Revised Final Exam Schedule Effective For Spring Semester 1950

Bee Gee Baseball Team Opens Season Today Against Wisconsin At Perrysburg

By DAVE REICHERT

Raccoon coats and ear muffs are officially put aside this afternoon, as sporting fans drag out shirt sleeves and sun hats to prepare for opening day against powerful University of Wisconsin.

Because of bad weather, the game has been moved to the Perrysburg City Diamond, where the first ball will be thrown out at 2:30. Saturday's game will provide the same opposition at the same place with the time moved up to 1 p.m.

Coach Warren Stellar will call on Ray Hegstrom and Lou Cross to work both games. Ed Keating is slated to work for the Badgers.

Last year, Wisconsin turned in a 9-18 record against some of the top collegiate teams in the country. Having lost only five lettermen, and gaining a wealth of material from the J-V, Coach Art Mansfield is expecting his best team since he won the Big Ten championship in 1946.

Catcher Bob Wilson, All-Conference football end, leads the team. Voted the most valuable player on the team his sophomore year, Wilson tucked away the All-Conference catcher position last year with a lofty .426 average.

Captain Gene Evans who leads off at second base, slugged .387 last season. All-Conference first baseman Bob Shea bats in the cleanup slot. Shea hit .413 in 27 games for the Badgers last year.

Last week, Wisconsin opened against Bradley and split in two games. They edged Western Michigan 7-5 in another recent game.

Keating started six games last year and compiled a 0-4 record although he lost three games by one run. He is being counted on to share mound duties this year.

Coach Stellar has not yet announced his starting lineup, but Hegstrom will probably lead off in the first game. Completing the battery will be John Jeremiah, veteran of the '48 squad.

White will get the call over Radigan because of his much needed hitting. Tesnow, Gull, and Glen Honner, last year's leading hitter, will complete the outfield.

The rest of the infield is still anybody's guess.

Contest Closes

Alpha Gamma Delta's contest for naming the new palsy center dormitory closes today. Entries should be submitted to Dorothy Stover at the Alpha Gam house by 4 p.m.

Millsaps Choir Sings Tomorrow Evening

The Millsaps Singers from Millsaps College in Jackson, Miss., will appear in the PA Aud. tomorrow night at 7:30. The group is appearing under the auspices of the A Cappella Choir.

The Singers, an a cappella choir of 60 voices under the direction of Alvin Jon King, have had national recognition since 1933. Their repertoire has wide diversity in the realm of sacred music, ranging from the works of Palestrina to contemporary selections of Thompson and Christiansen.

Chariot Entries Due Next Week

Deadline for chariot entries in the Kappa Sigma Chariot Race was set at 6 p.m. Friday, April 21, it was announced this week by Steve Albright, chairman of the race.

Hoagy Carmichael has been selected to judge the picture entries for the "Venus for a Day" title. The winner will reign over the race which will be held Saturday, April 22.

About 20 chariots are expected to take part in the race which will be held on the practice field. Races will be 150 yards for men and 100 yards for women.

Fines Increased

Student Court announces that the fine will be increased for late registration of automobiles beginning Monday morning. One hundred and seven who had cars last semester had not reported up to last Wednesday. Forty paid the late registration fee of $1 from April 1.

Director King, called "Pop" by choir members, is known nationally for his achievements in the field of tonal blending. He produces organ-like effects by using voices in groupings.

ALVIN KING

A native of Ohio, Mr. King received his training in music at the conservatories of music of Oberlin College and Northwestern University.

The choir will present two other concerts in Ohio before returning south. Appearing in Cleveland Sunday and at Wooster on Monday, they are scheduled for a recording date in Atlanta, Ga., Saturday, April 22.

Millsaps College, a liberal arts school, has a student body of approximately 800 students, most of whom are drawn from the South.

A free-will offering will be taken during the intermission to help defray expenses.

Women's Choir Tours Michigan

Members of the Treble Clef left Bowling Green this morning on their 5-day tour of Michigan. Before the choir returns home on April 18, it will visit Makinaw City, St. Ignace, and Sault Ste. Marie.

