Promotions in academic rank for 18 members of the University of Dayton faculty--effective in September--were announced on the campus today (Wednesday, Feb. 26).

Two were named to the top rank of professor: Dr. Edward Harkenrider of the department of philosophy, and Dr. Betty J. Thomas of music.

Elevated to associate professorships were Sister M. Audrey Bourgeois, Sister M. Felicitas Riley, and Dr. Ellis Joseph, education; Dr. Norman George, management; Dr. Darwin Hunt, psychology; and Dr. Max Willis, chemical engineering.

Moving up to assistant professorships are Dr. Eulalio Baltazar, philosophy; Dr. Leroy Eid and John Kutolowski, history; Harvey J. Hilaski, economics; Dr. Elsie Panakal and Gerald Kinneavy, English; Brother Raymond Nartker, director of libraries; Jozef Patyk, political science; Dr. Joseph Walsh, chemistry; and Gerald Willis, biology.

The two new professors are long-time members of the UD faculty.

Dr. Harkenrider, a native of Fort Wayne, Ind., came to the University in 1952 after winning his doctorate in philosophy at the Catholic University of America. He advanced to assistant professorship in 1953 and to associate professor in 1958. He's been active on the campus as adviser to foreign students and as a member of the faculty forum. He resides at 4861 Tanglewood Drive.

HEAD

Four new members have been appointed to the faculty of the School of Education at the University of Dayton, Very Rev. Raymond A. Roesch, S.M., UD president, announced Tuesday.

Named assistant professors were Sister M. Audrey Bourgeois, C.P.P.S., and Helen K. Barbour of East Lansing, Mich. Sister Margaret Telscher, S.N.D., and Ellis A. Joseph of Windsor, N.C., were named instructors.

Sister Audrey, who has her doctorate from the Catholic University of America, was an instructor at St. Joseph's College, Indiana, since 1959 and lectured at the Catholic University in 1958. From 1939 to 1959, she held various teaching and supervisory positions in elementary and secondary schools staffed by the Sisters of the Precious Blood.

Miss Barbour has taught at Keuka College, N.Y., and Michigan State University, and served as chairman of the department of physical education at Alma College, Mich., from 1959 to 1960. She has her master's degree from the University of Michigan and is working toward her doctorate there.

Sister Margaret has her master's degree from Fordham University and has been in teaching and supervisory positions in schools of the Sisters of Notre Dame since 1931.

Joseph has his master's degree from the University of Notre Dame and is a candidate for a doctorate there. From 1959 to 1960 he taught at Robersonville (N.C.) high school.
