Campbell University

Today's ceremony marks the 121st graduation exercises of Campbell University. Established in 1887 as an academy with a charter-class enrollment of sixteen students, Campbell University has developed into a major university that will enroll more than 9000 students during the 2007 academic year. Students hail from all one-hundred North Carolina counties, fifty states of the United States and fifty-three countries of the world.

Established as a liberal arts college, which initially awarded the associate and bachelor degrees, the academic program of Campbell University was greatly expanded in 1976 when the trustees authorized the establishment of graduate programs in education and business, and the awarding of the Master of Education and Master of Business Administration degrees.

Doctoral programs were authorized by the trustees in 1976 with the establishment of the Norman Adrian Wiggins School of Law and the awarding of the Juris Doctor degree. The Doctor of Pharmacy degree was approved in 1985 with the establishment of the Campbell University School of Pharmacy.

The university's newest and sixth school, The Campbell University Divinity School, was established on October 25, 1995 and enrolled the charter class in August, 1996. In May of 2007, the School will award, for the first time, the Doctor of Ministry degree.

Because of the university's strategic location, Campbell provides educational opportunities for servicemen and women at military installations located at Fort Bragg, Pope Air Force Base, New River Air Base, and Camp Lejeune.

In keeping with the university's commitment to global education, Campbell University students regularly enroll in international programs in Malaysia, Great Britain, France, Italy, and South America. Currently, more than 1000 students from Malaysia are enrolled in Campbell University at Tunku Abdul Rahman College in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia.

Campbell University is committed to the mission of providing its students with a Christian worldview and a charge to be "the salt of the earth and the light of the world." Open to all qualified students, Campbell's student-body includes persons from more than forty different denominations and faiths.

Campbell University is accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools, the American Bar Association, the American Council on Pharmaceutical Education, the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education, the North Carolina Department of Public Instruction, the Professional Golf Association Commission on Education, the Association of Theological Schools, and the Council on Social Work Education.

Throughout its 121 year history, Campbell University has been led by four presidents: Dr. James A. Campbell, Dr. Leslie H. Campbell, Dr. Norman Adrian Wiggins and the current president, Dr. Jerry M. Wallace.

Dr. Norman Adrian Wiggins

Chancellor

Campbell University

For most men, attaining distinction within one professional arena is a lifetime achievement. Achieving prominence in three separate spheres is Herculean. Norman Adrian Wiggins, Chancellor and Professor of Law at Campbell University, has earned national recognition in three circles – the legal profession, higher education and the Baptist denomination.

A native of Burlington, North Carolina, Dr. Wiggins is a veteran of World War II, where he served four years in the United States Marine Corps. After returning from his service to our nation, he began his educational pilgrimage and earned the Associate in Arts degree from Campbell Junior College, the Bachelor of Arts (magna cum laude) from Wake Forest College, the Bachelor of Laws (cum laude) from the Wake Forest College School of Law, and the Master of Law and Doctor of the Science of Law from Columbia University School of Law.

Following a brief career with Planters Bank and Trust, Dr. Wiggins taught law and served as General Counsel at Wake Forest College. On June 6, 1967, Dr. Wiggins assumed the presidency of Campbell College and immediately began charting a course for the institution that would lead to the establishment of one of the outstanding trust management programs in the nation, an award-winning and nationally recognized Army Reserve Officers' Training Corps (ROTC), and the establishment of five professional schools—the Norman Adrian Wiggins School of Law, the Lundy-Fetterman School of Business, the School of Education, the School of Pharmacy, and the Divinity School. He also led in the College's move to university status in 1979.

Under Dr. Wiggins' leadership, Campbell's educational programs were extended beyond Buies Creek as the University was among the first private schools to offer extended education opportunities at military installations, including Fort Bragg, Pope Air Force Base, New River Air Base, and Camp Lejeune. Furthermore, he was a pioneer in the development of international educational programs. His most notable international venture was the creation of the partnership between Campbell University and Tunku Abdul Rahman College in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia – a partnership that now spans more than twenty-five years.

Dr. Wiggins' educational expertise and leadership ability have been recognized and called upon by numerous organizations across North Carolina and the United States. Most notably he has served as president of the North Carolina Association of Independent Colleges and Universities; the National Association of College and University Attorneys; the Association of Presidents of Independent Colleges and Universities; and the North Carolina Association of Colleges and Universities.

A nationally acclaimed legal scholar, specializing in the area of wills and trusts, Dr. Wiggins has written three books, Wills and Administration of Estates in North Carolina, Estates and Trusts, and Trust Functions and Services. A former editor of the North Carolina Will Manual, he has been a contributor to many legal periodicals.

