SPOTLIGHT

Good Luck always to a girl I have enjoyed knowing since last two years. May God bless you in all you attempt.

Class of 1963 BHS
Grace Willard

As the old Union Station topples to the ground, an era of Bangor's life is closed forever. A new shopping center is to be erected on the site in the near future.

Cars whiz along the new interstate part of a network of national defense highways which re-routes automobiles around Bangor thus decongesting heavy downtown traffic.

Oracle Spotlights Sound

“Let the world sing with the sound of our hands and the music of our hearts.”

Zoom! Off races a B-52 into the blue from the runway at Dow Air Force Base, strategic lookout in our country’s defense system. Crash! Down crumbles the old Union Station making way for a new area of life, the shopping center. Whee! Over the new interstate hundreds of cars speed daily on a super highway, which is, in the near future, to span the nation. These are the sounds of a changing Bangor—the noisy trademarks of our times.

This year the Oracle tries to capture the spirit of our school and community through a new media—the media of sound.

Crowds of students leave high school as 12:20 bell marks end of the first session; a half hour later the afternoon classes begin.

New School Eagerly Anticipated By Students in Double Sessions

In its third year of double sessions, Bangor High School opens its doors at 7:15 A.M. and does not close them until 5:20 P.M. Between sessions, seniors, juniors, and sophomores have time for only a brief hello to their freshman and business sophomore friends waiting for the start of their afternoon classes. However, plans for a new high school take top-notch positions in the local paper. With the building site set on outer Broadway and blueprints in the discussion stages, Bangor citizens eagerly anticipate completion of the new building.

B. H. S. Sparks Academic Program

Buzzing discussion groups, voices raised in question, and the silence of deep concentration combine to create a mood of intelligent thought, a prerequisite for a space age education. Modern audio-visual techniques, foreign language training in the laboratory, and accelerated mathematics classes are among the new programs at Bangor High School.

Administration Maintains Smooth-Running School

At B.H.S. a well organized administration is a must. With the high school on double sessions, co-ordinating morning and afternoon classes merits the special attention of a busy office staff. Behind the scenes, careful administrators plan classes for the coming year, scheduling new and challenging courses for the student body. In addition, long hours are spent checking reports, hiring reliable faculty members, and handling student assemblies.

Principal Dana Simmons, whose aim is to improve the educational facilities for all of Bangor's students, is known by faculty and students alike for his hard work and dedication to duty. He has worked principally in two major fields this year; that of outlining the curriculum for the next two years and that of pre-planning for the new high school. The curriculum for the 1963 and 1964 school years has already been approved, and the 1965 outline of programs is being planned.

Mr. Bartlett, vice principal, for the a.m. session, and Mr. McIntosh, principal for the p.m. session, maintain full-time schedules in assisting Mr. Simmons. The administration is also very fortunate in having two capable secretaries, Mrs. Stevenson and Miss Epstein, who assist the administration, faculty, and students in the operation of a smooth-running school.

Perham Amsden, recently appointed assistant principal of the p.m. session, will find a demanding but rewarding position with his new administrative duties.

Guidance Deemed Wise

Starting with its annual letter of greetings to all students in September, the Guidance Department plays an important role in the students' life at Bangor High School. During the school year the department tries to have a conference with each student. The purpose of these talks is to discuss jobs and colleges, schoolwork, or any other problem a student may have. Mr. Richard Klain deals mainly with the seniors, helping them to choose a college or to find a good job. Mrs. Rubena Pressey aids the junior class; Mrs. Jane Johnson, the sophomores; and Mr. Gerald Ballanger, the freshmen. Mrs. Pressey, Mrs. Johnson, and Mr. Ballanger advise the underclassmen by discussing with them the proper subjects to take each year. New students entering Bangor High School are helped by the Guidance Department counselors to become acquainted with the various aspects of B. H. S.

In the Guidance Office there are catalogs, booklets, pamphlets, and leaflets concerning colleges, junior colleges, and vocational opportunities available at any time for the students' use. Interviews with college representatives are also held in the Guidance Center.

Lawrence A. Peakes

Oracle Pays Tribute To Lawrence A. Peakes

The demise of Lawrence A. Peakes on March 8, at Bangor, was felt with a deep sense of loss not only by the administration, faculty, and students at Bangor High School, but also by civic leaders, educators, and friends throughout the city and state.

As superintendent of schools in Bangor for six years, Mr. Peakes continually had a conscientious desire for advancing education in all its aspects—better schools, a higher plane of education, and improved conditions and status for teachers. Mr. Peakes' untiring efforts towards the promotion of a new high school building in Bangor were appreciated by all those who worked with or knew him.

Mr. Peakes left behind him hundreds of people who respected and admired his great ability and devotion in achieving better schools for the communities of Maine. Deep and sincere regret was felt at the passing of such a dedicated leader.

Wendell Eaton Appointed Superintendent – Alvah McIntosh New Curriculum Director

Wendell G. Eaton, formerly the curriculum director of the Bangor Public School System, was appointed Superintendent of Schools on March 19, 1962.

Mr. Eaton was graduated from Dexter High School and Farmington Normal School. In 1940 he was graduated from the University of Maine and received his Master's Degree in Education at Harvard University. He is a veteran of World War II.

Since coming to Bangor in 1948, Mr. Eaton has served as principal of Abraham Lincoln School and of Vine Street School. In 1959 he organized and served as principal of the first summer school for Bangor students. His deep interest in education is shown by his statement after being named superintendent, "I know that I speak for the entire staff in expressing my desire to provide the finest educational opportunities for the children and youth of Bangor. In turn, I urge all students to take the best possible advantage of these opportunities."

Wendell Eaton, Superintendent of Schools

Mr. McIntosh Assumes New Position

Mr. Alvah McIntosh, assistant principal during the p.m. session at Bangor High School for the past three years, was named director of curriculum for Bangor Public Schools on April 18, 1962. Superintendent Wendell Eaton announced his appointment.

A native of Lisbon Falls, Mr. McIntosh was graduated from Lisbon Grammar School, received his B.S. at Farmington State Teachers' College and his Master's Degree from the University of Maine. He taught in the Lisbon Grammar School before coming to Bangor where he served on the faculty of Garland Street Junior High School for three years. While serving as assistant principal at Bangor High School, he has been director of the Bangor Summer School for the past two years. He will continue in this post this summer in addition to his duties as curriculum director.

Knowledge of English Found Essential Today

From its humble beginnings twenty centuries ago, the English language has grown and spread until today it is one of the most widely spoken languages on earth. In the modern world, English is the native tongue of millions of people and the second language of millions more. The language serves as a bridge of communication between people of different nations and cultures.

Aware of the universality of the English language, the English Department at Bangor High School has an extensive program suited to the needs of every student. The main purpose of the varied curricula is to instill in the student the means whereby he can read, write, speak, and think intelligently in a changing world.

Herbert Billett

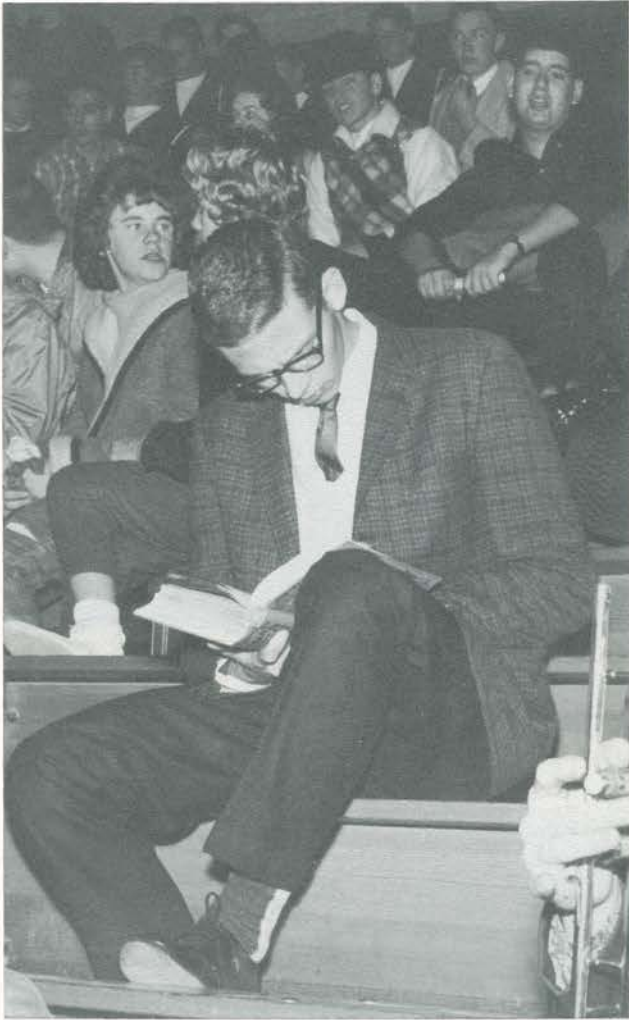

Kay Clark

Robert Fortier

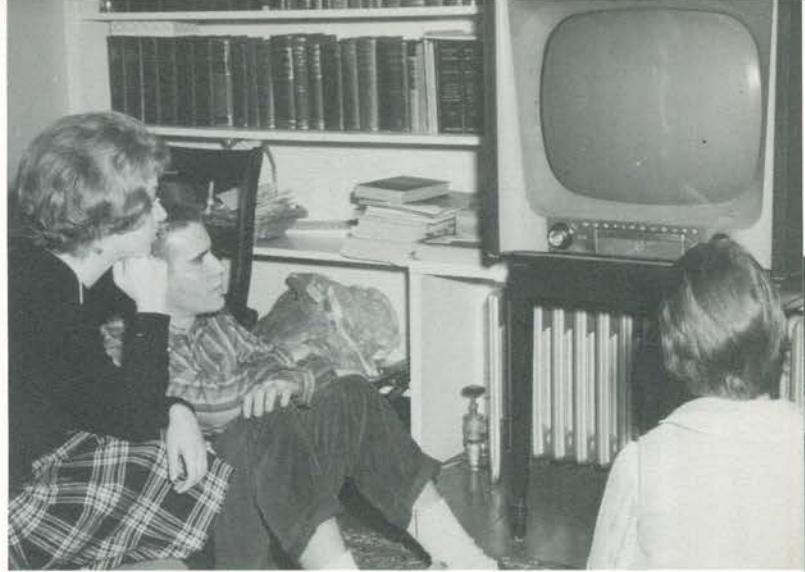

Among the methods used to accomplish this purpose is the careful study of English and American literature whose writers have established and carried on the tradition of literary excellence. As a supplement, much time is devoted to literary works of other lands in order to enable the student to examine the similarities, the differences, and the influences of one literature on another.

Combining team loyalty with academic spirit, Gordon Titcomb studies poetry during half-time at basketball game.

No less important than the study of literature is the acquisition of good English usage habits. In business and in society, where good first impressions are often very important, one of the first characteristics that are noticed about a person is his speech because it often reflects the amount of his education and his attitude toward life. Poor English usage often reveals a lack of sufficient education and carelessness. In this day and age of keen competition for good positions in business and industry, the person with faulty English usually finds himself at a definite disadvantage in finding employment.

It is in realization of these facts that Bangor High's classes have English usage programs designed to fit the needs of every student in order to provide him with the means whereby he can move forward in a modern world.

SOUNDS OF MUSIC AND ORATIONS ECHO THROUGH THE HALLS OF B. H. S.

Music Appreciation and Speech classes contribute to the fine arts program at Bangor High School.

Mrs. Browne, head of the speech department, conducts a speech class in which students learn to develop a pleasant and effective speaking voice. They gain poise and confidence by preparing and delivering speeches, acting in plays, and pantomiming. As an assignment, the speech students took part in the Voice of Democracy Contest.

