

Hall, Van Lanen, And Callan Chosen Class Heads After Whirlwind Campaign

Whoever decried the lack of politics on the Trinity campus must have been amazed at the display last Wednesday. Music, loudspeakers, posters, and personal contact were all pressed to use in behalf of the various political hopefuls. Someone was heard to liken the walk from Hamlin to the Chemistry Auditorium to a "midway" — a most a propos simile.

Roger Hall, whose name resounded from elm to elm, carried the votes for President of the class of 1950. His loyal brothers from DKE put on a splendid show to insure the election for their favorite son. Rog himself expressed amazement at the varied campaign techniques used.

Ken Higginbotham was elected next year's Vice-President by an overwhelming majority. Francis Mullane, of Sigma Nu, is the new Secretary-Treasurer, and Jim Brainerd, of Delta Psi, the new College Marshal.

Van Lanen, Callan Presidents

For the class of '51, Bill Van Lanen, of Alpha Delta Phi, was elected President; Ned Kulp, of Alpha Chi Rho, Vice-President; and King Howard, of Theta Xi, Secretary-Treasurer. Ned Kulp and King Howard both won by very slight margins over Fred Kirschner and Billy Fritz, respectively.

The 1952 election results find Felix Callan as President by two votes over Tom DePatie; Carl Stever as Vice-President; and A. Finley Shaef as Secretary-Treasurer.

Excited campaigning for the various class offices is something new on Trinity's campus. It is hoped that it will continue as it stimulates interest in student activities and furnishes an outlet for the politically ambitious. With regard to the Senate elections, it is rather difficult for one fraternity brother to campaign against the other, but the neutral candidates were not hindered on this score. Jim Van Loon, who won the On-Campus Neutral senatorship, had a worthy opponent in Ernie Sunega. The same is true of Fran Austin who defeated Justin Maccaroni. The other Senators elected are: Dave Bellis, Alpha Delta Phi; Robert Herbert, Alpha Chi Rho; Roger Hall, Delta Kappa Epsilon; Duncan Phillips, Delta Phi; Jim Brainerd, Delta Psi; Hank Goodyear, Psi Upsilon; Jay Geiger, Sigma Nu; Don Thomas, Tau Alpha; Grant McIntosh, Theta Xi; and Edward Kelley, Commons Club.

Biddle Again Takes Pictures At Dance

John Biddle, Class of '50, notified the Tripod last week that he will take single or group pictures at the coming Senior Prom this Friday night at the Hartford Club. He will be assisted by Dave Bellis and Mac Jacoby who are expected to wield pad and pencil. To convince any skeptics, Biddle and his assistants will be armed with samples of pictures taken at previous Trinity College formal dances. "Buck" announced further that he is performing this service (for a slight fee) to the student body, "in order that any and all at the dance will have something tangible with which to remember the good company, good times, and huge investments that the weekend brought."

Pictures ordered and taken at the Prom will be delivered on the following Wednesday, May 18.

Cameron Led Group On Literary Crusade To Bay State Wilds

At 8:30 on the morning of Friday, May 6, the casual wanderer in the Vernon-Broad vicinity might have caught glimpses of vast preparations, under the strict supervision of Professor Kenneth Cameron of the English department, for a day's expedition into the wilds of Massachusetts. Dr. Cameron commanded an earnest group of twenty-six, including the Tripod's photographer, in a pilgrimage to the graves of the great American authors: Henry David Thoreau, Ralph Waldo Emerson, and Henry Wadsworth Longfellow.

The expeditionary force consisted, in the main, of students in Dr. Cameron's course in American Literature. The first stop was made at Longfellow's house in Cambridge. The intrepid adventures next visited the Houghton Library, which is the rare book division of the Harvard University Library. Here—in Cambridge—the valiant group suffered its first casualties, as James Brainerd and Donald Farrow disappeared from the ranks.

The versatile professor next engineered a buffet lunch on the shore of the Charles River, which at the same time provided the diners an excellent view of the Harvard Crew sculling down the stream. Here the photographer took the picture appearing on this page.

Concord was next on the itinerary, and Emerson's house passed under the critical gaze of the Cameronites. Following this dramatic moment, the trip's climax arrived as the travelers reached the shores of Walden Pond, famed for being the subject of much of Thoreau's writing. Following this a visit was made to the graves of these last two authors. Silent prayers were said, it was reported, by many of the group. Tears were in evidence in the eyes of several.

Harlequin to be on Stands This Friday

The final issue of the second volume of the Trinity Harlequin will appear Friday, May 13, and will be on sale for a week following. This issue, put out by the new board, is packed with top-notch articles, cartoons, and features. The cartoon work of Rory O'Connor, Art Editor, and the articles of writers Robert Boyle and Joseph Littell highlight this issue.

Severely panned in a Tripod critique written by Professor Robert Vogel, the Harlequin hopes to prove itself worthy of college interest and support. "In the earlier stages of a student activity's existence," said Robert Blum, Literary Editor, "the effort itself which is put into the development of the activity is almost excuse enough for the existence of the project. This issue, however, is much more than just a good effort."

The May issue will cost twenty-five cents, the same price which has been charged for the past three issues, and will be sold at various points about the campus.

Senior Ball Friday Night Highlights Class Of 1949's Last Social Weekend

Johnny Messner's Band Entertains; Trin Opens House

The Trinity Senior Ball Weekend will be held May 13 through May 15. Highlights of the weekend are many and varied ranging from the feature—the Prom—to the baseball game scheduled with Tufts College Saturday afternoon.