A devoted churchman, Dr. Wiggins has served North Carolina Baptists at the state and national levels. Dr. Wiggins is one of only two Baptist college presidents to serve as president of the North Carolina Baptist State Convention. He has also served as president of the Southern Baptist Sunday School Board and the National Fellowship of Men. Furthermore, he was named one of the Most Influential Baptist Leaders of the Twentieth Century by the Biblical Recorder.

In recognition of his meritorious accomplishments, Dr. Wiggins has received many awards. Included among the long list of honors is the Distinguished Service Awards from The Newcomen Society of America and The National Association of College and University Attorneys; The Commander's Award for Public Service; the International Freedom of Mobility Award; the Order of the Long Leaf Pine Award; and, the John J. Parker Award. He was also named one of the top educational leaders in the state in the book, The North Carolina Century: Tar Heels Who Made a Difference, 1900-2000.

In May 2003, following a thirty-six year tenure as president of Campbell University, Dr. Wiggins retired. In recognition of his exemplary service, the Board of Trustees named Dr. Wiggins Chancellor of the University.

Dr. Wiggins is married to his college sweetheart, Mildred (Millie) Harmon Wiggins.

Algernon Sydney Sullivan Award

For half a century, the Algernon Sydney Sullivan Foundation has worked to perpetuate qualities reflected in the life of the nineteenth century New Yorker, after whom the foundation was named.

Lawyer, devout Christian, mediator, orator, philanthropist, and family man, Algernon Sydney Sullivan, in the words of a friend, "reached out both hands in constant helpfulness to men." And many were touched by him -- from street beggars and Sunday School children to the most powerful businessmen and politicians of the city. With all of them, he commanded affection and respect.

In 1890, three years after his death, a memorial committee (including former President Grover Cleveland among its 77 members) was established. Its members charged themselves with keeping alive the exemplary traits of Mr. Sullivan. When their ranks began to thin in the late 1920's, they passed along the task to the New York Southern Society, of which Sullivan had been the first president. Each year the society's Algernon Sydney Sullivan awards were given to deserving students and outstanding citizens at colleges and universities in the South.

Since 1934, the Algernon Sydney Sullivan Foundation has continued to help both students and worthy institutions. Mr. Sullivan's son, George, never married, and the Sullivans left no direct descendants. Nonetheless, there have been heirs - three generations of scholarship and award recipients across the South. Through them, Algernon Sydney Sullivan and wife Mary Mildred still live and influence the lives of others.

ROBERT J. BRAXTON

Mr. Robert J. Braxton of New Bern, North Carolina is the 2007 student recipient of the Algernon Sydney Sullivan Award. He is graduating summa cum laude, with a major in Trust and Investment Management (Pre-Law) and a minor in Financial Planning.

In addition to maintaining a challenging academic schedule, Robert has been involved in campus life. He has served as SGA Senior Class President (2006-2007), SGA Junior Class Representative (2005-2006), and Adam Smith Club President (2006-2007).

In pursuit of his desire to become an attorney, Robert will be entering the University of Florida's Fredric G. Levin College of Law in Gainesville, Florida. He is the son of Bob and Sharon Braxton.

BRIGADIER GENERAL SUSAN LAWRENCE

Brigadier General Susan Lawrence has been selected to receive the 2007 Algernon Sydney Sullivan Award. A native of Ida Grove, Iowa, General Lawrence began her military career in 1973. In 1979 she graduated from Campbell University with a bachelor's degree in psychology, then continued her education at the University of Georgia, the Army War College, and the Army Command and General Staff College. She is married to Neil Sonne of Titusville, Pennsylvania.

As her distinguished career has progressed, General Lawrence has been highly decorated, with credits including, though not limited to, Superior Service Medal, the Legion of Merit, the Meritorious Service Medal (with 8 Oak Leaf Clusters), and the Army Achievement Medal (with 2 Oak Leaf clusters).

Initially commissioned as a second lieutenant in 1979, following a series of promotions, in 2000 she assumed command of the 7th Signal Brigade in Germany. In her current assignment as Director of Command, Control, Communications and Computer Systems at the U. S. Central Command at MacDill Air Force Base, General Lawrence is responsible for providing communications and information systems for U. S. forces operating in Afghanistan, Iraq and 25 other countries in the command's area of operations. She has recently been selected to take over as Commanding General, 5th Signal Command/Deputy of Staff, G-06, United States Army Europe and Seventh Army, Germany.

The Academic Procession

The centuries-old pageantry of the academic procession dates from ancient traditions rooted in the early universities. Since the first academic ceremonies were predominantly the charge of clergy, they followed the familiar order of the religious procession: the younger and newer groups preceded the older. The highest honor was to be placed at the end of the procession.

