20% TURNOUT NEEDED TO DECIDE AMENDMENTS

Several referendums and amendments face Eastern voters today in the general election and at least 1200 must vote to ratify it.

Pat O'Donnell, A.S. Internal Affairs advisor, emphasized the fact that a 20 percent turnout was needed to decide the fate of certain constitutional amendments on the ballot.

Also, seven seats in the A.S. legislature will be decided today.

Three amendments, considered important by O'Donnell, cover such areas as increasing the size of the supreme court from five to seven justices, and establishing procedure for handling dorm cases.

Also, allowing voters to cast ballots without needing I.D., and third, permitting the A.S. to get election clerks from within the college.

Two referendums concerning alcoholic beverages on campus and hitchhiking will also be on the ballot to determine the general mood of those on campus.

O'Donnell said the turnout last week was "very low" with only 357 voting.

Gen. Requirements Altered For Utility

Physical education, psychology and history are no longer required courses under the new General College Requirements to take effect immediately.

Under the new program, social science, humanities, natural science, and mathematics are established as areas for general education requirements. A student may take 20 credits in one area, 20 more credits in another area, and 15 credits in a third. As an option, a student may take five hours in an area called psycho-motor and services which may include physical education and art. The five credits in this area may be substituted for part of the 20 hours required in another area.

The hours taken for fulfillment of general education requirements may not be applied toward a student's major. However, supporting courses taken outside a student's major may be applied toward these requirements. No student may apply more than 10 credits taken in any one department toward fulfillment of the requirements. Although P.E.,

In the presidential preference poll, the top three finishers, with their percent of vote were: Henry Jackson, 14.15; Richard Nixon, 11.75; and Ted Kennedy, 13.35.

Final results of the primary had the following squaring off in today's election:

Spokane position one-Rick Schierman, 13.20; Cleotis Ray, 86.79.

Spokane position two-Pat

O'Donnell, (unopposed).

Spokane position four-John Greer, (unopposed).

Spokane position five-Arthur Maginnis, (unopposed).

Cheney position three-Jim Copeland, 39.09; George E. Lewis, 30.00.

Cheney position six-Terry Stratton, 37.71; David P. Hayden, 46.49.

Cheney position 12-Ronald Clinton, 25.24; Mark Womble, 31.06.

Alcohol Issue Goes To B.O.T. Meeting

Do Eastern students over 21 have the right to drink in the privacy of their own room on campus?

In a memo released to the Board of Trustees, Associated Students President John Allen maintains that they do.

Allen, in that memo, proposes that the existing school policy concerning the use of alcohol on campus be amended as follows:

"Consumption of alcoholic beverages is prohibited in residence halls EXCEPT in the privacy of student's rooms in accordance with Washington State liquor laws and related codes."

In addition to the proposal, Allen recommends this revised policy be supported by an additional six point program.

Basically, this program covers such things as allowing a dorm resident to state whether or not he wants a roommate who drinks alcohol.

Also, instructing each hall director to hold orientation sessions to discuss the drinking policy, and providing for disciplinary action for those who violate the policy and regulations.

Allen's memo also makes note of the problem of minors drinking on campus.

In it, he says such a situation is already present in dorms and, "It does not seem that any subsequent handling of the problem (with minors) under a new policy would require adjustment in current practice."

Allen's entire memo is keyed towards a Board of Trustees meeting later this month, when more information on the issue will be presented.

This will include such things as questionnaires and petitions from Eastern, legal opinions, and an analysis from a Washington State University dorm liquor committee.

Emphasized in Allen's memo is the fact that Eastern is the only four year college in the state that prohibits the use of alcohol on campus.

New Calendar To Be Considered

The Undergraduate Affairs Council will meet today to consider, among other things, a new college calendar.

Although changes are made to the calendar every year, several of the new proposals deal with changing the concept of the calendar entirely.

One proposal in particular, advocates the abolishment of finals week and refers to it as a 'farce'. The proposal states that the professors that use finals week have become the "bad guys".

Other proposals suggest lengthening classes to an hour and having a full-length summer quarter.

SOARING SKYWARD - Tom Rantz (left) and Herb Jones drift upward in the balloon as "Professor" MacArthur keeps a watchful eye on the earth-line.

BALLOONING IS 'NATURAL HIGH'

By Tom Rantz

The wicker basket leaned to the left, then to the right, bounced twice rather lightly on the ground, and then, just like in "The Wizard of Oz," we were airborne, slowly but surely floating upward below the huge, 80-foot-high balloon.

"Professor" MacArthur's balloon drifted skyward, leaving the small crowd assembled on the Patterson Mall-To-Be looking upward at us as we soared to "amazing" heights of 20 or 25 feet. Above us the bright, propane flame roared, continuing to fill the orange, pear-shaped bag of air as we drifted aimlessly about in the deepening pinks and purples of the sunset.