The Senior Ball Committee of the Class of 1949 is: Martin Rouse, chairman and Senior Class President; David McGaw, Delta Psi; Joseph Littell, Alpha Delta Phi; Francis Burns, Delta Kappa Epsilon; Samuel Waugh, Psi Upsilon; Martin Parlan, Theta Xi; Theodore Camilleri, Sigma Nu; Stanley Rodgers, Delta Phi; Harvey Bingham, On-Campus Neutrals; Joseph DiGrandi, Off-Campus Neutrals; and Sherman Beattie, Commons Club. This group has planned a weekend which should be one of the best since the war.

Dance at Hartford Club

The Ball will be held at Hartford Club, from 9 p. m. until 12:45 a. m., Friday night, May 13. The music will be provided by Johnny Messner and his twelve-piece orchestra. This orchestra has been a favorite for some time of the colleges, and has been featured at several. The Pipes will be present in excellent voice and spirits and they will offer intermission singing.

If the weather Saturday is favorable, that day will see many pleasant activities. Following classes and lunch, there will be the baseball game, which should be heavily attended. During the afternoon, the college dormitories will be open to the guests of all Trinity men, which is a welcome innovation, brought about by the newly formed Interdormitory Council. Following this, a buffet dinner will be held for Neutrals and their dates in Hamlin Dining Hall. This dinner will precede a dance for the Neutrals in the same hall. A dance band is being secured.

For the fraternity men and their dates, there will be the usual round of cocktail parties on Vernon Street, which will gradually metamorphose into dinner parties. These in turn will, as usual become after-dinner parties, then finally they change to the typical fraternity party. The entire proceedings are scheduled to end, so far as the college is concerned, at one o'clock promptly.

Sunday will witness the dreary departure of the dates who will have graced the campus on the hill for the two days previous.

The patrons and patronesses for the Ball are: President and Mrs. G. Keith Funston, Dean and Mrs. Arthur H. Hughes, Dean and Mrs. Joseph G. Clarke, Professor and Mrs. Glassner, Professor and Mrs. Taylor, and Professor and Mrs. Jessee.

WRTC, Organizer In College Society

Tentative plans have been made for the formation of a National Association of Collegiate Broadcasters, patterned after the National Association of Broadcasters, and for two associated organizations, an American Society of Collegiate Disc Jockeys and a production service for college stations, Bacon-Thomas Productions.

The collegiate broadcasters organization will temporarily make its headquarters at Trinity's WRTC, the home station of its originators.

Bob Bacon, WRTC manager, is President of the new organization, Don Thomas, Program Chief at Trinity, Vice-President, and Bob Jenkins, Promotion Head at the local outlet, secretary-treasurer.

"There has long been a need for an organization of this type among college broadcasters. For the first time, collegiate stations will have a chance to band together to protect their own interests not only from the present imminent threat of the F.C.C. to effectively close down most college outlets by applying the strict requirements of regular broadcast stations to them, but also to keep the standards of broadcasting up to its highest levels among all member stations," said Bacon speaking for his fellow officers and originators of the plan.

"The National Society of Collegiate Disc Jockeys, as allied with the Broadcasters' Association, will among other things provide a closely knit group of record spinners which can more effectively deal with and obtain results in securing new releases directly from the top recording companies," added Thomas, emcee of WRTC's 550 Club.

Pi Gamma Mu Hears Spinka Speak About Religion In Russia

Dr. Matthew Spinka, professor of medieval and modern church history at the Hartford Theological Seminary, spoke on "Religion in Russia" in the Trinity College Auditorium Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. His lecture followed the dinner and initiation ceremonies for newly elected members of Pi Gamma Mu, national social science honor society. Faculty and administration initiated were Dean Arthur H. Hughes, Mr. Randall Tucker of the Economics Department, and Mr. John F. Butler, Director of Placement.

Seniors initiated were: Harry Bracken, Daniel Chesney, René Gaudreau, Jr., James Marron, Lloyd Mason, John Phelan, Irving Reiner, Edward Trand, and Robert H. Boyle. Inadvertently Mr. Boyle was omitted from the list of those elected which was published in last week's Tripod. Members of the Junior Class honored by Pi Gamma Mu were Peter Van Metre, John F. Scully, John Hardwicke, and Robert Herbert.

Dr. Spinka received his doctor of philosophy degree from the University of Chicago, and his doctorate in theology at the University of Prague. He is president of the American Society of Church History and is editor of their publication "Church History."

Sherman Elected As Head of Varsity "T"

At a meeting of the Varsity "T" Club held on May 4, Frank Sherman, a prominent neutral and former Treasurer for the campus athletes, succeeded Charlie Osborne as club Prexy. Roger Hall, the captain-elect of the football team, was honored with the post of the vice-presidency, while Jay Geiger, who captained both the soccer and squash aggregations, this year, was elected to the position of Secretary and Jim McDonnell, a three-year man on the varsity football team, obtained the penny-pinching job of Treasurer.

There will be an important meeting of the Senior Class on Thursday, May 12.

Better Than Iceboxes

The National Student Association, of which Trinity is one of 289 member schools, has decided to support President Truman's proposals for Federal Aid to secondary schools and Federally financed scholarships for deserving college students, a "civilian G. I. Bill." The account of the decision reached by NSA is printed on page three of this week's Tripod.

We feel that such legislation, already partially enacted at this session under the joint sponsorship of Senator Taft and Administration leaders, is of crucial importance in the war of ideas currently occupying so much of our thought and efforts. Our opposition to the threat of totalitarianism has too often taken the form of a mild repression of our own, and it is encouraging to see bi-partisan support being given to a measure designed to admit more students rather than to hysterical "witch hunts" designed to reduce school enrollment.

