TRINITY DOWNS WESLEYAN.

The Blue and Gold Triumphs Over Rivals by Score of 7 to 1.

Decisive victory over Wesleyan, always sweet to Trinity supporters, was gained by the baseball team at Trinity Field last Saturday afternoon, the score being 7 to 1. It was the first game of a series of three, and was marked by a superiority of the Trinity nine in every department of the game that brought joy to the big crowd of the Blue and Gold backers which filled the grandstand and the Trinity section of the bleachers. Besides the undergraduates, a large number of alumni were present. Trinity cheers were almost continuous, and the support given the team was splendid. Wesleyan brought a big delegation to Hartford. It was massed in the bleachers back of third base and it gave its losing team game support. Coming as it did immediately after the loss of the track meet to Wesleyan, the joy of victory was all the more keen, the splendid form which the team showed promises well for a clean sweep of the series.

It was a fast and exciting game. All kinds of baseball, good, bad and indifferent were in evidence, but the latter two varieties were on the part of the visitors, who were helpless before the heavy hitting and spectacular fielding of the Trinity team. Baker pitched an excellent game. He allowed eight hits, but he kept them scattered and was never in serious danger. He had good control and passed but two men. Some idea of Trinity's hitting power may be had from the fact that the batting rallies in both the first and fifth innings were started after two men were out. In the fifth inning the two men to be retired both fanned, which gives an idea of the excellence of the Wesleyan pitching. Captain Murray was the batting star. He got three safeties, one of which, a clean home run, was the big feature of the game. It came in the fifth inning and went so far to deep center that Murray raced home without having to slide. In the fielding department, Smith was in the limelight with two beautiful running catches of long and difficult flies. Gillooly handled eight out of nine chances at third, and several of his plays bordered on the sensational. Working together with the speed and precision of clockwork, the Trinity infield made two brilliant double plays which choked off threatening Wesleyan runs. The Blue and Gold players displayed work on the bases which was as

WESLEYAN WINS AT TENNIS.

Trinity Loses All Five of the Matches Played.

On the college courts last Thursday Wesleyan surprised the Trinity tennis team by taking all five of the matches that were played. The sixth match was called on account of darkness. Captain Burgwin, who started off in excellent fashion, had little difficulty in taking the first set from Rowell, one of Wesleyan's best men. However, in the next set Burgwin became erratic, and Rowell, by his steady playing, won 6-4. In the last set Burgwin lost 6-2.

Edsall, who has played good tennis all season, and has been a consistent winner, was outclassed in Richards, Wesleyan's star man, who had a wonderful serve, and very telling lobs. Richards took both sets, 6-1, 6-2.

Barnett was a hard proposition for Clark, of Wesleyan. In the first set Clark slipped two games nearly on Barnett, but Barnett soon made it a tie. It continued back and forth until the fourth game, when with a spurt Clark managed to get two straight games. The second set was as close as the first, Barnett always giving Clark a close run, only to lose out at the end, 6-4. Barnett played hard and fought well, but his opponent had a little the better of him.

Hoffman, of Wesleyan, defeated Mitchell in the first set, 6-3, but in the second, Mitchell came back with a vengeance, and easily took it 6-1. The third set was close, but Hoffman was the better player and won 6-4.

Much attention was centered on the double match of Rowell and Richards and Burgwin and Edsall. It was very interesting, both pairs playing fine tennis. The first set was closely contested, Wesleyan losing 6-4. In the second set Trinity started off as if to register another set, but the Middletown pair took it 6-4. Trinity lost the last set 6-3.

The double match scheduled between Barnett and Peck, of Trinity, and Hoffman and Clark of Wesleyan, was not played on account of darkness.

In the singles:

Rowell, Wesleyan, defeated Burgwin, 3-6, 6-4, 6-2; Richards, Wesleyan, defeated Edsall, 6-1, 6-2; Clark, Wesleyan, defeated Barnett, 6-4, 6-4; Hoffman, Wesleyan, defeated Mitchell, 6-3, 1-6, 6-4.

In the doubles:

Rowell and Richards, Wesleyan, defeated Burgwin and Edsall, 4-6, 6-4, 6-3.

