'Going Places' Opens Three Day Run Starting Dec. 10

Fashioning the musical extravaganza of the year from the talents of 150 guys and girls backed by brilliant coloring in lighting, scenery, and costuming, Gene Ralph brings his "Varsity Vanities of 1950" to the stage of John Carroll auditorium on Dec. 10, 11, and 12 at 8:15 p.m.

This year's music and dance review, written, produced and directed by Gene Ralph, senior in the College of Arts and Sciences, will present a new musical score including 26 novelty, ballad and love songs with original dance routines by the chorus line and ballet dancers.

Honeymoon' is Theme
Enjoying the wide acclaim of the public as exceptional entertainment for the past two years, this year's show entitled "Going Places" is based on the age-old problem of a young married couple trying to decide where to go on their honeymoon. Receiving numerous suggestions from the many well-wishers, the bride's aunt proposes that they go to New York City. Using the magic of make-believe and with the aid of the cast, she takes the couple on an imaginary tour of the "great white way" of that wonderful city.

First of the visits to the famous nite clubs is to the Egyptian Club where Pharaoh B. Rancour as emcee presents the girls' chorus singing and dancing to "Egyptian Dance" with the spotlight on Rita Lanza.

New Songs and Dances
Then on to the gay Paris Club where Bud Madalenna, introducing the acts in Americanized French, puts the can-can chorus line through its paces with Jeff Hewitt singing "How Could Love Exist" and Kay Stevens, impersonator, and the John Burke-Joan Cronin

Commerce Club Wins Prize for Ticket Sale

Honors in the BW-Carroll game ticket sales campaign went to the Commerce Club with a total of over 500 tickets to their credit. They thus garner the $25 prize offered by the Rev. William J. Schmidt, S. J., University treasurer, to the student club that led the pack in sales ability.

Lettermen Banquet
Carroll athletes will turn epics for an evening when the "C" Club sponsors a banquet Tuesday, Dec. 13, at the Richmond Country Club.

Members of the "C" Club consist of varsity letter winners. Officers of the club are: Nes Janiak, president; Lenny Soeder, secretary; and Bill McKeon, vice-president.

Officers to be Chosen

At next Tuesday's bi-monthly meeting of the International Relations Club, the members will elect officers from the three students previously nominated, Joe Lawrence, Tom Roehm, and John Sherlock. The top positions will be filled according to the number of votes each man receives. The meeting will be held in Room 225 at 2 p.m.

JCU Seniors Seek Grants

Through the efforts of the National Federation of Catholic College Students, 11 Carroll seniors have filed applications for scholarships to foreign universities under the Fulbright Act.

All arrangements were made through Larry Badar, senior delegate of NFCCS, in cooperation with the Rev. Henry F. Birkenhauer, S.J., director of the Graduate Division.

While this act has been open to all college seniors for several years, this is the first time that its opportunities have been accepted by students from John Carroll. The students from Carroll will be among the first from Catholic Colleges to participate in the provisions.

The scholarships are awarded to active leaders on the campus and while scholarship is necessary, it is considered second in the judging of the applications.

The plan of the Government in awarding these scholarships is to place young, intelligent, well-informed laymen in Europe to present the American "way of life." The awards are financed by the sale of American held land in foreign countries.

Summer Already?

The Very Rev. F. J. Welfle, S. J., announced this week that arrangements have been made to continue the practice of having a two-term summer session in 1950.

Since no assurance can be made for future years, students should plan their schedules accordingly.

Eighteen Students Receive Nomination To Who's Who

By GEORGE FRYE

James Conway, president of the Carroll Student Union, has announced the names of 18 students who have been nominated for Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges.

Scholarship Given to DP

Contacted by Paul Waikman, Carroll chairman of the Overseas Service Program, and informed of the tragic plight of the displaced persons, the Very Rev. Fredrick E. Welfle, S.J., University President, announced that Carroll will grant a four-year tuition scholarship to a DP.

As a result of Father Welfle's awarding this scholarship to the National Federation of Catholic College Students, a Displaced Person will be brought to Carroll and educated in the field of his choice.

The program of the OSP is to help Catholic college students in war torn countries. "This award is a great help and will serve to instill hope and encouragement in the hearts of those who must remain," Waikman stated.

Letters have come by the hundreds to the NFCCS national office thanking the NFCCS for the help already sent to them.

CANSU Meets for Holy Communion

CANSU, the colleges' and nurses' Sodality union of Cleveland, is sponsoring a Communion Breakfast in the Mather Room of Hotel Allerton Sunday morning, Dec. 4, at 11:30 a.m. Those attending will receive Holy Communion in a body at the 10 o'clock Mass in St. John's Cathedral. Tickets may be obtained in the Sodality office for $1.50.

