Public Meeting Monday Will Discuss “Traffic Calming” On University Ave.

The Grand Forks-East Grand Forks Metropolitan Planning Organization, together with UND and the City of Grand Forks, will hold a public meeting at 4:30 p.m. Monday, Jan. 28, in 211 Rural Technology Center, regarding the study of traffic calming on University Avenue between Columbia Road and Stanford Road. The consulting firm of Howard R. Green will head the meeting.

“The purpose of the meeting is to present to the public the alternatives the study is considering,” said Earl Haugen, executive director of the MPO. “At our first meeting, we had varied discussion about the issues of University Avenue. A prominent issue was the conflicts between pedestrians and vehicles. The materials presented at the meeting show different alternatives to address this issue.”

Any individual requiring a special accommodation to allow access or participation at this meeting is asked to notify the ADA coordinator (746-2665) of their needs prior to the meeting. – Jan Orvik, Editor, University Letter, for the Metropolitan Planning Organization.

Graduates Speak At 15th Annual Hultberg Lectureship Feb. 5

“Leadership Through Tough Times: Dealing With Change” is the theme of the 15th Annual Hultberg Lectureship Series presented by the College of Business and Public Administration Tuesday, Feb. 5, from 7:30 to 9 p.m. in the Fred Orth Lecture Bowl and River Valley Room on the second floor of the Memorial Union.

This year’s lecture features four successful women graduates from the UND’s College of Business and Public Administration. They will give presentations to classes in the College of Business and Public Administration throughout the day to share their leadership experiences with students. In the evening the speakers will participate in a panel discussion sharing their expertise with UND’s community.

This year’s panelists include:

Candace Beckman is a marketing consultant for Odney Advertising Agency based in Bismarck, N.D. Beckman has been responsible for the start-up of two of the agency’s main branch offices. She also took over the helm of DH Research, a market research firm in Fargo. Beckman is originally from Edmore, N.D., and graduated from UND with a bachelor's degree in marketing and management.

Tammy (Sukut) Hickel works part time as an inventory analyst for Ecolab Pest Elimination in Grand Forks. Her responsibilities include overseeing the division's inventory and product distribution, and providing training to the division's field managers. Over a seven-year period, she also had experience with two regional accounting firms which exposed her to many industries and accounting practices. Hickel is originally from Williston, N.D., and received a B.S.B.A. with an accounting major from UND.

Jodi (Eggen) Neuses began her career as an area manager for Target in Grand Forks after graduating from UND. She has held a variety of positions and had the opportunity to open many new stores in Chicago and Minneapolis. Neuses now works as the manager of internal audit and is responsible for assessments, measurement of risks, and performing operational audits in over 1,000 stores. Neuses is originally from Jamestown, N.D.

Nancy (Rinde) Zmyslinski is a founding member of the Defense Finance and Accounting Service in Columbus, Ohio, and now serves as the director of accounting services. She has 21 years of federal government experience and is a certified government financial manager. She is originally from St. Thomas, N.D., and graduated from UND with degrees in business administration and accounting.

The Hans and Susanna Hultberg Lectureship was established by their daughter, Clara E. Anderson, through the University of North Dakota Foundation. This endowed lectureship is established because of the love and encouragement Clara received from her parents and her interest in stimulating both challenges and opportunities for women in business. Clara graduated from the College of Business and Public Administration in 1928.

Feast Of Nations Moves To Ramada Inn

The 40th Annual Feast of Nations will take place on Saturday, Feb. 16. The Feast of Nations is the major cultural event annually conducted by the International Student Organization and the Office of International Programs. Its primary purpose is to provide the international students with an opportunity to share their cultural experience as well as to show appreciation for the warm welcome given by the members of the surrounding community.

Traditionally, the event has taken place in the Grand Forks Civic Center, but this year it has a new home at the Ramada Inn. The event will feature a candlelight dinner with international dishes and multicultural entertainment performed by international students. The highlight of the event will be a performance by Licanantay, a dynamic group of Andean, Latin American musicians. Doors open at 5.30 p.m., dinner will commence at 6.30 p.m.

Tickets are $8 for students and $17 for non-students. Because our venue this year is smaller, there will be fewer tickets available than in previous years. Advance reservations are required, book early to avoid disappointment. Call the International Centre at 777-4231 for details and reservations. -- Joanna Hagerty, Immigration Specialist, International Programs.

Tickets For Founders Day Now On Sale

Tickets for the annual Founders Day banquet are now on sale. This year's event will be held on Thursday, Feb. 28, in the Memorial Union Ballroom. The pre-banquet social will begin at 5:45 p.m. with musical entertainment beginning at 6 p.m. The banquet will begin at 6:30 p.m.

The Founders Day program will recognize faculty and staff with 25 years of service to UND. Retired and retiring faculty and staff with 15 or more years of service to the University will also be honored. Awards for outstanding teaching, research, and service will be presented to faculty members and departments.