TRINITY WINS EXCITING GAME.

Norwich University Defeated by Score of 6 to 4.

In the closest game played at Trinity Field this season, Trinity defeated Norwich University by a score of 6 to 4 last Thursday afternoon. The visitors put up an opposition which culminated in a batting rally in the seventh inning. Four Norwich runs came in, the score was tied, and the spectators were worked up to a high pitch of excitement which turned to relief when Trinity scored twice in the eighth and saved the game. Thompson, the Norwich pitcher, did excellent work. He held the Blue and Gold sluggers to seven hits, fanned eight men and did not issue a pass. With better support, especially behind the bat, Thompson would have made Trinity's chances to win much more difficult than he actually did. For Trinity, Swift went to the slab for the first time this season. For six innings, excepting a tendency to wildness, he went along nicely and fanned nine men. He weakened in the seventh and was replaced by Baker, who proved an able rescue man. Trinity did fine work in the field and did not make the semblance of an error. Gillooly handled some especially difficult chances, and Captain Murray made a beautiful play in the sixth when Viano tried to steal second. Carpenter's throw went past McKay, but Murray, backing up in splendid style, returned the ball to McKay quick as a flash, and Viano was caught out.

In each of the first three innings, Trinity had chances to score, but Thompson was invincible in the pinches. In the fourth, Trinity managed to get two runs in. Carpenter singled and took second on Gillooly's single. Keefe fumbled Ives' bunt, and the bases were full. Viano let Smith's grounder go between his legs, and Carpenter and Gillooly scored. Brand hit to Viano who threw home, nailing Ives, who was trying to score.

In the fifth Murray fanned but got his base when the Norwich catcher let the ball go through him. Murray stole, and McKay beat out a bunt. Both scored on a passed ball by Sleeper, who who was then replaced by Tomlin.

In the seventh, Norwich threw a scare into the Trinity camp by tying the score. Thompson singled through the box, and went to third on Tomlin's hot single. Tomlin stole, Mahard walked, and Viano singled, scoring Thompson and Tomlin. O'Dowd got his third hit, a

TRINITY LOSES CLOSE MEET.

Wesleyan Wins by Score of 65¼ to 60¼. Hudson the Star.

In the annual Trinity-Wesleyan track meet, held on Trinity Field Saturday afternoon, Wesleyan won by the score of 65¼ to 60¼. Thus, for the second time in two successive years, Trinity lost her opportunity to gain her track victory over Wesleyan. The weather conditions were perfect, drawing a large crowd of spectators, and the times in all of the events were good, although no records were broken. The work of Potter, Wesleyan's freshman phenomenon, who defeated Captain Wessels of Trinity in both the mile and half-mile runs, was instrumental in bringing the afternoon's victory to his team. Potter had a whirlwind finish that ate up a ten-yard lead in the mile and a thirty-yard lead in the half-mile.

Hudson of Trinity was star performer of the day, capturing three first places, two seconds and a third.

While he was unexpectedly defeated by Deetjen in the discus event, he came back strong with first place in the broad jump, which place Wesleyan's supporters had predicted for Deetjen. In this his last dual meet at Trinity, Hudson closed an enviable record, having been high-point man in every dual meet in the last four years, with the exception of last year's Wesleyan meet in which he was prevented by a misunderstanding from placing in the hammer throw.

Wesleyan's dash men, Captain Irving and Morningstar, were too fast for Young and he had to be content with third place in the 100 and 220-yard events. Furnivall won the quarter-mile by a good margin. Two Wesleyan men, Brown and Laing, finished ahead of Rock by inches.

Cashman, holder of Wesleyan's two-mile record, won his race in easy style, trotting around the track many yards ahead of the field. The real race was between George and Little of Trinity and Johnson of Wesleyan for second and third. Little bested Johnson, who came in an easy third.

The feature of the meet was the half-mile run. Spofford and Wessels set a stiff pace, while Potter chose to jog along behind the field. On the back stretch of the last lap Potter cut loose, finishing with a quarter-mile stride that carried him past the other runners to an easy victory. Spofford fought gamely for his position, but fell at the finish,

In another column we publish a second communication from "11" apropos of "militarism." The Tripod does not at all agree with the author of the communication in question, but we lack space in this number wherein to take issue with him. It is possible, however, that we shall have something to say on this topic before so very long.

