CONTENTS

You've seen the movie "seven." You know, therefore, about those seven deadly sins, the wise old detective, the eager young upstart cop. And you know, of course, about the head in the box. . . But that's a whole other story.

The story of this issue is not about a fictional film, but rather about the significant seven survival strategies you need to know about. It's about the seven daily, not deadly, needs and wants of the average (and aren't we all really a little average) Eastern Kentucky University student.

Academics

Things to know; where to get help

ACADEMIC ADVISING

Each student who has declared a major is assigned an academic adviser in the department which offers the major. The adviser must be consulted before the student can register for the next semester and drop or add a class. Students who are undeclared are assigned an adviser by the Office of Undergraduate Studies in Keith 121.

The academic advising office will help you locate your adviser in case you forget who it is or are having a problem getting an appointment. This office also has information about your placement tests and assignment to developmental courses.

DROP-ADD/ WITHDRAWAL

In order to drop or add a class or to withdraw from a class, students must see their advisers to complete a drop/add form. The student must then take the signed form to the registration center in Combs to actually record the drop with the registrar.

Students who must withdraw from the university because of an emergency or illness should report to the Registrar's Office in Coates 15 or call 622-2410 to initiate the process.

TUTORING

These services are offered free to students enrolled in MAT 090, 095 and 103.

Hours: Mon.-Thurs. 9:15 to 4:30 p.m.; Fri. 9:15 to 3 p.m. Evening hours will be posted outside the lab.

The NOVA office is located in the second floor of the Turley House and is open 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

UNIVERSITY WRITING REQUIREMENT

You have to write an essay proving you can think and write at the same time before graduating from the university.

You must schedule the University Writing Exam after you have passed ENG 101 and 102 AND earned 60 hours or your dean will get on your case and eventually prevent you from enrolling for any other classes.

A handbook on preparing for the UWR with examples of passing and failing essays and tips on taking the test is available in the campus bookstore for $1.

Look for our first issue coming August 28.

RICHMOND: under construction

A Hampton Inn is under construction on Barnes Mill at exit 87. The new 100 room hotel is scheduled to be finished by Nov. 1.

Anthony Wade (left) and Price Harrison are hard at work installing the pool in the new Hampton Inn.

A bulldozer was busy moving the rubble after blasting along I-75. Blasting is scheduled most days along the 26 miles of construction.

Don't Get Caught: Call the Traffic Hotline!
Commuters can call the Lexington Traffic Information Network at (606)258-3611 for an up to date schedule of the blasting times on I-75.

Lonnie Lewis of Richmond works on the new bridge being built over I-75 on Barnes Mill Road. A new bridge will be built and the old one will be torn down then rebuilt to make a four lane bridge across the interstate.

Changes will include Hampton Inn, mini-mall, restaurants, motels

By LAETIA CLAYTON

"Change is good," the old saying goes, and students returning this fall will see many changes in and around the Richmond area.

One of the largest and most visible is Richmond Place, a 101-acre commercial development, located near exit 87 off Interstate 75 at the Eastern By-Pass.

Ray DeSloover, the real estate broker handling the property, said construction should begin around the second half of August. He added that traffic will be a problem in that area until the construction is finished, which he estimates to be about one year.

Richmond Place faces Barnes Mill Road, which is being widened from a two-lane to a four-lane road with two turn lanes, DeSloover said. The bridge on Barnes Mill Road over I-75 is also being widened. Traffic problems will exist, but should be alleviated once the widening is completed in about a year, he said.

DeSloover suggested that students use exit 90 instead of exit 87. "Traffic is going to be a problem. It will be a mess when the kids come back," he said of students returning to Eastern this fall.

Richmond Place is expected to be a "hot spot," DeSloover said.

He has already sold four of the 18-commercial lots, but said he expects it to "really take off" soon.

The four confirmed businesses to be built in Richmond Place so far are: Ryan's Steak House, Thornton's Oil Company (with a fast-food restaurant inside), Steak N' Shake, and The Conference Inn.

DeSloover said he is negotiating with two more motels as well as a major department store. The center of Richmond Place will contain a 42,000-square-foot "mini mall," but none of those businesses have been confirmed yet.