Today's academic procession, in order of appearance, is composed of the candidates for degrees, members of the faculty; members of the Board of Trustees; members of the Presidential Board of Advisors; and members of the platform party.

The Presidential Medallion

The Presidential Medallion and Chain were commissioned by the trustees and designed by John Satterfield of Greenville, North Carolina.

The Chain bears six seals representing the different stages of the academic growth of Campbell University from an academy to a university, along with the seals of the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina and Tunku Abdul Rahman College of Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia.

The Medallion represents the design of the University Mace. The University Seal is supported by two flanges and supports the Celtic Cross. The Presidential Medallion and Chain are symbols of the office of the President of Campbell University.

The Campbell University Mace

An academic custom that originated in the sixteenth century is part of today's commencement ceremonies. The academic procession is led by the Commencement Marshal, carrying the official Mace of Campbell University. Although not as ornate as the first Mace presented by Queen Elizabeth I to Oxford University in 1589, the Campbell University Mace is steeped in tradition and purpose.

The Campbell University Mace, a gift to the University by the Board of Trustees, was designed by John Satterfield of Greenville, North Carolina.

The design of the Mace incorporates features signifying the Christian purpose of Campbell University. The Mace's boss is a Sphere topped by the Celtic Cross and supported by six flanges. The Celtic Cross represents the early and continuing faith of the Christians who settled the Cape Fear Region and who were instrumental in establishing Campbell University.

The Sphere represents the world which Campbell University is committed to serve, through sons and daughters of the alma mater, and the daily work of the faculty and staff of the University. The flanges represent the support of friends, churches, foundations, institutions, alumni and the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina. The seals within the flanges represent the history of Campbell University since its inception in 1887 and are the authority under which the University bestows degrees.

Originally an instrument for battle, the Mace has a fascinating history in academic ceremonies. In 1589, the first record of a mace being awarded to a university occurred when Queen Elizabeth I visited Oxford University. At a special convocation held in her honor, the students, speaking in Latin, were lavish in their praise and flattery of the Queen, pretending to love her. They assumed she was unfamiliar with Latin. As a gesture of her thanks, Queen Elizabeth I stood and gave an eloquent speech in flawless Latin and presented Oxford with her royal mace.

The second record of a mace being presented to a university was in 1629 when King Charles I presented his royal Mace to Cambridge. Thereafter it became customary, in the British Isles and throughout Europe, for the mace to be used at all ceremonial academic occasions. In the United States, the mace came into use during the nineteenth century when academic ceremonies were modeled on European customs and became more elaborate.

Today's bearer of the mace is Shahriar Mostashari, Professor, Lundy-Fetterman School of Business.

Campbell University Purpose

Campbell University is a university of the liberal arts, sciences, and professions which is committed to helping students develop an integrated Christian personality characterized by a wholeness of body, mind and spirit that includes a method of critical judgment; an appreciation of the intellectual, cultural, and religious heritage; stewardship of the body; and a sensitive awareness of the world and society in which they live and work with persons.

Campbell University is a Baptist university affiliated with the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina. Both in and out of the classroom, the University endeavors to present Christian principles to students and to foster their application to daily life.

The purpose of Campbell University arises out of three basic theological and Biblical presuppositions: learning is appointed and conserved by God as essential to the fulfillment of human destiny; in Christ all things consist and find ultimate unity; and the Kingdom of God in this world is rooted and grounded in Christian community.

Therefore, the mission of Campbell University, as a community of Christian scholars, is to:

- Provide students with a Christian world view;
- Bring the word of God, Mind of Christ, and Power of the Spirit to bear in developing moral courage, social sensitivity, and ethical responsibility that will inspire a productive and faithful maturation as individuals and as citizens;
- Transfer from one generation to the next the vast body of knowledge and values accumulated over the ages;
- Encourage creativity, imagination, and rigor in the use of intellectual skills;
- Affirm the University's commitment to the belief that truth is never one-dimensional but in wholeness is revelatory, subjective, and transcendent as well as empirical, objective, and rational, and that all truth finds its unity in the mind of Christ;
- Frame University teaching in the context of a liberal arts education seeking to free persons to live more abundantly and securely in an ever-changing social order;
- Foster stewardship in nurturing the gifts of the mind and in developing aesthetic sensibilities;
- Equip students with superior vocational skills, productive insights, and professional integrity;
- Provide a community of learning that is committed to the pursuit, discovery, and dissemination of knowledge to serve the region as well as national and international communities;
- Prepare students for purposeful lives and Christian service throughout the world through undergraduate, graduate, and professional instruction including terminal graduate and professional programs;
- Provide services to the general community through research efforts, continuing education, cultural enrichment programs, and extended campus education;
- Cooperate with other educational institutions for the advancement of mankind.

