Baseball Team Makes Excellent Showing.

Four Victories Scored In Five Games Played.

Washington College Game.

Tuesday, March 29th.

The Trinity team made a good beginning, and at the close of the game with Washington College, which team had defeated Swarthmore, seventeen pairs of old gold and blue legs had encircled the bases while the nearest that a Washington College man got to a run was when one reached second base in the ninth inning. The Trinity team played the game right all the time, they got going at the jump and in every department of the game they excelled. The wonderful pitching of Sayres had much to do with the victory but he had errorless support, with every man on his toes all the time and encouraged by the chirrup of Coach Connery, with his "Little pep now, boys," there was a strong pull all along the line.

Carroll performed finely on second, having seven assists and throwing cleanly. Coach Connery thinks so well of his playing that he is going to use him on second in the exhibition games of the Hartford team, as he does not expect his regular second sacker until shortly before the season opens. Carroll not only fielded in perfect fashion but did some clever bunting. It was the bunting by the Trinity men that started all the trouble. In the first two innings, there was but little doing toward run making and in the third, the bunting scheme was worked and the Washington infield went to pieces. In fact, the bunting was so clever that the Maryland boys were standing on their heads in trying to make the plays.

Horan covered the third bag in good style and he had some hard chances. Abbey gathered everything that came his way. Cook played in right today and did some effective work with the stick. He belted the ball for a home run in one inning but as he neglected to touch second base in his anxiety to get around the bags the run did not count.

TRINITY TAKES BROWN INTO CAMP, 7-1.

Sayres Pitches Winning Game in Providence.

Trinity defeated Brown in a one-sided game on Andrews Field, at Providence, Saturday, 7 to 1. It was the last game for the Trinity team with Coach Connery in active charge, as his work with the Hartford begins to-day. He will make occasional trips to Trinity Field to see that the pace is maintained. Sayres pitched an excellent game and Staff was the only Brown man who could fathom his delivery. Captain Smith led at the bat for Trinity with three hits. Trinity fielded finely, putting up a strong, snappy and consistent game, while Brown was ragged in its fielding. Both pitchers showed up to good advantage. In the fifth inning the visitors started in with a jump and by two singles and a bunch of errors piled up four runs. Again in the seventh a single followed by two errors, gave them an additional two runs. The only run that Brown succeeded in scoring was earned. For Brown of the four hits made, Staff lined out three while Smith bore the honors for Trinity in this respect being credited with three of the eight hits. The score:

IS THE HALL BIG ENOUGH?

300 Invited to Sophomore Smoker.

If any forecasting is to be allowed, the safest hazard for next Friday night is that Alumni Hall will hold more people than it ever held before. Over three hundred sub-freshmen have been invited and it is expected that more than half of them will accept. Add to these the undergraduate body and the large corps of alumni that will be on hand, and the problem is, where shall we put them? Chairman Short says he can answer the question, and there is a certain quiet assurance in his tone that puts doubt to flight.

The program has gone to press, containing a bill of events that has not been surpassed at any similar event of recent years. At eight o'clock, when the guests have taken their seats around the little tables, the president of the Senior Class, George C. Capen, will introduce the chairman of the evening, Mr. George D. Howell '82, who will enter upon his duties with a few introductory remarks. Music will be furnished "in between" by Hall and MacDonald's orchestra. The captains of the athletic teams will be called upon to orate; Professor Gettell will talk, as no one else can, on football. Mr. J. Humphrey Greene '91, president of the Athletic Advisory Board, is booked to speak about the "Relation of Athletics to the College." The Glee and Mandolin Clubs will render characteristic melodies from time to time. Two freshmen have been persuaded to give an exhibition of the manly art on the stage, following which the scene-shifters will get to work and make the semblance of a ballet-girl's dressing room, wherein three gifted sophomores will present, "Is Marriage a Fizzle?" which the program calls "a joy-ride in one hack."

And throughout the evening tobacco will be dispensed in various forms, to say nothing for a perfectly W. C. T. U. punch.