SUNDAY CHAPEL.

Doctor Luther Preaches with His Usual Inspiring Eloquence.

President Luther preached in the chapel last Sunday from the text, "And the residue thereof he maketh a god." (Isaiah 44: 17.) The president began his sermon by observing that the prophet was probably a little too bitter in his attack on the worship of the heathen. The Jew and the Christian are not the only two who have conceived the idea of an all-powerful God who is the Creator and Father of all, but the heathen in a dim way has had a faint idea of the same thing. This conception he has tried to make more real and apparent by symbolizing it by an idol. We all have our symbols, for example, the flag; it stands for the nation, and we often wrongly resent trivial insults offered only to the cloth of which it is constructed.

Dr. Luther said, however, he was more struck by another meaning of the text: "And the residue thereof." After the man had satisfied all his other wants, had warmed, clothed, and fed himself, out of what was left over, he made his God. We are inclined to smile at the ignorance of the poor heathen; but do we not do the same thing? We set aside part of our lives for business, another for amusement, a part for this thing or that thing, and we leave a small corner for religion, a corner that is seldom visited. This is the same thing the heathen does, but we do not have his excuse of ignorance. We must realize that religion is a necessity in all parts of our lives, and that we cannot get away from this fact. For one thing, there is the great power of prayer. "More has been accomplished by prayer than this world dreams of." There has been a great deal said about the efficacy of prayer, but no one knows much about it. Persons have prayed again and again seemingly to no purpose. We can only have faith, and believe that what is best will result from our prayers. Scientists have scoffed at the idea, for example, that prayers will diminish the number of mosquitos. They say drain the stagnant ponds where the mosquitos breed; but they forget that it was through prayer and what is better than prayer, high consecrated service, that the knowledge we have on almost all subjects was obtained, including the fact that mosquitos are responsible for many diseases. We should have a Christian pantheistic belief that God is present everywhere.

SUNDAY VESPERS.

The Rev. James Bradin Speaks in Interesting Fashion.

The Rev. James Bradin spoke at the vesper service Sunday afternoon. He elaborated most impressively and attractively on the immense value of the "fire and vigor of youth." He emphasized most forcibly that the college men should preserve this fire and vigor, and that they could not hold those qualities of youth in high enough respect. It was his great desire that he might be able to have in combination the fire and vigor of his youth with his mature mind.

His talk was most impressive throughout. Besides the general theme as stated above, he gave his hearers many valuable and timely lessons. Mr. Bradin has a great interest in Trinity, as his two sons are both Trinity men, and during his address his sincere earnestness could be easily seen, and had great effect upon those who heard him.

INTERCOLLEGIATE TENNIS.

Burgwin and Edsall Represent Trinity at Longwood.

Sunday afternoon Captain Burgwin, '14, and Edsall, '15, of the tennis team left for Boston in order to take part in the New England Intercollegiate tennis matches to be held at Longwood, Mass., the early part of this week. Ten colleges, Amherst, Bowdoin, Brown, Colby, Dartmouth, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Trinity, Tufts, Wesleyan and Williams, have entered men in the contest and it promises to be exceedingly interesting.

Both Edsall and Burgwin are in fine shape and it is expected that they will make a good showing. Last week Burgwin defeated Captain Webber of Dartmouth, the man who bested him at the intercollegiates last spring. Moreover, it is expected that our men will work together well in the doubles. The contestants probably most feared are the Wesleyan entrants. However, if our men again meet Wesleyan it is to be hoped, and it is not at all improbable, that Trinity will turn the tables and even up matters for the defeat of last week.

As this is Burgwin's last year, it is expected that he will make a hard try for the title. Last year Amherst took the two first places in the singles, and Wesleyan captured the doubles. This year it is to be hoped that Trinity's representatives will return to college with at least one of the titles.

ALPHA CHI RHO WINS.

Defeats Phi Gamma Delta Team by Score of 13 to 3.