This is the course which must be taken if the American ideals of free discussion and decision are to be preserved. Marxian materialism cannot be intelligently combated by showing a handful of Communist deserters our superior iceboxes, telephones, helicopters, and plumbing, nor by greeting any differing views with the cry of "Red!" By arguing on that basis we are placing our own system on the very premises which we oppose. We are not showing the real positive values of free, unregimented life; we are, in effect, telling people to adopt our brand of materialism instead of Marx's.

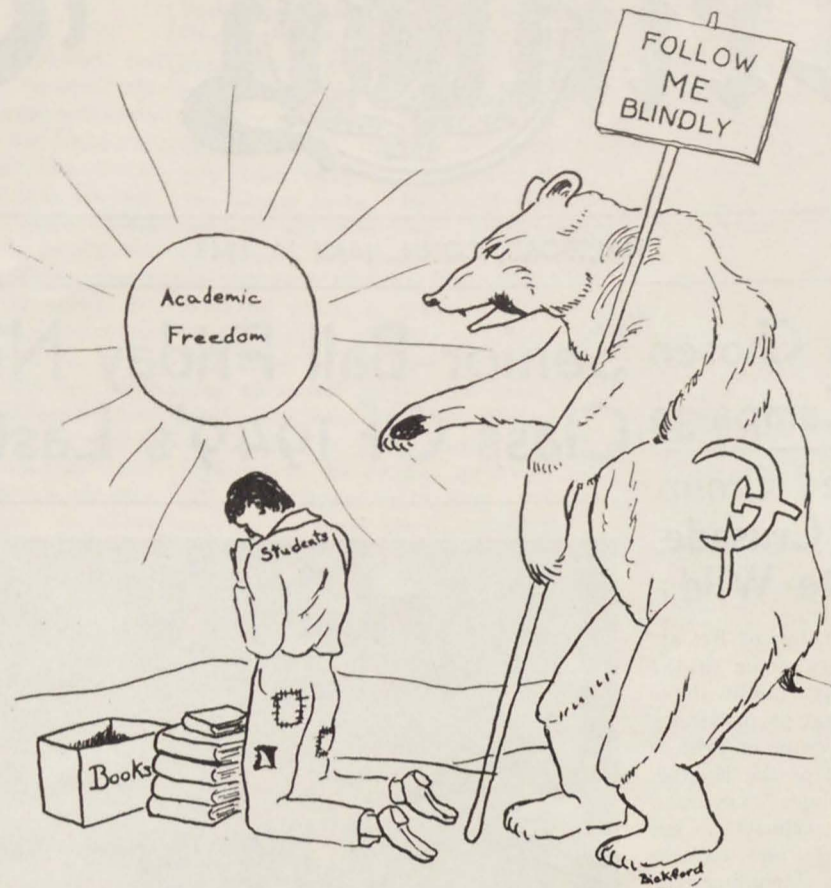

The NSA has shown a better approach, that of widening and expanding individual opportunity rather than curtailing it. The Tripod heartily supports their efforts in this session of Congress.

Book Sense

Two weeks ago the Tripod published Mr. Getzendanner's summary of the meeting of a faculty-student committee to consider possible methods of reducing students' expenses in the purchase of required textbooks at Trinity. The committee's effort was one of several avenues explored by the Administration in an attempt to offset, as far as possible, the $100 rise in tuition by reducing student expenditures in other fields.

Following the committee's suggestions, Dean Hughes has requested the faculty to avoid, wherever possible, annual changes in required texts, and to make available to the Dean the names of books planned for next year. Such a list will be displayed on the bulletin board during registration period. At that time the Administration will make available space for all those interested in selling or buying used books.

The Tripod supports these measures, and particularly commends the cooperation of Mr. Russell of the bookstore, who has agreed to this plan despite the difficulties entailed because of the uncertainty of textbook purchases and the unreturnability of most of his merchandise.

A Word In Edgewise

By Leonel L. Mitchell

My point of departure this week is Trinity's non-existent student activity fee. A student activity fee is a fee put on the student's bill at the beginning of the year which would include a subscription to the Tripod, a copy of the Ivy, a season's ticket to the Jesters, and so forth. The money would be collected by the college and turned over to the Senate for distribution to the various activities.

Assuming the activity fee to be ten dollars, the breakdown would be something like this: three dollars to the Tripod (its regular subscription price), three dollars to the Ivy, one dollar and a half to the Jesters, one dollar to the Review, and one dollar and a half to be held by the Senate. If the student enrollment were 800, the Tripod would then have a budget of $2400, about what it needs for efficient operation, the Ivy would have the same, which is more than it gets from subscriptions now, the Jesters would get $1200, the Review $800, and the Senate would have $1200 left for incidental expenses.

Under the present system the trustees vote a certain amount of money for student activities, depending on what the college budget for the year can sustain. This money is given in dribbles to the Senate, which necessarily keeps the activities, especially the publications and the Jesters, on tenterhooks as to whether they will meet expenses or not. The organizations do not definitely know, even at the beginning of the year, how much they will be allowed.

This is not the fault of the Senate. They are making the best of a bad situation. Until the administration realizes, or is made to realize, that a student activity fee, which assures each activity in advance of a certain sum, is essential, extracurricular activities on the Trinity campus will never be efficiently run, nor be able to turn in a first-rate performance. Every effort to have a student activity fee adopted has been met with the cold rejoinder that it is not consistent with the administrative policy of the College. Brethren, these things ought not so to be.