Stolen bases, Smith, Staff; sacrifice hits, Webster, Taylor; base on balls, off Sayres 1, off Warner 1; struck out, by Sayres 4, by Warner 7; wild pitches, Sayres; hit by pitcher, by Warner, Ahern; by Sayres, Warner; umpire, Lanigan; time, 1:45.

EDITORIAL.

Enough has been said, one would think, on the subject of the Press Club, to spur that organization to something like real action. The record of the baseball team, both in the South and since its return, justifies much greater publicity than it has received. The Sophomore Smoker will give another opportunity for correspondents, and should receive attention from newspapers throughout the East.

Let there be some genuine work done in the class singing competition, now that warm weather has come and the evenings are light. The benefit that will accrue to the college through this cannot be overestimated. Interclass rivalry makes the best kind of college spirit.

The baseball team has few rivals anywhere in fielding, its work in this department calling forth admiration wherever it is seen. About one error a game has been the average thus far, but even this does not tell the whole story. The fielding is of the snappy, aggressive variety, that goes after everything and generally gets it.

DEATH OF PHILIP J. FLANDERS.

Dies at His Home in Rochester, N. H.

Philip James Flanders, the son of Rev. and Mrs. P. J. Flanders, and a member of the Junior class died in Rochester, N. H., at noon on Tuesday, April 5th, of a blood disease known as beuchemia. Death had been expected by those at his bedside for more than a week, but the news of his decease came as a great shock and surprise to his friends in college.

The disease, concerning the nature of which very little is known, must have developed in his system as much as a year ago, but the first time that it was known that he was seriously ill was when he suffered several severe hemorrhages of the head a few days before the beginning of the Easter recess and was sent home by Dr. Swan. From that time on he steadily declined, and although the most expert medical skill was employed to save his life, no hope was ever held that he should recover his health. Even if he had rallied from this attack he would have remained an invalid and could not have lived more than a few years.

Flanders was prominent in his class and in college activities, and was very popular on account of his gentle and manly manners and habits. He was president of the Brotherhood of Saint Andrews, a member of the musical clubs, and of the 1911 Ivy Board. He has played on the second baseball team, on his class basketball and on the second basketball team. He was a member of the Psi Upsilon Fraternity.

The burial will take place at twelve o'clock Friday the eighth of April, from his home in Dover.

FIRST SENIOR ASSEMBLY.

Following the custom of last year, the Senior Class will hold its first informal assembly next Monday night in Alumni Hall. The committee in charge consists of: Judge, chairman, Marlbor, Merrill, Capen, Green.

Naval Academy Game.

Wednesday, March 30th

Flushed with the terrific drubbing administered to the Washington College team yesterday, Trinity came here today and scored another shutout, defeating the Midshipmen, 1 to 0. Trinity fielded a little better, hit a little better and ran bases considerably better than the sailors and consequently won on their merits.

Another errorless game was played and the fielding of the men showed how carefully they had been prepared. Olsson was in superb form and held the Navy down to four hits, a remarkable performance in view of the reputation of the batting ability of the cadets. Olsson was a trifle steadier than his opponent in the box, as he issued one less pass, hit one less man and was steady at critical times. Meade, who worked for the Navy, also pitched a good game, Trinity garnering but six singles during the afternoon's engagement but he was unable to locate the pan for the Trinity pitcher in the fifth inning and this was the cause of his downfall.

Olsson had the honor of scoring the only run of the day and he is the first pitcher in 1910 to win his own game. The game opened in brilliant style and in the second inning Trinity got after Meade and sent a runner around to third. This feat was repeated in the fourth inning but the necessary poke to bring the man home was not forthcoming.