Judge Seth Hurd of the Common Pleas Court will speak on "The Natural Law and Human Rights." Judge Hurd, who has 15 children, is a member of the Catholic Charities Corporation board of directors and is a Knight of St. Gregory, the highest award a Catholic layman can obtain.

Christmas Play At Convocation

A combination of a fantasy play with Christmas carols will highlight a Convocation on Thursday, Dec. 15 at 1 p.m. Sponsored by the Play Production class, the one-act play, "How the Great Guest Came," will be directed by Mr. Leone Marinello of the speech department.

The presentation revolves around a humble cobbler who dreams that the Savior will visit him on Christmas Eve. The setting will include a background of Christmas carols furnished by the John Carroll Glee Club.

The original production was written by Lionel Adams and is based on Edwin Markham's poem.

Mr. Marinello cordially invites all for tryouts. Castings are to be held on Dec. 2, at 7 p.m. in Room 110.

Acting director will be John Mueller assisted by Don Thomas, make-up man, and John Gallagher, stage manager. Greg Moffitt will handle lighting effects while Robert Murphy leads the stage crew and Mort Ross, the props.

Word comes from the Little Theatre Society that casting for the production, "Everyman," will be held on Dec. 10, at 1 p.m., and also on the evening of Dec. 13. The place for casting will be announced later.

ACS Tours Nela Lighting Institute

The JCU student affiliate of the American Chemical Society sponsored a three-hour tour of the Nela Institute of Lighting last Tuesday, Nov. 29.

Highlights of the tour were a lecture on "Chemistry in Lamp Making," a demonstration-lecture of "Horizons of New Research," and numerous electronic and lighting displays.

The next meeting of the organization will be held on Tuesday, Dec. 6. Time and place of the meeting will be posted in the chemistry wing.

Students' Poems To Be Published

Poetic compositions of Germaine Grisez and Thad Potelicki have been accepted for publication in the Annual Anthology of College Poetry, the National Poetry Association announced recently.

Germaine, a philosophy major and junior class member, wrote "A Year of Love," and Thad Potelicki, sophomore BEG student, entitled his work "Forgiveness."

According to the editors of the anthology the works contained therein represent a collection of the finest collegiate poetry in America.

Selections were made from thousands of manuscripts submitted by college students throughout the country.

Carroll Delegates Attend Convocation

A delegation of students from Carroll will attend the NSA convocation to be held at Wooster College Dec. 10, to discuss pertinent problems of student life.

In attendance at this one-day congress will be the 19 member schools of the Ohio Region and observers from five unaffiliated schools. John Carroll will be represented by Bill Mack, Dick Sweeney, Larry Badar, and Mark Devine.

Topics to be discussed at this meeting will include the purchase card system, regional art tour, the honor system in colleges, leadership training and student government, travel tours, and the question of displaced persons.

Bill Mack has announced that Mr. Ted Perry, past national president of NSA and present national vice-president of Student Life, will present an address at Tomlinson Hall Dec. 5, at 8:30 p.m. Mr. Perry's topic will be Student Government. Students from Carroll are invited to attend either or both meetings.

Communism Answered

Mr. Carl Martersteck, nationally known Cleveland in Catholic literary circles, will deliver the second in a series of five lectures sponsored by the Alpha Sigma Nu. In his talk Friday, Dec. 9, at 11 a.m., Mr. Martersteck will provide a positive Catholic answer to Communism. All classes have been cancelled to permit student-faculty attendance at the convocation.

Wrappers Give Soap to CARE

A campaign at John Carroll to support the nationwide "Soap For Kiddies Overseas" drive sponsored by CARE, the non-profit organization known to millions for its humanitarian aid to Europe's needy, has recently been touched off by the Spanish Club.

The campaign, which carries the endorsement of the officials of the University, is the first of its type to appear on a local campus. CARE launched its initial collections last spring by means of the donation of soap wrappers which cost the donors nothing extra, but may be exchanged for soap.

The CARE soap campaign provides that for every two Swan soap wrappers sent to CARE, Boston, Massachusetts, CARE will guarantee delivery of one bar of Swan soap to the needy children overseas. The Lever Brothers Company of Cambridge, Massachusetts, will continue to donate soap to CARE for this purpose until the campaign ends Dec. 31.

Contributions may be dropped in the CARE box by the cafeteria door, or given to members of the Spanish Club.

Senor Gual Speaks

The Mexican Consul in the Cleveland area, Senor Ramon Gual, will speak to the members of Ruben Dario, the Spanish language club of John Carroll on Dec. 6. All students of Spanish and others who are interested are invited to attend the meeting.