Tickets for the banquet can be purchased through the campus mail. Every UND employee recently received a flyer describing the Founders Day celebration and the ticket purchase procedure. Please use the order form from that flyer to purchase your tickets. Departments may reserve tables by using the order form or by calling the number listed on the flyer. Tickets are $10 each. A limited number of seats are available.

Please call Tammy Anderson in the Office of the Vice President for Student and Outreach Services at 777-2724 if you have questions or if you would like an additional copy of the ticket order form. – Fred Wittmann, Office of the Vice President for Student and Outreach Services.

Research Papers Sought For Merrifield Competition

The Chester Fritz Library and the UND Alumni Association and Foundation will sponsor the 10th annual Merrifield Competition for the most outstanding scholarly research paper submitted by a UND undergraduate or graduate student. A grant from the Alumni Association and Foundation enables the library to recognize outstanding scholarly research utilizing primary source materials held in the Elwyn B. Robinson Department of Special Collections. This recognition is provided through a UND scholarship award of $1,500.

Papers will be juried by Sandy Slater (Library Special Collections), Eric Burin (History), Glinda Crawford (Sociology), Susan Hunter (Nursing), and Curt Stofferahn (Sociology).

Deadline for submission of papers is Friday, April 26. Brochures that outline the competition and award guidelines are available at the Chester Fritz Library reference desk, administrative office, or the Elwyn B. Robinson Department of Special Collections.

– Sandy Slater, Head, Elwyn B. Robinson Department of Special Collections, Chester Fritz Library.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Faculty Asked To Announce Tutoring Service To Students

The University has purchased a limited number of hours from Smarthinking, an online tutoring service. The service is being offered as a pilot program during the spring 2002 semester and will be provided to students free of charge. Smarthinking provides real-time and asynchronous tutoring in writing, math, economics, accounting, statistics, chemistry, and Spanish. Tutoring in many of the subject areas is available 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Faculty are asked to announce this service to their students.

Students who would like to use Smarthinking, should complete the Smarthinking getting started form at www.online@mail.und.nodak.edu. Information on how to set up an account will be e-mailed to them. Our hours of business are Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Only currently enrolled students may receive access to the site.

Community Music Offers Classes For Children

The UND community music program offers Musiktanz classes for children ages 15 months through kindergarten. Musiktanz is a curriculum developed by Dr. Lorna Lutz Heyge, an internationally recognized author and early childhood music educator. She is the founder of Kindermusik and author of the early childhood curriculum, “Cycle of Seasons.” In the Musiktanz program the teacher acts as a role model to assist the parents/care givers in working musically with their children.

The parents/care givers attend the children’s lessons and participate with them in classes which are comprised of a variety of developmentally appropriate musical activities involving singing, moving, playing, creating, and listening.

Level I (ages 15 months-3 years) meets at 6 p.m. Thursday nights. Level II (ages 3 years-kindergarten) meets at 6:30 p.m. Thursday nights. Both classes meet for a half hour 12 times during the semester in 258 Hughes Fine Arts Center starting Feb. 7. They are taught by Crystal Blomquist, an experienced teacher. Cost for each level is $60 per semester. For more information call 777-2644, 777-2820, or 777-2830. – Barbara Lewis, Associate Professor of Music.

IN REMEMBRANCE

Remembering Ruth Burrage

Ruth Burrage, professor emeritus of nursing, died Jan. 14 in Grand Forks. She was 94.

Ruth Burrage was born May 27, 1907, in Reading, Mass. She graduated from Reading High School in 1924 and then earned her diploma in 1929 from Peter Bent Brigham School of Nursing. She earned her B.S. in nursing from the University of Rochester in 1948, and her M.S. in nursing in 1950 from Western Reserve University.

She served in the Army Nurse Corps for more than three years during World War II and spent 25 months overseas, stationed in the European Theater. She earned the rank of captain, and was a head nurse with the Army Nurse Corps. She worked at Geneva General Hospital in New York as director of nurses in 1948, served as educational director at Mt. Sinai Hospital in Cleveland, was a supervisor at Youngstown Hospital in Ohio, served as a staff nurse or head nurse at Genessee Hospital, Rochester, N.Y.; McLean Hospital, Waverly, Mass.; Peter Bent Brigham, Boston; and worked as a private nurse.

In 1951, she moved to Grand Forks to teach medical-surgical nursing in a dual appointment at UND and the Deaconess Hospital School of Nursing. From 1953 to 1965, she was an associate professor and served for a year as acting director of nursing. In 1965, she was promoted to full professor and assistant to the dean, a position she held until 1968. During this time, she taught senior nursing. A particularly notable accomplishment was her involvement in the construction of the Nursing Building in 1976. As chair of the building committee, she played an active role in all stages of construction.

