Reds Offer Viets New Year's Truce

ITALIAN FOREIGN MINISTER RESIGNS

Fanfani Quits in Row On Viet Peace Deal

ROME (AP) — Foreign Minister Amintore Fanfani tendered his resignation today because of criticism of his role in a purported North Vietnamese peace feeler that Hanoi later disavowed. Premier Aldo Moro refused to accept the resignation.

REASON IN SEASON... A sign on a Crookston, Minn., drive-in eating place became more meaningful today when the mercury plunged to 14 degrees below zero as a cold wave swept Minnesota and the Dakotas. Continued cold is the forecast for Tuesday. Crookston observers predict the sign will be in season for at least three more months. (AP Photofax)

Storm Lashes Pacific Area

Strong winds, heavy rain and snow pounded broad sections of the Pacific Northwest today. Gale warnings were posted by the U.S. Weather Bureau from Northern California north to the Puget Sound.

Cuban Ships Carrying Arms To Viet Reds

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Four Cuban defectors, all merchant marine officers, give U.S. agents their account today of how their nation's ships carry Red Chinese arms to North Viet Nam.

The four put on business attire, walked ashore from the 7,900-ton freighter Aracelio Iglesias Monday in Osaka, Japan and went into the U.S. consulate where they quickly were given visas to the United States.

Fanfani, under fire for his role with his friend Giorgio La Pira in the purported peace overture, submitted his resignation in the midst of a rising critical storm.

He acted to disassociate himself from anti-American remarks made by La Pira at a recent party given by Fanfani's wife.

Moro cleared Fanfani of any involvement in the La Pira remarks and said: "I beg you, therefore, not to insist upon your dismissal, which I do not think I am able to accept."

The resignation of the fiery little foreign minister came only a week before a special session of the Foreign Affairs Commission of the Chamber of Deputies called to question his part as middleman in the purported peace maneuver.

Fanfani made it clear he still wants to face the commission and answer its questions.

He asked that his resignation become effective Jan. 6, one day after the extraordinary commission hearing, so that he can appear before his critics while still foreign minister.

Some here expressed the opinion that Premier Aldo Moro would refuse to accept the resignation as a sign of solidarity with Fanfani, who is of his same Christian Democrat Party but who often has been his political opponent.

In his letter of resignation Fanfani indicated that he still was convinced of the good faith of former Florence Mayor Giorgio La Pira who passed on to him the purported Hanoi peace feeler which Fanfani passed to President Johnson.

Over the past weekend a far-right magazine, Borghese, published what it called an interview with La Pira, quoting him as criticizing Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Moro, and saying communism no longer exists and Red China has only eight million bicycles. That was m.p.h. and higher swept coastal sections, with biggest amounts in Northern California and southern Oregon which were hit by the damaging floods last December.

In other parts of the nation, severe cold stung wide areas from Colorado and Montana to the Great Lakes region and in northern Maine.

Two Canadian Men Killed at Two Harbors

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS A Catholic priest and a woman were killed early today in the head-on crash of a car and a gasoline transport truck near Grand Rapids, Minn.

The deaths raised Minnesota's 1965 traffic toll to 842, six more than in the same period last year, and two fewer than the record highway kill of 844 in 1964.

Two Canadian men were killed in a Two Harbors area crash Monday and a Minneapolis teen-age girl was killed in a Minneapolis accident.

Killed early today were Rev. Edward Joseph Foote, 42, of Northome, Minn., and Elizabeth Louise Deckers Walters, 27, Rt. 2, Bemidji, Minn. Fr. Foote was a passenger in the car when it and a gasoline transport truck driven by Howard W. Goodwin, Grand Rapids, collided head-on about 12:15 a.m. on Highway 2 about 4 1/2 miles east of Grand Rapids.

Goodwin suffered lacerations and a broken nose, and his son, Stephan, 14, suffered facial cuts.

The gasoline transport truck overturned and caught fire. The car was west bound.

A car carrying seven Canadians en route to a church meeting in Duluth collided head-on with a semi-trailer truck near Two Harbors.

Reported in critical condition in a Duluth hospital were Goett's wife, Barbara, 40, and son, Wayne, 22. Listed in good condition in a Two Harbors hospital were Goett's daughter, Pamela, 18, and Barbara Hogg, 20, and Gale Wilton, 20, also of Port Arthur.

The truck driver, Donald Becker, 30, Duluth, escaped serious injury. Authorities said the car and truck met head-on on the Crow Creek bridge on Highway 61 about eight miles northeast of Two Harbors.

Linda Leigh Schumann, 18, Minneapolis, was killed Monday night when the car in which she was riding hit a tree, bounced back into the street and collided with another car.

Russians Launch Another Satellite

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union today launched another Cosmos satellite, the 102nd in a series started in March 1962.

Announcements of launchings say they have been undertaken to obtain scientific information. But Western experts believe that many of the satellites are in fact military reconnaissance instruments.

The other two men on the trip are Thomas Hayden, a founder of the Students for a Democratic Society, and Herbert Aptheker, a reputed Communist theoretician.

TOKYO GREETING... U.S. Vice President and Mrs. Hubert Humphrey are greeted on their arrival in Tokyo today by Japanese Prime Minister and Mrs. Eisaku Sato. Humphrey's Tokyo visit is the first leg of a brief Asian tour. He will also visit the Philippines, Nationalist China and South Korea. (AP Photofax via radio from Tokyo)

Humphrey in Tokyo on First Leg of Asian Visit

TOKYO (AP)—U.S. Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey arrived in Tokyo tonight on the first leg of a brief Asian tour and appealed to Japan for help and advice in "our common endeavors."

Humphrey planned an 18-hour stopover, en route to the inauguration of Philippine President Ferdinand Marcos. During his Asian swing he will take to leaders about Viet Nam but won't go there.

Met by Prime Minister Eisaku Sato and Foreign Minister Eisusaburo Shiina, the vice president delivered an arrival statement which appeared to anticipate Japanese calls for non-holds-barred discussions of U.S. policy in Viet Nam, a touchy subject in Japan.

"The brevity of my stay should not obscure the importance we in the United States attach to frequent and frank consultation with your leaders," he said.

"Our goals and aspirations are much the same. We share the same deep commitments to peace, liberty and the prosperity of all peoples. We value your friendship, we look for your advice, we need your help in our common endeavors."

Their last sentence could have been a veiled reference to the fact that the Japanese, though still pro-American, are reluctant allies where Viet Nam is concerned.

The Japanese Communists announced plans to mobilize 10,000 persons to march in front of the U. S. Embassy in protest against Humphrey's visit.

Police ruled out any demonstrations at the airport.

Humphrey is the first vice president to visit Japan since 1958, when Richard M. Nixon came here.

Humphrey will be received by Emperor Hirohito and will have a two-hour talk with Prime Minister Eisaku Sato.

Humphrey goes to Manila Wednesday to represent the United States at the inauguration Thursday of Philippine President-elect Ferdinand E. Marcos.

Could Apply To U.S. Units; No Air Raids

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The Viet Cong tonight announced a four-day cease-fire in its war against South Vietnamese forces during the lunar New Year celebration next month. Meanwhile, the United States extended the moratorium on its air war against North Viet Nam for a fourth day.

A broadcast of the Communist Liberation Front radio said the Viet Cong would "stop attacking the puppet armed forces and government" from 12:01 a.m. Jan. 20 to midnight Jan. 23. The four-day festival, known as Tet, is celebrated as a national holiday in Viet Nam.

The broadcast did not mention U.S. and other foreign forces fighting alongside the South Vietnamese. But conceivably it could apply to them since their military actions are coordinated with those of the Vietnamese troops even when they are not joint operations.

There was no immediate reaction from American or Vietnamese officials to the Viet Cong broadcast.

There also was no indication how long the American air pause would last or whether the Viet Cong announcement signified a peace reaction to the American moratorium. The guerrillas have suspended hostilities in the past during the Tet celebration.

The Saigon government in the past has dismissed Communist offers of a truce for Tet as propaganda. Nevertheless, a lull has usually developed on both sides during the holiday.

The Viet Cong broadcast said the offer would allow their "compatriots" to enjoy the Tet festival, and allow "military men and personnel of the puppet government to return to their villages, worship their ancestors and visit their family tombs."

The broadcast added an unexplained qualification to the offer. It said that "soldiers, officers and personnel of the puppet government who return to their villages must comply with the practical regulations set forth by the Liberation Front military command."

These "practical regulations" were not detailed.

When they offered a 12-hour Christmas truce, the Viet Cong said "enemy" troops must not carry weapons and must refrain from any spying.

In what appeared to be an escalation of the U.S. peace offensive, a U.S. spokesman said the United States also had suspended B52 raids on suspected Viet Cong strongholds in South Viet Nam and cut off air reconnaissance of the Communist north.

North Viet Nam charged Monday that U.S. reconnaissance planes and warships intruded into its air space and territorial waters on Christmas day despite the allied truce.

The last air attack on the north was at 5:45 p.m. Christmas eve, 15 minutes before the

Traffic Accidents Kill 720 in 3 Days

CHICAGO (AP) — Traffic accidents killed 720 persons over the three-day Christmas weekend, the highest number ever counted for any holiday period.

The National Safety Council termed the toll a national disaster.

The figure smashed the record of 706 for a 102-hour, four-day holiday weekend that had stood for nine years. The previous record also was for a Christmas observance — in 1956.

The council had estimated a death toll of between 560 and 660.

The record for a three-day holiday was 609 during the 1955 Christmas period.

Christmas 1964, also a three-day observance, brought 578 traffic deaths.

The Associated Press made a survey of traffic fatalities in a non-holiday weekend for comparison purposes. From 6 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 9, through midnight Sunday, Dec. 12, 420 traffic deaths were counted.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Young men who join the Peace Corps or sign on as volunteers in the war on poverty are eligible for occupational deferment from the draft, a Selective Service official said today.

Peace Corps Workers Can Escape Draft

But youths on the receiving end of federal job training programs are eligible for induction, if they meet the physical and mental standards set for draftees.

"As far as we are concerned," said Capt. William S. Pascoe, public information officer for the Selective Service System, "if a person is in the Job Corps, there is no reason for us to defer them."

Peace Corps volunteers are considered to be in an occupation vital to the national interest. The same is true of young men who join the Volunteers in Service to America — VISTA, domestic counterparts of the Peace Corps.

Deferments are granted on a year-to-year basis. The young man involved would be deferred only during the period of his service with the Peace Corps or with VISTA.

Once a man has been deferred, his draft liability is extended until he is 35.

Yale Professor in Hanoi To Talk With Communists

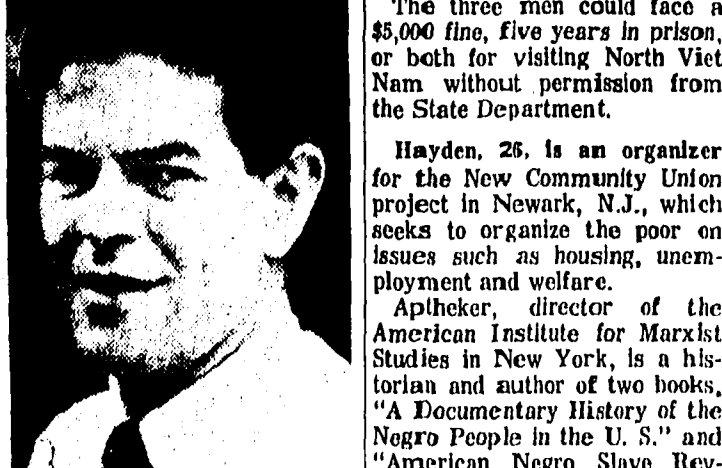

NEW YORK (AP) — Staughton Lynd, a Yale professor and a spokesman for the "new left," is reported in Hanoi to talk with leaders of Communist North Viet Nam and the Viet Cong.

Lynd, accompanied by two other Americans, is on an unauthorized mission that could result in stiff federal penalties.

The trip is sponsored by the magazine Viet Report "in an effort to clarify the position of the National Liberation Front (Viet Cong) and the Democratic Republic of (North) Viet Nam," said John McDermott, associate editor of the magazine.

Lynd, 36, an assistant professor of history at Yale University, has a long identification with pacifist activities. He is regarded as a leading spokesman for the "new left" — the ad hoc committees, student groups, and the lonely rebels and revolutionaries.

Lynd has demonstrated against the war in Viet Nam, and the magazine Viet Report is a frequent critic of American policy there. The Students for a Democratic Society has been an organizing force in the antiwar demonstrations.

Staughton Lynd

a reference to the late Italian dictator Benito Mussolini's brag that he had eight million bayonets.

The purported interview raised a storm of criticism. La Pira said he had been quoted out of context on remarks he made half in jest and half in paradox at a private party.

Borghese said that party was held in Fanfani's home.

Fanfani said in his letter of resignation that he did not agree with the criticism of La Pira.

The three junior officers stood near their captain at San Francisco airport as Francisco Cobas Oses, 46, reiterated the earlier statement at the news conference.

Kid Crowds Taking Over

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — "Youth is taking over in the nation — and youth is interested in electronics and amplified voices . . . and sounds . . ."

Billy Reed, closing his famous Little Club on E. 55th St., after 18 years of struggle that began when Doris Day opened there as an unknown, said today that "the desire for amplified sounds" by youth contributed to the death of his own spot . . . and to this year's demise of so many others. . . the Stork, Birdland, International, Empire Room, Harwyn, Caprice, Viennese Lantern, Lou Black's and Embers.

LBJ Hopes to Cut Balance of Payments Deficit

NEW YORK (AP) — President Johnson's administration is counting on U. S. industry to chop $1 billion from the nation's balance of payments deficit in 1965.

That would bring the nation's international accounts close to the balance point, said Andrew F. Brimmer, Assistant Secretary of Commerce for Economic Affairs, in an address prepared for delivery to the American Finance Association.

Brimmer said that target is the reason the so-called voluntary restrictions on export of dollars for overseas investment have been clearly focused on industry.

The 1966 "guidelines" on overseas investment limit such spending during the two-year 1965-66 period to 90 per cent of the level of investments in the three-year 1962-64 period.

Corporations also have been asked to boost exports and report quarterly on foreign transactions. The number of corporations to report quarterly will be more than 900, compared with about 500 in 1965.

Brimmer contended that the 1965 voluntary program "is likely to be a major source of the substantial improvement in the U. S. balance of payments for 1965."

That came about, he said, through increased expansion of exports and the repatriation of income earned overseas.

"On the other hand, the continued high rate of direct investment has dampened the over-all improvement," Brimmer added.

Consequently, in the face of the possibility of more of the same in 1966, the guidelines were redrawn to attack the investment situation.

Voice of the Outdoors

Wild Turkey Hearing

A Wisconsin Conservation Department public hearing on the question of an open season for wild turkey hunting in Juneau and Wood counties will be held at 8 p.m., Jan. 11 at Mauston. It would be a permit lottery season of 15 days, divided into five three-day periods, with 220 permits issued for each period.

Shooting hours would be 5 a.m. to 10 a.m. each day, with one male turkey the limit. It would be shotgun only with BB shot. Dogs and electric callers would be barred.

We understand that there is considerable opposition to the open season in the two counties. Natives contend that there are not sufficient birds to justify an open season. The conservation department contends that the Michigan open season last spring did not hurt the production, and that the turkeys like any game crop should be harvested regularly.

Scientists Split On Antimissiles

Berkeley, Calif. (AP) —

Two prominent scientists clashed here over the value — or danger — of proposals to spend billions on antimissile systems and fallout shelters.

"Reliance upon a defense system of such extraordinary complexity may bring more risk than safety," said Dr. Barry Commoner, head of the Department of Botany at Washington University, St. Louis, Mo.

