- 3. Demonstrate critical thinking skills in oral and written discussion and argumentative analysis (Critical Thinking and Communication Skills)
- 4. Demonstrate correct MLA documentation conventions (Personal Responsibility)
- 5. Relate literature to personal experiences

Additional Collin Outcome: Upon successful completion of this course, students should be able to do the following:

1. Demonstrate personal responsibility through the ethical use of intellectual property. (Personal Responsibility)

Withdrawal Policy: The last day to withdraw from this course is October 14th.

Method of Evaluation: All assignments are expected to be submitted by the established due dates. Late assignments will result in a reduced grade, failing grade, and are subject to not being graded at all by the professor. Assignments are to be submitted in MLA format. Visit the Owl at Purdue (online) for a MLA refresher session. Our course operates on a 1,000 point system as outlined below:

Grading Scale:

900-1000=A 800-899=B 700-799=C 600-699=D Below 600=F

Course Points and Categories:

25% Reading Quizzes: You will be asked to complete weekly reading quizzes based on the assigned readings in order to assess how closely you are reading the texts. These quizzes will range from the simple multiple choice to the more involved short essay response. Missed quizzes may not be made up. There are 10 quizzes at 25 points each for a total of 250 points.

25% Short Story Analysis: You will be asked to write two, 6-10 page, MLA documented essays, covering our study of two different short stories that we cover. No late essays will be accepted. Further directions will be provided. Each essay is worth 125 points each.

25% Novel Analysis: You will be asked to write a 5-7 page, MLA documented essay covering our study of three novels. No late essays will be accepted. This essay is worth 250 points. Further directions will be provided.

25% Final Exam: Literature circle presentations. Students will study the three novels and create a visual representation to compare and contrast three to four fictional writings. Further directions will be provided.

Attendance Policy: Your prompt and regular attendance in our classroom is expected throughout the semester. Repeated absences result in the loss of community within the classroom as well as the growth of critical thinking. Positive attendance and a strong work ethic in our particular course will yield a rewarding grade.

Withdrawal Policy: Dropping a class means that you remove yourself from the class up to the census date. Dropped courses do not appear on your official transcript. You may now drop online up to the census date. The last date to drop this class is ______. Withdrawal from a class means that you remove yourself from the class after the census date. Withdrawn classes appear as a W on your official transcript but are not calculated in your grade point average.

Scholastic Dishonesty

From the Collin Student Handbook, Chapter 6: Student Code of Conduct Violations

Every member of the Collin College community is expected to maintain the highest standards of academic integrity. All work submitted for credit is expected to be the student's own work. Collin College may initiate disciplinary proceedings against a student or prospective student accused of scholastic dishonesty. While specific examples are listed below, this is not an exhaustive list, and scholastic dishonesty may encompass other conduct, including any misconduct through electronic or computerized means. Scholastic dishonesty shall include, but is not limited to, one (1) or more of the following acts.

1. Cheating includes, but is not limited to, having access to unauthorized materials or electronic, digital media, telecommunication, and/or wearable devices (i.e., phones, smart watches, Fitbits, Bluetooth devices, tablets, etc.) during an examination; the giving or receiving of information in an unauthorized manner during an examination or to complete an assignment; using, buying, selling, soliciting, stealing, or otherwise obtaining course assignments and/or examination questions in advance; using someone else's work for an assignment as if it were one's own; submitting or resubmitting an assignment in whole or in part (i.e., recycling an assignment) for more than one (1) class or institution without permission from each of the professors; using annotated texts or teacher's editions; using information about exams posted on the Internet or in any electronic medium; leaving a test site without authority; failing to secure test materials; removing tests or answer sheets from a test site; and any other dishonest means of attempting to fulfill the requirements of a course.

2. Collusion includes, but is not limited to, intentionally or unintentionally aiding or attempting to aid another in an act of scholastic dishonesty; failing to secure academic work; providing a paper or project to another student; providing an inappropriate level of assistance; unauthorized collaboration or communicating answers to a classmate about an examination or course assignment; and allowing a classmate to copy answers.

3. General Scholastic Dishonesty includes, but is not limited to, statements, acts, or omissions related to applications for enrollment, credit or class work, research, or the award of a degree; and/or falsifying academic records or documents. Students are expected to record honestly and accurately the results of all their research. Falsification of research results shall include misrepresentations, distortions, or omissions in data or reports on research.

4. Plagiarism includes, but is not limited to, intentionally or unintentionally failing to quote and cite an author's words, information, and/or ideas in accordance with American Psychological Association (APA) Style, Modern Language Association (MLA) Style, The Chicago Manual of Style (Chicago Style), or another citation style approved by the professor.