Students of Mr. Atherton's music appreciation class learn to set a value on music and to appreciate its beauty by gaining a basic understanding of music. They learn to recognize styles of different composers, read music, and recognize the many different instruments. The students become familiar with the great music and composers of the world.

Science Provides Key to the Future

1962 will be remembered as the year the United States launched a man on a space flight around the earth. The sound of rockets and space vehicles will play an important part in every individual's future, but many well-trained scientists will be needed in order to insure continued success in the conquest of space. Bangor High School is meeting this challenge by trying to stimulate in its students an active interest in every branch of the scientific world.

The school offers courses in general science, earth science, biology, chemistry, and physics. Each student enrolled in a science course is required to complete a research project for the annual science fair. There are well-equipped laboratories where future scientists may test old theories and try new ones; and since science is a living subject, students may apply the principles they have learned in the classroom to the world around them. For instance, chemistry students learn why iron rusts, and any physics student can explain what makes an airplane fly.

Students Exhibit At Local And Regional Science Fairs

Bangor High School's science fair, held this year on February 28, has become an annual winter event. All science students must participate, and winners are chosen on a competitive basis. Twelve students—Dawn Alexander, Harvey Alpert, Joel Alpert, Bonnie Colpitts, William Frederick, Calvin Knaide, John Lancaster, Darby Larkin, Robert Politz, Joel Silverberg, Vicki Storey, and Larry Treworgy—were selected to represent the school at the regional science fair held in Guilford. Joel Silverberg, Vicki Storey, and Larry Treworgy won honors in their respective fields and went on to compete in the state science fair at the University of Maine.

Foreign Languages Deviate From Routine

Communicating every day with people of other nations has become important in a world where Spain, Italy, France, and other countries are only hours apart. Aware of this fact, the foreign language teachers at Bangor High have tried to bring into their curricula not only the study of basic grammar and vocabulary, but also an introduction to the histories and customs of their countries.

Being so near to the French-speaking provinces of Canada, les élèves are particularly interested in that language. After proceeding from simple grammar and conversation to intermediate speech and grammar, the more advanced students start out every other year for a trip to Quebec where they can apply their knowledge of French outside of class.

The study of Spain and its language is of special interest to estos alumnos. Although far from any Spanish-speaking countries, these students begin almost immediately in their first year conversing in el español. Proceeding from simple dialogues to more difficult stories, the students not only learn the grammar, but also the difference between a serape and a poncho, or a tortilla and a taco.

Students of the two modern languages have the advantage of improving both their comprehension and speed of conversation through the use of tape recorders, microphones, and earphones in the newly installed language laboratory. The lab contains twenty-three enclosed booths where each student may listen to records, tapes, or his own pronunciation.

In order to obtain a basic foundation of modern languages, Latin students study Latin grammar and vocabulary, word derivations, Roman mythology, the campaigns of Caesar, and the works of Virgil and Cicero. Through the study of Latin and ancient civilizations, the students gain a finer appreciation of modern culture.

Math Program at B. H. S. Meets Space Age Needs

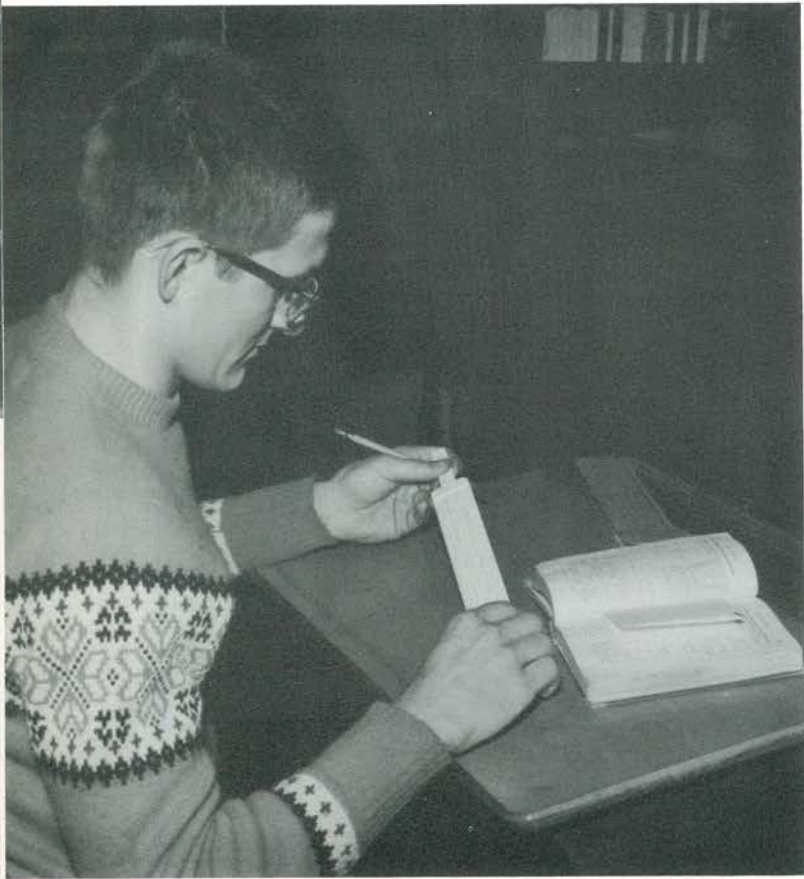

Gordon Smith
Department Head

In this day and age of missiles, moon shots, and atomic bombs, Math is playing a very important part in world affairs. At Bangor High School this principle is definitely influencing the curriculum.

The freshmen may take any math course from General Math to Geometry, for the students who took Algebra I in the eighth grade. From this point the courses branch out to Advanced General Math, Consumers Math, and Business Math for the non-college preparatory students. The college prep. students will get another year of Algebra along with a year of Geometry. Two optional courses in the junior and senior year are Algebra-Trig and Advanced Math.

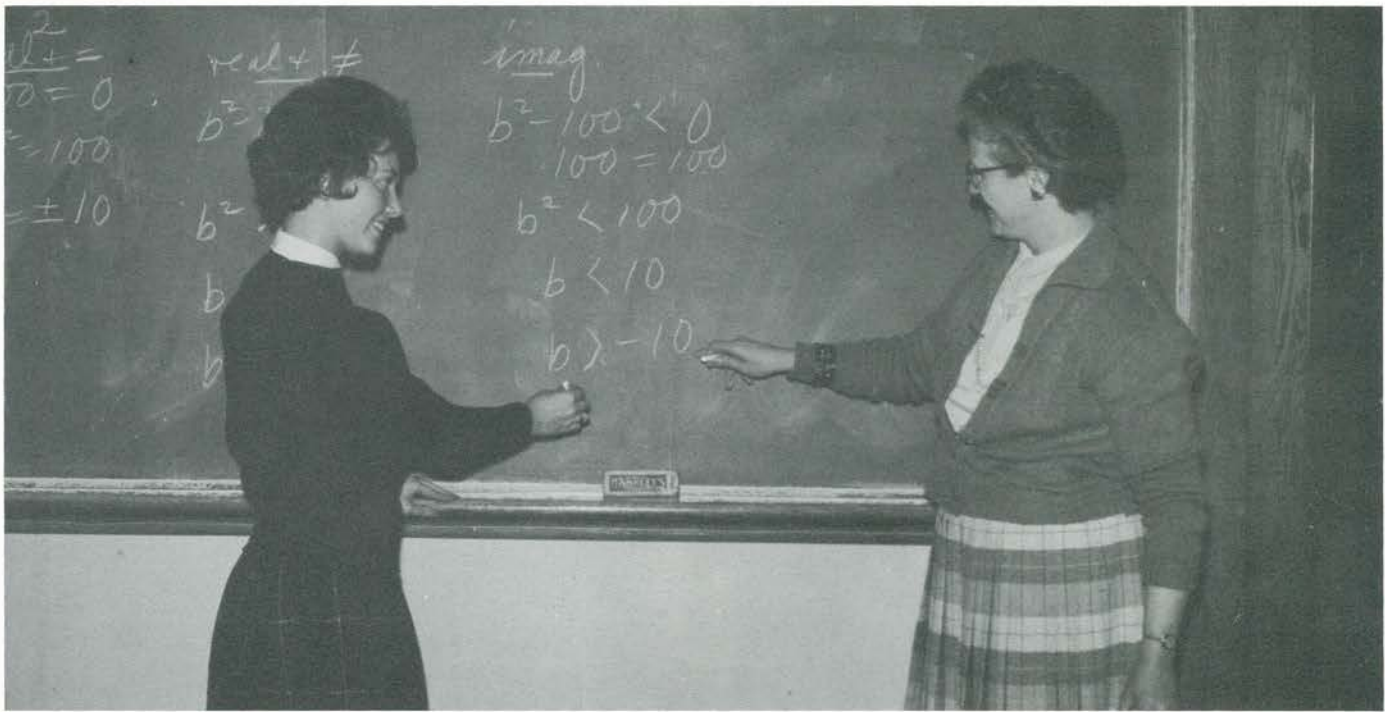

In 1962-1963 a new course will be offered to the students who took Algebra I as eighth graders and Advanced Math as juniors. This will consist of one semester of Calculus with the other semester of some related Math.

Social Studies – Gate to Understanding the Future

Newspaper articles and noted educators have recently stated that social studies has been forced to take a back seat in many schools as emphasis is placed on science and mathematics. This, they warn, is not good. In today's space age, more than ever before, it is imperative that one possess a wide knowledge of the whole world. For only by understanding the past and the present can a person be ready to shape the future intelligently.

Perham Amsden
Department Head

Bangor High School has realized the continuing necessity for social studies and maintains a curriculum composed of ten courses in the field. The past is traced from prehistoric man to the present through Ancient History, Medieval History, and Modern History. Concentrated study is placed on U. S. A. History and the inclusive Foundations of American Freedom, a double period course for selected seniors. Classes in Geography, Civics, and Current World Problems inspect life, government, and news both at home and abroad; while classes in Problems of Democracy and in Government and Economics pay particular attention to the way in which the United States manages itself.

Home Ec Offers Practical Curriculum

Basically, home economics is a study of people and their needs, particularly people living together in families. The home economics curriculum at Bangor High School is composed of several units of study to teach the basic fundamentals in home and family living. Included in these units are home furnishing and construction, family relationships, clothing construction, food preparation, and management.

These units are taught not only through reading and class discussion, but also by filmstrips, demonstrations, and actual experiences inside and outside the classroom. Through these fundamentals, the students have acquired learning today which will become a very real part of their lives tomorrow.

Industrial Arts Department Stresses Individuality

Bangor High School's Industrial Arts Department is comprised of four district departments, Drafting, Electrical Shop, Metal Shop, and Wood Shop. Students from all four departments worked diligently to prepare projects for the Maine Students' Crafts Fair held in Brewer. This was the first time the Fair has been held in this area.

Notable projects from the Metal Shop, under the direction of Mr. Gerald Covert, were stylish brass candlesticks, a bench drill press, and an anvil and hardy made from a section of railroad track.

Drafting students, under the watchful eye of Mr. Vincent Cuozzo, drew up original house plans. College Prep students voluntarily returned during the afternoon session to earn credits.

In the Electrical Shop department headed by Mr. Larry Musen, freshman work began with the unit entitled "Basic Electricity and its Uses." The freshmen made many projects of their own choosing which included a magnetic compass, battery, buzzer, and a crystal radio. The sophomores and juniors continued their first year work and began study in the field of Basic Electronics. Interest centered mainly around radio, television, Hi Fi, and other related apparatus. The senior class attempted to broaden its knowledge in all fields, especially in Electronics. The projects for all classes were chosen by the students themselves.

The Industrial Arts Program of the Wood Shop also began at the freshman level. Students were introduced to the common hand tools and were taught their uses and maintenance. Projects were quite basic, encompassing articles such as foot stools and book ends. Sophomore and junior workshop brought the student into contact with the common woodworking machines. Projects were assigned that required as many machine operations as possible — end tables, bedside stands, and coffee tables. Senior woodshop undertakings, consisting of chests of drawers and cabinets, were elective and somewhat more advanced.

