

ICU WPL

Selected Papers From 2017 Spring Typology and Field Methods (Shona)

3

Foreword

This is the third volume of ICU Working Papers in Linguistics (ICUWPL). It contains five selected papers from two courses offered at International Christian University in 2017: a field methods course and a linguistic typology course. The topics were chosen by the authors themselves. All the selected papers are the products of the authors' persistent hard work.

We would like to express our gratitude to the native Shona consultant, Tsitsi Agatha Zvingowanisei, for being patient with our never-ending questions. We also would like to thank Atsushi Oho, Hiroaki Saito, Hitomi Hirayama, Kei Furukawa, Kunio Kinjo and Maho Morimoto for taking time to review papers and giving constructive advice. We also would like to appreciate Professor Tomoyuki Yoshida and Professor Seunghun J. Lee for their support during the process of publishing this volume. ICUWPL is supported by ICU Linguistics.
