PEDS WILL PLAY VALLEY CITY HERE

GAME BETWEEN VALLEY CITY AND M. S. T. C. WILL DECIDE CHAMPIONSHIP

The Peds will meet the Valley City Teachers College here on the 11th of November in the final game of the season for the local aggregation.

The winner of the struggle will be returned the conference champions. If Valley City wins they will have a clear title, and if the Peds win they will go into a tie for first place with Jamestown.

The Vikings are boasting the best eleven ever turned out at that place and are confident of turning the Peds back. Ped supporters are just as confident of victory. A special train has been chartered by the loyal supporters of the Vikings to witness and cheer their team to victory.

Gates, for four years the right tackle; F. Nemzek, end for four years; George Edwards, end and backfield for four years; Baldwin, backfield for three years; "Jelly" Erickson, captain, guard and center for three years and "Ron" Byler, two years at quarterback, are playing their final game of football for the M. S. T. C., and they hope to play a game that they will be remembered by the students of the college.

Coach Nemzek expects the student body of the school to turn out en masse for the contest to help his clan beat the invaders from Valley City. The game will no doubt be the hardest fought conference game and the local boys will need the support of the students to win the battle.

MR. CLARK WILL SPEAK AT CHAPEL TUESDAY

There will be a special chapel meeting on Tuesday at 10:10, at which time Mr. Badger Clark, famous lecturer, "Cowboy Poet," author of the book, "Sun and Saddle Leather," will speak.

Many of Mr. Clark's poems have become folk songs of the West for they speak of freedom and the open. Beyond his wonderful presentation of the West is the equality of universal appeal that makes his work real art. He has tied the West to the Universe.

Mr. Clark is coming to the college under the auspices of the Minnesota Public Health Association.

MISS LOMMEN SPENT WEEK AT ST. LOUIS

Miss Lommen has returned from a week spent in St. Louis, Mo., at an institute for the Missouri League of Nursing Education. While in St. Louis she visited Hosmer Hall, a fine private school for girls of the city, and the John Burroughs school, a co-educational day school, operating under a very distinctive program with health education, science, and the classics as major interests. She also visited Harris Teachers College, one of the oldest teacher-training schools in the United States. After September, 1927, Harris Teachers College will offer only a four-year course of training for teachers in Missouri. The college has at present an enrollment of less than four hundred students working on courses toward degrees. Miss Lommen was personally satisfied that Moorhead State Teachers College has as good an institution if not a better one than any one she saw on her trip.

COUNTRY LIFE CLUB PRESENTS PROGRAM

A Hallowe'en program was presented by a committee of the Country Life Club in the Junfor High School Assembly rooms on Tuesday evening at 6:45 P. M. Elsie Hanson was in charge of the program.

The following numbers were given:

1. Medley of Southern Songs.
2. Review of article on Rural Life in American Fiction.
3. Reading from "My Antonia," Hilda Beug.
4. Ghost Song and Drill.
5. Reading, "Witches Soup," Maarilla Dodds.

VARIETY OF STUNTS STAGED BY SCHOOL ORGANIZATIONS AT HALLOWE'EN PARTY

Ghosts, cowboys, cowgirls, Indians, brides, grooms, knights, doctors, and nurses formed part of the guests and entertainers at the all-college Hallowe'en party staged by the Freshman class last Friday evening in the gymnasium.

Corn shocks, witches, cats, and pumpkins were used to effect the Hallowe'en spirit in the decorating, while the usual dignity of the student body as prospective teachers was routed when the guests formed a single line and passed to the end of the gymnasium to receive apples and "Halloways."

It was decided by popular applause that the Freshman class had put on the best stunt, with the W. A. L. a close second. The Freshman stunt was a pantomime entitled, "Wild Nell, the Pet of the Plains."

The W. A. L. put on a football game between the small girls and the larger girls of the organization. No score was announced as the teams got mixed up in the last quarter and played basketball.

The Sophomore class presented an original parody-pantomime on Scott's "Lochinvar." The roles of Lochinvar and his bride were taken by Benjamin Rosen and Betty Ranger.

A "take-off" on the faculty and certain members of the student body was given by the Country Life Club.

Roy Petrie was successfully operated on and had his heart (a valentine) his leg (a shoe) and his spinal cord (a long rope) removed as a result of a collapse caused by the information concerning his election to Lambda Phi Sigma. Oscar Haugh officiated as surgeon and was assisted by Miss Lois Pennie as nurse.

It is rumored that in consequence of the gym exhibition given by the League of Women Voters, Miss Frick plans to incorporate some of the ideas in the work of the physical education department.

Novel dance steps were exhibited in a dance given by Miss Dolly and Mr. Doll from the Kappa Pi.

The Arion Club was represented by a vocal solo, "I Am Looking at the World Through Rose-Colored Glasses" and a dance by Katherine Dunham.

