Dear Miss Evershed:

This letter is to let you know that your Selective Admissions Examination was satisfactorily passed.

The fact that you have passed the Selective Admissions Examination means that you have been accepted as a member of the class of 1946 at Brockport State Teachers College, contingent upon your meeting the remaining requirements:

- a. satisfactory completion of your high school course
- b. satisfactory medical examination with State Teachers College physician
- c.k.c. satisfactory personal interviews with State Teachers College faculty members.
(An O.K. before a, b, or c above indicates satisfactory completion of that requirement.)

Later in the summer I shall send you detailed information concerning the freshman registration which will take place Monday, September 14, at 9:00 A.M.

Permit me to congratulate you on having begun the road to a substantial college education. In this era of instability and upheaval you are preparing to acquire something that neither inflation nor deflation can take away from you - namely, a good education.

Sincerely yours,

Elaine M. De Lancy

Arrange S. T. Faculty Reception at Brockport

B.S.T.C.'S IDEAL WOMAN

With the Brockport Reservists leaving for the Army, Navy, and Marines soon, the question has arisen as to whom the boys of Brockport State will consider the woman of the school they will think about most often after they have left. It is generally agreed that she must have beauty, brains, and personality. After discussing the matter with those men who will leave it is found that it won't be one specific girl but a composite of the best features of them all. The fellows are generally agreed that our ideal woman would have:

Height.
 Weight. Betty Evershed
 Figure.
 Legs Jerry Sherwood
 Eyes Wanda Eddy
 Haircut Shirley Shacter
 Color of Hair Wilna Beeman
 Complexion Dorothy Weir

Brains Phyllis Valentine
 Wit Gloria Capparelli
 Laughter Shirley Soars
 Clothes Mary Heddon
 Sally Atherton's Beaver Coat
 Charm Florence Markham
 Energy Jane Dursenbeck
 Poise Audrey Bellingham

Put them all together and what have you got? Brother, you've got not only Brockport State's ideal woman but any man's ideal!

Yuletide Program Plans Completed

EVENING CAROLING TO HIGHLIGHT WEEK

Plans for the traditional Christmas social program, which includes the Vespers Service, the Christmas Tea and Christmas Caroling, have been completed. Student and faculty committees are checking every detail carefully to insure the success of the program.

CHRISTMAS CARD

By MARY SCURLEAH, '41

When bells ring out this Christmas time,

May "Peace on Earth" their carol chime

To greet the Yule with message clear!

Good Will toward men—throughout the year.

Above the triteness of familiar words,

tronic meaning springs to glaze my heart with fear;

But I resolve to crack War's hard veneer.

To heal bruised thought, letting it rise with birds.

And pray that Peace will mold the minds of men.

And pray that Peace will melt my soul again.

VESPERS SERVICE

The Christmas Vespers Service, which is under the direction of Miss Haynes, will be held in the college theater on Sunday, December 13, at 5:00 p.m. Students, the faculty and townspeople are invited to attend. The main part of the program will be the reading of the Christmas story by Dennis Mantzias. The story will be divided into three parts—the prophecy, the birth, and the adoration. The chorus will supplement the reading with the singing of Christmas hymns and carols. The program will close with the recessional and the organ postlude.

PROGRAM

- O Come, All Ye Faithful
- Essay on Plain Chant
- Break Forth, O Beantones
- Heavenly Light
- The Little Christ
- Filene Night
- Lullaby, Jesus Dear
- Gloria In Excelsis
- White By My Sheep
- From the 17th Century
- Cantique de Noel
- Hark the Herald Angels Sing
- Mendelssohn

XMAS TEA

The annual student-faculty Christmas tea will be held in the Campus School library on Wednesday, December 16, from 4:00 to 6:00 p.m. Julia Walsh and Miss Sara T. Jackson are co-chairmen of the planning committee for the tea. The following students will serve at the tea: M. Ahnt, M. Block, E. Clayton, J. Riehlman, V. Mosde, W. Besman, L. Izzi, A. Howard, G. Cowles, F. Weidrich and B. Cior.

XMAS CAROLING

The climax of the Yuletide program will be the Christmas caroling. Under the chairmanship of Jane Durrenbeck, the Social Committee has made all arrangements for the caroling. Although traditionally a morning event, the caroling will be held on Thursday evening, December 17, at 8:00 p.m. to be more in keeping with the spirit of Christmas Eve. The carolers will be divided into four groups, led by sing-leaders Pat Short, Sue Rodman, Joan DeWitt and Charles Lewis. Following the sing, the carolers will return to the college cafeteria for refresh-

Committees to Help Incoming Freshmen On Orientation Day

Sally Neidert Heads General Committee For Day

Plans are already under way for Orientation Day, Monday, September 12. Sally Neidert has been elected general chairman of the day, and all signs point toward a gala occasion.

Registration will be from 9 till 12, Monday morning. A new feature, an information desk, will aid the incoming Freshmen with information concerning living quarters. Sally Neidert, Beryl Roberts, and Mary Hodden will welcome the Freshmen at the door. Luncheon will be served promptly at 12 o'clock.

A treasure hunt will feature the afternoon's entertainment, but provisions are being made in the event of rain. During the evening, the freshmen will be the guests of the local movie-house at a theatre party. The management promises an exceptionally fine show.

The following committees will serve for the day:
Registration—Mary Hodden, chairman, Sallie Albertson, Arlene Davis, Beryl Roberts, Carol DeWitte, Betty Stabo, Charlotte Garelick, Kathleen Smith, June Northrop.

Luncheon—Virginia Hearty, chairman, Peggy Kurrock, Edna Rhodes, Ruth Schuchart, Pat Scott. Miss Jackson is assisting this committee with arrangements.

Afternoon Entertainment—Bonnie Burgie, chairman, Marge Belmont, Fran Day, Joyce Fischer, Fran Latta, Janet Wickham, Evelyn Sargent, Betty Evershed, Winnie Vanderhoof, Anita Howard, Adelaide Murphy, Wilma Bowman, Margaret Kiebler, Louise Cingulna, Florence Pilato, Branahille Sumner.

Evening Entertainment—Genevieve Schilling, chairman, Betty Bissed, Dorothy Slater, Irene Brown, Helen Gerhardt.

Advisers for the Class of '47 will be Miss Haynes and Mr. Drake.

Co-chairmen for the playday for the new Fresh are Anita Howard and Janet Wickham (and I hear Winkle is a darned good cook). Julie Walsh has been chosen as chairman for the banquet in February. The best part of all the party plans is that they will be financed through the fund set up for such purposes by the school.

Well, it looks like a new and better start for the girls' sports and orchids to Jorgy for the time, efforts and prospective results COME ON, GALS, AND PUT THIS NEW WOMEN'S SPORTS CLUB ON ITS FEET. Let's show Jorgy that we think she did a swell job.

Women Launch Sports Club, Adopt Charter

Volkmar Succeeds Sherwood As President

As the starting gun for activity goes of next Fall, the newly organized Women's Sports Club will be all set to go. The new program was introduced to its new members on May 25, when girls interested in sports of any type responded to a notice on the bulletin board. Jorgy Sherwood, with the guidance of Miss Schneider, formulated the new Constitution that was presented. After discussing the plan thoroughly, the girls unanimously voted it in. Lots of the girls want to say "Thanks, Jorgy."

Seems to me as though this new plan is going to produce an active introduction into B.S.T.C. next year. Are you interested? Maybe you'd like to have some fun, too, to keep yourself from being a nasty old "hook-worm."

Membership is limited to only those girls who are interested enough in sports to participate in four of the eight activities offered. However, everyone MUST go on each hike, and there'll be one every month of the school year. (Looks as if you're going to learn to hike, doesn't it, girls?) During the winter months the hills will no doubt ring out with "Jungle Bells" and everyone will be aware of breakfast hikes to the tune of "Oh, How I Hate to Get Up in the Morning."

Wilma Volkmar was chosen as the new president, and hereafter the president will be chosen in the spring of the year. Winnie Vanderhoof is the secretary. Acting captains for the various sports are as follows:

Tennis—Julia Walsh
Badminton—Carol DeWitte
Volleyball—Fran Day
Bowling—Fran Latta
Basketball—Louise Kelley
Swimming—Ruth Schuchart
Baseball—Marge Crosby
Hiking—Brunnie Summers
Each month has a specific activity in addition to the scheduled hike.

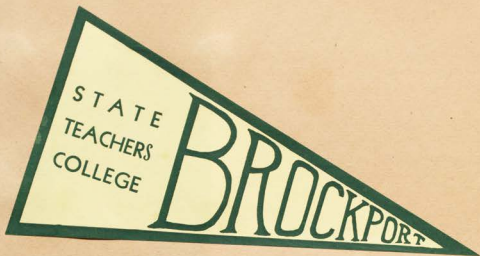

September—Freshman playday at the Pale Grounds sponsored by the Sports Club

October—Tennis finals
November—Badminton
December—Volleyball
January—Bowling

February—Senior Sports Club party in the gymnasium to get acquainted with the Seniors who have been out camping; banquet for all active members.

March—Basketball finals.
April—Swimming.
May—Baseball; Picnic.

SOPH YEAR 1943-44

CRITIC LAUDS "STAGE DOOR" PRESENTATION

THE COMPANY OF "STAGE DOOR"

By DOROTHY WEIR

The Brockport State Teachers College Dramatics Club chalked up another success on Thursday, March 4th, when they presented Ferber and Kaufman's hit, "Stage Door." This production will take its place with the almost legendary production of "Spring Dance."

A theatrical boarding house is the scene of this realistic play. Jane Darrenbeck gave a convincing interpretation of the role of Terry Randall. In the lead role she kept her audience with her throughout all the panoramic incidents which portrayed the joys and heartaches of the aspiring actresses. Roger Easton stepped into the role of David Kingsley, motion picture producer, and did an excellent job with this difficult role. Frank Satchell put himself into the role of Keith Burgess, playwright, and bounced across the stage in true playwright fashion. The large supporting cast did an excellent job and apparently enjoyed themselves immensely. Wanda Eddy made a notable impression as the roush and ready Judith Canfield, always ready with a wisecrack or a loud laugh when it was most needed.

Dr. Eric Steel is to be commended for the direction and production of the play. His careful direction brought forth varied emotional climaxes in the roles of Terry Randall and Kaye Hamilton, played by Kay Smith. The scenery made an effective background for the characters. The large audience would have had a better view of the scene, however, if the scenes had been arranged to give a better view of the sides of the stage.

We all have high hopes of seeing more such productions at Brockport, for with such talent in acting and direction the Dramatics Club should try to make more contributions to our social life here at Brockport.

SPRING RECITAL PRESENTED

The Spring Recital of the chorus and orchestra was presented to the student body and visiting townspeople on Thursday, May 13. As special features, Miss Joan Connal, sister of Betty Connal, played several selections and Mrs. E. H. Tuttle accompanied the chorus.

Under the direction of Miss Haynes, the program was opened with Ghick's "Tune of the Happy Spirits From Orpheus" by the newly-organized orchestra. This was followed by the all-girls' chorus presenting four numbers: "Moon" by Harris, "Spring" by Holst, "Through the Mist" by Gower, and "May" by Forsyth.

Following the chorus, Doris Poase at the piano played "Scottish Poem," by MacDowell. Marjorie Belmont then sang "Homing" by Del Riego, "Soffgiets" by Bach and Rachmaninoff's "Prelude in C Minor" rendered by Miss Connal were supplemented by an encore of Mozart's first movement of his "Sonata in C Major." Recruiting Committee Plans "Spring Day"

High school seniors in this area will be entertained at a Spring Day on Friday, April 16, according to an announcement made by Beryl Roberts, chairman of the Student-Faculty Recruiting Committee.

Spring Day will take its place with last year's Visitation Day and the Sub-Fresh Day of the year before. So many of this year's freshmen became acquainted with Brockport on Visitation Day and enjoyed that experience so much, the committee yielded to much urging and decided to invite this year's high school seniors. Members of the committee, after consulting the weather man, feel that Spring Day, held during the warmth of mid-April, should far surpass last year's cold weather affair.