This University sees the human vocation as living by faith under grace, with no conflict between the life of faith and the life of inquiry.

THE STAR-SPANGLED BANNER

Oh, say can you see, by the dawn's early light
What so proudly we hail'd at the twilight's last gleaming!
Whose broad stripes and bright stars thro' the perilous fight
O'er the ramparts we watch'd were so gallantly streaming,
And the rockets' red glare, the bombs bursting in air
Gave proof thro' the night that our flag was still there.

Chorus

Oh! say, does that star spangled banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free, and the home of the brave!

LEAD ON, O KING ETERNAL

Lead On, O King Eternal, The day of march has come;
Henceforth in fields of conquest, Thy tents shall be our home;
Through days of preparation, Thy grace has made us strong,
And Now, O King Eternal, We lift our battle song.

Lead On, O King Eternal, We follow not with fears;
For gladness breaks like morning, Where'er Thy face appears;
Thy cross is lifted o'er us; We journey in its light,
Thy crown awaits the conquest; Lead On, O God of Might. Amen

ALMA MATER

We hail our gracious Alma Mater Singing this glad refrain
We'll honor her with all our might, And cherish every vein.

Chorus

Come and sing to dear ol' Campbell, Pledge a tribute too.
We'll praise her for all her merit, And honor her with truth
We yield to her our true allegiance, Raising her banner high.
We'll stand with her thru peace and strife, Her name will never die.

The Tradition of Academic Attire

Academic festivals, like today's commencement ceremonies, have their roots in medieval Europe. Medieval institutions of higher learning customarily were operated by monastic orders where students, as well as their instructors, wore monk's habits. In 1321, the University of Coimbra (Portugal) required all bachelors, licentiates (masters), and doctors of theology to wear monastic gowns — the first such recorded injunction. It is still the custom of students and instructors at the ancient universities of the British Isles - Oxford, Edinburgh, Aberdeen, and St. Andrews — to wear their gowns to lectures and in their daily affairs.

Originally, the hood was a head covering, the monk's tippet, and was worn by holders of either a master's or a doctoral degree. When caps came into fashion during the fifteenth century, the hoods were draped down the back and ornamented with rich silk or velvet linings and edgings.

The cap was first conferred as a symbol of the master's degree and varied greatly in style from institution to institution. Some were stiff, some soft, some square, and still others round. All were decorated with a tuft at the center; today's tassel is an elaboration of that tuft. The mortarboard style, generally followed throughout the United States, was borrowed from Oxford University, where the flat-topped cap is customarily worn by those holding the Master of Arts degree.

In the United States, the practice of wearing academic dress dates from 1754, when King George II chartered King's College (now Columbia University) and transferred the academic regulations from the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge. Colonial colleges, however, rejected the scarlet robes of the English institutions in favor of black ones as preferred by Puritan clergy.

During most of the nineteenth century, American colleges and universities had no standard style of academic dress. Only rarely did undergraduates wear gowns during commencement exercises. Many faculty wore the garb of the English institutions where they received their degree, while others wore robes of their own, often eccentric, design. Few faculty wore hoods and mortarboards. These were assumed to be articles of ecclesiastical dress, more appropriate for bishops than professors.

In 1895, a commission of leading American educators, mostly from the Ivy League colleges, was established to devise a standard for academic attire. As a result, black was adopted as the standard for academic robes. Undergraduates were required to wear a simple, unadorned black robe with a mortarboard and black tassel. Candidates for the degree of Master of Arts were required to wear a simple robe with the sleeves cut through exposing the hands and lower arms. Holders of the doctorate were to wear full robes with full sleeves. Panels of velvet down the front and on chevrons appearing on the sleeves gave them a more richly ornamented appearance.

The hoods of those receiving graduate degrees vary in shape and size. The larger, more heavily decorated hood signifies the doctoral degree. The trimming around the edge of the hood varies in color and designates the particular discipline of the degree holder. The colors used in the satin linings are drawn, customarily, from the official colors of the granting institution. The linings in hoods conferred by Campbell University are orange and black.

The American Council on Education established official colors for academic fields and include: white for arts and letters; scarlet for theology or divinity; drab for business administration, commerce and accountancy; copper for economics; light blue for education; brown for fine arts; purple for law; lemon for library science; green for medicine; silver gray for oratory; dark blue for philosophy; sage green for physical education; yellow-gold for science; citron for social science; and pink for music. The colors from select institutions from which Campbell University faculty hold degrees are identified in the following list:
