditional Thankoffering Meeting Held at Holler Hill

A large group attended the 51st annual Thankoffering meeting of the Women's Fellowship of First Congregational Church Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ward Lucas, Holler Hill. Each year Mrs. Lucas opens her home for this meeting, carrying on a tradition begun by her mother.

MRS. ROBERT Forsythe, president, extended a welcome. She introduced Mrs. Herman Curtis who gave the devotions, reading a portion of a sermon by Dr. Martin Gossin. Mrs. Harold Rekestad introduced the guest speaker, the Rev. Gale Wolf, director of public relations at the Winnebago Children's Home, Neillsville, Wis., who told of the work being done at the home and school for mentally disturbed children.

Rev. Wolf emphasized the plight of the American Indian and the injustices of the past. He cited the responsibility of this country to this race, and gave a brief historical sketch of the home which was started in 1921.

Originally the Indians of the area were taken from their woodlands to the Nebraska plains, he said. Eventually, many of them wandered back to the Lake Winnebago area. The home cares for children in all degrees of disturbed minds. On the top floor is the Winnebago department, quarters for the youngest in chronological age and social development. The Osceola department houses children between the ages of 7 and 10, while the Seneca department is for the older children.

THE MORNING Star Home for girls, which is on the campus, and the Hiawatha Home for boys at Marshfield also provide group-living experience, Rev. Wolf said. There are over 100 children in the Winnebago Home program. Average cost per child is around $450 per month. Though the home is largely church supported, funds from county and state are sometimes available.

While most of the children are of the Indian race, white and Negro children also are accepted. Each child, whether taken for a short or long term, is given a complete psychological evaluation. They are referred to the home by parents, teachers, clergy, county officials.

When advisable, many of the children attend the public schools. Four specially qualified teachers in the home take care of individual education difficulties. In addition, the personnel includes a clinical psychologist, a consulting psychologist, a psychopathologist, a social worker and five part-time social workers.

A question and answer period followed Mr. Wolf's talk.

MRS. HENRY Williams presided at the candlelight Thankoffering ceremony. At this time Mrs. C. Robert Stephenson sang two numbers—"No Man Is An Island" by Whitney, and a hymn, "Because I Have Been Given Much." Mrs. Rekestad accompanied at the piano.

Mrs. Forsythe reminded the group of the Grandma's Pantry sale on Nov. 11 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Gift items and home baked goods will be sold at this time. The public is cordially invited to attend. Refreshments will be served. Mrs. C. A. Rohrer mentioned the Madonna Christmas tea to be held on Dec. 1. This will be a guest day for Winona area women.

Tea was served with Mrs. Rekestad and Mrs. Stephenson pouring. The warm hospitality of Mrs. Lucas, the special program and the "extra sharing" combined to make this a day to remember, a member said.

Projects of LWMS, Hiawatha Valley Circuit, Outlined

LAKE CITY, Minn. (Special) — Approximately 200 attended the first meeting and fall rally of the Lutheran Women's Missionary Society of the Hiawatha Valley Circuit Thursday at St. John's Lutheran Church here. Registration started at 1 p.m., followed by a dessert luncheon in the church basement.

MRS. FREDERICK Klindsorth, Lake City, president of the new LWMS recently organized among Wisconsin Evangelical synods in the area, extended the welcome and listed the purposes and objectives of the society — to serve God and fellowmen through missions.

The Rev. F. A. Werner, Rochester, explained institutional missions, one of the three projects of the society. As an example he said there are 45 chaplains in Rochester serving the state hospital and the other hospitals. The synod also provides chaplains for jails, prisons and schools.

The Rev. Harold Schwertger, Trinity Lutheran, rural Lake City, explained another project, the voice of salvation, a radio broadcast originating from Hong Kong Lutheran Seminary and heard by 100,000,000 in that Commonwealth state, Japan, Formosa, and behind the Bamboo Curtain.

MRS. HERBERT Speckin, national LWMS president, discussed the third project, the Lumano Dispensary in Rhodesia, Africa. It is a medical mission supported largely by Ladies Aids. Miss Kay Stuhr, RN, Goodview, who spent two years there, recounted her experiences and Mrs. Speckin showed slides.

Members voted to donate one-quarter of their mission contributions to the institutional mission and three-quarters to the Hong Kong radio broadcast.

The Rev. Nathan Retzlaff, Goodhue, discussed the topics for the coming season — foreign, mercy and home missions.

CONGREGATIONS represented were: Grace Lutheran, Nelson, Wis.; Christ Lutheran, Zumbrota, Minn.; St. John's, Minnesota; Trinity, Lincoln; Resurrection, Rochester; St. Peter's and St. John's, Goodhue; Gethsemane, Mason City, Iowa; Holy Cross; St. John's, Lake City, and Immanuel's, West Florence.

Randall's Still Seeks Temporary Store Location

All the possible sites for a temporary Randall's supermarket which he had investigated through Wednesday "have a lot of problems," according to Randall's manager James F. Hogue.

However, if he can find a building by Friday, Hogue said, he should still be able to reopen about a week afterwards, which is as early as he had hoped to do so.

MEANWHILE, Hogue said, the owners of the destroyed Randall's building in the Westgate Shopping Center received an estimate today for reconstruction expected to take about 90 days.

If the contractor and the owners can agree today, a new Randall's store building could be done by early February, Hogue believes.

Workers clearing the charred interior of the old Randall's building should finish today, Hogue said, meaning that construction could begin almost immediately. First, however, the burned building must be torn down, he added.

The building's roof had buckled in the intense heat of the Sunday afternoon fire. Hogue said that the only thing which will be salvaged from the old store will be its floor trenches for refrigeration and electrical lines.

The supermarket's entire stock of canned goods was taken to the city dump, and all the other merchandise stocks as well as equipment and fixtures are being junked, Hogue said. He added that his early estimate of damage at $800,000 appears to be pretty accurate.

THE GOLD BOND stamp redemption center has opened in a temporary location at 903 W. 5th St., Hogue said. A stock of premium goods was ordered Wednesday and should arrive early next week, according to Hogue.

Hogue said that the "problems" which afflicted all of the buildings he had viewed through Wednesday included lack of parking, inadequate open floor space and the like.