Plans for Spring Day were formulated at a recent dinner meeting held at the Roxbury Inn. At that time the committee elected Joanna Moore chairman for the event. Reports were given on the progress of the recruiting work and the committee was congratulated on the results shown so far. Mr. Tuttle and Dr. Lee related their experiences while visiting high schools.

It was emphasized again that with a shortage of 40,000 teachers facing the country, Brockport should have a two-fold purpose. We would like to do what we can to alleviate the teacher shortage and we would like to see in Brockport the largest incoming class in the history of the school. With Brockport State Teachers College now recognized and approved by the American Association of Teachers Colleges, it seems quite probable that those goals can be achieved.

The Recruiting Committee is composed of the following students from all four classes: Bill Burnett, Miriam Block, Don Jack, Wanda Eddy, Mary Holden, Betty Hall, Harry LaPine, Joanna Moore, June Range, Beryl Roberts, Melitta Schilling, Mary Scutrah, Bob Shea, Jerry Starwood, Betty Strick, Phyllis Valentine and Julia Walsh. Faculty members assisting this committee are Mrs. McCrory, Miss Munnis, Mr. Tuttle and Dr. Lee.

This group has been engaged in the task of getting from the student body the names of prospective students, together with any information pertaining to them which might be used as a basis on which to explain what Brockport has to offer them individually. Although the committee has made an appeal to the students for their continued cooperation in suggesting prospective students whom they know, the committee members emphasize that it is not merely a competitive program for a list of names. It is important that the persons suggested to the committee be genuinely interested in a college education. The persons whom the students recommend to the committee will be invited to Brockport for Spring Day.

Chairman Moore now is busily engaged in perfecting plans for Spring Day. She is quoted as saying "Last year's program, so carefully and ably planned by Miss VanSlyke, was made such a success by the wholehearted cooperation of everyone, students and faculty. I am expecting the same kind of cooperation this year. So watch the special Spring Day bulletin board outside the library entrance and turn in those names. Chalk up April 16 as a day on which we all have a job to do."

OCCIE AND SNOOP

What fun we had when the Navy blew into town, didn't we, Betty? Especially when he had such a nice, long furlough. Aren't your week-ends a little confusing with two men on the string?

It looks as though Roper was for "Evershed"—what happened?

What has E.J. got that one of our freshman fellows lacked, Winnie? Evershed?

Well, Winnie, are you intending to stay over week-ends more often? I guess that we will have to admit that Duff does like basketball players.

Do you have to meet Duff on dark corners now, Bonnie?
Why don't you take enough gas along. Don, when you go for a drive? You want to watch out that all your girls don't hear about the details.

Miss Sargent seems to think that she can capture the heart of any fellow in school—what do you think, fellows?

It's nice to see you back, Chuck. At first, we thought you had Diphtheritis, but we found out it was Pneumonitis.

Frances - Frances, where did you cultivate that school-teacher figure?

It looks as though Chuck has crossed his way to Edna's heart. But Bonnie isn't weeping—not with that ring she's been wearing. Who is R.W. anyway?

Private Alland Passes Army Test

In a letter from his sister, Anna Alland, class of 1925, we hear that Peter Alland, former Freshman, is now in the service at Louisiana State University.

While he was in the Signal Corps in Camp Swift, Texas, he was selected to take a test for the Army Specialized Training given at colleges throughout the country. He was one of the few who passed this test.

Peter was then sent to Louisiana State University where he had several tests and interviews. He successfully "made the grade" and is very happy about it. In a short time he will be sent to one of the colleges to begin his studying.

Peter's present address is:

Private Peter Alland,

Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

Latest Report On Bandage Rolling

During its first seven weeks of operation the R.S.T.C. bandage-making unit has finished 12,200 bandages, 2,600 of which have already been sent to the Red Cross headquarters.

Miss Jackson reported that although this is a good number, it is not as good as we are capable of doing. The Freshmen especially are way behind in the amount of work they have done in comparison to the other three classes. A slight improvement for the Freshmen has been indicated but it is not nearly enough.

Come on, fellow students, what's holding us back? Now that all the Army Reservists have gone, it should be even more of an incentive to work. We Freshmen have decided that the upper-classmen can't get the jump on us — let's prove it!

Faculty Summer Plans Revealed

This summer many of our faculty members will be staying here in Brockport for the summer session. Some of them, even with the travel difficulties, are finding it possible to plan interesting vacations.

DR. LEE—is planning to go to North Dakota to some fishing after his eight weeks session here.

MISS SCHROEDER—intends to go to her cottage in Maine to enjoy plenty of fishing, swimming, boating and the like.

MISS BRIGGS—is going to help the farm labor shortage by going into the country and helping harvest crops.

MRS. DE LANCEY's plans are to revert back to her former position of housewife.

MISS COOK is going to spend the first part of the summer at the Potsdam library. After this, she expects to go back to her home in North Dakota.

The highlight of MRS. McCORRY's vacation is going to be a trip to Philadelphia for her son's graduation.

MR. EDMUNDS is going to spend four weeks studying at New York University before he starts a six weeks summer session here. The rest of the summer he is going to spend at the local canning factory dumping tomatoes.

DR. STOPHER is going to spend part of his vacation teaching at Buffalo State. The rest of the time he is going to spend (like Mr. Edmunds) dumping tomatoes.

MR. GALE expects to continue his graduate study at Cornell. We might also add that Mr. Gale states that he prefers being a teacher to being a student.

FACULTY PLANS

DR. STRATHEIMER is planning to attend the Albany conference to discuss problems of the school in relation to the war. The rest of the time she hopes to enjoy herself "loafing."

Except for the time he is going to spend here teaching, DR. STEEL will spend the summer in Vermont gardening.

MISS YALE wants to spend her summer at her home in Danaboro, N. Y.

DR. WAIRD is going to Rome to live for the summer. He expects to work in a war plant there.

DR. ANSELM is also going patriotic this summer by working in a war plant. He hopes that sometime during the vacation he will be able to take a trip west.

MR. DRAKE wants to spend the bulk of his summer in his victory garden. He also will spend much of his time visiting the prospective students for Brockport.

MISS SUTZER expects to spend her time visiting in Lincoln, Nebraska, and Des Moines, Iowa, that is, of course, if the traveling situation permits.

MISS CLARK is looking forward to staying home and working in her victory garden.

Our president, DR. HARTWELL, is going to stay here at school to supervise the summer session and make some plans for next year.

Club Notes

DRAMATICS CLUB:

At the present is putting all its effort into the spring production of "Stage Door." Instead of its original meetings once every two weeks, the club is meeting four times a week for rehearsals.

After the play, the meetings will continue as usual with the presentation of one act plays.

FRENCH CHORUS:
 Has been discontinued for the time being because Dr. Steel is putting all his efforts into the spring play. After the play, the chorus intends to pick up where it left off last semester and continue on with its plans for an assembly program of French songs.

ALL-COLLEGE CHORUS:
 The chorus, along with the orchestra, is working hard preparing for the concert they are planning to give in the very near future.

After the concert, its only other plans are to prepare for the baccalaureate program.

BIRD LAMBA:
 Will continue to hold its business meetings and panel discussions on the first Tuesday of every month.

On its social calendar the club is looking forward to its Slough Ride, a spring banquet, and the annual convention at New Paltz State Teachers College.

PORENSICS:
 On Thursday, Feb. 11, new officers who were elected are:

Pres.: Doris Gordon
 Sec'y.: Esther Maxon
 Corr. Sec'y.: Patricia Short
 I.R.C. Chairmen: Grace Thobaben.

Brockport College HeadPlans To Retire

Dr. Ernest C. Hartwell has announced his retirement as principal of Brockport State Teachers College, effective next July 1.

Nationally known in educational circles, Dr. Hartwell will have served eight years as president of the Brockport college when he retires. Announcement was made to the Board of Visitors of the school last night.

Previous to his arrival at Brockport in 1926, he had been superintendent of Buffalo schools for 18 years. When he first took over the reins at Brockport it was known as a normal school and it was one of his ambitions, fulfilled three years ago, that graduates be granted teaching degrees and that normal schools be accredited as colleges.

His own undergraduate education was received at Albion College, Michigan and his graduate at the University of Michigan.

He has lectured in a score of states and has been honored with many high educational positions. Among them are: President of the New York State Teachers Association, president of the National Department of Superintendence, president of the New York Council of Superintendents and member of the Committee of the National Industrial Conference Board.

Although he plans to make his home in Brockport after retirement from active duty, Dr. Hartwell has not announced his plans for the future.

B.S.T.C. Students Help in Crisis At Quaker Maid

Plant Head Expresses Appreciation to Student Body

Mobilization of volunteer workers from Brockport State Teachers College was an important factor in saving the tomato pack at A & P's Quaker Maid plant in Brockport. Harry W. Cleveland, of succeeded in alleviating the tomato crisis, and they will be shown in Paramount Newark.

The part that Brockport students have been taking has gained wide recognition. Word has reached Brockport of the story appearing in newspapers in many places over the state.

As a final gesture of thanks, Dr. Hartwell granted a twoday holiday over Columbus Day so that the college was not in session until Wednesday morning.

H. W. CLEVELAND, General Manager

October 13, 1943.

To the Workers on the 1943 Tomato Pack:

I wish to express my personal appreciation and also the thanks of my Company, The Quaker Maid Company, Inc., a division of The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company, for your help in saving the tomato pack this year.

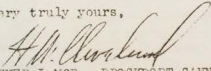

I wish it were possible for me to thank each of you personally for the important job you helped to accomplish this year. I think you will be interested in learning that as a result of the assistance given by you and several hundred other residents of the Brockport area, our Plant processed the equivalent of 4,055,232 standard sized bottles of ketchup for the armed forces as well as quantities of tomato products for civilian use.

Our Plant was able to keep up with the flow of tomatoes this year only because of the loyalty of our permanent plant personnel, the immediate response of the townspeople and students of the High School and College, and the aid of the Navy boys from the Training Station at Sampson.

I will never forget how Brockport citizens shouldered the responsibility for providing enough workers to handle the 1943 tomato pack, and I want you to have these few words of thanks from me.

Congratulations for an important job well done.

Very truly yours,

GENERAL MGR., BROCKPORT CANNERY,

RIPENING SUN REQUIRED FOR TOMATO CROP

Rush of Harvest Dependent on Weather

Tons and tons of tomatoes are waiting—for enough sunshine and warm weather to turn those ripe.

Major portion of this year's yield is still in area fields, retarded by late planting and cold fall weather, according to Russell Granger, Farm Bureau agent. Peak period for harvesting is expected in the next two weeks, although weather remains the deciding factor.

Higher weekend temperatures increased activity on farms and in canneries, but receipts by tomato packers have been relatively light up to now.

One packer reported that to date three tons of tomatoes have been received from growers per acre, while at the same time last year a yield of seven tons per acre had been received.

Orders for workers are increasing, according to U. S. Employment Service officials who yesterday assigned about 130 men and women to aid vicinity farmers and canners. USES officials emphasize a need for workers who could furnish their own transportation, asserted 200 women and 40 men could be used today. Transportation will be arranged for those who report at the USES office, 32 State St., by 7 a. m.

Students at Brockport State Teachers College lent a helping hand yesterday at the Quaker Maid plant in Brockport. Seventy-eight co-eds augmented the plant's working force by going on four-hour shifts. The initial group started work at 3 p. m. trimming tomatoes. As more tomatoes are received, additional girls will be called to work. A total of 210 students, two-thirds of the college's enrollment, have volunteered to help. Rochester division of the U. S. Crop Corps can provide from 100 to 200 emergency volunteers for evening service at nearby canneries if needed, John F. Bush Jr., chairman, announced yesterday. These groups, consisting largely of husbands and wives, recruited from among lawyers, bankers and other professional groups, would be available from 6 to 10 p. m.

Bush expressed the appreciation of Crop Corps officials to the hundreds of men and women who volunteered their services.

"The weather, which slowed up maturing of the crops, and importation of soldiers and sailors lessened the need for the services of Crop Corps volunteers," he said, although hundreds of them did contribute material help to the harvesting of crops in this area. The emergency has not yet passed. At any moment we may have to call for fairly large groups to lend a hand at the canneries."

