N. E. I. A. A. TRACK MEET. Dartmouth Probably Winner. Trinity Sends Eight Men.

The twenty-seventh annual track meet of the New England Intercollegiate Athletic Association will be held today and tomorrow, the 23rd and 24th, at the Harvard Stadium. Sixteen New England colleges will be represented in what promises to be one of the biggest and fastest meets of any ever held under the auspices of the Association. Not less than five men who went to Stockholm with the Olympic team last July will be seen in the various events, and all these will be pushed to the limit to show their prowess on Friday and Saturday.

Dartmouth is conceded by all to have the best track team in years, consequently it is a foregone conclusion that the men from Hanover will carry off the majority of prizes as well as the big cup presented annually to the college making the greatest number of points. The race for second place should be interesting and close. One between Brown, M. I. T., Bates and Amherst, and at this writing it is hard to say who will win the laurels for second position.

Dartmouth's supremacy on track and field will immediately be seen when the probable winners of each event are considered. In the one hundred and two-yard dashes, Olsen of Dartmouth looks like the probable winner, but Nardini of Colby, the winner of both events last year will give him a hard run in each race. Deetjen of Wesleyan and Brindgardner of Holy Cross will also make the going fast. In the quarter and half-mile runs Dartmouth will undoubtedly again come to the fore with such men as O'Connor, who gave Lippencott, the Pennsylvania Olympic star all he could do to win the 440 at Philadelphia last Saturday. In the half-mile it will be all Dartmouth with such men as Gaugh, Dolan and Marceau, all members of the championship two-mile relay team. The mile will probably go to Taber of Brown, who, it is said, has been taking things easy all season, so as to try to lower the Intercollegiate record on Saturday. The two-mile should be the big race of the day with such men as Power of Maine, last year's winner, Ball and Saltmarsh of Dartmouth, Armour of W. P. I., and Crehore, it will be undoubtedly an unusually fast race and all indications seem to point to the establishing of a new record. In the hurdles, Wendell of Wesleyan, will undoubtedly take the shorter race, but Braun of Dartmouth will make Wendell exert himself to the uttermost to get away with the race over the low sticks. In the field events, indications seem to point to Dartmouth taking five of the six field events, with Englehorn in the hammer, Whitney in the discus and shot, Enright in the high jump, last year's winners, and the Olympic star Marc Wright in the pole vault, however

1914 IVY APPEARS.

Dedicated to The Memory of John Pierpont Morgan.

The 1914 Ivy came out on Wednesday morning, and was generally conceded by the college body to be far and away the best Ivy Trinity has ever produced. It is a large volume, handsomely bound in dark blue, with the title and the college seal on the cover in gold. The printing and binding of the book was the work of the Plimpton Manufacturing Company.

The dedication is to the memory of John Pierpont Morgan, LL. D., "in recognition of his leadership in affairs, in admiration of his services to our country, and in gratitude for his benefactions to our Alma Mater." Before he died Mr. Morgan gave his consent to the dedication and sent the photograph of himself which is in the front of the book opposite the dedication page.

W. F. BORCHERT,

One of the many excellent characteristics of the Ivy is the large number of photographs used. Including the cuts of the members of the faculty and of the two upper classes, there are nearly two hundred and fifty photographs. With the exception of the colored frontispiece, these are all exceptionally clear and well finished. The book is rich, too, in drawings. Miss Harriet Beards of West Orange, W. B. and N. J. George, Peck, '15, and Vertrees Young rendered invaluable service by their artistic contributions. A drawing by Mr. Otho Cushing also adds much to the attractiveness of the volume. A running head of ivy leaves on the top of each printed page is a pleasing innovation.

T. G. Brown, '13, has done by far the most towards making the Ivy a success. His contributions are many, among them the most worthy of note being "The Ivy on the Styx," and "Taught and Prayed For: A Farcial Comedy in One Gasp." It does not seem too much to say that the latter is one of the most delightfully funny things ever published in a college annual.

The heartiest congratulations are certainly due to Editor-in-chief Borchert on the excellent results of his untiring efforts in the compilation of the book, and also to Somerville and his assistants on the large number of advertisements obtained.