While Trinity's scoring machine was thus being perfected, the Navy was unable to make any headway against the Trinity defense and Olsson was mowing down the middies with his deadly smoke. The run that won the game was made as follows: In the first half of the fifth, Olsson worked Meade for a free trip to first. The Trinity pitcher got a good lead off the bag and stole second. This was one of the plays that the men had been drilled in by Coach Connery, and it was the springing of the unexpected, a play that the enemy was unprepared for. This is the kind of play that when used by Manager Connery with his Hartford team last season made such deadly havoc among the other clubs in the Connecticut League. After Olsson had stolen second, Captain Smith put down a pretty bunt, sending Olsson to third while he was being thrown out at first. Webster, the hard-hitting outfielder, was up and he had the wallop for he made a slashing drive, scoring Olsson with what proved to be the only run of the game.

The Navy made a hard try to tie up the score in its half of the inning. With two hands out, Metz, the catcher of the middies, got a straight swift one just where he wanted it and the ball boomed out to deep left for three bases, easily the longest hit of the game. Metz was nabbed as he overran third base and this spoiled the Navy's chance to score. This was the only time that the Navy got a man as far as third base.

L'Heureux was behind the bat today and Captain Smith played in the outfield. The change catcher was in good form and the sailors did not take many chances with his whip. Carroll and Horan led with the hickory, each getting a brace of hits. Abbey accepted sixteen chances without a miscue. In addition to his good pitching and base running, Olsson is entitled to praise for the magnificent manner in which he fielded his position, for he handled all the short pokes cleanly and pegged them to the bag with unerring aim.

North Carolina Game.

Thursday, March 31st

The team lost its first game on the trip to the University of North Carolina, 3 to 1. One error was charged against Trinity and this was the first made in the three games. Cook was in the box and Captain Smith caught him. The Trinity pitcher was wild in the first inning and after he had passed some men in this inning, a passed ball and a hit netted Carolina two runs, which was enough to win. Trinity made a hard try to even up the score in the last inning and the result was in doubt until the very end. The Trinity team came here from Annapolis in a sleeper last night and the men secured but little rest, with the result that they were unable to play the snappy ball that characterized the previous games. Carroll scored the only run for Trinity in the fourth. He singled, stole second and scored on an error by Buie, the Carolina catcher.

Trinity-Durham, First Game.

Friday, April 1st

Trinity of the north was victorious over Trinity of the south, yesterday when the Connecticut college won by a score of 2 to 1.

The southerners scored in the fifth on a drive that was lost in right field. Cook secured a run for the gold and blue in the seventh, and the game was won in the ninth. Abbey scoring, Sayres pitched excellent ball and sent the winning run in. The hitting of Houston for the Carolina team was a feature. The Hartford boys feel pretty good over winning the game as it was an uphill struggle all the way.

The party attended a concert by the Trinity (N. C.) College Glee Club last night, and were the recipients of true southern good will and hospitality in full measure. The weather down here is quite warm. The teams are playing again to-day. Yesterday's score:

Trinity-Durham, Second Game.

Saturday, April 2nd

Again the Trinity college baseball team made good on its southern trip, Saturday, by defeating the nine of Trinity College in this city 2 to 1. It was a mighty fine game and both teams played fast. Some of the batting was heavy, the North Carolina men getting a double and a triple, and the Hartford boys five doubles, L'Heureux banging out two. Two double plays were negotiated by Abbey and Gildersleeve. It was Trinity's fifth game and fourth victory. The team returned to Washington Sunday and is playing Georgetown to-day. Saturday's score:

TRINITY LOSES TO YALE.

Close Game at New Haven Ends
With Score 2-0.

Last Wednesday afternoon, the Trinity baseball team lost to Yale at New Haven by a score of 2 to 0. The game was a pitchers' battle between Cook of Trinity and Tommers of Yale, and was won by the latter through good base running by his teammates, a costly wild throw by Gildersleeve, a four base smash by Murphy, and a decided break in the luck in favor of Yale. Cook deserves great credit for his fine pitching which would win him nine out of ten games and should have won for him Wednesday had he received perfect support and had the team taken advantage of its opportunities to score.