Dr. Edward Teller, University of California physicist and one of the inventors of the atomic bomb, countered: "A strong civil defense is our best hope of preventing nuclear attack."

The two were scheduled speakers in a symposium on civil defense at the annual meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science — the largest scientific convention of the year, attended by more than 6,000.

The difference of opinion came at a briefing prior to the symposium.

Commoner, an authority on the effects of radiation on man's environment, accused Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara of giving a "woefully inadequate" picture of the immediate and eventual damage from nuclear war.

He predicted "epidemics of human and animal diseases, crop destruction by radiation, erosion and sterilization of the land resulting from massive destruction of vegetation, and the triggering of possibly catastrophic climatic changes."

These, as well as immediate destruction from blast heat and radiation, he said, "lead me to conclude that this nation, its population, its economic wealth, its social fabric — all that we speak of as our civilization — would be irrevocably lost following a major nuclear war."

He conceded that some scientists would disagree with him but insisted "there can be no disagreement that it is absolutely impossible to be certain of our own survival."

Teller said strong civil defense measures are vital as a deterrent. "The Russians characteristically avoid taking risks," Teller said. "If we have no shelters or antimissile systems they may feel they can defeat us. But if we put up a strong civil defense I believe we will prevent attack."

"The Russians and the Chinese are not mad, as Hitler was. It is fortunate that we are now faced by reasonable opponents. I don't think they will want to start a war unless they are sure they can defeat us, and they can't be sure if we have a strong civil defense."

Commoner pointed out that the Johnson administration is considering a combined antimissile-shelter system, expected to cost several billions.

He said he believed the money a strong civil defense system would cost might be better spent on a research and education to prevent war but that in any case no decision should be made without informing the public of potential dangers.

Teller said he was convinced that adequate civil defense measures would at least decrease the number of casualties and that their very existence would make potential aggressors hesitate.

McLaughlin notified Gimbels that adequate civil defense measures would at least decrease the number of casualties and that their very existence would make potential aggressors hesitate.

He helped found CORE 23 years ago and has headed it since 1961.

Recreation Grants

Minnesota and Wisconsin each have been notified that a grant of around a million and a half dollars has been made to these states to establish recreation areas near centers of population. Two local projects should come within the range of proper projects.

In Minnesota, the Memorial Hardwood Forest along the Mississippi, within an hour's driving distance of the Twin Cities, extends from Hastings to the Iowa line. All that is lacking to keep this project expanding is money. The state forestry department has a large number of tracts ready to purchase. It could be done now and made available for public use within a year.

Incidentally, the new area state forestry headquarters building at Lake City has been opened, with the forest in charge who will coordinate and speed this forest development.

The nearby Wisconsin project that certainly qualifies for such a federal aid allotment is the Buffalo City winter sports development. Here, the organization has been completed, the surveys made, and all that is needed are the funds to go ahead. With money, this recreation project, within range of more than a million winter sport fans, could be in operation in two years.

Both states should look to the southern part of their states for recreation development. The north woods are beautiful with their lakes and forest, but since the federal government's aim is to bring recreation to the mass of the people within easy reach, the river areas of the two states certainly have first claim.

Improved Fishing Conditions. The near zero weather is exactly what a lot of timid ice fishermen have been waiting for. It will assure them of safe ice over most of the sloughs and shallow backwaters. Ice was forming on the main channel Monday.

Many fishermen, of course, have been fishing through the ice for weeks. They have picked selected areas with little or no current, shallow water, and lots of sunfish and crappies. The present vacation period is going to find younger fishermen on the ice. In fact, they were out Sunday catching crappies.

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Food Minister Chidambaram Subramaniam said today he has asked the United States to pay freight costs on emergency food grains it will ship to India.

Subramaniam, returning from a seven-day visit to the United States told newsmen he asked that India not be required to pay freight charges on shipments above its normal imports.

The food minister said he explained in Washington that India did not have sufficient foreign exchange to pay the additional shipping costs.

James Farmer Quitting CORE

NEW YORK (AP) — James Farmer is stepping down as national director of the Congress of Racial Equality next March to turn his attention to another phase of the civil rights program.

Farmer said Monday he will become director of the Center for Community Action Education, a national literacy project funded by federal and private funds.

He helped found CORE 23 years ago and has headed it since 1961.

It's Winter, But Park Board Discusses Trees

In a meeting which saw relatively little major items of business, the Park - Recreation Board decided Monday to finish its root cutting program next spring and to examine its 4-year-old tree trimming equipment.

About two weeks of work is needed to finish the root-cutting program for the entire city, according to Bruce Reed, park superintendent.

A CONTRACT was let early this year to Henry Olson at a rate of $11 per working hour. When the contract limit of 1,000 hours was reached, the board negotiated extensions at the same rate. To date, the department has spent about $16,000 and will now ask Olson to finish the remaining work instead of asking for new bids in the spring.

Reed recommended that a thorough inspection of the department's tree tower be made to forestall possible breaks from structural faults, wear or metal fatigue. Specialized testing equipment may be required which would make it necessary to return the machine to the manufacturer at Bowling Green, Ohio, Reed said. Before doing this, a check will be made with local industries to see whether the examination and possible repairs can be done locally, he said.

A COMPLETE report on present status of root and tree programs will be made at the January meeting, Reed said. The tree crew now is working along Wilson Street.

Six young men are working for the department under the neighborhood Youth Corps program, said M. J. Bambenek, director of parks and recreation. They have assisted with regular winter maintenance of recreation equipment and have been clearing brush in jack pine areas of Prairie Island, Bambenek said.

The NYC program is chiefly for disadvantaged youth of minimum employability, Bambenek said. Candidates are screened on the basis of needs and are helped to develop some useful skills, he continued. The program has met with some success because several youths now expect to enroll in the vocational - technical school and further expand new-found abilities, Bambenek said.

THE BOARD voted to invest $30,000 in certificates of deposit. The funds are from the November tax settlement and are put into short-term investments until needed.

Bank Forgets to Lock for Holiday

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Larry Hanson walked into a suburban Jacksonville bank intending to cash a check Monday — and found himself alone. It was closed and supposedly locked.

He tiptoed out, being careful not to set off any alarms, and called police.

Patrolman D.J. Crews, who investigated, reported that apparently the front door had been unlocked since Friday but that nothing seemed to be disturbed.

Crews said a bank official told him that the employee who usually locks the door left early Friday.

DEAR ABBY: And You Call This a Problem?

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Our 17-year-old son is good-looking, well-behaved and popular. He's a good student, good athlete and good dancer, but he NEVER asks a girl for a date. He's not afraid of girls. He'll go around with a bunch of boys and they'll "meet up" with girls, but when it comes to calling a girl and making a date, he won't do it. Girls ask him to girl-ask-boy dances, and he goes and has a great time. He can use our car, his Dad will give him money, and many mothers of girls have hinted to me that their daughters would like to date our son. When a big affair comes up (like a prom), he waits around until the last minute and then decides it's too late to call anybody. What's wrong with him? I could ring his beautiful neck!

DEAR MOTHER: Believe it or not, even good-looking, bright and popular boys can feel inadequate when it comes to girls. They don't ask because they are afraid they might be turned down. (I know, I get letters from boys, too). Keep "reminding" your son to get a date for those special events. If he's insecure, it will provide the extra push he needs. If he's just immature, he won't call until he's good and ready.

DEAR ABBY: My child plays with a child her age who lives in our apartment building with her mother and father. We rarely see the mother as she is a stewardess with an airline. I know that this airline will not allow their stewardesses to continue to fly after they marry. Yet this young woman calls herself "MRS." How can this be? How do I go about finding out if this woman is just living with this man or if they are really married?

DEAR NOSEY: You answered your own question with your own signature: You're too "nosey" for your own good.

DEAR ABBY: Last summer a friend and I took a motor trip and agreed to share expenses. We were stopped for speeding on the outskirts of a small town. (She was driving.) The fine was $10. After the trip our friendship cooled. I later found out that my friend thought I should have paid half the fine since we had agreed to share expenses. Do you think a speeding ticket is a legitimate expense? NOT CHEAP

DEAR NOT: No, it's an illegitimate expense. But your friend violated the law herself, and should have expected no help from you in paying the fine.

DEAR ABBY: My great-grandson is with the Peace Corps at an oasis in the Sahara Desert. Mail arrives by CAMEL three times a year. If he is to get his Christmas presents in December, they must reach Algiers before the caravan sets out in August. So please tell the merchants that if they want to start promoting Christmas around the Fourth of July, it's all right with me. E. McVEIGH: CHICAGO

1,000 Pack Church for Negro Funeral

FRANKLIN, N.C. (AP) — A thousand persons packed this mountain town's largest church Monday for the funeral of Thomas Walter Scruggs, a popular Negro athlete credited with helping the peaceful desegregation of schools.

"Indirectly," said the Rev. Dr. W. Thomas Lane, "Walter Scruggs did more to smooth the integration of our community — more than the pastors, the businessmen, or anyone else."

"He made his contribution for being what he was," Dr. Lane explained. "Everybody liked him."

Scruggs, 18, was killed Christmas Eve when his car collided head-on with one driven by his brother.

Dr. Lane said his First Baptist Church voted unanimously to request that the funeral be shifted from Scruggs' small Episcopal church because so many residents of this western North Carolina town of 2,600 wanted to attend.

Scruggs was described by his high school basketball coach, Tom Raby, as the kind of boy who won games in the last second, was admired by his teachers, and set an example for others.

Scruggs was a freshman at Piedmont College in Demorest, Ga., the first Negro to attend the school. A year ago, he was among the first Negroes to attend previously all-white Franklin High School.

At the funeral were Dr. James E. Walter, president of the college, basketball coach O'Neal Cave, members of the team and some 30 other Piedmont students.

Hope Brings Picture of Twins to GI

AN KHE, South Viet Nam (AP) — Bob Hope brought a young GI his first picture of the soldier's twins today.

Performing for 7,000 troops of the U. S. 1st Cavalry, Airborne Division, the comedian called Spec. 4 Bryan H. O'Connell of Studio City, Calif., to the stage and handed him a picture of the twins, born in November after the division left for Viet Nam.

Hope said Mrs. O'Connell came to his plane as he was leaving California and asked him to take the picture to her husband.

The sum was out for most of the performance at the division headquarters here 250 miles north of Saigon. But once when it clouded over and started to rain lightly, Hope raised a golf club toward the sky and declared: "You wouldn't dare."

The rain stopped.

Cigarettes Carry Health Warning

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP)—Cigarette packs bearing health warnings are falling off production lines at some major North Carolina tobacco companies in advance of the Jan. 1 deadline required by federal law.

New packs of L&Ms displaying the warnings appeared in the Raleigh area Monday. L&Ms are manufactured by Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co. at a plant in nearby Durham.

The warning on the side panel says: "Caution: Cigarette smoking may be hazardous to your health."

BUSINESS MIRROR

Home Builders Hope for Pickup

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Home builders are hoping that 1966 will see an end to the industry's private recession. A marked pickup is reported in contracts let in November for future construction of residential units. And lenders say that demand for mortgages is picking up.

The government chimes in with reports that housing starts have increased in the closing weeks of the year. And the Department of Commerce adds the prediction that construction spending of all types, including homes, will hit a record pace of $72.7 billion in 1966, compared with $68.5 billion in 1965.

Despite all these hopeful tidings, the home building industry is closing out a year which in many sections of the country trailed 1964 activity in almost every month-to-month comparison.

Total starts in 1965 will be around 1,490,000 residential units, against 1,557,000 last year. And the pace at yearend, though picking up, is well below the high point reached in the opening weeks of 1964.

The story on a money basis is better than on a tally by units. The industry says this is because new owners were buying more expensive homes this year than last.

Contracts let for residential building in the first 11 months of 1965 were 3 per cent higher than in the like period of 1964, F.W. Dodge Co. reports today. The construction industry information specialists put the 1965 figure at $19,866,649,000, up from $19,287,763,000 in the first 11 months of 1964.

Builders note happily that a flashy 14 per cent improvement was reported in November. Residential building contracts rose to $1.7 billion in this latest report, from $1.5 billion in November 1964.

The lending fraternity also has cheerful news this week. Although fretting over the general rise in interest rates triggered by Federal Reserve Board action, savings and loan associations report mortgage lending at the yearend was on the upturn. And so was the savings inflow into these institutions after a period of sluggishness.

The United States Savings & Loan League reports that member associations closed $1.9 billion in mortgage loans this November, up 4 per cent from last year. But for the first 11 months of 1965 the total of $21.9 billion trailed 1964 by $600 million.

Savers added $2.5 billion to their accounts last month and withdrew $1.7 billion. Both figures topped November 1964 when the inflow was $2.4 billion and withdrawals $1.5 billion.

Actor and Tax Collector Disagree

ROME (AP) — Actor Marcello Mastroianni says he made $48,000 in 1965, but Rome's tax assessors insist he earned $160,000.

It's all part of the "family tax" game played each year in Italy. The tax office throws out a figure, the citizen swears it's ridiculously high, then they negotiate a settlement somewhere in between. The tax rate runs from 10 to 15 per cent of income.

Rhodesians Feel Pinch of Embargo

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP) — Rhodesians began to feel the pinch of the oil embargo against their government today. Rationing began of gasoline and diesel oil for passenger cars, trucks and buses.

Prime minister Ian Smith waited until after Christmas to announce the measure Monday night.

Owners of private cars will get three to five gallons of fuel per week. There is no restriction on diesel oil for commercial vehicles, but those using gasoline are limited to five to 10 gallons per week depending on size.

Doctors, veterinary surgeons, undertakers, diplomats and most government organizations operating transport for the public are exempt.

Britain announced the oil embargo against Smith's white minority government 10 days ago. Smith declared independence from Britain Nov. 11 after independence talks broke down over Britain's insistence that Rhodesia's four million Africans be given a progressively better voice in the government. There are 220,000 whites in Rhodesia. Most major oil producing countries joined the ban.

Parking Meters on Way Out In Many Cities

THE CONSTANT search for nickels and dimes to feed that curbside monster — the parking meter — may be passe in the not too distant future.

In a survey just completed by the American Automobile Association, a definite trend toward elimination of parking meters in U.S. cities is indicated, both in large and small communities. (Recently, two Minnesota cities removed their parking meters. Hopkins and White Bear Lake took out their parking meters with no apparent ill effects reported and several advantages cited.)

While the majority of communities taking the action are in the 50,000 and under population category, several cities in the 50,000 and up population range are also beginning to remove parking meters.

ACCORDING TO THE AAA survey, motorists did not remain longer in parking spaces after meters were removed. The turnover rate remained about the same both before and after removal of the meters, thus spiking the belief that meters increase parking turnover.

In most of the cities where parking meters were given the ax, the meters were removed from the downtown business districts, while in several cities, meters were taken out of both the downtown and outlying business districts. Some communities removed them from residential areas as well.

MOST OF THE cities indicated the reason for removal of parking meters was to expedite traffic flow and spur shopping in the downtown business districts and a number of cities reported a definite increase in retail sales in the downtown area after the meters had been removed. None of the cities reported a decline in sales.

Housewife's Mileage — At Least Mile a Day?

(The Chicago Tribune)

DR. PAUL D. WHITE, the heart specialist, has undertaken to save American housewives from what he regards as the debilitating influence of the extension telephone. A telephone company advertisement reading "Save 76 miles with an extension phone" prompted him and a colleague to write to the New York Times, saying that this walking "may actually represent a sizable proportion of the total exercise of these ladies," and that it would be better for their hearts and general health if they stuck to one phone and took their 76 miles a year of exercise.

