This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the The O'Callahan Society at CrossWorks. It has been accepted for inclusion in Annual Dinner Program by an authorized administrator of CrossWorks.

Chairman's Welcome

James F. Delehaunty '67

O'Callahan Society Chairman James F. Delehaunty '67 with his wife, Katherine Delehaunty, at the May 2013 Commissioning ceremony

Dear Members, Friends & Guests,

Welcome to the thirteenth in a series of speaker events sponsored by the O'Callahan Society. Since 2001, when Bill Dempsey '63 began this event, we have been fortunate to attract eight flag officers as speakers.

Our keynote speaker tonight is the first of seven flag officers commissioned from the Holy Cross NROTC unit in the 1970s. I came to know him when I served as the aviation and freshmen class officer, 1971–1974. As a 1/c midshipman, he became the tenth recipient of the Fr. Joseph T. O'Callahan Memorial Bowl award in 1973.

This evening the Society welcomes to Mount St. James Captain Calvin Slocumb USN, the twenty-sixth Chair of Naval Science and Commanding Officer of the Holy Cross-Yale NROTC Consortium. We will also acknowledge the contributions of Commander Jamie Godwin USN, the Unit's Executive Officer who begins his fourth and final year at the Holy Cross.

I thank Bill McCarthy '76 and Bill Dougherty '73 for pinch hitting for me this morning at the Society's annual meeting. I also thank the midshipmen battalion for hosting the Society at its tail gate before this afternoon's game.

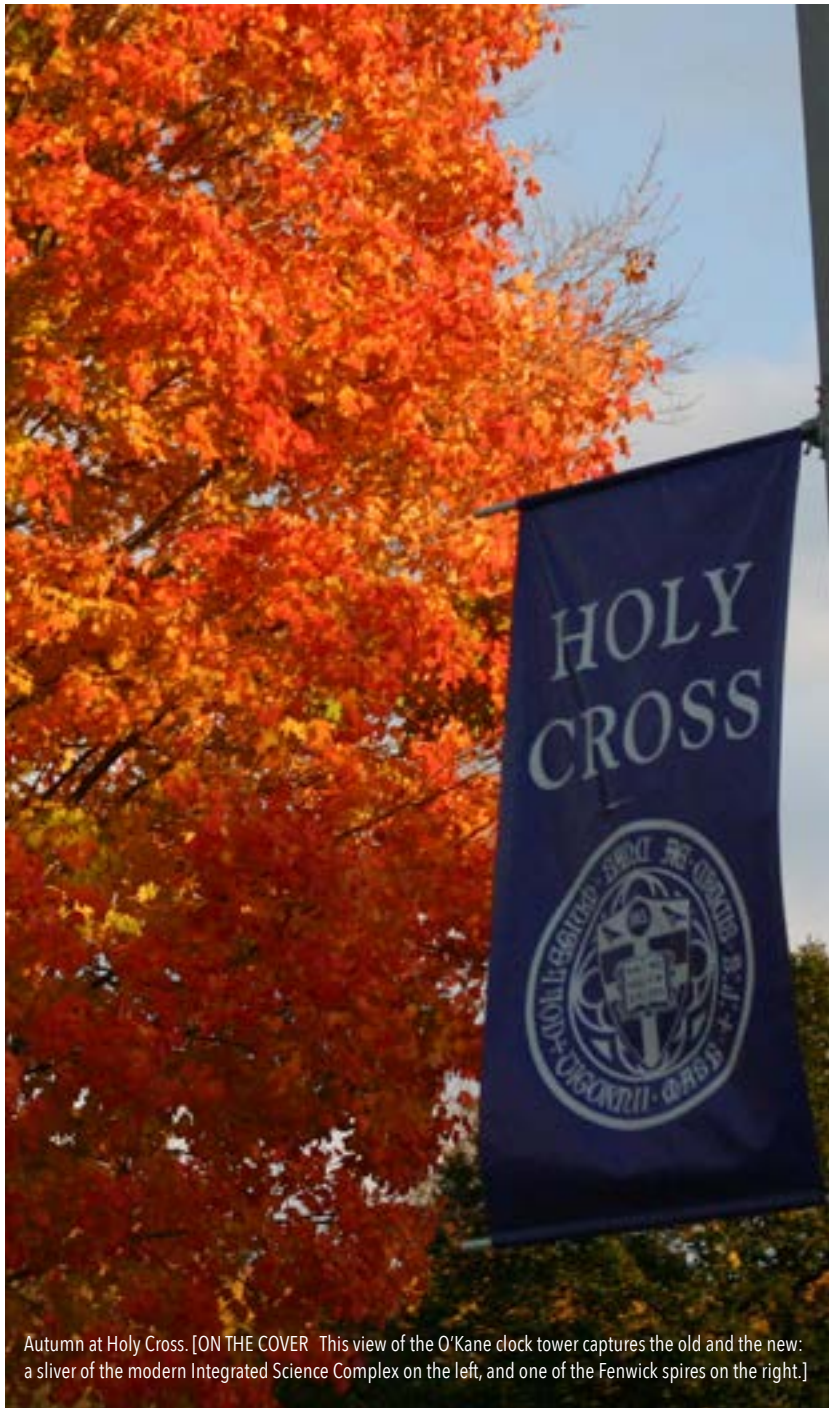

For their efforts to make this evening possible I would like to acknowledge and thank Tom Cadigan '02, Alumni Relations Office; Suzanne Morrissey, editor of Holy Cross Magazine; Cindy Hayes of the Naval Science Department and our emcee this evening, Lester Paquin, Society member ab initio.