The Merry-Go-Round

By Donald Wildrick

There is a gross need in this present age for all of us to be more graphic and specific. An example of this general lack of accuracy and detail is a familiar literary classic known to us all.

"Old Mother Hubbard." For illustration, let us take this group of words. How old was Mother Hubbard? Was she middle-aged or ancient? The statement is made that she is a mother. Why aren't her children mentioned? One would gather that she didn't want them mentioned. Undoubtedly they are illegitimate. Where was Mr. Hubbard all this time — out with the boys? Perhaps she was divorced, or a widow; how do we know?

"Went to the cupboard." This is most inadequate. Where did she have to go to get to the cupboard? It could be in the next county for all we know. How many foot pounds of work did she do getting there? How did she get there—crawl, or perhaps roller-skate? What kind of a cupboard was it? Perhaps it was a priceless antique and she could have sold it and made a small fortune with which she could buy herself a bone and her dog a steak. Mother Hubbard was highly impractical and did not take advantage of her opportunities.

Froshtration

(Recently, Marty Rouse, President of the Senior Class, sent a letter to the seniors setting forth a plan to raise money for a gift to the college from the class of '49. The Senior Class would, according to the letter, take out a $5,000, 25-year endowment policy on one of the members of the class. The money would be paid to the Trustees of Trinity College when the policy matures, or in the event of the death of the insured. After reading this letter, we were inspired to write the following play.)

THEY BURIED HIM NEXT TO THE BISHOP

Scene I

(Scene in a dingy hotel room in Redfield, South Dakota. Felix Glockenspiel, Trinity '49, is sitting on an unmade bed chain-smoking Fatima cigarettes. A tear-stained copy of The 1949 Ivy is lying on the floor. On the table is a beer stein which mysteriously disappeared from the Heublein Bar in May, 1949. Other accoutrements of an old Trinity man are scattered about. The scene is depressing mostly because the producer couldn't afford good scenery.)

FELIX: (Mumbling to himself.) I fooled 'em. that's what I did. They thought that just because I had tuberculosis and congenital syphilis, I'd die right after graduation and then they'd get their $5,000! Well, I didn't die! I've lived fourteen years! They nearly got me in Memphis, but they'll never find me in this burg. Ha, ha, ha! (Hysterical laughter.) They won't get their money 'till 1974. And Lew Wallace will have a new Buick and Prexy won't. Ha, ha, ha! I'll live! They'll never find me! (He staggers over to refill his glass from a half-empty bottle of PM. The door opens noiselessly, Ron Urquart and Frank Brainerd step into the room. Both have their hats pulled down over their faces and Ron has a Scotch bagpipe draped casually over his left arm concealing a .45 automatic.)

BRAINERD: Okay, Glockenspiel, let's go for a little ride.

FELIX: (Whirling around.) Who, who is it? No, it can't be! What do you want with me? (Ron Urquart nonchalantly lets the bagpipe fall to the floor revealing the Colt .45 automatic.)

FELIX: So you've come at last. I guess I should have known that you'd find me. Marty sent you, huh?
URQUART: Right.

FELIX: Well, I'll get my hat and coat. (Glockenspiel goes into his bedroom and carefully slides open the window which leads to the fire escape. He is climbing through the window when Urquart slides through the door.)

URQUART: "Pro ecclesia, pro patria!" (He fires.)

BRAINERD: Get him?

URQUART: Right. (They pause to glance at Glockenspiel's body and then leave the room.)

Scene II

(Scene, a small court room in Hartford. Standing before the judge's bench are Glockenspiel's wife and fourteen children. Next to them are a representative from the Aetna Life Insurance Company and J. W. Getzendanner.)

JUDGE (Trinity '34): ... Therefore, the court finds a verdict of accidental death.

MRS. G.: Oh, my poor husband! Why did he run away? And the children—what's to happen to them? We do not have a penny!

MAN FROM AETNA: There is the matter of an insurance policy in the amount of $5,000...

GETZENDANNER: ... the beneficiaries of which are the Trustees of Trinity College. I am sorry, Mrs. Glockenspiel, but it is my sad duty to collect the money for the college. I am sure that your husband would have liked it that way.

MRS. G.: But what about my poor children?

MAN FROM AETNA: God will provide!

GETZENDANNER: And the little tikes may visit their poor father's grave, which shall be next to the bishop's statue, as often as they like.

(Exit Getzendanner and man from Aetna. Mrs. Glockenspiel sits in corner and weeps. Children play hopscotch on court floor.)

Dr. Edward Brennan Speaks to Newmans

"Psychiatry and Its Implications" was the subject of a talk given by Dr. Edward Brennan at the May 3 meeting of the Newman Club. Dr. Brennan devoted the first part of his lecture to a classification of mental illnesses which have become, in many cases inaccurately, part of popular parlance. He distinguished between psychoses, which are complete changes in the personality, and psychoneuroses, which are changes that do not apparently alter the personality as it previously existed. He touched on the advances made in treating mental illnesses, such as the electric shock and insulin treatments, and the lobotomy.

Dr. Brennan pointed out to the club the limitations of the psychoanalytic method. He stressed the need for sustained activity in the field of experimentation. While admitting a place for good psychoanalysis, Dr. Brennan decried its practice to the exclusion of all others in treating mental ills. Although science has made some great concrete advances in the field of therapy, its discoveries are pushed into the background by the overpublicized analysis.

Interesting Question Period

Dr. Brennan, whose son Edward is a member of the class of 1951, was besieged with questions after his talk. Most of them were centered on the treatments which had been discovered by science for psychiatric therapy. Again Dr. Brennan stressed the illuminating possibilities of psychosomatic medicine.