The remainder of the evening was given over to informal dancing. Music was furnished by the College Orchestra.

PEDS AND COBBERS WILL CLASH TO-DAY

BOTH AGGREGATIONS WILL FIGHT TO BREAK TIE OF PREVIOUS YEARS

The most important game on either the Cobber or Ped schedule will be played this afternoon at 2:40 P. M. The keen rivalry that exists between the two schools is so well known as ready that that side of the issue will not be mentioned in these columns. Although the rivalry is as keen as it is, the gridiron battles that the two schools have been engaged in have always been clean, but hard fought.

The last three annual encounters that these rivals have met in, have resulted in scoreless ties. What the outcome of today's battle will be cannot be predicted in any way, shape or manner because of the hard fight that will be put up by both teams.

The Peds will all be in excellent shape for the battle, the rest since the Mayville tussle having done them a world of good. Ringdahl, who has been in battered condition since the first game, will be in the best condition of the season against the Cobbers. Zech, fullback, whose arm and shoulder has bothered him considerably since the St. Cloud battle, will be all set and ready to go this afternoon. The rest of the squad are all in good shape and Nemzek's clan should be ready to play the game of their lives.

This being the last game in which many of the Peds will face the Cobbers they are determined to make it a win. The boys have been pointing towards this encounter all season and are ready to make the most of it. Coach Nemzek has been working hard this fall to get his men into the proper spirit for this fray and this afternoon will tell how well he has succeeded.

Every man on the Ped squad is assuring the world at large that this year will be M. S. T. C. year and the belief is becoming quite general that they are not so far off!

George Edwards, who has been out since the first game of the year with a broken collarbone, will be back in uniform this afternoon ready to do his part. This will give Coach Nemzek two quarterbacks for the contest. The probable lineup for the battle will be F. Nemzek and Mattson, ends; Gates and Ringdahl, tackles; Erickson and Townsend, guards; Smith, center; Baldwin and C. Nemzek, halfbacks; Zech, fullback, and Byler or Edwards, quarterback.

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS MEET

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS HELD POLITICAL RALLY AT AUDITORIUM MONDAY

A political rally, under the direction of the League of Women Voters, was held at the auditorium, Monday evening, November 1, at 7:30. Miss Helen Vigen, the president of the organization, presided at the meeting.

An interesting talk on "Law Enforcement" was given by County Attorney Hammett. He said that the average individual is little concerned in law enforcement until some situation brings the issue directly to his attention. He brought out the fact that our laws are more fair, in any controversy between a person and a state by giving an equal contest, than those of any other country. Our government is created for the sake of the individual and protection is guaranteed him by the fundamental law of the land, our constitution.

Mr. Hammett also mentioned the crime wave that is sweeping over our country. He said that about 10,000 homicides are committed in our country every year. Chicago, alone, averages one murder a day. Why should life be 20 times safer in Holland than in our own country? He ended his talk by saying that law enforcement in our country rests not upon some officer—but upon its citizens.

Short discussions upon the three proposed amendments for our state constitution were given by Myrtle Rennacker, Rosella Lyttleton, and Ralph Smith.

WHERE DO I STAND?

That is a question each one of us must answer as the close of the term draws near. With the end of the term comes the grades. It rests with you whether your mark will be A or E.

EXTRA-CURRICULAR ACTIVITIES

With the coming of the junior high school with its broader educational program the extra-curricular activities of the child in the senior as well as in the junior high school have been of growing importance, until at the present time many superintendents in selecting teachers say they want only teachers who are proficient in some line of work outside of the regular classroom teaching.

The following are some of the activities asked for by superintendents: the ability to direct assembly singing and glee clubs, to play the piano, or to direct an orchestra; ability to organize and direct a school paper, literary clubs, debates, class plays, declamatory and oratorical contests; ability to direct various athletic activities, or to lead boy or girl scout troops; knowledge of the organization of parent-teacher societies and social clubs.

Our college life is organized to meet this very definite need in the training of prospective teachers. Every student can, therefore, elect the activity in which he has the greatest interest or greatest measure of skill and capitalize his ability to meet the demands of the very near future.

INTELLIGENCE TEST NO. 1

- Allow us to present the first of our series of tests. If thou failst, thou hadst best go hang thyself. Read thither: 1. What is the name of the father of John D. Rockefeller, Jr.? 2. Diphtheria germs produce what disease? 3. What tree has apple blossoms? 4. What rodents are caught in rat traps? 5. Which of the Siamese twins is older? 6. What abbreviation is used to represent Mr.? 7. By what is an electric trolley car propelled? 8. For what students are Freshman examinations intended? 9. What shape was King Arthur's Round Table? 10. What is used to cork a bottle? 11. What powerful anaesthetic is for chloroforming patients? 12. How many feet has a carnivorous quadruped? 13. On what day of the month is the Fourth of July? —Exchange.