Business Department Looks Ahead

Bangor High School provides a choice of two courses for students who wish a career in the business world. The secretarial course offers shorthand and transcription, and the clerical offers salesmanship and management. Both courses include typing, general office practice, filing, bookkeeping, and the operation of business machines.

Etiquette is especially important to persons entering business; therefore business students are taught how to act, dress and use the telephone properly. Each Monday is "dress-up day for the office" for business students.

This year an "on-the-job" training program has been inaugurated. Several secretarial and clerical students report to various business offices daily to get "on-the-job" experience and learning. Another year it is hoped that the program will be extended and also include a larger number of students. Businessmen have been very cooperative.

Twenty-three secretarial students with notebooks and pens explored the language laboratory to take dictation from pre-recorded business letters at different speed levels. It is hoped that future use of the language lab or even a real shorthand laboratory with multiple tapes will be an inspiration to students for greater speed dictation and improved transcription.

Distributive Ed Stresses “Earn While You Learn”

Distributive Education in a public school vocational program is designed to help high school students earn while they learn about the fundamentals of retail, wholesale, and service-selling businesses. The students study and work on a co-operative basis—going to school in the morning and gaining practical experience in the field they are studying by working at a real job during the afternoon. In this way, the program supplements education with experience.

Distributive Education was instituted by the passing in 1936 of the George-Deen Act which provided training in the Distributive Occupations for those interested in furthering their high school education in these occupations. The Distributive Ed programs are nationwide and are designed to aid in developing business know-how of young people while in school.

Librarians Promote Reading Skills

Miss Paulene Dunn and Mrs. Elizabeth Chaplin, Bangor High School's librarians, work hard throughout the year aiding students with reference material, supervising library study halls, and giving helpful advice to the Library Assistants. Miss Dunn and the Library Assistants keep a scrap book containing newspaper clippings concerning Bangor High School activities.

National Library Week was observed at B.H.S. Frances Stewart, Lorraine Rollins, and Wanita Frost designed an intriguing display showing the improvement in libraries. The scene was in the show case by room 112.

In addition to her work as librarian, Miss Dunn is state chairman for implementing school library standards. The committee, headed by Miss Dunn, compiled a fact sheet from a survey of Maine school libraries. This information was placed before the public in late spring. The p.m. librarian, Mrs. Chaplin is adviser to the Future Teachers of America Club.

Core Curriculum Designed For Special Classes

Core Curriculum as interpreted here is dedicated to the reality that some serious-minded youngsters learn slowly. "Certain ones know that they know not and care a lot. These we can teach. Some others don't know that they know not and care a lot. These can be awakened and taught. Still others know not and know they know not and care a little. These can be inspired, perhaps, and taught. And finally, there are those who know not and know not they know not and care little. These can be awakened, perhaps; inspired, perhaps; and taught, perhaps!" All of these groups would be in core curriculum. Success in varying degrees would come to them. All will stay in school because of the palpable attentions shown by the teachers and the community contacts. Core curriculum at Bangor High is in the hands of Bernard Mann.

Driver Education Promotes Safety

Travel by space ship may be a reality in the not too distant future. However, until that time comes, most teen-agers will have to be contented with the conventional automobile as their favorite means of transportation. One of the most popular courses at Bangor High School is driver education, which trains students to operate motor vehicles safely and efficiently.

The primary objective of this course is to help potential motorists develop sound attitudes toward driving. Actually, obtaining a license at the conclusion of the course is of secondary importance. It is for this reason that students spend thirty hours in classroom work and only six hours behind the wheel.

Although anyone who is fifteen or older is eligible to take driver education, preference is given to upperclassmen. Each student is required to pass a law test and an eye test in order to qualify for the course. Approximately one hundred and ninety students have completed the program this year.

Students learn how an automobile engine functions. Here, Mr. Rand points out the various parts of an engine to Ralph Runtz.

R. O. T. C. Continues Tradition

Since 1862, when Bangor High School established the first Voluntary Cadet Corps in the United States, the Bangor High School R. O. T. C. department has striven to form leaders out of the cadets who one day will serve in the nation's armed forces. Every Monday the clipped cry of commands and the rhythmic sound of marching feet echo through the auditorium as the uniformed cadets, ranging in rank from cadet private to cadet colonel, execute military parade ground manoeuvres. The military program offered at B. H. S. is designed to have a maturing effect on the young men who participate by giving them a sample of the true procedure in today's armed forces.

Physical Education Activities Develop Co-ordination

In this fast moving twentieth century everyone's attention is focused on the race for outer space. All over the world scientists are developing new formulas and equations to help in this feat.

Scientists and inventors have also aided the twentieth century in becoming an age of automation. As more machines are invented to take the place of manual labor, many people find they have more leisure time.

Bangor High School is doing its part in keeping the students physically healthy in this age of automation and leisure. In the fall, each student taking physical education is required to pass a physical fitness test.

Both the boys and the girls enjoy basketball, volleyball, tumbling and square dancing. When the boys are wrestling, lifting weights and practicing rope climbing, the girls are playing badminton, ring tennis and performing calisthenics.

Adults Play Role In B. H. S. Life

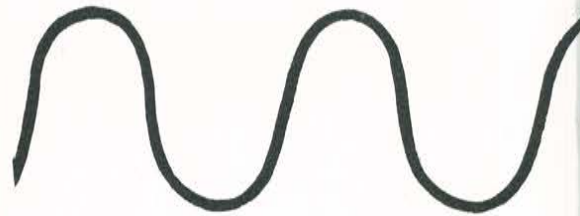

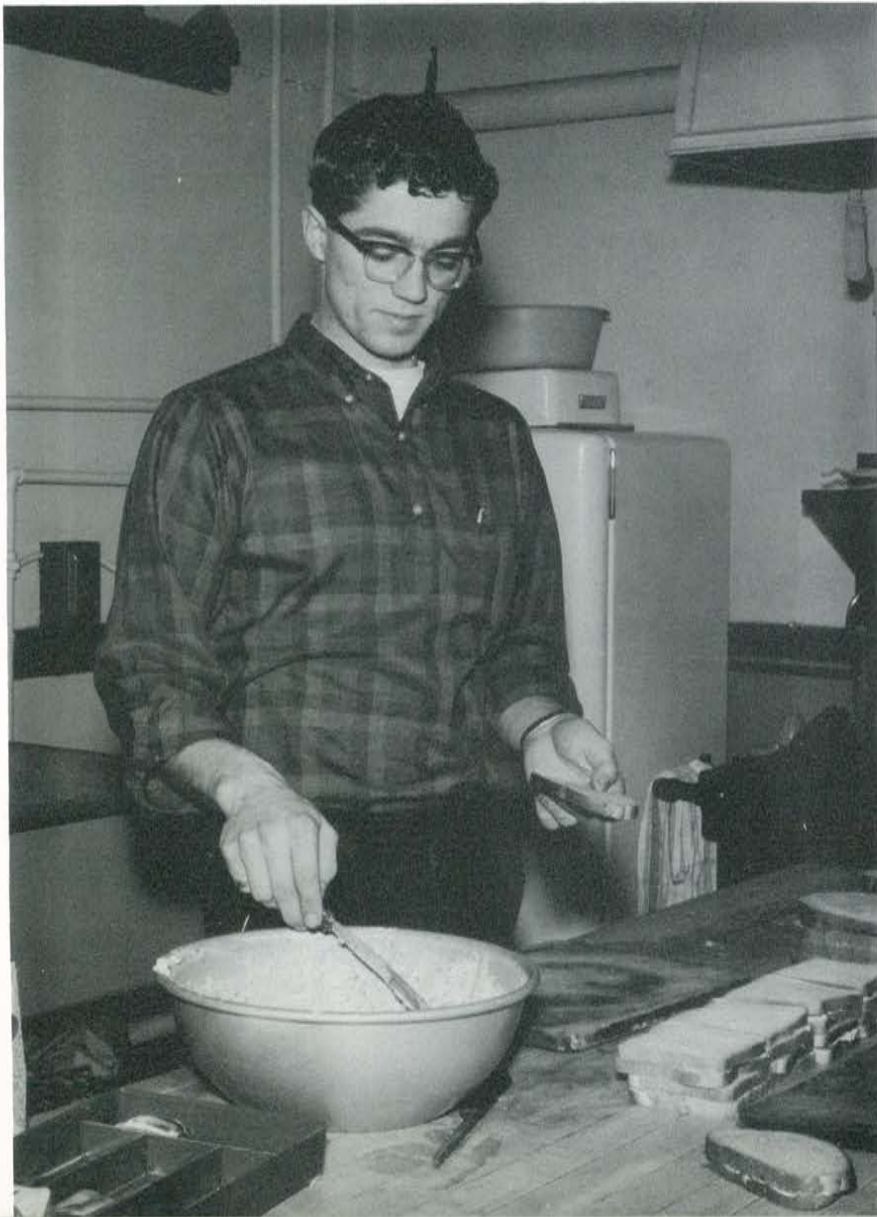

Custodians and cooks of B.H.S. are the "behind the scenes" workers of the high school. With the custodian, Warren Hurd, Sr., together with maintenance men Frank Andrews and Clarence Snyder, lies the responsibility of keeping the school a pleasant and sanitary place in which to study. All during the school year one may catch a glimpse of these men carrying out their duties which range from changing light bulbs to waxing floors.

The cooks' work begins early every morning in the cafeteria. Mrs. Dorothy Mansell for the A.M. session and Mrs. Muriel Richardson for the P.M. prepare the sandwiches and meals which are provided each day for students and teachers. These men and women are seldom seen by the students, but the results of their work are constantly apparent.

Warren Hurd, head custodian, checks the firehose in the corridor.

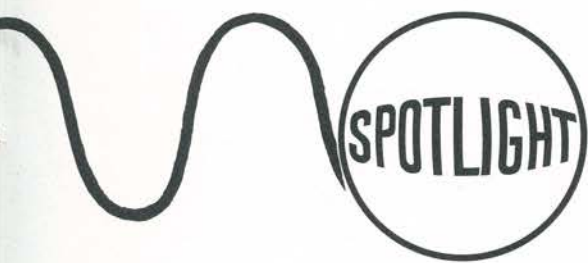

Frank Andrews and Clarence Snyder do some minor repairs in the language lab.

High School Hums With Activity

The hustle-bustle of sandwich making in the lunch room, the melodious voices of the chorus, the gay laughter at an afternoon tea, and the buzzing debate in a student meeting are among the many sounds which one can hear on a busy afternoon at the high school. These extra-curricular activities build talents by introducing varied new fields to curious teenagers. At B.H.S. the student is offered a wide range of programs in which he can help his school and himself.

Honor Society Runs Information Service

"Information please." This familiar phrase was the by-word for the members of the National Honor Society this year as they acted as an information service at the main door of the high school. Under the schedule prepared by the adviser, Mrs. Viola Woodward, each member relinquished his study periods in order to point out directions to parents and businessmen who were not familiar with Bangor High School.

During the week before Valentine's Day, the National Honor Society acted as a Valentine mail service. Students could buy Valentine cards or singing Valentines, called singograms, and send them to their favorite sweethearts. When Valentine's Day arrived, the National Honor Society members delivered the cards and sang the singograms in each of the homerooms.

In May, Juniors showing high standards of scholarship, leadership, character, and service were initiated at a school assembly. The assembly was led by the officers, Whit Russell, president; Peter Fergus, vice president; James Willey, treasurer; and Elizabeth Trowbridge, secretary.

Student Council Promotes School Spirit

With enthusiasm for promoting school spirit at B. H. S. sporting events, the Student Council of Bangor High School, led by President Robert Mills, started off a successful year of activities by selling megaphones, pep squad jackets, and "Rams" pins at all the basketball and football games.

