A Cappella Schedule Listed, Will Tour Chicago, Florida

Plans for A Cappella Choir have been announced by Dr. J. Paul Kennedy, director. They include two tours and several local concerts.

The tours will take the choir into southern and neighboring Middle East states. The first tour will be in November. It will cover cities in Indiana, Illinois, and Wisconsin. Several of the concerts will be broadcast. The second tour, in January, will take A Cappella to Florida. Six concerts have already been scheduled for that tour.

Among local concerts will be a home concert, Jan. 10; and a Christmas choral concert. The latter will be given in Bowling Green Dec. 4 and at Toledo's Paramount Theater Dec. 7. The concert will be broadcast coast-to-coast.

There has been a large turnover in A Cappella's membership this year. New personnel make up 50 per cent of the bass and baritone section. There is still a need for altos and tenors, according to Richard Payne and Richard A. Davis, co-presidents of the choir. Those interested in participating are asked to see Dr. Kennedy.

'Traffic Improved:' Chief W. J. Rohrs

The traffic situation on campus has improved 100 per cent from last year, due to restrictions on student drivers, stated William J. Rohrs, chief of University police.

Kohl Dr. and the street extending from the Men's Gym to the Nest are not to be used by student drivers during class hours. Further violations of this regulation will result in action by the University police. Chief Rohrs added that student drivers are permitted on Thurston Ave., Ridge St., and Wooster St.

The parking situation remains a problem. Until the Stadium parking lot is completed, students from Fraternity Row and Dorm R-9 are asked to park their cars adjacent to and directly north and east of the baseball diamond.

Services Held For University Graduate Killed In Korea

Lt. Albert H. Jay Jr., a 1951 Bowling Green State University graduate, was buried with military honors last Friday with an ROTC military guard in attendance. Lt. Jay was fatally wounded on the final day of the Korean fighting.

Six members of Pershing Rifles, national ROTC honorary, gave a three-round rifle salute. James Miller, Richard Mumma, Berton Keith, William Smith, Waldon Keith, Emmanuel Kallos, and Carl Henne, cadet captain, formed the firing squad. Anthony Roberts sounded taps. A casket guard escort was formed by Sheldon Kedish and James Miller.

Lt. Jay, a graduate of the College of Business Administration, completed the basic ROTC course here and received his commission from the National Guard after graduation.

His parents arrived here from Cleveland to attend funeral services at the First Lutheran Church and the burial in Oak Grove Cemetery.

Dr. Singer Lectures At Area Science Club

Dr. Willard E. Singer will deliver a demonstration lecture to the Perrysburg High School science club on the evening of Oct. 6. Dr. Singer's lecture, based on the phenomena of sound and acoustics, will conclude the club's annual initiation banquet. This will be Professor Singer's fourth lecture at the high school in Perrysburg.

Senior Key Pics Start Tomorrow; Appointments Set

Senior pictures for the 1954 Key have been scheduled beginning tomorrow, Sept. 30. All students concerned are being notified of their appointments.

Seniors will have their pictures taken through Tuesday, Oct. 6 from 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. at La-Salle's Photoreflex Studio in the downtown (Bowling Green) La-Salle store.

Junior pictures will be taken beginning Thursday, Oct. 8, through Saturday, Oct. 10. Juniors will report to the second floor of the Maintenance Bldg. at appointed times.

There will be a $1 fee for students from both classes.

Regular, Temporary Additions Named To University Staff

Several members of the new regular and temporary faculty were inadvertently omitted from a previous B-G News story. John Becker, serials librarian and instructor in library science, received his B.A. degree from Otterbein College and his M.S.L.S. degree from the University of Illinois.

John W. Darr has been appointed assistant professor of business administration. Both his B.S. and M.B.A. degrees were received from Indiana University. He has just completed his course work for the Ph.D. degree at the University of Alabama.

Jensen In Education

Mrs. Winifred Jensen, assistant professor of education, attended the University of Minnesota where she received her B.S. and M.A. degrees. She was awarded a Ed.D. degree at Teachers College, Columbia University.

The new assistant professor of music and director of bands is Roy J. Weger. His A.B. degree is from Southeastern State College, the A.M., Colorado State College.

Join Temporary Faculty

Mrs. Henrietta Baynard, instructor of foreign language, received her B.A. degree from Capital University, and M.A., Ohio State University. She took advanced study at the Sorbonne, Paris, France.