In addition to Richmond Place, a Hampton Inn Hotel is under construction in the area near exit 87. Tom Harper of RE/MAX Realty said construction on the Hampton Inn, which began in late January, would be completed approximately Nov. 1. The hotel will have 100 rooms, an indoor pool and meeting rooms.

Other construction in the area is the seemingly endless widening of 26 miles of I-75 between Richmond and Lexington. The widening to three lanes in both directions is expected to be ongoing through at least November. This construction will cause occasional lane closures and possible delays between exits 86 near Richmond to exit 112 near Lexington.

Two new specialty stores have also opened in Richmond over the summer. Botany Bay opened June 14 and Sacred Earth opened on June 2.

Botany Bay, Richmond's first hemp store, is owned by Steve Watts and Ginny Rife, who is a 1993 Eastern graduate. The retail store, located at 218 S. Porter Drive, sells a variety of items made from industrial hemp, ranging from soap to backpacks.

Sacred Earth, whose owners Vonda Whited and Eric Batchelor are Wiccan, is located in Suite One at 201 Water Street. The store not only sells items pertaining to Pagan religions and Witchcraft, such as books, crystals, candles and herbs, but also offers incense, wind chimes, jewelry and other items.

In addition, Sacred Earth employs a certified astrologer, Brian Reeder, who performs psychic services such as tarot card and astrological readings.

Another change will be the relocation of Roger's to Richmond Plaza behind Blockbuster Video.

Academics

Computer account; get one today!

Academic Computer and Telecommunicating Services (ACTS) offers computing services on the second floor of the Combs Building. ACTS provides access to IBM and Macintosh computing equipment—including laser printers, scanners and plotters, at no charge to students.

The Micro Center in 230 Combs offers word processing, spreadsheet, and other software programs. You can surf the World Wide Web at the Micro Center using Netscape Navigator Gold.

The center also provides access to the university's VAX system—the gopher server, Lynx, e-mail and other Internet services.

To set up a free VAX account, go to the ACTS office in Combs 207 and fill out an application form. The center is open weekdays from 8 a.m. to noon and 1 p.m. to 4:30 p.m.

You will be assigned an account name, which begins with "STU" for student and includes all or part of your name. For example: STUGILLA. You will select your own password to access your account.

With your VAX account, you can send and receive e-mail on campus, or via the Internet by using your complete e-mail address (which is your account name, followed by @acs.eku.edu).

If you live off campus and have a computer with a modem, you can access your VAX account at up to a 28.8 baud rate by dialing 622-2340.

If you don't have your own communications software, bring a blank disk to the ACTS computer lab in 230 Combs and trade it in for a copy of Kermit. If you have Windows 95, the ACTS lab has a handout detailing with how to set up Hyperterminal to access your VAX account.

Computing center consultants are available weekdays from 8 a.m. to noon and 1 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. to assist students. They will also be available most evenings when classes are in session.

To learn more about computing services at Eastern, subscribe to The Password, a free quarterly newsletter published by ACTS. Subscription forms are available in Combs 207.

Minicomputer terminals also are located in most residence halls, the library, many classroom buildings and the Powell Student Center.

In addition, several colleges have their own labs for students to use; most provide access to the Internet via Netscape.

GOT FRIED LATELY?

At Planet Sun Tanning, we believe in responsible tanning. To us, that means working with our clients to help them develop their tans responsibly through moderate exposure to ultra-violet light (UV).

The source of that UV exposure, we believe, should be as close as possible to our natural source of UV light - the sun!

That's why at Planet Sun we use only official Wolff System Bellarium Plus Bulbs. While some salons may claim that their "new bulbs" tan faster or better, the fact is they are better only at creating erythema (sunburn)!

So don't get Fried, get tan!!

PREREQUISITE: ADRENALINE

Drive. Intensity. Those aren't words you're likely to see in many course requirements. Then again Army ROTC is unlike any other elective. It's hands-on excitement. ROTC will challenge you mentally and physically through intense leadership training. Training that builds your character, confidence and decision-making skills. Again, words other courses seldom use. But they're the credits you need to succeed in life. ROTC is open to freshmen and sophomores without obligation and requires about five hours per week. Register this term for Army ROTC.