Well, Dr. White is a brave man and no doubt a good heart doctor. But we have it on unimpeachable authority that he is a lousy statistician. Seventy-six miles, we are told, is merely a hop, skip, and jump compared with the traveling that the average housewife must do. Consider, for example these figures, as reported by a usually reliable spokesman or (spokeswoman):

- Trips between stove and refrigerator: . . . 42 miles a year.
- Turning out lights after husband and children: . . . 23 miles.
- Letting dog in and out: . . . 33 miles.
- Looking to see whether dog is in or out: . . . 12 miles.
- Making master beds (average per bed): . . . 8 miles.
- Making children's beds (average per bed): . . . 14 miles.
- Emptying garbage: . . . 18 miles.
- Going to see if mail has come: . . . 32 miles.
- Cleaning house: . . . 64 miles.
- Putting away husband's and children's belongings: . . . 52 miles.
- Answering door (for charity appeals and door-to-door salesmen): . . . 28 miles.
- Turning off dripping faucets: . . . 12 miles.
- Checking thermometer when frantic husband calls, "Which coat do I need?": . . . 8 miles.
- Total (not including telephone trips): . . . 346 miles.

This works out to an average of about a mile a day, which does not seem out of line to us, as an experienced observer. As for the telephone trips, we doubt that all 76 miles is good for the housewife's heart anyway — especially if it turns out that the caller dialed a wrong number or that the telephone which rang was on television. Anger, we're told, is worse for the heart than inactivity.

WE WONDER how many extension phones there are in Dr. White's house.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

Pontificates Henry Youngman: "When a woman puts on a dinner dress, it does not necessarily mean she's going to dinner. And when she dons a cocktail dress, it doesn't insure her going to a cocktail party. But when she puts on a wedding dress, Brother, you know she means business."

And that life which I now live in the flesh I live in faith, the faith which is in the Son of God, who loved me, and gave himself up for me. — Galatians 2:20b.

TODAY IN WORLD AFFAIRS

Men Want to Live at Peace

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — "Peace on earth and good will toward men" is still an unfulfilled objective. Individual failings are responsible for the inability of governments to reflect the true will of their peoples. This is the prime cause of the perennial threats of war.

Basically, mankind would prefer to live at peace, but the indulgences of ambitious individuals who get possession of the reins of government lead to the frictions that bring on bloodshed.

Autocracy has been responsible for two world wars in this century, and it has also been the cause of many other wars in previous history.

The autocracy of the kaiser in 1914 precipitated the first world war. The autocracy of Hitler — joined by the autocracy of Stalin — started the second world war in 1939.

Today an autocracy prevails in Red China. It is tied in with another autocracy in the Soviet Union where the Communist party alone chooses the country's leaders. The discipline imposed by autocratic minds makes the whole process a triumph of conspiring cliques. This is by no means representative of the people's wishes, for no free elections with opposing tickets of candidates are permitted.

AUTOCRACY IS at the root of the troubles in Latin America. Men, more or less capable but often masters of intrigue, become dictators and use international politics and internal crises to force obedience as parliaments and congresses are subservient to selfish interests.

Autocracy is springing up throughout Africa. Groups of well-educated but unscrupulous individuals have converted some of the former European colonies into small "republics" in which one-man government has emerged. Many small countries have been given independence, but the trend is toward autocracy or oligarchy — not democracy.

Autocracy reigns also in the Middle East — for instance, in Egypt, where Nasser has held sway for a long time.

The true democracies are few in number. They are confronted in Europe by puppet regimes under the control of the Moscow government.

SMALL WONDER THERE are so many threats of war. Free peoples don't rule the world today — autocracies do.

In the face of such a disarray and a situation comparable to the times when tyrannical tribal chieftains held sway, what has the free world done to alleviate such conditions? The United States and some other countries have tried by altruistic grants as well as by commercial ventures in the backward regions to help advance the cause of modern civilization. But basically the power of autocracies suddenly to attack neighboring countries remains. It breeds constant suspicion and fear of invasion.

How can the small countries be protected and their freedom be assured? If they all had educated and honest leaders to run their governments, the story might be different, but even then there could be no safety unless outside governments refrained from engaging in subversive tactics and terrorism.

'I DON'T WANT TO CHANGE IT! TAKE IT BACK OR I'LL SPEND MY MONEY ELSEWHERE!'

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Johnson Fears Own Office May Be Bugged

By JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — President Johnson doesn't want government wiretappers to know it came from him, but he has ordered a halt to their habit of listening in on private conversations. Only exception: The attorney general may sanction wiretaps in national security cases.

The President has also demanded a complete inventory of all government eavesdropping equipment.

His written instructions, contained in a confidential "memo for heads of executive departments and agencies," were accompanied by a stern but strangle warning that his name be kept out of the crackdown on government eavesdropping.

In an accompanying letter, White House Aide Lee White admonished agencies: "The President is anxious that the attached memorandum, which is designated 'administratively confidential,' be regarded as such and that special efforts be made to respect the designation."

"In compiling the (inventory) requested in the final paragraph, there is no reason to indicate this information has been requested by the President, and a memorandum under your signature to operating personnel need not indicate this is a government-wide survey."

INSIDERS SAY the President fears his own office might be bugged. He is less worried that enemy agents might be able to break presidential security than that one of his own federal agencies might attempt an inside job in a misguided effort to keep tabs on him.

A former Army intelligence agent, Willis Adams, disclosed last month that he had monitored private conversations of the late Eleanor Roosevelt while she was first lady. This column has learned that the Army tried to deliver a recording of a conversation between Mrs. Roosevelt and a security suspect to the FBI, which refused even to listen to it. This column has also learned that listening devices recently were discovered in the offices of two U.S. senators. They were found by Federal Communications Commission engineers who had been asked by Sen. Ed Long, D-Mo., as part of his investigation into government eavesdropping, to check various senatorial offices for electronic snoopers.

There were no clues to indicate who had planned the devices.

PRESIDENT Johnson used blunt language in his confidential memo to agency heads.

"I am strongly opposed," he wrote, "to the interception of telephone conversations as a general investigative technique. I recognize that mechanical and electronic devices may sometimes be essential in protecting our national security."

"Nevertheless, it is clear that indiscriminate use of these investigative devices to overhear telephone conversations without the knowledge or consent of any persons involved could result in serious abuses and invasions of privacy."

"In my view, the invasion of privacy of communications is a highly offensive practice which should be engaged in only where the national security is at stake. To avoid any misunderstanding on the subject in the federal government, I am establishing the following basic guidelines to be followed by all government agencies:

"1. No federal personnel is to intercept telephone conversations within the United States by any mechanical or electronic devices without the consent of the parties involved (except in connection with investigations relating to the national security).

"2. No interceptions shall be undertaken or continued without first obtaining the approval of the attorney general.

"3. All federal agencies shall immediately conform their practices and procedures to the provisions of this order."

"UTILIZATION of mechanical or electronic devices to overhear non-telephone conversations is an even more difficult problem, which raises substantial and unresolved questions of constitutional interpretation.

"I desire that each agency conducting such investigations consult the attorney general to ascertain whether the agency's practices are fully in accord with the law and with a decent regard for the rights of others."

"Every agency head shall submit to the attorney general within 30 days a complete inventory of all mechanical and electronic equipment and devices used for or capable of intercepting telephone conversations. In addition, such reports shall contain a list of any interceptions currently authorized and the reasons for them."

The next problem will be to get the private tappers off the telephone lines.

NOTE: NOT EVEN the telephone company trusts its phones. Senate wiretap investigators recently noticed a poster on the wall of a telephone company, warning: "Remember . . . no classified conversations!" The poster was signed by the "general security department of the Bell Telephone Laboratory, Inc."

A Central Intelligence Agency analysis warns ominously that Red China may be willing to engage the United States in a land war on the Asian continent for no other reason than to generate hatred against the whites.

The Chinese could portray the war as a struggle between Americans and Asians. Thus many Asians would blame the United States for the ensuing death and destruction.

The analysis suggests that the Chinese Communists, taking the long view, may be more interested in winning the support of the Asian masses than in winning military victories.

Public Opinion Like Herd of Cattle

To the Editor: Public opinion trends seem to indicate that many citizens are "two-faced" when confronted by the issue of the Viet Nam war. Today, a majority of the American people claim to support the Johnson Administration's Viet Nam policy, including the escalation of the ground war. Less than a year ago a majority of the American public rejected the Republican party when it called the attention of the American people to the war raging in Southeast Asia, a conflict which the Democratic leadership even refused to call a war until after the 1964 presidential election.

Public opinion can best be compared to a herd of cattle. The members of the herd move together and always in the same direction; some people like cattle just follow others, never questioning where they are being led and are quite content so long as they do not have to stand alone. For instance, only a few months ago the advocacy of military action in Viet Nam to stem Communist aggression was highly unpopular. Now with the "herd's" shift of direction it is unpopular, if not dangerous, to oppose or to even criticize American policy in Viet Nam.

Apparently when it comes to taking a position on a controversial issue, too many Americans consider what is socially acceptable and not what they as individuals believe to be correct.

Do not misunderstand my words. I am in general support of President Johnson's Viet Nam actions; I am of the opinion, however, that there should be a smaller commitment of American ground forces and a greater commitment of air and naval power with which to destroy the war machine of North Viet Nam, and should the need arise that of Red China.

Many of the newcomers who now support a strong military position are quick to toss eggs, red paint, and obscenities at other Americans who do not support this policy. Many of the patriotic "War Hawks" who label all Viet Nam dissenters as "cowards" were among those citizens who condemned public leaders, who called for air strikes against North Viet Nam last year.

I have more respect for the sincere anti-war dissenters who have the courage of their minority convictions than I do for the hypocrites who in the name of conformity embrace the flag and mouth anti-Communist slogans.

The test of a democracy is whether or not the majority of a society will respect and tolerate the views of an unpopular minority. Would it not be a gross tragedy if when Americans are giving their lives to protect the independence of a small nation thousands of miles from their homeland, we should permit the "herd" to render as a cruel hoax that most precious tenet of freedom, the freedom of the individual mind and conscience?

Recalls Special Session Called By Andersen in 1961

To the Editor: Your readers should be reminded of the stand taken by then-Gov. Elmer Andersen in 1961 on the question of a special session of the state legislature to deal with congressional redistricting. The following quotations appear to be relevant and revealing.

"Gov. Andersen said today he expects a short special legislative session 'with no nonsense.' The legislators 'realize that the people will be in harsh judgment of them if they dilly-dally and extend the session beyond a few days,' Andersen said of the special session. . . In keeping with his stand, Andersen told a news conference he will not support any legislation on which there has not been prior agreement among House and Senate leaders." (The Minneapolis Star, Dec. 15, 1961.)

Previously, on Nov. 28, 1961, the St. Paul Dispatch reported that "State Rep. Roy Dunn today urged Gov. Andersen not to call a special session of the legislature unless prior agreement is reached on a workable redistricting plan. . . Without some assurance by legislative leaders that redistricting can be accomplished, another special session would be a pointless waste of funds—a futile luxury that the people of Minnesota are in no mood to afford," he said." (Roy Dunn is the veteran Conservative from Pelican Rapids.)

It seems reasonable to assume that in view of our near-canonicalization of former Gov. Andersen in last Wednesday's Daily News, Gov. Folvaag would merit your support for beatification, at least, if not your gratitude for the expenditure of public money. Or is such an approach commendable only when exercised by Republicans?

To Your Good Health

Answers To Your Questions

Dear Dr. Molner: Two years ago after a flu shot I had quite a reaction for about 24 hours, and could hardly get my breath for a few hours. The doctor will not give me any more flu shots. I asked him again last year and he said absolutely not. Has there been any change in the method of giving these shots so that the few of us who were allergic to them can now have this protection? I am a secretary in a university and am thoroughly exposed to any "bugs" constantly.—E.M.

A few people are allergic to almost anything, and this includes materials in vaccines. This is one reason why doctors think it makes sense to give such shots individually instead of depending on "community clinics" and such. Somebody has to watch for the exceptional case. Like you.

When polio vaccine first came along, penicillin was used as a preservative — and some people are sensitive to minute amounts of penicillin. Therefore other preservatives were substituted so more people could have polio vaccine without suffering reactions.

The virus used in making flu vaccine is grown in egg embryos. Some people are highly sensitive to egg. Maybe we can find something other than egg embryos, and thus can prevent reactions like yours. It is being worked on. But for the moment, do as your doctor suggests. Avoid the vaccine, and avoid the flu bugs as best you can.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am 13 and I still suck my thumb. I don't do it in public, but at home it's always in my mouth. I've tried everything to stop it, such as medicines, retainers and chewing gum. Even my mother and everyone yell at me, but it seems to go in by itself, and I don't even realize it.

I've tried will power and everything, and my mother won't take me to a doctor.—S. S.

Young girl, this is a habit, and that's all. If you don't do it in public, you needn't do it at home, either.

Note to Mrs. K. H.: That yellowness of the eyes could be a sign of some liver ailment, gallstones, or blood disorder; therefore I suggest that you have your doctor investigate.

Louis I. Mrozek

City police found the asphyxiated body of Louis I. Mrozek, 78, 267 Adams St., in his bed Monday afternoon after a neighbor became worried about the man and called police. Charles A. Gierok, 1027 E. 5th St., called police Monday at 2:43 p.m. and said that Mr. Mrozek might be dead. Police, checking the Mrozek home, found the World War I veteran dead in his bed.

An oil heater in the small bedroom had been turned up full blast, according to Assistant Police Chief Marvin A. Meier; and the room was intensely hot. Coroner Dr. R. B. Tweedy ruled that Mr. Mrozek had died of asphyxiation - the heater having used up all the oxygen in the room. Mr. Mrozek's bed was literally too hot to touch, according to police.

Mr. Mrozek had last been seen alive Sunday evening. He lived alone.

Mr. Mrozek was born Oct. 24, 1887, in Pine Creek, Wis., to Mr. and Mrs. Teofil Mrozek. He worked as a farmhand in the Winona area and served in World War I. Butter-Oleo Trouble in Freeman Dept.

WASHINGTON (AP) - A new butter - versus - oleomargarine controversy has bobbed up to trouble agriculture department officials. The department has entered the market for both of these products for use in feeding the needy and supplying the school lunch program. Dairy leaders are criticizing the planned purchase of oleomargarine and makers of the latter charge that the department is wasting public money in buying butter.

Because of a seasonal decline in production, butter supplies have been relatively light with prices moving above the government's support price.

On Dec. 15, the department announced the purchase of 22 million pounds of butter at prices of about 3 cents a pound above the support price. The margarine people claim this is a poor use of government money when margarine could have been bought at a much lower price.

About the same time, the department asked for offers on 5 million pounds of oleomargarine. This action brought a quick protest from the national milk producers federation. It said the offer should be canceled and butter should be bought instead.

Whether the department will carry through on the purchase of oleomargarine probably will not be known until later this week. Offers to sell were required to be submitted by Dec. 28. The department could reject all offers if it saw fit.

Queen Honors 900-Year-Old British Church

LONDON (AP) - Queen Elizabeth II placed a bouquet of red roses on a small altar in Westminster Abbey today to inaugurate the year-long celebration of the 900th anniversary of Britain's premier church. The abbey was consecrated on Dec. 28, 1065, Holy Innocents Day. Edward the Confessor, who had ordered it built, died soon after without seeing the completed structure.

Since its consecration as a Benedictine monastery, the abbey has been the coronation church of all of England's monarchs but two. Elizabeth was married there in 1947 and crowned there in 1953. Thirteen British kings and five queens are buried there.

It was to honor the abbey's builder that the queen took the roses today from a cushion carried by the abbey's senior chorister and laid them on the altar near the marble tomb of King Edward.

As the queen arrived with her husband, Prince Philip, her sister, Princess Margaret, and other members of the royal family, a ceremonial prelude was played on the great abbey organ. It was composed for the occasion by Sir Arthur Bliss, master of the queen's music.

