A Celebration of Artists in Human Service

Doctorates to be Conferred at Commencement Exercises, June 6, 1999

Each year Columbia College Chicago honors outstanding individuals in the arts, education, politics and public information, people who have engaged their great talents in important human service and whose life work and example embody the college's ideal and spirit.

Some of these individuals have achieved public prominence, some have been ennobled by courageous labor in unpopular causes and would not be awarded the usual recognitions, and some are at only the beginning time of their great promise.

Arthur C. Nielsen, Jr.

Market Researcher and Corporate Leader

Arthur C. Nielsen, Jr. has spent much of his life helping to develop and grow arguably the most influential company in the evolution of this nation. It was his father who, when he started the company in 1923, essentially founded the field of market research, a field in which A.C. Nielsen Company continues to be recognized as the global leader. In 1957 Arthur C. Nielsen, Jr. took over as President. The 1950's saw television quickly become the dominant medium of a nation enjoying the greatest economic boom the world had ever seen and it was Nielsen Media Research that provided the essential information of what people did, rather than what they thought or said they did, that enabled television to prosper as it did. Under Mr. Nielsen's guidance, the name "Nielsen" became synonymous with television ratings. He served as President until 1976 and continued as Chairman of the Board and Chief Executive Officer until he retired in 1984. Mr. Nielsen was named Chief Executive Officer of the Year 1977 by Financial World and Outstanding Chief Executive Officer in 1980 by the Wall Street Journal. He has served as director of 21 U.S. corporations as well as of the Advertising Research Foundation and as the Vice President of the American Marketing Association. He is a member of the Arts Club of Chicago and serves as Chairman Emeritus of the Museum of Broadcast Communications, Life Trustee of the Advertising Council, Director of the Chicago Foundation for Education and Life Trustee of the University of Chicago. He is an excellent tennis player, having participated in Wimbledon and winning four U.S. Championships.

For your integral role in the development of the culture of this nation we are proud to award you the honorary degree of Doctor of Humane Letters, Honoris Causa.

Presented by Edward L. Morris, Professor Emeritus, Columbia College Chicago.

Sara Paretsky

Mystery Writer and Champion of Women

In the traditionally male-dominated world of mystery writing, Sara Paretsky has been a major force both literarily and politically. Most closely associated with V.I. Warshawski, her tough, smart-mouthed heroine of nine novels, Ms. Paretsky tackles issues like for-profit medicine, chemical waste, big-city politics, insurance fraud, and gentrification. In Paretsky's fictional world, Warshawski is her crusader, protecting and avenging ordinary Chicagoans manipulated or murdered by bloated corporations and avaricious Yuppies. Newsweek has written that "Paretsky's work does more than turn the genre upside down: her books are beautifully paced and plotted, and the dialogue is fresh and smart." In the real world, it is Paretsky who is the crusader. In 1986, she helped start Sisters in Crime, a group of women mystery writers who addressed some troubling inequities in the mystery world. Women writers had a hard time getting books reviewed, didn't stay in print as long as men and were often shunted aside at professional meetings. Paretsky has worked hard to change this. People Magazine called her "an ardent feminist with a magnum intellect and the guts to go where other doctorates fear to tread." In 1988 Sara Paretsky was named "Woman of the Year" by Ms. Magazine. In 1997, she received the Mark Twain Award for contributions to Midwestern Literature, and served as a visiting fellow at Wolfson College, Oxford, England. She is presently a visiting professor of creative writing at Northwestern University. Her most recent book, Ghost Country, her first non-Warshawski novel, addresses society's indifference and contempt for the homeless.

For your tremendous impact on the world of mystery fiction, for the strength of your voice, your integrity and your uncompromising social conscience we are pleased to bestow upon you the honorary degree of Doctor of Letters, Honoris Causa.

Presented by Ronne Hartfield, Trustee, Columbia College Chicago.

William E. Strickland, Jr.

Empowering the Disadvantaged Through the Arts

William E. Strickland, Jr., is a native of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania and a cum laude graduate from the University of Pittsburgh. At the age of 21, while finishing his degree in American History and Foreign Relations, Mr. Strickland founded Manchester Craftsmen's Guild to help combat the economic and social devastation experienced by the residents of the predominantly African-American Pittsburgh neighborhood of Manchester. The Guild focuses on the advancement of the academic and personal achievement of inner-city youth via education in an array of areas including ceramic art, photography, computer imaging and drawing. In an area where fewer than half of all high school students go on to college, 80 percent of the Guild's students do so. In 1972 Mr. Strickland took over the Bidwell Training Center, a nationally recognized not-for-profit vocational training institution serving economically disadvantaged individuals. He continues to serve as President and CEO of both organizations. He has served as a Governor appointed Council Member for the Pennsylvania Council on the Arts, as a Board Member of the Pennsylvania State Board of Education, and as a Presidential appointee to the NEA's National Council on the Arts. In 1996, he was named a MacArthur Fellow for his leadership and ingenuity in the arts. He is a licensed pilot and has accumulated over 700 hours on the Boeing 727.