Appointed lecturer in mathematics is Mrs. Florence Ogg, who received her B.E. degree from Eastern Illinois State Teachers College, and M.A. degree from the University of Illinois.

Charles Robert Minton, instructor in business administration, received his B.S. and M.S. degrees from the University of Kentucky. He has just completed all course work for his Ph.D. degree at that university.

A new instructor in music is Miss Phyllis Carpenter, who received her B.M. and M.M. degrees from the Eastman School of Music.

Gerhard Eichholz, intern instructor in education, has a B.S. in Ed. from Brockport State Teachers College and an M.S. degree from Bowling Green State University.

James A. Ross, instructor in speech, now is completing requirements for the Ph.D. degree at Western Reserve University, where he received his A.M. degree. His A.B. degree is from Ashland College.

Mr. Robert Grosjean has been named part-time instructor in engineering drawing.

Dr. Walter A. Zaugg has retired as professor of education to become director of alumni affairs, and Harold Van Winkle now is director of the University News Bureau.

Five Student Parking Lots Are Available

Five parking lots are being made available to students having cars on campus. The largest of these, which is still under construction, is the Stadium lot, north of Fraternity Row.

Other parking areas available are the Ivy Hall lot, west of Ivy Hall; Chemistry lot, south of the Chemistry Bldg.; Natatorium lot, east of the Natatorium; and the Powerhouse lot, east of the old powerhouse, across from R-9 and the MIS house. This lot is restricted to assigned cars only.

Traffic regulations of the University, the state of Ohio, and the city of Bowling Green will be enforced on campus at all times. Although the University Police will take every possible precaution to prevent theft or damage to vehicles, the University does not accept responsibility for the care or protection of any vehicle or its contents while parked on the University grounds.

Operating Regulations

It is unlawful for the driver of a car to exceed a speed of 15 miles per hour on any street or highway of the University. It shall also be the duty of the driver to yield the right-of-way to a pedestrian in or upon any street or highway of the University.

Certain districts have been set up as restricted for operating and parking student cars. Students are prohibited from operating or parking a motor vehicle in the area bounded by Wooster St. on the south, Thurston Ave. on the west, Ridge St. on the north, and Kohl Dr. on the east. These regulations shall be enforced between the hours of 7 a.m. and 5 p.m. Monday through Friday, and 7 a.m. and 1 p.m. Saturday.

Having fun at the city park after the AWS picnic Saturday are these six girls and one who isn't quite on for the ride yet. Standing precariously on the "Tilt-a-whirl" are Sally Naome, Connie Ellis, Sally Murphy, Nancy Miller, Jeanine Wenrick, and Carol Smith. The "hanger-on" is unidentified.

Secretarial Course Notices 'Big Jump'

"A big jump, one of the greatest in recent years, has taken place this year in enrollment for the secretarial course," remarked Dr. Galen Stutsman, associate professor of business administration.

There are now 82 freshmen enrolled in the course, whereas last year there were only 21. "This makes the jump nearly four times larger," Dr. Stutsman said.

A nine-hole golf course is available both for student and faculty use.

News, Business Staffs Listed For New Year

B-G News staff for 1953-54 has been appointed by Carol Sutliff, editor.

The staff includes Charles Hornaday, managing editor; Erwin Falkenheim, Patricia Guthman, Manley Anderson, and Gerald Murray, issue editors; Francis McLean, Janet Crane, Janice Crouch, Brad Greenberg, assistant issue editors; Carol Tanner and Lois Diehl, society editors; Hal Van Tassel, sports editor; Richard Budd and Donald Getter, assistant sports editors; Robert Bone and Dallas Brim, photo editors.

Miss Sutliff has changed the staff system this year by appointing four issue editors in place of the usual two. By this system, Miss Sutliff explained, the amount of work required of two issue editors is considerably lessened.

Business Manager Budde Blore announced the business staff as: Nancy Campbell, assistant business manager; Chuck Leidy, advertising manager; Chester Arnold, assistant advertising manager; Joyce Blanc, accountant; Elaine Kelch, circulation manager; Sheldon Kedish, salesman in charge of local advertising; Jack Koss, advertising salesman; Herb Hackenbush, advertising designer.