Does it sound different, exhilarating, and even a bit magical? Well, it is!

The kind of high that MacArthur's balloon ride offers is totally unlike any other. The freedom of free-floating weightlessness is completely unique, and is probably one of the best "natural highs" one can experience in this modern day and age.

MacArthur and his balloon will be here for the rest of the week as he continues with his Associated Student-sponsored lectures, programs, and twice-daily (weather permitting) ascensions into the "wild blue yonder."

Herb Jones, Executive Coordinator of Student Activities, announced that the two dollar fee originally required, for participation in the activities has been dropped in the hopes that more students will take advantage of the variety of events scheduled.

Students are invited to take part in the ascensions, which are, weather permitting, between 7:00 and 8:00 a.m. and 6:00 and 7:00 p.m. daily. The "Professor" will take up as many people as he can while he is here at Eastern, so come on folks, get on out there and get high!

editorial

It has now been announced for who-knows-how-many-times--the beer proposal is going to the Board of Trustees.

Sometimes it is hard to determine which member of the bureaucratic process is playing games with its constituency. Student government has become known for such gamesmanship by not doing things--anything.

Now, however, student government is at least working with something--the beer proposal.

Student body officers have consistently brought the idea of beer on campus to the Board of Trustees. Each time to be met just as consistently by Board demands for yet another prerequisite for beginning to even consider beer on campus.

Now we are not saying that some of the requests by the Board were not reasonable--however this process could go on forever.

At this point it's not really important whether anyone favors beer on campus or not. What is important is that student government in one instance seems to be carrying through a program only to be met by an unresistant Board of Trustees. A Board that seems to prefer hedging, making trivial demands, and in general evading an issue rather than taking a stand--any stand.

If the Board would at least make a definite move students and the Board might come to some sort of equitable decision.

Then perhaps student government could get on to handling the more real problems that face Eastern students. That is if now that student government seems to be activated we can get a similar response from the Board of Trustees.

QUESTION: I've heard that after a bee or wasp sting, a piece of meat can be placed over the wound to draw out the poison and/or stinger. Is this merely an old wives' tale or is there some truth to it?

ANSWER: A piece of meat on a bee sting will do nothing that a cold compress will not do, except draw flies. Honey bees sting only once as they leave their stinger in the wound or lose it soon after the sting, dying a short while later. The wasp is less dramatic and recovers its stinger to use again when the occasion arises.

The venom deposited during the sting is a complex substance and includes materials that break down cell walls and cause swelling. The venom gets into the blood stream fairly rapidly. Some people develop severe allergies with repeated bee stings and can have a fatal reaction. Other people automatically desensitize (most bee keepers) and have very little response from the sting. If you develop a marked, generalized reaction to a sting, including a rash and cramps, it would be wise to visit a physician and determine if you are becoming allergic. In such a case, controlled desensitization is recommended, and you might be advised to equip yourself with a supply of emergency medicines to treat a severe allergic reaction.

QUESTION: I am planning on having another child soon and hope to nurse the baby, but have been reading lately that mother's breast milk has so much DDT in it that it could not be sold in a store. Is this true? Since DDT is stored in fat tissues can you get rid of it by dieting?

Also, we eat a lot of liver, heart, etc.; is that where DDT is stored?

ANSWER: While it is true that trace amounts of DDT can be found in human milk (as well as in cow's milk) the amount is very small and fortunately not harmful. The presence of DDT in mother's milk has been used to dramatize the degree to which we have become poisoned by a variety of substances along with our environment. Some women have been frightened into thinking that it is dangerous to breast feed their children, but mother's milk is generally a pure product subject to fewer contaminations than cow's milk.

An expert in pesticides helped with the following information: Losing weight only tends to concentrate the amount of DDT in less fat. It has no advantages in eliminating the DDT. He also indicated that organs such as liver, brain, kidneys and heart tend to contain much less DDT than other parts of the body. At least in part, this is related to the relative absence of fat in these organs.

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR'S NOTE

THE EASTERNER welcomes letters to the editor. Letters should be typed, double spaced, signed and not more than 250 words.

To the editor:

Instead of berating EWSC's implied lack of "a relatively mature marketplace for the interchange of ideas", the Easterner should grow up. On the same page as the editorial, you proceed to seriously violate a professional journalistic ethic by reprinting Lascalles' poem "The Box" from John Denver's album: "Poems, Prayers and Promises" without obtaining reprint permission from ASCAP or BMI, which constitutes plagiarism and violation of copyright; for both charges you can be sued. The party bringing suit would certainly collect.

