WE ARE

UD

The one when after March Madness our logo changed

The class of 2015 has seen its fair share of changes at UD. We have witnessed Dr. Dan stepping down from presidency, a new athletic logo, and major chapel renovations. The invention of the UDCrashes twitter account paired with the predictable nights at Timothy's Bar is a classic example of changes mixed with comforting familiarity. UD will always be a place where you can come from any state (or country) and bond with your floormates freshman year. A place that fosters service, leadership and personal growth. There is undeniably a spirit about this place. Whether its volunteering at Christmas on Campus, studying at "Club Roesch," playing intramural volleyball, or eating late night Cousin Vinny's with your roommates, its safe to say our cherished moments will be continued by classes to come. Most importantly, in five, ten, twenty years we hope you look back on this time and think about your F.R.I.E.N.D.S.

Every year, the end of August signals the start of New Student Orientation (NSO) for UD's newest freshman class. These four jam-packed days are filled with team meetings, new student convocation, and endless ice breaker games. The weather was smoldering hot, especially during move-in and Up the Orgs (pictured below), but that didn't slow down the new students - they finished moving in and headed straight to the RecPlex to meet their orientation group and leader who would be with them for the next four days.

Despite the busy and tiring activities, the majority of the freshman class ends NSO with a few more friends than when they started. This marks the beginning of their UD memories, and as they get closer to graduation, they might find themselves wishing to be back in that gym at the RecPlex, reciting the Commitment 2 Community pledge for the first time and preparing to embark on their four-year journey at UD.

Every year in September, the University invites the families of their students to join them for a weekend. It allows the students to show their parents, siblings, cousins, or any relative a good time around UD's campus, whether that includes the pre-planned activities or just hanging out in the Student Neighborhood. The weekend of September 19 marked family weekend this year, and many families came to enjoy a football game, pancake breakfast, and many other events put on by the university and student organizations.

Secret to your relationship: Not only open communication, but to be very attentive to how you communicate. What also makes our relationship work is that we have complete respect, loyalty, and trust for one another, and of course an overwhelming amount of love. Also, we're able to be 100% our weird, goofy selves. Its absolutely necessary to have your significant other the person you can always count on to make you laugh and let you be yourself.

"Freshman year, Kayla Mueller, Christine Caldera, and I wanted to do something for Christine's birthday. Christine decided to go to Masque because that's what you did when you're 19 and it's a Wednesday and you want to feel slightly rebellious. We decided to make it a theme night, even though the club didn't really have a theme. We dressed up like stereotypical lax bros - pinny's, basketball shorts, headbands, etc. We took so long getting ready and it was even funnier considering how lanky I was / am. We then got a cab to get us over there and it was absolutely freezing but I don't think we noticed because we were laughing so hard. We then get to Masque and the bouncer says nothing but "No." We looked at each other and flagged down the cab and got him to take us back to campus. We got dressed in normal clothes in about one minute and ran down to the cab again. We still can't believe we got rejected." - Jack Raisch

The UD Speaker Series invited Sister Helen Prejean to speak at the RecPlex about her experiences and the fight to end capital punishment. The opera based off of her book Dead Man Walking came to the Schuster Center via the Dayton Opera and UD students were offered free tickets to the dress rehearsal. Both of these events provided for an educational and fun opportunity for UD students to learn about the effects of capital punishment through Sister Helen's experiences and lecture.

1995—2015:

Arguably the biggest change of the year was UD's debut of the new logo. The logo caused plenty of controversy among the student body and even the faculty. However, it looks like it's here to stay.

1987—2015:

While the Flyers have certainly made their own basketball history since 1987, the spirit and camaraderie between teammates obviously has not changed.

In 1985, students hang out on the balcony of 114 Lawnview Avenue, but after remodeling, the house in 2015 looks a lot different. Plenty of houses in the student neighborhood have undergone a similar transformation since the university bought them.