Resplendently garbed officials took part in the stately ceremonial. The Archbishops of Canterbury, York, Wales and Dublin were on hand with the Primus of Scotland and representatives of other churches in Britain and overseas.

Also attending were the speaker of the House of Commons, the Lord Chancellor, members of the government and of both houses of Parliament, the lord mayor of London, diplomats and Commonwealth high commissioners.

For the anniversary, workmen gave the abbey its first real face lift in its 900 years. Plans for the million-dollar project began at the time of Queen Elizabeth's coronation 12 years ago. Tons of eroding soot and grime were removed from molded and carved decorations. Gold leaf and paint was renewed. The sandstone walls were restored to their original white.

Stephen Dykes-Bower, the prominent architect who was in charge of the restoration program, said: "The view of the abbey on entering the west door is no longer one of somber gloom but of lightness and radiance - a symphony of white stone, gray marble, gilding and color."

23, 1912, at Pepin, Wis. She was married to Jake Gosse and later divorced. She worked in the kitchen of Buena Vista Nursing Home from April 1956 to Nov. 22, 1965, when she became ill.

Father Jailed For Failure To Pay Support

A musician from Lewiston was sentenced to serve 90 days in jail today on a charge of contempt of court in connection with a nonsupport case. However, Municipal Judge John D. McGill provided for a suspension of the sentence on the day defendant William W. Pickart, 23, Lewiston, pays in full the $324 arrears for support of his three children, aged 1 1/2 to 5.

PICKART was arrested Aug. 5 on a warrant charging him with failure to provide support for his children from May 15. Judge McGill sentenced Pickart to serve 90 days in county jail but suspended the sentence on condition the defendant maintain $36 per week payments from that time forward.

The judge also ordered Pickart to keep the county welfare department posted on his whereabouts. (The group with which Pickart plays has engagements all over the Midwest.) Caseworker Lawrence E. Curran swore out an affidavit Nov. 22 charging that Pickart had missed payments Sept. 3, Oct. 1 and 22 and Nov. 5 and that he had failed to inform the department of his departure for Muncie, Ind., from which his last payment had been mailed.

PICKART was arrested Monday by Sheriff George L. Fort on the contempt of court charge. The defendant testified today in court that he had failed to make three of the payments because of illness and two car breakdowns which had drained his cash on hand.

He had come to Winona for Christmas, Pickart said, with the two payments which he believed he was still in arrears on. Before he could make these payments, he was arrested, Pickart told the court.

Assistant County Attorney Richard H. Darby called Curran to testify. Curran said that Pickart himself admitted to an income since Aug. 6 of $2,520. Pickart had made no payments since the Nov. 22 affidavit and

Old Satellite, Believed Dead, Comes to Life

LEXINGTON, Mass. (AP) - Lincoln Laboratory engineers reported today they got an unexpected Christmas present from space - an experimental satellite, thought dead, suddenly came to life and is operating beautifully. It was LES-4 - the letters stand for Lincoln Experimental Satellite - a communications package which was fired into space along with three others a week ago today.

They went up in an Air Force Titan 3C rocket, and at first all seemed well. The rocket reached an orbit 90 miles up, then re-fired its motors to shoot up to 18,000 miles out. Something failed then, and the rocket didn't make a series of maneuvers which were supposed to take it into an orbit 18,200 miles above the equator.

JUDGE McGill found the defendant guilty of violation of the terms of his suspended sentence. He imposed the jail term but provided for its re-suspension whenever Pickart fully pays his arrears.

Attorney Dennis A. Challep represented Pickart.

Vatican Takes Wait-and-See Viet Attitude

VATICAN CITY (AP) - Vatican circles took a wait-and-see attitude today toward the first reports that the Viet Cong planned a four-day truce next month to mark the lunar New Year.

Sources here said that since the announcement came in a clandestine radio broadcast, the Vatican would wait for a more official announcement before commenting.

It was pointed out, however, that Pope Paul VI would welcome any development leading to further lulls in the fighting following the Christmas truce.

The pontiff was reported Monday to be directing new Vatican diplomatic efforts to achieve a New Year's ceasefire as the next step in his peace campaign.

The clandestine radio broadcast said the Viet Cong would stop fighting South Vietnamese forces during the Jan. 20-23 celebration of the lunar New Year.

400 at Ford's Prewedding Party

NEW YORK (AP) - "Watch the Fords go by" was the game played in the Delmonico Hotel lobby here Monday night as more than 400 well-heeled and well-known persons made their way to the 22-year-old Anne Ford's prewedding party.

Early in the evening, the father of the bride-to-be, Henry Ford II, led the parade. Accompanying him was the mother of the bride-to-be, Anne McDonnell Ford, from whom he was divorced last year after 23 years of marriage.

There also was the vivacious, blonde Cristina, whom he married in February. Along too was the bridegroom, Giancarlo Uzielli.

The couple will be married in a civil ceremony this afternoon at Mrs. McDonnell Ford's Fifth Avenue apartment.

The family shied away from photographers and raced for the elevators. Twelve security men were assigned to protect the privacy of the party - one of the most heavily guarded parties in the hotel's history.

Ellies-Pommerening Vows Exchanged at Central Methodist

Miss Kathleen Ellies, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Verdi Ellies, 714 W. Wabasha St., and Randall Pommerening, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Huseby, St. Paul, were married in the sanctuary of Central Methodist Church Dec. 22.

The Rev. Harold DeVries, Minneapolis, assisted by Dr. E. Clayton Burgess, performed the ceremony. Gene Craven, Rochester, brother-in-law of the bride, was soloist and Mrs. William Ferguson, organist.

Mrs. Gene Craven, Rochester, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Miss Nancy Schmalzbauer, New Brighton, Minn., a Macalester College classmate of the bride's, and Miss Barbara Osborn, Winona, were bridesmaids.

Steve McCullagh, Macalester College, John Wilkus, brother-in-law of the groom, and Ron Wilkinson, all of St. Paul, attended the groom. Steve Rose, head usher, Macalester College, was assisted by Roger Nelson, Rochester; Jim Novolny, St. Paul, and Allan Christenson, Farmington.

THE BRIDE'S gown was fashioned of crystal peau de soie in an empire style with long sleeves and a slightly scooped neckline. A wide band of lace at the waistline and a lace French rose concealed the fastening of the detachable train, which was fan-pleated with large overlying pleats that draped into a lace-trimmed train. She carried a cascade of red roses. Her veil was attached to a peau de soie cap.

The bridesmaids' dark-green, velveteen dresses were styled identical to the bride's, excepting for elbow-length sleeves and green peau de soie bands at the waists, ending with large French roses at the backs. Their headaddresses were of small green French roses attached to short veils. They carried cascades of long-necked pine and white poinsettia blossoms.

The bride's mother wore a dark-green, wool suit and the groom's mother, a red wool dress. Both had corsages of white roses.

Mrs. John Wilkus, sister of the groom, served as personal attendant to the bride.

A wedding rehearsal supper was hosted at the Ellies home by the parents of the bride and groom. A buffet supper for 150 guests was served in the Guildhall following the wedding. Mrs. M. L. DeBolt served the wedding cake; Mrs. Lloyd Osborn and Miss Elsie Sartell presided at the buffet table, and Mrs. Lowell Englert poured punch. Suzanne DeBolt was in charge of the gift table, and Diane Erickson, the guest book. Vicki DeBolt and Robin Bauer served as waitresses.

The bridal couple left for a trip to Chicago.

THE BRIDE was entertained by Chapter AP, PEO with Mrs. Lloyd Osborn, Mrs. K. A. McQueen and Mrs. Ray Fawcett as hostesses at the Osborn home. Mrs. Fred Burmeister entertained at a brunch for 84 of the bride's former school teachers, Sunday School teachers, neighbors, and Winona friends. Mrs. Gordon Addington, Mrs. Sherman Mitchell, and Mrs. Lewis Schoening entertained at the Addington home, representing the Faculty Wives. Mrs. Richard Schmalzbauer and daughter, Nancy, New Brighton, entertained Macalester classmates at a shower. Mrs. Marie Goetzke and Mrs. Halvor Goetzke, St. Paul, also entertained at a shower.

The bride will graduate from Macalester College in June. The groom was graduated in 1965 with a B.A. degree and is attending Pharmacy School at the University of Minnesota. They will reside at 1524 Portland Avenue, St. Paul.

VISTA Worker Charges U.S. Overpays Him

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — A VISTA worker says that the United States government has been overpaying him for his work with Alaskan Indians eight miles north of the Arctic Circle.

Frank Warpeha, 20, Minneapolis, told a newsman Monday that the Office of Economic Opportunity plays loose with taxpayers' money by giving VISTA volunteers in Alaska order books which do not limit purchases for food, housing and other necessities.

VISTA (Volunteers in Service to America) is an anti-poverty "domestic Peace Corps."

Warpeha said the Alaska Indians resent an outsider who lives high and "exploits" the natives.

Since early October, Warpeha has lived in a log cabin among Athabaskan Indians at Fort Yukon, a village of 511 persons where natives eat rice and caribou and do without running water.

Warpeha, home for the holidays, said he returned his purchase order book to the government and has been taking his food costs out of his daily allowance. While using the order books, he said, he spent about $140 a month for food. He has cut this to about $60 a month since doing without the books, Warpeha said.

He said the generous living allowance stems from high living costs in Alaska. In addition, Warpeha said, VISTA workers in Alaska get $3 a day "spending money" instead of the $2.50 received elsewhere. Warpeha called this "absolutely ridiculous."

Warpeha has been teaching a pre-school Head Start class at Fort Yukon, has organized adult education classes and taught art in the village school. He said he had paid for books and material out of his own pocket for the adult education classes.

Honeywell Gets Big Navy Contract

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — A $42.5 million contract to produce 1,000 anti-submarine torpedoes was awarded Monday to Honeywell Inc. by the Bureau of Naval Weapons, Department of the Navy.

The work will be done at Honeywell's ordnance division plant in Hopkins, Minn., where about 1,600 now are employed. Company officials indicated additional workers will be hired.

The torpedo is the Mark 46, the Navy's latest.

The torpedo is the Mark 46, a liquid-fueled weapon that can be launched from aircraft, helicopters and surface ships and is capable of searching out and destroying the fastest submarines.

Charles L. Davis, vice president of Honeywell's Military Products group, said the contract, announced in Washington Monday, "places the company in a strong position of leadership in the manufacture of a key weapon in the Navy arsenal."

Honeywell will have several subcontractors in the program, many of them in the Twin Cities area.

Guns-and-Butter Budget Discussed

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara have gotten together once again to push final preparation of a guns-and-butter federal budget for the 1966 Congress.

The Texas White House announced early today that McNamara flew to the Johnson ranch Monday night for a lengthy discussion of the new defense budget that will encompass mounting outlays for the war in Viet Nam.

McNamara made an overnight stop at the LBJ ranch on his way back to Washington from a skiing vacation at Aspen, Colo. He had met at the ranch with the President on the same subject earlier this month. Johnson will be focusing much of his attention in the next few days on drafting of the new budget.

Federal spending this fiscal year under the Johnson administration is expected to reach an all-time high of between $105 billion and $107 billion. Next year's figure is expected to be higher, with increased spending on the Viet Nam war.

The Texas White House said today no final decisions have been made yet on the spending blueprint for the 1967 fiscal year that begins next July 1 — the period covered by the forthcoming budget.

Sources disclosed, however, that Johnson would be having budget conferences this week with a number of top Washington officials at his ranch home near Johnson City. At least some final decisions were expected to merge from these sessions.

Even as he began a final round of budget preparations, Johnson reportedly was keeping in touch with efforts to promote a peaceful settlement of the Viet Nam war.

The White House announced Monday night that the apostolic delegate to Washington, Archbishop Egidio Vagnozzi, had sent a letter to a White House aide asking that Johnson be advised that Pope Paul VI "had received with great pleasure the news that a Christmas truce was ordered by the armed forces in Viet Nam." The Pope now is urging a New Year's cease-fire.

Joseph Laitin, acting White House press secretary, also announced a planned change in the ranks of Johnson's key advisers on economic and fiscal matters.

He said James Stemble Duesenberry, a monetary expert and economics professor at Harvard, would be appointed to Johnson's three-member Council of Economic Advisers. Duesenberry, 47, will replace Otto Eckstein who will return Feb. 1 to his post on the Harvard faculty.

The President spent much of Monday at his desk, Laitin reported, and talked once by telephone with Secretary of State Dean Rusk and twice with McGeorge Bundy, Johnson's special assistant for national security affairs.

Beat Music All the Go in East Germany

BERLIN (AP) — Beat music, bare bosoms and a brooding ballad singer are targets in East Germany.

A drive to bridle rebellious writers and artists is expected to get into full swing soon with stepped-up indoctrination and a likely reshuffle in the party's cultural hierarchy.

The push comes as East Germans try to figure out what was really behind the recent suicide of Erich Apel, national economic planning chief. Even some avowed supporters of communism seem gripped by doubts whether the regime is on the right path.

Consequently "skepticism" is seen by ideological sleuths as the main menace now to German communism. A pale young writer-singer has been exposed as representative of the skeptical group. He is Wolf Biermann, whose trademarks are a guitar, a stinging pen and a drooping mustache.

Biermann, whose father was murdered in the Nazi purge of German Communists, cannot be gauged by cold-war clichés. He endorses the Communist future but is critical of its present.

Biermann is particularly popular among younger East Germans whose sophistication, some observers believe, keeps pace with increases in the country's living standard.

The East German party became alarmed. In 1963 it ousted Biermann from the party, where he held candidate or first-stage membership. Now it has decided this was not enough. Erich Honecker, often called the crown prince of party chief Walter Ulbricht, has denounced Biermann and his like.

The ballad-writer, Honecker charged at a Central Committee meeting, has betrayed the Communist state and personalities "petty bourgeois skepticism that is negating life." And Biermann's "anarchist behavior and cynicism" were shared by other writers and artists.

Also chided were television, the movie industry (four of its films were withdrawn recently for veering off the party line) and illustrated magazines, which have been relying more and more on pinups and even bare-bosomed beauties.

Honecker said these state-controlled media have joined in spreading "foreign and noxious theses and nonartistic concoctions which also contain strong pornographic elements."

The popularity of beat music brought censure for leaders of the Communist Free German Youth. Honecker accused them of "failing to see that the enemy is exploiting beat music. The harmful influence of such music on the thinking and acting of juveniles was grossly underestimated."

If past experience is any guide, some FGJ leaders will lose their posts. So may Guenter Witt, deputy education minister, and Heinrich Adameck, head of the national television network. They have confessed their errors in public.

Kilauea Volcano Blast Subsiding

HILO, Hawaii (AP) — Hawaii's remote Kilauea volcano still rumbles and fumes but it appears that the sudden eruption which began Christmas Eve is subsiding.

Residents of the island, 200 miles southeast of Honolulu, felt slight tremors Monday — three days after bright orange and red lava fountains burst out of the volcano's Aloi crater.

But scientists said there appeared to be no further movements of lava underground.

Experts at the Hawaii Volcano Observatory are trying to determine why Kilauea erupted without apparent warning. The Aloi crater last erupted in 1962. It is in an unpopulated area about 30 miles southwest of Hilo.

5 Children Die In Illinois Fire

SPARTA, Ill. (AP) — Five children died in a fire that destroyed their farm home two miles east of here in rural Eden Monday.

The fire was discovered about five minutes after their mother, Melvina Bardo, had gone next door to see a neighbor. Flames and smoke drove Mrs. Bardo and neighbors back when they tried to rescue the children. Their father, Norman, was at work.

Dead are Ross Bardo, 5 months; Norman, 1½ years; twin girls, Armenta and Arlene, 3, and Clayieressa, 4.

