AUTLC March 2018

Presenters: Andrew J. Rice & Brian Urias – Andrews University

Title: Bring your online students closer: Instructional Design Tips to Create Engaging Videos.

How can online students feel inclusive and engaged in their learning environment? This presentation will focus on the techniques and tips of creating engaging educational videos with your laptop, cell phone or other type of video device. This session will address ways to create more interactive and interesting online experiences for students through the use of instructional videos. It will also discuss best practices for creating engaging online learning and establishing a supportive online course community.