As a member of the Maine Association of Student Councils, the B.H.S. Student Council sent ten delegates to the annual state convention held in Gorham, Maine, in November.

On the recommendation of a faculty committee, in trying to keep moral and spiritual values high, the council set up a Student Code Committee, composed of one student from each course in each class. This is the first year that such a committee has operated at Bangor High School.

Along with its other projects, the Student Council has sponsored monthly dress-up days, a record hop, and the sale of book covers. It has also helped support other Bangor High School organizations which are not fund raising.

The bi-weekly meetings of the council were attended by a representative or an alternate from each homeroom and the faculty adviser, Mr. C. Robert Jones. Functioning on its own constitution and set of by-laws, the Student Council has tried to give the students at Bangor High School an opportunity to take an active part in the governing of their own school.

Speech-Drama Carries Away High Honors

The One-Act Play, "Only An Orphan Girl," was greatly enjoyed by audiences at several places throughout the state. The cast coached by Mrs. Barbara Browne, consisted of Donna Darling, Sandra London, Janet McEachern, Bruce McLaughlin, Frances Stewart, Gordon Titcomb, Elizabeth Trowbridge, and Robert Wetzler; music was by James Flood. Winning the sectional contest at Brewer, the cast and crew went on to the regional contest at the University of Maine. There they were chosen to participate in the State One-Act Play Contest at Bowdoin College in April where they put forth an excellent performance.

Bangor High School was ably represented in several events by talented speakers. Laurie Hunt, a junior, placed second in the State Voice of Democracy contest. Elizabeth Trowbridge and Joseph Siegel competed in the Regional Spear Speaking Contest in which Elizabeth placed first in the girls' division. Eight students

—Suzanne Averill, George Brother, Charles Brown, Laurie Hunt, Darby Larkin, Dennis Shubert, and Penny Smith—participated in the Maine Speech Festival held at the University of Maine in April. At this festival there were no winners; however, students strive for high ratings. Six of B.H.S. representatives received "excellent" ratings.

Choruses Perform At School Functions

One hundred voices blended together in the Mixed Chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Myrle Coffey. At Christmas time, the members participated in the annual Christmas Concert, and the Christmas Assembly; in April they sang in the All-City Music Festival, accompanied by Andrea Eaton. This year the Mixed Chorus had two exchange concerts with Mexico, Maine. The combined choruses presented eight selections, both in Bangor and in Mexico, ending with the stirring song "Onward Ye People" by Sibelius.

The Girls' Chorus sang at the Christmas Concert, the Christmas Assembly, and the All-City Festival. They were accompanied by Constance Shaw and directed by Mrs. Coffey.

Boys Blend Voices to Reveal Magic of Song

Winning enthusiastic applause, the Boys' Chorus, made up of twenty members, performed at the Christmas Concert and the exchange concerts with Mexico, Maine, in March and April. Several athletes joined the group which rehearsed each week at the Dorothy Memorial Hall. The Boys'

Quartet sang as part of the Double Mixed Quartet for the Nineteenth Century Club, The Retired Teachers' Club, and the Otyoka Club. They also performed as a barber shop quartet between acts of the senior play, "Only an Orphan Girl."

Bangor High Students Display Musical Talents

"It's the sound of music." The music is being produced by members of the double mixed quartet who were selected from the mixed chorus. Under the direction of Mrs. Myrle Coffey, this talented group performed at a musicale held by the Nineteenth Century Club, at the Bangor Teachers' Club, and several other social functions in the Bangor area throughout the year. Andrea Eaton was accompanist for the group.

Mrs. Myrle Coffey also formed a trio of senior girls. This trio of girls performed at a luncheon sponsored by the Women's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist Church, a musicale held by the Nineteenth Century Club, and several other area activities.

Freshman Vocalists Mix Music and Fun

The Chorus performs at the Christmas assembly.

One of the first introductions many students receive to extra curricular activities at Bangor High School is the freshman chorus. Composed of both freshmen and sophomores who attend the afternoon session, this chorus meets every Tuesday morning for a seventy-five minute rehearsal. Under the direction of Mrs. Myrle Coffey, the group is accompanied by either Susan Sederquist or Charlotte Crabtree. In addition to the fifty-one girls, there are eight boys in the chorus, three of whom were selected to participate in the All-State Music Festival this year.

The chorus took part in the annual Christmas Concert in December and later sang in the High School Christmas Assembly. The members also prepared several selections for the All-City Music Festival held in May.

This year, for the first time, the group sponsored a booth at All-Bangor Night. Guests were invited to "Name That Tune" and compete for a prize.

At a football rally the band combines with cheerleaders to boost school spirit.

Band Entertains for School and Community

Opening day for the football team means opening day for the Bangor High School Band. Under the direction of M. Manning Atherton the band begins its rehearsals late in August so that it will be ready for the important first game of the season. This year that game was against Cony High School and the band journeyed to Augusta to make its 1961-62 debut by rooting on the visiting Rams.

After the football season comes basketball, and on almost every Friday or Saturday night after the first of December the band could be seen and heard at the new Bangor Auditorium. Before the games and during half-time the band played such old favorites as "Five Foot Two" and "When You Wore a Tulip," and marches like "Entry of the Gladiators" and "Stars and Stripes Forever." For the state championship basketball game the band went to Portland with the cheerleaders to support the Rams and also to entertain during half-time along with the Morse High Band.

In March the band began practicing for the Bangor All-City Music Festival presented in May in which the various music groups in the schools throughout the city entertained. This year the Bangor High Band's selections were "On the Esplanade" and "Carribean Fantasy."

Throughout the school year the band participated in three parades—the Santa Claus Parade, the Veterans' Day Parade, and the Memorial Day Parade. Also at the Eastern Maine State Teachers' Convention held at the new Bangor Auditorium the band played for the visiting teachers in the opening part of their program.

B. H. S. Orchestra Strives for Perfection

There's music in the air! The sounds of the violins and flutes, the sounds of the trumpets and drums can be heard every Wednesday evening as Bangor High School's aspiring musicians gather at the Dorothy Memorial Hall to rehearse. Plans for improving the quality and performance of the orchestra were formulated last fall when auditions were held for all sections except the strings. A full orchestra rehearsal was conducted each Wednesday evening; and the members of the string section, with Eileen Grossman as concert mistress, met for one extra practice session each week.

Students and parents have had an opportunity to hear the results of this effort at the Christmas Concert and at an assembly presented during the Christmas holiday season. The group, under the co-direction of Miss Marion McKenney and Mr. A. Manning Atherton, also took part in Junior Exhibition and the All-City Music Festival.

All State Music Festival Welcomes Students

Doors to a new world of music were opened for six hundred students from all parts of Maine early in April as they took part in the annual All State Music Festival, held in Dover-Foxcroft. The three groups represented at the festival—band, orchestra, and chorus—presented both an afternoon and an evening concert to large audiences composed of music lovers from all over the state.

Well known directors led the state's finest instrumentalists and singers in numerous selections. Dr. Marvin Rabin, presently the head of the Boston University Symphony Orchestra, conducted the orchestra. Dr. Warner Lawson, who was guest conductor at the 1959 Festival held in Bangor, directed the chorus. The band was under the capable hands of Professor Al Wright, the band leader at Purdue University. Miss Marion McKenney, Bangor High School's assistant orchestral director, was the manager of the group under Dr. Rabin.

In recent years the orchestra has had continual growth. This year the group numbered eighty-seven—a desirable size for an orchestra of this type. The chorus contained 144 girls and 119 boys. The last instrumental group making up this musical triad, the band, has always been very popular. The 1962 band, which had many students audition for it, was composed of 127 instrumentalists.

Throughout the three day festival both light and classical music blended into two enjoyable concerts.

Patience and practice lead to perfection for the B.H.S. Instrumental All Staters under the direction of Miss Marion McKenney.

Girls' State and Boys' State Stimulate Interest In Government

Girls' State and Boys' State are practical applications of Americanism and good citizenship. They are non-partisan, non-political attempts to teach and inculcate in the youth of America a love of God and Country. The purpose is to afford girls and boys an opportunity to participate as self-governing citizens; to inform them about the duties, privileges, rights, and responsibility of American citizenship in order that they may understand and participate in the functioning of their government; and to help them grasp the meaning of some of the responsibilities which they must assume as they become adults.

Any girl or boy in his junior or third year of senior high school who meets the following qualifications is eligible: leadership, character, courage, honesty, scholarship, (upper half of class), cooperativeness, and physical fitness.

Junior Ex. Speakers Give Superb Performance

The Class of 1963 presented the annual Junior Exhibition on March 30. The speakers and Junior Chorus marched into the auditorium to the March from "Scripio" by Handel.

The speakers and their cuttings were as follows: George Brother, "The Edge of Tomorrow"; Paul Fergus, "Political Parties and their Growth"; Jonathan Ford, "Elegance Is Not Undemocratic"; Shirley Gotlieb, "King Henry VIII"; Darby Larkin, "Wind in the Willows"; Sandra London, "The Importance of Being Earnest"; Barbara McEvoy, "The Doctor's Wife"; Robert Patterson, "Ligeia"; Joseph Siegel, "The Caine Mutiny"; and Winifred Wood, "The Dream."

The Junior Chorus sang "By the Bend of the River" and "Joshua Fit de Battle ob Jericho."

Mrs. Barbara M. Browne coached the speakers. The orchestra was conducted by M. Manning Atherton and the chorus was directed by Mrs. Myrle Coffey.

The last minutes are tense before the speakers begin.

Future Teachers of America Get Early Start on Careers in Teaching

After graduating from college many Bangor High graduates will be certified as teachers. Through Future Teachers of America, students learn what teaching is really like. Mrs. Joseph Chaplin, the club's adviser, President Carol Inforati, and many others have helped to make this year an educational one.

The officers for the year were Carol Inforati, president; Joan Melin, vice-president; Judy DeLaCruz, secretary; Sharon Morrill, treasurer; Peggy Nason, publicity chairman; Joellyn Cohen, librarian; and Becky Goode, historian.

Programs have consisted of interesting speeches from Mr. Duane Watson, student teacher from the University of Maine, and Mrs. Jane Johnson, sophomore guidance adviser. Oral book reports and educational films over the teaching profession have added to the club's knowledge.

The Future Teachers' executive board attended the State F. T. A. convention, and members worked hard to set up an F. T. A. booth for All-Bangor Nite. They acted as ushers at the F. T. A. Open House at the high school in November.

Members met monthly in the school library to discuss first-hand knowledge gained in their observation program in the Bangor School System.

F. H. A. Develops Four Goals

The Future Homemakers of America, a national organization, has four goals: to develop potential abilities, create a better understanding between family members and contribute to their well-being, interpret the value of home economics, and promote good will at home and abroad.

In the fall the F. H. A. visited the Bangor State Hospital. The girls held a Valentine party for mentally retarded children and a tea for new student teachers. During the year the group also saw a film on retarded children, had four cupcake sales, and held a party with the Brewer Future Homemakers of America.

Mrs. Marjorie M. Devine is the group's adviser. Officers of the F. H. A. are president, Brenda Miles; vice-president, Maureen Leach; secretary, Sharon Stone; treasurer, Elizabeth Goodwin; point system chairman, Marie Buzzell; and reporter, Eileen O'Brien.

Debating Develops Effective Expression

Debate provides many members of the student body with a chance to learn how to use speech effectively and to increase confidence in speaking in public. Competing at two levels, either as a novice or as a varsity debator, young speakers grow in ability at a regulated rate. Spending long hours of research at the library and developing a handy file are important parts of any debator's program.

The year's national topic was "Resolved that the Federal Government should equalize education opportunities by means of grants to public elementary and secondary schools."

