Alma Mater

By lofty elm tree shaded round,
Tioughnioga near,
Our grand old Cortland College stands,
To all of us how dear!

We'll sing to thee, dear Alma Mater
Of love that shall never die,
We'll strive for thy glory eternal,
Keep thy stainless honor high.

Inspiring each son and each daughter
The noblest aims to try,
All thy fame and thy spirit,
Thy might are ours
As the swift years hurry by.

Academic Heraldry

The wearing of academic dress at College and university functions had its origins in medieval times. The need for keeping warm in the halls of learning, and the close connection between the University and the church as far back as the twelfth century, led to the wearing of full and colorful garments.

Present usage in the United States of gowns with hoods worn to the back, distinguishes the institution from which the wearer was graduated, the level of the degree earned, and the particular field of learning. The gowns and caps are usually black but with some use of different colors and styles at various institutions. The bachelor's gown is of rather plain cut, with long, pointed sleeves, usually worn without the hood. The gown for the master's degree is fuller with long, square-ended sleeves, permitting the arm to come through a slit at the elbow. The doctor's gown is very full with velvet panels down the front and three velvet bars on the sleeves.

The most distinctive feature of academic dress is the hood which changes in size and elaborateness corresponding to the level of degree held. The inner lining which folds out at the back and center indicates the colors of the educational institution granting the degree. The color of the border which comes around to the front of the neck represents the field of learning.

The black mortar board cap is quite standard with its only distinguishing feature being a gold tassel worn by the holder of the doctor's degree. In some instances, colored tassels are worn by undergraduates with honors.
