Chasing Dangerous Women: The Social Justice Rhetoric of the Women Nobel Peace Laureates

Dr. Ellen W. Gorsevski
Wednesday, September 14 - 2:30 p.m. - 207 BTSU

In a cynical, war-weary world, how do women leaders convincingly promote peace and social justice to press for nonviolent social-change? By examining the rhetorical strategies used by women Nobel Peace Laureates such as Myanmar's Aung San Suu Kyi, Kenya's Wangari Maathai and Iran's Shirin Ebadi, Dr. Gorsevski demonstrates how appeals to nonviolence may act as effective peace-building modes in societies worldwide. The powerful cultural influence of women Nobel Peace Prize winners reveals how savvy communication strategies may act to foster justice and so transform violent, dictatorial, militaristic regimes into societies capable of genuine social change.