PROFESSOR BARROWS SPEAKS. Tells of Experiences in Mexico at Junior Smoker.

The speaker at the junior smoker held Monday night at the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity house was Mr. Barrows, instructor in geology. Mr. Barrows opened his talk by saying that he had felt a peculiar tie with the class of 1914, by reason of the coincidence that they entered Trinity together, after which he introduced his topic of discussion, Mexico.

Mexico, said Mr. Barrows, was a country that we were all interested in at present, and would probably be more so in the future. He explained his own ideas of the country which he has formed before his recent visit there, saying that like most people he had pictured nothing but "greasers" and men running around stabbing each other, and extreme and unbearable heat. As a matter of fact, he said, almost half of the country lies north of the southernmost points of the United States, and as the greater part of the land forms a big plateau, a range of agriculture including both tropical plants and temperate products is possible. The mineral wealth was proverbial, he said, and then showed how greatly American resources were interested in them. In this connection, he gave an interesting description of the oil and gas wells which have been struck in recent years.

The next topic touched upon by the speaker was the political and economic problem which confronted the country. Although the city of Mexico, with its delightful climate, and other cities were modern in many ways, yet the mass of population of the country as a whole consisted in twelve millions of absolutely uneducated, primitive Indians or Spanish and Indians mixed. The governing class, consisting of three millions, mostly Spanish, had done nothing during all these years to raise the condition of these "peons" who were practically slaves, and the great source of economic and political strength, the middle class, were wholly lacking. Though the government is nominally a republic, Mr. Barrows said, the masses were not capable of voting, and the Spaniards themselves had brought with them from their fatherland no ideas of self-government. The minority had no idea of submitting to the majority, and constant strife was the result. A benevolent monarchy, which would rule with a strong hand, while endeavoring to uplift the people was, according to Mr. Barrow's view, the only government suitable to the present conditions. Many thinking men, he said, were strongly of the opinion that the United States would be forced to take a hand sooner or later to protect foreigners. An invasion would be a serious and a difficult thing, as the strategy of the Mexicans would be a system of guerilla warfare against which it would be very difficult to accomplish any tangible results.

In closing, Mr. Barrows related some

WESLEYAN AGAIN TOMORROW. Second Game of Series to Be Played on Trinity Field.

Tomorrow afternoon the Trinity baseball team meets Wesleyan's nine, on Trinity Field, for the second contest of the three-game series scheduled between the two colleges. The combat should prove a battle royal, as Trinity's team now looks in even better form than at the time of the first game of the series, while the Red and Black aggregation will undoubtedly set out for Hartford grimly bent on revenge.

The showing made by the wearers of the Blue and Gold against Rhode Island State, last Saturday, makes Trinity's prospects in tomorrow's game look bright indeed. The addition of Ferris to the pitching staff strengthens that department immensely. The freshmen recruit is proving an invaluable acquisition. With Swift and Warner both showing greatly improved form, the twirling corps looks a hundred per cent stronger than it did a few weeks ago. The infield, consisting of Captain L'Heureux, Shelley, Murray, and Gillooly, is working smoothly to the last degree, while the outer line of defence, made up of Vizner, Withington and Brainerd, with Ives and Lambert in reserve is strongly fortified.

Trinity is showing up well at the bat also. Captain L'Heureux, Murray, Gillooly and Brainerd are hitting particularly well, while the other members of the team seem to have their eyes on the ball also. Take it all in all, this year's aggregation is probably the hardest-hitting team that has represented Trinity for some time.

Capt. L'Heureux has not announced his choice for pitcher in tomorrow's game, but owing to the difficulty experienced by Wesleyan with Ferris's delivery, in the first game of the series, it seems highly probable that the lot will fall upon the freshman.

Cheer Leaders.

