Dear Readers,

The inaugural online issue of Metropolitan Universities Vol. 27.1 is published and ready for your review! In this online format, the journal's reach to audiences interested in the impact and innovative practices of urban and metropolitan universities should be greatly expanded. This issue presents the best papers from the 2015 Conference which took the theme "Love of Place: The Metropolitan University Advantage" and were selected through a rigorous review process. Enjoy and share with others!

Sincerely,
Barbara Holland
Executive Editor

FROM THE ARCHIVE

The fourth annual conference of the Coalition of Urban and Metropolitan Universities generated among its participants a shared sense of urgency and a renewed commitment to the possibilities for urban and metropolitan universities as we face the new millennium. Representing what are more correctly called "starship" than "flagship" institutions, conference participants returned again and again to the core issues of institutionalizing flexibility, fostering change, honoring diversity, encouraging enterprise, and facing urban and metropolitan challenges.