At the annual University of Maine Debate Tournament held in February both teams won three out of four debates. At this tournament Alene Casterlin and Suzanne Averill won Certificates of Achievement for the affirmative team; Esa Jane Rapaport and David Gautschi won Certificates of Achievement for the negative team. The teams participated in rounds held at John Bapst High School in December and at Ellsworth High School in January.

Orascope Presents Newsy Side of B. H. S. Life

Bangor High School's newspaper, the Orascope, gives students a chance to study the elements of journalism while providing a permanent record of extra-curricular activities. The Orascope is published by a staff of juniors supplemented by two freshmen who supply news from the p.m. session. The staff members work hard to insure a position on the Oracle Board during their senior year. The aim of the joint Oracle-Orascope subscription campaign last fall was to have 75% of the entire school subscribe. The principal device used to achieve this goal was to award a free Oracle-Orascope subscription to the student who guessed the number of O's (standing for Oracle-Orascope) in a jar. The winner was senior Bruce Hathaway. Faculty adviser, Miss Jessie Fraser, worked closely with the Orascope editor, Paul Fergus, and assistant editor Jane Gaillard.

Besides reporting the news and activities of the school to the student body, the Orascope contained such novelty features as the Skeleton Closet, the News Barrel, Corridor Conversation, and the Roving Reporter.

Freshman reporters, Connie Coffin and Dick Downes, pick up pointers from the Orascope's editor, Paul Fergus, as he checks galley proofs.

Library Assistants Render Many Services

The Library assistants have aided the librarians, Miss Paulene Dunn and Mrs. Elizabeth Chaplin, at the desk with reference work. Their duties included checking out books, shelving and slipping them, checking library permits, and aiding the students. The girls have been observed on numerous mornings delivering overdue notices to the homerooms.

As an added help, the assistants do typing and cataloguing. Frances Stewart was in charge of this year's exhibits. Helping her were Wanita Frost and Lorraine Rollins. There were many interesting and colorful displays. An exhibit of the Bangor High School Eastern Maine Championship Basketball Team was presented in February. The girls completed an attractive layout for the National Book Week. In February the library assistants held a luncheon in the home economics room.

Bangor Safety Council Receives National Recognition

The Bangor High School Safety Council won recognition on the national level by receiving the National Safety Council Award for the past school year. In a letter to the school's council, authorities praised the group's active participation in local highway safety programs. Membership in the national organization has been received for the coming school year.

Through several programs the Safety Council has been actively promoting careful driving. Posters and bulletins caution teenage drivers to drive safely. The group secured two safety films which were shown to all elementary students in the Bangor school system. Members filled milk cartons with sand to help faculty members and students to move icebound cars in wintry weather. A survey was conducted in homerooms to see how many students had taken driver's education and how many had licenses. The council was responsible for placing school zone signs in front of the building. A Best Driver Contest was held in which students competed for honors in written as well as in actual driving tests.

Officers for the year were Beth Fellows, president; Basil Robbins, vice-president; Jane Campbell, treasurer; and Rebecca Benoit, secretary. Other posts held were membership chairman, Brenda Stone; publicity chairman, Marjorie Todtman; and project chairman, Ann Dresner. Lloyd Rhodes, the adviser, was assisted by Mr. David Rand.

A.F.S. Board Aims for $700

Spurred on by a goal of $700, the American Field Service Board set to work with an active group of over forty members, Mrs. Louise Hammons serving as adviser. As a money raising gimmick students initiated Penny Day. Every Wednesday representatives circulated containers in the homerooms; average weekly receipts totaled twenty-five dollars. The red line on the percentage chart in the front hall inched higher as the board sponsored a successful victory dance after the John Bapst game. A poster contest sparked the imagination of several talented B. H. S. students, and John Perkins was awarded first prize in the competition. At the annual AFS assembly, Elizabeth Trowbridge, the recipient of the AFS Scholarship, presented the entertaining story of her summer in Finland. Other board projects this year included writing of the new constitution and soliciting for a home for next year's AFS-er.

Planning Shows Results

Ellen Segal, Mr. Billett, and John White, Chairman of the senior A. F. S. Board, take time out for a picture between two assemblies.

Interested in having both educational and entertaining assemblies presented at Bangor High School, the assembly committee arranged a varied and full schedule of programs for the entire year. Through the bi-weekly assemblies, the committee hoped to improve the minds of the students intellectually, culturally, and spiritually.

The assembly committee, two advisers and one representative from each class, began planning its schedule of programs in September. The assemblies were presented by civic leaders, clergymen, scientists, and several organizations in the school. Any Bangor High School club was allowed to prepare and present its own program after it had reserved a date on the assembly committee's schedule.

Since "variety is the spice of life," the committee planned assemblies representing a variety of fields. Sounds from the field of music were heard from the school's choruses, quartets, trios, band, and orchestra. School spirit was aroused and promoted by the school's able coaches, teams, and cheerleaders. Spiritual guidance was given by Rev. Stanley Pratt in his Thanksgiving address. Scientific curiosity was satisfied in the General Electric Company's exciting program. Both education in the classical and contemporary styles of pianists and a great deal of humor were combined in the annual paid assembly. And, as a climax to a year of study, academic achievements were recognized in the annual Scholarship Recognition Assembly.

Sharpshooters Have Outstanding Season

The Rifle Club has completed an outstanding year. The five top marksmen, George Parke, Carl Morrison, Richard Pearson, Wayne Hanson, and Robert Slamin, traveled to Boston in February to bring back third place in the Northeastern University Invitational Tournament, in which over sixty teams competed. In April, five teams representing Bangor High School, three school teams, one military team, and one girls' team, fired in the National Rifle Association Junior Sectional Tournament at Portland. The three school teams placed first, third, and fourth in competition; the military team placed first in its division, and the girls' team placed second. Teams representing Bangor High in the Pine Tree Postal League took first place in all three divisions. The Rifle Team also took first place in the XIII Corps Army Junior R. O. T. C. Rifle Match and in the First Army Area Rifle Match. The results of the endeavors of the Bangor High Rifle Club in the form of medals and trophies were displayed in the trophy cases in the main corridor of the school.

R. O. T. C. Sponsors Clubs

The organization of the military elite, the officers' Club, has its place at Bangor High School in the R. O. T. C. department. Led by its president, Cadet Col. Donald McLemore, vice president, Cadet Capt. Mark Lockwood, and secretary-treasurer, Cadet Lt. Col. Charles Brown, the B.H.S. Officers' Club has carried out a varied program of activities this year. Among these activities has been the publication of the R.O.T.C. yearbook, Old Timers' Night II, with guest speaker Governor John H. Reed, and the Military Ball held this year at the Dow Air Force Base Officers' Club.

The noncommissioned officers' counterpart of the Officers' Club is the N.C.O. Club. This year's N.C.O. Club at Bangor High School assisted the Officers' Club in the editing of the R.O.T.C. yearbook.

Stetsonettes Gain Wide Acclaim

"Right face!" shouts Barbara Knox, drill leader for the Bangor High School Girls' Drill Team. All thirty-two Stetsonettes toe the line as Barbara runs through new routines with them at the Bangor Armory two afternoons a week. Dressed in bright plaid kilts and blue vests, the girls have gained wide acclaim marching at football and basketball games, in downtown parades, at numerous functions at Dow Air Force Base, and at the R.O.T.C. Field Day held at the Garland Street Field. The entire team traveled to Waterville for a half-time marching exhibition at the Waterville-Bangor basketball game.

Under the direction of Major John L. Spencer, Jr., with Mrs. Rafalina Patterson, adviser, the Stetsonettes perfected many new drill routines and have even added a dance to the list of their accomplishments. Officers for the year were Barbara Knox, president; Betty Johnson, vice-president; and Barbara Evans, secretary-treasurer.

Stetsonettes execute a "pin wheel."

Stetson Rifles March Proudly

The Stetson Rifles, the boys' drill team of Bangor High School, was organized in 1949. The unit was named for Isaiah Stetson, under whose leadership military training was first established at Bangor High School.

The team marched at two Judo Exhibitions at the Base Gym, and at the Base Service Club at a semi-formal dance. The Stetsons performed at the John Bapst, Brewer, Malden, and Waterville basketball games, Veterans' Day Parade, and Old Timers' Night. They have also marched in the Memorial Day Parade and Field Day in May.

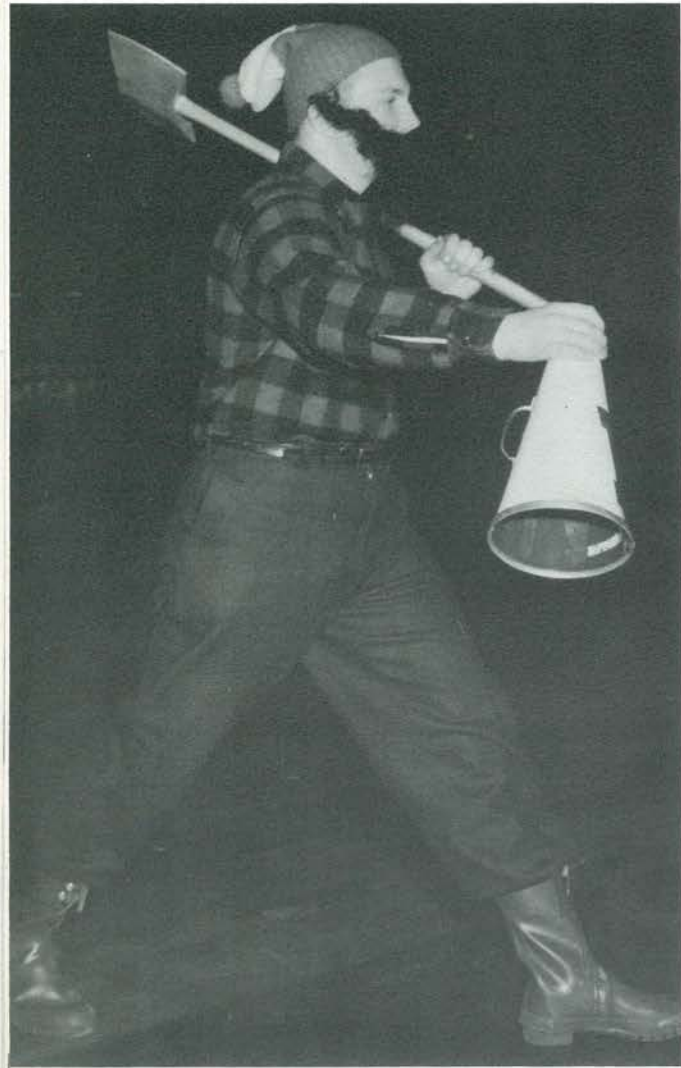

The twenty-seven boys were under the direction of Master Sergeant Donald E. Corning, with Donald McLemore as commander.

Fans Cheer B. H. S. to Victory

Shouts and whistles greeted the Bangor Rams as they met the opposition and emerged victorious. Backed by an enthusiastic rooting section and a peppy cheerleading squad, the Rams fought their way to the state basketball finals and to a prominent position during the football season. In baseball, cross-country, and track, BHS teams won coveted awards. The extracurricular sports program was broadened to include for the first time a varsity swim team, which was well supported by the student body.

Bangor High Football Team Has Top Season

The Bangor Rams, led by co-captains Paul Newman and Leroy Patterson, finished the football season with a respectable standing of eight wins and two losses. Starting training early in August, the Rams showed their power in their first two games by blanking Cony High of Augusta 26-0, and Rumford 25-0. The following Friday was a black night for the Rams. Playing host to the Saint Louis team of Biddeford, the Rams took an early 6-point lead but were unable to tally again as Saint Louis scored heavily. The final score was 42-6. In the next game the Rams returned to the winning column by beating Portland 20-0, and continued their winning ways by beating Lewiston and South Portland. Bangor lost a heart-breaker to Edward Little, 13-14, but came back to win the last two games of the season, against Sanford and Brewer.

