

The Fund for the Law School 1983-84

A Message from the 1983-84 Fund for the Law School Chairman

The anxiety I had at the start of the 1983-84 fund drive is no doubt one experienced by every chairman since the fund was started and will be by every chairman hereafter: would I be the first to miss the goal? Well, we made it with about $500 to spare.

Statistics are usually either unintelligible or boring. But there are a few from this fund drive that are rather encouraging and some that suggest that increased cooperation is needed for the future. The good news is that the number of gifts of $1000 or more increased by twenty-four percent over the prior year; the number of individuals contributing over $100 increased by twenty-eight percent; and the total number of contributors increased by nine percent.

The downside is that although the total number of contributors increased, only thirty-five percent of the approximately 5400 total alumni supported the fund. It is imperative that the support base be broadened.

The real work in reaching our $800,000 goal was done by the leadership committee: George Cotsirilos, Deborah Franczek, Stephen Bowen, Ruth Goldman, Elmer Heifetz, Richard Marcus, Mildred Peters and Gerald Sherman. There were, of course, countless volunteers whose help was essential.

Another bright spot this year was the increase in support from outside Chicago. Washington, D.C. and Los Angeles were particularly responsive.

The usual close for a report of this kind is to thank all who assisted in the drive and all whose contributions made it possible to reach the 1983-84 goal. But it is not for me to thank you. Rather it is for all of us to thank each other. This is for our Law School, not yours or mine. Let us keep it great by doing even better next year.

Stuart Bernstein '47

A Message from the Assistant Dean

It has been my pleasure to direct the Fund for the Law School since the fall of 1979. Over those five years, the Fund for the Law School has nearly doubled. The success of our endeavors can be attributed to the many graduates and friends who supported the Law School through financial contributions and volunteer efforts. Most especially, I am indebted to Bernard Nussbaum, J.D. '55, Roger Weiler, J.D. '52, Ronald J. Aronberg, J.D. '57, and Stuart Bernstein, J.D. '47, chairmen of the Fund for the Law School during my tenure, for their extraordinary work.

This fall because of the birth of my son, I will be absent from the Law School. Herbert B. Fried, J.D. '32, former placement director of the Law School will be chairman of the 1984-85 Fund for the Law School and this fall will act as director. I hope all graduates, especially those who benefited from Mr. Fried's tenure as director of placement, will give him their full support.

Last year thirty-five percent of alumni contributed to the Fund for the Law School. An additional three percent of Law School graduates supported the school through contributions to restricted funds such as the Fund for Clinical Legal Education, the Law Alumni Scholarship Fund, and the many named funds at the Law School.

The total of $800,200 reflects only gifts to the Fund for the Law School—annual unrestricted contributions. The many substantial gifts to restricted funds are not included in this accounting. Those restricted gifts, many to endow funds, are also very important to the future of the Law School.

So whether you give to the Fund for the Law School or to a restricted fund, I hope you will support your Law School generously.

Holly C. Davis '76

A Message from the Dean

Under the very able chairmanship of Stuart Bernstein and a leadership committee consisting of Elmer Heifetz, George Cotsirilos, Gerald Sherman, Mildred Peters, Richard Marcus, Deborah Chase Franczek, Stephen Bowen, Ruth Goldman and Robert Claus, the 1983-84 Fund for the Law School reached its goal of $800,000. The 1983-84 Fund for Clinical Legal Education raised an additional $29,000. By comparison with last year, contributions to the Fund for the Law School increased by six and one half percent. Even better news is represented by the fact that the number of alumni contributors increased by nine percent. We are most grateful to the leadership committee and numerous additional volunteers for their tireless help.

As most alumni and friends know by now, we are about to enter a Capital Campaign. Its tasks must be accomplished without endangering the annual fund. The Capital Campaign will focus on major gifts and will not solicit all alumni. Those who will be solicited will be requested to continue their annual giving. The capital campaign effort and the Fund for the Law School are separate, although complementary, endeavors. The goals of the capital fund drive—to expand endowment and improve the financial base of the Law School—will be achieved only if the annual giving continues to grow.

It is with very special pleasure and satisfaction that I welcome one of the most loyal friends and supporters of the Law School, Herbert Fried, J.D. '32, as the national chairman of the 1984-85 Fund for the Law School.

Gerhard Casper

A Message from the 1984-85 Fund for the Law School Chairman

The Law School!

Not only the Law School, it's our Law School! And not surprisingly it needs us all to help it retain its place in the sun as the number one school in the country. Our goal this year is $856,000 (about eleven percent of the total Law School budget) and that means that more of us are going to have to dig deeper, and many more of us are going to have to participate for the first time. Let's get your name on the honor roll. Be generous when your volunteer class representative calls on you. It's for The Law School!

Law Firm Matching Gifts

In recent years a growing number of law firms have established matching gift programs. The terms of the matching gift programs vary from one law firm to another, but usually a law firm will match the gift of an associate, and increasingly also of a partner, to a law school. Frequently law firms establish minimum and maximum amounts which they will match.

Matching gifts have become increasingly important to the Fund for the Law School. Alumni who are in a position to designate matching gifts to the Law School are urged to secure the proper forms to send to the Fund when making their gifts.

Matching gifts are counted as gifts from alumni when the gift categories of alumni are determined for the Honor Roll.