There will be no further meetings of the Newman Club until September. A Communion Breakfast, held on Sunday, May 8, at the Hotel Bond, was a fitting climax to an intellectually stimulating series of meetings arranged by the club's chaplain, the Rev. Robert Callahan of St. Thomas Seminary.

"To get her poor dog a bone." Here it states the dog was poor. If so, why was he (or she for that matter—the text is not specific) not in the poor house where he could be properly cared for? What kind of a bone did Mother Hubbard plan to get her animal? Was it veal, beef, lamb, or pig? Perhaps it was a chicken bone, in which case it might choke and kill the dog. Mother Hubbard was cruel. "When she got there." Well, when did she get there? Was it 1066 A.D. or 1922? Perhaps it was B.C., in which case Mother Hubbard was a cave-woman. These little details are important! Here comes a sixty-four dollar question: Where is "there"? It could be almost anywhere in the universe, on Mars, for example. You see we don't know, because we weren't told where the cupboard was in the first place.

"The cupboard was bare." Still there is no further information on this cupboard, and this is the second time it has been mentioned! Sloppy writing. How was the cupboard bare? Was it devoid of content, or just bare wood, unpainted? The whole context of the story could be changed by a detail such as this. If the statement were made indicating that the cupboard was unpainted, perhaps the cupboard was chock full of delicacies, maybe even caviar. Mother Hubbard was a glutton.

"And so the poor dog had none." The dog is still poor. Nothing has been done since the condition was first brought to the attention of the reading public in line three.

Trinity, Pembroke To Sing Mozart Requiem

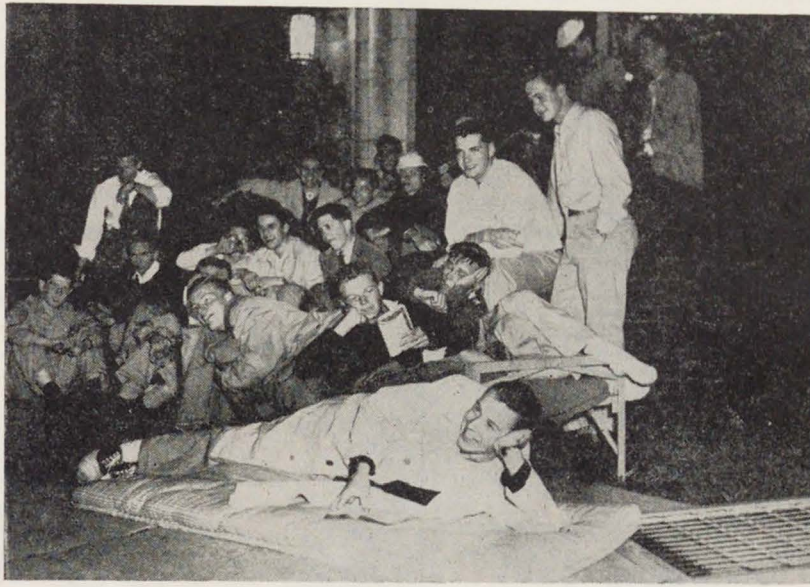

This Thursday night, May 12, the Trinity College Glee Club in conjunction with the Glee Club of Pembroke College will present a concert unique in the history of the club. For the first time since the founding of the club a major work will be presented. The Mozart Requiem Mass will be sung at the college chapel at 8:15.

Conducting the mixed group of 75 women and 45 men will be Mr. Edward B. Greene, while Professor Clarence Watters will be the organ accompanist. Listed as soloists are: Polly Arens, soprano, Marjorie Watters, alto, Roger Loucks, tenor and Andrew Beattie, baritone.

This concert will be the first in a new yearly series of major works presented in conjunction with a women's college. The group plans to do the Brahms Requiem as its next year's presentation.

Weekend Program to Feature Prom, Chapel

From all outlooks, the last burst of the 1948-49 social season should prove to be a fitting climax for all concerned. After dancing to the music of Johnny Messner and having a gay old time at the Hartford Club, the Trinitarians along with their friends of the fairer sex will have a full program on the docket for Saturday. Both the lacrosse team and the baseball club will be in action in the afternoon and should provide enough thrills and chills as to be overflowing in interest. Then, of course, in the evening the feminine world will again invade both the fraternity houses and Lord Hamlin's Hall for another onslaught of leg kicking and impromptu gaiety. Sunday, as is the Lord's wish, will be set aside as a day of rest and recuperation before the lasses are forced to return to their roosts. And for any interested chapelites, services will be held to suit both the early and late risers.

Members of the Freshman Class are shown waiting on Monday, May 2, at 10 p.m., for the doors to open so that they may sign up for rooms for their sophomore year.

Brown-Whitlock Speech Contest Is Scheduled

The annual Brown-Whitlock Public Speaking Contest will be held this year on Thursday, May 12, and on Tuesday, May 17, in Seabury Hall 16. The preliminaries, on the 12th, will begin promptly at 7:30 p.m.; the finals on the 17th will start at 8 p.m.

The Brown Contest is open to Seniors alone, and offers a prize of $100 for first place and a second prize of $50. These awards are a substantial increase over those of last year. The speeches for this and for the Whitlock Contest must be not less than six minutes each, nor more than nine minutes in length. They must be delivered furthermore, without the aid of script or notes. Those entered already in this year's contest in the Brown division are Robert Boyle, Cornelio de Kanter, Richard Beisel, Allen Bray, and Chester Later. Others are expected to enter, according to Professor Vogel. Vogel, who is Public Speaking and Drama professor at Trinity, is in charge of the tourney arrangements.