Other unprofessional behavior includes the prolonged use of first names and "Professor" in quotes when last names without titles should be used after the first time, omission of apostrophes in various possessives and a complete lack of in-depth reporting. Beside such atrocities, a condom ad is negligible.

This newspaper has a long way to go before it can provide a relatively mature market place.

To whom it may concern:

Concerning the new draperies in the PUB, I think they are grossly uncalled for. For one thing, they do not go along with the design of the building, plus they block the view and add nothing to the general decor.

Besides this, they are an added expense just in terms of cleaning, not to mention the initial cost. If the color was the tinge they wanted, why not simply paint the windows? At least that wouldn't interfere with the architect's total concept of the building.

In conclusion, I must take my hat off to all those concerned in this total waste in time of economic cutbacks!

MacArthur, that renowned professor, continues his classes (and hopefully his flights). Those of you who haven't signed up for the class are welcome to attend as the class didn't fill. This will be the rest of the week at Showalter Auditorium on a regular class schedule in the mornings.

Also in the offering this week is another three days of coffeehouse. We are presenting JOY BRADY, a lovely young troubador who played here last year and has spent extensive time on tour and in Chicago. It is FREE to students, Wed., Thurs. and Friday at 8:00 p.m. in the SUB Harbor.

The movie this weekend is "Paint Your Wagon", the story of life and love in a mining town during it's birth. Clint Eastwood and Lee Marvin head up the all-star cast. The film is rated GP, will be both Saturday and Sunday at 8:00 p.m. in the PUB and is 25 cents for students.

We should apologize for the slow lines at the movies but we hope to clear this up soon.

Please bring student I.D. to all events, in order that we may distinguish you from campus visitors... thanks...

Finally, Friday's dance will be in the PUB with the band "Fairweather". The balloon class may show off their creation as well. Should be a good time.

"In everyone's life there's a "Summer of '42" claim the ads for this current Warner Brothers release. Although it is on a second engagement, it is the best of the new entries to the Spokane film scene.

Based on a story by Hermann Raucher, "Summer of '42" centers around the adventures of three high school boys, two of whom have sexual intercourse for the first time with the aid of an old medical textbook found by the third.

Hermie, leader of the three, becomes a distant admirer of Dorothy, an "older" married woman of 22 and spends the majority of his time denying it to his friends and devising ways to be around her.

One night at the movies (a vintage Bette Davis thing) Hermie and his best friend Oskie (a loud-mouth jock-type) pick up two girls and spend the evening in the balcony trying to be wolves. Neither has a lot of success.

This is possibly the best film released so far this year, at least until the Thanksgiving-Christmas releases. ("Fiddler on the Roof" is coming in November.) Leading artists Jennifer O'Neill and Gary Grimes both promise to become excellent performers. The music theme, composed by Michel LeGrand, is an integral part of the film.

Another offering, while not really new, is the joint release of "Around the World in 80 Days" and "West Side Story." The main idea is, if you want to see "West Side Story" without commercials, go ahead, otherwise wait until November and watch it on television.

BLACK STUDIES DIRECTOR NEEDED NOW FOR CAMPUS

"The Black Student Union is attempting to sustain an all-out drive at increasing relations between the 'advantaged' and 'disadvantaged' students." So read the first line of a letter from the Black Studies Committee to the faculty, administrators, students and student groups of EWSC.

A major factor in this drive would be the hiring of a black studies director. The BSU feels a director would bring about better racial relations between blacks and whites by helping them to understand each other. The director's function would be to develop a wide range of Black Studies to be a part of Eastern's curriculum, according to Jimmy Williams, member of the Black Studies Committee.

Black Advisor, Al Stallworth added that Black Studies director would "write programs to obtain funds to subsidize black students beyond present financial aid."

The BSU has been trying to obtain a Black Studies Director for two years. Members of the BSU feel that they have been put-off and slowed down with legalities. Jimmy Williams says, "The (the administrators) insist we handle it when they know we can't."

Art Mart Possible

The possibility of starting an Associated Student Art Market was discussed at the second meeting of the Associated Students Legislature.

The purpose of the market would be "to broaden student awareness of local art and to foster a general appreciation for the graphic arts," according to a leaflet on the market. If the program materializes, a panel of judges, including professional artists and students would judge the works of EWSC students.

One hundred and fifty dollars would be awarded to the first place winner, one hundred to the second place winner, and fifty dollars to the third place winner. After judging, A.S. would purchase the best works and build a permanent AS collection for display in the PUB.

Other business conducted at the Legislature included acceptance of an amendment to change the number of Superior Court judges from five to seven, and the passing of an act to assign two election clerks to each polling place during elections. The clerks would be responsible for supervising the ballots, ballot boxes, and voting at that polling place. Another act was passed to insure that the A.S. Court will be run by Robert's Rules of order.