Spying Eye In Plane Spots Crop Disease

By ALTON BLAKESLEE AP Science Writer

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Two miles high, the airplane raced over a field of wheat.

Looking down, a special spying eye detected the beginning of a serious crop disease, two weeks sooner than a human expert could have spotted the trouble on the ground. Steps to control the disease were taken that much earlier.

This is one example of a new, expanding kind of spying to pry out valuable earth secrets — how crops and forests are faring, where hidden minerals or oil may lie, to fight fires, to find clues to coming changes in climate and weather, to learn what man by his actions is doing to his own planet.

Earth scientists call this remote sensing of the environment. It is aided now by a whole family of new sensing devices developed largely for military uses and now being taken off the secret list.

The spying eye over the wheat field was an infra-red device which detects heat waves. A darker image from part of the field marked the beginning of black stem rust disease.

Dr. Robert N. Colwell professor of forestry at the University of California, cited this instance of helpful spying today to the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Combined use of infra-red and ultraviolet devices, radar, regular and color photography, and other means, is capable of telling one kind of vegetation from another, how healthy the vegetation is, and even why it is becoming sick, Dr. Colwell said.

The devices can pick up information to help "predict weeks, months or years in advance what a yield will be" in crops, or orchards or timberland, he said.

Russian Girl Works Day for Pair of Stockings

MOSCOW (AP) — Pity the Russian working girl who spends a day's wages to buy a pair of stockings, wears them one day and finds a hole in a heel, all the toes out and lots of runs.

"Where is the working conscience of those factory workers who produced this defective stuff?" angrily demanded Miss Krylova.

She was mad about a pair of stockings from the Krtisanisi factory in Soviet Georgia that had cost 2.40 rubles — $2.64 — the average daily earning of a woman clerk here. So she wrote to Pravda, the Communist party organ.

The paper got together with a Moscow department store and summoned a meeting to put people on the spot.

To discuss stockings in the Communist system, it took people from five different government ministries, plus the factories, plus Moscow shops. They seemed to Pravda to have agreed that the stocking business has problems.

Inadequate and poor quality yarn is supplied to factories. Machinery is old.

The Krtisanisi factory in Georgia was the main scapegoat. Pravda said it sent 16,000 pairs of stockings to Moscow's central department store this year and all of them were defective. They are sitting in a warehouse while the factory refuses to accept responsibility.

Pravda concluded on the usual cheery note of such public admissions that problems have existed in the Soviet Union. In 1966 better yarn will be supplied, some factories will be re-equipped and production will increase 11 per cent.

SERVING IN THE ARMED FORCES

Reports on His Third War

Lt. Col. Kenneth Ring
In Jungle Uniform

LAKE CITY, Minn. (Special) — "This is my third war, and there has been no comparison between any two of them," wrote Lt. Col. Kenneth Ring, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Ring, rural Lake City, who now has been in Viet Nam 13 months. "I'm sure the old-timers who served in Korea or World War

II will agree with me. "Actually, we really have a contest going here. The Communists are just as determined to win as we are, but they won't win. I had some doubts about our position last January, but then the tide began to turn. We are certainly in a much better position now than a few months ago."

"The terrorist activity still is going strong but big actions are on the downgrade. I live in an air-conditioned room on the ground floor of Saigon hotel. A grenade landed about 50 feet from my window the other night. This was the first attack in this part of Saigon. Actually there is so little of this sort of thing no one really worries about it."

IN JUNE, Lt. Ring wrote that he had never worked harder in his life — for weeks he had been working from 6:30 a.m. to late at night, with no time off. He was planning communications for Viet Nam, providing telephones over a 500-mile area for the U.S. Embassy, the U.S. armed forces, and Republic of Viet Nam, in addition to communication systems into Thailand and the Philippines. Several thousand people were trained to operate the system.

Col. Ring, now back with his family at Leavenworth, Kan., for the holidays, will take them with him when he leaves again next week. With the exception of his oldest son, student at the University of Kansas, the family will be settled in Bangkok, Thailand, by Jan. 1.

The Ring family held a reunion here Oct. 11, 1964. Col. Ring was to have been there with the other nine children in the family, providing an opportunity to see his brother, the Rev. Francis Ring, Jesuit missionary from British Honduras, and his sister, Sister Rose Kevin, supervisor of Maryknoll School, Temuca, Chile. But he didn't arrive because he was getting ready to go to Viet Nam.

Col. Ring has two sisters living in the Lake City area, Mrs. Harold Brunholz and Mrs. Ronald Wagner, and a brother, Gerard, Byron, who is with a Rochester law firm.

ALAN S. GRAY, DSSA, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Gray, 67 E. Howard St., is spending the Christmas holidays in Winona after completing a 38-week course at the data systems computer school at the U.S. Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill. His next assignment will be to Mare Island, Vallejo, Calif., where he will receive additional computer training.

BLAIR, Wis. (Special)—Darrell Nyen, stationed at Lowry Air Force Base, Denver, Colo., is being visited by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Basil Nyen, and sister, Cynthia, during the holidays. Nyen was unable to return home for Christmas this year.

Two Wives Win Default Divorces

Findings for divorces on grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment were ordered Monday in District Court after default hearings before Judge Arnold Hatfield.

Marveen J. Brang, 22, 618 E. King St., won a divorce from Robert J. Brang, 2, 425 E. Howard St. She and her father, Marvin R. Nelson, 618 E. King St., testified in support of her contention of cruel and inhuman treatment.

The Brangs were married Feb. 27, 1959, at Winona. They have three children, aged 1 to 5 years, who will remain in Mrs. Brang's custody.

Attorney Dennis A. Challeen represented Mrs. Brang. Brang did not appear and was not represented.

Carol A. Becker, 22, 878 E. Broadway, won a divorce from Raymond T. Becker, 24, 607

W. King St. The Beckers were married Jan. 12, 1963, and have one child.

Mrs. Becker and her father, Carl A. Fretzke, 878 E. Broadway, testified in support of her allegation of cruel and inhuman treatment. Mrs. Becker won custody of their child.

Attorney William A. Lindquist represented Mrs. Becker. Becker did not appear and was not represented at the hearing.

Youth Gets $950 For Injury in Hunting Accident

A Winona youth who was shot in the hand last year in a hunting accident won approval of a $950 settlement Monday in District Court.

James L. Keiper, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cleo L. Keiper, 656 Winona St., was hunting Sept. 20, 1964, with a friend, Dennis R. Fletcher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin A. Fletcher, 576 W. King St., when the Fletcher boy's 22-caliber firearm accidentally discharged.

The bullet struck young Keiper in the left hand, and his father incurred $346.40 in medical expenses as a result of the injury.

Judge Arnold Hatfield approved a settlement by the Fletcher boy's insurance company, Iowa National Mutual Insurance Co., which paid the medical bills and settled young Keiper's potential claim for damages with $600 in cash. The cash part of the settlement is to be deposited in a savings account for the youth.

The elder Keiper testified concerning the accident and his son's injury, which is now completely healed, he said. The Keipers were not represented by an attorney.

Attorney Robert G. Hull appeared for the firm of Hull & Hull at the District Court hearing. This firm represented young Fletcher and the insurance company.

Rome Irked by Traffic Blockade

ROME (AP) —irate shop-owners in an experimental pedestrian paradise in the heart of Rome threatened a blackout tonight and a lockout by the end of the year unless auto traffic is allowed back into the 10-block-long zone.

The city barred private cars from the central shopping zone for a 10-day trial starting Monday. By nightfall businessmen, motorists and the Roman press branded it a colossal failure.

A large area around the pedestrian island was hit by a chaotic traffic jam as cars were forced to detour through other streets just as narrow that normally are clogged with as much traffic as they can hold.

The business men's association of the famed Via Condotti, Via Frattina, Via del Babuino and Piazza di Spagna voted to turn off their shop signs and window lights tonight in protest. They said if the zone was not reopened to traffic they would close their shops.

Public Favors Law Changes in Civil Rights Suits

By LOUIS HARRIS
LOS ANGELES — By a 4 to 3 margin, the American people believe that murders in civil rights cases should be federal offenses, rather than left to local law enforcement agencies. Both President Johnson and the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. have advocated the passage of such legislation.

The desire to give the federal government jurisdiction stems from the firm belief of a majority that southern local juries are not likely to render justice in crimes against civil rights workers.

THE SOUTH, constituting 21% of the nation, strongly disagrees with both conclusions but is outvoted by the rest of the country. This, of course, has been the pattern in all civil rights legislation in the past few years.

The case of Collie Leroy Wilkins, the KKK member tried and acquitted of murdering civil rights worker Viola Liuzzo during the Selma-to-Montgomery march, has triggered much of this reaction. Fully 90% of the American people say they followed that case.

Although American principles of justice emphasize that cases should be argued on their merits in the courtroom, not in the forum of public opinion, the feeling is strong that southern juries are too personally involved in racial tensions to give the system a fair chance.

DESPITE THE fact that he and two other KKK members have recently been convicted in a federal court of conspiring to violate the constitutional right of civil rights demonstrators, two previous failures to convict Wilkins in state courts (one mistrial and one acquittal) cast deep doubt on southern justice in the minds of millions of Americans. This and similar cases such as the recent acquittals of those charged with the murder of Rev. James Reeb have cast doubts on the fairness of southern local juries in trying civil rights violence. People were asked:

"Do you think that southern juries are able to render justice in cases of crimes against civil rights workers or don't you feel this way?"

SOUTHERN JUSTICE

South	25	53	22
West	55	26	19
By race
Whites	51	27	22
Negroes	71	20	9

The question of legislation to make civil rights murders a federal offense produced a somewhat closer division of opinion. Obviously, many Americans are reluctant to give up the tradition that the administration of justice is best handled locally. People were asked:

"All cases of murder are now tried by a jury in the place where the murder takes place. Do you think that murders in civil rights cases should be made a federal offense or should they be handled locally like other murders?"

FEDERALIZING CIVIL RIGHTS MURDER

Johnson voters	56	30	14
By race
Whites	45	40	15
Negroes	77	12	11

The racial overtones of the issue are amply demonstrated by the overwhelming 6 to 1 demand by Negroes that such legislation be passed. But in the division between people who voted for Barry Goldwater in 1964 (who are 5 to 4 opposed to the legislation) and those who voted for Lyndon Johnson (nearly 2 to 1 in favor), the question of federal versus local powers emerges as a key dimension of the problem.

Thus, the deeply felt criticisms of civil rights trials in the South are wholly translated into support for a law which would federalize murders of civil rights workers. A congressional division over this issue, if it reflects public opinion, could be close — even with special impetus from the White House and Democratic leadership in the House and Senate as was evident in the last two civil rights bills which passed Congress.

Delay Hearing in Heroin Case

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP) — A U.S. commissioner has postponed until Jan. 6 a preliminary hearing for a Ft. Benning warrant officer arrested when a huge cache of imported heroin was seized at his trailer home.

Arraignment of CWO Herman Conder, 35, had been set for this afternoon, but U.S. Commissioner H. Okay Parker postponed the hearing at the request of an assistant federal attorney.

Parker said it was indicated that seven other hearings will be heard in connection with the dope seizure on Jan. 6.

Conder is alleged to be the courier of 209 pounds of uncut heroin found in a freezer behind his trailer in Columbus Dec. 20. The 18-year Army veteran was one of eight arrested in connection with the narcotics haul.

Federal agents claim the heroin arrived here in Conder's household effects when he was transferred from France to Ft. Benning.

Decision to Begin Viet Bombings Started Debate

(Editor's Note: As the Viet Nam war intensifies, so does the debate concerning it. Are we defending a real national interest there? critics ask. The administration's answer is yes. In this second of four articles on America's role in Viet Nam, the controversy and its background are explored.)

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)— President Johnson's decision to start bombing North Viet Nam last February and begin a big build-up of U.S. troops in the South touched off a great world debate.

There were protests from friendly and neutral nations as well as the Communist bloc.

At home, some members of Congress and other public figures questioned the President's right to take such steps without a declaration of war.

Other critics on the home front wanted to know why the United States was fighting in Viet Nam at all.

Administration officials took the position that as commander in chief of the armed forces the President's authority was vested in his office. They also pointed out that both the Senate and House have given the Viet Nam venture massive support.

In August, 1964, the two branches of Congress by combined votes of 512-2 asserted in a resolution this country's readiness to use force if necessary to help South Viet Nam "in defense of its freedom."

Last May both houses approved a $700 million appropriation for military costs in Viet Nam. The President had stated in advance that favorable action would be a vote "to persist in our efforts to halt Communist aggression in South Viet Nam."

The resolution went through the House 408-7 and through the Senate 88-3.

A main argument against U.S. participation in the war in Viet Nam has been that this country is fighting the wrong enemy in a remote place under almost impossible conditions.

Critics say the North Viet namese and the Viet Cong guerrilla forces represent only a peripheral power in the Communist world and that their defeat would not prove anything to the big Communist nations.

In addition the critics have argued that for the Vietnamese Reds the conflict is essentially a patriotic war for the homelands and that South Viet Nam continues to exist under an anti-Communist regime only because the United States is propping it up.

Administration spokesmen argue to the contrary that very high American interests are at stake in the struggle.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk contends that "What is at stake in Viet Nam is the integrity of the American commitment all over the world."

He asserts that neither European nor other allies would feel sure they could trust U.S. defense pledges if this country having undertaken to defend South Viet Nam, should then abandon it.

Other supporters of the U.S. role say that the fight against Communist conquest in the Southeast Asian country is a fight in defense of all backward free countries — in Asia, Africa and Latin America — where similar Communist guerrilla tactics might be used.

The State Department cites in this connection a statement made by North Viet Nam's defense minister, Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap in July, 1964:

"South Viet Nam is the model of the national liberation movement in our time. If the special warfare that the United States imperialists are testing in South Viet Nam is overcome, this means that it can be defeated anywhere in the world."

How did the Vietnamese involvement begin and how did the United States become so deeply involved in it?

France lost control of Indochina in 1954. A conference of Western, Communist and Asian powers at Geneva established in a series of agreements the independence of Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia, which were supposed to be treated as strictly neutral in the cold war.

The Geneva agreement recognized a temporary division of Viet Nam between the Communist North and the anti-Communist South. The United States did not sign but promised to support the Geneva accords.

Provisions to merge North and South Viet Nam were never fulfilled.

President Dwight D. Eisenhower made the first U.S. commitments which provided a basis for the present conflict. He extended economic help and limited military aid to South Viet Nam.

It was during the Eisenhower administration also that the United States negotiated and signed the Southeast Asian Defense treaty — SEATO — which the Senate approved by a vote of 82-1.

At that time, having just come through the Korean War, the United States made known its determination not to allow Southeast Asia to fall under Communist control.

The United States supplied help in various forms particularly to Laos and South Viet Nam. It repeatedly charged Communist North Viet Nam under the leadership of Ho Chi Minh, with violating the provisions of the Geneva agreements.

Specifically the Reds were accused of maintaining several thousand regular troops in Laos and assisting Viet Cong guerrillas who gradually developed a terror campaign in South Viet Nam.

In 1961 with the Saigon regime of president Ngo Dinh Diem under growing Communist pressure, President John F. Kennedy made the decision to send U.S. military advisers in relatively large numbers to assist the Diem regime.

In 1964 North Viet Nam began sending its own regular army troops to reinforce the guerrillas in the South. There were attacks on U.S. installations and even, in August, 1964, on U.S. destroyers in the Gulf of Tonkin.

The United States struck back with bombing of torpedo boat bases on the northern coast but otherwise stayed its hand.

It was against the background of these events that President Johnson made his decision of last February.