An Intramural League game between teams representing Alpha Chi Rho and Phi Gamma Delta was played Friday morning, Alpha Chi Rho emerging an easy victor at the end of the fourth inning. The final score stood 13 to 3. The game was featured by the excellent box work of Jennings who pitched for the Alpha Chi Rho team, and by a pretty double play by Spencer. Jefferson, who played the entire field for the Phi Gamma Delta team owing to the absence of the full number of players, is said to have lost twenty good pounds of avoirdupois. In spite of his disadvantages, however, he displayed excellent form.

NEUTRALS WIN AGAIN.

Take Sigma Psi Team Into Camp. Score 8 to 7.

The team representing the Neutral Body defeated that of Sigma Psi by a narrow margin Saturday morning, the score standing 8 to 7 in favor of the former. The game was closely contested from the start by the Neutral Body team succeeding in so bunching their hits in the first inning as to retain their lead throughout the game.

WHITLOCK PRIZE CONTEST.

Brown, '15, Wins First Prize and Howell, '15, Second.

The seventeenth annual contest for the Frank W. Whitlock prizes was held on Friday evening in Alumni Hall. Thomas Cook Brown, '15, of James-town, N. Y., was awarded first prize. Brown spoke on "Rudyard Kipling," presenting an original critical essay on the great English writer.

George Dawson Howell, '15, of Hartford, who was awarded the second prize, had a very beautiful essay on Labrador, entitled: "The Land of Cain." His description of that far-off country was striking and vivid.

Vertrees Young, '15, presented an interesting treatise on "The Art of Pictorial Caricature." He gave the historical development of cartoons, and the powerful influence cartoons had today.

A speech on the subject, "Our Problems in the Philippines" was delivered by Russell Ziebell Johnston, '16, who held that the Americans had done noble work in our island possessions, and ought never to abandon them.

Before announcing the winners, the chairman of the judges, the Rev. John Coleman Adams, commended the contestants on their excellent essays, and said he was sorry to see so small a group of students represented. Our colleges, he said, were primarily for learning, and not for athletic purposes.

After each speaker, the Glee Club rendered several selections, which were highly applauded. Rosenbaum, '14, was discovered in the audience, and was called upon for a piano selection. His appearance was hailed with enthusiasm.

The judges were, the Rev. John Coleman Adams, D.D., William A. Ayres, Esq., and William J. Hamersley, Esq.

WESLEYAN AGAIN TOMORROW.

Trinity Team Goes to Middletown for Second Game of Series.

On Wednesday afternoon of this week Trinity's baseball team meets Wesleyan for the second game of the series. This time the game is at Wesleyan. This is of course a slight disadvantage to Trinity, but nevertheless the Blue and Gold team expects to carry off the honors. The Wesleyan team, moreover, will probably play better and be somewhat more at ease on its home grounds. Therefore the game will probably be close and full of excitement for those who attend. But if Trinity's hard-hitting combination starts to work, and the infield keeps as air-tight as usual, there should surely be another Trinity victory.

Trinity will have the same team that subdued Wesleyan last Saturday. Either Ferris or Baker will pitch. Wesleyan will also have the same team and the probability is that Stanley will be on the mound for them. It is hoped that the result will be the same.

The game will start promptly at four o'clock and from the indications a large number will accompany the team to Middletown.

TRINITY LOSES CLOSE MEET.

Wessells and Bissell of Trinity getting second and third.

The pole vault, although long drawn out, was one of the most exciting events of the meet. Stevens of Trinity and Francis of Wesleyan fought hard for the superiority, but tied for first. Coffee of Trinity, but one day back from a six-weeks' absence from college, proved his natural ability by landing a third.

Deetjen was Wesleyan's heaviest point winner. He won the high jump and discus, came in second in the shot put and third in the broad jump.

The officials of the meet were: Referee and starter, Frank A. Coburn; clerk of course, Howard R. Hill; judges at the finish, J. W. Harrison, U. H. Brockway, Jr., Nick Carter; timers, Professor Raymond G. Gettell, Dr. H. C. Swan, H. B. Olmstead; field judges, Professor Rogers, H. B. Fuller; announcer, H. J. Roberts; scorer, P. S. Harmon. The summary, Trinity 60 1/4, Wesleyan 65 3/4.