Henry-York Steiner, Dean of Undergraduate Studies, said in his Fall Statement on Policy, "It would be difficult, if not impossible, financially, to hire a Black Studies Director. Even if we could find his salary, he'd have no control over funds."

The Easterner regrets Dean Steiner could not be reached for more recent comments.

Further problems are ignorance of the situation and

TENANTS RECEIVE LISTING SERVICE

That being to establish a listing of rental units in the Cheney area.

It is now completed and will be presented in the form of a listing board to be mounted in the PUB this week.

Card emphasized the fact that the listing would show only those units available for rent.

The basis for this listing board is rooted in the contacting of nearly all landlords in Cheney this last summer. 247 indicated their cooperation with the tenants' Union.

However, Card pointed out that over 70% of the rental units in Cheney are controlled by a

The Tenants' Union is alive and well in Patterson 3034, and functioning.

At least that is where Paul Card is, and because of his position as manager, he is the Tenants' Union.

Even though he hasn't been occupying his "official" office in the PUB, Card has been working on the prime directive handed down to him from the A.S.

IMC Adds Many New Films To Collection

Most of man's follies, triumphs, delusions and diversions are now available to Eastern students Fall and Winter quarters. Much of the 20th century has been collected into a film library by Blackhawk Films which is making the films available to the library on a preview basis.

The library, in turn, is allowing students to check them out for overnight use from the IMC Listening Lab. Students will be able to check out up to three films. Projectors can also be checked out, but they must be reserved in advance from the IMC office. The films, running from 5 to 30 minutes, are 8mm and super 8mm, and are in black and white and color.

The films cover nearly all of man's endeavors in the 20th century. History and adventure devotees will be able to view THE CONQUEST OF THE NORTH POLE and films of the Apollo moon expeditions.

apathy by the white students, according to Williams.

The BSU asks students who would like to voice opinions to address letters to President Shuck or Dr. Roland Lewis of the Black Studies Committee. The BSU asks parties interested in the immediate hiring of a Black Studies Director to contact Art Sullivan or Louis Bell at 359-2526 by tomorrow.

handful of landlords, and some would not cooperate.

In other words, of the 247 cooperating landlords, most are those with only one or two units to rent, not the multi-unit apartment complexes now common in Cheney.

Card however feels that this is in a way fortunate, because it is these apartments, located in basements or some landowner's spare room, that are lower in rent than those in large apartment complexes.

At present that listing board is the first major project undertaken by Card in the role of Tenants' Union manager.

"Once the board is up and operating on a day-to-day basis, the Union will begin to function stronger than it is now," said Card.

He said because of limited time he cannot man the PUB office, but will work out of the Patterson Hall Office and be available to advise or help renters needing counseling.

IMC Adds Many New Films To Collection

The lives of some of the century's most famous personalities are also available on documentary.

The Blackhawk collection also includes films cataloging the growth of the modern cinema. Many silent greats can be seen, including THE GREAT TRAIN ROBBERY and the 1920 version of DR. JEKYLL AND MR. HYDE.

Those enjoying good old light-hearted entertainment will be able to enjoy the comedies of such kings of mirth as W.C. Fields, Charlie Chaplin, and Laurel and Hardy.

The greatest filmed happenings from the world of sports, ranging from the tense, exciting Frazier-Ali heavyweight fight to the triumph of the Amazing Mets, are included in the collection. Many annual sports events such as the Indianapolis 500 are available for viewing.

In general, the collection provides a variety of films which cover vast areas of interest.

STUDYING EASTERN'S OPERATION - Peter Cooper, director of the new Office of Institutional Research, is responsible for determining the quality of Eastern's educational and service programs.

Institutional Research Office Developed Here

This fall quarter a new administrative office, known as the Office of Institutional Research, was created at Eastern.

According to Peter Cooper, director of this office, it was created in order to deal with some of the pressing problems facing Eastern in the Area of administration. It was felt that Eastern needed a full-time, paid staff member who could spend his time looking at Eastern; observing its administrative structure and function in order to find out how things are being done now and how they can be done more effectively.

Cooper sees his role as that of a management or administrative consultant. He functions not as a decision maker but as an advisor and coordinator of programs and information. Part of his job is to provide data and information to the administration, faculty and students about how the college can best serve the needs of the students and community.

Cooper will be helping to establish the long-range goals of the college and setting mechanisms for achieving these goals. He will also be conducting studies of different related subjects and helping other people in their studies.

One of the things that Cooper said he will be doing is working with others on the enrollment question. He will be doing research on it and will be trying to discover the reasons for Eastern's drop in enrollment and why it wasn't expected. He is interested in the possibilities of using computers to predict enrollment trends. He will be working on finding out what can be done about the enrollment drop.