Administration officials then hoped that such a demonstration would convince the Communists they could not win and would persuade them to negotiate.

U.S. leaders no longer are sure that the conflict will end by negotiation.

Some now think it is possible that when the Communist forces have been damaged badly enough they may simply ease off from the fighting and go into hiding, perhaps withdrawing in some cases to North Viet Nam.

Working against such an outcome as well as against a negotiated settlement is Red China's apparent interest in keeping the conflict going.

Those who think the conflict will end in negotiation cite the example of the Korean conflict in which the Chinese became directly involved after American forces approached the Yalu River border.

In the view of many U.S. officials, however, the two wars are essentially different in nature.

The Korean War was a conflict between organized armies fighting not only to destroy each other but also to gain and hold territory. The Vietnamese war is mainly a guerrilla struggle fought between small groups in the midst of a civilian population loyal sometimes to one side and sometimes to the other.

Peace could be made in Korea by drawing a line between the armies and recognizing the respective control of the territories on either side.

But in South Viet Nam no one has ever figured out how any such division could be made or how indeed the guerrillas can be sorted out from the civilian population.

Sen. Smith of Fiscal Fame Quits Thursday

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate fiscal expert who has handled federal government appropriations totaling more than $2 trillion retires Thursday after 53 years of service at the capitol.

Everard H. Smith, 75, is stepping down as chief clerk of the Senate Appropriations Committee, from what he calls "the most wonderful job in the world."

"You couldn't find a university any place where you could hear as many top people on as many different subjects as come before our committee every year," he said.

Smith went to work for the Senate committee April 1, 1913, at the outset of the Woodrow Wilson administration.

That first year the congressional appropriations to run the government totaled $1,098,000,000 (B). In the 1965 session which ended in October the total was $119.3 billion, second highest in history. Only 1942, a World War II year, had a higher figure — $147 billion.

Over the 53 years of Smith's work with the committee, the appropriations totaled $2,191,000,000,000.

In his early years on the group, Smith was one of the three full time committee employees and he worked on all of the bills.

Now, with the federal government far greater in size and much more complex, the committee has 35 staff members including one or more experts for each of the separate departmental bills.

But Smith, as chief clerk since 1938, has kept his finger on all of the measures. Smith was brought to the Capitol by Sen. Thomas S. Martin of Virginia who was chairman of the Appropriations Committee at the time.

He was hired partly because of his knowledge of shorthand and was told only, "We want you to do some little odds and ends around the office."

World War I, World War II and the Korean War put the greatest strain on the Appropriations Committee during Smith's career.

He recalls that he stayed at the Capitol until 2 or 3 a.m. many nights during World War II to get emergency money bills ready for quick action by senators on the committee the next morning.

In recent years he has been slowed by failing eyesight and a hip ailment. But, even as retirement nears, he's in his office every working day.

Does he expect to enjoy retirement? "I hope so," Smith said. "But I don't know. Sometimes on the weekends, I used to get jumpy because I didn't have anything to do."

Thousands Left In Barry's Fund

By WALTER R. MEARS
WASHINGTON (AP) — Left-over thousands in the coffers of an organization created for Barry Goldwater's presidential campaign are indirectly the product of a political fund raising law Republican leaders want repealed.

It is the $3 million limit on the annual spending of political committees.

The Republican Coordinating Committee, a council of party leaders, has declared the ceiling is unrealistic and should be wiped off the books.

Meeting privately, one day before the coordinating committee took that stand, the steering committee of an organization called Citizens for Goldwater-Miller had decided to use its remaining funds to help conservative Republicans who seek re-election to the House and Senate next year.

That decision was in large measure shaped by Goldwater himself, although he wasn't on hand, associates of the former Arizona senator and 1964 GOP presidential nominee reported. Goldwater was said to have been determined to see the money used for Republican campaigns.

It affects a treasury which reportedly contains more than $200,000, almost all of it raised but not spent in Goldwater's unsuccessful try for the White House.

Citizens committees are a fixture of presidential campaigns. Theoretically, they are set up to attract the dollars and the votes of people who like the presidential candidate, but not the party he represents.

But the coordinating committee gave this account of campaign organization in calling for repeal of the "wholly unrealistic" limit on fund raising and spending:

"In practice, this provision has not limited the amount of money spent in presidential campaigns, but has spawned the creation by both major parties of hosts of satellite committees, each legally able to collect and spend $3 million."

Texas GOP Chairman Peter O'Donnell, who now is a leader of the Citizens for Goldwater group, has pointed out there were no strings attached to the funds still in its treasury.

Just how string-free it is was demonstrated when some men in the citizens organization argued it should be transformed into a conservative political action group.

Goldwater and former Rep. William E. Miller, the GOP vice presidential nominee last year, agreed, however, that the money should be used to help Republican candidates after they have secured the party's congressional nominations.

In fact, Goldwater once suggested it be turned over to the Republican congressional and senatorial campaign committees.

The final decision, which O'Donnell said was unanimous, means the money will go into the nomination bids of conservatives who want to run for Congress.

At the same time, it means the citizens group leadership can spend its treasury on the campaigns of conservative Republicans who already are there and seeking new terms.

Consolidated Foods Must Sell 6 Firms
WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal order has decreed that Consolidated Foods Corp., Chicago, must sell six of its companies, including the Minneapolis food chain known as Quality Food Stores, Inc., and an Austin, Minn., dairy firm—Golden Dairy Co.

A consent order issued Monday night by the Federal Trade Commission requires Consolidated to sell three grocery store chains, the Austin dairy company and also a baking company.

In addition, Consolidated Foods, which is a large food processor and wholesaler, must dispose of stock it owns in four other companies which operate supermarkets.

The order requires Consolidated Foods to sell the companies within three years but the commission said it may grant an additional two years if Consolidated has difficulty in doing so.

Agreement to the order by Consolidated does not constitute an admission that it has violated the law. The FTC had charged that Consolidated's acquisition of the various concerns had violated the law by substantially reducing competition. It was ranked among the 25 largest food store companies in 1964 and was the 11th largest among all food merchandising companies.

Other properties which it must sell are:

Piggly-Wiggly Midwest Co., Inc., Rockford, Ill.; Eagle Food Centers, Inc., Milan, Ill.; May Drug Stores Inc., Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and Coin Baking Co., Rock Island, Ill.

Consolidated Foods also must dispose of the stock it owns in the following concerns: Food Giant Inc., Columbus, Ohio; La Porte City Foods Inc., La Porte City, Iowa; Pearson's Food Market Inc., Anamosa, Iowa and Stockton Foods Inc., Stockton, Ill.

Here are some thoughts about getting along with folks, and the necessary attitude of going the second mile. It's not always easy, but very often right. Let's just take a look at the people we don't like.

Most of us know folks we find it hard to like. Our personalities clash; we think they're ill-informed, rude, peculiar, or odd, and many times I fear we go out of our way to express this inward feeling of contempt.

Just recently, while talking about this very thing, someone in the group spoke up and said, "Isn't it hypocritical to be nice to people you don't like?" And if you think about it, it's a thought-provoking question.

I UNDERSTAND Abraham Lincoln once said, "I don't like that person very well. I must get to know him better." Getting to know someone better can really make the difference. I know of a Bible school teacher that became very upset at a student in her class. So disturbed was this lady that she went to her superintendent and said, "Either take that child out of my class or I will have to quit teaching."

The superintendent, wise to the ways of people said in effect, "Sure, I'll take the child out of your class, but first let's take one more try at it. You direct your interest and concern toward this child in your prayer life for a given amount of time each day and then call on her in her home. If, after this effort you still feel as you do, I will remove her from your class."

ONCE THE teacher gave concern for the student, called in the home and learned the needs of the child first-hand, she, the teacher, took a different view. In time the teacher and child became the best of friends. Now get this, the teacher died at a rather young age due to illness. In the meantime, the student grew to be a young lady and assumed that same Bible class in the place of her friend, and one-time beloved teacher.

I question it it's ever wrong to be nice to folks. If you dislike a person, you ought not to try to make him feel you approve of him. Certainly this would be hypocritical, but kindness and understanding do not necessarily mean approval. The kind thing may be to speak to that person who irritates you, with a greeting and then pass on by avoiding contact if it's apt to produce adverse reactions. Coming to know the person better may be the answer you should seek. At any rate, "going the second mile" has a way of compensating that person that is willing to extend himself.

WHILE WE'RE at it, let's not consider the matter complete until we consider that human pastime, gossip. "Going the second mile" might well include passing up the chance to gossip about that person you just don't like. And finally, "going the second mile" demands we look to self for the reason we may dislike a person, if jealousy is an underlying factor, correction must start at home. Whatever the case, we ought to avoid ill-will as we seek to make friends and influence people.

How about it? Considering the things you have read about today, are you going the second mile?

Changing Russ Policies Will Effect Viet Outlook

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

The shape of Soviet world policy in 1966 will have important bearing on chances for negotiation in Viet Nam. By spring, the world may have a better idea of those chances.

All signs indicate Soviet policy is being retooled to fit new situations, including fading prospects for any reconciliation with Red China.

Soviet aims seem concerned with security and insurance: security to pursue internal economic goals, and insurance against involvement against its will in direct conflict with the United States.

Soviet policy now is zeroing in on Western Europe, suggesting that Moscow wants to make friends with its Western neighbors, expand economic and cultural contacts and reap long-range benefits. A Soviet-British summit meeting is in prospect for February, and President Charles de Gaulle may drop in for a Soviet-French summit.

In this, Moscow appears to seek insurance in the form of some sort of settlement of West Germany's role in Atlantic nuclear defenses. It is capitalizing on lack of enthusiasm among America's allies for West German participation, and also on De Gaulle's opposition to stepped-up NATO integration and to the West German nuclear role.

While the Kremlin appears to subordinate Viet Nam to European policy, it also can be expected to seek a form of insurance in Asia, too. This is manifest in persistent Soviet efforts to implant strong influence in North Viet Nam, to provide a decisive voice in future developments there. The Soviet leaders likely will discuss Viet Nam with British Prime Minister Harold Wilson in February.

Significantly, the Chinese have been accusing Moscow of pursuing its own "special aims" in Viet Nam. In turn, European Communists, reflecting the Moscow view, accuse Peking of wanting to stand by, amused, while the United States and the U.S.S.R. get involved in military conflict.

Next spring could produce meaningful developments, possibly including a purposeful and practical Soviet policy tailored to the needs for security and insurance. The Soviet Communist party opens its 23rd congress March 29.

The congress theoretically is the ruling body which meets once in four years to approve guidelines for the next four. It likely will reaffirm policies laid down by the 20th congress in 1956 and the 22nd in 1961. These two were the fountainheads of the Soviet-Chinese dispute. A reaffirmation of the Soviet stand could mean much with regard to Viet Nam. If the Russians establish a strong presence there, a situation could develop in which their weight could contribute to isolating the Chinese and possibly create conditions for negotiations.

Cotter Basketball Tournament Opens Tonight

New King, Runnerup Foreseen

By GARY EVANS

Daily News Sports Editor

The sorting process begins at St. Mary's College field house tonight.

Four teams — for the first time representing equal representation between Wisconsin and Minnesota — open campaigns for the Cotter Invitational Holiday tournament championship.

At this point, only one thing is certain. The tournament will have a new champion. And, unless the dopsters are incorrect, a new runnerup team as well.

MINNEAPOLIS De La Salle, which nabbed a narrow 54-52 verdict over Winona Cotter in last year's event, will not be included in the four-team field this year.

The Islanders, as well as Rochester Lourdes, have given way to a pair of Wisconsin newcomers in La Crosse Aquinas and Eau Claire Regis.

And, in playing the part of the good host, Cotter has christened both as first-round favorites.

Regis, whose 6-1 record towers above the field, will play host Cotter in the 7 o'clock inaugural this evening with Aquinas following against St. Paul Hill in the 9 p.m. nightcap.

THE CHAMPIONSHIP battle is scheduled for Wednesday night at 9 o'clock. It will be preceded by a consolation game between first-night losers at 7 o'clock.

Unless Cotter, which flashed its best form of the season in riding past Owatonna Marian in its last outing, can knock the skids from Tony Fiore's Regis team, perhaps La Crosse Aquinas can turn the trick — providing, of course, that the Blugolds can trim Hill tonight.

The Blugolds can't match the height of Regis' 6-4 center Don Fischer, but from there on, size is nearly equal. And Aquinas coach Dave Bruha has said his team will beat anyone it can match in size.

THE BLUGOLDS will carry a 4-4 record into the tournament, but in guard Pat Callahan and forward Mike Limberg have a two-man operational team that could rank as the tournament's finest.

Limberg, despite his 6-0 height, is a key rebounder and under-the-basket scorer. Callahan, his team's leading point producer with a 22-point average, is the playmaker.

Cotter, its starting lineup realigned in the win over Marian, hopes to shed its early-season start with a tournament championship.

To contain the 6-6 Fischer will be 6-7 center Mike Twomey's job. From there, John Nett is expected to start Chuck Kulas and newcomer Steve Erdmanczyk at forwards and Tom Wenzel and Bob Allaire at guards.

JIM HOLMAY, the squad's leading scorer, will operate as sixth man. He came off the bench to spell Kulas against Marian and wound up the night with 17 points, a team high.

"I think we found that we play better with Kulas and Hol-

BUT HE'S NOT A HERO

Rog Biltgen Belts 256-674

When is a hero not a hero?

When he's Roger Biltgen, co-owner of Hal-Rod Lanes and member of the Country Kitchen squad in the City League bowled at the same alleys.

Monday night Roger blazed 256-674, the series good enough to put him, third in this year's top 10 list, as Country Kitchen won two games from league leading Wally's Fountain City.

But it was one bad frame that cost Biltgen a possible 700 count and his team a loss.

Roger opened with his 256, converting a pair of spares before tagging six in a row en route to his count. Country Kitchen won that game. But Roger dropped to a 182 his second, blowing the 10th frame as his team lost the contest by four pins. He rebounded with a 236 for his total. Earlier this year Biltgen had a 680 total for second place in the top 10.

And his were not the only wierd happenings on the Country Kitchen team. In the final game, Gene Kaehler opened with seven straight strikes but managed to finish with only 215 after blowing the next three frames. Kaehler did manage to come up with a 606 series, and behind this pair Country Kitchen fired 2,992.

Hotel Winona ripped a 1-048 game.

Other honor counts were registered by Tom Drazkowski, 622; Vince Suchomel, 617 errorless; and Al Hemesch, 603 errorless. John Sherman had a 192-576 triple, and Bud Berger picked up the 7-9 split.

Cy Cyert picked up the only other men's honor count in the city Monday night in the Winona Athletic Club. Cyert blasted a 234-624 to spark Ahrens-Platt Oil Co. to 1,012-2,879. Ed Dulek had a 585 errorless.

Arlene Kessler hammered a 529 series to spark Fenske Body Shop to 2,665 in the Alley Gater's League at Westgate Bowl, leading the distaff side.

Jan Wiczorek hit 210-507 for Fenske's, while Mohan's Window & Siding totaled 936. Joan House hit 202-504.

The Pin Topplers circuit at Westgate also turned out a bevy of good scores.

LET'S TALK SPORTS

with Gary Evans

GOSH DARN IT, SANTA, for two months we'd been making out our shopping list, and then when it came time to mail it, we forgot a couple of people.

We realize your once-a-year trip is over, but just in case you will be sending anything our way later on, perhaps you could take us off the hook on the goofs.

First of all, ever since last summer we'd been hoping to get Dave Mertes (he's an assistant football coach at Winona High and boat harbor operator) four walls to go with that roof he's got stowed above the water line over at the Mertes harbor.

You see what happened, Santa, is that Arnold Boese, another Hawk football coach, did such a fine repair job on that roof that it's all that is left of the harbor shanty. The wall broke up during the spring flood.