He hopes to announce Friday that he has gotten a temporary site, however, Hogue said.

Owner of the Randall's building is Second Consolidated Investment Fund, Mitchell, S.D. The organization's president, Paul Christen, and vice president, Randall Lampe, flew to

Charter Study Group to Hear City Attorney

Getting down to business, and how to do it, will be the immediate problem faced by the City Charter Commission in its second meeting, scheduled Monday at 7:30 p.m.

President Norman Indall said it will be an education and orientation meeting. Some tentative proposals will be advanced which may help determine the nature and direction of commission activities, he said. The ultimate program, he said, will be the product of agreement among members of the whole commission.

Studies of present charter provisions and existing city government framework will make up opening phases of the commission's work. Later on, advice and comments from city officials and the public will be sought. All meetings are open to the public, Indall said, and will be held in the council room in City Hall.

City Attorney George M. Robertson Jr. will speak to the commission Monday, Indall said.

Winona Monday to arrange for reconstruction.

32 Killed When Cars Hit Fixed Objects in '64

ST. PAUL (AP) — The Minnesota Highway Department says 2,382 drivers managed to run into fixed objects in the state last year, resulting in 32 deaths and 1,142 injuries.

Fixed objects also figured in 5,122 other accidents in which vehicles rammied into the objects after first striking other vehicles.

Utility poles figured most frequently in such crashes, being involved in 3,114 vehicle accidents.

Also high on the list were trees, guard rails, bridge piers or viaducts, traffic control signs, buildings and embankments.

The department said it has begun a stepped-up program of eliminating such hazards where possible along Minnesota roads.

Big Control Structures Checked

WHITEHALL, Wis. (Special) — Trempealeau County Agriculture Stabilization Conservation Service committeemen were taken on a soil conservation tour.

The tour began on the La Verne Sonsalla farm in Tamarack Valley near Arcadia. There they viewed a toe-wall constructed to control a waterway. The toe-wall reduces the grade and also was constructed to prevent a gully lip from going back into the newly constructed waterway. A water retention dam was constructed 1,600 feet up from the toe-wall to control the water from the 153-acre watershed area back of the structure.

AT THE Clarence Wicka farm in Latsch Valley, rural Arcadia, they saw two gully control structures erected to control a huge gully which had lips 30 feet deep. They control 155 acres of watershed area and are of a drop inlet type. One was constructed in 1954 and the other in the fall of 1965. A total of 24,500 cubic yards of compacted fill was used in these two retention dams. The area between the two structures has been shaped to a permanent waterway.

At the Bernard Wood farm near Galesville, they viewed four earthen dams that were constructed by Wood and a retention dam with a pipe which was constructed by the Soil Conservation Service in 1963. This structure controls the water from 72 acres of watershed. In 1966, the SCS plans to construct a 1,600-foot waterway below the retention dam.

At the Herman Dopp farm, rural Galesville, they saw three retention dams. The first, built in 1962, controls a 54-acre drainage watershed area with a total of 4,000 cubic yards of fill. The second, built in 1963, controls a 70-acre watershed and has 4,550 cubic yards of fill. The third was built in 1964, using 15,600 cubic yards of fill and controls 110 acres.

All three retention dams are built with a drop inlet pipe and were necessary so the SCS could construct a waterway designed to fit this problem area. Without these retention dams a waterway would not have been feasible because of the large drainage area.

Committeemen were accompanied on the tour by Henrik Herness, ASCS office manager; Peter Bieri, county agent; Ed Ausderau, farm management agent; Henry Anderson, forester, and Henry Thompson, conservation technician.

DETENTION DAM . . . This is the lower side of the detention dam on the Clarence Wicka farm near Arcadia, Wis. The farm was one of three included in a tour for Trempealeau County ASCS committeemen. This structure and one other on the farm control water runoff from 155-acres. (Mrs. Knudson photo)

Farmers Urged To Watch for Shipping Fever

ALMA, Wis. — Once you have unloaded newly transported cattle in your lots, this doesn't mean you can forget about the problems of shipping fever in these animals.

C. W. Burch, veterinarian at the University of Wisconsin, says that when you get your new cattle home, have them take it easy for a few days. Many of these cattle have never had anything but grass, so provide them with just a light feed of good hay for the first few days and keep them separated from the animals already there.

Watch your cattle carefully. If you notice any signs of coughing, nasal discharge, weeping eyes or any similar symptoms, isolate the affected cattle and consult your local veterinarian at once.

If the cattle were not vaccinated with Infectious Bovine Rhinotracheitis vaccine before they were loaded, it's a good idea to have them vaccinated about four days after they arrive.

Burch says that your veterinarian or county agent have copies of these recommendations for preventing shipping fever in cattle.

board and room. Workers by the day received wages averaging $8 with board and room and $10 without board or room. Hourly rates without board or room averaged $1.25. All rates except wages paid by the day with board and room were higher than a year ago.

During the last week of September there were 248,000 persons working on Wisconsin farms. This number included 38,000 hired workers and 210,000 family workers. There were 13,000 or 5 percent fewer workers on Wisconsin farms in the last week of September than a year ago with a loss of 14,000 family workers and a gain of 1,000 hired workers.

Wisconsin Farm Wages Up Again

MADISON, Wis. — Wages paid by Wisconsin farmers to hired workers Oct. 1 continued at an all-time high with the index 4 percent above a year ago, according to the Statistical Reporting Service.

Total farm employment is below a year ago, although there was a slight increase in the number of hired workers.

On Oct. 1 Wisconsin farmers paid wages to hired workers averaging $230 a month with a house and $165 a month with

Fertilizing Recommended For Fall Work

ALMA, Wis. — By fertilizing your fields this fall, you can gain time on your field work next spring, Archie Brovold, Buffalo County agent, says.

"The major advantage of fall fertilization is time and labor," he notes. "In the fall you may have more time for this than you will have next spring."

"Many commercial fertilizer companies also offer discounts on fertilizer purchased in the fall and in normal years, fields are often more solid and better able to support heavy spreading equipment."

"It is particular advantageous to apply phosphorus and potash fertilizers in the fall. These are not held by the soil particles and there is little loss from leaching."