Cooper is hopeful that his work will help to make Eastern more effective in its function as a college. He is trying to answer the question which many have been asking, "Are we doing the right things for our money?" He feels that he will be able to save the school money in the long run.

Cooper holds a Bachelor of Science Degree in mathematics and is working on his Masters dissertation on computer science at New Mexico University. He has experience working for IBM in Australia and as a Computer Program Director.

history and psychology are no longer required composition course is still compulsory.

According to Dean Steiner of the Undergraduate Studies Office, general education requirements serve to broaden a student's background and give him a wider range of knowledge. In addition to a major, which gives specialized knowledge, a student needs more general information as well, Dean Steiner said.

Questions on the new program may be directed to Dean Steiner of the Undergraduate Studies Office in Showalter.

APPLY NOW FOR AN ABSENTEE BALLOT IF YOU CANNOT VOTE IN PERSON

Any registered voter who will be away from home on the day of the election—or is so physically handicapped that he (or she) cannot vote in person should apply now for an absentee ballot. Any signed request containing the necessary information will be honored. For your convenience, a model application is reproduced below.

Our absentee voting procedure has been greatly simplified in that it is no longer necessary to mark your ballot in the presence of a notary public. All that is required is for the absentee voter to sign the affidavit which is printed upon the envelope used to mail back the marked ballot.

In order to be certain that the voter's application is authentic, our laws require that the signature upon the application be verified by comparison with the signature on the voter's permanent registration record.

CONSUMER GAME IS BIG BUSINESS

The consumer game, pitting two teams, one against the other, was the focal point of Consumer Advisor Betty Furness' speech Monday in Showalter Auditorium.

A full house was on hand to hear Miss Furness tell of the contest between producers and consumers, with the actual product in the middle.

She pointed out that one of the biggest problems facing the consumer is lack of information. "Even the most devout housewife can only guess what her family consumes."

Miss Furness, one-time Special Assistant for Consumer Affairs to President Johnson, relayed to her audience the importance of going to the producer when they have legitimate grievances, and the need to know.

The actual store should be where complaints are sent first she said, but no one should be afraid to go to the top, the company president.

When all else fails, she said, the only thing left is to organize, and make a cooperative effort.

Miss Furness, at times directing questions directly at the audience, brought up several examples of where consumers were getting the wrong end of the deal.

Stacking up several sizes of soft drink containers on a table, she showed how the "economy size" was not always the cheapest.

On another note, she said the consumer is looking more and more towards government for help, but not really getting it.

State legislators are really just businessmen and producers themselves and have their own interests to look after.

She also warned against

"consumer religion" that hits politicians at election time, but fades away when another term is assured.

Miss Furness managed a realistic view of why corporations do the things they do to consumers, she said, "Business is in business to do business."

She added that competition was an important factor why companies don't put the consumer first, but not a complete excuse.

Miss Furness assessed the total issue by saying, "We're going to have to look out for ourselves the best we can."

Parking Lot Recommended

A recommendation to purchase more land and construct a new parking lot for Kingston Hall will be sent to the Board of Trustees for consideration at their meeting this Saturday.

The block of land involved is bounded by 5th, D, 6th, and C streets. The recommendation from the facilities planning committee also includes a request for a "green belt" to assure the aesthetic quality of the living environment to the present surrounding residents.

Listening Lab Has Varied Possibilities

By Rob Allen

When Sue Bemel, Listening Lab Director, told me many seniors come into the lab asking "Why hadn't I been told about this service before?", I wasn't surprised. Many students have told me they didn't know about this or that service until they "bumped into it."

So that's what prompted me to start this column. If I can help students become aware of facilities available for their use, I'll keep writing. If I become trite or redundant, let me know and I'll stop.

The Listening and Self-Instructional Lab is located on the main floor of the Library and is designed to assist the general student in learning process through audio and visual aids.

Sue Bemel, Lab Director, and Bertha, an audio deck worth thousands of dollars, are on hand daily to assist students with lab facilities.

Included in the facilities are various cartridge and reel to reel tapes. The tapes feature teaching aids for professors as well as class assigned listening tapes for classes such as Psychology and Music in the Humanities.

The lab has an assorted record collection that includes poetry, plays, old radio shows, classical music, ect. The records are non-circulating but most records have been tape recorded for use outside of the lab.

Students can view 16mm films in the Self Instructional Lab that they possibly missed in class or have for their own self instruction. Various slide presentations are offered including some that have accompanying audio aids. Slides range in subject matter from primitive art to modern China.

The lab also offers video tape playback, non audio film loops, the Blackhawk film series, a drug identification kit, and many other materials that may be used for self instruction.

Students who are not acquainted with the Listening and Self-Instructional Lab should drop-in during any of the listed hours listed below and familiarize themselves with the educational aids available to them.