The Ram's regular backfield consisted of Gerry Varney at quarterback, Wayne Philbrick at fullback, and Leroy Patterson and Bob Mills as halfbacks. Bruce Flagg, Edward Curran, Brian O'Donnell, and Jim Smith also saw action in Bangor's backfield. Playing end were co-captain Paul Newman, Whit Russell, Jim Frederick, and Rod Watson. The rugged linemen were an important part in the Ram's success. Veteran players such as Bruce Doughty, Paul Smith, Rick Stockton, and Paul Pondish helped pull the Rams through tight situations.

As the coaches confer, Sergeant James Redmond receives a report from the scout in the grandstand.

As Brian O'Donnell (33) spins away from a Rumford tackler, Rick Stockton (74) makes key block and Jay Shubert (40) comes over to help.

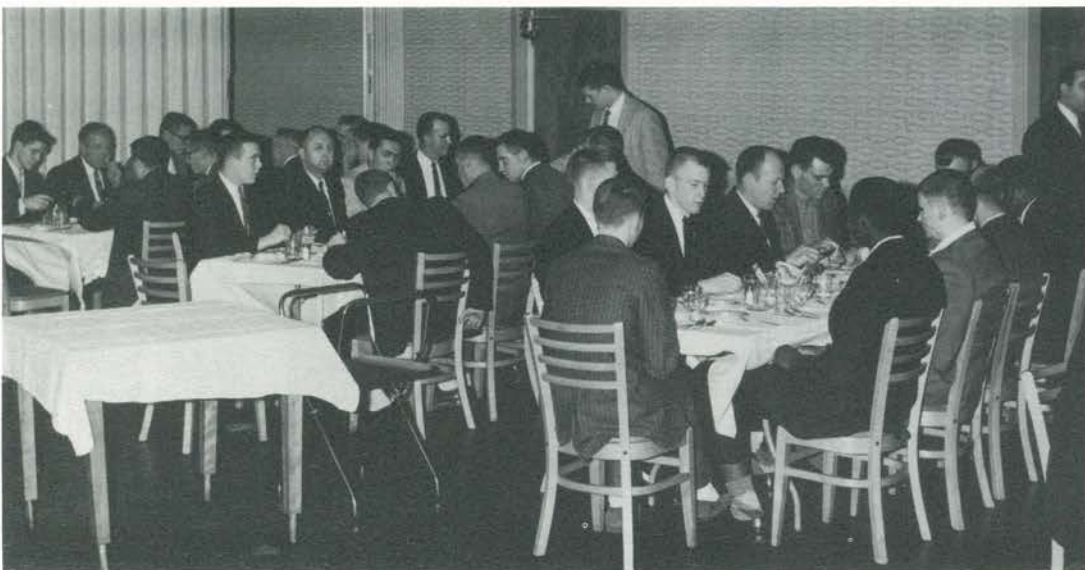

Hey, it's cold out here! Co-captains Leroy Patterson and Paul Newman try to keep warm at the pre-Brewer game bonfire rally.

Rams Take Eastern Maine Championship

Some great natural ability combined with perfect teamwork led the Rams to the Eastern Maine Basketball Championship. Opening the season with a bang, the Rams handed Houlton a sound defeat, then won only two of their next four games, losing to Stearns and Presque Isle. The Rams next started a hot-streak by winning five in a row. Two wins were decisive in the final tournament standings, those wins being over Waterville and Caribou. Again it was Stearns who stopped Bangor's five game win streak by a meager four points. The boys ended the regular season in great form by winning their last eight games. One of these wins was perhaps the most thrilling game in the entire state, that being a 76-72 double-overtime revenge victory over Presque Isle.

Bangor entered the Eastern Maine Tournament seated number one and went on to prove its power of statistical standing by whipping Gardiner, Presque Isle, and Caribou. As a result, Bangor met Morse for the State Championship. A massive Morse team with great experience beat Bangor for the state championship. The hoopmen of Bangor ended the season with eleven wins before losing to Morse. Frederick "Red" Barry and his team had a fine season with twenty wins and four losses, an enviable record in any man's class. The Rams lose four of their starting players by graduation.

Bangor's New Varsity Sport, Swimming, Finishes First Season

The varsity swim team, experiencing its first season, turned out a 2-4-1 record for 1962. In the first meet, against Deering, the competition was close until the last event, the 200-yard relay. Had the Rams won that event, they would have won the meet; but the race was a tie, so Deering won. The next meet, Bangor lost to Cheverus. In the following two weeks the Rams evened out their two loss record by beating South Portland and Edward Little. On February third, in a meet against Hebron Academy, the same situation came up as in the first meet. The last event, the 200-yard relay, was a tie, and Hebron was able to win by a small margin. A week later, the Rams tied the defending state champions, Brunswick, and on February sixteenth, Bangor lost to Portland.

In the state meet, Bangor placed fifth in the 200-yard medley relay, fourth place in the 200-yard freestyle relay, and second place in the diving.

A swim meet, conducted somewhat like a track meet, has ten events. The 50-yard freestyle was swum by senior Bob Moulaison who had an excellent year for Bangor. The 100-yard freestyle was swum by sophomore standout, Phil Emery. The other freestyle event, swum by Jim Connors, was the 200-yard freestyle. Captain Ed Bulmer swam the 100-yard butterfly, one of the most difficult of the swimming events. The event of co-captain Jim Willey was the 100-yard backstroke. Another difficult event, the 200-yard medley, consisting of 50 yards each of butterfly, backstroke, breaststroke, and freestyle, consecutively, was swum by Tom Dorsky. The 100-yard breaststroke was swum by Vitaus Knuble. The diving, perhaps the most interesting event to watch, was skillfully executed by Bob Arsenault.

The two relay events were what carried the team. The medley relay, a 200-yard race consisting of backstroke, breaststroke, butterfly, and freestyle, was swum by Ed Bulmer, Vitaus Knuble, Jim Willey, and Jon Ford. The 200-yard freestyle relay was swum by Jon Ford, Tom Dorsky, Ed Bulmer, and Phil Emery.

Jon Ford and Jay Shubert toe the starting line for a race in the meet against Hebron Academy.

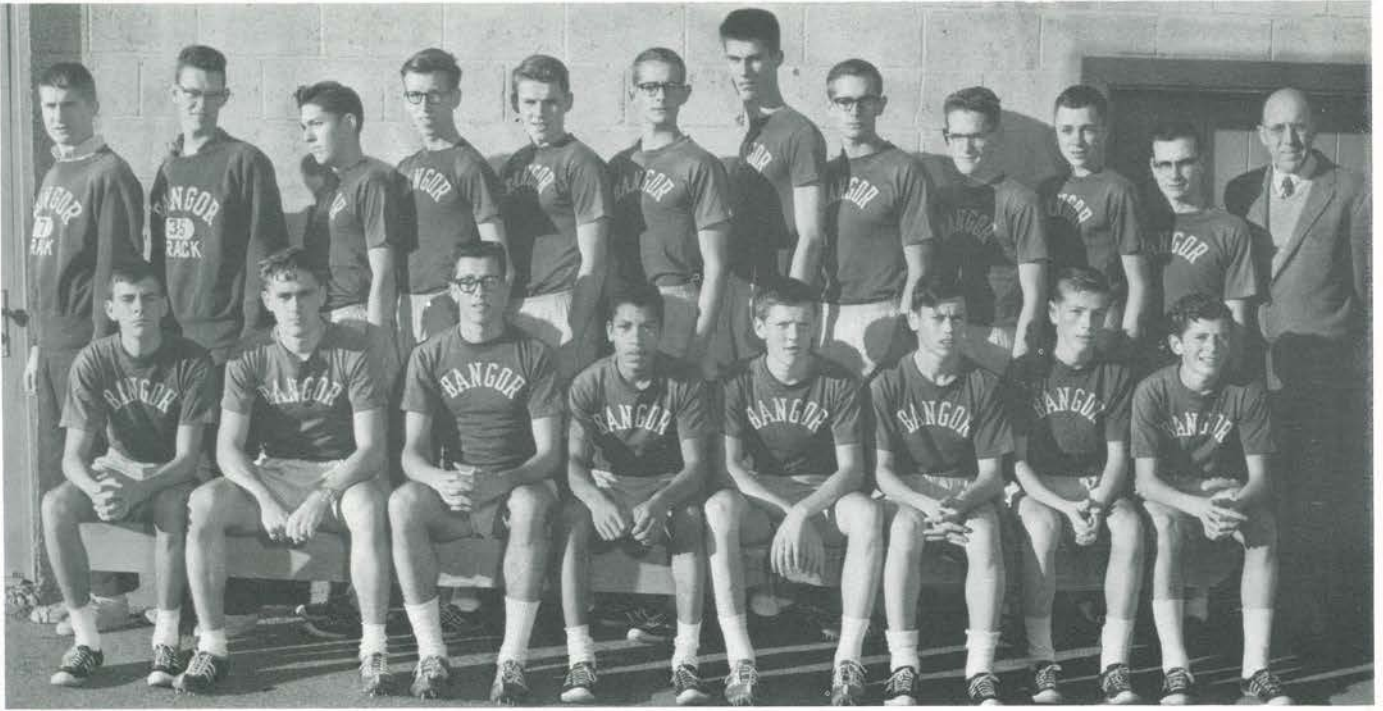

Vitaus Knuble starts the second leg of the 200-yard medley relay, as Captain Ed Bulmer finishes the first.

Junior star Stuart Hudlin finishes first again for the Rams.

Tim Small crosses the finish line in J.V. meet.

A relatively inexperienced Bangor team turned out a 9-1 record in season play to make 1961 one of the best years for Bangor cross-country. Bangor scored a five-way tie for first place in the first meet against Howland. In the following weeks the team racked up wins over Old Town, Sumner, and Lee. In the next meet, against Brewer, the Rams placed all of their runners second through eighth to win the meet easily. The Rams continued the season with wins over Ellsworth and Pemetic, Schenck and Hampden, and Rockland and Brewer. In their last regular meet, the Rams lost to the University of Maine Freshmen. In the state meet, the Rams placed sixth from a field of seventeen teams.

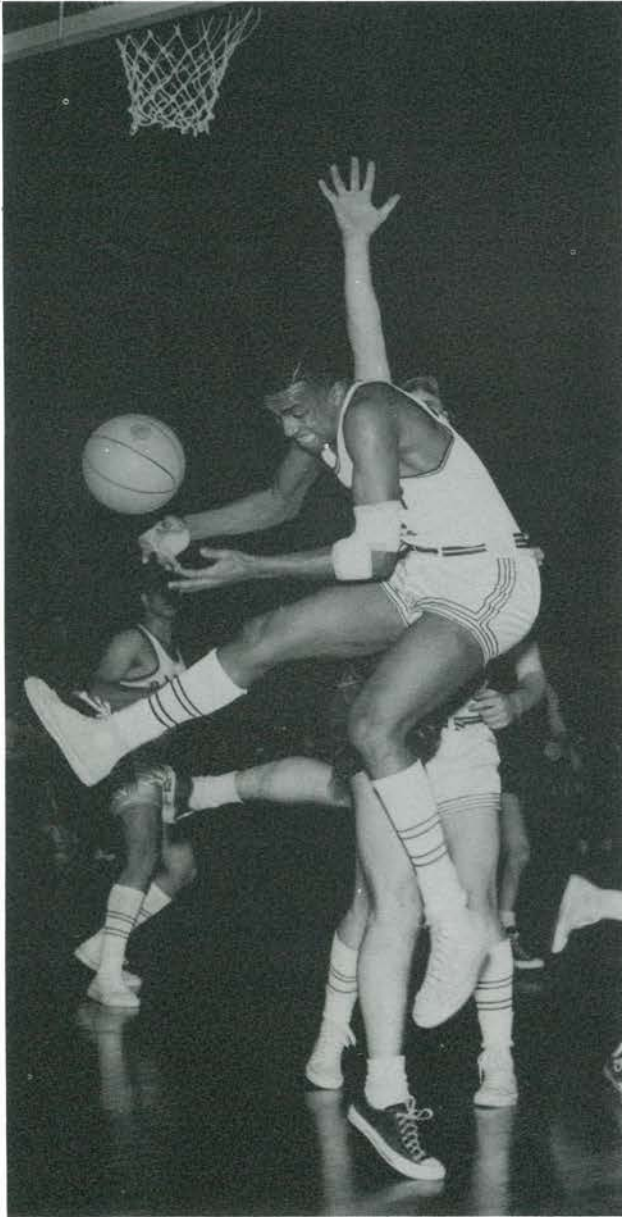

The star of the team was Stuart Hudlin, who placed first in 7 of the 10 regular meets. But a cross-country team is not made up of just one runner. Following right behind Stu on the team were Joe Demaso, Chip Hasey, Alton Sabin, Tim and Tom Small, and Francis Richard. Also on the varsity during the season were David Staples, Joe Peavey, and Steve Kalloch.