Now either we've got to get some ready-made walls for Dave or otherwise some material for Arnie to whip up some sturdy supports to that sturdy roof.

Another present we missed is a healthy knee for ace golfer W. W. (Bill) Ward.

He just had surgery on the bad one and we'd like to see a complete recovery.

Then there is Dan Glubka, for whom we just must get some hot scores in the Westgate American League — and quick!

Dan, the league secretary, passed along a holiday greeting on his sheet last Wednesday and also a short message.

"This season has been the poorest since the league started in 1961," penned Dan. "We've had only five 600 counts. In other years, we've had that many in one night."

So Santa, get those American League fellas some good scores, okay?

WINONA STATE COLLEGE'S football team put its mark on final statistics released by the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics last week.

Leading the way was all-conference quarterback Davis Usgaard, who tied for 22nd in total offense and took 16th in passing.

Usgaard totaled 1,303 yards for a 183 per game average in total offense and tossed 102 completions in 191 attempts for 12 touchdowns and a 150-yard per game average.

Ray Walsh, the all-conference flanker and Northern Intercollegiate Conference's most valuable player, was 20th among receivers with 38 catches for 573 yards and seven touchdowns.

Not to overlook the State team itself, the Warriors were 24th in passing offense with an average of 166 yards per game on 108 completions for 1,331 yards.

That's not bad for the school that supposedly is a perennial defensive power in football.

WE DON'T KNOW WHETHER New Year's is similar to Easter in the dress-up respect, but we do know that quite a few city bowlers are going to have new shirt decorations.

The reason is simple enough: We've got more 300 patches to award than you can shake a stick at.

Here are the new club members:

FRANK ADAMS, 367 with a 164 average in the Westgate Jacks and Queens.

ELEANOR GRIESEL, 397 with a 162 average in the Hal-Rod Ladies City.

PHYLLIS THURLEY, 390 with a 151 average in the Hal-Rod Ladies City.

ALICE STEVENS, 394 with a 151 average in the Hal-Rod Ladies City.

RICH MOHAM, 386 with 164 average in the Westgate Hiawatha.

RAY McNALLY, 394 with 165 average in the Westgate Community.

LYLE JACOBSON, 393 with 162 average in the Westgate Community.

JOE KIERNAN, 399 with 163 average in the Hal-Rod Eagles League.

So there you are, you lucky eight people. Get those Christmas present patches on your bowling shirts.

JUST RECEIVED A SHORT note, containing a belated Christmas greeting and a word of explanation from the Swami, who headed for warmer climates late last week.

Presumably, the old boy felt he needed a vacation and wouldn't return. Or it could be the bikini-clad gal pictured on the front of the post card he sent that changed his mind.

Vince: No Offer to Anderson

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Green Bay General Manager Vince Lombardi has been quoted as saying the Packers have not yet made an offer to Texas Tech's Donny Anderson, but Anderson's attorney told the Houston Post Monday night an offer has been made.

The All-America halfback has been drafted by both the National Football League Packers and the American Football League Houston Oilers.

"Mr. Lombardi has not made a proposition, no," Lubbock, Tex., Attorney H. J. (Doc) Blanchard said in a telephone interview from Jacksonville, Fla. "But it was my understanding that a representative of Green Bay had made an offer."

"At least they came to see me as representatives of Green Bay. Later we may find out it wasn't an offer Green Bay made. If not, then Donny may not sign this year (by midnight after the Gator Bowl game in Jacksonville, Fla.).

"But we took Green Bay's proposal as an offer, just as we took Mr. (Oiler owner) Bud Adams'."

And this was not the extent of the bidding, Blanchard said. "There has been some counter-bidding, yes," he said. "One will make an offer, then the other will match it."

Adams said Saturday his bid already had topped the losing one he said he made to Texas Tommy Nobis, $650,000.

West 1 Shy Of Unanimous

NEW YORK (AP)—Jerry West must wonder what a guy has to do to be a unanimous All-Star selection in the National Basketball Association.

Los Angeles' Mr. Everything was one of eight NBA players named to the West squad for the league's annual All-Star Game at Cincinnati, Jan. 11.

West was named on all but one of the 67 ballots cast by sports writers and broadcasters in the nine NBA cities. West is the NBA's leading scorer with 1,228 points, one of three NBA players to pass the 1,000-point plateau this season, and the only one in the West.

The West team did have one unanimous selection. He's Nate Thurmond, the 6-foot-10 San Francisco center who took over in the Warriors' pivot spot after Wilt Chamberlain was traded to Philadelphia.

The only rookie on the team is Rick Barry of the Warriors, who is averaging better than 21 points per game.

Others chosen were San Francisco's Guy Rodgers, Don Ohl and Bailey Howell of Baltimore. Zelmo Beaty of St. Louis and Rudy LaRusso of Los Angeles.

Pack Impresses Browns' Collier

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—How do the Green Bay Packers look to Cleveland Browns' Coach Blanton Collier?

"Their defense is something like that of the Dallas Cowboys," he said. "I'd say the offense resembles that of St. Louis, the one the Cardinals had before injuries hit the team."

That means Collier thinks the Packers are tough both ways. Dallas had the stingiest defense (280 points) in the Eastern Conference of the National Football League.

St. Louis, before the injuries, beat the Browns 49-13, the worst defeat the defending NFL champions suffered in an 11-3 record.

Collier, who takes the Browns to Green Bay, Wis., Sunday for the NFL championship game, made some other observations about the Packers Monday in an interview:

Q. Were you impressed with the Green Bay linebackers against the Baltimore Colts? A. I certainly was. I guess Ray Nitschke must be the top middle linebacker in the league. Their three regulars all have an unusual combination of height, weight and speed.

Q. How about the defensive line? A. This is a different type of defensive line from overpowering ones like those of Detroit and Los Angeles. Fellows like Henry Jordan and Willie Davis use that quickness and mobility to get the job done. Lionel Aldridge and Ron Kostelnik are more the conventional, big, strong types.

Q. How did Paul Hornung and Jim Taylor look (against Baltimore last Sunday)? A. Too good. Hornung seemed to be running as well as ever. Taylor is the type of player who scratches and squirms for every yard. He works well in close quarters. If there's any running room he usually finds it.

Warriors Rusty But Ready

WKAUKESHA, Wis. — Winona State College puts its "three-two-one" basketball plan on the line here tonight in the Carroll College Holiday tournament.

Bob Campbell's Warriors took part in drills at Winona Sunday and Monday before bussing here for the tournament, which will be played in the new $700,000 James Van Male gymnasium.

The Warriors are scheduled to oppose Beloit, the only team to show tournament victories over them, in the 7 p.m. inaugural tonight. The nightcap pits host Carroll College against Carleton, Minn., College.

The way Warrior boss Bob Campbell views the game with Beloit is summed up in his following statement:

"We'll have to be sharp and ready to go," he said. "And we're going to have to hope that the boys who come off the bench can do a job for us."

Underlying his statement of the reserves is the fact that the Warriors have just gone through a 10-day lay-off before resuming practice.

"We're definitely showing signs of the layoff," said the coach, "but actually we ran pretty well Sunday and Monday. At least everyone seems healthy."

The tournament games will mark the first starting duty for Spring Grove freshman, Mel Homuth.

Homuth, 6-4 and a leading District One scorer for the Lions last year, will move into the spot held formerly by 6-7 frosh Charlie Neal. Neal had his troubles with the books during the first quarter and is ineligible.

The man Homuth waged his scoring duels with a year ago also is expected to see his first varsity action. Peterson's Murton Boyum, brought up to the varsity just before the holiday break, has adapted himself to the varsity attack and will play.

Teaming with Homuth at forward will be Tim Anderson. Cotter grad Mike Jeresek is the center and Dave Meisner and Gary Petersen, both eligible for representation in the 1,000-point club, at the guards.

J. D. Barnette, a starter at guard early in the season, will be a first-line reserve at forward along with Jim Kasten, who has recovered from a bout with the flu.

Chip Schwartz will be Jeresek's relief man and Bill Werner and Al Connor will fill in at guards. Also making the trip are Boyum and Dennis Morgan.

Does Campbell know anything about Beloit?

"Nothing more than a newspaper article someone brought in," he said. "They have six lettermen back."

Among those are two fellows who erroneously were believed to have been graduated. They are all-Midwest performers Bob Rudolph and Phil Wooley, chief cogs in the attack that dumped Winona 72-67 in the championship game a year ago.

"Rudolph is a 6-3 senior and Wooley a 6-4 junior," said Campbell. "I imagine they'll give us plenty of trouble."

Winona carries a 3-5 record into the contest tonight. Two years ago the Statesmen were third, last year second and this year. . .

"The championship, we hope," said Campbell.

paced by Betty Englerth's 520 for Main Tavern. Mary Hengel rapped 207 for Coke, and Irene Bronk came up with a 519 for the same squad, but Wally's and Winona Insurance captured team honors. Wally's totaled 888 and the Insurance Gals 2,569.

Helen Englerth had 513, Yvonne Carpenter 511, Esther Pozanc 510 and Vivian H. Brown 503 to round out the scoring. Both Elsie Dorsch and Carol Ives converted the 4-7-10 split, while Hope Dennis picked up the 6-7-10.

HAL - ROD: VFW — John Sandstede socked 223 for Bunke's Apco, and Dick Seeling ripped 574 for the same crew, but the league leaders didn't garner team laurels. Bakken Construction counted 978, and Jones & Kroeger had 2,810.

WESTGATE: Bay State — Boxer registered 1,037-2,947 behind Ralph Lyons' 225. Dan Eichman hit 591 for Top Scores. Bosses won the first half championship.

Ladies—Shirley Gehlhaert nipped 501 to pace Safranek's to 882. Grulkowski Beauty Shop had 2,523, while Ella Pott laced 189. Leona Lubinski had a 500.

Community — Dave Rupper hit 572 for Sunbeam Bread, but Schmidt's Beer edged the bakers for first half laurels. Clarence Loer had 213 for Bub's, while both Schlitz Beer and Blumentritt Store hit 1,014. Blumentritt continued on to a 2,820.

Clark-Led Gophers Edge Cornell 84-82

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Minnesota's basketball team has run out of friends in the City of Brotherly Love.

The Gophers, led by team captain Archie Clark, edged stubborn Cornell 84-82 Monday night in their first start in Philadelphia's Quaker City Classic.

but they were the only out-of-towners to survive the tournament's opening round.

WSC Matmen 5th in NAlA

It must be a rather frustrating feeling to be ranked fifth in the nation and still be fourth in your own conference.

But that's the position Bob Gunner and the Winona State College wrestling team finds itself in today.

The Warrior grapplers, some of whom left today to compete in the Midlands AAU Open Tournament at LaGrange, Ill., are ranked fifth in the nation in the first NAlA wrestling poll of the season.

Lockhaven, Pa., is the No. 1 NAlA team with Moorhead and St. Cloud of the Northern Intercollegiate Conference, second and fourth, respectively.

So that puts Winona behind two teams from its own conference. The third is Mankato.

Philadelphia of the Quaker City Classic, but they were the only out-of-towners to survive the tournament's opening round.

Matt Goukas sparked defending tourney champion St. Joseph's to a 95-72 romp over Niagara while unbeaten Temple rocked St. Bonaventure 84-72 and LaSalle upended previously unbeaten Brigham Young 71-69 in other first-round action.

Temple, 9-0, meets LaSalle, 3-4, in one of Wednesday night's semifinals — assuring Philadelphia of a finalist in a tourney won by local teams in each of its four years — and eighth-ranked St. Joseph's plays the No. 9 Gophers in the other.

Clark paced Minnesota to its sixth victory in seven games with 25 points and nine assists. He hit four key free throws in the last 1 1/2 minutes, wrapping it up against the surprising Ivy Leaguers.

Clark came through with another fine performance as the Gopher leader since Lou Hudson broke his wrist Dec. 18.

After Minnesota trailed 42-38 at halftime, Clark pumped in 17 points for a game total of 25, which boosted his season average to 22.6. He has averaged nearly 29 points in the last three games.

Although he missed 4 of 11 free throws, he connected on four vital ones in late stages of the game. With the Gophers ahead 75-74 and 1:27 left, he sank a pair of charity tosses.

Cornell's Bob DeLuca popped a long one-handed shot but Clark came through with two more foul shots and Tom Kondla added another one, to push the Gophers out front by 4.

Paul Presthus contributed 18 points to the Gophers' attack which had five players in double figures. Wes Martins scored 16, Kondla had 14 and Dennis Dvoracek 11.

The Gophers, fortunately, only did about half as much fouling as their Ivy League foe, which connected on 14 of 16 charity tosses. The Gophers sank only 22 of 34 from the line.

Goukas also came up with nine assists and hit for 20 points as the Hawks rebounded from two straight road losses for a 7-2 season mark. St. Joseph's raced to a 14-point halftime lead and breezed home despite losing rebounder Cliff Anderson on fouls early in the second half.

LaSalle snapped sixth-ranked BYU's seven-game winning string — which included a victory over St. Joseph's — with a second half rally, taking the lead for good 58-57 on Hubie Grant's jumper with 12:02 to play. Ken Morgan, with 29 points; Jim Williams, with 18; and Clarence Brookings, with 15, shot Temple past the Bonnies.

Tenth-ranked Providence nipped New York University 79-76 in the first round of the ECAC Holiday Festival at New York, but No. 7 Michigan was knocked off Arizona State 89-87 in a Far West Classic opener at Portland, Ore., as 10 major tournaments tipped off across the country and as far west as Hawaii.

Ted Williams Sure Bet for Hall of Fame

BOSTON (AP) — Ted Williams, one of the greatest hitters in baseball history, appears a sure bet for election to the hall of fame in his first year of eligibility.

By Hurwitz, secretary-treasurer of the Baseball Writers Association of America mailed ballots Monday to some 415 members with a minimum of 10 years in the association. Because of the required membership period, many writers are being called upon to vote for a star who considered many of them a necessary, even unnecessary, evil.

Although often at odds with various baseball writers, Williams is figured a shoo-in for enshrinement in the Hall of Fame at Cooperstown, N.Y., next year. His fabulous batting marks offset any hostility that may have endured through the years.

The tall slugger compiled a .344 batting average and hit 521 homers in 19 seasons with the Boston Red Sox despite time out for service in both World War II and the Korean War. He also is the most recent of baseball's .400 hitters, batting a majestic .406 in 1941.

He led the American League in batting six times, in homers four times and in runs batted in four years. He hit over .300 in 16 of his 19 seasons before retiring in 1960, and was voted the league's Most Valuable Player in 1946 and '49.

Williams, whose home run production is topped only by Babe Ruth's 714 and Jimmy Foxx's 534, was among 41 former stars eligible for the Hall of Fame for the first time. Eligible players must have been active within a 30-year period but retired the last five years.

Other newcomers with Williams include Enos Slaughter, Don Newcombe, Alvin Dark, Hank Sauer, Bobby Thomson and Mickey Vernon.

The eligibility list also includes 30 top vote getters last year, when a runoff was necessary to elect Luke Appling.

Hurwitz placed a deadline of Jan. 15 for the balloting.

The 1965 list, released Monday by the USLTA, gives top ranking in boys (12) singles to Jake Warde of Denver, Colo., and ranks Marcelyn Louie of San Francisco No. 1 in the girls (12) singles class.

Stockton, who moves up from the No. 2 singles spot he held this year, also is top-ranked in the boys (14) doubles class with Erik Van Dillen. The No. 1 boys (12) doubles team is Paul Lockwood and James Hagey.

Marjorie Gengler and Alice de Rochemont are rated No. 1 in the girls (14) doubles class, while Miss Louie and teammate Karin Benson are top-ranked in girls (12) doubles.