The first concert will be given this afternoon in the Central Jr. High School in Saginaw. Two concerts will be given in Rogers City. Saturday night they will sing at the high school, and Sunday morning at the Westminster Presbyterian Church.

Later Sunday, they will take the ferry from Mackinaw City to St. Ignace, and in the evening a concert will be given in Sault Ste. Marie. A concert in Grayling on Monday and Birmingham on Tuesday will complete the tour.

A Phi O Sponsors CARE Campaign For Old Books

The Alpha Phi Omega campaign for books for CARE gets under way today, with tomorrow slated as the big day for the drive.

Purpose of the campaign is to collect books, all kinds, new and used, fiction and non-fiction. These books will be sold to a book dealer, and the money given to CARE, which will buy special books to be sent to the bombed-out European universities.

Highlights of today's collection will be the disc-dance in the Women's Gym tonight sponsored by Phi Mu. Admission charge is one book.

Tomorrow, members of the service fraternity will go to each dormitory and house to collect books. A similar door-to-door canvass will be going on in the city. Collections will be conducted by the fraternity and local boy scouts.

This is the first campaign of this type made on a college campus in the United States by a college group. Goal of the present drive is approximately 2000 books, which are estimated to sell at a total of $500.

WSSF Sponsors Campus Carnival

An all-campus carnival will wind up the major portion of the World Student Service Fund drive being conducted next week at Bowling Green State University.

Chairman James Milburn said that the carnival will be held in the Womens' Bldg. on April 21, closing the four-day campaign to secure funds for continuation of the University of Athens, Greece.

A trophy will be presented to the dormitory making the most effective contribution to the WSSF efforts, based on a point system covering all types of activities, goals, and donations. Sigma Chi fraternity won the trophy award last year.

A target of $2,000 has been set—or nearly 50 cents per capita. Funds will be used to provide textbooks, student meals, and similar necessities for the university "adopted" by Bowling Green.

All dormitories on the Bowling Green campus will participate in the drive with posters, displays, and carnival booths, according to Mr. Milburn.

Himmel Gives Concert Sunday

Joseph Himmel, baritone, will give a faculty recital Sunday, April 16, at 8:15 p.m. in the PA Aud. Wayne Bohrstedt will be the pianist. The recital is open to the public without charge.

JOSEPH HIMMEL

The program will be unique in that it will consist of the entire cycle, "Die schone Mullerin" (The Fair Maid of the Mill) by Schubert. It will be made up of 20 songs sung in German without intermission.

Program notes giving translations of the original texts will be helpful in the understanding of the songs.

New System To Run On Trial Basis If Successful May Be Permanent

Common hour exams in several courses and the professor's option of giving one or two one-hour exams in all other courses, constitutes the procedure of the new final examination schedule to be in effect this semester, said John W. Bunn, registrar.

As a result of faculty requests in the past for a common hour type exam, where all sections in each of several courses take the same exam at the same time, this new type system will be used probationary this semester.

If it proves successful, Mr. Bunn said, it may be accepted permanently in the future.

The schedule, as released by the registrar, is listed on page four. This is how it will work:

If a course and number is listed on Monday, June 5, or Wednesday, June 7, all sections of the course will take the exam at the designated period. For example, all sections of economics will take their exam Monday, June 5, from 10 a.m. to 12 noon.

For other courses not listed on Monday or Wednesday the last class meeting on Thursday or Friday, June 1 or 2, may be used for examinations, at the discretion of the instructor. The required exam period will come on Tuesday, June 6, for all classes meeting MWF, MTWF, MTThF, MTWTh, or MTWThF. All other classes meeting only on TTh will take the exam on Thursday, June 8.

For courses not regularly scheduled, please check with your instructor for hour of the examination.

Please do not ask your instructor to change the hour of his examination. No changes in this published schedule are authorized. Instructors will notify their classes as to where the respective exams will be given.