For your humanity and love of the arts, for giving hope and opportunity to the least powerful members of our society, we are honored to confer upon you the degree of Doctor of Humane Letters, Honoris Causa.

Presented by Dr. Glennon Graham, Director, Freshman Seminar Program, Columbia College Chicago.

Sherman Joseph Alexie, Jr.

Storyteller, Poet and Voice of Truth

Sherman Joseph Alexie, Jr. has been called "one of the major lyric voices of our time." A poet, novelist, and American Indian activist, Mr. Alexie is also one of the more prolific. At the age of 32, he has produced well over 300 pieces of work including two novels and the screenplay for last year's critically and publicly acclaimed film, Smoke Signals, ground breaking for being the first ever to be written, directed and produced by American Indians. Mr. Alexie, a Spokane/Coeur d'Alene Indian, is known for his bitterly funny, sometimes controversial, and always pointed and poignant tongue and pen. His work smashes television and movie stereotypes of "loincloth" Indians, addressing the human condition of American Indians in the twentieth century. A survivor of childhood illness, the poverty and poor health of reservation life, a battle with alcoholism, and a brief stint as a medical student (cut short due to a series of fainting spells in his human anatomy class), Alexie went on to earn a degree in American Studies from Washington State University. In 1991, Alexie received the Washington State Arts Commission Poetry Fellowship followed by the National Endowment for the Arts Poetry Fellowship in 1992. Soon after, Alexie produced six books of poetry and short stories, including the award winners, The Business of Fancydancing and The Lone Ranger and Tonto Fistfight in Heaven. After his first novel, Reservation Blues, he was named one of Granta's Best of Young American Novelists and was awarded the Before Columbus Foundation's American Book Award and the Murray Morgan Prize. His second novel, Indian Killer, was named one of People Magazine's Best of Pages and a New York Times Notable Book. He is presently producing and directing the film based on this book.

For your honesty and insight, humor and poetry, for giving us an important new voice in American literature, we are proud to bestow upon you the honorary degree of Doctor of Letters, Honoris Causa.

The President's Medal For Distinguished Service To Columbia College Chicago

Shirley Mordine

Shirley Mordine, in 1969, founded, and has continued to serve as director of both The Dance Center of Columbia College and Mordine & Company Dance Theatre, the professional company in residence at the school. As an artist, Ms. Mordine has received international recognition for her unique vision, innovative experimentation and her deep understanding and mastery of movement, space and time. As an educator, she has evolved The Dance Center of Columbia College from a single class into Chicago's premier dance training program and placed it at the national forefront of dance education as a teaching, learning and performing arts center. The Center has garnered an international reputation for its challenging curriculum that emphasizes the development of the creative dancer/artist. Repeatedly recognized for its curatorial excellence, The Dance Center has been the recipient of numerous grants from the private and government sectors. Ms. Mordine was presented the first Ruth Page Award for Outstanding Individual Contributions to the field of dance and, under her guidance, The Dance Center received the 1985 Ruth Page Award for Outstanding Contribution to the Chicago dance community. She was honored again in 1994 with a Ruth Page Award for Outstanding Artistic Achievement for her work combining movement and media in Edge Mode, Part 1. The John D. and Catherine T. MacArthur Foundation has recognized Mordine & Company as playing a "flagship role in helping develop a whole generation of promising dancers and choreographers."

For your bold innovations in your art and mastery of your craft, and for your contribution to vocabulary of movement, we offer our deep respect and gratitude as we present you with the President's Medal for Distinguished Service to Columbia College Chicago.

Presented by John B. Duff, President, Columbia College Chicago.

John M. Mulvany

John M. Mulvany has been much more than a Professor of Photography and Chairman of the Department of Photography and the Department of Art and Design at Columbia College Chicago. He has been the architect and builder of these outstanding programs, originating all the concentrations within the Art Department, including Fine Arts, Graphic Design, Interior Design, Advertising Design, Illustration, and Product Design. In the last 22 years, under his tenure, he has hired all but two of the full and part time faculty and staff members. He was the first to introduce new technology to the Department of Art and Photography. He is the founder of the Victor Skrebneski and the Kodak Scholarships. He is the founder and Chairman of the Board of The Museum of Contemporary Photography and its permanent collection, one of only three such facilities in the United States to receive accreditation exclusively in photography. In addition, he is the founder of The Chicago Center of African Art at the Harold Washington Library Center and serves as the Chairman of the Board. He has a Bachelor's degree from the University of Tennessee and a Master of Fine Arts degree from the University of New Mexico. He has previously held positions as Visiting Lecturer at Trent Polytechnic in Nottingham, England; Professor of Art at the University of New Mexico; and was Director of the School of Art at Illinois Wesleyan University in Bloomington, Illinois. Professor Mulvany is dedicating this honor to the memory of his sister, Geraldine Mulvany Vesco.