Charity Drive Week Set For Oct. 11-17

Frosh Visitations Rescheduled For Next Two Evenings

Visitation for freshman men to off-campus fraternities has been postponed from Sept. 24 and 25 to Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 30 and Oct. 1, said David Freedheim, president of Interfraternity Council.

Freedheim said that because of the heavy schedule of rushing and the responsibilities of school work, this seemed to be a better plan. In this manner they hope to have the same amount of freshmen for off-campus fraternities as they did for the campus fraternities. Six of the off-campus fraternities will send five cars each for transportation, with the on-campus fraternities acting as guides.

Oratorio Rehearsals Scheduled Early By Dr. Kennedy

Rehearsals for the Christmas oratorio, Handel's "The Messiah," will begin Thursday, Oct. 8, at 7 p.m., according to Dr. James Paul Kennedy, director of choral activities.

Any student, faculty member, faculty wife, or townspeople may participate in the program, Dr. Kennedy said.

Rehearsals will continue through October, November, and December each Thursday evening at 7, excluding Thanksgiving vacation, until the performance, which is scheduled for Dec. 13.

Those who have not purchased a copy of "The Messiah" may do so any time Monday through Saturday in Dr. Kennedy's office on the second floor of the Practical Arts Bldg. The books are $1.50 per copy.

Members of the A Cappella Choir, Treble Clef, and Men's Glee Club are required to participate.

This annual performance is traditionally one of the most impressive of the season. Each year four well-known soloists are obtained by the music department to perform with the Choral Society and the University orchestra. As yet, this year's soloists have not been chosen.

Treble Clef Plans New England Tour

The itinerary of this year's Treble Clef tour has been announced by Julie E. Moffett, manager of the club. The group will give concerts in New England and in New York City. Three engagements have already been made for the trip which will begin shortly after Easter and extend into the early part of May.

Students who would like to have Treble Clef appear in their home town (if they live in the East), are urged to contact Julie Moffett or Dr. J. Paul Kennedy, professor of music.

More than 140 girls have joined the group this year. This is such an unusually large membership that music folios have to be shared. Any girl who wishes to join Treble Clef should see Dr. Kennedy. Rehearsals are at 9 a.m. for the morning section, and at 1 p.m. for the afternoon section every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday.

Officers of the club are Martha E. Berndt, president; Eleanor M. Irvin, vice-president; and Julie Moffett, manager.

Psych Clinic Opens

The psychology clinic is now open to students for guidance and counseling. The clinic, located behind the Women's Gym, is open from 9 to 12 a.m. and from 1 to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday.

The Powder Bowl game between Alpha Xi Delta and Delta Gamma sororities, and the Ugly Man and Woman Contest are features of this year's all-campus Chest Drive Oct. 11 to 17, Lois Radomsky, chairman of the drive, announced.

Organizations that will benefit from this year's drive are the Red Cross, Cancer Society, Heart Fund, Negro Fund, Ohio Society for Crippled Children, and the Foster Parents Plan for War Children.

Proceeds from the Powder Bowl game will go to the Polio Fund and money from a carnival which will be presented during the week will go to the Tuberculosis Fund. Each fraternity and sorority will build booths for the carnival, and trophies for the best booth will be presented to each fraternity and sorority.

Miss Radomsky and Philip Bertman are co-chairmen of the drive. George Gisser heads the publicity. Miss Eloise E. Whitmer and Dr. John F. Oglevee are the faculty advisers. Other members of the committee are Janice Crouch and Robert Lauer.

Traylor Elected Loan Fund Head

Richard Traylor has been appointed chairman of the Loan Fund sponsored by Alpha Phi Omega. Money from this fund may be borrowed by any student for a period of 60 days without interest charge.

A Phi O also sponsors a travel bureau which sells tickets for bus or train transportation before vacations. The chairman of this service will be announced at a later date.

This year's officers are Raymond Bertelsen, president; Ralph McKinney, first vice-president; William Sibbersen, second vice-president; Stanley Steed, secretary; Ronald Cohen, treasurer; Edward Thal, historian; and Richard Traylor, sergeant-at-arms.

Zaugg Announces Homecoming Plans; '28 Class Honored

Social activities planned so far for the Homecoming week end include dances, dinners, reunions, open houses, and the Bowling Green-Kent State football game, according to Dr. Walter A. Zaugg, Homecoming chairman.