Monday and Wednesday 8:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m. Tues., Thurs., Fri. 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Sat. closed. Sunday 3:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m.

EAGER TO ASSIST - Sue Bemel, one of the employees at the IMC Listening Lab, can help students with their audio-visual problems. The Listening Lab is one of the facilities here on campus which many students could take better advantage of by a little investigation and further use.

SPEAKING OUT FOR CONSUMERS - Betty Furness, ex-Consumer Affairs Advisor for President Johnson, spoke here Monday about consumer affairs and protection.

ALUMNI PLAN CAMPUS VISIT

"EWSC Alumni Association members are planning a visit to the campus this Thursday and Friday, Oct. 14-15," Graham Johnson, Director of Public Services said.

Alumni Leaders have indicated that the image of Eastern is of primary concern to them. This visit is aimed at getting better acquainted with the campus and the academic offerings as they are today. Twenty-five selected alumni will meet early Thursday morning with various division deans.

Immediately following these get-togethers, the teams will begin visiting various departments. Drop-in visits to classes are on the remainder of the agenda.

After visitation, a report to the Board of Trustees, the Alumni, faculty, legislators, students and the general public will follow. This report will be staged in the form of a half hour video-tape on KSPO.

"These people are friends and should be greeted as such," emphasized Mr. Johnson. "The success of the venture and its eventual value to EWSC will be directly proportional to our willingness to cooperate openly and fully."

TROPHIES GIVEN BLOOD DONORS

Eastern's R.O.T.C. will be sponsoring a blood drive on Oct. 14 and 15 in the social center of Louise Anderson Hall.

According to Skip Smyser, information officer for the blood drive, the goal of the drive is to double last year's total of 262 pints donated. In order to help reach this goal two trophies will be awarded, one to the organization that has the most people who donate and one to the organization that has the best percentage of donors.

Streeter Hall has challenged all other dorms and organizations to see who can donate the most blood. Smyser urges all other groups to meet this challenge and to help R.O.T.C. reach its goal. Smyser said that the blood is for a good cause and that all students and their families are eligible to use the Blood Bank at no cost.

I WANT TO SUCK YOUR BLOOD! - The R.O.T.C. sponsored annual Blood Drive will be held October 14 and 15 in social center at Louise Anderson Hall. Shown helping in the procedure are from left, Georgi Losh, Skip Smyser, Lisa Veium, and Kathy Morris.

CO-AM EXPRESSES DISSENTING VIEWS

Several members of the Concerned Officers and Airmen's Movement (CO-AM) will present their views of dissent in the military in a program set for 7:30 tonight in the PUB multipurpose room.

The presentation will deal with life in the military and what it means to dissent with regard to the war while in the military. A question and answer session will follow the talk.

Their program tonight is part of their effort to inform the public of the facts of life in the military and of their struggle to retain their rights while members of the Armed Forces.

CO-AM came into existence this past Spring when eight officers at Fairchild AFB sent a letter to the editor of the Spokesman-Review stating their opposition to the war. Upon publication of the letter the officers were called into the office of the vice-wing commander and chastised. In the following weeks regular meetings were held at the Unitarian Church and the group grew to include enlisted men.

The group has had to contend with harassment from the Air Force, including an attempt to discharge three of their members on a trumped-up charge of substandard performance of duty. That was quickly stopped with a suit against the Air Force and the Department of Defense.

In August the group published its first newsletter. This was followed by more harassment and threats of discharge for dissident activity.

The group has given the same presentation at the Spokane Unitarian Church and will be going to Missoula, Montana this weekend to address the Missoula Women for Peace.

EWSC PAC WORKS ON STUDENT PROBLEMS

Students or groups interested in working on statewide issues through the Washington State Legislature may find assistance from the campus Political Action Committee.

According to LeAnna Shaw, Eastern's new PAC chairman, the committee is designed not only to provide legislators with student opinion but also to help students to determine and research issues and to bring these issues to the legislature.

In addition, Mrs. Shaw said PAC hopes to provide the campus with information on student issues before the legislature.

Eastern is a member of the Intercollegiate Political Affairs Commission which coordinates the local Political Action Committees on each of the state college and university campuses. IPAC maintains an office and staff in Olympia during the legislative session to research issues and provide information to both legislators and the campuses.

Mrs. Shaw said that Eastern's PAC is now organizing for the 1972 legislative session. The group, however, will cover local as well as state issues.

This year's first PAC meeting will be Oct. 18, 12:00 noon in room 3d of the PUB. Mrs. Shaw emphasized that PAC needs members.

