Selected Papers From the 3rd Asian Junior Linguists Conference (AJL3)

6

The Asian Junior Linguists Conference (AJL) creates a platform for aspiring linguists to prepare themselves for their academic voyage ahead. This year's conference, hosted by the Department of Linguistics of The University of Hong Kong, aims to cultivate the very same environment as its two predecessors did. AJL provides fellow junior linguists with the opportunity to put their findings into fruition at a formal academic conference, and exchange feedback with one another to fortify their linguistic knowledge.

It is our great honour to have been part of the journey seeing to how this conference has come together, as both the hosts and the editors of this volume. We are proud to present to you 6 exceptional papers from students of different nations, as well as a plenary paper by Dr. Seunghun J. Lee of the advisory board of ICUWPL.

We would like to thank Dr. Seunghun J. Lee for his kind patience and guidance throughout the making of this volume. We would also like to thank Professor Dr. Youngah Do from The University of Hong Kong and her organizing committee, as well as our sponsors Universitas21 and Linguistics@HKU for making this event possible. Last but not least, we would like to express our gratitude to all our contributors and attendees for making this conference a memorable success.

General information about AJL can be found on <https://sites.google.com/view/ajlmain/home>. The cover was designed by Daehan Won at the design studio C-clef.