The following amendment to Article 3 of the Senate Constitution was passed by the Senate in meeting recently and will be presented to the college body for approval within ten days:

Section 6—It shall be in the power of the Senate to appoint each fall such cheer leaders as the Senate shall deem expedient for the efficient and organized cheering of the college body; and, further, such cheer leaders shall be held responsible, after their appointment, to the Senate.

exciting and not altogether pleasant experiences undergone by friends of his, illustrating the fact that the feeling in Mexico towards foreigners was not altogether a friendly one.

Committee of Co-operation.

The Graduate Committee of Co-operation of the New York Alumni Association of Trinity College is doing fine work in bringing Trinity employers and Trinity employees into knowledge of each other. The Association has rooms 53 and 54 at 125 East 23rd Street in New York.

They have recently issued a circular calling attention to their work and to the opportunities which may open through their offices. They also give under code numbers eleven statements as to individual men seeking employment. The circular closes with a coupon designed for the use of employers in search of young men for their work.

N. E. I. A. A. TRACK MEET.

Bartlett of Brown will undoubtedly figure in the shot. The broad jump will probably go to Faulkner of Bowdoin.

Trinity will be represented by eight men, Capt. Wessels, Hudson, Spofford, Hall, Crehore, Furnivall, Lyon and Sage. The team left this morning and it is expected that Trinity will be credited with five points at the end of the meet, as Crehore and Hudson are almost sure point winners for the Blue and Gold, and the other members of the team should also be heard from.

Military Training Camps.

A communication has been received at the College Office from the War Department about the establishment of volunteer summer military camps of instruction for students. In this way it is planned to have an efficient corps of trained men to supplement the inadequate personnel of the military reserve in time of a national emergency. The Eastern camp will be held in the Gettysburg National Park, Pennsylvania, from July 7 to August 15, inclusive. The expenses include railway transportation, the cost of necessary uniforms, and a slight fee for subsistence. Instruction will be given in practical and theoretical military conditions of every sort. In return for this a pleasant, healthful vacation is insured with abundance of opportunity afforded for athletic employments.

Kappa Beta Phi Initiates.

The initiation banquet of Kappa Beta Phi was held on Thursday evening last, at Heublein's. The initiates, from the class of 1914, were as follows: K. Boynton, G. C. Burgwin, Jr., M. S. Crehore, H. Fort, T. C. Hudson, Jr., J. A. Moore, J. S. Moses, W. B. Spofford. The secrets of the rejuvenated order were imparted to the new members over the flowing tankards. The occasion was more of a smoker than a banquet, and a very enjoyable evening resulted for all concerned.

The Kappa Beta Phi's of 1913, whose active association with the society terminated with the banquet on Thursday night, are T. G. Brown, R. L. Deppen, J. B. Moore, R. C. Noble, S. S. Swift, R. W. Thomas, E. L. Ward, and R. P. Withington.

INTERCOLLEGIATE TENNIS.

Amherst May Take All The Points.

The New England intercollegiate tennis tournament, which is being played on the Longwood courts in Boston, has gone as far as the finals in both singles and doubles. The finalists in the singles are Johnstone and Cady, both of Amherst, Johnstone being last year's champion. In the doubles Johnstone and Cady of Amherst have to meet Bacon and Richards of Wesleyan. Thus Amherst has a chance to take the doubles and is sure of the singles. Trinity had three representatives at the meet, Burgwin, '14, and E. L. Ward, '13, in the doubles, and Burgwin, '14, and Edsall, '15, in the singles. Edsall lost in the first round to Johnstone of Amherst, 1-6, 6-3, 6-2, a very creditable showing. Burgwin drew a bye in the first round and then defeated Howe of Brown in the second, 8-6, 6-4. In the third round he lost to Webber of Dartmouth, 7-5, 7-5. Burgwin and Ward lost to Johnstone and Cady of Amherst in the first round of the doubles, 6-2, 6-3.

No class of men need life insurance more than do professional men. As a rule, the income of a professional man is largely, if not wholly, dependent on his brain, and when the activity of the mind ceases, his income ceases, or is at once greatly reduced.
The Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company offers to the professional man who desires to assure his wife and children for life, or for a specified term of years, the continuance of a substantial part, at least, of the income to which they were accustomed during his lifetime, a contract perfectly suited to these needs.