Yale's first run came in the first inning. Badger layed down a bunt and beat it out. In an effort to get him at first, Cook threw wildly past first base but Badger could not advance as Olson quickly recovered the ball, Badger stole second. Stephens tapped the ball to Cook who threw to Horan retiring Badger. Murphy hit to Horan who threw to Carroll retiring Stevens. Murphy stole second. Logan hit to Gildersleeve who made a low throw to Abbey which "Slats" nearly recovered. Murphy scored on the play and Logan was also safe of course. Logan also stole second, but Corey grounded out to Abbey.

The next run was a well earned one and was scored by Murphy, when he drove the ball far over Smith's head for a fine home run. There was no chance of getting him and he scored standing up. Yale only threatened to score once after that, in the sixth inning. With one gone Stephens singled and stole second and Murphy received a base on balls. Logan sacrificed them along a base but Corey went out, Horan to Abbey.

The Trinity side of the score card furnishes a rare opportunity to indulge in post mortems, for Trinity had three opportunities to score, every one of which should have brought at least one run over the plate. In the fourth inning, the umpire checked a promising rally with a decision that looked bad to say the least. Carroll singled with one out and was forced at second by L'Heureux, Tommers to Mcyntre. Horan drove a single to center field and L'Heureux made third. On the throw to the bag, Horan dashed to second and made it in safety only to be called out by the umpire.

Another promising rally was wasted in the eighth when Webster made a mistake which he will not make again in a hundred years. After Gildersleeve had been thrown out at first base by Logan, Cook singled to right and was forced at second by Smith. Webster received a base on balls. Carroll made his third hit of the afternoon, a short single to left field. Smith had no chance whatever to score but rounded third of course. Webster on second saw him do so and concluding that he was going to attempt to score, ran on to third. The result was that when Smith returned to the bag Webster was caught between second and third and run down.

The most promising chance which Trinity had, however, cannot as those above be blamed to hard luck but failed to bring any results because of lack of the necessary bingle. This opportunity came in the seventh inning when Carroll walked to open the inning. L'Heureux was safe on Mcyntre's fumble of his grounder, and the pair moved to third and second on Horan's sacrifice tap to Tommers. Then with men waiting to score on second and third with only one out, the hit that would score them was lacking. Abbey hit weakly to the pitcher and was thrown out a first base, and Olson met the same fate by way of Mcyntre.

In the ninth inning, Horan singled after L'Heureux had flied out to Corey, but he was forced at second base by Brainerd who batted for Abbey. Olson ended the game by striking out.

The team made a very creditable showing. Their fielding was snappy and clean. Only two errors were made and one of them, a muffed foul fly by Abbey, is a technical one and had no bad result as the man was retired anyway. The team as a whole did not hit well. Five of the six hits were made by two men, Carroll and Horan, and the others seemed helpless to score them. For Trinity, the pitching of Cook, the hitting of Carroll and Horan, and the fielding of the latter, who accepted eight chances without the semblance of a slip, were features. For Yale, the pitching of Tommers, the home run of Murphy, and hitting of Carhart were the features.

ALUMNI NOTES.

'82—Samuel Ward Loper who received the degree of Master of Arts from Trinity in 1882, died at Middletown, March 31, in the 75th year of his age. He was instructor in geology here from 1891 to 1893, and 1894 until his death he was Curator of the Museum of Wesleyan University. He had also an official connection with the United States Geological Survey and was recognized as an authority in scientific matters.

The following Trinity men attended the Navy-Trinity baseball game at Annapolis on March 30th: N. F. Johnson '66, B. H. Griswold '66, C. H. Carter '98, the Rev. R. F. Humphries '92, D. M. Henry '03, C. H. Pelton '06, W. H. Licht '07, J. B. Kilbourn '09 and N. C. Oliver '10.

'05—The Rev. Charles Jarvis Harri-man '05 has resigned from his position as junior assistant at All Saints', Worcester, Mass., on account of ill health, and may be addressed at Windsor, Conn.

BANQUET GIVEN TEAM.

good welcome by the Maryland alumni and congratulations were showered upon them in every shape and form.