WICKHAM HEADS STUDENT COUNCIL

Schuchart and Garelick Also Elected Officers

Janet Wickham

A joint meeting consisting of the student council members for this year and the newly elected ones for next year was held in Dr. Hartwell's office Tuesday, May 16. At this meeting the new council members elected Janet Wickham as their president for next year. Janet, an accelerated Sophomore, has been active on the Stylus staff, Spring Day and various class activities. This will be her second term as a council member. The other officers are Ruth Schuchart, vice-president, and Charlotte Garelick secretary, both of the Sophomore Class.

The new council members were elected by their respective classes during recent class meetings. The Senior Class will be represented by Gloria Capparelli, Janet Wickham, Doris Pease and Betty Chase. The Junior representatives will be Ruth Schuchart, Charlotte Garelick and Ella Natalie. Representing the Sophomores will be Mary Bauer, Marianne Panzer and Bruce Schlageter.

The new members on the council also chose members to serve on the Social Committee for next year. The Senior Class will be represented by Wilbur Stein and Bonnie Burgie; Betty Everhard and Ella Camp will represent the Juniors while Grace Dutton and Betty Swartz will represent the Sophomores. Also at this meeting a committee, consisting of the present council members, was selected by the president to work with the secretary, Regina Dooly, in determining who should retain the council pins. Before the meeting adjourned the council voted on allocation of the Blanket Tax for 1944-45.

Earl Wood Elected Sophomore Head

At a meeting held on Sept. 23, the Sophomores elected class officers. They include Earl Wood, president; Jane Northrop, vice-president; Genevieve Schilling, secretary; Betty Everhard, treasurer. Norman Hill was elected as the new member of the student council, to serve with Janet Wickham, who was elected last year.

The Sophomores, who are very interested in the social life of the school, held a luncheon which the class officers and advisors attended. It was decided that many more such meetings would be held in the future for the purpose of deciding the best possible way to contribute to the social life of the school.

The next meeting is to be held Oct. 28.

Brockport Classes Name New Officers

Brockport—The various classes of Brockport State Teachers College have completed the election of officers for the 1923-24 term.

Manual Gresham of Syracuse has been named president of the senior class with the following assistant: Vice-president, Rose Menlo of Niagara Falls; secretary, Harriet Leamy of Wilson; alternate secretary, Marguerite Hays of Brockport; treasurer, Howard Dunbar of Syracuse; and class scholars, Miss Dorothy Butler and J. Nicholas Gale.

Junior officers are: President, Doris Pease of Rochester; vice-president, Shirley Nichols of Seneca; secretary, Betty Chase of Rochester; treasurer, Jean DeWitte of Rochester; and advisors, Miss Sara Jackson and Ernest H. Tuttle.

The sophomore class elected the following: President, Earl Wood of Rochester; vice-president, J. A. Northrup of Rochester; secretary, Genevieve Schilling of Scottsville; treasurer, Betty Evershed of Rochester; and advisors, Mrs. Mary McCoy and Prof. J. A. Edmunds. Lawrence Kent of Victor has been named head of the freshman class with the following other officers: Vice-president, Vern Eal of Holley; secretary, Marlon Hauer of Bergen; treasurer, DeWitt Burdick of Brockport; and advisors, Miss Pauline Haynes and Prof. Bernard W. Drake.

Members of the Student Council of which Gloria Capparelli of Rochester is president are the following from the three top classes: Seniors, Eleanor Juberstein of Brockport, Regina Doudy of Medina and Miss Capparelli; Juniors, Marguerite Hays of Brockport, Eleanor Walters of Rochester and Marlon Sampson of Geneva; and sophomores, Ruth Schuchart of Rochester, Norman Hill of Seneca and Janet Wickham of Stanley.

The following students are members of the Student-Faculty Social Committee: Seniors, Betty Berkes of Rochester and Rose Menlo of Niagara Falls; Juniors, Dorothy Weir and Jean Joffe, both of Rochester; and sophomore, Eileen Burgle of Rochester and Betty Blasett of Scottville.

Several Hold Offices at College

ROCHESTERIANS are taking a leading part in the classes, clubs, and societies at the New York State Teachers College at Brockport, judging from election results.

Doris Pease, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allan E. Pease, 150 Collingsworth Dr., has been elected president of the Junior Class, Miss Pease, a graduate of Benjamin Franklin High School, has been active with the college orchestra, the dramatic society, and the forensics club.

Betty Jane Chase, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Carlos D. Chase, 673 Grand Ave. is vice-president of the Junior Class. Miss Chase, who is a graduate of East High, has been prominent in sports. Miss Jean DeWitte, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John DeWitte, 526 McVitie St., is treasurer of the Junior Class. A graduate of East High, Miss DeWitte was vice-president of her class last year. She is a member of the Intramural council of the college orchestra, a bowling team, and life-saving group. She is also one of the three soloists with the college chorus.

Earl Wood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Wood, 111 Bidwell Ter., is president of the Sophomore Class. A graduate of John Marshall High School, he has been active in many extracurricular activities. June Northrup, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adelbert Northrup, 1193 Lovell Ave. has been elected vice-president of the Sophomore Class. She is a graduate of John Marshall High School and is a member of forensic and dramatic societies and of athletics.

Betty Evershed, daughter of Mrs. Lillian Evershed, 3564 Custer Rd., treasurer of the Sophomore Class, is a graduate of the Benjamin Franklin High School, a member of the Stylus staff, college paper, dramatics society, the college chorus, sub-freshman day committee, freshman dance committee, and of the Athletic Club.

Gloria Capparelli, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Capparelli, 63 Weld St., has been elected president of the Student Council. Miss Capparelli, who is editor-in-chief of the Stylus, is an active member of the dramatic society, and of the forensics group.

Betty Berkes, 23 College St., is senior representative to the Student Council. Miss Berkes, a graduate of Nazareth Academy, is active in dramatic, forensic, and musical activities.

Dorothy Weir, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Weir, 779 Geneva St., Blvd., a graduate of West High School, has been named by her classmates as junior representative to the student-faculty social committee.

Wanda Eddy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Eddy, 196 Prueuse St., was unanimously elected president of the dramatics society. A graduate of East High, Miss Eddy was named one of the assistant editors of the Stylus.

SOPHS TRIUMPH WITH MUSICAL

Original Drama Directed By Neiderst and Howard

On Thursday, February 24th, the Sophomore Class presented its annual assembly for the college. The performance was a dramatic and musical play. The play was written and directed by Sally Neiderst and Anita Howard, under the supervision of Mr. Edmunds and Mrs. McCrory.

The assembly of "The Chocolate Bar" was a great success and was enjoyed not only by the audience, but by the performers as well.

The members of the Sophomore Class experienced a very pleasant surprise recently. Mrs. McCrory, their class adviser, invited them all to an afternoon tea at her house. Commencing Monday afternoon, March 20, and ending the following Friday afternoon a group of ten attended each day.

able time. Many popular topics were discussed, such as: "Where Is Your Boyfriend Now?" and "What Good Movie Have You Seen Lately?" It was discovered by several members of the class that Mrs. McCrory had a very interesting and unusual library because they found many books of great interest.

The members of the Sophomore Class appreciated the unforgettable afternoon and wish to thank Mrs. McCrory once again.

Sophs Hold Class Party At Roxbury

The Sophomores Class accompanied by their advisors, Mrs. McCrory and Mr. Edmunds, held their Spring Banquet at the Roxbury Inn, Tuesday, May 16th, at 6:30.

The banquet was held for two reasons. First, it was the last time that the class would be together as a whole as the accelerating Sophs will become Seniors next year. The second reason is that they wanted to conclude their time spent together in the most enjoyable fashion, and this took the form of the banquet, which was a great success.

Their president, Earl Wood, is leaving college to join one of Uncle Sam's fighting forces and was given several little remembrances to take with him. He was given a rattle to remind him of his Fresh year, a paint set to remind him of the ever-unforgettable Freshman Art Class, a bookcase to make him remember the "four ole' library", an easy chair to remind him that he spent many enjoyable moments in the lounge, and a little lead soldier carrying a flag to give him a hint as to the future. Mrs. Wood, who attended the banquet, appeared to enjoy these tokens as much as her husband.

Earl Wood

Ed. Note: At press time it was not known, for sure, whether or not Earl would be called for Army duty.

The entertainment, following the dinner, was not only cheerful and refreshing, but also very good! Lovely Betty Blisset sang "Da I Care" as only she can sing it. Norm Hill chanted "Long Ago" and was very surprised, but pleased when his audience cried out like Frank Sinatra fans when he finished. "Happy-go-Lucky" Marge Belmont gave forth with "This Will Be My Shining Hour" and as usual received a big applause.

Fran Day, Marge Kähler, Beryl Roberts, and Marge Belmont sang an impromptu song entitled "Life Was So Peaceful at the Library" and the applause was tremendous. Joe Lester, in his own inimitable fashion, chanted Shirlly Van DeVort's original composition to her accompaniment and created quite a sensation. Orchids go to Edna Rhodes because it was only through her assistance on the piano that many of the Sophs stayed in tune when they sang group songs! The officers of the class sang a song which they had spent considerable time composing and dedicated it to the ears of their intended listeners. The highlight of the evening came when several people told about their most embarrassing moments! The audience was kept in continuous laughter during this time because they all were so very funny.

The enjoyable banquet was brought to a close by the singing of our Alma Mater.

SOPH PARTY HOLDS BEAUTY CONTEST

Anita Howard Again Chairman of GYM Jamboree

Did you know that B. S. T. C. has entered the ranks of those outstanding colleges possessing a real beauty? And did you also know that four of our loveliest and most glamorous beauties went before a group of expert judges last Wednesday night, April 19th? Yes, we at Brockport hardly realized the exuberant amount of pulchritude and talent hurrying within these walls until that night.

The judges were the members of the Sophomores Class and they had a difficult time trying to decide the winner, "Miss Basin Street, 1929," wearing white feathers in her hair, warmed the hearts of the judges with her flirtatious glances. She won 4th prize. Then there was none other than Aunt Jemima, who looked, as though the wicked sun had caught her unaware behind bars. Yes, her "blossom-girl" outfit and the zebra stripes effect on her face, arms, and legs, drew a round of applause, and plenty of whistling. She won 3rd prize. Another of our lovelies, called "Leapin Lena" by her associates, won 2nd prize, for possessing a graceful gait, and bewitching eyes. Our most beautiful, and glamorous, contestant was "Harlem Belle," formerly the rage of Harlem and now the beauty of B. S. T. C.

Now, do you want to know our contestants, without their "aliases"? First prize winner "Miss Harlem Belle" and now the "Beauty of B. S. T. C." is none other than Mr. Edmunds, a member of our English department, and of our faculty. Norman Whittaker stalked off with honors as "Leapin Lena," Bonnie Burgie was the lady in stripes "Aunt Jemima," and Ruth Schuchart was none other than "Miss Basin Street, 1929."

Everyone had a good time, either bowling, playing ping pong, shuffle board or badminton. Later, Janet Wickham led the group in singing, and acted as the master-of-ceremonies for the beauty show. After refreshments and dancing, the party was brought to a close.

The chairman of the affair was Anita Howard. She was ably assisted by the following sub-chairmen: Dorothea Slater, refreshments; Blanche Handy, program; Helen Gerhardt, dancing; and Charlotte Garelick, publicity. "Miss Basin Street, 1929."

OCCIE and SNOOP

The Wallace house keeps the fire department pretty busy—can it be that they're all hot numbers.

Speaking of New Year's, reminds us that we would like to suggest some New Year's resolutions, so here they are:

1. That the Juniors and Freshmen abolish their cliques and gaze once again on the humble Sophomores and Seniors.
2. That Bill Casement get rid of his pipe. Frankly, Bill, it smells.
3. That Bonnie Barge keep on straightening the lounge every day, but does not try any more new arrangements.
4. That Sallie Atherton stop hearing from so many men. Think how it makes the other gals feel.
5. That Shirley Shacter stop looking like a martyr. The duration is not forever, you know.
6. That Mary Scurrah flunk an Education test, just once, so the rest of the class can gloat.

7. That D. C. Burnett move his bed into the lounge so he'll be there all the time, instead of just half of it.
8. That "Chucky" Garelick get fewer orchids. We can stand surprises, but not shocks.
9. That Betty Evershed gets a brush-cut, just to see how it looks.