Capacity Crowd Sees Melchior

Lauritz Melchior, famed Wagnerian tenor, displayed to a packed house at the Men's Gym last night the reasons for his successes at the "Met," in the movies and on the concert stage.

All tickets were sold out before the concert day as students and townspeople stood in line to purchase admissions to the final Artist Series presentation this year.

Melchior topped an evening of classical and operatic selections by Wagner, Schubert, Edward Grieg, Schumann, and other lesser-knowns with several popular songs, showing well his ability as a versatile performer.

Among his better-known choices were "All Praise Be Thine" from the opera Taunhouser and selections from Tristan and Isolde and The Flying Dutchman.

The hearty-throated tenor brought his audience to modern days with "Some Enchanted Evening," "Because," and "Without A Song."

DTD, MIS Win Semi-Finals In Intramural Debate Meet

Delta Tau Delta and Men's Independent Society defeated two Sigma Psi Omega debate teams in intramural semi-final debate, on Wednesday, April 12.

MIS will take the affirmative and Delta Tau the negative side of the question: Resolved: Euthanasia should be legalized in the United States, in the final debate to be held Monday, April 24, at 7:30 p.m.

Taking the affirmative Wednesday night, the members of the MIS team, George Tharp and Steve Hlavach argued that mercy killing should be legalized in the interests of the individual, the United States, States, and society.

They pointed out that persons who suffer hopelessly have a right to die, and that the United States, in the interest of the welfare of its citizens, should provide laws which would permit mercy killing.

Warren Ransler and Jack Mullen, members of Sigma Psi Omega's negative team disagreed saying that due to the rapid advancement in medical science it is impossible for doctors to call any disease incurable.

They went on to point out that life is man's most cherished possession and to make it possible for society to lawfully take it away from him would be a detriment to scientific advancement.

In giving his decision after the debate, Professor Miesle explained that debates are judged on the basis of skill, and of which team has done the best job of presenting its argument.

News Center Of Attraction

By BILL LUPTON

It used to happen once a week but now it will be twice a week, Tuesday and Friday—that is the mad rush for the BEE GEE NEWS.

About 10:45 on Wednesdays, students began collecting around the tables by the bookstore for their weekly reading habit and by 11 o'clock the crowd was so dense that the distributor was hardly able to bring the papers to the tables. A visit to Johnston Hospital by the distributor was the usual procedure following distribution for treatment of various cuts and bruises.

Now we come to the insert page, the page that many students forget to pick up and must return to get. This will be eliminated with the twice weekly four page issues instead of the weekly six page issue. No more sitting down to read the BEE GEE NEWS and finding the club notes, Who Asked You, It's All Greek, and the ballot for Miss Fashion Plate of 1950 missing. When you get one piece you get the whole paper.

Students, take it easy. It may be your roommate, professor, or editor you are beating over the head to get the BEE GEE NEWS.

We Should CARE ...

Here is your chance to get rid of that text book that went skidding through a water puddle during the recent wet spell, or that calculus book you used seventh hand last semester.

Your roommate maybe wouldn't take it, but Alpha Phi Omega will. Today marks the inauguration of the service group's 2-day campaign for books for CARE.

They'll take any kind, new, used, fiction, non-fiction, anything that has a cover. They plan to sell what books they can collect today and tomorrow to a book dealer, with the proceeds to go to the non-profit CARE organization for the purchase of special books to be sent to Europe for use in the war-ravaged universities there.

Tomorrow, with the assistance of local Boy Scouts, they are also canvassing the city, with hopes of achieving their goal of 2000 books. This goal would provide about $500 worth of books for CARE.

Phi Mu sorority is helping out too. You'll have to deposit your shoes and one book at the door to gain admittance to its disc dance tonight in the Women's Bldg. You'll get your shoes back, but the book goes to CARE.

We heartily approve of this CARE book campaign and are glad to see the APhiO's again undertake an enterprise intended to be of humane service. While local effects of the endeavour may not be too apparent, we are being presented with an opportunity to lend assistance toward a common goal—education.