Senor Gual's topic will be the merits of his native land of Mexico, and during his talk he will attempt to present the advantages and opportunities to be found in that land, from the viewpoints of business, culture, and pleasure.

JCU Represented Over TV

PARTICIPATING IN Public Discussion groups from Cleveland Universities over WEWS Television are John Mueller, John Devney and Arthur Grumney, flanked by two panel members from Western Reserve Law School.

John Carroll University will be represented on a WEWS video program on Monday, Dec. 5, from 2 to 2:30 p.m. by John Mueller, Arthur Grumney, and John Devney.

The half-hour broadcast is a public discussion panel styled after the Chicago Round Table which discusses present national and international problems.

Topic of the program, which will be the last in a series of five, is the United States' foreign policy in regard to China.

All of the colleges in Cleveland have been invited to participate in the programs but Carroll has dominated with two thirds of the panel members.

The members of the Debate and Public Discussion Society as well as students from the University at

Central Council Meets in Detroit

Carroll members of the National Federation of Catholic College Students will attend a central council meeting Saturday, Dec. 3, at the University of Detroit, Larry Badar, NFCCS senior delegate and regional vice-president, announced.

John Carroll representatives will lead the meeting with discussion on the Overseas Service Program. Mark Devine, regional chairman of the OSP, will present the national plan of the travel tour to be sponsored by NFCCS and will lead the discussion on ways and means that will enable the NFCCS at John Carroll to finance the DP awarded a tuition scholarship.

stop the offending profs by banging books together often prove ineffective. Let this serve as a reminder that they are taking unfair advantage of the students and their fellow professors.

To Have and Have Not

You may recall the poll the Carroll News took a few weeks ago at a local women's college. On one of the answer sheets, penciled under Remarks, we were amused to find this sage observation: "Why are Carroll men always broke?"

We do not (we cannot) attempt to explain why; we can only affirm that they are broke. As a matter of fact, the finances of the average Carroll student are lower than SMU's chances of beating Notre Dame tomorrow afternoon.

Many of the students here are working at full-time jobs; almost everyone is working part-time in an effort to secure an education and eat lunch consistently.

Now, the problem is this: will campus doings continue to be directed towards those students who are independent in their own right, or will all students be enabled to share in them?

Most of the students would like to support the team, but will they be able to afford to see more than half of the games?

We do not profess to have a solution for this situation. We can only hope that someone will hurry up and find one.

Makes Democracy Work

Democracy and its principles are something every student body hopes for in their school life. But all too often, overbearing faculties and administrations turn institutions of higher learning into virtual oligarchies.

Not so here at Carroll. This month the administration has once more shown its willingness toward more student authority and government by turning over to the Carroll Union the responsibility of selecting students for the "Who's Who in American Colleges" honor.

The Union assumed this duty solemnly and went about the task of nomination, disqualification, and voting in a commendable manner. In any election, the disappointment of some is inevitable, but this year's slate received more acclamation than ever before.

Now that the students' government has proved its ability to accept and perform obligations assigned, it appears logical that some other duties, pertaining to student life and now handled by the administration, should be granted to student government for their performance.

Fr. Weber's Crews Toil Long and Hard

By PETER CARLIN

The office of Building and Grounds handles the widespread operations involved in the upkeep of a large institution like John Carroll. Maintenance itself is but one aspect of the duties performed by this department.

Under the direction of Joe Mueller, who constructed the impressive benches in the lobby, the carpentry department attempts to solve all woodwork problems confronting the school.

Headed by a master of his trade, Justin TeStruth, members of the electrical department string and repair wires and replace worn-out electrical fixtures.

Besides maintaining the appearance of articles already in use, the painters add finishing touches to new equipment received by the University.

With Pete Sheehan in control, the boilerhouse force includes four registered firemen. These men have the important obligation of furnishing the heat for the seven buildings on the campus.

The chief officers of that small but highly necessary group, known as thump patrol, are Tom Pae and Fred Collier. Many a Carroll driver has inadvertently and perhaps unwillingly become words of high praise for his most efficient and courteous secretary, Miss Mary McNamee.

The Rev. John A. Weber, S. J., is the genial man upon whose shoulders fall the many problems, great and small, that are

JEST ABOUT ANYTHING

"POPE'S" ARRIVAL AMUSES CAMPUS By LEE CIRILLO

A SPURIOUS "Pope" solemnly descended upon the campus last Monday in an attempt to fill the few remaining vacancies in his "College of Cardinals."

Mild-appearing with white hair and sparkling blue eyes, the new "Pope" carried with him a briefcase loaded with information concerning his religion, which he said should be ours, but isn't, unfortunately.