"Nitrogen fertilizers, on the other hand, may be leached from the soil under conditions of very heavy rainfall or in light textured soils. If the rest of the fall is dry it would be safe to apply nitrogen to heavier soils, but do not apply nitrogen to sandy soils in the fall. Amounts of fertilizer to apply can be best determined by a soil test."

Free sampling service is available from the Buffalo County ASCS office at Alma.

FARMER INJURED

Neighbors Complete Luehmann Harvest

LEWISTON, Minn. — Friends and neighbors of a Lewiston farmer turned out with machines and labor to complete a harvesting job after the farmer was hospitalized with accident injuries.

Richard Luehmann was taken to Community Memorial Hospital, Winona, last week after his hands became tangled in his corn picker.

Six two-row combine harvesters, tractors, wagons and men appeared at the Luehmann farm Saturday to complete the harvest.

A Lewiston feed and produce firm and the Lewiston Lions Club furnished food for the dinner. It was cooked by Mrs. Earl Papenfuss and Mrs. William Kilmer.

Morning and afternoon lunches were brought to the farm

Land Value Rises With Watershed, Survey Shows

MADISON, Wis. — What happens to land values when a flood control program comes into a farming area of Wisconsin?

That's the question studied by Sydney Stanforth, University of Wisconsin, agricultural economist, and Rudolph Christian, of the U.S. Department of Agriculture. They studied Twin Parks and Mill Creek watershed projects in Iowa County.

The full answer can't be given in dollars and cents, the agricultural economists conclude after a study of the entire watershed project. But they did find that 54 of the 340 farmers who live on the flood plain of Mill Creek have land which now can be converted from pasture to cropland as a result of the flood control project. This amounts to 437 acres of new cropland or about 8 acres per farm.

Converting pasture land to cropland increased the value of every acre about $25 for a total increase of $11,000 for this land in the flood plain.

This gain in value of cropland is probably only a small part of the total benefit because the increased crop acreage may bring about a conversion of the entire cropping and livestock program on the farm. Another benefit from the watershed project is an increase in value of land for non-farm uses, such as hunting, fishing, camping and other recreation.

Moldy Corn Can Poison Your Livestock

MADISON, Wis. — Watch for moldy corn. It can poison your livestock!

That was a warning issued by the Animal Health Division of the Wisconsin Department of Agriculture.

MOLDY CORN poisoning, department veterinarians pointed out, is a term used to describe several disease conditions induced by eating moldy feeds. Various kinds of fungi grow on or in feeds and produce a variety of diseases, it was stated.

Corn, for example, may mold in the field while it is growing or after it is harvested. Molds are frequently found in silage.

The effects of moldy feeds on different species of animals varies greatly, according to the department. Birds are apparently quite resistant to them, but horses and ponies usually develop signs of disturbance of the central nervous system. In severe cases, death follows and liquefaction necrosis of the brain is found on post-mortem examination.

Swine usually develop swelling of the external organs and the posterior opening of the alimentary canal when fed moldy corn. In some droves of swine, there are extensive losses.

In cattle, the signs of moldy corn poisoning are often not clearly defined, the report noted. Decreased milk production and appetite and general discomfort are the usual clinical findings.

SHEEP appear to be less resistant to moldy corn poisoning than cattle. Death losses without clear cut signs are the usual flock histories.

In nearly all animals, gastroenteritis is a common post-mortem finding and while the animal is alive there frequently is diarrhea.

Cases of abortions have been associated with moldy corn toxicity, according to veterinarians. Animals usually eat less or many completely refuse to eat moldy corn. The lack of feed consumption may cause loss of weight in many cases. This may be overcome, the veterinarians suggest, by diluting the amount of mold present in the feed by mixing non-moldy feed with the moldy material.

There is little that can be done in cases where the corn is moldy at time of harvest, it was noted. The corn can be fed to a few test animals and its toxicity determined. If no clinical cases develop, the corn may then be fed to the entire herd.

HIGH MOISTURE corn is likely to mold in storage, the department said, especially if warm weather prevails. When possible, artificial drying is suggested for this type of corn. When this is impossible, the crib should be adjusted to allow air to get to the corn on the inside of the pile.

The report stated that it is doubtful if converting moldy corn into silage decreases its toxicity. It is possible that mold may develop after the corn is put into the silo. Fungicides may be used but they decrease the palatability and may in themselves be toxic to livestock.

Rules Detailed

Federal Crop Loan Benefits Explained

LEWISTON, Minn. — "Federal crop loans offer one of the greatest benefits available to the farmer, yet they never seem to be generally well understood," said Anthony Heim, chairman of the Winona County ASC Committee.

Loans are available to all farmers on soybeans, oats, rye and all grains. Eligibility on corn, barley and sorghums are limited to those in compliance with the feed grain program, and in the wheat program for loans on wheat. In all cases the farmer must have produced the grain himself. Loans are even available on honey, the chairman said.

HEIM SAID the advantage of government commodity loans is the farmer can offer his grain as collateral for a loan at an interest rate of only 30 cents per $100 per month. Contrary to the belief of many, he does not have to deliver the grain to the government in settlement of the loan.

A simple repayment plus interest satisfies the loan and another loan can later be taken on the same bin of grain. This process can be repeated as many times as necessary up to the final date for making loans on the particular crop.

The chairman said there are few farmers in need of money who do not at least have a bin of oats to offer as collateral for a loan. Although loans on oats are available at 50 cents a bushel, farmers have been selling oats this fall for as little as 53 cents. Heim believes this would not happen if the loan program was properly understood.

"IN TIMES past the farmer was at the mercy of the market," Heim said. "He had to sell his grain at harvest time to raise money to meet his obligations. This results in flooding of the market with depressed prices. By taking an economical government loan on the grain he can obtain money to meet his current needs. Later, when the market has recovered, he can repay the loan and make a profit by selling the grain for what it is worth."

"This is an advantage for the cash grain farmers, but it is just as good for the dairyman or the feeder who never expect to sell a kernel of grain. They can still offer their small grain or corn as loan collateral, take a loan, and repay when they have sold stock or when dairy income has risen.

"It is not necessary for the farmer to repay his loan in one full payment, as partial repayments are permissible at any time before loan maturity. Maturity dates are March 31, 1966, for wheat; April 30 for oats and barley, and July 31 for corn and soybeans.