Homecoming will take place on the week end beginning Oct. 30. The football game will be Saturday, Oct. 31 at which time the elected Homecoming Queen will be presented to reign for the game.

According to Dr. Zaugg, MIS and WIS will sponsor the Homecoming dance, but the band has not been named. Sororities and fraternities will hold their traditional reunions and open houses following the game along with parties planned throughout the entire week end.

Preceding the game will be several alumni luncheons. This year, the class of 1928 and the 15 faculty members with 25 years of service will be recognized and honored.

Anyone desiring alumni information may inquire at the Bureau of Alumni Affairs, 115A.

Dr. Arnold To Attend Hygiene Workshop

Dr. Frank C. Arnold, assistant professor of psychology, will attend a workshop in mental hygiene being presented for the Sandusky County Teachers Association on Thursday, Oct. 1 at Gibsonburg. Dean B. L. Pierce, of the College of Business Administration, and William C. Jordan, of the education department, will also attend the meeting.

Better Relations Possible

Reporters have been plagued with one problem since the first reporter used a quote in his story: having the news source deny that he ever said the quote, or claiming that "I was misquoted."

Beginning reporters in a college learning situation have been especially harrassed by this problem. This probably stems from the fact that persons with news to release sometimes feel the college newspaper reporter is not worth bothering with, and hastily, sometimes carelessly, answer his questions. Result: error in the story in the paper. It is easier, then, for all concerned, to assume the error was made by the student reporter.

On this campus, we have found most news sources have proved to be quite reliable for accurate information, the majority of them taking the time to assist the learning reporter in getting all the facts and getting them right. There are always a few exceptions, however, who can not be bothered with a student reporter from "just the college paper."

This year, two possible solutions, or at least partial solutions, to the problem are being put to use. The journalism department now owns a tape-recorder, which can quite easily and unobtrusively be used in an interview of any importance. While the reporter would doubtless take notes during the interview, any question about those notes could quickly be answered by playing back the interview. A later "I never said that," or "I was misquoted" cry from the news source could just as quickly be checked with the recording.

The second method will come after the story has appeared in the paper. A staff member will clip each story and send it, with a note of explanation, to the news sources involved in the story. These persons are asked to comment as to whether the information given is correct, and if not, where or why the error occurred. These forms, when returned, will be posted for study by all staff members. This is not designed as a spying process, but as a system of improving students' reporting and interviewing techniques.

Through the use of both these methods, better relations should result between the news sources, more aware of how they deal with reporters, and the student reporters, who can see where they make mistakes and thus profit by them.

Columnists Added

Two columns begin on the editorial page of the B-G News this week. One is part of a series of columns that we hope will broaden the outlook and widen the interests of our readers. The other is a continuation, with a few changes, of last year's "Lines at Deadline."

A column on recent books and magazine articles opens the column series this week. Friday it will be one on the movies, both campus and town shows. Next week the columns will feature comments on art and music. These four columns will appear every fourth issue, so that we can alternately appeal to the interests and tastes of as many readers as possible.

Through "Lines at Deadline" we hope to keep you informed on the "little" things that happen on campus or about town, comments on various activities—a general free-for-all of information.

With these columns we plan to make the editorial page just that—a page of opinion. Though it will generally be editorial staff opinion, it must also reflect the thoughts and reactions of the students. Criticisms, comments, and contributions of the students are the best way we know to do this.

Lines at Deadline

"These people are never satisfied," is the comment of Mary Jane Gustin, who hands out car permits, registration stickers, and the like, in the automobile registration office.

If a student is supposed to get a green sticker, he wants a gold one; if he should have a gold one, he prefers a red one. One student was blissfully content when "Gussie" agreed to give him a red one, until he discovered that red ones are for frozen cars only. He took the green sticker.

"Everyone thinks they have the most unusual case in the history of the University," "Gussie" commented. She has heard more "sad stories" since school opened than one would believe possible. And the remarkable thing is that a great many of these "unusual" cases have a strange similarity to the story she just heard five minutes earlier.

When the students discover that they can't drive in certain places, or park in the circle, they come storming back to "Gussie." Everyone seems to think she made the rules, she's discovered.