As he had been "officially ordained" several years ago he remarked that he would say "Mass" for the students any time they desired.

When he left the building, the "pontiff" admitted sadly that no one had accepted his offer of the "real religion," and surprisingly enough, not one person even hinted of a slight interest in the offer of a Cardinal's post.

Although the secret minutes of the Frankie Lane Fan Club of John Carroll University have not been opened to the public yet, it is rumored that the club members voted unanimously to throw over the singer of "That's My Desire" fame for a younger crooner.

Reason for the expulsion of their one-time idol was the sparkling demonstration of the newest mule skinner, Al Bieshada, a brilliant star on the "Mule Train" orbit.

We just received a letter (besides the one asking for more money) from my twin brother Eustace Fenton Cirillo, who proudly reports that he has gained a measure of national recognition by being nominated to What's This, an honorary society for unclassified individuals.

Attracted by a crescendo of sharps, flats, and hammer blows I tumbled down the auditorium steps Tuesday evening to catch a glimpse of the noise-makers.

Just as I arrived, Hugh Dooley, who is preparing to take over Fred Astaire's golden tap shoes, dropped Kate Pierce, his partner in one of the dance routines of this year's Varsity Vanities, onto the stage floor with a resounding thump.

The show should be one of the best provided for JCU students in past years, but it's a shame the tickets are priced so that they will be going places with much of the college man's date money.

Notre Damer Tish Maher, who possesses one of the loveliest voices this side of Jane Powell, should bring down the girders with her renditions of Gene Ralph's songs.

Accompanied by Ralph at the piano and one of the stage crew with a 14-ounce hammer, a trio of local characters, Wally Byer, Bill Hough, and Bob Lyons, were stomping through another of the show ditties.

His "eminence" returned to the campus again yesterday imbued with new spirit. Within a matter of moments, he stationed himself in the lounge, and began to pass out proclamations of the authenticity of his "right" to the title of "Pope of the Catholic Church."

When questioned by one of his more inquisitive listeners as to the Papal tradition of residence in Rome, he shunted the question aside with the retort, "It's just that I prefer to reside in America. Actually that tradition is merely a meaningless hangover from the old Catholic Church."

As he passed out the literature the "Swiss Guards" of University Heights interrupted the proceedings, suggesting that he leave the campus with them. They calmly accepted his official "excommunication" (from the police force?) and assisted him in gathering his coat and literature.

The last comment of his "excellency" went something like this: "If I had the opportunity to meet in a public discussion with the major theologians, I could confuse them all, proving irrefutably my truths." He certainly confused things around here for a while, anyhow.

Sodality Probation System Proves Loyalty of Candidate

During a meeting at the Summer School of Catholic Action in Chicago, representatives decided that a more extensive, systematic, and thorough indoctrination should be given to those men who desire to join the Sodality of the Annunciation at John Carroll.

As a result of this suggestion a membership board consisting of 10 officers and members of the Senior and the Junior Sodalities are at this time making plans to receive into the Sodality, sometime during the spring semester, all or some of the 75 freshmen and upper classmen now attending meetings as probationary Sodalists.

Working as a unit, the board meets each Monday afternoon to discuss progress of the candidates and to plan future meetings of the group. Having been supplied with pamphlets treating the various rules and duties of a Sodalist, the candidates must prepare themselves to pass the tests and to complete the assignments which are planned by the Rev. Joseph O. Schell, S. J., the moderator, and passed upon by the committee.

Members of the committee hold personal interviews with the candidates to determine attitudes and understandings of these men regarding the Sodality. During the course of this semester interviews will be complemented by contacts between members of the board and the aspirants on a big-brother basis.

Candidates Busy Board members are to be informed if and why a candidate missed a meeting, whether the candidate turned in an assignment, and whether the candidate is able to satisfactorily explain the rules, the history, the purposes, and the nature of the organization.

Under the guidance of Father Schell the candidates are developing the habit of regular daily prayers, the most difficult of these being mental prayer. Though the Sodalist is not bound by pain of sin to exercise this duty, regular offering of these prayers is part of the routine.

Candidates are expected to take part in all of the liturgical services sponsored by the Sodality, and their presence at these services is noted by the members of the board.

Much of the work done for the recent Homecoming Dance was performed by the probationists, and their help will be expected on other Sodality projects such as the Christmas basket drive, the Sodality football pool, and the December mission collection.

Before their formal reception into the sodality, candidates will participate in a day of recollection.

Social Life Thrives To assure the candidates that Sodality life has more than a pious side, a social program has been planned. A get-acquainted party has already been held, and a dinner is being arranged. In the near future these men will be invited to attend meetings of the Sodality-sponsored Sunday Night Club.

And Beyond the Call . . .