For 26 years, she affected every student and faculty member in the College of Nursing. Standing about six feet tall, her presence in the classroom reflected her military background. She blended high standards and strict discipline with a warm, genuine concern for people. In 1971, she received the Outstanding Educator of America Award. She was the first recipient of the U.S. Air Force Outstanding Instructor Award, chosen by the 1976 nursing class. In 1977, she received the Edgar Dale Faculty Award. She retired in 1977, and established a nursing scholarship endowment within the UND Foundation.

“Miss Burrage was a firm, tough instructor,” said Diane Helgeson, associate professor of family and community nursing. “My classmates and I were all afraid of her. She taught us professionalism and we learned from her. At the end of the semester, she had all her classes to her home for a spaghetti supper, and students realized that she was human and a real person. Ruth kept in touch with many of her students. She put together poems regarding nursing that some of her students in the ‘70s wrote and shared them. She never did publish these. Ruth did not seek honors for herself.

“When I started teaching at the College of Nursing in 1967, Ruth was my colleague. She was not an easy person to work with as she had her ideas and stuck to them, but she cared tremendously about students and was an advocate for them always. She had been associated with the Nursing program since 1951, so she knew all the students and many corresponded with her. She was honest and outspoken. You always knew what Ruth’s opinion was as she told you in a loud, strong voice. If you ever wanted to have an honest opinion, you could go to Ruth. Ruth Burrage was one of a kind and she was dedicated to the University and the College of Nursing. She will be missed.”

“Ruth Burrage was a very special influence on me,” said Cec Volden, professor of nursing. “She taught the nursing leadership and management course when I was an undergraduate. We later taught together in the same course when I became a faculty member. At first, although I admired her, I was a bit hesitant; she seemed very stern. She insisted on clean shoelaces and no gum chewing, as well as other very professional performance in the clinical settings. In time, she revealed that she also had a heart of gold. She hosted spaghetti dinners for the seniors when classes were smaller, was very supportive when things didn’t go just exactly right for us as students and as faculty, and she taught us about having balance in life. I can remember her saying, “attitudes are caught, not taught,” and ‘be a supervisor, not a snoopervisor.’ I’ll continue to cherish the memories I have of Ruth. She was a terrific teacher, mentor, and friend.”

An on-campus memorial service, coordinated by the UND Alumni Association and Foundation, will be held in the spring. – Jan Orvik, Editor, with information from the Grand Forks Herald, Alumni Association and Foundation, Cec Volden, and Diane Helgeson.

Remembering John Quaday

John Quaday, professor emeritus of physical education and exercise science, died Jan. 8 at his winter home in Leesburg, Fla. He was 83.

John Quaday was born Aug. 2, 1918, to William and Lorena (Levinick) Quaday, in Blue Earth, Minn., where he attended school and worked on the family farm. He graduated from Winona State College in 1938 with a bachelor’s degree in education, earned his master’s in education from the University of Minnesota in Minneapolis in 1946, and his Ed. D. from the University of Illinois at Champaign-Urbana in 1959. He taught at Lynd, Minn. Consolidated School, at Wahpeton High School, and Red Wing School in Minnesota.

He served in the United States Army from 1942 to 1945 with the Third Army’s Sixth Armored Division. He took part in campaigns in Normandy, northern France, Ardennes, Rhineland, and central Europe, and was in the Battle of the Bulge. He earned the rank of captain and was awarded Bronze and Silver Stars. He married Stella Jane Farrington on May 20, 1948, in Minneapolis.

He joined the UND faculty in 1948 as an assistant professor of health, physical education, and recreation. He was promoted to associate professor in 1959 and professor in 1965. He served as chair of men’s physical education, and coached boxing, tennis and golf. He coached the golf team to six NCC championships in 1963, 1964, 1965, 1966, 1968, and 1970. Two teams competed in NCAA tournaments in Ohio and Texas. He served as a water safety instructor trainer with the American Red Cross, and gave swimming lessons for years. He retired in 1980 after 32 years of service to the University.

“John was very energetic, down-to-earth, and a good teacher,” said Mike Grandall, men’s track and cross country coach. “He taught from the ground up, and didn’t talk above people.”

He is survived by his wife; sons, Steven, Morgan Hills, Calif., William, Webster, Minn., and Ted, Winchester, Mass.; daughters, Nancy Ryan, Grand Forks, and Cynthia Rheaume, Arlington, Va.; eight grandchildren; a stepgrandchild; and siblings, Carl, Mankato, Minn., Marie Anderson, Bemidji, and Richard, Blue Earth.

Memorial services will be held in early summer in Grand Rapids, Minn. Memorials are suggested to Hospice of Lake and Sumter Counties, 12300 Lane Park Road, Tavares, Fla., 32778, or Itasca Hospice, 126 Southeast First Ave., Grand Rapids, Minn., 55744.