Twenty-five of the alumni were present at a banquet which started early in the evening. Dr. Andrews, president of the Maryland Alumni Association, acted as toastmaster. The table was set in the form of a T. Dr. Andrews welcomed the men, and was followed by the members of the alumni, each of whom had a word to add in praise of the team. The alumni were especially pleased with the victory over the Navy, all the more so because each and every one of them was present at the game and rooted hard for the gold and blue.

An informal smoker following the banquet was given up to reminiscences of college days, former baseball teams, and old athletic victories.

The gathering broke up at midnight, and the players scattered to the homes of the members of the alumni where they were guests over night.

AN OPPORTUNITY FOR A FEW INVESTORS.

The 8% 10-Year Purchasing-Fund Gold Certificates

ISSUED BY

THE WHEEL-MOTOR TRACTION CO.

This company has the sales monopoly of an improved form of commercial automobile, now in successful use by the U. S. Government and leading business concerns. The $25,000 accumulated by the sale of these certificates is to be used for one purpose only—buying machines at the factory to fill orders. The machines are then shipped C. O. D. to the purchasers. Thus there is no credit risk, and the investors' money is neither tied up in equipment nor dissipated by expenses, but is either in cash on hand or convertible thereto at short notice.

Investors in this purchasing fund have the option of withdrawal of principal before maturity. A strong National Bank has agreed to act as Trustee of this fund for and on behalf of investors—to see that it is kept intact and used only as a purchasing fund. This bank will pay dividends as they fall due and will return to any certificate holder, upon sixty days' notice, the amount of his investment or any part of it, should he desire to withdraw same at any time before maturity.

The total issue is only $25,000, each certificate being for $25. For the present, with each $25 certificate is given one share of 8 per cent preferred stock, par value $10; and with each $100 purchase five shares of preferred are given. This unusual opportunity really brings the net return up to about 12 per cent, with the prospect of selling the preferred for nearly enough to pay for the whole investment. We make this offer so that it will not be necessary for this announcement to appear extensively, as previous issues have been largely oversubscribed.

If interested in absolute security of principal, large and definite interest return, and opportunity of speedy withdrawal of principal before maturity if desired, this investment should receive your immediate attention. Communications and orders should be addressed, and checks made payable to,

We are prepared to offer permanent positions to six capable college men, who can secure $1,000 to be invested in the above. These positions are open for either January or July 1st and will pay $1,200 or more a year to start, with prospects limited only by ability of the men.

The Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company,

HARTFORD, CONN.,

Why should I insure my life?

Because it is a debt you owe to those who are dependent upon your earnings for their support.

You admit that it is your duty to supply their needs from day to day, but forget that it is equally your duty to provide an ever ready and sufficient equivalent for your earning power, which your family stands in constant jeopardy to lose by your premature death.

Guard your family against disaster and yourself against dependency in old age.

When should I insure my life?

Now! The cost will never be less, and tomorrow you may not be able to obtain insurance at any price.

Even if others are not now dependent upon you, take time by the forelock and you will be the better able to meet future responsibilities, and at a smaller premium.

Where shall I insure my life?

In a purely Mutual Company.

In a company that earns, declares, and pays annual dividends.

In a company that is doing a conservative business.

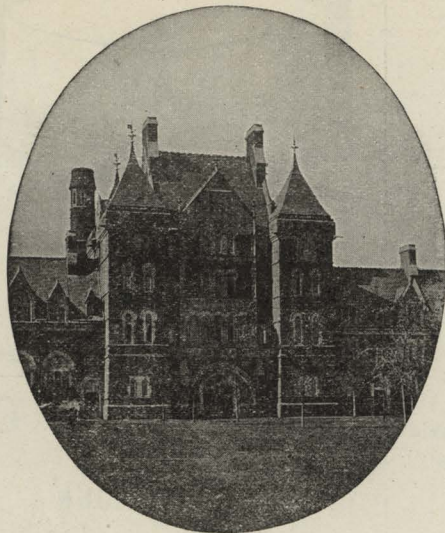

Such a Company is The Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn. It furnishes perfect protection at lowest cost.

For further information, address the Company, or any of its agents.
