ETHNOMUSICOLOGIST TO LECTURE AT UD ON LATIN AMERICAN MUSIC

DAYTON, Ohio — Ethnomusicologist Max H. Brandt will discuss Latin American music in its sociocultural context in a lecture at 7:30 p.m. on Thursday, Feb. 10, in the Sears Recital Hall in the Jesse Philips Humanities Building as part of the University of Dayton's 1993-94 Latin American Arts Series sponsored by the Center for International Programs.

Examples of music will accompany the lecture, which is free and open to the public.

Brandt has performed research in numerous Latin American countries. He has published several works including four articles in 1993 in the Garland Encyclopedia of World Music discussing music in Latin America as well as a piece in The Universe of Music: A History.

Brandt studied at the University of Southern Maine and served in the Peace Corps as a research assistant to a British ethnomusicologist at the Institute of Education at the University of Ibadan in Nigeria. He earned his master's degree from the Institute of Ethnomusicology, University of California at Los Angeles. He earned his doctorate in ethnomusicology from The Queen's University of Belfast in Northern Ireland in 1979.

Brandt attended a nine-month course in Latin American and Caribbean ethnomusicology at the Inter-American Institute of Ethnomusicology and Folklore in Caracas, Venezuela. He performed research in Venezuela, Mexico, Panama, Trinidad and Tobago,