10. That Marge Belmont sit down for five minutes without speaking. (This is not only a resolution, but a prayer.)

And last, but not least, we'll make the resolution, that no more weddings will slip by without us knowing. For once, we were scooped!

B.S.T.C. WELCOMES F

SENIORS ON SPRING DAY

CLASSES, ASSEMBLY PROGRAM, AQUACADE, DANCE, HIGHLIGHT DAY'S EVENTS

BY BETTY CHASE

Today, in accord with Spring Day tradition, Brockport State Teachers College opens wide its doors to all the high school seniors from the surrounding areas. In the true spirit of the day the faculty and students welcome and present the merits of the college to their guests.

After you have checked your wraps, registers and given a name tag. There are three colors of tags—white, yellow, and green. Those having green tags will, later in the afternoon, go to the first performance of the Aquacade and first to the tea, while those with yellow tags will go first to the gymnasium exhibition and to the dance. The white tags are for the college students.

Immediately following registration, the guides—those wearing green and yellow arm bands—will conduct tours throughout the building. There will be an opportunity to see the art room, education rooms, the Campus School, the lounge, and lastly, the speech room. Here Dr. Edwards will give a voice recording demonstration. This room will be open in the afternoon from 1 until 2 o'clock. Following the tours there will be hostesses in the lounge to welcome you and ease that "sub-fresh" feeling.

At 3:45 until 10:30 you will have an opportunity to visit classes. Thus you will gain an insight into the educational program. In Dr. Anselm's Freshman Education class you will see a demonstration. You may visit Miss Haynes' music class, Miss Yale's art class and Dr. Stopper's mathematics class—all Freshman subjects which you will be taking in your first year. The biology laboratory will be open and a dissection is scheduled. Dr. Lee's social science class will be discussing modern European affairs. An English class will also be in session. In addition, the Industrial Arts room and the Red Cross room will be open.

SPRING DAY CHAIRMAN

REGINA DOODY

the period following one o'clock. Miss Sutter and Miss Adams will discuss the Educational Implications of Cartoons. This will be an illustrated lecture. As a special highlight of the "play-day," their guest of honor, Dr. Arthur Sutter, will present a paper on "The Implications of Cartoons." Following the luncheon, the guests will be taken to the gymnasium for the first performance of the Aquacade. The program will include a variety of musical numbers, including a quartet by the "Four Seasons" and a solo by Miss Doody. The afternoon will conclude with a dance in the gymnasium. The Spring Day program is a most enjoyable one and is well worth the effort. The Spring Day program is a most enjoyable one and is well worth the effort. Graduates Hear Plea for World Understanding

"America can prevent a third world war by building bridges to international understanding," 70 graduates of Brockport State Teachers College were told this morning.

In graduation exercises in the College Theater at 10 a. m., Imre Kovacs, lecturer, set forth "The Challenge of Being an American."

"The four main sources of hatred in Europe—nationalism, denominationalism, social and economic inequalities will almost certainly breed another war unless they are erased by the American solution—brotherliness and equality," he said.

Moral Standards Stressed

Dr. Donald M. Fowler, college president, conferred the degrees. The Rev. B. Forest Bond, rector of St. Luke's Episcopal Church, Brockport, delivered the invocation, and the Rev. Paul Volgi, pastor of Concordia Lutheran Church, Brockport, read D.

In a baccalaureate service yesterday afternoon, Rev. Joseph Catholic Diocese the six graduates of Brockport State Teachers College were conferred their degrees by Dr. Donald M. Fowler, college president.

Formal Reception Launches Season

College Social Committee Has Charge of Event

The Student Faculty Reception held last night formally opened the social season for B. S. T. C. It is an annual event and one of the highlights of the entire year. The activity was sponsored by the student and faculty members of the social committee.

As the guests came in the main entrance last night they were greeted by Bonnie Burgie, president of the social committee, and Dr. Gale, a faculty member of the committee.

The reception line assembled promptly at eight o'clock in the Faculty Parlor. Here the people were introduced to Janet Wickham, president of the Student Council, Laurie Root, Dr. and Mrs. Tower, Mr. and Mrs. Drake, Miss Sartore, Mr. and Mrs. Skelton, and the members of the Board of Visitors.

After everyone had been through the line, refreshments were served in the Music Studio. This was under the direction of Betty Swart, Grace Dutton, Miss Jackson and Miss Ball. At the same time the gym was equipped with music for all of those interested in dancing. This was arranged by Wilbur Stein, Ella Camp, Dr. Lee and Mrs. McCrory. The lounge was also opened for the enjoyment of those present.

Other members of the Social Committee who served on various other committees were: Bonnie Burgie and Miss Rench, invitations; Ella Camp and Dr. Morgan, care of the lounge; Betty Evershed and Miss Haynes, Music; and Miss Jackson and Miss Rench, arrangement of the decorations.

As it has in the past, the Student-Faculty Reception proved to be a very successful evening and one that was enjoyed by the entire student body as well as the faculty and guests.

Othello Enjoyed By Students, Faculty

Things looked pretty lonesome around B. S. T. C. last Tuesday afternoon of this week as over one hundred students and faculty members went to the Masonic Auditorium in Rochester to see Tom Robeson in the play Othello.

A special bus was chartered for the trip. According to reports the bus had a seating capacity of 85. However, something like ninety-nine students were expecting to go on the bus. If B. S. T. C. was lonesome and sparsely populated, it can be imagined that it was not. A block of seats was bought for the students who were looking forward to enjoying a student party and improving their Shakespeare at the same time.

FORMAL DANCE POSTPONED TILL FEBRUARY DATE

Chairmen and Committees Plan to Use Valentine Day Theme

The Christmas dance which was to have been held on Friday evening, December 15, 1944, was postponed until a later date. This postponement was necessitated by weather conditions which were so bad that transportation from Rochester to Brockport was totally impossible.

Those who were in charge of the affair regretted its postponement as much as the student body. However, the dance will take place early in February but the definite date has as yet not been decided.

The price will be the same and the same regulations which stood for the last dance will still hold true. So hang on to those tickets which you purchased.

The chairmen and their committees who had planned the Christmas dance will still do the work which is to be done. The chairmen are Betty Swart, refreshments; Wilbur Stein, tickets; Grace Dutton and Ella Camp, publicity; Betty Evershed, decorations and the general chairman, Ken Renick's orchestra will be secured if possible.

The only radical change in the program will be the decorations. They will now center around Valentine's Day and without a doubt they will be as colorful and as appealing as those which were planned for the Christmas dance.

Plans Announced For New All-College Sing

Plans are underway for an all college sing to be held at the assembly on May 3.

Betty Connal, Chairman of the event, has announced the committee chairman and committee members. Program Chairman, Jean DeWitte, will be assisted by Betty Evershed and Constance Tortora. Publicity Chairman, Carol DeWitte, will be assisted by Marianne Pamer. Accompanists will be Shirley Moss and Rose Salvaggio. All committee members will act as song leaders for the event.

Each class is requested to write two parodies on some modern song which

PLANS MADE FOR JUNIOR ASSEMBLY

Charlotte Garelick, Flo Pilato
Chosen Co-Chairmen

Here it comes, folks! November 16 is practically around the corner and just in case you haven't heard that's the day of the Junior assembly. What to expect? Well, with all the talent present in the class, you can be prepared to witness anything from a "big circus" to a "grand old op'ry."

Charlotte Garelick and Florence Pilato are co-chairmen of the program. Included in the cast are Betty Bisset, Dorothy Burnmaster, Kay Clark, Ruth Schuchart, Helen Gerhardt, Sue Pugliese, Winnie Vanderhoof, Ella Camp, Eleanor Horvath, Patricia Scott, Joe Lester, Frances Day, Margaret Kurczok, and Norma Cronier.

Various committees were also appointed. Carol DeWitte is chairman of the program committee, and on her committee are Louise Cinquino, Almarinda Colotta, Anita Howard, Genevieve Schillinger, and Brumhilde Summer. The costume committee has Betty Flinbaugh as chairman and includes Sallie Atherton, Gene Bergeyatt, Thelma Burgey, Betty Chapman, Ida Griswood, Betty Watson, and Dorothy Bennett. Chairman of the property committee is Blanche Handley and the others are Irene Brown, Marian Lambert, Helen Stubbs, Martha Kell, Monica Rath, and Dorothea Slater. The makeup committee is in charge of Betty Evershed and on her committee are Jayne Fichter, Elizabeth Ward, Jean Woodford, Renee Potvin, Edelle Silverhandy, and Josephine Trapani.

The lighting committee has Norman Whitaker as chairman and also includes Tom Cornish and Joe Lester. Scenery is in charge of Giney Hearty and her committee includes Patricia Scott, Betty Combs, Jane Duncan, Virginia Harmon, Ruth Schulte, and Lorraine Metzinger. In charge of the program are Charlotte Garelick, Florence Pilato, Margaret Kibler, and Frances Latta. The typing committee has Blanche Cronkide as chairman and includes Norma Cronier, Marilyn Lester, Rita Natale, and Sam Pugliese.

will deal with some phase of life here at B. S. T. C. Classes are to present them at this assembly in competition with each other. Students are requested to attach the bulletins to the program for further notices and information regarding the event.

KEN RENNICK TO FURNISH MUSIC FOR XMAS BALL

By Bonnie Burgie

That Stupendous, Colossal, and Super College Dance for which we have waited 80 long is at last in sight. The date of this much hoped for affair is Friday evening, December 15th, at 8:00 o'clock, in the college gymnasium. Our honored guests will be one hundred sailors from the University of Rochester Campus.

The theme of the Formal dance is to be centered around the Yuletide season with gay decorations to express the Christmas spirit. The Decorations Committee, with Betty Evershed in charge, is doing a super job. The orchestra, which has proved to be so popular with all our students who have heard it, and which has played at the U. of R., Cornell, and Roseland, will be none other than Ken Renick's Orchestra. The decorations will be made up of twelve pieces and will feature a singer. We have Charlie Chase and his committee to thank for obtaining this popular ensemble.

Refreshment, in the manner of a Christmas punch, will be very refreshing to the dancers after a few of those strenuous jitterbug numbers. The recipe is being kept under lock and key by Miss Jackson, Betty Swart and her committee.

Entertainment will be provided by our own students who are once again will reveal their hidden talents. Ella Camp and Dr. Lee are busy trying to provide us with a floor show and they are having trouble because their time is so limited and they have so many "Stars".

The tickets will be $1.50 plus 30c tax. Wilbur Stein and his committee will probably be around one of these days, asking for money, so students are urged to be prepared. One reason that the dance is going to be costly is that the transportation is expensive as the distance is so long and the gas problem is present, as usual.

The Publicity Committee under the capable direction of Grace Dutton will soon be taking students, their height, color of hair and eyes, and interests (outside of school) for the purpose of getting "started off" with sailors who have the same "identical" interests. (This is for everyone's convenience, of course!)

Be sure to look your best that night, not only for the sailors, but for the girls.

Word police can reveal the method by which an international date of 1944 is celebrated for each of the 12 months of the year. The date is every month throughout the year. The date is not by the individual classroom as the date is every month throughout the year. The date is not by the individual classroom as the date is every month throughout the year. The date is not by the individual classroom as the date is every month throughout the year.

PLANS MADE FOR BRIDGE TOURNEY

Plans are on the way for a Bridge Tournament which will be sponsored by the Social Committee to be held after Lent in the Lounge from 7:30 to 10:00, one evening a week for four consecutive weeks.

The tournament will be held on an evening when there will be no other interference with other activities. At the end of this period the person with the highest total score will receive the Tournament Prize.

Everyone, including the faculty, is cordially invited to attend, regardless of what talent and ability he had for playing Bridge because the main purpose of the Tournament is to have a good time and not to obtain the highest score.

A charge of fifteen cents every time a person attends is necessary. Part of the money will be used for refreshments and the other part will be placed aside for the Grand Prize.

Mrs. DeLaney, Miss Draks, Dr. Stopher, and Mr. Edmunds have offered their services to help the players with their scores and any other bridge difficulties which may arise.