"Getting a loan is a simple process. It may be on grain stored on the farm or in an approved warehouse. If the farmer wants a loan on grain stored on the farm, he need only notify his ASCS office or one of his community committeemen. If he prefers, he can go to the ASCS office and make his application, pay his $3 application fee for the crop, and a committeeman will visit his farm at once to inspect the grain and determine the amount in the bin or crib. The farmer then comes to the office and gets his money.

"THE FARMER can also notify a committeeman who will visit the farm and give the farmer his worksheet. The worksheet is then brought to the office and the loan completed."

The application must be filed no later than Jan. 31, 1966, for oats and the loan taken no later than March 31. Barley applications must be filed by March 31, and the loan also taken by no later than that date. Wheat loan applications must be filed and the loan taken no later than Feb. 28, and soybeans and corn loan applications must be filed and the loan taken no later than June 30.

The chairman added that the application fee is not refundable should the producer later decide not to take a loan. There is a one-half cent per bushel service charge on grains delivered to or acquired by CCC in settlement of the loan.

In applying for a loan, the farmer is never asked to state the purpose for which the money is to be used, Heim said.

FOR LEGISLATIVE CANDIDATES

Fillmore County FB Asks Party Designation

PRESTON, Minn. (Special)— Party designation for candidates for the Minnesota Legislature is favored by the Fillmore County Farm Bureau.

The stand is taken in one of the resolutions passed by the 644-member organization at the annual meeting at its offices here Monday.

Edward Hale, Stewartville, was elected for this 10th consecutive term.

Resolutions passed by the organization:

State Issues

RECOMMENDING more severe penalties for drunken drivers and for driving after license revocation.

Opposing legalizing of gambling in Minnesota.

Supporting the Farm Bureau tax reform program as a replacement for the personal property tax.

Recommending a premium for corn below 15 1/2 percent moisture and for soybeans below 13 percent moisture since farmers are docked for moisture in excess of those percentages.

Recommending prohibition of roadside hunting.

State Farm Bureau

URGING Farm Bureau seminars on the free enterprise system, especially for youths.

Asking a confinement plan for the organization's hospital plan.

National Issues

URGING that instead of giving food to foreign countries we teach them better agricultural practices.

Recommending retention of the right to work laws. Urging balancing of federal budget to slow down inflation.

Supporting Dirksen amendment to allow states to apportion one house according to some basis other than population.

Favoring a cropland retirement program in preference to a direct payment type program.

Criticizing "dumping surplus grain on the market to force farmers to comply with the government program; it creates an artificial obstacle for the small family farm who needs to feed for livestock production."

Asking that the Secretary of Agriculture be a farmer.

Deploring "the actions of some in their effort to undermine the policies of the President and the United States to bring an honorable conclusion to the Viet Nam war . . . We believe we must face the unpleasant fact that to lose this war would lead to more communistic aggression and inevitably to world war or total surrender to communism."

South Dakotan, 2 Michigan Men Top Corn Pickers

ADRIAN, Mich. (AP) — A defending champion from South Dakota and two Michigan men, working in a record-yield cornfield, took top honors Wednesday in the National Cornpicking Contest.

Dean Gage of Valley Springs, S.D., repeated as champion in the two-row picker division.

J. C. Drake of Jonesville, Mich., won the picker-sheller division and James Sherman of Adrian won the corn-combine class.

A field of 24 contestants picked four-tenths of an acre each in a field yielding a contest record 161 bushels of shelled corn per acre.

They had a crowd of spectators estimated up to 60,000.

The third Michigan State champion, Wesley Amsdill of Dexter, placed second in the national two-row division. Kenneth Rickert of Springfield, Minn., was third.

Second in picker - sheller was Elton Gaines of Hamilton, Mo., William Buller of Brookings, S. D., was third.

Sherman's score in corn-combine was 97.56. Joseph, Mo., was second. Arlie Berges of Colton, S.D., third.

A perfect score is 100. Points are deducted for such things as taking more than the allowed time, corn dropped in the field by the machinery, and corn cracked in the process.

Winners in each division received $500 prizes. Second was worth $250 and third $100.

CRACKED TOOLS

ALMA, Wis. — The mark of a good gardener is the proper care of tools before winter storage, said Albert Frankenstein, Buffalo County 4-H agent.

"A few minutes spent on preparing tools for winter may add years to their life," he noted.

"Rust is the worst thing on tools. This may be prevented by rubbing oil or a little wax on your shovels, rakes, spades, hoes and pruning tools. Fertilizer applicators should be cleaned, washed and oiled to prevent corrosion.

"Chemical sprayers should be cleaned according to container directions of the last chemical used. If you are not certain which chemical was used last, use a mixture of baking soda or ammonia in water.

"Hang hoses on a curved surface to prevent the development of kinks. Be certain that all water is out before storing by blowing air through the hose."

There's no such thing as growing old gracefully. Who ever coined that must have been in his 30s looking back on his 20s.

Can you imagine what the Germans must have thought when they picked up shell fragments painted, "U.S.S. Minneapolis," on the other side of the Rhine?

And you try sneaking up on the tattletale mirror from another angle, and it's worse? How your kids treat you with defiance instead of defiance?

And the wife starts giving you that "Well, how-are-we-today?" once-over every morning? If you've answered any one of these questions with a "yes," stop rocking the boat, brother.

TOM ELLINGSON, who not so long ago was burning up the Root River Conference as a competitor with Spring Grove High School, is now making his mark at Luther College, Decorah, Iowa.

Ellingson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oren C. Ellingson, has been instrumental in Norse victories over Buena Vista, Upper Iowa and Wartburg. He plays defensive right halfback. In the 13-6 win over Buena Vista he made several key tackles and intercepted two passes, the latest of which he returned 20 yards to stop Buena Vista's final gasp at victory.

Ellingson

Against Wartburg he came up with several jarring tackles that dislodged passes and resulted directly in one fumble snared by the Norse.

The 6-3 185-pound junior is a member of the Tau Nu Tau brotherhood, business and economics club and has been a member of the Luther baseball team for two seasons. He is major in psychology and business administration.

SEVERAL WITTY remarks have been produced in the wake of Minnesota's 27-17 victory over Cleveland in National Football League game Sunday.