Some students may have discovered the hard way that most of the Bowling Green stores are now open until 9 p.m. on Fridays and 6 p.m. on Saturday, but a few stores remain open on Saturday, too.

Tradition-bound seniors are finding it difficult to remember they can now use the middle door in the front of the Ad Bldg.

Editor's Note: Starting with this issue the B-G News staff will attempt to inject a bit of humor into each issue of the paper. From here on in the southwest corner of this page, otherwise known as "The Shady Corner" will be reserved for gems of wit.

This Week's Inquiring Reporter Asks:

Number one topic on campus this week is the fraternity rushing system. The following answers were given by those approached with the question, "What do you think of the present fraternity rushing system?"

Joseph H. Dick (freshman): "I couldn't get my studies done because of the nights of constant handshaking. I don't believe that freshmen can choose the fraternity for which they are best fitted because the time allotted is not sufficient for the fraternity or the freshmen to become well acquainted."

Manny Koginos (senior): "The visitations are not long enough for either the fraternity or the rushees to get to know each other. Another thing, I wouldn't like to see a 40-man pledge class with only half of them making grades to go active. That is why I feel it is important to make grades before becoming a pledge. I don't believe it is fair to the chapter when a pledge has to drop out because he hasn't made grades. By that time, the pledge has had an opportunity to learn many fraternity secrets."

Joseph Stankewich (senior): "I think it's very hard on both the freshmen and the fraternity men to have visitations during the first few days of classes. The first week is especially hard on the freshmen as they have many houses to visit. It is also unfair to the fraternities who have visitations scheduled later in the week as the freshmen start losing interest in those. My suggestion is visitation during freshman week."

Wayne West (senior): "I think time is too short to become acquainted with the prospective rushees. Seven weeks would be long enough if the visitation periods were not scheduled so close together and if more time were allotted for each visitation."

Dean Charles (junior): "I feel that second semester rushing is better, because the freshmen have to make grades before they pledge. Under the present scholastic system for fraternities, it is easier on both the fraternity and the freshmen if the prospective pledge makes grades first. The short periods scheduled to meet the freshmen are not long enough for the rushees and fraternity men to get acquainted."

Stanley Kutler (sophomore): "The average freshman who arrives on campus is confused as it is, and I believe that rushing first semester is a detriment to his orientation to college life. However, if the present program is maintained, I believe that scheduling and time allotment must be vastly improved."

Dr. Gee To Attend OASA Conference

Dr. John E. Gee, chairman of the department of education, will attend the Superintendents' Fall Conference at Columbus Oct. 2 and 3, 1953.

The conference is planned around the theme, "Community Participation in Educational Planning," and is sponsored by the Ohio Association of School Administrators.

Dr. Gee will lead a discussion group for school superintendents and others attending the conference.

Purpose of the program is to instruct school superintendents in how to help citizens learn about the many problems confronting schools and the roles they can play in solving them.

The University Library has more than 120,000 volumes, and in addition, 80,000 government documents.

No Time For Pleasure Reading? Try These Magazine Articles

By LOIS NELSON

It has been established almost as law that college students just don't have time to read. That is, to read anything but those textbooks that you spent your first three months' allowance on at the bookstore.

To make it easier for Bowling Green students to be the well-read college product, the B-G News will carry a column of hints every other week. These tips will concern magazine articles and books of particular interest to you. Some weeks we will cater especially to one field of interest, and other weeks we hope it will be of general interest to one and all.

This week, being the first, we cater to no one and everyone. Since Fortune (September issue) was almost the only magazine in the country which didn't feature Dr. Kinsey, we felt that it deserves special attention. Not that we have anything against Dr. Kinsey's latest study, but in everyone's dash to read his articles it is inevitable that you also perused the rest of those articles. Thus we bring you Fortune, September 1953 . . .

First for you car enthusiasts. In an article called "A New Kind of Car Market" Fortune presents the truth about new and used cars, explaining that by Dec. 31 of this year 44 million cars will be on our highways. The problem for car manufacturers: the '53 model was made for endurance which puts a shadow on the business for the future.

For those of you who wondered just how big the Pocket Book industry is, here's your answer. Three hundred million books will be produced this year according to "The Boom in Paper-Bound Books." They are definitely here to stay and will be expanded from the sex mystery class into every subject and type possible.