The evening set aside for this Bridge Tournament and other small details have not been cleared up as yet because the entire program is not worked out, so watch the Bulletin board and STYLUS for further developments!

Successful Climax in Spring Recital For College Chorus

Miss Pauline Haynes Director of Annual Program

On Wednesday evening, May 23, at 8:30, the presentation of the annual Spring Recital took place in the College Auditorium.

The recital was presented by the Women's Chorus, the Mixed Chorus, the Girls' Ensemble of nine voices and several soloists, with Miss Pauline Haynes directing and Mrs. Ernest Tuttle accompanying. The large audience was enthusiastic in its reception of the program, which was as follows:

Vespers, Caroling Highlight Season

The annual Christmas Vesper Service was held in the auditorium last Sunday, December 17, at 5:00 o'clock.

The white-robed chorus entered the auditorium singing the well-known strains of "O Come All Ye Faithful." The group, under the capable direction of Miss Haynes, gave an admirable performance, and the program was, by far, the highlight of the pre-Christmas festivities.

The annual traditional Christmas Carol Sing and Tea were held Tuesday, Dec. 19, in the campus school library, from 4 to 6 p. m.

The entire student body and the faculty and their wives were invited to sit around the fireplace to sing carols and have refreshments consisting of tea and cookies.

Betty Evershed and Miss Pauline Haynes were the co-chairmen for this event.

The annual Christmas caroling will take place tonight. It is hoped that a very large number of the college students will turn out to share in spreading the holiday cheer. After segregating the carolers into smaller groups, each section will follow a designated course to ascertain that all the faculty members will be entertained. When all the scheduled events have been carried out, the carolers will return to the college cafeteria for refreshments.

JUNIOR DAISY CHAIN BEARERS HONOR 1945 GRADUATES TODAY

Class Day Program

Senior Class, 1945

State Teachers College

Brockport . . . New York

OF DAISIES AND SUCH

We Juniors have done much dreaming lately about—hey, who said finals? I mean the daisy chain, of course. It finally came to such a peak that an election was held. And twelve of all the beautiful Juniors were selected.

But now we realize the work involved in preparing the chain. Memorial Day—a holiday for most everyone—turned out to be a "picnic" for us. In slacks and long-sleeved blouses, we hiked out into the fields of Brockport whenever daisies could be found. The heat, weeds and heavy wheelbarrows were no obstacles for us.

Then this morning all those who were fortunate enough to have any cuts left (including all members of the Junior Class) really worked with their usual persevering spirit. Dr. Stratmeyer told us once that it would take all morning to complete the job—but we weren't at all surprised to find that we had finished five minutes early. We hardly could believe that the "tons" of daisies collected the day before were all to be used in completing the chain. But finally though, we knew it was a job well done.

Such a pretty sight—the elegant Juniors leading the proud Seniors! The gowns were gorgeous summer affairs—modest too. There were yellow, pink, white, and two pale blue ones.

The fresh looking daisies really did the trick. We were satisfied with our efforts.

But now who wants to do the cleaning? Why not simply throw away the complete chain instead of spending the rest of the afternoon taking it apart? Ah, me—if only that persevering spirit still holds out!

TRADITIONAL MOVING - UP EXERCISES TODAY

By Kay Clark

At 12:00 o'clock today, the seniors will have their Class Day luncheon at the Roxbury Inn. Dorothy Wier is the chairman of this noon-time program, and is responsible for the pleasant informal luncheon the seniors will have there.

Following the luncheon, the Seniors, and all members of the student body and faculty, will assemble in the college theatre for the Moving-Up exercises at 2:00. The "Stately Seniors" will be the last to enter the theatre. They will be accompanied by the daisy-chain bearers, members of the Junior Class. After the Seniors are seated on the stage, there will be an introduction to the program by Jean Joffe, who will direct the Moving-Up ceremony. The "Verdant Freshmen," seated together, will move to the Sophomore seats, then the "Silly Sophomores" will take the Juniors' seats, and last, the "Jolly Juniors" will move to take the Seniors' seats.

When everyone is seated and acquainted with his strange new location, the program will continue with a speech by the Senior Class president, Jean DeWitte, to the Junior Class vice-president, Peg Kartzrock, who is taking Joe Feaster's place at the head of that class. The class will is to be read. The rest of the ceremony is a deep dark secret, to all but members of the Senior Class. They say it's to be made up of things they've always wanted to do!

After the program is over, and the Seniors have filed out through the long aisle bordered by daisies and pastel gowns, the students and faculty will adjourn to the corner of College and Main Street for the dedication of the class gift. This dedication will be made by Jean DeWitte. The Alma Mater will bring a fitting close to Class Day, 1945.

IMRE KOVACS CHOSEN SPEAKER FOR COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES

SEVENTY - THREE ELIGIBLE FOR EDUCATION DEGREE

By Betty Evershed

Brockport State Teachers College will hold its seventy-eighth annual commencement exercises on Monday, June 11 at ten o'clock A. M. in the college auditorium.

The guest speaker for the occasion will be Mr. Imre Kovacs, exponent of democracy, student of world affairs and authority on central Europe and the Balkans. He was born in Hungary and was educated in German, Roumanian and Siberian schools. He came to America, however, and completed his training at Yale University Graduate School and Juillard School of Music. He speaks English fluently in addition to six other languages. He is now giving his entire time and talents to the lecture platform, spreading the message of democracy for the remedy of the blind hatreds of Europe. Mr. Kovacs promises to be an interesting speaker, especially during these times.

The program will open with the processional, "Pomp and Circumstances" played by Mrs. Tuttle on the organ and will be immediately followed by the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner." The invocation will be given by the Reverend B. Forest. The soloist for the occasion will be Mrs. Donald Tower who will sing "A Song of Joy" by Woodman. Mr. Bernard Drake will then make the presentation of the graduating class and Dr. Donald Tower will award the diploma and confer the degree. An organ solo of Liszt's "Liebestraum" played by Mrs. Tuttle is scheduled, after which will come the benediction by the Reverend Paul Voigt. With the playing of the recessional march the program will be concluded.

Following is a list of the students at Brockport State Teachers College who are eligible to receive diplomas this June and August.

Those who completed their course in August 1944 are: Winifred Blossum, Virginia Carpenter, C. Elizabeth Carpenter, Helen Dick, Rita Elliott, Paul Goodwin, Mildred Hazel, Mabel Larmay, Lorraine Latham, Janet Livermore, Helen Mercer, Kathryn Metherell, Alton Owen, Helen Thompson, Helen Wood.

The following completed their requirements in January 1945: Irene Vinski, Wilma Casper, Grace Doherty, Isabel Ebert, Eleanor Exner, Ann D. Monahan, Wilbur Stein, Florence Wiedrick.

Those to complete the requirements this June are: Roberta Alexander, Betty Beardsley, Gloria Caparelli, Betty Connal, Grace Cowles,

WHAT BROCKPORT HAS TO OFFER

In case you haven't already noticed it (by that glam in our eye) we here at Brockport are very proud of our school and what it has to offer us. First and foremost, we are proud of our building with the promise of dormitories in the near future. The well equipped gym, the large pool, our extremely modern theatre, spacious library and above all, the part dearest to the heart of each student, the comfortable and home-like place known to us as THE LOUNGE. These are all features of our building that give us cause for pride.

The next item for which we feel we have cause to brag is the friendly spirit that prevails here. Brockport has always had this reputation and it is one that we are eager to keep up.

It seems that Brockport has a special gift for making newcomers as well as its own students feel completely at home the minute they enter the building. It would seem as though a copy of Dale Carnegie's book "How to Win Friends and Influence People" was a textbook possessed by every student.

Next we are proud of the well-rounded liberal education that we receive here as students. It is one which we feel compares favorably with that of any other college of the country.

And last of all we are proud of our faculty. They are a friendly, cheerful and helpful group of men and women in whom we have every confidence in the world. But best of all we like them because they are our friends and not merely our teachers. I think this can be summed up by saying that here at B. S. T. C. no great formal barrier is drawn between student and teacher.

So you see, my high school friend, we think that this is a pretty fine place to spend four years of your life and we hope that after you have had a chance to look around today you will go away thinking so too.

IN DEFENSE OF CADETS

For all you Frosh wondering about the queer people who dash into the lounge at odd moments during the day for a quick cigarette, here is the answer to your question. These people are cadets. They are to be treated with kindness and consideration, for in two short years you too may become a cadet, and then you will understand.

These underprivileged, overburdened characters work at least 30 hours a day, eight days a week beating into the heads of their poor pupils what bits of knowledge they have struggled the night before. They strive to satisfy their teachers, and their critics, and when all that is done—no pay check.

This is the "hardening up" process, so prepare, you too will be hardened!

13 Rochesterians Are Of Brockport Class Practice Teaching

Thirteen Rochesterians are among the 78 Brockport State Teachers College seniors engaged in nine weeks of supervised practice teaching in the college detention school and in the public elementary schools in the Rochester area. Dear Miss Evershed:

Upon the recommendation of the Teacher Selection Committee and with the approval of our Superintendent of Schools and of our Board of Education, I am inviting you to come to teach next year in the Rochester elementary schools at the annual salary rate of $1,800. I hope you are interested. Within the next day or so I shall send you the formal letter of assignment that we use as a contract.

Though we do not know at this early date in what school a teacher would be placed nor the exact grade level at which her teaching would be done, I can assure you that in every case the placement would be within the three grade preferences expressed by the teacher. I know that Miss Hazel Prehm, Director of Elementary Grades, makes every effort possible to give the teacher her first choice.

I should appreciate having your reply not later than Wednesday, February 20.

Sincerely yours,

Henry E. Wondergem, Jr.

Dear Miss Evershed:

This is the official notice of your assignment to the Rochester elementary schools for one year beginning (probably) September 4, 1946 at the initial annual salary rate of $1,800.

This assignment is subject to the possession of a valid license for teaching elementary grades. It is also subject to the provisions of the New York State Teachers Retirement System, a copy of which is enclosed for your information.

Teachers are not appointed to permanent tenure until after the completion of a satisfactory three year probationary period.

During the early part of the probationary period the teacher will be asked (1) to have a physical examination by a physician representing the Board of Education, (2) to furnish this office with her birth certificate, or its legal equivalent, and (3) to furnish an official transcript of her undergraduate work.

It is an expectation on our part that unappointed teachers reside in the city at least during the five days of the week that school is in session.

You are being assigned by resolution of the Board of Education so that any satisfactory period of service may be counted toward your credit in the New York State Teachers Retirement System and toward the completion of the three year probationary period of the Rochester Board of Education.

Will you kindly acknowledge this letter, and your acceptance of its terms, by signing the enclosed duplicate and returning it to this office.

Sincerely yours,

Henry E. Wondergem

My dear Miss Evershed:

May I take this opportunity to give you a cordial welcome to the Rochester School System and particularly to the Department of Elementary Grades. We hope that your life in Rochester will bring you many personal and professional satisfactions.

As early in June as is possible I shall send you a letter giving you the name of your principal, school, and grade placement. Last year more than fifty percent of the entering teachers found it possible to again visit Rochester and go to the schools to which they were assigned. This gave them the opportunity to meet the principal and teachers, and in many cases to see the children whom they were going to teach. Circumstances may prevent you from making a visit, but I offer the suggestion so that you may think about such a possibility. After your grade placement is made we shall send you a course of study and other materials which may prove helpful in giving you an overview before school begins.

It is our plan to hold an induction day the morning of September 3, which is the day prior to the tentative date for opening school in the fall. However, we shall advise you later of the time and date of such a meeting.

Cordially yours,

Hazel Frahm

Miss Betty Evershed

Rochester 9, New York

Dear Miss Evershed:

May I again take this opportunity to welcome you to the Department of Elementary Grades and to the teaching staff of the Rochester Public Schools. I know you are anticipating your experience with enthusiasm, and it is my hope that you will have a happy and profitable year.

It is now possible to inform you that you will be assigned to a 7B grade at No. 44 School, 820 Chili Avenue. Miss Alma Haessig is acting principal of the school. You will be interested to know that other probationers have been assigned to the same school in which you are to teach. Should you wish to visit the school and meet the principal before the closing date on June 21, please feel free to do so. It would be best if you could come the early part of the week.