For your leadership and vision, for your contribution to the cultural life of the school and the city, we are grateful and honored to present you with the President's Medal for Distinguished Service to Columbia College Chicago.

Presented by John B. Duff, President, Columbia College Chicago.

Leslie E. Van Marter

When Leslie E. Van Marter joined Columbia as Chair of the Liberal Education Department in 1983, he was attracted by its rich variety of creative arts and public information as career paths for aspiring young professionals. His passion for education led him to serve 10 years on the Columbia Curriculum Committee, and to diversify the courses in liberal education by introducing what now are four foreign languages, a basic core of studies in philosophy, and history courses in previously neglected fields like ancient Greece and Rome, Medieval Europe, the Middle East since Mohammed, Russia and the Soviet Union, women in history, and Mexico. He was for many years a persistent advocate on behalf of minor programs of study, now finally available at Columbia. His zest for the arts led him, during the eighties, to serve four consecutive years as a jury member evaluating documentary films for awards at the Chicago International Film Festival. He has presented thirty papers at meetings of professional societies on a wide range of topics including The Federalist Papers, The Liberal Education of Artists, The Philosophy of Art & Criticism, and The Holocaust. He is also a busy closet poet. He was a Fulbright Scholar at the University of Paris, a research student at Oxford, and he earned his Ph.D. in philosophy from the University of Chicago. He was the recipient of a two year grant from the Carnegie Foundation for Improvement of Teaching while he chaired a philosophy department in southern California, and he pioneered the first Chicago public television course for college credit in philosophy.

For your passion for the arts and education, for your activism in the improvement of how we teach our youth, we are honored and delighted to present you with the President's Medal for Distinguished Service to Columbia College Chicago.

Excerpt From

Leaves of Grass (1855)

by Walt Whitman

I tramp a perpetual journey,
My signs are a rain-proof coat and good shoes and a staff
cut from the woods;
No friend of mine takes his ease in my chair,
I have no chair, nor church nor philosophy;
I lead no man to a dinner-table or library or exchange,
But each man and each woman of you I lead upon a knoll,
My left hand hooks you round the waist,
My right hand points to landscapes of continents, and a plain public road.

Not I, not any one else can travel that road for you,
You must travel it for yourself.

It is not far...it is within reach,
Perhaps you have been on it since you were born, and did not know,
Perhaps it is every where on water and on land.
Shoulder your duds, and I will mine, and let us hasten forth;
Wonderful cities and free nations we shall fetch as we go.

If you tire, give me both burdens, and rest the chuff of your hand on my hip,
And in due time you shall repay the same service to me;
For after we start we never lie by again.

This day before dawn I ascended a hill and looked at the crowded heaven,
And I said to my spirit, When we become the enfolders of those orbs and the pleasure and knowledge of every thing in them, shall we be filled and satisfied then?
And my spirit said No, we level that lift to pass and continue beyond.

You are also asking me questions, and I hear you;
I answer that I cannot answer...you must find out for yourself....

We consider the bibles and religions divine...I do not say they are not divine,
I say they have all grown out of you and may grow out of you still,
It is not they who give the life...it is you who give the life;
Leaves are not more shed from the trees or trees from the earth than they are shed out of you.

The sum of all known value and respect I add up in you whoever you are;
The President is up there in the White House for you....
It is not you who are here for him,
The Secretaries act in their bureaus for you....not you
here for them,
The Congress convenes every December for you,
Laws, courts, the forming of states, the charters of cities,
the going and coming of commerce and mails are all
for you.

All doctrines, all politics and civilization exurge from you,
All sculpture and monuments and anything inscribed anywhere are tallied in you,
The gist of histories and statistics as far back as the records reach is in you this hour—and myths and tales the same;
If you were not breathing and walking here where would they all be?
The most renowned poems would be ashes....orations
and plays would be vacuums.
All architecture is what you do to it when you look upon it;
Did you think it was in the white or gray stone? or the lines of the arches and cornices?

All music is what awakens from you when you are reminded
by the instruments,
It is not the violins and the cornets....it is not the oboe
nor the beating drums—nor the notes of the baritone singer singing his sweet romanza....nor those of the men's chorus, nor those of the women's chorus,
It is nearer and farther than they.