Let's show we do CARE!

Monday's Aches Pose Mystery For Physicians

There's a mystery on campus!

Why do more persons report to Johnston Hospital on Mondays than Saturdays? That is the question Hubert E. Schwarz, general manager of the hospital, is asking.

Mr. Schwarz says that a graphic chart of the number of daily calls for the last six months reveals an average of 10 calls on Saturdays and Sundays and from 90 to 100 calls on Mondays. These calls include everyone who seeks medical attention, whether or not he sees the doctor.

The number declines during the week until the weekend low is hit and then jumps back up on Monday. Mr. Schwarz can offer no explanation for the disparity.

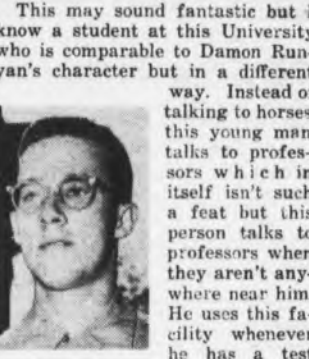

He remarks that this same general trend is true in other areas where free medical attention is offered, such as the Army, Navy, other state schools and the Great Britain socialized medicine plan.

Mr. Schwarz plans to keep charts of the daily totals of calls for the rest of the year.

Read It And Weep ...

by BILL DAY

One of Damon Runyan's best short stories is entitled "My Brother Talks to the Horses." It is a tale about the brother of a bookie who was able to talk to race horses thereby being able to find out how they were feeling and if they thought they would win the race! Because of his brother's talent the bookie was able to make a tidy sum off the horses until his brother suddenly lost the ability of conversing with the four-legged animals.

This may sound fantastic but I know a student at this University who is comparable to Damon Runyan's character but in a different way. Instead of talking to horses this young man talks to professors which in itself isn't such a feat but this person talks to professors when they aren't anywhere near him. He uses this facility whenever he has a test the next day and he wants to find out what the questions will be. He sits down at his desk, puts his textbooks before him, opens it to the part over which the test will be and says, "Prof. Blank, what will the first question be?"

This student sits there a few minutes and then begins to write down the question. He continues this process until the voice tells him, "that is all," and then he looks up the answers. I don't suppose anyone will believe this because I didn't when I first saw it. I happened to walk in on this person one night when he was doing this and found out about his talent. I laughed at him but when in a couple of days he showed me the test with an "A" on it I changed my opinion.

The only weakness this mystic has is that he can talk only to those professors which he has for class. The rest he can't get a word from because I had him try to help me a couple of times and it was of no use. So unless a student has the same professor as this Houdini of education, he is of no value to anyone except himself.

Sometimes I wonder what would happen if this person lost his talent. Because he knows he will get the questions to all his tests he never studies. He never reads the text book, never takes notes, goes to class no more than necessary; in fact he lives a life of leisure. If he were suddenly to lose his talent he would be like a pilot at 10,000 feet without an airplane and minus a parachute. He would be in for a big drop!

I wish I were able to disclose this person's name because it would be a great aid to a lot of students but it is impossible. The only thing to do is for anyone who is interested to go sneaking around looking for a person who sits at a desk with an open book and seems to be talking to himself. It would be well worth it!

From The Docket ...

Carl Davenport was found guilty of parking in a driveway on Ridge Terrace at the April 5 session of Student Court. His fine was waived due to lack of signs and publicity.

Parking within two feet of a stairway used as a fire exit at North Dorm warranted a $1 fine for Gerald Cocklin.

Roland Shepard was fined $1 by the Court for obtaining a registration sticker after the deadline date.

Tried in absentia, James Lowery was found guilty of parking in the restricted zone by the hospital. He was fined $1.

Sidelining...

with CHUCK ALBURY

Bowling Green, along with other powerful independent basketball teams, had the door opened for participation in the NCAA Tournament when that body ruled recently to expand next year's event to 16 teams. The winners of 10 major conferences are assured berths but the other six spots will be wide open.

