INTRODUCTION

Several years ago while I was Librarian of a Theological College and Seminary in New York I discussed, in true library custom, my classification problems with other theological librarians around New York City, and spread letters far and wide along the East Coast. In the end I was convinced that Dewey's 200 section was limited. No money was available to change the system, and although I had been advised to change my system, I firmly believed (and still do) that Dewey was the best and easiest classification system. In desperation I worked out an expansion, using all the suggestions, and trying to correct all the complaints I had gathered from other librarians. I sent copies of the finished expansion to my friends in other theological libraries. The response was warm and gratifying. Soon the expansion was incorporated into the classification schedules of over 15 theological libraries. When I came West it was suggested that I re-write the expansion and publish it in our LIBRARY BULLETIN, as many librarians felt the need of such an expansion. With this in mind letters were sent to all who were using the expansion, and many others, asking for their suggestions, additions, corrections, etc. Several visits and round table chats were held with theological librarians on the West Coast. The following expansion is the result.

As this is an expansion of Dewey, a copyrighted system, I have changed as little as possible; thus you will be able to use the Relativ Index in your Dewey. If you will note in your index the few places where we have made switches or additions, e.g., Prayer is now all in 249, Evangelism is in 253, etc., you will have no difficulty in finding the numbers you wish. This schedule does not "do away with" your Dewey or supercede it; you will still need to use it. This schedule merely makes the religious section more pliable and applicable to a theological collection. We still use the other nine classes, as one does find books on other subjects even in a specialized theological library.

I want to thank Dr. Elgin S. Moyer of Moody Bible Institute, who has given valuable help and suggestions from the very beginning, and also the members of the Christian Librarians Association for their encouragement, constructive criticism and practical help, and the many librarians across the country who have kindly and thoroughly answered questions and letters.

This Expansion is printed with the permission of the Lake Placid Club Education Foundation, owners of the copyright for Dewey's Decimal Classification and Relativ Index.