How does the U.S. go about building an Atomic Submarine? The first two are under construction at New London, Conn. Another is being built near Schenectady, N. Y., in a $2 million, 20-stories-high sphere. A fascinating, illustrated article describing the dangers is "Sphere For An Atom Sub."

As a last tip, you Kenton fans will be interested to read in the Music section of Time, beginning on page 50, of Stan the Man's success in Europe. Those Europeans are really digging the crazy Man over there.

Miami Routs B-G 47-0

Tom Troxell, number 43, is shown racing for another Miami first down. Bill Bradshaw and an unidentified BG griddler made the tackle shortly after the picture was taken. Troxell led the Redskins' slaughter with three touchdowns.

By DICK JONES

Miami's powerful Redskins, kept under wraps by Coach Ara Parseghian, handed the Bowling Green Falcons a decisive 47-0 defeat at Miami Field last Saturday.

Led by sophomore Tom Troxell, who tallied three touchdowns, Miami scored twice in the first quarter, added three more tallies in the second, and wrapped up the win with a brace of scores in the third period.

With the game just four minutes old, Redskin quarterback Dick Hunter flipped a 37-yard scoring pass to Eddie Merchant. Jim Bryan's fumble, recovered by Miami's Stottlemeyer, set up the TD play. After Bowling Green failed to move on its series of downs, Hunter climaxed a 50-yard drive by nailing Stottlemeyer with a pass for the second touchdown. Miami led 13-0 as Hunter missed the conversion.

Bronston Sets Up TD

A beautiful weaving run by full-back Bob Bronston set up the third Miami touchdown. Eluding tacklers from all sides, Bronston raced for 32 yards to the Falcon 15. Two plays later, Troxell skirted around end for the tally. Hunter converted to make the score 20-0.

Minutes later, Bryan's pass was intercepted on the Miami 46-yard line by Williams. Troxell then went through tackle for the remaining distance. Near the end of the period Bill Bradshaw's punt was taken by speedy Tirell Burton on the Redskin 25. Aided by fine downfield blocking, Burton raced to the Bowling Green 44-yard line. Burton and Swigart moved the pigskin to the ten where Studrawa passed to Burton in the end zone and Miami left the field at half-time with a 33-0 lead.

Miami took the second half kick off and marched 63 yards to another score. Troxell tallied from the 10 yards out for a 40-0 edge.

Troxell, a thorn in BG's side, intercepted a pass intended for Ladd on the BG 37. The Redskins bucked the Falcon forward wall for nine plays to move the ball to the two. On the next Bronston scored through the middle. Studrawa converted and Miami extended its margin to 47-0.

Fourth Evenly Played

Parseghian shifted his second team into play in the final frame. They proved to be a closer match for the Falcon eleven. The final fifteen minutes turned into an even battle with neither team scoring.

Bright spots in the Falcons' loss were the fine performances of Jim Ladd, Bill Bradshaw, and Les Green. Ladd drew high praise from the Miami coaching staff while Bradshaw played perhaps the finest game of his collegiate career. Green's great defensive play stalled many Redskin scoring threats.

Officers Plan New AFROTC Courses For 207 Schools

More than 600 Air Force officer-instructors worked on phase three of a program to prepare Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps personnel to teach new generalized curriculum. These new courses will be introduced this September in 207 colleges and universities throughout the nation.

As a result of an educational chain reaction that began last April, all instructors in the AFROTC detachments will receive an opportunity in an organized group to become thoroughly familiar with the new curriculum before the new school year opens.

In April, 30 officers attended the first, or "pilot," workshop at the Air University to acquaint AFROTC instructors with the new course of study, and to develop plans for the institutional workshops they were to conduct in August.

Institutional workshops have recently been developed at 30 colleges and universities where more than 600 instructors spent two weeks in concentrated study of the new curriculum, methods of presentation, use of training aids, appropriate supplemental materials and methods of evaluating the classroom results.

Before school started this year three officers from the AFROTC unit attended the workshop program at a few of the universities for two weeks. Each of the officers are assistant professors of air science and tactics in the Bowling Green faculty. Capt. A. D. Joseph Jr., instructor of the AS I course, attended Ohio State University. Capt. W. L. Wood Jr., instructor of the AS II course, attended Case Institute of Technology. Maj. James R. Cables, instructor for the AS III course, attended Ohio Wesleyan University.