2014—2015:

Work in progress! The class of 2015 has been able to watch the transformation of the chapel before their own eyes, as they change their normal route to class in order to avoid construction. The transformation is not yet complete and construction continues until August 2015.

The ROTC program at UD is one of the oldest in the country, as it was founded in 1917. The mission statement of this program is to create better leaders and citizens of it's graduates, in and out of the classroom.

My experiences through the Army have shaped me as a leader and as a man. I've been to Thailand, shot a tank, and I've had the chance to use what I've learned to develop those under me. I've made eleven of the closest friends I could have ever wanted with my classmates and I've learned from some of the Army's best leaders.

RESERVE OFFICERS' TRAINING CORPS

The cadets of the program undergo daily training sessions, the Army physical fitness test, a combat water survival test, and First Aid training (all are pictured to the right). The hard work put into this training provides these students and cadets with the power to be better leaders and citizens in not just UD's community, but in the rest of the world.

For the tenth year in a row, the women's volleyball team had a successful season and landed a spot in the NCAA tournament. The Flyers went 30-6 overall and 13-1 in the Atlantic-10 and they defeated George Washington to claim the A-10 title. The team lost to Penn State (eventual nationals champions) in the second round of the NCAA tournament.

The 2014 season was a very successful run for the UD football squad, who finished overall 8-3 and 6-2 in the Pioneer Football League conference. The team was very successful, but individually senior Connor Kasor was record-breaking. He surpassed Sylvester Monroe in all-time career rushing yards in Dayton football history. This type of success is how the team tied for second place in the PFL.

SCHEDULE

"We have been able to build a true brotherhood that will last way longer than our playing days. We never got to reach our main goal of winning a conference championship, but in my eyes we are still a program of winners." —Shaq Tensley

The women's basketball team made UD history this year, as the first team to make it to the Elite 8 in the NCAA tournament. Along with this team success, two of the players, Ally Mallot and Andrea Hoover, were drafted into the WNBA, marking the first time in history that women basketball players have been drafted. With an overall record of 28-7, the team finished 12th in the nation and completed one of the most successful seasons in program history.

The 2014-15 UD men's basketball team had another successful run, eventually losing in the third round of March Madness. The team ended the season with an overall record of 27-9, despite constantly being reminded that they didn't have a player over the height of 6-foot-6. The Flyers were led this season by popular head coach Archie Miller.

The women on the UD softball team this season accomplished great success, with an overall record of 39-14. They earned the program's first Atlantic-10 regular season title and a record number of four women were named NFCA All-Region. The team went undefeated at home and broke the record for overall wins in the season with 39. It was a season to go down in history.

The 2014-15 UD baseball team had a tough season, finishing with an overall record of 16-38. But that doesn't mean there weren't any accomplishments—the team achieved a perfect score from the Academic Progress Rate and led the Atlantic-10 and all Ohio schools. The Flyers continue to show aptitude on and off the baseball diamond.

This year's women's tennis team made significant progress, finishing the season 8-9; a big improvement over last year's 4-15. There were a number of very close matches, and the team thrilled fans in its win over St. Louis in the first round of the A-10 championships. Freshman Marlys Bridgham and Jackie Kawamoto were named to the 2015 Atlantic 10 All-Conference.

The UD cheerleading squad is made up of men and women, who participate in the fall during football season and the winter for basketball season. While the team is only considered a club sport by the university, it is clear that these athletes must perform stunts that are of high difficulty but look effortless. The co-ed team is comprised of 12 boys and 27 girls who cheer for home football, women's basketball, and men's basketball games.

FOOTBALL AND BASKETBALL

There are two parts to UD's cheerleading program: a co-ed team and an all-girl's stunt group. All members are held to a high standard on the sidelines and in the classroom, as each member is required to hold a 2.5 cumulative GPA. There are also standards of integrity and excellence that each student is expected to meet through out the academic year.