Duke Holds Lead in Cage Poll

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Four undefeated teams have taken stronger positions in the Associated Press major-college basketball poll while once-beaten Duke held onto a sizable first-place lead.

The four are Vanderbilt, Bradley, Iowa and Kentucky, ranking behind the Blue Devils in that order.

Duke, 7-1 including last week's 100-93 overtime victory over Michigan, collected 35 first-place votes and 405 points in the latest balloting by a special panel of 43 regional experts.

Vanderbilt advanced two places to second with seven first-place votes and 331 points. The Commodores whipped Northwestern and the University of California at Santa Barbara, pushing their record to 8-0.

Bradley also climbed two places to third after beating Montana and North Dakota for a 10-0 mark. The Peoria, Ill. Braves had 289 points.

Iowa, 7-0, soared from ninth to fourth while Kentucky, which received the only other vote for the top position, moved up from 10th to fifth. Both teams are 7-0. The Wildcats trounced Texas Tech 89-73 last week while Iowa was idle.

Brigham Young, also unbeaten at 6-0, climbed into the No. 6 spot. BYU was unranked last week. Michigan, which also lost to Butler for a 4-3 mark, slipped four notches to seventh.

St. Joseph's, Pa., in the runner-up position a week ago, fell to eighth. The previously-unbeaten Hawks lost to Wyoming 89-82 and Brigham Young 103-83 last week.

Minnesota and Providence each tumbled three places, the Gophers to ninth and Providence to 10th. Both lost their first games of the season in last week's action. Minnesota to Utah State and Providence to Houston.

Australia Nails Down Davis Cup Championship

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — The sun blazed down on center court at 114 degrees, and John Newcombe and Tony Roche blazed over it with the same intensity today as Australia retained the Davis Cup with an easy doubles triumph over the flamboyant Spanish team of Manuel Santana and Luis Arilla.

The Aussies' 6-3, 4-4, 7-5, 6-2 triumph over the gallant Spaniards gave the boys from Down

Under an insurmountable 3-0 lead in the best-of-5 series and kept the big silver cup, emblematic of world amateur tennis supremacy, in Australia for the 13th time in the last 20 years.

Despite an imported group of 400 Spanish spectators gaily bedecked in red and gold scarves and an appreciative Australian crowd of 8,000 in White City Stadium, the Spaniards seemed to wilt after breaking through in the second set.

Santana tired noticeably during the third set, apparently feeling the effects of the 60-game singles match he lost to Fred Stolle Monday, 10-12, 3-6, 6-1, 6-4, 7-5. Spain fell behind 2-0 when Roy Emerson whipped Juan Gisbert 6-3, 6-2, 6-2.

So the scene was dramatically set for today's matches with the Spaniards facing a win-or-else situation in their first appearance in the Challenge Round and the Aussies deciding to send out the second-line combo of Newcombe and Roche for the clincher.

may alternating at that one forward," said Nett. "Unless something comes up to change our mind, that's the way we will go."

The Ramblers rank 3-4.

Hill owns a victory over Cotter in the early going, but has not one letterman back from the 1964-65 team.

BECAUSE NONE of the teams owns exceptionally tall teams, Nett foresees a scrambling-type meet with run-and-gun tactics ruling.

That is exactly the way Aquinas likes to play.

"Speed is a great equalizer," Bruha has said. "If we get up against someone who is our size, we're going to win."

Both Aquinas and Cotter have lost to Marshfield Columbus, the Blueglods bowing 64-82 in an overtime game and Cotter falling 71-60. At the same time, Regis whipped the Dons 71-60.

IN EIGHT games, Aquinas has averaged 64.5 points to 60.9 for its opponents.

Limberg and Callahan are the only two Blueglod players hitting in double figures for average. Limberg is scoring at a 13.5 clip.

Tournament chairman Pat Twomey has stated that plenty of tickets remain. Although sales have been progressing at the same rate as last year, more ducats are available because of the switch from Winona State's Memorial Hall to St. Mary's.

ST. CLOUD, Minn. (AP)—St. Thomas, with a 7-1 record, faces Ball State, Ind., in a first-round game of the St. Cloud State College Dedication Basketball Tournament Tuesday.

Ball State, with 10 sophomores on its 15-man roster, has won five and lost four to date.

Those teams collide in a 7:30 p.m. game. The second night game matches Buena Vista of Iowa and St. Cloud. The afternoon slate has St. John's against Stout, Wis., and Hamline against Western Illinois.

St. Thomas has the best showing among tourney teams, while St. Cloud is second best with an 8-2 showing.

The three-day tourney will dedicate the new 7,500-seat Hallenbeck Hall on the St. Cloud State campus.

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) —

Among the wires that poured into Don Chandler's home after his field goal heroics in Sunday's sudden death football game was a message from Wel Mara, his old boss at New York. "It was real nice of Wel," said the Green Bay place kicker. "I appreciated it."

Nobody paid much attention to Chandler in the year-end polls for comeback of the year, but the veteran deserved a high rank. His tying and winning kicks for a 13-10 victory against Baltimore Sunday made it 19 out of 29 field goal attempts and a total of 95 points.

Last year he made nine out of 20 for the Giants. Ironically, the Giants had troubles with field goals and made only 4 of 25 this season.

"I guess the Giants did me a favor when they traded me to Green Bay," said Chandler. "It was a tremendous challenge to me and a most satisfying ending."

"Last summer I practiced kicking back home in Tulsa for about six weeks before I went to camp. I kicked 15 or 16 a day at the high school field. It helped me get ready for camp because I felt I had to make the ball club. Ordinarily it takes me 10 days to get ready but this time I figured I should be ready to go from the start."

Chandler tied Sunday's play-off game for the National Football League's Western Conference crown with less than two minutes to go when he made good on a 22-yard boot. Informed that Lou Michaels, Baltimore kicker and defensive end, had claimed the kick was not good, Chandler commented: "All I have to say is that there were two officials there, one on each side of the posts, and one official behind me. # Royals Add to Knicks' Skein

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
It has been three years since the New York Knickerbockers last won a National Basketball Association game at Cincinnati Gardens. The way the Royals played Monday night, it could be three more years before the Knicks break the string.

Cincinnati opened up a 12-point first period lead and steadily added to it, whacking New York 138-116. In the only other NBA game played, Los Angeles downed St. Louis 108-100 at Memphis, Tenn.

Oscar Robertson was the Royals' big gun, scoring 36 points and tacking on 17 assists. Adrian Smith, Oscar's running mate in the Royals' backcourt, added 26 and Jerry Lucas had 25.

Bob Boozer and Jerry West paced Los Angeles' comeback as the Lakers wiped out a 13-point halftime deficit and overtook St. Louis.

West led the Lakers with 24 and Boozer finished with 23. Player-coach Richie Guerin led St. Louis with 25.

paid more attention to rushing." The winning goal at 13:39 of the sudden death overtime almost came a play earlier. Both Coach Vince Lombardi and Chandler confirmed the story Monday.

"I almost sent him in on third down," said Lombardi. "I yelled, 'field goal,' and the field goal team all got up and started taking off their robes. But I changed my mind. Imagine, if we had fumbled, I would be kicking myself all over Green Bay."

Instead of third down and six to go from the 22, the Packers moved to fourth and two on the 18 on a four-yard gain by Jim Taylor. Chandler then kicked it over from the 25.

"That's got to be the big one for me," said Chandler. "We have had a lot of tough things to overcome this year. Now we've got to play another tough game against Cleveland. It has

Top WCHA Powers Clash

ST. PAUL (AP)—Two powers in the Western Collegiate Hockey Association clash tonight in the lid-lifter of the St. Paul Hockey Classic.

University of North Dakota, with a 5-1 showing in the WCHA, meets Colorado College, 4-1, at 7 p.m.

Another WCHA team, Minnesota, which has a poor 1-3 record in conference play, takes on an eastern club, Colgate, in the windup at the St. Paul Auditorium.

The second and final round of the classic will be Wednesday night.

The Gophers got in their last licks 10 days ago against Wisconsin and Coach John Mariucci says his squad will have to play a lot better than that to make a good showing in the classic.

"We really showed the rust from not having played for two weeks and not being able to practice as a unit during the final exam period," he said.

Sportsmanship Award to Clarke

BOSTON (AP)—Tom Clarke, Dartmouth football captain and defensive end, was named winner of the 20th annual Nils (Swede) Nelson Sportsmanship Award Monday night.

Clarke was chosen from more than 40 nominations submitted from all sections of the country by coaches and others connected with football.

The Nelson award, named in honor of a former Harvard football star, is given annually "to the player who, by his conduct on or off the gridiron, demonstrates a high esteem for the football code and exemplifies sportsmanship to an outstanding degree."

Other nominees this year included Aaron Brown, Minnesota end.

American 30-hour cease-fire for Christmas.

Although American planes stayed out of the northern skies, U.S. and South Vietnamese pilots flew 286 combat sorties against the Viet Cong in the south in the past 24 hours, spokesmen said.

Fighter-bombers played a key role in repulsing two predawn attacks by 500 guerrillas on the mountain militia post of Bu Prang, 30 miles northwest of Gia Nghia and 110 miles northeast of Saigon.

Fifty Viet Cong were reported killed while government casualties were described as light.

A U.S. Air Force spokesman said he was unable to say whether the suspension in the attacks by the eight-engine Superfortresses was linked with the air lull in the north. The bombers last flew in from Guam Friday morning.

The big jets had been dropping their 750-pound bombs almost daily on jungle targets, some only a few miles from Saigon, since June 17. The fighter-bomber raids on North Viet Nam began Feb. 7.

In Washington there was an evident inclination to treat the Communist cease-fire announcement as something to be dealt with by the military command on the spot. U.S. officials had taken that line throughout in connection with the brief and often-broken Christmas cease-fire.

A State Department spokesman declined comment of any nature on the new Viet Cong move.

Officials here and in the United States deliberately avoided any discussion of the air war moratorium, which was generally interpreted as a new effort to draw North Vietnamese President Ho Chi Minh's regime to the conference table and to show the world the United States is ready to talk peace even if the Communists are not.

Amid the flurry of speculation about the air lull, three Americans were reported in Hanoi on an unauthorized private mission to North Viet Nam.

The travelers are Staughton Lynd, an assistant professor of history at Yale University and member of the editorial board of Viet Report, a monthly publication usually critical of U.S. policy in Viet Nam; Thomas Hayden, 26, a founder of the Students for a Democratic Society, and Herbert Aptheker, Marxist theoretician and historian.

HUMPHREY

is scheduled to meet with President Chung Hee Park of South Korea in Seoul and with President Chiang Kai-shek of Nationalist China on Formosa. He returns to Washington Jan. 2.

Before taking off from Andrews Air Force Base Monday night, Humphrey said he hopes the talks will be both "cordial and mutually beneficial."

On his first major trip since becoming vice president, Humphrey is expected to explore with the Asian leaders the future prospects for the Viet Nam war.

Humphrey and Marcos are also expected to discuss the agreement giving the United States bases in the Philippines. Several modifications of the agreement are under negotiation.

Humphrey carried with him a message from President Johnson assuring continuance of firm, strong and reliable relations with the Philippines.

Before leaving Washington, Humphrey also had a working lunch with Secretary of State Dean Rusk who briefed him on the situation in Northeast Asia.

Traveling with the vice president and his wife were Mayor Theodore McKeldin of Baltimore, editor-publisher Norman Cousins of New York, presidential adviser Jack Valenti and State Department chief of protocol Lloyd Hand. All were accompanied by their wives.

The Japanese government officially supports American action in Viet Nam but the press is almost totally against it, as are many left-wing intellectuals, students and the big labor federation Shoyu.

Yomiri urged "in strongest terms" that the United States halt raids on North Viet Nam, "search out formulas for a real truce, and through the cooperation of influential third nations create conditions for fruitful negotiations."

Asahi welcomed the vice president as "a sincere and progressive statesman" but interpreted the abrupt decision to include Japan on his itinerary as an indication that the war may be escalated further in "the near future."

John Streich, 48 Years a Postal Inspector, Retiring

John Streich, former postal inspector here who established a nationwide reputation as a crime smasher, is retiring Dec. 31, after 48 years of service. He retires as chief inspector of the Minnesota and Dakotas division.

While here, for about ten years, he had a corner office on the second floor of the old post office building and worked in close cooperation with law enforcement officers and the press.

Jirn Kloubuchar, feature writer for the Minneapolis Star, interviewed Streich about his life and wrote the following article:

John Streich lay in his coffin, wearing jeans, a flannel shirt and a .38 caliber pistol.

In the mail-and-baggage car of a fast train heading for the Twin Cities the lights went on just as the train passed Portage, Wis., and three crewmen began raiding the postal parcels.

Streich observed it all through the cracks of the rough pine coffin, where as a postal inspector he had concealed himself — there being no foldaway hidden compartments in those days.

"My wife," Streich recalled, "had put some drinking water into three or four beer bottles and sewed some cloth around them so they wouldn't rattle in the coffin. It was to use the emptied bottles for other purposes which just naturally follow when you drink a lot of water."

Sean Conroy may have found another way, but this was a low-budget piece of espionage.

While Streich sweated in the pine box, the thieves placidly went about the heist. "They got into a box of lingerie," Streich remembered. "One of them held up a pair of panties with some disapproval and volunteered the thought that he could get at least two wives into one of those."

"The guy next to him was a little overcome by all of their good fortune. 'Cheez,' he said, 'it's like Christmas every day.'"

Streich interrupted the ceremony by emerging from the coffin, full of life and brandishing the pistol. Terrorized by this apparition, two of the mail-smashers streaked out of the car. Streich grabbed the other, stuck his pistol against the man's skull (George Raft couldn't have done it any better) and blurted: "Drop your gun by the time I count three or I'll lay your head open."

The gun dropped at the count of one.

John Streich is 67 now, a silver-haired, muscular six-footer with a convivial temperament that sets off a faint scent of depression era gumsmoke. He will retire as postal inspector for the Minnesota and Dakota territory, with 48 years of service behind him.

HE HAS SENT nearly 400 men to prison, but he still receives calls from reformed crooks who bear him no rancor. His escapades have been the subjects of at least two movies and probably more which were never attributed.

Streich reminisced with his scrappiness in his St. Paul office Friday, and concluded: "There never was a case quite like the one when we grabbed the postage stamp thieves."

"We knew there were a couple of guys who were peddling these hot stamps stolen from post offices. So I sent a ribbon out among the hoods in Nebraska, Iowa and South Dakota. 'Well, I say a ribbon. I mean

Newsman Cite Confusion Over Viet Nam Truce

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — In the wake of the Christmas truce newsman here are reconstructing the flow of information and lack of it which led for a time Saturday to an erroneous picture of how the cease-fire was going.

For hours there was a blackout on information about truce violations by the Communist forces. The reasons for this blackout, lasting until Sunday, appear to be two-fold:

—Because the truce had diplomatic overtones, the State Department no doubt wanted to insure strict control over all news released until a clear pattern emerged and U.S. policy could be adjusted to it. Thus presumably was also an effort to see whether any Communist violations reported were just isolated incidents possibly due to faulty communications.

Orders were given to public information officers in Viet Nam to make no releases to newsmen that were not cleared with the U.S. command here. Sources in a position to know say that reports of alleged truce violations were passed on to Washington which decided when and how they were to be released.

—Because of a lack of clearance from Washington, the U.S. military information section here continued through Christmas Day to insist there were no truce violations except one mortar attack against the Marines. This officially was written off as a misunderstanding and not a violation. The Marines suffered no casualties in this attack.

In fact there had been 40 violations, according to a count released later by Washington and the military here. It is known that the military reporting system from the field was primed to get all incidents to Saigon and on to Washington as fast as possible.