Remember that big third-down play where a scrambling Fran Tarkenton, steadfast in the clutch of a Brown defender, lateraled to Bill Brown, who in turn shook off an early tackle, then swept left end for 28 yards and a key first down?

Sexton

Norm Van Brocklin just chuckled. "Yeah," he said, "We ran that one in practice all week, but Fran didn't try to diagram it."

It's also known that Tarkenton wanted credit for his greatest "career block" after Brown picked up the bobble. It seems three men knocked down Francis.

Then there was Brown, who rolled up 138 rushing yards to 39 for Cleveland's great Jimmy Brown: "That's my best day ever — and I'm still 400 yards behind him."

Incidentally, that 39-yard total was Brown's lowest since 1962!

WE'VE HAD A couple of what we call "mug shots" on the desk now for about a month. And it wasn't until we talked to Mike Kowalczyk just two days ago that we knew why.

It seems they were of Bob Sexton and Clarence Husie, who met way back then for the handicap championship at Westfield.

Husie

About all anyone now remembers is that Sexton copped a 7-6 verdict in a score that Kowalczyk says didn't begin to tell the story of the match.

"Can you imagine," said Mike, "these two fellows are rivals all year long. Then they wind up in the finals of the handicap tournament for another real battle."

At any rate the mystery of the smiling faces has been solved.

THE SWAMI certainly is not crying that football season is over. Although, with five games remaining, he has hit 158 of 248 for a .637 percentage, it's been a rocky year.

Two weeks ago he was awakened from a deep sleep and criticized for a Dairyland Conference pick and last Saturday he was forced to stand some good-natured kidding after picking Winona State to lose to Ellmhurst 16-9.

But even Davis Usgaard, who was pitching many of the digs, had to admit he hit Mabel (Usgaard's hometown) and Caledonia on the nose. In fact, in scoring 21 of 29 last weekend, on 13 occasions he picked one team or the other's total on the nose.

Now for the grand finale: Austin over WINONA HIGH 19-7. "The Packers will be smarting after losing to Rochester."

De La Salle over COTTER 20-6. "Big 'D' suffered through a somewhat disappointing season. It is time for atonement."

Owatonna over Mankato 26-0; Rochester over Albert Lea 25-13; Red Wing over Faribault 13-7.

Will Starr Be Healthy For Lions?

GREEN BAY — A healthy Bart Starr, the difference in the Green Bay Packers' 31-21 victory over the Detroit Lions three weeks ago, could be the difference again Sunday when the two teams collide in a rematch.

Except, this time, Starr might not be as healthy.

Badly racked up in the Packers' 31-10 loss to the Chicago Bears last Sunday, Starr is expected to play but whether he'll be physically able to put on the show he did in the first Detroit game is questionable.

Starr personally led the Packers back from a 21-3 halftime deficit as he completed seven of eight passes for 225 yards and three touchdowns in the third period. He scored a final touchdown himself on a roll out in the last quarter.

The veteran quarterback has completed 80 of 141 passes for 1,149 yards, picking up more yardage than both Detroit quarterbacks combined. Mill Plum and George Izo have thrown for a total of 1,008 yards.

Starr and the Green Bay defense have stood in the way of what could have been a disastrous season for the Packers, who have been unable to generate much of a running game in winning six of their first seven games.

Going into Sunday's clash, the leading Green Bay ball carrier is Jim Taylor with 274 yards in 88 carries. Joe Don Looney leads the Lion backs with 328 yards in 98 carries.

State Harriers Score Victory Over Indians

Winona State College's cross-country team added another dual-meet victory to its already brimming record with a 17-42 triumph at La Crosse Wednesday.

The Warriors now stand 9-1. John Rahman and Bruce Smith tied for first for the Warriors. Their time was 16:39 over the 3.3-mile course.

Mike Anderson was third and Pete Van Handel of La Crosse fourth. Verdon Hasleiet was fifth for Winona and Stan Danukos sixth.

La Crosse's Scott Lindgren was seventh, Rod Phipps of Winona eighth and Bob Puetz of Winona 11th.

Winona closes its dual-meet season at Lake Park Saturday against Luther. Meet time is 11 a.m.

SANDY KOUFAX
More Pitching Honor

WINS CY YOUNG AWARD

Koufax Calls Season His Most Gratifying

LOS ANGELES (AP) — For the Los Angeles Dodgers' Sandy Koufax, the 1965 Cy Young Award as baseball's best pitcher climaxed "the most gratifying season I've ever had."

The 29-year-old left-hander, who pitched the Dodgers to the National League pennant and a victory in the World Series, was notified of the award Wednesday.

It was the second time — the first was 1963 — that Koufax has been the recipient, and on both occasions the vote was unanimous.

"It was a great thrill the first time," said the handsome bachelor, "and a greater thrill this time."

"It was particularly satisfying this year to win it in a league which had so many good pitchers. It was a pitchers' year." In spring training Koufax came up with an arthritic condition in his throwing elbow that threatened his career, but the Brooklyn native came back to record the most impressive statistics of his 11 years in the major leagues.

He won 26 games, including eight shutouts, in the regular season and blanked the Minnesota Twins twice in the World Series — the second a 2-0 clincher in the decisive seventh game.

He recorded baseball's lowest earned run average, 2.04, and broke Bob Feller's season strikeout record of 347 by fanning 382.

His most striking achievement was a perfect game — only the eighth in baseball history — Sept. 9 against the Chicago Cubs. It was the fourth no-hitter of Sandy's illustrious career.

Commissioner Ford Frick, when told of the selection by the Baseball Writers Association of America, complimented Koufax:

"The way Sandy has pitched the last few years, his name belongs right up there with Cy Young as one of the great pitchers of all times."

And Sandy's reaction?

"To be able to climax the season with a pennant and a world championship is the greatest thrill of all."

"To have this kind of year and win this sort of award after wondering in the spring whether I'd be able to pitch once a week or at all just adds up to the most gratifying season I've ever had."

B. Kratz Claims 1st With 277; R. Biltgen Second With 680 Set

Bob Kratz, Watkins Products, Inc. printer, and Rog Biltgen, Hal-Rod Lanes co-owner, Wednesday night were responsible for a major shakeup in city bowling top ten departments.

Kratz walked into first place in single game with 277 while Biltgen claimed second on the series listing with 680.