Bangor and Gardiner both reach for control of the ball in the first game of the tournament.

Patterson clears the boards in tournament action.

Big Jon says "Well, I think"

Rams Win Eastern Maine-Runner Up in State

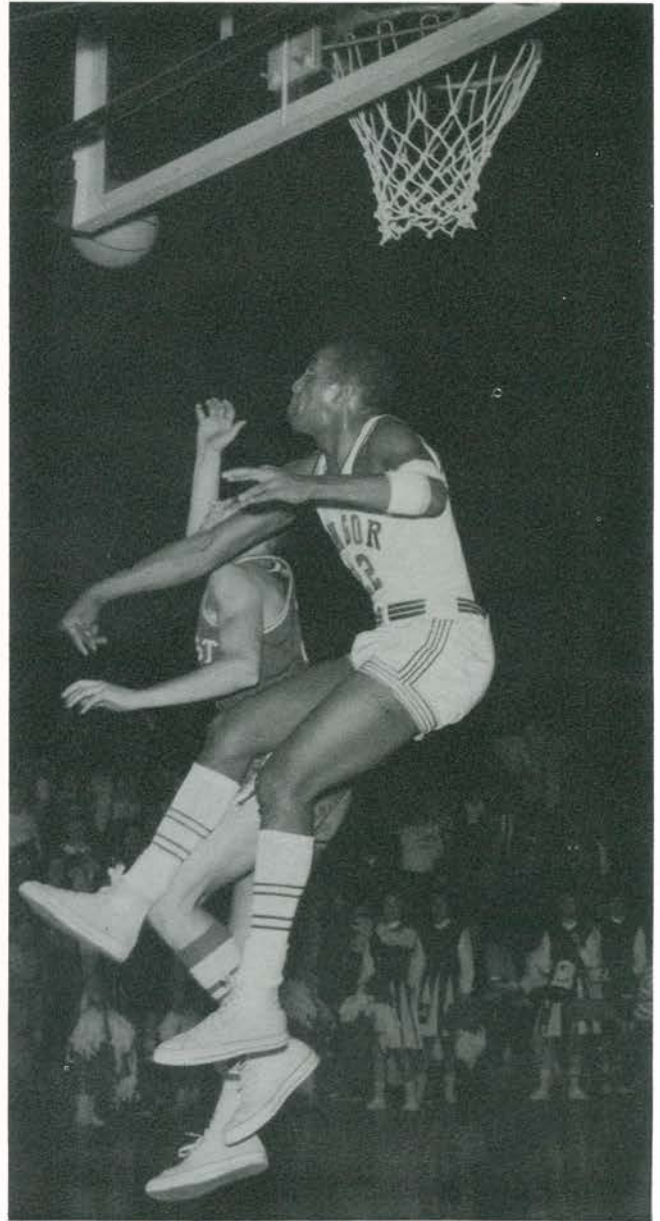

The Bangor Rams basketball team enjoyed one of its best seasons this year. In tournament action Bangor, led by Leroy Patterson, showed its strength. Patterson was a unanimous choice for the first Eastern All-Tourney team. Steve Godsoe and Rod Watson were placed on the second Eastern All-Tourney team, while Jon Predaris made the third team. This is a fine example of the well-rounded squad which supported "Red" Barry this season.

Later in the season when basketball had concluded, Leroy Patterson was selected for the first All-Maine schoolboy basketball team. Jon Predaris was selected for the third team. This is quite an honor and B. H. S. should feel proud of their accomplishments.

Jayvee Basketballers Sport .500 Season

The Jayvees, coached by James Cutler finished the season with a record of seven wins and seven setbacks. The games, played as preliminaries to the varsity contests, are designed to provide game experience for future varsity hopefuls.

After a shaky start, the junior Rams came on strong to sweep victories from Brewer J. V.'s, Harmony Varsity, Old Town J. V.'s, Morse High of Brooks, John Bapst J. V.'s, and Waterville J. V.'s.

Paul MacLeod and Bob Cohen paced the Jayvees in the scoring department. Steve Kalloch and Jim Frederick were big rebounding factors, and both could toss in a few points when necessary. John Warren usually turned in a strong floor game, as did Tom Bohan.

A hot scorer during the early Jayvee contests, Jerry Varney was called up to the varsity, where his talents were put to good use.

Jerry Nolan, Mike Black, Ed Okishoff, Bob Slammin, and Pete Nadeau rounded out the squad. The managers were Dick Webster and Charlie Bearce.

Freshmen Place 2nd In Conference Standings

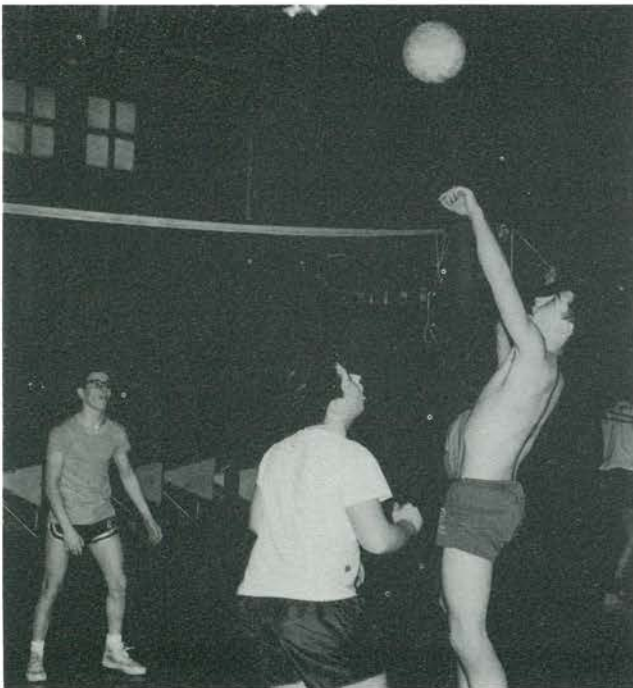

For the third consecutive year the Bangor Freshman basketball team has been among the top contenders in the Eastern Maine Freshman Conference. Coach Roger Miles, aided by student coach Bob Burrows, guided the club to a seven win, three loss season. The junior Rams placed second to John Bapst in the final conference standings, registering wins over Brewer, Ellsworth, Hermon, Old Town, Orono (twice) and John Bapst. Losses were inflicted by Brewer, Old Town, and John Bapst.

Among the highest scorers on the team were Rob Newman, Jim Nelson, and Dick Downes. Additional rebound strength was provided by Terry Rowe and Carol Goggins while wiry Dale Reed hampered opponents with exceptional defensive work. Rick Emery, coupled with Jim Nelson, supplied the steady ball-handling necessary for a well-balanced team.

Freshman basketball continues to be an important part of the athletic program, supplying the building blocks for future championship varsity basketball teams.

Intramural Sports Prove Popular With B. H. S. Students

Instructional golf has become somewhat of an intramural sport at Bangor High School. Every Saturday morning Austin Kelly, professional at the Pinewood Club, Lucerne, gave free instruction to Bangor High students. Last year Bangor inaugurated a golf team and now it seems that it may find prospective players from the classes. Members of the golf team this year are Richard Ness, John Warren, Joe Tara, Bruce Flagg, David Whitney, and Robert McGown. Mark Whittaker is the alternate. Bangor has had matches with Orono, Bucksport, Bar Harbor, Brewer, and Millinocket.

All intramural sports were carried on again this year. Basketball was the most popular among the boys with over one hundred participating. Games were played on Tuesdays and Fridays at the old Bangor Auditorium during the basketball season. Many boys were interested in weight lifting during the winter and worked out in the gym after school. Football candidates for next year have been exercising with the weights in order to be ready for the 1962 football season.

B-Club Boasts Forty-two Members in 1962

The Bangor High School B-Club, this year having a membership of forty-two, is the honorary society of those boys who win their letter in a varsity sport. This year's B-Club is composed of twenty-four seniors, thirteen juniors, and five sophomores.

When a boy fulfills the requirements of his respective sport, he is given his letter and the familiar B sweater by the Athletic Association.

To be a member of the B-Club is the goal of every boy who participates in a varsity sport at Bangor High School.

Jayvee Cheerleaders Give Loyal Support

During the basketball season Bangor High School's junior varsity team was cheered on to a record of seven wins and seven losses by the J.V. cheerleaders. Jill Barry was J.V. captain during the first part of the season. After she was promoted to the varsity squad, Sheila Lynch took over as captain.

At the Downeast Classics Banquet, when different cheerleading groups are chosen for each team, the Bangor J.V.'s were asked to cheer for the University of Rochester during the tournament. The cheerleaders' hard work paid off when Rochester came through to win the classics.

The J.V. girls also cheered for the B.H.S. winning freshman team at their last game against the Brewer freshman team. Mrs. Judy and Mrs. Peters were the girls' advisers.

Cheerleaders Spark Spirit at Rallies and Games

"It's gr-r-eat!" The enthusiastic support of Bangor fans led by the spirited cheerleaders sparked the Rams to victory. This was a year of firsts. The cheerleaders worked closely with the Assembly Committee to initiate successful pre-game outdoor rallies and stand-up rallies in the auditorium. Paul Bunyan, a new Ram supporter, as portrayed by senior Paul Smith, strode across the floor to open the basketball season in December.

Nancy Arnold captained the squad during the football season. As a reward for faithfully supporting the team both at home and at games away, the cheerleaders were invited to the football and cross country banquet.

Under the leadership of Martha Griffith, the girls helped boost the basketball team to a number one rating in eastern Maine class LL. During the Christmas vacation they cheered for the University of Maine at the Down East Classics.

GAHC Elects Champion Field Hockey Team

Much emphasis is placed on educating the mind and developing the body in the United States today. Bangor High School girls started to fulfill the second objective early in October when the field hockey season opened. Numerous practice sessions in which many sophomores, juniors, and seniors participated were held at Little City Park. After these practices were completed, the competition between classes began.

Because of the rainy season, many games had to be cancelled. Under the direction of Sharon Morrill, the captain, the Senior team won the field hockey championship. Referees this year were Mrs. Betty Solorzano and Miss Mildred McGuire.

Senior members of the Girls' Athletic Honor Council coached the hockey teams. They were Mary La Chance, Sandra Larlee, Joan Melin, Sharon Morrill, Peggy Nason, and Marjorie Todtman. These girls watched the games closely and then elected fourteen girls from the junior and senior classes to the All Bangor Hockey Team.

The manager for the Field Hockey Season was Peggy Nason, president of the Girls' Athletic Honor Council.

G. A. H. C. Stimulates Interest In Girls' Athletics

In this modern age of rockets, industry, and rapid transportation, the Girls' Athletic Honor Council is doing its part by striving to develop a better type of athletics at B.H.S. The twenty-eight members of the council are chosen for their outstanding qualities of leadership, dependability, sportsmanship, and scholarship.