An all-day orientation meeting for probationers has been planned to begin at 9:30 a.m., Tuesday, September 3, in Room 310 at the Education Building, 13 South Fitzhugh Street. Since many of you expressed a desire to become acquainted with the Rochester courses of study before the opening of school, we are mailing them to you. There are deletions and revisions in the intermediate social studies course, but these will be explained at the orientation meeting.

It will be desirable to have the courses of study with you at the orientation meeting. If it is inconvenient to bring them back, you might mail them to this office by August 30. Please do not allow yourself to be overwhelmed by the number of volumes. We thought you might feel more secure if you had the opportunity to get an overview of the general organization and content for your grade. There are two centers of interest for each grade beginning with kindergarten, thus grade three would study centers 7 and 8; grade four, centers 9 and 10.

If there are questions you wish answered or points which need further clarification relative to your entrance into Rochester teaching, feel free to write me at any time. We are looking forward to greeting you in the fall.

Cordially yours,

Hazel Frehm

Robt. Skelton In Charge of Spring Day Arrangements

May 3 Set as Date For Sub-Frosch Visit To Brockport State

Tentative plans for Spring Day, Friday, May 3, are in full swing now with Mr. Robert Skelton as the chairman. Working along with Mr. Skelton are Miss Pauline Haynes and Mr. Frank Lane. This year instead of electing one student chairman, the four presidents of the classes will serve as chairmen. They are Betty Evershed, Mary Jane Wellert, Eleanor McNeill, and James Sorce.

All classes from 9:00-1:30 are to be held that day. The sub-frosch will be given a schedule of these and may go wherever they choose. The official greeters headed by Dr. Nicholas Gale are Miss Pauline Haynes, Mrs. Floy DeLaney, Mr. Raye Conrad and Mr. Ernest Tuttle. There also will be student guides and monitors who will be posted throughout the building. Heading the student guides are Jack Cahill, Robert Lux, Patricia Scott, Margaret Kurczek and Joseph Felice. Then to further help our visitors, a huge poster showing the layout of the building will be placed in the main foyer.

At approximately 11:45 luncheon will begin. Miss Sara Jackson is in charge so an excellent hot lunch is guaranteed. Working with Miss Jackson are Anita Howard and Marjorie Wilson. Luncheon will be enjoyed on the spacious, green lawns of the college—providing weather permits. If not, it will be in the gymnasium.

From 12:00-1:30 the two lounges, small music room, faculty reception hall and the home economics reception room will be held open to the public. There will be there to help entertain by singing and playing piano. Miss Dorothy Sutter heads this group.

Assembly which will be short and entertaining is at 1:30. Dr. Donald Tower will welcome the visitors and several brief speeches will be given by school officials. Betty Evershed, by president of the Senior Class, will provide over the assembly. To have a finale, the faculty quartet will perform.

From 2:30-4:00 there will be a tea dance in the college gymnasium. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lane are in charge of this.

It is anticipated that approximately 400 visitors will explore the halls of B. S. T. C. It is hoped that they students cooperate and help make this Spring Day the best one ever.

Rochesterians Head Brockport Reception

Miss Betty Evershed of 2606 Culver Rd., president of Brockport State Teachers College senior class is chairman of the reception committee which will welcome approximately 500 high school seniors to the college today, Sub-Freshman Day. Purpose of the affair is to acquaint area high school seniors with students and faculty and the academic and campus life at the institution.

Many To Visit B. S. T. C. On First Post-War Spring Day

Mr. Robert Skelton General Chairman for Event

By Betty Evershed

Today, Spring Day, Brockport State Teachers College takes the opportunity to welcome the sub-frosch from the surrounding areas. This day has been set aside so that you might come to know Brockport better and see what it has to offer you as a prospective student. This is your day and we hope to make it as pleasant for you as is possible.

You are welcomed at the door by a group of students and faculty members. After you have checked your wraps in the checking room off the college gymnasium you are asked to register in the gymnasium.

dance. The circus theme will prevail throughout this occasion. There will be side shows and all the traditional elements of a Barnum and Bailey special. Here you may dance to your heart's content and in general enjoy yourself. Don't let the fact that you don't dance keep you away for we guarantee all sorts of amusements to suit every taste.

In the event that you merely wish to relax for a while five lounges will be opened for your use. You may smoke in the two main lounges on the lower floor. The music that you hear and perhaps dance to in Room 112 comes from a record player purchased this year by the Student-Faculty Council.

The program for today has largely been under the direction of Mr. Robert Skelton, art instructor, assisted by the four class presidents and a group of faculty members. Each member of the student body as well as all the faculty members participated in making Spring Day as you find it here today.

It would be impossible to single out all those who should be mentioned but the list would certainly include the following: Miss Jackson, Anita Howard and Marjorie Wilson who planned and made possible the hot lunch; the dance committee headed by students Frank Seherer and Jean Woodford and faculty members Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lane; the circus ringmaster, Lawrie Root; and Art Benvenuto and his lounge committee.

The hours from 8:00 to 1:30 have been set aside so that you might have the opportunity to tour the building. There will be students stationed at all the vital spots to describe the place and answer any of your questions. Also during this time you may visit any of the classes that are in session. These are not special "staged" classes but our regular Friday morning schedule. Please consult the program of the day for a list of classes and places for you to visit that might be of particular interest to you.

An exhibition in the pool will take place from 9:00 on. Here you will have the chance to see Brockport's mermaids going through their races. A hot lunch in picnic style will be served from 11:30 on. If the weather permits, it will take place on the south side of the college campus. If not, it will be served in the college gymnasium. Tickets for the lunch may be purchased at the door.

At 1:30 all will meet in the auditorium for an assembly program. Mr. Drake, Director of Teacher Education of the College, will give you a word of welcome. Because of official business requiring his presence in Albany, Dr. Tower, President of the College, will be unable to be here today. At this program you will meet the presidents of the four classes—Jim Sorce, Freshman; Eleanor McNeill, Sophomore; Mary Jane Wellert, Junior; and Betty Evershed, Senior, along with two faculty members whom you should know. They are Miss Jackson, Dean of Women, and Dr. DeLaney, Director of Admissions. You will also see some of Brockport's outstanding talent in the persons of Shirley Moss, pianist, and Jerry Pero, vocalist. To add variety to the program the men's physical education classes will put on some unusual tableaux while another group of college men prepared a skit called "If Men Played Bridge" and "Women Do" which we think you will enjoy.

In case you should have visited some of the Campus School classes earlier in the day you will be especially interested in a portion of the play that a group of the children will put on during the assembly program. Act 11 of "The Blue Bird" by Maurice Maeterlinck. It is the story of two children Mytyl and Tytyl and a fairy Yeryline who are searching for a shalimar for a little girl who is sick. The journey takes the group to the Land of Memory where they see people that are dead whom they once loved. The story tells us that the dead who are remembered there as happily as though they were not dead." The play is under the direction of Miss Van Slyke, fourth grade critic and includes children from the Kindergarten, First, Sixth and Seventh grades. The full play is to be given later this month. Two substitutions had to be made in the last minute because of two children getting the measles.

Seniors Feted At Brockport

Four Rochesteriana, presidents of classes at the Brockport State Teachers College, and a committee of faculty members today welcomed more than 500 high school seniors to Sub-Freshman Day at the school.

Miss Betty Evershed, 2664 Culver Rd., senior class president and chairman, was assisted by Mary Jane Wellert, 71 Onesta St., junior class president; Eleanor McNeill, 22 Alberta St., sophomore president, and James Sorce, 607 Portland Ave., freshman president.

Purpose of the day is to acquaint area high school seniors with students, faculty and academic and campus life at the school.

Crozier, Dr. Steel Cooperate in Direction of Sophisticated Spring Production

"Blithe Spirit", a comedy farce by Noel Coward, is the choice of the Dramatics Club for the Spring presentation to be given Tuesday and Thursday evenings, March 26 and 28. Norma Crozier, a Senior and active member of the Dramatics Club and Dr. Eric Steel are co-directing the presentation.

The play is the story of Charles, a sophisticated novelist who finds himself in an entangling and awkward situation with his second wife, Ruth, when a seance results in his first wife, Elvira, returning from "the other side."

It is a comedy farce, full of witty dialogue, based upon a thoroughly improbable circumstances. Elvira is extremely alluring and attractive even as a ghost.

The remainder of the play deals with the domestic complications that ensue until both wives are exorcised, and Charles, who claims he has always been happy, is left in at least relative if not splendid isolation.

The fine and able cast includes: Elvira—"glamour ghost" and first wife of Charles Doris Metzger
Charles—sophisticated novelist who thoroughly enjoys himself..... Jack Cahill

Ruth—bewildered second wife of Charles Margaret Kishlar
Madame Arcti—wired and hilarious Barbara Timmens
Edith—the highly amusing maid Annette Clement

Mrs. Bradman Mary Dronkers
Dr. Gradman Michael Chiroc

All these people have had previous dramatic experience. Doris Metzger and one of the main parts in Dr. Steel's short production, "I Will Be Heard". Annette Clement was also in this play. Jack Cahill had a part in a Senior play in high school. Margaret Kishlar will be remembered for her performance in last year's production of "Ladies in Retirement", in which she had the lead. Barbara Timmens was co-author and director of this year's Sophomore assembly. Mary Dronkers was co-director of the Christmas play which the Dramatics Club put on for the Campus School. Michael Chiroc has been an active participant in dramatics at B. S. T. C., being in plays in both his Freshman and Sophomore years. With such a play as "Blithe Spirit", the talent of these people will be delightfully intermingled.

Both Norma and Dr. Steel feel that the cast is an excellent one and that the presentation will be outstanding. The directors urge every student and faculty member to come and to bring their friends, relatives and house mothers and fathers. A full house on both evenings is the goal for "Blithe Spirit."

To all the members on the various committees congratulations and thanks should be extended for their diligent work and co-operation.

The committees are as follows:

Publicity: Carol DeWitte, Dorothy Eyer; Program: Winnie Vanderhoof, Jayne Fichter, Joyce Goodwin; Properties: Ann Brown, Florence Chapman, Ann Baranov; Make-up: Marilyn Guttenberg, Fran Day, Marjorie Hackett; Costume: Betty Evershed, Virginia Hearty.

The following have been chosen to be ushers: Winnie Vanderhoof, Joyce Goodwin, Jayne Fichter, June Hines, Dory Eyer, Hughena Brink, Marge McKellar, Jeanne McCarthy, Barbara Barbara, Betty Evershed, Carol DeWitte and Ann Sinclair.

Let's all get in the spirit and come to see "Blithe Spirit" either the 26th or 28th of March.

TIPS AND TIDBITS

By ELLA CAMP and LAURIE ROOT

The Wallace House seems to have adopted Joe Valentino, but Joyce Goodwin seems to be the mother superior.

It would take a separate column in itself to keep up with the Wallace House, so we'll just say they're continuing on their merry way.

Any of you ladies wishing introductions to any of the latest allotment of God's gift to Brockport gals, contact the sisters of "brothers" Day and Cox. By the way, the gals were anticipating the job of looking after their respective brothers, but we'd like to know now, who, exactly, is looking after who?

Joyce Goodwin royally entertained the Wallace House and escorts at a very swell party recently. Some of the highlights of the evening were a very attractive punch bowl, a very touching display of balloons dancing to the "Blue Danube" which ended in a polka, and a full course supper served at one thirty a. m. Last but not least, Joyce's new Carol conversable was on display (there's an old saying, you guys, that "It's just as easy to fall for a display with a car as for one with one")—and you should see that car!

We are seriously thinking of writing a novel entitled "Burgie and the Rat". It seems that Bonnie's inventory was in dire need of an unusual experience. Very thoughtfully she placed a dead rat in the desk of one of her pupils. Results—more than ONE unusual experience.

A group of Seniors is suggesting the presentation to the school of a mascot this year. The proposed pup is to be a Saint Bernard complete with keg about his neck to lope periodically off for the library to revive certain habits.

Why did Bonnie Burgie get so upset about the reference to County property? Perhaps a story is lurking behind that self-consciousness.

Jean Harrington seems to be an authority on "Limbo". We don't know what it means, either.