Competing for O'Laughlin Plumbing in the Westgate Men's League, Kratz opened his second game with seven consecutive strikes before leaving the ten pin on a "good hit" in his eighth frame.

He picked that up and struck in the ninth and on his first two pitches in the tenth before leaving two pins.

"Heck, I was shaking after five in a row," he said today.

For Kratz the 277 was parlayed into a 656 errorless series. Both scores represent highs in a nine-year career. In fact, the 277 qualified him for the American Bowling Congress Century patch. He was 103 pins over his 174 average.

He had opened with 199 and closed with 180 for the 656 that helped his team to 1,013. Golden Foods rapped 2,891 and Dan Cronin 226.

Kratz is a twice-weekly bowler, competing also in the Hal-Rod VFW League on Mondays.

Biltgen, who saw one of his career wiped out by an accident last year, moved into second place with his second best series.

Firing for BTf, the club that holds city records in handicap series and game after a scoring outburst in 1963, Biltgen started with a 246 game, fell briefly to 188 and then rebounded with 248 to complete the series total that ranks only behind Gordie Fakler's 704.

Coupled with a hot 257 game from Mickey Spencer, BTf gobbled up league honors with 1,061 and 2,984.

Two years ago Biltgen, who also competes for Country Kitchen in the Hal-Rod City League, clouted a 689 for his career high. That came in the city circuit.

"Yes, I've been flirting with that mark," he said, speaking of a 700. "I've had quite a few 670s, but I can't remember just how many."

The 680 pushed his average in the Retail League to 190. Two years ago he finished with 186.

But last year, after 11 weeks, he was averaging 193. Then he cut his wrist in a fall and didn't return to action until this season.

Gary Hanson tipped 187-209-230-626 for another Retail League honor count.

RED MENS: Class A — John McGuire's 224 and Ervin Dulek's 579 paced Winona Boxcraft to 1,030-2,997.

HAL-ROD: Commercial — Dave Ties rapped 247 to lead Orv's Skelly to 2,859. Mike Breza's 593 pushed McNally's Builders to 1,008 and Jack Ehlers tied the 593 for Pappy's.

Wildcats Seek Lift

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — The Northwestern Wildcats are hoping the return of two starting halfbacks will give them a potent ground attack.

Northwestern, 2-2 in the Big Ten, attempts to rebound at Minnesota Saturday.

Halfbacks Ron Rector and Woody Campbell missed the Spartan game but will start against the Gophers.

They team with 220-pound fullback Bob McKelvey and sophomore quarterback Dennis Boothe to give the Wildcats a potent ground attack.

Boothe is a gifted option runner but his passing hasn't been much of a threat.

"You don't often find a sophomore quarterback playing in the Big Ten," Minnesota Coach Murray Warmath said of Boothe. "When they do play and win they have to be great football players."

McKelvey leads Wildcat ball carriers with 365 yards in 116 carries for a 3.1 average. Rector has a 4.3 mark, while Campbell has a 3.8 average. Rector is among the league's best punters with a 41.4 average.

Northwestern has averaged 171.5 yards rushing in four league games, but has picked

Biggest Day For Buchanan

NEW YORK (AP) — Junious (Buck) Buchanan has had some big days since he came out of Grambling and signed with the Kansas City Chiefs as a No. 1 draft choice. But the 6-foot-7, 286-pound defensive tackle never had a bigger day than last Sunday when he made 11 tackles against Oakland.

Dick Wood, the Raiders' 6-foot-5 quarterback, never had a chance when Buchanan wrapped his big hands around his shoulders and tossed him three times for losses of 11, 10 and 10 yards.

"I was just lucky to get in there," Buchanan told staffer Jim Van Valkenburg. "I wasn't doing anything different. Two of them were on blitz situations, and I'm not sure about the other time."

Buck Buchanan's performance gained him the nod today as the Defensive Player of the Week in the American Football League by The Associated Press.

Hank Stram, coach of the Chiefs, said Buchanan is having his greatest year.

"He is a great football player and has tremendous potential," said Stram. "There is no finer defensive tackle in the league."

Bobby Bell, the Chiefs' fine linebacker, had another outstanding game with nine tackles.

W. K. Hicks, a defensive back for the Houston Oilers, grabbed at the headlines with three interceptions against Buffalo. Hicks' real name is Wilmer Kenzie and the players call him "Gypsy" but he prefers the W. K. The former Texas Southern star's first interception set up George Blanda's first field goal and the third led to Blanda's game-winning fourth field goal.

YOU'LL MEET THEM AT MICHIGAN STATE

Want to Marry Football Hero?

CHICAGO (AP) — Out where the tall corn grows, Iowa's Hawkeyes will find Saturday that top-ranked Michigan State is growing All-America football candidates like bananas.

MSU's unbeaten, untied Spartans who can clinch a Big Ten title tie against the harassed Hawkeyes have confounded the Associated Press Regional Board with their profusion of talent.

"You could take six or seven players from Michigan State and put any one on another good team and he would make at least All-Big Ten," marveled Dick Cullum, board expert from the Minneapolis Tribune.

Virtually since Michigan State started its seven-game winning streak, such Spartans as George Webster, Clint Jones, Gene Washington, Bubba Smith, Steve Juday, Ron Goovert and Jerry West were cited by the All-America Board.

Webster is devastating rover back. Halfback Jones and fullback Apisa have smashed 886 and 535 yards, respectively. Washington has grabbed 29 passes for 403 yards.

Juday is Coach Duffy Daugherty's perfect quarterback with 836 passing yards and 91 rushing yards. West is a superb offensive tackle and Smith and Goovert are defensive mainstays.

But this week, after Michigan State's 49-7 clobbering of Northwestern, came a boost for still another Spartan as All-America potential.

Board member Clank Stoppels of the Grand Rapids, Mich., Press, observed:

"An unsung Michigan State hero has been Joe Prybycki, 230-pound sophomore offensive tackle, who has opened gaping holes for Jones and Apisa and definitely is the most underrated player on one of the greatest Spartan clubs.

Beyond the blanket vote for Michigan State talent, the Board advance strong support this week for a trio of ends, including Minnesota's Aaron Brown; Illinois' Bo Batchelder, and Michigan's Jack Clancy.

