Our Featured Speaker

"We have created a wave of compassion and caring that is a moving force to everyone we touch. We have shown that a community under attack can empower itself to take care of its own needs. The lead is our rightful place."

Sally Fisher created the first AIDS Mastery Workshop and founded Northern Lights Alternatives to meet the needs of the AIDS crisis. AIDS Mastery is now done in over 25 cities over the world.

Previously Sally developed workshops which helped people through spirituality, creativity, and self-worth to inspire action in their lives. In 1991 Sally founded Taking Care, workshops to support people caring for their loved ones.

Conference Support

(at the time of this printing)

The Living Well Steering Committee received a start-up grant from the AIDS Institute of the New York State Department of Health.

Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual Union,
SUNY Binghamton.

The Living Well Conference is the second state-wide conference for people living with HIV/AIDS and our families, whoever that is to us.

History

The first Living Well conference was held in Syracuse, New York in 1991. That conference had been organized with sweat, passion and love. People from across the state came together to make the changes PLWAs wanted to see in the "second decade of AIDS". The Living Well Commission idea was born at that first conference.

Purpose

The Living Well Commission came about because PLWAs and their families were not being included in the decisions. The purpose of this conference is to develop the means to allow PLWAs and their family members to participate more fully in the decisions that affect their lives. At the conference, delegates will be selected from each area of the state.