Fran Day, with an eye to the future, is in the market for a ready-made master's thesis. She says she's only kidding (?).

First Come, Last Served

Miss Jackson—"Someone definitely did not follow my instructions."

Miss Jackson: "You in the back of the room, what do the carotenoids do?"

"I dunno."

Miss Jackson: "You don't know? Well, then, what is chlorophyll?"

"I dunno."

Miss Jackson: "Well, what is photosynthesis?"

"I dunno."

Miss Jackson: "Do you realize I assigned this last Friday? What were you doing last night?"

"I was out drinking beer with some friends."

Miss Jackson: "What audacity to stand there and tell me a thing like that. How do you expect to pass this course?"

"Well, I don't, ma'am. I just came in to fix the radiator!"

SENIOR PRESIDENT

Betty Evershed

Senior Class

Senior Class officers for the year were elected at the meeting of October 18.

Betty Evershed was elected president; Edna Rhodes, vice-president; Anita Howard, Secretary; and Pat Scott, treasurer.

Since Anita is cadeting until January, Betty Bisset was appointed to serve as secretary until that time. Since Betty Evershed is also cadeting, Edna Rhodes will assume the duties and responsibilities of the office of president until the end of the semester.

SENIOR SIRENS

The second regular meeting of the Senior Class was held Thursday morning, April 4th in Room B6. The meeting was given over mostly to the organization of a social calendar for the Senior Class.

It was decided that the Senior Class would sponsor an all college formal dance some time in May. Joyce Fichter and Sally Atherton were elected as co-chairmen for the planning of this dance. It was also decided that the Seniors would have a class banquet some time before the end of the semester. Marilyn Lester and Jean Woodford were elected by the class to act as co-chairmen.

Following the tradition here at R. S. T. C., the Seniors started in with the basic preparations for Class Day which is to be held May 23. Norma Crozier and Helen Goshardt were chosen to plan the activities for that day.

A report on the progress of and plans for the Senior assembly was given by Rita Natale. The cast has been rehearsing every night in readiness for the big production.

In addition, arrangements were made for notifying the Seniors who graduated last January of all class activities so that they might participate whenever possible. The meeting was adjourned by the president.

RETURNED CADETS' COMPLETE CLASS

Optimistic Seniors Prepare For June Graduation

The first meeting of the Senior Class in its entirety was held last Monday afternoon in room B-14. Many seniors cadeted last term, making it necessary to postpone important business until the present time.

Betty Evershed presided at this meeting. Suggestions were made as to whom the 1946 Saga should be dedicated. These later were voted upon. The Saga staff, however, which has been working "undercover", requested that the decision not be divulged. Marilyn Lester was elected as the third senior representative to the Student-Faculty Association Council.

Along with graduation come many "odd jobs". Four seniors volunteered to be in charge of two of these. Margaret Kishlar and Florence Filato will take orders for the announcements of the commencement exercises. Frances Latta and Virginia Hearty will take measurements for caps and gowns.

Lola Mack and Frances Latta will present party suggestions to the group at the next meeting which will be held on February 14. It is hoped that every senior will be present at this meeting as the amount of dues, the class gift and the senior assembly will be decided upon at this date.

SENIORS PLAN BANQUET AS GRADUATION NEARS

About eighty Seniors are expected to attend the Senior Banquet, to be held at the Roxbury Inn in Brockport on May 15.

The chairman for the banquet are as follows: Arrangements, Florence Filato; Tickets, Virginia Hearty; Decorations, Patricia Scott; Entertainment, Rita Natale; Invitations, Margaret Kurzrock.

To be eligible to attend the banquet, a Senior must graduate in either January, June or August, 1946. He may also attend if he will graduate in January, 1947, and associates himself with the present Senior class.

The goal of the class is to have every Senior present. Betty Evershed, President of the class, will act as toastmistress at the banquet.

Rejuvenated Seniors Enjoy Kiddie Party

On Thursday evening, February 28th, the Seniors came across with a novel idea and had a Mary Jane and Buster Brown party. The theme of the occasion was a kids' party that all of us remember so well from "way back when."

To start things off with a bang all those attending were given a lollipop to munch on. Everyone came dressed as either a little Mary Jane or Buster Brown. All of those that attended must agree that some of the costumes certainly were novel enough. Dorothy Brecken won the prize as the best Buster Brown and Irene Brown won honors as the best Mary Jane. Ask them to show you their pin wheels some time.

To keep in the spirit of things all of the "Stately Seniors" dropped their dignity for a while and had as much fun as any grade in the campus school has ever had playing Musical Chairs, Tisket-a-Tasket, Farmer in the Dell and Winkum. The evening successfully ended with dancing and refreshments that consisted of cupcakes and Dixie cups for all.

Lola Mack and Fran Latta are to be congratulated for their work in planning and carrying out the plans of the evening.

TEA GIVEN FOR SENIORS

On Tuesday, May 21, the members of the Senior Class were delightfully entertained by their class advisors Mrs. McCrozy and Mr. and Mrs. Ed and Mrs. Edmunds at a Spring Tea. The affair was held on the spacious lawn of the Edmunds' home on Holly Street.

From 4:15 to 5:30 the Seniors informally visited with their hosts and with each other. All deemed it one of the highlights of the Graduation Season.

GALA EVENING OF FOOD AND FUN AT SENIOR'S BANQUET

Two-Shift Dinner Followed By Musical Program

"Dinner, song, a night of fun;
The banquet was enjoyed by everyone."

Yes, May 15 is the night the Seniors will remember as the night of a "real good time." Marilyn Lester and Jean Woodford were the co-chairmen for the Senior Banquet that was held at the Landmark.

The eating in "two shifts" proved an unusual but enjoyable experience. Mrs. McCrory and Dr. Towner were present at the first shift and Mr. Edmunds was present at the second shift. Half of the class ate at 7:30, and then came back to the college for entertainment of their own choosing, while the second part of the class enjoyed their dinner. And what a dinner—everything "from grapefruit juice to pie à la mode."

At 10:00 the entire class met in the lounge-annex, H 18, for the social part of the evening. Rita Natale acted as master of ceremonies. Group singing started the fun. How silly the Stately Seniors looked as they "flicked flies off of bunnie's ears!"

Elizabeth Ward presented a humorous monologue of a woman trying to do her shopping with her troublesome, mythical offspring at her side.

The "great big beautiful dolls" provided something unique in entertainment. With holes cut through cardboard, and tiny dresses attached, the heads, arms (portraying feet) of Letty Watson, Sue Pugliese, and Renee Pettit shined through. Behind the cardboard were the "delicate limbs" of Blanche McGee, Josephine Trupiano, and Marjorie Wilson. The applause proved that the Seniors were charmed with the beautiful dolls.

Rita Natale, portraying the oft-professor Kay Kyster, presented that "makes ya wanna dance music" with an elver quiz. The professor told a story and then omitted a phrase, which fitted the missing phrase. The "student" who knew the song title and first raised his hand was awarded a lollypop! Mrs. McCrory received a lollypop on her quick recognition of "Oh, Johnny." As for Mr. Edmunds—well, there was a lollypop left over! At the closing of the quiz, the evening was brought to a close with the professor's words of "so long everybody."

As usual, those who are coming with dates outside of school must secure guest cards from Miss Jackson.

We'll see you tomorrow night at 9:00. Watch for the gold ring!

Merry-go-round to Entertain Dancers

Bob Bruce's Orchestra To Play
For Senior Ball

By Jayne Fichter

The Merry-go-Round at the Senior Ball will be ready to swing into motion tomorrow night at 9:00 o'clock to the music of Bob Bruce and his orchestra.

The Seniors under the co-chairmanship of Jayne Fichter and Sally Atherton are sponsoring the last semi-formal dance of the season tomorrow evening, May 24, from 9:00 until 1:00 o'clock.

All the members of the class have been working on one committee or another. Fran Day and her committee, consisting of Dorothy Breckon, Irene Brown, Carol DeWitte, Winnie Vanderhoof, Betty Combe, Fran Latta Howard, Virginia Hays, Estelle Silverstein Kaplan, Ruth Schuchart, Pannie Fishbaugh Cushing, Betty Fishbaugh, Brinnie Summer, H 1111 Brown, Ray Hill, Tom Cornish, Norma Whittaker, Ella Camp, Betty Ward, and Jean Woodford, have been concentrating on the job of "atmosphering" the gymnasium for the affair. As to just what their combined wits have gathered together you will see tomorrow night.

Plo Filato with the help of Lois Mack and Anita Howard were fortunate in their efforts to secure an extra special band to keep the merry-go-round moving. Bob Bruce has the highest popularity rating in Rochester and Brockport has him.

Marilyn Lester with Renee Potvin, Monica Hall, Helen Stubbs, Edna Rhodes, Dorothea Slater, Betty Chapman, and Jo Trupiano have been dreaming up a "pink-lemonade" with the help of Helen and Mattie Lambert and Betty Ward will serve as hostesses from 9:30 until 12:30.

Norma Crozier with Bill Maniatis and Peggy Karrook made the posters that have been placed around school and secured publicity in both the town and Rochester newspapers.

Sue Pugliese and her committee, made up of Louise Collins, Rita Natale, Almerinda Coletta, Blanche McGee, Ruth Schanze, Marjorie Wilson, Martha Keller, Betty Watson, Lisa G. Smith, Blanche Handy, Dorothy Bennett, and Florence Chapman, you have seen in the foyer all this week selling tickets. There will be someone stationed there until 4:30 tomorrow afternoon.

Doris Rifkin with the help of Marian Baker, Jean Gravelle, Ruth Schuchart, and Betty Combe wrote the formal invitations to the faculty and board members of the college.

Charlotte Garelick and Pat Scott, Lety Evershed, and Helen Gerhardt have set up the programs for the dance which they are having printed.

The reception line will be composed of Dr. and Mrs. Towner; Mr. and Mrs. Edmunds and Mrs. McCrory, Senior Class advisors; Betty Evershed, Senior Class president; and Sally Atherton and Jayne Fichter, dance chairmen.

There will be a grand-march at 10:15 o'clock. During intermission, from 11:00 until 11:30, the recorder will be played for those who do not wish to leave school. The ping-pong room will be used as a lounge during the evening.

Class Day Program Under Direction of Senior Graduates

New Seats Inherited Along With Other Wieldy Article

The cap and gown-and Seniors have been participating today in Class Day, one of the final events for the Class of 1946.

All Seniors were excused from classes at 12:30 in order that they might attend the Senior luncheon at the Roxbury at 1:00. This luncheon was held for both faculty and Seniors. Entertainment and songs were provided at this time headed by Ruth Schuchart and Betty Eliset. Carol DeWitte and Betty Chapman were responsible for the unique place cards. Members of the Daisy chain met the Seniors at the Roxbury immediately following the luncheon and escorted them down College Street to the school. Twelve members of the Sophomora Class made up the daisy chain. They were: Shirley Mass, Barbara Hates, Betty Fleming, Betty Housel, Louise Groce, Pauline Trupiano, Betty Cline, Lela Shurt, Sue Kraft, Eleanor McNeill, Letty Tennant, and Bernice Knauer.

Underclassmen were excused from classes at 2:25 in order that they might attend the moving-up day exercises in the auditorium. The assembly program was put on by the Seniors. It was opened by a charge from the Senior Class to the Juniors made by Helen Gerhardt. This was followed by the moving-up day exercises in which members of all the classes formally moved up to the section of the auditorium that they will occupy next year. Ella Camp presented the class well. This was the time that the Seniors wished any of their prize possessions to various underclassmen. Such abilities as making pancakes, getting on Clean-Up committees, and a host for eating as well as such possessions as height, commuter's tickets, binoculars, and medicine kits were handed down to those underclassmen who most deserved them.

The class prophecy was cleverly presented in skit form under the direction of Charlotte Garelick. The Class song, You Made Us What We Are Today, by Ella Camp, came next on the program. The exercises were closed by the presentation of the class gift by the Senior Class President. In memory of them, the Class of 1946 presented to the school a mirror for use in the pool along with a recorder for gym and pool use only.