School spirit? Let there be no doubt in your mind that Carroll has its share. Two recent examples come to mind that show that quality of "above and beyond the call of duty."

When several students moaned that the football team had played to crowds of less than 5000 in every home game, action was indicated. Those of you who witnessed the final game of the year had company on the Carroll side, and plenty of it considering the weather.

The second example of school spirit concerns those students who have contributed their time and efforts to the theatrical productions at Carroll. A full-length play in November, Varsity Vanities in December, a Christmas skit scheduled soon, two more plays in the spring—an impressive schedule.

Only Five Minutes More

A particular problem common to all university students, in a greater or lesser degree, is the one of a few professors keeping students extra minutes after the period bell has rung.

Some of the profs, no doubt, feel that they are only giving the students their just due. The longer they keep them, the greater opportunity the students have for absorbing the knowledge necessary for a grade.

Occasionally the practice meets with approval in concluding an important lecture. In some cases, however, it seems the profs are talking machines who never finish a lecture without running one, two, or more minutes overtime.

This may very well be the reason for the students' being late for their next class, but the truth of the matter is that the guilty profs are probably the very ones who frown sourly on latecomers to their own classes.

Attempts on the part of the students to

The Editor's Corner

Did you ever stumble over a pile of rocks back by the gym? No, that isn't where you work off quarterly grades, parking tickets, or cuts; they are actually stones for the construction of a chapel planned long ago.

The recently announced plans of the Carroll Development Fund make no provision for a separate chapel. Here's hoping that the original idea is not lost sight of. My vote places a chapel pretty high on the list.

Need exercise? Get in shape and do a good deed at the same time. Join the many Jesuits on the other side of Belvoir in an ax-swinging brigade. There's a forest to be felled before the site of the future Carroll stadium will be ready.

Have you noticed the two pictures that decorate the Lounge wall? They are a product of Father Weber's ingenuity, produced at a fraction of their present value. Let the News in on what travel bureau sends out such posters. The News Room needs a bit of dressing up.

Incidentally, congratulations to Father Weber on the bouquet tossed his way by the insurance underwriters who inspected the campus recently. In the course of their tour of several colleges, Carroll rated tops in the maintenance department. Nice of them to go out of their way to mention it also.

Carroll does not have an atomic bomb shelter! Those ventilation pipes poking out of the front campus lead from the old seismology room, vacated long ago because of seepage. The "No Admittance" sign on the door, though, leads one to suspect they have gold stored there now.

One of the oldest clocks in Cleveland, the Crittendon Clock, decorates the President's Parlor. Why not have this relic repaired so that it will once again keep time? Here is a valuable antique being neglected.

That goldfish craze is back. At least a Carroll student accepted a dare this week and swallowed a jellyfish, winning two bucks in doing so. Was it worth it?

Griffins Vote Carroll
Best Team, Taseff
Unanimous Choice

Carroll received additional honors this past week with the announcement of the Canisius all-opponent football team. Not only did they dominate the selections; they were chosen as the best team to face the Griffins this year. Carl Taseff was picked as the outstanding back and was the only unanimous choice of the voters. The Streaks placed five on the first team, three on the second team, and two in the honorable mention department. Those picked on the first squad were: Sig Holowenko, Al Aurilio, Mario Ale-magno, Rudy Schaffer, and Taseff. Nes Janiak, Bill Eline, and Don Shula received the vote for the second team, and Joe Minor and Bob Kilfoyle received honors from the Youngstown team, where he was the lone representative of J. C. U. on the Penguins all-opponent team.

Announcement was made last week of an offer to play in the Refrigerator Bowl on Dec. 3, in Evansville, Indiana. This, however, seems to have vanished with the first snowfall. First of all, Carroll does not have the facilities for staging workouts while the basketball team is occupying the gym; secondly, this would have meant keeping the players out an additional two weeks without the benefit of a game to break up the monotony; lastly the stated contract conditions were not suitable to the school.

Al Aurilio, the big tackle who has done a whale of a job in that department, finally found out how it feels to be on the receiving end of a tackle. His engagement to Ruth Steeves of Cuyahoga Falls, was announced on Thanksgiving morning. No date has been set for the nuptials as yet.

Currently working out with the varsity basketball squad are Carl Taseff, Rudy Schaffer, Ed Kubancik, Don Shula, and Burrell Shields. They are a month behind the others but hope to catch them before the opening game. If their plays follow that exhibited on the gridiron they should become a valuable asset to Coach Ripley.

Coach Dick Tupta, of the freshmen football aggregation, deserves a word of praise for the fine work he has done with his players. Though he and his squad have been in the background most of the year, they rate an assist to the varsity record because of their work in helping to condition the varsity men. Due to their unglorious work they were limited to playing only two games; they lost to Youngstown and tied B-W. Although this record is not very impressive the value of their work cannot be expressed.