A Unique Development

Imagine! Skiing off a run of artificial snow, 2600 feet long. Discovering rest or entertainment in an athletic complex that consists of a plush lodge, combination fieldhouse-ice arena, ski area, heated outdoor swimming pool, putting green, tennis and basketball courts and a half-mile track with grassed infield. This is only part of the most unique area in the northwest named Holiday Hills.

Located 15 miles east of Spokane, the multi-million dollar complex will consist basically of two levels.

The first level will be that of the athletic complex. The fieldhouse will be large enough for a regulation hockey rink or three basketball courts when completed.

The half-mile track, located in a giant bowl behind the lodge, is 60 feet wide with banked turns. Although developed for snowmobile racing, it can also accommodate motorcycles and cars. Lights will be installed for night use as well as a large pressbox.

The ski area will consist of three lighted runs, the longest being that of 2600 feet. Snow, if not provided by natural means, will be supplied by two portable snow-makers which create a two-to-three foot base by forcing water and compressed air together through jet-sprinkler nozzles. A temperature of 28 degrees or less is needed for quality snow.

The second level, to be completed in the next two years, will consist of motels, rodeo grounds, a par-3 golf course, softball fields and tennis courts.

HOLIDAY HILLS - An Artist's Conception

Rental equipment will not only include skis and boots, but also zip-on warmup pants, parkas and even gloves. The hill's three runs which cover 12 acres, are either designed for the beginner, intermediate or advanced. Lighting will be provided for night skiing. It will be unique lighting for a ski area in that it will be behind the skier at all times. Thus the skier skis in a pool of light, allowing him always to see his own shadow. Certainly Holiday Hills will be a recreation area that is one of its kind. It will provide everyone an activity, entertainment and excitement to fit their liking.

"Our players are looking forward to this game as the biggest challenge of their college careers," Savage mentor John Massengale said as his charges prepared for powerful Boise State in a football encounter Saturday at 1:30 in Woodward Stadium.

With the Broncos scheduled for Saturday it gave the Savages little time to enjoy the 27-14 win scored over Central before the 4,000 fans. While Eastern was defeating winless Central Boise was crushing 8th-rated, nationally Montana, 47-24.

The Broncos are led by quarterback Eric Guthrie on offense and are noted for one of the most punishing defenses in the Big Sky Conference. Included in their four wins and one loss mark is a 47-14 win over the Idaho Vandals.

The Savages will not lay down and die however, according to

Roden Earns National Honor

Dan Roden of Madera, California has been named NAIA National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics Lineman of the week for the entire United States.

His outstanding play in the 26-9 Eastern victory over Whitworth earned him the nod as well as being chosen NAIA district one lineman of the week.

Roden is a senior defensive tackle and transfer from Reedley junior college in California. He dumped the Whitworth quarterbacks five times for losses of fifty yards and had 11 tackles.

Massengale, and will attempt to control the ball and balance the passing and running attacks as they did against Central. Last season Boise defeated the savages 12-0.

"They will surely be favored," Massengale commented, "but we can beat Boise if given the breaks and our players put it together. We still haven't played our best game. We have the potential to score 30-40 points a game in our conference."

Mel Collins, Eastern's All-American candidate halfback, brought the crowd to their feet midway in the first quarter against Central with a one-handed grab of a Pete Glindeman aerial, he broke two tackles and raced down the sideline for a 63-yard touchdown.

Collins ended the day with 86-yards rushing, four pass receptions for 123-yards, 52-yards in kickoff returns and a touchdown. His efforts earned him Evergreen "back of the week" honors for the second time this season.

Central's Jeff Short connected on a 53-yard pass to Mike Huard to tie the score in the second quarter but Eastern was able to move ahead at half time when Dan Wakeley burst for 3-yards up the middle of the Cat defense for a score.

CENTRAL STOPPED AGAIN - Eastern defenders converge on a Wildcat running back. The play one of many third down stops that the Savages made in their 27-14 win.

Bob Picard scored his fourth touchdown of the season on a 8 yard pass from Glindeman in the third quarter. The Wildcats rallied in the fourth when Short hit Randy Magruder on a 44 yard bomb with 9:28 remaining. With Eastern ahead by only six the teams traded punts, then Glindeman directed a 60 yard drive with Wakeley booming in from the one with seven seconds on the clock.

Glindeman hit on 14 of 28 passes and upped his completion percentage to .540 tops in the EvCo. Massengale praised Glindeman and linebacker Al Bushnell for outstanding efforts in the Savage win.

Other Savage highlights included Picard's seven receptions for 116 yards giving him 20 on the season for 324-yards which leads the EvCo.

Two Tie For CS Command

Gerry Martin and Jeff Jordan both posted 10-1 records in the initial week of Courageous Speculators. Martin's solo guess of Stanford over Washington and Jordan's tab of Oklahoma over Texas produced the tie. Washington State fumbled away their good shot at UCLA. This week's tough slate will make a strong showing on the standings.