Others in regional contention for All-America are brilliant Illinois fullback Jim Grabowski; linemen Ike Kelley, Bill Rieder, and Doug Van Horn of Ohio State; two-way lineman Dick Arrington and safety Nick Rasas of Notre Dame, and quarterback Bob Griese of Purdue.

Paul Hornung of the Columbus, Ohio, Dispatch, reported that Coach Woody Hayes of Ohio State personally commended Gopher end Brown for "one of the great performances I have seen."

Hornung emphasized that Brown, in his heroic effort as Ohio State nipped Minnesota 11-10, still had his fractured jaw wired shut and was 20 pounds overweight because of a liquid diet.

Two-way star Brown caught six passes for 89 yards, including two for 45 in the closing seconds to set up a futile last-minute Gopher field goal try.

Bert Bertine of the Campaign-Urbana, Ill., Courier, recounted Illinois end Batchelder, Associated Press Lineman of the Week, turned up in a 21-0 blanking of Purdue with the "finest defensive end play" ever seen by Illinois Coach Pete Elliott.

Plaudits for Brown and Grabowski came from Jim Ferguson of the Dayton, Ohio, News and Paul King of the Peoria, Ill., Journal Star.

NEW YORK (AP) — Your quarterback's name is Joe Namath. He has a strong arm, a quick mind and a $400,000 price tag. But he's having trouble. What do you do?

Why, you get him a loudspeaker.

That, of course, won't solve all of the problems facing Namath and the New York Jets' other quarterback, Mike Taliaferro, but according to Coach Weeb Ewbank, giving his signal-callers an amplifying system certainly will prove an advantage on the road.

Ewbank talked about the problem Wednesday as he prepared to take the Jets on the road. The Jets, who will be at Kansas City Sunday, have a 12-game losing streak away from home.

"Our quarterbacks find it exceedingly hard to use the check-offs (changing the play at the line of scrimmage), after they leave the huddle when they're on the road," Ewbank explained. "The noise of the home club does interfere with the calls at the line of scrimmage."

But Ewbank figures he may be close to solving that problem.

"There's a guy who has been working on a special helmet for our quarterbacks," said Ewbank. "It's being equipped with a microphone in the chin strap area and two amplifiers that protrude a bit out of each side of the helmet."

"His first model was a bit heavy, with the batteries, but he's got the thing pretty well down pat now, with very small batteries, and not so much protrusion with the amplifiers. Our quarterbacks should be using this one very soon now."

Ewbank wouldn't say when the Jets would unveil the system, which would act as a loudspeaker for the quarterback.

Country Club Members Elect 3 Directors

Winona Country Club members, at their annual meeting Wednesday night at the Club, elected three new directors to three-year terms.

Elected were Carl Fischer, Carl Klage and J. E. Berthe. Holdover directors are C.R. Stephenson, W. C. Linahan, G. M. Grabow and J. E. David.

A major item of discussion Wednesday was the course construction project that will transform the present nine-hole plan into an 18-hole layout.

Members learned that September rains left workers behind schedule. Plans still are, however, to play the 18-hole course sometime next season.

The club officially closed for the winter today.

Buzzell After Single Season TD Pass Mark

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Ed Buzzell of Ottawa, Kan., University already owns the career record for touchdown passes. Now he's after the one-season NAIA mark of 32 by George Bork of Northern Illinois in 1963.

Buzzell has 28 and needs five more scoring strikes in his last two games for the record. He leads the NAIA in passing with 285.7 yards a game, hitting 97 of 192 for 1,860 yards with only four interceptions.

Dan Miles of Southern Oregon is second in passing at 256.4 but leads Buzzell in total offense, 253.3 to 248.1. Both have minus yardage rushing because of losses attempting to pass.

WILDCATS

up only 64 yards per game passing.

Other Northwestern standouts are end Cas Banaszek, a dangerous receiver, center Jim Haugness, defensive tackle Jim Burns, guard Bob Otterbacher and safety Mike Buckner.

The Wildcats defeated Indiana 20-0 and Iowa 10-0, in addition to losing to Wisconsin 21-7 and to Michigan State.

Minnesota drubbed Indiana 42-18 and dumped Iowa 14-3.

The Wildcats have been working this week to shore up their defense against the passing of Minnesota's John Hankinson.

Hankinson completed 10 of 15 tosses for 184 yards last year in the Gophers' 21-18 victory.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — The Minnesota Gophers went through a long passing drill Wednesday, in a preparation for their Big Ten football game with Northwestern here Saturday.

Previous workouts this week had concentrated almost exclusively on the running game.

After viewing two more Wildcat game films, the defense worked to stop certain plays. Although Northwestern has a strong running game, the Gophers are also priming to stop an expected passing attack.

No lineup changes were made during the light contact workout.

BOWLERS EYE AJBC CHAPTER

Winona bowlers Sunday hope to help settle the future of the sport in the city by organizing an American Junior Bowling Congress chapter for Winona.

All interested members of both city men's and women's associations are asked to meet at Winona Athletic Club Sunday at 3:30 p.m. On hand will be Gordon Teigen, American Bowling Congress field representative.

Bower Protects Toronto's Tie With New York

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Punch Imlach, general manager-coach of the Toronto Maple Leafs, was reflecting on his decision to protect aging Johnny Bower and Terry Sawchuk from the National Hockey League draft last June and expose young Gerry Cheevers.

"Sure I thought about protecting Cheevers," Imlach said after Bower's sharp play had protected 2-2 tie against the New York Rangers Wednesday night. "But you know goalies are like wine. They improve with age."

Bower, who celebrates his 41st birthday next week, was at his best in the third period against the Rangers after New York's Rod Gilbert had tied the score in the first 19 seconds.

The Rangers spent most of the period in Toronto's zone and threw everything they had at Bower but the old man came up with 11 saves, several of them sparklers.

Boston, which snatched up Cheevers when Imlach left him unprotected in the draft, picked up its first point of the season in a 2-2 tie with league-leading Chicago.

North Dakota State continues its dominance of the Associated Press' small college football poll.

The Bisons, who trounced South Dakota 66-8 last week, received seven first-place votes and 141 points from the board of 16 selectors.