In the Whitlock Contest, which is for undergraduates other than Seniors, the prizes will be $40 and $20 for first and second, respectively. Entered thus far in this division of the contest are the following: David Seiniger, Peter Van Metre, Joseph Van Why, and Hobart Johnson.

Last year's winners in the Brown Contest were Robert Gariepy, first, and Richard Elam, second. Whitlock awards were given to Cornelio De Kanter, first, and David Lambert, second. The speeches are judged with regard to delivery, preparation, organization, and content.

NSA Promotes Legislation In Congress Asking Federally Financed Education

Madison, Wis.—The U.S. National Student Association (NSA) has called upon Congress to enact legislation to provide a national program of federally financed scholarships for approximately 300,000 college students. The "Civilian G.I. Bill" would provide for direct support to the individual on the basis of need and ability, and would be administered by the states without discrimination as to race, creed, economic or social status.

The purpose of the NSA program was outlined by its National Executive Committee as a means of "removing further the economic barriers to education and enabling our most competent and gifted youth to obtain for themselves and for society the maximum benefits to be gained from higher education."

The more than 700,000 students represented in NSA through 289 colleges and universities were called upon to exert full support for such legislation in a report by the Association's National Commission on Educational Problems. The urgent need was stressed by the commission when it indicated that another 10 percent increase in general tuition was to be expected for the coming year in addition to the average of 28 per cent since 1939. The report added that:

1. Veteran enrollments, which have decreased some 17 per cent in the past year, were expected to end by 1956. Federal appropriations under the present G.I. Bill should be diverted, coincident with this decrease, to non-veteran students of ability and need.

2. Despite current enrollment of more than 2,400,000, 75 percent of the nation's 17-18 year old group were not enrolled in colleges. Some 50 per cent of this group are in families whose income is below $3,000 per annum. Average tuition and living costs at college ranging between $750 and $1,000 yearly indicate the pressing need for financial aids.

Three-Level Program

NSA has launched its program on three levels. In the first two, its member colleges and regional organizations have been called upon to solicit public and congressional support for national scholarship legislation.

On the national level, the following steps have been taken:

1. The staff of NSA has appealed to House and Senate Committees to recommend national scholarship legislation.

2. The NSA Subcommittee on Legislation in Washington is preparing to circularize all individual members of Congress to enlist their support.

3. The staff of NSA is studying pending legislation before Congress and will prepare recommendations for the National Executive Committee on the endorsement of specific measures.

Stating that "We have come a long way from the days when college was an experience reserved for the specially gifted or the financially able," Eugene G. Schwartz, NSA Vice-President for Educational Problems, presented the Association's view in communications to Senator Elbert D. Thomas (D. Utah) and Representative John Lesinski (D. Mich.), Chairmen of the Senate and House Committees dealing with educational legislation. NSA has offered to appear before these committees in future hearings.

Springfield and Coast Guard Notch 3-2 and 2-1 Wins at Trinity's Expense

Weak Hitting, Costly Errors Prove Fatal

A week ago Monday, right-hander Bob Heppenstall turned in what was perhaps the best Hilltopper mound effort of the season against Springfield on Trinity Field. Bob gave up only five hits to the visiting Gymnasts, but Springfield twirler Fran Neverdaski allowed Trin just four, 2-1.

The count was tied going into the top half of the ninth inning, at 1-all. At this juncture, it was two costly errors that cost Trin the ball game. Neverdaski reached second on Barrow's overthrow. When Neverdaski tried to take third on D'Agostina's roller to Ludorf, he was an easy out at the hot corner.

Maetoza Blow Vital

On an attempted steal, D'Agostina crashed into Ed Ludorf, forcing the latter to drop the ball. Mat Maetoza followed with a sharp single, scoring D'Agostina with the winning run.

The Jesseemen counted their only marker of the game in the first frame. Barrows reached first on D'Agostina's error. Rouse sacrificed Bob to second, whereupon Kunkiewicz fired a single to left to admit Barrows.

The visitors came back to make it a new game in the sixth. A walk, a single, a sacrifice, and fly ball by Fred Waelfe produced this tally.

Coast Guard Game

Jim Stabile, sturdy Coast Guard moundsman, tossed a five-hitter last Wednesday to jolt the Hilltoppers 3-2. Fred Prosiatkowski pitched a creditable game for the Hilltoppers, striking out ten opposing batsmen with the aid of a tantalizing sinker ball, nevertheless received poor support from his mates at bat and in the field.

Heppenstall Hurls Win Over Williams Mahon Stars At Bat

Hep Scatters Eight Hits in First Win

Dan Jessee's varsity baseball men came through with their second success in ten starts, last Saturday at Williams, as Bob Heppenstall and Jack Mahon paced the Hilltoppers to an 11-2 win over the Purple.

Heppenstall was in rare form, and although allowing eight hits, limited the opposition to single tallies in the fourth and sixth frames, and fanned 12 of the home batsmen.

Trin got the ball rolling in the first inning as a Kunkiewicz single, Denny Redden's double and a pair of walks accounted for the first two Hilltopper runs. Thereafter it was a Trinity parade to the plate as Mahon drove home three tallies, and Kunkiewicz, Scully, Redden, and Heppenstall each accounted for two each.

Captain Mahon and Tony Kunkiewicz each accounted for three hits in the 12-hit barrage off Hank Sutton, Fred Lane and Bob Ray, Ephmen hurlers. Mahon's triple scored two in the sixth, after Marty Rouse had singled.