TRINITY DOWNS WESLEYAN.

heady as it was speedy, a double steal by Carpenter and McKay, and a steal of home by the latter being especially well executed.

Captain Winchester of Wesleyan pitched an excellent brand of ball. He struck out eight men, and with any kind of support, he would have been a difficult man to beat. Hayward, who fell down on all of his four chances, at short, was the worst offender for Wesleyan, but the entire team lacked the life and smoothness that marked the work of Trinity. Stanley contributed the only fielding feature when he robbed Gillooly of an extra base hit, by pulling down a hard drive in the fourth inning.

Wesleyan's solitary run was made in the first inning. E. Winchester hit the first ball Baker pitched for a single. Martin sacrificed, and when Murray erred on Goodwin's grounder, the batter got second and Winchester scored. Stanley hit to Gillooly who caught the batter at first. Shelley then shot the ball back to third and Goodwin was doubled up. In Trinity's half of the inning, both Shelley and Murray had been retired when McKay got his base on an error by Hayward. McKay stole and reached third when Hayward fumbled on Carpenter. Carpenter played away off first to draw a throw. Chapin fell for the ruse, and when he threw McKay raced home, and Carpenter was safe at second. Winchester showed his worth in the third and fourth. In the third, both Shelley and Murray singled, but the next three men could not score them. Smith walked and stole in the fourth with two gone, but Winchester fanned Brand.

To start the fifth, Winchester struck out Baker and Shelley on six pitched balls. Then Murray smashed out his homer to deep center, following which McKay walked. He took third on the hit and run play when Carpenter singled and stole. He and McKay scored when Gillooly cracked a long drive to left. Gillooly tried to make two bases on the hit, but was nailed.

After one man was out in the seventh, Murray got his third hit. He stole and went to third on Hayward's error on McKay, who reached second. Carpenter scored Murray with a single, and then McKay made a pretty steal of home. Beeman made a wild throw of Gillooly's grounder and Gillooly got to second, Carpenter scoring. Ives hit to Beeman who touched out Gillooly, and then Smith flied out, ending the game.

Communication.

To the Editor of the Tripod:

I was very much interested in the article reprinted from the Army and Navy Journal of April 25, in which the author, criticising my letter in the Tripod some time ago concerning the proposed Student Military Camps, comes to the conclusion that "some minds are utterly incapable of deciding a question on the facts presented, but must form their judgments according to their preconceived ideas."

May I inform the military author that the writer of the "weird epistle", for which the editors of the Tripod found necessary to apologize for reasons best known to them, based his assertion about the fostering of militarism in Europe through the criminal combination of high officials in the army and navy and the great armor plate and other war supply concerns on facts revealed in the parliaments of several countries.

My critic does not dispute the reference to the revelations in Europe, but insists on my treating this subject from the standpoint of American conditions, for he asks: "Does the Trinity alumnus wish to insinuate that President Wilson in his message to Congress (asking for authority to use the U. S. troops in Mexico) was inspired by armor plate and other war supply concerns?"

In answering this question, I must say that the reason for intervention offered by the Administration does not seem to satisfy a great number of American people, and the very fact that the people of this country show no enthusiasm for the policy of the Government proves, that they do not agree with the Administration, that the honor of this nation depends on the difference of so many cannon shots—a militaristic heritage detrimental to our code of international relations.

The causes for our Mexican policy, of course, go farther than the Tampico incident. Congressman Ainey of Pennsylvania presenting on May 4th a resolution to investigate the conditions which led to the intervention of the United States in Mexico, said among other things, that: "were it not for American brains and money, prostituted to selfish ends, there would have been few wars in Central America and South America. It has been openly charged that the oil interests operating extensively in Mexico were concerned in the Madero revolution against Diaz and are the backbone of the Carranza and Villa rebellion against Huerta."

