

Bowling Green State University
ScholarWorks@BGSU

Counseling and Special Education Faculty
Publications

School of Counseling and Special Education

9-2016

CESP Update: 2015 Survey Results

Jeanne A. Novak

Bowling Green State University, jnovak@bgsu.edu

Follow this and additional works at: https://scholarworks.bgsu.edu/is_pub

Repository Citation

Novak, Jeanne A., "CESP Update: 2015 Survey Results" (2016). Counseling and Special Education Faculty Publications. 17.

https://scholarworks.bgsu.edu/is_pub/17

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the School of Counseling and Special Education at ScholarWorks@BGSU. It has been accepted for inclusion in Counseling and Special Education Faculty Publications by an authorized administrator of ScholarWorks@BGSU.

2015 Survey Results

171 respondents
spring 2015

Who are Certified Employment Support Professionals?

DEMOGRAPHICS

- 81% female
- Two-thirds over age 40
- 90% White, non-Hispanic
- Three-quarters have a college degree

CURRENT EMPLOYMENT POSITION

Majority have been in current position 1-5 yrs

Nearly 30% have worked in disability employment >16 yrs

EMPLOYER

Professional and Personal Benefits of Certification

Top 10 Benefits Endorsed by Respondents*

Less frequently endorsed benefits: provides for life-long professional growth, 42%; improved job satisfaction, 29%; provides opportunities for career advancement, 20%; increased earnings, 13%

*163 respondents

90% would recommend becoming a CESP to others

Evidence of Provider Agencies Buy-In

Over half of respondents were encouraged or required to take the CESP exam by their employer (48%) or funding source (4%).

Between 2013 and 2015, employers became increasingly likely to pay the cost of the exam (as compared to the test takers themselves).

76% receive support from their employer to maintain their CESP credential