Holmgren Doubles

In the fatal eighth inning, after two were out, a walk, single, Hoagy Holmgren's double over third base produced the winning tallies.

Previously, Trin had taken a 2-1 lead in the seventh by virtue of Leahy's single and stolen base, and Prosiatkowski's own safety to center. Fred accounted for two of Trin's five safeties.

The sailors got off to a good start in the first inning, on Kenny's triple and Ludorf's error. Jessee's charges rallied in the third to tie the score on a walk, sacrifice, infield out, and an infield hit by Marty Rouse.

Golfers Divide With Teachers and Cards

Trinity golf team began its season with a bang last May 2 by beating New Britain Teachers 15-12. Blaizek, a New Britain man, posted a 75, the low score of the day, in besting Bob Cohan. Charlie Dabrowski carded an 80 for Trinity's best score when he beat Paul Marianella in the No. 2 match. Albie Earling, Moon Curtin, and Max von Schrader each won his match, while Hal Sutton dropped a close one.

On May 4 the team encountered a powerful Wesleyan squad and dropped the match 9-0. Harry Forbes came through for the victors with a near-record 68 to beat Trinity's No. 1 man Bob Cohan.

Frosh Win Three To Remain Undefeated

The Freshman baseball squad survived the week without defeat as it took three wins to run its season record to five wins and no losses.

Excellent pitching continued to be the explanation for the string of victories. The Yale Jayvees were beaten 4-3 a week ago Monday, May 2, as pitchers Fred Vogel and Russ Everett allowed six hits. Russ Everett turned back the Massachusetts Freshmen with just one hit, a single in the fourth inning, to win a shut out 6-0 on Thursday, May 5. The batters collected 9 hits and took advantage of four errors in scoring four runs in the fifth inning and two in the eighth to sew up the game.

Last Saturday, May 7, New Killeen and Will Morse put their combined efforts against Trinity-Pawling School and led their team to an 11-1 two hit victory. Larry Hutnick hit a home run as the Frosh scored in all but two innings.

Trackmen Lose To Coast Guard, 67-52 Hilltoppers Take Nine First Places

Although Stuart Parks' varsity trackmen lost out in a close meet to Coast Guard on Saturday, 67½-58½, the squad took nine of 15 firsts, and saw Saward (Whitey) Epps break his own Trinity pole-vault mark.

Epps cleared the bar at 12 feet 5 inches, bettering his former mark of 12 feet 2¾ inches. But as the mark was broken, Whitey fell heavily on his left arm, and X-rays have revealed no break, but a possibility of several torn muscles.

Newt Leo was the only performer of the day to score a triple, winning the 100, 220, and 440 handily. John Noonan won the shot and discus events.

Down Fraternity Row

DELTA PSI has not had a column in this sheet for a couple of weeks due to the unexplained absence of its fine reporter's mentality for an indefinite period. However, to do justice to the old manse, let it be stated that it has been variously dubbed the woodpile and Denmark since vacation time in honor of several of its inmates; the two appellations have arisen from the confusion existing between two well known proverbs that generally signify that something is amiss. In other words, we have many brown beauties from the southern tanning grounds. But this is history. Contemporary events include the erstwhile endeavors of one D. McGaw on behalf of the Senior Prom Committee which proposes to put up a rollicking good show come Friday. At least the man McGaw vouchsafes that such an outcome is certain. Practically all other events are related in some way to the educational satellite known as Yale University. Jolly was seen last week sporting his new and unimpaired boater in contemplation of that sanctuary's festivities of the recent weekend, while several more planned to investigate the mysteries of the nationally famous Haunt Club. Said club, by the way, is well named.

(R. O'C.)

ALPHA DELTA PHI, like the ubiquitous Paul Revere, jumped on its horse and rode off in all directions at once: to Holyoke, New Haven, Baltimore, Boston and other well-known points of the topography. If we don't mention Brother Maue's being in New York it's only because it is no longer an event, but a habit. We are pleased to announce that Ned Bleeker, Bob Buffum and Edward Ward were made brothers last week and also that the house has two new occupants: a sloe-eyed dachshund inappropriately named Blitz and a large unnamed tom cat who spends his time brooding behind the furnace. Dave Hadlow's exotic symptoms, diagnosed by some as malaria, turned out to be nothing more startling than German measles, to the discomfiture of his would-be physicians. We have uncovered some rare biological specimens while painting and removing some of the rococo woodwork of our living room. The walls are the color of an asphyxiated policeman but subtle as Hecate's grandmother.

(J. D. M.)

ALPHA CHI RHO spent the past weekend in rigorous training for the approaching Senior Ball. As guests of the Phi Gamma Chapter at Wesleyan, the Crows really enjoyed their "warm up" for Friday and Saturday. Two unidentified Crows have a very strange tale to tell of their experiences on the return trip by way of a Connecticut Co. bus. Brent Harries promises the biggest and best house party ever, and Marty Rouse makes the same claim for the Senior Ball. Brent will conduct another of Alpha Chi's famous raffles on Saturday night with more prizes. A substitution has been made in the bartending line up which favors the affirmed abstainers in the house. The man with the pretzels and the pipes, Ned Kulp put on a terrific campaign for himself to clinch the job of vice of 51. The House was glad to have Brother Jim Scannell drop in last week, and we are all happy to see him looking so well again. Room 10 (third floor front) has recently appeared with the new look, Don Wildrick and Ed Matthews having spent most of last week repainting and redecorating.