Safety

Awareness, avoidance can help fight crime, accidents

Living on Eastern's campus or in Richmond is no different than living in any city. You have to be aware of the potential dangers if you want your years here to be memorable in a good way.

Here are some basic tips to follow to protect yourself against crime and avoid accidents:

- Be alert, observant, and aware of any out-of-the ordinary occurrence or of any unknown person.

- Avoid dark, vacant areas and dangerous shortcuts. If you are being followed, head quickly for a lighted area or toward a group of people.

- Never walk alone at night. Ask someone to accompany you. Female students can call Public Safety at 622-2821 and ask to have the evening shuttle van take them to their campus destination. (The shuttle van can also be accessed by using the telephone located at the entrance to certain parking facilities.)

- Be alert when you enter an elevator. It may be better to wait for an empty car than to get on with a stranger.

- Draw shades after dark and NEVER dress or undress in front of windows.

- Keep your door locked at all times, whether in your room or not. Never prop your door, or external doors, open. If you are leaving your room, even for a few minutes, lock your door.

- Keep first-floor windows locked when your room is unoccupied.

- Do not let strangers in your room. Identify the visitor before you open the door.

- Report suspicious persons and circumstances to Public Safety immediately. Don't be afraid of being overly cautious. If there is time, obtain good descriptions of such people and, if a vehicle is used, jot down the license-plate number, as well as the make and color of the car.

- If you remain on campus over holiday periods or when most students are away, room with another student. Determine who else is staying on the same floor and arrange a mutual check system. Make sure the residence-hall director is aware that you are on campus.

- Never leave valuables lying about in your room during term or during vacations.

- Record the make, model, and serial number of all expensive items (computers, stereos, televisions, etc.). (The Division of Public Safety offers information on Operation ID.)

- Do not hitchhike or pick up hitchhikers. Even in the company of another student, this is a dangerous practice.

- Use only your last name on mailboxes and door plates. This will make it more difficult for a stranger to try to pass him or herself off as an acquaintance.

- Take a self-defense course, either through a credit course on campus or an outside business. If you wait until you need the skill, it may be too late. A good offense usually is the best defense.

- Know the location of the fire alarms and exits near your room. Be sure you plan for an alternate route of escape, if necessary.

For more information on how to keep yourself and your belongings safe at Eastern, the Division of Public Safety offers a variety of programs to students, faculty, and staff. Programs include:

- alcohol awareness
- date and acquaintance rape intervention
- female assault prevention
- property protection and engraving
- residence hall security
- drug and alcohol abuse prevention
- harassing communications
- student orientation to the division and
- general crime prevention

Housing

Dorm living can be scary if you don't have the answers

Moving into a dorm for the first time can be scary if you don't know where to go for answers to your questions. The following are some of the important answers you will need to make your move into the dorm a good experience.

Q. How can I change rooms or roommates?

A. See your residence hall director for an authorized room change. Unauthorized room changes will result in a fine and each student must return to original room assigned to; each student will lose the privilege of a room change for the semester. Deadlines apply for authorized changes.

Q. What is room inspection?

A. During room inspection, hall staff members check your room for fire, health and safety hazards. They also check for illegal items, such as alcoholic beverages, which are confiscated. Your RA is required to give you 24 hour notice prior to room inspection.

Q. Where can I study?

A. Residence halls have designated areas for studying. Ask your RA or at the front desk where the areas are located. The Little Library also has study areas available.

Q. How do I make phone calls from my room?

A. For on-campus numbers, dial only the last four digits of the number. For local, off-campus calls, dial 9, then the number. For long-distance phone calls, use the AT&T Acus Service Card the university provided by dialing 9 + area code and number you're dialing + your personal security code (located on the card). Call 1-800-445-6063 if you have any problems using your Acus card.

Q. How can I get cable TV channels in my room?

A. All rooms have basic cable hook-up. A deluxe cable package is available with 44 channels. For pay-per-view cable channels, call Frontiervision at 623-6163.