When the whistle blows next week Wednesday, the start of the toughest schedule in Carroll basketball history will be underway. Genial Coach Elmer Ripley will be starting his first venture under the Carroll banner and has really pepped up the team in an effort to make this season a memorable one. To a man who has a heart of gold, and the personality to go with it, here's hoping that he will have victory bestowed upon him. Realizing that the schedule is not a breather, we are with him win or lose.

The profits received from the coming intramural boxing program will be turned over to the Patna missions in India. Mr. Gene Oberst is hoping for a fine turn out for this express purpose. Not only will those who attend help the mission but they will see a fine boxing exhibition. For the slight charge of one fourth of a dollar make this a must on your list of activities. More information concerning this program can be found elsewhere on this page.

Last Sunday at the Slovenian Home on Waterloo Road, Sil Petti further advertised the name of John Carroll by placing second in the 132 pound division of a weightlifting tournament. Sil pressed 155 pounds, snatched 175, and clean and jerked 225 pounds for a total of 555, 10 pounds less than the first place winner. Petti was ahead going into the clean and jerk but was unable to match his opponent. The result was a silver medal for second place.

Weightlifting Team Practising Daily

Weightlifting will have a strong chance of making a debut here at Carroll this year mainly because of the donation of $500 worth of equipment for the sport. Donor of this equipment is Harold "Doc" Manner, alumnus of Carroll and one who is very interested in this type of sport. Currently working out on this apparatus are 12 students who are enthusiastic about the forming of such a team. Athletic Director Gene Oberst will attempt to schedule meets if the Athletic Board turns the green light on. Sil Petti, who, along with Sig Holowenko and Adolf Schultz, has been prominent in this field in the Cleveland area, will handle the reins as coach. Sil has had quite a few years experience and will they are interested. At the present time, practice sessions are being held at noon Monday through Friday.

Cagers Meet Hiram

The Blue Streaks travel to Hayden Auditorium in Hiram, Ohio, Dec. 10, for their fourth meeting with Hiram College. Hiram won 11 out of 19 games last year, but dropped their opener to Carroll, 81-51. Carroll has won all three previous games in the series which dates back to 1919.

Season Ends; Gridders Top Jackets, 28-7

Battling with tenacity, John Carroll's gridders wrote a victorious finish to a successful season by trouncing Baldwin-Wallace, 28-7, before 7,400 onlookers at the lake-front stadium on Saturday afternoon; Nov. 19.

Fullback Carl Taseff, who scored three touchdowns, zig-zagged 99 yards with the second-half kickoff to break a 7-7 deadlock and put the Blue Streaks on the road to victory and recognition as Cleveland's top collegiate eleven.

The Carroll offensive, rolled up 338 yards to 243 for B-W., had 13 first downs to the loser's 11, and had 254 yards rushing compared with the Yellow Jackets' 92.

The goo and the slippery ball did not deter Phillips from his favorite plan of action, however. Tossin' Tommy tried 32 passes, completed 17 and had 5 intercepted. Very few of the completions were for long gains. Carroll utilized the air lanes only 11 times, and had 4 completions for 101 yards.

Taseff also had a hand in the first touchdown of the afternoon. After a sustained drive brought the ball to the Jackets' 5, Carl fumbled into the end zone and End Nes Janiak fell on it for the touchdown. Schaffer booted the first of four successful conversions.

The Jackets roared back with the tying tally in the second chapter when Bob Hecker took a Phillips flat pass and raced 34 yards to paydirt. Phillips converted, and the score remained 7-all until Taseff's brilliant runback.

End Ed Kubancik set up the third score when he intercepted a Phillips' aerial and raced into the endzone. The touchdown was called back, for clipping by Carroll on the 20, and the ball was placed on the 35. Don Shula made three tries at the line picking up 14 yards, and Taseff gained 12 in two attempts. Bob Kilfoyle got to the 3 just as the fourth period started, and Taseff rambled over on the next play.

A 27-yard pass from Schaffer to Joe Minor clicked later in the period and Carroll was on the march again. Minor was downed on the 3, but Taseff went over on the next play.

Carroll Meets Case Dec. 9 at Icehouse

Hopes for the revival of the Big Four Conference are being cultivated by the Carroll cage team as they prepare to take on their University Circle rivals, the Rough Riders of Case Tech on Friday night, Dec. 9. The game will be the first of two which will be played this year between Case and Carroll.

The Streaks will be out to make it two in a row over the technicians, having defeated them last year 68-42. Seeking revenge for the defeat will be a tall, veteran team under the tutelage of Coach Philip "Nip" Heim.