Finally I give special acknowledgment and thanks to Katherine, my wife, who has supported the Society in more ways than I can count.

Please enjoy the evening.

Cordially,

Jim Delehaunty '67

Keynote Speaker

Vice Admiral Barry Costello USN (Ret) '73 Commander, Third Fleet

Vice Admiral Barry M. Costello is a native of Vermont. He attended Holy Cross and was commissioned an Ensign through the NROTC Program in 1973.

His sea tours include: Navigator in USS Brownson (DD868); Weapons Officer in USS Whipple (FF1062); Operations Officer of Destroyer Squadron Five; Executive Officer in USS Harry W. Hill (DD 986); Commanding Officer in USS Elliot (DD967); Assistant Chief of Staff for Operations, THIRD Fleet; Commander, Destroyer Squadron 23; Commander, Cruiser Destroyer Group One, Constellation Strike Group Commander, and Commander Task Force 55 during Operation Iraqi Freedom; and Commander, THIRD Fleet.

He attended Albany Law School where he earned a Juris Doctor degree and is currently a member of the New York State Bar. He also attended the College of Naval Command and Staff where he was selected as honor graduate, graduating "With Distinction," and earned a master's of arts degree in Foreign Affairs. Additionally, he has participated in the National Security program at John F. Kennedy School of Government at Harvard University.

VADM Costello's primary shore assignments include: Joint Planner in the Operational and Interoperability Directorate (J7), the Joint Staff; Principal Deputy for Senate Liaison in the Navy's Office of Legislative affairs; Deputy Director for Strategy and Policy (J5), the Joint Staff; and Chief of Legislative Affairs.

VADM Costello's personal decorations include: the Defense Distinguished Service Medal, the Distinguished Service Medal with gold star, the Legion of Merit with two gold stars, the Bronze Star, the Joint Meritorious Service Medal, the Meritorious Service Medal with two gold stars, and the Navy Commendation Medal with gold star. Additionally, his leadership of CTF-55 during Operation Iraqi Freedom was acknowledged by the United Kingdom with the Honorary Award of Commander of the Most Excellent Order of the British Empire (CBE).

Since retiring in June 2007, VADM Costello has founded a company, the Costello Group, which provides strategic advice and counsel. He resides in Seattle, Washington.

The Unit Commander

Capt. Calvin Slocumb reported to Holy Cross in April 2013 after a tour of duty at Diego Garcia, British Indian Ocean Territory. There he commanded Maritime Prepositioning Ships Squadron TWO. It is comprised of twelve forward-deployed ships—the Navy’s largest squadron.

He was born in New York City and raised in Milwaukee. He enlisted in the U.S. Navy in 1983. As a recruit in basic training in San Diego, he was meritoriously awarded the Commanding Officer Recruit Training Command Capt.’s Trophy, a Letter of Commendation, and the Lion’s Club Citizenship Award as the graduating Outstanding Recruit. He was subsequently advanced to Seaman and selected for the Broadened Opportunity for Officer Selection and Training (BOOST) School. He was honorably discharged with a NROTC scholarship to the University of Memphis in Tennessee in 1985. As a Midshipman, he earned his Enlisted Submarine Warfare Qualification aboard the USS James Monroe (SSBN 622). He received a Bachelor of Arts degree in English and was commissioned in 1989.

Capt. Slocumb served ashore after commissioning, upon his selection as Navy representative and instructor in the Texas Pre-Freshman Engineering Program (TEXPREP) and Upward Bound Program at Pan American University in Edinburg, Texas. He attended the Naval Postgraduate School earning a Master of Science degree in Systems Technology (Joint Command, Control, Communications, Computers and Intelligence - C4I - Systems) in 1995. He was selected for the CNO’s OPNAV Fellows program and Operations Study Group (OSG) at the Center for Naval Analysis (CNA) in Washington, D.C in 2000. He then served on the Joint Chiefs of Staff Logistics Directorate (J-4) during the terrorist attack on the Pentagon from November 2000 to September 2002.

He taught as an instructor at the Command Leadership School in May 2004 and later as a lead instructor in April 2010. He also served as the Director of Material Readiness Department and instructor at the Surface Warfare Officers School Command in Newport from April 2005 to September 2006. He later attended the Naval War College where he graduated with a Master of Arts in National Security and Strategic Studies and received the James V. Forrestal Award for excellence in strategy and force planning upon graduation in 2010. Capt. Slocumb is also a doctoral student at Salve Regina University where he is working on a Ph.D. in Humanities.