Their closest competitor is Maine with 100 points. North Dakota State is unbeaten in eight games while Maine hasn't lost in seven contests. The top two teams retained their spots from last week as did third-ranked Middle Tennessee, Los Angeles State, No. 4, and fifth-rated Long Beach State.

KANSAS CITY — St. John's of Minnesota, with eight victories and no losses this season, moved up to No. 1 this week in the college football poll sponsored by the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics.

Findlay of Ohio skidded from first place to ninth after absorbing a 21-19 defeat from Northern Michigan Saturday.

LOS ANGELES — A series of matches between Spain's Davis Cup tennis team and four U.S. stars has been scheduled Nov. 13-14 at the Los Angeles Tennis Club.

Americans Dennis Ralston, Charles Pasarell, Stan Smith and Bob Lutz will play Manuel Santana, Juan Gisbert, Luis Arilla and Juan Coudor, it was announced Wednesday by Perry T. Jones, director of the Southern California Tennis Association.

LAS VEGAS, Nev. — Heavyweight boxing champion Cassius Clay has begun the Las Vegas portion of his training for his Nov. 22 title defense against challenger Floyd Patterson.

Clay works out for an hour Wednesday, including seven rounds of sparring, in his first drill here.

Spartans Give Yards Grudgingly, First in Defense

NEW YORK (AP) — One of the reasons that the Michigan State Spartans are the No. 1 college football team in the country is that they yield yardage grudgingly — particularly on the ground.

The latest statistics released today by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau show that the Spartans jumped from fourth to first in the rushing defense department after holding Northwestern to seven yards on the ground last Saturday.

Southern Mississippi, playing a less trying schedule than the Spartans' Big Ten card, continues to be the best defensive team statistically in over-all defense, with Toledo second and Vanderbilt third.

The strong Southern Mississippi team has given up only 165 yards a game, compared with 165.7 for Toledo and 182.4 for Vanderbilt. Michigan State is ninth with a yield of 194.7.

The Spartans are supreme in the rushing defense department, having given up only an average of 57.4 yards. Cincinnati follows with 59.3 and Notre Dame is third with 69.8.

LOPEZ STILL BOSS

MILWAUKEE (AP) — "Al Lopez is still our manager," Eddie Short, general manager of the Chicago White Sox, said Wednesday night.

We also have smaller ones, but I like the big one best. I don't fly solo but I want to learn."

A mother of five children ranging in age from 2 1/2 to 9 1/2, Lee said she attends night school at home in Palos Verdes, Calif. She's studying to become a secretary.

She says she has helped her husband work on the engines of some of his cars, but nowadays sticks more to errands and secretarial work.

"We went out and sat in the car today and went over the instrument panel. I'll make some test runs early tomorrow and then try for the record," she said.

Skelly Gals rapped 919-2, 493 behind 198 from Carol Fenske and 503 from Julie Werner.

Sunsetters — Shirley Gehlhaart's 490 shoved Schlitz to 885-2,568. Donna Barb rapped 186 for Mankato Bar. Lora Kanz converted the 6-7.

WINONA AC: Majorette — Chris Whetstone's 180 led Winona Industries to 890 while Marie Ellison's 443 was pushing Square Deal to 2,524.

Mrs. Breedlove Wants 2 Speed Marks for Family

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah (AP) — The pretty, dark-haired wife of the fastest man on wheels wants to become the fastest woman on wheels.

Mrs. Craig Breedlove, wife of the man who roared to 555.127 miles per hour to grab the land speed record here Tuesday, planned to drive her husband's Spirit of America Sonic I today in an attempt on Betty Skelton's 277.62 m.p.h. mark set last September.

Miss Skelton, of Detroit, drove Art Arfons' Green Monster Cy-clops, an open cockpit jet dragster, 250.61 m.p.h. and returned on the one-mile measured portion of the 11-mile course at a speed of 315.72 m.p.h.

The 277.62 mark shattered the previous record of 226 m.p.h. set by Paula Murphy of Los Angeles in 1964.

Now Lee Breedlove wants to try for the record.

"I just want to do it," she said Wednesday night. "Paula Murphy and Betty Skelton did. And I just want to try it myself."

Lee said she had talked it over with Craig about a year ago and then decided definitely the day before her 28-year-old husband established the new mark.

Lee, who admits to being "as old as my husband," said she has never driven competitively before.

"But I like to fly and drive motorcycles," she said. "We have a Bonneville 120 (motorcyle). We also have smaller ones, but I like the big one best. I don't fly solo but I want to learn."

A mother of five children ranging in age from 2 1/2 to 9 1/2, Lee said she attends night school at home in Palos Verdes, Calif. She's studying to become a secretary.

She says she has helped her husband work on the engines of some of his cars, but nowadays sticks more to errands and secretarial work.

Stout Facing Key Encounter In Whitewater

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Surprising Stout (5-0) is solid testimony that preseason polls do not a football team make. The Blue Devils, picked by Wisconsin state University Conference coaches as an also ran, will get their crack at the conference title when they host Whitewater (4-0-1) in Menomonie Saturday afternoon.

Eau Claire's two year title reign in the WSCU was expected to end this year, but La Crosse or Whitewater were tapped as their opponents. La Crosse (3-1-1) is out of the title picture but Whitewater is very much in it.

The Warhawks have never lost to a Stout team in a series that began in 1958. Last year they edged the Blue Devils 23-19. Stout has 25 lettermen back who remember that game plus the league's top passer in Mike Dunford.

La Crosse (3-1-1) can only hope that Whitewater loses and they are victorious. This combination would give the Indians the consolation of a second place tie. The Indians close out the season with home game against Oshkosh (3-3) Saturday night.

Superior (0-6) will face Michigan Tech still looking for a victory.

The remaining afternoon games send Platteville (0-5) against Eau Claire (2-3) and Stevens Point (3-2) against River Falls (3-1-2).

St. Louis Best at Tossing Passers

NEW YORK (AP) — If you were to throw a football team on its ability to throw the other team's quarterback while protecting its own passer, the St. Louis Cardinals rank highest in the National Football League.

The Cards' defense has thrown the passer 26 times while Charley Johnson and Buddy Humphrey have been tossed only 12 times. That gives them a plus of 14, as compared to nine by the Detroit Lions, the next best in the category.