The council provides the funds necessary for the purchasing of awards for girls who have participated in various after school sports. The awards are presented to participating girls at various times during the school year. Seven new members are initiated into the council at a banquet which is held each spring. Members of the faculty and several guests are invited to attend the annual banquet.

Officers for the year were Peggy Nason, president; Sandra Larlee, vice-president; Janet McEachern, secretary, and Joan Raymond, treasurer. Miss Mildred McGuire is adviser for the group.

Girl Officials Place Importance On Fair Play

Today a great deal of emphasis is placed on the importance of fair play. Members of the Girls' Basketball Officials' Club help Mrs. Betty Solorzano, official referee, enforce basketball rules at various after-school girls' basketball games and try to stress fair play to all girls participating. Some of the club members also help score and time the games.

The officials meet and discuss basketball rules with Miss Mildred McGuire prior to the basketball season. Each member is required to pass a written examination on current basketball rules before she can officiate.

First year members are presented with a pin, second year members with a silver basketball, and third year members with a gold basketball. This year, seniors Mary LaChance and Peggy Nason have received gold basketballs.

Betty Solorzano watches to make sure that Susan Braudt doesn't violate the new three dribble rule.

Seniors Win In "Y" Intramurals

The importance of physical education cannot be expressed too strongly. In trying to comply with the need for physical education, Bangor High offers a variety of sports—among them basketball.

Many girls participated in this year's intramural basketball program which was supervised by Miss Mildred McGuire. In the past the girls have played in the school gym. This year since the gym was occupied by classes of the afternoon session, facilities at the YMCA were hired and the program continued as usual.

Teams competed from all classes. Members of the Girls' Athletic Honor Council coached the teams. The coaches were Mary La Chance, Joan Melin, Sharon Morrill, Peggy Nason, Joan Raymond, and Marjorie Todtman. The games were officiated by Mrs. Betty Solorzano.

Underclassmen Voice Enthusiasm For High School Activities

B.H.S. underclassmen are in the limelight as they show a captive audience a list of their achievements. These cheerful members of the high school make themselves known not only by winning many scholastic honors, but also by giving vigorous support to many school activities. Their peppy cheering at sports events and their study hall whispers will long be remembered.

Freshmen Adjust Easily

Bangor High School can be justly proud of its freshman class. Although confronted with the many problems of adjusting to high school life in an afternoon session, the freshman students have, nevertheless, organized themselves into a unified and purposeful class. Led by an active freshman council, the class has sponsored several activities including two successful dances. Freshman participation in Student Council has been outstanding, especially in the field of salesmanship. The Student Council is greatly indebted to the avid freshman members who have worked selling the school bookcovers, pins, and megaphones.

The freshman year is the turning point in the life of any student. He must choose a course that he will follow until graduation. Many subjects formerly taught in the upper classes have now been moved to the freshman level, where the students have participated with enthusiasm. Twelve percent of the class were listed on the first semester honor roll.

Sophomores Contribute To B. H. S. Life

Members of the Sophomore class, which is represented at both sessions of Bangor High School, have found time to contribute to school student life as well as to excel in the scholastic field. Sophomore names have been prominent on the sports rosters, while aspiring artists have willingly donated their talents to the drama department. Representatives from the Sophomore class to the Student Council have proved their ability by constant hard work on council projects. The class has already sponsored a bake sale in order to increase the class funds to be used for graduation expenses. Class dues have been collected to lessen expenses in the senior year.

Juniors Plan Activities With Real Enthusiasm

Just in between, not quite at the top, but no longer on the bottom, Bangor High juniors found themselves in a pleasant position of importance. The active juniors had to be careful to budget their time appropriately between taking part in varied extracurricular activities and studying seriously. Many study hours in school and at home were devoted to preparation for tests in such subjects as American History, chemistry, shorthand, and math; the rest, to careful memorization of lines from Macbeth, a prominent phase of English III. Outside of class hours, juniors participated in clubs, cheerleading, school sports, drama, music, publications, Junior Exhibition, PSAT and the National Merit Scholarship examinations. The Junior Council planned the Superstition Hop—a dance held on Friday, the 13th—which featured the Ghost Riders. The Council also formulated the idea of a standard school ring designed for Bangor High School alone.

Seniors Hail the Past

Quick footsteps, bubbling laughter, and ringing telephones bring back fond memories to the graduating seniors, the Class of 1962.

Can we ever forget the roar of applause that greeted the cast of the senior play at the final curtain, the solemnity of the National Honor Society initiation, or the chattering of committee members preparing for senior week activities? These sounds, as well as many others, will hold a place in the senior treasure chest forever.

Senior-Week Committees Plan Exciting Events for B. H. S. Seniors

Senior Prom Committee: B. Smith, Refreshments; S. Morrill, Bids; J. Shubert, General Chairman.

Special Senior Week activities include Baccalaureate, June 10; Banquet, June 11; Senior Prom, June 13; and Graduation Exercises, June 15. Baccalaureate and the Prom will be held at Bangor High School, the Banquet at the Capehart Elementary School, and Graduation at the New Bangor Auditorium.

Teachers working with the student chairmen of the committees are Mrs. Hammons, Banquet; Mrs. Woodward, Baccalaureate; Mrs. Devine, Senior Prom; and Mrs. Pressey, Graduation.

Senior Prom Decoration Committee: J. McEachern, Chairman; S. Godsoe, Stage; P. Newman, Ceiling; W. Russell, Clean-Up; M. Horner, Walls; E. Segal, Art.

Special Senior Week Activities Chairmen: J. Raymond, Music; J. Perkins and P. Fergus, Banquet.

B. H. S. Seniors Honored

At the Scholarship Recognition Assembly held in May, eleven Bangor High School Scholars were announced. This award for high academic achievement is earned by only a small percent of the senior class. To be named a B.H.S. Scholar, a student must have attained a rank of 85 or above in each major subject for five consecutive semesters. The 1962 Scholars are Jane Campbell, Loretta Cross, Peter Fergus, Donald McLemore, Janet McEachern, Brenda Miles, Pamela Pendleton, Whit Russell, Ellen Segal, Elizabeth Trowbridge, and James Willey.

Richard Gautschi received a NROTC Scholarship after national competition.

Other talented seniors have won honors in various fields. Judy De La Cruz was chosen Miss Congeniality during the annual Miss Bangor-Brewer Pageant. Kathy Kazmierczak won the title of Future Homemaker of Tomorrow in the B.H.S. contest sponsored by the Betty Crocker Company. Elizabeth Trowbridge received the Daughters of the American Revolution award in good citizenship for Bangor High School. Barbara Knox and Mary Peabody, professionally known as "The Shadows" have won wide acclaim for their dance routines. Leroy Patterson was named to the Seventh Annual Bangor Daily News All-Maine Basketball team.

Oracle Marks Seventy Years of Publication

Oracle staff members met the challenge of seventy years of yearbook publication by turning out an all new style yearbook. Plans for revision called for a more interesting ad section, larger size page, greater emphasis on academic life, more informative copy, and a change in over-all organization of yearbook material.

Early in the fall the subscription campaign was underway, boosted by lively songs, posters, and gimmicks. During the year staff members were busy soliciting ads, checking in senior portraits, organizing faculty and activity photographs, and collecting information on various extra curricular and academic programs. Under the capable leadership of Peter Fergus, Editor-in-Chief, and Co-Editors, Katherine Kazmierczak and Elizabeth Trowbridge, staff members co-ordinated ideas. Sharon Morrill, head of the business staff; John Perkins and Sheldon White working on sports section; Miles Horner, in charge of the senior section; Sandra Larlee, heading the school life section; and Janet McEachern, photography editor, put in many long hours getting material together. Miss Jessie L. Fraser, Oracle adviser who gave a great deal of her time to the yearbook, played a large part in the production of this year's edition.

“Only an Orphan Girl” Plays to Full House

Over six hundred people were jammed into the high school auditorium on November 29, when the Senior Class presented a stirring melodrama, “Only an Orphan Girl.” Under the direction of Mrs. Barbara Browne, class members turned in a polished performance which brought shrieks of laughter from the audience. Hissing filled the room as villain Robert Wetzler slid on to the stage. The audience moaned as the gentle heroine played by Ellen Segal, nearly met her death on the saw mill. Whistles greeted Donna Darling, who played Ethel, the girl from the city. Gordon Titcomb as the farmer’s boy, gained admiration as he nobly strove to save his destitute father, portrayed by Bruce McLaughlin. Janet McEachern and Liz Trowbridge kept the audience giggling with their country antics; and Frances Stuart, who was Little Lucy, the tiny sweetheart of the play, charmed the audience. Andrea Eaton, at the piano, accompanied the performance with tunes from the Gay Nineties.

Further atmosphere was added with a lively stage show between acts featuring the Shadows, Madame Lilly, and The Bashful Four, supervised by Mr. Herbert Billett. Red-vested ushers escorted patrons to their seats, and brightly aproned waitresses sold popcorn and candied apples with the help of the Home Economics Department.

Backstage crews put in much hard work giving the stage a rustic appearance. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rankin supervised the set designing. Stage manager, Pam Barrows, and production manager, Donald McLemore, gave much time to the performance also.

"Hands up!" shouts Villain Wetzler, as Gordon Titcomb is about to save heroine Ellen Segal from death on the buzz saw.

Jeff Gass, John Mabee, and Donald McLemore, members of the backstage crew, add a scarecrow to the barnyard backdrop.

Curtain goes up on Little Lucy, Ma Perkins, and pretty Miss Nellie.

Senior Council and Officers Prepare for Graduation

Senior Council members took an active part in readying their class for its biggest moment, graduation. Appointed in the fall by the Senior Class Officers, students serving on the council collected payments during homeroom period for class dues, caps and gowns, and for various other senior activities. The council was also responsible for putting out an informative booklet to give all seniors a rundown on Senior Week activities. Editors for the booklet were Jane Campbell and Susan Smith. Council members spent much time preparing for the Banquet and Senior Prom. To promote school spirit at tourney time students gave the basketball team a gigantic send-off with a peppy poster campaign. Advisers for the year were Mr. Robert Foster and Mrs. Jane Johnson.

Graduates of 1962 head into the future strengthened by the academic and social achievements of their high school days.

SPOTLIGHT

Local Business Boom, Sign of a Prospering Bangor

Honking horns of downtown traffic and the busy shuffle of hurried shoppers are signs of a thriving Bangor, where opportunities in industry and trade are plentiful. The city's nearby coastline and unexplored woodland draw thousands of tourists to ski, camp out, climb mountains and swim and sail in the warm summer sun. With her face toward the future, Bangor proudly assumes the role of a growing and prospering city.

William Ferry stresses to Paul Newman the importance of having a savings account.

A good time for a young person to begin to save is in high school. Savings provides you with cash toward further education and your chosen career. Start your savings account with us.

We're headquarters for the
TRAVELALL!

America's new work-or-play wonder! The Scout is a whole new idea in low-cost transportation. It's a hardtop pickup that hauls good-size loads one minute. The next, it's an open air runabout that carries three passengers in front and more in the rear. Optional all-wheel drive makes it an off-road workhorse, too. And an optional Travel-Top converts it into a tow and delivery. But no matter where the Scout goes, a thrifty new INTERNATIONAL four-cylinder Comanche engine saves on gas and oil.

The TRAVELALL® by INTERNATIONAL is lower in height, for easy in-and-out. Inside, it offers lots of room for passengers and loads. It has four wide doors. A tailgate that swings open to easy loading height. A flat floor. An electrically operated rear window and a clean underside for extra ground clearance. INTERNATIONAL V-8 power is standard. Some models offer torsion-bar front suspension and box-type frame.

Come in today! See 'em! Drive 'em! Price 'em!