It also appears likely that the finals will be held in an arena other than Madison Square Garden. The movement to get the cage sport back on the university campus has been getting stronger this year and the best bet now is that the 1951 championship final will be held in a large mid-western arena, probably University of Minnesota's. The seating capacity there is comparable to the Garden and the location much better where travel distances are concerned.

Bowling Green is now in NCAA District Four and, since the inauguration of the tournament in 1939, only one non-Western Conference team has represented the district. That was DePaul in 1943. With a half dozen berths thrown open to independents, it will be possible to bring in the best basketball talent available, even though several of the squads may be from the same area.

Wildmen Defeated By Oilers For Intramural Cage Title

Porky's Oilers, winners of League V in regular season play, climbed into the first place chair as 1950 champions of Intramural basketball. The Oilers had to overcome a 9-6 halftime deficit to add Wildmen to their list of victims by a 19-13 score and end the season with an undefeated record.

Bob Schnelker and Bob Chambers sparked the winner's attack with six points apiece. All of Chambers tallies came in that crucial second half. Norb Cowan dropped in six counters for the losers.

In the other playoff games, Buddahs topped Rams, 29-24, for second place, while Browns came roaring back from a poor first half to hand Half Pints a 30-22 pasting and claim third place honors. Fourth and fifth places were decided by forfeits with Hoopsters and Evers Eagles getting the nods.

Buddahs jumped ahead to a 16-13 halftime lead over Rams and kept pushing them through in the second stanza, McCord leading the way with 14 counters. Dick Zeschke scored half of the loser's points but it wasn't enough to ward off defeat. Buddahs had claimed 50'ers and East Hall as victims in gaining a berth in the finals.

Half Pints sprinted off well and left Browns trailing by two points mid-way in the contest. But they weren't able to stop the Browns when Stan Shaffer began pouring them in. Shaffer netted 14 of the victors points while Gareth Glaser tallied 7 for the victims. Browns had previously dumped OC "B", Cobb Haulers, and Hut H.

Seven Shows To Highlight Second Summer Playhouse

"My Sister Eileen" will be the first play given by the students attending the Huron Playhouse when it reopens for its second season of operation on June 28.

During the season seven plays will be presented, a new one opening on each successive Wednesday. Under consideration are "Light Up The Sky," "Two Blind Mice," "The Tempest," and "Portrait In Black." From the list of tentative selections will be chosen those plays which present a well-balanced season.

The summer theater is operated by the speech dept. and is under the direction of Assoc. Prof. Frederick G. Walsh. It is composed of students from BGSU who want to increase their amount of stage experience and receive up to nine hours credit in speech courses.

Speech courses offered include acting, directing, stage scenery construction, stage lighting, dramatic production (both Sp. 146 and Sp. 346), and a graduate course in theater operation and management.

Costs for the nine weeks period commencing June 12 and ending Aug. 14 will total $225. Students will be housed in two summer homes located in a secluded spot along the shore of Lake Erie.

Meals will be served at the high school, located two blocks away.

Students desiring applications or further information should contact Prof. Walsh.

Frosh President Attends National DECA Meeting

Jack Taylor, freshman class president from Wapakoneta, leaves today to attend the fourth annual convention of the Distributive Education Clubs of America to be held in Asheville, N. C., April 16-19.

He will join the conference in his official capacity as national DECA vice president in charge of publications and as one of seven Ohio representatives.

Last year, Mr. Taylor was president of the Ohio Association of DECA, which includes 43 clubs and nearly 900 high school senior members.

At the Asheville meeting, national officers for the forthcoming year will be elected and, during daily business sessions, ideas will be exchanged as to how the clubs may contribute to improving student training and preparation for sales work. A social program is also planned for the delegates.

Organization of DECA was the result of a need felt by retailers, educators, and students for the promotion of cooperative training in the distribution field.

Membership is composed of high school and college students enrolled in distributive education classes throughout the country. These students study the fundamentals of selling and store operation in the classroom and gain work experience in jobs provided by cooperating merchants.