WE WONDER WHY:

Mr. Hamrin never cracks a joke. The girls think that there are too many boys in school. Student teachers never have any work to do. Mr. Bridges doesn't lecture more. The library is always so quiet. Miss Hayes is never in a hurry. Benjamin Rosen won't look at a girl. The students weep when they don't have daily tests.

PERFECT WISDOM

PLATO

Perfect wisdom hath four parts, viz: Wisdom, the principle of doing things right; justice, the principle of doing things equally well in public and private; fortitude, the principle of not flying danger, but meeting it; and temperance, the principle of subduing desires, and living moderately. —The Eastern.

NOT SO DENSE

"I think the children aren't as observing as they should be," said the inspector to the teacher. "I hadn't noticed," replied the teacher. "Well, I'll prove it to you," and turning to the class the inspector said, "Someone give me a number." "Thirty-seven," said a little boy eagerly. The inspector wrote seventy-three on the board and nothing was said. "Will someone else give me a number?" "Fifty-two," said another lad. The inspector wrote down twenty-five and smiled at the teacher. He called for another number and young Pat called out, "Seventy-seven—and now see if you can change that." CHILDREN'S BOOK WEEK

Children's book week was originated in 1919 by the American Bookseller's Association, the American Library Association, the Boy Scouts of America, and Associated Publishers. It has become, in seven years, a national annual campaign which thousands of communities use to stimulate interest in boys' and girls' books. During Children's Book Week schools, libraries, bookstores, parent-teachers' associations, clubs, churches, magazines and newspapers and innumerable organizations the country over, turn the attention of children and their parents to books; books to read and to own.

The Library of M. S. T. C. is preparing a fine exhibit of children's books which will be on display Book Week, November 8 to 13. Publishers of children's books have made many generous contributions for this exhibit and their sample books added to the splendid collection which constitutes the children's section of the Library, promise a display that will be a delight and inspiration to all who see it.

OUR TRAINING SCHOOL

Mr. Bridges gave an interesting address on the life of Theodore Roosevelt at the regular meeting of The Little Citizens Club.

Individual graphs are being used to show the children the progress they are making with their arithmetic work books. The children are showing much pleasure as their graphs are progressing upward. The work books deal with the four fundamental processes of arithmetic and serves as a thorough review of them.

The Intermediate Department entertained the student teachers and supervisors at a Hallowe'en party last Friday. The Intermediate Department co-operated with the Domestic Science Department to show the proper way of cooking and serving foods. The students made the place cards, decorations, and refreshments which consisted of ice cream, wafers, and hot chocolate.

The Kindergarten is working on a grocery store project. The children are already looking forward to the buying and selling of groceries.

The Second grade drawing class is working on posters for book week.

The Primary Department had a Hallowe'en party on Friday afternoon.

COURSE OFFERED IN COLLEGE GEOMETRY

A course in College Geometry is to be given for the first time during the winter term. The purpose is to extend the field of Geometry in somewhat the same way in which College Algebra extends the field of Elementary Algebra so that students interested in mathematics may have more knowledge of Geometry than that gained in the tenth grade, and that they may be prepared to teach it if there should be need or opportunity to do so.

Knowledge of Solid Geometry is not necessary for this course. The subject matter of Plane Geometry will be reviewed with some attention to modern methods of teaching the subject, and some more advanced work will be done.

THE NEWBERRY MEDAL

The fifth Newberry medal has been awarded to Arthur B. Chrisman for his story, "Shen of the Sea."

The Newberry medal is awarded each year by vote of the Children's Librarians' Section of the American Library Association for the most distinguished contribution to literature for children from the pen of an American writer.

The first Newberry medal was awarded to Hendrick Willem Van Loon for his "Story of Mankind" published in 1921. Of books published in 1922, the award was given to Hugh Lofting for his "Voyages of Dr. Dolittle." Charles Boardman Hawes was awarded the third Newberry medal for his book "The Dark Frigate." Last year the prize-winning book was "Tales from Silver Lands" by Charles J. Finger.

Copies of all these books are in the juvenile section of the M. S. T. C. library and will be included in the exhibition during book week.

Art little. Do thy little well, and for thy, comfort know great men can do their greatest work no better than just so. —Goethe.

"Feed the brute on time." This is one of the most important keys to successful married life as revealed by Mr. Hamrin in his fifth hour psychology class last Friday. This counsel was imparted to the girls because of the absence of the masculine members of the class. The girls have already thanked Mr. Hamrin for his timely advice.

