CONTRIBUTORS

Katherine F. Martin has been on the staff of the Southern Historical Collection, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, and the Microfilming Corporation of America. Her article is based on a master's paper prepared for an M.S.L.S. degree at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

Jo Anna Kessler has served since September, 1979, as the project archivist for a grant funded by the National Historic Publications and Records Commission at the Archives of the Jewish Federation of Nashville, Tennessee. She was formerly on the staff of the Special Collections and Vanderbilt University Archives of the Joint University Libraries.

Mark H. Jones holds the position of Archivist II at the New York State Archives. His article is adapted from a presentation to the fall workshop of the Society of Georgia Archivists, November, 1979.

Barton C. Shaw is assistant professor of history at the Georgia Institute of Technology. His article is adapted from a paper delivered at the fall workshop of the Society of Georgia Archivists, November, 1979.

Robert F. Davis, Jr., is the author of The Wilkes County Papers, 1773-1833 (Easley, S.C.: Southern Historical Press, 1978).