Afloat, he served aboard USS Trenton (LPD-14) as Communications Officer, Repair Division Officer and Auxiliaries Officer from May 1990 to June 1993 and deployed for Operations DESERT SHIELD and DESERT STORM in the Arabian Gulf and in the Mediterranean and Atlantic Ocean areas. He reported aboard USS Peleliu (LHA-5) as Main Propulsion Assistant and Assistant Chief Engineer from May 1996 to January 1998 deploying for Operation SOUTHERN WATCH and Western Pacific. Additionally, he served aboard USS Vandegrift (FFG-48) as Executive Officer from November 2002 to May 2004, home ported in Yokosuka, Japan during deployments for Operations ENDURING FREEDOM and IRAQI FREEDOM in the Arabian Gulf and Western Pacific.

Capt. Slocumb’s command assignments include Commanding Officer of USS Cyclone (PC-1) from June 1998 to February 2000 supporting Special Operations Command and Naval Special Warfare Command. Under his command, Cyclone deployed to Sub-Saharan West Africa, the Mediterranean and Adriatic Seas in support of Bosnia/Yugoslavia conflict for Operation NOBLE ANVIL, earning her the 1999 Battle”E” Efficiency award and Navy Unit Commendation medals. Capt. Slocumb decommissioned Cyclone in February 2000, transferred her to the U.S. Coast Guard, and led the crew hull-swap to Pre-Commissioning Unit Tornado (PC-14). Capt. Slocumb served as Commanding Officer of Pre-Commissioning Unit Green Bay (LPD-20) in Avondale, Louisiana from February to July 2007 leading Green Bay from her christening and through shipbuilding construction. During this tour, he transferred to take command of USS Rushmore (LSD-47) during her deployment at sea in the Arabian Gulf for Operations ENDURING FREEDOM and IRAQI FREEDOM, successfully completing his tour from August 2007 to January 2009.

Capt. Slocumb is a designated Joint Qualified Officer and holds personal decorations including the Legion of Merit, Defense Meritorious Service Medal, the Meritorious Service Medal (three awards) and the Navy and Marine Corps Commendation medal (three awards).

The gravestone of Rev. Joseph T. O'Callahan, S.J., at the Jesuit Cemetery in the center of the Holy Cross campus.

Remembering

Rev. Joseph T. O'Callahan, S.J., 1905-1964

Rev. Joseph T. O'Callahan, S.J., was the first U.S. Navy chaplain and the first Catholic chaplain to be awarded the Medal of Honor. Following an attack by Japanese aircraft on USS FRANKLIN (CV-13) on March 19, 1945, his efforts and that of others are credited by the Navy for saving the aircraft carrier from sinking off the coast of Japan. His many heroic deeds on aboard are recorded in his autobiographical account of that day's tragedy in I Was Chaplain on the Franklin. In the midst of unspeakable suffering and death, and often at the risk of his own life, Fr. O'Callahan's extraordinary pastoral ministry and courageous leadership shone through the smoke and darkness as a beacon of hope for his shipmates.

Before entering the Navy, Fr. O'Callahan was a professor of mathematics and philosophy at Holy Cross. He returned to the College after the war. He died on March 18, 1964.

Shortly after Fr. O'Callahan died, Rev. Raymond J. Swords S.J., President of the College and Rector of the Jesuit Community, instituted an award in his memory. This award recognizes a graduating midshipman from the College's NROTC unit who best demonstrates the personal qualities that Fr. O'Callahan exemplified throughout his life as a Jesuit priest and teacher, but most especially during his years of service as an officer and chaplain in the Navy.

At the President's Review in 1964, Fr. Swords first presented a large, silver bowl to Midshipman 1/c Philip Metres '64. The original bowl, which is on permanent display in the O'Callahan Ward Room in the NROTC spaces in Carlin Hall, bears the names of all previous recipients. Since 1999 the O'Callahan Society has given to recipients a small replica of the Fr. Joseph T. O'Callahan Memorial Bowl, renewing a tradition that began in 1964.

Fr. O'Callahan is buried in the Jesuit cemetery on campus, and the College's science library is named for him.

The O'Callahan Society Initiatives Fund

Authorized by the late Rev. John Brooks, S.J., '49, the O'Callahan Committee was formed in 1994 to support the ROTC at the College. Among other things, the Committee sought donations to fund the recognition of student achievements and the activities that enhance their experiences as they prepare for commissions in the armed forces.

In 2009 the O'Callahan Society was formed under auspices of the College's Alumni Office. To facilitate donations, the College and the Society established the O'Callahan Society Initiatives Fund at Holy Cross. Donations to the College and designated to the O'Callahan Fund support the NROTC Unit at the College.