Coach Heim is forming his offense around rangy, 6 ft. 6 in. Ken Michel, a center who started his cage career at West Tech in Cleveland. Adding height to the squad are Doug Brown, 6 ft. 3 in. center, from Ravenna, Ohio, and Jack Fischley, 6 ft. 2 in. forward from Lakewood.

Chet Kermodie, who prepped at Cleveland Heights will start at the other forward, Gene Miller, from West Tech and Gene Skerl, from Cathedral Latin, will be the starting guards. Hal Allick, top scorer last year, will see considerable service.

Coach Heim will see his team in competition only once before the Riders meet the Blue and Gold. Denison College will open the Brown and White's schedule on December 3.

Case, who turned in only two wins last year, looks to a better record with this year's 16-game card. The Engineers meet Western Reserve, Allegheny, Rochester, Marietta, Buffalo, Mt. Union, Akron, and Wooster in an effort to rise in the basketball world.

Members of the squad include: Leo Longville, Akron St. Vincent's; Joe Rosicka, All-Ohio from Springfield; Hank Schmidt, Newport, Ky.; Vince Doherty, New York City; Bill Rogers, Long Island, N. Y.; Fred Adams, Trenton, N. J.; Bob Hamilton and Pat Cullinan, Chicago; George Manis, McKeesport, Pa.

Carroll Fans Await Opener

By LARRY BADER

Out to check the '49 version of the Blue Streak cagers in the season opener, Coach Homer Woodling's fighting Fennmen are geared for a revenge victory over Coach Elmer Ripley's Carroll five at the Arena, Wednesday evening, Dec. 7.

For Coach Ripley the game will provide his initiation into the annals of John Carroll University sports. The former Georgetown mentor and professional player will field his first Streak team before an expected crowd of 4,000.

Pitted against the Carroll contingent will be an improved Fenn squad, laden with returning lettermen and experienced courtiers. Of the 14-man squad, nine boast letters for previous service on the Fenn College team.

Five Lettermen Start
Three former Shaw High School stars are featured in the starting lineup. At center is Sophomore Ray Conkle, the tallest squad member, standing 6 ft. 7 in.; Dan Avis and Don Jones will share the guard slots. Avis, a senior, is an outstanding team player and a returning letterman while Jones is also a monogram man.

Towering above the six-foot mark and starting at forward is Dave Jacklitch, who played scholastic ball at West Tech. Former Ignatian Jack Shaugnessy fills the remaining forward position.

Others expected to see action are Rodger Neal, senior forward, and Art Pohn and Henry Dunkle, two guards who are also last-year men.

Collinwood's contributions to the Woodling hardwooders are two juniors, Blaise Ferrato and Dave Tiber. Tiber's past performance merited him a monogram.

Tall Harry Mack and Walt Craig are promising sophomores. Mack played at Benedictine while Craig was a member of the East Tech Scarabs.

Offense Emphasized
With the premium on height, Fenn employs a smart, fast, scoring technique. Coach Woodling's contention that there is no longer a defensive answer to the high-scoring basketball machines places the accent on a fast-moving, pass-and-shoot game.

Local talent is the keynote of the Fenn cagers, with all 14 men of the Cleveland or near-Cleveland variety.

Fights Benefit Missions

Inauguration of intramural boxing Wed., Dec. 14, will be for the benefit of the Patna Missions, and the Athletic Department of John Carroll intends to promote this show each year for this purpose and for boxing prospects for the varsity, announced Mr. Gene Oberst, athletic director.

Stepping along in stride with the athletic advancement program, the Patna Missions boxing show is hoped to be made an annual affair. Success will depend on support of the students, Athletic Director Oberst said.

The 26 entrants so far have not had much time to get into shape, but the bouts promise to be very lively.

Coach Ollie Downs, varsity boxing instructor, will match the entrants for the three, one-and-a-half-minute rounds and will give the winners a chance to win varsity berths on this year's squad if they are eligible.

Eleven freshmen, nine sophomores and six juniors will be

BEG Men Forget Gals, Hold Stag

By JOHN NASSIF

The Carroll Commerce Club will add another link to its traditional chain of annual stag parties Tuesday evening, Dec. 19, from 8 p.m. to 1 a.m. at the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post, East 93d Street and Miles Avenue.

Party Chairman Thomas W. Mahoney promises refreshments, card games, skits to be presented by members, and music supplied by recordings. Committee members assisting with the arrangements are: Larry Mospan, Bud Deering, John Koval, Don Schlemmer, Joe Murphy, and Gerald Kiska.