POETRY AN OPEN GATE

"What is it to hate poetry? It is to have no little dreams and fancies, no holy memories of golden days, to be unmoved by serene midsummer evenings or dawn over wild lands, singing or sunshine, little tales told by the fire a long while since, glow worms and briar rose; for of all things and more is poetry made. It is to be cut off forever from the fellowship of great men that are gone; to see men and women without halos and the world without its glory; to miss the meaning lurking behind the common things, like elves hiding in bowers; it is to beat one's hands all day against the gates of Fairyland and to find that they are shut and the country empty and its kings gone hence."—Lord Dunsany.

SOCIAL SCIENCE FACTS (?)

Due to the weighting down of our social science courses with so much of the non-essentials, it has been thought wise to make a study of the situation with the view of designating certain important facts to be taught. When such yokels as Washington, Jefferson, and Abe Lincoln get most of the space it is necessary to revise the textbooks and courses. It is with this purpose that a painstaking study of the situation has been made. Dewey says to teach the child the facts he will need in life. We consider the following facts as near a perfect list of the things a student will need to know as can be made. Such famous periodicals as "Life," "True Confessions" and "College Humor" give us our source of information. Here are the results:

J. H. POWERS' CHILDREN WIN SCHOLARSHIPS

A letter from Mr. J. H. Powers, former head of our music department, announces a recent achievement of his two children, Dudley and Dorothea. Dudley played before the Juillard Musical Foundation and won a full fellowship placing him at the Curtis Institute under the eminent cellist instructor, Felix Salmond. Dorothea has begun her second year of violin with Leopold Auer.

Mr. and Mrs. Powers, with their four children, appeared here at a concert during the summer session.

BOOK WEEK

The fourth grade art class have made individual library card files of books which they have read. In club work the children have been reading favorite books giving reports on them in an attempt to "sell" their book to the rest of the group. The library period is given to the children that they may browse in the children's section and select a book to read during the following week. Every Friday is story day.

* * *

The industrial arts classes have made intensive studies of Indian symbols and their use in decorating baskets, pottery, rugs, or blankets, wampum cases, and grave stones.

* * *

In order to create a greater appreciation for the beautiful books we have in the sixth grade, industrial art classes have made an intensive study of them. The pupils have kept records of the earlier form of manuscript. Each child has made a Babylonian clay tablet and a manuscript scroll leading up to the evolution of the Japanese book. From this form of raffin-bound book the present book-binding scheme was studied, each child binding a book for himself. The children learned how to make beautiful end pages of marble paper which harmonized with the color of the outside cover of the book. The children procured New England Primers to bind from Ginn and Company. Beautiful tooled leather covers were designed with original and artistic patterns for these books. The culmination of the project was to inspire a lasting appreciation in the children. Each child was given the book which he had worked upon.

The second grade drawing class is making posters for book-week.

AMERICA FIRST

Not merely in matters material, but in things of the spirit.

Not merely in science, inventions, motors and skyscrapers, but also in ideals, principles, character.

Not merely in the calm assertion of rights, but in the glad assumption of duties.

Not flaunting her strength as a giant, but bending in helpfulness over a sick and wounded world, like a good Samaritan.

Not in splendid isolation, but in Christ-like co-operation.

Not in pride, arrogance, and disdain of other races and peoples, but in sympathy, love and understanding. Not in treading again the old, worn, bloody pathway which ends inevitably in chaos and disaster, but in blazing a new trail, along which, please God, other nations will follow, into the new Jerusalem where wars shall be no more.

Some day some nation must take that path—unless we are to lapse once again into utter barbarism—and that honor I covet for my beloved America.

And so, in that spirit and with these hopes, I say with all my heart and soul, "America First."

THE CURIOUS CUB

Did you ever stop to think what you would say if somebody asked you, "What is a friend?"

Curious Cub received diverse replies to this question. Just read these answers and see how your friend has defined you.

"A person that will help you in trouble and be sympathetic."

—Ruth Esser.

"One in whom you can confide all secrets."

—Alice Muller.

"One that always has a pencil when you need it."

—Myrtle Nelson.

"A good friend is one whom you can trust always."

—Annabelle Godfrey.

"A friend is one who will let me have some money when I need it."

—Mr. Christenson.

"A friend is one who will tell the streetcar conductor to hold the car for you."

—Cecelia Brown.

"Oh, I guess it's one to whom you can tell all your troubles, one who will sympathize with you, and one with whom you always feel at home."

—Mr. Teeters.

"It's one who shares your joys and sorrows and one who understands you."

—Margaret Lundeen.

GAMMA NUS ENTERTAINED

The pledges of the Gamma Nu sorority entertained the active members at a laundry-picnic held in the laundry of the Dommer apartments. Stunts by the rookies amused the guests while they were enjoying the refreshments.

Vivian Mero, the captain of the rookies, had general charge of the picnic and was assisted by Margaret Dommer, Agnes Kise, Irene Hagen, Ida Davenport, Alma Straus, Osa Bertleson, Olga Hanson, and Irma Carstens.

Things might be worse. Suppose bills were sent over the radio.
