DAYTON, Ohio, May 20, 1974 --- Christians preach peace. They also preach freedom. Can we have both?

This and other questions will be examined at the twentieth annual convention of the College Theology Society, May 31 - June 2, 1974, at the University of Dayton. The convention's theme will be "Liberation, Revolution, and Freedom."

Peace studies, the black manifesto, and social transformation will be among the subjects discussed during the three-day session. The opening day will be highlighted by two panel discussions: "The Quiet Revolution in Public Education Religious Studies" and "Ministry and Liberation: The College and the Magisterium in the Ecumenical Church."

The College Theology Society is a professional organization of college and university professors of religious studies in the United States and Canada.

Registration for the program begins 11:30 A.M. Friday, May 31. Other registration information is contained in the enclosed brochure.