Faculty Invited

The stag is open to Commerce Club members and their friends; the faculty of the School of Business, Economics, and Government; and club alumni. Dean Fritz W. Graff is moderator of the organization.

Tickets are $1.25 per person and proceeds from the affair will be used to help defray expenses of the group's annual election-banquet to be held sometime in January, according to publicity chairman Bill Switaj.

Meeting Held

The BEG assistant dean, Mr. Arthur J. Noetzel, was guest speaker at a recent Commerce Club meeting at the Hotel Allerton. Arrangements for the bi-monthly downtown meeting were made by Jim Cox, club vice-president.

Quarterly Out Soon

The Fall-Winter issue of the Carroll Quarterly will be published shortly after the first of the year. Editor William Braucher reports that this year the Quarterly will be pleasing primarily to the student body, in as much as the contents of the publication will be more personal than in the past. Spring and Summer issues are also being planned.

Any student contributions in the form of a short story, poem, and the like will be welcomed, since the aim of the organization is to encourage the literary expression of students.

Dorm Doin's

By DAVE MAURER

With their belts extended a notch or two, the Dormites have trooped back to campus after what has proved a hectic spree for most of them. Some returned with the awe-inspiring tales of domestic solitude garnered in a home-like atmosphere, while still others, rather the majority, could speak of adventures experienced on long, sleepless nights and sleep-filled days.

That contented feeling of a well-fed man was soon broken, however, by the posted revelation of those unenviable many who had made the "lists," the anti-academic varsity of the campus. Those who (probably by misfortune?) were named to one of the three teams—ignorant, more ignorant, and most ignorant—will really have to learn to enjoy campus life 'till the semester's climax. So many of us were greeted by the quarter notes.

At the Dorm Council's most recent gathering the Athletic Committee reported that 10 teams were to make up the Dorm basketball league, the inauguration of which is to take place on Tuesday night, Nov. 29. No team totals more than 10 members, and each player is to "contribute" 50 cents. Use of the total proceeds has as yet been undesignated. The mid-season will see a game between an all-star group, chosen impartially from the Dorm league, and Carroll's freshmen team. The results of the fracas should prove interesting, but this prejudiced reporter is of the opinion that the Dormites will hardly savor defeat.

The Social Committee announced that tentative arrangements are in the offing for a pre-Xmas stag party for us "campus bottle-jockeys." That's something to look forward to.

Zero English Course Is Planned For Frosh Failing Reading Test

The "A's" and "B's" which the present semester Freshmen Class and those following attain will belong to a select group. Not to the group that ponder over their books—their time has come; but to a new group will fall the honors. This group is the Remedial Reading Class which has just been formed at John Carroll.

To these lucky lads will come the blessings of their instructors in the form of those rare marks at the far end of the curve, but without tedious hours of studying.

The 90 students enrolled in the course under the able direction of the Rev. Lionel V. Carron, S.J., and Dr. Nosal will no longer have to stay in nights. On their way home from school they will glance at their books and be able to grasp the facts and ideas expressed in them, so great will be their comprehension.

The class is formed primarily of in-coming freshmen who scored low or below average on the reading test taken as part of the Freshmen Testing Program.

Several reasons account for their deficiencies, for some, vocabulary or phonics. For others, speed and comprehension caused the difficulty. Weak eye muscles or improper focus give still others trouble.

The non-accredited Remedial Reading Course is planned to correct the individual weakness of each student in nine weeks. The class will meet five times a week. When the course is completed tests will be given to measure the improvement of those participating.

All work is done by the student at his own pace and according to his needs. The members of the class help each other by administering tests and running machines. The results of all tests are shown to the students to point out their weaknesses and their improvement.

Union News

By JOHN V. GALLAGHER

Student "Franklin D's and Bob T's," under the admirable leadership of "Colonel" Jim Conway, who, incidentally, will gladly lead car caravans for a price, have, at long last, worked themselves into a smooth-running, well-oiled, governing body. For three consecutive weeks, meetings have started on time, ended on time (a new Union record, I'm sure), and, more important, have resolved, in some way or another, the problems presented to the Union.

Mr. Klein's sweat and tears are bearing much rich fruit. Orchids to Dr. Fabian for attendance at the last Union get-together; "Forget-us-nots" to those faculty members who could have come, but did not. Every Wednesday at 9:00 a.m., you know.

John Gaughan enumerated the activities of the "Keep-Our-Trophies-Clean" committee. The frosh have cleaned and polished the trophies and will have the damaged ones repaired. The committee recommended that information pertaining to the trophies be displayed on the trophy case window. Hooray!

A motion limiting nominations to "Who's Who" to one year only, was passed. No longer will it be possible for a student to be a "Who's Who" for two years.