DELTA KAPPA EPSILON, primed by visitations to Eli and the surrounding hinterlands, is anxiously awaiting the blessed eventful Senior trotful. According to socialite chairman Bill Quortrup, this will be "the Best Ever." But let us catch up on the week's news. Highlighting a very exciting seven days was the celebration on Thursday, May 5, of the Seventieth Anniversary of the founding of the Alpha Chi Chapter. The brothers, although baffled by those monthly exams, spent a very E.W. afternoon entertaining the members of the inulty and an E.W. evening listening to a play-by-play recreation of the Walwork affair by the innumerable medicine men present. Thus, to the question of the week: Who stole the light from the enlightenment of Burnsey's pants?...And with the hope that the "pin boys, old and new," will enlighten us by the presence of their "sacred badges," we will roll out the rampant lion and wish al et al a happy happy prom weekend.

PSI UPSILON, still caressing its fast thinning wallets, is looking forward to the coming weekend with much relish (and probably many a hot dog to go with it). Several of the more industrious pledges were convinced to give the dining room floor a real facial. Returning to the home roost after extended weekend orgies at Wesleyan and Yale, the sturdy brethren at once set to with a will, rolled up their shirt-sleeves, and watched the pledges work. The results are self-evident. However, before the weekend catches up and slips by, it should be noted with much interest that Brother Mike Mitchell has been carrying more than his share of the load as of late.

(X. X. X.)

THETA XI is happy to announce the election of Bill Robinson, King Howard, Rod Crittenden, Grant MacIntosh, Bob Richmond, and Jack Taylor as its new slate of fraternity officers and unanimous vote of thanks to the outgoing officers despite our opinionated Brother Behley, who insists that they be the recipients of "a vote of Condemnation for a job well done." Conglomerations to him! Conglom... (whew!) Congratulations to "Little King" Howard and Tony Stever for their success in the recent class elections. King has been elected Secretary-Treasurer of the class of '51 while Tony takes office as Vice-President of the class of '52...Turning to a few observations of penetrating import, it should be noted that the TX Tortoise Shell Club has initiated a new member, one Herbert Hoover Northrup. Begun by this reporter in the "depths" of good ol' Brooklyn, the "Order of the Sexy Glasses" now boasts four other members which include Brothers Raden, Cohen, Foster, and Northrup. How handsome can we get? Norm Wack and Tony Stever report that Brother Cohen made adequate use of the added charm afforded him by the addition of his cheaters on a recent weekend sojourn at Vassar.

(E. S.)

SIGMA NU has been gathering itself together for the lurch into the coming weekend. Last Wednesday Spring initiation was held and warmest congratulations go to our four new Brothers: Al Bolinger, Red Howell, Jim Taylor, and Fin Schaeff. Brother Rathbone says the "Eddy Roth-Judy Perkins affair" isn't getting enough publicity, and he suggests Brother Roth write this report next week and set us straight. Congratulations to Brothers Mullane and Schaeff for their success in the recent campus elections. Pledge Corwin, they inform us, has been regularly receiving blue scented envelopes from Portland, Maine. We didn't know anyone except lumberjacks and Eskimos lived there. The softball squad can so far report a successful season. Brother Nick Nelson says his arm feels like a 37-game winner this year. Some one said the Yankees were scouting him. Brother Morse and Pledge Killeen hurled Joe Biedler's squad to a 11-1 victory over Trinity-Pawling on Saturday. Nice going, boys. A big hand shake to Brothers Leo, Ransom, and Garrison for their outstanding performance in the Coast Guard meet on Saturday. Brother Leo's triple winnings highlighted the day.

(J. M.)

DELTA PHI: With the turning of Winter into Summer and the acquisition of several term paper assignments yours truly decided to toss the gauntlet to fate and vent his Spring fever by sojourning to the city of brotherly love for the annual Delta Phi convention held this year at the Eta Chapter in the University of Pennsylvania. Friday morning two cars chauffeured by Brothers Torrey and Davis hauled ten delegates and alternates to Filthydelphia. The delegation arrived in the afternoon and availed themselves of the hostleries of Brothers Sturges and Bridge. Following the afternoon registration, a smoker was held at the Eta Chapter house during which we drank warm beer as a result of a losing battle between a block of ice and the city weather. Saturday's docket contained the usual wrangling and discussion on various current fraternity matters.

The session concluded in the evening with a very fine banquet at the Hotel Adelphia. The cuisine was followed by several speeches by various notables in the hierarchy of the brotherhood. To conclude the evening, a very fine address was given by President Stassen of University of Pennsylvania. Having made certain that the Sigma Chapter is not a local organization, we shed a sad tear on the silt-lined banks of the Schuylkill and sailed again for Hartford. (Oscar Zueh.)

TAU ALPHA finds the question of breaking into print a hard one, for ever since the members read Professor Cooper's condemnation in the Tripod no one had the nerve to sit down for a few minutes and dash a little news off to the outer world. Having assumed the task, we shall first introduce our members: Nelson Wainman is our guiding hand with Tom Ferguson his V.P. Don Thomas, and Irv Hamilton and Yours Truly complete the suzerainty. John Wynne, Doug Lee, Bill Frost, Everette Tuttle, Bob Dubuque, Herb Park, Sam McGill, Mike Daly, and pledges "Hoot" Nicholson and "Hank" Palau conclude our roster. The problem of laying the foundation of a new fraternity is rather difficult and in the end is likely to produce its own share of blood on Nararro's best. Since most of us are still enjoying the comforts of home which Hamlin Dining Hall provides, we have become callous and lacking in the social graces. The Senior Ball Weekend will mark our first attempt at returning to our former conviviality.