Q. May I stay in my room during vacations and breaks?

A. All halls are closed for vacations and breaks, except for the Brockton apartments. For a fee, other students can stay in guest housing, if they apply with the housing office before the deadline.

Q. May I request a private room?

A. Yes, however, most private rooms are filled by returning residents. Contact the Housing office.

Q. What is consolidation?

A. Consolidation is the process by which students in a double room without a roommate, who do not want to pay for the private room rate, are able to locate in a new room. This can occur throughout the semester and allows for additional space to be used to meet students' requests for private and special-purpose rooms.

Q. What appliances are allowed in dorm rooms?

A. Microwaves, televisions, computers, hot-air corn poppers, crockpots or slow cookers, thermostatically controlled coffee pots, floor and desk fans are allowed. Appliances not allowed include: hot plates, toaster ovens, deep fryers, electric frying pans and any appliance with an open heating element.

All appliances must be registered with the Resident Assistant. Registration information is provided through the hall staff.

Football

Colonels open against WKU

Colonel fans will have only five opportunities to see Eastern in action this season. The team begins its home season on Sept. 13 against Western Kentucky.

The annual Homecoming contest will be on Oct. 25 against Tennessee Tech.

The first three opponents of this year's schedule are the same as last year, but Coach Roy Kidd doesn't plan on history repeating an 0-3.

"Nobody was happy with the 6-5 season last year," Kidd said. "This season, there is more commitment out of everybody."

All students with a valid student ID will be admitted to home games. Tickets for family and friends can be ordered through the ticket office located in Alumni Coliseum 126, or by calling 622-2122.

Reserved seats are $10 and general seating is $8. Special rates apply to senior citizens and children.

Intramurals

Everyone eligible to play

LEE POTTER

For those of you who love to play sports, but aren't good enough to get a scholarship, the Division of Intramural Programs offers everything from flag football to racquetball.

Each team captain is responsible for getting together his or her own team and can pick up a team roster at the Intramural office in Begley 202. Then they must go to Billings and Collections to pay a refundable forfeit fee of $25. If your team doesn't forfeit a game, you will receive the fee back at the end of the season. Finally, the captain must attend the manager's meeting to turn in a roster and receipt and to get a schedule.

All students and staff at Eastern are eligible to participate, but an individual can only compete for one team per league. There are men's, women's and coed leagues, so everyone can play. The only people not eligible are varsity athletes. Ex-varsity players must sit out one year before they are allowed to participate. Anyone violating this rule will cause an automatic forfeit of all the games this player participated in.

A team can change its roster any time during the season by adding a player to the scorecard, as long as the player does not play on another team. But the team must not go over the roster limit of 20 for flag football and soccer, 15 for volleyball and basketball and 25 for softball.

Any team that wins 50 percent of its games or teams with a record of one game below .500, but attends the preseason managers meeting, will automatically be in the playoffs. Playoffs can be scheduled any day of the week based on the Monday-Wednesday, Tuesday-Thursday schedule.

Something new to the Intramural Program this year is the sportsmanship ratings. After each game, the officials and/or the team sport supervisor will assign a sportsmanship grade to each team. They will use a four-point scale, with four being an excellent attitude and a one being a team using blatant disregard for the officials and opponents. If a team receives two ratings of two or below, or one rating of one, the team captain must meet with the Director of Intramurals (Dr. John Jewell) before the team can continue to play. Teams who don't maintain an average rating of at least a two will not be eligible for the playoffs.

For the student looking to make a few extra bucks, the Intramural Program is seeking sports officials. Pay ranges from $7-$8.50 per game. No experience is needed, just some hustle and a willingness to learn.

For more information about the Intramural Program, call 622-1244, or go to Begley Room 202.

Organizations

There's a group for everyone to join

There are dozens of campus organizations looking for new student members. Some are oriented toward major programs—such as accounting, agriculture, engineering, journalism, and social work. Other clubs are geared toward special interests (nontraditional students, for instance), hobbies (amateur radio operators, and others), sports, and religion.

To find out if there's a student organization that fits your needs or interests, drop by the Student Development Office in Powell 128. If you would like to start your own club, call the student organizations coordinator at 622-3855.