Rifle Teams Start Strong

Gonzaga University sponsored the first Inland Empire Rifle Conference Match at EWSC's Cadet Hall to open the 71-72 season on Oct. 2. Eastern Washington's Savage "Red" Team won first place with a respectable 1421x1500. Miss Karen Stiltner, a senior from Sunnyside, led the Savage "Red" Team with an excellent score of 288x300. She placed fourth in the overall individual aggregate, losing third due to a lower score in the off-hand position.

The second place team trophy was won by the EWSC ROTC Team. The EWSC ROTC Team fired a 1414x1500. Kenny Hendrix, a senior from Walla Walla, led the ROTC Team with an outstanding 290x300. However Dick Utter from WSU squeaked by with a 291x300 to win high individual honors. According to MSG Floyd Garwood, Savage Rifle Team Coach, EWSC has the potential to sweep the Inland Empire Rifle Conference for the sixth year in a row.

The next conference match will be fired on 6 November at Moscow, Idaho with WSU playing host.

Flag Football Kicks Off, Cross Town Ramble Set

By Mick Mellor

With the practice football games over, the rough and competitive action of intramural football kicks off this week.

There are two leagues this year—the American League and National League. Each league is composed of three sub-leagues with five or six teams composing them.

The three leagues in the American League play on Tuesday and Thursday and the National League teams play on Monday and Wednesday.

Flag football will run till October 26, with the championship game between the winners of the American and National League being played October 29.

The flag football games will begin at 3:50 and 4:50 p.m. each playing date and all football enthusiasts are invited to come out and watch the action.

Like to have fun women? Meet new people? Looking for something exciting this quarter? Then round up six friends and get on down to the Intramural Office in the Fieldhouse and sign up for Women's Intramural Volleyball.

Action is open to all women students, faculty and wives, but you better hurry; entry deadline is October 15. If you can't get enough women together for a team, give the Intramural Office

The most Meaningful Semester you'll ever spend... could be the one on World Campus Afloat

Sailing Feb. 1972 to Africa and the Orient

Through a transfer format, more than 5,000 students from 450 campuses have participated for a semester in this unique program in international education.

WCA will broaden your horizons, literally and figuratively... and give you a better chance to make it—meaningfully—in this changing world. You'll study at sea with an experienced cosmopolitan faculty, and then during port stops you'll study the world itself. You'll discover that no matter how foreign and far-away, you have a lot in common with people of other lands.

WCA isn't as expensive as you might think; we've done our best to bring it within reach of most college students. Write today for free details.

Don't be left out of the fun this quarter—sign up now!

New open hours at the fieldhouse for Fall Quarter have been set up for all students, faculty, staff and families.

As of September 27, 1971, all areas of the fieldhouse (except the pool and gymnastic room) will be open for recreation between 8:00 a.m. and 9:00 p.m. during the week when there are no conflicts with classes, intramurals, athletics or pre-scheduled activities. One exception will be that the fieldhouse will close at 5:00 p.m. on Friday. On Saturday, the fieldhouse will be open from 10:00 a.m. to noon, (only when the football team is out of town) and on Sunday, open hours are between 2:00 and 5:00 p.m.

Thirsty?

Take notice joggers. The Intramural Office will be holding a jogger's competition race with side benefits for all.

The intramural jogger's race, according to Intramural Director Jared Fors, will be held on a course that goes throughout Cheney. The runners will have to stop at certain check points. Incidentally, the 2 or 3 check points will be at places where delicious alcoholic beverages are served. For all contestants over 21, they will get a healthy glass of beer and joggers under 21 will be served non-alcoholic beverages

After regaining their strength from the beverages, the joggers will follow the course throughout Cheney to the next check point for another picker-upper and eventually to the finish line, either running or being carried over.

For further information call 359-7926 or drop into the Intramural Office in the Fieldhouse.

Central Meet To Draw Strong Savage Harriers

With Eastern's cross country team placing first in the EWSC Invitational Cross Country Meet last Saturday, they now look forward to the Central Washington State Invitational at Ellensburg, this Saturday, Oct. 16.

Eastern's cross country standouts, Bob Maplestone and Joe Ross, tied for first place in the EWSC Invitational. Maplestone, the NAIA mile champion, and Ross, six-mile and three-mile Evergreen Conference standout, ran the 4-mile course in a time of 19:19. The course started and finished in Woodward Stadium during the halftime of the Eastern-Central football game.

Whitworth runners, Tom Hale and Jim Anderson, placed third and fourth with Eastern's Barry Jahn placing fifth.

Eastern won the event by edging Whitworth 33 points to 34, with Central gaining third place with 62 points.
