Senior Recital

Huu Mai, piano

Saturday May 7, 2005

7:00 pm

Music Building Recital Hall

57th concert of the 2004/2005 Musical Arts Series season

This recital is presented in partial fulfillment of the requirements for the degree Bachelor of Music in Music Education

I.

Non lo dirò col labbro (N. Haym)
from Tolomeo

George Frederick Handel
(1685-1759)

I cannot speak my love; can't you see all that I feel in my eyes?

Ch'io mai vi possa (Handel)
from Siroe

A women's testament of an undying flame of love that will never die.

II.

Mädchenlied (Heyse)

Johannes Brahms
(1833-1897)

As a woman works at the spinning wheel making a wedding gown, she wonders when, and if, one will be made for her.

Auf dem Kirchhofe (Lilliencron)

That night at the graveyard was stormy. Through the rain and the overgrowth I could scarcely read you name.

Dort in den Weiden (folksong)

A Maiden who lives on the bank of the Rhine, watches the man she loves. He works on a ferry boat that she can see through her window.

III.

Lydia (De Lisle)

Gabriel Fauré
(1845-1924)

A young man wishes to lie forever in the arms of his lover, covered by her golden hair and kisses.

Au bord de l'eau (Prudhomme)

All things in nature ebb and flow, but our love is everlasting.

Chanson d'amour (Silvestre)

Everything about you pleases me and excites passion in my soul.

IV.

L'amour est un oiseau rebelle (Habanera) Georges Bizet
from Carmen (Meilhac et Halévy) (1838-1875)

A woman who must be free to love is like a bird that cannot be caught nor tamed.

V.

A Complaint (Wordsworth)

Robert Owens
(b.1925)

*Once my heart was a fountain that overflowed with love for you.
Now that you are gone, I have nothing left but memories that have changed my heart into an empty well of absence.*

Hands, Eyes, Heart
(Ursula Vaughan Williams)

Ralph Vaughan Williams
(1872-1958)

A promise of devotion made by the hands, eyes, and heart of a woman in love- where no words need be spoken.

When Icicles Hang by the Wall (Shakespeare)

A fanciful look at the winter season and the ordinary townsfolk in their daily lives.

How Can the Tree but Wither? (Lord Vaux)

Like a flower without the sun or a beast without food, I am withering away without life, love, or sustenance.

Linden Lea (Barnes)

A person's joyful expression of the beauty and majesty of their hometown, Linden Lea.