As to the relation between the American armor plate concerns and our professional war criers, I would like to quote from a recent speech of representative Witherspoon of Mississippi, relating to the authorization to build two more battleships. "The big - navy men, many of them officers of our American ships," maintained Congressman Witherspoon, "have belittled our fleet again and again by charging that it was the inferior of the navies of Great Britain and Germany, and other foreign nations of Europe. It has been a continuous program of misrepresentation and falsehood carefully planned in the hope that Congress would appropriate for more battleships." That Congressman Witherspoon is not alone in the National Legislature who entertains such ideas is evidenced by a resolution offered in the House a few days ago by Representative William J. Carey of Wisconsin, which was referred to the Committee on Rules, and reads in part:

"Whereas certain chiefs of the Bureau of Ordnance have made misleading reports to their superiors and to Congress; and

"Whereas our navy and coast defenses are being constructed as recommended by officers who are disloyal to their official oath, and

"Whereas the Armor Trust is being favored by such misleading reports, therefore be it

"Resolved, That the Speaker of the House of Representatives is hereby authorized to appoint a Committee * *. Said Committee is hereby directed to make an investigation of the subject matter embraced, misleading Congress by false reports. Said Committee is also directed to investigate if there has been a conspiracy between the United States officers and the armor manufacturers or other persons in defrauding the country or the government * * *."

I quoted the above to show that the question of an intimate relationship between the activity of the armor plate and other military supply concerns and our militaristic policy seems to be becoming as acute as in the old and militaristic ridden Europe.

My military critic also asks: "Is he (the writer) like so many other peace faddists constitutionally unable to see that the sole purpose of sending armed forces of the United States into Mexico would be to prevent the killing of human beings and that these forces in the highest sense would represent men-conservers?"

Yesterday New York received the bodies of seventeen unfortunate young men whose lives were sacrificed because a man, whom we proclaimed an usurper, had refused the pound of flesh—the required military salute. The lowest estimate of Mexican dead was 200. According to John Reid, "the greater number of those who died were not Mexican soldiers at all; they were Mexican citizens firing from the roofs of their own houses upon a foreign army which invaded their country because some foreign business men whom they had enriched were not satisfied and wanted it all."

Mr. Reid further says that "Our efficient, highly-organized Roman legions will not find the Mexican Army their most determined opponents. It is the peons and their wives, the ignorant, patient, generous race, that has slept for 400 years and is now awake at last and struggling for liberty and self-consciousness, that they will have to shoot. It is the unorganized great mass of the people, without adequate arms or any knowledge of modern warfare—"the embattled farmers," like those who stood at Concord and Lexington—who will be murdered. They will take up their guns with reckless bravery and resist us desperately in the streets and at the doors of their houses. The revolution will be done forever. And the United States will have quenched an awakening race that might one day have loomed great in the world's history. No further comment is necessary. The facts speak for themselves.

This letter may require more space than the Tripod can offer, but the importance of the subject may justify its publication, for what we need now is "Light, more light." —1911.

TRINITY WINS EXCITING GAME.

hard smash over second which scored Mahard and Viano. Baker replaced Swift and stopped the scoring.

Trinity came back with a rush in the eighth and won out. Carpenter singled through short, and on three passed balls by Tomlin, he crossed the plate. Smith drew a pass and stole. An error gave Brand his base and brought Smith home. In its half of the ninth, Norwich could do nothing with Baker, who fanned two of the three men who faced him.

Debating Notes.

The past year has been the first one in the history of the college, for some years past, that the activities of the Debating Association have proven a success. It was the first year of the present system of debating as adopted by the Association and amended at the meeting on Tuesday. The spirit for a re-birth of debating at Trinity developed so late in the fall, that it was impossible to get as large an inter-collegiate schedule as will be secured next year. However, the interclass debates were a great success and showed much spirit and preparation. The juniors came off with the college championship.

It is the desire of the Association that attention of the alumni be again called to the debate with Rutgers held several weeks ago. In this debate the Trinity team made a fine showing and an extremely close debate resulted. A letter has been received from one of the judges complimenting Trinity on her splendid work.

Velvet

THE SMOOTHEST TOBACCO

SOFT in the moony night with pipe and Velvet—that's enjoyment enough for some of us.

Velvet tobacco—the finest leaf in this great tobacco country—hung in big warehouses for over 2 years—a mellowing process impossible to counterfeit—only time, little by little, can change the leaf—eliminate the harshness (you call it bite!). Every puff of Velvet takes over 2 years to produce—no wonder it's good.