Helen Gerhardt and Norma Crozier were co-chairmen for the class day program. The committee chairmen working under them were: Pat Scott, Winnie Vanderhoof, Luncheon; Ella Camp, Class Will; Charlotte Garelick, Class Prophecy; and Edna Rhodes, songs.

Pat: And on the society page was a big article about Jayne Richter being hostess for a tea at the museum, where Blanche Handy was guest speaker. From the article I understand that Blanche is quite a prominent authority on ---you'll never guess what--- the safety pin!

Peg: The safety pin!

Pat: Yes, she's just returned from abroad where she completed her lengthy treatise on "The Relative Merits of the Safety Pin" for which she received her Ph. D.

Peg: Imagine, taking 20 years to learn all about the safety pin----(Hold up diaper) It certainly didn't take us that long!!

Exit Pat and Peg

Narrator: See, hasn't the class of '46 done wonders?

Aren't we a capable group?

ENTER MESSENGER WITH ENVELOPE CONTAINING ALUMNI BULLETIN 1960

Morning Assembly "Thru The Years" Given By Seniors

Historical Facts Prove Original Thought For Entertainment

"Thru the Years" at Brockport constituted the theme of today's assembly produced by the Senior Class under the co-chairmanship of Edna Rhodes and Rita Natale.

It all started a long time ago—The historical facts were correct and to add to the interest, humor, dance and song were sprinkled here and there. The narration carried the thread of the story. Margaret Kishlar was the modern narrator and Peg Kurzrock was the old-fashioned narrator.

In 1830 money and a plot of land were contributed by Hell Brockway to build a school. The building was abandoned soon to be incorporated by the Board of Regents of the University of the State of New York. The school was soon up for mortgage.

The mortgage scene included: Sue Pugliese—Dr. Tower; Mrs. McCrory—Mrs. McCrory; Mr. Rogers—Norman Whittaker; sheriff—Florence Filato; Dr. Stophar—Blanch McGee; messenger—Irene Brown; Emerald Queen—enchanted Mr. Edmunds; clock mover—Dorothy Bennett; and Virginia Hardy capably ran across the stage with her "fire-cracker."

The alumni tea scene included: Pat Scott, Genevieve Schilling, Thelma Burger, Ella Camp, Betty Evershed, Jayne Fichter, Anita Howard and Lois Mack. Times have certainly changed, haven't they?

The Color Day scene can most adequately be expressed by "cute". The dancers were Carol DeWitte, Betty Fishbaugh, Fanny Fishbaugh, Fran Latta, Helen Gerhardt, Fran Day, Brunhilde Summers, Betty Blissett, Jean Woodford and Betty Ward.

Moving Day showed Tom Cornish as Doc DeLancey laughing characteristically and reciting his "Shakespeare", while Margo Wilson and Renee Potvin urged him to hurry and move into the new building.

The lounge scene included all the other members of the Senior Class. War made Brockport a lonely place, but when the war was over and the boys returned the girls all agreed to "what a difference some men make!". This was especially evident in the bridge playing that continued uninterrupted thru the war years in the lounge. Bids were made intelligently and fulfilled so very much easier when the deviating presence of men was not around to dis-tract from con-tract. The skillful playing done on the terrace-stretching coffee table was artistically portrayed by Marjorie Wilson, Renee Potvin, Betty Watson and Blanche McGee.

(to the tune of "You Won't Be Satisfied")

Now you can see us standing here as graduates,
The products of your classes which we loved to take,
You showered us with tests and composition
And tried to make us realize your hopes, and dreams, and all your ambitions.
From eve to dawn you made us burn the midnight oil
And for a term as poor cadets we worked and toiled,
And thus we stand before you now, our term is done,
We hope you're satisfied because your battle's won.

Verbal orchids go to Helen Stubbins who supplied the piano music and to Edna Rhodes who played the organ. And a large orchid to Ruth Schuchart on the good job done on the setting of the old normal school.

Winnie Vanderhoof, Ruth Schuchart, and Blanche Handy were "right in there with the music".

To all the various committee heads: Margo Wilson, research; Charlotte Garslick, script; Tom Cornish, stage setting; Brunhilde Summers, properties; Carol DeWitte, dance and song; Jayne Fichter, costume; and Norma Crozier, program and publicity; and to the members on their committees, and thanks and congratulations are in order.

DONALD M. TOWER, President

Miss Betty Evershed, President
Senior Class
State Teachers College
Brockport, N. Y.

Dear Betty:

Will you please convey to the members of the Senior Class my genuine appreciation for the many fine things they have contributed to the college. First comes to mind the thoughtful gift of a musical instrument for the swimming pool and the check with which mirrors are to be purchased as soon as available. Both are much needed and will be long appreciated.

I also want the members of your class to know how grateful we of the faculty are about the fine standard the Class of 1946 has set for the senior week activities. Rarely have I seen a finer luncheon, banquet, Class Day program, and Senior Ball. The attention to details and the very thoughtful things which members of the class did for the comfort and happiness of their faculty members was nothing short of inspiring. You have indeed set a high standard for the classes which will come after you.

Cordially yours,

D.M. Tower

BROCKPORT--TODAY AND YESTERDAY

SCENE: Front of B.S.T.C. Modern song and old-fashioned song.

Two girls--one old fashioned and the other modern

Modern: Take a good look. This is Brockport today. Here she stands with her friendly flowers and stately trees and this is how you and I will always remember our dear old campus and its lofty halls.

Old Fashioned: Brockport was not always as we see it today. It all started a long time ago.

(Music--It's Been A Long Long Time)

On the site now covered by Brockport College in the years 1836-1836 the Baptist Missionary Convention of the State of New York erected a stone building 60 by 100 feet in size and 4 stories high. The land was given and a part of the money was contributed by Niel Brookway in honor of whose family Brockport has been named. It was intended for a college, but it was used for this purpose only for a short time for the convention failed to complete it and the design was abandoned.

Soon the citizens of Brockport were called to ascertain if it were not possible to make some use of this noble edifice. They succeeded in making a purchase of the property.

In February of 1842 the Brockport Collegiate Institute was incorporated by the Regents of the University of New York. In the first catalogue 1842 it was announced that "a teacher's class would be formed which would receive particular attention". This was the inception of the normal school in Brockport.

Modern: However, 92 years ago on April 2nd the education of the students was interrupted by a great catastrophe. The building was burned. But the mere fact that the school burned was a meansto an end--why--you shall soon see.

Mortgage Scene

Setting: Large clock on stage set about 11:30 every once and awhile we see someone see someone came and move it up a few minutes.

Dr. Tower: Our school is mortgaged at 10,000 dollars and we have no money to pay it. What to do--what to do.

Mrs. McCrory: I've tried to collect more money from overdue books. What do you think Mr. Rogers?

Mr. Rogers: The fellows are wearing the girl's gym suits for baseball uniforms now.!

(Fellows walk across the stage in girl's gym suits with baseball bats over their arms)

Mrs. McCrory: Why don't we go to the Student Council?

Dr. Tower: No, the student council is trying to raise money so that the

YOU MADE US WHAT WE ARE TODAY

As Seniors of dear Brookport State,
We leave with deep regret,
We've known it all for four short years,
We've loved it since we met.
You've made us what we are today,
We thank you from the heart,
And though we are through,
We'll remember you,
Oh yes, we do hate to part.

WE'D DO IT ALL OVER AGAIN

Verse 1.

School has its worries
Its heartaches, but true,
It's worth all the trouble,
You have to go through.

Chorus:

We'd do it all over again
Go through it all over again.
We came in forty-two,
Four years we've been through,
We've had good times and bad,
But never felt sad.
No matter what we've had to do
There's just this that we can tell you,
Now it's time to graduate
and we wish it could wait,
We'd do it all over again.

Verse 2.

It's been a gamble,
To see if we'd get through
But you see we made it
and so can you.

Chorus:

You'll have ^{at} your classes at eight
and like us, probably be late.
Yawning through class,
Cramming to pass.
You'll only study when
Tests roll around again.
No matter how you've worked or played,
You will be glad that you stayed.
and when comes your last day,
Like us, you will say---
We'd do it all over again.

Norman Thomas to Address Graduates

Alumni Luncheon, Baccalaureate, Commencement Fill Weekend

By Marjorie Wilson

Commencement weekend festivities start with the annual alumni luncheon. This is to be held Saturday, June 8, at 12:30 in the college cafeteria. Mr. Lloyd S. Tenney of Hilton is president of the association. This is the fiftieth anniversary of his class of '96. The class is celebrating in his honor at the luncheon. The secretary of the association is Miss Mildred Spencer of Brockport. Mrs. Keith Fowler, also from Brockport, is in charge of the program arrangements. From the class of '96, Mr. George Earl Edmunds, chairman of the Monroe County Civil Service Commission, is the main speaker. Dr. Donald M. Tower will give a short address. Miss Pauline Haynes has charge of the music for the weekend activities while Mr. Charles F. Lehman will direct the group singing.

Sunday at 4:00 p. m. is baccalaureate. The main address of this service is to be given by Rev. Dr. Charles C. Nobel, dean of Hendricks Chapel, Syracuse University. His subject is "Life Demands Conviction". Dr. Nobel is a graduate of Williams College and Union Theological Seminary. He is the former pastor of the famous old King's Highway Church in Brooklyn, and churches in Hartford, Connecticut, Gales Falls and Syracuse. The invocation and benediction are to be given by Rev. G. Douglas Manson of the First Baptist Church, Brockport.

The commencement procession is Monday morning at ten o'clock. The speaker at the exercises is Dr. Norman Thomas, who was a candidate for the presidency in the last election. He is now a professor at New York University. His subject is "Will Education Change?" The invocation and benediction will be given by Rev. Dr. Charles C. Nobel, dean of Hendricks Chapel, Syracuse University. He is the former pastor of the famous old King's Highway Church in Brooklyn, and churches in Hartford, Connecticut, Gales Falls and Syracuse. The invocation and benediction are to be given by Rev. G. Douglas Manson of the First Baptist Church, Brockport.

Brockport College Gives 99 Degrees

Ninety-nine graduates of Brockport State Teachers College received the degree of bachelor of education at the 79th commencement exercises this morning at the college.

Norman Thomas, former Socialist candidate for the presidency, delivered the commencement address, speaking on "Wife Education Part I."

"Unless education can help us conquer race discrimination, a passionate and narrow nationalism and economic injustice, it will have failed," Thomas told the graduates.

Era Lacks Philosophy

Ours is an age "singularly lacking in a great philosophy, with commanding power over men," he charged.

"Too largely our faith in democracy in the American way of life, or even the Christian way of life is a rather negative thing," Thomas charged. "We like democracy because we do not like dictatorship." Yet, he pointed out, both history and psychology indicate that "democracy will not be saved anywhere unless it can rapidly develop a constructive force, a set of standards and a sense of individual responsibility to them."

Dr. Donald M. Tower, president of the college, presented diplomas to the graduates, who included several war veterans.

Summa Cum Laude

Two of the graduates, Renee Polvin of Honoree Falls and Frances Day of Geneva, received their degrees of summa cum laude.

The five magna cum laude graduates included three Rochesterians: Betty Watson, Norman Crenner and Ruth Schaubert, as well as Joan Woodford of Marcellus and Anthony Mitchell, Earl Rochester.

Cum laude graduates were Rita Nease, Patricia Scott, Charlotte Kestwich, Helen Stubbs and Dorothy Slater, all of Rochester; and Blanche Handy, Helen Lotze, Edna Rhodes, Maurine Baker, Jaama Geneville and Robert Shea.

Roland E. Woodward, vice-chancellor of the Board of Regents of the State of New York and an honor guest at the exercises, spoke briefly.

The invocation and benediction were given by the Rev. Burle M. Dougherty, pastor of St. Luke's Episcopal Church of Brockport. Organ music for the academic procession and the recessional by Miss Elizabeth Jernholm of the class of 1947.

"Spent Life Gladly"

Baccalaureate services were held yesterday afternoon at the college. The baccalaureate address was given by Dr. Charles C. Noble, chaplain of Syracuse University, who urged the graduates to consider themselves expendable if they wished to find complete self-expression and self-fulfillment.

"The only way to face change with confidence and serenity is to spend life gladly," he declared. "Pay better if it is to give out, than hard work than to shove 'em by trying to save oneself."
